For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.55, 9.55 a. m., 2.08, 5.47 p. m. Sundays—5.45 a. m., 5.47 p. m.

For Long Branch and Asbury Park, etc.—5.37, 10.55 a. m., 2.45, 6.04, 6.45, 6.29, 11.28 p. m. Sundays—8.52 a. m., 11.28 p. m.

For Lakewood and Atlantic City—3.37, 9.20 a. m., 12.45 Saturdays only, 1.17, 2.44 p. m. Sundays—9.40 a. m., 1.17 p. m.

For Philadelphia—7.13, 7.39, 8.45, 9.12, 10.43 a. m., 12.13, 1.43, 2.43, 3.43, 4.13, 4.44, 5.20, 5.46 p. m., 1.17 night. Sundays—7.13, 10.00, 10.43, 11.42 a. m., 12.42, 1.44, 2.46, 3.42, 4.20, 5.20, 6.30, 8.46 p. m., 11.23, 1.17 night.

For Belvidere and Harrisburg—5.25, 9.55 a. m., 2.08, (5.47 through trains), Sundays—2.03, 5.47 p. m.

For Pottsville, Sunbury and Williamsport—5.25, 9.55 a. m., 2.08 p. m. Sundays—2.03 p. m.

For Baltimore and Washington—5.45, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 6.44 p. m. Sundays—5.45, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 6.44 p. m.

*Change cars at Bound Brook.

W. G. BESLER, Vice Pres. & Gen. Mgr. W. C. HOPE, Gen. Pass. Agt.

Lehigh Valley Railroad

Time table in Effect Nov. 18th, 1906.

LEAVE SOUTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

7.55 a. m. daily (except Sunday) local to Mauch Chunk.

8.42 a. m. daily, express to Easton, Wilkesbarre, Rochester, Buffalo, and principal intermediate stations.

10.46 a. m. daily for Easton, Wilkesbarre, Ithaca, Buffalo and Chicago.

1.52 p. m. daily, local for Easton, Mauch Chunk, Hazleton, Pottsville and Shenandoah.

4.58 p. m. daily (except Sunday) "Wilkesbarre and Scranton Express" Solid vestibule train to Wilkesbarre. Parlor Car via D. & H. R. R. to Scranton and Carbondale.

6.40 p. m. daily, solid vestibule train to Buffalo, Toronto and Chicago and principal intermediate stations except Rochester.

6.23 p. m. daily (except Sunday) local to Phillipsburg.

FRANK ROWLEY, City Ticket Agent. 218 West Front Street, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 113.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.

Office opens 7 a. m. close 7 p. m.
On Saturdays close half hour later.

NEW YORK MAIL.

Arrive—7:00, 8:40, 11:20 a. m., 2:20, 5:00, 5:30, 9 p. m., 12 midnight.
Close—7:30, 9:30 a. m., 1:00, 2:20, 6:00, 8:30 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON.

Arrive—8:40 a. m., 1:30, 2:15 and 7 p. m.
Close—7:30 a. m., 12:00 m., 4:30 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct.

Arrive—7:20, 8:40 and 11:20 a. m., 2:24, 7:00 p. m.
Close—7:15, 7:30, 9:30 a. m., 12:35, 2:26, 6:00, 7:15 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST.

Close—1:00 and 7:15 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR WEST AND SOUTH.

Close—12:35, 8:00, 7:15 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA. West of Easton.

Close—12:35 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct.

Arrive—7:20 a. m., 2:20, 6:00 p. m.
Close—7:30 a. m., 2:20, 6:00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct.

Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:20, 5:30 p. m., 12 midnight.
Close—7:30, 9:30 a. m., 1:00, 2:20 and 6:00 p. m.

WARNING, WARRENVILLE.

Arrive—12:20 p. m.
Close—9:00 a. m.

WATCHUNG.

Close—5:30 p. m.
Arrive—8:45 p. m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9:00 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

E. H. BIRD, P. M.

Advertisements

—FOR—

New York Herald,
World, Times, Sun, Journal,
Telegram, American,
Brooklyn Eagle
—and—
Newark Evening News

Received at

The Daily Press,

AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

Mrs. John Brown,

Successor to
John Burke and Teresa & Co.

Cesspools and Vaults Cleaned from $3.00 upwards

Satisfaction Guaranteed.
Don't give your order until you consult me.
Estimates Cheerfully Given.
Leave orders at
J. T. Vail's, North avenue, Plainfield, N. J.
Or Telephone 242 J.
FRANK BURKE, Manager

Cleaning, Pressing and Dyeing.

Monthly Contracts.
Pressing called for and delivered.
EVENING DRESSES A SPECIALTY.
Ladies' Waists Cleaned 50c
Gents' Suits Cleaned $1.50
We do our own work at
M. A. Brown's, 218 West Second St.

HE GOT LIMIT OF LAW

Grinley's Promises of Reform Fell on Deaf Ears in City Court.

HAD ABUSED HIS WIFE

Judge Runyon Knew How Undependable He Was, and Counsel's Eloquent Plea Availed Not.

Richard Grinley, a machinist, arrested for abusing his wife Saturday night, was sentenced to the limit of the law in the city court Monday. Counsel's earnest plea for leniency and his own sniffles proved unavailing, because Judge Runyon had knowledge of the prisoner's record and character.

Grinley had abused his wife in drunken fits for ten years. He returned from the county jail, where he served sixty days, last week. He went to Judge Runyon and Rev. E. Roberson almost as soon as he returned, and asked them to help him effect a reconciliation with his wife. He made all sorts of promises to be good, and was in the magistrate's office to repeat them Saturday afternoon.

Counsellor S. S. Swackhamer appeared for him this morning, and told Judge Runyon that his client wanted a chance to show that he was through with drink and desired to turn over a new leaf. He was ready the lawyer said, to agree to turn over all he earned, either through the court or his counsel, to his wife.

"I cannot place any dependence on this man's word," said the magistrate. "I know that for years he has made the life of a good wife and a faithful mother a hell on earth. He was in my office Saturday afternoon to repeat his promises of good behavior and then went out and did the same old thing. He has forfeited all claim to consideration. I sentence him to pay a fine of $100 and to sixty days in the county jail."

WHITLOCK DROPS DEAD AT HIS DINNER TABLE

FALLS LIFELESS WHEN ABOUT TO EAT NOON-DAY MEAL.

George Whitlock, the well-known carpenter, died suddenly at noon today at his boarding-house, 308 East Front street. As he sat down at the table to eat his dinner, he gave a groan and fell over dead. A physician was hastily summoned, but when he arrived he said that death must have been instantaneous.

Mr. Whitlock was employed as a foreman for Peter Thompson, the contractor, and had been employed on a new house Mr. Thompson was building on Marine avenue. He decided not to go to work this morning, but send word to Mr. Thompson that he would be on hand at 1 o'clock this afternoon. During the morning he had complained of not feeling well, but he said he thought that he would be all right after he had had his dinner.

He had been a resident of Plainfield for a great many years and was one of the best known carpenters, having worked for all the leading contractors. For a time he was a walking delegate for the Carpenters' Union and was quite active in looking out for the interests of the trade. The announcement of the funeral will be made later.

FOUR THOUSAND PENNIES STRUNG ON YARD ROPES.

Seen at Seventh-Day Baptist Women's Tea Yesterday.

The Women's Society for Christian Work of the Seventh-Day Baptist church entertained its friends at a tea and social held in the parlors of the church, Sunday afternoon from 4 to 6, at which time the members returned the yards of pennies collected during the summer months. The parlors were decorated in an unique manner. The color scheme was golden, suspended from the chandeliers being strings of new '07 pennies, fastened to yellow ribbon.

The table was decorated in yellow and white, yards of pennies being fastened to a golden rope which was stretched across the mantelpiece and hung like a lambrequin. The total amount of pennies collected amounted to $40. Mrs. Frank L. Hubbard was in charge of the tea, and Mrs. F. A. Dunham poured. The entertainment and decorations were in charge of Mrs. James E. Kimball and Miss Ernestine Curtis Smith.

There was a short informal program, including a song, "The Dropping of the Pennies," by the Misses Hannah, Helen, Kathryn and Minerva Shaw, daughters of Rev. and Mrs. G. B. Shaw; "The Story of the Pennies," written and read by Mrs. Sarah Wardner, and a vocal solo by Mrs. William C. Hubbard.

Silkworms.

It is said that all the silk in the world comes from a few silkworms' eggs brought out of China in the sixth century by two traveling Nestorian monks.

EXERCISES OF RALLY DAY

First M. E. Crescent Ave., Park Ave., First Baptist and Others Observe It.

IN SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Rev. Dr. George H. Whitney Makes An Address at the First M. E. Services.

Rally day services were held in a number of churches Sunday. At the First M. E. church in the afternoon the program consisted largely of promotions in the Sunday-school among the various departments. There were a few recitations by the smaller children, and Rev. Dr. George H. Whitney made an interesting address to the school. It was decided to return to the former time of holding the Sunday-school in the afternoon, for after a year's trial the noon hour session was not considered a success.

The promotions are as follows:

Beginners to upper primary—Mildred Swick, Loren Pope, Dorothy Plum, Frank Bewley, Myrtle Dunn, Alfred Little, Elizabeth Hicks, Norman McGee, Collins Moore, Lemuel Woolston, Reba Cline, Edwin Mackey.

Mrs. Thamos McDonald is the teacher.

Primary to intermediate—Helen Van Wilson and Miss Helen Whitney teachers—Margaret Thorn, Muriel Coursa, Ruth Lynn, Louise Reed, Clarence Skiff, Howard Woolston, Hildra Lane, Gertrude Dyer, Harvey Thorn.

Intermediate to Junior—Miss Ethel Pryor teacher—Hazel Apgar, Zeta Voorhees, Catherine Bingaman, Myrah Hutin, Ida Hartpense, Ethel Clarkson, Robin Becker, James Carson, Hoyt Tomkinson, Joe Sutton, Roy Vail, William Kulght and Arthur Slade.

Park Avenue Baptists.

An attractive program was presented at the Park Avenue Baptist church in the afternoon. George E. Hall, the superintendent, was in charge. The program included selections by an orchestra comprising Miss Arline Brown, Miss Marjorie Brown, Arthur Mosher, Whitney Frazee and Ernest Higham; three vocal selections by the intermediate department; vocal solo by R. Coles Treadwell and hymns by the Sunday-school. There was a novel roll call of the entire membership of the school by Superintendent Hall and all present received a card bearing a picture of the church.

Monroe Avenue M. E.

Rev. E. E. Roberson, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, made an interesting address upon the subject of "Child Training." The Sunday-school rooms were attractively decorated with flowers. A part of the exercises included the promotion of several children from the primary department to the higher grades. Superintendent Hall presented the diplomas.

First Baptist.

An informal rally-day program was enjoyed by the Sunday-school of the First Baptist church in the afternoon, marking the change in the time of holding the session from morning to afternoon. Appropriate remarks were made by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor; Superintendent George H. Batchelor and the singing of rally-day songs by the school and violin solo by Miss Florence Wolfert. The roll of the school membership was called and it was shown that it has increased during the past year.

Crescent Avenue Church.

Two interesting addresses marked the rally day exercises of the Crescent Avenue church Sunday-school Sunday. The school met at 12 o'clock noon, the primary department meeting with the church main section upstairs for the opening. There was a large attendance, parents and friends of the pupils swelling the numbers.

After the opening exercises, the primary pupils went to their room downstairs, where Miss Carrie Dewey, for years the pianist of the department, told of her trip to Europe in the summer. She was sent on the trip by the teachers and pupils of the department as a testimonial to her splendid services.

Upstairs Rev. James B. Cochran, brother of Henry Cochran, superintendant of the school, a missionary in the Chinese field, spoke on his experiences in the Celestial kingdom. Supt. Cochran also spoke.

Tennis Matches Postponed.

Not only did the rain on Saturday prevent the playing of the local baseball games and the holding of the trotting meet, but it interfered with the championship tennis matches scheduled at the Plainfield Country Club and the Park Club. The courts were water soaked and the constant rain made it impossible for the contestants to play. All the matches were put over for one week.

Annual Meeting of Yale Club.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Yale Club will be held at the Casino, Tuesday night, October 8, when several matters of importance will be considered. There will be the usual social time and refreshments.

SYNODICAL SOCIETY WORK

Presbyterian Women's Organization to Hold Annual Session, Oct. 10.

SOME LOCAL OFFICERS

Mrs. William E. Honeyman President of Home Department—Mrs. J. H. Manning Treasurer.

The Presbyterian churches of Camden will entertain the Woman's Synodical Society at its annual meeting Thursday, October 10. Mrs. William E. Honeyman, of North Plainfield, is president of the home department, and Mrs. John H. Manning, of this city, is treasurer. The meeting will last all day, the home missionary affairs occupying the morning and the foreign the afternoon sessions. There will be speakers on both subjects, but they have not yet been secured. The annual election of officers will be an important feature of the proceedings.

In the home department the following officers will again be named for the posts which they hold: President, Mrs. W. E. Honeyman, of Plainfield; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. C. Miles, of Roselle; recording secretary, Miss E. B. Paxton, of Princeton; secretary of literature, Mrs. William A. Roe, of Perth Amboy; secretary of young people's work, Miss Mary Harding, of Bridgeton, and treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Manning, of Plainfield.

The slate of officers for the foreign department includes: President, Mrs. George W. B. Cushing, of East Orange; recording secretary, Miss Mary Tooker, of Orange; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Walter Condict, of Jersey City; secretary of young people's work, Mrs. W. H. Hall, of Camden; secretary of literature, Mrs. L. V. Coddington, of Murray Hill, and treasurer, Miss H. F. Van Meter, of Salem. These officers are the same that served for the past year.

There are a number of vice presidents in each part of the Synodical Society, one for each presbytery represented, and these will be subject to change this year according to their stands in their own organizations.

YOUR GOLD COINS.

Set if Any of Them is Stamped With the Letter L.

"I got hold of a gold coin a short time ago, and it was marked with a letter L, which I supposed had been stamped upon it by some one who wished to keep watch as to whether he ever had in possession again. I showed it to a friend of mine, I think, and thought nothing more about it for several months. Then I found out that I had been passing 'light' coin."

"How is that?" was the question of a listener.

"All coins, whether gold or silver, upon which a large L is stamped are light weight. When you get one of these stamped coins, the only thing to do is to take it to some assayer, who will weigh it and pay you about 10 per cent. less than the face value of the coin for it. He will then place it in a crucible to be melted into gold bullion.

"The government itself mutilates thes coins and in so doing turns the ruined currency right back into circulation, where some innocent party will become victimized by them.

"When the light coins are tendered for duties on imports they are weighed at the custom house, quickly stamped L for light and returned to the importer. If the latter cannot pass the coin off, he must take it to the retort to be melted.

"Then, too, they may be rendered light in the ordinary course of abrasion in circulation or they may have been sweated by parties who sell the gold out thus brulsed off the coin. The common mode of sweating is to place a number of gold coins in a sack and shake them up for a long time, when the gold dust will gather at the bottom of the sack."—Utica Observer.

ELKS' GAME POSTPONED.

Contest at Somerville to be Played Next Saturday—Crowd Disappointed.

After turning up for the battle, the Elk nines of this city and Somerville were washed from the field before they could engage in the struggle at the Somerset county capital Saturday afternoon. The Plainfield team had had about 20 minutes of practise and were beginning to feel like world's champions when the weather man turned the hose on. There was a let up in the rain after a bit and hopes of a contest revived, but the faucets were turned on full again and the flood chased the athlets to cover.

The downpour brought disappointment to a big crowd. The game will be played next Saturday, and it will be all the better for the delay, because both inies will use the time to practice.

The Praying Wheel.

A traveler thus describes the praying wheel of Tibet: "A barrel eight inches long holds 1,400 thin leaves, on each side of which the prayer is printed, say, ten times. This gives 28,000 prayers, two of which are put to the worshipper's credit in the world to come if with a touch of his finger he makes the barrel revolve once."

OUTINGS FOR OVER 2,000

Surprising Reports Made at Annual Meeting of Netherwood Fresh Air Ass'n.

65,000 MEALS SERVED

Dean Rodman Re-elected President—Treasurer Runyon Shows Balance of $200 in the Treasury.

Officers were elected for the coming year and reports presented at the annual meeting of the Netherwood Fresh Air Association, held at the Park Avenue Baptist church. All the reports showed that the past year has been one of the most succesful in the history of the association, and much encouragement is given for the future.

One of the most interesting reports was that of the house committee. This showed that during the season just closed 1,860 children were entertained at the home and 549 mothers, making a total of 2,408. An idea of the amount of provisions needed to feed such an army can be gained from the statement that 65,000 meals were served, 2,856 quarts of milk and 8,173 loves of bread were consumed. There was one case of illness, and although the child was so critically ill that it was believed she would die, she recovered. During the summer a friend of the association donated a piano, which proved of great benefit.

The report of the treasurer, David M. Runyon, showed that all bills had been paid and that there is now a balance of about $200 on hand. Miss Sara Curry, the matron of the home, presented an excellent informal report, showing the good work accomplished during the summer.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Rev. Erskine M. Rodman; vice presidents, George E. Hall, J. J. Lobenstein, James M. Parker; secretary, Benjamin Hadley; treasurer, David M. Runyon; chairman house committee, Mrs. Alfred Henry; chairman finance committee, George A. Chapman; chairman builds and grounds committee, J. D. Loizeaux; chairman devotional committee, Miss Florence G. Hawkins.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL.

In the six great Swiss colleges there are now 2,193 women studying.

Following German and French examples, the University of Florence arranged this year for the first time a summer course of studies, especially in the Italian language and literature.

Alfred Hayes, Jr., has been appointed to a professorship in the Law school of Cornell university. He graduated from Princeton in 1895 and from the Columbia University Law school three years later. He has taught in the Columbia Law school for the past five years.

Boston has inaugurated a girls' high school of practical arts to correspond with the present low commercial high school for boys. The school will attempt to teach girls practical courses to fit them as homemakers. Among the studies will be housefurnishing, decoration, housekeeping, cooking, sewing and millinery.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

It is always open season for the man who is hunting trouble.

Some people constitute themselves a grievance committee and hold a session every day.

Have you noticed that there are very few old people these days? It used to be going out of style to grow old.

Don't imagine you are the only person in the world who has annoyances. There is so much trouble in the world that there is plenty to go around.

A man without a very active imagination can bring tears to his eyes any time by thinking of the great sorrow that will overcast the wide land on the day of his funeral.—Atchison Globe.

JAPANESE PROVERBS.

Many words, little sense.

The fly finds the sore spot.

To be overpolite is to be rude.

If you have a man let him live.

Thine own heart makes the world.

Treat every old man as thy father.

The poet at home sees the whole world.

Speak of a man and his shadow comes.

Inquire seven times before you believe a report.

He is a clever man who can preach a short sermon.

A tongue of three inches can kill a man of six feet.

A small minded man looks at the sky through a reed.

The throne of the gods is on the brow of a righteous man.—Hesperian.

A Quaint Custom.

The marriage customs of nations are quaint. Here is one which is decidedly barbarous: A Hottentot widow marrying again has to cut off the joint of a finger, which she gives to her new husband on their wedding day. Each time she becomes a widow and marries again she has to sacrifice one finger joint.

SOMERSET CONVENTIONS

Democrats to Nominate Candidates at Somerville on Wednesday, Oct. 9.

FOLLOW REPUBLICANS

G. O. P. Convention Four Days Earlier—Democrats' Slate Includes Demond and Ross, 'Tis Said.

Somerset's Democrats will hold their county convention on Wednesday, Oct. 9, that date having been decided upon at a meeting of the county committee at Somerville on Saturday. The Republicans will nominate their ticket four days previously, Saturday, Oct. 5, having been announced as the time for the gathering of the G. O. P. clans.

The Democratic convention will be held at Somerset hall, Somerville, the same place where the Republicans will assemble. The probable chairman has not been announced, but it is said that former State Senator S. D. Childs will wield the gavel and decide upon questions of parlimentary law. An effort is being made to have Gubernatorial nominee, Frank S. Katzenback, make a speech and it is believed that he will accept the invitation extended by the county committee

It is said that the slate has been fixed in this fashion: For surrogate, William J. Demond, of Bridgewater township; for sheriff, Frank Ross, of Bridgewater township. Demond is the present incumbent of the surrogate office and ther seems to be bnt little opposition to his proposed renomination. Ross has made a hard canvas for the shrievalty and it appears likely that he will land himself on the ticket.

STATE SCHOOL TAX RAISED BOROUGH RATE

REASON FOR ADVANCE—MUNICIPALITY WILL GET MONEY BACK.

County and State taxes, especially the latter, are at the bottom of the high rate—2.48—on which the North Plainfield tax bills will be figured this year, the president of the board of freeholders said in his address of welcome to the taxpayers mainly from the State school tax. Local improvements and work are not at the bottom of it. More than that, the borough will get all the State school money back, and more. The borough's share of the school tax is figured on the assessment levied, and its share of the State school fund will be apportioned on the number of school days. The latter reach a total greater than in most other places, so North Plainfield will come in for a goodly share of the fund, and receive considerably more than it pays out to the State.

It is to be remembered also that the borough assessment is not on a basis of 100 per cent. The valuations are only about seventy-five per cent, and this figures in the rate-making.

Plainfield Council, No. 731, Royal Arcanum, will hold its annau banquet on Thursday night, October 10, at Hotel Iroquois.

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between The Plainfield Trust Company, complainant, and Jeremiah Evarts Tracy et al., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above-stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Sheriff's office, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on WEDNESDAY, THE EIGHTH DAY OF AUGUST, 1907, at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that certain tract, piece or parcel of land and premises situate, lying and being in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey. Said property described as follows, viz.:

Beginning at a stake at the point of intersection of the centre lines of Eighth and Division streets, and running thence along the line of Eighth street north forty-eight (48) degrees and thirty-six (36) minutes west two hundred and twenty-one and five hundredths (221.05) feet to a stake in the line of land formerly of William M. Ham, and now of John W. Murray; thence north forty-one (41) degrees four (04) minutes (41) west along said land formerly of William M. Ham, and now of John W. Murray, and land of the said Charles Potter, Junior, two hundred and seventy-seven and eleven hundredths (277.11) feet to a stake and a corner of land of said Charles Potter, Junior, and land of Jeremiah Ehrts Tracy; thence along said last mentioned land south forty-eight (48) degrees and thirty-four (34) minutes east two hundred and twenty-one and five hundredths (221.05) feet to a stake in the centre line of Division street, as now laid out; and thence along the centre line of Division street south forty-one (41) degrees east two hundred and seventy-seven (277) feet to the centre line of Eighth street and the point and place of beginning.

Being the same land and premises conveyed to said Jeremiah Evarts Tracy by deed of Charles Potter, Junior, and wife, and James F. Hubbard and wife, dead bearing date the 28th day of April, 1877, recorded in Union County Clerk's office April 28, 1877, in book 115 of deeds, page 510, etc.

Excepting and reserving however, therefrom the land and premises conveyed by said Jeremiah Evarts Tracy and wife to Charles Potter, Junior, and James F. Hubbard, described in the certain deed bearing date June 17, 1907, and recorded in Union County Clerk's office June 19, 1907, in Book 116 of deeds, page 423, etc., which said land and premises herein excepted are situated in the northeasterly corner of the tract of land above first described, and is about fifty and twenty-three one-hundredths feet (50.23) in length, and about twenty-five and two-tenths feet (25.2) in depth.

WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE, Sheriff.
REED & CODDINGTON, Sol'rs.
7 19 5t ch Fee—Adv. Fees—$12.60

"* * * Of all the newspapers in New York, the one which has approached most closely to what an American newspaper should be in straightforwardness and tone, THE NEW YORK TIMES stands first."—Harper's Weekly.

The New York Times

"All the News that's Fit to Print."

Gives more space to news than any other New York newspaper. It gives impartial news free from bias. It goes into homes that bar other newspapers.

The London Times' Cable News appears in this country exclusively in THE NEW YORK TIMES. No other American newspaper excels THE NEW YORK TIMES in the presentation of Domestic or Foreign News.

The New York Times

is Now Appearing Every Sunday

Improved and Enlarged

with an illuminated PICTORIAL SECTION OF EIGHT FULL-SIZE PAGES, embracing pictures of prominent people in society and public life, also scenes and incidents of the important events of the day.

The Magazine Section accompanying the SUNDAY TIMES presents a variety of interesting illustrated features and a unique selection of the best stories about men and women of prominence.

The New York Times. Saturday Review of Books.

which accompanies the Saturday Edition, is the recognized authority to which the public looks for the first news of books.

The New York Times. Weekly Financial Quotation Review.

gives a weekly review of current prices of stocks and bonds; also the dealings in securities, including high and low prices—comprising a compact and convenient reference publication for investors and others interested in financial matters.

ORDER THROUGH YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER,

or mailed direct from office, as per the following rates:

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

	By Mail.
One Year, Sundays included	$8.50
Six Months, Sundays included	4.25
Three Months, Sundays included	2.25
One Month, Sundays included	.75
Per Week	.17
Daily, without Sunday, per year	6.00
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3.00
Daily, without Sunday, three months	1.50
Daily, without Sunday, one month	.50
Daily, without Sunday, one week	.12
The New York Times' Saturday Financial Quotation Review,	1.00
Saturday, with Section Devoted to Review of Books, per year	1.00
Sunday, with Pictorial Section, per year	2.50

Postage is prepaid in the United States for Daily and Sunday Editions, add $1.05 per month.

Newsdealers who are not receiving THE NEW YORK TIMES—Daily and Sunday editions—should order a regular supply at once. Write for terms. Address Circulation Manager.

The New York Times
Times Square, New York.

MAGAZINE READERS

SUNSET MAGAZINE beautifully illustrated, good stories and articles about California and all the Far West. $1.50 a year

CAMERA CRAFT devoted each month to the artistic reproduction of the best work of amateur and professional photographers. $1.00 a year

BOAT OF A THOUSAND WONDERS a book of 75 pages, containing 120 colored photographic reproductions of picturesque spots in California and Oregon. $0.75

Total . . . $3.25

All for $1.50

Address all orders to

SUNSET MAGAZINE

Flood Building San Francisco

FOR AGENTS—AN OPPORTUNITY!

"THE OLD WORLD AND ITS WAYS"

BY

William Jennings Bryan.

NOW READY FOR SOLICITORS.

576 Imperial Octavo Pages. Over 200 Superb Engravings from photographs taken by Mr. Bryan.

Recounts his trip around the world and his visits to all nations. The greatest book of travel ever written. The people are waiting for it. The agent's harvest. Outfit FREE—Send fifty cents to cover mailing and handling.

THE THOMPSON PUBLISHING CO.,
St. Louis, Mo. 7 26 3 c

Mrs. Dufford Finds a Pearl.

In a purchase of oysters from the market of Fred Neidig, of Somerset street, Mrs. Dufford, of Manning avenue, yesterday found a good sized pearl, which is quite valuable. She discovered the pearl while preparing the oysters for dinner.

Sanitary Plumbing

Brick and Portable Furnace
Gas Fitting, Tin Roofing,
Etc., Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner. Having associated myself with the Master Members Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business, at all times and in all cases.

D. W. LITTELL

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

NEW IN EVERY DETAIL

My new barber shop at

143 NORTH AVE.

is now open ready for business. All the latest appointments in the toncorial illne.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD.

DIME

Savings Institution,

Of Plainfield, N. J.,

Is now receiving deposits with interest, allowed on all sums from $5 to $3,000.

J. Frank Hubbard, President.
Wm. F. Arnold, } Vice-Pres
Jeremiah Manning, }
J. C. Pope, Sec'y and Treas.

Money deposited on or before Jaun ary tenth will draw interest from the first.

Guaranteed Salary $900 YEARLY.

Men and women of good address to represent us; some to travel, supporting agents, others for local work looking after our interests. $900 salary guaranteed yearly, extra commissions and expenses, rapid advancement, old established house. Grand chance for earnest man or woman to secure permanent, prosperous position. Mercantile and Future. New, brilliant lines. Write at once,

STAFFORD PRESS,
23 Church Pl., New Haven, Conn

W. R. CODDINGTON,
Counsellor-at-Law
Commissioner of Deeds, Master-in-chancery, Notary Public. Offices Corner of Park avenue and Second street.

WANTED.

BOYS wanted to learn the moulder's and machinist's trades. Walter Scott & Co., Plainfield, N. J. 9 3 2

WANTED—By Chicago wholesale and mail order house, assistant manager (man or woman) for this county and adjoining territory; salary $20 and expenses paid weekly; expense money advanced; work pleasant; position permanent; no investment or experience required; spare time valuable; write at once for full particulars and enclose self-addressed envelope. Address General Manager, 134 E. Lake St., Chicago.

DIED.

EDWARDS—On Tuesday, Sept. 24, 1907, Harriette S., widow of Captain George Edwards and daughter of the late Jesse Pound, in the 82d year of her age.

BLAND—In this city, on Wednesday, Sept. 25, 1907, Ella, wife of Ernest Bland, in her 24th year.

MOTLEY—In North Plainfield, Saturday, September 28, 1907, Catharine Motley, wife of John Motley.

POUND—At Trenton, N. J., on Third day, Ninth month, 24th, 1907, Josephine L., widow of George R. Pound.

DURYEE—On Friday, September 27, 1907, Joseph C. Duryee, aged 60 years.

GRIFFITH—On Saturday, September 28, 1907, John Humphrey Griffth, in his 74th year.

WHITLOCK—Suddenly, on Monday, September 30, 1907, George S. Whitlock.

Nails.

Nails are called sixpenny, eightpenny and tenpenny, according as 1,000 of a particular kind weigh six, eight or ten pounds, penny being a corruption of the older form of pound.

PASS UTILITIES MEASURE

State Senate Puts Bill Through After Some Amendments are Made.

MR. ACKERMAN'S VIEWS

Union County Senator, Who Was a Principal Factor in Passage of the Measure, Talks on Subject.

The public utilities bill was passed by the State Senate at 6:30 Wednesday evening after it had been amended in several important particulars during a session which began at 2 o'clock. There were sixteen senators present and all voted for it.

Throughout the afternoon the minority made efforts to have the measure amended so that it would conform with the bill which failed to pass in the House, a score of amendments were offered and all were voted down by a party vote except a few, which all hands admitted added strength to the bill.

Messrs. Silzer and Geblart led the minority's attack, and Messrs. Ackerman, Hillery, Avis, Robbins, Hutchinson, Prellinghuysen and Wakelee looked after the Republican end of the fight in their usual able manner.

After the amendments had been exhausted and the bill was ready for a vote, Mr. Silzer offered as a substitute the House bill, with a few changes in it. He moved for its adoption and amended the motion with one referring it and the Senate bill to a committee of the whole for examination and comparison. This move precipitated a lively debate, which resulted in the defeat of Mr. Silzer's motion.

The Senate bill was then taken up on third reading and was passed. The bill was reported by the committee on corporations with amendments, which contain the following provisions:

That the Governor may remove commissioners for inefficiency, neglect of duty or misconduct in office, after giving them copies of the charges and the opportunity of being publicly heard in person or by counsel, in their own defense, which was offered by Mr. Ackerman.

That the salaries of subordinates and their duties must be approved by the Governor.

That the clause imposing a penalty for witnesses who might commit perjury be eliminated.

That corporations must adopt such methods of bookkeeping as shall in the judgment of the commission be necessary to an intelligent understanding of the business of the corporation.

That no corporation subject to the act shall give free service, a pass, donation or emolument of any kind to any person holding office under the government of any municipality of this State, except the steam railways may carry free policemen and firemen in uniform while attending to duty.

That the vice president of any corporation can sign certificates of stock in the absence of the president.

These amendments were adopted after considerable debate.

The bill was introduced by Mr. Bradley at the opening of the session.

After the committee amendments had been adopted the others began to engage the attention of the senate.

Mr. Colby was the first contributor. He wanted the changes in regard to rate making so that the power would be given to the commission. Mr. Gebhart spoke for the amendment, and Mr. Robbins opposed it on the ground that such a provision would clothe the commission with too much power. After a lengthy debate the amendment was lost by a vote of 5 to 8.

A dozen or so amendments offered by Mr. Silzer were voted down.

The minor amendments adopted included one making the commission bi-partisan; requiring the commission to hold monthly meetings in Trenton; relieving witnesses from punishment and compelling the giving of testimony, and giving cities the right to enforce their charter provisions.

Senator E. R. Ackerman, of this city, suggested several amendments to the bill, among which was one for the removal by the Governor of any commissioner for cause, such as inefficiency or neglect of duty.

"The Senate bill," said Mr. Ackerman this morning, "is unquestionably a good measure. In legislation of this character it is our duty to the people to make haste slowly. It is better to make haste slowly than to play politics fastly. Devoted for an amendment to give minority political representation on the commission. It seems to be proper to give State supervision over public utilities. It is far better to feel our way in subjects of this kind than to drive ahead without calm consideration.

"All the people," said the Senator, "are either directly or indirectly interested regarding financial results as the outcome of legislation, directly by being stockholders and indirectly through the investments of life and fire insurance companies as well as by investments by individuals either in their own or in a fiduciary capacity. It is the duty of legislators, as far as their power lies, to see that the companies adequately serve the public. We must not let politics with important business interests so as to weaken or destroy the confidence of the public. It is always our duty to both labor and to capital to be both sane and honest in legislation. Make haste slowly. See that the foundation stones are laid so that the superstructure of our industry and prosperity will be firm and enduring. It seems certain that those who would play politics with serious business affairs of the people of the State are not as cautious and logical as are the people whom they represent.

"The train," said the Senator, "is on the track of prosperity, and is still going at a satisfactory speed. Let us be careful not to throw the switch on the sidetrack, which might ultimately lead to depression. The people have their eyes on the towerman. Let us make haste slowly without playing politics or seeking to deceive the people by undigested measures. We have in the Senate bill framed legislation that will compell all corporations that come under its provisions to furnish adequate facilities to the public. We have provided that all discriminations shall cease and we have seen to it that no rebates are to be given to any one, as well as providing adequate safeguards to those investing in the future in such enterprises.

"We have given the minority party representation on the board as well as compelling the keeping of an open daily office with regular monthly meetings of the commission. In some respects the bill goes further than the Hughes bill, but it was not deemed wise to attempt to regulate the rates at this time."

THEY SECRETLY WED A HALF YEAR AGO

HERBERT F. GLAENTZER'S BELATED ANNOUNCEMENT

Announcement was made last week of the marriage of Miss Bertha Fergerson, of New Brunswick, and Herbert Francis Glaentzer, son of Letter-carrier and Mrs. Charles Glaentzer, of New street. The couple were married in New Brunswick on April 26 last by the Rev. Dr. Knox, of that city, but the two families and friends were kept in ignorance of the fact until the announcement last week. The news was received with great surprise.

The groom has been employed in New Brunswick during the past two years, and it was there that he met his bride. Both are well known in New Brunswick and this city. Mr. Glaentzer expects to change his position so that he can work and reside in Plainfield.

MISS LOUISE TAYLOR TO BE MARRIED OCT. 15.

Invitations Issued for Wedding of Plainfield High School Graduate.

Plainfield school friends have received invitations to the wedding of Miss Louise Montfort Taylor and Leicester Davis, both of Langhorne, Pa., which will take place in St. James' Episcopal church, that place, on Tuesday afternoon, October 15, at 4 o'clock.

Miss Taylor formerly resided at Roselle, and attended the Plainfield School. She was graduated in the class of '03 and was the valedictorian on that occasion. After her graduation she moved to Langhorne, where she has resided ever since. The wedding will be a society affair, a large number of invitations having been issued.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

It is more blessed to give than it is to regret.

Bachelors who are looking for trouble should get married.

By switching the truth a train of lies is soon made up.

Now the football eleven will soon be ready to make a ten-strike.

It isn't a difficult task for a hoop-snake to make both ends meet.

Even when a man pays cash for an electric battery he wants it charged.

According to the eternal fitness of things a clock of a girl should marry a mack doctor.

A poor but otherwise strictly honest man says that the worst thing about riches is not having any.

And the sooner a man makes up his mind to let a woman have the last word the sooner the misery will end.

The Inevitable Result.

Stage Manager—I got the leading man to cover his lines in that automobile part.

Manager—Well?

Stage Manager—He simply mangled them.—Baltimore American.

THE COOKBOOK.

A teaspoonful of strong coffee added to chocolate at the last minute will give it a delicious flavor.

To scale fish quickly cover with boiling water. Let it remain in the water just half a minute, then scrape with a knife and the scales will come off readily.

Pick out all the bones and mince a can of sardines. Add one-half as much chopped cucumber pickles. Season with salt and cayenne, and mix with mayonnaise dressing. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Try serving cream cheese balls with the toasted bread or English muffins. Chop fine a Spanish red pepper and half a dozen olives, mix them with half a cream cheese, season with salt and a little paprika and form into balls.

MR. ISAACSON SCOLDED OVER MRS. ABRAMS' HEAD

SHE COULDN'T QUITE UNDERSTAND HIS INDIGNANT REMARKS IN HEBREW.

The complaint against Samuel Isaacson, made by Mrs. Morris Abrams, who charged him with using profane and indecent language, and with destroying property on the place on West Third street, where he conducted a paint shop as a tenant of her husband, was dismissed by Judge Runyon in the city court this morning.

The testimony showed that all the remarks addressed by Isaacson to Mrs. Abrams were either in Yiddish or Hebrew. Mrs. Abrams said they were terrible, but neither she nor any of her witnesses could translate them into anything stronger than asander. The pure Hebrew curses, according to Mrs. Abrams, were the worst, but she acknowledged that the classical tongue was beyond her and only a general idea of what Isaacson, who is said to be learned in Hebrew, meant could be gathered by her.

The defendant has a venerable beard and a student's eyes, and looks like the typical father in Israel, versed in the law and the prophets. Counsellor W. L. Heted, Jr., who appeared for him, said he was the victim of a petty plot to put him out of business, and painted him as a gentle, holy man, who had fled from Russia to escape persecution only to meet as bitter injustice among his own people here.

Mrs. Abrams and her husband opposed the dismissal obstinately. They were sure there was something profane and indecent in what Isaacson had said, and they wanted to bring other witnesses to some translation from another angle. Judge Runyon refused to entertain their application for a second adjournment. He said they had had plenty of opportunity and witnesses enough.

After the hearing Mr. Heifield announced that his client would institute a suit for damages against Abrams. The action will be brought in the District Court.

STATE LINES.

Nevada seems destined to forge to the rst place in the production of precious metals.

Colorado, Montana and Utah have according to recent returns, shown a decided decline in the production of metals.

A macadamized road between St. Louis and Kansas City will be completed within two years. Construction work will be begun next spring. The Missouri legislature appropriated $500,000 for the purpose at its last session. The road will be sixty feet wide. On its completion another road leading north by south through the State, will be undertaken.

When Life Was Cheap.

The 223 capital offenses which the old English law recognized as punishable by death did not keep down crime, and with the abolition of the the death penalty for all crimes but murder and treason in England, as well as everywhere else all over the world where the death penalty has been modified, lessened markedly. A man's life was not very valuable in those days. If he scratched his name on Westminster bridge; if he wore a wig or false mustache or other diskuise on a public road; if he stole property worth more than ve shillings; if he had been transported for crime and had returned a day ahead of the expiration of his punishment; if he wrote a threatening letter; if he stole a hide from a tanner's; far any and all of these things, and for 200 more than these, he was hanged by the neck until he was dead.—Exchange.

Lincoln and Stanton.

There was a marked contrast between Lincoln's manner, which was always plain and at even ease, and that of Stanton. The latter's stern, spectacled visage commanded instant respect and in many cases inspired fear. In receiving visitors, and they were legion, Stanton seldom or never sat down, but stood before a high desk as the crowd passed before him and one by one presented their requests or complaints, which were rapidly disposed of. He was haughty, severe, domineering and often rude. When I think of him in the daily routine of his public audiences the characterization of Napoleon by Charles Phillips, the Irish orator, rang to mind, "Grand, gloomy and peculiar."—David Homer Bates in Century.

A Money Raiser.

Having completed his special work for the Y. M. C. A. at Gloucester, Mass., Charles B. Brown, formerly of this city, is now at Attleboro, Mass., where he will endeavor to raise $25,000 to complete the Y. M. C. A. building. Last spring Mr. Brown raised $25,000 for the association, and will now try to secure the remaining half needed. During July and August he raised about $14,000 at Gloucester.

Touring in Canada.

Charles W. McCutcheon and family, accompanied by William J. Butterfield and family, are making a tour through Canada after a season spent at their Adirondack camps.

Building a House.

L. A. Clement, of Central avenue, is building a house on West Third street, for speculation. The plans were drawn by Arthur Aalholm.

STATE TRUST COMPANIES

J. Herbert Case Addresses the National Bankers' Association Convention.

AT ATLANTIC CITY

Plainfielder Delivers Able Speech on "Progress and Development of Trust Companies in New Jersey."

The thirty-third annual convention of the American Bankers' Association at Atlantic City was officially opened at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. President G. S. Whitson, of the National City Bank, of New York city, called the delegates to order and then introduced Governor Stokes, of New Jersey, a bank president himself, who extended a welcome in behalf of State and city.

The day before the regular convention met, was devoted to sectional meetings. The sections elected the following officers:

Trust company sections—President, Philip S. Babcock, New York; vice president, A. A. Jackson, Philadelphia; secretary, James Branch, New York; members of the executive committee, U. H. McCarter, Newark, N. J.; Hamilton A. Hill, Post, Baltimore; Arthur Adams, Boston; H. G. Lloyd, Philadelphia, and L. L. Gillespie, New York. Savings bank section—President, Lucius Teter, Chicago; first vice president, J. H. Johnson, Detroit; secretary, William Hanhart, New York; members of the executive committee, E. L. Robinson, Baltimore; J. H. Haas, Davenport, Ia., and H. A. Oren, Beloit, Wis.

One of the principal addresses of the day was delivered by J. Herbert Case, secretary-treasurer and a director of the Plainfield Trust Company. He is vice president for this State. Mr. Case's topic was the "Development and Progress of Trust Companies in New Jersey." His paper was listened to with rapt attention, and at the conclusion he was congratulated for its high merit. Mr. Case said in part:

"On behalf of the State which has the honor of entertaining this great convention, I am glad to report that, in trust company circles, the past year has been the most prosperous one in our history. A summary of our present figures may be of interest:

Total number of trust companies, 71
Total amount of permanent capital $14,000,000
Total surplus and earned profits 22,000,000
Deposits, about 150,000,000

"By comparison with the figures of a year ago, the following increases may be noted:

Increase in the number of companies, 71.
Increase in permanent capital $1,000,000
Increase in surplus and earned profits 1,000,000
(In addition to which substantial dividends have been paid.)
Increase in deposits, about 20,000,000

"All this is strong testimony to the great prosperity of our commonwealth during the past year, which is further evidenced by the increase in the National, State and Savings Bank deposits as well.

"Class of Business—Our trust companies, generally, are equipped to transact whatever business may legitimately come within the scope of the institutions. In addition to conducting a general banking business which is, at present, the main source of our in come, we are prepared—always for a modest consideration—to act as executor, trustee or administrator of estates, as guardian, assignee or receiver, and to take entire charge of real estate or other property; in short, our facilities enable us to care for the financial affairs of the living and to properly consummate the affairs after death. No other branch of our business receives more careful and minute attention on the part of the trust company officers than this business of a fiduciary nature. Many companies also maintain safe deposit and storage vault departments. This is found not only necessary to meet the demand of our clients, but is extremely profitable as well.

"Deposits—More than 50 per cent. of over $150,000,000 deposits are deposits subject to call. While we are permitted, under the law, to receive deposits at interest, under a recent ruling of the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, we are not allowed to maintain a 'saving department,' or to in any way advertise or solicit 'savings bank deposits.' Our time deposits are, therefore, solicited under the caption of 'special department,' 'provident department' or 'deposit department.' We are not only seeking business of this character, but, what is better, are receiving and caring for a large part of the people's savings, the public being fully satisfied that, with the large capital, surplus and earned profits back of all deposits, together with the conservative management and representative directorate which are universally found in the trust companies of this State, their deposits are safe. In looking up the aggregate deposits of the State, I find that the last report of the comptroller of the currency shows that there are in operation in this State 172 national banks, having a capital of $20,000,000, surplus and profits of $25,000,000 and deposits of $150,000,000, the same amount approximately as is lodged with our seventy-one trust companies. To my mind this speaks volumes as to the confidence of the depositing public in the integrity and conservatism of our trust companies. And we know that this is deserved. A perusal of the trust company reports of this State which are issued yearly and freely distributed by the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, will quickly convince the most skeptical that we are most conservative in making our investments. No other class of financial institutions (savings banks excepted) have their investments, earnings and expenses and affairs generally placed before the public in such detail. Understand, we welcome this publicity, being convinced that the public, whose confidence and business we ask, are entitled to such information.

"Laws—Our companies are under the jurisdiction of an alert department of banking and insurance. Every year they make a most thorough examination each year, while the law further requires that not less than two additional examinations shall be made by a committee of the board of directors. Every report or condition as called for by the department at irregular intervals, a copy of which must be published in a local paper. It is gratifying to report that no adverse legislation has been enacted during the year.

"Progress and Development—It has been said that all roads lead to Atlantic City, and after a strenuous year's work, we are mighty glad that they do, but we also find that all roads in this State lead to New York and Philadelphia, and much time and effort is expended in pointing out to our commuter friends the desirability of keeping their money in the home banks, away from the 'wicked' financiers. A strong argument that we use is the New York law known as the '5 per cent inheritance tax,' by virtue of which that State claims 5 per cent. of the principal upon the death of a non-resident depositor. If their State Legislature would only proceed to penalize our town depositors during their life time, our fortunes would be made and we should all be presiding over institutions the size of that of our good friend, Brother McCarter. Our companies generally are progressive and up to date. We women enjoy having a quiet, private room for the transaction of their banking business? We furnish it. Do they want clean money? We supply them with new bills, and I, for one, have seen little paper pay in a more convincing number of women's accounts. We believe in the generous use of printer's ink, and, in addition to newspaper publicity, keep the field covered with letters, booklets, statements, etc. Your committee has found that engaging by the year a special corner of prominence in the local papers, paying a little extra therefor, and then pouring into it our most convincing and forceful arguments, setting forth the advantages of doing business with our own particular institution and changing the 'filling' each week, to be the best possible sort of an investment. Why should we not advertise? Is our business in any way different from that of the successful merchant? Are we not buying and selling credit for a profit and will not that profit, like that of the successful merchant, be greater if we can materially increase the volume of our business? Gentlemen, trust companies, the highest type of financial institutions, are here to stay and while the trust company business elsewhere, depend upon it, the trust companies of New Jersey will join hands with those of other States—will be found not wanting in the service they owe and stand ready to render for the greatest number, and for the greatest good."

He Wasn't a Girmand.

That wary old fellow, Bailie Macduff, was enticed into a friend's house the other night, and his host managed to win 50 shillings from him at "nap." What is more remarkable, when the bailie had parted with his last shilling he rose, full of wrath.

"Won't you stay to supper?" pressed his host. "We have a fine bit of ham waiting."

"No, not I. Dae ye think I eat 50 shillings' worth of ham?"—London Answers.

Diseases Near the Ground.

Tall people may derive much comfort from the novel germ theory of Dr. M. Frederick. Of twenty-six victims of cerebro-spinal meningitis that came under his notice all were children, and he believes that the germ—stirred up from the ground by passing pedestrians—seldom rise above two or three feet, and are thus inhaled by children and others with noses near the ground.

The largest insect yet discovered is supposed ti be a grasshipped in the Karoo desert in South Africa. Its spread of wings is ten inches.

FORT AN EASY WINNER SAYS COUNTY CHAIRMAN

SMITH SAYS HE WILL GET 2,500 MAJORITY IN COUNTY.

County Chairman Frank H. Smith today prophesied that J. Franklin Fort, the Republican candidate for Governor, would receive a majority of 2,500 in Union county at the coming election. In giving these figures, Mr. Smith asks confidently and said that he did not doubt but that the Republican ticket would be successful. The normal Republican majority in Union county is 1,800, although Senator Ackerman is among a few who have received nearly 2,200 majority.

Last year the Republican ticket received about 10,000 votes in the county. Assemblyman Peter Tillman was high man with 10,928 votes, while Desmond, the Democratic candidate for the Assembly, was given 9,675 votes. Assemblyman Perkins received a vote of 10,855 and Assemblyman Moxon 10,798. On the Democratic ticket, J. J. Hagus received 9,654 and R. C. Coulter 9,508.

N. DOUGLASS DRAKE IS QUIETLY MARRIED

LOCAL LAWYER BECOMES A BENEDICT AT SARANAC, N. Y.

Announcement has been received in this city of the marriage of N. Douglass Drake, formerly of Duer street, and Miss Katherine Venn, of Yonkers, N. Y., which took place at Saranac, N. Y., on Tuesday, September 23. The couple will make their home at Saranac, where Mr. Drake is interested in sanitarin mwork.

Mr. Drake is well known here, where for a time he was a practising lawyer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Newton Drake, of Somerset street. While a resident of this city he was especially active in the First Baptist church, being an officer of the Sunday school. Mrs. Drake was formerly of Wilmington, Del., but during the past few years has resided at Yonkers, N. Y.

PROTESTS AGAINST POSTERS.

Holy Name Society Places Ban on Indecent Libhographs.

Members of the Holy Name Society of St. Bridget's church, of Jersey City, have complained to the local police that indecent theatrical lithographs were posted on the billboards of the city. Billposters continued to decorate fences and billboards with offensive posters, and the officers of the society caused the following announcement, printed on strips of paper, to be pasted over many of the objectionable bills:

"We have protested against the exhibition of such vile pictures until our patience has almost been exhausted."

The police saw the announcement and Chief Frank Moody got busy. He notified the theatrical billposter that henceforth he will be obliged to submit lithographs to him for his censorship before the bills can be posted in public places.

"My men will promptly suppress all indecent exhibitions and posters," said the chief.

Mayor Mark M. Fagan is a member of St. Bridget's church.

HOLD-UP SCARES SERVANTS.

'Plains Domestics Leaving to Escape Dangers of Unprotected Streets.

The recent hold-up of a woman on Park avenue, Scotch Plains, has added to the difficulty of keeping servants in that place. It is said a number of the girls have left their positions, and others have given notice, because they object to working in neighborhoods where it is not safe for a woman to be out at 9 o'clock at night.

This development of the situation, bad enough from the nature of the hold-up and disorder preceding it, adds to the earnestness of the residents that more adequate police protection be afforded the village by the Township Committee. It is felt by the householders that two efficient policemen, on duty every night, should be provided.

FIRE CHIEF TO WED PRETTY TELEPHONE GIRL.

Fred Decker to Marry Miss Florence L. Layton.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Florence L. Layton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Layton, of Westfield, to Fire Chief Fred Decker, of that place. The ceremony will be performed at the home of her parents on Friday afternoon, October 5, at 5:30 o'clock. Dr. Addison W. Hayes, pastor of the First M. E. church, will officiate.

The fire chief and the bride-to-be are very well known in Westfield. Mr. Decker is one of the Republican leaders in the First Ward, and has been chief of the fire department for a number of years and is a hard worker and an able officer. Miss Layton has been the head operator in the central telephone office for some time, and her resignation takes effect next Friday.

SHERIFF'S WIDOW LOSES

Vice Chancellor Declines to Compel Would-be Purchaser to Take Title.

ESTATE NOT ALL HERS

Concurrent Interest With Children, One of Whom Is Under Age—Mr. Devine's Successful Defense.

Vice Chancellor Bergen has filed an opinion in the friendly suit of Jane Josephine Kyte against James F. Devine and others, involving the construction of the will of former Sheriff George Kyte, of Fanwood, who died in 1900, deciding that Mrs. Kyte had no right to sell certain property, which she claimed to be her own, to Mr. Devine, as the children are concurrently interested in the estate.

Mr. Kyte entered into an agreement last January with Mr. Devine to sell him a piece of property at Fanwood, and Devine took steps to have the title searched before the passing of the deed. The title company refused to pass upon the transaction favorably until Mr. Kyte's will had been construed by the Court of Chancery to determine just what property had been bequeathed to Mrs. Kyte.

According to the second clause of Mr. Kyte's will he devised to his wife, Jane Josephine Kyte, for herself and her children any and all real estate that he owned. From the wording, question was raised whether it was the intention of the testator to make absolute disposition of his real estate to his wife, or whether he intended that she should hold concurrently with the children, or whether she simply had a life estate, and the testator intended to vest the remainder in the children at her death.

The case was argued at Trenton on September 3, and in his decision Vice Chancellor Bergen says that a concurrent interest is vested in the wife and the children and he refused to compel the defendant, Mr. Devine, to take title as preferred by Mrs. Kyte. One of the children, Robert L. Kyte, was under age at the time the question of the dispute arose, hence unable to give a deed. Consequently it became necessary to undertake the suit to determine the rights of the children and the widow.

The suit was instituted by Charles E. Dolliver, solicitor for Mrs. Kyte, in which the children and Mr. Devine were joined as defendants. Codington & Swackhamer appeared for the defendants, and W. A. Codington was associated with Mr. Dolliver in settling the question.

P. O. S. OF A. OFFICERS.

Fred A. Pope, of Somerville, Is Chosen at the Richmond Convention.

The Patriotic Order Sons of America, in session at Richmond, Va., on Wednesday elected the following officers: National president, William E. Valliant, Camp 34, Maryland; national vice president, Fred W. Alexander, Camp 4, Virginia; national master of forms, Fred A. Pope, Camp 43, Somerville, N. J.; national secretary, Charles H. Stees, Camp 688, Pennsylvania; national assistant secretary, Louis F. Stees, Camp 688, Pennsylvania; national treasurer, O. B. Wetherhold, Rev. D. E. Rupley, Camp 285, Pennsylvania; national conductor, A. L. Thompson, Camp 9, Conecticut; national inspector, James W. Allison, Camp 6, District of Columbia; national guard, Warren Grubb, Camp 22, Delaware; national medical examiner in chief, Dr. P. N. K. Schwenk.

Chattanooga was chosen as the next place of meeting. By a unanimous vote it was decided to purchase "Stratford," the estate of the Lees, in Westmoreland county, Vo., and to request the President of the United States to allow visitors within the grounds of Mt. Vernon without paying a fee. A committee was appointed to erect a monument to Past National President G. E. Stees, of Pennsylvania.

JERSEY RUBBER OUTPUT AGGREGATES $22,824,737.

Thirty-eight Mills in State—Value of Boots and Shoes Placed at $2,628,318.

Nearly 3,000,000 pairs of rubber boots and shoes, with a value of $2,628,318, were turned out by the rubber mills of New Jersey during 1906, according to a bulletin just issued by the State bureau of statistics. More than 11,000,000 pounds of rubber hose was also turned out, with a value of $2,883,338.

There are thirty-eight rubber mills in the State. The total value of their products for the year 1906 was $22,824,737.

Must Support Wife.

John Hall, of Lincoln, has been directed by order of Justice Von Minden, of New Market, to pay his wife $5 weekly. The order followed a non-support action brought by the overseer of the poor of Piscataway. The justice scored Hall severely in passing on the case. The man is said to be shiftless and careless. He has three children.

GARBAGE PLANT PROTEST

Mr. McCardell Says 4th Ward Should Not Be Made a Dumping Ground.

IT HAS ENOUGH NOW

Believes Sewage Disposal Plant, Poor Farm and Isolation Hospital Enough For His Ward.

The opposition in the Fourth ward to the scheme to shoulder another burden on that district by locating the proposed garbage disposal plant in that section have found a champion in Factory Inspector Andrew McCardell. Not only does Mr. McCardell object to the idea of further burdening his own ward with such plants but he expresses a willingness to do all in his power to prevent it being accomplished.

Andrew McCardell.

"I won't talk politics but there is no politics in it when I say that the garbage plant should not be located in our ward," declared the Factory Inspector this morning. "It's not right and our people won't stand for it. They have their share of such undesirable things now and they kick against any more. I think they're right and I tell you I am going to help them all I can to prevent another such plant being placed there.

"You see," continued McCardell, "we already have everything of the sort that the city owns. There's the poor farm for instance and then there's the isolation hospital. Worst of all is the sewage disposal beds. Aren't they enough? Now suppose you owned property in my ward, would you like it made a dumping ground for the city's waste? Not by a long shot! It's no wonder that the people put up a holler. You would, too, if you lived there and were interested in realty.

"The garbage disposal plant is a good thing but the city should not think it has a 'good thing' in the Fourth ward. It's time that some other section be used as a dumping ground. Just quote me as saying that I am one taxpayer who will register a good solid kick against the plan."

FOWLER ADDRESSES AMERICAN BANKERS

CONGRESSMAN EXPLAINS CURRENCY CREDIT SYSTEM.

A. Barton Hepburn, chairman of the credit currency commission appointed by the association, presented his report at the annual meeting of the American Bankers' Association at Atlantic City Thursday. The meeting was then open to debate, and argument pro and con followed. Congressman Charles N. Fowler, of New York, chairman of the committee on banking and currency, who has been fighting for a credit currency system for years, reviewed the commission's report.

When all objections had been made Mr. owler replied in rebuttal, saying that virtually every country in the world save ours had a credit currency system providing for expansion and contraction when needed.

There is nothing new about the plan of the commission itself, it having been published long ago. It provides for a credit currency to be issued by the national banks under proper restrictions. Mr. Frame, delegate from Wisconsin, and others have approved the measure and there has been talk that the measure would likely benefit Wall street. This was hotly denied by the commission's champions.

TRAIN AND TRACK.

Trains on the Scottish highlands have been occasionally stopped by the force of the wind.

The storage capacity of the yards of the Pennsylvania railroad has increased 200 per cent. in ten years.

Steel box cars have been built recently when will weigh about 3,000 pounds less than wooden cars of the same size and capacity.

In every mile of railway there are seven feet not covered by rails. This consists of the small spaces left between the rails to allow for expansion.

SOMERSET REPUBLICANS

Their Convention Called for Saturday, October 5, at 10 O'clock a. m.

GOSSIP OF CANDIDATES

Bernards Township Said to Have Clear Track to Shrievalty Nomination—North Plainfield's Slim Chances.

The Somerset County Republican convention will be held at Somerville, in Somerset Hall, on Saturday, October 5. The official call was issued by Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, chairman of the County Committee, this morning. The convention will open at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The delegates will have an assembly, surrogateship, and a shrievalty, candidate to name. It is fairly certain who the first named will be, but there is considerable doubt as to the others. It is pretty generally understood that Assemblyman W. W. Smalley will be renominated. No other name has been mentioned, and he is said to be willing to serve another term.

Three names have been mentioned for the shrievalty, Charles P. Sebring, of Sebring's Mills, near this city; David Bubet and Robert Kay, of Bernards township. Mr. Sebring stands a chance to secure the nomination, but a county leader said this morning that it was rather conceded that Bernards should have the nomination if she wanted it.

Former Senator Charles A. Reed was asked as to Sebring's chances after the county leader had been queried. "I don't know," he said. "It is hard to estimate anyone's chances at this stage." He said Sebring would make a good sheriff, if nominated and elected.

Frank Rowley, of North Plainfield, Edward Garretson and Frank Remsen, of Hillsborough, and J. A. Metz, of Somerville, Senator Frelinghuysen's right-hand man, have been mentioned for the surrogateship. Mr. Rowley's chances are not any too bright. The writers of the political forecasts say the revival of annexation talk has operated to make it an unpropitious time for anybody from North Plainfield to go seeking nominations at the hands of a Somerset county delegation.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS HOLD THEIR REUNION

SENATOR FRELINGHUYSEN IS AN HONORARY MEMBER.

The twenty-eighth annual reunion of the Fifteenth Regiment, N. J. V., at Somerville, Thursday, was held in the rooms of Gen. Wadsworth Post, No. 75, G. A. R. These officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Alonzo Hedden, of Rockaway; first vice president, E. Alonzo Doty, of Morristown; second vice president, Abram Treasner, of Lambertville; secretary, Stephen W. Gordon, of Newark; treasurer, W. H. Cawley, of Somerville; assistant secretary, Henry H. Hoffman, of Newark; assistant treasurer, A. W. Whitehead, of Newark.

Joseph S. Frelinghuysen was chosen an honorary members. A committee was appointed for the purpose of arranging for a pilgrimage next summer to Richmond and Petersburg, Va. The committee appointed to secure an appropriation of $6,500 for the erection of a monument to the Fifteenth at Salem Church, Va., and a tablet at Spottsylvania Court House was continued. After a bill had passed the House last winter it was vetoed by Governor Stokes.

The Fifteenth Regiment was recruited in Sussex, Warren, Hunterdon, Morris and Somerset counties and was mustered in in August, 1862, participating in numerous battles. It has a world reputation of having suffered in one battle a greater per cent. of loss by death than any regiment but one in a single engagement during the Civil War.

Dinner was served in the First M. E. church. The speakers were ex-Sheriff W. H. H. Wyckoff, Senator Frelinghuysen, A. W. Whitehead, of Newark; Senator Johnston Cornish, of Washington, N. J., Assemblyman W. W. Smalley and others.

To Restore Inscription.

A committee has been appointed by the Masonic Grand Lodge to have the name of Aaron Decamp Ward reinscribed on the slab on his grave in the First Presbyterian church yard at Trenton. The rain has made the letters indistinct. Mr. Woodward was attorney general of New Jersey from 1808 to 1817 and was grand master of the New Jersey Lodge of Masons. He was one of the leading residents of Trenton as well as a foremost Jerseyman.

Peppermint Candy.

Sugar, one cup; flavoring, one teaspoonful; water, a quarter cup. Boil water and sugar seven or eight minutes. Take off the stove and add the peppermint flavoring. Stir briskly with a large spoon until quite thick. Then pour into a well buttered pan and set on the ice to cool.

SIRES AND SONS.

James Hazen Hyde told a friend in Paris that he was never coming back to this country.

In ten years John D. Rockefeller has derived $104,530,600 in dividends from Standard Oil—equal, roughly, to the total gold produced by the Transvaal last year.

Hon. Joseph B. Walker, of Concord, N. H., recently resigned the trusteeship of the State Hospital, a position he had zealously filled for more than sixty years.

F. Augustus Heinze, the copper millionaire, is said to be the only bank president in the United States who serves without a salary. He is head of the Mercantile National bank of New York.

After shaking hands during twelve hours with over 100,000 people in Lisbon Dr. Machado, the Portuguese Republican leader, had his right hand so swollen that medical aid had to be summoned.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Osler was severely criticised for his pronouncement that a man is still young in the high respect of his confreres, and anything he has to say on the science of medicine is listened to with respect.

Every Christmas Lord Rothschild gives a brace of pheasants to every omnibus driver and conductor in London, and the drivers display the Rothschild colors on their whips. Last Christmas he gave away 17,000 brace of pheasants.

Ralph Peters, president of the Long Island railroad, is looked upon by men who work on the trains and tracks as one of themselves. Once a year he holds a reception in the depot at Long Island City, and in the course of the day all the men manage to drop in and shake hands.

Dr. George W. Hill, the eminent American mathematician and astronomer, for many years assistant in the office of the American Ephemeris and Nautical Almanac at the observatory, has been made the American correspondent of the London Mathematical Society. Dr. Hill is often called the "American Archimedes," so profound is his knowledge of mathematical astronomy.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

It is said that Mrs. Grover Cleveland has a memory for races and names that is about the most remarkable on record.

Mrs. John Jacob Astor has been traveling extensively through Switzerland and other parts of the continent and England.

Of the eleven new stars found by astronomers the world over during the last twenty years eight were discovered by Mrs. Williamina Paton Fleming, of the Harvard observatory.

Mrs. Roosevelt has a broad gold bracelet set alternately with rubies, diamonds and sapphires, red, white and blue. She wears this ornament rarely except on national holidays.

Miss Mildred E. Phelps Stokes' wedding to Dr. Ransom S. Hooker will take place on Oct. 30 at the country home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Phelps Stokes, in Noroton, Conn., but not at Lenox, Mass., as at first planned.

Miss Isabel Skinner, of Holyoke, Mass., has one of the finest private collections of musical instruments in the country. Many of them she secured abroad, the world, and who has had them all repaired and put in good playing condition.

Mrs. Johanna Flagg Harper, of Worcester, Mass., the oldest woman in New England, recently celebrated her one hundred and fifth birthday. Mrs. Harper rises early in the morning, reads the newspapers and spends much of her time sewing, using glasses only a part of each day.

NEW NECKWEAR.

Among some of the new ties are small bows, very flat and finished at the front with a very small gold buckle. The buckles are frequently only clever imitations, though very neat. Oval and round designs only are seen.

Another neat bow for a collare is a soft ribbon which is tied in a small four-in-hand close to the collar, while beneath is a small bow about one inch below the tie. Both are diminutive in size, though extremely neat. The style is shown in white, black and dark blue, also cardinal red.

Another bow is made with double loops of very wide ribbon. The bow on top has the ends shirred and pushed into a small rosette in the centre of the large bow. This bow is pinned to a lace collar or beneath the embroidery collar.

The white linen collar has a rival in the linen collars of tints which are almost white, and edged with white. Pale lavender, green, mauve and other delicate shades are worn with colored shirtwaists.

A Cure for Seasickness.

A chat with a hardy Breton fisherman brought forth this novel cure for seasickness. While the old man told of the storms that he had been through, the narrow escapes he had had, and the long journeys he had taken, he was interrupted by the question, "And seasickness? Were you ever sick?" "Never," replied the old man, "and I'll tell you the reason if you like to hear—I never went on any ship without taking a little glass of cognac in my pocket. As soon as I felt the sickness coming on I looked steadily in the glass, and all symptoms passed away. I got the cure from my father, and I never knew it to fail." The receipt is easily had, and if it does not convince the skeptical there is the consolation that no loss need be entailed in giving it a chance.—F. T. O.

UNIQUE DOMESTIC IDEA

Berkeley Heights Man Builds Bungalow as Home for His Six Sons.

LIVE VILLAGE GOSSIP

Mrs. Creveling Buys the Old Walters Place—Mr. McCutcheon Builds.

William Jeffery has begun building a separate bungalow to suitably accommodate his six sons. The boys will occupy the bungalow for sleeping, study and amusement quarters, and visit their parents evenings upon invitation, and the parents will likewise visit the boys. The entire family will, however, eat together in the main bungalow. This arrangement is calculated to reduce Mrs. Jeffery's arduous duties and give the boys a keen sense of independence and responsibility. They will take entire charge of their quarters. This is a new and novel plan and should recommend itself to parents all over the country. The simple life for parents as well as for the children.

The new cement block building is being built by George Wahl, and is now ready for the roof. It will be a handsome structure when completed, and will be fitted up with new desks and equipment.

The roads of the township were never in better condition, many improvements having been made this year by the township committee and next year the work will be extended.

Mrs. Albertina Creveling has bought a large portion of the old Walters place on the Union Village road from William Jeffery, and will begin remodelling the old house by building a large, costly and artistic addition at once, thereby making the place commodious and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Creveling have traveled in Europe with their two daughters for many years, but found health and rest at Berkeley. They will make a splendid acquisition.

It is rumored that a party of artists and literary people are going to build high-class bungalows and cottages at Berkeley Heights.

Residents of Berkeley Heights expect that the Lackawanna railroad will give them a ticket agent next spring.

William Jeffery visted the school recently to see the scholars and the new books which were installed this year. He expressed great satisfaction, and complimented the principal, William Woodruff, on his excellent showing.

Frank C. Shaffer, who bought the Scudder mansion from William Jeffery, is a public spirited young man, and is interesting himself keenly in local improvements. He is the president of the Township Improvement Society, and is the standard bearer for improvements generally. He was presented with a new son on the other day, and immediately had them all repaired and put in good playing condition.

Mrs. Johanna Flagg Harper, of Worcester, Mass., the oldest woman in New England, recently celebrated her one hundred and fifth birthday. Mrs. Harper rises early in the morning, reads the newspapers and spends much of her time sewing, using glasses only a part of each day.

Work on the new town hall will be begun soon.

William Jeffery, Jr., is now taking a course in the Plainfield Technical Institute, under A. S. Herr.

The summer camp has concluded its second season successfully and arrangements will be made to again double its capacity. Many prominent people were camp guests this summer, including Mrs. Richard Hovey, the widow of the late Richard Hovey, a famous literary genius. Mrs. Hovey, with her son, an army officer of distinction, and the crack rifle shot of the United States Army, with the Misses Sloan and Coster, of New York; Mrs. Craig, a well known New York literary artist, and Robert Walters, the famous English artist, will remain at the camp till snow flies. Berkeley Heights is indeed becoming a place for fashionable people.

The next improvement that the improvement society of the township will take will be city water supply.

The saw mill will be opened shortly by William H. Rogers.

William Jeffery is going to address the people of Midland township, Bergen county, to get improvements. He will also address the people of Berkeley Heights on live issues.

Mr. McCutcheon, of Brooklyn, has ordered a bungalow to be built, same to be erected by next summer. This will be built according to the pleasing high class restrictions placed upon the property by William Jeffery, precluding the possibility of cheap improvements.

No vacant houses at Berkeley Heights except one, and that is for sale only.

Mrs. C. E. Gulick returned the other day after an absence of six weeks with friends in Scranton, Pa.

Rudolph Shaffer, the grandfather of Kenneth Berkeley Shaffer, with Mr. Higgins, have gone to Lake Hopatcong for a short stay.

Mrs. William Jeffery will return home on September 28.

Eugene Farwell, who held disputed possession of the Browning farm, is now satisfied by having received a lease in writing from the owner of the property. Prompter delivery of the lease would have saved three law suits and much expense to Mr. Farwell and to Mr. Smith, who disputed Farwell's possession. All is well that ends well.

The Burgmiller family have sold a plot of twelve acres to a New York party, who will build a fine house.

Bolton Hall, who is associated with William Jeffery in the Berkeley Heights and Plainfield properties, is staying at Bar Harbor, Me.

THE SOLAR SYSTEM.

Whence It Comes and Whither It Goes No One Knows.

The solar system is well enough when picturesquely expounded, but when the solar system becomes a mere atom traveling some 400,000,000 of miles per annum toward some inconceivable goal, and when million-a-year novel plan are should recommend itself to parents all over the country. The simple life for parents as well as for the children.

The new cement block building is being built by George Wahl, and is now ready for the roof. It will be a handsome structure when completed, and will be fitted up with new desks and equipment.

The roads of the township were never in better condition, many improvements having been made this year by the township committee and next year the work will be extended.

Mrs. Albertina Creveling has bought a large portion of the old Walters place on the Union Village road from William Jeffery, and will begin remodelling the old house by building a large, costly and artistic addition at once, thereby making the place commodious and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Creveling have traveled in Europe with their two daughters for many years, but found health and rest at Berkeley. They will make a splendid acquisition.

It is rumored that a party of artists and literary people are going to build high-class bungalows and cottages at Berkeley Heights.

Residents of Berkeley Heights expect that the Lackawanna railroad will give them a ticket agent next spring.

William Jeffery visted the school recently to see the scholars and the new books which were installed this year. He expressed great satisfaction, and complimented the principal, William Woodruff, on his excellent showing.

Frank C. Shaffer, who bought the Scudder mansion from William Jeffery, is a public spirited young man, and is interesting himself keenly in local improvements. He is the president of the Township Improvement Society, and is the standard bearer for improvements generally. He was presented with a new son on the other day, and immediately had them all repaired and put in good playing condition.

Mrs. Johanna Flagg Harper, of Worcester, Mass., the oldest woman in New England, recently celebrated her one hundred and fifth birthday. Mrs. Harper rises early in the morning, reads the newspapers and spends much of her time sewing, using glasses only a part of each day.

Work on the new town hall will be begun soon.

William Jeffery, Jr., is now taking a course in the Plainfield Technical Institute, under A. S. Herr.

The summer camp has concluded its second season successfully and arrangements will be made to again double its capacity. Many prominent people were camp guests this summer, including Mrs. Richard Hovey, the widow of the late Richard Hovey, a famous literary genius. Mrs. Hovey, with her son, an army officer of distinction, and the crack rifle shot of the United States Army, with the Misses Sloan and Coster, of New York; Mrs. Craig, a well known New York literary artist, and Robert Walters, the famous English artist, will remain at the camp till snow flies. Berkeley Heights is indeed becoming a place for fashionable people.

The next improvement that the improvement society of the township will take will be city water supply.

The saw mill will be opened shortly by William H. Rogers.

William Jeffery is going to address the people of Midland township, Bergen county, to get improvements. He will also address the people of Berkeley Heights on live issues.

Mr. McCutcheon, of Brooklyn, has ordered a bungalow to be built, same to be erected by next summer. This will be built according to the pleasing high class restrictions placed upon the property by William Jeffery, precluding the possibility of cheap improvements.

No vacant houses at Berkeley Heights except one, and that is for sale only.

Mrs. C. E. Gulick returned the other day after an absence of six weeks with friends in Scranton, Pa.

Rudolph Shaffer, the grandfather of Kenneth Berkeley Shaffer, with Mr. Higgins, have gone to Lake Hopatcong for a short stay.

Mrs. William Jeffery will return home on September 28.

Eugene Farwell, who held disputed possession of the Browning farm, is now satisfied by having received a lease in writing from the owner of the property. Prompter delivery of the lease would have saved three law suits and much expense to Mr. Farwell and to Mr. Smith, who disputed Farwell's possession. All is well that ends well.

The Burgmiller family have sold a plot of twelve acres to a New York party, who will build a fine house.

Bolton Hall, who is associated with William Jeffery in the Berkeley Heights and Plainfield properties, is staying at Bar Harbor, Me.

THE SOLAR SYSTEM.

Whence It Comes and Whither It Goes No One Knows.

The solar system is well enough when picturesquely expounded, but when the solar system becomes a mere atom traveling some 400,000,000 of miles per annum toward some inconceivable goal, and when million-a-year novel plans are how to be contemplated, all pursuing some similar course, the lay imagination is completely baffled.

Nor is it easy to believe that the most eager astronomer is not sometimes perplexed and dismayed by the vistas opened up before him. For everything he learns merely opens up vaster problems, and when he has extended his vision to stars from which light would take 2,000 years to reach this earth he is no nearer finality than the child who thinks the sky but a spectacle of revolving lights.

We are told that the heavens as we see them are occupied by two great streams of stars moving in opposite directions. That suggests at least two centres of revolution at some unimaginable distance and adds to our reeling amazement. We ask, Whence? Whither? And with all our science there is no answer.—London Times.

As It Was Spoken at Home.

There is a certain old gentleman who partakes of the qualities of the diamond as it is mined, but whose lack of "polish" is a sad trial to his eldest daughter. The old gentleman, as he expresses it, "gets thar with both feet when some dude investors come prowlin' round the ranges." Not long ago the family were gather in the library, one of the windows of which was open.

"That air—" the father began, but was quickly interrupted.

"Father, dear, don't say 'that aid' —say 'that there,' " the daughter admonished.

"Well, this ear—" he again attempted, but was quickly brought to a halt.

"Not 'this 'ere,' 'this here' is correct," he was told.

The old gentleman rose with an angry snort. "Look here, Mary," he said, with asperity. "Of course, I know you have been to school and all that, but I don't know what I want to say, an' I'm going to say it. I believe I feel a cold in this ear from that air, and I'm going to shut the window!"—Harper's Weekly.

GLEANINGS.

Ten million people have opened accounts with the Postoffice Savings Bank of England.

More than ten cups of coffee are drunk daily by the average Arab without apparently doing him any harm.

In proportion to the number of its population, Switzerland consumes more chocolate than any other country.

The Indian government is endeavoring to popularize tours to the Himalayas. The number of tourists is increasing perceptibly every year.

Heroin sold in Constantinople and Stinople must be kept in shops paved with marble (which is cheap there) or with plaques of so called Malta stone.

The most conservative official estimate of the opium smoking population in China is 100,000,000—only 16,000,000 more than the entire population of the United States. Many officials place the list at 150,000,000.

BITS OF WISDOM.

Sowing the seed of hate produces the fruit of destruction.

He who weds and runs away no more deserves a wedding day.

The first scar on the pure page of charity is the last hope of happiness.

The political situation will warm up in increased ratio as the atmosphere grows cooler.

Choosing for your most intimate financial friends.

Small people are great—in their own estimation.

Many who become suddenly rich become suddenly poor.

Cheating the dancer is a satisfaction even to an honest character.

When vice is elevated at the expense of virtue the community is on the down grade to destruction.—Baltimore American.

His Compliment.

A few weeks back a wedding breakfast was given by a substantial farmer blessed with five daughters, the eldest of whom was a bride. A neighbor, a young farmer, who was honored with an invitation, thinking no doubt that he ought to say something complimentary upon the event, addressed the bridegroom thus:

"Well, you have got the pick of the batch."

The faces of the four unmarried

SUPT. BAXTER DEFINES CORPORAL PUNISHMENT

INSTRUCTS TEACHERS AND AUTHORITIES IN PROPER METHODS.

Charles J. Baxter, State superintendent of public instruction, formerly a resident of Plainfield, in response to requests from county Boards of Education, is sending out statements to the boards and principals and county superintendents in regard to the law on corporal punishment.

Several boards in North Jersey counties have experienced considerable trouble with teachers because of attempting to rule children by corporal punishment method. One board dismissed a teacher who whipped several of the pupils and another board dismissed a principal for the same reason.

Superintendent Baxter calls the attention of the boards and teachers in general to section 112 of the school law: "Were a teacher to be dismissed for its violation, he or she would be without redress and also subject to the additional penalties of suspension or revocation of certificate and prosecution for assault and battery." The law provides that the child is under the care of the teacher after leaving the home of the parent. Notwithstanding that parents instruct teachers to administer punishment to children, the instructor has no right to inflict the same and if they do must suffer the consequences of dismissal and revocation of certificate.

Corporal punishment as defined in the school laws is as follsw: "Corporal punishment is any form of punishment by means of which physical pain is inflicted. It includes the physical discomfort or weariness caused by any unusual and sustained posture, as well as the infliction of pain by the hand or by the use of a whip, rule or rattan."

MANUAL TRAINING IN PLAINS SCHOOL

PRINCIPAL OFFERED EQUIPMENT OF INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The Industrial school, of Scotch Plains, one of the oldest institutions in the village, having been organized many years ago, has been abandoned, it having been decided to discontinue the weekly sessions. Those who have been in charge of the school have offered the tools and materials to the public school, and the matter is now held under advisement by Principal D. T. Hendrickson and the members of the school board.

Principal Hendrickson favors the idea, believing that it would be an attractive feature to devote a portion of an afternoon session each week to the department of manual training, and would be of benefit to the pupils.

For years after the school was organized there was considerable interest and the work was carried on successfully. But of late families have moved away from the village and there has been a lack of enthusiasm. It was finally decided that owing to the small patronage it did not pay to maintain the school any longer.

BISHOP DOANE ON DIVORCE.

Will Urge Episcopal Convention to Establish Rule.

Rev. C. Doane, bishop of Albany, one of the most eminent ministers of the Episcopal church in the United States, has announced that he will propose a more stringent and absolute canon on the subject of the marriage of divorced persons at the general convention of the American church, which will begin at Richmon, Va., next week.

The Boston convention passed a canon requiring a minister to secure the consent of the bishop, and implying that the bishop shall consent only to the remarriage of the innocent party.

Bishop Doane, backed by a considerable following of the church, will ask the convention for a ruling absolutely prohibiting ministers of the Episcopal church from solemnizing marriages of divorced persons.

Praise for Brokaw.

The Emporia (Kan.) Gazette of September 6 contains the following item concerning a former Plainfielder: "Under the management of H. R. Brokaw, the Emporia Electric & Gas Light Company has made a noticeable growth, which incidentally means a better Emporia as well as a stronger and better gas company. The gas service in this town is today one of the best in the State, and Mr. Brokaw, who came to Emporia from Plainfield, N. J., and has had charge of the company since April 1, deserves credit for the work he is carrying on."

Series Piano and Violin Recitals.

Miss Carolyn Beebe and M. Edward Dethier will give a series of piano and violin recitals on Friday afternoons at 2:30 o'clock as follows: October 25, Mrs. George P. Mellick, 218 East Seventh street; November 8, Miss Susan Cozey, 1111 Park avenue; November 22, Mrs. John B. Dumont, 503 Stelle avenue.

INVENTIONS OF SAUNDERS

His Machinery Now Used in Every Mine in South America.

A FAMED ENGINEER

As Head of Ingersoll-Rand Company His Patents Have Reached World-wide Use.

It is not generally known, except by mining and other engineers in New Jersey, that there is not a mine in the several hundred thousand square miles of South America in which mining is an important interest which is not equipped with high grade machinery made in this State. In Peru there is always under way mining works that call for New Jersey machinery. It was William R. and Michael Grace who first built up this business.

At the present time, the surviving brother, Michael, owns the controlling number of shares in the great Ingersoll-Rand plant at Phillipsburg, which is carried on by that great engineer of world-wide fame, William L. Saunders, former Mayor of North Plainfied, a large stockholder, whose inventions are in use in mines and on railways and river and harbor work the world over.

Michael Grace owns the famous Battle Abbey, England, which was built by William the Conqueror and his wife Matilda as a sanctuary in which masses were to be offered throughout earthly time for the repose of the souls of those who fell in the Norman and Saxon armies at the Battle of Hastings. It is remarkable that what was once part of the personal domain of the founder of the long line of Norman Kings of England and France should become the residence of an American maker of machinery.

W. C. T. U. PAY TRIBUTE TO A MEMBER'S WORTH

PRAISE FOR LATE MRS. EDMUND V. SHOTWELL.

In commemorating the birthday anniversary of Frances E. Willard Thursday, the members of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union took occasion to speak of the exemplary life and Christian character of Mrs. Edmund V. Shotwell, aged 90 years, who died this week. Mrs. and Mrs. Mehala Sims, who is now in her 91st year, were the two oldest members of the union and performed valuable services for many years. Reference was also made to the birthday anniversary of Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, which occurred on Wednesday. She was then 73 years old, and like the other members has been active in the work.

Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson was in charge of the meeting, and after the opening exercises she paid deserving tribute to Frances E. Willard, telling of the great work accomplished by her during her lifetime. Words of praise were also spoke about Mrs. Shotwell, and letters of congratulatory remarks were made to Mrs. Sims and Mrs. Dobbins. Mrs. J. A. Chambliss referred to the long and faithful service of Mrs. Sims as a member of the First Baptist church and Sunday school, and of her devotion to the cause of temperance. Other officers and members also spoke pleasant words appropriate to the occasion. A social hour was then enjoyed, during which refreshments were served.

WILL FIGHT PUBLIC SERVICE.

Morris and Somerset Electric Company to Go Ahead.

At a special meeting of the directors of the Morris and Somerset Electric Company, held Wednesday at Morristown, it was decided to proceed with the work of building and equipping the plant, notwithstanding the certiorari proceedings instituted by the Public Service Corporation, a decision upon which is still pending. The Morris and Somerset company officials moreover determined to fight the case through the courts, no matter how long it may take. This action having been decided upon, the contracts for the erection of the power house were taken up, the mason work being awarded to Esey Grupelli.

The contracts for laying conduits, erecting poles and wires, and for the material ordered, will be pushed. Several car loads of conduits, loaded in Chicago, and upon which the company has been paying demurrage for three weeks, have been ordered forward to this city. A consignment of iron poles will arrive here in a few days, and other material heretofore ordered has also been shipped for this place.

She Knew.

"Ever surrounded by wolves?"

"No; but I know the sensation. I used to open the dining room doors at a summer hotel."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Good Test.

"How long can a man go without air?"

"I do not know. The longest Pullman trip I ever took occupied seven days."—Pittsburg Post.

The Constitutionalist.

A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.

Published at

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Terms: $2.00 per year.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1907.

BANKING PUBLICITY.

In an able address on "The Progress and Development of Trust Companies in New Jersey," delivered before the American Bankers' Association at Atlantic City, last week, J. Herbert Case, vice president of the association for New Jersey, made an honest admission concerning the marked success of the Plainfield Trust Company, of which he is secretary-treasurer and director, when he said:

"We believe in the generous use of printer's ink. Our own institution has found that by engaging by the year a special corner of prominence in the local papers, paying a little extra therefor, and then plunging into it our most convincing and forceful arguments, setting forth the advantages of doing business with our own particular institution and changing the 'filling' each week to be the best possible sort of an advertisement. Why should we not advertise? Is it our business in any way different from that of the successful merchant? Are we not buying and selling credit for a profit and will not that profit, like that of the successful merchant, be greater if we can materially increase the volume of business?"

Mr. Case has found that publicity pays when rightly directed and that the best medium by which to reach the people is the local daily newspaper. Of course, a good deal depends on the style of advertising, but a man who is sensible enough to appreciate the value of newspaper advertising, is wise enough to write a good "ad." The use of liberal space and sound, convincing argument in The Daily Press has been of meritorious service to the trust company, but that concern is not alone in this respect, for the City National Bank, the First National Bank and the Plainfield Savings Bank have also shared in the benefits thus derived. Constant and effectual seasoning through these columns has built up the business of each, and their directors are wise enough to admit it.

PUBLIC SCHOOL FADS.

In banishing the silly, unnatural and impractical system of vertical handwriting from the public schools, the New York Board of Education has taken a wise course; one that will meet with approbation, particularly among business men. There never has been the slightest excuse for the fad. Penmanship of the sort is both still and characterless. Its advocates have been among a class who have little to do with the business world and, therefore, have not fully realized under what disadvantage a young man or woman drilled in such absurd style has been placed. More than one youth fresh from School has failed to obtain a position simply because of his inability to use the natural, graceful and common-sense slanting style of penmanship.

Vertical handwriting is but one of the fads in public schools. The policy of tutoring children in Latin and Greek before they are well grounded in the rudiment is another. But happily, it appears that a return to reason is fast approaching and the average youth will be able to spell, read and write correctly and will have a good knowledge of the world's map and history before he is made to study Latin and Greek roots.

It isn't the great general who parades his entire force before the enemy's guns just to show how brave he and his followers are. Neither is it the wise political leader who argays all his personal views on every subject under the sun, to give his opponents something to shoot at.—Trenton True American.

Are we to infer that Mr. Katzenbach's advisers are opposed to "home rule" on the excise question?

When County Chairman Smith predicts that Union county will give Port 2,500 majority he makes no rash prophecy. But, Mr. Smith, what would have been the result if James E. Martine had not, like Judas deserts at the hands of the party which had been so ungrateful to him?

It's very nice to organize a fruit and flower mission at the Y. W. C. A. for the benefit of New York and New Jersey city hospitals, but wouldn't it be better to direct such efforts in behalf of our own local institutions, including the hospital, children's home and others?

Changes in Janitorship.

Little business of importance was considered at the regular business meeting of the Plainfield Board of Education Monday. The resignation of J. S. Lunger as janitor of the Watchung school was accepted, and the appointment of Erick Sohl as his successor was confirmed. Charles Huff was also appointed assistant janitor of the Somerset street school. The rest of the evening was devoted to passing bills and ordering warrants drawn for the same.

PLAINFIELD LIBRARY NOTES

Recent Additions in Demand at the Library.

Benson, A. C.—Beside still waters. "Only of the many new books from the hand of the noted English essayist. It is in the form of a biography and deals with the life of a young man who has come into the possession of a legacy left him by an uncle. Besides the money left him by his relative, the young man had managed to save part of his earnings, all of which enable him to go to the country and live in peace to and devote his time to writing and meditation." New York Times, Saturday Review, June 15, '07.

Butler, E. P.—Confessions of a daddy.

"Mr. Ellis Parker Butler, with the able assistance of Miss Fanny Y. Cory, who makes the pictures, undertakes to show how a world that was upside down was set right side up by the arrival of a little stranger. . . . .Father and mother are converted to the belief that a child is a real live creature to have about, and establish their claim to be included in a class of desirable citizens." New York Times, Saturday Review, June 15, '07.

Clemens, S. L.—Christian science.

"The controversial and historical phases of the humorist's mind, in addition to the author's long-familiar gift of irony and sarcasm, have been lately employed in a serious study, earnest, painstaking, and impartial, of Mrs. Eddy's cult of Christian Science. The book is said to be the result of years of careful investigation—of an honest effort to answer those questions which occur to every one who has heard of the term 'Christian Science' and the alleged cures of it—and the tranquility of mind, and the material successes wrought by an observance of its dogmas. Of course Mark Twain is vigorous; of course he is uncompromising in his condemnation of what, parading in the name of 'science,' attempts to spread and fix its influence through superstition and psychological phenomena." New York Times, Saturday Review, June 15, '07.

De Morgan, William.—Alice-for-short.

"Alice-for-short, six years old and timid, bravely plods through a London fog with a jug of beer. She breaks the jug, which accident brings her a side protector, who, a little later, when the drunk-sodden parents die, rescues her from the treatment of an old house in Soho and places her in the care of his sister. The chief interest of the tale lies in the development of the child in intimate portrayal, the simple life—likeness of characters, and the sure though delayed consummation of the romance." Book Review Digest, June, '07.

Duncan, Norman.—Cruise of the "Shining Light."

"There is a fascination about the very name of this tale, which should of course be a story of the sea, but it is not a story of the sea. It concerns the strange fortunes and the mystery of a boy called Dauny, quaintly brought up by an old personage of a highly fantastical turn. He orders Dauny about according to the strict rules of that admirable nobleman, the Earl of Chesterfield." New York Times, Saturday Review, June 15, '07.

Howells, W. D.—Through the eye of the needle.

"A sociological study of a traveler from Autruria who falls in love with, and marries an American woman, and returns with her to this land of no money, no master and servant, where one earns what he has by service. The contrast of his ideas with hers concerning Altrurian ways and world ways forms the chief interest of the book." A. S. A. Booklist, May, '07.

In Pasture, Mrs. Henry.—Lonely lady of Grosvenor Square.

"The lonely lady is a pretty country bred girl of twenty five who comes to Grosvenor Square as the guest of a great-aunt and stays there after the old lady's death to watch over the estate which is an inheritance of her twin brother who is in active service in Africa. The account of how she tries to do honor to her name and position by following the social code of her country relative's life, and how from the dull loneliness of London state and formality she is rescued by her distant cousin the Duke, forms a pretty old fashioned love story." Book Review Digest, May, 1907.

Mason, A. E. W.—Running water.

"The tale is magnetically associated with the ice fields of the Alps above Chamouix. A brave-hearted girl who took her lesson of life from the Alpine guides, tired of her mother's vain life, picked up her father, whom she has never seen, and tries to operate the law she had learned by saving a soul from the net which her dissolute father had drawn about it. The tale is one of her failures and successes." Book Review Digest, May, 1907.

Moody, W. S.—Pickwick ladle.

"Sketches of two hardened bric-a-brac hunters. Each story breaths an agreeable leisure, and the thread of the Wyckoff adventures among the antique dealers is enriched by a shrewd characterization of the dealers themselves." Nation, June, '07.

Porter, Sydney.—Trimmed lamp.

"Shoptgirls and bartenders and pseudo-Bohemians and that sad company of mariners known as New Jersey commuters"—such types are hit off with immense cleverness." Review of Reviews, June, '07.

Pryor, Mrs. Roger A.—Birth of the nation: Jamestown, 1607.

"The history of the settlement at Jamestown and of the events which follow it is extraordinarily rich in color and movement, and its central figure, John Smith, born nation builder and leader of men, has that sort of strength and large simplicity about him which holds captive the imagination of the ages." New York Times, Saturday Review, June 15, '07.

Roberts, C. G. D.—Haunters of the silences.

"It contains stories of over twenty animals, fish, and birds by the well-known nature writer, for which Charles Livingston Bull has made a large number of drawings, some of them being reproduced in full color." New York Times, Saturday Review, June 15, '07.

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS AT M'KINLEY TOMB

DISCOURAGES HOSPITALITY TOWARD HONEST MEN OF MEANS.

The nation paid homage Monday to the memory of William McKinley when the splendid monument which marks his last resting place was unveiled in the presence of an assembled throng such as Canton, O., never saw before, and with the President of the United States as the principal speaker. It was the tribute of a grateful nation, both in word and deed, to "A Good Citizen, a Brave Soldier, a Wise Executive."

More than 50,000 persons, representing all walks of life and every part of the country, participated in the ceremonies dedicating the monument, the living gift of a million American whose contributions, aggregating $600,000, provided the splendid tomb in which rest the bodies of the third of the martyred Presidents, his wife and their two children.

Distinguished men from all parts of the country and many representatives of foreign countries made the pilgrimage here to participate in the dedication of the mausoleum, and made the event a notable one.

NEW PROBLEM FOR THE HIGH-BROWS

WITH SOME LITTLE STUDY, YOU MAY SOLVE IT.

1	2	3
4	5	6
7	8	9
10	11	12
13	14	15

Fifteen girl members of a walking club start out to walk for seven days. The rule of the club is that they shall walk three abreast each day and on no two days shall any three or two walk together in the same row. The problem is to show how they were arranged each day of the seven and how they arranged on the seventh day.

SELECT JUDGE MAHON AS HOLY NAME MARSHAL.

He Will Head Union County Societies Parade at Elizabeth on October 13.

At a meeting held Monday afternoon in the Court Street Lyceum, at Elizabeth, Judge Lewis P. Mahon was appointed marshal for the procession of the Holy Name societies of Union county to be held in Elizabeth Sunday, October 13. His aides were appointed as follows: Thomas Higgins, Sacred Heart parish; A. A. Stein, St. Michael's parish; Robert Sheehan, Holy Rosary parish; Dominick Brazinski, St. Peter and St. Paul parish. The aide to represent Patrick's parish has not yet been appointed. Father B. M. Bogan, rector of St. Mary's church, this city, will superintend the affair, having been appointed by Bishop O'Connor. After forming at the corner of Second and Court streets, the procession will rest on the east end of Jackson Park, then proceed west on Court, to Third, to East Jersey, to Broad, to the grounds of the St. Elizabeth Hospital. There the marchers will be addressed by Father Chadwick, formerly chaplain of the ill-fated Maine, and who now is pastor of a parish in New York city. The assemblage will also be addressed by a layman. The speaking will be followed by benediction.

It is expected that fully 2,000 members of the society from all over Union county will be in line.

Think Printing Plant Is Coming.

There is a report afloat in South Plainfield that the Frances Press Company, of New York, is planning to move its business to the village, somewhere along the Lehigh Valley railroad. James F. Hickey and Thomas Rowe, of Brooklyn, who have been visiting Leonard Attlee, are said to have gone to South Plainfield in connection with the scheme.

Arranging Tennis Tourney.

The girls of the Plainfield High School are arranging a tennis tournament, to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday on Briggs' court, Albert street. Miss Irene Dunham is chairman of the committee in charge.

BIDS TOP APPROPRIATION

Proposed School Cannot Be Built As Planned for $90,000.

NEED OVER $10,000 MORE

Deemed False Economy to Modify Plans, and The Increase Will Be Sought.

If the proposed Darrow avenue school is to be built to meet the conditions for which it is designed, the city will have to appropriate more money. Bids received by the Board of Education, Monday, and the figures removed the idea that the school could be erected for the $90,000 appropriated. Unless the plans are modified, which is said to be an unwise idea, the structure will cost between $100,000 and $105,000 more than has been appropriated.

The lowest bids on the general contract were filed by John Abbott, of this city, and it is figured that the cost of plumbing, heating, wiring and etceteras added to his estimate will bring the total to more than $100,000. The financial problem facing the Board has been brought about by the advance in price of labor and materials since the contracts for the new high school were let. The cost of the high school was the basis on which the estimates of the consulting architect were based. Ten per cent. was added to the figures first produced by that calculation, and the architect and the Board thought they had made ample provision for all contingencies. But prices soared without regard to such things as calculation, and the city finds itself facing the necessity of a readjustment of ideas.

Three kinds of bids were called for in the general contract. One was for an all-fireproof building, a second for a structure with a certain amount of wooden work not found in the most strictly fireproof buildings, and the third for a building not altogether fireproof. The general contract bids were as follows, the figures on the three kinds appearing in the order cited: John Abbott, Plainfield, $88,325; $85,175; $83,474. Jos. West, Plainfield, $98,525, $92,144, $84,615; Alex. Milne, Plainfield, $108,000, $105,000, $97,400; W. H. & F. W. Cane, Newark, $93,270; $90,970, $88,440; J. H. Parker, New York, $97,000, $94,278, $92,600.

In the steam heating bidding a Plainfielder, George J. Tobin, competing with two big New York concerns, was low. He bid $10,987, against $14,420 by the New York Steamfitting Co., and $11,043 by G. A. Suter.

Mr. Tobin submitted the only bid on plumbing, $11,717. Allen B. Laing, of this city, bid $1,030 on the telephone and clock work, and $1,463 on general wiring.

No official action, beyond filing, was taken on the bids, but the Board discussed the situation informally. Mayor Pro Tem Runyon joined in the discussion. Of the two courses open to the Board, the increase in the appropriation is felt to be the wisest. The building has been planned only to meet the actual needs of the school department. The room has been cut simply to provide accommodation for the pupils of the Washington School, which has been sold to St. Mary's parish, and the overflow from the Irving School.

Mayor Fisk is in favor of the increased appropriation. It is believed that the Council will see the wisdom of giving the Board the increase necessary, and that the building will be erected as originally planned.

Before an increase can be secured the Board of Estimate will have to meet and present its recommendations, when the matter will go to council, which is the final authority on appropriations. It is probable that the board will meet tomorrow, and the Council will have an opportunity to act on the question at its regular meeting next Monday night.

"For my part," said Mayor Fisk this morning, "I am in favor of the increase. It certainly would seem like false economy to me to build a frame structure when a fireproof building can be erected for about $6,000 more."

Denied Protection Against Suitor.

Denied protection or redress by Police Justice Joseph B. Bray, of Orange, Miss Katherine Palmier, of No. 75 Central place, in that city, is virtually in a state of siege through the alleged attentions of Marinal Pastore, who, she declares, has threatened to do her bodily harm unless she consents to marry him. Justice Bray told the girl that if she were going about the streets she had better get an escort, and if there was any further trouble to report it. Pastore used to work for a barber near the girl's home, but the girl says their acquaintance was limited to a salutation as they passed each other on the street every day.

Approaching Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Nischwitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nischwitz, of the borough, and Richard Bellis, of Somerville, will be celebrated quietly at the home of the bride's parents, on Tuesday night, October 8.

BAPTISTS' ANNIVERSARIES

Denomination's Annual Meeting's Will Be Held at Camden.

PROGRAM IN DETAIL

Membership In New Jersey 61,324; 352 Churches; $5,183,400 In Property Value.

The New Jersey State Baptist anniversaries will be held in Trinity church, Camden, October 28, 29 and 30. The first session, Monday afternoon, October 28, will be the annual ministers' conference, the program for which is in charge of Rev. Judson Conklin, pastor of the Clinton Avenue church, Trenton. Monday night will be given over to a rally of the Baptist Young People's Missionary Society, of which Rev. William W. Barker, of the Baptist church, Bergen Point, is chairman.

Tuesday will be the important day, when the seventy-eighth annual meeting of the New Jersey Baptist convention will be held. The morning will be taken up with the reading of reports. One of the first will be the necrological. Among the Baptist ministers who have died during the year were Rev. George A. Sowell, of Palmyra; Rev. Henry C. Cordo, of Haddonfield. Rev. Delavan DeWolf, corresponding secretary of the convention, whose office is at 8 Academy street, Newark, will give his report, as will David G. Garrabrant, of Bloomfield, the treasurer. Rev. Dr. Sherman Lockhart, of the Mt. Pleasant church, Newark, chairman of the committee on denominational interests, will read a paper on "Denominational Interests in the State."

In the afternoon there will be three addresses, each of which will be followed by a discussion. Rev. Charles J. Keevil, of the First church, Trenton, will speak on "The Macedonian Call of the Home Foreigners;" Rev. J. O'B. Lowry, of the First church, Atlantic City, will treat the topic, "Our Greatest Missionary Problem—Finances," and Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Villers, of the Peddie Memorial Baptist church, Newark, will give a discourse on "Our Greatest Work—Winning Men." A Baptist clergyman of national reputation will address the night session, and there will be short talks by pastors of some of the fifty-six churches and missions in the state that are receiving aid from the convention.

The New Jersey Baptist Educational Society will be in session Wednesday and Rev. Dr. O. P. Eaches, of Hightstown, the president, is arranging the program. There will be reports by the treasurer, Rev. Dr. L. B. Hartman, of Trenton; by the secretary, Rev. Frank A. Smith, of Haddonfield, and there will be a number of questions to come up regarding the future of the two Baptist educational institutions in the State—the Peddie Institute, which, through the peculations of Samuel B. Hulse, former treasurer of the endowment fund, has suffered a heavy financial loss, and the South Jersey Institute, at Bridgeton, which had closed up altogether. After having been in operation thirty-seven years, this school had such a small attendance and ran so far short of meeting expenses, that it was decided to had outlived its usefulness.

The closing function will be held Wednesday night, and it will be the annual banquet of the Baptist Social Union. Francis W. Ayer, president of the union, is making the arrangements. There will be a prominent speaker at the table, to be announced later. Officers will be elected for each of the associations.

The total church membership in the Baptist denomination in this State, according to the last official report is 61,324, which is an increase of 1,894 over the previous year. There are 352 churches, an increase of twelve. The number of property is valued at $5,183,400, which is $250 to 250 more than the year before. These buildings have a seating capacity of 138,860. There are 44,384 pupils in the Sunday-schools, being a gain of 2,758. The number of Sunday-schools is 339, and the number of officers and teachers 5,674, this being 195 more than the previous year.

COMMISSIONERS MEET.

Hear Arguments On Sanitary Sewer.

James E. Martine, J. Williams Crane and William H. Howard, the commissioners appointed by Judge Swayze to make an equitable assessment for the installation of the sanitary sewers at Westfield, held an adjourned meeting in the town hall, Westfield, Monday, during all interested parties an opportunity to be heard. A large number of people who are affected by the improvement, which covers a good portion of Westfield, attended the meeting and expressed their views.

After listening to all present, the commission decided to adjourn subject to the call of the chairman. It is possible that the commissioners will hold another public meeting before making their final report.

OLD HOME WEEK PROGRAM

Celebration at Elizabeth Starting Next Sunday Promises to Be a Big Affair.

WILL COST $100,000

General Collins Will Be Marshal of Grand Parade—The Carnival Queen Is Selected.

Miss Catherine Cullinan was declared the winner in the Elizabeth Old Home Week queen of the carnival contest, which closed last night, by a majority of over 50,000 votes.

On Sunday next the first day of the celebration will be ushered in by the firing of salutes by Battery B. Then will follow special services in all the churches, incuding organ recitas in St. Patrick's. There will be a parade of all the Catholic societies of the city and county.

The following program has been mapped out for the balance of the week:

October 7—Opening of carnival grounds, 9 a. m.; crowning of the queen at 3:30 p. m.; military and civic parade, including local clubs and many floats, allegorical and commercial; professional game of ball between celebrated teams on grounds of Atlantic League club, 2 p. m.

October 8—Professional baseball game, same grounds, at 2 p. m.; convention parade, including local Young Men's Union, represented by delegates from twenty States, at hall of Y. M. C. A. Lyceum.

October 9—Parade of delegates to Catholic National Young Men's Union; songfest and entertainment of Liederkranz, Saengerbund and Turn Verein societies on the carnival grounds at 3 p. m.; professional baseball at 2 p. m.; union meeting of all uptown churches in First Presbyterian church in the evening.

October 10—Ball game at 2 p. m. at Atlantic League club grounds; water carnival and parade of many elegantly decorated craft on Staten Island Sound at 7 p. m. under the marshalship of Captain W. T. Cox, concluding with costly exhibition of pyrotechnics from a barge anchored in middle of stream.

October 11—Mardi Gras carnival at 7 p. m.

October 12—Field sports in which a number of record holders will compete for valuable prizes and national honors; parade of automobiles at 7 p. m., and the ringing of bells and firing of a salute at sunset.

It is expected that the week's jollity will cost $100,000, defrayed by public subscriptions and sale of concessions. General D. F. Collins will be marshal of the military parade.

NOMINEE FORT PICKS HIS CAMPAIGN CABINET

CHAIRMAN MURPHY ANNOUNCES MEMBERS STATE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

United States Senator Frank O. Briggs, who was chairman of the State Republican committee until former Governor Franklin Murphy took the office as the choice of Gubernatorial Candidate John Franklin Fort, has been named by his successor as chairman of the executive committee of the Republican United States Senator John Kean, who retains his membership.

The committee consists of nine members, six of whom are reappointed. Briggs is substituted for Murphy, who was a member. Robert Williams, of Passaic, is dropped, and in his place the committee left by the resignation of Thomas N. McCarter, Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen, of Somerset, and County Clerk Joseph McDermott, of Monmouth, are named. The reappointed members, in addition to Mr. Kean, are: Daniel S. Voorhees, of Morris; John J. Gardner, of Atlantic; Samuel D. Dickinson, of Hudson; C. E. Breckenridge, of Bergen, and David Baird, of Camden.

Quartermaster General C. Edward Murray, of Mercer, who was suggested by the nominee as a member of the committee, will be chairman of the finance committee instead and among his associates will be Sheriff Frank H. Sommer and Senator Samuel K. Robbins, the newly appointed members-at-large of the State committee. The other three men on this committee are William M. Johnson, of Bergen; Joseph W. Congdon, of Passaic, and James A. McGraw, of Morris.

Malcolm MacLear, who was forced off the regular Republican list of Assembly nominees by the naming of William R. Martin, has been named as secretary of the committee to succeed the late J. Herbert Potts. Edward W. Gray is slated for charge of the publicity bureau and Wilbur A. Mott will be in direct charge of the assignment of speakers and the itinerary of Candidate Fort.

Furniture has been ordered and carpenters will start Monday morning to get the State headquarters in the county Republican committee rooms at Halsey and Academy streets in shape for the work of the campaign.

PLAN HEGEMAN MEMORIAL

Designs for the $20,000 Laundry Gift to Muhlenberg Hospital Accepted.

MODERN EQUIPMENT

One-story Fireproof Structure—H. L. Hall to Superintend Construction.

Plans for the finely-appointed laundry building to be erected on the Muhlenberg Hospital grounds, adjoining that institution and to be known as the "Hegeman Memorial," have been approved by the Hegeman Estate, which is giving the building in memory of Mrs. Eleanor Hegeman, and the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital. The plans, which are elaborate and very complete as to details, were drawn by Marsh & Gette. The estimated cost of the memorial is $20,000, and announcement of the gift follows the settlement of the Hegeman estate.

Prior to the settlement it was impossible to follow out the provisions of Mrs. Hegeman's will, owing to the somewhat peculiar manner in which the property was left. Recognizing the fact that Mrs. Hegeman desired to remember the hospital, the heirs have taken this very practical way of giving the institution something that is really needed and will be appreciated.

The building will be one story high with a basement. In the basement will eventually be located the entire electric power plant to run the institution, it being the proposed plan to light the hospital by electricity and operate the elevator and laundry all by electricity. The new structure will be about 40x60 and the material will conform to that of which the hospital is built. It will contain every modern convenience known to up-to-date laundries established in connection with hospitals and similar institutions.

All good intended for the laundry will be received in what will be known as the "disinfecting and receiving room," where they will pass through a sterilizer. From there they will pass into a room to be devoted exclusively to washing. This work will be performed by a modern machine. This room is also provided with hot and cold water. Another part of the room will be set apart for ironing tables, drying rooms, a steam mangle and delivery table.

So far as possible the building will be fire-proof. The floor will be constructed of cement and the walls will be of white enameled brick, permitting extreme cleanliness and no possibility for the collection of dirt.

Now that the plans have been approved, it is expected that the work of construction will begin within a short time. It was particularly fortunate that in planning for the building it was possible to provide a basement where the power plant can be located. This will have no connection with the laundry building, except to furnish electricity for the various processes made necessary by the washing and ironing. As chairman of the committee on grounds and buildings, Henry L. Hall, has been quite active in helping to plan for the new building.

AGED MAN MISSING.

Left New York to Go to Work in Summit.

After an unsuccessful search, which has been conducted by the friends of aged Thomas Malen during the past week, the police authorities of New York have been asked to aid in finding the old man, who has been missing from New York since September 3. Malen, who is over 70 years of age, is a shoemaker, and has been employed by Bartholow Bros. for a number of years. He lived with an only sister, who is five years his senior, at Fifteenth street and Tenth avenue, New York, where he spent Labor Day. On the morning following he left his sister, telling her that his work at Summit, and nothing has been seen or heard of him since.

When he failed to put in an appearance and no word had been received by Mr. O'Brien up to last week, he decided his employe was ill, and went to New York to see him. He found the aged sister almost overcome from worry. When she learned that he had not arrived in Summit she collapsed and has been in a serious condition. Mr. O'Brien has searched hospitals and police stations, but could find no trace of the old man, and as a last resort, the police of New York were asked today to send out a general inquiry.

Exempts Twentieth Anniversary.

The twentieth anniversary of the Plainfield Exempt Firemen's Association will be held in Exempt Firemen's Hall Monday night, October 7. The affair will be in the nature of a social reunion and a banquet. All members of the association are urged to be present at 8 o'clock sharp.

Banquet at Truell Hall.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the banquet to be given on October 10 by Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, have changed their plans and the affair will be held at Truell Hall, instead of the Hotel Iroquois.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST

VOL. XXXIX PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1907. NO. 42.

"Support the Constitution, which is the Cement of the Union, as well in its Limitations as in its Authorities."—Madison.

FIRE LADDIES TO PARADE

Senator Frelinghuysen to Lead 1,000 Marchers at Somerville Tomorrow.

N. Y. EXEMPTS COMING

Morristown, Flemington and Hackettstown Firemen to Participate

—"Harry Wilkes" An Attraction.

The firemen's parade at Somerville, tomorrow, promises to be an event of more than passing interest. It is estimated that at least 1,000 firemen will be in the line of march. Plainfield and North Plainfield will be represented there, although neither will take active part in the celebration. State Senator Joseph T. Frelinghuysen will be the grand marshal and his aides will be from among the most prominent citizens of the town. The Hudson River Military Academy Cadet Corps will act as escort.

Among the notable to be in line will be the Exempt Firemen's Association, of New York, with Bain's Sixty-ninth Regiment Band. Other companies will come from Pennsylvania, Morristown, Hackettstown and Flemington. The line of march as mapped out covers the town thoroughly. The firemen will be reviewed by the Board of Commissions from the balcony of the TenEyck House. One of the attractions will be the globe-trotter, Harry Wilkes, (record 2:13¾) 32 years old, hitched to a high wheel sulky. Harry, owned by William J. Keys, of Somerville, will follow the New York veterans and will be driven by an expert horseman.

Somerville Engine Co. will have its headquarters at the Ten Eyck House and will entertain Washington Engine Co. there. Resolute Hook and Ladder Co. will be the guest of Central Hook and Ladder Company and headquarters will be at the H. and L. house. They will dine in the Second Reformed chapel. The Lincoln Chemical Co. will entertain the Slatington Fire Department at the engine house on Warren street. Dinner will be served in the first M. E. chapel. West End Hose Co. will entertain the Hackettstown Fire Department. They will dine in St. John's parish house.

The Exempt Firemen of New York will be fed at the Somerset. Ex-Senator Wm. J. Keys, Wm. J. Logan and Job C. Kenyon, members of the old N. Y. Volunteer Fire Department, and A. B. Robb, Jr., and Joshua Doughty, Jr., ex-chiefs of the Somerville department, form the committee appointed to entertain them.

—When desiring fruits, make sure to see the display at Freeman Brothers' store. A new assortment received every day.

Mrs. S. H. Beeching, of Grandview avenue, is confined to her home by an attack of the grip.

Rev. Father C. F. Checlzzi.

MISS NISCHWITZ WEDS RICHARD LAYTON BELLIS

PLAINFIELD GIRL THE BRIDE OF SOMERVILLE MAN.

Miss Minnie May Nischwitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nischwitz, of Fairview avenue, became the wife of Richard Layton Bellis, of Somerville, at a quiet wedding yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents. The ceremony, in which two rings were used, was performed by Rev. George A. Warner, rector of Holy Cross church, at 6 o'clock. Only the relatives and a few friends of the couple were present, and the ceremony was performed in the parlor, handsomely decorated with cut flowers and palms, in an effective green and white scheme.

The bride wore a lace robe and carried a lace handkerchief which had been carried by the groom's grandmother at her wedding fifty-three years ago. She was attended by Miss Harriet Ruth Nischwitz, her sister, as maid of honor. Miss Nischwitz was gowned in white Persian lawn, heavily embroidered. The groom was attended by William Henry Nischwitz, brother of the bride. Miss Alice Field, dressed in white, acted as flower girl, and her brother, Roy Field, was ring bearer. Fred W. Hammond and Mrs. F. L. Field played the Lohengrin wedding march for the ceremony, Mr. Hammond furnishing the violin obligato to Mrs. Field's rendition on the piano.

After the ceremony, a wedding supper was served in the dining room. Parker was caterer. The dining room and hall were effectively decorated with autumn leaves. At the conclusion of the reception, bride and groom left for a honeymoon sojourn at Mount Pocono. They will be at home to their friends at their new home in Somerville after November 1.

Mr. Bellis is the son of Lewis A. Bellis, of Doughty avenue, Somerville. He is employed by the Great Northern Paper Co., Wall street, New York. The bride has for some time been an active church worker at Trinity Reformed church, where she formerly taught in the Sunday-school.

Katzenbach at Bound Brook.

Frank S. Katzenbach, the Democratic candidate for Governor, will speak at a mass-meeting in Bound Brook Hall, at Bound Brook, tonight at 8 o'clock. The candidates named in the Democratic county convention in Somerville today and Assemblyman Joseph B. Tumulty, of Jersey City, and former Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer, of North Plainfield, will also make addresses.

Official in Realty Company.

Elston M. French, of this city, was elected a member of the Board of Governors of the New Jersey and New York Real Estate Exchange at a meeting of the officials in the Astor House, New York last night. William Jeffrey, of Berkley Heights, is vice president of the concern.

AFRICAN PRIEST TO SPEAK

Sunday's Meeting at Y. M. C. A. to be Addressed by "Eminent Philosopher."

HE'S A PHYSYLLABICIST

Has Scheme for Making a Colored Nation In Africa and Some Psychological Religious Beliefs.

"Rev. Father C. F. Checlzzi, b. Sc., M. A. F. R. S. S., former priest of the Coptic Church of Gondor, Abyssinia, East Africa, and at present theological, ethnological and historical preacher and traveler of the world, the defender of Apostolic inspiration," and "a Christian gentleman and man of great learning" will be at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. He will speak on the "abstruse subject:" "Was Jesus the Son of God?" and says he will give "an ethnological, historical and psychologically religious talk on the East African."

The priest comes to this city from Wilkesbarre, Pa., where he delivered a series of sermons and lectures. For the past three years he has been touring the United States and Canada, and says he has spent the time delivering sermons and lectures on the abstrusive subjects—"Does Immortality Constitute a Hereafter?" "Shall the Blacks Return to Africa?" "Was Jonah's Physical Fish's Belly, or a Ship Called the 'Great Fish?'" "Can the Ethiopian Psychologically equal His Fair Brother?" etc. The heads of the various colleges, churches and associations before which he has spoken on these subjects, class him as "one of the remarkable philosophers, theologians and scholars of the age."

The African priest is at present in town and in appearance is a powerful, well-built colored man, with bold features and a forceful "easy" style of diction. He stands well over 6 feet in height. In an interview today he stated that he had traveled all over the world, mingling with all classes of people, and that he claims that out of the "psychical fires" of the Southerners to the negroes "a moulded people shall come forth, superior in morals, more advanced in virtue and religious education than the Southern whites as an average. He has not always been deceived with acclamations, even by his own people, but says he has "had damage suits against southern railroad officials and civil official threats, not to speak of hooting on the part of the negroes in some parts of the south.

Checlzzi is an enthusiastic speaker when he talks about his experiences and his beliefs. He has an immense vocabulary, consisting mainly of five or six syllable words. He speaks English perfectly and with great power of expression. He has a pet theory that the colored people will soon be a nation of their own. "There on the muddy banks of the Congo," he says, "shall a flag be raised by the colored people, driving out the outrageous Leopold and his diabolical messengers, and with a shout answered in East Africa and Asia, a psychological combination shall bring all the blacks and so-called yellow together who control Africa and Asia, the Eastern and southern Pacific, the Red Sea, Indian Ocean, and South Atlantic"—evidently a formidable naval power in time to come.

County Court Sentences.

John Sprague, who set fire to his father's house on West Front street on a grudge in July was sentenced to the Reformatory by Judge Atwater at the session of the county court in Elizabeth today. He pleaded guilty of the charge, asserting that he deliberately started the fire "to get even" with his father for an alleged wrong. Missouri Hurling, the colored servant who recently robbed her employer, D. M. Runyon, of Arlington avenue, was also brought up for trial. She pleaded guilty, but as the valuables were recovered and the charge was not pressed, sentence was suspended. Sentence was also suspended in the case of William Metzler, of Clark Township, who stole some chickens from Andrew Gibson's farm.

Clarence B. Peck to Marry.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Kahle for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Florence Kahle, to Clarence Bardwell Peck on the afternoon of Wednesday, October 23, at 4 o'clock in Saint Mary's church, West New Brighton, Staten Island. Mr. Peck is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Peck, of Myrtle avenue.

In Honor of Her Birthday.

Miss Catherine Burk, of East Sixth street, was given a party last night in honor of the nineteenth anniversary of her birthday.

—Extraordinary opportunity securing high grade slightly used automobiles at less than half their values at Thompson's garage. ***

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Minority Party Makes a Strong Ticket in Somerset County.

KATZENBACH TALKS

J. E. Martine Makes a Speech Too —Big Crowd At Somerville.

The Somerset County Democratic convention convened at 10 o'clock this morning in Germania Hall, Somerville, with all the delegates present. M. W. Scully, county chairman, called the convention to order and M. F. Ellis, of Basking Ridge, was made temporary chairman. David Bodine, of North Plainfield, was made temporary secretary. Among the notables present were F. S. Katzenbach, Jr., Democratic gubernatorial candidate; J. E. Martine and S. S. Swackhamer.

Although the nominations were not scheduled until later in the afternoon, the slate follows: For member of the Assembly, George W. Anderson, of Somerville; for sheriff, Frank C. Rose, of Bound Brook; for surrogate, William E. Maxwell, of Somerville.

The regular committees were appointed this morning. After the appointment of committees and the reception of Mr. Katzenbach and other visiting Democrats, the convention adjourned to meet at 2 o'clock, when the business will be concluded. Mr. Katzenbach and other guests were entertained at dinner at the Somerset Hotel.

JR. O. U. A. M. TO CELELRATE TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

OBSERVANCE OF ITS BIRTHDAY TOMORROW NIGHT.

The twentieth anniversary of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., will be celebrated in Junior Hall, Scheuer building, tomorrow night. In connection with the event there will be an entertainment and speeches by well-known State officers and other prominent in the order. The committee in charge of the celebration has prepared an elaborate program which will suitably mark the occasion.

Franklin Council is the oldest of the order in this city, being instituted October 6, 1887. The organization was perfected in what was known as Sons of Temperance Hall, located at that time in the City National Bank building on East Front street. Although the charter list was a large one, the membership is now over 300 and steadily increasing. The council is in excellent condition financially and otherwise. At the celebration a historical sketch will be read and addresses made by some of the older members. Following the program refreshments will be served.

Ladies' Auxiliary Dance.

St. Joseph's Division, No. 1, Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H., will conduct its annual dance in Saengerbund Hall, Thursday night, October 17. Suhr's orchestra will furnish the music and will be supplemented by Professor Hennessey, the well known New York bag-pipe artist. The committee in charge of the arrangements comprises Miss Katy Keogh, Mrs. Bimble, Miss Ellen Mulvey, Miss Delia Bowen and Mrs. Caulfield.

Somerset Court Adjourns.

Judge Vail, of Elizabeth, finished his work in the Somerset county courts at Somerville yesterday afternoon, for the present at least, when the case of the Conkling Lumber Co. against John Cross was tried. Suit was to recover $263 on a lumber bill and the plaintiff secured a verdict for the full amount. No other cases were ready and adjournment was taken until Monday, when Judge Schenck will take up the trial of Justices' Appeals.

Angleman Failed to Appear.

Clarence Angleman, who was arrested as a result of the lemon throwing episode at the North Avenue station Monday night, failed to appear when his case was called in the city court this morning. Judge Runyon gave the police instructions to see that he was rounded up and the matter will be heard tomorrow morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. McGee, of Orchard place, the borough, gave an informal dinner party at their home last night. Covers were laid for ten.

—Thompson Auto Co. are now making delivery on 1908 Cadillac cars. They are anxious to demonstrate that these cars have no equal for reliability and general satisfaction regardless of price. ***

YALE CLUB GIVES PRIZES

Alumni At Annual Meeting Awards Three Cups to Bright Pupils.

CHOOSE NEW OFFICERS

E. A. Stevenson Elected President—To Attend Princeton Games—Promote College's Interests.

Plans for rousing Yale spirit in the local schools were discussed, new officers were elected, and the award of club prizes to the final school boys was announced at the seventeenth annual meeting of the Yale Club held at the Casino last night. There was a good turnout of Plainfield Yale men, and at the conclusion of the evening's business, there was a college sing, smoking and refreshments.

In accordance with a custom of the club, the award of the big silver cups for best work in all-round scholastic athletics was announced at the meeting. William C. Douglass, of the city high school; Otis Averil, of Leal's school, and Clarence R. Steiner, of the North Plainfield High School, were awarded the trophies, as having the highest standing in each school. The twenty-five dollar prize for the best examination standing in entrance examinations at Yale this fall was not announced, because the committee appointed by the club has not yet heard the report from the college faculty as to the standing of local freshmen who took the examinations.

In the annual election of officers Edward S. Stevenson, last year's vice president, was elected president for the coming year, succeeding T. M. Day, who has served as president for two years. Clifford McGee was elected vice president and Lewis A. Williams, Jr., was re-elected secretary-treasurer. The new executive committee is to consist of Harry Lovell, Rufus S. Rowland and Henry L. Deforest. The question of the annual dinner to be given by the club was brought up for discussion and referred to the executive committee. It is the purpose of the club to secure a special car and make a trip to New Haven to attend the annual Yale-Princeton football game to be played there this fall. For the purpose of furthering Yale influence in the local schools, it was decided that a file of the Yale Alumni Weekly be kept at the city and borough high schools and at Leal's school. W. C. Hyatt, Elliott Cutter and Thatcher Brown were admitted as new members to the club.

JOHN MATTOX, VETERAN OF MANY BATTLES, DIES.

Marched With Sherman to the Sea. Wife Died Five Weeks Ago Monday.

John Mattox, aged sixty-five years, a Civil War veteran and a brother of Mrs. James H. Huntington and the late Robert Mattox, of this city, died at his home in Newark, last week, exactly five weeks after the death of his wife, which occurred August 27. His death came suddenly although he had been ailing for some time. Grief over the loss of his wife hastened his end. He was a sufferer from asthma and heart disease for more than a year.

Mr. Mattox fought with Company G, Thirteenth New Jersey Volunteers, in twenty-six battles. He accompanied General Sherman in his march to the sea and was wounded in one of the engagements. He entered the service August 4, 1862, and received an honorable discharge June 6, 1865, from Harewood Hospital, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Mattox was mustered into the Thirteenth Regiment, August 25, 1862, and left for the front six days later. He served in Gordon's Third Brigade, Second Division, Bank's Old Corps; William's Division, Second Army Corps, Army of Virginia; Army of the Potomac, Twelfth Army Corps, Department of Cumberland, and with the Twentieth Army Corps, military division of the Mississippi. He fought at Gettysburg, Antietam and Chancellorsville and was at the siege of Savannah.

Mr. Mattox started in the undertaking business thirty-five years ago and had conducted it ever since. He was born in Newark and lived there all his life. December 25, 1857, he married Catherine Johnson. He is survived by three daughters. They are: Mrs. Sydney Downs, Mrs. William Roberts and Miss Susan Mattox, all of Newark.

Funeral of Henry L. Nixon.

The funeral of Henry L. Nixon, colored, who died in Muhlenberg Hospital last week, was held at Runyon & Son's parlors yesterday afternoon. It was conducted by Rev. F. D. Tildon, pastor of Bethel chapel, and was attended by a gathering of friends. Burial was made at Hillside.

MRS. GIDEON POLON SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES

WAS BADLY CRUSHED BY OVERTURNING OF CHICKEN COOP.

Mrs. Gideon C. Polon, who was badly crushed by the falling of a chicken-coop in a yard next to her home on Race street, last Friday, died in Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday afternoon. Although her injuries comprised a broken leg, three broken ribs and a fractured jaw, it was thought at first that she had a chance to recover but complications set in. She began sinking slowly Monday afternoon despite every effort of the physicians.

The accident that resulted in Mrs. Polon's death was brought about by her curiosity. Several laborers were moving the chicken-coop and had placed it on supports previous to getting it on a truck. Mrs. Polon became interested in the work and went over to get a closer view. She was standing alongside the coop when it became unbalanced and fell over on her before the movers could shout a warning. The weight pinned her down and she was unconscious when rescued.

Mrs. Polon was forty-nine years old and was the daughter of Mrs. Ryan, of West Fourth street. She leaves five children, Mrs. Frank Conger, Mrs. Edward Conger, William, Andrew and Frank Polon. She is also survived by a sister, Miss Margaret Ryan, and one brother, Andrew Ryan, of West Fourth street.

The funeral arrangements have not been made.

BOROUGH FIRE FIGHTERS TO PARADE AT AMBOY

COMBINATION WAGON WILL BE IN LINE AT BIG CELEBRATION.

The North Plainfield combination chemical truck, drawn by the borough fire team, "Nip" and "Tuck," will be in line in the firemen's parade at Perth Amboy Thursday, October 17. Arrangements have been completed by the borough council fire committee and Chief Howard Woolston for temporary protection from possible fire on that day and the local outfit is now free to go and take part in the parade. Lieutenant Elden Smalley and Fireman William Gaub from borough headquarters will go with the truck, and Smalley is to drive the team. The men will be spick and span in new uniforms adn hats and the wagon will be spruced up and polished to present the best possible appearance.

The truck will be driven down Wednesday, the day before the parade. The local boys will be entertained and accommodated for the night by Protection Hook and Ladder Company, of Perth Amboy, which is to have apparatus in line. Chief Howard Woolston is completing arrangements for three call men to be on duty at headquarters the day of the parade in place of the absent regulars. The hose and supply wagon is to be equipped with hand extinguishers and horses will be hired to draw it. It is believed that arrangements can be entered into with the city department, in case any assistance is needed during the day.

WILL VIEW "ABOUT TOWN."

Members of the Shuberts' Staff to See Performance Tonight.

The production of "About Town," which will be given at the New Plainfield theatre tonight, will be witnessed by a large representation from the Shubert offices. The show is owned by the Shuberts and Lee Shubert and members of his booking staff are anxious to pass on the performance before it goes to Perth Amboy. It will appear in the latter place tomorrow night as the opening attraction of Manager Counihan's fine Majestic theatre.

The company is headed by Dave Lewis, a well known Broadway comedian, and includes many other well known principals beside a chorus of fifty. The production is one of the most pretentious booked in recent weeks.

Warrant Out For Miss Seymour.

As a further chapter in the troubles of Miss Donna Seymour, whose "Bluebeard" company came to grief in this city, Monday night, Hector Boy, of New York, secured a warrant yesterday for the arrest of the manager-actress. He alleges that she swindled him out of $855 on the strength of appointing him treasurer of the show. It is understood that Miss Seymour went to Wilmington, Del., and an officer was sent to that place. The remaining members of the troupe were enabled to leave the city today through the generosity of Mayor Fisk and several citizens.

—Daily Press want ads. pay.

CAUCUSES OF REGULARS

Delegates of First and Fourth Wards Decide Upon Local Ticket.

MONTGOMERY WINS OUT

Suydam and Randolph Also to Be Named for Councilmen-at-Large —Runyon and Arnold to Be On Ticket.

For City Judge
William Nelson Runyon

For City Treasurer
William F. Arnold

For Councilmen-at-Large
Francis L. Montgomery, 2d Ward
Charles Randolph, 3d Ward
Harry B. Suydam, 4th Ward

Such was the ticket agreed upon at caucuses of the delegates of the First and Fourth ward last night, and as these delegates hold the balance of power, it is unquestionable that their selections will be ratified at the Republican city convention tomorrow night. The convention will be called to order at the Casino promptly at 8 o'clock by City Chairman Winfield Scott Angleman.

At the First ward caucus held last night in the office of the city clerk, each delegate responded when his name was called. Such was the case also at Judge Newcorn's office when the Fourth ward delegates met. Every delegate was a regular and therefore all was harmony. The delegates of the Second ward, all of whom are Colbyites, and those of the Third ward, mostly Colbyites, were not invited. It is said that the Second ward New Idea men favor the nomination of R. Henry Depew in place of Councilman Montgomery, while some in the third advocate the selection of Joseph Shellabarber. Many disinterested citizens in the Second to a degree support Edward E. Tremonger, but the regulars will not allow Mr. Montgomery to be "turned down" holding that he has proven his efficiency as a member of the city's law-making body. Shrewdness on the part of a few Colbyite generals in the Second, it is said, has stopped the New Idea from endorsing Mr. Tremonger.

Last night, it was unanimously decided to bring about the renomination of City Judge Runyon although he is the recognized New Idea leader in Union county. This is looked upon as a question of expediency it is argued by the regulars. As for City Treasurer Arnold there never has been the slightest opposition to him from any quarter.

Although Charles Randolph has removed from the Fourth to the Third ward during his term of office, it was deemed proper to renominate him on his record. There was a free and full discussion of a number of candidates from the Third and Fourth wards suggested to nomination and the upshot of it all was the selection of Mr. Randolph and Harry B. Suydam.

BIRD'S NEST IN POOL POCKET.

Sparrows Raised a Family in it During the Summer Vacation.

Patrick Higgins, a Bloomfield fireman, with two New York friends, visited the fire house in Orange street Bloomfield, yesterday, and while there it was suggested that they play a game of pool. Higgins informed the visitors that the pool parlor had been closed during the summer, and that a game was in order.

When the trio entered the parlor they were greeted by the exciting chirping of a number of sparrows.

"Did you ever see the like of that?" remarked Higgins; "the birds think they own the place. Maybe they have a nest in here."

Higgins went poking about, and presently uncovered in one of the pockets of the pool table a nest with a half dozen birds, in the centre of which was the cue ball. The sparrows had raised a family during the summer vacation. The pool game was postponed.

Mrs. Metz's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Metz, who died yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. P. Taylor, of West Seventh street, will be held in Grace church, Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Burial will be at Hillside.

Miss Ursula Rowland and Miss Adriance, of this city, were guests last week of Rev. O. Mills Jones and Miss Jones, at Bladon Parsonage, Blenheim Park, Woodstock, near Oxford, England.

PUSH PUBLICITY PLANS

Board of Trade Discusses Various Methods for Advertising Plainfield.

PRAISE BRICK PAVING

Garbage Disposal, Arc Lights, Street Sprinkling Among Other Matters Considered.

Free discussion of nearly every subject of municipal importance engaged the attention of the Board of Trade at its monthly meeting Thursday, including arc lights, street sprinkling, municipal ownership of water supply, methods for advertising the city, brick pavement and garbage disposal. President H. W. Marshall was in the chair and the absence of E. F. Feddkert, secretary, his place was filled by Millard F. Elderton.

The question of securing additional arc lights for the business section of the city was introduced by Mr. Marshall, and J. V. E. Vanderhoff, to whom was referred the matter, presented a letter from Councilman F. L. Montgomery, chairman of the light committee, who stated that inasmuch as the city had withheld the Public Service Corporation light bills for some time, it was not thought advisable to take any action regarding additional arc lights. He said that the city expected to adjust the difficulties soon, when a new contract will be made with the company. Then it is proposed to favor the installation of more arc lights. He believed the new contract would give the city light for less money than the present rate.

Publicity Ideas.

Mr. Marshall referred to the advisability of publishing a year book of Plainfield, similar to the one issued by the Elizabeth Board of Trade, and published by the Evening Times of that city. Mr. Marshall stated that 5,000 books were published annually in Elizabeth at a cost of about $4,500. Some of the books were bound in substantial cover and sold for $1 each. He said that such a book could be gotten out here at no expense to the Board of Trade, the merchants being expected to place their advertisements in it and thus meet the expense. No action was taken, as Mr. Vanderhoff reported that a Brooklyn concern is now at work on a similar scheme.

It was suggested by A. E. Force that an attractive envelope, containing pictures of city and a map, be secured and the merchants use them for advertising. Isaac Schwed favored newspaper advertising, and said that the majority of those who contributed to the publicity fund understood that the funds would be used that way.

"The trouble is," said Mr. Marshall, "those who contributed want too much for their money. They want a page advertisement in a New York paper once a week. This cannot be done with the money subscribed."

Reference was made to the folders issued by the board, and it was decided to have an additional 5,000 printed with new pictures and reading matter. The question of getting envelopes was left to the advertising committee.

It was reported that additional cans to be used on the streets for the collection of papers and refuse have arrived, and City Engineer Gavett will give instruction as to where they should be put. It was decided to let Mr. Gavett attend to the matter as he deemed best.

Street Sprinkling.

There was a warm discussion about street sprinkling and it was the sense of the members that the city should not sprinkle the trolley tracks, but put the water on other streets. It was argued that the Public Service Corporation should sprinkle its own tracks. Complaint was made that in the outside districts the streets are delayed with water, while in the business section they are dusty. The matter will be taken up with the city officials with a view to having the sprinkling done in a proper manner.

Mr. Vanderhoff remarked that if the members had reason to kick about the city sprinkling they should visit North Plainfield. He said that most of the water is used in Bull Frog City. He suggested oil for the streets.

The question of the high water rates here was thrashed out. It was said that at Harrisburg, Pa., the rate was $6 a year, and that last year $40,000 was the profit on the plant. F. A. Duttenhofer, who formerly resided at Harrisburg, said that when he moved here he called for a meter, but was refused. In his opinion an ordinary family could not use more than $6 worth of water a year.

Defends Water Company.

This attack on the water company aroused L. B. Woodruff, who said that he thought rates here very low, averaging about 5 cents a day. He pays annually $100 to the company, because he owns considerable property, and said he had no kick to make.

Regarding a municipal water supply, B. Frank Cornell said that he was in the Common Council when the question was discussed, but no one had yet shown him what advantage for one or two million dollars, less the revenue from outside towns which is now a considerable item in the profits of the local company.

It was the opinion of Mr. Marshall that if the water company can make money the city should be able to, and he believed that Amos Andrews and William Whelan would be just as glad to work for the city as the present company. However, he did not favor a municipal plant under present conditions.

It was decided to lay the garbage disposal question over to next year, when, as Mr. Marshall said, he understood Plainfield would have a crackajack Common Council.

The Brick Pave.

Considerable time was spent in discussing the slow work of brick paving, which was a great inconvenience to the merchants. A. E. Force predicted that the merchants on Front street would suffer a great deal about the holiday times if that thoroughfare was allowed to be torn up and left in that condition any length of time.

These remarks brought forth a vigorous reply from F. A. Dunham. He thought recent criticism in that direction too severe on the contractor and city engineer. He declared that the city is getting a first-class job, without any graft, and that no improvement of the kind can be made without some inconvenience. He begged the indulgence of the merchants, believing that Mr. Gavett will do all in his power to rush the work.

In this connection there was some talk about the poor sidewalks and curbing in the business section, and everyone believed that action should be taken to improve the same while the brick pavement is being laid.

WIFE IN THE ASYLUM, HUSBAND PHYSICAL WRECK

RESULT OF ACCIDENT TO FORMER: HAPPINESS OF YEARS DESTROYED.

Affected by the first serious illness to upset their twenty-seven years of married life, Charles Fauss and his wife, of Flemington, recent patrons of the Hotel Kensington, are both in a state of collapse. The illness that led to the trouble was suffered by the wife, just before the couple came to this city, a little less than a month ago.

The wife met with an accident at Flemington, where Fauss had kept a hotel. The injury and the suffering preyed greatly on the woman, and her general health began to fail. Fauss took her travelling, in an effort to improve her condition. They came to this city, and registered at the Kensington. Mrs. Fauss' condition grew worse, instead of better, and about two weeks ago it was necessary to remove her to the Muhlenberg Hospital. There her illness took a new and more alarming turn. Constant brooding on her suffering affected the woman's mind, and a week ago the doctors had her removed to the asylum at Morristown.

It was the first time trouble of the sort had come to him since he married twenty-seven years ago, and Fauss' health gave out under the strain of worrying. The removal of his wife to Morristown was the culminating shock, and it so affected him that he became almost a physical wreck. He is making arrangements to go to Cooley's sanitarium.

Must Pay for Equipment.

At a meeting of the New Jersey State Military Board a resolution was passed to the effect that in future no officer will be allowed discharge papers, following resignation, until he settles in full for all of his clothing and equipment. It was also decided that all enlisted men shall wear leather leggings in the future.

DOCTORS MEET.

Medical Association Dines and Hears Able Paper at Truell Hall.

The first fall meeting of the Plainfield Medical Association was held Thursday at Truell Hall. The meeting was noteworthy from the presence of Dr. Howard Fox, of the Skin and Cancer Hospital, New York, son of Dr. Fox, who became, before he died, the most noted specialist on skin diseases in this country, and himself well known in the field. Dr. Fox read a paper on skin eruptions.

The meeting was preceded by a dinner. The covers were laid in one of the private dining rooms, which was strikingly decorated. Over a score of Plainfield physicians attended. The menu was memorable.

Dr. Fox's paper was most able. It was copiously illustrated by lantern slides.

A Successor Not Yet Chosen.

The committee from the Seventh-Day Baptist church appointed to secure a successor to Rev. George B. Shaw, as pastor of the church, has not yet chosen any one, although it is very busy in search of one. Mr. Shaw will relinquish his present charge January 1 to accept the pastorate of the Seventh-Day Baptist church at North Loup, Neb.

A New Contrivance.

Something new in the way of a corn splitter is handy for the housewife when making corn fritters, puddings, etc. The little contrivance has sharp knives on each side of a small frame. The knives cut or score the grains, while the little scoop pushes, leaving husks on the cob.

PLANS FOR POLICE STATION

Designs for Proposed Headquarters Submitted by Evarts Tracy.

COST NOT FIGURED

Calls for Two-Story Brick Structure, to Be Equipped With All the Latest Improvements.

Plans for a proposed new police station were presented at the meeting of the Councilmanic Police Board Thursday by Evarts Tracy, the architect, but inasmuch as the board had no idea as to the estimated cost of the structure and was not in a position to frame a report to be presented to the Common Council no definite action was taken at this time.

The plans are quite elaborate, providing for a two-story structure of brick, to be equipped with all the latest equipment. Provisions are made for separate apartments for men and women prisoners, with modern toilet arrangements, a room for a matron, sleeping quarters for policemen who are on duty at headquarters. These quarters are to be located on the second floor. The first floor is devoted to a chief's office and room for holding court, together with a place for installing the Gamewell police system.

The members of the board were favorably impressed with the plans and the general arrangement of the rooms, but in the absence of any figures giving an idea of cost nothing could be done. It is proposed to secure such figures before the board will have something definite to work on. Then if the cost comes within the amount of money which the board would feel justified in asking for, steps may be taken to erect the structure.

WELCOME TO MARTINE EXCEEDS KATZENBACH'S

CANDIDATE AND DEFEATED RIVAL ENTERTAINED AT NEWARK.

Fifteen hundred Essex county Democrats and a few from other parts of the State shook hands with Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., defeated for party for Governor, at the Jeffersonian Club in Newark Thursday. It was the initial visit of the standard bearer of Democracy to that city as a candidate for office, and evidently everybody who received a card of invitation took advantage of the opportunity to meet him.

Farmer Orator James E. Martine, of this city, chief rival of the nominee in the State convention, was a prominent figure at the club. The ovation to ten Plainfielder far exceeded that given the candidate. He greeted Mr. Katzenbach warmly, and, in a statemento a reporter, said that he had placed himself at the service of the candidate.

"I will do everything in my power to assist in the election of Mr. Katzenbach," said Mr. Martine. "I have told him that I will speak with him when he may desire it and will get all the votes I can in Union county. He will be elected."

The candidate entered the club house without any ostentatious display of enthusiasm on the part of the hundreds gathered there. While there was a demonstration of good feeling from first to last and every man who shook the hand of the candidate promised active support and predicted party victory, the reception was in no way regarded as a social gathering, with none of the earmarks of a red fire campaign meeting. There were no speeches and no formalities.

SWIFT JUSTICE.

Men Arraigned Before Judge Five Minutes After Fight.

Five minutes after the row, Patsy V. Minelo, foreman of the sewer construction gang, was arraigned in court Friday for fighting with Louis Kadesh, dealer in junk and old stoves. The quarrel took place at 10 o'clock at Kadesh's store, in East Front street, a few doors above the police station. Judge Runyon had not closed court when Detective Sergeant Flynn brought the combatants into the station house, and they were arraigned at once.

The quarrel started over the price asked by Kadesh for a second-hand stove which Minelo handled. Minelo said rude things to Kadesh, and the latter started to eject him. Panes of glass in the doorway were broken in the pushing and hauling. Minelo was fined $5 for breaking the glass, and Judge Runyon suspended sentence.

The Casserole.

A cook who understands the value of a casserole can prepare almost any dish in this earthenware pan. Bits of meat and game can be used the next day with a sauce covering or with vegetables, and the most appetizing and hearty viand will be the result.

Only One of a Kind.

"Why do you think he is such a remarkable man?"

"He's the only one I ever knew who had nerve enough to make the responses in the marriage service loud enough so that any one could hear him."—Chicago Post.

ROBT. F. TILNEY JR. WEDS

Plainfielder Takes Miss Rhoda M. Sargent, of New Haven, As His Bride.

CEREMONY A QUIET ONE

Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., the Millionaire Episcopal Clergyman, Officiates at the Nuptials.

Robert F. Tilney, of this city, and Miss Rhoda Mills Sargent, daughter of Henry B. Sargent, of New Haven, *were quietly married Thursday af*ternoon. The ceremony took place in the garden at the Church street residence of the bride's father, in the presence of a small company of relatives and friends. The wedding was a quiet one owing to the recent death of the bride's grandfather, former Mayor Joseph B. Sargent, of New Haven.

Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., rector of Christ Episcopal church, New Haven, officiated. The bride had as her maid-of-honor her sister, Miss Elizabeth Sargent. Miss Elsie Trowbridge, Miss Olive Schley, of New York, and Miss Kathleen Stryker, of Trenton, were the bridesmaids, while Miss Barbara Sargent was flower girl. Mr. Tilney had for his best man, Berrien Hughes, of Denver, Col., while the ushers were M. Ziegler Sargent, Murray Sargent, brothers of the bride; Edmund P. Rogers, of Hyde Park, and E. Rogers, of Yonkers. An informal reception followed the ceremony, after which the couple left for a four months' trip in Europe. Upon their return Mr. Tilney will reside in New Haven for the present.

The bride's family is prominent in New Haven, her father being identified for many years with the well-known concern, the Ingersoll-Sargent Drill Company, now the Ingersoll-Rand Company. Mr. Tilney is prominent in Plainfield and New York society. He was graduated from Leal's school and later from Yale. Last year he took a post-graduate course at Yale. He is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wadsworth, of West Eighth street, with whom he made his home while here, and Albert A. Tilney, of Central avenue.

LAY CORNERSTONE FOR THE COLES MEMORIAL

HIGH SCHOOL IN INDIA GIFT OF SCOTCH PLAINS FAMILY.

The Baptist Missionary Magazine for October has a deeply interesting article, telling of the dedication of "The Coles Memorial" at Kurnool, India. The foundation of the new high school building was laid with imposing and appropriate exercises. A hymn, composed by Mrs. Abraham Coles, of Scotch Plains, N. J., in whose memory the building was erected, was sung and the history of the building was recounted, showing how Miss Emily Coles and her brother, Dr. J. Ackerman Coles, of Scotch Plains, became interested in the work at Kurnool. They first erected a girls' school building at a cost of $5,000, and then followed it up by a fine structure for the erection of which they have contributed $10,000.

On the afternoon of the day following the dedicatory exercises that closed with the National anthem, the annual prize distribution of the Coles' Memorial High School was held.

Much is hoped from this generous gift educationally and spiritually for the youth of all South India.

Tennessee Assurance.

In March, 1796, the sheriffs of the territory which is now Tennessee took a census of their own, and as there were 60,000 citizens the proper age the territory declared itself a State, proceeded to choose a Governor, a Congressman and a Legislature, which selected two United States Senators. Congress, then in session in Philadelphia, had received no infor*mation regarding the action in the* territory until Congressman and Senators walked in uninvited and announced that a State had been born, had elected a Governor, its laws and was running on schedule time. Congress was disconcerted and notified the applicants that the sheriffs' census was irregular and they must wait at least for an invitation before they proceeded to sit at the Federal table. Upon second thought Congress decided to be courteous, and on June 1 admitted Tennessee, nearly three months after she had become a State by her own lights. This State, whose coming into the Union was a little previous, was the third State in the Union to provide a President for the Union and the first outside the original thirteen.

Animal Oddities.

Bees can easily outfly pigeons.

The only animal which is totally dumb is the giraffe.

Some insects are mature and mar*riageable thirty* minutes after birth.

A dog in Pittsburg jumps in autos as they pass near the sidewalk, and the drivers let him ride. Occasionally when two cars are passing in the same direction he jumps from one to the other and generally without accident.

LEAGUE WILL CONTINUE

More Nines Will Be in the Pennant Race Next Year.

MAY BE EIGHT CLUBS

There Will Be Six Contenders, at Least—Handsome Cups For Star Hitters and Base-Stealers.

By a vote of the Inter-City Baseball League "magnates" Thursday the continuance of the organization another season became an assured fact. The managers met at the office of Physical Director Listman, of the Y. M. C. A., manager of the association team, and besides determin*ing that the league had proved itself* a complete success and worthy of continued existence they made arrangements to determine the winners of the prizes offered for batting and base-stealing.

Managers Bowlby, of Bound Brook; Frentz, of Scotch Plains; Dorflinger, of Clinton Avenue, and Listman, of the Y. M. C. A., besides several of the captains, were at the meeting. All of them agreed that the league had met their highest expectations. Not only was it splendidly successful from the standpoint of the sport, but the financial success was of a most pleasing character. Not a dissenting voice was raised when the suggestion that the organization be carried on for another season was brought up.

There is to be a decided change in the appearance of the league next year. It will be larger by at least two clubs, and there is a possibility that four clubs will be added. Where the new clubs will be from cannot be stated at this time. Rahway, New Brunswick, Somerville, Roselle, Garwood, Westfield, even Dunellen, are among the possible homes of league nines in 1908. About the only things decided are that the league will be enlarged, and that it will not be larger than eight clubs.

The trophies for the star hitters and base-stealers are silver cups. There is a first and a second prize for hitting, and one prize for stealing. The batting figures are in so incomplete a state at present that not even a guess could be hazarded by the league secretary last night as to who will get the cups. The figures will be worked out by next week, by a committee consisting of Manager Bowlby, Frentz, Listman and Dorflinger. The base-stealing percentage is also incomplete, but that cup is said to lie between Ralph Schoonmaker, shortstop of the Y. M. C. A. nine, and Billy O'Loughlin, catcher of the Clinton Avenue combination.

Whether or not prizes and the pennant will be presented at a formal gathering was not decided. Some af*fair will probably be arranged to* mark fittingly the team and individual victories. Manager Listman will keep the pennant in New York next week. It will be a big "rag," bear*ing this inscription: "Clinton Ave*nue, Champions, Inter-City Baseball League."

The league will hold another meeting in a week or two. The commit*tee on prizes will report at that* time, and then official announcement of the winners will be made.

JERSEY POLITICIANS AGAINST ROOSEVELT

OPPOSE HIS ATTITUDE REGARDING "BUSINESS INTERESTS."

Expressions at the Inter-State Fair at Trenton Thursday, where politicians in great numbers gathered from all parts of the State, were heard against President Roosevelt for his attitude toward the important business interests of the country. The radicals among the politicians from the northern part of the State said that at least 10,000 Republicans of Essex and Hudson counties would vote the Democratic ticket this fall.

The last day but one of the annual fair always brings out the politicians. This year they came to see Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., and ex-Justice J. Franklin Fort, the opposing Gubernatorial candidates. It was said that the silence of Katzenbach, the Democratic candidate, on the liquor question was costing him many votes every day. Some of the most conservative among the Democratic leaders, however, were not of this opinion. They said that the German will vote for Katzenbach anyway, and therefore it was a good politics for Katzenbach to keep quiet on the excise question.

He Was an Expert at Figures.

After an absence of several years a one time cavalier of a lady called on her. He found her in the company of her three children.

"Well, well!" he said. "And how old are they?"

"Johnny," answered the lady, "is seven, Julia is five and Maud is two."

"Dear me!" he cried, alarm in his voice. "Is it possible time flies like that? Who would think that you had been married fourteen years?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

ADVERTISEMENTS IN LIFE TO BE SEEN AT TRINITY

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT TO BE GIVEN NEXT MONTH.

The Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church held its first fall meeting Friday afternoon, when the work for the coming season was taken up with much enthusiasm. Miss Mabel Wilson, as president, was in the chair, and there was a goodly attendance of members.

An interesting letter was read from Mrs. Caroline O. Hoover, who is in charge of the Reformed church mission station at Gray Hawk, Ky., acknowledging the receipt of a barrel of clothing and another of literature. She explained that at the station there is a trading house, where the natives exchange foodstuffs, etc., for clothing and other articles that they may needs. Practically everything sent by the band, she said, had been exchanged.

The members decided to send a Christmas box to the mission station at Haarlem, Holland, Michigan, and work will be started on that at once. Plans were also discussed for the entertainment the band will give about November 12 or 14. It will be a unique affair. In connection with a sale there will be an entertainment called "Advertisements Come to Life." The members returned thirty-one articles of cloth*ing, the result of the summer work*, and these will be sent to the Arabian mission.

BIG STORAGE HOUSE FOR SOMERSET STREET

HAND EXPRESS COMPANY TO ERECT A LARGE BUILDING.

Following negotiation that have been pending for several months, an important realty deal was consummated Thursday, whereby the Hand Express and Storage Company secured the Jacob Voehl property at 63 and 65 Somerset street. The present residence occupying the site has been sold to Frank Mobus, and as soon as Mr. Voehl can vacate it will be moved to a new location on Watchung avenue. In its place a handsome three-story building will be erected, the company having found it necessary to secure increased fa*cilities for carrying on its business.*

The property concerned in the sale adjoins the former C. Frank French building at Somerset street and Somerset place, and has a frontage of sixty feet. In depth it is 160 feet and is considered one of the most desirable sites along the borough's main thoroughfare. The structure to be put up by the company will be designed principally to handle the concern's storage business, which has outgrown the present quarters on West Front street. Architecturally the building will enhance the appearance of the neighborhood. It will be equipped with every improvement for the safe-keeping of goods. Fireproof material will be used exclusively.

The removal of the Voehl residence will prove quite an undertaking, but Mr. Mobus has already made his arrangements, so that it will be carried out very rapidly. The house will be taken up Somerset street to Race street and traffic will suffer but very little inconvenience. The removal of the trip will be along less traveled thoroughfares. It will be occupied in parts only a few days at the most.

The Hand Storage and Express Company is composed of Fred Hand, who was connected in business with his father for many years; Captain W. C. Smith and C. Frank French.

HOME CURES.

As a medicine salt has a wide range of possibilities. A weak solution of hot salt water used frequent*ly as a gargle* is one of the best remedies known for sore throat.

Dry rubbing the chest, back and sides of the body with a handful of mustard and flour (say about one part mustard to two of flour) is a good remedy for a cold on the chest. The mustard draws a little, but not nearly so much as a poultice, while it is a far more agreeable application.

SOUR MILK CORN CAKE.

Fill a coffee cup two-thirds full of granulated corn meal, heap up cup with white flour, sift with three ta*blespoons of sugar, scant* teaspoon salt, teaspoon cream of tartar, ½ teaspoon of soda. Beat up 1 egg in a bowl with 1¼ cups of milk, either sweet or sour. Mix 1 cup of this milk with meal and turn into a hot greased frying pan, and before putting in oven pour in gently on top the remaining ½ cup of milk. Have the oven quite hot.

A Reliable Musical Journal.

The special issue of Musical America, that enterprising musical publication, edited by John C. Freund, Fifth avenue, New York, contains a wealth of interesting reading concerning the famous musicians of this and other countries. The magazine is filled with fine pictures of grand opera stars and many other well known persons in the musical world. The publication cannot fail to interest those who like to keep well informed on this subject.

BIG GROCERY IS COMING

Acker, Merrall & Condit to Locate a Branch Store in This City.

THE CIGAR TRUST TOO

The United Cigar Stores Is Looking For a Site Here—Fight for Plainfield's Business.

Through a representative who has been in the city for several days, Acker, Merrall & Condit, New York's big grocery firm, have been negotiating for a suitable building in which to open a local retail store. Several sites have been under consideration and it is said that the agent has practically decided upon the Stirling building, where two adjoining locations are vacant. When several preliminary matters are disposed of, definite announcement either one way or the other can be made within a week or ten days.

The Acker, Merrall & Condit concern is one of the largest in the East and has always done a large business in Plainfield through its New York stores. It maintains a local delivery service and also ships quantities of goods into the city at wholesale rates. It has retail branches at East Orange, Montclair, Morristown and the Oranges, miles from Harlem up to New Rochelle.

Announcement has previously been made of the fact that the United Cigar Stores Company has been seeking to enter the local field and plans are still underway. The company has secured two leases which were afterward disposed of and another is now pending. The store will probably be located on East Front street.

It has also been stated that one of New York's important drug concerns has an eye on the local trade and is reconnoitering in a quiet way. Just how much truth there is in the statement has not yet been ascertained but it is known positively that one of the Broadway pharmacies has the patronage of enough Plainfielders to warrant a branch in town.

BUSINESS COLLEGE'S ENROLLMENT IS 142

EIGHTY-TWO PUPILS PURSUING THE DAY COURSES.

Eighty-two pupils have entered up*on day courses, and over sixty* enrolled in the night classes at the Plainfield Business College for the first month ending October 1. By this marks the largest attendance for the opening month in the history of the school.

The roll is as follows:

Plainfield—Misses Florence B. Conroy, Jennie DeMott, Mary Drake, Della Dufford, Eleanor Gulliberd, Romona Harpham, Emma Korff, Alice MacNiff, Florence McDonnell, Hilda Rummel, Anna Smith, Irene Voehl, Sarah B. MacCallum, Mary Peterson, May Cogan, Nellie Lake, Annie Wuergler, E. F. O'Keeffe, May Allen, M. E. Kriney, Lottie Benner, Katherine Koechlein, Caroline Martin, Eleanor Bold, Annie McCarthy, Annette Boeringer, Edith Runyon, Minnie Gunzelman, Beulah Boylan; George Cole, William Brown, Joseph Johnson, James Lynch, Arthur Williams, Morton Hochberger, Girard Harris, Bertram Sickley, Julius Brandels, Frank Mecoe, Edward Gunzelman, M. P. Higgins, Julius Linke, Martin O'Laughlin, Charles VanArsdale, Joseph Vanazio, George K. Dudley, Russell Van Buskirk, Elwood Weber, Lisle Beeching, Charles Wendell, Frederick Conde, Harry Ward, Arthur Seidenton, Norman Rhodes, Thomas Brennan, Sidney Mackey, F. J. Harding, J. R. Lizeaux, H. R. Romond, H. G. Corselius, A. D. Galloway, Harry Porter, George Patterson, Raymond Strayer, William Seaton, R. R. Layton, August Wirth, B. K. Davis, Benson Pryor.

Dunellen—Miss Catherine Mohan, Oscar Kretzel, Harry Titsworth, Bound Brook—Ethel Foreman, Gertrude Carroll, Anna Brown, Joseph Morecraft, Ralph Parker, Matilda Sides, Laura Tantum, Lewis Ulmer, Anna Willis, Matilda Lowande, Alphonse Lowande, Mamie Manion, Jetta Cox; Somerville—Charles Allen, Arthur Honeyman, Luther Mann, Alfred Pool, Jesse Strong, Kittie Southwick, Ruth Weldon, Fred Stryker, Anna Diehl, Grace Bryant; Raritan—Francis Hickey, Grace Kelly, Celia McGuirk; Lincoln—Rose Rippard; North Branch—Bessie Flynn.

The Tongue.

The tongue is divided into three regions of taste, each of which has its own special function. The tip of the tongue is chiefly sensible to pungent and acid tastes, the middle portion to sweets or bitters, while the back is confined entirely to the flavors of roast meats, butter, oils and rich and fatty substances.

German Juries.

In Germany a prisoner is acquitted on a tie vote by the jury. A vote of seven to five leaves the decision with the court, while a vote of eight to four means conviction.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topics For the Week Beginning Oct. 12.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic—Remember eternity!—I John ii. 15-17, 24, 25.

Eternity is a word impossible to comprehend. We can grasp the meaning of a few years of time, but for the human mind to grasp the significance of never ending years of time that is never to end, is beyond the ability of the greatest human mind that God created. Only the eternal God alone can grasp the idea of eternity. But if such a condition of time enters into our lives it is indeed well for us to remember that fact, to keep it in our minds as an influence over our lives.

What are we to remember about eternity?

1. We should remember that there is an eternity! This is the great fact emphasized in the text. Remember eternity! Socrates before Christ came to the world the greatest philosophers of the world, such as Socrates, had reasoned that there must be an eternity of life for man. The doctrine of the immortality of the soul was nothing less than the eternal life of the soul. But when Christ came to earth He taught the doctrine with authority. He had existed in the eternity of the past and declared with divine authority that eternity also stretched into the future; that man's soul never died, but lived on forever. We will live through eternal years. Well may we seriously consider this awful, solemn fact! Eternity! It were all of life to live and all of death to die, life might be considered unimportant, but since this is not the case it gives an incomprehensively greater significance to the few years we spend here.

2. We should remember that but two conditions exist in the never ending age of years. This is distinctly taught in the Scriptures, and by no one with more frequency or emphasis than the Son of God Himself. He hesitated not to tell men of a happy condition in the future if they were saved through God's method of salvation, nor did He hesitate to tell them of their lost condition throughout the eternal age if they rejected or rejected salvation through His Son. Speaking plainly, after the manner of the Scriptures, every one who comes to the age of responsibility will spend eternity in one or in both of two spheres or in misery. Men believing excessively in God's mercy and unbelievers may scoff at this doctrine, but whom shall we believe, Christ or man, God in His revelation or man in his speculation? There should be no question. Let God be true, though every man a liar.

3. We should remember that our eternal destiny is decided in this life. The life ends and there is hope for a future opportunity. It is here that we gain heaven or destine our souls for hell. As to which we should choose there should be no question. The world with its allurements tries to draw us away from God and from heaven, but we "should lose not the world nor the things that are in the world. * * * The world passeth away and the lust thereof, but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever." Which will we do—the world's will or God's will?

4. We should remember that in time we should prepare for eternity. If going on a short journey for a short time, how careful we are to make every preparation! Shall we be less so in preparing for eternity? Which will you spend your eternity? If as I bid you do not know, you should decide at once and to spend in heaven through the atoning blood of Christ.

BIBLE READINGS.

Deut. xxxiii. 27; Matt. xix. 16; xxv. 46; Mark iii. 28, 29; John iii. 16-21; ii. 25, 26; xii. 25; xvii. 1-3; Rom. vi. 23; II Cor. iv. 17, 18; Rev. xxii. 5.

Plea For Christian Endeavor Training.

I believe that as Endeavorers we need to back back to our early methods. I cannot but think that in the earlier years of the movement in this country we were more careful to train our young people in the personal science of Christian Endeavor. The constitution was then put into the hand of each neophyte. He became versed in the knowledge and principles of our principles. He knew that it meant that the new movement was destined gain over any other proposition reached with which he was acquainted for developing young Christian life and practice. He knew his drill and was soon capable of teaching it to others. He became an Endeavor enthusiast. He remains with us to this day. Does every present day Endeavorer pass for merely, carry his regulations in his knapsack? Have we not consequently to assume, though our own familiarity with our constitution, that our principles and methods are well known? I fear that that is so. I plead, then, for a revival of drill, of teaching our distinctive order.—Rev. W. Hall-bridge.

A Convention Hymn From Ireland.

From Lagan's banks to river Lee,
From Foyle's fair strand to the west,
We gather to our great C. E.
The purest, brightest and the best.

Nor scant the love nor cold the hand
Which beckoned us to come away
Where open doors inviting stand
And bounteous hospitality.

We came, we heard, we learned, we loved,
We saw our Master face to face;
What once we thought we now have proved;
Where once we shrank we now embrace.

Christ and the church—ah, holy cause!
Great Spirit, leave us not alone,
Unbiped by Thee our pledge, our laws
Are idle words and cold as stone.

United, chosen, faithful!—may this be
Our motto for the year to come,
And for all years, until we see
The glory dawn. Thy will be done.
—Joseph Rey in Irish Endeavor.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Oct. 13: "Membership in the church." "Abide in me and I in you."—John xv, 1-8.

By REV. WALTER A. YATES, D. D.

Passages for reference—Rom. xii. 4, 5; I Cor. xii. 12-27; Eph. iv. 11-16.

With all that has been written and spoken on this subject through all the years past the final word has not yet been said, nor will it be until the last member is gathered into the earthly fold, perhaps not even then, for even after the last of earth's redeemed ones have safely passed within the portals of pearl it may well be thought that they who have "gone up out of much tribulation and have washed their robes white in the blood of the Lamb" will find most pleasing and profitable occupation in considering the matter of the church, the body of Christ, recalling the trials and victories of the past and forecasting the glories of the coming revelation of eternal ages of mercy.

There are many angles of view from which the church and its membership may be considered.

One fascinating idea with minds of a certain cast is the organic oneness of the visible society. Some are impressed deeply to think of all the hosts of the church engaged in using the same forms in worship and even the same words in prayer and praise, no matter what their common speech may be or their race. Here lies some of the strength of the Roman Catholic church. It is a great organization in government and has a most impressive ritual of worship. Others naturally put stress on the invisible elements of heart sentiment and consider the union of all true believers in a mystical rather than in a visible body.

More important that either of these is that sentiment which Jesus emphasized, the personal union with Himself and the Father. This is more than securing uniformity of creed and practice. This is the unique essential for membership in the church of Christ. It is both visible and invisible in nature. The faith and hope and love which flow from the divine source into all the channels of human life and its activities can be known only to those who participate in it. But as truly as ascending sap in the vine is shown in flower and fruit, so surely do the powers of the divine life in the Christian life become manifest in the words and looks and conduct. There is a gentleness which comes only of grace and always does come where grace has been received and shows the true flower of Jesus. The city on the hill cannot be hid, nor the light on the candle stand.

Two grave faults exist now, as they always have done. There are many in the church who have no vital godliness. What shall be done about it? Try as best you may, they can never be all weeded out. We have not skill to always distinguish between the true and false. In pulling up tares we run much wheat and never get all the tares out then. Be patient and trust that the Lord has an eye on the field, and all the responsibility is not laid on your shoulders.

A more serious thing is the fact that many who ought to be inside are on the outside of the church. That is a serious matter. Should we not best get to work on this problem? Why don't they come in? Perhaps they don't like the company inside. Are they right in any measure or wholly wrong? Better do some thinking on this subject and see what you can do about it.

Force of Trying Again.

"Did you ever notice," said an old lady, smiling into the troubled face before her, "that when the Lord told the discouraged fishermen to cast their nets again it was right in the same old place where they had been working all night and had caught nothing? If we could only go off to some new place every time we get discouraged, how much easier it would be to do it. If we could be somebody else or go somewhere else or do something else, it might not be hard to have fresh faith and courage; but it is the same old net in the same old boat for most of us. The old temptations are to be overcome, the old faults to be conquered, the old trials and discouragements before which we failed yesterday to be faced again today. We must win somewhere or we lose if we win it at all, and it is the Master Himself who, after all these toilful, disheartening efforts that we call failures, bids us 'Try again.' However, it seems to us, nothing can be really failure which is obedient to Him. Perhaps the most bright morning 'the great draft of reward will come."—Wellspring.

The Gospel of Labor.

But I think that King Jesus that country comes out from the tireless host
And walks in this world of the weary as the lowest and weakest of men;
And here in the dusty confusion, with eyes that are heavy and dim,
He meets again the brother for whom he looking and longing for Him.

He cancels the curse of Eden and brings them a blessing instead.
Blessed are they that labor, for Jesus partakes of their bread.
He puts His hands to their burdens; He enters their weariness, too.
Who does his best shall have as a guest the Master of life and of light.

And courage will come with His presence, and patience return at His touch,
And manfold sense be bestowed on those who love Him much.
And the cries of envy and anger will change to the songs of cheer,
For the toiling age will forget its rage when the Prince of Peace draws near.

This is the gospel of labor—ring it, ye bells of the kirk—
The Lord of Love came down from above to live with the men who work.
This is the creed that He planted here in the thorn crowned soil—
Heaven is blest with perfect rest, but the blessing of earth is toil.
—Dr. Henry Van Dyke in Christian Monthly.

PLAINFIELD LIBRARY NOTES

Best Books of 1905, Part III., All of Which Are in the Library.

FICTION.

Alice Brown, Absorbing story of love and self-sacrifice, based on the sudden appearance in a New England farm house of a runaway girl palmist.

F. H. Crawford—Fair Margaret. Present day story of a young English woman with a remarkable voice, who aspires to the operatic stage.

Sir A. C. Doyle—Return of Sherlock Holmes. Sherlock Holmes, opportunity reappears to unravel thirteen new mysteries awaiting his unerring instinct and ingenuity.

Gustav Frenssen—John Uhl. Somewhat sombre but hopeful tale of a young peasant's long struggle against adverse circumstances, reflecting the atmosphere of North German farm life and marked by sincerity and genuine feeling.

Mrs. M. C. Graham—The Wizard's Daughter. Six stories of country life, with one exception, Californian in scene. Strong in human interest and in keen humor.

Mrs. A. C. H. Rice—Sandy. Hero, a light-hearted and irresponsible young Irish stowaway, who drifts to a Kentucky town and wins hearts and success.

E. H. Smith—The Wood Fire in No. 3. A collection of fireside tales full of Bohemian cheer and good fellowship.

Mrs. R. M. Stuart—Second Woolng of Sabina Sue. Short stories, humorous and pathetic, of Southern plantation life.

N. B. Tarkington—Conquest of Canaan. Well told story of how a young lawyer won the respect and admiration of an Indiana town which had ostracized him from childhood.

Mrs. K. C. Thurston—The Gambler. Story of a heroine, beautiful, impulsive, with a high sense of honor and capacity for a noble love, who is threatened with ship-wreck through an inherited passion for gambling.

Mrs. M. A. Ward—Marriage of William Ashe. Story of an ill-assorted union between a young, level headed member of Parliament and an impulsive girl. Based on the life of Lord Melbourne, Lady Caroline Lamb and Lord Byron.

Mrs. Edith Wharton—House of Mirth. Absorbing story of the gradual downfall of a New York society girl whose lack of high standards compromise her at every turn.

Mrs. K. D. Wiggin—Rose o' the River. A Maine love idyl. The fascination and power of the Rose Grove and the perilous work of the lumbermen furnish the background.

C. N. and A. M. Williamson—The Princess Passes. Tale of love, automobiling, travel, a talking tour in Swiss and French Alps. Following but not vitally connected with "The Lightning Conductor."

M. O. Wright—At the Sign of the Fox. Combines satirical thrusts at the ostentatious life of the rich with a philosophy of simple, wholesome living and charming description of nature.

JUVENILE BOOKS.

Our Holidays—Their meaning and spirit; reprinted from St. Nicholas.

Howard Pyle—Story of the champions of the Round Table.

E. M. Tappan. The golden goose and other fairy tales.

J. D. Champlin—Young folks' encyclopedia of natural history.

A. N. Hall—Boy Craftsman. Instruction for indoor and outdoor work and recreation, with suggestions for earning money by small business enterprises. Includes directions for tools and workshop, printing, dark rooms and circuses for making tool houses and furniture, log cabins, etc.

A. R. Bond—Scientific American Boy. Gives in story form directions which the average boy can follow for making bridges, windmills, water-wheels, tents, camping equipments, snowshoes, sledges, ice-boats, etc.

J. H. Kelman—Stories From Chaucer. (A to the children series.) The volumes of this series are attractively printed, illustrated in color and, though not of equal value, are all worthy of consideration.

Mary MacLeod—Shakespeare story book, with introduction by Sidney Lee.

Blanche MacManus—Our Little French Cousin. Describes daily life and some happy journeys of little Germaine, daughter of a well-to-do farmer of Normandy. Our Little English Cousins, by the same author, are among the best of the series.

F. G. Carpenter—Africa. An imaginary journey from New York through all African countries. Describes physical features, natural resources, people, life and industries. Illustrated.

Civil War Stories—Stories, many of them true, of the great struggle on land and sea, and the part taken in it by children. This series is especially valuable to libraries not having full sets of St. Nicholas.

JUVENILE FICTION.

R. H. Barbour—Four in Camp. Adventures in a boys' summer camp on a New Hampshire lake.

E. V. Lucas—Old Fashioned Tales. Nineteen charming stories and illustrated moral classics.

Mrs. M. P. Smith—Boy Captive in Canada. Relates the experience of the 10-year-old son of Deerfield's minister, who lived for more than a year in captivity among the Indians of Vermont and Canada.

E. O. White—An Only Child. Pleasant story of a lonely little girl, her friends and her cats.

MORE PAY FOR ASSESSOR

Dr. Cooley's Request for $750 a Year Will Be Granted By Borough Farthers.

TO PASS AN ORDINANCE

Start Next Week to Get Sewer Proposition Signers—Claims Amounting to $4,700 Ordered Paid.

A communication from Dr. J. H. Cooley asking that his salary as assessor be increased $150 was the principal item of business considered by the Borough Council at its meeting Friday. A move of this sort would necessitate the passing of an ordinance and after a general discussion in which it was the sense that the increase should be granted, the matter was referred to the borough counsel for proper preparation.

Dr. Cooley's compensation at the present time is $600, the same figure having stood since 1895. At that time the borough ratables were about $2,000,000, while they are now $3,000,000. The increased work in making the assessments is almost double and the salary is far below what is paid by other boroughs in the State.

It was stated at the meeting that the committee recently appointed to secure the necessary number of signatures from property owners, before final steps could be taken to build a sewer system, would begin the work next week. Two-thirds of the property owners must affix their names to the petition calling for sewers before the Council can act.

An one of the preliminary sewer work came in the payment of claims for the month, amounting in all to $4,700. Herring & Fuller, of New York, who made the preliminary surveys and submitted maps, were paid $1,000 and G. H. Pearson, the consulting engineer, $500. Mr. McGee said that a balance of $2,209 had been reported by the borough collector and as $1,000 had been received since it would not be necessary to borrow any money to meet bills.

A communication was received from property owners asking that crosswalks be laid on Westervelt avenue at Jackson, Fairview and Grandview avenues. Dr. Cooley and E. H. Ackor were among the signers. The matter was referred to the committee on streets and public health.

WOMAN SERIOUSLY HURT THROUGH HER CURIOSITY

CHICKEN COOP BEING MOVED FELL ON TOP OF HER.

A woman's curiosity, or plain "rubbernecking," as it is generally called, was responsible Friday afternoon for an accident on Race street, in which Mrs. Mary Polan, of that thoroughfare, was seriously injured. She is now in Muhlenberg hospital with a broken arm, three broken ribs, a fractured jaw and possible internal injuries, beside numerous severe bruises.

Mrs. Polan, who is a middle-aged woman, noticed some colored men moving a large chicken coop from the yard adjoining her home. She became very much interested in the method they adopted to get the heavy structure on a truck and went nearer to investigate. She was standing within a few feet of the coop when it became unbalanced on some props that held it up and it fell on top of her.

She was pinned down by the weight and it was with some difficulty that the movers lifted it from her. It was thought at first that she had been fatally hurt, and while awaiting the arrival of Dr. Fred Hughes, Rev. Father Miller was called to administer the rites of the church. Mrs. Polan recovered somewhat when the physician treated her temporarily and she was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital in the ambulance.

It was said at the hospital at noon that she resting comfortably and that her chances for recovery are good.

The Sheik and His House.

When the French came into contact with the Bedouin in Algeria, it was thought that a ready way of civilizing him would be to assist him to build himself a permanent habitation. A sheik, who was much favored was full of gratitude to the French engineers who had built him a house.

"Since my house was finished," he said, "I have not lost a single sheep. I lock them up in my house every night, and the next morning I find them all in safety."

"Then where do you sleep yourself?" asked an officer in amazement.

"Oh, for myself, a sheik can live only in his tent," said the other, with dignity.

"Packing Off of Widows."

Some curious customs in the way of pastimes prevail in Korea. Among the farming classes there is one known as the "packing off of widows." This means a raid on a certain village known to contain a young widow. A widower, accompanied by friends, enters the village, carries off the woman in question and marries her.

PLEASE THE BIG CHIEFS

Red Men Gather in Large Numbers at District Session.

DR. ZELIE OFFICIATES

Rite of Adoption Exemplified By Bayonne Team—Speeches By State Officers — Much Corn and Venison.

Unqualified success attended the district session of the Red Men, held at Wetumpkah Tribe's council chamber, Park avenue, Friday. Nearly 200 Red Men attended, and the affair was an inspiring one from its opening to its close. The great chiefs present were delighted with it. The district sessions are held on dates appointed by the great chiefs of the State, for sociability, inspiration and the conferring of the past sachem's degree on those entitled to it. This district includes, besides Plainfield, Raritan, Somerville, Westfield, Cranford and Bound Brook. All those places were well represented in the gathering last night, the delegations from Tonalaka Tribe, of Cranford, and from Menno Tribe, of Westfield, being especially large. A representative delegation from Miantonoma Tribe, of this city, was present. Members from Bayonne, N. J., Tribe, of Bayonne, furnished one of the features of the occasion. They took the trail from the shores of Newark bay expressly to show their inland brethren how the adoption degree is to be worked. They exemplified the degree most ably. The great chiefs conferred the past sachem's degree on a class of fifteen, among which were several Plainfielders.

After the degree had been disposed of speeches were made by Past Great Sachem William Newcorn, of this city; Great Sachem Frank P. Jackson, Great Senior Sagamore E. W. Schabilon, Great Prophet Charles D. Thompson, Great Keeper of Wampum Smythe and Great Keeper of Records Daniel M. Stevens. Refreshments were served after the speechmaking. There was a great abundance of corn, venison and all the braves feasted mightily. The committee in charge was made up of A. E. Willard, M. Leichentritt and R. D. Scott.

PLANNING A DUAL MEET

Congregational Church Athletes Likely to Meet the Champion Baptists.

S. S. A. L. ELECTIONS

Charles W. McCutchen Continues As Head of the Organization—Arranging For Two Indoor Meets.

The Sunday School Athletic League met at the Y. M. C. A. Friday and elected officers for the new league year. C. W. McCutchen was re-elected president, J. W. Gavett was continued as vice president and Physical Director Atkinson as secretary. F. E. Smith was elected treasurer for the first time.

Two new directors were elected—L. H. Gates, of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church. Dr. Norman H. Probasco, of the First Baptist church; G. E. Hall, Park Avenue Baptist church; James R. Joy, First Methodist church, and City Judge William N. Runyon, Park avenue Baptist church, were re-elected.

It was decided that the season had advanced too far for another outdoor meet of the whole league, but a possibility of a dual meet between the Congregational and First Baptist churches developed, and the league placed itself in readiness to sanction the meeting. The Congregational church is anxious for the dual meet, and will probably challenge the Baptist athletes. The latter hold premier place in the league, but the Congregational youngsters have always been strong contenders at the athletic meets, and they feel sure of their ability to lower the Baptist colors in a dual contest. According to the half-formed plans as they stand, the meet, if it is held, will take place on November 2 at the Riding and Driving Club grounds.

Preliminary plans for the next two indoor meets were made. The next meet will be held the first week in December at the Y. M. C. A. The next will be held the last week in March at the same place. This will be the most important meet of the league season, deciding, as it will, the fate of the McCutchen trophy, either for good or for another year. The First Baptist church has one leg on the trophy, having won it twice for clear title to it, and the athletes of that church are keeping themselves in the pink of condition to insure the retention of the trophy.

Blackbirds.

Blackbirds are powerful enemies of wasps. A blackbird will stand coolly by the side of a wasps' nest and deliberately tear it to pieces to get at the larvae, apparently caring not in the least for the swarms of angry insects flying around.

WEDS NEW YORK SURGEON

Miss Alida K. Leese Becomes the Bride of Dr. Seth Milliken.

DR. ZELIE OFFICIATES

Society Folk Witness Nuptial Ceremony at Crescent Avenue Church—Reception at Truell Hall.

First among the social events of the autumn season in local society was the wedding of Miss Alida K. Leese, sister of Mrs. Richard M. Boardman, of Putnam avenue, and Dr. Seth M. Milliken, of New York city, solemnized at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Saturday. Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, pastor of the church, officiated. Local society was well represented in the throng of smartly gowned guests who filled the church, and a score came from Portland, Maine, where the bride is well known socially, and New York city, the home of Dr. Milliken, a practising surgeon.

Miss Leese had been but a short time in local society, coming to this city from her former home in Portland, Maine, to reside with her sister, Mrs. Richard M. Boardman. Dr. Milliken is the son of Seth M. Milliken, of New York city. The engagement was announced in this city several months ago.

The church was handsomely decorated with cut flowers and potted plants, green and white predominating in the floral color scheme. The bride was gowned in white Panne satin, trimmed with ivy point applique lace. She wore a veil and carried white roses. Attending her as matrons of honor were her sister, Mrs. Richard M. Boardman, and Mrs. Harold M. Hatch, of New York city, a sister of the groom. They wore Ecru lace gowns and large white hats, and carried pink roses. The best man was Gerrish H. Milliken, of New York city, a brother of the groom. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Richard M. Boardman. The groomsmen were Harold Ames Hatch, Dr. Frederick Van Buren, Luther Billings, Captain Seth Milliken, and Dr. James I. Russell, of New York city, and O. P. Metcalf, of Pittsburg.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, many of the guests went to Truell Hall, where a sumptuous wedding collation was served by Deane, of New York. The bride and groom received and greeted the wedding guests, leaving town late in the afternoon on an extended wedding trip. On their return they will reside in New York city.

YOUNG BAPTISTS FORM SOCIAL ORGANIZATION

PAUL SCARBOROUGH IS ELECTED PRESIDENT.

A largely attended meeting of the young people of the First Baptist church was held in the church parlors Friday night, when an organization was formed, officers elected and a program of music enjoyed. The society will be known as before as the Young People's Society of the First Baptist church. These officers were elected:

President, Paul Scarborough; vice presidents, Miss May Shreve, Gideon Fountain; secretary, Stanley Robins; treasurer, Miss Marguerite Berrell. These, together with the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, comprise the executive committee.

Methods of work were agreed upon and it was decidedamong others things that the society should have charge of one Wednesday evening in each month and one Sunday night meeting on alternate months. A number of committees to be appointed will be in charge of the various features. In addition to the Wednesday and Sunday night meetings, one night each month will be set apart for a social, which will include entertainments and musicales.

Following the business session an informal program of music was enjoyed. Miss Florence Wohlfert, accompanied by Howard Case, rendered two violin solos in her best style, and a male quartet, composed of Gideon and Guyon Fountain, Clyde Doane and William Flanders sang several selections. Paul Scarborough was the accompanist. Elston Leonard also added to the enjoyment of the occasion by giving several choice selections on a talking machine. Miss Miriam Hall presided at the piano during the singing of the sacred selections.

Garnet and Topaz.

The deterioration of the garnet and topaz is much more rapid than that of the ruby, but it takes a different form. While the garnet becomes lighter, the topaz turns cloudy and dull and loses all its brightness.

The Deadheads.

"What started the riot at the performance of 'Hamlet' last night?"

"Ham held the skull and said, 'Alas, poor Yorick, you are not the only dead head in the house.'"—Pearson's Weekly.

G. W. TICE KILLS HIMSELF

Westfielder, Once Wealthy, Ends His Life by Asphyxiation in His Bath Room.

WIFE FINDS HIS BODY

Dr. Westcott Issues Certificate After Making Examination—Suicide a Popular Resident.

George W. Tice, a life-long resident of Westfield, and at one time one of its wealthiest citizens, was found dead in the bath room of his home on Dudley avenue Friday morning. The discovery was made by Mrs. Tice, who was attracted to the place by the odor of escaping gas. She found her husband lying prostrate upon the floor and the gas turned on. The room was filled with gas. On the door was a paper on which was written: "Don't light a match. Dr. R. R. Sinclair, the family physician, was hastily summond and he pronounced life extinct. Later in the day County Physician Wescott made an examination.

Tice was, up to a few years ago, head of the big manufacturing concern of Tice & Jacobs, on Water street, New York. He then owned a costly home on Dudley avenue, Westfield, and his fortune was estimated at over $1,000,000. The failure of the concern, however, caused him to lose nearly all his money, and he was forced to sell his interests in the New York concern and the greater part of his Westfield property at a sacrifice. With his wife and three children to provide for, his family cares rested heavily upon his mind. For a time he worked as a clerk in a local store, but he was not long at this occupation before he suffered a severe nervous collapse, from which he never fully recovered.

Last year Tice put through a real estate deal involving the sale of some of his Dudley avenue property. For this he realized a sum of money, with which he remodeled a home on Highland avenue, where he went to live with his family. Here he lived happily until his death. The crowning event of his life, after was the marriage of his daughter Mabel, a popular local society belle, to George Vance, of Jersey City. The ceremony took place at the home last spring. Mrs. Vance was visiting her parents at the time of her father's death

Tice was 67 years of age, and his family have resided in this section for over 100 years.

Coroner D. H. Westcott granted a burial permit Saturday.

RUTGERS COLLEGE ACCEPTS PLANS FOR FINE BUILDING

$60,000 STRUCTURE WILL BE ERECTED ON NEILSON CAMPUS.

The plans for the new engineering building at Rutgers College have been accepted by the trustees and within a few weeks ground will be broken for its erection. It is to cost $60,000, part of which was donated by Andrew Carnegie. The architects are D. D. Williamson, of New Brunswick, and Messrs. Hill and Stout, of New York city.

The building is to be erected on Neilson campus, a large plot of ground adjacent to the old or Queen's campus, and it will front on Bleecker place.

The design of the proposed building is modelled after the Colonial, to conform with the prevailing style of the college buildings. The main portion is to be three stories high and will have a frontage of 124 feet and a depth of 50 feet. At the rear there will be two wings, one story each in height, which are to be used for the laboratories. The materials used in the construction will be stone for the base, selected brick of two shades for the walls and terra cotta trim. The roof will be of green slate.

The Truth.

Gobsa Golde descended painfully from his ninety horsepower automobile.

"I wish to purchase," he said, "an engagement ring."

"Yes, sir," said the eager clerk. "We have just imported a superb ring, sir—two ruby hearts surrounded"—

"No," said the aged millionaire in a cold, disillusioned voice; "no, that won't do. There is only one heart concerned in this affair. The girl is marrying me for my money."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Window Made of Stone.

A window made entirely of stone has been presented to a French cathedral. The stone is nephrite, found in Siberia, and so beautifully transparent that when placed as it is it catches the sun's rays and reflects them into the interior of the cathedral.

Pewter.

Pewter is an alloy consisting of 80 per cent. of tin and 20 per cent. of lead.

Sweets.

Abroad "desert" means raw fruit only. Pies and puddings are called sweets.

The Costitutionalist.

A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.

Published a.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Terms: $2.00 per year.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1907.

TAX FOR THE HOSPITAL

Special Election to Decide Whether City Shall Help in Its Support.

COMMON COUNCIL ACTS

One-Third Mill On Dollar the Proposed Tax—Messrs. Scudder and Tolles Oppose the Idea.

The question of allowing the voters of Plainfield to decide whether they want to be taxed one-third of a mill on the city's total valuation for the support of Muhlenberg Hospital was raised by Councilman George P. Mellick at the October meeting of the Common Council, last night. That member called up the petition, presented several months ago, which asked that the voters of Plainfield be given the opportunity to settle the question at an election. The petition provides that the question be voted on at the coming general election to be held November 5.

Immediately after its presentation, Mr. Tolles, chairman of the finance committee, arose to protest. He said that its adoption would mean an ever-increasing debt on the city for as the valuation of the city increase in proportion will the amount to be given the hospital through a tax increase. He referred to the fact that the city is now giving the hospital $1,000 a year for the care of indigent people, but he did not believe that the number of such cases averaged more than six or eight a year. Besides he did not think that such a vote as proposed would be a fair test. He did not want to be understood as antagonistic to the hospital for he was always willing to contribute his share.

In support of the proposition Mr. Mellick said that it would not be a question of voting money by adopting the provisions of the proposed resolution, but simply giving the voters a chance to decide the question. He had been importuned time and again to secure the adoption of the measure by people who want to contribute to the hospital by such a method. Mr. Mellick added that last year the hospital had given $4,000 worth of services free to persons unable to pay for treatment there. In support of the matter urged Mr. Mellick quoted some interesting figures. He said that for the year ending *June 1 last, the receipts were $32,-*300, including $4,800 given by the Union County Board of Freeholders; $12,000 from private patients and ward patients who pay and $16,800 from miscellaneous sources of income, leaving a deficit of $15,500, which has to be raised each year through efforts for charity, such as the carnivals and other forms of entertainment.

The tax of one-third of a mill on every dollar receives from taxes would give the hospital $6,600, still leaving $9,000 to be raised by persons who are actively interested in the hospital.

In stating his position, President Daniel said that while he considered the hospital a quasi public institution that would vote against the proposition as in the first instance on the grounds that he did not like the way the law was framed, in his opinion it would not be a fair test, for aside from the question as to the legality of the tax the failure of a person to vote against the question would be construed as a vote in favor of it. In reply Mr. Mellick added that while the phrasing of the law was unfortunate, it was not considered serious enough to prevent the operation of it. He believed that all the voters would be fully informed as to what to do on election day.

Mr. Montgomery also spoke in favor of the proposition, adding his word of praise to the hospital for what it has done in this past and urging generous support on the part of the city. When the vote was taken, President Daniel and Councilman Tolles voted in the negative but the resolution was adopted.

Floyd T. Woodhull a Director.

Floyd T. Woodhull, formerly of the firm of Woodhull & Martin, has been elected a director of the City National Bank, taking the place of the late Joseph B. Coward, who served in that capacity for a great many years. Mr. Woodhull is a member of the Board of Education and is in many ways identified with the best interests of Plainfield.

Gave Piano Recital.

Mrs. Ida Randolph Smalley, formerly of this city, gave a piano recital, with her pupils at the Brooklyn Conservatory of Music, Brooklyn, on Friday. The affair was such a success that it was repeated Saturday night.

A NEW DINNER GOWN.

A costume of strikingly noticeable beauty is a princess model of pink mousseline, with a sleeveless coat of pink Venetian guipure. This coat is fitted to the princess form, is made with a deep fall in the front, then closes at the waist line, and the circular portion over the hips is plain. A different design entirely of Oriental braid heads a pink satin binding at the hem of the dress, while a pink satin belt finishes the princess gown beneath the coat. This is worn with a darker pink hat, trimmed with pink plumes and black velvet ribbon.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

Once and for all, let it be known that nothing will permanently remove superfluous hair (with the exception of the electric needle in the hands of an expert). Peroxide of hydrogen mixed with ammonia will bleach hair and even rot it, thereby discouraging the growth, though the magic work must be done at the very root of each hair and nothing short of death will kill. Anything strong enough to kill hair will certainly leave an unsightly blemish on the delicate skin.

Disraeli's Nuptial Joke.

There was a little joke between them (Disraeli and his wife) which *I heard from the late dean of Salis*bury. "You know I married you for your money," Disraeli would say to her. "Oh, yes, but if you were to marry me again you would marry me for love!" was the regular reply. "Oh, yes," her husband would exclaim, and the little nuptial comedy ended.

But what Disraeli said to Bernal Osborne once about his marriage is much better worth the telling. It was at a dinner party after dinner when the men were alone. "What did you marry her for?" Osborne asked in his characteristic way. Disraeli twiddled his wineglass in the pause that followed this point blank inquiry. Then he lifted his head coyly and looked the other way as pensively in the face. "For a reason," he said, "which you could never understand — gratitude." — From "Lord Beaconsfield and Other Tory Memories," by T. E. Kebbel.

The Smelts Were Biting.

John Quincy Adams, of Massachusetts, third of that name, was very fond of fishing and not especially fond of his legal profession. One day, the story runs, a case in which he was counsel was down for trial in a Massachusetts court. Mr. Adams did not make his appearance, but sent a letter to the judge in which, after gentleman read it and then postponed the case with the announcement:

"Mr. Adams is detained on important business."

It was afterward learned by a friend of Adams that the letter read as follows:

"Dear Judge—For the sake of old Izaak Walton, please continue my case till Friday. The smelts are biting and I can't leave."

For Bridesmaids.

Among the newest and prettiest souvenirs for the bride to present her maids is a small bunch of enamel that looks exactly like a bunch of autumn leaves. On one of the leaves a tiny diamond that looks like a drop of dew is set; the enamel gives the rich coloring of the gold and russet and crimson of fall foliage.

Another is a charming little bangle, a heart-shaped locket in gold, left quite plain for the date of the wedding, and a place inside for the bridal picture. These are also intended as souvenirs from the bride to her maids.

The Owe Sheridans.

Richard Brinsley Butler Sheridan, the great Irishman, was all his life long in dire straits for money, and when he died in 1816 the bailiffs were actually in possession of his house. Sheridan's forbears had been O'Sheridans.

"Why," asked on one occasion his little son, "why have we not the O' as well as Sheridan?"

"Heaven only knows," was the father's reply. "We ought to have it, for we owe everybody."

Continuous Cooking.

"New York is a place of continuous cooking," said the woman from the West. "Walk along any street at any time and you will get a whiff of cooking in something meats. There doesn't seem to be any set time for meals. Judging by the smell, breakfast is a movable feast that takes place any time between 6 o'clock and noon."—New York Post.

Chocolate Icing.

Boil a cup of sugar and a half cup of water together until the syrup spins a thread. Beat the white of one egg very stiff, and pour the syrup gradually upon it, beating all the while, and whip in two ounces of melted chocolate, with a *half-tea*spoonful of vanilla. When nearly cold spread on the cake.

Tommy Changed His Spot.

Teacher—Can the leopard change his spots? Now, Tommy, answer me!

Tommy—Yes, sir; he can.

Teacher—Nonsense! How can he?

Tommy—Well, sir, when he's tired of sitting on one spot he can change to another, can't he, sir?—Winnipeg Telegram.

Her Selection.

Blanche—The most difficult thing is to make up one's mind what to take and what to leave behind.

Henriette—Oh, I don't think so. I take all my frocks and leave my husband.— Rire.

Y. M. C. A. TEAM'S DINNER

President Gavett and Others Make Speeches at Ball Club's Affair.

LISTMAN TOASTMASTER

Kenneth Robbie, John Kriney and Others Enliven the Banquetters—Menu a Good One.

In honor of its success in the Inter-City Amateur Baseball League, the Y. M. C. A. team was entertained at dinner at the association rooms Saturday night. While the players did not succeed in winning the pennant, Physical Director Listman, who was also manager of the club, decided that in view of the good work of the boys they were entitled to recognition. There were present as invited guests President John Kriney, of the Clinton Avenue baseball club; Jesse Ayers, who was manager of the Dunellen club, which dropped out of the league, and Captain Robertson, of the Laurels, of Bound Brook, besides President A. W. Gavett, of the association and league, and Secretary Kenneth Robbie, of the association, the members of the team and representatives of the local papers.

After an excellent dinner, prepared by members of the women's auxiliary and observed by them, a few speeches were made. Mr. Listman was toastmaster, and after complimenting the team, especially Captain Howard Craig and Ralph Schoonmaker, for their untiring efforts as well as for general work of the team, he announced that plans are under way to continue amateur baseball next season. He stated that it was a success this year and he predicted that possibly outside teams would be invited to join the league another year.

Speaking for the association, Mr. Robbie praised the work of the excellent bowling, and while, as he said, he understood little about the game, he joined in wishing the boys all the success possible, and was glad to have them make use of the association benefits.

"Baseball of Other Days" furnished an interesting topic for President Gavett. He recited some of the interesting games of the early days, when he managed the association team, recalling the warmly-contested games on the old Grande avenue grounds, when Gateley, the deaf mute pitcher, was a star. He also mentioned the fact that he hoped that the time was not far distant when the association would have its own grounds. He believed the people liked amateur baseball and the association the proper agency to furnish it. He also patted the team on the back for its success, which he hoped would be better next season.

John Kriney spoke for the Clinton Avenue team, and he said that his interest would always be found in amateur baseball, and was always willing to help it along. Jesse Ayers made a few remarks, thanking the association for the courtesy extended.

The "joker" of the evening was Patrolman John Payne, the star right fielder of the team. He had a pleasant "knock" for every member of the club, not forgetting to declare that most of the victories were due to his pinch hitting and fast fielding. Captain Howard Craig was also called upon for a few words, and after the speech-making a social half hour was enjoyed. Each member of the team received a photograph of the club recently.

COULDN'T GET $500 OUT OF HIS CLIENT

ISAAC P. RUNYON IS NON-SUITED IN FIGHT FOR ALLEGED FEES.

Judge Vail, of Elizabeth, went to Somerville, Monday, to take up the trial of the Supreme Court causes. The first case ready was that of Isaac P. Runyon against Robert W. Graves, on contract. Mr. Runyon is a lawyer with offices in this city and he brought suit against Mr. Graves, who lives in Elizabeth, to recover the sum of $500 for instituting a suit against a corporation.

Mr. Runyon had no written contract, but declared the arrangements had been in the form of a verbal agreement. The defendant denied this, and Judge Vail, because the plaintiff could produce no contract in writing, granted a non-suit.

Engagement of Miss Waring.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Mary Griffith Waring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Waring, of this city, and Theodore P. Reynolds, of Orange. The wedding will probably take place early in January. Miss Waring is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waring, and is a favorite in Plainfield and New York society. Mr. Reynolds is a member of the firm of Secor & Reynolds, New York, and Stock Exchange members of the New York Stock Exchange. He was graduated from Princeton, class '07, and is a member of the University and other well known clubs.

OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. J. Denison Spicer Reach Fifty Years of Married Life.

CELEBRATE THE EVENT

Drs. Lewis and Shaw Make Remarks —Letters From Bishop Vincent and Dr. Main.

Surrounded by relatives and friends to the number of about 125 Mr. and Mrs. J. Denison Spicer celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding at their home on West Fifth street, Monday. There were many features that combined to make the event one of unusual interest to the couple, as well as their guests. One thing that added to the pleasure was the presence of Mrs. Sarah J. Tilsworth, of this city, and Nelson Blackford, of New Market, the bridesmaid and best man at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Spicer fifty years ago.

Congratulatory remarks were made by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis and Rev. George B. Shaw, *the latter pas*tor of the Seventh-day Baptist church with a response by Mr. Spicer. Dr. Lewis spoke especially of the happily married life of Mr. and Mrs. Spicer and of the high esteem in which they are held. Mr. Shaw, while not able to speak in a reminiscent way, referred to the pleasant relations with the couple. In responding Mr. Spicer was reminiscent, recalling interesting incidents of the early days.

Many congratulatory letters were received and read by David E. Titsworth. These included pleasant words from Bishop Vincent, a former neighbor; Rev. Dr. Main, dean of Alfred University and Rev. Dr. Edwin H. Lewis, of Chicago, son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Lewis. Others letters were from Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, *Florida, Louisana, and Seattle, Wash*ington. In connection with the reading of the letters Mr. Titsworth read some original verses, dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Spicer. At the same time he presented the couple with a purse of $366 in gold, a golden oak sideboard and other gifts. The purse was from members of the Seventh-day Baptist church, who were present in large numbers, and other friends. The presentation was a complete and happy surprise. At the conclusion of the very informal program and a prayer by Mr. Shaw, the company joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Mr. and Mrs. Spicer were married fifty years ago yesterday at the home of the bride, who was Miss Elizabeth Spicer, daughter of Austin F. Ross, in New Market. Rev. Halsey H. Baker, who died in January last, was the officiating clergyman, being at that time pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church, New Market. Mr. Spicer was then a resident of Westerly, R. I., and he and his bride did not move to Plainfield until 1865.

He started in business here in 1866 and for thirty-two years was engaged in the manufacture of sashes, blinds and other materials used in building, with Joseph A. Hubbard, the firm name being Spicer & Hubbard. The mill at Madison avenue and West Third street was occupied during that partnership. Several years ago the firm dissolved and it was *Mr. Spicer's intention to con*tinue the business when he was seriously injured by a fall in the yard of his home. Mr. Spicer is at that time he has lived in retirement.

During their residence in Plainfield Mr. and Mrs. Spicer have been active members of the Seventh-day Baptist church, and for many years Mr. Spicer was the clerk of the church.

The guests present Monday came from Rhode Island, New York, Brooklyn, Metuchen, New Brunswick, Trenton, New Market and this city, and included about twelve persons who attended the wedding at New Market. Mr. and Mrs. Spicer have two children, Miss Ida Spicer and Arthur J. Spicer, both of this city.

FINANCIAL SESSION OF BOARD OF EDUCATION.

City School Fathers Order Payment of Big Budget at Short Board Meeting.

Routine business was summarily transacted at the regular meeting of the city board of education held at the high school Monday. Bills to the amount of about $4,000 were ordered paid. This is an extensive budget because of the fact that much of the amount is carried over from the summer months, when it was necessary to have considerable repairing done to local school buildings. Repairs to the amount of about $1,500 have been made during the summer on the Whittier school building. Books and supplies were a large item.

A report from the city tax collector showed $1,550.75 on hand and the report of the custodian of schools showed a balance of $5,700.34. Leander N. Lovell was the only member of the board absent.

HUNT CLUB'S RIDER HURT

Miss Noe Painfully Injured by Falling from Mount.

CUT IN THE FOREHEAD

Westfield Woman Taken to Hospital, Where Twelve Stitches Are Taken In Her Wound.

During the first chase of the season of the Watchung Hunt Club held Saturday afternoon, there was one accident that for a time marred the pleasure of the riders. Miss Gertrude Noe, of Westfield, mounted on Joseph Gatin's famous hunter and jumper, "Maid-of-all-Work," acted badly as he was about to take a fence at the end of the second check near the school-house at Oak Tree, and took a tumble. Miss Noe was thrown and before she could regain her feet, she received a blow in the forehead from the horse's hind foot. The blow inflicted a cut which required twelve stitches to close it. Mrs. Paul Taylor Brown, who had been following the riders in her carriage, was close by and she took Miss Noe to the hospital, where the wound was dressed. She was removed to her home in Westfield yesterday.

Miss Noe did not lose consciousness and she was not seriously hurt. The accident was a great surprise for "Maid-of-all-Work" is considered one of the best horses in the hunting field in this part of the country and has never been known to act in that way before.

There were fifteen members of the club who met at the Plainfield Country Club, where the start was made at 2:45 o'clock. The new hounds, used for the first time, worked fine throughout the hunt. A course was followed to Oak Tree, the Lehigh Valley Railroad station, Dog Corners, Westfield, Fred Alpers, of Brooklyn; C. E. S. Bellows, F. C. Wildey, W. H. Wildey, Charles W. Fisk, Harvey Fisk, Miss Gertrude Noe, Lewis E. Waring and Christopher Comins.

The next hunt of the club will be held Wednesday morning, when the riders will meet at the kennels at 6:15 o'clock for a short chase. On Saturday the club will meet at the Driving Park at 2:45 o'clock for another hunt.

NEW YORK MAN GETS $68,000 BOND ISSUE

ONLY TWO BIDS AND OFFER OF A. B. LEACH IS ACCEPTED.

Contrary to expectations only two bids were received at the October meeting of the Common Council, Monday, for the $68,000 worth of sanitary sewer bonds. One was from the Plainfield Trust Company for $50,000 worth of bonds and the other from A. B. Leach, of New York, for the entire issue. The bonds were awarded to A. B. Leach at the exceptionally low bid of $100.04. The bonds are 4½ per cent. Interest-bearing bonds and are dated May 1, 1907. They will run from 1908 to 1941.

The bid of the Plainfield Trust Company was $100.67 for $50,000 worth of the issue and the long term bonds were desired. Altogether this bid was not considered as favorable as that of the New York firm which offered to take them all for $100.04. The high bids and low price bid is considered due to the unsettled condition of the investment market even in high grade securities and bonds, such as Plainfield offered. There is a general depression in financial circles and those who have money to invest are withholding it in preference to putting out while the market is in such an uncertain condition.

The Curfew Bell.

Curfew bell is the name of the bell rung in the reigns of William I. and II. at sunset to give notice to their subjects that they were to put out their fires and candles (French convre fou—cover fire).

Named by Moravians.

The town of Bethlehem, in Pennsylvania, was named in 1741 by a party of Moravians who assembled in a "barn where the town is located to celebrate Christmas.

FOR MOURNING WEAR.

Trimmings, like spices, should be used sparingly, in fact, the only trimming allowing in the wearing of deeper mourning are *crepes, stitch*ing and sometimes silk.

A certain of amount of jewelry is more or less indispensable, although its use should be limited to what is positively necessary.

A blue street gown trimmed with blue braid in military effect across the front and from the hips to the bottom of the three-quarter length coat. The plain skirt was made with a train.

AUTO SMASHES INTO HIM

Brother Nacarins in Hospital, With Broken Arm and Many Bruises.

NEWARKER'S MACHINE HE GETS $6,000 A YEAR

F. A. Wuensch's Car Knocked Down and Ran Over Catholic Brother On Park Avenue Sunday Afternoon.

Walking along the county road between this city and Metuchen, Sunday afternoon, with a company of twenty boys from St. Joseph's school, Metuchen, Brother Nacarins, one of the teachers, was run over by an automobile owned by F. A. Wuensch, of Springfield avenue, Newark, and driven by a chauffeur. His left arm was broken and he received bruises and contusions over his entire body. The injured man was carried to the home of A. C. Bechstein nearby, where temporary treatment was given. The accident happened outside the city's limits.

The victim refused at first to be taken to Muhlenberg Hospital and at his request was removed to the Church of the Sacred Heart, Metuchen, to which parish he belongs. Upon his arrival there his condition was such that it was thought best to take him to the hospital and this was done. Dr. T. H. Tomlinson was there at the time and he took charge of the man. After an examination it was said that he would probably recover, as the most serious injury seemed to be the fracture of the arm.

Brother Nacarins and the boys from the school were out for their usual Sunday afternoon stroll, and were walking home when the accident happened. Word at a point not far from the Gentlemen's Driving Park. The party had just passed a milk wagon, driven by William Knight, of Oak Tree. They were laughing and having a good time and were unmindful of the approaching automobile.

The chauffeur of the machine was also obliged to turn out to pass the milk wagon, and he said that he blew his horn several times. However, in the general confusion of the Sunday traffic on Park avenue he failed to notice the machine until it was too late. In his excitement to avoid a collision he stepped directly in front of the auto and was thrown and run over, the weight of the machine resting particularly on the man's left arm.

With the assistance of the boys and the chauffeur, Brother Nicarins was rescued from beneath the auto and immediately taken to Mr. Bechstein's home. At first it was thought that he was fatally injured. He did not lose consciousness once and directed that he be taken to Metuchen as soon as possible.

Mr. Wuensch, who with a couple of friends, were in the automobile, rendered every assistance. The owner deeply deplored the accident *and giving his name to Howard Wool*ston, who happened to be passing at the time, said that he would bear all expense attendant upon the man's injuries.

MISS GRACE ADAMS IS NOW MRS. HENRY VIEBRICK.

Ceremony Performed at Faith Chapel Parsonage by Rev. J. W. Musson.

Miss Grace Adams, daughter of Alexander Adams, of Netherwood avenue, and Henry Viebrick, son of Charles Viebrick, of Jackson avenue, this city, were quietly married Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock by Rev. J. W. Musson. The ceremony was performed at the home of the officiating clergyman on West Front street.

The bride was gowned in a dark blue traveling dress, with hat to match. She was attended by Miss Marie Viebrick, sister o" the groom, who wore a gown of blue silk. The best man was Roy Adams, brother of the bride.

Both the bride and groom are active members of Faithchapel, and are popular in a large circle of acquaintances. Mr. Viebrick is employed by W. Barnes, on Park avenue grocer. The couple will reside on Netherwood avenue.

Ingenious Jerseyman.

Patents that were issued to Jerseymen reported by Drake & Co., solicitors of American and foreign patents, 600 Broad street, Newark, are as follows: Photographic camera, L. Borsum, Plainfield; combination-tool, *R. Campbell, Elizabeth; motor*starting rheostat, system of control, E. R. Carichoff, East Orange; self-adjusting valve-gear, Lewis, sprocketed host, P. J. Darlington, Glen Ridge; sound-box for talking machines, J. H. Eifering, Camden; tapping-die, G. Ermold, Elizabeth; horse-rack, T. V. Forster, Hackensack; bag-lock, C. A. Hiering and A. Muller, Newark; curbing, S. W. Lerch, Manasquan; electric furnace, J. T. Marshall, Metuchen; bearing for pedals, G. Merritt, Ridgewood; steam engine, P. H. Mills, Camden; automatic hammer-handle-setting machines, F. A. Phelps, Newark; delivery mechanism, W. Scott and D. J. Scott, Plainfield; flat-iron waxer, cleaner and rest, E. A. Stone, Paterson.

Nothing is more utterly out of place, more vulgar in the extreme, than elaborate and quite uncalled-for jewelry

HIGHEST PAID ENGRAVER

Former Plainfielder Now the Greatest Expert in Federal Printing Department.

George F. C. Smillie Considered a Genius—Engraves Portraits for Federal Obligations.

According to the Washington, D.C., Star, George F. C. Smillie, a former well known resident of this city, is considered one of the three men in the United States at the head of the engraving profession. He receives as larliary of $6,000 a year from the government, being attached to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. His father, who resided at Plainfield avenue and Second street, in the house now occupied by Fred Lounsbury, was also an engraver of note. Mr. Smillie's specialty is portrait engraving and most of the portraits on government note bonds, etc., are his work

Referring to Mr. Smillie's ability the Star article says: "The salary paid Mr. Smillie calls attention to the fact that there are comparatively few expert engravers in the United States, so far as the making of plateh for currency and other government obligations are concerned. In the Bureau of Engraving and Printing there are twenty-six engravers. Their salaries range from $1,000 to $6,000 a year. Mr. Smillie is not the only paid man there. Two other engravers draw $4,000, a year each,and a number draw $3,000.

Mrf. Sullivan, the director of the bureau, says that an engraver is a man of genius and ability. Without genius he would never become an engraver. Apprentices are out of the question unless boys can be found with a decided talent in that direction. This is what makes the great scarcity of certain classes of engravers in the country. Should the twenty men in the government service go out on strike the government would be practically at their mercy, as it is doubtful if their places could be filled."

CARRIAGE HITS AUTO.

Mrs. A. J. Leader Thrown from Automobile in Borough.

Crashed into by a recklessly driven horse and buggy at Watchung avenue and Pearl street, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Leader, of Duer street, narrowly escaped injury while traveling in their automobile, Saturday afternoon. As a result of the collision, Mrs. Leader was thrown headlong over the dashboard, striking on her head. She was temporarily rendered unconscious, but aside from bruises, is suffering only from shock. The occupant of the rig did not stop to inquire about the injuries of the auto party, but continued on his way.

The auto, of the high-wheeled "horseless carriage" type, was going at moderate speed when turning into avenue when the accident happened. Mr. Leader, seeing the buggy approaching up Watchung avenue, blew his horn in warning, and slowed down. The driver of the rig, which was going at a good clip, cut sharp around the corner, colliding with the auto, which was almost at a *standstill. The rear axle of the ma*chine was bent and the dashboard and lamps damaged. An unknown passerby in a runabout kindly offered assistance and carried Mrs. Leader to her home on Duer street.

PLAINFIELD ELKS EASY FOR SOMERVILLE TEAM.

Senator Frelinghuysen's Nine Wins a Freak Game By a Score of 20 to 9.

The Plainfield Elks were an easy proposition for the Somerville brothers, Saturday afternoon, when teams from the two lodges met at West End Park, Somerville, in a baseball game. Although but seven innings were played, the home team won out by a score of 20 to 9. The contest abounded in errors and kept the crowd in good humor.

A downpour of rain stopped hostilities in the seventh inning. There was one accident. Bogert Conklin, of the home team, in trying to knock the cover off the ball, was hit on the nose by the sphere and a broken nasal organ resulted. He was taken to Somerset Hospital.

"Lou" Wiltse, who is a member of the Plainfield Lodge of Elks, appeared in the lineup and James A. Metz, the Republican nominee for surrogate, played first base for Somerville. The Elks enjoyed a banquet after the game, Senator Joseph T. Frelinghuysen being the central figure of attraction in entertaining the guests. The proceeds from the game will be given to Somerset Hospital.

Turnover cuffs of linen, with hemstitched edges, are worn in deepest mourning, making the prettiest of finishes.

The best silks for mourning are peau de soie, taffeta of dull finish and louisine.

A reseda cloth costume, the coat and skirt trimmed with inset tucks of satin, shown on the wide sleeves, back portion of the jacket and around the hem of the dress.

SOMERSET'S HARMONIOUS G. O. P. MAKES TICKET

W. W. Smalley for Assembly; J. A. Metz Jr., for Surrogate and Roy. Kay for Sheriff.

ON STRONG PLATFORM

Mayor Smalley Chairman—Delegates Laud Pure Food and Auto Laws and Favor Excise Enforcement.

The Somerset County Republican Convention, which convened in Somerset Hall, Somerville, Saturday at 11 o'clock, placed in nomination the following ticket for the November election: For member of the Assembly, W. Smalley, of Bound Brook; for surrogate, James A. Metz, Jr., of Bridgewater; for sheriff, Robert Kay, of Bernards Township; for coroners, Joseph Herberman, of Warren, and Dr. M. C. Smalley, of Gladstone. In each case the nomination was made unanimous.

State Senator Joseph T. Frelinghuysen, as chairman of the county committee, called the convention to order, and Mayor Newton H. Smalley was made temporary chairman. Ralph L. Reed, of Bernards, was made temporary secretary and T. G. Winsor, of Somerville, temporary assistant secretary.

Immediately after the convention organized, Mayor Smalley said that he hoped the convention would lose no time in completing its work, as there was to be a baseball game this afternoon between the Elks of Plainfield and Somerville and Senator Frelinghuysen added that he hoped all the delegates would attend as the game would be for the benefit of the Somerset hospital and it was the intention of the Somerville Elks to "wipe up the earth" with the team from Plainfield.

The work of the convention was then taken up and rushed through quickly. Senator Stokes announced the following committees:

Resolutions—Benjamin A. Hegeman, R. D. Owens, Jacob VanArsdale, Dittmars VanNostrand, B. T. Gabriel. Permanent organization—W. F. Garretson, Frank Hamilton, H. W. Hoagland, William C. Smith, W. G. Cooper. Rules—J. B. Brown, Dr. F. L. Field, W. B. Voorhees, J. V. P. Vanderhoef, Norman Burscher. Credentials—John Bodine, Howard Woolston, Dr. C. M. Henry, George Wolfe, A. D. Wyckoff.

Soon after the appointment of committees reports were received. The committee on permanent organization moved that the temporary organization be made permanent, which was adopted, and the committee on rules decided that a majority of the votes of the delegates would be necessary to nominate. The credential committee reported no contests.

B. A. Hegeman, as chairman of the committee on resolutions, presented the report. The resolutions commended the vigorous administrations of President Roosevelt and Governor Stokes, and of the active part taken by the Somerset county legislators. They approved the enactment of laws regulating the manufacture and sale of food products, the regulations for the operation of autos over the public highways and advocated a better enforcement of the excise laws.

An improved method of selecting jurors was urged, as was also the preservation of the forests of the State. They favored a gradual increase in the tax imposed on street railways, the carrying of freight on trolley lines and the substitution of electrocution for hanging; also changes in the laws which will result in the popular choice of United States senators. The resolutions was adopted without a dissenting vote.

The nomination of candidates was then taken up, that for member of Assembly being the first. Deputy County Collector Fred M. Voorhees presented the name of W. W. Smalley, and the nomination was seconded by B. A. Hegeman. On motion of John Cooper the nomination was made unanimous.

For surrogate, Bernards presented the name of A. B. Gibb and Bridgewater named James A. Metz, Jr., of that place. William F. Williams, of the borough, stated that North Plainfield had no candidates, and he took pleasure in seconding the nomination of Mr. Metz. This resulted in Mr. Gibb's withdrawing his name, after thanking the delegates for the honor conferred, and the unanimous nomination of Mr. Metz followed.

In nominating a candidate for sheriff, Dr. F. L. Field presented the name of Robert Kay, of Bernards Township, and it was seconded by Bridgewater. The name of Charles P. Sebring was presented, but he withdrew from the race. He thanked his friends for mentioning his name, but added that owing to many business duties he would be unable to accept the honor. The nomination of Mr. Kay was then made unanimous. It was conceded that Mr. Sebring had considerable strength in the convention.

Joseph Herberman, of Warren, and Dr. M. C. Smalley, of Gladstone, received the unanimous nomination as candidates for coroners. After the nominations were completed, Dr. F. L. Field and A. B. Gibb were appointed a committee to bring the candidates before the convention. This was done and they acknowledged the honors conferred. Adjournment was taken for dinner and when the convention reconvened at 1 o'clock there were speeches by Senator Thomas J. Hillery, Congressman Ira W. Wood and the candidates, as well as others prominent in county affairs.

JERSEY AGAINST ENGLAND

Millions of Singer Machine Founder Involved in Question of Court Jurisdiction.

5,574 SHARES INVOLVED

Widow's Third Husband Lays Claim to Them—Case Has Been in French and English Courts.

Whether the Court of Chancery of the sovereign State of New Jersey or the High Court of Chancery of England shall have jurisdiction over a good portion of the millions left by Isaac Merritt Singer, inventor of the Singer sewing machine and the founder of the Singer Manufacturing Company, is to be decided shortly by Vice-Chancellor Howell, who has taken briefs of Untermyer & Marshall, of New York, and E. M. Colie, of this city, counsel representing Paul Charles William Sohege IV. and Parisian husband of the late Mr. Singer's deceased widow, together with the brief of R. V. Lindabury, representing the trustees and Singer heirs, after those eminent lawyers had discussed in turn their views on his authority in the premises.

Vice-Chancellor Howell leaves today for Asbury Park, and he will endeavor to digest this difficult problem of international jurisprudence while taking his ease in the New England mountains.

Mr. Lindabury, as counsel for the defendants, had as clients Adam M. Singer, Washington M. G. Singer, Lewis Rendell, three sons and an English friend of the American inventor, and the Princess Edmond de Polignac, nee Eugenia Singer; the Duchess Jean Elie Louis Octave Guillaume Severe Olmanlen Duc Decazes de Glucksburg, nee Blanche Singer; Louis Jean Victor de Glucksburg, Marguerite Etl de Glucksburg, Jacques Etc de Glucksburg, children by the Duchess, and Paris Eugene Singer, all of them either the children or grandchildren of Mrs. Singer by her American husband.

The amount involved in the suit runs into the millions and represents the third which Mrs. Sohege was awarded as dividends of Mr. Singer in 1901, three years before her death.

The papers in the suit show that after Mr. Singer's death in 1879, his widow married Vicomte d'Esterno, who was known as the Duc de Camposelic, who died in 1887. At the time of this marriage an ante-nuptial agreement was made whereby 2,787 shares of the Singer company stock were turned over to John C. Palmer and John B. Gould as a trust, the income to be paid to her during her life and after her death to be held for all or any of her children then living, by her former husband. In 1891 the Vicomte d'Esterno, who had plain Mr. Sohege, of Paris, entering into a marriage contract in conformity with French law, which made her last husband her partner in all the "gains" of her estate.

Seven years later, 1898, Mrs. Sohege and her husband confirmed by a second instrument the trust created by Mrs. Singer prior to her marriage to the Duc de Camposelice, and under the powers conferred by this instrument Messrs. Palmer and Gould appointed Adam M. and Washington M. G. Singer and Lewis Rendell trustees of the stock in their stead.

On the reading of Mme. Sohege's will in 1904 it was ascertained that the testatrix named her husband as her "universal legatee," whereby he became possessed of all her personal estate. Sohege immediately took out letters testamentary and brought suit in the French courts for the 5,574 shares of capital stock allotted the widow of Mr. Singer as a dividend in 1901.

While this suit was pending the trustees to whom the stock had been turned over and who had made it a part of the corpus or principal of the trust fund, brought suit in the High Court of Chancery, giving notice to Sohege to appear and defend his rights.

It appears from the voluminous records in the case that Mr. Singer and all his family had long been expatriates, and made their domicile in England. The original trust deed executed by Mrs. Singer was made while she was still residing there prior to her marriage to the Belgian Duc de Compesellce, and the trust was in fact held by the respective trustees in England.

Consequently, when Sohege declined to appear and make answer to the suit brought in the English Chancery Court, the testimony taken was ex parte, and the decision of that court was that it held exclusive jurisdiction, the confirmation of the trust agreement by Sohege in 1898 barring him out of the advantage he might have had under the French law.

Obtaining no satisfaction in either the French or English courts last year, Sohege, on terms which the bill says are not disclosed, sold or assigned a twentieth interest in the 5,574 shares of stock to Joseph Ignatius Ryan, of this State, and began proceedings here. The Singer heirs immediately interposed the objection that the New Jersey Court of Chancery had no jurisdiction.

In the argument heard last night, Mr. Marshall, agreeing that the Singer company appeared in the case as stockholder, contended that the complainants held legal ownership to the 5,574 shares, as it was derivable from accumulations of income and therefore part of the personal estate of Mme. Sohege, to which it was admitted he was solely entitled.

He also argued that suit was brought in New Jersey because it was the sites of the property represented by the stock, and he held the court had jurisdiction, as his clients were before the court asking that it give a clear title to that property as so represented.

GOLF UNDER NEW BASIS

Improved Handicapping System Tried at the Plainfield Country Club.

ABANDON BOGEY IDEA

Play at Park Golf Club Also—The Results in Several Events On Both Courses.

The Plainfield Country Club at last has made a change in its basis of handicapping, and the new method was put in operation for the first time. The change is from the old method of using "bogey" as a basis of handicapping to that of "par," which is recognized and used by the Metropolitan Golf Association. The old system was not generally satisfactory, for when members played on other links they were obliged to use the standard system.

Under the former method of "bogey" it was used as the basis for handicapping, while under the standard system it is 71. By making the change it does away with the use of the "plus" in handicapping an extra player. The change met with general approval on Saturday and promises to be popular.

In the weekly competition for the Golf Committee cup, D. H. Rowland, Dudley H. Barrows and J. A. Lane were the point winners. The best scores returned were as follows:

D. H. Rowland, 96, 20-76; Dudley H. Barrows, 81, 4-77; J. A. Lane, 92, 15-77; W. Lester Gleaney, 82, 4-78; Arthur Murphy, 92, 11-81.

The leading scores posted for the Green Committee cup follow:

C. C. Burke, Sr., 94, 14-80; Hugh Fox, 103, 20-83; Le Roy H. Gates, 114, 27-87.

There was considerable interest in the first round match play handicap, for the Autumn cups, classes A and B, for it brought together a number of the best players and as the scores show there were several exceptionally close matches.

In class A the result was as follows:

Charles A. Stover, 13, beat Stuart H. Patterson, 16, 1 up in 20 holes; E. T. Wilson, 13, beat James P. Murray, 18, 5 up and 3 to play; Frank J. Reinhart, 4, beat Julius E. Erickson, 13, 2 up and 2 to play; Dudley H. Barrows, 4, beat W. Lester Gleaney, 4, 1 up in 19 holes.

Class B—A. G. Henderson, 19, won a bye, and will play the winner of the match between P. Merrill and W. L. C. Glenney; George S. Clay, 27, beat Harry Williams, 27, 1 up; Le Roy H. Gates, 27, beat C. P. Hamilton, 25, 1 up in 19 holes.

While there was a goodly number of players on the Park Golf Club course Saturday, but five posted their scores for the President's, Golf Club and October cups. However, those were sufficient to score points for the tournaments. Owing to the lateness in arrival of R. V. Carpenter, Charles B. Morse was unable to play off the tee with him to decide who shall play W. V. Byard in the finals for the September cup. It is expected that the match will be played this week. The leading scores returned on Saturday were as follows:

Charles B. Morse, 98, 7-91; Rev. C. L. Goodrich, 108, 13-95; Dr. H. Kirkbride, 107, 12-95; W. V. Byard, 102, 5-97; Charles A. Reed, 111, 12-99.

Dr. A. H. Lewis to Speak.

Dr. A. H. Lewis, of this city, the leading divine in the Seventh-Day Baptist church in this State, will address the members of the Men's Club of the Congregational Church at Westfield at the annual fall dinner to be held in the church lecture room, Tuesday evening, October 22.

Warren's Outing.

Warren Engine Company has completed arrangements for attending the firemen's parade at Perth Amboy Thursday, October 17. It will make the trip to Perth Amboy in a special trolley which will leave the Somerset switch at 7.25 Thursday morning. The Independent Fife and Drum Corps will march at the head

PLAINFIELD LIBRARY NOTES

Best Books of 1905. Part II.

Amusements and Sports.

White, Mary.—Child's rainy day book.

Directions for home-made toys, basket weaving, beadwork, indoor gardening, paper flowers, clay work, and games for two or three to play.

Nugent, Meredith.—New games and amusements.

Soap bubble tricks, fun with egg shells, directions for seaside, elastic, sunshine and newspaper toys, artillery, kites without sticks, tops that run up hill, etc.

Roosevelt, Theodore. — Outdoor pastimes of an American hunter.

Personal adventures in the West, including trips of 1905, with observations on animal characteristics and methods of hunting. Chapters on animal life at Sagamore Hill and on books on big game.

Essays, History of Literature, Etc.

Bryant, S. C.—How to tell stories to children.

Discussion of purpose, advantage and art of story-telling, followed by a selection of graded stories and list of books containing available material.

Wells, Carolyn, comp.—Satire and thology.

Good selection of English satirical verse chronologically arranged, from Sir Walter Raleigh to Oliver Herford. Includes a few translations from Juvenal, Horace and mediaeval French poets.

Reppilier, Agnes.—In our convent days.

Pleasantly written papers on the author's personal experiences as a child at a convent school. Full of humor and good to read aloud.

Dawson, W. J.—Makers of English fiction.

Quite as much a history of English fiction as a series of studies of individual writers, as the author is careful to indicate connecting links and to follow the development of tendencies.

Benson, A. C.—Upton letters.

Published anonymously, these letters are professedly written by an English schoolmaster to an invalid friend in Madeira. They cover a wide range of subjects and are full of literary and scholarly allusion.

Description and Travel.

Howells, W. D.—London films.

Delicate and charming impressions of London in many of its aspects, social, civic and meteorological.

Lucas, E. V.—A wanderer in Holland.

Entertaining record of personal experiences and impressions, characterized by a thorough appreciation of country, people and art, shrewd and humorous comment and apt quotation. Map, 20 illustrations in color and 34 reproductions of old Dutch paintings.

Landon, Percival.—Opening of Tibet.

The special correspondent of the London Times has told the story of the English expedition to Tibet, 1903-4, with enthusiasm, and described customs, religion and scenery with fulness and accuracy. His style is singularly attractive. Photographic illustrations and halftones. Published in England in 2v. with title "Lhasa."

Scott, R. F.—Voyage of the Discovery.

Commanding officer's detailed account of the British National Antarctic Expedition which sailed in 1901, spent two winters below the Antarctic circle and made a new "farthest south" record. Photographic illustrations, colored plates and maps.

History of Foreign Countries.

Nansen, Fridtjof.—Norway and the union with Sweden.

Restrained and temperate, from Norwegian point of view. Treats of important events leading up to crisis (1905) between the two countries.

American History.

Channing, Edward.—History of the United States.

Not only an admiral specimen of historical scholarship, but also a success from a literary point of view. Style of scholarship in an attractive form.

Mahan, A. T.—Sea power in its relations to the war of 1812.

Scholarly and impartial, drawing largely on new material. Gives much new light on causes, tracing them as far back as 1651. Severe in its criticism of Jefferson's policy of economy.

Phelps, Albert.—Louisiana: a record of expansion.

History from early exploration and settlement through the reconstruction period, emphasizing events affecting the development of the nation. Based on study of original sources.

Schafer, Joseph.—History of the Northwest.

Simply written narrative of exploration, development of fur trade and settlement of Washington, Oregon and Idaho, with brief sketch of progress and growth since 1849. Maps and illustrations.

Biography.

Erb, J. L.—Brahms.

An excellent resume of the important facts in the composer's career, the genesis of his works and critical opinions for and against them.

Bradley, W. A.—William Cullen Bryant.

Deals with Bryant not only as a poet and man of letters, but also as man of affairs and well bred citizen.

Bielschowsky, Albert.—Life of Goethe; tr. from the German by W. A. Cooper.

Bielschowsky has brought to his task familiarity with the details of Goethe research, the ability to think, feel and enjoy independently and to write with clearness and charm.

Greenslet, Ferris.—James Russell Lowell.

An interesting and useful resume of life, with critical estimate. Based on Lowell's "Letters" and Scudder's authorized "Life," which are still of chief importance.

Waddington, Mrs. M. K.—Italian letters of a diplomat's wife.

Two series, written in 1880 and 1904. She describes audiences with popes, kings, queens and many other interesting personages, trips up Vesuvius and to Capri, and enlarges on characteristics and changes in Rome.

White, A. D.—Autobiography.

Recollections of a half century's experiences as educator, politician, diplomat, scientist and author.

A number of noteworthy characters whom he has met, his accurate remembrance of their conversations and his kindly appreciation of their best qualities, give an unexpected charm and variety.

FOR YOUR HEALTH.

People with greasy skins will find a little borax or ammonia added to the water of the bath excellent to take off the much despised shine.

Moth patches are so frequently a sign of a disordered condition of the blood that it is well to consult a physician as to their treatment.

Nothing makes a face so insipid as too scanty eyebrows. The growth may be thickened by rubbing into them once a day some refined vaseline. The white has been so refined that it has less strength. Be careful in making any application to the eyebrows not to rub the hair the wrong way, as in a month they cannot be made to lie flat. They may quite easily be trained into a narrow, graceful line by drawing the first finger and thumb along them from the nose out.

Bad teeth are not only disfiguring, but a positive menace to the health. Many a woman considers herself a chronic sufferer from neuralgia when all she needs is a visit to a good dentist.

However economical one must be in bringing up one's children never stint on the care of the teeth. The most beautiful face will be spoiled by ugly, ill-shaped teeth, while the peace of a whole family is equally ruined by the crying all night with toothache that a little care would have prevented.

Boys especially are so apt to be careless about their teeth that it is well to bribe them into good habits in this respect. Offer a small prize or an increased allowance to the child who has not neglected to brush his teeth after each meal and before rising during one month in the seven. It will be found much more effectual than scolding or punishing.

Fault of a Woman's Watch.

Miss Hiborn—It seems to run very well for about a day and a half, and then it will not go at all.

Watchmaker—Yes; it needs to be wound occasionally—Jewelers' Circular Weekly.

Correct.

Teacher—What became of the children of Agamemnon?

Pupil (after mature deliberation)—I think they're dead by this time.

Carrier Pigeons.

A carrier pigeon service was established by the Turks A. D. 567.

P. H. S. vs. N. P. H. S.

Plainfield's High School football team will play its first game it lines up against North Plainfield High School on Hope common on Saturday morning.

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between The Plainfield Trust Company, complainant, and Jeremiah Evarts Tracy et al., defendants. Writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale at public vendue, at the Sheriff's office, in the City of Elizabeth, N. J., on WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-FIRST DAY OF AUGUST, A. D. 1907, at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all the right, title and interest of the said Jeremiah Evarts Tracy, in and to all and singular the following described lands and tenements situate, lying and being in the City of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, more particularly described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at a stake at the point of intersection of the centre line of Fourth and Division streets, and running thence (1) along the centre line of Division street north forty-eight (48) degrees and thirty-two (32) minutes west one hundred and twenty-one and five hundredths (121.05) feet to a stake in the line of land formerly of William M. Murray and now of John W. Murray; thence north forty-one (41) degrees forty minutes east (2) along said land formerly of William M. Murray and now of John W. Murray and land of the said Charles Potter, Junior, two hundred and seventy-seven and seventy-one-hundredths (277.71) feet to a stake and a corner of land of said Charles Potter, Junior; thence (3) along the last mentioned land south forty-eight (48) degrees and thirty-two (32) minutes east one hundred and twenty-one and five hundredths (121.05) feet to a stake in the line of land formerly of William M. Murray and now of John W. Murray; thence north forty-one (41) degrees forty minutes east (4) along said land formerly of William M. Murray and now of John W. Murray, two hundred and seventy-seven and seventy-one-hundredths (277.71) feet to the centre line of Division street, as now laid out; and (5) thence along the centre line of Division street south forty-one (41) degrees east two hundred and seventy-seven and seventy-one-hundredths (277.71) feet to the centre line of Eighth street and the point or place of beginning.

Being the same premises which conveyed to said Jeremiah Evarts Tracy by deed of Charles Potter, Junior, and wife, and James F. Hubbard and wife, deed bearing date the 14th day of March, 1892, and recorded in Union County Clerk's office April 18, 1877, in book 115 of deeds, page 218, etc.

Excepting and reserving, however, therefrom the land and premises conveyed by said Jeremiah Evarts Tracy and wife to Charles Potter, Junior, and James F. Hubbard, described in the certain deed bearing date June 29, 1892, and recorded in Union County Clerk's office June 19, 1877, in liber 115 of deeds, page 612, etc., which said land and premises herein excepted are situated in the northeasterly corner of the premises hereinbefore described, and is about fifty and twenty-three one-hundredths feet (50.23) in length and about twenty-five and two-tenths feet (25.2) in depth.

WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE, Sheriff.
REMY, CONOVER & CONOVER, Solicitors.
7 18 St th EDJ&CON Adv. $17.60

The New York Times

"All the News that's Fit to Print."

Gives more space to news than any other New York newspaper. It gives impartial news from all sides, regardless of party bias. It goes into homes that bar other newspapers.

The London Times' Cable News appears in this country exclusively in THE NEW YORK TIMES. No other American newspaper excels THE NEW YORK TIMES in the presentation of Domestic or Foreign News.

The New York Times
Is Now Appearing Every Sunday
Improved and Enlarged

with an illuminated PICTORIAL SECTION OF EIGHT DOUBLE-SIZE PAGES, embracing pictures of prominent people in society and public life, also scenes and incidents of the important events of the day.

The Magazine Section accompanying the SUNDAY TIMES presents a variety of interesting illustrated features and a unique selection of the best reading about men and women of prominence.

The New York Times.
Saturday Review of Books.

which accompanies the Saturday Edition, is the recognized authority on literature, and also looks for the first news of books.

The New York Times.
Weekly Financial Quotation Review.

gives a weekly review of current prices and financial matters, also the dealings in securities, including high and low quotations, comprising a compact and convenient reference publication for investors and others interested in financial matters.

ORDER THROUGH YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER,

or mailed direct from office, as per following rates:

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

	By Mail.
One Year, Sundays included	$8.50
Six Months, Sundays included	4.50
Three Months, Sundays included	2.25
One Month, Sundays included	.75
Per Week	.17
Daily, without Sunday, per year	6.00
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3.00
Daily, without Sunday, three months	1.50
Daily, without Sunday, one month	.50
Daily, without Sunday, one week	.12
The New York Times Weekly Financial Quotation Review	1.00
Saturday, with Section Devoted to Review of Books, per year	1.00
Sunday, with Pictorial Section, per year	2.50
Postage to foreign countries for Daily and Sunday Editions, add $1.00 per month.

Newsdealers who are not receiving THE NEW YORK TIMES—Daily and Sunday editions—should order a regular supply. Write us for terms. Address Circulation Manager.

The New York Times
Times Square, New York.

MAGAZINE READERS

SUNSET MAGAZINE beautifully illustrated, good stories and articles about California and all the Far West.	$1.50 a year
CAMERA CRAFT devoted each month to the artistic and practical side of the work of amateur and professional photographers.	$1.00 a year
ROAD OF A THOUSAND WONDERS a book of 75 pages, containing 120 colored photographs of picturesque spots in California and Oregon.	$0.75
Total . . .	$3.25
All for . . .	$1.50

Address all orders to

SUNSET MAGAZINE
Flood Building San Francisco

FOR AGENTS—AN OPPORTUNITY!

"THE OLD WORLD AND ITS WAYS"

BY

William Jennings Bryan.

NOW READY FOR SOLICITORS.

576 Imperial Octavo Pages. Over 200 Superb Engravings from photographs taken by Mr. Bryan.

Recounts his trip around the world and his visits to all nations. The greatest book of travel ever written. The people are waiting for it. The agent's harvest. Outfit FREE—Send fifty cents to cover mailing and handling.

THE THOMPSON PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo. 7 26 2 2

Lucky, Then.

Mrs. Benham—I got it for 13 cents a yard.

Benham—Isn't 13 an unlucky number?

Mrs. Benham—Not when it is marked down from 15.—New York Press.

Sanitary Plumbing

Brick and Portable Furnaces. Gas Fitting. Tin Roofing, Etc., Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.

Having associated myself with the Master Members Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business, at all times and in all cases.

D. W. LITTELL

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

NEW IN EVERY DETAIL

My new barber shop at

143 NORTH AVE.

is now open ready for business. All the latest appointments in the tonsorial line.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD.

DIME

Savings Institution,

Of Plainfield, N. J.,

Is now receiving deposits with interest, allowed on all sums from $5 to $3,000.

J. Frank Hubbard, President.
Wm. F. Arnold, Jeremiah Manning, } Vice-Pres
J. C. Pope, Sec'y and Treas.

Money deposited on or before January tenth will draw interest from 1the first.

Guaranteed Salary $900 YEARLY.

Men and women of good address to represent us, make trustworthy reports and collect. Steady employment. Spare time may be used. Position permanent. Others few local work looking after our interests. Good salary guaranteed yearly; extra commissions and expenses, rapid advancement. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. Good chance for earnest man or woman to secure pleasant, permanent position. Liberal income and future. Full business lines. Write at once,

STAFFORD PRESS,
23 Church St., New Haven, Conn.

W. B. CODINGTON,

Counsellor-at-Law

Commissioner of Deeds, Master-in-Chancery, Notary Public, Office, Corner of Park avenue and Second street.

WANTED.

BOYS wanted to learn the moulder's and machinist's trades. Walter Scott & Co., Plainfield, N. J. 9 3 2

WANTED—By Chicago wholesale and mail order house, assistant manager (man or woman) for this county and adjoining territory; salary $20 and expenses paid weekly; expense money advanced; work pleasant; position permanent; no investment or experience required; spare time valuable; write at once for full particulars and enclose self-addressed envelope. Address General Manager, 154 E. Lake St., Chicago.

DIED.

NIXON—On Saturday, October 5, 1907, Henry L. Nixon, aged 47 years.

McCABE—In this city, Oct. 4, 1907, at the residence of his parents, 422 East Fourth street, Francis, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCabe, aged 3 months, 27 days.

VROOM—In this city, Oct. 7, 1907, Theodore Vroom, aged 53 years.

Squash Pie.

Peel the squash—a yellow one—and cut into pieces; simmer with water enough to keep it from burning and stew until very soft. Rub it through a sieve, add to a quart of the pulp a quart of milk, one cup of sugar, eight eggs beaten very light and spices to taste. Beat well, pour into an open crust and bake until "set."

Long Feis Want.

Jaggies—Do you think there will ever be any radical change in the style of men's hats?

Waggles—Not unless somebody invents a hat that will cover the bald spot on the back of the head.—Harper's Weekly.

A small Paris model of amethyst cloth was trimmed with gray braid and yards upon yards of fine taffeta made into tiny knife plaits.

OUT OF THE QUICKSANDS

By M. QUAD.

(Copyright, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

One hundred and fifteen convicts, half of them under life sentence, occupied corridor No. 4 of the big prison, and they had been locked in since the six o'clock supper. Down at the west end of the steel corridor a turnkey sat and dozed until a flash of lightning and a peal of thunder aroused him. The sighing and muttering and tossing of the convicts was an old story to him. Those sounds did not disturb him. He held the keys of the five doors between his prisoners and liberty, and they were his animals.

There was another flash and another peal, and then the storm went on. It awed the "animals" and they were silent. The turnkey arose and turned two or three of the ventilators and then walked up and down in his list slippers as softly as a cat. He was at the head of the menagerie. He had a hundred and fifteen animals under his thumb. Forty of the convicts, standing at their doors, could see the officer as he walked and turned—walked and turned. They bared their teeth at him and growled a "yah!" but he did not look up. Presently another figure came into their vision. It was that of Black Sam. He was convict No. 814. He had been in the prison for two years, and his history was better known than of any other inmate. In some manner he had picked the lock of his cell door and descended the corridor stairs without discovery. It was over while the convicts held their breath. The giant of a Black Sam seized the turnkey and lifted him high and dashed him to the stone floor as if he had been a bag of sand.

When the convict took the keys and unlocked the steel door there was an uneasy movement on the part of all the "animals" in the corridor. Only 40 could see with their eyes, but the others could feel. All knew that Black Sam was escaping, and that he was going alone, but not a voice was raised in protest. Officials and convicts alike had learned to fear the man. Had he unlocked a hundred cell doors not a prisoner would have followed him. He stood for a moment and looked back. Not a word—not a whisper—not a movement from the men he was leaving behind.

Three years previously all the big slate quarry a hundred miled up the coast Black Sam had been taken on to replace a foreman who had died. Mary Bryn, the daughter of one of the quarrymen, had looked upon this strong, smiling man and blushed. He had looked into her brown eyes and sought her out in her own home. They were humble people, and it was a humble courtship, but the sentiment was there the same as if one had been of wealth and the other broadcloth. The workmen in the quarry—the people in the village—the children toddling about loved this foreman—all but one. With Mary Bryn's father it was different. There was every reason why this man should be the place had not fallen to him. He made no sign but he hated.

One day there came to the village a man who might, with the father's ready encouragement, have worked much harm. He was an artist who was sketching along the coast. He lingered beyond his time and there was gossip. One morning as he strolled along the sands Black Sam stood before him. At first the big man plead with him to go away. He did not command, but appealed. When he was answered with sneers and sarcasm he grew angry and made threats that were overheard by others. At length he menaced, and the artist feared personal violence and turned away. The tide was out at that hour and ahead of him as he walked was a spot that the children and dogs passing that way avoided with a chill of fear. Two days later the foreman was arrested. The artist had suddenly and mysteriously disappeared. The search was exhaustive, but no traces could be found. When all had been gathered together, there were many little circumstances pointing to the accusing finger at the foreman. His unsupported word was his defense. That went with Mary Bryn, but with none other.

"You didn't do it—you never could have done it!" she walked with her arms around the prisoner's neck, but her father shook his head in a doubtful way and said with others that the law must take its course. In his heart he was glad.

Weeks later, when the prisoner was on trial for his life, Samuel Bryn took a walk along the seashore. He came to that peculiar spot in the sands—that spot always showing wet and soft, no matter how lazy the return tide or how hot the sun, and he paused and stared at it for a long, long time. Then he picked up a pole that had been left stranded on the beach and began to poke and dig. Presently he felt something queer, and his face paled and he shut his teeth hard as he threw the pole away and walked swiftly from the spot.

"He made game of me and I would have struck him," was Black Sam's defense in court. "Ay, he made game of me, the man as made pictures, and I would have struck him had he not turned his back on me and walked away. When he did that I turned as well and so help me God he came to no harm through me."

They had not found the body, but the jury brought in a verdict of guilty and Black Sam was given a life sentence. At the prison he was classed as "dangerous," and the officials were ready to shoot him down at the first

LOOKING THROUGH our stock of Picture Frames and mouldings is a treat to those who admire things of beauty.

Frames for every style of picture are in this assortment. Frames for Photos, Photogravures, Engravings, Etchings, Water Colors, Pastels and Oils.

The price is one of their attractive features.

We make PICTURE FRAMES TO ORDER and frame pictures artistically.

PLAINFIELD ART STORE,
Y. M. C. A. Building.

Vail
JEWELER AND OPTICIAN

103 Park Ave.,
calls your attention to his
Rimless Glasses.
They Look Good and You See Good.

Extra Fine Grapes.
We are receiving shipments of the Finest Grapes of the season. Concords and Delawares that are unexcelled in quality. Large, handsome bunches. We cordially solicit your orders for Grapes, also Pure, Fresh Groceries at reasonable prices.
W. W. DUNN,
THE PARK GROCER,
Duer St. and Lincoln Pl.

Go to the News Stand
at the Central Railroad Station for all the latest foreign and domestic Magazines and weekly periodicals. Numbers furnished on shortest notice.
Plainfield Daily Press
and all the New York and Philadelphia morning, evening and Sunday papers delivered to any part of the city. Under new management. Open Sundays.
F. M. WAGNER
Formerly of Jersey City News Stand.

NOW OPEN.
Baths! Baths!
HOT AND COLD.
207 Park Avenue.
WM. CLAASSEN.

AZIENZA
Cures pimples and all inflammation of the skin. Used by Queen of Switzerland. Medicinal and toilet—25 and 50 cents.

CREAM.

McCULLOUGH'S STEAM MILL,
51 Stelzer place, North Plainfield, N. J.
R. H. McCULLOUGH, Prop.
Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing, Turning, etc.
Estimates cheerfully furnished.

STORAGE—Best equipped and oldest storage warehouse in city for storing Furniture, Pianos, etc. Special floor for TRUNKS. Terms reasonable. All work has prompt attention.
WRITE OR TELEPHONE 911-L.
"Orders left for moving vans."
C. M. NAGLE,
Front and Grove Sts., Plainfield, N. J.

J. W. VAN SICKLE
128 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Fresh and Salted Meats.
Game in Season. Philadelphia Scrapple.
Orders called for and delivered promptly.
Telephone No. 463-J.

GUSSOW BROS.
NEW YORK
Ladies' and Gents' Tailoring.
We do Cleaning, Pressing and Altering. Satisfaction Guaranteed.
156 PARK AVE. JEFFERY BLD'G

NOTICE.
If you are dissatisfied with your paper service call on or call up
THE HUSTLER.
William H. Olmstead, 321 Watchung Avenue, near Fourth St. Successor to D.H. Bonney Agency. Daily Hustler 'Phone 687-J

USE PRESS WANT ADS

COAL DEALERS.

Difference In Coal.
All coals may look alike to some people, but compare our "Lehigh" Coal with the Coal you bought somewhere else and you will see a difference.
You will notice that our Coal Burns Brighter, Gives More Heat, and Lasts Longer than any other Coal you ever bought before.
Boice, Runyon & Co.,
Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.
Park Ave., opp. North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

The best time to order your winter supply of
COAL
is now. Do not forget this.
NASH
is ready to supply you.
Telephone 217-W. 823-J.
Evenings 371-W.
OFFICE—130 WATCHUNG AVENUE

TenEyck & Harris,
—DEALERS IN—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.
Office: Bowler's Drug Store, 219 West Front Street. Telephone 23-L.

JOHN JOHNSTON
All the best grades of
COAL.
929 South Ave 'Phone 193

Coal I have on hand some very fine lizard and Medium Coal, all kept underneath. Pea Coal. Coal
25 cents a ton reduction on cash orders.
L. A. RHEAUME,
144 East Fourth St. Telephone 449-W.
Yard, 674 South Second St. Telephone 221

GEORGE O. STEVENS
747 West Front St.

R. L. CLINE
(Successor to C. H. Rugg & Co.)
Best Quality Lehigh Coal
Yard and office 130 West Third St. Tel. 91.

JOS. HARRIGAN
OLD COMPANY'S LEHIGH COAL.
Tel. 497-L. 4th and Richmond Sts.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

We call your attention to our fine display of
New Wall Papers.
We can't describe the patterns, but they are new, striking and effective, and with our large assortment we are sure to please.
Paints, Oils and Varnishes.
Woolston & Buckle,
145 North Avenue.

Summer is Over
Your vacation has refreshed you, now your house needs to be refreshed with a coat of paint. Consult
James C. Hansen,
Painter and Decorator.
Dealer in Wallpapers, Paints, Oils, Glasses, etc.
141 E. Front St.
Estimates Furnished.
Tel. 870-R

1907 Wall Papers.
IMPORTED & AMERICAN GOODS.
C. CONOVER & CO.
Decorating, Painting and Paperhanging. Window and Plate Glass.
115 Elmwood Pl. Tel. 226-J

W. S. CHEEVER
1326 Park Ave.
Painting and INTERIOR DECORATING. WALL PAPERS of every description at the Lowest Prices.
'Phone No. 538-J.

Chas. L. Stanley,
130 East Front St., 'Phone 923
Headquarters for choice Cut Flowers and Potted Plants. Floral design work a specialty.
If 100 feet of glass. 1138 South Ave.

COWPERTHWAIT INCORPORATED 1907
AND VAN HORN CO.
ESTABLISHED 1862
FURNITURE CARPETS BEDDING
STOVES AND REFRIGERATORS.
(A)

"73 Market" may be a small "main entrance" to Cowperthwait & Van Horn Co. but it leads to a store with an area of 115,000 sq. feet!

The Largest Furniture Store
With the Smallest "Front" In All the State!

It's easy to "generalize"—it's not so easy to give facts and figures! When we claim the largest store, we back it up with figures—and they can't lie!

EVERY INCH OF FOLLOWING "SPACES" GIVEN UP TO THE COWPERTHWAIT & VAN HORN BUSINESS:

	SQUARE FEET
Furniture Show Rooms and Stock Rooms: 73 Market Street, 15-29 Campbell Street, 84-92 Bank Street	40,977
CARPET SHOW ROOMS: 21-29 Campbell Street, 90-92 Bank Street	6,500
SHADE AND CURTAIN DEPT.: 21-23 Campbell Street	2,730
HOUSEFURNISHING DEPT.: 73 Market Street	3,405
SHIPPING DEPT. AND STABLES: 15-25 Campbell Street, 84-92 Bank Street, 91 Bank Street	14,228
CARPET CLEANING PLANT: 91 Bank Street	2,080
STORAGE WAREHOUSE: 600 Storage Rooms—15-29 Campbell Street, 84-92 Bank Street	45,080
TOTAL Number of Square Feet:	115,000

WE ALSO HAVE THE EASIEST TERMS!

50c	a Week,	$2.00	a Month	on	$ 30 Worth
75c	a Week,	$3.00	a Month	on	$ 40 Worth
$1.00	a Week,	$4.00	a Month	on	$ 50 Worth
$1.25	a Week,	$5.00	a Month	on	$ 60 Worth
$1.50	a Week,	$6.00	a Month	on	$100 Worth

COWPERTHWAIT AND VAN HORN CO.
73 MARKET STREET NEWARK, N.J.

SMALLEY BROS.
147 North Ave.
BUTCHERS
Everything usually found in a first-class market.
Roasting and Broiling Chickens a Specialty.
Orders called for and delivered.
Telephone 88-A. 5 1 tf

J. C. POPE & CO.,
INSURANCE AGENTS,
110 E. Front St., Plainfield, N. J.

A. H. ENANDER,
Sanitary Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Steam and Hot Water Heating. Contractor for Sewer Connections.
125 Watchung Av. Rear.

L. Moraller & Son,
Watchmakers and Jewelers.
Watches, Clocks and Jewelry. Fine Watch and Clock Repairing a Specialty.
219 Park Ave. Plainfield, N. J

JOHN WINZENREID,
Furniture and Freight Express.
Moving Vans and Storage.
819 Lee Place. 'Phone 648-R.

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING CO.
Renovating Offices, stores and private residences. Service day or night. Furniture, china and glassware packed for shipping.
WM. A. KLINE, 611 W. 3d St.

JOHN A. KOCH.
Dealer in
Meats, Poultry, Fish, Oysters, etc.
200 Watchung Ave.
Corner Second Street. Telephone 573-J
Orders Called For and Delivered.

GUSTAVE HOFFMAN,
SEAFOOD.
Daily shipments at 329 West Front Street. Tel. 968.

TITUS H. LAURY
MASON AND BUILDER.
Office, 323 East Front Street.
Tile Setting, Mantel & Grate Work.
Telephone 684-L.

REMOVED
from 221 Park Avenue to 148 North Avenue, on the ground floor, where I am still offering property at a bargain. Step in as you are going by. If you will let me know what you want I can get it for you on the lowest monthly price. I am still selling property on the slow payment plan.
M. F. GANO
'Phone 322-J.—Res., 969-J.

TURKISH BATHS!
TRY ONE
Ladies morning. Gentlemen, afternoons.
Take trolley to Sanitarium.
Somerset Street

William H. Pope,
ELECTRICIAN.
All kinds of electrical work done at reasonable prices.
116 NORTH AVENUE.

William H. Kirch
CARPENTER AND BUILDER
66 QUEEN STREET, E. PLAINFIELD
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to. Tel. 488-J.

ALEX. LUSARDI,
Foreign and Domestic Fruits, Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc.
211 W. Front St. Tel. 507-W.

Meat Market.
Choice Meats, Poultry, Fish and Oysters always on hand. Sugar cured Corned Beef. International Hams and Bacon.
F. Neidig, 94 Somerset St. Telephone 391

E. B. Maynard's
Tonsorial Parlors. Electrical Massage for face and hair. First-class work. Children's Hair Cutting a specialty.
Tel. No. 742-W.
141 NORTH AVENUE.

JOHN WIRTH
(Successor to Henry Liecha.)
Bakery and Confectionery.
201-203 West Front St. Tel. No. 722.
All orders delivered at short notice.

HOAGLAND'S CITY EXPRESS BAGGAGE
Trucks and Vans for Furniture and Local Trucking.
OFFICE 205 PARK AVE.
Tel. 833-W. Residence Tel. 648-L.

REAL ESTATE
Bought, Sold and For Rent.
J. SACHAR,
121 WEST THIRD STREET.

DRUGGISTS.

GOING AWAY?
Take a supply of our Medicines with you. Also Toilet Articles, etc. You may not be able to get them satisfactorily where you are going. It is well to stock up and be sure.
C. M. NAGLE'S
PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY
'Phone 816. Front and Grove Sts.

Complete Line of
REXALL
Goods at
MILLER'S PHARMACY
Park Ave. & 4th St. Tel. 233.

Hodge's Pharmacy,
Y. M. C. A. Building.
BELLE MEAD SWEETS.
Tel. 62.

HOTELS.

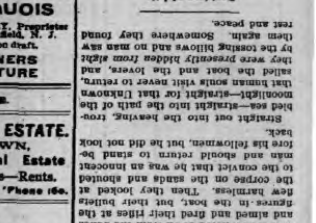
HOTEL WALDORF
EAST FRONT STREET.
HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.
Gottfried Kruger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private Dining-Rooms.

HOTEL KENSINGTON
(Licensed.)
J. H. STAATS Prop.
107-109-111 North Avenue.
Everything New and Up-to-date.
An inspection solicited

HOTEL IROQUOIS
Commercial Headquarters. J. W. LEARY, Proprietor Plainfield, N. J.
Pabst Milwaukee Beer on draft.
SUNDAY DINNERS
SPECIAL FEATURE

REAL ESTATE.

RENTALS — REAL ESTATE.
GEO. F. BROWN,
Insurance and Real Estate
Commissioner of Deeds—Rents.
94 Somerset St. 'Phone 160.



MEATS

If You Desire
a rich, juicy steak you can get it here. Couldn't get any other kind, because we don't deal in poor

MEATS
The quality of the Beef, Veal, Mutton, Lamb, etc., is above criticism. It demands your approbation. And our prices are not high. We don't try to give as little as possible for the money, but just as much as possible.
Give us an opportunity to prove this.

FRED. ENDRESS,
'Phone 690. 131-135 W. Front St.

N. FATOUROS
Dealer in
Fancy Fruits and Vegetables
Our specialties: California oranges, grape fruit, fancy apples, bananas, figs and dates, and a lot of other fancy goods.
All orders promptly attended to and delivered.
'Phone 887-R. 131-135 W. Front St.
ENDRESS' STAND.

HENRY WIERENGA
Residence, Phone 817-J.
Furniture, Freight, Baggage Express and Rigger.
PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY.
5 1 tf

Try a box of
DOBBINS' CIGARS.
Clear Havana Nickle Yara or any kind that you desire. Manufactured at 130 North avenue, opposite Kensington Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.

Kindling and Grate Wood.
Cedar Posts and Rosa Poles. Prompt deliveries. Orders received at 60 Somerset St.
JOHN MOBUS,
P. O. Box 226.

STATIONERY AND TOYS.
HARPER,
411 PARK AVENUE.

H. J. HAROLD
Pianos Tuned and Regulated.
Tel. 442-R. Res. 142 E. 6th St.

MURDER SUSPECT FREED

Alibi Developes for Michael Marasquiano, Who Was Arrested Yesterday.

HERE DAY OF KILLING

Almost Overcome With Joy When Released In Court This Morning —Ovation From Fellow-Laborers in Paving Gang.

Michael Marasquiano, the ruddy-haired laborer arrested while at work on the street paving job on Park avenue Wednesday on suspicion of being Giacomo Fanella, wanted by the police of Niagara Falls, N. Y., for the killing of Mrs. Mary Tallery, regained his freedom Thursday. Although he answered the description of the murderer in every detail, even to the length of time he has been in this country, one thing developed quickly after his arrest that freed him. The police learned that the shooting was done on September 27, and complete proof was produced to show that the suspect had been in this city, and hard at work, all that day.

Marasquiano, who had been frightened almost to the point of collapse by his arrest, was nearly overcome with joy when City Judge Runyon told him to go in court this morning. He forgot his hat and coat on the bench, and started to run out of the courtroom bareheaded. His fellow-laborers paused in their work to give him a little ovation when he returned to the gang. The men who came from the same village as Marasquiano, with Italian effusiveness, to the amazement of the people who had paused to watch the work.

Although Marasquiano does not know it, the police are not quite certain that his abili is as satisfactory as it might be. He will be kept under surveillance until all doubt of his innocence is removed.

VOTING MACHINES ARE ASSIGNED FOR ELECTION.

Secretary of State Orders 361 Placed in as Many Districts.

Secretary of State Samuel D. Dickinson has assigned 361 voting machines to as many voting districts in New Jersey in which they will be used at the election on November 5. The total number of machines is the same this year as last, but under the new assignment some new districts are named and some of the old ones are cut of the machine list.

The total number of changes in the assignment of machines is thirty-nine. In Hudson county eight machines are dropped, in Cape May one, in Gloucester three, in Morris three, in Middlesex one, in Burlington three, in Ocean one, in Atlantic four and in Cumberland nine. In Ocean and Atlantic counties all of the machines used there last year are removed. In Cumberland county there were thirteen last year, and with the removal of nine but four will remain.

In Passaic county but fifteen machines are added, six of which go to Passaic City and nine to Paterson. Eight machines are added in Sussex county, two in Bergen and four in Mercer. The added machines in Camden county go to Camden City, while the four new ones in Mercer go to Trenton.

Assistant Secretary of State Smith was still working on the report locating the voting machines when seen by a Press correspondent last night, and expressed much satisfaction at the number of requests for voting machines from several counties during the day. He said it had been the purpose of the department to comply as nearly as possible with the requests of the different communities regarding the location of machines, that it had been his desire to take away from those places where they were not called for and locate them in places where they were sought after.

The eighteen machines which had been marked for removal from the Eleventh and Fifteenth wards of Newark were, upon consideration of Senator Colby and Chairman Dalrymple, retained.

Flower and Tree.

The common sunflower is an American plant. Its original home is stated by eminent botanists to be Peru and Mexico.

The greatest known depth at which any green plant grows in fresh water is reached by a moss called Thaminam lemani, which has been lately discovered by Professor F. A. Forel 200 feet below the surface of Lake Geneva.

Inherited Genius.

Among the patents issued this week from Washington to one to the later Walter Scott and his wife, David J. Scott, of the Scott Printing Machine Works. They are the joint inventors of a sheet-delivery mechanism for printing machines.

The Incentive.

"Does your son study Greek in college?"

"Oh, yes. He's very enthusiastic over it."

"I thought he didn't care for languages?"

"He doesn't, as a rule, but next year the football team is to have Greek signals and Harry is trying for the 'leven."—Kansas City Independent.

MILK DEALERS HAVE NEW FACTOR TO CONSIDER

INCREASED PRICE HAS RESULTED IN DECREASED ORDERS IN MANY PLACES.

The milk dealers may not make as much as they figured when they put up the price of milk and cream. From what housewives say and observant folk have noticed, it is becoming certain that the advance will result in an appreciable decrease in the consumption of milk.

As soon as the advance was announced many of the housewives went through rapid calculations, and then decided that they could get along with less milk. In a good many families a quart was taken, more to insure a plentiful supply than because of actual necessity. More or less of the milk was thrown away each day to make room for the fresh supply. In these families the housewives have made up their minds to be a bit careful in using milk, and have cut down their order from a quart to a pint daily. In some of the houses, to be sure, the pint will be found to be just a mite too little, just as the quart was found to be a little too much, but in most of the households the pint will do all the everyday milk service required, and in those households the dealers will find the loss of two dozen each day, instead of gaining one cent.

That the general reduction in milk consumption has begun was brought to the attention of one of the observers mentioned in the foregoing, last night, on his way home from a meeting. In the New Madison flat block he counted eight pint bottles set out for the customers. They told eloquently, if faintly, of changed orders. It is to be wondered if the dealers will not find the advance too hurtful to maintain.

Another thing is the fact that housewives can fall back on condensed milk as a substitute.

QUITS POLITICS FOR MINISTRY.

Rev. Ferris, Who Gave Up Municipal Position, Installed.

Having given up a good political position to enter the ministry, the Rev. Elmer E. Ferris was formally installed as pastor of the First Baptist church, East Orange, Thursday night, succeeding Rev. Donald D. Munro, who resigned to enter politics. The clergyman was welcomed by the Rev. J. E. R. Folsom, of Milwaukee, who announced he was the clergyman who baptized the new pastor and had been instrumental in having him study for the ministry.

Rev. Dr. John F. Patterson, of Orange, made the address of welcome to the community, and the others participating in the ceremony were Rev. Geo. Wm. Sedrick, of Montclair; Albert E. Davis, head of the church Sunday school; Rev. Thomas E. Vassar, of Elizabeth; Rev. F. E. Osborne, of East Orange; Rev. Dr. Albert Foster, of Rossville, and Rev. D. Jonathan M. Meeker, of Newark.

Gold in the North.

Perhaps the most northerly gold fields in the world are those in Lapland, in the north of Europe, found to be the centre of an auriferous region, where gold dredging operations have been carried on for some time. Diggings to the depth of 300 feet have been completed with a view of finding out the real course of the ore. The gold discovered last year by a company, founded in the United States, amounted to only four pounds, valued at $1,500. This was found along a part of the Ivalo river, and the largest nugget weighed about 123 gratns. There are three companies digging gold there now, the latest being the Ivalo company, organized in the United States. Within the possessions of the company is Kultala, which was built in 1871 by the Finnish government for washing gold—Washington Herald.

RUSSIAN PIANIST'S RECITAL.

Manfred Malkin Performs at the Casino.

Manfred Malkin, the famous Russian pianist, who has been engaged as instructor of piano at the Hartridge school, delighted a large and enthusiastic audience at the Casino Friday night with a choice program. For over an hour he played selections from such well known composers as Mendelssohn, Chopin, Bach, Moszkowski, Weber and Liszt.

Every number was enthusiastically received, and Mr. Malkin was deservedly praised for his fine work, showing that he is a master of the piano. Mr. Malkin, although a young man, won distinction at the French Conservatory, where he studied, and in other well known musical circles.

Honor Roll for Watchung School.

The honor roll for September at the Watchung school, Watchung, is as follows: Primary grade—Percy Schmidt, Lucy Hughes, Carol Hughes, Emma Mobus, Helen Mobus, George Mobus, Elva Meyers, Ernest Meyers, Charles Snoden, Richard Schmidt, Clement Texler, Emile Perrett, Lester Warrell. Grammar grade—Millicent Stume, Clara Mobus, Elsie Schmidt, Heien Schmidt, Clarence Schmidt, Lilian Ralph, Lottie Guns, Roy Herrmann, Helen Hughes, Hippolyte Texler, Richard Moldenke, George Ralph, Theodore Wormser.

Not only to appear good ought man to care, but to be so both privately and publicly.—Plato.

ABUSED WIFE SAVED HIM

Scathing Rebuke and Stern Warning for Henry Donnelly in Court.

RUM HIS DOWNFALL

Sacrificed All In His Craving for Strong Drink—Judge Listens to His Noble Wife's Plea.

The wife he abused saved Henry Donnelly, 39 years old, from jail this morning. It was for her sake alone, and to save her from complete homelessness, that Judge Runyon refrained from giving Donnelly, who was arraigned in the city court on his wife's complaint, the heavy dose that is usually meted out to men brought before the magistrate on such complaints.

Donnelly has taken no sort of care of his wife and child for three years. Drink has been the only thing he cared for, and to it he sacrificed everything, including all their little store of furniture, until today wife and child are without anything that makes a home.

"Donnelly," said the judge in disposing of the case, "I am going to let you go only for the sake of your wife. I don't like you a bit; you are below the level of the brutes. But you have promised snivellingly to do better, and because your wife would be left entirely helpless if I did anything else, I am going to give you a chance to keep your promise. She has promised to let me know the first time she detects in you any sign of liquor—whether it is one glass or twenty makes no difference—and you had better not attempt to intimidate her to keep that report from me. I will find it sooner or later, and the dose coming to you would be measured accordingly. Now take your chance, and see if you can't make up for the rotten years that have passed."

DEEDS AND CONTRACTS.

A Number of Local Interests Filed at Elizabeth.

The following local real estate transfers have been recorded at the county clerk's office:

Central Park Realty Company to Edward S. F. Randolph, southerly side Evergreen avenue, 146 feet easterly of Edgewood avenue, Plainfield $10

Edward S. F. Randolph et ux to Edward A. Lyon, same as above..$10

Same to same, lot 112, "Map of Central Park," Plainfield $1

Lydia A. Wood et ux to Jennie L. Ripley, southeasterly side West Fifth street, 100 feet northeasterly of Monroe avenue, Plainfield..$1

George G. Van Nest et ux. to Mary I. Gaine, Monroe avenue, 260 feet southeasterly of West Seventh street, Plainfield $3,000

Sarah J. C. Johnson et al. to William Locke, northwesterly side West Seventh street, corner Monroe avenue, Plainfield $1

Clara N. Naylor et al. to Jacob Parlitz, southerly side Sixth street, 265 feet of Franklin place, Plainfield $1

These contracts have also been filed:

Elsa G. Letson et al. with E. S. F. Randolph, entire work new building, East Seventh street, Plainfield $6,200

Theodore Heinrich et ux. with Charles E. Stahl, entire work new building, West Fifth street, Plainfield $2,029

FIRE AT UNION VILLAGE.

Former Mayor Lang's Barn and Contents Completely Destroyed.

A large barn on the property of former Mayor Lang, of Newark, located at Union Village, was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday. The structure was filled to the roof with hay and grain and the first floor held a lot of farming implements, all of which were consumed. The damage is placed at $10,000, partly covered by insurance.

A threshing machine and its corps of men was on the premises yesterday, and it is thought some one started the blaze by dropping a match or cigar stump in the loose hay. The threshers did not discover the blaze until it was beyond control, and they had hardly enough time to save the live stock.

The Russian Artel.

An "artel" is a Russian institution, a kind of syndicate, in fact, among the workingmen of that country. A certain number of mechanics of all descriptions join together, forming gangs, and undertake such work as railway making, dock work, agricultural work and all kinds of skilled artisans' trades and then share the profits between them.

Pitney May Go To Hudson.

Supreme Court Justice Mahlon Pitney, it is said, will be assigned to the Hudson County Circuit, to succeed ex-Justice J. Franklin Fort. The Hudson county bench sought, as it is the largest county in the State and is the busiest of the court courts.

The Guillotine.

Which machine of the type invented by Guillotine was first put to its dread use is not known, but that used for the execution of Marie Antoinette still exists in Berlin.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS

Y. M. C. A. Will Have Strong Teams in Two Leagues.

MATERIAL AVAILABLE

Strong Players Enough to Make Possibility of Entirely New First and Second—Material Dates In Schedule.

Basketball is beginning to loom large on the athletic horizon at the Y. M. C. A. The two squads, first and second—to whom minor and major league material, as they are officially termed in the association—will come out for practise next Friday nights.

Prospects for two strong teams are exceptionally bright, although definite information as to who will appear in the lines cannot be given out by Physical Director Listman who will again manage the teams, at this time. He has a number of good men in view and available. In the first team it is probable a completely new line up will develop. The second, or minor, team will probably be made up largely of last year's players, although this is not to be counted upon by the fore-writers.

There will be two Northern New Jersey leagues, as last year. The schedules have been prepared. That of the first or major teams has Plainfield mentioned in the following:

Nov. 30, Plainfield at Orange; Dec. 9, Hudson City at Plainfield; Dec. 14, Plainfield at Rahway; Dec. 20, Ridgewood at Plainfield; Jan. 4, Plainfield at Montclair; Jan. 13, Orange at Plainfield; Jan. 20, Passaic at Plainfield; Feb. 1, Plainfield at Passaic; Feb. 28, Plainfield at Hudson City.

TEETH DOCTORS PLAN LOCAL ORGANIZATION

DENTISTS TAKE STEPS TO GET TOGETHER HERE.

A movement is on foot among the dentists of the city and borough to form an organization similar to that of the local physicians. The first steps in this direction were taken at a meeting held recently at the home of Dr. Frank Oglevee, on Park avenue. At that time the advisability of forming such an organization was discussed and it was unanimously favored.

Another meeting is to be held soon to perfect the details. The objects of the association are to promote the interests of the members and to bring about a co-operation not existing at present. The members plan to meet each month, and aside from the business interests to be considered there will be social features. There are twenty-three dentists in the city and borough and assurances that all will join the association have been received.

The Greek Catholics.

In the United States there are about 500,000 Greek Catholics. They are principally from Austria-Hungary. They must not be confounded with the Greek Orthodox churchmen, who come from Russia and Greece. The Greek Catholics are those of the Eastern Greek church, who are in full communion with the Roman Catholic, and who acknowledge the pope as the chief bishop and head of the church. Most of the Greek Catholics in this country are by nationality Ruthenians or "little Russians," Roumanians, Italians and Syrians. The Ruthenians come from Galatia and Carpathian mountains, the Roumanians from eastern Hungary, the Italians from Calabria and Sicily, and the Syrians from various parts of Turkey. They have prospered greatly in the United States, and are settled mostly in Pennsylvania. They have at present over 100 churches, about forty schools and ninety-eight priests.—Washington Herald.

FOR Y. M. C. A. State Orchestra.

The local Y. M. C. A. boys, who have played in the Boys' Orchestra, or some desire to play in the State Orchestra at the conference on Boys' Work, at Ridgewood, October 25?7, are invited to confer with Mr. Robbie as to how to arrange the matter. The State Orchestra will be made up from the twenty-two associations represented at the conference, and will play at all the sessions of the delegates. Special concerts will be given. M. A. Korf has been appointed conductor.

Licorice Root.

Licorice root grows wild in the fields of Asia Manor, and until fifty years ago was practically unused. Today the annual exports to the United States alone are worth $550,000.

OCTOBER'S MAGAZINES

Some Good Stories Gleaned from the Editors' Advance Proofs.

Nuggets From "Success."

The ability to work one's woes up into fun is the art of arts. What a tremendous advantage one has who can do this —who can laugh at his misfortunes.

We grow into the likeness of the thing we habitually contemplate.

Find out what your employer least likes to do and do it for him.

Always try a man with trifles before you trust him with treasures.

Doing one's best at each moment is all there is of life.

Do not hang a dismal picture on your wall, and do not deal with sables and gloom in your conversation.

Rectitude is only the confirmed habit of doing what is right.

There are a hundred "successful" men for one that is contented.

Beware of looking at sin, for at each view it is apt to become better looking.

There is an expansive force in beauty which broadens and enriches life.

Other things equal, it is the noblest man or woman who puts the highest and noblest estimate upon others.

Mr. John Sharp Williams, recently chosen by the people of Mississippi for the United States Senate, is at last going to have his say on the negro question. Whatever Mr. Williams, with his love of fair play and his wide knowledge, cares to say on this question is necessarily important. After so much that has been hurriedly and unsatisfactorily written on the negro question, Mr. Williams' article will come as a positive and valuable contribution to one of our most vexing questions. He has spent a great deal of time in the preparation of this article, which is to appear in the November Metropolitan Magazin

The Pawn.

A story of rather an unusual sort appears in the Red Book Magazine for October. It is by George Bronson-Howard and bears the title "The Pawn." Its locale is the Philippines, and while the motif of the story is rather daring, one loses thought of that in the power of the narrative and "strength" of the situation in which the three chief characters find themselves. Another excellent story is "His Price," by Rem A. Johnston, while the tale that Elliott Flower tells in "When Love Rebelled" gives a new glimpse of labor unionism. Grace Sartwell Mason contributes a story entitled "The Passing of a Man" that sounds a loud, clear note of optimism, quite delightful to hear in these pessimistic times.

About Authors.

Newspapers are offering abundant sympathy to an ex-member of the craft, Will Levington Comfort, who lies on a sick bed in Michigan, delivious in the flood of praise coming his way because of his powerful novel in the October Lippincott's. This story, "The Whited Sepulchre," deals with the destruction of Saint Pierre, Martinique's magnificent, "The Last Days of Pompeii," with Vesuvius, with which it does not suffer by comparison.

Concerning Fishing.

Men who once meet with success in fly casting for small-mouthed black bass, especially in running water, are often forever afterward "spoiled" for other kind of fishing for these game fighters of the fresh water. And in consequence they mourn away many a good fishing day on which bait casting or even trolling would afford them good sport. The black bass will pay no attention to their feathered lures. The happy man is he who is not above laying his fyrod by on occasion and giving the bass what he wants or thinks he wants, which is a meal at a gulp.—October Recreation.

America's Factories.

In the extent of its manufactures the United States passed England in 1880, and it passed England in iron and steel production in 1895, and in coal output in 1900. And in every one of these fields the United States is rapidly lengthening. The total wealth of the United States today is $120,000,000,000, or more than that of its two nearest competitors, Great Britain and France, combined. Every successive sunrise sees $10,000,000 added to the market value of the tangible property of the United States.—From "Why Prosperity Will Continue," by James W. Van Cleave, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, in The Circle for October.

Joseph Jefferson's Compliment.

One night, many years ago, when Weber and Fields were playing with their turn in an East Side variety house, a card was brought to them bearing the name of Joseph Jefferson, and a moment later the most distinguished actor on the legitimate stage in America was ushered into the presence of the delighted young variety actors. He complimented them both on the superior quality of their work, told Fields how much he had enjoyed his comedy, and then turning to Weber, said: "You certainly have learned how to listen, and you look so serious while you are doing it that you double the value of your partner's work. That is action, my boy."—From "Listening on the Stage," by James L. Ford in the October Scribner.

A "Human Bug."

William F. Ramshauer, of New York city, who calls himself "The Human Bug," entertained a great part of Cincinnati and inhabitants of the Kentucky hills with an acrobatic performance on a flag pole recently. Ramshauer stood on his head, balanced himself on his feet, swung himself like a flag and also cross-legged like a Turk, reading a newspaper, on the gilded ball that surmounted the thirty-foot staff on the nine story building. Crowds gathered on the down town streets and on the hills on the other side of the river and watched the steeplejack work.

All the while the pole swayed, but the "Human Bug" wasn't nervous. It was the first time he wasn't nervous for a week. He says he is always nervous when he is down on the ground, and is at his ease near the clouds. Ramshauer smokes cigarettes, which are supposed to make people shaky.—October Technical World Magazine.

This is not an epic, and poems of fifty lines are now regarded as monsters preying on magazines. The September Atlantic, however, dares to print eleven consecutive pages of verse, under the title of "Mary Armistead," a story of a veteran cavalryman in the Civil War, by Edward William Thomson. The verse is the regular blank verse pentameter; it is a firm, compacied fibre suiting admirably the military tread and swing of tehnarrative. Some one has said that our great war will eventually become the Iliad of the age and that future American literature will develop a Homer for it. Mr. Thomson's poem without question points towards this result, being essentially monumental in its moulding of the principal figures. The pathos, the familiarity, the humor, the red grimness of war are masterfully expressed in this story of the incident of a wet night by Tunstall's Run.

The Meagre Life.

Perceval Gibbon has the art of finding adventure in the least likely places for the least promising types as adventurous, when he chosen for the hero of his new story, which begins in the October McClure's, that least heroic of men, the canvasser. In a sordid atmosphere, with few accessories, the author succeeds at once in arresting the reader's attention and holding it without a moment's wavering until the climax at the conclusion of the first instalment. It is in the piquancy of the meeting of Watson and Mary Hunt and the unfolding of an unusual romance with a pungent tang of adventure that the story commands attention. A London lodging house keeper, although sketched in a few sentences, is like all of Mr. Gibbon's characters, a loving, breathing creation.

Henry James' Double.

In their passion for "walking on eggs" the pair adopt similar methods of complicating the subtlety of the psychological case. Marivaux's (1687-1763) main object, it has been said, is to show "the refraction of character by social media." He carries his Marianne and Jacques through many environments, and their surfaces are chameleonic as they ascend through the strata of society. James "goes one better" in his "International" novels. Not content to show the individual's response to different surroundings in his own country, he conveys him abroad, and analyzes the influence of a foreign atmosphere on the national peculiarities of the individually particularized character. He must ascertain how the New Englander, Chad, has "his features retouched, his eyes cleared, his color settled, his figure given a form, his face a surface, almost a design given to him"—by the atmosphere of the French capital.—W. A. Gill, in the October Atlantic.

Episcopal Church Constitution.

For the American Episcopal church the congregation of the parish is the unit of government, and through its elected representatives, the church wardens and vestrymen, not only holds and manages the material property of the church, but further practically elects the pastor, by sending a call to some minister whose character and teaching have recommended him to the flock. And perhaps the most liberal thing in this liberal church is the fact that membership in the congregation, and therefore the right to vote for its governing body, is determined by no doctrinal test. And, further, the bishops of the American Episcopal church are elected by diocesan conventions, at which the clergy and laity alike are represented. Everywhere the sacred principle of the spiritual validity of the whole body of the faithful is safeguarded, not merely implicitly, as in the Church of England, but explicitly and formally, in the constitution and canons of the church. The ultimate authority is the conscience, the spiritual consciousness, of the entire body of the faithful; this is recognized as the field of inspiration of the living light and leading.—From "Three Hundred Years of the Episcopal Church in America," by Charles Johnston, in the American Review of Reviews for October.

Pie.

The old lady who distinguished her pies by marking them with "c," signifying "mince," and "taint mince," has been outdone by the culinary expert of a little hotel among the Green mountains. The chance guest had finished the serious part of a wholesome dinner, when the cook, who was also waitress and landlady, asked him if he didn't want some pie.

"What sort of pie have you?" he asked expectantly.

"Well, we've got three kinds," said the hostess, "open-faced, cross-barred and kivered—all apple."—Woman's Home Companion for October.

In several rooms of the capitol at Harrisburg is a piece of mahogany office table 8 feet long, 4 wide, 2½ high. The cost of each table to Sanderson, the contractor, was $40. He charged the State $1,472, a commission of 3,580 per cent. Still more remarkable are two rostrums, for which $2,600 were paid the builder, and for which the State paid Sanderson $90,748.80, a commission of 4,205 per cent. It appears that all this furniture, and much more, was sold to the State "by the foot," at $18.40 a foot. If we now take the dimension of the mahogany table, which originally cost $40, and compute its feet by multiplying its length by its width, and the result by its height thus: Four times 8 is 32; 2½ times 32 is 80, and then multiply $18.40 by 80, we reach the sum of $1,472, or the price of 80 cubic feet of table paid by Pennsylvania to Sanderson. This gentleman by similar methods found that the chairs were 88 feet of blacking stand—and so reached the price of $1,619.20 for that article. The rostrums were dealt with in the same cubical way, as were the hundreds and thousands of other objects that you will find distributed through the five stories of the enormous building. We Pennsylvania taxpayers have paid for I don't know how many thousands of feet of clocks, of umbrella-tubs, of clothes-racks, and of flag staffs.—Owen Wister, in the October Everybody's.

YOUR TRUE COMMUTER.

He Must Be by Nature a Man Who Takes to Routine.

Your true commuter must be by nature a man who takes to routine. There are some who have commuted for a quarter century or more and yet have not acquired the habit and never will. They are the ones who write letters to the newspapers, airing their grievances against the heartless railroad corporations. They are not born commuters. They have had commutation thrust upon them. But many really enjoy the life of the commuter. They like the clocklike regularity. They like the pleasant social aspect of the early morning trip to town, the neighborly interest in one another's affairs, the ample time for reading the newspapers, which numerous city residents miss by not being obliged to get an early start. They look forward to the pleasant reunion of the whole game on the way home, with head on one side to keep the smoke out of their eyes. Some of them even say that they enjoy being awakened early in the morning.

In time all who work in New York will come to it. Meanwhile, for the man with a family it appears to be in many ways a happy solution of a difficult problem. Undoubtedly it is a more wholesome existence physically, but mentally and spiritually it has the defects of its virtues when pursued all the year round. The commuter devotes the best part of the day to one narrow corner of the city. The rest of his time is not consumed on the train is in still more narrowing atmosphere of the suburbs. He neither gets all the way into the life of the city nor clean out into the country. So his view of things is neither the perspective of robust rurality nor the sophistication of a man in the city and of it. His return to nature is only half way. His urbanity is suburbanity. Much may be literary, art, and equally criticisms show the taint of the commuter's point of view.—Jesse Lynch Williams in Century.

TO PROTECT GAME IN JERSEY.

George Batton, president of the Monmouth Gun Club, recently sent a letter to all the gun clubs of New Jersey calling upon them to combine for the purpose of urging legislation to protect the water fowl during their spring migrations for their breeding grounds in the far North. The response was almost unanimous for co-operation, and the result will be the formation of a State confederation of gun clubs at Montclair on Oct. 13. The meeting will be addressed by Dr. A. K. Fisher, of the Biological Survey, Washington.

A shoot at which silver prizes will be given will be held in the morning. The delegates are eligible for this contest. In the evening the club will give a dinner.

TRAIN AND TRACK.

Heat expansion makes the rails of a 400-mile railway 340 yards longer in summer than in winter.

The railway mileage of the two South African colonies, Orange River and the Transvaal, has doubled since 1898. It is now over 2,500 miles.

Civil Engineer Knorre, one of the largest contractors for public works in Russia, has obtained the concession for building the Poizr-Ural railroad, a project that was recently approved by the Russian commission on new railroads.

It is announced that soon a train de luxe will run daily between Tokyo and Moscow. The route selected passes through Japan to Simonoseki, thence by large ferries to Fassau, in the south of Korea, through Korea to Mukden and Harbin and thence through Siberia.

Caricatures.

Caricatures are found among the sculptured monuments of Thebes, Egypt, made 2,300 years before Christ.

PROFESSOR FRANK FORT

THE REPUBLICAN VAUDEVILLIAN IN A GREAT ACT.

THIS IS A GOOD ACT—IF I DO IT.

THE CAMPAIGN OPENS

Unusual Features of the Political Contest In New Jersey.

"NEW IDEA" MEN RESENTFUL.

They Say That Colby and Sommer Surrendered to the Republican Machine—Revolt Is on In Essex County. Exposures of Horrible Abuses In State Institutions Go Unrebuked. What Some Newspapers Say.

Trenton, Oct. 2.—Political history is being written more rapidly in New Jersey this year than ever before. At no time in the history of the state has a campaign been opened under such circumstances and conditions as the campaign which practically opened this week and which will be in full swing before the end of next week. With the Republican party in the remarkable attitude of condoning and approving of the horrible abuses shown to exist in various state departments, the silence of its candidate for governor as to what he would do with the officials who have been convicted before the Hahn committee of murder and other crimes, the inactivity of the governor and other officials who could act if they were not bound by some unseen and apparently mysterious influence, have all tended to turn the tide of popular indignation and distrust against the Republican party, and put in a position to judge safely what the result of the campaign is going to be one of the greatest political upheavals that the state has ever seen.

Judging from the political prophecies that come to Trenton, the prediction of a great Democratic tidal wave over the state is not exaggerated. One of the remarkable indications of this is the state of political affairs in Essex county. There the followers of the new idea movement are daily coming out in large numbers against the Republican ticket and expressing their indignation over the desertion of Colby and Sommer to the machine ranks. The followers assert that they will not go after their leaders into the Republican machine fold and keep political company with such members of the old gang as Baird, Dickinson, Kean, Shinn and the others. They assert that Colby and Sommer should have stood by their standards in the Republican convention to the end and that the subsequent promise by Colby and Sommer to support Fort was a surrender of the new idea movement and an attempt to betray all the followers of the new idea movement to the hands of the enemy. They refer to the bitter and impassioned speeches of Colby and Sommer delivered before the convention and declare that if these leaders were sincere they could not consistently stay in the Republican convention and agree to support the Republican machine nominees.

Speaking of the Colby-Sommer surrender, one of the new idea followers who visited Trenton this week said:

"No more dastardly betrayal of a political following was ever attempted than the effort of Colby and Sommer to turn the new idea movement to Fort. Fort, as Colby and Sommer well know, is the representative of the machine and the friend of the corporations. He never was anything else. He never will be anything else. He stands for the whole gang who have disgraced the state and the party. It is inexplicable how Colby and Sommer could go into the same camp as Dickinson, Baird, Kean and Shinn after all they said about them and after all that is known about them. It looks as though Colby and Sommer either got tired fighting and were glad to take any kind of recognition that the machine would give them or that they have been playing a double game with their followers from the start. Oil and water will not mix. Colby and Sommer could not honestly join the machine forces and retain their respectability in politics.

"There is this consolation: The men who made Colby and Sommer possible are intelligent and alert. They cannot be betrayed with impunity. They will resent the action of the men whose leadership they followed, and they will wreak vengeance on election day."

The sentiment against Colby and Sommer is reflected in the newspapers published in Essex county. The Newark Sunday Call, one of the most influential of the independent newspapers of the state, in referring to the new idea movement last Sunday said:

"The practical disappearance of the Colby movement since the Republican state convention has been the most remarkable change in politics for many a day in New Jersey. The former leaders, Colby and Martin, are in the closest relations with the candidate and were leading figures at the convention to him at the county committee headquarters on Friday night. Sheriff Sommer, their candidate for governor, is a member at large of the state committee, and apparently most of the Colby men in the county committee are now in full accord with Chairman Dalrymple and the organization generally.

"They have offered no explanation of this sudden harmony. Many of those who have worked with them in the past do not approve of this agreement and have been hoping that the signs of it which have been visible for some months past were untrue, but it seems now to be fully settled that the Colbyites in control are in perfect accord with the regulars. What assurances have been given them they have not told, but a week ago it was said they would not 'come into the fold' unless the candidate would make certain promises and that these included the passage of the public utilities bill by the senate, a bill for direct primaries and one for civil service and an agreement that the liquor laws should be enforced all over the state in the same way as in the center of Newark. The harmony will, it is believed, concede the renomination of Senator Colby next year and full support for all the Colbyites named on the assembly ticket this year."

The Newark Evening News had this to say on Monday:

"The election of members of the executive committee of the Republican state committee to conduct the campaign for J. Franklin Fort for governor has considerably more than offset the appointment of Sheriff Frank H. Sommer as a member at large of the general committee.

"Among these chief counselors in formulating campaign plans are Colonel Samuel D. Dickinson, David Baird, Daniel S. Voorhees and Joseph McDermott. To bosses of that ilk are to be intrusted the welfare of the Republican party in the contest now in progress.

"If men of this kind are to dictate what shall be done in the campaign, it must be taken for granted that they will continue to control in governmental affairs after election, provided they succeed in leading the party to victory.

"Candidate Fort has declared that he is not, and will not be, the bosses. He has boasted of his independence. But in the face of these declarations the most notorious of the party machine manipulators in the state are honored by the nominee and his trusted advisers. The selection of these men is a direct slap in the face to decency and intelligence. It demonstrates an absolute lack of sincerity on the part of the party leaders. How much confidence can be placed in professions of reform in the face of this evidence?"

Aside from the Colby-Sommer feature of the campaign, the exposures made by the Hahn investigating committee of the house of assembly are admitted to be the weakest part of the Republican armor. Connected with this investigation are some notable features. Before the committee went to work some newspapers of the state, especially those of Republican tendencies, freely asserted that the committee would accomplish nothing; that it was not intended that it should accomplish anything. The engagement of Mr. Backes of Trenton as counsel of the committee caused a cessation in the criticisms. After Mr. Backes got to work the tune changed, and it was found that things were happening. Just before the committee held its first meeting David Watkins, state insurance commissioner and former speaker of the house, was being boomed for the Republican nomination for governor. In fact, it was given out by the insiders that Watkins was slated for the nomination.

Then the Hahn committee met. Mr. Watkins ceased to be a gubernatorial possibility within twenty-four hours. His practice of placing state money in banks in which he was interested without paying interest to the state was exposed. It ended Mr. Watkins' political career then and there.

Next came the fish and game commission. Common thievery was proved in that body.

Then came the State hospital. Murder was put on the Republican party there, not to mention the fearful neglect of patients, the departure of a leading official on his vacation at a time when he should have made the checking of the typhoid fever epidemic his first consideration. Then the horrible and unmentionable condition of affairs in the management of the State reformatory at Itchaway capped the climax. One-half the story has not yet been told of the abuses at Rahway.

Here is a remarkable phase of the exposures made by the Hahn committee up to date. In no instance were they anticipated. There had been stray rumors of wholesale corruption and abuses. The committee had nothing definite. They went about their task very much as a man blindfolded might wander around in the dark in search of nssistance. In every direction in which they reached they brought forth corruption and abuses. Only slight information has thus far been shed on the abuses in the giving out of contracts for work on the statehouse, but the rest of it will be uncovered before long. At any rate, more corruption in our state government has been uncovered within the past six months than it was dreamed could ever exist in the state.

In the face of all the rottenness and corruption it is noted by many through the state that not a state official, from the governor down, has made a single move in the direction of removing the officials proved to have committed crimes. Not a single official has demanded the indictment and punishment, and not a single Republican newspaper has urged that the leaders of the party take action to purge the state of the murderers, thieves and rascals.

These are some of the things that are throwing side lights on the campaign and which will be elaborated upon as the fight waxes warmer.

GOURLEY AND KATZENBACH.

William B. Gourley's address to Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., notifying him of his nomination by the Democratic party for governor was a graceful composition. Mr. Gourley has been a much maligned and misrepresented man. He is a man of wonderful attainments as a lawyer and scholar and when stirred by his subject has the eloquence of a Burke. His speech to Candidate Katzenbach is well worth reading. It is as follows:

"Mr. Katzenbach, we have been commissioned by the Democracy of this state to say to you that you have been chosen as their candidate for the high office of governor of New Jersey. This choice was not lightly made. Others there were whose claims for this great distinction were earnestly pressed upon the consideration of the convention, but after due deliberation all turned to you with entire unanimity as the man to lead the party forward to victory.

"The choice of the convention was not only unanimous, but it was also enthusiastic. It was a most representative body and was composed of what has gathered together in many years. They gave voice in the platform to the pressing demands of the day that must commend itself to the good judgment of all. We need not now point out how far we have fallen in public esteem. It is enough to say that the people look to the Democracy to redeem it. They look upon this redemption not so much as a party victory, but as a victory for the purest patriotism. They demand for this task a young man, an able man, a resolute man, one who can champion their cause upon the public platform and give voice to the profound sentiments stirring within them.

"We have the cause, and we believe we have found the man. It is to you, Mr. Katzenbach, that the people turn to purge the state from the control of those faithless public servants. To you we hand the banner of our cause. We know that you will keep it flying in the forefront of the fight for good government, and we believe that at its close it will be found floating over a triumphant Democracy."

HIS FIRST SPEECH.

Candidate Katzenbach's Acceptance of the Nomination.

INDORSES PARTY PLATFORM.

Tells Mr. Gourley and the Notification Committee of His Appreciation of the Responsibilities Placed Upon Him—Promises a Square Deal if Elected and the Appointment of Honest and Capable Men to Public Office.

Trenton, Oct. 2.—When Mr. Gourley, on behalf of the notification committee appointed by the Democratic state convention, had finished his address at the Trenton House to Candidate Katzenbach the spectators moved back and listened attentively to the candidate's reply. Mr. Katzenbach was in fine voice and delivered his acceptance with that earnestness which has made him so popular and strong as the mayor of Trenton. He said:

"Gentlemen, I deeply appreciate the honor paid me by the Democratic party, of which you have now formally notified me. I would be insincere if I did not admit that I had sought this honor, but in the seeking I have made no pledge or promise of political preferment. If elected I will be unfettered, free to discharge the duties of the office as my conscience prompts.

"The platform of principles adopted at the state convention meets with my unqualified approval. It will be my purpose if elected to further the enactment of the legislation it favors and the correction of those abuses in our state government to which it directs attention. The issue to be determined is good state government. National issues can find no legitimate place in this campaign. Their presentment would be but a device to divert the voters' minds. To this issue of good state government it is the duty of every citizen to give his best thought, free from prejudice incited by the discussion of foreign issues. It is a sad day for any state when its citizens refrain from stepping over the line of party alignment to place their seal of disapproval upon the misconduct of state officials when they conscientiously believe that these are derelictions which justly merit rebuke. We have but to glance over the boundary of our own state to see in a sister state the baneful effect of the failure of the people to condemn graft and official corruption under the specious plea of strict adherence to party lines.

"I fully realize that the next executive will have to deal with many perplexing problems affecting corporate interests under laws present and future. In the complex business life of today I believe the corporation to be necessary. The magnificent development of our state could not have been attained by individual initiative. The corporation is as essential to the welfare of the individual as the individual is to the prosperity of the corporation. Each is dependent upon the other. To secure the highest development and the fullest measure of prosperity for our state the rights of each must be protected. The corporate abuses of today are many. They must be corrected by legislation just in character and effect and impartially enforced, so as not to disturb that balance of our industrial life which brings to the wage earner his daily bread and to the *investor his profit upon which he like*wise may be dependent. It is my belief that corporate abuses are principally due to the advent of the corporation in politics in a search for legislation selfish in character. To this more than to any other cause is due the present hostility of the people toward corporations. Corporations out of politics will be better both for politics and the corporations. Except in the exercise of those functions peculiar to their existence which they are performed corporations in all matters, including those of taxation, should stand before the law on exactly the same plane as the individual.

"It will be the duty of the next executive to fill by appointment many positions of honor and trust. Clean government can be obtained only through clean officials. Fitness is the supreme test. Appointees must measure up to the standard required to properly discharge the duties of the office, and the duties of the office must be discharged personally by the appointees. Dismissal will be the penalty for official dereliction. If elected I will observe the same standard of fidelity I expect from others.

"Unnecessary friction in the machinery of our government is frequently occasioned by the interference of the executive with the legislative department. The constitution of this state is careful to separate their functions and the appointing power of the executive should never be used to subordinate the legislative to the executive will or to be made by coercion the passage of any laws.

"I do not deem it essential at this time to discuss in detail the various declarations of our party's platform. Those declarations pledge our party for good government and the enactment of laws to secure to the people of our state relief from corporate domination, official misconduct and centralization of power. As the campaign progresses it will be my purpose to meet the voters and discuss more fully the issues upon which we seek their support.

"I accept the nomination tendered me and will give my best efforts to secure an honorable election."

Perish the thought, brother! No one could think that Governor Stokes would stand for those state department abuses.

FACTS AND FANCIES.

The opening paragraph of the Republican state platform says:

"The Republican party again presents to the people of New Jersey an account of its stewardship and offers its record of faithful execution of pledges as a guarantee of future performance."

Presumably this covers the murder of Enoch Gilvers in the State hospital, the thefts in the fish and game commission, the abuses and rottenness of the Rahway reformatory and the crookedness proved in the statehouse contracts. It certainly is a dead sure guarantee of the future, and every intelligent citizen knows that the Republican party means just what it says in its platform.

* *

Talking about voting machines, house bill No. 1 was passed by the house last winter abolishing them. The bill has since slept in the Republican senate.

* *

Governor Stokes is at the statehouse every day. He has always prided himself on his devotion to duty. In some way, however, a lot of state departments exposed by the Hahn committee managed to do crooked work in spite of the fact that his eagle eye was upon them in obedience to the constitution. Just shows how sly some state departments can be.

* *

Separation of state and municipal elections is promised in the Republican state platform. Well, why doesn't the Republican senate get busy and pass those two bills put up to it by the Democratic house of assembly several moons ago? One of these bills repeals the Meeker act, and the other restores spring elections.

* *

"Hold the Fort!" You bet, Sam Dickinson, Davy Baird, Shinn, the fish and game commissioners, the State hospital and Rahway reformatory officials and all the rest of the bunch of patriotic citizens who are drawing large salaries, etc., want to "hold the Fort." They won't hold it very long after Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., swings down the main corridor of the statehouse and takes his seat in the chair now occupied by the gentleman from Cumberland.

OLD GANG IN THE SADDLE.

Executive Committee Appointed With Which Colby and Sommer Are In Harmony.

Chairman Murphy of the Republican state committee has announced his executive committee. It is made up of the old gang.

The committee consists of nine members, six of whom are reappointed. Briggs is substituted for Murphy, who was a member. Robert Williams of Passaic is dropped, and in his place and the vacancy left by the resignation of Thomas N. McCarter Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen of Somerset and County Clerk Joseph McDermott of Monmouth are named. The reappointed members, in addition to Mr. Kean, are Daniel S. Voorhees of Morris, John J. Gardner of Atlantic, Samuel D. Dickinson of Hudson, C. E. Breckenridge of Bergen and David Baird of Camden.

Quartermaster General C. Edward Murray of Mercer, who was suggested by the committee as a member of the executive committee, will be chairman of the finance committee instead, and among his associates will be Sheriff Frank H. Sommer and Senator Samuel K. Robbins, the newly appointed member at large of the state committee. The other three men on this committee are William M. Johnson of Bergen, Joseph W. Congdon of Passaic and James A. McGraw of Morris.

Malcolm MacLear, who was forced off the regular Republican list of assembly nominees by the naming of William P. Martin, has been named as secretary of the committee to succeed the late J. Herbert Potts. Edward W. Gray is slated for charge of the publicity bureau, and Wilbur A. Mott will be in direct charge of the assignment of speakers and the itinerary of Candidate Fort.

DIFFICULT ASSIMILATION.

The Republican regulars have swallowed the new idea forces, but have not assimilated them.

Alden Freeman is not the only Colbyite who refuses to be assimilated.

A. Judson Pierce, Jr., for example, writes to the Newark Star:

"The difference in the Democratic and Republican platforms for campaign purposes this fall is comparatively insignificant, but the method of their construction and of their adoption is a matter of general comment.

"The Democratic party came boldly to the front like men and offered their platform voluntarily to the people without coercion, having recognized the determination of the people to have laws enacted whereby they may be enabled to run their own government.

"The Republican regulars had a platform rammed down their throats under penalty of being Colbyites and the Independent Republicans made them swallow it as a child a dose of castor oil—in driblets, mixed with lemon juice.

"Do these regular reformers love reform, then? Will they, if elected, enact those popular measures forced upon them and demanded by the people or will they Hillery-Wilsbee them? Can they do anything else than deceive the people again?

"When the devil was sick, the devil a monk would be;
When the devil was well, the devil a monk was he."

Fordyce is evidently not the only ex-member of the Reform Colby movement who is suspicious.—Long Branch Record.

New Jersey Central

Passenger Stations in New York—West 23d St., N. R., Foot Liberty St., N. R.

In Effect September 8, 1907.

For New York—2.17, 2.27, 5.36, 6.02, 6.29, 6.37, 6.50, 7.25, 7.40, 8.00, 8.05, 8.30, 8.50, 8.44, 9.29, 9.59, 10.28, 10.55 a. m., 12.00, 12.15, 12.27, 1.02, 1.27, 2.44, 3.09, 3.42, 4.09, 4.40, 5.04, 5.23, 6.43, 7.09, 7.37, 8.27, 9.27, 10.21, 10.57, 11.59, p. m. Sundays, 2.17, 2.27, 3.47, 7.23, 8.36, 9.45, 10.18, 10.22 a. m., 12.40, 1.09, 2.20, 2.41, 3.25, 4.20, 5.04, 5.23, 6.43, 6.45, 8.13, 8.27, 8.35, 9.42, 10.28, 10.41 p. m.

For Newark—2.36, 6.20, 7.06, 7.25, 7.50, 8.05, 8.25, 8.50, 9.05, 9.50, 10.35 a. m., 12.42, 1.06, 1.27, 2.21, 2.44, 3.09, 3.42, 4.09, 4.40, 5.04, 5.23, 6.43, 7.09, 7.37, 9.21 p. m. Sundays, 7.23, 8.57, 9.34, 10.10, 10.32 a. m., 12.40, 1.06, 1.27, 2.41, 3.09, 3.25, 4.29, 5.32, 5.47, 6.45, 8.13, 8.35, 9.42, 10.28, 10.41 p. m.

For Somerville—5.19, 7.11, 8.21, 9.17, 9.55, 11.00 a. m., 1.01, (1.41 Saturday only), 3.03, 3.06, 4.12, 5.04, 5.34, 6.57 except Saturdays, 6.04, 8.18, 8.37, 7.12, 7.39, 8.06, 8.27, 10.55 p. m. Sundays—8.36 a. m., 2.20, 8.13 p. m.

For Lakewood and Atlantic City—2.27, 9.30 a. m., (12.40 Saturdays only), 1.27, 2.44 p. m. Sundays—9.45 a. m., 1.45 p. m.

For Philadelphia—1.15, 7.39, 8.45, 9.12, 10.42 a. m., 12.12, 12.45, 1.39, 2.12, 2.46, 4.13, 4.44, 5.56, 8.46 p. m., 1.17 night. Sundays—9.30, 10.33, 10.43, 11.47 a. m., 12.42, 1.44, 2.45, 3.42, 4.35, 5.39, 8.44, 8.50, 8.46 p. m., 1.35, 3.17 night.

For Reading and Harrisburg—5.15, 9.55 a. m., 2.06, (5.47 through train). Sundays—9.55, 5.47 p. m.

For Pottsville, Sunbury and Williamsport—5.15, 9.55 a. m., 2.06 p. m. Sundays—2.03 p. m.

For Baltimore and Washington—5.45, 10.43 a. m., 12.45, 5.44 p. m. Sundays—8.45, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.46, 6.44 p. m.

*Change cars at Bound Brook.

W. G. BESLER, Vice Pres. & Gen. Mgr. W. C. HOPE, Gen. Pass. Agt.

Lehigh Valley Railroad

Time table in Effect Nov. 18th, 1906.

LEAVE SOUTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

7.45 a. m. daily (except Sunday) local to Mauch Chunk.

8.42 a. m. daily, express to Easton, Wilkesbarre, Rochester, Buffalo, and principal intermediate stations.

10.46 a. m. daily for Easton, Wilkesbarre, Ithaca, Buffalo and Chicago.

1.52 p. m. daily, local for Easton, Mauch Chunk, Hazleton, Pottsville and Shenandoah.

4.58 p. m. daily (except Sunday) "Wilkesbarre and Scranton Express." Solid vestibule train to Wilkesbarre through Parlor Cars to E. B. M. R. R. to Scranton and Carbondale.

6.40 p. m. daily, solid vestibule train to Buffalo, Toronto and Chicago and principal intermediate stations except Rochester.

8.23 p. m. daily (except Sunday) local to Easton.

FRANK ROWLEY, City Ticket Agent, 215 West Front Street, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 112.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.

Office opens 7 a. m., closes 7 p. m. On Saturdays open half hour later.

NEW YORK MAIL.

Arrive—7.00, 8.40, 11.30 a. m., 2.30, 5.00, 5.30, 9 p. m., 12 midnight.
Close—7.15, 9.30 a. m., 1.00, 2.20, 6.00, 5.30 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 1.30, 3.15 and 7 p. m.
Close—7.30 a. m., 1.45 and 4.30 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct.

Arrive—7.00 and 11.30 a. m., 2.30 7.00 p. m.
Close—7.15, 7.30, 9.30 a. m., 12.35, 2.20 and 7.00 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST

Close—1.00 and 7.15 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR WEST AND SOUTH.

Close—12.35, 6.00, 7.15 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA, West of Easton.

Close—11.30 a. m. (Registered mail only.)

ELIZABETH—Direct.

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 2.30, 5.30 p. m.
Close—7.30, 9.30, 12.00 m., 4.00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct.

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 2.30, 5.30 p.*m., 12
Close—7.30, 9.30 a. m., 1.00, 3.20 and 6.00

WATCHUNG, WARRENVILLE.

Arrive—12.30 p. m.
Close—9.00 a. m.

WATCHUNG.

Close—5.30 p. m.
Arrive—8.40 a. m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9.30 to 10.30 a. m.
Mail closes at 4.15 p. m.

E. H. BIRD, P. M.

Advertisements

—FOR—

New York Herald,
World, Times, Sun, Journal,
Telegram, American,
Brooklyn Eagle
—and—
Newark Evening News
Received at

The Daily Press,

AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

Mrs. John Brown,

Successor to
John Burke and Jones & Co.

Cesspools and Vaults Cleaned from $3.00 upwards

Satisfaction Guaranteed.
Don't give your order until you consult us.
Estimates Cheerfully Given.
Leave orders at
J. T. VAIL'S, Plainfield, N. J.
Postoffice Box 712.
FRANK BURKE, Manager

NEW PERFECTION Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

Ideal for summer cooking. Cuts fuel expense to two. Saves labor. Gives clean, quick results. Has no odor. Fully guaranteed.
STANDARD OIL CO.
(Incorporated)

The Constitutionalist

VOL. XXXIX PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1907. NO. 43.

"Support the Constitution, which is the Cement of the Union, as well in its Limitations as in its Authorities."—Madison.

FORMER PASTORS SPOKE

"Auld Lang Syne" Meeting a Feature of Methodist Diamond Jubilee.

A NOVEL MEETING

All the Living Former Pastors Present Except Two—Reception Follows Service.

"It is a good thing for us to stop once in every seventy-five years and shake hands, in this life of hurry and rush. This is a time to revive old friendships and cultivate new ones." So said Rev. Charles Bayard Mitchell in his address at the First Methodist church last night, and the evening's meeting, with the reception which followed it was a time when the large congregation took opportunity to put into practice the words of the speaker. Novel among church affairs in the enthusiasm and interest felt in former pastors and early days in the church history, the "Auld Lang Syne" meeting at the church last night was an especially pleasant feature of the church people's celebration of their diamond jubilee.

The historical and social meeting of the Methodists, presided over by James W. Jackson, president of the board of trustees of the church was attended by another of the large congregations which have marked every service of the celebration. Of the eight living pastors of the local church, excluding Dr. McCrea, six were present at last night's meeting and made addresses. Rev. J. B. Van Meter, who was pastor of the church for two years, beginning in 1886, though he expected to be present, did not put in an appearance at the church. Dr. Van Meter is now dean of the Women's College at Baltimore. Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, the local pastor from 1897 until Dr. McCrea was called, was also unable to attend, church duties in his parish in Perth Amboy preventing.

After opening the service with a hymn and a selection from the pastor, Mr. Jackson, who is the oldest member of the local church, having affiliated himself with the parish forty-one years ago, introduced Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, pastor of the local church from 1874 to 1877. He spoke of the strong ties formed in the parish during his residence of eighteen years in this city as pastor and layman in the church. He attributed the success of the church to three things—the democratic spirit of the church in the blending of all social elements in the congregation for unity, the broadminded stand regarding other churches and faiths, and the fact that the parishioners seemed to fully imbue the spirit of God. Rev. A. H. Tuttle, the speaker at the church last Sunday morning, was the next speaker. He dwelt especially on what the church had done for him during his pastorate here for three years, beginning 1883. He spoke at some length of the influence of the old parishioners in the church work and paid high tribute to the influence of Dr. Hurlbut upon him, when he came to the pastorate in 1883 as a "callow youth." He concluded with a strong appeal to the church to continue its growth by ever looking onward. Rev. Dr. J. M. Meeker, presiding elder of the Newark district, who succeeded Dr. Hurlbut in the church during the illness of Rev. T. H. Stockton, pastor just previous to Dr. Tuttle, next made a few remarks referring to the lasting effect of the influence of some of the parishioners during his pastorate of only five months.

A refreshing element of humor was injected into the meeting by the address of Rev. Charles B. Mitchell, the speaker of the evening service Sunday. Dr. Mitchell, who was pastor of the church from 1888 to 1892, spoke of the significance of the occasion as being not so much to bear the benefits to "callow youths," a phrase used by several previous speakers, so much as to have a reunion which would revive old friendships and cultivate new ones. He said in part:

"An important part of the business of religion is to develop the social element in your character. This is something we overlook in the haste of our daily life. By this means you can strengthen the church unity, cultivating church pride and church loyalty. Be broad in your attitude toward the church, but don't be so broad that you have no depth. Love all churches, but this church best of all; you can't have too much church loyalty. The biggest organization you can ever belong to is the church of the Lord Jesus Christ, be always always loyal and true to that." Anecdotes and witticisms of the speaker caused much merriment and enthusiasm during Dr. Mitchell's discourse. Rev. Dr. Charles R. Barnes, who was pastor of the church from 1895 to

(Continued on page 8.)

—Go to Levy Bros.' Harvest Sale Saturday. 10 16 2

—Big Harvest Sale begins Saturday at Levy's. 10 16 2 ***

HUNT CLUB SELECTS MR. FISK FOR PRESIDENT

The annual meeting of the Watchung Hunt Club was held at the Casino, last night, when reports were received and officers elected for the coming year. Those chosen were: President, Charles J. Fisk; secretary and treasurer, Harvey Fisk; master of the hounds, Lewis E. Waring. Christopher Comlns was engaged for another year as keeper of the kennels. The reports were encouraging and the new year starts under most promising conditions.

It was reported that the weekly hunts are now being held and that the fall schedule will be announced soon. The club is now in better financial condition than ever and plans are already being discussed for the annual steeplechase to be held next year. E. S. Hooley, Peter Hauck, Jr., and Harvey Fisk were re-elected stewards.

BOY LOSES EYESIGHT WHEN SLINGSHOT SLIPPED

As the result of an accident while playing with a sling-shot near his home in Westfield, yesterday afternoon, Preston-old Preston Swaney, son of Clark R. Swaney, has lost the sight of his left eye, and though two operations have been performed, it may still be necessary to remove the eyeball.

The accident happened in a peculiar manner. Young Swaney was holding the wooden crotch of the toy in front of his face, holding the leather sling in his teeth as he stretched the rubbers. He lost his hold on the crotch while the rubbers were taut, and the wood, snapping back, struck him squarely in the eye. The lad's cries brought his mother and Dr. Robert R. Sinclair was summoned. He advised that the boy be immediately brought to this city for operation at Muhlenberg Hospital. This was done, and two operations were performed; it was impossible to save the lad's sight, though the physicians say that it may be possible to save the eyeball and that in time the boy may be able to distinguish light.

The boys' father, Clark R. Swaney, is well known in Westfield. He is a prominent member of the golf club and belongs to several fraternal orders.

HOPATCONG COTTAGE TOTALLY DESTROYED.

Structure Was Formerly the Property of Floyd T. Woodhull, of This City.

"Casadora," the beautiful summer home of Dr. C. D. Cox, of Brooklyn, situated on Halsey Island, Lake Hopatcong, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The flames are supposed to have originated from a defective flue and had made great headway before they were discovered. Dr. and Mrs. Cox, Miss Marion Cox, Miss Dorothy Chace and Dr. Cox's brother, all residents of Brooklyn, escaped from the burning building in their night robes and sought shelter in nearby cottages.

The cottage was one of the handsomest of the Lake Hopatcong colony and was formerly the property of Floyd D. Woodhull, of this city, who sold it to Dr. Cox, three years ago. It was situated at the upper end of the island directly across the lake from Nolan's Point, and was the first cottage built on the island, erected as Mr. Woodhull's summer home fourteen years ago. The structure was elaborately furnished and the loss will reach $10,000.

Remember the "Treasurer's Booth."

One place at the Casino where the "Class" will gather tomorrow night, and about which little has been said, is the "treasurer's booth." This will be one of the most attractive spots for here will be found the two august heads of the whole institution, Mrs. John Edgar Corlies and Mrs. Charles A. Reed, who will be delighted to welcome everyone to the fair and gladly answer all inquiries either in regard to the attractions or about the work at the hospital. Contributions both large and small can also be left at the booth with the treasurer, Mrs. W. L. C. Glenney.

No Bail, Sent to Jail.

Because no one furnished his bond of $500, placed by Justice of the Peace Snape at his hearing Monday night, Leonardo Russo was taken to Somerville yesterday afternoon by Marshal Lemuel Pope, of the borough force. He will be held there to await the action of the grand jury at the meeting of the December term. Maze Green, who got twenty days for drunkenness, also was taken to the county lockup.

—Go to Levy Bros.' Harvest Sale Saturday. 10 16 2

—Big Harvest Sale begins Saturday at Levy's. 10 16 2 ***

TELLS OF MILK SUPPLY

Health Officer Thurlow Reads Interesting Paper Before Medical Society.

REVIEWS A CAMPAIGN

After Three Epidemics Caused By Impure Milk, the Standard of Supply Has Been Raised.

The Plainfield Medical Society was entertained last night by Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Probasco, of East Front street, and after an excellent dinner, the members listened to an interesting paper by Health Officer Leon R. Thurlow on "The Milk Supply of Plainfield."

The paper treated local milk conditions exclusively, referring to the fact that Plainfield has suffered from three epidemics, traced to contaminated milk. The first was a scarlet fever epidemic in 1897, 74 cases with no deaths; the second, a mild epidemic of diphtheria in 1899, 15 cases and no deaths; and the third, scarlet fever again, in 1900, 73 cases and one death.

Immediately after the first epidemic in 1897 the question of securing pure and safe milk was agitated. Ordinances were passed by the Board of Health and in 1900 first steps were taken toward dairy inspection, which has been systematized ever since. In 1902 the present sanitary code was adopted, bring the milk dealers under the control of the Board of Health.

Mr. Thurlow stated that Plainfield's present milk supply is obtained from 96 dairies from within the city limits to a distance of thirty miles. About 1302 cows supply the 10,850 quarts sold daily in the city. This milk is distributed by 86 dealers holding permits. There has been practically little adulteration of milk to contend with here. The question of bacteria in milk was discussed at some length, showing that the presence of bacteria is not always to be considered harmful.

Mr. Thurlow declared that the campaign in Plainfield for pure milk has been one of education among the dairymen, endeavoring to show them how they can obtain better, cleaner product by employing cleaner methods. In connection with the dairy inspection, dairy score cards are used, making classification of dairies possible. The card is divided into five sections on a basis of the following percentage: Cows, 20; stables, 25; milk house, 20; milkers and milking, 15; handling the milk, 20; 100 per cent. being a perfect score.

Mr. Thurlow presented a schedule showing the advance in price of feed and increase in the cost of production. The totals for all kinds of feed used show $1,48.3 in 1899 as against $2,188 for the present year. Mr. Thurlow estimates that the farmer today produces milk at a cost of 4.68 cents a quart, which allows for supervision and labor of the farmer $10 a week.

GOES TO ANNAPOLIS.

Dover Boy to be Named from the District.

The competitive examination held under the direction of Congressman Charles N. Fowler, at Elizabeth, on Saturday, for the purpose of selecting a midshipman at the Annapolis Naval Academy, from the Fifth Congressional District of New Jersey, resulted as follows: (1) A. Bennett Anderson, Dover; (2) Silvein Fontaine Mayer, Secretanus; (3) H. Woodruff Scott, Cranford; (4) Paul N. Crispin, Phillipsburg.

Mr. Anderson, therefore, will be nominated as midshipman, and the others as alternates in the order named.

Golden Wedding G. V. Van Doren.

Mr. and Mrs. Garret V. Van Doren, of Finderne, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, today, by entertaining friends from Newark, New York, Plainfield, Somerville and other cities, at an elaborate dinner. The aged couple were showered with many out-of-town gifts, and the guests were their five children and two grandchildren and two grandchildren. The children are: Miss Charlotte Van Doren, of Bound Brook; Miss Annie Van Doren, of New York; Mrs. A. V. Keeshan, of New York; Garret Van Doren and John Van Doren, of Finderne.

Jesse Norman Cook.

Jesse Norman Cook, 26 years old, an architect employed on the new Court House being erected in Somerville, died yesterday morning in Somerset Hospital from peritonitis, following an operation for appendicitis, which was performed last Thursday night. He was unmarried. The body will be sent Thursday to his home at Webster, near Rochester, N. Y.

—Go to Levy Bros.' Harvest Sale Saturday. 10 16 2

—Big Harvest Sale begins Saturday at Levy's. 10 16 2 ***

BILL BOARDS CRUSADE

Town Improvement Association to Seek City Fathers' Aid to Abolish Them.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Scheme of Taxation Suggested to Rid Municipality of Alleged Eyesores—Mrs. Mali at Work.

Hoping to rid the city and borough of all bill boards, the Plainfield-North Plainfield Town Improvement Association plans to have a taxation scheme introduced at the next meeting of the Common Council which Mrs. Piere Mali, the president, claims will prove effective. The idea of the members of the association is that the bill boards disfigure the municipality and that to make a city beautiful they must be banished. For some time they have been considering the matter and the agitation was brought to a climax at the annual meeting yesterday when Mrs. Isaac L. Miller read an exhaustive paper on the way other towns are treating unsightly posters.

Mrs. Miller told of the efforts of the improvement societies in Los Angeles, Cal., Pasadena, Cal., and other cities, along this line. In Los Angeles, she said, prizes were offered for photographs of the most ugly sections of the city and in nearly every case bill boards were to be seen in the pictures submitted. These photographs were published in the daily papers and ultimately resulted in having the alleged nuisance abolished. The system of taxation was also brought out by her. This includes the idea of levying a tax on all bill boards at so much per square foot, and the association decided that it would prove the best solution.

Mrs. Mali was re-elected president of the association and Mrs. Craig A. Marsh and Mrs. Frank D. Warren were chosen vice presidents. Mrs. Taliferro was named as secretary and Miss Isabelle Tweedy as treasurer. A prize of $5 was awarded for the best keptlawn ward, a West End woman winning the money.

BRASS BAND WILL LEAD AUTO TOUR CAMPAIGNERS

When J. Franklin Fort, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, makes his whirlwind tour of Union county on Tuesday, Oct. 29, he will go through with "bells on" for a brass band has been engaged to head the pageant which will consist of seven automobiles. The second auto will be occupied by the nominee and County Chairman Frank H. Smith and in the other cars will be the county candidates and some campaigners who will assist Mr. Fort in the spellbinding expedition.

The itinerary is practically that exclusively announced in The Daily Press but yesterday there was some talk of reversing it so that the start would be made in Elizabeth instead of in Plainfield. Wherever the music dispensed by the brass band can collect a crowd, Mr. Fort will make a speech. Stops will be made at factories and at all other places where any considerable number of men are employed. It is arranged to devote the entire day to the tour. At night, as exclusively told in this paper, Mr. Fort will address mass meetings at Rahway and Elizabeth.

This will mark Mr. Fort's third visit to Plainfield for he is booked to speak at Plainfield tonight.

"Marrying Justice" Keeps Busy.

William A. Cook and Miss Mary Lanningan, a Westfield couple, called at Justice Hezekiah Hand's home last night and had him pronounce the words that made them man and wife. The ceremony was performed with the 'squire's customary embellishments and he extended trading stamps when the fee was paid over by the groom. The justice has been marrying so many out-of-town couples of late that he declares his intention of going in on the wholesale plan by giving rebates on railroad fares.

Luncheon for Miss Martin.

In honor of Miss Helen Martin, whose marriage to Henry Davis Bushnerr will take place Saturday afternoon at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Miss Lucy Otterson gave a luncheon today at the Plainfield Country Club. Covers were laid for fifteen. The decorations were autumn leaves and chrysanthemums.

Peaches are scarce but some nice ones are still to be had at Neuman Bros. Many other fruits in the big assortment shown every day.

—Go to Levy Bros.' Harvest Sale Saturday. 10 16 2

—Big Harvest Sale begins Saturday at Levy's. 10 16 2 ***

VOTING MACHINES REMAIN

Senator Frelinghuysen's Reason for Not Urging Their Removal from Borough.

MAJORITY FOR THEM

Only 300 of the 1,400 Voters Wanted a Return to the Antiquated Balloting System.

Notwithstanding that more than 300 Republicans and Democrats of North Plainfield filed a petition with Secretary of State Dickinson requesting the removal of the voting machines from the borough, the antiquated way of voting will not be used in that place at the forthcoming election and it has remained for State Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen to tell the why and wherefore. The petition in question was presented to Mr. Dickinson some weeks ago by Walter Linbarger, a Democratic county committeeman, and the former informed the borughite that as the question he would be guided by the wishes of the state senator.

For the purpose of getting Mr. Frelinghuysen's consent, Mr. Linbarger visited him at his office in New York and was met in a cordial greeting notwithstanding stories to the contrary that allege that the county chairman made some derogatory assertions regarding the standing of the signers. Mr. Frelinghuysen did not tell Mr. Linbarger that he believed that there were many foreigners among the names attached to the petition. On the contrary what he did say was that he would investigate the matter and if he found the sentiment of North Plainfield opposed to voting machines he would ask for the removal although he personally believed that they were beneficial inasmuch as they prevent any corruption at the polls.

After consultations with a number of representative citizens of the borough, the senator ascertained that only 300 of the 1,400 voters favored the old way of casting ballots and that the majority of the Republicans coincided with his views as to the purity of the ballot attained by use of the machines. Consequently he declined to ask the Secretary of State to abolish the machines.

Fought With His Housekeeper.

Informed of a lively neighborhood fight on Chatham street late last night, Marshal Lemuel Pope hurried to the scene to find Secretary Sacrocher and John Fleet engaged in the exchange of compliments of doubtful taste. Securing the aid of Marshal Peter Kiernan, Pope arrested Julia, then went to Recorder Dolliver's home and rousing the municipal official at shortly after midnight, secured a warrant and returning, arrested Fleet, who had taken refuge in his house, at Chatham and Warren streets. According to the neighbors, Fleet came home late and proceeded to put his apartments in careless disorder. Julia, his housekeeper, put him out of the house, and his verbal opinion of her, uttered because of this exclusion from his quarters, stirred the Frenchman to action. The police. The two will come before Recorder Dolliver at the session of borough court tonight.

Chechio Was Mussy.

John Chechio, an Italian who has been employed on the brick paving work, was arrested yesterday for getting mussy on West Front street. He was discharged by the foreman and after loading up on rum came back to the job and argued that he had been cheated out of a dollar. He was very mild this morning and Judge Runyon let him go with a warning.

Judge Schenck Tries Somerset Cases.

Judge Schenck took up the trial of indictments in the Somerset County Court yesterday. In the case of Salvatore Sferra, charged with atrocious assault on Peter Romano, at Bound Brook, the state had its evidence all in when adjournment was reached at a late hour this afternoon.

Harvest Home.

A harvest home festival will be held at Bethel chapel, tomorrow night. Rev. F. D. Tildon will preside. Rev. A. M. Alexander will speak on "Leaves"; Rev. Henry Diggs on "Vegetables"; Rev. G. W. Bailey on "Grain," and Rev. Thomas Symons, "Fruit."

P. C. C. Trustees Meet.

The trustees of the Plainfield Country Club met at the Casino, last night and transacted routine business. Reports showed the club to be in excellent condition and it was the opinion that the present season had been the most successful in the history of the club.

—Go to Levy Bros.' Harvest Sale Saturday. 10 16 2

—Big Harvest Sale begins Saturday at Levy's. 10 16 2 ***

—Daily Press want ads. pay.

CHAMBERS AGAIN TRIES FOR $20,000 FROM P.S.C.

The second trial of the case of Newton W. Chambers, of this city, against the Public Service Corporation, was moved for trial in the Union County Court at Elizabeth, this morning. Craig A. Marsh represents the plaintiff, who seeks $20,000 for injuries received by him on December 28, 1905.

Mr. Chambers was a passenger on a trolley car running between this city and Netherwood. It is said that while trying to alight from the car it suddenly started up and threw him. His injuries are such, it is claimed, that he has never recovered from them. The suit was tried about a year ago, but at that time the plaintiff failed to recover damages.

—Go to Levy Bros.' Harvest Sale Saturday. 10 16 2

—Big Harvest Sale begins Saturday at Levy's. 10 16 2 ***

TOMMY CELEBRATED WITH CIGARS AND HANDSHAKES

Cigars and handshakes were plentiful on North avenue in general and "Tommy" Timbrell in particular today. Both were being dispensed by the genial proprietor of the "Congressional Cafe" in honor of the tenth anniversary of his entrance to the food dispensing business and all the "regulars" have been extending the honors he deserves. Congratulations have been pouring over the cigar cases as fast as the fragrant weeds went the opposite way.

"Tommy" began the quick lunch business on North avenue, October 16, 1897, in a store that has since been made the entranceway to the cab company stables. It was on a very small scale but from the start the trade increased and it was only a short time before larger quarters had to be secured. He moved to the Woolston & Buckle building as soon as it was completed and has remained there since. One store was occupied at first and later another was added, the second being exclusively for the restaurant, while "Tommy" and his able assistant, Erwin Y. Neighbor, have always exercised personal supervision and their successful catering to the public wants has made the place one of the best known in the county.

"Tommy's" popularity has kept pace with the business growth and the congratulations have been as hearty and whole-souled as he has been in asking the boys to "have one."

ROBERT FOUNTAIN'S FUNERAL.

Large Gathering Attends Service Conducted at the Late Home.

With a large gathering of relatives and friends in attendance, the funeral of Robert M. Fountain was held at his late home on Jackson avenue, last night. Rev. George A. Warner, rector of the Episcopal church of the Holy Cross, was the officiating clergyman.

The gathering included a large delegation from Anchor' Lodge, No. 149, F. and A. M., and the Episcopal obsequies were followed by the Masonic burial service. Past Worshipful Master William N. Runyon was in charge, and was assisted by Rev. Dr. E. M. Rodman, as chaplain, and Frank Wynkoop as marshal. There were numerous floral tributes.

Burial was made at Hillside cemetery, the pall bearers being Dr. J. H. Cooley, Hiram Buckler, Andrew Winckler, William O. Taylor, Edward A. Overton and Councilman Francis L. Montgomery.

College Honors for Plainfielders.

Clarence J. Hand, president of class 1905, N. P. High School, has recently been elected president of the Junior Law Class, Cornell University. Mr. Hand is one of the most prominent debaters in the university and is actively engaged in cross country work and wrestling. Leonard W. Gavett, of P. H. S. recently president of the junior class at Cornell has been elected general athletic director of the senior class by unanimous vote.

Deserter from U. S. S. Kansas.

Harry Hall, of Greenfield, Ill., a seaman on the battleship Kansas, who deserted on September 25, when the vessel was at League Island was arrested Monday by former Freeholder John A. Whitenack, jr., at Far Hills, who brought him to Somerville and turned him over to Sheriff Cooper. Hall was taken back to his ship yesterday afternoon.

Wants a Receiver Appointed.

W. H. Fulton, of Dunellen avenue, who has been engaged in the wholesale lumber business in New York, has made application for the appointment of a receiver that he may go through bankruptcy proceedings. His liabilities are reported to be $23,000 and the assets less than $8,000.

—Go to Levy Bros.' Harvest Sale Saturday. 10 16 2 ***

—Big Harvest Sale begins Saturday at Levy's. 10 16 2 ***

FORT AT FISK'S GUEST

Mayor to Entertain Republican Gubernatorial Candidate This Evening.

BIG MEETING HERE

Colby and the Nominee to Address Plainfield Voters at the New Plainfield Theatre.

Mayor Charles Joel Fisk will be the host of Gubenatorial Candidate J. Franklin Fort when he invades Plainfield today. He is expected to arrive here late this afternoon and Mr. Fisk and a few personal friends will meet him at the station. The party will go direct to Mr. Fisk's palatial home in West Seventh street, where dinner will be served. After the guests "smoke up," cars will be in waiting to convey them to Westfield where Mr. Fort will address a large mass meeting of Republican voters. Just as soon as he can get away from there he will return to Plainfield to talk to the voters here.

State Senator Robert Colby will occupy the stage at the New Plainfield Theatre tonight, while Mr. Fort is talking in Westfield. Mr. Colby can expect a hearty welcome here for a large percentage of the voters are believers in his "New Ideas." At the request of County Chairman Smith, State Senator Frelinghuysen, the county chairman of Somerset, has named former State Senator Charles Arthur Reed as chairman of the meeting as exclusively told in The Daily Press. North Plainfield will furnish a large proportion of the audience.

When Mr. Fort leaves Westfield to address the Plainfield Republicans, Assemblyman Baldwin will speak to the Westfield audience. A brass band has been engaged to enliven the meeting which begins promptly at 8 o'clock.

CONGRESSMAN J. J. DILL FAVORS BOROUGH SEWERS.

The tax list prepared by Borough Tax Collector George F. Brown for signatures by North Plainfielders desiring a special election on the question of installing a sewer system in the borough has already been signed by about a dozen boroughites. The list was prepared at the request of the borough sewer committee, and copies of the petition will be circulated by members of the committee for the signatures of property owners.

A request for the signature of Congressman J. J. Dill, who owns the three stores on Somerset street at Lincoln Place brought permission to sign from the congressman, who lives at Steubenville, Ohio. The letter said in part:

"I note your inquiry whether I wish you to sign for me as one of the real estate owners in favor of calling an election to authorize sewers, and I most certainly do authorize you to sign and sincerely trust the outcome may be favorable to the proposition. It is amazing to me that everybody does not vote for it, and the voting of a majority against it would be all the evidence necessary to show that the inhabitants of the borough of North Plainfield are half civilized."

The assessed value of Congressman Gill's borough real estate is about $7,000.

Teachers' Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Somerset County Teachers' Association was held at Raritan on Saturday. Dr. W. A. Ackerman the president being in the chair. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the secretary, Sarah W. Farquhar, the teachers listened to a talk on "Industrial Education in the Grades," by Prof. Seuser, of Trenton. His idea was that "It was cheaper to educate than to restrain or support." He said that the present course of study was more calculated to prepare pupils for the professions. Rev. C. F. Hesseigiave, of Chatham, gave a talk on "Macbeth." After a luncheon served by the Raritan teachers a trip through Duke's farm was taken.

Armrights Lose.

With a record of three games lost out of a series of five, The "mighty" Armright bowling team went down to defeat, last night. Hitherto claiming the city championship, they challenged the recently organized Ironsides and as a result had it "handed to them." The games were rolled on the Plainfield Academy alleys and were witnessed by a large crowd of rooters, equally divided in their sympathies.

Sesame Club Meeting.

The Sesame Club will meet tomorrow morning at the home of Mrs. Hayward at 125 De Lacy avenue, North Plainfield.

—Go to Levy Bros.' Harvest Sale Saturday. 10 16 2

—Big Harvest Sale begins Saturday at Levy's. 10 16 2 ***

RENOMINATE MR. DEMOND

Surrogate Again Named by Somerset Democrats Amid Scenes of Enthusiasm.

KATZENBACH APPEARS

J. E. Martine Also Talks—Frank Allen for Assembly and F. T. Ross For Sheriff.

The Democratic candidate for Governor, Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., of Trenton, invaded Somerset county Wednesday in his vote-getting tour of New Jersey and received an enthusiastic greeting. Farmers from all over the county had journeyed to Somerville to meet the candidate and many of the voters of the town also had the privilege of shaking hands with him.

Mr. Katzenbach arrived in Somerville by mail from Trenton at about 10 o'clock, accompanied by his friend, William G. Gordon. He was met at the depot by Michael W. Scully, chairman of the Somerset County Democratic Executive Committee, and taken to the Somerset Hotel, which formed his headquarters in Somerville.

The original intention of the party leaders was to have him address the convention in Germania Hall and then proceed in an automobile through the rural districts, but the last moment this arrangement was abandoned, after a conference of the leaders, because many of the Democratic politicians throughout the county were in Somerville to attend the convention and it was deemed no effort to get the voters out in their respective districts to greet the candidate.

While the leaders were debating the advisability of taking Mr. Katzenbach for a flying visit to Raritan, Millstone and Bernardsville, he was busy at the Somerset shaking hands with hundreds of people who flocked there to see him.

It was finally decided to keep him in town all day and have him address the convention in the afternoon instead of the morning.

The county convention assembled in Germania Hall, at noon [illegible], as told in the Press yesterday, was called to order by Mr. Scully, chairman of the Somerset County Democratic Executive Committee. Milton F. Ellis, of Basking Ridge, was chosen temporary chairman and David Bodine, of North Plainfield, temporary secretary.

Committees were appointed as follows:

Credentials—Jas. F. Guerin, Chas. Wood, Phil. T. Hickey, Jno. T. Case, Jno. Groendyke, Frank Allette, George Mobus.

Organization—John A. Whitenack, Jr., Fred Jameson, Ches. L. Ruyler, W. J. Keyes, Chas. Dixon, Peter Dixon, Peter Cusick, Frank Mebus.

Resolutions—F. C. Suttphen, J. Mayberry, Ch. Schwed, C. F. Allshouse, C. N. Hoagland, Joe Codington, J. Buttler, Dr. Bodine, R. T. Cody.

Rules—W. L. Trimmer, W. R. Moore, Jno. W. Kuhl, Thos. Ryan, M. J. Higgins, Cornelius Snook, W. F. Kelley.

The delegates seated in the convention from North Plainfield were: William F. Kiely, John T. Case, Frank Mobus and David Bodine; from North Plainfield township, George Mobus; from Warren, Joel Codington and Frank Alberin.

Adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock, but it was some time later than this when the convention reassembled. Candidate Katzenbach was tendered a dinner at the Somerset by the reception committee.

After the noon recess the convention soon got down to business and nominated the following ticket:

For member of Assembly, Frank Allen, of Bernards township; for sheriff, Frank T. Ross, of Bridgewater township; for surrogate, William J. DeMond, of Bridgewater.

There were no contested seats and the majority rule was adopted. The temporary organization was made permanent. Deputy Surrogate George W. Anderson, of Bound Brook, was slated for the Assembly nomination, but the name of Frank Allen was presented and Mr. Anderson withdrew and the nomination of Mr. Allen was made unanimous.

Frank T. Ross was unanimously noted for Sheriff, as was William J. DeMond for surrogate. It was reported early in the day that Mr. DeMond had withdrawn from the race for the nomination for surrogate to succeed himself, and William E. Maxwell was considered a possible [illegible], but on the convention floor Mr. DeMond, at the demand of his friends, let his name go before the convention and was nominated by acclimation, amid the greatest enthusiasm ever seen at a Democratic convention in Somerset county. A. A. Clark opposed his renomination, it is said. North Plainfield stood by him.

After some other business of a minor nature, Candidate Katzenbach appeared and was given a grand reception. He made a splendid speech in which he outlined his position on the questions of importance of the campaign. James E. Martine and Former Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer also spoke. Martine got a great ovation. There was music by the Somerville band, which escorted Mr. Katzenbach to the hall. Great enthusiasm was manifested on all sides for the candidates of the county, all of whom made brief speeches and thanked the delegates for the honor conferred.

Last night Mr. Katzenbach was at Bound Brook, where he addressed a rousing mas meeting in Bound Brook Hall. Assemblyman Joseph B. Tumulty, of Jersey City, and former Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer, of North Plainfield, also spoke.

SYNDICATE LAUNCHES BIG BUILDING BOOM

LOW RENT HOUSES TO BE BUILT AT EARLY DATE.

Extensive improvements are to be started at once by the syndicate which recently purchased the Coward property situated between Tier's lake and the Watchung Silk Company mill. The contract for opening a new street extending from Pearl street and curving around to Chatham street, has been given to David Bowden. He will commence the work immediately.

When the new street is opened the syndicate plans to erect a number of houses. Other houses will also be erected on Chatham street, between the mill and Elm place. An important factor in the subsequent and improvement of this property is that the land along Tier's lake will be laid out in a fine park and made attractive. All trees on the bank of the lake will be saved and the condition of the property on the lake at that point will also be improved.

The character of the houses to be built will be such as to rent for $20 or $25 a month and they will have the improvements. Special pains will be taken to make them attractive and the architecture will enhance the value of the neighborhood as a place of residence. The old house now standing on the north corner of Watchung avenue and Pearl street will be torn down and in its place a fine new dwelling placed there.

Those who compose the syndicate are Henry Liefke, B. Frank Corlell, J. Fred MacDonald, Eugene M. Laing and J. Worth Coddington.

MISS JOSEPHINE JOSEPH NOW MRS. H. M. WOODARD

Announcement was made Saturday the marriage of Miss Josephine E. Joseph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Joseph, of Willow avenue, the borough, and Herbert M. Woodard, of Greenfield, Mass. The ceremony was performed in New York, Thursday night, by Rev. F. E. Stockton, pastor of the Presbyterian church in that city. After the wedding the couple went to Newburg, N. Y., where they have been since that time. They expect to visit the bride's parents in a few days.

The bride is well-known here in a large circle of acquaintances. She has been especially active in church affairs at the Park Avenue Baptist church. The groom is engaged in the real estate business in New York and the trip to Newburg was partly on business and partly as a honeymoon.

JR. O. U. A. M. MEMBERS PRESENT "OAK FARM"

Under the auspices of the Dramatic Club of Plainfield Council, No. 293, Jr. O. U. A. M., "Oak Farm," a rural comedy, was presented at the Casino Friday before an audience that filled the large hall. Considerable time and pains were spent in preparation for the play and it was given in a way that reflected credit on every member of the cast. The costuming and scenic effects were true to life and nothing was wanted to make the evening's entertainment all to be desired.

Charles Mumford played a dual role, "Joel Weatherby," and "Wellington Troy," a traveling salesman; Miss Margaret Bird, as "Sallie Smart," and Miss Tryphena Mattox, as "Cynthia Warner," the village old maid, scored the hits of the evening. The other parts were exceptionally well taken.

The feature of the entertainment was the singing by the village choir, Elmer Cutting, first tenor; Dr. R. Waldo Emerson, second tenor; Dr. W. Kempton Browning, first bass, and Fred S. Cutter, second bass. They were recalled many times.

Will Hold Civil Service Examination.

A civil service examination for positions of clerk and carrier at the local postoffice will be held on November 20. The age limit for these positions is 18 to 45 years. Applicants must be at least five feet four inches in height in bare feet, and 125 pounds in weight; otherwise their applications will be cancelled. Further information can be obtained from Clerk W. B. Sharp at the postoffice.

"Financed."

"Deah me, Miss Mahala, who's de swell gemmen wot don' tuk yo' out walkin'?"

"De gemmen? He's de one what is financed tuh me, Mistah Johnsing."—Baltimore American.

DENTISTS INCORPORATED

The Plainfield Dental Association Files Necessary Legal Papers.

15 CHARTER MEMBERS

Dr. Harlan, of New York, to Read Paper at First Meeting—Dr. Meeker's Valuable Services.

The Plainfield Dental Association is the title of a local organization of dental surgeons who filed papers of incorporation this morning. Their efforts to form a society on a basis similar to the Plainfield Medical Society is largely due to the assistance lent by Dr. Charles Meeker, of Newark. Dr. Meeker is considered the most prominent man in the profession in New Jersey and it is conceded that he has done more for the real advancement of dentistry than any other dental surgeon in the State. Aside from being treasurer and a member of the central executive committee of the New Jersey association, he is one of the leading figures in the National organization. Dr. C. W. S. Holbrook, another conspicuous member of the State organization, co-operated with Dr. Meeker in bringing the local men together.

The incorporators are Drs. F. W. French, Frank T. Clawson, Guy H. Hillman, Charles L. Moore, Charles Westervelt, C. F. Leonard, Charles E. Davis, B. W. Leonard, D. O. Atwood, Raymond Stevens, Otis B. Whitford, William E. Stelle and Frank S. Wells. The date for the election of officers has not been set but it is expected to take place some time next week. As exclusively told in these columns, a preliminary meeting was held last week at which it was decided to incorporate.

Dr. Harlan, of New York, will read a paper at the first regular meeting. It is planned to hold quarterly banquets which will be addressed by leading members of the profession in New York and New Jersey.

SIX ENTERTAINMENTS IN Y. M. C. A. STAR COURSE

BEGIN OCT. 29, FIVE OF THEM ARE MUSICAL COMPANIES.

The entertainments to make up the star course at the Y. M. C. A. during the winter have been decided upon and tickets for the course will be on sale at the association Monday evening. There are to be six entertainments in the course this year, and the only one presented to Plainfield audiences before will be the Lotus Glee Club, of New York. Charles L. Lewis, music instructor at the city high school, is a member of this quartet, which is always well received by Plainfielders. Mrs. Minnie Marshall Smith, reader, will appear with the quartet at the entertainment, which is to be Thanksgiving night.

The course opens with an entertainment by Carman's Italian Boys, a novelty entertainment in the musical line, which will be at the association Tuesday evening, October 29. The Lotus Glee Club will be the next entertainers in the course on November 28, and Monday, December 9, Shungopavi, the illusionist, will be the evening's entertainer. New Year evening, the DeKoven male quartet will give an entertainment, and on the evening of Washington's Birthday, the Lyceum Grand Concert Company will give an entertainment. The final entertainment in the course will be by the Hawthorne Musical Club, and will be held March 9.

It will be seen from this program of entertainments that the majority of them will be of a musical nature. All but the one early in December will be musical. The selection of the entertainments in the course has been made after careful consideration by the association committee, and the entertainments chosen are all of strong attractions.

Typewriters With Words.

A new typewriter will soon be put on the market which will write a complete word at one stroke, says the New York Press. This does not mean that ever word in the language will be printed so easily. Only twenty-two short words, most commonly used in correspondence, have been chosen, and they will be indicated on the keyboard like individual letters.

Anatomy.

The Professor—Some of you gentlemen are not giving me your closest attention. Mr. Biggs, what do you find under the kidneys? Future M. D.—Toast, sir.—Puck.

SEEN AT VANITY FAIR.

A checked skirt trimmed with plain bands of cloth. A coat of the plain cloth borrowed bands of checked material like the skirt for a trimming. A good idea for two pretty remnants.

A bolero coat of pinkish gray seen on a gray costume. The outlines of the lace jacket were trimmed with plain bands of gray. It was sleeveless.

MANY HANDKERCHIEFS FOR THE BRIDE-ELECT

MISS ROBINS SHOWERED WITH LINEN SQUARES.

In honor of Miss Helen Robins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Robins, of Norwood avenue, whose marriage to Francis K. Anderson, of East Second street, will occur on Wednesday, October 30, a handkerchief shower was given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Bessie Bond on East Front street. The affair was arranged by Miss Bond and there were about twenty guests, who generously remembered Miss Robins with a beautiful collection of handkerchiefs.

The approaching wedding will be celebrated at the home of Miss obins' parents on Norwood avenue. Mr. Anderson was formerly on the reportorial staff of the Daily Press and is now city editor of the Evening Times, Elizabeth.

The home was attractively decorated for the occasion, pink and white being the prevailing colors. The arrangement in the dining room was particularly pleasing.

Among those present were Miss Fannie Cahoone, Mrs. Walter Cahoone, Miss Laura Bent, Mrs. Luelus T. Koons, Miss Helen Munro, Miss Edna Long, Miss Helen Berg, Miss Grace Berg, Miss Bessie Ulrich, Miss Beatrice Miner, Miss Pauline Denton, Miss Ada Fountain, Miss Miller, Miss Katherine Lounsbury, Miss Bessie W. Bond and Mrs. George H. Robins, all of this city, and Mrs. R. C. Peabody, of New York.

ANOTHER HOLD-UP AT SCOTCH PLAINS

For the second time within three weeks, Park avenue, between Scotch Plains and Fanwood, was the scene of a daring hold-up Friday night at about 7 o'clock. Edwin Van Hoesen, the son of S. G. Van Hoesen, of Fanwood borough, was attacked by a man near the Episcopal church, while on his way home. The lad, who is a husky fellow, eighteen year of age, is an agent for a magazine for which he had been making collections. He had between two and three dollars in his pockets.

On his way home, he was surprised by a man who jumped out from behind a tree near the church and demanded his money. Entirely surprised by the hold-up, Van Hoesen hesitated and was struck several times about the head and shoulders by a blackjack. The boy was stunned by the blows, and the robber, taking his money with ease, threw away the club and drawing a heavy sheath knife, brandished it in Van Hoesen's face, again demanding money. Van Hoesen started to run, but his assailant grappled with him. In the struggle, Van Hoesen was severely cut about the hands and arms by the knife which the man held. Van Hoesen finally threw the fellow to the ground, and made his escape.

Marshal Logan was at once notified and began a search for Van Hoesen and a party of boroughites for the scene of the hold up. No trace could be found of the man. Van Hoesen could give but a meagre discription of the fellow, which ought to be in the darkest part of the street. He said that the fellow was a young man, medium sized and well built. He had a small mustache.

The discription agrees with that of the highwayman who held up Dora Mitzer, a servant girl employed in the borough, about three weeks ago. The police are on the look-out and the citizens of both village and borough are aroused.

WATER COMMISSION GETS VALUABLE DATA

The Plainfield Water Commission's Engineering Committee Friday night completed the data collected during the past few months. As a result the committee is now able to show the quantity of water pumped and used from the Netherwood wells during each month of the past twelve years. This information is accurate and indisputable.

It is not the purpose of the commission to state facts until they can be proved beyond a doubt and it is largely for this reason that nothing has been made public before. The engineering commission is now at work collecting data as to the relative cost of the local plant when established and what it would cost to replace such a plant today. Although little has been heard concerning the work of the commission or the engineering committee, they have both been busy and it is said that when the final report is made it will be one of the most complete of the kind ever presented.

Danish Wedding Rings.

Girls in Denmark never experience the pleasure of receiving a diamond engagement ring. They are presented with a plain gold band, which is worn on the third finger of the left hand. On the wedding day the bridegroom changes the ring to the right third finger, which is the marriage finger in that country.

TRAVELING MEN'S CLUB

Local Branch of Commercial Travelers Association to be Formed on Nov. 2.

GRAND COUNCIL TOO

General Organization Will Represent Branches In Two States—Plans for a Banquet.

Through the efforts of Frank W. Weed, of the borough, a local branch of the United Commercial Travelers' Association of America will be formed here on Saturday, November 2. The institution will take place in the afternoon in Knights of Columbus Hall. In the evening at the same place a grand council for New Jersey and Delaware will be organized. This will complete the last of the grand councils to be formed, as all of the other States have similar organizations. The entire membership is about 48,000.

The organization has the death benefit, accident insurance and social features combined and is considered one of the strongest of the kind in the country.

These persons will comprise the charter list for the local branch: H. J. Percy, H. P. Hoffman, D. B. Collins, of Westfield; J. D. Brant, of Somerville; Frank W. Weed, J. A. Wilson, J. A. G. Pike, James C. Field, Arthur Organ, A. D. Thompson, Jr., J. E. McClintock, John Lewis, F. H. Coward, Peter Kling, William Jay Owen, William Taylor and Alfred I. Laing.

The grand council to be formed will include Camden, Trenton, Wilmington, Del., Newark and Plainfield. It is expected that a number of the grand officers will be present at the institution of the local branch, as well as the grand council. A banquet will be held in the evening.

BOROUGH SEWERS ARE AGAIN BEING AGITATED

SPECIAL COMMITTEE CIRCULATING PETITION AMONG PROPERTY OWNERS.

Borough Tax Collector George F. Brown, as member of the North Plainfield committee to bring the matter of sewering the borough before the people, has completed a list of tax payers of the borough, together with the location of their property and the amount of their assessment as a step toward the holding of a special election to vote on the question of installing a sewerage system in the borough. In order to legally call an election to vote on the question, it is necessary for the owners of more than half of the assessed value of borough property to sign the petition now in the tax collector's office, and if a sufficient number of property owners sign, the committee will appeal to the borough council for a day to be set aside to vote on the question.

Certain members of the sewer committee appointed after the dissolution of the committee of fifty, are agitating the matter of sewering the borough, and in order to bring the matter to a head, its members are circulating copies of the petition among the property owners across the brook. The committee consists of Ex-Councilman Charles A. Lee, William G. Debele, George P. Brown, A. E. Kenney and J. V. E. Vandeventer. Considerable of the list have been made, and the committee will shortly hold a meeting at which time each member will take upon himself the work of seeing a certain number of the largest property owners for the purpose of securing their signatures to the petition for special election. In this way the work will be completed most quickly and it is possible that the election will be held November 5.

INDUSTRIAL ITEMS.

The manufacture of glass in Canada is a waxing industry.

The average depth of British coal mines is 800 feet. Four thousand feet is the limit of practical mining.

There are affiliated to the American Federation of Labor 118 international trades unions with more than 27,000 local unions, 36 state federations, 537 city central bodies and 650 local trade and federal labor unions having no international bodies.

Days Market Building.

Fred Day, the sea food dealer, has purchased the building occupied by him on West Second street. The building in its original state formerly stood on Park avenue, where the Stirling building is now located, and was occupied by Charles Schanz. It was afterward purchased by Charles W. McCutchen, who erected the Stirling, and removed to its present location on West Second street, where it was thoroughly remodeled and improved.

Will Move to Central Avenue.

H. B. Hibbard, 116 East Fifth street, has purchased the house at 432 Central avenue, owned by Mrs. Anna R. Rhoades, wife of Gilbert T. Rhoades. He will take possession about December 1.

USED RAZOR AS WEAPON

Italian Youth Swung Blade When Adversary's Friends Pounced Upon Him.

LEADER BADLY GASHED

George Schuck, Who Fighted Leonardo Russo to Fight, Cut in the Arm and Leg.

George Schuck and Leonardo Russo, two young men employed at the Pond Tool Works, became engaged in a quarrel while at work yesterday afternoon, and in order to settle their differences, went over into North Plainfield for a fight. They selected a spot on West End avenue and were about to square up when a friend of Schuck's, one of several who had trailed behind, struck Russo from the rear. He was knocked down and was getting kicks and cuffs from all sides when he drew a razor to ward off his assailants.

Schuck happened to be the nearest to him and the blade was drawn across his right leg, cutting a gash eight inches long. Another slash inflicted a long slit in his arm and with cries of fright Schuck and his companions sprang back. Russo ran back into Plainfield with his victim's friends after him and he took refuge in the bakery shop at West Front street residence. The occupant drove off his pursuers and in response to a telephone call, Detective-Sergeant John Flynn was hurried to the scene.

Schuck's wounds were severe and he was removed to his home on New street after Dr. J. K. Brennan had attended him. Russo was locked up at police headquarters but as the cutting had taken place in North Plainfield he was turned over to the authorities there this morning. When first questioned he denied using a razor but the blade was found in the basement where he had taken refuge.

Russo is a young Italian and very much smaller than Schuck. His testimony that several of his fellow-employes at Pond's have made it a practice to pick upon him, Schuck in particular, has been corroborated. It was also made plain that he was given no opportunity to settle in a fair way his difference with Schuck and his wielding the razor was his only recourse to escape a bad beating.

MRS. JOHN GERKEN TO SELL FAMOUS HORSES

WILL RETIRE FROM SHOW RING TO TAKE EUROPEAN TRIP.

Mrs. John Gerken, the owner of Gerkendale Farm, Gravesend, L. I., and well known to local horse exhibitors, has decided to sell her stable of high class harness horses. The announcement was made Wednesday the statement that Mrs. Gerken has planned an extended tour of Europe and will retire from the show ring, temporarily, at least. The sale will not take place until after the National exhibition in Madison Square Garden next month.

The list of horses to go under the hammer includes many blue ribbon winners. Newsboy, probably the biggest blue ribboner in all Horse Show annals, and a favorite at Plainfield's first and second shows, heads the list. This gelding is credited with over one hundred first prizes, and has so seldom been beaten that his had been practically an unbroken chain of victories from the time, now nearly seven years ago, when Mrs. Gerken picked him up in Atlantic City, an unknown, with possibilities which no one saw, for $600. In the Brockton show last week Newsboy took the championship from all comers, beating among others Judge W. H. Moore's new horse, Pride o' Prides, and Reginald G. Vanderbilt's beautiful little mare, Marie Tempest. Mrs. Gerken has several times received offers of $10,000 for this gelding, but she would never consider selling him.

In addition to Newsboy there are to be sold—these being the most famous horses of the sale—Newsboy's harness mate, Sphogirl, which is scarcely a less noted harness horse; Brandon and Belmar, the famous pony Doncaster Model, and the other ponies, Torchlight and Cocksparrow and the saddlers Mayo, Rosewood and Surprise. These form the nucleus of a stable scarcely equaled in the United States.

Will Give Three Recitals.

A series of three piano and violin recitals will be given by Miss Caroline Beebe and Mons. Edouard Debeir on the following dates and places: Friday, October 25, Mrs. George P. Mellick, East Seventh street; Friday, November 8, Mrs. J. Edgar Corlies, Road Ending; Friday, November 22, Mrs. J. B. Dumont, Stelle avenue. The patronesses for the recitals are Mrs. E. L. Booth, Mrs. J. P. Stevens, Mrs. H. L. Mount Forest, Mrs. J. B. Dumont, Miss Susan Corey, Mrs. George P. Mellick, Miss Mary C. Hubbell, Mrs. A. H. Atterbury and Miss Maud VanBoskerck.

FATHER BOGAN'S SPEECH

Priest Tells Young Men That Principles Should Actuate Organizations.

PRESIDENT'S REGRETS

Mr. Roosevelt Regrets Inability to Attend Catholic Young Men's Convention.

Father Bernard M. Bogan, pastor of St. Mary's church, was one of the speakers at the meeting of the Catholic Young Men's National Union, held in the Lyceum of St. Patrick's Parish, Elizabeth, Wednesday. His subject was "Principles Should Actuate Organizations As Individuals."

In the treatment of the subject Father Bogan said that as individuals the conscience should be a help and a guide in organization work. He contended that if the individual permitted the conscience to direct the action, a large and strong organization would result, and it would be a power for all that is good and right. He also dwelt on the spirit of heroism and made personal application by adding that he hoped the Union would ever be composed of heroic men so that the organization would be an uplifting power in every community.

There were several other prominent speakers and the session was concluded with a banquet. The most important business at the session yesterday was the acceptance of the report of the special committee on the revision of the constitution and by-laws, appointed at the convention a year ago. A prolonged discussion took place at its height when adjournment was taken for lunch.

During the day a message was received from President Roosevelt regretting his inability to attend the convention.

FRANKLIN COUNCIL'S 20TH ANNIVERSARY

JR. O. U. A. M. MEMBERS HAVE A BIG TIME.

Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., celebrated its twentieth anniversary in Junior Hall, last night, in an informal way. There were guests from Plainfield, Somerset and Benevolent Councils, Jr. O. U. A. M., who enjoyed a program presented by a trio of professionals from New York. The numbers included impersonations and selections, rendering all kinds of musical instruments.

A feature of the evening was a short patriotic address by Rev. E. E. Roberson, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church. He congratulated Franklin Council on its twenty years of success in promoting the cardinal principles of the order. After the program refreshments were served under the direction of the good and welfare committee of which Roy DeCamp is chairman.

Franklin Council was instituted on October 6, 1887 with a charter membership of nearly fifty. Today the membership is 357 and is constantly increasing. One new member was elected last night and several propositions will be received at the next meeting. The council has been very successful financially and otherwise and is today the oldest among the councils of that order in the city.

VEGETABLES AS MEDICINE.

Watercress is an excellent blood purifier.

Tomatoes are good for a torpid liver, but should be avoided by gouty people.

Lettuce has a soothing effect on the nerves and is excellent for sufferers from insomnia. It also acts as a sedative upon the human frame owing to the opium it contains.

Celery is a nerve tonic; so are onions.

Spinach has great aperient qualities, and is far better than medicine for sufferers from constipation.

Beets are fattening and good for people who want to put on flesh; so are potatoes.

Asparagus stimulates the kidneys.

Bananas are beneficial to sufferers from chest complaints.

Cranberries are stringent and correct the liver when it is suffering from inaction caused by overeating.

Cabbage is good for pulmonary complaints.

Dates are exceedingly nourishing, and also prevent constipation.

RICE AND TOMATOES.

First cook the tomatoes in a granite stew pan in which there is enough butter to season. When done add one cup of cooked rice and season with salt and pepper. Now add a mix with one cup of cream and serve at once. To avoid cream from curdling when used with tomatoes, it is advisable to first heat the cream in a double boiler.

JOINS THE MILLIONAIRES

F. S. Ruttmann, a Local High School Graduate, Digs Up Wealth in Mexico.

HE HAS THE TIN

Owns Only Mine on the Continent and Will Get $6850 a Ton for His Metal—Tells of His Fortune.

Private letters received from Mexico indicate that Ferdinand S. Ruttmann, a graduate of the Plainfield High School in the class of 1872, and who later graduated at the Columbia College School of Mines in the class of 1880, has become a millionaire. He has been in Mexico for the last eight years, except for a few visits to his old home, and for two years he has not ventured north.

The reason for Mr. Ruttmann's long absence became known yesterday, when advices were received telling the story of his explorations in Mexico and his discovery of mines that have already made him a millionaire.

Mr. Ruttmann, who is one of the prominent mining engineers of the country, being a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, and of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, was left with a modest fortune on the death of his father, who was a successful New York merchant. His bent of genius was toward useful discovery, and his professional education in New York's famous technica l institution gave him added incentive to pursue it, while his comfortable financial status afforded him the opportunity to go ahead with the drawbacks that come to equally ambitious but less fortunate prospectors.

In starting out Mr. Ruttmann found that the mountain ranges of the United States had been well exploited. There were all kinds of mines in operation almost everywhere in the country where there was a chance to operate a mine. He decided to look further and sought nearby Mexico as a field for his operations. Mexico is a sealed book to most Americans, and even enthusiastic prospectors and engineers have hesitated to penetrate this land of ancient Spanish influence and hidden treasures of which there are so many legends. The difficulty of exploration, the physical hardships that would have to be overcome were more attractive than deterrent to the Columbia College man. With him he associated Edmund J. Evans, a Pittsburg man, who will share with him in the honor of being one of the two tin kings of the country—and with tin at $675 to $850 a ton and coal at $6 a ton it can readily be seen that being a tin king is better than being a coal king, especially as the supply of coal kings is much larger than the possible output of tin operators.

With his associate he has acquired control of a large section of mining territory in the State of Durango, and in the State of Zacatecas, which is just south of Durango. There are about twenty mines which are rich in copper, silver and lead in the territory, but of all of them Mr. Ruttman attaches more importance to the tin mine. His reason is in a way sentimental. There is only one other tin mine in the Western Hemisphere that is commercially workable. That mine is in Bolivia, South America. Its ore assays for very much less than the Mexican discovery, which yields from 20 to 40 per cent metallic tin right along, and is producing some specimens that run up to 60 per cent. The Bolivian percentage so far obtained is 20, and the famous Cornwall mines only show about 1 per cent. It is a question with mining engineers whether this tin mine will not be the greatest in the world, as it is now the greatest in the American.

The effect commercially will be to give Americans supremacy in the tin market. This country's manufacturers are now dependent on foreign sources of supply, except for some small quantities that come from Alaska. There is no import duty on the commodity, so that except for the longer haul on the railroads the discovery is of as much importance to the tin plate industry as if the mine had been discovered within the confines of the United States.

At present the tin used by American manufacturers is imported from England, Australia and the United East Indies. The permanence of supply, the possibility of "corners" and the increasing demand for tinware have all contributed to worry the tin plate manufacturing. The discovery is an adequate supply of the most valuable of the non-precious metals within reasonable reach and controlled by Americans will do much to relieve that anxiety, especially as the discovery was made by an engineer who is already established with his financial condition and who would not be likely to disturb trade conditions.

In one of his letters, Mr Ruttmann explains his silence. It is a personal letter to a Princeton College man who was a classmate with him in the Columbia School of Mines. Briefly, when he had penetrated the wilderness of Mexico and found what he sought he kept his own counsel until he had made absolutely sure that his efforts had been successful. He has gone so far with the tin project now that the pig metal will soon be in the market for sale. "Just," as he remarks, "as a farmer would offer his products." There will be no stock company exploitations and no notoriety or publicity if Mr. Ruttmann can avoid it.

In this letter he says that as there is no longer any reason for keeping the secret as to his discovery he presumes it will become public and authorizes the recipient of the letter to make public the statement that it will be useless for others to invade the region in which he has prospected, as he has held the secret until he could arrange so there would be no competitors digging into his veins or starting litigations or doing other things that have at times made mining a source of trouble in Montana and other mining States.

Mexican miners get $1 a day, or 50 cents American money, which will hardly tempt residents of the United States. There is practically nothing else in the Durango wilderness for Americans, who are good at anything, but he feels that this fact ought to be made prominent in anything that may be published about his discovery.

This is an extract from one of the new tin millionaire's letters:

"My long tour of engineering duty does not seem to have been without result. As you know, I came to Mexico to find gold and silver, but I have discovered something quite as good in a way. Outside of Alaska, which is only accessible part of the year, there is no tin to be found in the United States. One of the mineral properties which I have discovered yields an assay from 20 to 40 per cent. metallic tin, while the average ore from Cornwall is only 1 per cent. and that is one of the chief sources of supply for the American tin plate industry. Some pieces of ore have have assayed as high as 60 per cent., but the lowest is so much higher than other mines produce that this one is undoubtedly a bonanza.

"It may interest you to know that the ore occurs as cassiterite, and the hitherto rare mineral durangite is quite plentiful in the ore, while the latter, having been named after the State in the convention, where Stephen H. Higham, chairman of the committee on credentials, reported that the credentials were correct and there were no contests. The endorsements throughout were unanimous. Edwards, the six delegates of the First and the nine of the Fourth, being the regulars, and the six from the Second and the six from the Third representing the New Idea faction.

Previous to the meeting there was a gathering of politicians of both factions at the Casino, the regulars confident of their power and the New Ideas planning for a challenge of credentials under the leadership of G. W. V. Moy. City Chairman W. S. Angleman called the meeting to order at shortly after 8 o'clock. Judge W. P. Codington was elected to the chair, Frank Sloan was made convention secretary and read the formal call. On the motion of Howard C. Tracy, the chairman appointed Stephen H. Higham, A. W. Matthews, Amos Andrews and C. W. Runyon as a committee to investigate the credentials of the delegates, and Mr. Tracy, Dr. H. H. Lowrie, Alvah Carey, David B. Martin and John Carty as a committee to frame rules for conducting the convention. Upon the report of these committees, Judge Codington was elected permanent chairman, Clarence Goss and Boardman Tyler appointed to assist the secretary and the making of the check list were begun.

According to the committee's rule that the nominations be by wards, Amos Andrews, as chairman of the first district, First ward, nominated Charles Randolph and Francis L. Montgomery as candidates for Council and the choice was endorsed by the entire delegation. Mr. Tracy, of the first district, Second ward nominated R. Henry Depew, the second district endorsing him. In a somewhat lengthy speech, in which he said he favored home rule in the choice of candidates by the voters in the ward from which the nomination was made, George W. V. Moy, of the first district, Third ward, nominated Duncan W. Taylor, in opposition to Mr. Randolph, from the same ward. Stephen Higham seconded the nomination in behalf of the second district. Chairman A. W. Matthews of the first district, Fourth ward, nominated Harry B. Suydam for councilmanic candidate, and the other districts had no nominations. When the voting was done by calling the roll by wards, the chairman of the First and Fourth wards together cast their fifteen votes for Messrs. Randolph, Montgomery and Suydam, while the Second and Fourth wards supported Messrs. Taylor and Depew with their twelve votes.

In the naming of a candidate for City Treasurer, Amos Andrews announced when called on for a nomination that the First ward would give way to the Second ward. Mr. Tracy then nominated William F. Arnold, whose candidacy was endorsed by the entire convention and for whom the chairman cast a formal ballot of endorsement. The nomination for city judge, the regulars again "gave way" and Mr. Tracy for the New Idea faction named Judge William N. Runyon for re-election. The nomination was formally voted on by wards, receiving unanimous endorsement. Leander N. Lovell was nominated as New Idea candidate for member of the Board of Education by William Taylor. The regulars named no candidate and the nomination was ratified by formal vote.

Previous to adjournment, Judge Codington appointed Amos Andrews, Howard Tracy, Stephen Higham and C. W. Runyon as a committee to fill vacancies which might occur before election. This was on motion of Mr. Andrews that one member of the committee be chosen from each ward.

DEATH ENDS CAREER OF "UNCLE JOHN" TINGLEY

WELL KNOWN DUNELLEN RESIDENT DIED AT HIS HOME TODAY.

John T. Tingley, better known for a radius of twenty-five miles about Plainfield as "Uncle John," died Thursday at his home in Dunellen. He had been ill for several months past and there were several times when it was thought he could live but a few hours. For the last few days he had been sinking slowly and the end came early this morning. Peritonitis is ascribed as the cause of death.

"Uncle John," as everybody, both young and old, called him, was born at Dunellen seventy years ago and was the son of Joseph Tingley, an old Piscataway settler. He learned the butcher's trade when a youth and at one time conducted a market on West Front street, in later years known as the Coriell place. Retiring from this line of business, he took up market gardening at the Dunellen homestead and continued it successfully until his health failed. Since then he had visited all the markets in Plainfield, Elizabeth, New Brunswick and other places at regular intervals, to file the saws and other implements. His coming was always awaited with pleasure as he kept up a continual flow of witticisms while at work and was never at a loss for a new story.

He leaves a wife and two sons, Ulysses D. Tingley, of Pitsburg, and John Tingley, of Bound Brook; also three daughters, Mrs. William Clawson, of South Plainfield; Mrs. Elmer GaNun, of North Plainfield, and Mrs. Jacob Byers, of South Bound Brook. Mr. Tingley and his wife celebrated their golden wedding a short time ago.

The funeral will be held at the late home, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Lecture on Egypt.

Wednesday night, October 23, Dr. Charles E. Moldenke, the well known Egyptologist, will deliver his third lecture on Egypt for the benefit of St. Peter's Lutheran church on Groye street. This will conclude his discourses on the land of the Pharaohs. The lecture will be illustrated with some of his photographs. The theme is: "In upper Egypt and Nubia, from Thebes to Wady Halfa."

The Somali Soldier.

The Somali soldier keeps himself in perfect fighting condition on a diet of nuts. He eats only twenty a day, but they are nuts of a very nourishing kind.

REPUBLICANS NOMINATE

Montgomery, Suydam and Randolph for Councilmen-at-large, Vote 15 to 12

REGULARS TRIUMPH

New Idea Tries in Vain to Get Control—Organization Solid for Runyon and Lovell, Renominated.

An attempt on the part of the New Idea faction to overthrow the 15 to 12 majority of the regulars by the disqualification of two or three of their delegates proved unsuccessful, and the regulars' ticket was ratified by the party at the Republican City Convention held Thursday. The fight made by the candidates for councilmen-at-large, and the names of Francis L. Montgomery, of the Second ward; Charles Randolph, of the Third ward, and Harry B. Suydam, of the Fourth ward, as the choice of the regulars, appear on the ticket where the New Idea faction would have had R. Henry Depew, of the Second ward, and Duncan W. Taylor, of the Third ward. William N. Runyon, for city judge, William F. Arnold, for city treasurer, and Leander N. Lovell, for member of the Board of Education, received the unanimous endorsement of both factions.

The attempt to secure the balance of power as conceived by the New Idea delegates was based on a legal technicality. It was alleged that in several cases where proxies appeared for the elected delegates among the regulars, the legal method of electing the proxy by vote of the citizens of the district had not been employed, but that the original delegate had appointed his own proxy. But the last home of the New Idea faction to name councilmanic candidates was last early in the convention, where Stephen H. Higham, chairman of the committee on credentials, reported that the credentials were correct and there were no contests. The endorsements throughout were unanimous, the six delegates of the First and the nine of the Fourth, being the regulars, and the six from the Second and the six from the Third representing the New Idea faction.

Previous to the meeting there was a gathering of politicians of both factions at the Casino, the regulars confident of their power and the New Ideas planning for a challenge of credentials under the leadership of G. W. V. Moy. City Chairman W. S. Angleman called the meeting to order at shortly after 8 o'clock. Judge W. P. Codington was elected to the chair, Frank Sloan was made convention secretary and read the formal call. On the motion of Howard C. Tracy, the chairman appointed Stephen H. Higham, A. W. Matthews, Amos Andrews and C. W. Runyon as a committee to investigate the credentials of the delegates, and Mr. Tracy, Dr. H. H. Lowrie, Alvah Carey, David B. Martin and John Carty as a committee to frame rules for conducting the convention. Upon the report of these committees, Judge Codington was elected permanent chairman, Clarence Goss and Boardman Tyler appointed to assist the secretary and the making of the check list were begun.

According to the committee's rule that the nominations be by wards, Amos Andrews, as chairman of the first district, First ward, nominated Charles Randolph and Francis L. Montgomery as candidates for Council and the choice was endorsed by the entire delegation. Mr. Tracy, of the first district, Second ward nominated R. Henry Depew, the second district endorsing him. In a somewhat lengthy speech, in which he said he favored home rule in the choice of candidates by the voters in the ward from which the nomination was made, George W. V. Moy, of the first district, Third ward, nominated Duncan W. Taylor, in opposition to Mr. Randolph, from the same ward. Stephen Higham seconded the nomination in behalf of the second district. Chairman A. W. Matthews of the first district, Fourth ward, nominated Harry B. Suydam for councilmanic candidate, and the other districts had no nominations. When the voting was done by calling the roll by wards, the chairman of the First and Fourth wards together cast their fifteen votes for Messrs. Randolph, Montgomery and Suydam, while the Second and Fourth wards supported Messrs. Taylor and Depew with their twelve votes.

In the naming of a candidate for City Treasurer, Amos Andrews announced when called on for a nomination that the First ward would give way to the Second ward. Mr. Tracy then nominated William F. Arnold, whose candidacy was endorsed by the entire convention and for whom the chairman cast a formal ballot of endorsement. The nomination for city judge, the regulars again "gave way" and Mr. Tracy for the New Idea faction named Judge William N. Runyon for re-election. The nomination was formally voted on by wards, receiving unanimous endorsement. Leander N. Lovell was nominated as New Idea candidate for member of the Board of Education by William Taylor. The regulars named no candidate and the nomination was ratified by formal vote.

Previous to adjournment, Judge Codington appointed Amos Andrews, Howard Tracy, Stephen Higham and C. W. Runyon as a committee to fill vacancies which might occur before election. This was on motion of Mr. Andrews that one member of the committee be chosen from each ward.

PLANS FOR PLAYGROUND

Landscape Artist Inspects Site for City's Proposed Park.

MRS. MALI AT WORK

President of Improvement Association Originates Idea—Mr. Brinley Favorably Impressed.

Plainfield's small boy will have a playground if the plans of the city authorities do not miscarry. The scheme is now being considered to convert the city's unused grounds in the West End into a recreation park for the youngsters. The tract to be improved for this purpose includes the North Plainfield bridge, William street and Rock avenue, having a frontage of 400 feet and running back to the brook. It is opposite the poor farm and septic beds. The plans include the removal of the isolation hospital to another locality for it is proposed to improve the entire tract on the side of the street where it stands.

In company with Mayor C. J. Fisk, who is said to be in hearty favor of the idea, John B. Brinley, of New York, a member of the firm of Brinley & Holbrook, landscape artists, visited the site this morning. When seen by a Daily Press reporter later, Mr. Brinley was enthusiastic over the scheme. He said that he would make an ideal spot for such a park and its improvements could be brought about at a reasonable expense. Mr. Brinley's ability as a landscape artist is to be seen at the Bronx Botanical Gardens in New York, which he laid out.

Mrs. Pierre Mali, president of the Plainfield-North Plainfield Town Improvement Association, originated the idea and is its warmest advocate. She says that for a long time there has been great need of a place for boys to play and that the present condition of the proposed site is a disgrace to the city. If improved in the manner she suggests it will prove a pleasing sight to one who enters the city's limits from the west.

The proposition will be considered by the Common Council at an early date.

ACKERMAN'S MEASURE IS PASSED BY SENATE

CIVIL SERVICE BILL GETS A SOLID VOTE.

The New Jersey State Senate this afternoon passed the Ackerman Civil Service bill. The vote was unanimous. Senator Colby made a ringing speech in favor of the Union county statesman's measure and the Democrats were solid for it. The bill now goes to the House.

In presenting his bill, Senator Ackerman said incidently that on two previous occasions civil service bills had been passed during the present session by the Senate but that they had been killed in the House. He says that the emblymen credit for defeating the legislation purely on its merits. The new bill, he said, embodied the features of the Colby, Thompson and Hillery bills and had been carefully prepared after consultations with recognized authorities and after studying the provisions of other similar measures in force elsewhere. He believed that the House would give the new bill the utmost consideration and added that it was up to the Senate to fulfill its obligation to the people by using every endeavor to get a civil service bill on the statute books.

Church Delegates Coming.

Rev. Walter Roe and Rev. Frank Wright, the latter an Indian, representing the Reformed church in the Indian work in Oklahoma and the Indian territory, will make a visit to Plainfield and they have arranged to speak in Trinity Reformed church on Wednesday night, October 30. They will no doubt meet a large audience and in return they will speak entertainingly of the good work among the Indians.

Old Resident Returns.

William F. Preston, who twenty years ago resided on Seventh street, near Monroe avenue, and who has ever since been abroad, returned to this city on Wednesday to visit friends. Mr. Preston has been practicing law in Paris for several years and is coming to Somerville his offices to New York. His father was at one time president of the New York Produce Exchange.

Wanted Too Much.

The first discoverer of gold in California made very little out of it. He insisted on keeping everybody out and claimed all, but got comparatively nothing.

WEDS NEW YORK LAWYER

Miss Euphemia J. Johnson the Bride of William Whitwell Robison.

MANY FRIENDS PRESENT

Rev. Dr. A. T. Atterbury, of New York, Officiates—Bride a Daughter of Alexander Johnson.

Miss Euphemia J. Johnson, daughter of Alexander Johnson, of Grant avenue, and William Whitwell Robison, of New Rochelle, N. Y., were married at 7 o'clock Thursday at the home of the bride's father in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends from New York, New Rochelle, Nyack, N. Y., and this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Anson T. Atterbury, pastor of the Park Presbyterian church, New York.

The bride was gowned in white satin, trimmed with real lace. She also wore a tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of roses. She was attended by Miss Lillian McCabe, of New York, as maid of honor, who wore a gown of pink messaline, trimmed with gold lace. She carried white chrysanthemums. Miss Dorothea Hall, of New York, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of white silk and carried a basket of flowers. The best man was Charles D. Robison, of New York, a brother of the groom, and the ushers were Clark M. Spoor, of New Rochelle, and Herbert M. Johnson, a brother of the bride.

An effective and pleasing part of the affair was a vocal duet by Miss Louise St. Cornelius and Miss Ruth Hopkins, contralto soloist at St. Bartholemew's church, New York. They sang a selection entitled "Love," just previous to the playing of the wedding march by Prof. Suhr's orchestra. The party remained seated in waiting until after the singing and then as the wedding march was being played entered the parlor, where the ceremony was performed. The ushers led the way, followed by the flower girl, maid of honor and the bride, accompanied by her father, who gave her in marriage. The groom and best man entered from another room, all meeting the officiating clergyman in the parlor.

Following the ceremony the couple received the congratulations of the guests and then supper was served. Later the couple left on a wedding journey, and upon their return they will reside on Grant avenue with the bride's father.

The home was attractively decorated for the wedding, there being a profusion of pink and white chrysanthemums. These were used with good effect in the parlor, the reception hall, while in the dining room the table was garnished with roses.

The bride received a wealth of wedding gifts, including silverware, cut-glass, furniture, linen and many other articles. She has been a resident of this city but a comparatively short time, moving here from the metropolis. The groom is engaged in the practice of law in New York. He was graduated from Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y., in the Class of 1900, and from the New York Law School, Class 1902.

UPPER COURT SUSTAINS SQUIRE CLARK MUNDY

Judge Schenck sat in the Quarter Sessions Court at Somerville yesterday afternoon, hearing one case and postponing two others until a later date.

The case tried was that of the State against James Gunn and was an appeal from Justice Clark Mundy's court. The defendant lives at Watchung in North Plainfield township and was "jacked" up before Justice Mundy some time ago on a charge of allowing a hunting dog to run loose during the close season for taking game, but Justice Mundy refused to impose the usual fine of $20, deeming the evidence not sufficient to convict.

The case was carried up by the State and the appeal was tried yesterday afternoon. Codington & Backhamer, of Plainfield, represented the defendant and Mr. McGee appeared in behalf of the Attorney General's office.

Mr. Gunn admitted that his dog had run loose a short time during the closed season, but he declared through no fault of his. He declared that before he went away from home for a day he had tied his dog up securely, but in some way it had broken loose and run at large. Then when he got home he had caught the dog and locked it fast in the hog pen. Another witness corroborated the defence, saying that he had seen the dog securely tied the day before it was found running at large.

In his decision Judge Schenck sustained Justice Mundy. Judge Schenck said the defendant was not to blame, as far as he could see, for the dog's breaking loose. He had taken every precaution when he went away by tying the dog fast. Therefore Judge Schenck refused to impose the $20 fine.

LEGISLATURE ENDS WORK

House Kills the Senate's Public Utility and Civil Service Measures.

FOR DIRECT PRIMARIES

Popular Choice of United States Senators Heretofore—Ackerman Active.

By a unanimous vote of 19, the Senate at Trenton Friday fulfilled one of the platform pledges of the Republican and Democratic parties in the State by passing the civil service commission act introduced by Senator Ackerman.

The measure provides for three commissioners, and Governor Stokes announced when the measure was before the last session that when it passed he would name James Kerney, of Trenton; Edward W. Gray, of Newark, and the Rev. Adolph Roeder, of Orange, the commissioners, at $3,000 yearly salaries and $500 for traveling expenses a year.

No employes of the State now in office will be required to pass examinations before the commission, and the act is not effective in county and municipal affairs until the voters of the county or the municipality shall have accepted it at a regular election.

The House defeated the civil service bill. It was amended in the House by making the commission elective whice instead of taking the question from politics would have had the opposite result. On the vote in the House the bill was beaten.

A conference between the Senate and the House was held on the Public Utilities Bill. It was agreed to abolish the Railroad Commission. It was agreed to abolish grade crossings. The Senate agreed to the report of the conference committee. Senator Colby voting in the negative because the Senate had rejected a rate making amendment.

The House refused to abide by the report of the Conference Committee. It amended the act with a rate making section but on final passage the bill was defeated in the House because the Democratic could not control a majority to pass the measure.

Popular Senatorial Election.

The bill providing for election of United States Senators by the people was passed by both houses. The measure provides that candidates shall be at the party primaries and does away with the objectionable feature of making it necessary for a Democratic legislator voting for a Republican or the reverse.

Senator Avis offered an amendment requiring the head physicians of State institutions be added to those to take the examinations before being eligible to office, which was adopted.

Referendum Clause Remains.

Senator Colby vanted the act applied to all municipalities, and said that the necessary petitional parties were pledged to it, but the referendum clause remained untouched.

Senator Silzer wanted the appropriation for the commission cut from $26,000 to $15,000, but he was the only man supporting that proposition.

Governor Stokes sent to the Senate a message to the effect that there existed no money for putting into effect the law calling that persons convicted to death in this state for murder should be electrocuted. The executive asked that the Legislature immediately provide cash for carrying out court sentences.

In the morning the Hahn house committee met and arranged for a continuance of the investigation of Morris Plains Asylum next Monday. The Senate Investigating committee, Senator Bradley said, would go out again as soon as a surveyor made surveys of the Paterson plank road.

Direct Primaries Act Wins.

The House passed the direct primaries act after first eliminating the office of Governor and members of Congress.

Vice Chancellor Bergen was confirmed a justice of the Supreme Court.

Y. W. C. A. Gym Work.

Many of those registered for the gymnasium classes at the Y. W. C. A. met at the association Thursday night for a physical examination by Dr. Francis DuBois. Navy blue has been decided upon as the color of the gymnasium suits for the class, and several spent part of the evening working on their suits. Classes will be held Monday, Tuesday and Friday evenings. Thursday evening is to be reserved for special practice time, with possible basket ball games and indoor baseball.

Miss Williams to Wed.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Eleanor Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Williams, of West Seventh street, and G. Harry O'Donnell, of Newton, Sussex county. The ceremony will take place at Trueil Hall, on Friday, November 1. The groom is a recent graduate of Princeton College, and the bride is a favorite in local society.

An Unfortunate Interruption.

"George was just goin to propose to me last night."

"And what happened?"

"A tire blew up, and then he couldn't think of anything else."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ARCANUMITES CELEBRATE

Banquet at Truell Hall Marks 25th Anniversary of Plainfield Council.

STATE OFFICERS TALK

Ringing Speeches Follow Fine Dinner—Big Crowd On Hand to Join In Demonstration.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary, last night, at Truell Hall, with a banquet and speeches by several grand lodge officers, including Grand Regent Harry R. Ward, of Jersey City. The success of the council was reviewed with considerable pride, the organization being one of the oldest and most progressive in the New Jersey jurisdiction. It was noted that notwithstanding the trouble incident to the raising of the rates, the council had lost but a few members and since then it has been increasing.

The members held a short meeting in the council room, after which they adjourned to Truell Hall, where under the direction of J. H. Truell an excellent dinner was served. The dining hall was elaborately decorated with Royal Arcanum colors, purple, red and gold. The hour being late when the dinner started, it was necessary to limit the speech making before it was concluded to allow the grand lodge officers to get away in time.

The grand lodge officers present were Grand Regent Harry R. Ward, of Jersey City; Vice-Grand Regent C. B. Colgate, of Bayonne; Grand Secretary W. C. McKeever, of Rutherford; Grand Guide Samuel Drummond, of Bound Brook; Grand Secretary R. H. Alberts, of Hoboken; chairman state of the order, R. P. Van Zandt, of Jersey City; Supervising Deputy N. H. Regar, of Jersey City; Supreme Representatives J. D. Beach, of Bayonne and Daniel S. Horton, of Somerville. Each one was called upon to say a few words which they did and Plainfield Council was congratulated heartily for the showing it has made in the past quarter of a century. Regent William R. Townsend, of Plainfield Council, was toastmaster of the evening and he did not lack a speech his witticism in introducing the others was enjoyed.

Perhaps, the most interesting part of the speech-making was the historical sketch of Plainfield Council given by Grand Secretary R. H. Alberts. He stated that the council was instituted October 4, 1882, in Knights of Pythias Hall, by Past Grand Regent E. B. McDowell. The charter list numbered twenty-five which was increased to thirty-one within three months. The total receipts during the first three months amounted to $207, from which $100 was expended for the charter, $45.96 for current expenses, $29 for benefits, a total of $170.96, leaving a balance of $29.51. The sum of $95.78 was paid into the women's and orphans' beneficial fund.

The first secretary of the council was David Ward, who has remained a member for twenty-three years. Since institution the council has paid into the widow's and orphans' fund the sum of $126,570.98. There have been forty deaths and 187 members have been suspended. Thirty-two members have withdrawn to join other councils and there was one final withdrawal. One member was expelled.

Mr. Alberts said that although the order lost 70,000 members when the rates were increased, today the membership is 241,000 and $100,000 is being paid in every month into the fund, for widows and orphans. Mr. Alberts after giving the sketch of the council dwelt somewhat on the carnoinal principles of the order and urged every member to stand loyally by it and do all in their power to increase the membership.

Following the speeches by the grand lodge officers, a short address was made by Rev. Edward Love, one of the older members. During the banquet each guest received a souvenir in the shape of a metal ash tray bearing the Arcanum and colors of the order. The affair was a success in every detail, which was largely due to the efforts of the committee in charge, consisting of Armstrong Guilford, Wm. Beaton, W. Lowry and Fred'k J. Pope.

Prior to the banquet an informal reception was held in the ball room, when an opportunity was given the members to meet the grand lodge officers. Fred'k J. Pope also favored the guests with several baritone solos. At the conclusion of the banquet many remained for a social half-hour.

Costly Monotony in Dress.

Our clothes are all alike, and this monotony has led to unlimited extravagances. What has not bee done to make the eternal pinafore frock look original? New elaborations are invented daily, each one more expensive than the last, but nobody is deceived. It is still the old pinafore, only a little madder, a little dearer, every day.—London Graphic.

Used Up.

Digby—How long did it take you to learn to run a motor car? Skorcher—Oh, five or six. Digby—Five or six what—weeks? Skorcher—No: motor cars.—Catholic Standard and Times.

The Costitutionalist.

A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY

Published a-

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Terms: $2.00 per year.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1907.

OUR SENATORS.

After holding the longest session on record and staying up all night to complete its arduous duties, New Jersey's State Legislature adjourned at 3.22 Saturday morning when the 415th anniversary of the discovery of America had been hallowed in. During the memorable sessions, Union county played an important role in shaping legislation. It fell to the lot of Ernest R. Ackerman, the representative of Union in the Upper House, for instance, to notify Governor Stokes that the Senate of New Jersey had assembled and awaited his pleasure. When all the work mapped out had been finished it again become his duty to inform the executive that there was no further business before the Senate and before it adjourned it desired to receive any communications he might deem meet to transmit.

Probably no single man in the whole body worked harder and accomplished more than our representative. First of all he engineered the passage of the bill for the recreation pier for Elizabeth and the measure for the improving of the Elizabeth river, both of which had been put through the Lower House by Assemblyman John R. Moxon, of Elizabeth, an indefatigable member of Union's trio in the Assembly. The law extending the Savings Bank act, the Governments of trustees, executors and the like was also an idea of his that met with the approval of both Houses. The prison-parole act, which permits an arrest without warrant of any prisoner who has violated his parole, and the traveling library act, which provides for books to be sent from place to place among the prisons of the State, are also his works. Both are now on the statute books and are those previously enumerated. The act creating anatomical societies, for the purpose of allowing surgeons to procure unclaimed bodies for scientific investigation and experiment, is still another measure for which the admirable senator is responsible.

Last but by no means least, the civil service bill, which was unanimously passed by the Senate yesterday, is largely the work of Mr. Ackerman, chairman of the committee having it in tow, he put in some hard work in co-operation with Somerset county's splendid representative, Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, father of the pure food and automobile laws.

The record of Senator Ackerman has given him equal rank with Union's past representatives in the Upper House including such men as Former Governor Foster Voorhees, Chancellor Magie and Circuit Court Judge Joseph Cross. As for Senator Frelinghuysen, his work in the Legislature has made him a worthy member of a family whose names grace the pages of the history of New Jersey. Somerset county is indeed fortunate in being able to command the services of so able a son.

The Business Instinct.

Ed was a mighty bright negro belonging to a family in Columbia, Tenn. He had been a faithful servant for many years, and by saving and carefully investing his wages he had belied the usual thriftlessness attributed with more or less justice to the majority of his race.

His master was an attorney, and one morning before he had arisen the lawyer was called upon by Ed, who said:

"Say, Boss, Ah wants yo' tee draw me up a mawkgidge."

"A mortgage?" asked his master. "What do you want a mortgage for?"

"Well, Ah's done lent Unc' Lisha five dollahs, an' Ah wants a mawkgidge on his cow an' calf."

"For how long have you lent the money?"

"Fo' one month."

"One month? Why, the interest on that amount for that time would only pay for the paper a mortgage is written on."

"Boss," said Ed, scratching his head, "Ah ain't carin' nuffin' 'bout de intrust. Ah jes' wants dat nigguh's cow an' calf."—Judge.

NEW CARS FOR THIS CITY.

The Public Service Corporation has arranged to place a batch of new cars on the local lines, outside of the main division. The first one of the consignment reached the city Thursday noon and was placed in charge of Motorman M. J. Walsh and Conductor Patrick Marron on the Fourth street line. Two others came yesterday and the remainder will arrive at intervals during the coming week.

The cars are a little larger than the ones that have been doing service for the past ten or fifteen years and are fitted with all up-to-date equipment.

Miss Mary E. Valiant Engaged.

Mrs. John Valiant, of Myrtle avenue, announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary E., to Donald A. McGee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. McGee, of Orchard place, the borough.

DEDICATE THEIR EDIFICE

Warren Chapel Flock Hold First Service in the New Structure.

SOME MINISTERS SPEAK

Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie and Others Give Encouraging Talks to the Congregations.

The dedication service of the new Warren chapel building on Watchung avenue, the borough, was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and was largely attended by the ministers and members of the city and borough churches. It was a time of great rejoicing and thankfulness on the part of the pastor, Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey, and his people, and everyone joined in the congratulations offered the pastor and people upon attaining such a well-appointed and attractive place of worship.

Seated on the platform were, beside the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church; Rev. J. R. Howard, of Hope church; Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church; Rev. Alexander McKelvey, of Boonton, father of the pastor, and Rev. F. D. Tildon, of Bethel chapel, all of whom had contributed to the service.

After the organ prelude by Charles D. Wheeler, which marked the first public use of the handsome organ given by Mrs. Emma F. Ege, in memory of her sister, Mrs. Lucy A. Talmage, the congregation joined in singing the doxology. Rev. Alexander McKelvey offered prayer, the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison followed by responsive reading. Rev. L. R. Howard read the Scripture lesson, after which Miss Nora B. Schenck, soprano soloist, of the chapel, sang "The Good Shepherd," by Barri. Prayer by Rev. Dr. Herring, with choral response, preceded the financial statement read by Chas. F. Abbott, president of the Board of Trustees.

This report showed that the entire cost of the new building, including furnishings, etc., was $20,000, of which $16,500 has been subscribed and practically paid in, leaving a debt of $8,206, prior to the taking of the offering at the dedication service, which was expected to reduce it nearly $1,000. Toward the furnishing of the chapel, which work was undertaken by the Missionary and Aid Society and afterward joined in by all the members, $1,100 was raised.

The pulpit furnishings, including chairs and desk, were the gift of Mr. and Mrs. James W. DeGraff, while the carpet for the pulpit platform was given by Miss Adele Kirby's Sunday-school class. The communion table was presented to the chapel by Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Harmon.

An offertory selection by the choir, followed with prayer, preceded the dedicatory anthem by the choir and the dedication of the chapel, the words being read by Rev. Mr. McKelvey and congregation responsively. The prayer of consecration was by Rev. Dr. Zelie.

The dedication sermon was delivered by Rev. J. T. Kerr, of Elizabeth, who gave an inspiring discourse on the seed as representing the Word of God. He referred to the parable of the sower, the sowing of the seed of the Word of God in the hearts of the people and the harvest time. Dr. Kerr spoke especially of three aspects of Christian discipleship. His first point, the speaker said, "Discipleship," the speaker said, "is life born of God. He has given us Eternal life and he that hath the Son hath Life. The life of God is in him with all the possibilities of development of the Christ life.

"In the second place Christ's disciples are sown. They are placed in the world that they may yield much fruit and that they may be true disciples of Christ. Christ has said 'I have ordained you that ye should go and bring forth fruit.' Under the head of sowers, the disciples must be sowers of the Word. They must plant the seed in fertile ground. The sower helps to propogate the fruit and the two agents unite as one in Christian husbandry. The seed must be true and the sower must be in earnest and the seed must be sown in the right place."

The service closed with a prayer by Rev. F. D. Tildon, the singing of a hymn and the pronouncing of the benediction by Mr. McKelvey.

An inspection of the new edifice was made after the service and all were greatly pleased with the architecture and general arrangement inside. It is modern in style of architecture, constructed of brick and concrete. The interior plan is especially well adapted for chapel use. There is one large room for preaching service, and on either side are a total of twelve Sunday-school class rooms which can be shut off by sliding doors. Back of the pulpit is a study room for the pastor and in the front of the building is a gallery to be used for overflow audiences. On one side of the gallery is a room to be occupied by the Missionary and Aid Society and on the opposite side is a similar room for the use of the Men's Association and the Christian Endeavor Society. The interior finishing is of oak, with dark stain, and the chapel pews are of similar material, handsomely cushioned.

A valuable adjunct to the edifice is the well-equipped kitchen in the basement. It is provided with a range, gas stove, dish closets, hot and cold water, a dumb waiter, operating from the basement to the gallery floor, and a system of speaking tubes.

Rev. Mr. McKelvey was the first and only pastor of Warren chapel, beginning his work there about twelve years ago. Prior to that time the old chapel was largely supported by all denominations and was in a general sense a mission. After Mr. McKelvey assumed the pastorate the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church took up the support of the work and has continued to do so ever since. The chapel occupies a peculiar field hitherto not covered by any other religious denomination in the borough and it has grown steadily in membership and influence.

The new chapel has also a bell in the cupola. This bell a great many years ago was used at the North Avenue station, where it gave the arrival and departure of trains. Afterward it served as a fire alarm for the borough and more recently it was given to the chapel by William Debebe, into whose hands it came when replaced by a larger one in the fire tower at the engine house on Somerset street.

The contractors who constructed the new chapel are as follows: Wyman & Doberle, carpentry work; Talbany Brothers, mason work; Woolston & Buckle, painting and decorating; A. M. Griffen, plumbing and heating; J. W. Gavett, selection of lights; A. B. Laing, electrical work. Mr. L. C. Hall, of Boonton, is the architect. It is also noteworthy that Mr. McKelvey turned the first spade of dirt in excavating the cellar.

Rev. Alexander McKelvey, of Boonton, father of Pastor McKelvey, occupied the pulpit in the chapel last night and delivered a strong sermon.

PAYMENT OF $15 FINE ENDS THE LEMON CASE

ANGLEMAN FAILED TO FIND THE THROWER—OTHER COURT NEWS.

Failing to locate the Scotch Plains youth who he alleged had thrown the lemon at Policeman Burt at the North Avenue station last Monday night and which led to a three-cornered fight, Clarence Angleman dropped into the city court this morning and paid the $15 conditional fine imposed by Judge Hunson Angleman. As he had searched high and low for the fellow but couldn't find him, although he used to meet him every day and could pick him out among a thousand. The court said "all right" but there were suspicions that Clarence hadn't exerted himself any too much.

George Parker, the local dog fancier who was the complainant against Patrol Driver O'Gorman the time he was before the police board, was arraigned this morning on a drunk charge. He came down town Saturday night with three of his friends and between them and booze got badly tangled up on Park avenue. Sentence was suspended.

Twenty days straight was given Foster Sprague, arrested Saturday night for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. It was the fourth time he had appeared in the last half year and on the three previous occasions he had gotten off with a small fine. Henry Palmer, colored, was fined $5 for raising a rumpus at the home of Mattie Barber in the West End, one day last week. Mattie specified in her complaint that he had kicked the furniture around and threatened to put all the inmates of the house in their coffins.

25 YEARS MARRIED.

Mr. and Mrs. Vroom Celebrate Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Vroom entertained at their home on Stone street Saturday night in honor of their silver wedding anniversary. The couple were the recipients of many presents of silver money and of silverware.

Among the guests from Peapack, Bedminster, Pluckemin, Somerville and Brooklyn, was Rev. T. W. Jones. Dr. Jones was formerly pastor of the church Mr. Vroom attended at Bedminster, his home before moving to this city. Dr. Jones is now living in Brooklyn. He made an address at the supper.

C. L. HYDE ENGAGED.

Brother-in-Law of Senator Colby to Wed Miss Stryker.

Announcement was made today of the engagement of Miss Kathyn Stryker, daughter of the late adjutant-General William S. Stryker, of Trenton, and Charles Livingston Hyde, son of Mrs. Charles Hyde, of Fourth Street, and brother of Mrs. Everett Colby, of Orange.

The wedding will take place in Trenton during the winter. Mr. Hyde is a widower, his first wife, a Miss Godfrey, dying about two years ago. He has a summer home at Tuxedo Park.

Miss Goddard a Bridesmaid.

Miss Margaret Goddard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Goddard, of East Ninth street, will be one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Miss Annie Pierce Hallock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waverley West Hallock, of Lefferts place, Brooklyn, and Arthur Loomis Harmon, also of that city. The wedding will take place in Holy Trinity church, Brooklyn, Saturday afternoon, November 2.

HOSPITAL DEBT $2,000

Annual Report from Muhlenberg Hospital Shows Big Increase in Expenses.

MAKING IMPROVEMENTS

Increase In Donations of All Kinds Over Previous Years But Big Decrease From Pay Patients.

The annual report of Muhlenberg Hospital is completed and it will be ready today for general distribution. There are many interesting facts in the statement of the past year's work, but the report of the finance committee, E. H. Ladd, Jr., chairman; W. L. Saunders, Samuel Townsend and Julius E. Erickson, will give an adequate idea of the cost of running the institution. The report is dated June 1, and in part the statement of the finance committee follows:

"The treasurer's annual report submitted shows that the cost of maintaining the institution during the year just closed, not including improvements, was $29,102.63, an increase over the previous year of $1,500.22, the principal changes being an increase in salaries and wages of about $1,000 and increase in provisions of about $1,800 and a decrease in repairs of about $1,100. The hospital receipts, not including donations, charitable gifts, etc., were $12,282.42, a decrease of $1,826.01 compared with the previous year. The receipts from pay patients decreased $1,698.61. The excess of expenditures (not including donations, charitable gifts, etc.) as shown by the treasurer's report for this year amounted to $17,020.50 against an excess last year of $13,694.27, an increase of $3,326.23. The amount expended for improvements this year for which there were no special donations amounted to $3,207.36 against $688.62 the previous year, an increase of $1,518.74. The excess of expenditures for both maintenance and improvements, omitting donations, charitable gifts, etc., was $19,-277.86 against $14,382.89, an increase of $4,844.97.

"The marked increase in expenditures for maintenance and improvements, the falling off in receipts from pay patients and the fact that no carnival was held this year explain the debt of $2,000 with which the year closes.

"The individual donations, including receipts from the League of Mercy, were $4,618.72, an increase of $1,739.84. The receipts from the Charity Ball were $2,439.48, an increase of $1,224.45. The Hospital Sunday collections were $896.03, a decrease of $123.49. The sum received from the Freeholders of Union county was the same as in the previous year—$4,800. The receipts from the Trustees of Schools were $577.93, with further returns to be made.

"During the past year the Permanent Endowment Fund has been increased $2,007.50 by donations of $1,007.50 from Senator and Mrs. Everett Colby and $1,000 from Mrs. George H. Goddard. The Memorial Funds have been increased by the bequest of $100 of Olive S. Lanphear. The Endowment, Memorial and Special Trust Funds now amount to $29,032.50. During the year the old Nurses' Home property was sold for $2,900, $900 in cash and a mortgage taken on the property for $2,000. With the $900 cash received a like amount of Building Fund loans was paid off.

"While it is to be regretted that the year closes with a deficit, the outlook for the coming year is encouraging. The Woman's Auxiliary Board will hold an entertainment during the coming week, the net results of which will undoubtedly be very satisfactory. The appropriation from the Freeholders of Union county will probably be increased; there is a fair prospect that the Common Council will grant the referendum asked for, as a result of which it is believed the income of the hospital will be considerably increased, and it is fully expected that the work undertaken by the Muhlenberg Hospital League will be so successful as to insure the paying by the hospital of a substantial sum of money.

"The fellow members of the Treasurer upon the Finance Committee desire to record their full appreciation of the valuable service which Mr. Erickson has rendered the hospital during the past year by so ably filling the office of Treasurer."

Hurt In Runaway.

Charles Machin, of Scotch Plains, was badly hurt in a runaway on Diamond Hill, Murray Hill, yesterday. He was thrown from his vehicle when it struck a stone and fractured his face. His forehead was badly gashed and he received other injuries that required the attention of Dr. Westcott.

College Honors for Stutsman.

Martin B. Stutsman, of East Sixth street, has just been chosen vice president of the Senior Senate at New York University. The members of this society, which has to do with the government of the student body, are chosen from the senior class, and membership in the senate is a high college honor. Stutsman has also been chosen secretary of the student Y. M. C. A. at N. Y. U.

CITY FATHERS TO PAY $500 FOR SOME ADVICE

In its efforts to secure an advantageous contract with the Public Service Corporation for street lighting, the members of the Common Council believe that it should have the services of an expert electrical engineer. With that purpose in view, Mr. Tyler, at the adjourned meting of the Common Council, last night, offered a resolution, which was adopted, asking for an appropriation of $500 or as much of that sum as would be needed to employ an electrical engineer that he might advise the council as it may desire.

Mr. Tyler said that while the Public Service Corporation is fully informed as to its business, the members are not so thoroughly conversant on the subject of street lighting and other features of the electrical business pertaining to this department, especially along the technical lines. For that reason he recommended the employment of an expert engineer.

PATRONESSES NAMED BY MISS GRACE CARROLL

Miss Grace Carroll, contralto soloist at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, who is to give a song recital at the Casino on Friday night, November 1, with Miss Gertrude Sander Saslavsky, violinist, the concert master of the New York Symphony Orchestra, and Victor Harris, will be sung for the first time, from manuscript, with accompaniment by the composer.

The patronesses for the recital are as follows: Mrs. H. G. Runkle, Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, Mrs. Augustus D. Shepard, Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. M. E. Edgerton, Mrs. Daniel F. Ginna, Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, Mrs. A. H. Atterbury, Mrs. Henry E. Bowen, Mrs. Charles A. Reed, Mrs. J. S. Schoonmaker, Mrs. David M. Moore, Mrs. George A. Strong, Mrs. John Gray Foster, Mrs. Augustus V. Heely, Mrs. Marion S. Ackerman, Mrs. John Doull Miller, Mrs. Samuel Townsend, Mrs. George D. Hallock, Mrs. John R. Stevens, Mrs. F. W. Iredell, William L. Saunders, Dr. Ellis W. Hedges, Dr. B. Van D. Hedges, Mrs. John P. Harman, Mrs. George H. Goddard, Mrs. John Leal, Mrs. Andrew J. Gavett, Mrs. A. W. Duxbury, Mrs. Joseph W. Sandford, Mrs. A. M. Griffen, Mrs. W. J. Conroy, Mrs. J. B. Probasco, Mrs. W. H. Murray, Mrs. I. C. Pierson, Mrs. Guy Bender, Mrs. Hugh MacMurray, Mrs. S. B. Joseph, Mrs. Frank W. French, Mrs. J. S. Zelie, Mrs. A. C. La Boyteaux, Mrs. Clifford McGee, Mrs. L. N. Lovell, Mrs. H. N. Lovell, Mrs. George S. Ring, Mrs. E. H. Booth, Mrs. Clifton Wharton, jr., Mrs. James W. Jackson, Mrs. C. A. Marsh, Mrs. Walter Stewart, Mrs. F. H. Andrews, Mrs. John Bushnell, Mrs. Townsend Rushmore, Mrs. Robert Washburne, Mrs. Charles E. Brooks, Mrs. Duncan W. Taylor, Mrs. L. V. F. Randolph, Mrs. Joseph McIntyre, Miss Mary Hubbell, Miss Van Boskerck, Mrs. G. H. Hillman, Mrs. Francis Hardon, Mrs. John Valiant and Miss Susan Corey.

PAINTERS HOLD A PICNIC.

Baseball Game Feature of the Program Arranged.

The members of Local No. 480, Painters and Paperhangers, held an informal picnic at the home of John E. Mathews, Rockview and West End avenue, Saturday afternoon. A feature of the affair was a baseball game played between teams representing the shops of J. C. Hansen and Charles Conover, the latter winning out after a hot seven inning struggle by the score of 10 to 9. The battery for the H. Hansen and Curtis for the Hansen shop and Trotter and Voorhees for Conover's.

Following the game refreshments were served and an hour was spent in dancing. The committee which arranged the gathering comprised John Mathews, Andrew Love, jr., and Wilbur Voorhees.

The ability displayed by some of the baseball players has resulted in a move to have a team representing Local 480 in the field next season. The unions at Elizabeth, Rahway, New Brunswick and other places have nines and a series could be arranged with them.

Beer for Breakfast.

Sixteenth century children in England ate very different food from that consumed by modern American youngsters. The following dietary is taken from the Northumberland Household Book, showing the nursery breakfast at the beginning of the sixteenth century: "The Ordre of Brakfastis for the Nurce for my Lady Margaret and Maister Ingeram Percy every day in the week in Lent, item, a Manchet (a small loaf of white bread), a Quarte of Bere, a Dysch of Butter, a Pece of Saltfisch, a Dysch of Sproitts or ij White Herring, Brakfastis of Flesch dayly thorowte the Yere; Item, a Manchet, a Quarte of Bere and ij Muton Bonys boiled. On Fysch days throw-owte the Yere; Item, a Manchet, a Quarte Bere, a Dysch of Butter, a pece of Saltfische or a Dysch of Butter'd Eggs." Milk seems to have been unknown in beverage, but the beer of those days was very different from the modern article and much more harmless.

TOUR UNION ON OCT. 29

Gubernatorial Candidate Fort to Make a Whirlwind Trip Through County.

WEDNESDAY'S MEETNG

State Senator Reed to Preside and Both Fort and Colby to Stir Up Enthusiasm.

County Chairman Frank H. Smith announced today that he is arranging details for a whirlwind auto tour of the Republican campaigners for Tuesday, October 29. Mr. Fort will be the chief figure in the party. He will be accompanied by the county candidates and probably Senator E. R. Ackerman as well as by the county chairman.

The start will be made at Plainfield and the party will proceed to Fanwood, Scotch Plains, Mountainside, Cranford, Westfield, Summit, New Providence and the smaller communities, winding up at Rahway and Elizabeth, where Mr. Fort is booked to speak at night.

Justice Fort will make his second appearance here on Wednesday night, the Republican city committee having arranged for the candidate and State Senator Reed to speak at the New Plainfield theatre.

All the county candidates will be present at the meeting and some of them will make addresses. The Plainfield band will furnish the music. It is expected that the mass meeting will be the biggest affair of the kind ever held here.

On the invitation of County Chairman Frank H. Smith and City Chairman W. S. Angleman, State Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen, of Somerset, chairman, named former State Senator Charles Arthur Reed, of North Plainfield, as presiding officer for Wednesday night. "Uncle Joe" will be on hand on that occasion and it is expected that he will give one of his "glad hand" and "triumphant Republicanism." A hearty ovation is in store for the sterling leader of old Somerset.

ENGLISH STORIES.

The Striking Way an English Notable Won a Nickname.

Dean Stanley once went late to dinner with his collar flapping. His hostess ventured to ask him if he knew. "Oh yes!" answered the dean. "Do you mind?" "Not at all," said the lady. "Then I don't mind, either. The button dropped off while I was dressing, and the dean continued his conversation.

Rev. W. H. Tuckwell is responsible for the history of how an Oxford notable in the thirties got his nickname "Presence of Mind" Smith. He went boating with a friend and returned alone and was asked what had become of his companion. He explained that his friend had fallen into the Thames, "and if I had not with great presence of mind hit him on the head with a boat hook the both of us would have been drowned."

The late Joseph Joachim was a great favorite in London and for more than sixty years rarely missed a season there. A certain notable told him that he was going to St. James' hall to hear him, and Joachim later asked him if he had found it tedious. "Not at all," serenely answered the titled personage. "I enjoyed myself immensely. I did not recognize you at first under your disguise as a nigger, but later I laughed all the more." The nobleman had strolled by mistake into a minstrel show instead of the large concert hall.

Boys Destroy Property.

As a result of some sort of rivalry between the boys living on Park and Watchung school, the girls' basket ball grounds in the school yard have been visited by night recently and great damage done. The iron rims of the basket balls have been broken and the posts pulled up and chopped to pieces. The girls' property was in some instances destroyed or else hidder around the building. The girls' basketball play has been permanently stopped through the money for the grounds were given by the borough and the girls are not organized to supply money to make up the loss. There has been no practice since the damaging visit of the boys. The girls had just secured a court and had a game scheduled with the girls of the city high school.

P. H. S. Football Schedule.

The P. H. S. football schedule, completed to date is as follows: Wednesday, October 16, Westfield H. S., at Westfield; Saturday, October 19, School of Commerce, of New York, at Plainfield; Wednesday, October 23, N. P. H. S., at Plainfield; Saturday, October 26; Wednesday, October 30, open; Saturday, November 2, Perth Amboy H. S., at Plainfield; Tuesday, November 5, open; Saturday, November 9, Hudson River Acadamy at Finderne; Saturday, November 16, New Brunswick H. S., at Plainfield; Saturday, November 23, Rutgers Prep., at Plainfield.

Cottage Place Residents Wed.

Raffaels Pelligrino and Pascualina Pastore, members of the Cottage place Italian colony, were married by Justice Resckiah Hand at his home Saturday afternoon. A reception followed at the home of James Latz on Cottage place.

R. M. FOUNTAIN KILLS HIMSELF

Prominent Boroughite, While Temporarily Deranged, Ends Suffering.

AN INVALID LONG

Crazed By Pain He Jumps from Sick Bed and Puts Bullet Through His Temple.

Rendered temporarily insane by the pain of sickness which had kept him in agony during the entire night, Robert M. Fountain shot himself through the right temple at his home, 73 Jackson avenue, at about 10:30 Saturday. Death was instantaneous. Mrs. Fountain, who had been sitting up with her husband much of the night, had been at his bedside in the morning, but had left the room to get a glass for some medicine.

In the few moments that he was left alone, Mr. Fountain, crazed by pain, jumped from the bed and dashing to the bureau, seized his revolver from the drawer and holding it to his temple, fired the fatal shot. His wife, hearing the noise of the discharge, rushed to the room to find Mr. Fountain stretched lifeless across the bed.

For the past two weeks, Mr. Fountain has been confined to his bed, under the care of Dr. Adams. Suffering from a complication of diseases of the liver and bladder, he had been suffering intense pain which doubtless rendered him temporarily insane. When seen by his brother-in-law, Charles P. MacNabb, this morning, a few hours before the fatality, Mr. Fountain had told him of the intense pain he was suffering, and said that the pain during the night was almost unbearable.

Dr. J. C. Anderson, who was driving past the house at the time, was summoned to the house by the grief-stricken wife. He found that death had been instantaneous, the bullet, of a .32 calibre, passing through the brain, and was found on the floor near the body. Chief Marshal George Weiss, of the borough force, was summoned, and County Physician W. H. Long, of Somerville, notified.

Mr. Fountain was a prosperous stationer, conducting a printing and stationery business at 62 Fulton street, New York city. He took to his bed two weeks ago today, and Dr. D. C. Adams has been in attendance at the home since. He has been a resident of Plainfield since April, 1891, having moved here with his wife and family from Brooklyn, erecting for his occupancy the house on Jackson avenue, where he has lived ever since. He was a member of the borough Board of Education for three terms, beginning in 1896. He acted as district clerk on the Board during the entire nine years. He was a past officer of Anchor Lodge, F. and A. M., of which he has been a member since shortly after his coming to North Plainfield. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Charles J. MacNabb, of East Fifth street; Miss Mildred Fountain and Miss Ida Fountain. Miss Ida Fountain is at present in the Adirondacks, where she went several weeks ago to recuperate from a recent sickness. A fourth daughter, Sadie, died about two years ago, and her loss was always felt as a keen blow to Mr. Fountain.

No arrangements have as yet been made for the funeral.

Gift to Miss Robbins.

A delightful afternoon was spent yesterday at the home of Mrs. Harold Serrell, of Myrtle avenue, by the teachers of the junior department of the Sunday school of the First Baptist Church and some of the members of the Young Ladies' Missionary Society. The entertainment was given in honor of Miss Helen Robbins, of Norwood avenue, whose marriage to Mr. Anderson, of this city, will take place Oct. 30. During the afternoon games of observation were played to which prizes were awarded and Miss Marguerite Serrell gave a number of beautiful selections on the piano. At the conclusion of the entertainment, a French travelling clock was presented. Miss Robbins, which was a gift from about twenty-five of the teachers of the junior department and members of the Missionary Society.

Observed Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dressell, of Lincoln place, celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of their wedding Saturday night by giving a reception and dance in Saengerbund hall. The guests numbered 180, including relatives and friends from Jersey City, West Hoboken and Brooklyn, and the evening was spent in a social way. The celebrants received numerous gifts befitting the occasion.

MISS DRAKE ELOPES WITH A MARRIED MAN

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Drake Disappeared with Thomas P. Davis, Who Has Wife and Children.

GONE FOR TWO WEEKS

Heartbroken Parents Receive Letters from Daughter Who Promises That Her Companion Will Get a Divorce.

Information that Thomas P. Davis, whose wedding to Elise D. Drake was to have taken place within a few weeks, is a married man with a wife and two children in Liverpool, England, together with the fact that Davis and the girl left town Tuesday, October 1, and have not been seen since, have made the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Newton Drake, of 165 Somerset street, frantic with grief. Mrs. Drake is today on the verge of a nervous collapse.

The fact that Davis married in Liverpool, when a young man, was known to P. Newton Drake, the father, who gave his consent to the marriage only on the condition that a divorce, which Davis said he was seeking, could be secured.

The couple, who left Miss Drake's home on Somerset street early Tuesday afternoon, two weeks ago, went immediately to Bound Brook and from there Miss Drake wrote a letter to her mother. The letter said: "Tommy and I are here, where he can easily get to Liverpool, and where he can escape the black looks of father."

Last Friday another letter was received, postmarked Washington, D. C. In this, Miss Drake asked forgiveness from her parents and permission to come back with "Tom." Mr. Drake's reply, telling his daughter to come back, but refusing to receive Davis.

Neither of the communications mentioned anything about whether the two were married, but this is what the parents fear. A local lawyer, to whom Mr. Drake recently consulted, said that the marriage had taken place. The address of the couple in Washington is not known, Miss Drake writing her father, to address his reply "general delivery."

Davis, who is twenty-eight years of age, came to this country three years ago from Liverpool, England. He was employed in the shop at Pond's, during his residence in this city. Eight months ago, Davis met Miss Drake, and five months later, the engagement of the two was announced. Davis was at that time a boarder at Drake's house, in the borough.

Two weeks ago today, Mrs. Drake learned from a friend that Davis was a married man. Davis had been talking about his past life among some of his acquaintances, and it was learned that he married an English girl in Liverpool, when he was nineteen years old. His wife refused to come with him when he came to this country, and he is alleged to be trying to get a divorce on this account, claiming that he was not of age when married. There are two children with Mrs. Davis in Liverpool. On first coming to this country, Davis was employed as engineer on the steamship St. Paul, of the American line.

Crushed by the shock of their daughter's disappearance and the facts they have learned about her fiance, Mr. and Mrs. Drake have as yet determined upon no course of action. Miss Drake is expected to return home this week.

TALKS ENTERTAININGLY ON TRAVELS ABROAD

Under the auspices of the Men's club of the First Baptist Church, the members and their friends enjoyed a pleasing program at the first fall meeting of the organization last night. William Holmes sang two baritone selections in his best voice, and Miss Blossom Randolph rendered violin selections in a delightful manner.

The greater part of the evening was occupied with a charming informal talk by Rev. Dr. J. Zelle, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church, who related many interesting incidents about his European tour last summer. Dr. Zelle spent several months touring the continent and England. He told of the cathedrals visited on the trip and of the services he attended. His description of a visit to Westminster Abbey was full of interest.

WM. R. SWEENEY MARRIED

Ambitious Young Plainfielder Weds Wealthy Sister of the Countess de Bruyn.

AT LIVERPOOL, ENG.

Nursed Back to Health By Bride—Honeymoon in Paris—Reception Here.

Cards received in the city today, announced the fact to relatives and friends that William Ralston Sweeney, a former well known Plainfield resident and eldest son of Mrs. Margaret Sweeney, of Liberty street, had married Miss Harriet Eunice de Witt Berry, of New York. The ceremony was performed in Liverpool, England, on September 21, by Rev. Dr. Fenton, pastor of a church in that place. The wedding was very quiet and the formal announcement was made by the bride's sister, Countess de Bruyn, whose permanent residence is in London.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney proceeded to Paris and spent a few weeks' honeymoon in an automobile tour of the provinces. They sailed for home last Saturday and are due to reach New York today.

While the announcement cards give only the customary information, the romance leading to the nuptial event reads like a chapter from a story book and again brings into prominence a young man whose career is without parallel in the city. Mr. Sweeney studied law in the office of William K. McClure and leaving Plainfield about four years ago, entered the employ of the Trenton Abattoir Company in the legal department. He was very successful in adjusting affairs for the concern and was advanced to a position of great trust by the head member, Petre Slicker. He was sent at various times to England, Italy, Argentine Republic and other countries in which Mr. Slicker has extensive mining and railroad interests and on several occasions organized companies to take up new enterprises, in several of which he is a director.

He sailed for England last June and before reaching the other side was stricken with typhoid fever. The ship officials had him removed to a hospital at Liverpool but he continued to grow worse and it was thought for a while that he had no chance to live. At his direction, the matron cabled to Miss Berry, the two having been fast friends for some time. She immediately sailed for England, taking with her a Trenton physician, who had treated the young man before his departure, and they took charge of the case as soon as they arrived. The Trenton physician prescribed for the fever and Miss Berry supplemented the regular nursing staff by her almost constant attendance. The patient's condition soon changed for the better and when he left the hospital it was to proceed to Dr. Fenton's home for the ceremony that united he and Miss Berry in matrimony.

Miss Berry is a member of a prominent New York family and is wealthy in her own right. She owns a handsome residence at 127 West Forty-fifth street and it will probably be Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney's permanent home.

BIG LIONESS TEARS ATTENDANT'S ARM

TRAINER ESCAPES AFTER SAVING YOUNG MAN.

Lawrence Frazer, twenty years old, an attache of an animal show that exhibited on the carnival grounds during Old Home Week, at Elizabeth, is in the hospital there in a serious condition as the result of an attack upon him by a lioness. The young man is badly bruised about the body. Blood poisoning is feared. Captain Cardena, the trainer, saved the young man after a desperate encounter.

Frazer was at work near a small cage in which Sultana, a big lioness, had been placed temporarily, and stepped too near the bars. At the same instant the brute reached out her paw and grabbed the young man by the arm and began to chew his shoulder.

Cardena rushed into the tent, attracted by the cries of the injured man and the other attendants. The trainer grabbed a big whip and a prong and jumped into the cage with the lioness. By using both weapons he succeeded in getting the lioness to relinquish her hold on the attendant, and he had barely time to get out of the cage himself before the animal turned on him.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walpole attended the annual reunion and banquet of the 24th regiment, veterans of the Civil war, held yesterday in the rooms of Garfield Post, G. A. R., Newark. Mr. Walpole still has unpleasant recollection of nearly a year spent in Andersonville prison.

Charles Machin, who was injured in a runaway accident Sunday night, is able to be around again.

EGENOLF WASN'T WANTED

His Presence at Democratic Conference Here Causes a Stormy Scene.

AT CHILLY MEETING

Democrats Refuse to Sit In Caucus With Egenolf After Wordy War In Which Mr. Staats Scores Him.

Accompanied by a delegation of forty well known county seat Democrats, General Dennis F. Collins and Peter Egenolf, of Elizabeth, came to this city last night for the purpose of conferring with local members of the party over the existing political situation. They were met by the Plainfield leaders, with a few exceptions, and the entire party adjourned to the Hotel Kensington for the confab.

The fact that Peter Egenolf was in the delegation that came from Elizabeth resulted in a chilly feeling coming over several of the Plainfield Democrats. Egenolf, who is a member of the State committee from Union county, looked upon by them as the man who played James E. Martine false in the gubernatorial convention. They have no hesitancy in declaring they have "no use for him" and they showed it when it became known that the "political assassin" was in the party. They refused absolutely to sit in the hotel parlor with him, although it had been their intention to take an active part in the conference. No amount of argument on the part of their confreres could make them alter their determination and they remained in the office downstairs while the session was on.

As the committeemen were about to enter the parlors of the Hotel Kensington, J. A. Staats, the proprietor, who is a local Democratic leader, spied Egenolf and turning on him sharply shouted: "What are you doing here?"

"You run a hotel, don't you?" retorted the Elizabethan.

"Well, I do but not for such men as you," hotly replied Staats.

A big crowd gathered about the two men as Egenolf is alleged to have said: "You better be careful, I'm on the grand jury."

"I've run a straight legitimate house for twenty-seven years and you can't fool with me if the people of Plainfield know it. I have no fear of you even if you are on the grand jury. The rest of the grand jury are not like you. I won't sit in a meeting if you are allowed to go into that room."

"I'll have some more to say," shouted Egenolf.

Egenolf entered the conference and Staats turned on his heels and with others declined to enter the conference room.

Egenolf, it is said, had nothing to say during the discussion, but all the time he got black looks from Plainfielders who were present.

Mr. Martine said today that he was not responsible for Egenolf's presence. "That man is a traitor to his benefactor and to the Democracy of Union county," said Mr. Staats, today, who is a warm admirer of Mr. Martine.

PLAINFIELDERS WIN TENNIS TEAM MATCH

COUNTRY CLUB PLAYERS WIN FROM TRENTON, FIVE MATCHES TO FOUR.

By the close score of 5 to4 matches, the Plainfield Country Club tennis team won from the Trenton Country Club players on the local courts Saturday afternoon. The local players took two out of the three matches played in doubles, and this gave victory, for the teams broke even in singles, each taking three matches.

C. M. Crapo and W. L. Righter were the losing pair in the doubles. Matches against W. B. Cragin, Jr., and R. Stockton, they took the first set 6-4, then lost two, 6-4 and 6-3, to Trenton. In the other matches in doubles, A. D. Beers and Harry J. Cochran won from E. S. and K. Aitkin, 6-2 and 6-1, and Wylie Brown and F. W. Goddard won from L. Flack and J. F. Messler, 6-1 and 6-4.

In the singles Plainfield and Trenton shared the honors equally. W. B. Cragin, Jr., beat A. D. Beers 6-2 and 6-1, and C. W. Crapo beat R. Stockton 6-4 and 6-1. Harry Cochran's match with E. S. Aitkin went to three sets, but the Plainfielder, after losing the first 1-6, braced and took the next two, 6-3 and6-4. K. Aitkin won from Wylie Brown 7-5 and 6-0, and L. Flack finally won his match with F. W. Goddard, after three sets, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4. W. L. Righter's match with J. F. Messler also went to three sets, the Plainfielder winning out 1-6, 6-3 and 6-4.

After this match the visiting team were entertained at dinner with the local players at the Country Club. Next week the local team has a match with the Elizabeth Town and Country Club, to be played on the local courts.

The weekly meeting of the Bible Study Class, connected with the Methodist Church, will be held tonight.

SOCIETY AT WEDDING OF FANWOOD BELLE

MISS LILLIAN FANCHER THE CHARMING BRIDE.

The Scotch Plains Baptist church was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding, Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, when Miss Lillian Fancher, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Westcott, of Fanwood, became the bride of Edward F. Howe, of Troy, N. Y. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn boughs and white chrysanthemums.

Dr. Westcott gave the bride in marriage. The ushers were William F. Westbrook, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., John Bright Lord, of Brooklyn; Francis B. Sayre, of Philadelphia, all classmates of the groom at Williams College, and Edwin Fancher, of Fanwood, brother of the bride. The bride's only attendant was Miss Josephine Wright, of Berlin, Wisconsin. The groomsman was Payson Stone Douglass, of West Orange, also a classmate of the groom.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Braker, a former pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. T. Moore-Smith, the present pastor.

The bride wore a gown of cream white satin, en train, which was particularly attractive because of its simplicity. The waist was trimmed with chiffon and duchess lace. She wore pear ornaments, a family heirloom, the gift of her aunt, Miss Mollie Fancher, of Brooklyn. Her rare veil was held in place with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of bride roses and lillies of the valley.

Mrs. F. W. Westcott, mother of the bride, wore a pale blue messaline gown en train, trimmed with silver lace and carried mauve orchilds. Mrs. Frank E. Howe, mother of the groom, was gowned in violet chiffon trimmed with silk embroidery of the same shade and cloth of gold.

A wedding reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. The groom entertained his best man and ushers at dinner on Friday night and presented them with scarf pins. Dr. and Mrs. Westcott's gift to the bride was a substantial check and the groom's parents gave a chest of solid silver. Mr. Howe is his bride a ring of saphires and diamonds.

The couple will reside with the groom's parents in Troy. The bride's traveling gown was of bright blue cloth with hat to match. The gifts which numbered over three hundred were rich and varied. There were present many out of town guests, including Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Galbraith and Mr. and Mrs. James Flemming, of Troy; Mr. and Mrs. Tapan, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. Drake, of Newark; Mr. and Mrs. Fabee, of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. George Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Strong and Miss Strong, of Warwick, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Heaton, of Monroe, N. Y., Miss Lillian Fox and Miss Klepeteo, of New York; Dr. and Mrs. Harrison, of Westfield; Dr. and Mrs. Hess, of Newark, and Mrs. Douglass and Miss Douglass, of West Orange.

FAIR ACRES MATINEE DRAWS LARGE CROWD

DONNELLY EXHIBITS "RIFLE" AT THE MEET.

The Fair Acres Riding and Driving Association closed the season Saturday afternoon with one of the best matinees cards. There was Evans, the crack pacer, present, his grandstand being well filled with lovers of trotting races. The card comprised four races, trot and pace, and in each the association offered first, second and third prizes. The first was a $25 set of harness, the second, a $10 blanket and the third a $2.50 whip. The races were all closely contested and furnished good sport for the afternoon.

Richard Donnelly was present with his champion jumper, "Rifle," and the horse gave a fine exhibition. Two jumps of seven feet each were loudly applauded.

The judges for the races were J. Wesley Johnson and Dr. Butler. David G. Smalley was the starter and J. H. Senior and H. H. Grearson were timers. The summary follows:

CLASS A.

Roanview, George Conover	1	1	1
Lady Trivol, J. H. Green, Jr.	3	2	2
Flora Downey, J. S. Irving	2	4	4
Ben. Butler, Thos. Brantingham	4	3	3

Time, 2:24½, 2:29.

CLASS B.

Hartwood Bell, J. B. Osborn	1	2	1
Maud C., R. L. Edwards	3	1	2
Bobs, J. S. Irving	4	4	4

Time, 2:29, 2:29, 2:34.

CLASS C.

Helen Nelson, J. B. Osborn	2	1	1
Benjamin Butler, Wm. Uhrhahn	1	2	2
Florence D., C. M. Stirling	3	3	3
Daisy, Knoll Crest Farm	4	4	4

Time, 2:33½, 2:35¼, 2:32½.

CLASS D.

Alcyetta, Meyers Hodge	1	1	1
Lady Crasford, J. H. Senior	2	2	2
Betsy, C. B. Smith	3	3	3

Time, 2:46½, 2:44½, 2:46¾.

HUNT CLUB CHASE THE SEASON'S BEST

TWO SPILLS AND THEY WERE NEITHER WAS SERIOUS.

The weekly chase of the Watchung Hunt Club, Saturday afternoon, was one of the best of the season. There were only two spills and they were so trivial that they did not interfere in the least with the enjoyment of the riders. Daniel Runkle and Harry A. Bourne were thrown near the Lehigh Valley Railroad tracks at Oak Tree while endeavoring to get their mounts over a fence. Neither rider was injured and they proceeded with the hunters.

The riders assembled at the Gentlemen's Driving Park, where prior to the chase there was a pony race, between C. E. S. Bellows on Harry A. Bourne's pony and James Gethin's pony, ridden by Richard Donnelly. Mr. Bellows won the race.

Under the direction of Harvey Fisk, acting master in the place of Lewis E. Waring, who has been judging saddle horses and jumpers at the Richmond Horse Show, the riders started out for the chase, taking a course through the driving park track and the hills beyond to Oak Tree and vicinity. In all about six miles were covered. The new hounds worked out fine.

Among those who took part in the chase were Daniel Runkle, Harry A. Bourne, Richard Kelley, Harvey Fisk, C. E. S. Bellows, Charles Wilder, William Wildey, Charles W. Fisk and Christopher Comins, the whip. Next Saturday the club will meet at 2:45 o'clock in the afternoon at Dog Tavern, and on the following Wednesday, October 26, the start will be made at the same hour from the Mt. Pleasant Schoolhouse.

NEW HOSPITAL BUILDING NEARING COMPLETION.

Structure is Designed to Care for Cases of Contagious Diseases.

The separate building at Muhlenberg Hospital for the care of cases of contagious diseases is nearly completed, the plumbers being engaged in giving the finishing touches to the work. The structure has been named "The DeGraff Building," from the name of the donors. Although of limited size, it will probably be sufficient for present needs. It is intended, however, as a nucleus for a which numbered over three hundred at the homes of patients. The demand for its accomodations is not likely to be very great,for the reports of the Board of Health each month show a very small percentage of cases of scarlet fever, diphtheria and other contagious and infectious diseases, except small-pox, as it is the custom of physicians to treat DeGraff, of Central avenue. They are greatly interested in hospital affairs and some time ago decided to contribute the money needed for such a structure.

Emulates the President.

Lieut. Sidney N. Towle, of Boston, has returned from a two months' sojourn at Truell Hall, Mr. Towle, who is vice president of Expert Systematizing Company of New York and Boston, intends to spend two weeks hunting moose in the woods of Maine.

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between The Plainfield Trust Company, complainant, and Jeremiah Jones et als., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above-mentioned writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the sheriff's office, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-FIRST DAY OF AUGUST, A. D. 1907, at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land and premises situate, lying and being in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey, more particularly described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at a stake at the point of intersection of the centre lines of Eighth and Division streets, and running thence along the centre line of Division street north forty-eight (48) degrees and thirty-six (36) minutes east two hundred and twenty-one and five hundredths (221.05) feet to a stake in the line of land formerly of William M. Hiam, and now of John W. Murray; thence north forty-one (41) degrees and fourteen minutes (14) west along said land formerly of William M. Hiam, and now of John W. Murray, and land of the said Peter J. Potter, one hundred and seventy-seven and eleven hundredths (177.11) feet to a stake and a corner of land of said Charles Potter and James F. Hubbard; thence along said last mentioned land south forty-eight (48) degrees and thirty-four (34) minutes west two hundred and nineteen and sixty-five hundredths (219.65) feet to the eastern line of said street of Division street, as now laid out; and thence along the centre line of Division street south forty-one (41) degrees east two hundred and seventy-seven (277) feet to the place of beginning. Being the same lands and premises conveyed to said Jeremiah Evarts Tracy by deed of Charles Potter, Jr., and his wife, and James F. Hubbard and wife, deed bearing date of April 1st, 1874, and recorded in Union County Clerk's Office April 23, 1877, in book 115 of deeds, pages 510, &c.

Excepting and reserving, however, therefrom the premises heretofore conveyed by said Jeremiah Evarts Tracy and wife to Charles Potter, Jr., and James F. Hubbard, described in the certain deed bearing date June 1st, 1874, and recorded in Union County Clerk's Office June 19, 1877, in liber 117 of deeds, pages 442, &c., which said land and premises herein excepted are situated in the northeasterly corner of the tract of land first above described, and is about fifty and twenty-five hundredths feet (50.25) in length, and about twenty-five and two-tenths feet (25.2) deep.

WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE, Sheriff.
REED & CODDINGTON, Sol'rs.
7 18 24 th EDGCON Adv. Times—$12.60

"* * * Of all the newspapers in the world, the one which has approached most closely to what an 'American newspaper should be in straightforwardness and tone, 'THE NEW YORK TIMES stands first." —Harper's Weekly.

The New York Times

"All the News that's Fit to Print."

Gives more space to news than any other New York newspaper. It gives impartial news without fear or favor. It goes into homes that bar other newspapers.

The London Times' Cable News appears in this country exclusively in THE NEW YORK TIMES. No other American newspaper excepts THE NEW YORK TIMES in the presentation of Domestic or Foreign News.

The New York Times
Is Now Appearing Every Sunday
Improved and Enlarged

with an illuminated PICTORIAL SECTION OF EIGHT FULL-SIZE PAGES, embracing pictures of prominent people in social and public life, also scenes and incidents of the important events of the day.

The Magazine Section accompanying the SUNDAY TIMES presents a variety of interesting illustrated features and a unique selection of the best stories about men and women of the times.

The New York Times.
Saturday Review of Books.

which accompanies the Saturday Edition, is the recognized authority to which the public looks for the first news of books.

The New York Times.
Weekly Financial Quotation Review.

gives a weekly review of current prices of stocks and bonds; also the dealings in securities, including high and low prices—comprising a compact and convenient reference publication for investors and others interested in financial matters.

ORDER THROUGH YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER,

or mailed direct from office, as per following rates:

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

	By Mail.
One Year, Sundays included	$8.50
Six Months, Sundays included	4.25
Three Months, Sundays included	2.25
One Month, Sundays included	.75
Per Week	.17
Daily, without Sunday, per year	6.00
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3.00
Daily, without Sunday, three months	1.50
Daily, without Sunday, one month	.50
Daily, without Sunday, one week	.12
The New York Times Weekly Financial Quotation Review,	1.00
Saturday, Book Section Devoted to Review of Books, per year	1.00
Sunday, with Pictorial Section, per year	2.50
Postage to Foreign countries for Daily and Sunday Editions, add $1.05 per month.

Newsdealers who are not receiving THE NEW YORK TIMES Daily and Sunday editions—should order a regular supply at once. Write for terms. Address Circulation Manager.

The New York Times
Times Square,
New York.

MAGAZINE READERS

SUNSET MAGAZINE beautifully illustrated, good stories and articles about California and all the Far West. $1.50 a year

CAMERA CRAFT devoted each month to the artistic reproduction of the best work of amateur and professional photographers. $1.00 a year

ROAD OF A THOUSAND WONDERS a book of 75 pages, containing 120 colored photographs of picturesque spots in California and Oregon. $0.75

Total . . . $3.25

All for $2.50

Address all orders to
SUNSET MAGAZINE
Flood Building San Francisco

FOR AGENTS—AN OPPORTUNITY!

"THE OLD WORLD AND ITS WAYS"

BY

William Jennings Bryan.

NOW READY FOR SOLICITORS.

576 Imperial Octavo Pages. Over 200 Superb Engravings from photographs taken by Mr. Bryan.

Recounts his trip around the world and his visits to all nations. The greatest book of travel ever written. The people are waiting for it. The agent's harvest. Outfit FREE. Only fifty cents to cover mailing and handling.

THE THOMPSON PUBLISHING CO.,
St. Louis, Mo. 7 26 3 c

Sanitary Plumbing

Brick and Portable Furnace
Gas Fitting, Tin Roofing,
Etc., Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.

Having associated myself with the Master Members Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business, at all times and in all cases.

D. W. LITTELL

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

NEW IN EVERY DETAIL
My new barber shop at
143 NORTH AVE.
is now open ready for business.
All the latest appointments in the tonsoria
EDWIN B. MAYNARD.

DIME
Savings Institution,
Of Plainfield, N. J.,

Is now receiving deposits with interest, allowed on all sums from $5 to $3,000.

J. Frank Hubbard, President.
Wm. F. Arnold, } Vice-Pres
Jeremiah Maxim, }
J. C. Pope, Sec'y and Treas.

Money deposited on or before January tenth will draw interest from the first.

Guaranteed Salary $900 YEARLY.

Men and women of good address to represent us, some to travel appointing agents, others for local work looking after our interests. $900 salary guaranteed yearly; extra commissions and expenses, rapid advancement, old established house. Grand chance for earnest man or woman to secure pleasant, permanent position, liberal income and future. New, brilliant lines. Write at once.
STAFFORD PRESS,
25 Church St., New Haven, Conn

W. B. CODDINGTON,
Counsellor-at-Law
Commissioner of Deeds, Master-in-chancery, Notary Public. Offices Corner of Park avenue and Second street.

WANTED.

BOYS wanted to learn the moulder's and machinist's trades. Walter Scott & Co., Plainfield, N. J. 9 2 2

WANTED—By Chicago wholesale and mail order house, assistant manager (man or woman) for this county and adjoining territory; salary $20 and expenses paid weekly; expense money advanced; work pleasant; position permanent; no investment or experience required; spare time valuable; write at once for full particulars and enclose self-addressed envelope. Address General Manager, 134 E. Lake St., Chicago.

DIED.

POLON—In North Plainfield, N. J., October 8, 1907, Mary G., wife of Gideon C. Polon, in her 49th year.

METZ—Entered into rest on Tuesday, Oct. 8, 1907, at the residence of her son-in-law, Rev. Joseph P. Taylor, 698 West Seventh street, Mary, widow of Henry Metz, of Detroit, Michigan.

TITSWORTH—Entered into rest, on Thursday, October 10, 1907, Alonzo, son of J. Elizabeth and the late John D. Titsworth.

McCLURG—On Thursday, October 10, 1907, Jane Lowrie, daughter of William A. and Mary J. McClurg, aged 5 years.

RANDOLPH—On Saturday, October 12, 1907, Ann Eliza, wife of Peter F. Randolph, in her 69th year.

TINGLEY—At Dunellen, N. J., October 11, 1907, John T. Tingley, aged 70 years, 10 months.

FOUNTAIN—On Saturday, October 12, 1907, Robert M. Fountain, in his 63d year.

FLANDERS—At his residence at Scotch Plains, on Sunday, October 13, 1907, Charles N. Flanders, aged 85 years.

WYCKOFF—On Monday, October 14, 1907, Phebe Jane, wife of William F. Wyckoff.

warrants bills enacted by the house for the interests of the people and in the line of relief for the people were all consistently smothered in the senate, and these and other good bills are sleeping the sleep that will know no waking until a Democratic governor and a Democratic house raise over the Republican majority in the senate next year the lash of the people's indignation and political revolt.

"If the Republican party has a scintilla of sincerity in any of its pledges, why has not the senate passed the house bill, the first one introduced in the house, abolishing the voting machines? It is now attempting to throw sand in the eyes of the people by passing the act abolishing the voting machine commission, but this merely transfers the handling of the machines from a commission to the secretary of state. The machines we still have with us, and the bill abolishing them still sleeps with the Republican senate. Why have they not passed the child labor bill sent them by the Democratic house? Why do they show antagonism to every popular measure demanded by the people?

"Gentlemen, we can only surmise the answer to the questions I have asked: As intelligent men you understand the issues. Upon us is the duty of informing the people more fully of these things during the campaign. We owe it to the people as citizens and Democrats. It matters not what a man's politics may be this year, he owes it to himself and to the state to do his utmost to remove from office the men who have been responsible for the abuses and misgovernment I have alluded to, and the only way of accomplishing that end is the election of Mr. Katzenbach and the nominees of the Democratic party. The Democratic party in New Jersey today is a rehabilitated and rejuvenated party."

These officers were elected by the new organization: President, Henry B. Belly of Trenton; True American, vice presidents, Fred C. Shann, Advertiser, Orange; Philip Daab, Inquirer, Hoboken, and James Carpenter, Woodbury; secretary, Carl Voelker, Freie Presse, Atlantic City; treasurer, Jacob L. Bunnell, Herald, Newton; executive committee, Henry D. Winton of Hackensack, Anthony Killgore of Flemington and Robert Brenner of Passaic.

Those present were: Charles E. King, Asbury Park; Lewis S. Gilser, Monmouth Democrat, Freehold; Richard N. Gannon, Times, Elizabeth; E. M. Johnson, Bergen County Democrat, Hackensack; James Norton, Hackensack; R. B. Boddett, Record, Long Branch; William Darrow Jenkins, Gloucester City; Anthony Killgore, Democrat, Flemington; John Kearns, Democratic Wageworker, Lambertville; Henry B. Belly, True American, Trenton; C. H. Baxter, Guardian, Paterson; F. E. Baxter, News, Ridgewood; John J. Lane, Record, Summit; Alexander L. Moreau, Transcript, Freehold; Charles P. Pancoast, Smibeam, Salem; Carl Voelker, Freie Presse, Atlantic City; S. B. Carpenter, Woodbury; J. H. Buckridge, Jersey City; Jacob L. Bunnell, New Jersey Herald, Newton; L. A. Vogt, Banner, Morristown; W. H. Frei, Democrat, Bayonne; G. H. Mettain, Democrat, Bayonne; General D. S. Walker, Inquirer, Hoboken; Philip Daab, Inquirer, Hoboken; Fred C. Shann, Advertiser, Orange; John A. Rush, Advertiser, Orange; Philip A. McAviney, Kearney Record, Harrison; Robert Brenner, Herald, Passaic; H. P. Bennett, Record, Long Branch; H. J. Farrell, Charles A. Ransom, Newark; F. Edward Burke, Newark; W. W. Baxter, Hoboken; Frederick J. Stehlein, Times-Bulletin, Ridgewood; John T. O'Brien, Jersey City, and others.

MONUMENTAL HYPOCRISY.

What a Republican Newspaper of Red Bank Says About Its Own Party.

Some of the remarks made in this paper are absurd in view of the position taken by that party on the questions treated. For instance, the Republican platform says:

"We believe in the separation of state and municipal elections and to that end favor a constitutional amendment providing that national and state elections shall be held in even years and municipal elections in odd years."

It was the Republican party which passed a law a few years ago combining the local and general elections. The object of that law was openly declared to be the prevention of independent voting at spring elections. At the spring elections they went to the polls and voted on local issues largely without regard to party ties. The Republicans wanted control of the local offices, and they consolidated the general election with the local elections so that Republican voters would let national politics control their voting on local officials and local affairs. For the Republicans now to declare that they favor separating general and local elections after having passed a law combining these elections is one of the rankest efforts to blind the public I have ever noticed.

Their declaration in favor of direct nominations and in favor of the election of United States senators by popular vote is of the same pattern. The people have demanded direct nomination of officers and the election of United States senators directly for the past six or eight years. Senator Colby introduced measures providing for these things, and the Republican legislatures refused to consider them.

If the Republicans believe in these things, why haven't they passed laws providing for them? They have been in power a dozen years or more. When these measures were introduced the Republicans refused to pass them. To say now that they believe in these measures after having refused to pass them when introduced will seem to most people like monumental hypocrisy.—Red Bank Register, Republican.

CAMPAIGN ISSUES.

Chairman Hudspeth Entertains Democratic Editors.

ASKS ALL TO ASSIST HIM.

Says That the Burden of Informing the People of Republican Abuses Is on the Newspapers and Urges That Every Effort Be Made to Turn the Rascals Out—Discusses Legislative Record and the Work of the Hahn Investigating Committee.

Chairman Robert S. Hudspeth of the Democratic state committee entertained the Democratic editors and newspaper men of the state at a reception and luncheon at Democratic state headquarters in the Fuller building, Jersey City, on Saturday, Oct. 5. The affair was decidedly a pleasant one and resulted in the editors getting together after the luncheon and organizing themselves into the Democratic Editorial Association of New Jersey.

When the coffee and cigars had been passed Chairman Hudspeth delivered a ringing address to the editors. His explanation of the issues was warmly applauded, and many of the editors responded to calls for a few remarks.

Chairman Hudspeth's speech was as follows:

"No campaign in the history of the state has been fought under such remarkable conditions as the present one.

"The attitude of the Republican party is simply amazing. Honest citizens cannot understand its complacent attitude in the face of the disclosures of the past year.

"Managers of institutions founded and controlled by the state for humanitarian purposes have been exposed as permitting the grossest abuses and neglect that calls for swift and immediate punishment.

"Yet the Republican leaders and men in responsible positions have taken no step to cause the removal and punishment of the offenders.

"For some mysterious reason they seem unable to appreciate the enormity of the derelictions committed; but, on the contrary, they actually indorse the administration of state institutions in their platform.

"The only indication they give of any knowledge of the abuses which have amazed the people of the state from Sussex to Cape May is the weak assurance in their platform that if there are abuses in any state institution the Republican party can be depended upon to wipe them out, and this in face of the opening paragraph of the platform, which says that 'the Republican party offers its record of faithful execution of pledges as a guarantee of future performances.'

"I say that conditions are remarkable and amazing when a great political party has the effrontery to complacently go before the people with a practical indorsement of all the sins of omission and commission that have been exposed by the Hahn investigating committee of the house of assembly.

"The situation is additionally more remarkable and amazing because not a Republican prosecutor or other official has even hinted that the officials exposed are being considered as subjects for prosecution or even investigation.

"Why, we ask, does the Republican party stand silent and in an attitude of approval of these intolerable conditions lately exposed by the Hahn committee? The answer can be given in but one way, and that is that the men exposed are men of influence in the Republican party and that their influence is so strong with the powers higher up that not a state official dares to move a finger against any one of them.

"But the Republican party is consistent. It protects these men and condones their faults. In the legislature its ear has been deaf to the voice of the people. Look at the record. Equal taxation such as demanded by the people, passed by the house and killed by the senate. Despite the promises made by them in their platform and by their leaders, the Republican senate has killed the Nevius bill for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, and in the house the Republican leaders work with all their might against the direct primary act, introduced by the Democrats. Note their hypocrisy regarding the separation of state and municipal elections. Governor Murphy during his term advocated the repeal of the Meeker act, and Republican platforms as well as Democratic platforms had called for its repeal. The Republican platform of this year calls for its repeal, yet at the very time of the adoption of that platform and at the present time there is in the possession of the Republican senate, sleeping the sleep of death in committee, the two bills passed by the Democratic house repealing the Meeker act and restoring spring elections.

"So over the railroad legislation of the present year—the Republican party standing in the breach for the corporations at every point and finally enacting a railroad commission act which is utterly ineffective. Consider the public utilities act passed by the senate. It was only a halfway measure. As amended by the house it is an effective measure. We shall see now if the Republican senate has the courage to pass this act in the shape the Democrats have placed it. As amended the bill is now effective. It abolishes the useless and powerless railroad commission, places all proper public utilities under one commission at a saving of about $30,000 per year and gives life and being to the remedies so generally required by our people. The Republican records on water, tunnel and gas are real colors. It was not expected that they could have the hardihood to vote against the bill after it had been amended to suit them, but they were at their last ditch, and into it they went. Abandoning their previous ground, they fell back on the claim that the bill should receive more consideration. Barber said he had not had time to properly read it and declared he had made up his mind to vote for no more hasty legislation. His cue was taken by his colleagues, and when the roll call came the Republicans lined up against the bill, and the measure was lost.

"Realizing at once that the responsibility for killing the bill was on the Republicans, Barber moved a reconsideration of the vote and asked one of his colleagues to move to lay his motion on the table. This was done, and the bill now lies on the table. It leaves an avenue through which the Republicans may still escape, but if they do they will have to vote for the bill as the Democrats want it.

"HOLD THE FORT!"

THEIR "PEACE PROTOCOL."

What a Newark Paper Has to Say of Certain Arrangements Talked Of.

The state Republican leaders are greatly relieved at their success in getting harmony in Essex and think it means a certain victory in the state, having last year's election in mind. They credit the candidate and George L. Record with the victory, and it is expected the latter will be liberally rewarded next winter if all goes well. The struggle now is to get an equal harmony in Jersey City, but so far Colonel Dickinson, the Republican boss, has refused to make any concessions to Mayor Fagan. However it is expected that Candidate Fort will appear at the city convention and that there will be no open quarrels there between the Dickinsonites and Fagonites. It was said that if Dickinson would help Fagan's election and work with Fagan for the state ticket and consent to the reward of Record by a state office of importance the lawsuits would be dropped and the attempt to remove Dickinson on the ground of immoral life would stop and he would be allowed to remain at the head of the party in Jersey City, with a possibility of reappointment. These and numerous other rumors of the Republican "peace protocol" have kept the politicians busy guessing all the week.—Newark Sunday Call.

WHAT HE TOLD HIS UNCLE.

I don't want to go to Jersey City, and I won't be a Democrat.—Candidate Fort After His Nomination.

What He Told Jersey City Republicans Oct. 5.

"For this kindly greeting and enthusiastic reception I tender you my most grateful thanks. You make me feel at home already. I have come to love Hudson county and Jersey City with no common and ordinary affection, and I come to you tonight under somewhat different circumstances from what I have ever come in Hudson county before, but with none the less pleasure at the privilege and opportunity of speaking to you for a short time."

Now Wants Jersey City Democrats' Votes.

"Sometimes over here the Democrats are good enough to vote for Republicans. I am just hoping that a whole lot of them are going to vote for your candidate for governor. I will accept their votes gladly. I am ready to tender thanks to any class of citizens of the state of New Jersey who give me their vote."—Newark Sunday Call.

MANY OF THE SAME KIND.

One of the new idea men in East Orange got out of the organization last week because he could not follow it in pursuit of power through the agency of Candidate Fort, whose election, it seemed to him, meant a victory for the public service corporation, as his nomination undoubtedly was. There are many others like him, although they may not make public resignations, but content themselves with voting or not voting in November. They do not care to get aboard the train even if they have to stop at a rather lonely station until all the Pullman cars have passed. —Newark Sunday Call.

WHAT SEEK YE?

Colby, Everett Colby, man of the greater times;
Sommer, dear Frank Sommer, youth of motive sublime;
Martin, fighter and worker, strong and earnest and true;
Anderson, practical and faithful—what are you seeking to do?
Why are you leaving us doubtful who trusted you so long?
Why join you now the forces you yesterday told us were wrong?
Where is the gain to the people in a fight that's all for pelf?
What has profit to the new idea when each is for oneself?
You say you may make them better, but what does history tell?
The purest of men may suffer by the least of the flames of hell.
Harmony? Harmony? Compromise? Why, you can't compromise right—
You can't make daylight by lanterns when hour proclaims midnight!

Come back to your faith, deserters—come back on our knees we pray,
For the sake of the greater morrow, for the hope of the better day.

—Newark Sunday Call.

DRIVEN TO COVER.

Republicans In the House of Assembly Get Dressed Down.

BEAT DIRECT PRIMARY ACT.

Governor Tries to Tell Legislature What It Should Do, and Sullivan and Alexander Tell Some Hard Facts. Public Utilities Bill Amended to Include Steam Railroads—Tumulty Tells of Acts of Omission of the Senate.

Driven from one position to another on the public utilities and direct primary bills in the house of assembly last week, the Republican minority in the house were finally jammed into a corner and kept there by the Democratic majority. Dramatic in its every feature as was the last meeting of the legislature, the contest of eloquence waxed hot at times and placed beyond the slightest doubt the insincerity and duplicity of the Republican party on the measures named.

Tumulty, Alexander, Baker, Sullivan and Kleuert led the assault upon the Republicans, and when the smoke of battle cleared late in the evening the Republicans were found to have retreated from every position they had taken and were, figuratively speaking, in full retreat, with ranks broken and standards trailing.

When a message was read from the governor urging that the legislature hasten to adjourn in order that the laws may be duly published, Alexander of Hudson remarked that he regarded the message as a choice piece of political buncombe, and the fiery young man from Hudson presented the following resolutions, which were promptly adopted:

Whereas, The house of assembly has passed the following bills recommended by the governor in his annual message: Bills regulating child labor, corrupt practice act, popular election of United States senators bill, repeal of Meeker act, restoring spring elections, improving divorce law, insurance laws, night school for foreigners bill, publicity of campaign contribution bills; and

Whereas, The first five of the above bills are now in the hands of the senate; and

Whereas, The house of assembly has today passed a public utilities bill and a direct primary bill, as demanded by both parties in their platforms; and

Whereas, The civil service bill, which was killed in the house by a nonpartisan vote, twelve Democrats and eight Republicans voting for and 161 for the only measure remaining unacted upon that both parties demand in their platform; therefore be it

Resolved, That the speaker appoint a committee of three to notify the senate and governor that the house is ready to adjourn.

Barber, the Republican leader of Mercer, jumped to his feet the instant Alexander moved that his resolution be adopted.

"The preamble of that resolution," howled Barber, "is a piece of political buncombe, but I don't think it will gain five Democratic votes or cause the loss of five Republican votes."

"As a piece of political buncombe that exhibit in the governor's message is the best I have ever seen. It takes the bakery," blandly remarked Alexander.

"I am glad that some one has had the courage to write and tell this legislature to quit and go home," said Barber. "We are the laughingstock of the whole state. If the people had a choice to vote on it, they would vote ten to one that we go home."

"This message from the governor comes at a very late day," said Mr. Tumulty. "In spite of the fact that the people demand the bills mentioned in the governor's resolution, we have found it impossible to bring justice from the Republican senate.

"The senate of this great state has been deaf to the demands of the people and has not acted in good faith. What has been the attitude of the senate on the equal tax bill? What has been its attitude on the direct primary bill? Has it not been faithless to the professions of its party's platform?

"What has been its attitude on the child labor law, on the bills to separate state and local elections and on the United States senators bill? We have passed those bills, but the senate turns a deaf ear to the popular demands.

"What has been the attitude of the Republican party on all these measures? The senate has been executing a Jekyll and Hyde performance. A few weeks ago the senate and the Republican party were groveling at the feet of corporations. Today they are standing erect, making promises that they don't ever mean to fulfill. An election is at hand."

Mr. Fake of Bergen remarked that he thought the Democrats would accomplish more if they obliged every Democratic member to be present at every session of the house.

"The gentleman well knows that such a thing is impossible," said Mr. Alexander—"to get every man, Democrats or Republicans, to attend every session, seeking to get Republican members, are often absent. The senate or house rarely if ever hold a session at which all are present. One of our men, it so happens, is at present at Columbus, O."

Mr. Barker said: "If a majority of the senate were Republicans I don't if many of those buncombe bills would be passed by the Democrats in this house. The Democrats have been playing a whole lot of politics. Now, I think we have carried the political part far enough."

At this point Mr. Sullivan got the floor. He said: "The governor's reason for urging the adjournment that the public utilities bill may not be passed is not a good one. Last year the legislature adjourned in April, and the session laws were not distributed until November. The purpose of the recess was to compel the governor to take action on the bills we passed, so that the session laws might not be delayed again."

The discomfiture of the Republicans was further increased by Mr. Baker's sarcasm. He said: "I am satisfied to adjourn, but I think the people will condone our delay. We have sent out an investigating committee which exposed an appalling condition of affairs in our penal and charitable institutions under Republican rule.

"Talk about buncombe! If there ever was such a think it was when the stalwart organization Republicans of Hudson in convention voted to unanimously and enthusiastically indorse the administration of Edward C. Stokes." That was buncombe for you with a vengeance. I know that they didn't mean a word of it."

The Alexander resolution was finally adopted.

In the consideration of the public utilities bill passed by the senate the Democrats in the house amended it so as to include steam railroads, the fixing of rates and the wiping out of the railroad commission. Mr. Alexander showed that the abolition of the railroad commission and including steam railroads in the bill meant a saving of $30,000 to the state. The Republicans voted and fought against every amendment offered. Barber was dramatic and able in his effort to defeat the amendments, but he was battered down at every point. After the bill as amended had passed second reading and was sent to third reading Barber and the other Republicans, realizing that they had been driven to the wall, surrendered by voting for the passage of the bill. It was practically dumping the responsibility for the measure on the senate, which now must show its true colors when the bill is returned to it.

On the direct primary act another dramatic battle royal was fought. The point at issue was the including of governor and congressmen in the bill. The Democrats desired to include all officials. The Republicans took a stand against them and won on the final vote. Then Taylor of Ocean, a Republican, offered amendments. To the dismay of the Republicans, the Democrats voted with the Republicans for the Taylor amendments.

It was a masterly display of political tactics. The Republicans were really against the bill in any shape. With the adoption of the Taylor amendments and the action of the Democrats in favoring them Barber and his colleagues were compelled to show their

DRUGGISTS.

ONE DOSE IN TIME of our White Pine Balsam Compound may save a horrible Winter's cold. It's better to have a reliable remedy at hand for use when you need it. This is the reason for colds and our White Pine Balsam Compound is the remedy for it.

C. M. NAGLE'S PHARMACY, Prescriptions Our Specialty. Front and Grove Streets, 'Phone 911-L.

Complete Line of REXALL Goods at MILLER'S PHARMACY Park Ave. & 4th St. Tel. 39.

Hodge's Pharmacy. Y. M. C. A. Building. BELLE MEAD SWEETS. Tel. 62.

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF EAST FRONT STREET. HENRY WINDHAM, Prop. Gottfried Kruger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private Dining-Room.

HOTEL KENSINGTON (Licensed.) J. H. STAATS Prop. 107-109-111 North Avenue. Everything New and Up-to-date. An Inspection solicited.

HOTEL IROQUOIS Commercial Headquarters. J. W. LEARY, Proprietor. Plainfield, N. J. Pabst Milwaukee Beer on draft. SUNDAY DINNERS SPECIAL FEATURE

REAL ESTATE.

RENTALS — REAL ESTATE. GEO. P. BROWN, Insurance and Real Estate Commissioner of Deeds—Rents. 94 Somerset St. Phone 160.

FRESH PORK

The freshest, juiciest, and sweetest corn-fed Pork on the market, made into sausage, and the greatest care is taken in the making. Remember, we have a choice supply always on hand of Beef, Veal, Mutton, Lamb and Chickens.

The source of supply is carefully considered, and we buy only the choicest. Our prices will be found low enough to please.

FRED. ENDRESS, 'Phone 690. 131-135 W. Front St.

N. FATOUROS Dealer In Fancy Fruits and Vegetables

Our specialties: California oranges, grape fruit, fancy apples, bananas, figs and dates, and a lot of other fancy goods.

All orders promptly attended to and delivered.

'Phone 887-R. 131-135 W. Front St. ENDRESS' STAND.

HENRY WIERENGA Residence 'Phone 517-J. Furniture, Freight, Baggage Express and Rigger. PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY. 5 1 tf

Try a Box of DOBBINS' CIGARS. Clear Havana Nickle Yara or any kind that you desire. Manufactured at 120 North avenue, opposite Kensington Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.

Kindling and Grate Wood. Cedar Posts and Bean Poles. Prompt delivering. Orders left at 60 Somerset St.

JOHN MOBUS, P. O. Box 224

STATIONERY AND TOYS. HARPER, 411 PARK AVENUE

H. J. HAROLD Pianos Tuned and Regulated. Tel. 440-R. 143 E. 5th St.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Oct. 20: "Hearing and doing." "Be ye doers of the word and not hearers only."—Jas. i, 19-25.

By REV. WALTER J. TATTS, D. D.

Passages for reference—Ezek. xxxiii, 30-32; Matt. xiii, 14, 15; Rom. ii, 13; I Cor. iv, 2, 4.

It is a good classification which recognizes the powers of the mind to soul as divided into intellect, sensibility and will. Every one who does any clear thinking realizes at once the difference between an idea, a feeling and an act of determination and also soon comes to know that these are very closely connected, so that when one arises in the mind the others are likely to follow.

All this has a bearing on human conduct, character and destiny. By the intellect come ideas of what is true for belief and right for conduct. Then should follow the feeling of duty or obligation to do the right, the impulse of oughtness. Then should follow the action of the will, freely making the resolve to do the right and good.

This seems so reasonable that it is hard to see how there can be any failure. Yet, in fact, the failure is all too common. Impulses never rise singly. Ideas crowd upon one another. Desires conflict. We would like to do many different ways. We do not always choose what is the best, the wisest or the highest.

More singular than even this is the fact that we may take great pleasure in acting about matters which ought to move our feelings intensely and result in decisive action, and yet become so absorbed in the merely intellectual phase of affairs that we actually feel no emotion of pity, sorrow, gladness, approval, disapproval or anger, and are not impelled to any action in the case. It does not appeal to us. We know of it, but we do not care. It is none of our concern.

We are particularly liable to this in religious affairs. Many people are interested, and deeply so, in the discussion of questions of theology. They delight in investigation of doctrines. The historic progress of the church, the condition of the masses of men, religious statistics, all are thoroughly interesting to them, but never reach deeper than the intellect with them.

Others delight to listen to eloquent sermons. They enjoy having their emotions stirred. Pathetic stories and rousing appeals are specially successful. They are on the front seats whenever a noted evangelist appears. They are excellent listeners. They help much by encouragement.

Neither class amounts to much in the real religious advancement of the world. Fortunately very few people are entirely like either of these types, but unfortunately all of us have struggle of both qualities in our composition.

Most of us have a great deal more knowledge of right and duty than we put to active exercise. Many of us allow a vast deal of emotion to be expended on ungodly cases and before many cases of real need directly before our faces to pass unheeded. We hear a great deal of God's will which we never apply to ourselves. We spend days in bewailing evils which one night with resolute action correct in a few hours.

The root of this fault is a lack of downright honesty of purpose and earnestness. We care more for our pleasure intellectually and emotionally than we do for God's truth and righteousness.

The remedy is to get so close to God that we think and feel as He does. Then we shall act as we ought to and as He desires.

Sorrow's Plowshare.

Back and forth the plow was driven. The field was covered with grass and lovely flowers, but remorselessly through them all the share forced its way, cutting furrow after furrow. It seemed that all the beauty was being hopelessly destroyed. But by and by harvest time came, and the field waved with golden wheat. That was what the plowman's faith saw from the beginning. Sorrow seems to destroy the life of a child of God. Its rude share plows again and again through it, making many a deep furrow, gashing it bleary. But afterward a harvest of blessing and good grows up out of the crushed and broken life. That is what God intends always in trial and sorrow. Let us have the plowman's faith, and we shall not faint when the share is driven through our heart. Then by faith we shall see beyond the pain and trial the blessing of richer life, of whiter holiness, of larger fruitfulness, and to win that blessing will be worth all the pain and trial.—J. R. Miller, D. D.

Human Life.

It is the salvation of a noble nature to have some task of self denial, some motive for self sacrifice left, when all that made the daily burden of life intolerable has passed away. Happy he who has habituated himself to look upon his whole earthly career but as a task of which the reward, though not given here, is to be received as it is certain. I have remarked that a true delineation of the smallest man and his sense of pilgrimage through life is capable of interesting the greatest man; that all men are to an unspeakable degree brothers, each man's life a strange emblem of every man's, and that human portraits faithfully drawn are of all pictures the welcomest on human walls.—Thomas Carlyle.

Noble Ideal.

Just to make life constantly helpful in little ways to those who are touched by it, to keep one's spirit always sweet and avoid all manner of petty ugliness—that is an ideal as noble as it is difficult.—Edward Howard Griggs.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 20.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—The duties of the day.—Prov. xxiv. 30-34; Rom. xii, 11.

Life is made of years, but of the smallest particles of time. Therefore, if we can perform faithfully and regularly the duties of the hour or of the day, life itself will be successful. Daily performance of duties is emphasized in the Scriptures. Daily prayer and communion with God was also taught in the Old Testament, and Christ taught us to pray day by day "for our daily bread," and we may well make the words of the poet our prayer:

Lord, for tomorrow and its needs
I do not pray,
Keep me, my God, from stain of sin,
Just for today!
Let me both work and seek and deed
Just for today.
Let me be slow to do my will,
But prompt to obey;
Help me to sacrifice myself
Just for today.

No better words could be chosen as the motto of the day. The future may be left to itself if we may have the watchful care of God and be kept free from temptations and sin "just for today." Our great need of God is the present need, the present hour, the present day.

I need thee every hour,
Most gracious Lord.
No tender voice like thine
Can peace afford.

The duties of the day may often seem irksome to us, and yet they should be just as willingly performed. Every gift and every power we possess comes from the Holy Ghost, and no gift of His should be lightly esteemed or treated. Nor should we be worried because others possess gifts which seem preferable to those bestowed upon us. If we could exchange gifts, perhaps the proclivity is that we would wish to re-exchange. God has made us what we ought to be, and we would be no more at ease with the gifts of others than if we were to attempt to imitate them or wear their clothes or perform their duties. Be all that God made you to be and you will satisfy Him and fulfill the purpose of your life. No man can do more, and no man should do less.

BIBLE READINGS.

Gen. xli, 9; Ps. v, 1-3; xcii, 1, 2; cxvi, 12-19; cxxi, 1-8; cxiv, 1-5; Matt. vi, 11; John ix, 4; Acts vii, 11.

Some Shaw Sense.

Take your boy to church and prayer meeting, even if he cannot understand all that is said and goes to sleep. It is a good deal better for a boy to go to sleep in the church prayer meeting than for him to be awake on the street corner learning to swear and to smoke cigarettes.

Make your lookout committee a getout committee if they do not do their work.

If Sunday is always the coldest day in the week in your community, so call that you have to suspend the Junior meeting during the winter, then have the Junior meeting on a warmer day of the week.

If there are no young Christians in your little village, let a few of the older Christians form a Christian Endeavor society and soon as possible get some of the younger people into it. Then let the older ones retire.

Your society should send a limited Pullman running express and making no stops for new passengers.

Your social nature is as much a gift of God as your spiritual nature. A face as pale and blank and cold as a tombstone is not religion.

God can use the smallest thing to do His will, but He is never satisfied with less than the best.

Success is not a cheap commodity. It cannot be bought at the five and ten cent counter.—General Secretary William Shaw.

Pastors' Testimonies.

The Christian Endeavor society is the soul of a small church and the redeemer of a large one.—Russell H. Conwell, Baptist.

There is no such aid to the pastor in his arduous and multiform work, especially in large cities, as a well organized society of Christian Endeavor.—B. Fay Mills, Disciples of Christ.

Personally no one Christian institution or organization has been such a godsend to me as the Y. P. S. C. E. It has torn up the rails of my narrow gauge Christianity and spiked down a wider and heavier track.—J. F. Cowan, Methodist.

There has been nothing like it since the establishment of the Christian church. I rejoice to know that the church of which I am a clergyman is gradually coming to adopt Christian Endeavor, and in every instance it is cordially approved and heartily indorsed as a great God inspired movement.—Canon J. B. Richardson, Church of England.

"The Wizard of Christian Endeavor."

That most brilliant of all Endeavor journalists, Amos R. Wells, writes of himself in the following strain: "The secretary is long and lank. He has on his face a little red mustache and in his hand a big black pen. He has written forty-two books in the last fourteen years, which is forty too many. But you can't stop him. He is a veritable child of Christian Endeavor than eat his dinner."—Australian Christian Endeavor Link.

Picturesque Meetings.

Miss Jolliffe of Samoa says that the Christian Endeavor meetings in the islands are "most picturesque, for they are held in the cool nights, and as the churches have no lights the members all come with lanterns and Bibles. They then sit on the floor and answer roll call."

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Miss Ida Greeley Smith, granddaughter of Horace Greeley, is a member of John Drew's company.

Miss Margaretta Drexel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, daughters of the London paper that she intends to enter a convent.

Mme. Febea Strakosch, a near relative of Adelina Patti and a niece of Maurice Strakosch, has arrived at New York to sing in the Savage Opera company.

Mrs. Nathan Hulbert is the only woman barber in Worcester, Mass. She works in her husband's shop daily and is very skillful with the razor and scissors.

Mrs. Augusta Dale Gifford of Portland, Me., a sister of Senator Eugene Hale, who has spent much time in foreign lands, will shortly begin the writing of a comprehensive history of Russia.

Miss Kathleen Leupp, daughter of the commissioner of Indian affairs, will leave Washington shortly to spend several months among the Indian tribes. She will study their racial characteristics and will specialize on those of Indian womankind.

Miss Jennie Winslow Bubier, who has charge of the "room of happiness" in the Lynn (Mass.) Public Library, is said to be the only blind librarian in the world. Besides performing the duties of librarian Miss Bubier teaches the blind patrons of the library to read.

Miss Katherine T. Harrison is probably the wealthiest woman secretary in the world. Her wealth is estimated at $1,000,000. She is H. H. Rogers' "right hand man," so to speak, and her business acumen is said to be equal to that of any of the directors of the Standard Oil company. Every morning she goes from her home in Brooklyn to 26 Broadway in a blue electric brougham.

Women's Dress and Women's Homes

On a morning walk an Englishwoman said to the writer in one of our western cities especially given over to the national passion for dress: "Any countrywoman of mine dressed as that woman is, or that, would be in her carriage. She would return to a substantial home, the door would be opened by a man in livery, every item of her environment would match the elegance of those furs, that frightfully expensive hat, that very sart broadcloth walking suit, whereas the chances are (you see I've been keeping my eyes open) that she came in a street car and has come home in one. She lives either in tiny lodgings—I beg your pardon, flat—and will open her front door with a pass key, or else she lives in one of the suburban towns in a very trumpery sort of little house which does not look the least match those furs or that hat. And a lovely only 'slavey' attends the door when she rings for admittance"—

"Or, what is much more likely, her daughter or her mother," added the American.—Anna A. Rogers in Atlantic.

Hit Him With the Text.

"On a visit to Scotland I went to the old United Presbyterian kirk at Savoch," said a clergyman, "and I heard a good story about a former minister. His name was the Rev. Duncan Bain, and he was very diminutive, standing only about five feet two inches. He led to the altar a strapping, handsome lass some five or six inches taller than he, and her name was Grace Wilson.

"The Sunday after the wedding he got a neighboring minister to preach for him, so that he could sit with his bride on the first Sunday. The minister was a good deal of a wag, so Mr. Bain made him promise faithfully that he would not allude in his sermon to himself, his bride or the fact of the marriage. So he promised that in his sermon he would make no allusion of that kind whatever, but Mr. Bain nearly sank through the floor when the text was given out—Ephesians iii, 8, 'Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this Grace given.'"

Quite a Difference.

"I am afraid you are not so strong as you used to be, John," said a fond wife to her husband. "I think it is about time you were getting some insurance on your life."

"Insurance on my life! What are you talking about? I am as healthy as ever I was. Insurance, indeed!"

"Well, dear, I only mentioned it, you know, out of respect to yourself. I thought you were failing."

"And what in the world put it into your head that I am failing? Me failing? Why, I am as strong as a horse and can run up these flights of stairs without taking a breath."

"Well, that may be so, but I am afraid you are deceiving yourself."

"Deceiving myself! Goodness gracious, woman, what do you mean?"

"Don't be so impatient. What makes me think you are failing is this: When you were courting me you could hold me on your knee for three hours; now you cannot hold the baby on your lap three minutes."—Pearson's.

The Two Views.

"Say, pa, what's the difference between an optimist and a pessimist?"

"An optimist, Johnnie, thinks the times are good; a pessimist thinks they are rotten."—Harper's Weekly.

Matrimony in Persia.

Matrimonial engagements in Persia are divided into two classes. The real marriage, which is considered the most respectable, is confined to four wives. In the other the number of "partners" of the husband's joy and sorrow is unlimited.

PLAINFIELD LIBRARY NOTES

Books and Articles in the Public Library on Municipal Ownership.

Indianapolis.

Potts, Alfred F.—Successful substitute for municipal ownership. Review of reviews 20:576.

New Orleans.

Municipal government department. Annals American academy 15:126, 291.

New York City.

Monroe, Robert Grier.—Gas, electric light, water and street railway services in New York city. Annals American academy 27:111 (Jan., 1906).

Municipal ownership (editorial). Outlook 80:411.

Vreeland, H. H.—Failure of municipal ownership. Independent 52:1165-8.

Whitney, E. B.—Public ownership in New York. (Public ownership in general). International quarterly, October, 1905, page -.

Philadelphia.

City government of Philadelphia, bureau of water, page 111.

Seattle.

Seattle and municipal ownership (anonymous). Outlook 82:823.

Europe.

New York, Merchants' Association. Water supply and prevention of waste in leading European cities.

Shaw, Albert.—Municipal government in Europe. (See also Index under water supply).

Germany.

Woodhead, Howard.—German municipal social service. Chautauquan 40:548.

Madrid.

Jones, Chester Lloyd.—Mdrid, its government and municipal service. Annals American academy, January, 1906, page 120.

Switzerland.

Macy, Jesse.—The Swiss and their politics. American Journal sociology 2:37.

Great Britain.

Boyle, James.—Municipal socialism in Great Britain. U. S. Consular reports, July, 1902. Later report, April, 1903. U. S. Consular reports 72:383.

Boyle, James.—Municipal socialism in Great Britain. Cassier's 22:681.

Shaw, Albert.—Municipal government in Great Britain. (See Index under water works).

Glasgow.

Crawford, Robert.—Glasgow's experiment with municipal ownership of water, etc. Annals American academy, 27:1. (January, 1906.)

London.

Ashley, Percy.—Water, gas and electric light supply of London. Annals American academy 27:20. (January, 1906.)

Williams, Ernest E.—How London loses by municipal ownership. North American review October 19, 1906, page 729.

Williams, W. M. J.—Transfer of the London water companies. Fortnightly review, 82:894.

A list of the nature books in the Public Library written by the nature writers whose works have recently been criticized by President Roosevelt.

Jack London.

Call of the wild.
White fang.

William Joseph Long.

Little brother to the bear.
Northern trails.
School of the woods.

Charles G. D. Roberts.

Heart of the ancient woods.
Kindred of the wild.

Ernest Thompson Seton.

Animal heroes.
Biography of a grizzly.
Lives of the hunted.
Lobo, Rag, and Vixen.
Monarch, the big bear of Tallac.
Trail of the Sandhill stag.

The following is a list of books by the two nature writers of whose works the President approves.

John Burroughs.

Birds and poets.
Fresh fields.
Little nature studies for little people.
Locusts and wild honey.
Pepacton.
Riverby.
Signs and seasons.
Squirrels.
Wake robin.
Winter sunshine.

Stewart Eward White.

The forest.
The mountains.
The silent places.

Best books of 1905, taken from an annotated list of 250 books published in 1905, selected by the Book Board of the New York State Library and recommended to the Public Libraries of the State. Part One.

Ringwalt, R. C.—Briefs on public questions.

Statements of 25 timely social, political and economic questions, defining their issues and providing affirmative and negative briefs and references.

Lodge, Sir O. J.—Life and matter.

Brief work in controversial form, intended to provide an antidote *against the speculative and destruc*tive portion of Haeckel's materialistic philosophy and to confute "the idea that the specific guiding power which we call 'life' is one of the forms of material energy."

Gladden, W.—New idolatry.

Papers protesting against present commercial spirit in government, education and religion, and discussing ethics of money getting and spending.

James, G. W.—In and out of the old missions of California.

Treats fully history, architecture and interior decoration and relics of the 21 Franciscan missions, with a general discussion of their founding and work with Indians. One hundred and forty-two excellent photographic illustrations.

Sociology.

Wells, H. G.—Modern Utopia.

Portrays an improved and progressive *world state, with a common lan*guage, on a planet the physical counterpart of this. The form is fiction, but the social theme is worked out along the lines of modern scientific and philosophic thought.

Adams and Sumner.—Labor problems.

Although a textbook, much new material on profit sharing and co-operation is presented. To those who would know the facts and catch the spirit of the new movement, this book is heartily recommended.

Kelley, F.—Some ethical gains through legislation.

Reviews conditions as to child labor, the sweating system and relations of men to the franchise, with special reference to recent legislation and judicial decisions, and formulates improvements immediately necessary. Author a member of Illinois bar, secretary of National Consumers' League and pioneer settlement worker.

Child Labor.—(Annals of the Amer. Acad. of Pol. and Soc. Sci.)

Papers by Florence Kelley, Jane Addams, J. H. Brooks, Samuel Gompers and nine other social workers, discussing physiological and psychological effects, attitude of organized labor, parental responsibility, the ideal law, labor in coal mines, southern cotton mills and glass factories.

Richardson, J.—Long day.

Absorbing record of the experiences of a young country girl without money, friends of training, in her struggle to make a living in New York factories and workshops.

Comagno.—Industrial history of the United States.

Traces economic evolution from question of land tenure in colonial times to present day industrial problems. Maps, charts, marginal references. Bibliography at end of chapters.

Jernigan, T. R.—China in law and commerce.

Probably the best single volume for all who have practical relations or business with the Chinese.

Education.

Javal, E.—On becoming blind.

By a French physician who became blind at 61. Discusses occupations, personal hygiene, walking, use of tandem tricycle, typewriter, watch, reading and writing Braille, etc.

Washington, B. T., ed.—Tuskegee and its people.

Chapters on school by school officials and 17 autobiographic sketches by graduates in as many callings.

Hogue, E. and C.—Occupations for little girls.

Raffa, coarse sewing, paper cutting, clay modeling, weaving, beadwork, etc. Illustrations show the stages of the work.

Natural Science.

Duncan, R. K.—New knowledge.

First popular exposition of the new (1905) scientific discoveries, including simple explanations of the theories concerning gaseousions, radioactivity, atomic disintegration, inorganic evolution, etc.

Harwood, W. S.—New creations in plant life.

Of much popular interest for its descriptions, and photographs illustrating results of plant breeding, but sharply discredited by authorities in horticulture and agriculture for scientific, extravagant and misleading statements concerning Mr. Burbank's achievements.

Long, W. J.—Northern trails.

Tells of familiar animals of Labrador and Newfoundland, marked by high appreciation of animal intelligence and pervasive consciousness of the beauty and mystery of mountain, river and plain.

Mayer, A. G.—Seashore life.

Nontechnical descriptions by a scientific authority of sponges, jellyfish, mollusks, etc., of Atlantic coast. One hundred and nineteen remarkably good halftones, ill. from photographs of specimens.

Peckham, G. W. and E. G.—Wasps social and solitary.

Describes instincts, degrees of sensitiveness to color and sound, habits of nest building, housekeeping, caring for eggs, killing and conveying of prey, etc.

Useful Arts.

Call, A. P.—Freedom of life.

Miss Call's third book of little sermons preaching the "gospel of relaxation" to the nervously exhausted.

Bashore, H. B.—Sanitation of a country house.

Popular handbook applying elementary principles of sanitation to location, surroundings, water supply and waste disposal of country homes, with a chapter on the summer camp. Author, inspector for State Board of Health of Pennsylvania.

Saint Maur, Mrs. K. V.—A self-supporting home.

Enthusiastic and extremely optimistic account of author's 10 years' experience in running a 12 acre farm. Groups work and suggestions chronologically by months and discusses, breeding of pet cats and rabbits, care of beers, cows, gardens and orchards. Illustrated from photographs.

Fine Arts.

Mach, E. R. O. von.—Handbook of Greek and Roman sculpture.

Not a handbook in the ordinary sense, but a descriptive catalogue of 500 well chosen plates and 45 text illustrations. Description and discussion of each work preceded by a note giving the material, place, date and discovery if known, museum or collection where preserved and some bibliographic information. Index and bibliography.

Caffin, C. H.—How to study pictures.

Beginning with Cimabue, the author selects from each period in the *history of art two painters of differ*ent schools and reproduces one picture by each for comparative study. Both individual genius and the continuity of artistic tradition are suggestively treated. Well within grasp of beginners in art study.

Cox, Kenyon.—Old masters and new.

Twenty-two essays in art criticism, ranging from Perugino to William Blake and present day painters and sculptures.

Hasluck, P. N., ed.—Book of photography.

Useful, up-to-date book, written from the standpoint of actual experience. A. L. A Booklist.

His Threat to a Conductor.

Some time ago a man at Ypsilanti, Mich., became crazed on the subject of hypnotism and was sent on a Michigan Central train to an asylum. When the conductor asked for tickets the crazy man began telling of his hypnotic powers.

"I'll hypnotize you," he said.

"Fire away," replied the conductor.

The man made several passes before the conductor's face.

"Now you are hypnotized," he said.

The conductor looked the part as best he could.

"You're a conductor," the hypnotist said.

"That's right," replied his victim.

"You're a good conductor," went on the hypnotist.

"Right again," said the conductor.

"You don't smoke, drink or swear at passengers. You are honest. You turn in to the ticket and money you collect from passengers. In fact, you do not steal a cent."

"That's right," assented the conductor.

The hypnotist eyed him a moment, then said:

"What an awful fix you'd be in if I left you in this condition!"—Kansas City Star.

A Corporal's Lesson.

During the Revolutionary war the captain of a little band of soldiers was giving orders about a heavy beam that they were endeavoring to raise to the top of some military works they were repairing. The weight was almost beyond their power, and the voice of the superintendent was often heard shouting at them. An officer not in military costume was passing and asked the superintendent why he did not render a little aid. The latter, astonished, turned around, with the pomp of an emperor, and said, "Sir, I am a corporal!"

"You are, are you? I ask your pardon, Mr. Corporal," and, taking off his hat, he bowed, saying, "I was not aware of that."

Upon this he dismounted and pulled until great drops of perspiration stood on his forehead. When the beam was raised, turning to the little great man, he said, "Mr. Corporal, when you have another such job and not enough men send for your commander in chief and I will gladly come and help you a second time."

The little corporal was thunderstruck. It was Washington who thus addressed him.

RUSSIA.

The baby czarowitz is commander of the fierce Cossacks. And he is just about as much of a commander as his papa is an emperor.—Baltimore Sun.

The St. Petersburg police have nipped in the bud another plot to assassinate the czar, thus insuring themselves the trouble of nipping another one.—Louisville Times.

Russia is going to stake out a new deep sea harbor for herself on the Arctic ocean. After mature consideration those she looked at on the Pacific do not seem adapted to her needs.—Indianapolis Star.

Lights Out!

An irascible sergeant, going his nightly round of the barracks in order to make sure that all lights had been extinguished, noticed that a window was illuminated. He roused the occupants of the room. "Put out that light," he ordered, "and be quick about it!"

"But it's moonlight," explained a private.

"I don't care what it is," roared the sergeant; "put it out!"—London Graphic.

Mother and Son.

Mother—Now, you sit down it that chair and be good for ten minutes. Son—I don't want to. Pa'll be home in ten minutes, and I'll have to be good anyway.—Judge.

Optimist and Pessimist.

"How are the meals at your hotel?"

"Pretty good."

"That means pretty bad, eh?"—Exchange.

BAPTIST WOMEN GATHER

East New Jersey Association's Foreign Missionary Society in Session.

AN ALL DAY MEETING

Mrs. B. J. Shreve and Miss Dimock Make Addresses—Luncheon Is Served.

The semi-annual meeting of the Women's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of the East New Jersey Baptist Association, is being held in First Baptist church, today, with a large attendance of delegates from the association churches. Mrs. William T. Lumbar, of Newark, president, is in the chair.

The morning session convened at 10 o'clock with devotional exercises. Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the church, gave the address of welcome, to which Mrs. Lumbar responded. The business session was chiefly routine. Miss Julia Shinn, formerly of this city, but now one of the secretaries at the headquarters of the Baptist Board in Boston, gave a talk on her work in Burmah, India and China from which she recently returned. The chief thought of her address was the willingness of the women in these countries to make large gifts for merit, and when they are converted they make great sacrifice.

"Our New Literature," was the subject of a delightful address by Miss Elizabeth Dimock, who used a novel method of introducing the Baptist missionary literature. This was through the use of catch phrases taken from popular advertisements. The morning session closed with an interesting talk by Mrs. B. J. Shreve on the topic of "Education." The Baptist Educational Society seek to train young women for work on the foreign mission field, to be trained nurses, medical missionaries, and it was of this work that Mrs. Shreve spoke. She referred to the fact that Miss Bertha Mills, of Paterson, has just completed a course of training at the Elizabeth General Hospital for the profession of trained nurse and is now completing her course of study at the "Hazeltine House," Boston, preparatory to going to a foreign field.

The afternoon session convened at 2 o'clock, and was taken up with several address by women prominent in the foreign mission work of this denomination.

SOAPY.

A soapfish has a soapy skin, whence its name.

The soap nut is the fruit of an East Indian shrub.

A soap crutch is a crotched stick used for stirring the soft soap in a kettle.

The term "soft soap" for smooth words of flattery has been added to the English language, so that it is used in "Tom Brown at Oxford."

Soap bubbles have formed the innocent amusement of children of all ages with the ease of making them, their iridescence and the brief period for which they last.

A soap lock is a term used in this country in reference to a lock of hair which was formerly worn on the temple and kept smoothly in place by being soaped, and the term has come to mean any lock of hair brushed apart from the rest and kept carefully in its place.

ANIMAL ODDITIES.

Crabs chew their food with their legs.

According to a Japanese newspaper, 700 frogs were killed and 2,000 wounded in battling among themselves.

It is a curious fact that there are certain kinds of noises which attract snakes. The whir of the mowing machines is one, and in six months as many as 120 cobras alone have been killed on a grass farm in India by the advancing machine.

By actual inspection of a big fat *toad's stomach it was found to con*tain not less than fifty large grasshoppers, forty-five potato bugs, sixty sowbugs, forty anglewarms and thirty cabbage worms, with, by way of seasoning, numerous flies and mosquitoes.

NEGROES.

In Pickett county, Tenn., there is not a negro between the ages of six and twenty-one.

Negroes have organized and are now conducting thirty-one banks in the southern States. In the United States they have 122 drug stores.

Dickinson county, in the mountain district of Virginia, is claimed to be the only county in the entire south that has not a single negro in it.

A calling gown of dull blue mous*seline de soie is made in a jumper* style with a gulmp of white silk. The double flounced skirt and bolero outlines were finished with soutache in the same shade of blue. The skirt was fashioned with a small train effect.

Smoke Clouds.

Smoking a pipe of medium size, says a statistician, a man blows out of his mouth every time he fills the bowl 700 smoke clouds. If he smokes four pipes a days for twenty years he blows 20,440,000 smoke clouds.

BIG CONSIDERATION FOR 2 TRACK PERMIT

P. S. C. Gives $5,000 and New Double Track Cars on All Lines for Concession.

CITY FATHERS ACCEPT

Mayor Fisk and Councilman Mellick Champion P. S. C.'s Cause Declaring Improvement Will Mean Better Service.

Permission was given to the Public Service Corporation to double track its line from West Front and Somerset street, through East Front street and Watchung avenue to Fourth street, at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night, in response to a petition presented a week ago. Councilman Buxton, Mellick, Montgomery, Charles C. Randolph, Frank Randolph and Tolles voted to grant the petition and President Daniel, Councilmen Ginna, Gloak and Tyler voted in the negative. Brand new double track trolley cars on every local line and $5,000 in cash for permanent pavements are the consideration given by the P. S. C. for the double track permit.

The request of the Public Service Corporation was not granted until after considerable discussion in which Mayor Charles J. Fisk, Councilmen Tyler, Gloak and Mellick took part. According to the usual form, Mr. Ginna presented the map showing the proposed improvement, together with the proposed contract between the company and the city which stated definitely what the company will do in return for the privilege of double tracking its line. The principal feature of this contract is that the company agrees to pay one-half the cost for the brick paving on East Front street and Watchung avenue, which now underway, which makes the company's share about $5,000. The company also agrees to use the groove rail, which with the brick pavement will make an absolutely smooth surface.

The petition of the company was presented at the regular October meeting a week ago, but was laid over until last night, when after offering the map to be filed, Mr. Ginna, chairman of the street committee, offered a resolution providing that the petition be granted after strict compliance with the terms of the contract on the part of the company, as well as the city. This resolution was adopted by the vote stated.

Prior to taking action on the petition, President Daniel gave those present an opportunity to speak for or against the granting of it. There was a lengthy petition presented, signed by ninety per cent. of the property owners on East Front street and Watchung avenue, protesting against the granting of the privileges asked for, and another one from Dr. Albert Pittis, representing the Pitts estate, owning 185 feet, favoring the improvement. In response to the invitation, J. Fred MacDonald objected to the remonstrance signed by himself and a majority of the property-owners expressed his sentiments, while Dr. Pittis spoke in favor of double tracking the line.

At this point Mayor Charles Fisk asked for the privileges of the floor to give, as he expressed it, the essential reasons why the petition should be granted. He said that he was not there to speak for any one individual or faction, but in the interest of the people of Plainfield. "It is well known that the congestion of traffic on Watchung avenue, as well as at Front and Somerset streets, is a matter of serious consideration," said Mr. Fisk. "I have made a close study of the situation and have come to the conclusion that something must be done to relieve the congestion. It cannot be done unless the city is willing to help the Public Service Corporation to some extent. I brought the matter to the attention of the company and told the officials that something must be done to relieve the congestion of traffic. I was informed that the only way this could be done was through the double tracking of the line on East Front street and Watchung avenue.

"After some effort the public men of the company investigated the matter and reported to me the result which was substantially as I am telling you now. I am of the opinion that now is the time to make the improvement. There will be less tearing up and blocking of the streets and the double tracking and brick paving can be completed before winter sets in. The trolley company has consented to undertake the improvement, although not anxious to do so.

"After an investigation I find that there will be plenty of room for wagons and automobiles on East Front street and Watchung avenue and as there will be only one car on the tracks at a time at any one point, it will not interfere with traffic. It will greatly improve our trolley service and prevent the holding up of cars at Watchung avenue and on West Front street, where the single track begins. It will enable the company to operate its cars on a correct schedule. The Public Service Corporation wants to improve its service here and I hope that the resolution will prevail. If the men who signed the protest were here now I believe that I should convince them that the improvement will be for the best interest of Plainfield. I want every member of the council to vote in favor of the city, and if I were a member of this body I would vote for the resolution because I believe it will be the best thing possible for the greatest number of people.

The atmosphere in the council chamber being too cold for the comfort of the members of the Common Council, President Daniel suggested that an adjournment be taken to the Mayor's office. This was done and the argument continued.

In opposition to the proposed action of giving the company further privileges, Councilman Tyler declared Mayor Fisk to be an interesting and persuasive person. He also had the same opinion of the Public Service Corporation officials.

"They argue well," said Mr. Tyler, "but I have carefully weighed the arguments in this matter and I don't think that the city should give the company additional privileges in perpetuity without adequate compensation. Those who favor the proposition say we will have better service, but this is not adequate. Our slim service in the city and in the past. The company are getting rights that will be of enormous value to them and it is not right or fair to the city to give them away, simply on the promise of better service. If the company pay for these rights according to the proportionate future value. Once these rights are given away we can never get them back.

"On the other hand I don't believe that we will get the better service. It will only relieve the congestion of trolley traffic coming east from Dunellen and North Plainfield. Between Watchung avenue and ourth street and East Second street there will still be a single track and the relief will only come at one end of the line in the city. By giving such rights away we may lose even greater advantages than the promise of better service and for these reasons I shall vote against the resolution."

Another member who opposed the resolution was Councilman Gloak. He recalled three years ago, when he was chairman of the street committee and the same matter was before the Common Council. He said that the question was thoroughly considered and it was the belief of the committee that the company should be willing to pave the street from curb to curb for the privilege of double tracking. Mr. Gloak said that he was still of that opinion and would vote against granting the petition unless the company was willing to pave the entire street.

In support of the resolution Mr. Mellick said that he was convinced that the people who use the trolley are most unhappy over the present service and while some property-owners have their own ideas on the subject he favored the improvement would be for the best. He concurred in what Mayor Fisk had said, that it is a question that concerns the people of the entire city. He declared that good trolley service cannot be given unless the city is willing to lend its aid. He expressed faith in the Mayor, who has made a close study of the proposition and he believed that what he said was right.

Referring to the Public Service Corporation, Mr. Mellick said that he felt sure the company would do the right thing and that the granting of the petition would cement the ties of friendship between the city and the company. The company offers advantages and it has the right to expect the square deal. Mr. Mellick added that the corporation counsel had informed the members that the city can enforce rights and if necessary resort to the adoption of an ordinance. He thought no mistake would be made in passing the resolution.

After Mr. Mellick's remarks, the vote was called for and the resolution was passed. There were four officials of the Public Service Corporation present, Col. Hine, Farley Osgood, J. J. Mitchell and L. D. H. Gilmour, the latter the assistant counsel for the company.

After the meeting Mr. Gilmour informed a reporter for The Daily Press that the company would be ready to begin work inside of forty-eight hours and that it would not interefere with the brick pavement on East Front street or Watchung avenue.

The funeral of the late Charles N. Flanders, who died at his home, on East Front street, Sunday night, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the house. The service will be private and the interment at the convenience of the family.

Manager Frentz has about closed a game for Saturday afternoon, with the Riverside team of Rahway.

Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Whitford and family, formerly of this borough, are now settled in their new home at Alfred, N. Y. The doctor and his eldest son are at present completing arrangements to return to Oklahoma, where they have taken a tract of government land.

The regular mid week service will be held in St. John's church tonight.

Edward Terry, of the borough, who is ill at the hospital with typhoid fever, is improving slowly.

Harlan is doing some great drop kicking and placemen goal kicking for Princeton.

ROUTINE OF CITY FATHERS

Petitions and Reports of Minor Import Takes Up Council's Time.

SOME MORE LIGHTS

The P. S. C. Gets Privilege of Laying Conduits—Sidewalks to Be Laid Shortly.

There was a batch of small business considered at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night, most of it being left over from the regular October meeting. The resignation of William Yeager, as a member of the fire department, was accepted. Watson Whittleson asked that a sewer assessment levied on property owned by himself and another party be equitably adjusted. The matter was referred. A copy of the county rabbles was presented and ordered filed.

On the recommendation of Councilman Ginna, the petition of Jacob Sachar, of Clinton avenue, asking the city to establish a pipe line across his property to carry off surface water, was refused. Mr. Ginna also filed a map of the Public Service Corporation showing certain streets through which it desires to lay conduits and later be offered a resolution, which is granted, giving the company permission to do this work on East and West Front streets, East and West Second streets, Park, Madison and Watchung avenues.

The petition of the Central Park Realty Company asking that Evergreen avenue be accepted as a city street, was granted on the motion of Mr. Ginna, an ordinance being adopted on two readings and ordered engrossed to conform to the usual custom.

Mr. Montgomery, chairman of the light committee, reported on the matter concerning the absence of a light on West Third street, referred to at the previous meeting. He presented a letter from the P. S. C., which stated that the light mentioned had been moved to West Third street and Madison avenue in 1904 at the request of a member of the Common Council. The matter will be attended to. The company stated that a list of every street light in the city is being compiled and a report will be submitted soon.

Regarding the petition of Christian Frederickson and others for lights on Leland avenue, between Berkeley avenue and Cushing road, Mr. Montgomery moved that a light be placed on that thoroughfare every 300 feet. Upon investigation he found that there are no lights there and he believed that the citizens to be entitled to them.

In support of the motion Mr. Gloak said that he investigated the section referred to on Sunday and was convinced that the lights should be erected. Mr. Tolles was of the opinion that more definite knowledge as to the number of lights to be erected should be given and Mr. Tyler said that he did not favor the motion, because there are a number of places in the city similarly affected and he thought the whole matter should be considered at one time. When the vote was taken, President Daniel and Councilmen Tolles and Tyler voted against it, but the seven votes in favor granted the petition.

The petition of Clifton Wharton, Jr., asking for a light on Woodland avenue, between Park lane and Ravine road, was also granted on omotion of Mr. Montgomery. Councilmen Tolles and Tyler voted against the motion. Another petition for a light on East Ninth street, between Watchung avenue and First place, was withheld until another meeting.

At the suggestion of Mr. Tolles the city clerk was instructed to notify the owners of the building that they must supply lamps for the Common Council rooms, according to the provisions of the lease. There was no heat in the room last night and the members were obliged to adjourn to the Mayor's office.

A resolution which was offered by Mr. Ginna and adopted, provided for the laying of sidewalks in certain streets of the city, where the property-owners have failed to comply with the ordinance. When the Common Council adjourned it did so to meet on Monday night, October 28.

The Shuberts' merry English musical whirl, "The Earl and the Girl," with Alexander Clark and 60 other clever companions, holds forth at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night. It's only quite recently that the piece closed a remarkably long run at the Casino theatre in New York city. "The Earl and the Girl," also ran for more than two years at the Lyric theatre, London. The piece abounds with sparkling comedy, a brilliant array of beautiful girls in lavish costumes, fascinating music and the chorus is said to be remarkable for its terpsichorean ability and its vocal excellence, the feminine voices being selected with great care. "The Earl and the Girl" is humorously staged and moves with plenty of spirit, and none of its humor gets over the heads of the audience. There has been a very large call for seats and a capacity house is assured.

Miss Elsie Smith, of Newark, has been spending a few days with friends in town.

CELEBRATION OF Y. M. C. A.

Elaborate Exercises to Mark 40th Anniversary of a Prosperous Institution.

THREE DAYS' EVENT.

Addresses to Be Made from Local Pulpits—Mass Meeting at the Theatre.

In commemoration of the foundation of the Young Men's Christian Association in this city forty years ago, an anniversary celebration will be held at the association for three days, beginning Saturday, October 26. The program as arranged by the committee appointed at the last meeting of the directors includes an anniversary banquet, special association services and special services in the local churches. J. H. Manning, formerly general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in this city, is in charge of the anniversary as chairman of the general committee, and servering with him are A. B. Beers, W. M. Murray, Curtis M. Thorpe, Dr. Norman H. Probasco and George M. Rittenhouse.

Alexander Gilbert, at whose home the meeting was held October 28, 1874, which resulted in the formation of the local association, will preside as toastmaster at the big banquet which will mark the opening of the celebration Saturday night, October 26, in the association auditorium. Mr. Gilbert was the first president of the Young Men's Christian Association when formed in this city. It is expected that about 150 members of the association prominent in its growth will be present on this occasion, among them several of the charter members of the association in this city and a big delegation of former officers and members. Men of prominence in association work in the state will also attend.

The committee in charge is trying to arrange for Y. M. C. A. speakers to occupy local pulpits on Sunday, October 27. These men are to be association officers from the various state associations and, from New York. The services, which will be held in the morning, will be a feature of the celebration, but the list of Y. M. C. A. men and the churches at which they are to speak has not yet been completed. Sunday afternoon there is to be a big men's mass meeting at the New Plainfield Theatre. This will be held at 4 o'clock and there will be speakers of prominence in local and state work and special music. The details of this meeting have not yet been completed.

David E. Titsworth, one of the early vice presidents of the local association will be the speaker at the concluding meeting of the anniversary, to be held Monday evening, October 28 in the auditorium. This is the exact anniversary of the foundation of the local association and the life and growth of the work in this city. A historical review of the association will be given at this time.

Among the men of prominence in Y. M. C. A. work of other cities, who will be in this city during the three days' celebration and will take part in the meetings and services are George A. Warburton, of New York, C. W. Deitrich, of Brooklyn, William Knowles Cooper, general secretary of the association at Springfield, Mass., Dr. Austin Phelps, of Rutgers College, Mr. Tinsdale, of Brooklyn, A. E. Marling, of New York City, and L. E. Hawkins, of Newark.

FORMER PASTORS SPOKE

(Continued from page 1.)

1897 spoke after Dr. Mitchell, simply congratulating the parish upon the position attained, the growth along various branches of church work and the spirit of the parish.

Rev. Dr. George H. Whitney, who came to the church as pastor at the critical time of the church history in the year 1866, was the last speaker. Dr. Whitney is the oldest of the living pastors. He spoke briefly of the lasting value of the evening's speeches and said that to him church life seemed the expression of God's love. Rev. Dr. A. C. McCrea, introduced after Dr. Whitney, was greeted with applause. At his suggestion, the congregation adjourned to Vincent chapel, where a social hour was spent, talking over the old days and partaking of ice cream, cake and coffee, served by a committee of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. The committee for the affair was in charge of Mrs. L. M. Pench as chairman, including Mrs. George M. Mittenhouse, Mrs. Samuel Bingamin, Mrs. J. Hervey Doane, Mrs. A. S. Alpaugh, Mrs. N. Y. Hull, Mrs. A. V. Edgar and Mrs. E. C. McNaughton. The decoration committee consisted of Mrs. H. A. McGee, Mrs. J. H. Howell and Mrs. J. C. Peek, assisted the pastor, Rev. A. C. McCrea in receiving, and the refreshments were served by a delegation from the men's brotherhood of the church and a corps of the young women of the parish. There were more than a hundred people at the reception.

County Detective Gallatin caught Vanderbilt Raymond, Monday night after a chase of several months. Vanderbilt was wanted on an old charge, and has been living in Brooklyn, making only an occasional flying trip to town.

USE PAR HANDICAP AT COUNTRY CLUB

NEW SYSTEM IN FORCE SATURDAY FOR FIRST TIME.

The delightful autumn weather on Saturday attracted a large field of players to the Plainfield Country Club, and a number of excellent scores were returned in the competitions scheduled for the day. The course was in fine condition and on the new basis of handicapping there was general satisfaction among the contestants.

In the continuation of play for the Autumn cup, Class A, E. T. Willson, 13, beat C. A. Stover, 13, 2 up and 1 to play, and Dudley H. Barrows, 4, beat Frank O. Reinhart, 4, 1 up in 22 holes. This match was hardly contested from the start and the two crack players were nip and tuck until the last hole was played. In Class B, A. G. Henderson, 19, beat W. F. Merrill, 25, 2 up and 1 to play, and L. H. Gates, 27, beat George S. Clay, 27, 3 up and 1 to play.

Several ties resulted in the weekly competition for the Golf Committee cup, three players being tied for first honors with a net score of 77. The cards returned were as follows: W. T. Glenney, 95, 18—77; E. M. Willson, 90, 13—77; Arthur Murphy, 88, 11—77; J. A. Lane, 97, 15—78; D. H. Rowland, 98, 20—78; W. Lester Glenney, 83, 4—79. For the Green Committee cup these scores were returned:

E. M. Willson, 95, 14—81; A. G. Henderson, 101, 19—82; Hugh F. Fox, 104, 20—84.

An even six returned cards at the Park Golf Club on Saturday for the President's, Golf Club and October cups, although there were many more contestants on the course. The match which was to have been played between the home club and the Middlebrook Country Club was postponed until next Saturday. In the weekly competition, J. B. Betts took first honors for the President's and October cups, while C. B. Morse and Dr. H. Carroll divided first honors for the Scratch cup. These scores were posted for all three trophies:

J. B. Betts, 11-6, 29—87; Rev. C. L. Goodrich, 105, 18—87; Dr. H. K. Carroll, 103, 6—98; Charles B. Morse, 102, 4—99; E. A. Lyon, 128, 24—104; W. V. Byard, 113, 6—107.

SLEEPING SEXTETTE BAGGED BY DETECTIVE

Receiving a tip that Vanderbilt Raymond, a Scotch Plains youth who was indicted for burglary last January and has since been a fugitive from justice, was hiding out in the vicinity of Scotch Plains, County Detective Gelatian went to the place early this morning.

He made his way to a loft, but instead of finding Raymond in the loft he found a way to order to secure assistance in getting them all. Their arrest was accomplished without any trouble and they were taken to Westfield.

Arraigned before Justice Toncey at that place later in the day, Raymond's companions described themselves as Frank McNair, Oliver Peel, James Kelderling, Jessie Vail and Mary Howard, all of Plainfield. The three young men were fined $2 each on a charge of vagrancy and the girls were committed to Elizabeth to appear before Judge Atwater. Raymond was also committed.

It appeared later that of the young men Peel is the only resident of Plainfield, the others residing at Scotch Plains. The Howard and Vail girls live here and are known to the police.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

As a result of a recent meeting of the Board of Education, the trustees of the Methodist church have consented to allow the use of the church bell as a storm signal to the school children, and Superintendent Meserole has been furnished with a special key to the church so that the signals will hereafter be given in this way. In case of no morning session, the bell is to be rung at 8:30 in the morning, and ringing at 1 o'clock in the afternoon will signify that there will be no afternoon session.

Funeral services for "Uncle John" Tingley, who died last week, were conducted at his late home, at Gallagher's Corner, Monday afternoon, Rev. Frank Fletcher, formerly pastor of the local Baptist church, officiated. Peter H. Bennett, Eden Bennett, Merton Bennett, Joseph Tingley, Lewis Tingley and Walter Tingley, all grandsons of the deceased, acted as pallbearers. The interment was in Middlesex Hillside cemetery.

The newly formed New Market Field Club will hold a masquerade ball and dance Friday evening, October 25. Music will be by Brosshart's orchestra, and great interest is being taken in the affair, the first social function of the new organization. The committee in charge consists of William Piddington, Frank Brown and Claude Penrose.

We are open daily until 8 p. m. Saturdays until 10:30 p. m.

Do You Realize that Your Old Square or Upright Piano is Growing Less and Less in Value Every Day.

Naturally you hesitate to spend anything on it for tuning and Repairing; you can use it but very little, if at all, and as time passes on it goes from bad to worse.

Why not put in its place a new, modern instrument that will add to the beauty and happiness of your home?

We will give you a liberal exchange valuation on your old piano. The balance you can pay in payments of from $5 to $10 monthly.

In the purchase price of each instrument we include a stool, scarf or cover, one year's tuning and free delivery to your parlor.

Why not decide to get a new piano now?

Pianos to rent at moderate terms.

Mathushek & Son Piano Company

310 West Front Street, Plainfield, N. J.

Tel. 910-J

J. HIMMELFARB,

Ladies' Tailoring and Dressmaking. Altering and Remodelling neatly done. Habits a specialty.

Perfect fit guaranteed

Call and See Fall Models.

311 New St., near Truell Court.

Tel. 903-J.

YOU WILL NEVER BUY A HOME WITH MONEY PAID FOR RENT IN THE PAST.

START NOW TO

OWN A HOME

or your home by taking out shares in

THE CENTRAL BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF PLAINFIELD.

J. F. MacDonald, Sec'y.

Smalley Building, 149 North Av...

J. NEUSTADT,

MERCHANT TAILOR.

Ladies' Tailoring a Specialty.

Cleaning, Pressing, Altering at Lowest Prices.

Work Called For and Delivered. Formerly with R. A. Rieley, Fifth Avenue, New York.

430 Watchung Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Telephone 668-W.

Horseback Riding

taught by

Miss Adele Von Ohl

to select parties at popular prices.

Central and Pemberton Aves., Plainfield, N. J. 6 17 5 mos

Mountain House,

Mt. Bethel, N. J.

FRENCH RESTAURANT

Resort for Automobiles and Driving Parties

A. E. BINZ, Prop.

Geo. H. Stagaard,

SHOEMAKING and REPAIRING.

108 CHURCH STREET.

RENE BROWER

Natural Flowers to Order.

35 and 37 West 26th St., New York. Telephone 4453 Madison. Residence 153 East 6th St. 'Phone 637-L.

New Jersey Central

Passenger Stations in New York—West 23d St., N. R., Foot Liberty St., N. R.

In Effect October 13, 1907.

For New York—2.17, 2.37, 5.36, 6.07, 6.27, 7.08, 7.38, 8.08, 8.38, 9.08, 9.38, 10.08, 10.38, 11.08, 11.38, 12.08, 12.38, 1.08, 1.38, 2.08, 2.38, 3.08, 3.42, 4.08, 4.38, 5.08, 5.38, 6.08, 6.38, 7.08, 7.37, 8.37, 9.37, 10.37, 11.37 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 2.37, 5.36, 6.07, 6.27, 7.08, 7.38, 8.08, 8.38, 9.08, 9.38, 10.08, 10.38, 11.08, 11.38 a. m., 12.08, 12.38, 1.08, 1.38, 2.08, 2.38, 3.08, 3.42, 4.08, 4.38, 5.08, 5.38, 6.08, 6.38, 7.08, 7.37, 8.37, 9.37, 10.37, 11.37 p. m. Boat Express—2.17, 2.37, 5.36, 6.07, 6.27, 7.08, 7.38, 8.08, 8.38, 9.08, 9.38, 10.08, 10.38, 11.08, 11.38 a. m., 12.40, 1.08, 1.38, 2.08, 2.38, 3.08, 3.42, 4.08, 4.38, 5.08, 5.38, 6.08, 6.38, 7.08, 7.37, 8.37, 9.37, 10.37, 11.37 p. m. Boat Express—2.17, 2.37, 5.36, 6.07, 6.27, 7.08, 7.38, 8.08, 8.38, 9.08, 9.38, 10.08, 10.38, 11.08, 11.38 a. m., 12.40, 1.08, 1.38, 2.08, 2.38, 3.08, 3.42, 4.08, 4.38, 5.08, 5.38, 6.08, 6.38, 7.08, 7.37, 8.37, 9.37, 10.37, 11.37 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 2.37, 5.36, 6.07, 6.27, 7.08, 7.38, 8.08, 8.38, 9.08, 9.38, 10.08, 10.38, 11.08, 11.38 a. m., 12.08, 12.38, 1.08, 1.38, 2.08, 2.38, 3.08, 3.42, 4.08, 4.38, 5.08, 5.38, 6.08, 6.38, 7.08, 7.37, 8.37, 9.37, 10.37, 11.37 p. m.

For Newark—5.36, 6.29, 6.57, 7.05, 7.29, 7.47, 8.11, 8.36, 8.44, 9.05, 9.36, 10.05, 10.36, 11.05, 11.36 a. m., 12.05, 1.05, 1.27, 2.31, 3.44, 3.59, 4.36, 5.05, 5.36, 6.05, 6.36, 7.05, 7.36, 8.05, 9.21, 9.36, 10.41 p. m. Sunday—7.22, 8.52, 9.34, 10.34, 11.34 a. m., 12.34, 1.09, 1.27, 2.31, 3.44, 4.29, 5.22, 5.41, 6.45, 8.12, 8.35, 9.42, 10.34, 10.41 p. m.

For Somerville—5.18, 7.11, 8.21, 9.17, 9.55, 11.00 a. m., 1.07, (1.41 Saturday only), 2.02, 2.08, 3.49, 4.32, 5.18, 5.53 (except Saturdays, 6.04, 6.19, 6.37, 7.12, 7.29, 8.09, 9.27, 10.23, 11.29 p. m. Sundays—Night, Sunday morning, 12.45, 1.45, 2.45, 11.06 a. m., 1.05, 2.03, 2.40, 3.37, 4.29, 7.05, 8.30, 10.15, 11.04 p. m.

For Bethlehem, Allentown and Mauch Chunk—5.05, 9.55 a. m., 2.08, 5.25, 9.55 p. m. Sundays—8.45 a. m., 2.08, 5.47, 7.05 p. m.

For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.25, 9.55 a. m., 2.08, 5.47 p. m. Sundays—8.45 a. m., 5.47 p. m.

For Lake Hopatcong and Asbury Park, etc.—3.37, 8.11, 10.55 a. m., 12.42, 4.02, 4.42, 5.53, 7.17, 11.42 p. m. Sundays—8.00, 10.55 a. m., 2.30, 5.12 p. m.

For Lakewood and Atlantic City—3.37, 9.29 a. m., 12.42 (Saturdays only), 1.27, 5.24, (4.02 Lakewood only), (5.53 Lakewood only Saturdays only), 7.17 p. m. Sundays—(7.58 Lakewood only), 9.45 a. m., 4.45 p. m.

For Philadelphia—7.13, 7.29, 8.45, 9.12, 10.43 a. m., 12.12, 12.42, 1.39, 2.13, 2.45, 3.13, 4.45, 5.30, 6.44, 8.50, 9.30, 11.42 p. m. Sunday—8.45, 9.53, 10.39, 10.42, 11.42 a. m., 12.42, 1.42, 2.45, 4.45, 5.55, 5.39, 6.44, 8.50, 9.46 p. m., 11.26, 1.17 night.

For Reading and Harrisburg—5.25, 9.55 a. m., 2.08, (5.47 through train). Sundays 2.03, 5.47 p. m.

For Pottsville, Sunbury and Williamsport—9.55 a. m., 2.08 p. m. Sundays—2.03 p. m.

For Baltimore and Washington—8.45, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 6.44 p. m. Sundays—8.45, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 6.44 p. m.

Change cars at Round Brook Junction.

W. G. BESLER, Gen. Mgr. W. C. HOPE, Gen. Pass. Agt.

Lehigh Valley Railroad

Time table in Effect Nov. 18th 1906

LEAVE SOUTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

7.55 a. m. daily (except Sunday) local to Mauch Chunk.

8.47 a. m. daily, express to Easton, Wilkesbarre, Rochester, Buffalo and principal intermediate stations.

10.46 a. m. daily to Easton, Wilkesbarre, Buffalo and Chicago.

1.52 p. m. daily, local for Easton, Mauch Chunk, Hazleton, Pottsville and Shenandoah.

4.58 p. m. daily (except Sunday) "Wilkesbarre and Buffalo Limited" for Easton, Allbute train to Wilkesbarre through Parlor Car and 6 H R R to Scranton and Carbondale.

6.49 p. m. daily, solid vestibule train to Buffalo, Chicago and Cincinnati and principal intermediate stations except Rochester.

8.38 p. m. daily (except Sunday) local to Easton.

FRANK ROWLEY, City Ticket Agent 218 West Front Street, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 112.

Arrival and Departure of Mails

PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.

Office opens 7 a. m., closes 7 p. m. On Saturdays close half hour later

MORNING MAILS.

Arrive—7.00, 8.40, 11.30 a. m., 2.30, 5.30 p. m.

Close—7.30 a. m., 12 midnight.

CLOSE—8.30 a. m., 1.00, 2.26, 6.56, 7.45 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON

Arrive—8.40, 11.30 a. m., 2.35 and 7 p. m.

Close—7.20 a. m., 1.45 and 4.30 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct.

Arrive—7.00, 8.40 and 11.30 a. m., 2.30, 7.00 p. m.

Close—7.15, 7.30, 9.30 a. m., 12.35, 2.29 4.06, 7.30, 9.30 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST

Close—1.00 and 7.15 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR WEST

Close—12.35, 8.00, 7.15 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA. West of Easton.

Close—12.30 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct.

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 2.30, 5.30 p. m.

Close—7.40 a. m., 2.20, 6.00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 2.30, 5.30 p. m., 12 midnight.

Close—7.15, 7.30 a. m., 1.00, 2.20 and 6.00

WATCHUNG, WARRENVILLE.

Arrive—12.30 p. m.

Close—9.00 a. m.

WATCHUNG

Close—5.30 p. m.

Arrive—9.40 a. m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9.30 to 10.30 a. m.

Mail closes at 6.15 p. m.

E. H. BIRD P. M.

Advertisements

—FOR—

New York Herald, World, Times, Sun, Journal, Telegram, American, Brooklyn Eagle

—and—

Newark Evening News

Received at

The Daily Press

AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

PERFECTION OIL HEATER

Gives intense heat without smoke or smell because equipped with smokeless device. All parts are nickel (Equipped with Smokeless Device) Cleaned. Made in two finishes, nickel and japan. Holds four quarts of oil and burns nine hours. Every heater warranted. If you cannot get heater or information from dealer, write to nearest agency for descriptive circular.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY, Incorporated.

Mrs. John Brown,

Successor to John Sutton & Son & Co.

Cesspools and Vaults Cleaned from $3.00 upwards

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Don't give your order until you consult Bottomless Cheerfully Given.

Leave orders at J. T. Vail's, 124 North Plainfield, N. J. Telephone Box 718.

FRANK BURNS, Manager.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST

VOL. XXXIX PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1907. NO. 44.

"Support the Constitution, which is the Cement of the Union, as well in its Limitations as in its Authorities."—Madison.

TO FIND BEST ATHLETE

City High School Boys to Compete for Daily Press Gold Medal.

AN INTER-CLASS MEET

Many Entries In Annual Fall Track Meet to Be Held at Driving Park. Friday.

High school boys will compete for track honors at the Plainfield Driving Park, Friday afternoon, when the athletic championship of the school will receive a gold medal and the class winning the most points will receive a silver cup. Medals and ribbons will be offered to the place winners in each event.

This meet, which is an annual affair, has stirred a good deal of interest among the city high school boys, and there are many entries for each event. The main interest centers in the individual champion of the school, won last year by Chauncey Murphy. Several of the boys are entered in all the events, so that Murphy will have a hard rub to hold the title again this year. The winner of the most points in the meet will receive a gold medal as individual champion of the school. This medal offered by The Daily Press.

Next in interest to the winning of individual honors, class spirit has brought a bunch of entries from boys who want the silver cup, offered by another paper to the class getting the most points in the meet to go to their class. First place in an event will count five points, second place three, and third place one point. The point winners are pretty evenly distributed among the four classes, though the seniors have a slight advantage. Class spirit will bring a big turnout of boys and girls to the field to cheer in each event and the title will be contested point for point.

As an interclass meet, this event has always been a success and in the competition this year, some high school records ought to be broken. The school has a bunch of men who will show well in the sprints and an especially good showing will probably be made in the jumps, for there are a string of promising entries. An annual feature will be the tug of war for class championship, between eight men selected from each class to pull the juniors and the sophomores the freshmen; the winners of these two pulls will pull for the championship. Another special event is the 50-yard dash for boys of sixteen years or under. There are several fast short-distance fellows among the school freshmen who ought to make this event a close one.

Aside from the individual championship medal and the cup for the class winning the most points, bronze medals have been offered to first place winners by various tradesmen of the city. Ribbons will be given to second and third place competitors. The bronze medals will be offered by the American Steam Laundry, Mc C. Van Arsdale, J. W. Gavett and the People's Credit Clothing Company.

Presented Picture to Miss Sayer.

The feature of the social and marshmallow roast held in Vincent chapel last night under the auspices of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church, was the presentation of a handsomely framed picture entitled "A Little Child Shall Lead Them," to Miss Phebe E. Sayer, one of the prominent and active members, who leaves Plainfield tomorrow for her home in Illinois. The presentation was a surprise and Miss Sayer was unable to make any response for a few minutes. The rest of the evening was given up to an informal program of games, while the roasting of marshmallow furnished amusement for all. Miss Helen Whitney, as chairman of the social committee, was in charge of the affair, assisted by the other members of her committee.

Chief Doane Entertains.

Batallion Chief McDermott, accompanied by the superintendent of the fire alarm system and a private of the Newark Fire Department, were guests of Chief T. O. Doane, yesterday. They made a tour of inspection of the department houses and expressed great surprise at over the up-to-date equipment here. They declared that in proportion to the size the department compared favorably with the one in Newark.

Firemen's Association to Meet.

The annual meeting of the Firemen's Mutual Benevolent Association of New Jersey will be held in Paterson on Monday. There will be a meeting in the morning, a parade in the afternoon and a banquet in the evening. Captain William Towsley, of the local fire department, and a member of the association, will be among the delegates from here.

—Don't miss the harvest sale at Levy's. ***

PRAISE FOR BISHOPS' BILL

Presbyterian Synod Adopts Report Laudatory of the Excise Laws.

SCORE PHILIP DAAB

Disapprove of His Bill Legalizing Sunday Baseball—Resolutions Passed.

Praise for the Bishops' bill was given in formal manner by the New Jersey Synod of the Presbyterian Church in session at Atlantic City, yesterday, the report lauding that measure being followed by unequivocal resolutions. Plainfield pastors of the denomination as well as laymen from here are in attendance and the action on the excise situation is said to have met with their hearty favor.

The report, in part, was as follows:

"We have reached the time when it is no longer necessary to argue that it is right to 'Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy,' but while men and women have the liberty to do right they seek license to do wrong from lax public opinion. Stiffen this public opinion and the same result will occur that we are noting in the many investigations into flagrant evils in public and corporation life.

"The enforcing of the 'bishops' bill" has accomplished much and wherever it has been enforced it has been highly effective in keeping the saloon closed on the Lord's Day. The keeping of this law has produced a strong sentiment for the keeping of other Sunday laws. Many places throughout our State have brought honor upon themselves by closing various business houses on the great day.

"We especially recognize the good result for a little while of the concerted effect here in Atlantic City. In the preparation of this report each presbyterial chairman was asked to assist by offering suggestions and by visiting the conference in each presbytery. A single reply was received and that is gladly quoted. Speaking of the effect of a concerted effort by the pastors of a community he says: 'It is another case of United we stand, divided we fall.' The public officials fear a united church sentiment, but have a contempt for the spasmodic utterances of an unorganized few.'

"Then this presbyterial chairman tells how the prosecutor stopped Sunday baseball in one city of 30,000, when appealed to by all the ministers, though he personally was in favor of the game on the Lord's Day.

"A very bold insult to the Christians of our State was offered at Trenton this year when Mr. Daab, of Hudson county, fathered a bill in the House which would permit Sunday baseball in cities of the first class. The bill was killed by the narrow margin of 28 to 27. This daring effort last March should make us alert for restarts a possible repetition of the offense. Had this bill passed the House your committee on Sabbath observance would have been unusually busy at once."

The following resolutions were submitted among others:

"One—That the committee on Sabbath observance be directed to send a communication to each pastor in our synod about March 15 calling upon him, in the name of the synod, to preach a sermon on the subject of the strict observance of the Lord's Day, some time during the month of April, 1908.

"Two—That we most heartily commend and warmly indorse the work of the American Sabbath Union and the Woman's National Sabbath Alliance, national organizations, in their efforts to preserve in its purity the Christian Sabbath.

"Three—That, in harmony with the general assembly resolutions No. 10, we urge our churches to take an offering at the time of the Sabbath observance sermon next April for the work of the American Sabbath Union."

Moderator W. W. Hollaway, of Dover, named Leander N. Lovell as a member of the committee on minutes of the General Assembly.

Will Assume Charge of Gold Mine.

Thomas Hanna, of East Fifth street, who recently resigned his position with the banking house of Harvey Fisk & Sons, will sail for Venezuela where he will assume charge of a gold mine in which Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur and other Plainfielders are interested. He will be accompanied by eight men who are experienced in all forms of mining.

—Neuman Brothers' store is the apple center of the city. A fine lot of Baldwins, Greenings, Kings and Northern Spies will be on sale tomorrow. Special prices will prevail all this week.

—Blankets, 29c each, Levy's harvest sale. ***

FOR COURT NOT FOR JURY

Court Decides Matter at Issue in Schorb Case is Question of Law.

IN EJECTMENT CASE

Tenant Holding from Year to Year Gets But a Day's Notice—Lawyers to Submit Briefs.

The ejectment suit of Mrs. Carry L. Schorb and Mrs. Josephine A. Mason against Henry Haurand, was called in the Circuit Court at Elizabeth, this morning. The court decided that the case is a question of law and after dismissing the jurors, instructed counsel for both the plaintiff and defendant to prepare briefs to be submitted within the next ten days, after which it will hand down a decision. Francis J. Dietz is counsel for Mr. Haurand, while Molesh & Morion, of Jersey City, represent the complainants.

The case is an old one, having been a matter of dispute for some time. The complainants together with Mrs. Minnie Schorb claim life interest in the property, which is now occupied by Mr. Haurand and that upon their death it is to go to their children. Mr. Haurand has been living with Mrs. Elizabeth Schorb under date of 1897, which was for five years. Mrs. Schorb died in 1899 and the property went to her husband, John Schorb, Sr., for life. Mr. Haurand continued possession under the old lease. On December 31, 1906 Mr. Schorb died and under the terms of the will the property went to the two complainants and Mrs. Minnie Schorb. During January, February, March and April of this year Mr. Haurand continued as a tenant and paid his rent to the owners. He is still in possession of the property.

The question of law to be decided is whether or not a tenant, holding over from year to year and who is not served with a three months' notice, is entitled to possession under the terms of the original lease. In this case the tenant was given a year's notice to quit. Another question to be decided is the rights of the executors in the matter. John Schorb and Mrs. Josephine A. Mason, his sister, are the executors. Under the terms of the will the property was to remain intact for a period of seven years. Although Mrs. Minnie Schorb, wife of William Schorb, has an interest in the property, she declined to become a party to the suit.

MORE FAILURES MAKE MONEY MARKET UNEASY

Panicky conditions in the money market, started by the run on the Knickerbocker Trust Company yesterday, continued today and the Westinghouse Manufacturing and Electric Company went into the hands of a receiver at shortly before noon. The stock broke 53 points, but the amount of the liabilities cannot be learned. A run was started on the Trust Company of America at 11 o'clock today and more than a thousand of the largest depositors were in line when the bank opened for business. The company has eleven millions in specie to meet the demands of the depositors and it is believed that the run can be checked.

All stock broke heavily at the opening of the market today. Consolidated Gas fell thirteen points and Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Reading, Southern Pacific and other railroad stocks broke from seven to ten points apiece in the first hours of trading on the floor. All stocks weakened, from two to fifty-three points.

Some men confided to their neighbors their opinions as to what institutions offered the securest depository for their funds. A prosperous looking depositor, who might have been a professional man, announced to the next in line that he came from a New Jersey town. "I know something about the banks in my town," he said. "I know the officers and directors personally and am going to take my money there." The man in question came from Plainfield.

Will Assume Charge of Gold Mine.

Thomas Hanna, of East Fifth street, who recently resigned his position with the banking house of Harvey Fisk & Sons, will sail for Venezuela where he will assume charge of a gold mine in which Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur and other Plainfielders are interested. He will be accompanied by eight men who are experienced in all forms of mining.

—Neuman Brothers' store is the apple center of the city. A fine lot of Baldwins, Greenings, Kings and Northern Spies will be on sale tomorrow. Special prices will prevail all this week.

—Blankets, 29c each, Levy's harvest sale. ***

HIS FAMILY IN ITALY WILL RECEIVE $1,375

The widow and two little children of Raffaile Caruso were yesterday awarded a verdict for $1,375 against the Central Railroad Company for having caused his death at the Pond Tool Company's yard a year ago last summer. The strange part of the case was that the widow and children who will get this money have never left Italy. The railroad company would not admit the marriage until it was proved by an eye witness.

The company denied liability and insisted that the Pond Tool Company was responsible for the death of Caruso, and that the railroad company was not to blame in any way, and also that Caruso was himself negligent. The jury decided the other way. The amount of the verdict was calculated by ascertaining the actual loss in dollars and cents, the law not allowing any compensation for pain or sorrow or loss of association.

Craig A. Marsh was counsel for the widow and children, and Messrs. Faulks, Landsbury, Depue & Faulks, and W. A. Markalee, counsel for the Central Railroad Company.

JERSEY'S JR. O. U. A. M. GAINS 4582 MEMBERS

At the annual convention of the Jr. O. U. A. M., of New Jersey, which is being held at Trenton today and tomorrow, the report of State Council Secretary Miers shows that there are 294 councils, the same as last year, one new one having been instituted and one old one suspended. During the year there were admitted by initiation 4,532 new members, 192 were reinstated, 159 were admitted by card and 36 were admitted by dismissal certificates. During the same time 153 members withdrew, 1796 were suspended, 307 died and nine were expelled. The total membership at the close of the fiscal year was 46,872.

During the fiscal year the receipts from weekly dues amounted to $422,276.55, and the total receipts from all sources were $628,474.91. The councils paid out for sick benefits $103,987.12; for funeral benefits $118,262.09; for funeral benefits on account of deaths of wives, 562. The total amount paid out for all purposes was $600,567.89, a gain for the year of $27,886.93.

The total worth of the subordinate councils is $832,805.36, a net increase of $82,629.25 for the year. The condition of this state during the year paid to the Supreme Council at sociations a total of $115,000.98 and received from these associations $100,727.30.

There is a gain in membership in every county in the state except Ocean, that county having lost thirty-six members. Atlantic county, with nine new members, made the smallest gain, and Essex, with 829, made the largest gain. The 307 deaths were the largest number of any year in the history of the order.

Rubenstein Wins Semi-Finals.

In the semi-final round of the boys' championship tennis tournament of the city high school, Moses Rubenstein won from George Durar after three sets on Brizgs' court yesterday afternoon. Durar took the first set 6-4, the second went to deuce games, Rubenstein will meet Clarence Bromfield for the championship title this afternoon. The winner will receive a silver cup, offered by the high school athletic association.

Work on New Building Resumed.

Work has been resumed on Manning and Coddington's new building on Watchung avenue, near the railroad. Operations were temporarily suspended until the question of the building line could be settled by the Common Council. That body established a new line between Fourth street and Crescent avenue, allowing the line upon which the building was started to remain as it is.

Daily Press Story Finds Horse.

The valuable chestnut horse lost on Monday by James Gethin, superintendent of the horse show grounds, was returned to Mr. Gethin yesterday by a farmer named Giles, who lives near Metuchen. The horse strayed on his farm and was kept there until yesterday, when Mr. Giles seeing the story in The Daily Press about the animal being lost, returned it to Mr. Gethin.

New Assistant Treasurer.

David Rogers has been appointed assistant treasurer of the New Plainfield theatre, succeeding eLonce Texter, who has become treasurer of the Perth Amboy theatre.

—Andrew Thompson Auto Co. has a few exceptional good bargains in slightly used cars. 10 22 2 ***

—For bargains attend harvest sale at Levy's. ***

SITE FOR NEW CITY HALL

Friends Society Buy Property to Take the Place of One Municipalty May Get.

HAND HAS OPTION

Mayor Fisk Does Not Know of Intention On Part of City to Buy the Big Tract.

Papers were signed last night in an important property deal whereby the Friends' Religious Society becomes the owner of the residential properties on East Second street, occupied by John McKeon and the one adjoining on the east. The property was purchased with a view to having a place to move the Friends' Meeting-house, which now stands at Watchung avenue and East Third street, in case that property is sold to the city.

Charles H. Hand, the real estate broker, has had an option on the Watchung avenue property for the past three months, it being understood that the city might purchase it as a site for the proposed new city hall. Mayor Charles J. Fisk when questioned as to the probability of the city taking such action, declared today that as far as he knew the city has no intention of purchasing the land in question. It is known that plans have been under discussion for some time looking toward the purchase of a suitable piece of ground upon which a city hall could be built. Efforts have also been made to get a site for the proposed new police station. It is possible that the city hall and police station might be combined if the right kind of a property can be secured within a figure which the city is willing to pay.

Charles Peterson, the florist, who occupies ground on Watchung avenue, adjoining that of the Friends' Society, and which he leases from the society, has just signed another five year lease. It is said that he has any idea of securing the property it would not be able to get possession of it within that period, as Mr. Peterson intends to remain there under the terms of his lease.

DR. GROSZMAN SPEAKS ON CHILD'S EVOLUTION

Before more than a hundred teachers from public and private schools of the city and vicinity, Dr. Maximillian Grossman gave the first of his course of lectures on children's mental development as related to their school studies at the city high school yesterday afternoon. Aside from local educators there were teachers from Westfield, Dunellen and other near-by places. The subject of the lecture was "The Mathematical Evolution of the Child."

Treating his theme from a rather philosophical and suggestive standpoint, Dr. Grossman pointed out that the teaching of arithmetic today is not based at all on the scientific development of a child's mind. Arithmetic, as he asserted, is not a separate subject, but rather represents the mathematical element in all subjects, in reference to accuracy and verifiable truths in all fields of education. The mind of a child occupies the same stage in its development as does the various epochs in the development of a race, and the speaker pointed out that this should be considered in mapping out elementary mathematical courses.

"I believe in the use of the elementary calculating machines, similar to those used by the ancients, to make the work as far as possible strictly objective," said Dr. Grossman. "They should be used in the primary grades and partly in the grammar grades, and the teacher should not attempt the idea of realizing until they reach the high school age." Dr. Grossman emphasized two distinct sources of number conception, that of space, rather than magnitude, in a counting sequence, and the ratio or comparison idea developed by measurement.

Arrested for Vagrancy.

John Kelly, of Newark, was arrested by Patrolmen Nolan and Payne for vagrancy last night. He pleaded hard to be allowed to go home when arraigned before Judge Runyon this morning and the magistrate instructed the police to see him to the city line.

Connecting the Double Tracks.

The new double trolley tracks have been connected at Fourth street and Watchung avenues. Men are now busy running the second trolley wire beneath the railroad bridge and it is possible that that part of the new road will be put in service within a few days.

—Corsets for 29c, Levy's harvest sale. ***

DEMOCRATS HOLD RALLY

Swackhamer and Somerset County Candidates Spellbind in Borough.

PLAN MASS MEETING

Senator Silzer and Others to Speak On State Issues On Tuesday Night In Saengerbund Hall.

North Plainfield Democrats gathered in force at the first party rally of the campaign held in the Democratic headquarters at 80 Somerset street, last night. The affair was of the nature of a voters' smoker, and the county and borough candidates were present with few exceptions. Walter L. Linbarger, the party leader, was chairman of the meeting, which was informal, and enthusiasm in the fall campaign was roused by informal speeches by the candidates and boroughites prominent in the interest of the party.

Charles Allen, the party candidate for Assembly, was unable to be present as expected, for he was called to Chicago. William J. De Mond, the party candidate for re-election for surrogate, and Frank Moss, candidate for sheriff, were present and both made speeches on the coming campaign which won them applause. De Mond said that the fight would be a hard one, but that united action by the voters at the polls would secure a party victory. Katzenbach's campaign posters adorned the walls and the candidate was discussed by the speakers in reference to his stand on the liquor question. Horace Coddington, of Somerville, secretary of the Somerset County Democratic Committee, was present, and in a speech which roused much enthusiasm, called for the support of the gubernatorial and county candidates at the polls.

The local speakers included former Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer and William J. Conroy. They talked of organization among the borough Democrats for the support of the county as well as the local candidates. The individual borough candidates on the ticket were discussed informally, and the consensus of the meeting seemed to be in their support. It is planned to have the headquarters open every night till Election. Also a series of talks by men prominent in Democratic politics in the borough is being arranged. The meetings each evening are to be informal.

Senator George Silzer, of Middlesex county, will address a special mass meeting of borough Democrats to be held in Saengerbund Hall next Tuesday. Among the other speakers of the evening is former Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer.

Gift Appreciated.

One of the pleasant features of the diamond jubilee of the First M. E. Church was the presentation to the Sunday school of the fine large painting from Rev. Henry M. Simpson, of Elizabeth. The picture was painted by Mr. Simpson especially for the occasion and is an accurate portrayal of the Holy Land as seen from the crossyards of a ship out in the Mediterranean sea. Geographically the picture is correct in every detail and is valued highly by every member of the church and school. The presentation came as a great surprise as Mr. Simpson had given no previous hint of his intentions.

No Complaint Was Made at Court.

Lewis Moon, Adeline and Lillie Cuff and Florence Babbitt, who were arrested by Marshals Pope and Kiernan of the borough force for fighting Monday night, were dismissed when they faced Recorder Dolliver at the session of court last night. Complaint was to have been made by William Mowry, a neighbor on Jefferson avenue, but he did not put in an appearance until nearly 8 o'clock. The prisoners were held in the courtroom until 7.30 and dismissed because no one appeared to press the complaint.

Panhandler Tackles Chief Kiely.

Thomas Colgate, whose appearance belied relationship to the soap-making family, was arraigned in the city court, this morning, on a charge of vagrancy. He was panhandling about the business streets yesterday and made the mistake of picking out Chief Kiely for a touch. He gave Phillipsburg as his place of residence and Judge Runyon allowed him thirty minutes in which to be well on his way to that place.

Converted Jew to Speak.

Samuel A. Hurwitz, a converted Jew who has charge of the Christian Mission to the Jews in Newark, will speak at the Rescue Mission on Madison avenue, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. He will speak especially to the Jews and they will hear the address in Hebrew. To those who cannot understand Hebrew Mr. Hurwitz will speak in English.

—Kid gloves, 25c and 69c, Levy's harvest sale. ***

ACKERMAN DEFENDS AMERICAN SABBATH

Arguing from a Humanitarian Standpoint Senator Tells of the Evils of the Late Continental Sunday.

EUROPE REFORMING

Treat Charge Has Come About in Many Continental Countries Says World Traveler and Political Student.

State Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, who is said to be the closest student of current political subjects in the New Jersey Legislature, sounds an alarm against the tendency for the so-called Continental Sabbath. In an interview today, the Senator reviews the situation in Europe, showing the baneful influences of the old "liberal" Sunday observance—or its non-observance—and the effect of any modification of the Bishops' law permitting Sunday selling.

"The increasing demand by the thinking electorate for the observance of the American Sabbath," said Senator Ackerman today, "is not the result of the contraction of intellect of the narrowness of vision or of the blindness of bigotry.

"The tendency of the times hitherto has been to drive ahead without regard to the milestones of sentiment and thought which have been placed along the pathway of our progress for our safety and guidance.

"I have heard it reliably stated that more people are now working seven days each week than at any previous time in our history.

"The idea of forcing people to labor without a day of rest is not sound from either an economical or humanitarian point of view. Who can successfully challenge this statement? The thoughtless clamor for a so-called liberal Sunday, with open liquor saloons, simply adds to an already existing evil and in my opinion is largely the result of a selfish desire for profits regardless of its effect to reverse the time-honored policy of the good old State of New Jersey. There would be more logic for Sunday opening of grocery stores and meat markets than there would be for open liquor saloons.

"It does not appear reasonable that successful agitation for open Sunday saloons will be followed in other lines of work and industry? The final result would bring all the miseries and privations of the late Continental Sabbath. The words 'late Continental' are used advisedly because the old regime is passing away and that very rapidly. From observations during repeated trips abroad I know this to be a fact. Why not profit by this experience? Recently the French Chamber of Deputies passed a law, with but one dissenting vote, to protect the workman and to give him a day of rest. Contrast this action with the days of the old Bourbon Monarchy of a hundred years ago which wanted to entirely abolish the Sabbath!

"The present European Sabbath cannot now be regarded as the same old wide-open noisy day that it used to be. In fact even the London Sunday does not appear to be regarded any longer as the only standard of law and order. It appears strange that travelling Englishmen loudly complain that Paris has undergone a great change and that for gayety on that day they must go elsewhere.

"Reforms regarding Sunday observance have progressed steadily throughout Europe and embrace France, Italy, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal—in the last the new laws went into effect July 1, 1907.

"Does it not appear odd that Europe, which has suffered from the evils of an open Sunday, should be held up as an object lesson of merit by those who wish to destroy the American Sabbath in the interest of personal profits and are not the profits simply for those who really own the liquor store? Is it not a fact that the reputed proprietor in many cases is merely an agent? Is it a fact that he has been driven to the last ditch in many cases by the mortgagee who insists that he shall slave and labor seven days and nights each week? Who will deny these facts?

"Investigation will show that even the bartenders and in many cases the individual owners would vigor-

(Continued on page 8.)

—Don't miss the harvest sale at Levy's. ***

BOTH FORT AND COLBY ENTHUSE BIG CROWDS; UNION AND SOMERSET CANDIDATES ALSO SPEAK

Theatre Filled for Great Mass Meeting of Republicans, Former Senator C. A. Reed Presiding

DISCUSS THE ISSUES

Gubernatorial Nominee's Frank Utterances Please Audience—W. W. Smalley Makes a Decided Hit.

Again announcing that if he should be elected he would support and enforce the Bishops' bill in its entirety and that he would also do his utmost to put an end to official scandals by consolidating commissions and fixing responsibility for official acts, Judge J. Franklin Fort, Republican candidate for governor, addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting at the New Plainfield theatre last night. The nominee was accorded a vociferous welcome when he made his appearance on the stage and his plain statements relative to his position in campaign issues made a favorable impression on his hearers.

A no less hearty greeting was received by Senator Everett Colby, who preceded Judge Fort in speaking. He is no stranger in Plainfield and as he remarked at the beginning of his talk, he could get an audience of relatives if nothing else which he makes an address in this city. His talk dealt with the lack of confidence the ordinary voter has for both politicians and corporations because of the dealings that have passed between them in past years. Other speakers in the early part of the meeting were Surrogate George T. Parrot, of Elizabeth, republican candidate for that place; Carlton B. Pierce, of Hartford, candidate for assembly and Assemblyman W. W. Smalley, of Round Brook, again on the Somerset county ticket. Besides these there were on the stage, John R. Moxon and A. F. Kersteln, of Rahway, assembly candidates; Charles Kay and Joseph A. Mets, of Somerville, candidates for sheriff and surrogate in Somerset.

The meeting was called to order by W. S. Van Angleman, chairman of the Republican City Executive committee, who introduced former Senator Charles A. Reed as chairman of the evening. The North Plainfield man was in an unusually jocose frame of mind and kept the audience laughing with his witticisms and appropriate stories in introducing the speakers. He first presented Surrogate Parrot who devoted a few minutes to impressing upon the male portion of the audience the importance of getting out the full vote on election day. It is the "stay-at-homes," he said, who frequently cause an election to be lost as there are more voters there are the harder it is for the "bosses" to secure control.

Mr. Parrot was followed by Carlton B. Pierce, a stranger to Plainfielders from a political point of view but who has gained the confidence of the people he was addressing. Without spending time in preliminaries or flowery language, he plunged into a review of the Bishops' bill and declared with emphasis that he stood for every part of it and it was on the statutes today. This particular bill, that is, whether or not it is to remain in force, and local option, he asserted to be the paramount issues of the campaign. The Bishops' bill question is a question of Sunday selling and he said he had no hesitancy in predicting that the people will not stand for any changes in its provisions. Everywhere else he stands for a Public Utilities bill and Civil Service bill.

Assemblyman Smalley came next and gave a rapid-fire talk of good-natured chaff at some of the politicians present and related some of his personal beliefs relative to Legislative matters. He made a splendid impression. He was followed by Senator Colby and the applause made as soon as his name was announced rang through the theatre for fully a minute. At the beginning of his talk, he declared he wanted to pay homage to Plainfield's mayor.

"He has a good deal of his own," said the Senator, "and he knows one when he meets it on the street. I also want to pay homage to your fellow-townsman, Senator Ackerman. It seems to me that the more he learns about politics, the more independent he becomes."

Senator Ackerman was in the audience and vigorous handclapping indicated that the people knew it and wanted him to know that the speaker had voiced their sentiments.

Continuing his address Senator Colby said:

"I want to speak to the men in this audience who have not decided which way to vote. There are lots of them and it is an important issue from the fact that many intelligent citizens have lost confidence in politicians and corporations because of dealings of a shady character that have taken place at various times. Recently they have been making a football of each other and the only way to stop it is to send men to the Legislature who will deal fairly with the corporations and then make them live up to the laws.

He then explained how Legislators preyed upon the corporations by introducing "strike" bills in order to get money to withdraw them and then how the charges and counter-charges were made that startled the public and disgusted the voter. In closing he explained in detail the meaning of the existing utilities bill and his proposition to fix the rates for the commodities coming under its head, and also spoke a few commendatory words for Judge Fort.

The gubernatorial candidate arrived by auto from Westfield just previous to the closing of Senator Colby's address and he was introduced as soon as the place was conducted to the platform. The judge stated at the outset that the Republican party had placed its standard in his hands and with the help of the voters he would carry it to victory. If he is to secure their help, he said, they should know in the mind of the voter the various issues and he immediately began to give his views.

He declared himself in favor of the direct primary bill, now in the hands of the Governor; the Civil Service bill and the Public Utilities bill. Referring to the Public Utilities he said:

"I am opposed to rate-making powers in any body without the review of the courts and I believe that corporations should have the right to appeal to the courts to fix their rates in order that they might know what their incomes would be.

"There have been suggestions of the consolidation of commissions. That's right. There are too many commissions and too many members of commissions. I believe in placing responsibility with individuals, that is, holding some one man when anything goes wrong. Then you can go right at him. We ought to have heads of departments instead of allied commissions and if I am elected I will make recommendations to that effect. As a rule, commissions in the departments at the present time consist of two Republicans and two Democrats and when things are not conducted properly nobody is to blame. The officeholder is the servant of the people and what we want is concentration of responsibility in every form of government."

The excise and granting of power to the governor to investigate State institutions were all touched upon in the course of the nominee's talk. His stand on the excise, if the applause could be taken to mean anything, met with more than approval. He quoted the excise plank in the Republican platform, then went on to say that he would not be willing but the Bishops' bill. He would support that bill, he said, if elected, and would veto any bill introduced to repeal it.

Next to the excise talk the statement of what might be expected from the governor in regard to taxation aroused the most enthusiasm. Mr. Fort explained how, when the dispute over the Perkins' tax act, which is being fought in the courts on the ground of unconstitutionality, is settled, school moneys will be lowered nearly 50 per cent. He said:

"Seven million dollars is a great deal for a State of the size of New Jersey to spend in a year on schools, but if I am elected governor I will endeavor to have every unschooled child in the state accommodated if it takes $10,000,000 to do it."

Switching off to recent legislative matters the judge declared that if there is a curse in any legislature its a corrupt lobby. The legislature is often blamed for things that are not their fault but are brought about by these lobbyists.

"They should have no place around them or any other law-making body. The place for these lobbyists is the penitentiary and should I be made governor I'll help to put them there.

"Good government is, after all, what we want, and independence in citizenship. I want to be elected by the votes of the men who cast their ballot for me because they think I am better qualified than another for the place. If I should be so honored, I will exercise the laws to the best of my ability."

Judge Fort was the last speaker and when he concluded many of the men in the audience crowded the stage and were introduced to him. With the hand-shaking over he left by automobile for Orange, accompanied by Senator Colby, where both spoke at a banquet.

Before speaking in Newark last night, at the Indian league reception and at the Arlington Club banquet, he came to Plainfield with Senator Colby.

Later Judge Fort left for Westfield, where he addressed a large massmeeting at 8 o'clock. While the candidate was talking in Westfield Senator Colby was addressing the meeting here. From Westfield Judge Fort made a hasty auto trip back to this city and spoke after Senator Colby had finished.

In Westfield Assemblyman Barber, of Mercer county, held the audience an hour after the candidate had departed.

From this city Judge Fort continued his auto trip to Newark, where his two speeches were listened to with a great enthusiasm.

KATZENBACH HERE OCT. 30

Democratic Gubernatorial Nominee to End Whirlwind Tour in Plainfield.

ANNOUNCES ITINERARY

James E. Martine to Be In Auto Party Which Will Cover All Union In One Day.

The campaign committee of the Democratic County Committee has made out the itinerary for the visit of Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., the gubernatorial candidate, through Union county on October 30. The trip will be made in automobiles, and the candidate will be accompanied by the members of the campaign committee. Following is the program for the day and evening:

Leave Elizabeth, 10.15 A. M.; Roselle, Westfield avenue and Chestnut street, 10.30; Linden, Linden House 11; Cranford, 11.30; Garwood station, 12.15; Westfield Club, 12.40, where there will be a reception and lunch. Resuming their journey, the party will be at Mountainside at 2 o'clock; Springfield Hotel, 2.30; Union, Meeker Inn, 3; Lyons Farms, Smoke Shop, 3.30; Kenilworth Inn, 4; Scotch Plains, Park avenue and Front street, 4.30.

In the evening Mrs. Katzenbach will address a mass meeting in Elizabeth in the New Lyceum Theatre, and then hurry away to Rahway and Plainfield to speak.

The list of speakers will include James E. Martine, Assemblyman Joseph Tumulty, Simon P. Northrup, Colonel Joseph Price, ex-Judge Thos. W. Henry, of Newark, and Job H. Lippincott.

On October 29 Mr. Katzenbach will make an address at Colonial Hall, Summit.

AUGUSTUS D. SHEPARD JR. ENGAGED TO MISS REES

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Marie Rees, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Rees, to Augustus D. Shepard, Jr., of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus D. Shepard, of "The Gables," Fanwood. Mr. and Mrs. Rees were formerly of New York, but now reside at Biltmore, Asheville, N. C. Both young people are well known socially in the young set of New York, Long Island and Tuxedo.

Miss Rees is a granddaughter of the late Hans Rees, of New York, and also of Gen. Algernon Sidney Baxter, who served with distinction on Gen. Grant's staff during the Civil War. She is a great-granddaughter of the late Hon. Baxter, who was chief justice of the State of Vermont.

Mr. Shepard, who is a prominent architect, is a member of the New York Chapter of the American Institue of Architects' Architectural League. He has just returned from Jamestown, where as a member of Squadron A, he served as one of the Governor's aides-de-camp. He has been on its carbine and revolver team for a number of years and has driven the squadron coach on its daily runs to VanCortlandt Park.

Mr. Shepard is a nephew of William Rutherfurd Mead, the architect of Larkin G. Mead, the sculptor, William Dean Howells, the author, and Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard, of New York.

No date has been set for the wedding but it will probably be celebrated during the winter.

PLANS STEEPLECHASE.

Hunt Club to Have Election Day Card.

The Watchung Hunt Club is planning for a fine program of steeplechase and flat races for Election Day afternoon at the Plainfield Driving Park. The club offers a valuable prize for the best colt born during the year and owned by a farmer over whose lands the club hunts. There are fifteen colts to be shown at that time and in addition several flat races will be run off in which well-known local horses will be entered. If weather conditions permit it is expected that the meet will be one of the best of the season.

Christian Endeavor Rally.

The local Christian Endeavor Union will hold a rally service Thursday night, November 7 at the Seventh-day Baptist Church. It will also be an echo meeting of the State Christian Endeavor convention. Charles F. Windham, Fred Lounsbury, Jr., and Clarence B. LaRue, who attended the convention, will tell of the proceeds. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. Walter Greene, of Jersey City. E. C. Martin will have charge of the musical program.

French Decorations.

There are today at the Palais Bourbon half a dozen ushers who fear the "palmes academiques" on their black coats. We have also a guardian of the peace who is an officer of the academy, only this brave policeman modestly does not exhibit his ribbon. As for the holders of the palmes themselves, who scarcely know how to read and write, they are legion.—Paris Intransigeant.

CLASSIS ENDORSES THE BISHOPS BILL

The semi-annual session of the Newark Classis of the Reformed Church opened yesterday at Bellville, with thirty ministers present. The organization represents 17 churches with 23 ministers. The Rev. Stuart Nye Hutchinson, pastor of the First Reformed church, Newark, was elected president, to succeed the Rev. C. Hall Schneegas, pastor of the German Reformed church, of Plainfield, whose term expired with the opening of the session.

The Rev. Charles B. Condit, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Newark, was appointed clerk pro tem.

The retiring president read his annual report to the members, who declared themselves pleased with the flourishing condition of the classis. The treasurer's report, showing a balance of $301.57 in the treasury, was also read.

Addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. W. Clark, field secretary of the Board of Domestic Missions, and the Rev. Dr. James I. Vance, pastor of the North Reformed church, of Newark.

The Bishops bill was indorsed at the afternoon session. The Rev. William Stuart, of Nutley, was discussing Sabbath observance when the Rev. Henry Merle Mellen, pastor of Christ Reformed church, Newark, interrupted to offer a motion indorsing the candidacy of J. Franklin Fort for Governor. The Rev. A. Peter Tulp, pastor of the New York Avenue Reformed church, said it was not right to refer to any one man or party.

The Rev. W. H. Davis, of Hyde Park church, East Orange, was most earnest in declaring the motion out of order. In the meantime the introducer was smiling at his desk, and when the storm was over withdrew the motion, adding that, of course, it was unconstitutional.

It was then that Mr. Davis offered his motion indorsing the Bishops bill, but at the suggestion of the Rev. D. R. Bosgoed a committee of three was appointed to draft a resolution in the matter. The Rev. Mr. Davis, the Rev. A. P. Tulp and Elder J. S. Polhemus, of the First Reformed church, Newark, was appointed.

The resolution was as follows:

"We, the Classis of Newark, do hereby resolve that the Classis of Newark stands by the American Sabbath as one of our most valuable and cherished institutions, and that we are mutually opposed to any new method of Sunday which may tend to introduce the continental Sabbath; that we are especially opposed to the open saloon and sympathy to men and measures that will maintain repeal and reverence for God's holy day."

The classis went on record as being opposed to the amendment to the constitution of the church as proposed by the general synod as regards the appointment of theological professors. The amendment proposed to have the board of superintendents select the professors, instead of by vote of classis.

For the second time the classis rejected an assessment levied by the general synod for improvements on the grounds of Hope college. The assessment amounted to $161. The classis took the ground that such an assessment is improper.

The Rev. John G. Gebhardt, secretary of Board of Education of the Reformed church, made an address pointed out that the East is falling behind in furnishing students for the ministry. He thought it was due to the fact that in the West chapel attendance is compulsory at some colleges.

LOCAL INCORPORATORS IN $500,000 CONCERN

Articles of incorporation were filed with the County Clerk at Jersey City yesterday by A. Gross & Co., who are to engage in the melting and rendering of fat and tallow and to acquire and purchase the business of A. Gross & Co., formerly of Jersey City. The charter of the company. The capital is fixed at $500,000, but the company is to begin business on a paid in capital stock of $252,000.

The incorporators are Charles E. Gross, of New York; Emma M. Gross, Emma Slavin and Elizabeth M. Conway, all of this city; Mary L. Crowther, of Philadelphia, and David and Helen Mahany, of New York.

AROUND THE HOUSE.

Save your bits of old velveteen for polishing. When washed they will prove as useful as chamois.

Remnants of laundry soap can be boiled into a jelly or soft soap for dishwashing or shaved into the wash boiler on wash day.

It will be economy to finish your sheets with the same width hem at each end. By so doing they can be used either side up and gain much wear.

Use fine wire for hanging up such articles as rolling pins, chopping knives, potato mashers and pastry boards. The wire loop is perfectly clean.

Combs should not be washed with water. This is apt to split the teeth. A stiff nail brush is a good thing for cleaning them. After using the brush take a damp cloth and wipe between each tooth with this.

1ST METHODISTS BANQUET

Ministers and Laymen Guests of Men's Club of the Celebrating Congregation.

SOME FINE SPEECHES

Rev. Dr. Snodgrass, S. S. Swackhamer, Dr. J. R. Joy and Others Give Brief Talks.

Gathered around a banquet table in Vincent Chapel last night, a big company of First M. E. Church members listened to informal speeches on church life and the growth of the church, given by clergy and laymen prominent in local Methodism. The occasion was the anniversary banquet of the church, forming a feature of the Methodists' diamond jubilee long to be remembered; the brotherhood of the church was in charge of the affair and the room was decorated with autumn leaves, a large American flag forming the background to the speakers' table. Covers were laid for seventy-five.

The table was in the shape of a mammoth horse shoe, the speakers occupying seats at the "toe," where was the genial toastmaster, Samuel Bingaman, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair. Sprays of flaming oak leaves, from the centre of the long table, formed effective decoration and the place cards were papier-mache autumn leaves.

The evening's speeches were in general in the topic, "The Church," and its various phases dealt with by the eight speakers of the evening. After the coffee and cheese, Toastmaster Bingaman rose and spoke with regret of the absence of Nelson A. Miller, president of the brotherhood, whose business kept from attending, and Rev. George H. Whitney, who was not well enough to be present. Dr. Whitney was to have replied to the toast: "The Church, Its Foundation Rock Builders," but in his absence, the next toast, "The Church, Its Chapel," was called, and Superintendent James R. Joy of the Sunday-school, responded. Mr. Joy's speech was based on the etymology of the word "chapel"; the first syllable was "chap," defined and first used in application to a follower of John Wesley, in 1750. The "secondly" of his speech-sermon, the "el" was the ell of an old New England farmhouse, the centre of interest for the young people, according to incidents of his boyhood. Summarily he said that the chapel was the organization behind the church where young men, or "caps," first entered upon the activities of church work.

A strong speech was Rev. E. E. Roberson's response to the next toast, "Its Pulpit." The Monroe Avenue pastor referred to the pulpit as the centre of the church power and discussed the place it has present age. He spoke of present day pulpit fanaticism, and said that the pulpit should be the place where courageous, broad-minded men of backbone make a business of attacking sin. He urged the power of the laity in helping the preacher by sympathy with his cause and co-operation in sustaining his efforts. Henry A. McGee was the next speaker. He spoke of the church pew, laying the responsibility for the pew with the pulpit and act as a support to it. The spirituality of the church should be mental, not the "Hallelujah" demonstrativeness. At the conclusion of his address, a quartet, composed of Louis Olsen Barton, Carl Gallup, Vincent B. Miner and Choirmaster J. Edmund Skiff sang two selections.

Greeted with applause as he rose in his chair, Rev. W. C. Snodgrass, whom Dr. McCrea succeeded in the parish, spoke on the pillars of the Church. This is his only share in the celebration, for parish work in his Perth Amboy Church has kept him away from anniversary exercises. He said that the real element of strength in church work as in church architecture lie in the pillars of the church—"men and women who walk on the earth, but whose spirits touch the skies." He attributed the success of the church since its foundation to the efforts of such church pillars and concluded with heartiest best wishes for the success of the parish.

An element of humor enlivened the next speech, by Former Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer. His toast was "The Tower Clock," but from force of habit he started off with "Fellow citizens" and had begun "Ladies and gentlemen" when he remembered himself. His speech was a delicious mental vacation. "wild word-painting in a blood-shot tone of voice," but in his effort to "come in on home stretch" he left some good thoughts, comparing the human life to a clock and concluding with an appeal to all to "work under the eye of the clock in the work of the master." "The organ," said Rev. Dr. McCrea, in speaking in reference to his toast, "is an instrument, equipped with keys, pedals and stops. That word "stop" reminds me that there are other speakers. You've all had plenty of opportunity to hear me, I'll stop."

This was the concluding speech of the regular list of toasts, but the toastmaster called on George M. Rittenhouse, who spoke of the old relationships renewed by the anniversary celebration, alluding particularly to George Cornwall, who was called on for a few remarks. Mr. Cornwall spoke briefly; he welcomed his old friends and said that among the young men he recognized some of the members of the infant class in the day. After his speech, the banquet broke up, the diners singing "Auld Lang Syne" as the good-byes were said.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Samuel Bingaman, James R. Joy, Dr. Frank French, John Henry and Stephen H. Tugwell.

WHAT HILLERY BILL MEANS TO THE MILITIA

There has been considerable discussion in Plainfield among officers as well as enlisted men of the national guard as to the significance of Senate bill No. 374, introduced by Senator Thomas J. Hillery, of Morris County, and passed by both the assembly and senate, and which is now in the hands of the governor for his signature.

The Hillery bill, which it is expected will be approved by the governor, places the militia of the State of New Jersey in the same class with other states which have complied with the terms of the Dick law passed by congress, and New Jersey will be eligible to share in the federal appropriation for the maintenance of the militia of the several states and parcel of the regular army of the United States in case of a national call to arms.

In order to comply with the terms of the Dick law the staff of the governor had to be reorganized, and the Hillery bill provides that the staff shall consist of an adjutant-general, quarter-master-general, surgeon-general, inspector-general, chief of ordnance, judge advocate-general, chief of engineers and chief signal officer, all to have the rank of aides-de-camp, who shall have the rank of colonel, one of whom is to be the governor's personal aide; five aides-de-camp from the commissioned officers of the national guard below the rank of colonel, and one standard bearer, bugler and orderly, with the rank of sergeant.

The second provision in the Hillery bill is that the national guard of the State of New Jersey shall consist of a major-general, two brigadier-generals, adjutant-general, quartermaster-general, ordnance and subsistence departments, corps of engineers, pay and medical department, naval reserve, signal and hospital corps and the existing military organizations and such others as may be hereafter organized, the several organizations to constitute a division.

The third provision is further given power at any time to alter, divide, annex, consolidate, disband or reorganize the same and create new organizations whenever in his judgment the efficiency of the national guard will be increased.

Plans for Brick Paving Work.

In arranging for the laying of the brick pavement on West Front street and Somerset streets, City Engineer Gavett is planning to cause inconvenience the merchants as little as possible. Those who operate delivery wagons will be allowed to use West Front street driving through the alley adjoining Warnock's bakery, while Somerset street is being paved. That being completed traffic will be transferred to the alley back of Chris. Gloekler's place of business on Somerset street, while Front street is being paved on the side of the Front street will be laid at a time, leaving the other half open for traffic.

Torn Up Once in Four Years.

Critics who have been watching the brick pavement work now in progress and who declare that it will be only a few weeks before it will be necessary to tear it up to make repairs to underground work, will be interested to learn that in the four years that the brick pavement has been laid on Watchung avenue, only one opening has been made, and City Engineer Gavett says that it would take an expert to discover just where the pavement was opened.

ASKS $20,000 DAMAGES.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn Seek to Recover For Injuries.

The heirs of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Dunn, who were killed at the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing at Stelton several months ago, have retained G. W. V. Moy of this city to bring action for $20,000 against the railroad company. The suits have been transferred from the Supreme Court to the United States Circuit Court, on application of the company. The case will be tried at the next session of the court in March, 1908.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn were killed while driving home from a prayer meeting at the Stelton Baptist church, where they were both prominent in all departments of work. Mrs. Dunn was the sister of Mrs. Ada Cumings, of Fairview avenue, the borough.

Similarity.

Stubb—Yes, the fancy gardener has named his special radish after his wife.

Penn—Rather a warm compliment. Did he say why he did so?

Stubb—Yes; he said they never agree with him.—Chicago News.

CHURCH FAMILY REUNION

Monroe Avenue and Grace M. E. Congregations Worship Together Jubilee Week.

HELD A LOVE FEAST

Rev. C. B. Mitchell, In Whose Pastorate the Branches Were Formed, Haled As "Father of the Family."

If Tuesday night's services in connection with the diamond anniversary of the First Methodist Church can be referred to as an "Auld Lang Syne" meeting of Methodism in this city, then last night's meeting in Vincent Chapel an old-fashioned "love feast" of the sort which is dying out nowadays, was pre-eminently a family reunion of local Methodism in time when the first church as the mother church, welcomed the representatives of te Monroe Avenue M. E. Church and the Grace M. E. Church as the children. Postponing his return to Cleveland, Ohio, right after by the scope of his parish work, Rev. Dr. Charles Bayard Mitchell, who may well be called the "father" of the two branch churches, lent enthusiasm to the meeting by his remarks of welcome and encouragement to the members of the other two churches present.

The service was in charge of the Rev. Daniel Halleron, presiding elder of the Elizabeth district, who conducted it according to the customs of an old-time Methodist "love feast." Music was a feature of the meeting and Miss Sharpe officiated at the piano; there was also spirited singing of the old Methodist hymns, with Dr. Halleron as precentor. Greeting the congregation which, while small, was composed largely of the older members of the church, full of enthusiasm, Dr. Halleron said that the mother church extended a hearty welcome to the children. As the official mouth piece of the older child, Monroe Chapel, Rev. E. E. Roberson, pastor of the church, gave a brief history of its growth since the foundation, about fifteen years ago. It began as the Union Sunday-school on Madison avenue; this school was founded by Rev. Dr. Woodruff, a former pastor of the Dunellen Methodist Church, and George Angleman, of Dunellen, later superintendent of this school. James Mills was influential as the mainstay of this organization until after its admission to local Methodism through the first church here in 1890, when the Monroe Avenue Chapel was dedicated. The church has stood on ground, December 31, 1896 there were 102 members, 11 probationers and 160 in the Sunday-school, while ten years later at the time of the decennial anniversary, there were 250 members, 14 probationers and 350 in the Sunday-school. The condition of the church at the present time was reviewed and the outlook for the future presented.

Because of the illness of Dr. Charles W. Parsons and the absence from the city of Rev. Dr. Conrad W. J. Conroy summarized the history of the Grace M. E. Church. The church began as a Sunday school in Dr. Mitchell's time and later the chapel was established on land purchased by subscriptions of the church members. On the occasion of the fourteenth anniversary of the church last winter, there were 350 members and conditions were flourishing, with no debt.

At the conclusion of these histories, men and events of church life of the past were reviewed by speakers from the floor among whom were W. W. Johnson, Superintendent James R. Joy and Dr. Mitchell, who said in part:

"Inasmuch as the two branch churches now formed are going to my pastorate here, I may call myself the father of them. I am proud of them both, I don't know which is the elder, but think they are twins. It is a significant fact that there was no factional split in the church, I merely thought that three branches would be better than a single main church. I believed that with James McGee as my assistan in the west end and Dr. H. K. Carroll in charge on the north side of the brook, I considered myself fortunate in being at the head of such church life. I never knew of two churches to leave a mother church and start in for themselves under such sweet conditions as these churches. As father of the two local curches which have thrived so successfully since my pastorate here, let me say 'God bless you'."

Rev. A. C. McCrea, as "step father" of the churches spoke of the value of the meeting as a re-charging impulse for greater things to be accomplished in future. The meeting concluded with the benediction by Rev. Dr. Mitchell, the "father" of the branch churches, and many of those present remained to exchange social greetings and to examine pictures and records exhibited in connection with the history of Methodism in Plainfield.

Southside Sewer Progressing.

Good progress is now being made on the southside sewer now under the direction of City Engineer Gavett. He has placed Contractor John Sutcliff, of Poughkeepsie, in charge, and no further trouble is anticipated. It is not expected that the job for labor performed by the original contractor will be paid until after the job is completed and it is ascertained how much money is "on."

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Oct. 27: "Studies in church benevolences." "The foundations and purposes of the church." "We also are builded together for a habitation of God in the Spirit."—Eph. ii: 19-22.

By REV. WALTER J. TATE, D. D.

Passages for reference—Psalm lxxxvii: 1-3; Isa. xxxv: 1-10; Heb. xii, 22-24; Eph. i, 20-22; Zech. xiv, 8.

To one who reads the whole Bible attentively there comes a growing conviction that God is carrying forward a definite purpose in the course of human history. In the very first part, which deals with the early days of the race, foundation principles of eternal righteousness are laid down for the guidance of men, and as time passes it becomes more and more evident that God is revealing His nature and His law for men with increasing clearness and urgency. In Jesus Christ the adequate leader is found. No higher type of personality will ever be conceived. He reveals to us in fullness what the nature of God is in ethical perfection. He is Himself the perfect expression and embodiment in character of manhood as the likeness of godhood.

And He is the head of the church, into which it is His purpose to gather all men. The epistle to the Ephesians is, above all other books of the Bible, the clearest exposition of the nature of the church of Christ. Not only men to be included in the divine purpose revealed in Christ, but innumerable hosts of angels and all created things are in the sweep of the eternal plan.

When one fairly grasps the stupendous significance of this all embracing purpose of redemption it is almost overwhelming. It breaks at a stroke all claims of sectarian exclusiveness and condemns all racial bigotry and prejudice. It enlarges and shifts immeasurably the conceptions of human worth and dignity and destiny. It also sobers one with the sense of tremendous responsibility.

If God is engaged on this task and this is the clew to human history and this the real meaning of society, what a different light it throws on all life and how it changes the estimates and values of things!

And if vision of the meaning of one's individual existence dawns, and the old life fades away. This is God's world; I am God's man, with real work to do for Him. He cares. He trusts me. I will not disappoint His expectations. God helping me, I will be true to my trust.

Then must begin an earnest study of one's fellow men, their conditions, needs, possibilities and prospects; a valuation of forces available for enlightening and quickening and planning how to bring to pass what God desires.

Is not all this worth while? It is greater than digging a Panama canal or generating a war to a successful issue, or than the work of organizing railroads, exploiting great business enterprises, governing in civil affairs, is only incidental to the greater and more comprehensive work of bringing in righteousness, justice and mercy and establishing the kingdom of God.

This means study of all the vast benevolent operations and responsibilities of the church of Christ.

Living as if in Heaven.

Mark those men whose life is hidden in God, so dead to themselves they make no account. Thus can they delight themselves fully and freely in all that which God is doing apart from the thought of themselves, and to them therefore it is true that heaven and earth are theirs, and all things are theirs and fulfill their will because the will of God is their will. And their cup overfloweth with joy even here below because in all things they have a joy and a delight that are steadfast and full. While they walk with God all is peace, for in Him sorrow is not sorrow and pain is not pain, but all is peace and rest. All that God willeth to them is sweet and pleasant. Nor is it only that to them His will is perfect and best. It is more than this, for to them He gives the fair sunshine of His content and the blessed joy of heaven even here below, so that they live already, as it were, in heaven.—Henry Suso.

To Find Heavenly Blessings.

If any one should give me a bushel of sand and say there are particles of iron in it, I might look with my eyes for them and search for them with my clumsy fingers and be unable to find them, but let me take a magnet and sweep it, and how it would draw to itself the most invisible particles by the mere power of attraction! The unthankful heart, like my finger in the sand, discovers no mercies, but let the thankful heart sweep through the day, and, as the magnet finds the iron, so it will find in every hour some heavenly blessings, only the iron in God's sand is gold.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Love.

Love that does not serve is not love at all. The measure of self denial that one is ready to suffer is the measure of the love that is in one's heart. Love that will not sacrifice it only a sentiment.—Forward.

Speak the Good Word.

It isn't the love that they have in their hearts
And neglect or forget to reveal
That brightens the lives
Of husbands and wives,
It is telling the love that they feel.

It isn't the music asleep in the strings
Of the lute that entrances the ear
And brings to the breast
The spirit of rest,
It is only the music we hear.

It isn't the silence of hope unexpressed
It's the word of good cheer that we speak
To earnest plodding the
That brighten things of life
For the great things of life,
That hearteneth and strengthens the weak.
—McCall's Magazine.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 27.

By REV. S. H. DOTLE.

Topic.—Foreign missions. The kingdom of Christ in Europe.—Acts xvi, 6-15.

Europe has been the center of the greatest conflicts of Christianity in the history of the world; hence, while it is in no sense a missionary field, but just the opposite, sending out its own missionaries, yet in a full survey of the kingdom of God Europe could not be omitted. In the topical reference we take notice of the introduction of Christianity into Europe by the Apostle Paul. "A vision appeared to Paul in the night. There stood a man of Macedonia and prayed him, saying, 'Come over into Macedonia and help us.'" Paul considered the vision a call of the Lord and immediately obeyed it. And what a momentous event it was when the great apostle first placed his foot upon European soil! Who could have imagined the tremendous consequences were to follow? It was the beginning of the evangelization of Europe and of our own country, and through them the evangelization of the world!

The whole history of Christianity in Europe has been largely one of conflict. Here the early Christian church came into conflict with Roman paganism and, after a struggle of two centuries, came off a complete victor. Constantine, the emperor of Rome, having been won to the Christian faith. It was on the soil of Europe that Christianity made its last stand against Mohammedanism. It had swept over northern Africa, conquered Spain, but was then met and overthrown so far as Europe was concerned, except for a time in Spain, from which it was driven under the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella. In Europe also arose Martin Luther and the reformers attacked the false doctrines and practices of Roman Catholicism, the result of which was the organization of Protestant Christianity. Europe at this time was almost completely Protestant, but later on some nations lapsed back into the old faith and still stand by it. The condition of the kingdom of God can scarcely be touched upon in such a brief article. The British empire, Germany, Holland and some other countries are still Protestant, while France, Spain, Italy, etc., adhere to the Catholic faith. The religious conditions are favorable to Protestant influence. Catholicism is losing its hold upon thousands of the masses of the people, and unfortunately there is an element in the Church of England with a tendency to the Catholic church. It is also sad to remember that from Germany and England spring the modern attacks upon God's word and the person of Christ. But God will take care of His own. Let us fear no criticism, no matter whence its origin, but keep on believing and sending the gospel to the nations of the world.

BIBLE READINGS.

Isa. lii, 7; Nah. i, 15; Ps. ii, lxvii, 1-7; lxxii, 17-19; Matt. xxviii, 19, 20; Acts, i, 8; xiii, 1-3; Rom. x, 14, 15; Rev. xxii, 17.

An Organized Idea.

Christian Endeavor is an organized idea. It is for the purpose of reaching the lives of young people and training them for service. It has no hard and fast rules, no set formulas or unchangeable decrees as to methods. The work is the thing; methods are subordinate. Christian Endeavor was made for the young people, for Christian Endeavor. What ever plans, methods, times and seasons will accomplish the work are orthodox in Christian Endeavor, or what is machine cannot be wide and delicate adjustment. In each local situation it should be adapted to the needs. Let the aim be to accomplish the purpose, not to have a society to save the young people nor save Christian Endeavor.—Colby D. Hall in Texas Endeavorer.

Junior Mottoes.

When in the beautiful city of Budapest lately I saw some mottoes which the Juniors of that city had chosen, which when translated from the Hungarian meant "What Would Jesus Say to This?" I think it is a very important question for every Junior to ask when tempted to do wrong or, what is more likely perhaps, when tempted to neglect a duty. May every Junior Endeavorer of Ohio ask this question of himself which the Hungarian Juniors have put upon walls in many homes, and may it lead all earnestly to seek to do all things what Jesus would have them do.—Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D.

Y. P. S. C. E.

[Endeavor acrostic.]

Note.—Each line of each verse begins with an initial of our great movement.

Thided now for Christ and truth,
Youthful hearts and faces bright,
Yearning other lives to bring,
Ye are pressing to the mark.
Yes, you cannot choose but sing,
Yonder gleams the eternal light.

Pardoned all your follies past,
Pledged to follow Jesus' decree,
Preserve while life shall last;
Pure let each endeavor be;
Pray and work, for near and vast
Prepared for eternity.

Standing by the Saviour's side,
Strong to be and do and dare,
Seek the souls for whom He died,
Secure, perhaps, a crown to share;
Spread the tidings far and wide;
Send the gospel everywhere.

Called to service grand and true,
Choose the better part divine;
Consecrate your life anew;
Christ commands: Arise and shine!
Circle all the world with His view
Courage will with silver line.

Each Endeavorer should essay
Every weight to cast aside;
Early tread the King's highway,
Ever cure your Master's pride,
Earnest plodding the Eden's gates at e
—A. W. in London Christian Endeavor Times.

LOCAL REALTY CHANGES.

Large Number Recorded at County Clerk's Office.

The following local real estate transfers have been recorded at Elizabeth:

Joshua O. Loizeaux et ux. to Clotide Mazzocco, westerly side Cameron avenue, 825 feet northerly of Laramie road, Plainfield $1

Edward D. Pound et al. to John A. McKeon, Second street, corner Laing Webster, Plainfield $1

Annie Meier to Samuel Dreier, West north street, 95 feet easterly of Winter's estate, Plainfield..$1

Christopher F. Heckman to John H. Van Winkle, jr., southeasterly side Fourth street, corner R. Armstrong, Plainfield $1

William E. Ireland et ux. to Alvina Kuhl, lots 20-22, Norwood avenue, Plainfield $1

B. Frank Coriell et ux. to Ellen S. Bodine, southeasterly side South Second street, 588 feet of Clinton avenue, Plainfield $1

Thomas S. Purdie et ux to Susan A. Ramsey, southeasterly side East Seventh street, corner Crescent avenue, Plainfield $9,000

George A. Finger to Albert Pitts, southeasterly side East Front street, corner George Finger, Plainfield—$1

Joseph J. Johnson et ux. to Jacob Sachar, southwesterly side Prospect place, 200 feet northwesterly of West Third street, Plainfield ..$1

Julius Williams to Phebe A. Williams, southeasterly side North avenue, 100 feet northeasterly of Henry Harris, Plainfield $1

Maria A. Bergen to Charles H. Hall, northerly side Broadway, corner C. P. Hazen, Plainfield $1

Peter Ritter et ux. to George Simon et ux., South avenue, corner Edward Wilson, Plainfield $2,000

This contract has also been filed: Lee Booker with William G. Stephens, entire work new building, East Third street, Plainfield $2,178

THE HALL OF FAME.

King Leopold of Belgium has bought the Chateau Lormoy, near Paris, and will furnish it luxuriously.

General Weyler has just finished writing his memoirs of the time when he was governor general of Cuba.

In the new stables of Banker Mortimer L. Schiff on Long Island his blue blooded cattle will have stalls done in blue tile and will eat from white porcelain receptacles.

Lieutenant Colonel Lige Halford, at the age of sixty-four, is now retired. The place with which President Harrison rewarded him for faithful services has made him comfortable for life.

Dr. Thomas S. Heaton, of Boston, caught off the coast of Nova Scotia with a hook and line an albatross twenty-five inches high, thirty-six inches from beak to tail and seventy-five pounds in weight.

Mrs. Russell Sage's Touraania is actively pursuing her philanthropic idea, which first took practical shape last year, of collecting the blind of her country in one city, which her majesty has given the name of "Vatra Luminosa."

Augustus Wood of Lebanon, N. H., started in recently on his fifty-fifth consecutive year of service in one shop as a machinist. Mr. Wood claims the distinction of having worked the longest term of continuous service in the same shop of any person in New Hampshire.

Patrick Mahoney, of Brookfield, Mass., has filed a claim against the federal government for three days' pay due him since 1862. He says he was working in the armory at Springfield during the Civil war and had three days' wages coming to him when he learned he was about to be drafted into the service.

Dr. Elwood Meade, formerly chief of the bureau of irrigation of the department of agriculture and now living in Laramie, Wyo., has accepted the position of chief of irrigation investigation for Australia, which was recently tendered him by the British government. The place, it is stated, carries with it an annual salary of $15,000.

Ex-Judge Charles Germman Burton, the new commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, was born in Cleveland, O., and lives at present in Missouri. He served with distinction during the war, after which he began the study of law, which he has practiced ever since, and is at present collector of internal revenue at Kansas City.

GOWN GOSSIP.

Long skirts are well on the floor at front and sides and moderately trained.

Many of the new cloth and velvet skirts are graceful of line, but quite devoid of trimming.

The short sleeves has had its day, in so far as coats are concerned, and its throne is tottering even in the realm of bodices.

Princess skirts with some clever modification of the bretelle idea will appear, but must be very original and successful if they are not to look commonplace.

It is one of the fads of the moment to introduce a Japanese sleeve into a mannish coat and vice versa. Many of the most elaborately trimmed coats have severely plain coat sleeves.

There is no doubt that short sleeves will appear upon a fair percentage of the dressy winter bodices, but the revolution has begun, and the woman who would be chic will have at least one or two of her pretty house frocks and dinner gowns made with long, close fitting transparent sleeves.—New York Sun.

ENGLISH ETCHINGS.

Fifty thousand dollars a year is spent on Regent's park, in London. A syndicate has been formed for the purpose of making roads out of London for the use of motor cars.

King Edward rules over more Mohammedans than the sultan of Turkey, over more Hebrews than there are in Palestine and over more negroes than any sovereign of Africa.

When North Gosforth church, near Newcastle, England, which had never been consecrated, but in which services had been held regularly, was put up at auction not a bid was made for the property.

It is calculated that English now leave in millions for the continent every summer. Ten years hence, hence, says London Truth, it may be necessary to leave a caretaker in charge of England while the community is absent abroad.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Alla Nazimova has opened in "The Master Builder."

Frank Gilmore has been engaged by the Shuberts as leading man to Mary Mannering to play Jerome Bonaparte in "Glorious Betsy." Mrs. Rida Johnson Young's play.

Miss Ida Fuller, who has been appearing in vaudeville in Europe for a number of years, recently made her appearance in the New York theatre in a new Parisian spectacle act entitled "La Libellule."

Dennis O'Sullivan is a new Irish star who is under contract to Joseph Brooks to star in "Peggy Machree," beginning about the first of the year. His success in London, Dublin, Belfast and other cities has been great.

PITH AND POINT.

Every man who borrows trouble pays usurious interest.

You were never fairly discussed behind your back in your life.

Most people will make any sacrifice to gratify their vanity but pride.

Mend your own faults, and the faults of others will not be so apparent.

How many opportunities there are to spend money! And how few opportunities to make it!

You hear people say sometimes they do not care much for compliments. Nothing in it. All of us love a compliment.—Atchison Globe.

Mistakes of Drug Clerks.

"There is one loss sustained by druggists that very few people know about," said the experienced clerk. "That is the prescriptions that have to be made over, the same as clerks, stenographers, writers and artists, no matter how painstaking, frequently have to do their work over. The most frequent kind of work in existence is bound to make mistakes sometimes in measuring and mixing. He may pour in too much of some kind of liquid or sift in too much of a certain powder. In most cases the overdose would not really affect the value of the medicine, but the conscientious clerk isn't going to take any chances of murdering anybody, so he throws away the whole mixture and makes up another prescription."

SIRES AND SONS.

David Pingree owns or controls a grand total of 767,975 acres of wild lands in Aristook county, Me.

Sir Charles Dilke attributes his energy to the fact that he has never given up rowing and dancing in spite of his advancing years.

Dr. H. P. Polls, representing the German minister of agriculture, is in this country to study the United States weather bureau system.

William H. Vanderbilt's yacht apparatus have nearly all passed away. John McLaughlin, who had special charge of the dethroned boss on Blackwell's Island, has just died at the age of seventy.

Henry J. Byer, a retired undertaker of Cleveland, provided in his will that his grandchildren must not smoke, chew nor drink. He left $1,500 a year for painting the iron work around his lot.

Dr. Ranger, the solicitor of the Salvation Army, has been totally blind since he was fourteen. Now head of a large firm of lawyers in Fenchurch street, London, the whole of the practice has been built up from his initiative.

Rodman Wanamake of the Paris branch of the Philadelphia and New York department stores, has been promoted to the grade of officer in the Legion of Honor, which was recently tendered him by the British government. The place, it is stated, carries with it an annual salary of $15,000.

Ex-Judge Charles Germman Burton, the new commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, was born in Cleveland, O., and lives at present in Missouri. He served with distinction during the war, after which he began the study of law, which he has practiced ever since, and is at present collector of internal revenue at Kansas City.

GOWN GOSSIP.

Long skirts are well on the floor at front and sides and moderately trained.

Many of the new cloth and velvet skirts are graceful of line, but quite devoid of trimming.

The short sleeves has had its day, in so far as coats are concerned, and its throne is tottering even in the realm of bodices.

Princess skirts with some clever modification of the bretelle idea will appear, but must be very original and successful if they are not to look commonplace.

It is one of the fads of the moment to introduce a Japanese sleeve into a mannish coat and vice versa. Many of the most elaborately trimmed coats have severely plain coat sleeves.

There is no doubt that short sleeves will appear upon a fair percentage of the dressy winter bodices, but the revolution has begun, and the woman who would be chic will have at least one or two of her pretty house frocks and dinner gowns made with long, close fitting transparent sleeves.—New York Sun.

TALK ABOUT DUMB LUCK

Painter Full of Booze Drops Twenty Feet But Only Gets a Cut on the Head.

STIRRED UP WEST END

Police Headquarters Informed He Had Been Killed and Patrol Wagon Went Out For the Corpse.

Chief Kiely was straightening up matters at Police Headquarters after court, this morning, when the telephone gave a vicious ring that betokened trouble of some sort. The receiver was at his ear in an instant and the drums were almost cracked by a voice that yelled over the wire: "Say, send the patrol wagon down to Third street and Muhlenberg place; there's a man been killed by falling off a ladder."

In a couple of times the police vehicle with Patrolman Charles Flynn aboard was speeding to the West End, the officer busying himself on the way down by getting the stretcher in shape for a corpse.

Arriving at the street corner designated a crowd about a house indicated the destination and Flynn and Driver O'Gorman hastened to get out the body-carrying apparatus but they were stopped by a man running up to them.

"He ain't dead," was the salute, "he's around back and wants everybody to have a drink with him."

The cops nonplussed at the rear of the house and discovered N. B. Snell, a painter who lives on Somerset street, entertaining a group of "rubbernecks" with accounts of his ability as a skilled mechanic and what he could do to pay off a bet. Hospitality if all hands adjourned to a booze camp. Blood streaming down the back of his head showed that he had a fall and bystanders declared he had toppled from a ladder at least twenty feet from the ground. He was knocked unconscious and it was thought at first that he had been killed and the call was sent for the patrol wagon. With a drunken man's luck he revived before the vehicle showed up, although a sober man would undoubtedly have been fatally hurt, and a cut on his head was all he had to show for the accident.

"You had better go back home," said Snell with an imperious wave of his hand when Flynn took hold of him, "I'm one of the best painters that ever held a brush and I think I'll stay and finish the job."

The cops nodded to the wagon, however, and started for town. Snell thought he was on the way to the hospital and objected to it with all his might. He even attempted to bribe the officers by offering to buy them a drink if they would stop off at a Third street saloon, but Flynn and O'Gorman refused to fall from grace.

When landed safely at Headquarters, Snell mistook Chief Kiely for Judge Runyon and argued his case spellbinder against the injustice of his arrest. He reeled off several yards of talk about his being a good fellow and that if he tumbled off a ladder it was nobody's business; that he could outpaint any painter who ever painted and that if it was all the same to everybody concerned he would go back to where he had been working.

They led him away to a cell and a physician was called in to make sure that he was not badly hurt. The doctor declared the cut was quite severe but barring it and the booze,

SENTENCE DAY IN MIDDLESEX.

Negro Assailants of Marks Get Twelve Years Each.

James Wells and William Nixon, negroes, who were convicted of assaulting Israel Marks, an aged clothing dealer, who discovered them robbing his store, were sentenced to twelve years in state prison yesterday by Judge Reed, relieving the extreme penalty of the law. Judge Booraem declared that there was not a single mitigating circumstance.

William Raynor, of Perth Amboy, was sentenced to eighteen months in state prison for forging two insurance papers. The court said that the prisoner had attempted to deceive him by stating that he had never been in prison before, whereas he had served two terms for similar offences.

August Plackhofsky was sentenced to the reformatory for stealing lead from a barge at Perth Amboy. Bassaw Krieger, of Perth Amboy, was sentenced to the reformatory for stealing $250 from a fellow countryman.

The results of the long and thorough research into the nature of cancer conducted by the Pasteur Institute in Paris are nil, except as showing that the disease is neither contagious nor hereditary and that it can be combated only by a surgical operation. It seems obvious that nearly everything yet remains to be learned about cancer.—Boston Globe.

Dr. Ewald Falls, a well known Egyptologist and excavator, has embraced Islam. While at the head of an excavating expedition in the Nile delta he became so convinced of the virtues of Mohammedanism that he confessed the faith and was received at the mosque of Mariout. He will henceforth be known under the name of Mussa Mohammed.

MAN'S MEMORY A BLANK

Picked Up Near Mount Horeb Can't Give His Name or Place of Residence

IT'S A PUZZLING CASE

Return Ticket in Pocket Shows That He Came From New York to This City By Train.

Residents of the farming section back of Plainfield, leading from Mount Bethel to Mount Horeb, are seeking to unravel a mystery that has been thrust upon them through the discovery of a middle-aged man lying in the road near the Kipsey place, last Sunday. His face and head were badly cut and bruised, at first glance giving the appearance of having been caused by a club or some blunt instrument, but when eventually roused to consciousness it was only to reveal the fact that he had almost a total lapse of memory. Continued questioning has failed to derive any information from him and at the present time he is at the home of Mrs. Barbara Parshlard, near Round Top schoolhouse, seeking vainly to recall his name and residence.

The stranger is a French-American and when found wore clothes of good material. Some women passing along the road saw him lying beneath a clump of bushes and they notified nearby farmers of the fact. He was picked up by William Jones, and several others, of Mount Bethel, who revived him and sought to learn what had happened him. The stranger shrugged his shoulders when questioned and smiled affably, denoting the battered condition of his features, when asked his name. A search of his pockets revealed a business card of the Dreyfus restaurant, Beech street, Boston, and a return ticket on the New Jersey Central from Plainfield to New York.

In response to a query as to whether he remembered being in Plainfield he said he thought he had but it was impossible for him to recall how he had gotten from the railroad station to the point along the road where he was picked up. He nods assent when asked if he came from Boston to visit friends, but dozens of attempts have failed to get the slightest hint as to the name of the people. He does note the fact that he has a hand grip filled with various papers and bits of property and the road near where he was found has been unsuccessful in the hope of finding it. So far it has not turned up.

From the words dropped now and then by the stranger, it is believed that his home is in Boston and the authorities have planned to search that direction to establish his identity. He always brightens up when the Dreyfus restaurant is mentioned and it may be that he is known there. It is the general opinion that his memory underwent a lapse through a bereavement affection and that the wounds on his face and head were caused by falling in the road as he sought vaguely to get somewhere. It is also the impression that he may recover in a short time and he will be kept at the Pavilard home until his faculties return.

In appearance the man is forty years of age, of slender build and medium height, and has just the suspicion of a mustache.

EDITORIAL FLINGS.

The outlook for the apple crop indicates that cider vinegar will be more ambiguous than usual this year.—Cleveland Leader.

An Indian poet who won $10,000 in a lottery promises to quit writing verse. That's the best argument yet advanced in favor of lottery.—Omaha Bee.

The American people spend $60,000,000 annually for chewing gum. No wonder there is a wad stuck to the bottom of nearly every chair in the land—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Swedish blacksmith was found starving in New York, although he had $10.50 in his pocket. People who have paid for meals in New York will not be surprised at this.—Detroit Free Press.

Dr. Wiley says human life is longer now than formerly. This may be due to the fact that the cost of living is so high that most of us have to stay longer to get our money's worth.—Washington Post.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

Who queered The Hague conference? That promises to be the paramount international question next. Boston Herald.

Mr. Choate thinks the peace congress "sowed some good seed." The difficulty is that it's a long time till harvest.—Washington Times.

Whatever else The Hague conference may have done, it will certainly not take a gun from the hands of a single soldier in the world. It will not shorten the list of military wards. It will not close one arsenal or chill the forging of a cannon anywhere.—Philadelphia Press.

Questionable Veracity.

Green—So Braggs tells a different tale, does he? Well, I guess my word is as good as his.

Brown—I should hope so. Braggs is a charter member of a fishing club.—Detroit Tribune.

W.C.T.U. FOR BISHOPS LAW

"As a Step Toward Ultimate Annihilation of Liquor Traffic" They Resolve.

REV. MR. ROEDER TALKS

President of State Civic Federation League Says He Claims Relationship With Carl Schurz.

At the closing session of the New Jersey Women's Christian Temperance Union in Lafayette M. E. Church, Jersey City, yesterday morning, the Rev. Adolph Roeder, of Orange, president of the State Civic Federation League, gave the address, speaking on "State Civic Federation," and touching on the political situation in New Jersey.

"The Bishops' law is the issue interesting both parties," he said. "And back of the Bishops' law there is a movement to establish that foreign Sunday in this country. I am a German by birth," he continued, "and claim relationship with Carl Schurz, but not with such men as Carl Lentz."

Mr. Roeder said that while he is a church worker he is not a political worker, but to know that the outcome of the present campaign depended upon the women of the state, not only the women of the W. C. T. U., but the entire body of women throughout the state. "Stand by your ideals," he said, "insist on the highest type of public school training and, above all, on the Sunday school. Do not want the French type of womanhood or the English type; you want the American type of womanhood."

In answer to a question Mr. Roeder explained the local option law in all its phases. Concluding he said: "The Bishops' law will be retained. No man is his proper sense whether his name begins with an F or a K will attempt to tamper with the Bishops' law."

Before closing the convention decided the place to hold the next convention in 1908, Mrs. Eleanor C. Maurer, county president of Atlantic county, was invited to invitation to have the convention in Atlantic City, which was accepted.

The final service of the convention this morning was led by Mrs. Mary L. Woodruff, of Flemington, who gave a short reading from Joshua and daughters, taking the life of Joshua for her parable. She urged the women to keep in touch with the Lord that they might reach out and avail themselves of the opportunity He puts in their way to do good.

Mrs. C. Lippincott, of Morristown, gave the report of the department of franchise. She said in part: "The women of New Jersey are coming to realize that the principles of equal suffrage for all citizens are just and right. An evidence of this was given at a recent county convention, when nearly every woman rose in response to the question whether they would like to exercise the privilege of the ballot."

Mrs. Lippincott said that the W. C. T. U. women were using every effort in the interest of franchise legislation and petition and that much has been accomplished.

The committee on resolutions offered a resolution commending the action of the fire department of Hackettstown and Somerville in excluding applicants from their recent parades, and advised similar action on the part of the fire companies in different localities, and that a copy of the resolution be sent to each fire department.

A resolution was also adopted to uphold the Bishops law in all its restrictive features "as a step toward the ultimate annihilation of the liquor traffic in New Jersey."

A further resolution was adopted to petition the President of the United States and the Secretary of War against the playing of Sunday baseball and other games at the army and navy posts.

GERMAN GLEANINGS.

In Germany, as everywhere else, the scarcity of female servants is greater than ever.

Berlin has a restaurant where a beefsteak prepared in the highest style of culinary art costs $4.50, and the waiter expects a tip of 50 cents.

There was last year only ninety department stores in Germany, where such articles have already a much more bitter animosity than in the United States.

Two years ago Dr. Preuss of the Berlin Ethnological museum was sent to Mexico to gather material relating to Indian tribes. A few weeks ago he returned to Berlin laden with treasures of all kinds.

Positions for Them.

Nine pupils of the Plainfield Business College obtained good positions in New York City, Plainfield, Bayonne and High Bridge, during the month of September. Other good positions could not be filled as the school had no more pupils prepared. Among the names of those who got positions: Miss Helen Southard, of Scotch Plains; Miss Catherine Mohan, Dunellen; Miss Ruby Rippard, Lincoln; Miss Eleanor Van Nest, North Branch; Miss Irma Hoffman, Califon; Philip Hoba, Raritan; James Lynch, Plainfield; Bertram Bickley, Plainfield; and William Brown, Plainfield.

The Costitutionalist.

A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.

Published a.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Terms: $2.00 per Year.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1907.

WVTCHUNG MASS MEETING

Joseph S. Frelinghuysen and Somerset G. O. P. Candidates Address Voters.

FAVOR GOOD ROADS

Senator and Assemblyman Advocate Improved Highways—Mets and Kay Also Speak.

Coming to Watchung Sen. Senator Frelinghuysen's automobile Monday night, the Somerset county candidates were present at the enthusiastic mass meeting held at Texier's Mills. Speeches were made by all the candidates and by the Senator himself, and the voters gave them all a cordial reception at the conclusion of the meeting.

Dr. Richard Moldenke, of the county executive committee, presided at the meeting and first introduced Senator Frelinghuysen. The Senator spoke especially of his work at Trenton, dealing with the automobile bill and the good roads measures and the voting machines.

W. W. Smalley, candidate for assembly on the ticket with Mr. Fall was next introduced. Smalley made a most favorable impression; he is strongly in favor of good roads through the county and spoke especially of the work to be done in the road appropriations. Mr. Mets, the candidate for surrogate, also made a rattling good speech and was followed by Robert Kay, the candidate for sheriff. Both men were loudly applauded and party spirit was strong at the meeting.

The hall was decorated with American flags and there was a representative crowd. With the candidates were W. B. R. Mason and David Hastings, of Bound Brook. At the conclusion of the meeting the candidates spent a social half hour at the hall, meeting the voters and informally talking over the issues of the campaign.

OFFICIALS TO ACCOMPANY FORT IN COUNTY'S TOUR

As told exclusively in The Daily Press and detailed by another paper, J. Franklin Fort, Republican nominee for governor, will make a whirlwind tour of Union county on Tuesday, October 29. The start will be made from Elizabeth at 9 o'clock in the morning and every town in the county will be invaded by the spellbinders, who will include beside the former Judge, State Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, former County Chairman Hamilton F. Kean, County Chairman Frank H. Smith, Major C. J. Fisk, Assemblyman Randolph Perkins, Sheriff William Lawrance, Surrogate George Parrot, Assemblyman Peter Tillman, Mayor Further, of Rahway, and many other county and municipal officials.

After leaving Elizabeth, the route will be through Lyons Farms, Union, Springfield, Mountainside, Summit, New Providence, Berkeley Heights, Scotch Plains, Plainfield, Westfield, Garwood, Cranford, Scotch Plains and Roselle. At night speeches will be made at Rahway and Elizabeth. Luncheon will be served in Plainfield.

The campaigners will use ten automobiles and in the first will be a brass band, as told by The Daily Press exclusively.

QUIETLY WEDDED.

Home Ceremony United Miss Bessie Wells and Charles Vardon.

Miss Bessie Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wells, of Essex street, and Charles Vardon, of Plainfield avenue, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Saturday night. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. H. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel, and was witnessed only by relatives and a few close friends. Attendants were Miss Hattie Walls, sister of the bride, and Stanley Vardon, brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Walls left for Philadelphia on a wedding trip. They will make their home on their return, the groom being employed as machinist in a local shop.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Helen Boise, daughter of Mrs. Calvin Boise, of New Market, to George Morris, of this city, son of the late John Morris, of New Market. Mr. Morris is of the firm of Morris Bros., auto dealers.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

Jabez Enjoyed the Pone Pudding and the Cat Got the Punishment.

The late Senator Pugh, of Alabama, practiced law for many years in Eufaula. A Eufaula man said of him the other day:

"In an eloquent speech on circumstantial evidence I once heard Senator Pugh drive home the danger of this sort of evidence with a good story.

"He said that a Eufaula woman made one of those corn pone puddings for which the ladies of our state are famous. She put the pudding on a shelf to cool and then she went out to have a dress fitted. Her little son Jabez was left alone in the house.

"Jabez played with his toys till he got hungry. Then he put a chair beneath the shelf, climbed up and ate all of the delicious pone pudding that his small interior would possibly hold. To conclude, he did a strange thing.

"He caught the cat, dabbled her four paws in the soft yellow custard in the bottom of the dish and then set her down. She scampered through the kitchen into the sitting room and parlor and thence out of doors. On the bare boards of the kitchen, on the dining-room's red carpet and on the parlor's carpet of green she left impartially small golden footprints, very neat, very conspicuous. The boy smiled softly to himself.

"And that evening, on his father's return he heard a wild scampering below, the banging of the front door, a terrific mewing and the sharp crack of a rifle.

"Then little Jabez smiled softly to himself again.

"'Ah, me!' he said, 'there goes another victim of circumstantial evidence.'"

IMMIGRANTS AT WINNIPEG.

Canadian City Where Fifteen Languages Are Spoken.

Winnipeg is where they do things. This is really the place where the frontier was abolished by the real estate regicides. A kingdom is sold daily in Winnipeg, an army is marched in to occupy it over night.

Now a great line of Canadian Pacific railway alone in Winnipeg have over 120 miles of trackage, and they need it. The immigrants come by battlion—Englishmen in caps, Scotchmen in bonnets, Breton French in blue coats, Icelanders in sheepskins, Austrians, Mennonites, Galacians—all manner of furtive folk and wild.

There are 15 known languages in the Winnipeg schools, and a lot too late to classify. When you see a stranger you cannot tell whether or not he is within the range of human speech. You bitterly reflect only that he is one of those who have wiped out the old frontier, lost it forever to those who love the wilderness.—Outing Magazine.

Indian Sign Language.

When an Indian paints his cheeks in scarlet lines and daubs a yellow square on his forehead the world knows that he is in love.

When he covers his face with six zigzag black lines upon an ochre base it is his purpose to—ah, I'm almost ashamed to say it—to get just as skated as he possibly can.

When red circles are on each cheek-bone and a stripe of blue is on the forehead the young brave is going out to steal a paleface horse.

When he paints white rings around his eyes he is running for office, he is a candidate for medicine man or councilor, and the white ring signifies that he ought to be elected because he has the wisdom of the owl.—N. O. Times-Democrat.

A Russian Pastime.

If the human jaws need some occupation in the intervals of meals and gossip, says Health Culture, masticators could learn a lesson from the peasants of southern Russia, who exercise their teeth on the hard seeds of the Caspia sunflower.

There is not a suspicion of a stimulant about it, no chewing gum dyspepcia or navy plug nuisance.

It is a pastime and, incidentally, an excellent exercise.

In Astrakan a pint of the requisite seeds can be bought for a quarter of a penny.

Bribery in Business.

It is not to be denied that our commercial ethics need bracing up. The secret commission, the direct bribe, the many-headed monster "treating," the masked present, all these form an obstacle in the path of the honest and direct business man. They may seem harmless little practices enough carried out on a small scale; but in the bulk they represent a formidable element which has perceptible effect on business generally.—Drapers' Record.

Couldn't Get Poached Eggs.

"I'll have some poached eggs, this morning," said the thespian, as he seated himself at the breakfast table.

"Very sorry, sah," replied the dusky waiter, "but our eggs won't poach."

"What do you mean?"

"Why, sah, you see dis is a 'dog town,' where de theater folks comes to try dere plays, and consumquently de condition of de eggs is such as to evade poachin', sah."—Yonkers Statesman.

Cheering a Seasick Passenger.

"Steward, how long will it be before we get into the harbor?"

"About an hour and a half, ma'am."

"Oh, dear, I shall die before then."

"Very likely, ma'am. But you'll be all right when you've been in about ten minutes."—Sharps Journal.

COUNTRY CLUB PLAYERS BEAT ELIZABETH AT TENNIS

Winning both matches in doubles and breaking even in the singles, the Plainfield Country Club tennis team beat the team from the Elizabeth Town and Country Club for matches to two on the local courts Saturday afternoon. The courts were in excellent condition and the play fast. The day's best match was between Harry Cochran and A. D. Beers, of the local team, and H. McK. Glazebrook and Dean Mathey, of Elizabeth. It was a three-set match, the first two of which went to deuce. The Elizabeth pair took the first, 7-5, after hard playing, by superior work at the net. With the second set at deuce Cochran and Beers took two straight games and the set. In the last set of the match, the local pair won, it being fresher and faster than their opponents. The matches resulted as follows:

Singles—W. B. Cragin, Plainfield, beat Miles Charlock, Elizabeth, 6-4, 6-3; H. McK. Glazebrook, Elizabeth, beat Albert D. Beers, Plainfield, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1; Dean Mathey, Elizabeth, beat Harry J. Cochran, Plainfield, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2; Will Crespo, Plainfield, beat H. H. Foster, Elizabeth, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1.

Doubles—Harry J. Cochran and Albert D. Beers, Plainfield, beat H. McK. Glazebrook and Dean Mathey, Elizabeth, 5-7, 7-5, 6-1; William B. Cragin and W. P. Claypole, Plainfield, beat Miles Charlock and H. H. Foster, 6-2, 6-2.

HUNT CLUB'S CHASE OVER DIFFICULT ROUTE

The Watchung Hunt Club held its weekly chase Saturday afternoon, starting from Dog Tavern, at 3:30 o'clock. The route included the outlying country about Westfield, through Westfield and ending on the Rahway road near Fanwood. Without doubt it was one of the best and most exciting rides of the season. The course selected was a difficult one and only the more experienced riders participated.

There was only one spill, and that did not amount to anything of consequence. Lewis E. Waring, master of the hounds, mounted on Grand Slam, was about to take a ditch before a three rail fence and in same way the big horse stumbled and fell. He went down so easy that his rider simply rolled off on the soft ground, causing no injury.

Next Saturday the club will meet at Mt. Pleasant Scholhouse at 2:45 o'clock and the course to be followed will be in a direct line from Dunellen.

Those who joined in the chase Saturday were Lewis E. Waring, master; Christopher, Comins, whip; Charles Wildey, William Wildey, Richard Donnelly, Charles Schwartz, Harry A. Boehm, Harry Fred Alpers, C. E. S. Bellows and William Harrison, of Montclair.

MEDAL CONTEST UNDER AUSPICES OF LOCAL W. C. T. U.

Program to be in Charge of Rev. Dr. Herring, H. C. Krebs and Kenneth Robbie.

Under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union a silver medal oratorical contest will be held Thursday night in the First Presbyterian church. The judges for the affair will be Rev. Dr. Charles E. Herring, H. C. Krebs and Kenneth Robbie.

The following program will be presented:

Piano solo, "America"; prayer, ev. C. E. Herring; piano solo, Miss Grace George; recitation, "Old Soapy," Miss Florence Fowler; vocal solo, "The Fairy's Lullaby," Mrs. Charles H. Clarke; recitation, "The Sober Hat," Miss Edna Doughty; piano solo, "Imps and Cpirits at Work," Miss Beatrice Miner; recitation, "The Result of Treating," Miss Ida Englehart; piano solo, "Flirtin's Chorus from Tannhauser," Miss Ruth Wean; recitation, "The Christmas Story," Miss Mary T. Smith; vocal solo, "Gretna," Mrs. Charles H. Clarke; recitation, "A Daughter's Sacrifice," Miss Arline Brown.

After the entertainment the judges will render their decision and the silver medals will be presented by Mrs. T. C. Bodine.

Robbers Invade Westfield.

Burglars entered the home of William C. Campbell, in Clark street, Westfield, last Sunday morning, and got away with $250 in money and silverware and a gold watch valued at $200. The robbery occurred about 3 o'clock.

Numerous burglaries occurred at Westfield last week, in which the burglars stole more than $1,000 in money and jewelry. The police think a lot of "second story" men came here at the end of the "Home Week" at Elizabeth, about two weeks ago.

Prelinghuysen in New Brunswick.

The Young Men's Republican Club of New Brunswick is arranging a big mass-meeting for Friday night in Y. M. C. A. Hall. Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen, of Somerset county, will be the principal speaker. This is the club which launched for governor several months ago, before illness diverted his attention and compelled him to give up the idea of becoming a candidate for the nomination.

REINHART CAPTURES CUP

Winner of Golf Committee Trophy at Plainfield Country Club.

A LARGE FIELD OUT

Park Club Team Defeats Middlebrook Country Club Members, Score Being 18 to 12.

Frank O. Reinhart is the winner of the Golf Committee Cup at the Plainfield Country Club for this season. He finished first on Saturday, thereby adding three points to his standing and giving him the cup. The competition for this trophy will be concluded with next Saturday's play. There was a large field out Saturday, although many did not return scores. The leading scores returned for the Golf Committee cup and point winners follow:

Frank O. Reinhart, 84, 4—80; Frank Talmadge, 87, 6—81; Roger F. Murray, 92, 11—81.

These scores were posted for the Green Committee cup:

Hugh F. Fox, 99, 20—79; C. C. Burke, sr., 101, 14—87; George E. Catcart, 99, 10—89.

There was also the final play for the autumn trophies between A and B. In class A, E. T. Wilson, 13, beat Dudley H. Barrows, 4, 1 up, and in class B, Le Roy H. Gates, 27, beat A. G. Henderson, 19, 1 up in 21 holes.

The chief event at the Park Golf Club on Saturday was the team match between the Parks and the Middlebrook Country Club. The home members gave the visitors a severe drubbing, the score being 18 to 2. This was the third and deciding match, the Parks winning two. The visiting team was simply outclassed and had no show to win. The best match was that between Willets Gano and L. R. Thurlow, in which the former won by 2 up. The Plainfielder put up an exceedingly god game and almost won his match. The summary:

Parks—L. R. Thurlow, O. S. St. John McCutchen, 3; C. A. Reed, 3; Dr. H. K. Carroll, 3; Rev. C. L. Goodrich, 3; Rev. C. H. Grekler, 3; Charles B. Morse, 1; W. V. Byard, 3; Reuben Knox, 2. Total, 18.

Middlebrook C. C.—Willets Gano, 2; Edward ePtit, 0; George Smalley, 0; C. Byer, jr., 0; W. J. Culp, 0; R. Suydam, 0; W. E. Sperling, jr., 0; H. L. Moore, 0; Ralph Whiting, 0. Total, 2.

These scores were returned for the President's, Golf Club and October cups:

S. St.John McCutchen, 96, 18—83; C. A. Reed, 97, 12—85; Rev. C. L. Godrich, 96, 11—85; W. V. Byard, 101, 15; L. R. Thurlow, 110, 14—96; Dr. H. K. Carroll, 107, 8—99; C. B. Morse, 110, 7—103.

DRIVER HURT WHEN TROLLEY HITS WAGON

Car 1901 of the Public Service main line, going east on West Front street at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, struck a delivery wagon belonging to Elmer W. Mills, near Compton avenue. John Young, the driver, was pitched into the street and was cut about the head and face. The ambulance was called but he refused to go to the hospital when it arrived. The wagon was badly wrecked but the horse escaped injury.

Nells Nelson, of Dunellen, motorman of the car, declared in a statement to Chief Kiely, that Young had been driving toward him on the right side of the street but turned to go across the tracks when only ten feet away. He reversed the power and sought to avoid the collision but it was impossible. The front of the car was somewhat damaged.

D. H. Barrows Wins Second Cup.

Jerome D Travers, of Montclair, the national champion, added another cup to his collection by defeating Max Behr, of Morris County, 3 up and 1 play in the final round of the open tournament at the Baltusrol Golf Club, Saturday. Dudley H. Barrows defeated T.T. Reid, of Montclair, in the final match for the second cup, while in the third division J. O. Gordon, of Short Hills, beat George Bowley, of Deal. C. B. Storm won the fourth cup. In the handicap event, Dudley Barrows returned a score of 85, 5—80; C. B. Morgan, 93, 8—85 and L. D. Rossire, 103, 9—94.

Ellis Knowles Wins Championship.

Ellis Knowles, of ale, beat Ralph Peters, jr., of Princeton, by 2 up and 1 to play, in the thirty-six hole final round of the eleventh annual individual championship tournament of the Intercollegiate Golf Association on Saturday at Garden City. Experts pronounce the match the best ever played by collegians in this country. Knowles was 1 up in the morning, scoring 74 to Peters' 75, and both had 78 for the afternoon round.

Amrights Lose to Rahway.

The Amright Bowling team of this city, went to Rahway Friday night, and lost three games in a series of five with the Rahways on McCarthy's alleys. A return match will be played on Campbell's alleys, November 1.

COMMERCE ELEVEN WON IN LAST MINUTE OF PLAY

Scored against in the last minute of play through a blocked punt which gave their opponents the ball on their 25-yard line, the city High School eleven lost to the second team of the New York High School of Commerce on Hope Common Saturday. The score was 6-0.

Playing high-class football in the first half, the local eleven, though outweighed, kept their opponents from scoring and when time was called were on Commerce's 5-yard line. Lyness was High School's best ground gainer on plays through the left side of Commerce's line. The forward pass was used against and again, but with only medium success. Several times the local school boys made gains in case of the long punt. They held Commerce for downs on their 5-yard line early in the half, when the visitors had shoved the ball to within striking distance by line punching tactics.

In the second half the play was poorer and the local team showed less judgment in running off the plays. The poor policing of the field, which at times allowed the crowd to almost surround the players, was a handicap to both teams. With a minute to play High School lost the ball on a blocked punt on their 25-yard line. A forward pass put Commerce within striking distance, and Hambrock was sent through the High School line for the touchdown. Boyle kicked the goal.

Loizeaux, who was burt in the Westfield game, was in the game at quarterback. His tackling was a feature, in two cases preventing touchdowns, and his punting was consistent. Loizeaux proved to be one of the best grounds gainers. For Commerce, the punting of Boyle was a feature. Captain White ran the team well at quarter. It was the team's first game and they showed the effects of good coaching. The summary:

P. H. S.—Doane, le; Fountain, lt; Morris, lg; Burke, c; Sewell, rg; Hammond, rt; Phillips, re; Loizeaux, qb; Murphy (captain), hb; Caldwell, rhb; Lyness, fb.

Commerce Second—Boyle, le; Ryan, lt; Mann, lt; Carroll, c; Rosenfeld, rg; Schanwanka, at; Keegan, re; White (captain), qb; Sass, lhb; W. Clarke, Meyer, rhb; Hambrock, fb. Referee—Lyons, H. S. C. Umpire—Arthur Hall, of Commerce, and George Bentley. Linesmen—Hall, of Commerce, and Davis, of P. H. S. Timer—Rockwell. Twenty and fifteen minute halves.

Y.M.C.A. ENDS BASEBALL SEASON WITH VICTORY

It was a frosty air for baseball Saturday, but there was a snowstorm at Crescent Oval, and the nine from the Plainfield branch of the Y. M. C. A. was snowed under by the local association nine. The local team hit safely seven times, one a beautiful two sack belt by Martin, and the four errors by the visitors came at propitious times to swell the run total.

The local ball players only came to bat seven times and were shut out but two innings, when the visitors pulled off sensational double plays. Eight of Brooklyn batsmen faced Scott but with two exceptions, only three at a time. The Y. M. C. A. put lots of pepper in their playing and fans say they showed up to their best advantage in this, the wind-up game of the local season. Their error column was unspotted. Six of the men who faced Scott were called out because they could not connect, and Weaver's slow ball fooled five of the local batsmen. The summary:

Plainfield Y. M. C. A.—Schoonmaker, ss; O'Loughlin, c; Craig, 1b; Martin, 3b; Banks, lf; Gilmore, 2b; Payne, cf; Hubbard, rf; Scott, p.

Brooklyn Y. M. C. A.—Dickinson, 3b; Collamer, 2b; Kerr, ss; Weaver, p; Carpenter, c; Heinecke, 1b; Hult, lf; Salmon, cf; Heitman and Schug, rf.

Plainfield	0	1	0	4	1	2	3	x	—11
Brooklyn	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	— 0

Hits—Plainfield, 7; Brooklyn, 6. Two base hit—Martin. Stolen bases—Plainfield, 11; Brooklyn, 3. Bases on balls—Of Weaver, 1. Struck out—By Scott, 6; by Weaver, 2. Double plays—Kerr and Collamer, Dickinson and Collamer. Umpire—"Brit" Martin. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

The Best Paper for Family Reading.

The contents of The Youth's Companion are chosen with a view to the interest of all men and women. The father, as well as the son, enjoys the tales of adventure; the mother renews her girlhood in the stories for girls, while the paper always abounds in stories, long and short, which may be read aloud in the most varied family group to the keen pleasure of all. Full illustrated announcement of The Companion for 1908 will be sent to any address free with sample copies of the paper. New subscribers who send $1.75 at once for 1908 will receive free all the remaining issues of 1907, besides the gift of The Companion's Four-Leaf Hanging Calendar for 1908, in full color. The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley street, Boston, Mass.

PRETTY SCHOOL TEACHER BECOMES CHORUS GIRL

Miss Marion Standish, a school teacher, has at last been able to gratify a life-long ambition to go on the stage. She and her sister have been engaged for the "Tom Jones" Company, and will make their first professional appearance in the chorus, when the show makes its first American appearance at the New Plainfield Theatre, on Thursday night, October 31.

The Standish sisters live in Stamford, Conn., where for the last two years Marion had been a teacher in the third grade at the Cove school. Her parents had her educated for a teacher in the hope that she might give up thoughts of the stage, which had early possessed her, but now they have concluded that she would never be satisfied until she had tried theatrical life. They attached one condition to her going on the stage—her sister must go with her.

Together the sisters set out to look for an engagement. They had much to recommend them; Marion had been a soloist in St. John's Roman Catholic Church at Stamford. Jessie had sung much in public and both girls had been prominent in amateur theatricals. The first manager they applied to was being impressed with their excellent voices, intelligence and dramatic ability.

Marion at once resigned her position as teacher. P. W. Nichols, principal of the school and eight other teachers, presented a handsome diamond pin as a parting gift to Miss Standish, and the Board of Education told her that if she found she did not care to stick to the stage, her position in school would be open for her at any time.

DESCRIBED CANAL CITY IN THE OLDEN DAYS

"The Story of Venice—The Middle Ages," was the subject of a highly interesting paper prepared and read by Mrs. Albert H. Atterbury before the Monday Afternoon Club, Monday. She treated the subject in an entertaining manner, touching the most important features. The meeting was held in the Congregational church, on account of the Casino being occupied with "The Gathering of the Clans." Following the paper by Mrs. Atterbury there was an informal discussion.

Current events proved an interesting and helpful feature and the rest of the afternoon was taken up by several members who related their summer experiences. The description of various trips to the mountains and seashore proved enjoyable and profitable. During a short business session Mrs. Henry M. Maxson, president; Mrs. Orton G. Dale and Miss Cahoone were appointed delegates to attend the annual conference of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs to be held at Orange, October 25-26.

DUNELLEN PLACES ROBBED.

Sneak Thief Parloins $65 and a Gold Watch and Gets Away.

A sneak thief or thieves with cast iron nerve entered, two places in Dunellen Monday afternoon and got $65 and a watch for the trouble.

The fellow first made his way into the home of Mrs. Lydia Vail, on the second floor of the building and ransacked a front room while Mrs. Vail was busy in the kitchen. He secured the watch and $40. Going downstairs he went next door and into the butcher shop of L. L. Block, which had been left in charge of a boy. The boy went to the back room for a nap and the thief took $15 from the till where he slumbered.

The follow was seen to leave the Brakeley building and go into the shop but after that all trace of him was lost.

FACTS FROM FRANCE.

Nearly the entire freight traffic on the Rhone River, France, is controlled by one company.

Although both the Rhone and the Saone Rivers flow through the French City of Lyons, there are not over ten motor boats in use.

Every year the production of wine in France this year count on a vintage of $1,166,000,000 gallons. Fully 1,100,000,000 gallons will be consumed by the French at home.

The commutation by President Fallieres of the death sentence upon Soleillant pronounced by the Seine assize court to penal servitude for life is regarded both by the legal profession and by the public as the final abolition in France of capital punishment.

James Gethin Loses a Horse.

The loss of a valuable high-action chestnut horse has been reported to the police by James Gethin, superintendent of the Plainfield Riding and Driving Club's show grounds. The animal broke out of his stall yesterday morning and got away before Mr. Gethin could get any trace of him. He thinks that possibly the horse has stopped at some farm in the country district and today he went two men out to visit all the farms within a few miles of Plainfield. The animal is 15.2 hands and has only been in Mr. Gethin's charge a few days.

New Jersey Central

Passenger Stations in New York—West 23d St., N. R., Foot Liberty St., N. R.

In Effect October 13, 1907.

For New York—2.37, 2.37, 5.36, 6.02, 6.29, 6.57, 7.40, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.30, 12.00, 12.30, 1.00, 1.30, 2.00, 2.30, 3.00, 3.30, 4.00, 4.30, 5.00, 5.30, 6.00, 6.30, 7.00, 7.30, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.30 p. m. Sundays—2.37, 5.36, 6.02, 6.29, 6.57, 7.40, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.30 p. m.

For Newark—5.36, 6.29, 6.57, 7.06, 7.36, 7.37, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.30 p. m. Sundays—7.06, 7.36, 8.00, 8.30, 9.00, 9.30, 10.00, 10.30, 11.00, 11.30 p. m.

For Somerville—5.19, 7.11, 8.21, 9.37, 11.00 a. m., 1.01, (1.43 Saturday only) 3.05, 5.08, 6.49, 8.33, 11.04 p. m. Sundays, except Saturdays, 8.04, 9.19, 9.37, 7.12, 10.00, 11.00 a. m., 12.56 p. m., 12.59 night. Sundays, 5.08, 8.33 p. m.

For Lakewood and Atlantic City—3.37, 9.23 a. m., 3.05 p. m. Saturdays only, 1.27, 2.44, (4.02 Lakewood only), (5.53 Lakewood only), 7.07 p. m. Sundays—(7.58 Lakewood only), 9.45 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

For Philadelphia—7.13, 7.39, 8.45, 9.13, 10.43 a. m., 12.12, 12.42, 1.39, 2.13, 2.45, 4.13, 5.27, 6.45, 8.42, 10.28, 10.43 p. m. Sundays—8.45, 9.53, 10.29, 10.43, 11.42 a. m., 12.42, 1.39, 2.45, 4.13, 5.39, 6.44, 8.50, 9.46 p. m., 11.25, 1.17 night.

For Reading and Harrisburg—2.25, 9.35 a. m., 3.04, (5.47 through train). Sundays—3.03, 5.47 p. m.

For Pottsville, Sunbury and Williamsport—5.47 p. m., 9.46 p. m. Sundays—2.03 p. m.

For Baltimore and Washington—8.46, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 4.44 p. m. Sundays—8.45, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 6.44 p. m.

Change cars at Bound Brook.

W. G. BESLER, Gen. P. A. W. H. HOPE, Vice Pres. & Gen. Mgr. Gen. Pass. Agt.

Lehigh Valley Railroad

Time table in Effect Nov. 18th, 1906.

LEAVE SOUTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Subject to change without notice except Sunday local to Mauch Chunk.

8.42 a. m. daily express to Easton, Wilkesbarre, Rochester, Buffalo, principal intermediate stations.

10.44 a. m. daily for Easton, Wilkesbarre, Ithaca, Buffalo and Chicago.

1.52 p. m. daily, local for Easton, Mauch Chunk, Hazleton, Pottsville and Shenandoah.

4.58 p. m. daily (except Sunday) "Wilkesbarre and Scranton express. Solid vestibule train to Wilkesbarre through Harlor Tunnel via the L. H. R. R. to Scranton and Carbondale.

8.40 p. m. daily, solid vestibule train to Buffalo, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Chicago and principal intermediate stations except Rochester.

6.32 p. m. daily (except Sunday) local to Easton.

FRANK ROWLEY, City Ticket Agent, 218 West Front Street, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 112.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE—
Office opens 7 a. m., closes 7 p. m.
On Saturdays close half hour later.
NEW YORK—Direct.

Arrive—7:00, 8:40, 11:30 a. m., 2:30, 5:30, 9 p. m., 12 midnight.
Close—7:00, 8:30 a. m., 1:00, 2:20, 6:00, 7:45 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON
Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:30, 5:30 p. m.
Close—7:30 a. m., 1:45 and 4:30 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct.
Arrive—7:00, 8:40 and 11:30 a. m., 2:30, 7:00 p. m.
Close—7:15, 7:30, 9:30 a. m., 12:35, 2:20, 6:00, 7:15 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST
Close—1:00 and 7:15 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR WEST AND SOUTH.
Close—12:35, 6:00, 7:15 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA, West of Easton.
Close—12:35 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct.
Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:30, 5:30 p. m.
Close—7:30 a. m., 2:20, 6:00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct.
Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:30, 6:30 p. m., 12 midnight.
Close—7:15, 7:30 a. m., 1:00, 2:20 and 6:00

WATCHUNG, WARRENVILLE.
Arrive—12:30 p. m.
Close—9:00 a. m.

WATCHUNG.
Close—5:30 p. m.
Arrive—6:45 a. m.

SUNDAY MAILS
Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

E. H. BIRD, P. M.

Advertisements

—FOR—

New York Herald,
World, Times, Sun, Journal,
Telegram, American,
Brooklyn Eagle
—and—
Newark Evening News
Received at

The Daily Press

AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

BOYNTON
Square Pot
FURNACES
Cannot heat more than least coal; minimum coal-taking; no direct breeze at the ash-pit. Send Name For Interesting, Ask dealer. Boynton Furnace Co., New York—Chicago.

Mrs. John Brown,

Successor to
John Burke & Co.

Cesspoos and Vaults Cleaned from $3.00 upwards

Satisfaction Guaranteed
Don't give your order until you notice
Estimates Cheerfully Given.
Leave orders at
J. T. VAN'S, North Avenue, Plainfield.
Or Telephone 1117 Box 713.
FRANK BURKE, Manager.

BLUE MONDAY IN COURT

Bunch of Offenders Face Judge on "Cold, Gray Dawn of the Morning After."

MERCY SHOWN THEM

Odd Excuses Made By Some of Those Arraigned—Ballangarry Man Gets Suspended Sentence.

Judge Runyon found a full docket awaiting him at Monday's session of court and the greatest array of nationalities represented in the cases that the pedigree leads have ever recorded.

In the first case called the complainant was a Chinaman, Sam Sing, a West Front street laundryman. He accused Spencer Serlind, twenty-seven years old, of striking in front of his place and smashing a plate-glass window. Serlind promised to pay for the window and sentence was suspended.

James Carter, colored, was in court to press a charge of atrocious assault against John Ford, also colored. The men were represented by counsel and a lot of time was devoted to threshing the matter out but in the end Judge Runyon dismissed the case. Miss Readington, who goes on periodical spees, was fined $5 on his old charge of drunkenness and paid up. Two Polaks and two Hungarians, living on West Front street, were called up to answer charges of fighting and disorderly conduct preferred by the police but the case had to be adjourned until tomorrow in order to get interpreters.

Thomas Connaughton, who claimed to hail from "Ballangarry Fair" and sprang a rich brogue on the court to prove it, had sentence suspended on a drunk and disorderly charge. The same disposition was made of the case of Napoleon Bonaparte Reed, the painter who fell from a ladder while intoxicated Saturday, and who, it was thought at first, had been killed. The patrol wagon was sent for the corpse and when it arrived found Snell sitting up and asking everybody to have a drink.

Amos Stites, proprietor of a pool room on Somerset street, which he describes as "the greatest sporting house in New Jersey," was arraigned on a charge of distributing dodgers about the city streets. He explained to the court that he was handing them out to employes of the Scott factory as they were leaving the shop and he was unaware that he was violating the city ordinance. Sentence was suspended with a warning.

Daniel Driscoll, one of the proprietors of a Second street lunch wagon, was sent to jail for twenty days for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He has been "rummy" for several weeks and was arrested once before a short time ago. He went on a tear late Friday night and in the course of his wanderings entered the lunch wagon and shot a couple of holes through it to let his partner know he was around.

BULLETS FLEW WHEN WEST END POLAKS FOUGHT

The local police received a hurry call Saturday afternoon for what was described as a "riot among a lot of Polaks in a house on West Front street near Rock avenue." Sergeant Overbaugh and Patrolmen Saunders and McCarthy were sent down in the patrol wagon and discovered the disturbance to be in one of the one-time "Eight Row" houses. It was a sure-enough riot all right as the cops found a crowd of men and women belaboring one another while an occasional pistol shot added to the racket.

The belligerents fled in all directions as soon as they spotted the bluecoats coming but four of them were caught. They gave their names as Stephen Eslinger, Andrew Fells, Louis Gal and Martin Butcher. The women, who were all related to the men, were not arrested.

None of the prisoners could speak English intelligibly and all the police could learn was that these had been a dispute over renting the house. One of the occupants wanted to bring in a friend but didn't want to pay any more than he had been. A fight started and in the melee a dozen pistol shots were exchanged but they were evidently fired for noise as no one was hit.

Want Bryan to Lecture for Charity.

The women of the Visiting Nurses' Association of New Brunswick, are making efforts to get William Jennings Bryan to deliver a lecture here for the benefit of the association. The object is to provide funds to furnish a trained nurse for people who are unable to pay for such service. No decided answer has been received from the "Peerless One."

Squire Hand Tied the Knot.

Vincenzo Biango, of Westfield, and Emilia Indaco, of this city, were married in the district court room, Saturday afternoon, by Justice H. K. Hand. A delegation of countrymen and countrywomen witnessed the ceremony and afterward a reception was held at the groom's home on Cottage place.

IF A MAN WOULD SUCCEED.

He must not live on past successes.

He must not mistake egotism for originality.

He must be able to forget himself in his work.

He must ever set himself more difficult undertakings.

He must understand that every business has its trials.

He must study situations as they present themselves.

He must be more willing to grant favors than to ask for them.

He must know that struggle is the most valuable part of success.

He must know that the most fortunate of men have their trials.

He must learn to solve difficult problems quickly and still cautiously.

He must know that his two hands have been given him so that he may work.

He must learn that most things gained in a hurry are not worth the having.

He must be able to distinguish between a partial success and a total failure.

He must know most men suffer many a defeat before earning a single success.

He must not change his employment every week in the hope of finding something better.

He must know that the most golden opportunities are close at hand if he will study them.

JUST THOUGHTS.

The path of duty leads to happiness.

Fortune tellers are fortune sellers—for themselves.

Many a man takes a better half in a half-hearted manner.

Courtship is the juicy grape and marriage the appendicitis.

Judge no man's sincerity by what he says, but by what he doesn't.

Present a small boy with a watch and he'll have the time of his life.

Hot air is the motive power that operates the human talking machine

Many a man becomes a jailbird through his strenuous efforts to feather his nest.

When a man is looking for trouble few of his friends are too busy to assist in the search.

And the mining prospectus gets the coin while the hard-luck story is bumping the bumps.

Did you ever notice how few people there are present when anyone happens to say nice things about you?

A successful financier is a man who can separate other men from their money without the aid of a sandbag.

MAXIMS FROM MEXICO.

There's no gain without pain.

To the hungry ao bread is dry.

He who has little has little to fear.

Flies cannot enter a closed mouth.

It is good fishing in troubled waters.

No evil will endure a hundred years.

A cat in gloves will never catch rats.

A book that is shut makes no scholar.

A frugal rich father and a spendthrift son.

If the pill were not bitter it would not be gilt.

When the river is passed the saint is forgotten.

No word is ill spoken if it is not ill understood.

A tongue may inflict a deeper wound than a sword.

MERE OPINION.

Man learns to talk. Woman talks by instinct.

Man boasts of his experience. Woman is proud of her lack of it.

To a man wealth means power; to a woman the joy of being envied.

A man with a future and a woman with a past can generally be sure that they are being talked about.

The woman who fondles a dog to make a man jealous generally succeeds in filling him with disgust.

If it were considered fitting that wives should be older than their husbands marriage would become obsolete.

BANQUET TO HORSE MEN

Mayor Smalley Toastmaster at Fair Acre Riding and Driving Club Feast.

AT HOTEL IROQUOIS

"Uncle Barney" Williams Tells of the Good Old Days On the Track —Good Fellowship in Bunches.

Good fellowship and a fine dinner combined to make the fifth annual banquet of the Fair Acres Riding and Driving Association, at the Hotel Iroquois, Monday night, a success. Covers were laid for forty-five and there were members of the association present from Cranford, Westfield, Somerville, Finderne, Bound Brook and this city. The success of the organization during the first year under the new regime was commented upon freely and the prospects for next year are particularly bright. It has a membership of 101, and a substantial balance in the treasury.

The affair was an informal one and following the dinner, several speeches were made. Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of North Plainfield, was the toastmaster, and his witticism aroused much enthusiasm. Among the other speakers were President J. H. Senior, of Cranford; Vice President J. H. Greene, Jr., of Plainfield; Secretary R. L. Edwards, of Westfield; Treasurer Harry Evans, of Westfield, and Charles C. Blair and "Uncle Barney" Williams.

As secretary of the old Union and Middlesex County Agriculture Association, under whose auspices fairs were held at the Plainfield Driving Park, Mr. Williams recalled many interesting incidents of the old days. He declared that the reason that the old track has always "made good" is that succeeding owners have paid the bills. In his opinion the great success attained this year by the association was entirely due to the earnest efforts of the members and their desire to conduct good clean sport.

Reference was made to the performance of "Prince" at the track on Saturday, when he broke the record with a 2:16¼. Mr. Williams then became reminiscent and recalled noteworthy performances of well-known thoroughbreds in past years, beginning with "Lady Suffolk's" 2:22½ in 1845; "Dexter's" 2:17¼; "Maud S.," who made 2:08¾, which was considered marvelous at the time.

In comparing horses of other days and those of today, Mr. Williams did not believe that there are very many who can now go ten miles or 100 miles in the time that was made by thoroughbreds of a few years ago. He urged that the association continue to conduct its races along the same lines as in the past, which means that the best horse will always win.

After a few remarks by some of the other members, declaring their allegiance to "Fair Acres," the banquet concluded with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The success of the banquet was largely due to the efforts of the committee of which David C. Smalley was chairman.

"PRINCE" BREAKS RECORD ON THE LOCAL TRACK

"Prince," the fleet-footed trotter owned by John Langdon, of Trenton, driven by Charles Brower, of this city, broke the track record at the Plainfield Driving Park, Saturday afternoon. The previous best record for the track was 2:17¼, by "Rattler," which was made eight years ago. "Prince" covered the distance in 2:16¼. It was a beautiful exhibition, and was loudly applauded.

The track was not in good condition, the recent dry spell leaving it dusty and cuppy in spots. Mr. Brower handled "Prince" in fine style and it is the opinion that he could do even better time. An effort is being made to arrange a race between "Prince" and Adam C. Blair's "Harry Dawson." Mr. Blair is willing to match his horse against "Prince," best three out of five, but under no other conditions.

The card of regular events on Saturday was well contested. George Conover's "Rianview" won the Class A race in 2:24, and J. B. Irving's "Bobo" took the Class B race in 2:24. The Class C race was won by Thomas Brantingham's "Osceala," in 2:28.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

"Erminie" is to have a revival in New York.

Charles Richman is to make his appearance in vaudeville.

Nance O'Neil is to appear in vaudeville with McKee Rankin in a condensed version of "Leah the Forsaken."

Despite her titled name, Olga von Hatzfeldt, who assumes the title role in "The Belle of Mayfair," is an American girl.

German Conversation Class.

The German class recently formed by teachers and pupils of the borough high school will hold its first meeting at the home of Miss Stahlberger on Central avenue Thursday evening.

PASSING OF THE ROUND-UP.

Railroads Reaching Into Cattle Country Will End Picturesqueness.

That most picturesque feature of cattle raising on the western plains, the great "round up," will soon be among the things of the past. The railroads are stretching their long lines through the very heart of the range country and in place of the terminal station at which thousands of cattle were gathered from the surrounding country to be shipped to eastern markets there will be many stations at convenient distances and within easy reach of the diminishing herds that still crop fatness from the buffalo grass. The range "round up" was always a thrilling sight. Cattle by tens of thousands were sought out from the hills and valleys by scores of range riders, those bearing brands to be cut out in herds by themselves. There were many days of hard work for the cowboys, followed by many other days and nights of drinking and carousing, which lasted until the last train started on its eastern way. The great range is rapidly passing and in its place is coming the fenced pasture of the small farm. This change is gradual, but rapid. Thousands of range cattle are now sent to the corn states every year to be fattened for market, but with the development and settlement of the great range country the grass-fed steer will soon be a curiosity in the large stock yards.

HE'LL STICK TO HIS PIPE.

One Man, at Least, Has the Courage of His Convictions.

One particular objection many of the men patrons have to the big palatial hotels in the cities is that they can't smoke their favorite pipes in the public halls without becoming the cynosure of all eyes. "The other evening," said a guest at the St. Regis, "I sat down in one of the comfortable armchairs in the hall to enjoy my old pipe that's been my constant friend for the last seven years. There were several people sitting near me most of whom were men, and one or two were smoking cigars or cigarets. I didn't see a pipe in sight anywhere, and that made me a little uncertain as to whether I should be violating an etiquettal rule of the house. I drew out my briar and, after I had got it going comfortably, I noticed that the guests near me began to melt away by ones and twos until presently I was left with a good share of the hall to myself. Some of them did not leave the hall altogether, but moved to seats farthest from me. Of course, I knew what the cause was, but I didn't care. In my opinion, the man who smokes a pipe is a heap sight better than any dozen men who smoke cigars and cigarettes."

New Interest in Chemistry.

The establishment of pure food commissions has inspired many young men to take up the study of chemistry with a view to securing a position on one of those commissions. Scores of men, who already have qualified for the regular drug store trade are now devoting additional time to the study of extra courses in chemistry. All hope to gain a federal appointment as an expert on pure foods. Not more than one-third of the ambitious fellows now immured in experimental laboratories will get the position they are working for, but the public will profit indirectly by their present enthusiasm because every last one of them will become more competent druggists through their studies of the adulterations of foods.

Belling a Rat.

You have probably read or neard that the best way to rid a house of rats is to catch one and fasten a bell about its neck. A boy in Delaware tried the experiment two months ago. He was badly bitten in making the bell fast, but he turned the rat loose and expected the tinkling of that bell would have great results. It did have, in the first place, the rat who wore it was constantly on the move all night, and the tinkling bell kept the family awake, and in the next the sounds brought scores of new rats to the house. Instead of being afraid of the bell, they were charmed with the music. Had the boy tied a harmonica to another rat's tail, the rodents would have had a dance every night.

A Peripatetic Investment.

When the scallop is full grown it is able to swim with great rapidity by opening and closing the valves of its shell. This curious fact, as well as what to Eat, was unknown to an unfortunate Frenchman who undertook a few years ago to establish a scallop plantation on a quiet New England beach. He deposited several thousand scallops in shallow water, expecting them to breed, but when he looked for them the next day all of them had fled.

A Difference of Extremes.

Some one wrote in a paper that a cure for fatigue after a hard day was to hold the feet in mustard water for ten minutes, but, recalling hastily, the lady read, "hold the face in mustard water for ten minutes." She tried it, but did not continue the cure for ten minutes by any means, and she did not go shopping for several days afterwards.

A Cynical Instructor.

"Father," said little Rollo, "what is a great man?" "A great man, my son, is one who manages to gather about him a corps of assistants who will take the blame for his mistakes while he gets the credit for any good ideas."

CROWDS ENJOYED "ATION"

Comedy Makes a Big Hit at the "Gathering of the Clans."

MINSTRELSY POPULAR

Adirondack Camp Fire a New Feature—Hot Dog Men Would Be Credit to Coney Island.

The "Clans" continued to gather at the Casino yesterday afternoon and evening and patronize the booths and various attractions in an effort to swell the proceeds for Muhlenberg Hospital. In the afternoon there was a large attendance of children, who were delighted with the work of "Speedon," the clever cartoonist. His pictures were very popular with both old and young. At the same time the different booths did a large business.

Last night the attendance was much larger than on the first night and the affair proved one of great interest to all, especially the outside attractions. The minstrel show in the large tent was a stellar outdoor attraction, and Judge William N. Runyon's company gave a fine performance to a large crowd. The songs and jokes kept the audience in good humor throughout. Tonight two performances will be given.

The entertainment in the Casino Hall, given at 10 o'clock, was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Wilbur Serrell, and was called "A Comedy of Ations," an original two act comedy in pantomime tableaux by Mrs. Serrell. The time was about 1840, and the series of tableaux depicted the meeting, love, courtship, troubles, reconciliation and marriage of a young couple. There were many amusing incidents including a quarrel over a millinery bill.

"A Comedy of Ations" was represented in flirtation, declaration, accusation, indignation, consternation, separation, desperation and reconciliation, together with many other "ations," all of which furnished no end of fun for the audience. Willard Wadsworth took the part of the young lover, and Miss Garbriele McQuaid was his sweetheart. They were assisted by Roy Whitney. The parts were exceptionally well taken.

Harry L. Hall and Lewis G. Timpson, "Fido" and "Mut," the hot-dog men, were the most popular pair on the Casino tent. Joseph M. Shellabarger and his assistants were kept busy serving flap-jacks with delicious maple syrup.

The Gathering of the Clans represents all the entire community, people of every degree joining hands to make it a success. The crowds at the fete last night showed that all the inhabitants are heartily interested in the enterprise, all wishing to sustain a worthy institution.

BANKER-POET TELLS OF HIS ANCESTORS

Within a fortnight, former Mayor L. W. Randolph's latest work, "FitzRandolph Traditions—The Story of a Thousand Years," will be issued from the press of a New York house. The volume is issued under the auspices of the New Jersey Historical Society and those who have been fortunate enough to see the proof sheets say that it is one of the most exhaustive, entertaining and valuable additions to New Jersey's geneological collections.

Mr. Randolph, shortly after his retirement as president of the New York Consolidated Exchange, with his wife spent much time in England collecting material for the volume in which she is his collaborator. From the records in Somerset House and in the British Museum's wonderful library they collected a vast amount of data, which, supplemented with authoritative tales current in the English villages where the FitzRandolph ancestors are buried, form the basis of the story which is interestingly told.

The banker-poet and his youngest daughter, Miss Blossom, Randolph purpose to sail for Europe during the first week of November. Their time abroad will be spent principally in Spain, Rome and along the Riviera.

Speaker Decided Upon.

T. B. Penfield, secretary of the Theological students' department of the Y. M. C. A. international committee, will be the speaker at the First Baptist church Sunday morning for the fortieth anniversary celebration of the founding of the association in this city.

Harry McGee Now Chairman.

Harry McGee has been chosen chairman of the entertainment committee of the Park Club to succeed Mrs. Charles A. Reed, and an attractive list of entertainments are being planned for the coming season. The announcements will soon be sent to the members.

"* * * Of all the newspapers in New York, the one which has approached most closely to what an American newspaper should be in straightforwardness and tone, is THE NEW YORK TIMES stands first."—Harper's Weekly.

The New York Times

"All the News that's Fit to Print."

Gives more space to news than any other New York newspaper. It gives impartial news free from bias. It goes into homes that bar other newspapers.

The London Times' Cable News appears in this country exclusively in THE NEW YORK TIMES. No other American newspaper excepting THE NEW YORK TIMES has the presentation of Domestic or Foreign News.

The New York Times
Is Now Appearing Every Sunday
Improved and Enlarged

with an Illuminated PICTORIAL SECTION OF EIGHT FULL-SIZE PAGES, embracing pictures of prominent people in society and public life, also scenes and incidents of the important events of the day.

The Magazine Section accompanying the SUNDAY TIMES presents a variety of interesting illustrated features and a unique selection of the best articles about men and women of prominence.

The New York Times.
Saturday Review of Books.

which accompanies the Saturday Edition, is the recognized authority to which the public looks for the first news of books.

The New York Times.
Weekly Financial Quotation Review.

gives a weekly review of current prices of stocks and bonds; also the dealings in securities, including high and low prices, comprising a compact and convenient reference publication for investors and others interested in financial matters.

ORDER THROUGH YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER,
or mailed direct from office, as per following rates:

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

	By Mail.
One Year, Sundays included	$8.50
Six Months, Sundays included	4.25
Three Months, Sundays included	2.25
One Month, Sundays included	.75
Per Week	.17
Daily, without Sunday, per year	6.00
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3.00
Daily, without Sunday, three months	1.50
Daily, without Sunday, one month	.50
Daily, without Sunday, one week	.12
The New York Times Weekly Financial Review	1.00
Saturday, with Section Devoted to Review of Books, per year	1.00
Sunday, with Pictorial Section, per year	2.50

Postage to foreign countries for Daily and Sunday Editions, add $1.05 per month.

Newsdealers who are not receiving THE NEW YORK TIMES—Daily and Sunday editions—should order a regular supply at once. Write for terms. Address Circulation Manager.

The New York Times
Times Square, New York.

MAGAZINE READERS

SUNSET MAGAZINE beautifully illustrated, good stories and articles about California and all the Far West. $1.50 a year

CAMERA CRAFT devoted each month to the artistic reproduction of the best work of amateur and professional photographers $1.00 a year

ROAD OF A THOUSAND WONDERS a book of 75 pages, containing 120 colored photographs of picturesque spots in California and Oregon. $0.75

Total . . . $3.25

All for $2.50

Address all orders to
SUNSET MAGAZINE
Flood Building San Francisco

FOR AGENTS—AN OPPORTUNITY!

"THE OLD WORLD AND ITS WAYS"
BY
William Jennings Bryan.
NOW READY FOR SOLICITORS.
576 Imperial Octavo Pages. Over 200 Superb Engravings from photographs taken by Mr. Bryan.
Recounts his trip around the world and his visits to all nations. The greatest book of travel ever written. The people are waiting for it. The agent's harvest. Outfit FREE—Send fifty cents to cover mailing and handling.
THE THOMPSON PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo. 7 26 3 c

Brother Nacarius Returns Home.

Brother Nacarius, of St. Joseph's School, Metuchen, who was run over by an automobile on Park avenue, suffering a fracture of the arm and other injuries, was discharged from Muhlenberg Hospital, this week.

Sanitary Plumbing

Brick and Portable Furnace
Gas Fitting, Tin Roofing,
Etc., Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.

Having associated myself with the Master Members Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business, at all times and in all cases.

D. W. LITTELL

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

NEW IN EVERY DETAIL
My new barber shop at
143 NORTH AVE.
a new open ready for business.
All the latest appointments in the tonsoria line.
EDWIN B. MAYNARD.

DIME
Savings Institution,
Of Plainfield, N. J.,

Is now receiving deposits with interest, allowed on all sums from $5 to $3,000.

J. Frank Hubbard, President.
Wm. E. Arnold, } Vice-Pres
Jeremiah Manning, }
J. C. Pope, Sec'y and Treas.

Money deposited on or before Jaun 10th will draw interest from the first.

Guaranteed Salary $900 YEARLY.

Men and women of good address to represent us, and travel or appoint agents. Also others for local work looking after our interests. $900 salary guaranteed yearly; extra commission and bonus. Rapid advancement, old established house. Grand chance for earnest men or women to secure pleasant, permanent position, liberal income and rare opportunity. New, brilliant lines. Write at once,
STAFFORD PRESS,
24 Church St., New Haven, Conn

W. R. CODINGTON,
Counsellor-at-Law
Commissioner of Deeds, Master-in-chancery, Notary Public. Offices Corner of Park avenue and Second street.

WANTED.

BOYS wanted to learn the moulder's and machinist's trades. Walter Scott & Co., Plainfield, N. J. 9 3 2

WANTED—By Chicago wholesale and mail order house, assistant manager (man or woman) for this county and adjoining territory; salary $20 and expenses paid weekly; expense money advanced; work pleasant; position permanent; no investment or experience required; spare time valuable; write at once for full particulars and enclose self-addressed envelope. Address General Manager, 134 E. Lake St., Chicago.

MARRIED.

BUSHNELL—MARTIN—On Saturday, October 19, in the Crescent Avenue church, Plainfield, N. J., by the Rev. Dr. William R. Richards and the Rev. Dr. John S. Zelie, Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sprague Martin, to Henry Davis Bushnell, of Pittsburg, Pa.

DIED.

FRAZEE—On Tuesday, October 15, 1907, Anna C., wife of Henry Frazee.

HORNE—On Wednesday, Oct. 16, 1907, Jane M., widow of John Horne, in her 82d year.

DOYLE—In this city, Oct. 18, 1907, William J. Doyle, in his 30th year.

GUEST—At Scotch Plains, N. J., October 18, 1907, George H. Guest, in his 57th year.

JOHNSON—On Oct. 18, 1907, John, son of Samuel and the late Mary Johnson, aged 19 years.

LEWIS—In Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 21, at the residence of her son-in-law, D. F. Ginns, Mary Stowers, widow of George C. Lewis, of Binghamton, N. Y.

MARTIN—On Tuesday, October 22, 1907, Wilbur, son of Edward A. and Anna Martin, aged 6 months.

THE SHAME OF IT.

Comments of James Martin in the Newark Evening Star.

NO PARALLEL IN OUR HISTORY

Exposures by the House Investigating Committee—Cowardice and Neglect of State Officers—Blame Placed Where It Belongs—Condonation of Horrible Crimes by the Republican Party Leaders.

In all the history of New Jersey's state institutions there is nothing to parallel the gross inefficiency and negligence of the Trenton asylum officials so now being brought out before the assembly investigating committee. Not only was murder committed and hushed up, but there was a most cold blooded and heartless indifference shown in the face of an epidemic which cost a number of lives and threatened scores of others.

Inaction and callousness stick out everywhere. The men directly in charge of the patients and the institution took their time about reporting to the board, the board was exceedingly deliberate and unhurried in issuing orders regarding precautionary measures, and the warden delayed a month in obeying the orders!

To cap it all, the officials who should have been working day and night to guard the patients went out on vacations while the epidemic was at its height.

Just think of what it all means! Think of men being so placid, safety and personal enjoyment while duty and the commonest dictates of humanity dictated that they should be at their posts, no matter what the sacrifice! And the incomparably incompetent board of managers sat twiddling their thumbs while the disease was sweeping through the institution.

A more shameful and disgraceful chapter of New Jersey history could hardly be written. Governor Stokes owes it to the state and to himself to see that every man in any way responsible for the conditions all leave the public service forthwith.

A high state official who wants to be impartial in every way and whose intelligence is very much above the average has said that he doesn't think that the Trenton asylum managers are to be blamed for what happened at that institution. The public will respectfully decline to take that view. Those managers were supposed to be supervising and superintending the affairs of the asylum. They did nothing of the kind. They neglected the duties of the office, and even when an outbreak of disease compelled them to sit up and take notice they made no effort to see that their orders were being carried out. And the financial end of their management was just as careless. The auditing was ridiculously perfunctory—so much so that one member of the committee didn't know the name of the chairman.

All of us ought to be ashamed of ourselves. Here we have been saying warm and disagreeable things about the managers of the Trenton asylum, "chucking odium" at them while ignoring under the mistaken notion that they had shown incompetence, inefficiency and unpardonable negligence and apathy in the discharge of their duties or, rather, in the failure to discharge them.

This, however, appears to have been a delusion or illusion. There was nothing wrong at the institution. There was no murder to hush up. Everything was in apple pie order. The managers and their subordinates were alert, faithful, energetic even heroic—"nobody to blame for nothing." If you doubt this, ask them. They say so, and who ought to know better?

Stay! There was one culprit—Dr John Ward, medical director. He had been there forty years, had outlived all his contemporaries and possessed no guilt. Under oath he told of murder committed and the lows of it suppressed of the failure to send word to the victim's wife when it was known that he was dying. He testified to conditions which apparently made it clear that the asylum was shamefully neglected and unsupervised, and his testimony made an impression because it involved himself pretty nearly as much as anybody else. That is how the public regarded it. But the wise managers had no trouble in sifting and analyzing it. So much of it related exclusively to his own actions they accepted as true; that touching the sayings and doings of others was simply the pipe dream of an old man. And he was thrown upon the street without a moment's notice.

Surely a board capable of such wisdom, courage, self sacrifice and mercy is deserving of the public confidence!

Governor Stokes has impudently proclaimed the doctrine that every servant of the state must do its full duty. He has given a good example of that personally, but that is not enough. It is incumbent upon him to see that all others do likewise, or, at least, to insist that those who flagrantly disobey the rule shall step down and out. He cannot afford to have such a stain upon his administration, nor will the people of New Jersey regard with tolerant eyes inaction on his part at this time. The hour calls for firm, drastic action, and Governor Stokes is the man to initiate and direct it. The best friends that he has can't do him any better service at this moment than to urge him to oust those faithless officials without further delay.

It was learned on the best authority this afternoon that the present managers of the state hospital for the insane say said that they all will resign before the first of next year, if they don't resign during the earlier were it not that they are unwilling to do so under fire.—Trenton News Dispatch.

Oh, they'll retire under fire all right, either by resignation or some other process. The longer that they hang on and the greater the pressure necessary to create the vacancies the heavier will be the fire.

Some of the state newspapers are discussing with more or less vigor the question as to how much the assembly investigating committee's revelations will injure the Republican party in the forthcoming election.

The correct answer to that query depends very largely on the Republican leaders and their attitude toward the scandals unearthed. If they show a sincere desire to grapple courageously with the revealed evils and mete out proper treatment to the offenders, the general public will not be disposed to blame the party. If, on the other hand, they try to dodge the issue, and either plainly or by other methods of either omission or commission put themselves in the position of sympathizing with the culprits, then the people have no recourse but to show their feelings on election day.

Up to date the Republican leaders and managers have not measured up to the necessities of the situation. For some reason—personal sympathy, misapprehension of the facts, density of perception or causes not defined—they have done practically nothing to relieve the party of the odium cast upon it by unfaithful public servants. The earliest testimony before the assembly investigating committee disclosed amazing and wholesale neglect of duty on the part of highly paid state officials. It was shown that one man, holding two offices and drawing two salaries, hadn't been to Trenton for months, although he was able to appear in the statehouse when a bill increasing one of his salaries made its appearance. Another man withdrew state funds from a bank which was paying interest on them and deposited the money in a bank of which he was a stockholder. Other officials drew big salaries for spending an hour or so in their office each week receiving visitors and shaking hands. At that time the Trenton asylum managers have been pilloried as hopelessly inefficient, to put it gently, and the Rahway reformatory managers are now under a fire which has already singed them.

What has been done to manifest disapprobation of the disloyalty, negligence, incompetence and graft brought out? What steps have been taken to bring about the punishment of the culprits and to clear the skirts of the Republican party from responsibility for them? How many resignations or dismissals have there been? Was the banking and insurance commissioner forced out, or the labor commissioner, or the asylum managers? Have state officials ceased depositing in non interest paying banks funds intrusted to them in their official capacity? Are these officials giving any more time to the duties of the office than they did before?

These queries indicate what action public sentiment demanded. The only response was the abrupt dismissal of Dr. Ward and the resignation of Warden Hynes of the asylum. If the Republican leaders and managers are willing to let it go at that they must be held accountable for the resultant resentment, which is steadily growing throughout the state.

If the Republican leaders really want to clear their own and the party skirts of responsibility for the scandals that have developed in the management of state affairs they don't need to fuss with an investigating committee promising doubtful results. They have at hand a method surer, more effective and a million times more convincing, so far as the public is concerned, and it is presumed that the object aimed at is to establish public confidence. Let them insist upon the resignation or dismissal of every man who has been proved unfaithful, negligent or incompetent, beginning with the banking and insurance commissioner and going right down through the list to the Trenton asylum "managers." Probably they may have to include in that the managers and officials of the Rahway reformatory, but these persons have yet to be heard in their own defense. In the case of the others the evidence is all in, and the people of New Jersey almost unanimously demand judgment. And they are going to get it.

COLBY BEFORE THE PRIMARIES.

"They say we are office seekers," said Mr. Colby. "I admit the charge. We are seeking office just as they are doing, and the only difference between us is that we keep our promises to the people and they do not.

"Whether we win or not, depend upon it that it will make no difference. We are in this fight to stay, and I am willing to make an engagement now, regardless of the possible result, to hold a meeting right on this corner a year from tonight."—From a Speech by Senator Colby at a New Idea Meeting in Newark, Before Fort Was Nominated.

DEADLY PARALLEL.

Record of Democrats and Republicans in House of Assembly.

WORK OF THE LATE SESSION

Consistent Antagonism of Republicans to All Popular Legislation Despite Platform Pledges—Demands For Good Legislation Ignored and Good Measures Made Ineffective—Mr. Tumulty's Comparison of the Parties.

[Prepared by Hon. Joseph P. Tumulty of Hudson county.]

THE RECORD.

	REPUBLICAN.	DEMOCRATIC.
1.	Equal Taxation.	Equal Taxation.
	The Republican state platform declared for genuine equal taxation.	Immediately upon gaining control of the Democratic house passed two equal tax bills which taxed all property of railroads on same basis as that of individual property. These bills were bitterly opposed by Republican leader and united Republican senate, and after passing house date that "property were killed in Republican senate.
	The Republican party has been in control of senate and assembly for twelve years and afteryears of bitter agitation passed two acts—Duffield and Perkins acts which but imperfectly obey the constitutional mandate that "property were hereafter to be assessed for taxes under general laws and by uniform rules and according to its true value."	Randolph Perkins, introducer of equal tax bill, unable to gain renomination because of railroad opposition led by Senator Kean. (See Hendrickson's equal tax bills 9-10.)
2.	Election of United States Senators by Direct Vote of the People.	Election of United States Senators by Direct Vote of the People.
	Pledge in Republican state platform in favor of this measure; bill introduced by Brady, Democrat, opposed by leader of Republicans in house and the Republican minority. Public sentiment forced reconsideration on Oct. 11, and new bill passed.	Bill introduced by Bradley Essex assembled Democratic house. House accepted senate new bill on Oct. 11.
3.	Direct Primaries.	Direct Primaries.
	The Republican platform pledges its representatives to pass bill of this character. Bill introduced by Colby—killed in senate, not one Republican voting with him on vote as proposition. Colby received united and hearty support of Democratic senators. Forced by public sentiment to pass new bill on Oct. 11.	Bill for direct primaries introduced by Assemblyman Fleming. Amended in house to meet objections of Republican minority. Bill received united Democratic vote in both houses and opposition of Republicans. Speech by Assemblyman Snyder in house in opposition to this bill. Bill passed house by Democratic house. Killed in senate.
4.	Separation of State and Municipal Elections.	Separation of State and Municipal Elections.
	Republican platform declares in favor of separation of state and municipal elections.	Bill introduced in Democratic house to effectuate this object by Bader of Essex county opposed by Republican majority even after Governor Stokes in his message called for early passage of such bill. This bill passed Democratic house, Republicans all voting in opposition. Bill killed in senate.
5.	Corrupt Practices Act.	Corrupt Practices Act.
	Pledge in Republican platform in favor of prohibiting corporations from contributing money in connection with campaigns.	Bill introduced in house by Assemblyman of Hudson passed by Democratic majority, opposition by Barber in long speech and killed in the senate. Although this legislation was demanded by Governor Stokes in his annual message to legislature.
6.	Railroad Legislation.	Railroad Legislation.
		Bill introduced by Assemblyman Wright of Essex county giving a commission of five men supervisory control over railroads and street railways. Appointment of commission by Governor. Whittle, one of the commission appointed by Stokes appeared before house committee on railroads and acted as attorney of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company and opposed passage of Wright bill and condemned it as "socialistic." Opinion of attorney general, delivered a few weeks after, to the effect that this bill which was the act creating office for the Wright bill, is absolutely without power to abolish grade crossings.
		Mayburn, a Lackawanna "legislative agent," is a clerk of the commission.
7.	Public Utility Legislation.	Public Utility Legislation.
	Republican platform declares for "genuine public utility bill."	The bill introduced by Hillery and opposed by Colby of Essex is weak and ineffective for following reasons:
	Senate passed a public utility bill on Oct. 11, which was ineffective because it left out the provision in relation to the fixing of rates and the vital point of the bill. Colby opposed the bill because of this, and the house defeated it for the same reason.	First.—It does not confer upon the commission the power to adjust or establish rates upon complaint being made that a given rate is unjust or discriminatory.
		Second.—It does not confer upon the commission the power to adjust or establish rates upon complaint being made that a given rate is unjust or discriminatory.
		Democratic Attitude Upon Public Util.
		Ity Bill.
		The Democratic house endeavored to amend the Allinson utility bill in two or three particulars—namely, submitted amendments to provide for
		First.—A commission of three (3) to be elected by the people of the state.
		Second.—Giving commission the right to adjust and establish the rates which upon hearing are found to be unfair and discriminatory.
		Third.—Abolishing railroad commission and vesting all its powers in public utility, commission and giving utility commission supervisory control over railroads, thus saving the state about $25,000 a year.
		Fourth.—Giving commission the right to regulate and abolish grade crossings.
8	Labor Legislation.	Labor Legislation.
	Bimonthly pay bill. Employers' liability act.	These bills demanded by employees of railroads throughout the state. Prepared by Otsell of Hudson, opposed by Barber and Republican minority. Passed Democratic house. Killed in the senate.
9	Child Labor Bills.	Child Labor Bills.
		Introduced by Alexander of Hudson and demanded by governor in special message, opposed by Republican minority. Passed by Democratic house. Killed in senate.
10	Quo Warranto Bill.	Quo Warranto Bill.
	Quo Warranto bill —demanded by Mayor Fagan and G. L. Record.	This bill would give the right to mayor or other head officer of a city to bring suit against corporations for testing validity of franchise to streets without being compelled to get permission of attorney general. Hudson practically unable to induce several Republican legislators to pass this bill. Bill introduced by Tumulty. Passed house. Its passage vigorously opposed by Barber and minority. Killed in senate.
11	Water Bills.	Water Bills.
		These bills permitted cities of the first class to make contracts without outlying municipalities for the delivery of water. Were presented to three or four Republican leaders and defeated. Assemblyman Hendrickson introduced two bills to permit Jersey City to make a contract with the Hudson and after a vigorous opposition put forth by the water interests these bills passed the house and were killed in the senate.
12	Tunnel Bill.	Tunnel Bill.
		This bill compelled a tunnel company before it began the construction of its right of way to ask the permission of the mayor and board of any municipality. This bill passed the house, opposed by Republican minority and killed in senate.

WHAT THE PEOPLE WANT.

The people of New Jersey want for governor a man who esteems the entire decalogue, and they want his party to esteem quite entire decalogue. There is nothing in Frank S. Katzenbach's life that can be construed as an offense on his part against any part of the moral law, and as the candidate of the Democratic party he is not harassed by such a record of immorality as the Republican party presents to the people. The men who are managing his campaign are not such as have long records of violations of the moral law to be condoned after his election.—True American.

Mr. Fort stands on the Republican state platform. He also stands on the Essex county platform. Who said that he and Senator Briggs were growing more alike every day?

THE GREEDIEST CROWD

Not Even Postage Stamp Pennies Get Away From Them.

TELLTALE OFFICIAL ITEMS.

Never a Cent Balance of Moneys Allowed to Statehouse Departments For Incidentals or Stationery Gets Back Into the State Treasury. Unique Proof of the Need of Katzenbach's "Turn the Rascals Out" Campaign.

Trenton, Oct. 16.—In the series of striking addresses he is delivering to the voters all over the state Frank S. Katzenbach, the Democratic candidate for the governorship of New Jersey, is going on the assumption that there can be no clean government without a clean officialism. The glimpse the Hahn investigators have given of the nest of corruption into which her intrenched and arrogant latter day ruiers have turned the statehouse had stirred the people into an agitation for a change even before he came to lead them with the slogan, "Turn the rascals out!" Their dissolutions are all one needs to convince him that the people readily grasp his point when he con*tends that there is no use of trusting a* party long in office with the duty of purifying itself. Indeed, a body so drunk with power that it balks not at the killing of the unfortunates in the state lunatic asylums or at the debauchery of the youth in the state re*formatories would take a favoring* vote as a vindication or a condonation and find in a popular victory for its side only fresh license for new excesses. It is the history of all parties—the moment they are sent out to reform themselves they are more wicked and reckless than before.

It is the unhappy fate of New Jersey that her very greatness and prosperity should have submitted her to the invasion of the hungriest crew of looters that ever tried to pluck a community. It was her growing wealth that lured them. Little did that great Democratic commoner, Leon Abbett, dream when he provided new sources of a splendid income for her that he was to fill her purse with gold that would only make her the prey of the political bandits. He gave her a progressive and a historically vigorous government with less than a million and a half to maintain it. They speedily ran the annual outlay up past the million and a half mark year up away beyond $4,500,000, and yet their greed was unappeased. New Jersey had to go down into her stocking for another $773,000 before they were gorged. For the new year the balance sheet will exceed the $6,000,000 mark by some $40,000, and if the, be left in power to do it they will probably consume all of that and want more again.

The Hahn committee has dragged some of the unworthy crew into the light of day. But what has been revealed is doubtless but the smallest part of what there is to be told. Participants could a thousand other and worse tales unfold. But they won't. They burn their books or run away when the limelight is turned upon them. Even today the state is treated to the inspiring spectacle of one of her chief men making a fugitive of himself because of his guilty knowledge. The care with which Squire, the chief of the Rahway reformatory managers is keeping himself out of the reach of the committee's process is his own confession of the wickedness of which he is at least cognizant.

But, then, in spite of all the book burning and of all the flights from the pursuit of justice, enough has been disclosed to show how shamefully the state has been looted by her rulers and how persistently and systematically. They have not allowed a single guilty penny to escape, and they resort to all tricks, big and small, to reach her fleshpots. Some drain her gold into their pockets—most all of the state chiefs, indeed—by taking pay for services and not rendering them. Rice, the supreme court clerk, by who takes $6,000 per year for walking around his office for four hours a week, is the most shining of this class of offenders. One can imagine the smiling unction with which the state finance officials put his $6,000 check in his hands. And yet in almost pathetic contrast is the story in State Comptroller Morgan's last annual report of his refusal to pay a little boy page a ten dollar check because the child could not vouch, or rather—swear that he had rendered the paltry service for it, and right following it in the report is the story of the holdup of an humble First regiment private who was over a day and a half check because he had not put in full time at the camp at Sea Girt.

And then, to get all of the state's gold that can be had, there is a whole slew of commissioners made up of commissioners who do not see their offices once in a month, with secretaries and clerks—well paid by the state—to do all for her that they should do. The multiplicity of these commissions is staggering. Every conceivable thing upon which a commission can be fastened has *one. There are a public li*brary commission, a statehouse commission, three or four battle monument commissions and three or four oyster commissions, a shellfish commission, a commission to investigate salt water fishing, a state sewerage, a Passaic valley sewer, a Passaic flood, an epileptic, a *Jamestown, a Louisiana pur*chase, a tuberculosis, a Palisades, a potable water, a franchise, a master and *servant law and a constitutional com*mission. That most of the members are willing to serve without pay is symptomatic of "pickings" by the side of which a salary would be a mere bagatelle.

But the prize stunt of the age is the spirit of mathematical prophecy with which the statehouse patriots foresee at the beginning of the year the exact amount they will have expended by the end of it on such elastic accounts as those for postage and incidentals and stationery. These items are always variable, never repeat themselves from day to day, are never two days alike in amount, but these expert gentlemen can, according to the comptroller's report, gauge them all to the shadow of a farthing. If they say it will be $500, why, $500 it always is. The appropriation never exceeds the expenditure, the expenditure never falls short of the appropriation. They level up dollar for dollar, even penny for penny. The proof of this remarkable provision appears in the accompanying quoted comptroller's report. Look at these items culled from it:

	Stationery. Appropriated.	Stationery. Incidentals. Asked.	Spent. Asked.	Spent.
Executive department	$300	$300	....	....
Comptroller	1,100	1,100	$1,500	$1,500.00
Treasurer	....	....	600	600.00
Secretary state	10,300	10,300	2,500	2,500.00
Attorney general	500	500	1,200	1,200.00
State library	600	600	....	....
Banking department	1,800	1,800	2,300	2,158.05
Equalization board	500	....	....	....
Health board	1,400	1,400	350	349.83
Labor department	1,000	1,000	....	....
Court chancery	500	500	....	....
Clerk, chancery	....	....	2,500	2,225.
Adjutant general department	1,700	1,500	750	750.00
Quartermaster general	500	500	450	449.54
Salt water commission	....	....	500	499.09
Tuberculosis commission	....	....	15,500	15,500.00

The experts who guessed out those figures in advance must have sat up of nights to see that not a single postal card or a nickel car ticket for which the state would pay got away from the crowd.

But the incidental and stationery accounts are not the only ones in which the experts "judging was made good by the departments" hinds-hot. The statehouse commission guessed that it would want $85,3800 to carry out the purpose of an act providing for the care of the statehouse grounds. Just $50,000 was spent. The adjutant general foretold that he would need $1,200 for clerical service in compiling the roster and $2,500 for compiling another roster. He spent just the $1,200 and not the $2,500. The state library predicted that $3,500 would be needed for the repair of some old books and the purchase of some new ones. It guessed within $15 of the amount. The public library commission estimated that it would require $2,500 for books, their cars, shipping and circulation. It spent $2,499.96. The secretary of state thought $2,950 would be wanted for services to carry out an act in relation to a certificate record, and all but $44.02 was wanted. The state assessors thought that $6,000 would be needed for incidental clerical services; they left only a single $5 unused in the state treasury.

Such wonderfully accurate mathematicians as these are not gentlemen of the fish and game commission stripe they could not have been more exact in making their incidental expenditures tally to the penny with their incidental allowances!

WHAT HE THOUGHT BEFORE THE CONVENTION.

This league was organized with a *specific purpose, and, as that resolu*tion puts it, the purpose was to destroy once and for all the dominance of the corporations and the special interests in this party of ours. The purpose was to secure the enactment of a series of laws to bring to an end the period during which these corporations *have dominated in the halls of legisla*tion and in the whole affairs of the state—to give to the people what they never should have lost, what had they been wide awake they never would have lost—the sole power to direct legislation and public affairs—and, beyond all, to secure equality before the people on the one hand and the corporations on the other, created by the people.—Sheriff Sommer of Essex County to the Essex County League For Equal Taxation.

BUT NOW HE SUPPORTS FORT!

The Republican party faces the necessity of my making a choice between loyalty to my conception of the right and to the people of the state, between this and loyalty to my party. And I serve notice here and now that I will have no hesitancy in making the choice and that I will choose loyalty to what I believe to be right, loyalty to what I believe to be required by the interests of the people of the state, in preference to my party regularity.—Sheriff Sommer of Essex at a New Idea Meeting in Newark Before the Primaries.

COLBY TO THE SENATE.

I cannot support any public utilities measure which does not confer the rate making power.

There are certain white livered men in the Republican party who are afraid to stand for this rate making control clause for fear the corporations will withhold their campaign contributions.

THEIR ONLY CHANCE.

The Democratic nomination for governor of New Jersey, says the Philadelphia Record, offers to the antimachine element of the Republicans a very happy opportunity of securing good government.—Phillipsburg Post.

FRESH PORK

The freshest, juicest, and sweetest corn-fed Pork on the market, made into sausage, and the greatest care is taken in the making. Remember, we have a choice supply always on hand o

Beef, Veal, Mutton, Lamb and Chickens.

The source of supply is carefully considered, and we buy only the choicest. Our prices will be found low enough to please.

FRED. ENDRESS,
'Phone 690. 131-135 W. Front St.

DRUGGISTS.

ONE DOSE IN TIME of our
White Pine Balsam Compound
may save a horrible Winter's cold. It's better to have a reliable remedy at hand for when you need it. This is the season for colds and our White Pine Balsam Compound is the remedy for it.
C. M. NAGLE'S PHARMACY,
Prescriptions Our Specialty.
Front and Grove Streets, 'Phone 911-L.

Complete Line of
REXALL
Goods at
MILLER'S PHARMACY
Park Ave. 42th St. Tel. 28.

Hodge's Pharmacy.
Y. M. C. A. Building.
BELLE MEAD SWEETS.
Tel. 62.

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF
EAST FRONT STREET.
HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.
Gottfried Krueger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private dining-Room.

HOTEL KENSINGTON
(Licensed.)
J. H. STAATS Prop.
107-109-111 North Avenue
Everything New and Up-to-date.
An inspection solicited.

HOTEL IROQUOIS
Commercial Headquarters. J. W. LEARY, Proprietor.
Pabst Milwaukee Beer on draft.

SUNDAY DINNERS
SPECIAL FEATURE

REAL ESTATE

RENTALS — REAL ESTATE.
GEO. F. BROWN.
Insurance and Real Estate
Commissioner of Deeds—Rents.
94 Somerset St. Phone 160.

N. FATOUROS
Dealer in
Fancy Fruits and Vegetables
Our specialties: California oranges, grape fruit, fancy apples, bananas, figs and dates, and a lot of other fancy goods.
All orders promptly attended to and delivered.
'Phone 887-R. 131-135 W. Front St.
ENDRESS' STAND.

HENRY WIERENGA
Residence, 'Phone 817-J.
Furniture, Freight, Baggage Express and Rigger.
PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY.
5 1 tf

Try a Box of
DOBBINS' CIGARS.
Clear Havana Nickle Yara or any kind that you desire. Manufactured at 130 North avenue, opposite Kensington Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.

STATIONERY AND TOYS.
HARPER,
411 PARK AVENUE

Kindling and Grate Wood.
Cedar Posts and Bean Poles. Prompt, expeditious. Orders received at 60 Somerset St.
JOHN MOBUS,
P. O. Box 128.

H. J. HAROLD
Pianos Tuned and Regulated.
Tel. 665-R. Box 142 E. 5th St

GRIGGS TO SPEAK HERE

Former Governor, Senator Frelinghuysen and Assembly-man Barber to Talk.

ON WEDNESDAY, OCT. 30

Senator Reed to Preside—Band of Music Engaged For the Mass Meeting.

North Plainfield's Republicans have planned for a big mass meeting to be held at Saengerbund Hall Wednesday night, Oct. 30. Former State Senator Charles. A. Reed is chairman of the committee having charge of the arrangements. A band will furnish the music although three good spellbinders are promised to enliven the meeting.

Former Governor John W. Griggs, of Passaic county, has been booked to play the role of principal speaker. He is a persuasive talker and generally hands out a lot of stuff not culled from Joe Miller's joke book, that keep his audience in good humor. Then there will be Assemblyman Alfred Barber, of Mercer county. Mr. Barber was the minority leader of the House during the recent session of the legislature and is rated as an ideal campaigner. Another satellite will be State Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen of Somerset, who holds the office of county chairman. Mr. Frelinghuysen is a "talking-from-the-shoulder" talker and has a way of speaking to the point.

It is expected that Former State Senator Charles A. Reed will preside. The list of vice presidents will include many prominent borough men.

BOROUGH FIREMEN MAKE GOOD SHOWING IN LINE

Cheered by more than 30,000 persons who took part in the mammoth firemen's carnival at Perth Amboy last night, the Warren Engine Company, thirty-two men strong, commanded by L. B. Bodine and preceded by the Independent Fife and Drum Corps, made an excellent appearance in line yesterday. They did not land the prize, however, for other companies in line had newer, slicker looking uniforms. In the drilling, however, the local company were the top notchers. The combination wagon on which the headquarters, drawn by "Nip" and "Tuck," was driven by Lieutenant Elden Stanley and William Gaub was with the apparatus. The other members of the local department marched in line with the Washington Hose Company, which had a big turnout.

The parade was a long one and the firemen marched from 11 o'clock until 4, when the contests took place. The local company did not get back to headquarters till nearly midnight.

In the parade volunteer firemen from all towns and villages in this section of the country and from elsewhere took part. In the line of march were about 3,000 men representing companies from South Amboy, Woodbridge, Port Reading, Roosevelt, New Brunswick, North Plainfield, Summit, Long Branch, Asbury Park, Burlington, Hordentown, Freehold, Englishtown, Metuchen, Rahway and Middletown and Peekskill in New York state.

PLAINFIELD MAN WEDS AT HARLINGEN.

Miss Anna Frances Durling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garret Durling, of Harlingen, and Arthur Garret Beekman, of this city were married yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. J. Waldron, of Harlingen, and was witnessed by 100 guests from Plainfield, Somerville, Trenton, Princeton, Belle Meade and Bethlehem, Pa.

The bride was gowned in white silk, hand embroidered, trimmed with satin and lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The maid-of-honor was Miss Minnie Brokaw, niece of the bride, who wore green silk, trimmed with lace and carried pink roses. Edwin H. Beekman, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Raymond McVoy, of Plainfield, and Samuel Abrams, of Harlingen. Miss Cora Baldin, a cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The ceremony was followed by a reception.

After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Beekman will make their home in this city, the groom being employed in a local machine shop. They received many handsome gifts.

Earl Dunmore a Confederate Captain

It is not generally known that as Captain Charles Murray the deceased Earl Dunmore served with the Confederacy of America for three years, and in 1862 was a participant in the adventurous attempts at blockade running of that period. He commanded the steamer Nashville when it ran the federal blockade on April 24, 1862. Afterward he joined General Robert E. Lee and remained with him for several months.—London Telegraph.

"LOOKOUT" FELL ASLEEP

Cops Got By Him and Bagged Ten Colored Men in a Crap Game.

AN ONLOOKER SQUEALS.

Testimony of Hazle Cuff Helps to Convict Samuel Thornton, Proprietor of the Place—Fined $50.

Becoming convinced that something in the gambling line was going on at the pool room of Samuel Thornton, located on South Second street just above Plainfield avenue, Acting Roundsman McCarthy and Patrolman Saunders made a raid on the place at 1 o'clock this morning. They interrupted a crap game that had been in progress for several hours and beside the proprietor arrested Hessie Walker, William Cheshire, James Scott, Harold Hall, William Marsh, Samuel Jones, Hazle Cuff, Joseph Pritchard and Tom Williams. All were arraigned in the city court but were let go with the exception of Thornton who was fined $50.

Officer McCarthy first realized that something was "doing" in the back parlor of the pool room and by listening around plainly heard the jingle of money and exclamations that accompany crap shooting. He secured Patrolman Saunders and the two manoeuvred about until a favorable opportunity offered to get in. Ordinarily this would have been a hard matter, but Hessie Walker,who the police declare was the "lookout," had succumbed to the gentle wooing of Morpheus and was fast asleep at his post. The whole delegation was gathered about a pool table but before the officers could get into the group the dice and money had been whisked away. Only a pack of cards and nine of the men remained, Sam Jones remembering suddenly that he had an engagement with a friend and took his departure through a window to keep it. He was rounded up later.

When the ten faced Judge Runyon this morning nine of them stoutly declared they had only been in*dulging in an innocent game of pin*ochle and that no money was involved. They all told the same story and might have bluffed it out but for the fact that Hazle Cuff became weak in the knees and corroborated everything the cops said, besides giving some more facts. He asserted that crap and poker had been going on all evening and that the bones were being flipped across the table when the officers came in. He hadn't participated in the game himself, he said, but he had a front seat and knew what he was talking about.

Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., who had been engaged as counsel by Thornton and some of the other defendants, tried to show that "Cuffie" had been asleep at the time of his testimony came from a dream. Cheshire, Marsh and Scott were all positive that he had been slumbering and some even went as far as to say he was "full of dope" and had a habit of "seeing things." The alleged habit of "seeing things." The allegation any of his testimony and it stood good with the court.

William Cheshire was awfully anxious to give full details of the evening's proceedings when he was called to the stand and in his eagerness made a bad break. He started to tell what the men had done at a certain period of the evening and exclaimed:

"Well, after the poker game—hold on, I mean after the pool game was over"—

That was as far as he got as the burst of laughter that went around the court room drowned him out and counsel gave him a hurried signal to take a back seat.

MISS BOONE APPOINTED AS INDUSTRIAL PROBLEM.

Miss Caroline E. Boone, of West Seventh street, having successfully passed the civil service examination, she has received a government appointment to investigate child labor and women's industrial situation in the United States. The appointment was made by Secretary of Labor Oscar Straus and showed up yesterday for Washington where she will at once begin her duties.

Miss Boone has been making a study of the subject she is to investigate for the Labor Department. Before her departure for Washington she was unable to tell of her plans, for she will be subject to the direction of Secretary Strauss and her duties will probably take her to all parts of the country, investigating conditions as they exist in manufacturing plants of all kinds.

The British royal engineers are now experimenting with a motor engine to propel artillery.

While horses are now excluded from the Germany army, the use of smokeless powder making them too conspicuous.

The Swiss army will soon include a corps of volunteer motorists. They will have a special uniform and will be armed with revolvers.

Baron von Brandenstein, chief of the volunteer automobile corps at the grand manoeuvres of the German army, in his report, recently published in Berlin, says that after a three years' trial he is convinced that the automobile is an absolute necessity with an army in active service.

CONSTITUTION'S REVISION

It is Favored by State Civic Federation in Circulation.

INVITING SUPPORT

General Revision Suggested—No Specific Issue Referred To—Asks for Opinion.

With a view of advancing the movement which calls for a revision of the Constitution of the State of New Jersey the State Civic Federation has prepared a circular embodying questions to assist the ordinary voter in arriving at a decision, and it is the intention in this way to secure a general expression of opinion. If the voter considers the constitution satisfactory in its present form it is only necessary to reply that no change is favored, but if a revision is deemed advisable a number of questions are to be answered.

"The completed circular is to be forwarded to Rev. Adolph Roeder, of Orange. The letter which is intended to break the ice for the movement throughout the state is presented as follows:

"The New Jersey State Civic Federation has in the past accomplished a number of matters of more or less importance. It now feels prepared to undertake a task at the present seems of greater difficulty and delicacy than any it has hitherto undertaken. This task is no less than the alteration of the Constitution of the State of New Jersey, either by a series of amendments or by the creation of an entirely new document.

"Its officials realize that task will be one of some magnitude, and that it will require considerable time. They are therefore prepared to move slowly in the premises, and to give each topic of consideration as much time as will be used. The general plan of procedure thus far developed is one of gathering data to start with, and in order to do so it is proposed to submit to those citizens of the state who are members of the organization and to others who are interested in series of questions which have been cast in the following form:

"1. Do you think that the Constitution of the State of New Jersey is satisfactory and adapted to the needs of the state at the present day and under the conditions now prevailing?

"If the answer to this question is 'Yes,' no further data are called for. But if it be 'No,' the following additional questions are submitted:

"2. If not, what specific feature or features do you consider inefficient and unsatisfactory?

"3. In what way would you remedy these features? Would you—

"a. Omit them entirely?

"b. Alter them? In what way?

"4. What portions of the present document are worthy of his testimony came from a dream. Cheshire, Marsh and Scott were all positive that he had been slumbering and some even went as far as to say he was "full of dope" and had a habit of "seeing things." The alleged habit of "seeing things." The allegation any of his testimony and it stood good with the court.

"5. What additional paragraph or paragraphs should it contain?

"These questions are on the document as such. An additional series is suggested by the method of procedure to be pursued. A Constitutional Convention is a political function, which does not appeal to civic workers, since the interests conserved and represented in such function are largely alien to the real interests of the state. As at present conducted a Constitutional Convention degenerates rapidly into an arena for conflicting political interests and for the exercise of bossism in one or the other of its forms. It may be desirable to devise some other method of getting at the Constitution and of organizing a convention for that purpose. It has been suggested that a Constitutional Conference take the place of the Convention and that to such a conference such men and women should be called as have the welfare of the state at heart and have proven their interest in that welfare in public ways.

"In view of this the following questions have been formulated:

"6. Do you favor a Constitutional Conference?

"7. What have you to suggest as to the program of such a conference?

"8. Whom can you suggest as worker for and in such a conference?

"9. Where would you hold such a conference?

"10. And when?

"All the members of th eNew Jersey State Civic Federation, all civic organizations, boards of trade, civic clubs, women's clubs and individuals interested in the topic are cordially invited to send such response to the above questions, after deliberation and discussion, as they seem to them to deserve, and to send the results of their deliberations to Rev. Adolph Roeder, Orange, N. J.

"A copy of the constitution can be secured from your Senator or Assemblyman, or from the shelves of and convenient public library."

The Name Lusitania.

The Cunard company, following its longestablished habit of naming its ships after the classic subdivisions of Europe, lighted upon "Lusitania" and "Mauretania." The first is the Roman name of the country inhabited by the Lusitanii, which included the greater part of modern Portugal and ran over into the present Spanish provinces of Estremadura and Toledo. The second, of about the same age, comes from across the strait of Gibraltar, where the Mauri lived, the present Morocco or thereabout.—New York Times.

PLAINFIELD LIBRARY NOTES

Popular Serials.

All of these may be borrowed from the Library.

Barbour, R. H.—Crimson sweater. (St. Nicholas, November 1905-November, 1906.)

Barbour, R. H.—New boy at Hilltop. (St. Nicholas, December, 1906-February, 1907.)

Barbour, R. H.—Spirit of the school. (Youth's companion, May 9, 1907, continued.)

Barbour, R. H.—Tom, Dick and Harriet. (St. Nicholas, May, 1907, continued.)

Burnett, F. H.—The shuttle. (Century, November- 1906-June, 1907, continued.)

Crawford, F. M.—Prima Donna, sequel to his Fair Margaret. (Munsey, August 1907, continued.)

Daskam, J. D.—Domestic adventures. (Woman's home companion, March-July, 1907.)

Dautton, A. M.—Fritzi. (St. Nicholas, April-June, 1907, continued.)

Davis, R. H.—Adventures of a scarlet car. (Collier's, December 15, March 22, June 22.)

Gardner, R. K.—World and the woman. (Munsey, April-July, 1907, continued.)

Hammond, Capt. Harold.—Pinkey Perkins: just a boy. (St. Nicholas, February, 1905-June, 1907, continued.)

Harben, Will N.—Mam' Linda. (Harper's weekly, May 18-June 29, 1907, continued.)

Hawthorne, M. H.—Helena's Path. (Woman's home companion, July, 1907, continued.)

Hewlett, Maurice.—Stooping lady. (Fortnightly, January-June, 1907, continued.)

Lee, Mrs. M. C. J.—Little field of glory. (St. Nicholas, May-June, 1907, continued.)

Parker, Sir Gilbert.—Weavers. (Harper, October, 1906-June, 1907, continued.)

Robins, Elizabeth.—Come and find me. (Century, April-June, 1907, continued.)

Scott, S.—To him that hath. (Munsey, October, 1906-July, 1907, continued.)

Sinclair, May.—Helpmate. (Atlantic, January-June, 1907, continued.)

Waddington, Mme.—First glimpses of diplomatic society. (Harper, April-June, 1907, continued.)

Wallace, Edith.—Long Labrador trail. (Outing, August, 1906-June, 1907.)

Wendell, Barrett.—Impressions of contemporary France. (Scribner, March-June, 1907, continued.)

Wharton, Mrs. Edith.—Fruit of the tree. (Scribner, January-June, 1907, continued.)

Wharton, Mrs. Edith.—Motorflight through France. (Atlantic, December, 1906-February, 1907.)

Wiggin, K. D.—New chronicles of Rebecca. (Scribner, August, 1906-March, 1907.)

Williamson, C. N. and A. M.—Princess Virginia. (Ladies' Home Journal, August, 1906, January, 1907.)

Williamson, C. N. and A. M.—Through royal society with Lady Betty. (Ladies' Home Journal, March-July, 1907.)

Books on home economics which may be borrowed from the Plainfield Public Library. Recommended by the American school of home economics.

Household Hygiene.

Chemistry of cooking and cleaning. Richards and Elliott.

Dust and its dangers. T. M. Prudden.

Gas lighting and gas fitting. W. P. Gerhard.

House drainage and sanitary plumbing. W. P. Gerhard.

Rural hygiene. H. B. Basbore.

Sanitation of a country house. H. B. Basbore.

The care of a house. T. M. Clark.

The farmstead. I. P. Roberts.

Chemistry of the Household.

Chemistry of cooking and cleaning. E. H. Richards.

Chemistry of daily life. Lassar-Cohn.

Chemistry of life and health. C. W. Kimmins.

Drinking water and ice supplies. T. M. Prudden.

Principles of Cookery Service.

Boston cooking school cook book. F. M. Farmer.

Century cook book. Mary Roland.

Kitchen companion. Maria Parloa.

Practical sanitary and economic cooking. Mary H. Abel.

Hand book of invalid cooking. Mary A. Roland.

Expert waitress. Annie F. Springsteed.

Expert maidservant. C. T. Herrick.

Household Management.

Cost of living. Ellen H. Richards.

Domestic service. Lucy M. Salmon.

Family living on $500 a year. J. Corson.

Home economics. Maria Parloa.

Household economics. Helen Campbell.

How to keep household accounts. C. W. Haskins.

Woman and economics. Charlotte P. Gilman.

Home Care of the Sick.

Hand book of invalid cooking. Mary A. Boland.

Home nursing. Eveleen Harrison.

Nursing. Isabel A. Hampton.

Practical points in nursing. Emily A. N. Stoney.

Till the doctor comes. G. H. Hope.

Text book of nursing. Clara W. Shaw.

FIGHT PATENT MEDICINES

Union County Medical Society Favor Scheme Urged by the Druggists.

HEAR PURE FOOD TALK

Dr. T. B. Tomlinson Tells of Adulteration of Food—Pharmacists Attend the Meeting.

The Union County Medical Society at its meeting in the Y. M. C. A. building, yesterday, adopted a report of a special committee which recommended the use of medicines compounded after formulae in the United States Pharmacopoea, and the discontinue as far as practical the use of patent medicines, in place of prescriptions.

This is the first time in the history of the society that a committee from the Union County Druggists' Association has been invited to meet with the physicians and the action taken is a most important one. The committee from the druggists' association comprised T. S. Armstrong, of this city; Dr. Charles S. Schlichter, Dr. Stephen Quinn and William Richard, of Elizabeth, and Dr. Silvers, of Rahway.

The two associations practically decided to begin a crusade against proprietary medicines and the indiscriminate use of them. It was pointed out that under the new law the manufacturers of proprietary medicines are now compelled to print the formula on each and every article put on the market by them. Under these provisions it is possible for the druggist to compound the same identical article much cheaper, thereby giving the purchaser the benefit of the difference. In adopting the report of the committee the desired end seems to have been attained.

The other feature of the meeting was the presentation of a paper by Dr. T. H. Tomlinson on "The Adulteration of Foods." This showed that there is hardly an article of diet which is not adulterated with something, and that some have no relation at all to the article represented, being made of a foreign substance.

LAW POINTS.

One to whom a tenant leases the promises is held in Beck versus Minneapolis and Western Grain Company (Ia.), 7 L. R. A. (N. S.), 930, to be as fully estopped to question the landlord's title as is the tennant himself.

That a hospital is conducted as a public charity without expectation of profit is held by the supreme Woman's Hospital Aid Association (N. H.), 7 L. R. A. (N. S.), 496, not to render it immune from liability for negligent injury to its servants.

To render a man liable on his promise to pay for goods not necessaries ordered by his wife it is held in Schuman versus Steinel (Wis.), 7 L. R. A. (N. S.), 1048, that she must have purported to act as his agent in making the purchase, so that his promise is a ratification of her act.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL.

Seventy members have been added to the faculty of the University of Wisconsin and over a hundred new courses arranged.

English will be taught in the eighteen public schools of Santa Clara province, Cuba, next year. Ultimately it will be a required study in all the Cuban public schools.

The new president of the eBaver (Pa.) Female seminary has reversed a ruling of his predecessor and will allow the girls to have male callers every night in the week except Saturday.

President Seelye of Smith college, at the opening day announced that the building of a new assembly hall and library could not begin, as expected, on account of the high prices of material and labor.

Council to Act on Appropriation.

The Common Council will hold the second aljourned meeting of the bonth on Monday night, October 28, when it is expected that some disposition will be made of the Board of School Estimate petition, which asked for an appropriation of $90,000 for the new primary school to be erected at Darrow avenue and Essex street. The plan is to ask the council to return that petition and then another one will be presented asking for $100,000, which amount, it is claimed will be needed to erect the school. It is understood that the council is favorable to the disposition of the school board. Speedy action is desired on the part of the board that the work of construction may be started as soon possible.

Sooz.

Surburban (hiring cook)—How much a month do you want?

Norah Gonigan (indignantly)—What do ye take me for—a far-m hand? Me scale av salary is 17½ cints an hour, kitchen time, wid double pay for holidays an' whin ye have comp-ny.—Puck.

JERSEY DAY AT BIG FAIR

Four Governors Attend the State's Celebration at the Jamestown Exposition.

A MILITARY PAGEANT

Rev. Dr. Demarest Delivers the Oration—Governor Stokes Makes an Address.

Marked by the presence of the governors of four states and with ideal weather, New Jersey Day was fittingly observed yesterday at the Jamestown exposition. Governor Stokes, accompanied by the new Jersey Senators, Representatives in Congress and prominent state officials, participated.

The day's exercises were held at the Lee Parade reviewing stand, from which Governor Stokes and his party witnessed a military parade. Upon the reviewing stand with Governor Stokes were President Tucker of the exposition company and Governor Swanson, of Virginia, the former of whom delivered an address of welcome; Governor Woodruff, of Connecticut, Governor Cutler of Utah and the New Jersey party. President Breckinridge of the New Jersey Commission presided, and the response to the address of welcome was by Governor Stokes. The oration of the day was by Dr. Demarest, president Rutgers College, New Brunswick, N. J.

An official luncheon to the distinguished guests followed the exercises. The official reception by the New Jersey Jamestown Commission to Governor Stokes took place in the afternoon at the New Jersey Building, with the several state governors attending.

TO TEACH VOTERS USE OF MACHINES

Charles O. Fuller, who was the inspector under the voting machine commission, has been retained in the same capacity by Secretary of State Dickinson, who now has charge of the machines.

The secretary of state has written to the city clerks of the principal cities of the state, directing special attention to the provision in the general election law which requires the election of officers of the districts in which voting machines have been placed, to give "instructions as to the use of voting machines to all voters who shall apply for the same," on the last day of registration, which in cities having more than $30,000 inhabitants will be next Tuesday, and in all other municipalities the following Tuesday, October 29.

The letter also requests that special instructions be given "with reference to the inerrancy of the mechanism of the machine and its infallibility, if properly set, in recording the will of the voter; and the ease, convenience and secrecy offered for spitting tickets, especially regarding the manner in which the click of the levers may be avoided, and the fact that the levers may be avoided, and the fact that the levers may be changed at any time without recording a vote before the curtain is removed."

It has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the secretary of state that the machines are infallible if properly set, and if the mechanism should get out of order further operation of the lever is impossible.

Inspector Fuller will be assisted by Edward Christopherson, of East Orange, and the work will be under the supervision of Assistant Secretary of State Smith. There are 361 *machines in the state and about fif*ty of them have been transferred from one location to another. The inspector will have their hands full in explaining their workings.

The balance of the appropriation transferred by the commission to the secretary of state is but $400 and the expenses of handling the machines have not been small, to a large extent, from the secretary's contingent fund.

Cut Him Off.

If there's anything Uncle Joe Cannon dislikes more than another it's the proverbial loquaciousness of the Washington barber.

"Shall I clip your hair a little at the ends, sir?" asked a colored "tonsorialist" of the statesman on one occasion.

"You'll have to," grunted Uncle Joe, "unless you've invented some method by which you can clip it out from the middle and save the ends, which are curly. I should prefer that to all things except of course to your utter silence."—Harper's Weekly.

To Publish His Music.

Friends and pupils of the violinist, P. Ludwig Gondoe, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Denver, Col., will be pleased to learn that his "Mazurka de Concert," violin solo with piano accompaniment, which he composed while residing in Plainfield, and was played by him at his concerts at the Y. M. C. A. and on other occasions, with great success, is now in the hands of Carl Fischer, music publisher, 6-10 Fourth avenue, New York City, and will soon be published.

DEMOCRATS NAME TICKET

W. L. Hetfield Sr. for City Judge, McNulty, Homan and Schlief for Council.

ENDORSE W. F. ARNOLD

Lively Scrap Between City Chairman and J. V. F. Diltz Furnishes Some Excitement at Convention.

A complete ticket was placed in nomination at the Democratic City convention held in the parlors of the Hotel Kensington, last night. For councilmen-at-large Edward J. McNulty, James P. Homan and Stephen H. Schleif were chosen. Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., was nominated for city judge to oppose William N. Runyon, whom the Republicans renominated. The convention endorsed the nomination of William F. Arnold for city treasurer. Rev. Erskine M. Rodman was nominated for member of the Board of Education.

James F. Owens acted as chairman of the convention and William Harding was the secretary. Edward J. McNulty is a new man in the local political arena, Mr. Homan and Mr. Schleif both having been candidates before on the Democratic ticket.

It was the sense of the convention that it should endorse the Republican nomination for city treasurer and this was done after a speech by Joseph Harrigan, who spoke of the efficiency of the present incumbent.

Only fifteen delegates attended the convention which convened after a lively scrap between City Chairman Walter L. Hetfield and former City Chairman Jeremiah V. F. Dilth. The two met in the lobby of the hotel and the warm discussion followed Hetfield's invitation to Dilts to attend the meeting.

"That's only a star chamber proceeding and I will have none of it," Dilts is alleged to have declared.

When asked by the city chairman what he meant, Dilts alleged that no call had been issued for the convention and that it was a secret session. Dilts, who was not a delegate, withdrew and he and two delegates spent the evening listening to State Senator Everett Colby and Gubernatorial Candidate J. Franklin Fort preach Republican gospel at the New Plainfield theatre. After the theatre meeting Dilts said "That man Fort will never be elected; he's *too hon*est."

CALIFORNIAN WEDS MISS LOUISE W. BRAKELEY

CEREMONY PERFORMED AT BRIDE'S HOME AT DUNELLEN.

In the presence of a large gathering of guests, Miss Louise Winter Brakeley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Peter W. Brakeley, of Front street, Dunellen, was married last night to Thomas Talbot McGuire, of Petaluma, Cal. Rev. George A. Warner, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, of which the bride is a member, was the officiating clergyman, performing the ceremony at the parlors which were decorations of palms and plants were in the parlor, dining room and hall.

Miss Brakeley was attended by Miss Kate A. Hoff, of Elmhurst, L. I., as maid of honor, and George Archibald Brakeley, brother of the bride, was best man. The ushers were Henry Munn Slauson and Walter Simpson Craig, of Plainfield; and Paul Winter Brakeley and Hugh Maxwell Brakeley, of Dunellen. Two nieces of the bride, Katherine Alida Stevens, of Plainfield, and Margaret Brakeley Correl, of Easton, Pa., were flower girls.

Miss Brakeley's gown was a Liere lace robe with insets of baby Irish lace. She carried bride roses and was given away by her father. The maid of honor's gown was of green silk chiffonette over green lisere and trimmings of rose point mechlin lace. Her bouquet was of carnations. The flower girls were dressed in French organdie and trimmed French voile over pink silk.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl lavillier which she wore during the ceremony, while the best man and ushers received stickpins. The bride's gift to the maid of honor was a pearl brooch and to the flower girls gold clasp pins.

Following the customary reception, Mr. and Mrs. McGuire left for a two weeks wedding trip. On returning they will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Brakeley for the winter. The groom is in the drug business in Petaluma and will return there in the spring. The gathering at the ceremony included guests from New York, Brooklyn, Boston and Plainfield.

Miss Cooley to Wed.

The marriage of Miss Edith Haviland Cooley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Cooley, of Westerveit avenue, this borough, and Robert Moore Steer, of Baltimore, Md., will take place at the Friends' Meeting House, Wednesday, October 30, at 2.30 o'clock.

BROWN HAS BRAINSTORM

New Market Youth Who Stole Rigs Gives a "Fishy" Explanation.

FRIENDS INTERCEDING

Making Every Effort to Have the Charges Against Him Withdrawn

—In Jail in New Brunswick.

Roy Brown, the New Market young man who stole a rig belonging to Adam Blair and later tried to get away with a runabout from the stable of Isaac Stout at LaRue, getting caught in the act, gave a somewhat "fishy" explanation of his conduct when questioned at the New Brunswick jail Monday. Though it inclines toward the "cockeral" variety, Brown's friends assert that it is true and are making every effort to get him out of the scrape.

In his statement, Brown said he was on a "lark" Friday night, when the succession of events happened, and he borrowed a wheel from Harry Randolph, of this city, to go home. He was riding the machine along West Front street when he encountered Patrolman Dan McDonald and the officer thought he had stolen the mount. Brown conceived the idea that McDonald was going to arrest him because of his exuberant condition and took to Blair's rig as a means of escape, finding it tied to a post on Mariners place.

In an extremely hazy mood, Brown says, he continued on to Lincoln, where he discovered that a wheel of the wagon had been broken in the getaway. He stopped at Farmer Stout's place to get another one. He formerly worked for Stout, he says, and didn't think it necessary to ask for the wagon. He might have thought it necessary another time, but not Friday. Then he drove off and finally coursed off into Round Brook fast asleep, with the horse looking out for itself.

A Round Brook man who knew him, got into the wagon and turned the horse back. Meanwhile Farmer Stout, not knowing who had taken his vehicle, had sworn out a warrant and when Brown and his Good Samaritan got back to Piscataway township, Brown was arrested and hustled to jail.

That's the story the prisoner tells but he is very much off the track. In the first place, Patrolman McDonald found him lying on the sidewalk near Captain Phillips' house on West Front street and when he roused him up was told by Brown that he lived across the street. The officer escorted him to the house indicated and assisted him up the porch, leaving him to open the door himself. The moment McDonald got back to the street, Brown darted around the side of the house and into Mariners place, where he appropriated Blair's rig.

William Hedley, who had hired the outfit, saw it disappearing into West Front street and set in pursuit on a bicycle. He caught up with the horse near Rock avenue and in his attempts to stop it was knocked down and quite badly hurt. Brown continued on to Lincoln, where he decided to get the Stout wagon because of a broken wheel on Blair's, and took it out of the stable. Like Farmer Stout, Lincoln farmers, Stout always removes a burr from one of the axles at night and the thief had barely gotten out of the yard when the wheel dropped off.

This accident was witnessed by Amos Stout, son of the owner, who had been home to go to his work at the Dewey Rock car barns. He recognized the wagon and rushing out, hauled Brown from the wagon. He was brought back to the Stout kitchen and members of the family, with Constable Goble, of Lincoln, kept him prisoner there all night. In the morning he was taken before Justice LaRue at East Bound Brook and formally committed.

People who know Brown say that he is a well-behaved young man ordinarily and that his predicament was brought about through intoxication. His particular friend have devoted the last two days to trying to get Blair and Stout to withdraw the complaints against him while the matter is now in the hands of the authorities.

THE SPORTING WORLD.

The twenty-third annual exhibition of the National Horse Show Association will be held in the Madison Square Garden, New York, Nov. 18-22.

Walter Christie, the famous auto racer, who was badly hurt in Pittsburg, recently, clipped a full second off Oldfield's mile record twice during the week before he was hurt.

Toronto won the Eastern league championship by a big margin, with Buffalo, last year's champions, second and the Providence Grays third. Newark is tied with Jersey City for the fourth position with Baltimore, Rochester and Montreal bring up the rear in the order named.

Billy Warren, challenger of Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight, is one of the likeliest looking fighters that has come to America with foreign countries in many years. Warren hails from Australia, but he has fought in England, and in eight years he has been in the ring he has defeated some of the best.

PLAINFIELD LIBRARY NOTES

Books in the Library on subjects to be studied by the Sesame Club during October and November.

Idylls of the King.

Brooke, S. A.—Tennyson, his art and relation to modern life.

Cooke, G. W.—Tennyson. (See his poets and problems. p. 55-169.)

Dawson, W. J.—Idylls of the king. (See his Shakespeare and other lectures.)

Lang, Andrew.—Alfred Tennyson. Idylls of the King, p. 103.

Lyall, Sir A. C.—Tennyson. Idylls of the King, p. 83.

Tennyson, Hallam.—Alfred Lord Tennyson: a memoir.

Van Dyke, Henry.—Poetry of Tennyson.

Waugh, Arthur.—Afred Lord Tennyson; a study of his life and work.

See also Eclectic Magazine, "Meaning of Mr. Tennyson's 'King Arthur.'"

See also, Edinburgh Review.— "Four idylls of he king: a review." v. 110:125.

Arthurian Legends.

Bulfinch, Thomas.—Age of chivalry; or, legends of King Arthur.

Clay, Beatrice.—Stories from Le Morte d'Arthur and the Mabinogion.

Crestien of Troyes.—King Arthur and the table round: tales chiefly after the Old French, with an account of Arthurian romance, and notes by William Wells Newell.

Dippold, G. T.—Development of the Arthur saga. (See his great epics of medieval Germany. p. 219-258.)

Dunlop, J. C.—History of prose fiction. (v. 1. p. 114-273.)

Greenslet, Ferris.—Quest of the holy grail; an interpretation and a paraphase of the holy legends, with illustrations from the friese decoration in the Boston public library, by Edwin Austin Abbey.

Guerber, H. A.—Round table. (In her Legends of the middle ages. p. 215-233.)

Lang, Andrew, ed.—Book of romance, with numerous illustrations.

Lanier, Sidney, ed.—Knightly legends of Wales. ill.

Malory, Thomas.—Morte d'Arthur, Sir Thomas Malory's Book of King Arthur and his noble knights of the round table, with introduction by Sir Edward Strachey.

Maynadier.—Arthur of the English poests.

Jones, Richard.—Arthurian legends, with selections from Geoffrey of Monmouth's 'Historia Britonum,' and an extract from Malory's 'Morte d'Arthur.'

Mitchell, D. G.—King Arthur legends. (In his England lands, letters, and kings. v. 1. p. 39-45.)

Morley, Henry.—Romances of the Graal. (In his English writers, v. 2. p. 133-147.)

Pyle, Howard.—Story of King Arthur and his knights, with illustrations by the author.

Pyle, Howard.—Story of the champions of the round table, with illustrations by the author.

Saintsbury, George.—Romance of Arthur and of antiquity. (In his short history of French literature. p. 31-38.)

Van Laun, Henry.—Arthurian cycle. (See his French literature. v. 1. p. 144-161. ill.)

Wagner, Wilhelm.—Legends of King Arthur and the holy grail. (In his epics and romances of the middle ages. p. 419-452.)

Weston, J. L., tr.—Arthurian romances unrepresented in Malory's d'Arthur.

Weston, J. L., tr.

Contents:

v. 1. —Sir Gawain and the green knight.

v. 2. —Tristan and Iseult. 2v.

v 3. —Guingamor, Lanval, Tyolet, Le Bisclaveret, (The were-wolf).

v 4. —Moriem.

v. 5. —Sir Cleges, Sir Libeaus Desconus.

v 6. —Sir Gawain at the Grail castle.

English Cathedrals.

Allen, F. H.—Great cathedrals of the world. 130 full page plates in photogravure, with explanatory and descriptive text. 2v.

Bonney, T. G.—Abbeys and churches of England and Wales; descriptive, historical, pictorial.

Dodd, A. B.—Cathedral days, a tour through southern England. ill.

Dorr, Mrs. J. C. R.—Cathedral pilgrimage.

Farrar, R. W., ill.—Westminster abbey and the cathedrals of England.

Ferguson, James.—History of architecture. 2v. ill.

Ferguson, James.—History of modern architecture. 2v. ill.

Gilchrist, J. G., comp.—Itinerary of the English cathedrals, with an introduction on cathedral architecture.

Hunnewell, J. F.—Church and Christian art in England. (See his Imperial Island.)

Knight, Charles, ed.—Old England, a pictorial museum of regal, ecclesiastical, municipal, baronial, and popular antiquities.

Marshall, Mrs. E. M.—Stories of the cathedral cities of England. ill.

Parker, J. H.—A. B. C. of architecture. ill.

Parker, J. H.—Gothic architecture. ill.

Spence, H. D. M.—White robe of churches of the 11th century; pages from the story of Gloucester cathedral. ill.

Stanley, A. P.—Historical memorials of Canterbury.

Stubbs, C. W.—Historical memorials of the English cathedral.

Sharpe.—Seven periods of English architecture; church architecture.

Van Rensselaer, Mrs. S.—English cathedrals, Canterbury, Peterborough, Durham, Salisbury, Litchfield, Lincoln, Ely, Wells, Winchester, Gloucester, York, London. ill.

Consult also New International Dictionary under names of different cathedrals.

Consult also the file of the Cyclopedia.

Consult also Sturgis' Dictionary of architecture and building. v. 1, under England. ill.

England, History. Norman-Plantagenet Periods.

Ashton, John.—Romances of chivalry, told and illustrated in facsimile.

Brongham, H. P., Lord and others. —Old English worthies, being full and original biographies of the most eminent statesmen, lawyers, warriors, men of letters and science, and artists of our country.

Bateson, Mary.—Madiaeval England; English feudal society from the Norman conquest to the middle of the fourteenth century. ill.

Bulfinch, Thomas.—Age of chivalry; or, legends of King Arthur.

Doran, John.—Knights and their days.

Duncan, Jonathan.—Dukes of Normandy from the time of Rollo to the expulsion of King John by Philip Augustus of France.

Freeman, E. A.—History of the Norman conquest of England, its causes and its results.

Freeman, E. A.—Reign of William Rufus, and the accession of Henry the first.

Freeman, E. A.—William the conquerer.

Froissart, Sir John.—Chronicles of England, France, Spain and the adjoining countries from the latter part of the reign of Edward II to the coronation of Henry IV.

Gardiner, M.—History of the English landed interest, its customs, laws and agriculture.

Green, J. R.—History of the English people. 4v.

Green, J. R.—Short history of the English people. Illustrated edition. 4v.

Hall, Hubert.—Court life under the Plantagenets, reign of Henry the second.

James, G. P. R.—History of chivalry.

Jenks, Edward.—Edward Plantagenet, (Edward I), the English Justinian; or, The making of the common law. ill.

Knight, Charles, ed.—Old England: a pictorial museum of regal, ecclesiastical, municipal, baronical and popular antiquities.

Lacroix, Paul.—Chivalry. (See his Military and religious life in the middle ages.)

Lee, Sidney, ed.—Dictionary of national biography.

Lingard, J.—History of England from the first invasion by the Romans to the accession of William and Mary in 1688.

Norgate, Kate.—England under the Angevin kings. 2v.

Smith, Goldwin.—The united kingdom; a political history. 2v.

Stubbs, William.—Early Plantagenets.

Traill, H. D., ed.—Social England: a record of the progress of the people. 4v.

Trevelyan, G. M.—England in the age of Wycliffe.

Warburton, Rev. W. P.—Edward III.

Woodhouse, F. C.—Military religious orders of the middle ages; the hospitallers, the templars, the Teutonic knights and others.

Books in the library on Hallowe-en and how to celebrate it.

Customs.

Chambers'—Book of Days. October 31.

Hone, William.—Everyday book. v. 1, p. 704-711.

Sharp, William. — Hallowe'en, three fold chronicle. (In Harper v. 73: 842).

Thorne, O.—Witches' night. (St. Nicholas v. 6: 783-4).

W. J. L.—Soul, soul, for a soul sake (In St. Nicholas v. 10:92).

Poetry.

Benton, Joel.—Hallowe'en. (In Stevenson's Days and Deeds, p. 189.)

Burns, Robert.—Hallowe'en poem.

Burns, Robert.—Tam O'Shanter.

Coxe, Arthur Cleveland.—Hallowe'en. (In Stevenson's Days and deeds. p. 187).

Fiske, Eugene.—Seein' things at night. (In love songs of childhood.)

Gay, John.—The spell. (InStevenson's days and deeds. p. 189:)

Hopper, Nora.—Hallowe'en. (In Stevenson's days and deeds, and in Every day in the year.)

Scott, Sir Walter.—St. Swithin's chair. (In Lang's Blue poetry book.)

Sigerson, Dora.—All soul't night. (In Treasury of Irish poetry.)

Wells, Caroline.—All Hallow eve. (In Stevenson's Days and deeds.)

Games.

Beard, L. & A. B.—All-Hallowe'eve. (In American girls' handy book. p. 187-99).

Beard, Lina.—Hallowe'en revels. (In Handicraft and recreation for girls, p. 254-63.)

Bergen, F. D.—Hallowe'en and other festivals. (In Current superstitions. p. 53.)

Campbell, H.—Hallowe'en games. (In American girls' home book. p. 144.)

Champlin, J. D., & Bostwick, A. E.—Young folks' cyclopaedia of games and sports.

Dew, L. E.—Entertainments for all seasons.

Heath.—Eighty pleasant evenings. Hallowe'en entertainment.

Kingsland, Mrs. B.—Jolly Hallowe'en party. (In Ladies' Home Journal, v. 19:41, October, 1902.)

Ladies' Home Journal.—Hallowe'en games. October 1897.

Moran, M. E.—Hallowe'en fun. (In Ladies' Home Journal, v. 23:65. October, 1906.

Mott, Mrs. H. ed.—Home games and parties.

Orne, Mr. E.—Hallowe'en; its origin and how to celebrate it with appropriate games and ceremonies.

White, M.—Book of games.

White, M. & S.—Book of children's Ghost Stories and the Supernatural.

Adams, M. G.—Hallowe'en. (In Scribner v. 3:26).

Banim, Michael.—Ghost hunter and his family.

Bierce, A.—Soldiers and ghosts. (In Cosmopolitan v. 42:37-40.)

Black, William. — Hallowe'en wraith. (In Harper v.81:830.)

Bouve, P. C.—Uncle Remus tells a ghost story (In New England magazine, N. S. v. 37:31.)

Boyle, V. F.—Devil tales.

Brown, David. — All-hallowe'en myths. (In St. Nicholas. v.9:23-4.)

Burroughs, E.—Mystic Hallowe'en. (In Ladies' Home Journal. 22:57. Octber, 1905.

Butterworth, H.—A Hallowe'en (In Century v.27:48.)

Bynner, E. L.—Damen's ghost.

Collins, Wilkie.—Haunted hotel.

Curtis, A. M.—Children's celebration of Hallowe'en. (In St. Nicholas. v. 32: 1124-7. October, 1905.)

Dunbar, O. H.—Decay of the ghost in fiction. (In Dial v.38:377-80.

Hearn, C. L.—Stone Chinese ghosts.

Kenan, G.—Siberian scare. (In St. Nicholas. v.24:267-72.)

Kingdon, S. S.—Haunted houses of New England. (In Ladies' Home Journal. v.17:3-4.)

Lang, Andrew.—Mr. Lang's ghost. (In Independent v. 62:197-9), January 24, 1907.)

Lloyd, N. M.—Last ghost in Harmony. (In Scribner. March. 1907.)

Loomis, Charles Battell.—Ghost of the Black Ina. (In Harper's Weekly. v.46:48-9, December 8, 1902.)

Lytton, Bulwer.—Haunted and the haunters.

Maryat, Frederick.— Phantom ship.

Mitchell, S. W.—Ghost of glory. (In Century, v.42:226-7.)

Oliphant, Mrs. M. O.—Open door.

O'Neill, R. C.—Lady and the ghost. (In Cosmopolitan. v.34:20-4.

Peattie, Donald Culross.—Shape of fear.

Poe, Edgar Allen.—Prose tales.

Roberts, C. D. G.—Barn on the marsh. (In Earth's enigmas.)

Spearman.—Ghost at point of Rocks. (In Scribner. August, 1907.)

Shelley, Mrs. M. W.—Frankenstein.

Strout, Joseph W.—Ghostly stowaway. (In Outlook, October, 1906. p. 28.)

Sullivan, T. R.—Ghost in fiction. (In Atlantic. v.97:133-7. January, 1906.)

Swinton, J.—Ghost that he saw. (In Independent. v.53:2892-5. December 5, 1901).

Watkins, J. E.—Ghosts and visions that people have seen. (In Ladies' Home Journal. v.22:6. March, 1905.)

Wells, C.—Ghosts that have become fables. (In Century. v.39: 282-4.

Wayman, S.—Man in Black.

Wilkins, M. E.—Wind in the rose bush.

NEW YORK CITY.

The muncipal expenses of New York City are $14,700 each hour.

There are a great number of persons in New York City six years old than of any other age.

In fourteen apartment houses in the upper west side of Manhattan Island there are fifty-six dogs and eleven children.

There are now 79,000 cocaine users in New York City, according to figures compiled by a physician who makes a specialty of treating persons addicted to the habit.

New York City has more men in proportion who never did any real work in their lives than any other city in the world. They live by their wits, which means the lack of wit in others, lead all other classes. —New York Herald.

OLD FASHIONED.

What has become of the old fashioned man who signed "esquire" to his name?

What has become of the old fashioned church member who wouldn't go to a circus?

What has become of the old fashioned guest who sent word to "put his name in the pot?"

What has become of the old fashioned man who said of his enemy, "He's as crooked as a dog's hind leg?"—Atchison Globe.

William Carey, of New York, who has been engaged in the automobile business for many years, has succeeded Paul Gillett as manager of the Mitchell Motor Car Company.

A New York morning paper says there is a report from Paris that Miss Flora Wilson, the daughter of the secretary of agriculture, has decided to go upon the operatic stage and is studying under Jean de Reszke for that purpose.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Chambliss, of Chattanooga, Tenn., are visiting Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Chambliss, of Central avenue. Their daughter recently entered the Plainfield Seminary for young women.

DRIVER TELLS OF STRAIN.

Nervous Tension of Man at Wheel of Automobile.

The nervous tension under which the driver of an automobile racer labors has been graphically described by two Vanderbilt cup chauffeurs. Clement says: "When you first start, the ground seems to be rising up in front of you, as if to hit you in the face—that is, until you get your auto eyes adjusted. But even then there's always the thrill, and you haven't time for anything but the thrill and the watching of the long, narrow road in front. You haven't time to see what is on one side or the other. The people—that's about all you have on the sides in the Vanderbilt cup races—just seem to be a black-and-white border to the dark streak in front. Yes; you hear them shout, but by the time you realize it you are gone." And Wagner describes his sensations in Outing as follows: "Beginning the eleventh lap about eight minutes in the lead, the mental and physical strain became acute. My brain was in a dizzy whirl, and my hunger amounted almost to famine. But the price of victory was positive, when every minute counted. The constant crashing and lunging of the car, the vigilance required at the frequent turns, the haunting fear of fatalities, and the anxiety regarding tires and gasoline were an exhausting that we lost over two minutes on the eighth round. Hunger remorseless and fanged was gnawing, gnawing, gnawing with almost sinister persistency, as it seemed. So we began the ninth and final round."

WAS GIVEN WRONG STEER.

Cleveland Man the Victim of Mean Practical Joker.

A Cleveland (Ohio) man was coming down from Toledo the other day when he noticed a little crowd on a station platform and at once concluded it meant the departure of a bride and groom. The train only stopped for a minute or two but the Cleveland man had time to see a lot of handshaking, and then, as the train started, a young fellow on the platform thrust a card through the open window and said, "Say, old man, hand that to the couple who just got aboard, won't you?" The Cleveland man nodded and the train sped on. He looked at the card. It bore the word "Congratulations!" Then he went up the aisle to where the newcomers were seated and unlikely handed the card to the bridegroom. "What's this for?" growled the stranger. "Just married, aren't you?" the Cleveland man chuckled. "Just married?" roared the stranger. "Jim—Jim—Why, you miserable shrimp, me an' my wife here are havin' a spat at this very moment over what we are goin' to do with our 21-year-old son! Just married! You measly little—" But the Cleveland man had fled. And now he vows he'll never again be made a catspaw for another practical joker.

Two Historic Cabarets.

Two old Sevres cabarets, each with an interesting history of its own, will be included in the porcelain sale at Christie's, says a writer in the Pall Mall Gazette. The first, painted with festoons of flowers, was formerly the property of Marie Antoinette, and was given by Louise Lefevre, her valet de pied, to George Earl of Essex, and by him to Miss Fannie Kelly, the actress, in 1818, from whom it descended to the present owner, who is Miss Kelly's adopted daughter. The second, painted with musical and amatory trophies, was presented by George IV when Prince of Wales to Mrs. Robinson, the celebrated actress, and at the sale of her husband's effects was purchased by John Graham. In the same sale will be found a Chippendale mahogany bookcase, exquisitely carved, which was formerly at the Kensington palace, in the room in which George II. died.

Clinched.

The insurance agent had exhausted his arts. With tears welling from his eyes and in a voice quivering with emotion he had recited the harrowing tale of widow and orphans in dire distress through the untimely death of their thoughtless protector. But the farmer was unmoved. "Nope, I guess I'll not take any to-day," he said, and reached for his red bandanna. "But," said the wily agent, "with every policy goes an almanac, a plug of Greenville, a brass watch, an accordeon and a bottle of liver medicine, besides a brass band to head your funeral procession. "Gosh ding!" came the reply. "Give me one. Nobody can ever say Joshua Hay neglected the welfare of his loved ones."

The Kaiser and Mr. Carnegie.

During the first meeting of Emperor William and Andrew Carnegie on the deck of the Hohenzollern at Kiel, when there came a pause in the conversation, Mr. Carnegie, in a candid spirit of banter, said to the emperor: "You know, your majesty, that I never cared very much for kings." "But there was one king you cared a great deal for," said the emperor quickly. "And who was that?" demanded Mr. Carnegie. "Robert Bruce." "Your majesty is very right," laughed Mr. Carnegie. "Robert Bruce is buried in my town."

An Exhibition Stunt.

"Millipedes are the fourth and fifth pairs of head appendages of chilopods." "What's that to me?" "Nothing. I occasionally like to display a bit of knowledge that nobody else can possibly have."

WHEN WOMEN MEET.

"How do you like my new hat, Louise?"

"I think it is beautiful, Lucy."

"I am so glad you like it. You have such excellent taste."

"Yes, but er—I think that pink bow would look more chic on the right side instead of the left."

"Really, I—"

"And a white bird would be much more becoming than a gray bird."

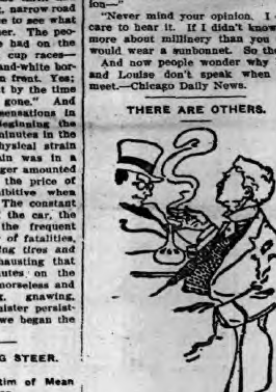
"A white bird? How odd you talk! Why—"

"And those beads! In my opinion—"

"Never mind your opinion. I don't care to hear it. If I didn't know any more about millinery than you do, I would wear a sunbonnet. So there!"

And now people wonder why Lucy and Louise don't speak when they meet.—Chicago Daily News.

THERE ARE OTHERS.



"Skinnem gave me a check the other day, and it was returned to me by the bank marked 'no funds.'"

"I always told you Skinnem was a no-account fellow."—Philadelphia Press.

Nothing Doing.

There was a man in our town,
Who was rather slow;
His business kept going down—
An advertiser? No.
—Chicago Daily News.

Proof.

"Does your husband love you?" we asked.

"Madly, devotedly!" she answered.

"Are you quite sure?"

"Quite. How can I doubt? He has shut me up here in this little cage of a place, where he expects me to spend all my time, with nobody's company but his own. If he does not love me, why does he take so much trouble to make me miserable?"

And there shone in her fine eyes the beautiful strong light of unshaken confidence.—Puck.

The Silver Lining.

"Terrible accident you had on your road," observed the sympathizing friend.

"Oh, not so bad," replied the railway president, cheerily. "You see, there ain't a single one can be identified except the engineer and a couple of firemen."—Puck.

A Pertinent Query.

Lady of the House—Why don't you go to work? Don't you know that a rolling stone gathers no moss? ?

Tramp—Madam, not to evade your question at all, but merely to obtain information, may I ask of what practical utility moss is to a man in my condition?

Bizby's Effort.

"Bizby said that when he was making that speech at the banquet the other night he was so rattled he didn't know what he was talking about."

"He may not have been rattled. Not a soul who heard him had the faintest idea of what he was talking about."—Chicago Journal.

Sure to Kill.

When the celebrated physician, Sir Henry Holland, told Sydney Smith that he had failed to kill either one of a brace of pheasants that had risen within easy range near the latter's home, the witty divine asked:

"Why did you not prescribe for them?"

After the Reward.

Lady—What is it, little boy?

Little Jim (carrying a cat)—I came to claim the reward you offered for the return of your canary.

Lady—But that is a cat.

Jim—Yes; but the canary is inside the cat.

Only to Pay the Bills.

Husband — Another new dress! Where do you suppose I shall get the money from to pay for it?

Wife—You must excuse me. I didn't marry you to give you financial advice.

Life as a Game.

"Life," remarked the sententious bachelor, "is like a game of cards."

"It's more like a game of chess from my point of view," rejoined the married man. "I invariably move once a year."—Chicago Daily News.

Poets Will Never Organize.

De Cash—Why don't you poets form a union?

Poet—Where would we get the money to pay our dues?—Judge.

Tied and Untied.

"Was their marriage a failure?"

"Oh, no. They were divorced before it had a chance to be that."—Judge.

MISS MARTIN'S WEDDING

Society Folk Witnesses Her Marriage to Henry David Bushnell.

A HARVARD MAN

Rev. Dr. Richards and Rev. Dr. Zelie Officiate at the Nuptial Ceremony.

Miss Helen Sprague Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sprague Martin, of Hillside avenue, and Henry David Bushnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Bushnell, of Central avenue, were married Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. The edifice was thronged with society folk from New York, Brooklyn, Pittsburg and other distant points, as well as this city, over a thousand invitations having been issued to the wedding. Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, formerly pastor of the church, but now of the Brick Presbyterian church, New York, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, the pastor. The Episcopal form of service was used.

The bride wore a costume of white satin, trimmed with lace and clustered orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Elsie Cochran Martin, as maid of honor, whose gown was white satin chiffon. She wore a white picture hat and carried white carnations. The bridesmaids were the Misses Emily Pierrepont Gould, of New York; Helen Frances Buchnell, Ruth Morgan Tenney and Mary Tilney Wadsworth, all of this city. They wore white satin striped chiffon and they wore blue Gainsborough hats. They carried shower bouquets of white carnations.

Mr. Bushnell had for his best man Charles Case, of this city, and the ushers were Albert Boyden and Frederick Case, of New York; David Mitchell, of Pittsburg; William Donaldson, of St. Louis, and Francis Augustus Martin, a brother of the bride.

Miss Ethel Bushnell presided at the organ and he gave a program of classical selections prior to the ceremony. The Lohengrin wedding march was played as the bridal party entered the church. The ushers led the way, followed by the Rev. Dr. Richards, bridesmaids and the bride, accompanied by her father, who gave her away in marriage. At the altar they were met by the groom and his best man. The assemblage of guests remained standing throughout the entire ceremony. Afterward the order was reversed as the party left the church, Mr. and Mrs. Bushnell leading, followed by the other members of the party.

The church was handsomely decorated for the wedding, there being an elaborate arrangement of palms, ferns and chrysanthemums banked about the pulpit platform and altar. The prevailing colors were green and white and it was very effective.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the handsome home of the bride's parents on Hillside avenue, where more than 250 guests assembled to offer their congratulations to the bride and groom. The home was decorated with American Beauty roses, palms, roses and chrysanthemums. During the reception hours supper was served. After congratulations the guests were afforded an opportunity to see the display of costly wedding gifts received by the bride. It comprised nearly everything that a heart could wish for and has seldom been equaled in value and variety in this city.

Enjoyment was added to the occasion by the rendition of a popular program of music by an orchestra, and later in the evening the young people had a dance.

The bride has been a leader among the younger set. The groom is also prominent in the social circles of Pittsburg and New Yor. He is a graduate of Harvard, class of 1898, and is a practicing lawyer in Pittsburg. Mr. and Mrs. Bushnell will spend their honeymoon in the Berkshire Hills, and will be at home at 1131 North St. Claire street, Pittsburg, after November 20.

DEFENDS AMERICAN SABBATH

(Continued from page 1.)

oronsly resent any attempt to repeal the Blakeley law because it gives them privileges and opportunities for rest and social pleasure which they had not previously enjoyed. The State Constitution declares among other things in defining the rights of the people the benefits of pursuing the obtaining safety and happiness. The pursuit of safety and happiness when applied to society as a whole is more complete in the observance than in the desecration of the Sabbath. The Republican candidate for Governor has clearly defined his position regarding the Bishops' bill and so have the candidates for Assembly from Union county. Should they not receive the support of all in favor of upholding the high standard of civic righteousness?"

Former Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. W. L. Mauldin, of Greenville, S. C., have returned home after a visit with Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Chambliss, of Central avenue.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST

VOL. XXXIX PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1907. NO. 45.

"Support the Constitution, which is the Cement of the Union, as well as its Limitations as in its Authorities."—Madison.

PUBLIC COMMISSION SHOULD MANAGE HOSPITAL IF PEOPLE ARE TO BE TAXED FOR ITS BENEFIT

Former Mayor Buckle Takes that View and Former Senator Reed Agrees With Him—Former Mayor Randolph and Wm. M. Stillman Agree With A. H. Atterbury.

SOME STRONG PROTESTS

Prominent Citizens Arouse the Voters to the Importance of the Question to Be Submitted At the Polls Tuesday.

In the fight to elect the county and State tickets, local voters have almost lost sight of the fact that on Tuesday next a proposition will be submitted to the people to include Muhlenberg Hospital in the city tax budget. The scheme is to levy a tax of one-third of a mill on the $100. Aside from the fact that it is a serious question whether such an innovation would be legal, some compromise and unjust under present conditions.

Muhlenberg Hospital.

Mr. Randolph's Objection.

When former Mayor J. W. Randolph's attention was called to the argument of Albert H. Atterbury against the scheme presented through the columns of this paper, he warmly approved of Mr. Atterbury's stand.

"I consider it an unfortunate proposition. It is not in harmony with the true genius of republican institutions. It would be a departure leading on to other errors in the direction of loading the taxpayers with burdens they should not bear. On its moral merits, it might be worthier than some of the taxes now imposed, but on principle we cannot afford to agree to such departures.

"It is no more according to the sense of our democratic plan of government to support hospitals by tax, than to support in the same fashion hotels, or trolley lines, or Sunday-schools. They are all good and must be provided for by private enterprise. If we force into our tax system expenses not suitable thus to be raised, if we oblige property owners to disgorge whether they will or not, money needed for general utility or for public charity, we shall in no very long time find this whole scheme of taxation tumbling about our heads, and our government's credit in ruin.

"Our municipal government already goes much too far in imposing taxes. Our taxes are increasing by leaps and bounds. The condition is burdensome, the tendency is disastrous. No taxpayer likes it, but the taxpayer lacks organization, and the 'organization' bleeds the taxpayer. If it were the last thing I were saying to my fellow citizens in the town in which my childhood was passed and most of my life has been spent, I would say once more, throw off the yoke, reconstitute your party, and let economy, ability and honesty prevail. Decrease the burden of taxation and let there be no more piling up of municipal indebtedness to hang as a shadow against the sunlight of the city's hopes."

Mr. Buckle's Plan.

Former Mayor James F. Buckle, who has had some experience as a member of the Hospital's Board of Governors, today declared himself as opposed to the proposition on its face.

To me it looks like 'taxation without representation,'" he said. "The hospital is a fine charity but I don't believe in using public money for such a purpose when the city has no voice in its management. My plan is that the hospital to get public funds should be controlled by the city. A commission of say five members should be appointed in place of the present private board and the nominations should be made by the Mayor subject to the approval of the Common Council. A small body of managers accountable to the city would be far better. I don't care how few they make it; only let it be managed by the city. There is no justification for an argument that it would become a political body any more than there is to charge the Board of Education with being a political commission. That's my idea of it and/ I expressed my views at a meeting of the city commission the other night when the subject was considered."

Mr. Reed Approves Plan.

Former State Senator Charles Arthur Reed took the same view practically. Like Mayor Buckle he is in hearty sympathy with the plan to obtain general support for the institution, but he does not believe that taxation should be used for such purposes unless the municipal authorities have a voice in its management.

"It ought to be run like a bank; have a board of nine or less members and let the city name the members too. Under present conditions only a few citizens give much support to the hospital although all are permitted to share in its benefits. It is a very worthy institution and deserved support from the city treasury, but as I say I think that its management should be under the control of the city at the same time. No, I don't think politics would have any effect. I would not like to see that and I don't think it would occur. But I do think, just as Mayor Buckle does, that there should be a public commission or in other words that the people should have a voice in its management."

Mr. Pearson Urges Tax.

Edward C. Pearson, of 817 Second place, takes the opposite view. In a communication to The Daily Press he says:

"The point of Mr. Atterbury's objection to an increase of the city's contribution seems to be that a hospital in its nature is necessarily a charitable institution, and that it should be supported solely by individual gifts. This does not seem to me will taken. In many of the cities of the United States hospitals are public charges, and there is no good reason why the collective action of society for the aid and betterment of those incapable in whole or part to provide for themselves should not take this direction as well as many another which no one thinks of challenging. Besides it is not proposed to 'saddle' the support of the hospital on the city, as Mr. Atterbury elegantly expresses it; far from it.

"There is no danger that money raised by taxes will be applied by the hospital authorities to the care of patients who are able to pay for its advantages. The small amount which is asked for will not pauperize the in*stitution, nor should it result in any* diminution of individual contributions. Divided among the taxpayers the amount added to each one will be so small as to be inappreciable. The citizens of Plainfield are justly proud of the hospital and its work, and I fancy there is no one will be deterred by Mr. Atterbury's long argument from voting favorably on the proposition to increase the amount to be annually paid by the city towards its maintenance."

Mr. Pearson Will Vote.

If Mr. Pearson will carefully read Mr. Atterbury's letter he will find that the argument is made that the hospital here is a private charity; not a public one like Bellevue Hospital in New York.Ed.]

Mr. Stillman's Views.

"I would respectfully protest against the city of Plainfield aiding Muhlenberg Hospital by raising an annual sum for its support by taxties have a voice in its management.

"It ought to be run like a bank; have a board of nine or less members and let the city name the members too. Under present conditions only a few citizens give much support to the hospital although all are permitted to share in its benefits. It is a very worthy institution and deserved support from the city treasury, but as I say I think that its management should be under the control of the city at the same time. No, I don't think politics would have any effect. I would not like to see that and I don't think it would occur. But I do think, just as Mayor Buckle does, that there should be a public commission or in other words that the people should have a voice in its management."

Mr. Pearson Urges Tax.

Edward C. Pearson, of 817 Second place, takes the opposite view. In a communication to The Daily Press he says:

"The point of Mr. Atterbury's objection to an increase of the city's *contribution seems to be that a hos*pital in its nature is necessarily a charitable institution, and that it should be supported solely by individual gifts. This does not seem to me will taken. In many of the cities of the United States hospitals are public charges, and there is no good reason why the collective action of society for the aid and betterment of those incapable in whole or part to provide for themselves should not take this direction as well as many another which no one thinks of challenging. Besides it is not proposed to 'saddle' the support of the hospital on the city, as Mr. Atterbury elegantly expresses it; far from it.

"There is no danger that money raised by taxes will be applied by the hospital authorities to the care of patients who are able to pay for its advantages. The small amount which is asked for will not pauperize the in*stitution, nor should it result in any* diminution of individual contributions. Divided among the taxpayers the amount added to each one will be so small as to be inappreciable. The citizens of Plainfield are justly proud of the hospital and its work, and I fancy there is no one will be deterred by Mr. Atterbury's long argument from voting favorably on the proposition to increase the amount to be annually paid by the city towards its maintenance."

[If Mr. Pearson will carefully read Mr. Atterbury's letter he will find that the argument is made that the hospital here is a private charity; not a public one like Bellevue Hospital in New York.Ed.]

Mr. Stillman's Views.

"I would respectfully protest against the city of Plainfield aiding Muhlenberg Hospital by raising an annual sum for its support by tax-

(Continued on page 8.)

DIRECT PRIMARIES A LAW

Provision for Popular Election of the United States Senators on Statute Books.

A DOZEN BILLS SIGNED

Important Bills Sanctioned by Stokes Were New Idea Measures—Publicity for Contract Bids.

Governor Stokes signed yesterday a dozen bills passed at the last session of the Legislature. Among them were the measures providing for the popular choice of United States Senators, and for the nomination of candidates for office by direct vote of the people at the primaries. Both were New Idea measures, finally passed on the last night of the session.

The direct primary law was a committee substitute for the two bills introduced by Senator Colby and Senator Hinchliffe. The Colby bill provided that the direct primary system should be applicable to the selection of candidates for Governor, Presidential electors, Representatives and delegates to a constitutional convention, as well as to other elective county and municipal officers. The committee substitute eliminated from its provisions those officers. It provides that when petitions of not less than one hundred voters are filed for a candidate for a county office his name shall be printed on the official ballot, and on a petition of not less than fifty voters the name of a candidate for a municipal office shall also be printed on the ballot. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes at the *primaries is to be de*clared the party nominee.

Senator Colby on the last day of the session introduced the bill signed yesterday providing for a popular expression in the selection of United States Senators. It provides that not fewer than one thousand voters of a political party may file a petition with the Secretary of State indorsing any member of their party as a candidate for United States Senator. In filing the acceptance of the candidate for State Senator or Assemblyman a candidate may sign and file a copy of one of two statements. The first of these pledges him, regardless of personal preference, to vote for the candidate for United States Senator who receives the highest number of votes in his party at the primary election in the county, and the second pledges him to vote for the candidate receiving the highest number of votes in the party in the State.

Ripper Bill Amendment Signed.

The Governor also signed Assemblyman Sullivan's bill amending the so-called Jersey City ripper act by eliminating from its provisions the financial officers of Jersey City and Newark. The original ripper bill made the terms of all city officials expire contemporaneously with those of the Mayor. It was designed primarily to end the terms of all the present city officials of Jersey City in the event of the Fagan administration being terminated.

Another bill signed by the Governor was designed to make the National Guard law of the State conform in the provisions of the Dick military bill, in order that the State might continue to benefit from the payment of the appropriations for its militia provided for in the Dick measure. To do this it was necessary that the law should be amended prior to a certain date in next January. It was discovered, however, immediately after the Governor signed the bill yesterday, that there is no provision making it take effect immediately. Under the State constitution all laws, unless otherwise specified, become effective on July 4 following the date of their approval. The new law will, therefore, apparently fail in its purpose.

The Governor also signed the following bills:

By Mr. Robbins, providing that all contracts for State work exceeding $500 shall be advertised for.

By Mr. Bradley, appropriating $10,000 for operating the new electric plant now being installed in the dental house in the State Prison.

By Mr. Bradley, validating the resolutions under which the Senate and House appointed separately investigating committees and authorizing the committees to sit after the adjournment of the Legislature, and to exercise all the powers conferred upon them by the resolutions under which they were created.

By Mr. Silzer, amending the school law by providing for the filling of vacancies on boards of school estimate.

By Mr. Barber, making it a misdemeanor to aid any inmate of the State Home for Girls in escaping from the institution.

—Neuman Brothers' store is the place to get apples. They have a large assortment of Kings, Baldwins, greenings and Northern Spies.

MANDY DUNHAM THREATENS TO USE A PISTOL AGAIN

Mrs. Mandy Dunham, a well-known colored woman, appeared in the city court this morning to prefer charges of assault and disorderly conduct against her son, George Cline.

"It's hard to have your boy arrested," she said to Judge Runyon, "but he certainly is a bad one and if the police don't take hold of him I'll be compelled to do what I did once before."

"What was that?" Judge Runyon asked.

"Why, I shot him," Mandy exclaimed with a toss of her head. "Deed I did, Judge. I put a bullet right into his body and they had me in jail at Elizabeth for it, but friends got me out. He pestered and pounded me."

Mandy received assurance from His Honor that the undutiful George would be apprehended and punished sufficiently to satisfy her that she won't have to use a pistol again.

GIFT OF LOVING CUP AT GOLDEN WEDDING

The celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. N. Groendyke last evening, at their home on Mercer avenue was an occasion full of reminiscent and present charm. It recalled the marriage of David Nevius Groendyke, of New York, and Jennie Hegeman, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hegeman, at Lamington, N. J., October 29, 1857.

The beautiful home last evening, appropriately decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and enlivened with strains of music from a violin and harp, made a pretty setting for the groups of relatives and old time friends who presented their congratulations to the bride and groom of 1857.

The affair was a surprise arranged by the family of Mr. and Mrs. Groendyke, and a pleasant surprise to them was the presentation of a gold loving cup containing fifty exquisite roses, the gift of intimate friends for many years. James R. Joy made the presentation in a speech full of happy allusions and congratulatory wishes. Supper was served at small tables. Relatives from New York, New Germantown, Cranford, Bethlehem and Somerville were present.

PIANO FOR COUPLE THIRTY YEARS WED

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Snyder, Jr., of 20 Bank place, celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of their wedding, last night, a feature of which was the presentation of a player piano. During the evening there were piano solos by Mrs. Henry Phillips, Miss Ulma McCormick, Bert Harold, Harold Cook; cornet solos by Benjamin LaVere; violin solos by Albert Naylor; vocal solos by Mrs. Benjamin Snyder and Harold Willard; selections on the player piano by A. E. Willard and monologues by Henry Phillips.

The celebrants received many handsome gifts, including berry sets, fruit dises, china, etc. Mr. Snyder presented his wife with a sapphire and diamond ring. The piano was a Mathushek & Son instrument.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Seyffer, of Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mellick, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Tier, Edward Bennett, M. F. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. E. Willard, Bert Harold, Benjamin LaVere, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Phillips, Mrs. A. McCormick, Miss Ulma McCormick, Harold Willard, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Dutterhofer, Harold Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Terry, Albert Naylor and Emerick Spitzer. Supper was served at 12 o'clock.

Thrown by Trolley Car.

*Howard Manning, of Grant ave*nue, attempted to board a swiftly moving trolley car opposite police headquarters last night. He caught hold of the handle but was jerked from his feet and thrown almost to the sidewalk. Sergeant Overbaugh assisted him in recovering his equilibrum and found that beyond a few bruises he was unhurt.

Levy's Harvest Sale.

A few of the many bargains: Ladies' all wool dress skirts; $1.50; ladies' panama skirts with two silk folds, $2.98; misses' cloaks, newest styles, $1.98, $2.98, $3.98; ladies' ten-dollar long cloaks, $5.98; all wool fifty-cent dress goods, 39c; dollar broad cloth, 75c. ***

—Lost, in Plainfield or North Plainfield, plush robe, green on one side, yellow on other side. Liberal reward if returned to E. S. Hooley, 70 Rockview avenue. ***

DEMOCRAT TALKS EXCISE

Prof. Daniels, of Princeton Univ, Says Republicans are Evading the Real Issues.

BOROUGH'S BIG RALLY

Somerset County Democrats Appear Before Local Voters—Swackhamer Speaks.

Because of incompleted arrangements for the transportation of Senator George Sitzer, of Middlesex, from Woodbridge, where he spoke before a meeting early last night, to the borough, the North Plainfield Democrats did not hear the bright young legislator at the mass meeting in Saengerbund hall last night. Professor W. F. Daniels, of Princeton University, was on hand, however, and he made a ringing speech. Walter C. Linbarger opened the meeting and introduced Former Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer as chairman. Aside from the speakers of the evening, who included Professor Danniels, Frank Allen, the candidate for Assembly; William Lindsley, the candidate for Surrogate, and Frank Rosa, the candidate for Sheriff, there was a majority of the local candidates present, and many leading Democrats in the audience.

The principal speaker of the evening, Prof. Daniels, in his address alluded to the excise question at length, saying that it was really a side issue of the campaign, but was brought into undue prominence by the Republicans to hide the more important issues of the campaign. "The main question of this election to my mind," he said, "is this: Are the people of New Jersey to rule themselves, or are they to be ruled by unlawful corporations and combinations of corrupt schemers? Voters must think carefully of this and act with utmost seriousness of consideration at the polls."

In his speech, which was interrupted from time to time with enthusiastic applause, Professor Daniels touched up many of the leading issues of the campaign. He spoke at the outset of Mr. Katzenbach, the party candidate for Governor, saying that he had known the candidate the two had been in Princeton together and had watched his career with pride and satisfaction. He spoke of the man's electrifying effect upon the voters and of the popularity he gives evidence of. His main theme was a discussion of the abuses in the various State departments, and he went into the subject at length. He said, in speaking of the State asylum trouble and the investigation at the Rahway reformatory, that the Republican party is responsible for such long continued and gross abuse of official power and dwelt upon the connivances of the party to retain incompetent and corrupt officials in office. He stated that there was a good deal of graft in connection with these institutions, and cited instances and statistics in support of this statement. He spoke of the fact that party politicians are in some cases holding two or more offices and read a list of such officials who draw salaries for more than single important political job.

Adverting upon the use of voting machines was of a nature to prove it obnoxious to both parties and he stated that the machine method of casting the ballot should be done away with. He spoke of the expense involved in the *purchase of such ma*chines, and cited incidents to show the inaccuracy of them, which practically amounted to a disfranchisement of the voter. He said that the rapid increase in taxes was in a measure due to the creation of many new offices by the Republicans to provide for political favorites, and spoke of the influencial "pulls" held by the railroads and corporations, stating that the legislature was watched by representatives of these industries, who defeated or put through bills to benefit their own interests.

Horace Coddington gave a brief outline of the history of the Republican party, citing distinct instances of the abuse of power and waste of public money and the enactment of laws injurious to the State. He said that the politicians are building up a dangerous coalition at the State capital and among the henchmen and managers of the Republican party. He attempted to show that if the people of the State should vote to continue the Republican organization in power after the disclosures that have been made and the abuses in the various State departments shown to exist, it would be an invitation to the wrong-doers to continue the practices, and stated that if the voters sanction this practice they have no grounds for complaint. He stated that the expenses of the State government had advanced from a half million to nearly five millions since the party has been in power. A large part of this increase, he said, is due to the creation of unnecessary boards and commissions, the salaries

(Continued on page 4.)

OPENING RECEPTION AT THE PARK CLUB

The opening reception marking the resumption of social activities at the Park Club attracted a large number of society people from the city and borough, last night. The younger set seemed to be largely in the majority, while there was noted an absence of many of the older members of the club who heretofore have been prominent in affairs at the club. This was due to some extent to several other social events occurring at the same time.

The clubhouse was prettily decorated for the occasion, there being a profusion of clematis, while palms and ferns added to the general beauty of the scene. It was expected that a representation from the Yale Glee Club would be present to give a program of music, but this could not be arranged and in place of the college boys, Brown's famous colored quartet enlivened the affair with a popular program to the delight of all present.

During the early part of the evening, which was devoted to the reception features, the wives of the governors received, among whom were Mrs. George D. Hallock, Mrs. B. Van-D. Hedges, Mrs. J. B. Betts, Mrs. Clifford W. McGee and Mrs. Townsend Rushmore.

After the reception the rest of the evening was devoted to dancing, music being furnished by von Der Heid, of Newark. The dancing was continued until a late hour, there being an intermission for the serving of refreshments. The affair was planned and given under the auspices of the entertainment committee of which Harry McGee is the chairman.

MORE COMPLAINTS MADE AGAINST PADRONE PERIG

Despite the fact that he received a warning Monday morning to change his method of boarding laborers at exorbitant rates and turning them adrift without money, it appears that *Serafino Perig, the Lake street pa*drone, is still pursuing the same tactics. Four more of his "bonded men" visited police headquarters this morning and charged that he had held up the wages due them and had then driven them away. One of the complainants is a German, who stood by Perig in the city court Monday, and asserted that his methods of doing business were all right.

"I don't like that kind of having this business coming up continually," Judge Runyon remarked, "and I think we had better have Perig down here and settle it once and for all."

He gave instructions to the police to take the four complainants back to the Lake street lodging place for shelter tonight and to notify the padrone to appear in court tomorrow. Perig has been securing the laborers for the East End sewer contract, held by Foster Callahan, and practically has control of the hiring and discharging. Callahan has nothing to do with them beyond paying Perig a stated wage per day for each man.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL.

Under the auspices of the Young People's Society of the First Baptist church a Hallowe'en social and entertainment was held in the lecture room of the church, last night. The affair was arranged by the entertainment committee, of which Miss Helen Armstrong is the chairman. Miss Marguerite Serrell is the chairman of the refreshment committee, and pumpkin and apple pies, crullers and coffee were served last night.

The first part of the evening was devoted to playing all sorts of Hallowe'en games and everyone had a jolly good time. Afterward an informal program of music was enjoyed. This included piano duets by Dr. and Mrs. J. Hervey Buchanan and the singing of popular songs by the young people. There was an unusually large attendance of young folks and the social was a great success.

Euchre Club Reorganizes.

The Friday Evening Euchre Club, which was prominent in social affairs last winter, has again organized for the coming season and will meet in the Camera Club rooms Friday night. A prize euchre will be held and light refreshments and dancing will follow. All previous members of the club's former organization are invited to attend. Nominations for officers will be in order and the election will follow on the succeeding Friday. The present arrangements are in charge of Arthur B. Deens, Lloyd Van Middlesworth, Mrs. LeRoy Woolley and Miss Mabel Gano.

Henry L. Hall, of Netherwood, has returned from a business trip to Washington.

KATZENBACH SPEAKS HERE THIS AFTERNOON

The Democrats' Gubernatorial Nominee Tours Through Union County Today.

HE ARRIVES AT 5 P. M.

To Address Pond's Men and Then to Talk in Front of the Hotel Kensington.

Following closely the whirlwind automobile tour of J. Franklin Fort and other Republican nominees, yesterday, Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, in company with the party's spellbinders and county candidates, are making a similar tour of Union county today. The gubernatorial candidate and his party will arrive in Plainfield at 5 o'clock and will visit the Pond Machine Tool Works, where the nominee for Governor will address the men employed at that large plant. Returning he, together with other speakers, will address a meeting to be held in front of the Hotel Kensington at 7:30.

The tour began this morning, the party holding the first meeting at Roselle Park at 10:30. A half hour later another meeting was held at Linden, and at 11:30 the gubernatorial nominee addressed a large crowd at Cranford. The party reached Garwood at 12:10, just after the large factories closed down for the noon hour and it proved an opportune time for the candidates to meet and talk to the army of men employed there. From Garwood the party went to Westfield, where a large number of people were addressed at 12:40. A stop was also made there for dinner. Continuing the tour a meeting was held at Mountainside at 2 o'clock, another at Springfield at 2:30, one at Union at 3 o'clock, still another at Lyons Farm at 3:30 and one at Kenilworth at 4 o'clock. The last stopping place on the tour was Scotch Plains, where Mr. Katzenbach spoke at 4:30. In every town there were just as many out to hear the Democratic candidate as there were to hear the Republicans yesterday and there was much enthusiasm. Mr. Katzenbach emphasized the important issues of the campaign, reiterating his previous statement that the excise question should not be overshadowed by other more important issues. He said that it was up to the people to elect the kind of legislators who would enact laws best suited to their needs.

Leaving Scotch Plains the party came directly to Plainfield, where they remained after supper. Mass meetings will be held tonight at Rahway and Elizabeth, Mr. Katzenbach being scheduled to speak at each place.

Y. M. C. A. Entertainment.

Carman's Italian boys' orchestra and Elbert Foland, a reader and impersonator, of Scotch Plains, N. J., last night in the first entertainment of the Star Course of association attractions for the winter. The auditorium was well filled and the various numbers well received. Special applause was elicited by the violin solo, "Il Trovatore," by Paolo Votto, a boy in the orchestra. He showed excellent power of expression. Foland's numbers were popular, especially his impersonations.

Brothers to Form Partnership.

Robert Schreiner, who has been employed by L. W. Randolph, the West Front street druggist, for a number of years as head clerk, will soon resign his position there to form a partnership with his brother, Bertholde J. Schreiner, who conducts a pharmacy at Park avenue and Second street. Schreiner has made a great many friends during his employment at Randolph's pharmacy, both with patrons and the trade.

Game Warden's Commission Revoked.

Freeman Straight, formerly game warden in North Plainfield, has had his commission revoked, and he no longer holds the position. This action was largely due to his activity in attempting to collect evidence from neighbors to the effect that W. J. Buttfield permitted his dogs to run at large at certain seasons of the year which is against the law. Mayor N. B. Smalley interested himself in the case in behalf of Mr. Buttfield.

Russell Stewart, of Randolph's pharmacy, who has been detained at home as the result of injury to his hands, has returned to work again.

HIS MASTER'S VOICE.

FORT ON EXCISE.

Facing All Ways, He Gets Into an Awful Pickle.

AMAZING PLATFORM STUNTS.

Boards the Excise Lion in the Places Where He is Not, but Stands on Tiptoe Over the Places Where He May Be—Saloon Men and Teetotalers Alike Wonder Where He Stands.

Newark—Here in Essex, where ex-Judge Fort's home is, a considerable element does not regard the closed Sunday with particular favor, and the air is suffused with "personal liberty" talk. With the vanity of locality that moves every Essex man to call his county the "state of Essex," he imagined that the sentiment right around him was the voice of the whole commonwealth. The designation of the Republican convention that put him in nomination for the governorship in favor of the bishops' excise law struck him amidships, and he was in a hopeless state of bewilderment when he was summoned before the gathering to tell the bosses how proud he was to have been chosen. How he wondered about to find a way out the whole state saw.

In one breath he told the convention that he was in favor of all the pretty planks in the platform (the declaration for the bishops' law among them, of course) and in the next that he was devoted to the policy of "home rule." In an interview at his East Orange home a day or two later he explained that his home rule pronouncements was made with special reference to the excise question. Home rule as it is understood in Essex means the settling of the open Sunday agitation by a referendum. If the liberals can outvote the Sabbatarians Sunday selling is to be permitted. If the Sabbatarians outvote the liberals the bars are to be closed as tight as drums.

The state looked askance at the judge's straddle. The good people of the Methodist church up on Walnut street, East Orange, whom he serves as a deacon, construed him wholly in the light of his home rule announcement; the only thing the liberals saw was his indorsement of the Republican state convention's reaffirmation of the bishops' law. Finding himself cuffed on both sides because of his dual attitude, Mr. Fort concluded that he must frame something more diplomatic and adroit to say and, sparring for time to think it out, told the anxious community to "wait till Friday night. When I will tell you all just what I shall do in excise matters." Friday night saw a great throng of people at the Krueger auditorium to drink in the fateful words of the oracle. So intense was the interest that the fall of a pin would have sounded like the thump of a trip hammer in the dead silence of the hall.

He talked about the bishops' bill. Wasn't it fine to shut out the wicked little side room? Why, of course! Who could say a word against that? Sure, too, how it made the saloon keep at a respectful distance from the church and the school! Wasn't that admirable? Why, of course! Perhaps it was a trifle harsh in the clause making the owner of a building share with the bar man the responsibility for violations of the terms of the act. He might make an effort to have that modified. And then—"But what of the open Sunday?" the impatient throng asked in mental silence. Why, just nothing! Not a word about it! Ten minutes later he made a reference to home rule, but it was so far separated in the address from the bishops' law references that the most charitable stretch of imagination could find no excuse for linking the two.

Since he left the platform from which he made this second attempt to befog the voters of the great county of Essex his apologists have insisted that he intended to have the excise and the home rule paragraphs in his speech correlate and that he is really in favor of the referendum, through which some of them hope to take the ban off the Sunday bar.

Leaving Newark in this state of perplexing uncertainty, the candidate's whirlwind tour took him into Burlington county. There he ran full butt into a community of teetotalers who are clamoring for local option as a means of wiping the saloons entirely off the face of the earth. It did not take him long to find out that the home rule propaganda that might open the saloons on Sundays would never go down there at all, and he descanted more freely on the beauties of the bishops' law. As he sped to other south Jersey towns he found the temperance sentiment growing thicker and more prevalent. He began now to think the state was as hot for temperance as when in Newark he thought it hot for the saloon, and in a burst of enthusiasm he finally confided to a rural audience his absolute sympathy with all of the aims and purposes of the bishops' law and with all the methods it provided for enforcing them, screens and all. That was so far away from Essex that he may have thought they would never hear of his new front up there. But there are long distance phones, and he scarcely let the excise cat out of the bag before all of Essex had its arms open to catch it.

Even after he had turned his face to the north again he swept along through other localities not unfavorable to temperance legislation, and he kept on thundering for the bishops' law. But as he approached New Brunswick he found the teetotal atmosphere getting a bit calm, and the chill in the air admonished him that he was uncomfortably close to the liberal zone again. Still he felt that he might risk another speech before his New Brunswick audience, but then he wanted it understood that he would not have another word to say for it in all the rest of the campaign, and he told its hearers so.

There were two meetings just ahead in Essex—one at the Indian league, the second with the Arlington board of trade. He could valiantly go hunting with Krupp guns in the south Jersey farms for the excise lion, where he was not, but what city gammon of a politician would think of bearding the dreadful beast in his Essex den? Not he, at any rate. He was at both the meetings and made a speech at each. If there was a place where the discussion of the excise issue would have seen opportune and just the thing, it was right there. Eager hundreds strained necks and ears for what he had to say upon it, but there was never a whisper before he whirled away again into the farming districts of Union.

So, while all the state knows just what Judge Fort would do with the bishops' law for the south Jersey teetotalers, he has left everybody in a state of perspiring uncertainty as to what he would do with it for the Essex liberals, and there the story of his platform stunts with the question ends, because he has said that it is the end of them.

The only crumb of comfort the Essex liberals can find in it all is the dismal crumb that may be hidden in his Arlington hall references. They are fortified in their belief that he will be liberal with the Sunday bar man by his attitude toward the temperance element that under the lead of John Y. Foster strove to force the Republican state convention of 1889 to declare for local option. Fort led the saloon men's opposition to the incorporation of a plank of that tenor in the convention's platform, and so as to make assurance of its defeat doubly sure hid himself made the chairman of the convention. That was the convention that nimed General Grubb against Abbett. It was openly said at the time that he was the counsel of the State Liquor Dealers' association. Two or three years before the liquor men had been given a great fright by the local option elections in several counties and had only then succeeded in repealing that sensational temperance bill.

But the story of Judge Fort's participation in the work of that convention is whispered around by his advocates only in the counties in which the liberal sentiment is active. The judge's friends are not saying anything about it in Cumberland or Burlington, for instance. It might weaken the faith of the people down there in *him as a temperance idol, and mean*while he is playing the other end of the string with frantic energy. He has himself gone to considerable pains to make a bid for the support of the church people of two denominations. In several interviews he has told how he is one of the shining lights of the Methodist church, and how his wife's connection with the Presbyterian church and her attendance with her there makes him feel at home among the people of that faith as among those of his own denomination. Cornelius Walsh, the Newark trunk manufacturer who counted on the Methodist church to land him in the governorship over Parker in 1871, never made a more open effort to drag the church into politics. And these interviews were supplemented a few days ago by an effort on the part of one of the judge's ministerial admirers to rush through the Reformed church classis at its meeting here last week a resolution specifically indorsing his candidacy. Happily the resolution aroused a storm of protests on the part of other members of the classis that made its introducer glad to withdraw it.

Mr. Fort is a skilled horseback politician, but he will have the time of his life to keep astride the sizzling of excise horses he has so specta-cularly rushed into the arena.

CAMPAIGN OBSERVATIONS.

Some Thoughts Pertinent to the Issues at Stake.

Senator Colby is rapidly losing all his political standing in Essex county. His support of the entire Republican ticket is the latest blunder for which he will have to apologize humbly some day. Thousands of independent citizens of Essex county had followed his leadership without question. They believed that the mistakes he had made were mistakes of the head and not of the heart. Now the situation has changed. Colby's utterances against the gang in control of the Republican party were regarded as sincere, and those who trusted him believed that the only logical thing for him to do was to give battle to the gang in the Republican state convention and, if defeated, walk out of the Taylor Opera House as the leader of a movement to save the state. The Wet Idea army was marched to Trenton ready and willing to go into battle, but the battle proved to be merely a crash of tin to cover up a surrender. The crisis passed, and Colby had led his army into captivity.

Now rebellion is afoot. Colby's followers resent their betrayal. They resent the alliance with the old gang, and it is freely whispered that they were sold out for a mess of pottage—the promise of the old gang to Colby that he could be renominated for senator next year without opposition.

* *

Candidate Fort has not yet extricated himself from the peculiar position in which he stands in relation to the Republican state platform and the platform of the Essex county Republicans. To be consistent, logical and sincere he must reject either one or the other. The state platform is an indorsement of the bishops' bill. The Essex county platform is the reverse and declares for legislation "which will permit the people in the various municipalities to direct by their votes at the polls how the question shall be regulated by their respective excise authorities."

Fort says he is for the bishops' bill. Therefore he must be against the Essex county platform. If he is sincere and honest, how can he continue to support the candidates for assembly *nominated on the Essex county plat*form? He knows that the Essex county candidates, as their platform declares, will if elected stand for something directly opposed to the state platform. He has declared it his solemn intention to stand for the bishops' bill. Therefore why doesn't he repudiate the Republican ticket in Essex?

If on election day Fort votes for the Republican assembly candidates in Essex county, he votes to submit the question of Sunday liquor selling to the people. How can he do that and still declare that he wants the bishops' bill maintained?

It is up to Fort.

WHAT CHANCE HAS VOTER?

Among the chief counselors engaged by Chairman Franklin Murphy to assist the Republican state committee in formulating campaign plans are Colonel Samuel D. Dickinson, David Baird and Daniel S. Voorhees. To bosses of that ilk are to be intrusted the welfare of the Republican party in the contest now in progress.

If men of this kind are to dictate what shall be done in the campaign, it must be taken for granted that they will continue to control in governmental affairs after election, provided they succeed in leading the party to victory, says the Newark News.

The selection of these men is a direct slap in the face to decency and self respect. It demonstrates an absolute lack of sincerity on the part of the party leaders. How much confidence can be placed in professions of reform in the face of this evidence?—Long Branch Press.

BUT HE DID NOT SIT DOWN.

"The very gist of this whole movement can be solved by this direct primary law," Senator Colby continued. "I want to tell you that if the senate attempts to turn down that bill on the day after tomorrow I will sit down. But that bill is passed there is not a man in this room who will take off his coat and work harder than I."—From the Newark Evening News of Oct. 1 in Report of Speech by Senator Colby.

FORT AS THE CANDIDATE OF MORALITY.

Mr. Fort makes the claim that he stands for all parties with a moral issue. Now, consider that he chooses his own executive committee to arrange his campaign. Consider who the personnel of that committee. It is composed of Daniel Voorhees, who, as you know, placed the state money in banks where it would draw no interest, but which it would be profitable to his interest; David Baird, who took $15,000 a year from the state for returning a Republican majority for his party in Camden county, and who are turned over in Philadelphia, and Colonel Samuel Dickinson, a man whose private and public character is rotten, and I do not slander him when I say it. He obtained his office as secretary of state under false pretenses, and he holds it in defiance of the governor of this state and of the senate, who have demanded his resignation. Can Fort let Mr. Fort, selecting these men at his lieutenants, has the audacity to call his campaign a moral campaign with moral issues.—Martin Devlin of Trenton to Burlington voters.

Jobs Run Riot.

Remarkable List of Boards, Commissions and Departments Created.

EXTRAVAGANCE GONE MAD.

How Republican Government Has Saddled the State With Hundreds of Officeholders In the Past Six Years—Places For All the Faithful, and the People Pay For It.

Here is a list of state departments, commissions, boards and offices created by successive Republican legislatures during the last six years, beginning with the year 1901:

Name of State Department, Board, Commission or Office Created.	Number of Members.	Number of Subordinates.	Date of Approval of Law.	State Pamphlet Law Reference. Page
			1901	Page
State board of pharmacy	5		Unlimited	March 19 85
State commission to revise and codify general statutes	3		Unlimited	March 22 294
Two additional vice chancellors, at $10,000	a year salary.
State village for epileptics	5		Unlimited	March 21 210
Reorganize board of managers of state reformatory	8		Unlimited	March 21 231
			1902
State Manual Training School For Colored Youths	State board of education		Unlimited	March 20 48
State board of architects	5		Unlimited	March 24 64
Creates office of assistant prosecutor in every county of the state	21		April	3 394
Additional state military officers			Unlimited	April 10 705
State tuberculosis sanitarium	8		Unlimited	April 13 526
State board of veterinary medical examiners	5		Unlimited	March 17 26
State oyster commission for Ocean county	2		Unlimited	March 26 176
State commission to purchase old tavern home	5		Unlimited	April 3 406
Commission to investigate claims to oyster grounds	5		Unlimited	March 26 181
State board of sewerage and drainage commissioners	5		Unlimited	March 27 195
State voting machine commission	3		Unlimited	April 9 640
			1903
Commission to investigate tenement houses	5		Unlimited	April 7 214
State bureau of shell fisheries	1 chief		Unlimited	April 14 709
Investigate establishment of women's prison	5		April	7 523
State geological board reorganized	10		Unlimited	April 1 157
			1904
State board of public accountants	3		April	5 400
Assistant attorney general created, $5,000	per year salary.		March	25 150
State board of tenement house supervision	5	Unlimited	March	25 382
State auditor created, salary $2,500			March	29 384
Commission for new bridge on Delaware	3		Unlimited	March 26 507
State department of labor created	13		Unlimited	March 31 183
River flood district commission	5		Unlimited	April 19 513
			1905
State board of Forest park reservation commissioners	5		Unlimited	March 22 77
New state board of assessment of taxes	6		Unlimited	March 29 123
State commissioner of charities and corrections, created	1		Unlimited	March 25 92
Eighteen new military offices created			April	5 197
New state oyster commission for Atlantic county	3		Unlimited	March 30 145
Commission to codify corporation laws	3		Unlimited	March 14 51
State prison building commission	3		Unlimited	March 31 181
Commission to report on method of improving judiciary	5		Unlimited	March 31 186
Commission to codify master and servant laws	3		Unlimited	April 3 193
Increase pay of chancellor and justices of supreme court, $1,000 for their services in court of appeals			April	5 198
Increase pay of vice chancellors to $10,000			April	12 282
State parole agent office created	1		May	11 455
State franchise investigating commission	5	Unlimited	June	3 518
State commission relating to Delaware boundary	4		Unlimited	Feb'ry 14 562
Commission to investigate turnpike roads	5		Unlimited	March 14 564
State commission to revise poor laws	6		Unlimited	April 3 646
			1906
Increase pay of governor's secretary to $4,000 per year			March	7 21
Commission to build $50,000 residence for keeper of state prison	3	Unlimited	March	20 81
Increase pay of state commissioner of public roads from $1,500 to $5,000			April	2 100
Increase pay of prosecutor of pleas in certain counties			April	2 102
Creates office of county probation officer in the twenty-one counties, paid by counties			April	2 104
Creates office of inspectors of power vessels	2		March	9 134
Creates new state department of motor vehicles	2	Unlimited	April	12 177
Act creating twenty-one state boards to be known as county boards of taxation	63	200	April	14 210
Creates office of fire state warden	1	Unlimited	April	18 225
Act authorizing director of state experiment station to cause surveys and maps of all salt marshes and fresh water swamps to be made, to assist in the abolishment of mosquitoes and appropriates $250,000 for that purpose			April	30 325
Supplement to act creating state commissioner of charities increases his powers so as to supply architect, draughtsmen, etc			April	25 84
Appropriation of $50,000 to Passaic flood commission			April	25 287
Act creates office of secretary to boards of managers of two state hospitals			May	2 344
Authorizes keeper of state prison to appoint additional officers and fix their compensation			May	17 521
Creates new state commission to revise police court laws	3	Unlimited	May	22 628
Creates six new circuit judges, or a sergeant at arms for each			June	1 962
Acts to increase pay of common pleas judges			June	22 701
Act creates new state commission to investigate potable water supply of the state		Unlimited	March	7 726
New commission to negotiate with east and west Jersey board of proprietors			April	4 728
New state commission on municipal government system	5	Unlimited	May	22 741
New state board of undertakers and embalmers	5		May	12 459

The above statement shows that the several boards, commissions and departments created by the Republicans, according to the foregoing acts of the legislature—273 offices—are specially created by those laws, and in almost every case the number of subordinate positions or places of employment created in each department, board or commission is almost unlimited, and there must be an average of at least ten for each department, board or commission, etc. This would provide berths for about 2,730 partisans and, with the 273 commissioners and members of boards specially created, is equal to a total number of over 3,000 new positions created, all of which are paid by the state and have been created by laws passed by the successive Republican legislatures and approved by Republican governors within the last six years, only the last half of the period of control of the state by Republican partisans.

ONE PICTURE
Framed here will prove to you how well and inexpensively we can do the work. Oval and round frames in all sizes.

ARTIST SUPPLIES
Winsor and Newton celebrated paints and brushes for oil and water color painting.

PYROGRAPHIC GOODS
A large variety of designed goods, outfits and special parts.

Plainfield Art Store,
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Vail
JEWELER AND OPTICIAN
103 Park Ave.,
calls your attention to his
Rimless Glasses.
They Look Good and You See Good

DELICACIES FOR YOUR TABLE.
The choicest Delicacies of the season are here in abundance. Olives, Olive Oil, Pickels, Preserves, Canned Goods, Fancy Biscuits, Foreign and Domestic Cheese, etc., all at the most reasonable prices.
W. W. DUNN,
THE PARK GROCER,
Duer St. and Lincoln Pl.

Go to the News Stand
at the Central Railroad Station for all the latest foreign and domestic Magazines and weekly periodicals. Numbers furnished on shortest notice.
Plainfield Daily Press
and all the New York and Philadelphia morning, evening and Sunday papers delivered to any part of the city. Under new management. Open Sundays.
F. M. WAGNER
Formerly of Jersey City News Stand.

We have made arrangements for a larger supply of first class milk and are giving the family trade our special attention. If you are not satisfied with the milk or the services you are getting give us a trial.
Price 9 cents a quart, 5 cents a pint. Cream 14 cents ½ pint.
Lindsay's Dairy,
965 West Front St.
TEL. 792-J.

STORAGE Best equipped and oldest storage warehouse in city for storing Furniture, Pianos, etc. Special floor for TRUNKS. Terms reasonable. All work has prompt attention.
WAITE ON WHEELS. PHONE 911-L.
"Orders left for moving vans."
C. M. NAGLE,
Front and Grove Sts., Plainfield, N. J.

J. W. VAN SICKLE
122 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J
Fresh and Salted Meats.
Game in Season. Philadelphia Scraps a Specialty.
Orders called for and delivered promptly.
Telephone No. 683-J.

GUSSOW BROS.
NEW YORK
Ladies' and Gents' Tailoring.
We do Cleaning, Pressing and Altering. Satisfaction Guaranteed.
136 PARK AVE. IEFFERY BLD'G

Cleaning, Pressing and Dyeing.
Monthly Contracts.
Prompt service for Ladies and Gentlemen.
EVENING DRESSES A SPECIALTY.
Ladies' Waists Cleaned, 75 cents upwards
Gents' Suits Cleaned $1.50
We do our own work at
M. A. Brown's, 218 West Second St.

McCULLOUGH'S STEAM MILL,
81 Steiner place, North Plainfield, N. J.
R. H. McCULLOUGH, Prop.'
Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing, Turning, etc.
Estimates cheerfully furnished.

Chas. L. Stanley,
182 East Front St., Phone 88
Headquarters for choice Cut Flowers and Potted Plants.
Floral design work a specialty.
[illegible] East Front st. phone. 1238 Fourth Ave.

CLANS' RECEIPTS $4,242

Mrs. W. L. C. Glenney, Treasurer of the Big Gete, Announces the Gross Receipts.

REPORT OF BOOTHS

What Each Attraction Took In During the Six Days When Society Worked For Charity.

After long and tedious sessions "straightening out accounts" by those in charge of the various booths at the "Gathering of the Clans," the reports of the chairmen and chairwomen of the different committees have finally all been handed in, and Mrs. W. L. C. Glenney, treasurer of the Women's Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg Hospital, under the auspices of which the mammoth fete was held, announced Friday that the gross receipts total to $4,242.17. There is a possibility that other money may come in yet, but the reports of the various booths show that this amount was taken in during the six days that society worked for charity.

Mrs. Glenney and her co-workers cannot yet announce what the net receipts of the affair will be, for their work in financing the big fete is but half through. The expenses must be considered and there are scores of bills to be paid before funds which poured in when the Clans gathered can be turned over to the hospital. The "bills against the Clans" are about all in, and within a week, the financial committee will have completed its work.

The gross receipts from each of the booths are announced by Mrs. Glenney as follows this afternoon: Books, $79.47; ball game, $35.41; candy, $212.10; cane rack, $77.21; dinners, $164.85; dolls, $192.55; flowers, $73; fancy work (total receipts from the eight tables), $1,027.64; fortune-telling tent, $13.50; Ingersoll watch booth, $126.96; hot dogs, $181.12; industrial booth, $88.45; ice cream, $31.20; lemonade, $46.61; minstrel show, $193.35; orange stew, $100.09; novelties, $35.65; preserves, $141.92; peanuts and popcorn, $20.42; pancake stand, $74.96; shooting gallery, $22.50; stationery, $266.67; tobacco, $33.28; welsh rarebit table, $317.13; professional entertainers, on the grounds, $39.12; silhouettes, $93.45; cloak room, $16.97; hat room, $4.55; horse show, $23.10. The amount taken in from admissions during the fete totaled $439.26 and the donations up to noon today amount to about $77.

BOROUGH SCHOOL ELEVEN WINS FROM NEW BRUNSWICK

In a one-sided game, the North Plainfield High School eleven defeated the team from New Brunswick High School, by the score of 39 to 0, on the Somerset avenue grounds this morning. In the first five minutes of play McClintock was shoved across the line for a touchdown. N. P. H. S. scored once again in this half, Conroy making a touchdown. McClintock kicked both goals.

In the second half, the borough boys again scored by the use of end runs and the forward pass. McClintock made the score and kicked the goal. Through the rest of this half the ball was kept up and down the field, neither side scoring. The New Brunswick boys outweighed their opponents, but N. P. H. S. had by far the finest team work.

The line-up was as follows:

N. P. H. S.		N. H. S.
Herrman	left end	Reynolds
H. Smith	left tackle	Flanagan
Becker	left guard	Boulon
Powlison, Lee	centre	VanDuerson
Steiner	right guard	Van Sickle
Day	right tackle	Burns
F. McClintock	right end	Atkinson
Conroy	quarterback	Wilmont
Overton (Capt)	left half back	Burke
Parsons	right half back	Kuchule
McClintock	full back	McCallum (capt)

Time of halves—20 minutes. Referee—Mr. Phelps, N. P. H. S. Timer—Mr. Brown, N. P. H. S.; C. H. Becker, N. B. H. S.

Murphy-Boehm Case Off for Present.

The damage suit of Miss Josephine Murphy against Miss Marguerite Boehm and her father, Ignatz Boehm, which was to have been continued in the Union County Court, this morning, was called off at the opening of court today because of the illness of Juror Jacob Schulthels, of Elizabeth. The court announced that the case would be put at the bottom of the list and be tried later.

Mrs. Zager's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Harry Zager, who died suddenly at her home on George street, yesterday afternoon, will be held at Perth Amboy Sunday. The family lived there many years and moved to this city only last Saturday.

MURPHEY BEST ATHLETE

Daily Press Medal for P. H. S. Champion Track Athlete Won by Murphey, '08.

1908 VICTORIOUS

Senior Class Athletes Win the Most Points and the Tug of War—Loizeaux, '08, Half a Point Behind.

By winning 19½ points in the annual track meet of the Plainfield High School Friday afternoon at the Plainfield Driving Park, Chauncey Murphey, 1908, won The Daily Press championship gold medal by a half point over Charles Loizeaux, 1909, who made a total of 19 points. Murphey won the title of champion track athlete of the school last year by a safe margin, but this year had a dangerous competitor in every event in Loizeaux, and it was not till Murphey finished first in the last event, the half mile run, that he cinched the title. Loizeaux was about a yard behind him in the race when he crossed the line, easily winning second place over Guion Fountain, 1910. All told, points in every event except the running high jump, the athletes of the senior class amassed a total of 42 points, winning the championship class cup from the class of 1909 by a margin of eleven points. The 1908 team also won the tug of war.

It was a great day for 1908. Heeling their track athletes with an enthusiasm and spirit that brought nearly the entire class to the field, the seniors were augmented by girls of the class, cheered and sang and tooted their applause on tin horns through the entire meet, and when their class carried off both the class championship and the individual championship, their enthusiastic demonstration was unchecked. The members of the class, about thirty-five strong, went to the field in a big stage, lavishly decorated with the class colors, red and white, and occupied a large section of the grandstand. Though the juniors were ahead in the meet till the last three events, in which senior athletes took first place, class spirit vented itself in the cheering and singing of special parodies composed for the occasion, through the entire meet.

The rivalry between Murphey and Loizeaux called forth the keenest enthusiasm of the day. Loizeaux, "ninety per cent. nerve," was in every event, and won three firsts, a second and a third, eliciting applause from the entire school. Murphey had strained his left knee in jumping, and was in poor condition, but he landed two firsts, three seconds and tied with Loizeaux for third place in the pole vault, making the half point needed to carry off the title. The last event, the half mile run, decided the championship. Murphey, though hampered by his injuring knee badly, took the lead on the first quarter and sprinted away from his two most dangerous competitors, Loizeaux and Fountain, on the stretch, crossing the line slightly ahead of Loizeaux.

The inter-class tug of war was a special event at the end of the meet and in this the seniors won from the juniors, in the final tug, with about a yard of rope to spare. In the preliminary tugs, 1908 won from 1910 and 1909 had an easy time with 1911. The teams for each of the classes follow:

Senior Class: Titsworth, Lounsbury, Foster, R. Dutcher, Hammond, and Mortimer. Junior Class: Doane, Lyness, Fountain, A. Bingaman, Riffert. Sophomore Class: Mauger, Vail, Brick, H. Runyon and VanZandt. Freshman Class: Burke, Little, Ramsey, Starweather, Lindsey and Ludgate.

The summary of events follow:

100-yard Dash. Won by Charles Loizeaux, '09; second, Chauncey Murphey, '09; third, Allen Snyder, '09. Time 11 1-5 seconds.

Standing Broad Jump. Won by Chauncey Murphey, '08; second, Howard Runyon, '10; third, William Lounsbury, '08. Distance 9 feet 11½ inches.

Running High Jump. Won by William Dey, '09; second, Guion Fountain, '10; third, James Mauger, '10. Height, 4 feet 7½ inches.

440-yard Dash. Won by Charles Loizeaux, '09; second, Harold Hammond, '08; third, James Mauger, '10. Time, 1:00 1-5.

Running Broad Jump. Won by Harold Hammond, '08; second, Chauncey Murphey, '08; third, Charles Loizeaux, '09. Distance, 18 feet 1 inch.

220-yard Dash. Won by Charles Loizeaux, '09; second, Chauncey Murphey, '08; third, Allen Snyder, '09. Time 23 4-5 seconds.

One-mile Run. (For boys not more than 16 years old.) Won by James Mauger, '10; John Riffert, '09, and William Lounsbury, '08, tied for second place. Time 6 4-5 seconds.

Shot Put. Won by Harold Hammond, '08; second, Russell Morna, '10; third, Arthur Titsworth, '08. Distance, 28 feet, 11 inches.

Pole Vault. Won by Walter Caldwel, '08; second, John Riffert, '09; Chauncey Murphey, '08, and Harold Hammond, '08, tied for third. Height, 7 feet, 4 inches.

880-yard Run. Won by Chauncey Murphey, '08; second, Charles Loizeaux, '09; third, Guion Fountain, '10. Time, 2:35½.

Summary by Classes.

	1908	1909	1910
100-yard dash	3	6	0
Standing broad jump	6	0	3
Running high jump	0	5	4
440-yard dash	3	5	1
Running broad jump	8	1	0
220-yard dash	3	6	0
60-yard dash	2	2	5
Shot put	6	0	3
Pole vault	6	3	0
880-yard run	5	3	1
	42	31	17

The following acted as officials of the meet: Starter, Paul Collier, '06. Timer, David Smalley, '10. Official Announcer, Henry Pound, '08. Field officials and judges of the finish, I. W. Travell, Lindsey Best, E. L. Hubbard, C. B. Morse and A. E. Moore. Official Scorer, Stanley Casper, '08.

THERMOMETER FACTS YOU MAY NOT KNOW.

History of Little Instrument Everybody Looks At.

There is one little instrument in which the interest of all classes of people in this country never diminishes through all the changing seasons of the year, from the first day of January to the last day of December. It regulates the business pulse of the nation, and is the shrine to which men will turn many points in every event except the running high jump, the athletes of the senior class amassed a total of 42 points, winning the championship class cup from the class of 1909 by a margin of eleven points. The 1908 team also won the tug of war.

It was a great day for 1908. Heeling their track athletes with an enthusiasm and spirit that brought nearly the entire class to the field, the seniors were augmented by girls of the class, cheered and sang and tooted their applause on tin horns through the entire meet, and when their class carried off both the class championship and the individual championship, their enthusiastic demonstration was unchecked. The members of the class, about thirty-five strong, went to the field in a big stage, lavishly decorated with the class colors, red and white, and occupied a large section of the grandstand. Though the juniors were ahead in the meet till the last three events, in which senior athletes took first place, class spirit vented itself in the cheering and singing of special parodies composed for the occasion, through the entire meet.

The rivalry between Murphey and Loizeaux called forth the keenest enthusiasm of the day. Loizeaux, "ninety per cent. nerve," was in every event, and won three firsts, a second and a third, eliciting applause from the entire school. Murphey had strained his left knee in jumping, and was in poor condition, but he landed two firsts, three seconds and tied with Loizeaux for third place in the pole vault, making the half point needed to carry off the title. The last event, the half mile run, decided the championship. Murphey, though hampered by his injuring knee badly, took the lead on the first quarter and sprinted away from his two most dangerous competitors, Loizeaux and Fountain, on the stretch, crossing the line slightly ahead of Loizeaux.

The inter-class tug of war was a special event at the end of the meet and in this the seniors won from the juniors, in the final tug, with about a yard of rope to spare. In the preliminary tugs, 1908 won from 1910 and 1909 had an easy time with 1911. The teams for each of the classes follow:

Senior Class: Titsworth, Lounsbury, Foster, R. Dutcher, Hammond, and Mortimer. Junior Class: Doane, Lyness, Fountain, A. Bingaman, Riffert. Sophomore Class: Mauger, Vail, Brick, H. Runyon and VanZandt. Freshman Class: Burke, Little, Ramsey, Starweather, Lindsey and Ludgate.

The summary of events follow:

100-yard Dash. Won by Charles Loizeaux, '09; second, Chauncey Murphey, '09; third, Allen Snyder, '09. Time 11 1-5 seconds.

Standing Broad Jump. Won by Chauncey Murphey, '08; second, Howard Runyon, '10; third, William Lounsbury, '08. Distance 9 feet 11½ inches.

Running High Jump. Won by William Dey, '09; second, Guion Fountain, '10; third, James Mauger, '10. Height, 4 feet 7½ inches.

440-yard Dash. Won by Charles Loizeaux, '09; second, Harold Hammond, '08; third, James Mauger, '10. Time, 1:00 1-5.

Running Broad Jump. Won by Harold Hammond, '08; second, Chauncey Murphey, '08; third, Charles Loizeaux, '09. Distance, 18 feet 1 inch.

220-yard Dash. Won by Charles Loizeaux, '09; second, Chauncey Murphey, '08; third, Allen Snyder, '09. Time 23 4-5 seconds.

One-mile Run. (For boys not more than 16 years old.) Won by James Mauger, '10; John Riffert, '09, and William Lounsbury, '08, tied for second place. Time 6 4-5 seconds.

Shot Put. Won by Harold Hammond, '08; second, Russell Morna, '10; third, Arthur Titsworth, '08. Distance, 28 feet, 11 inches.

Pole Vault. Won by Walter Caldwel, '08; second, John Riffert, '09; Chauncey Murphey, '08, and Harold Hammond, '08, tied for third. Height, 7 feet, 4 inches.

880-yard Run. Won by Chauncey

COAL DEALERS.

Difference In Coal.

All coals may look alike to some people, but compare our "Lehigh" Coal with the Coal you bought somewhere else and you will see a difference.

You will notice that our Coal Burns Brighter, Gives More Heat, and Lasts Longer than any other Coal you ever bought before.

Boice, Runyon & Co.,

Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.
Park Ave., opp. North Ave
Plainfield N. J.

The best time to order your winter supply of

COAL

is now. Do not forget this.

NASH

is ready to supply you.

Telephone 357-W 235-J.
Evenings 371-W.

OFFICE—130 WATCHUNG AVENUE

TenEyck & Harris,

—DEALERS IN—

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

Office: Rowley's Drug Store, 218 West Front Street. Telephone 22-L.

JOHN JOHNSTON

All the best grades of

COAL.

929 South Ave. 'Phone 193

Coal I have on hand some of the Best and Medium Coals. All kept undercover. Yes Coal. Coal

25 cents a ton delivered on cash orders.

L. A. RHEAUME,

146 East Fourth St. Telephone 449-W
Yard, 674 South Second St. Telephone 22

GEORGE O. STEVENS

747 West Front St.

R. L. CLINE

(Successor to C. H. Rugg & Co.)

Best Quality Lehigh Coal

Yard and office 630 West Third St. Tel. 83.

JOS. HARRIGAN

OLD COMPANY'S LEHIGH COAL.

Tel. 497-L. 4th and Richmond Sts.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS

We call your attention to our fine display of

New Wall Papers.

We can't describe the patterns, but they are new, striking and effective, and with our large assortment we are sure to please.

Paints, Oils and Varnishes.

Woolston & Buckle,

145 North Avenue.

Summer is Over

Your vacation has refresh'd you; now your house needs to be refreshed with a coat of paint. Consult

James C. Hansen,

Painter and Decorator.
Dealer in Wallpapers, Paints, Oils, Glasses, etc.

141 E. Front St.

Estimates Furnished.
Tel. 870-R

1907 Wall Papers.

IMPORTED & AMERICAN GOODS

C. CONOVER & CO.

Decorators Painters and Paperhangers
Window and Plate Glass

115 Elmwood Pl. Tel. 1145

W. S. CHEEVER

1326 Park Ave.

Painting and INTERIOR DECORATING. ESTIMATES FREE of every description. Prices the Lowest Consistent with Prime Work.

'Phone No. 538-J.

AZIENZA

cures pimples and all inflammation of the skin. Used by people of refinement. Medicinal and toilet. 50¢ and $1 a bottle.

CREAM.

SCHUYLER SAVED.

Court of Pardons Commutes Sentence to Life Term.

John Schuyler, convicted of the murder of Manning Riley, at Califon, Hunterdon county, will not be hanged November 1, his death sentence Friday having been commuted to life imprisonment by the Court of Pardons.

The vote of the court was three for the death penalty and five for commutation.

Governor Stokes and Judges Bogart, Vroom, Gray and Dill voted to commute. Chancellor Magie and Judges Vredenburgh and Green voted for the death sentence.

Prosecutor George K. Large, of Hunterdon county, appeared in the interests of the State, and Alvah A. Clark represented Schuyler at the hearing Friday.

The reason for commutation of sentence is that Justice Reed, who sat in the case, thought Schuyler might have mentally killed Riley, and that, as the evidence was entirely circumstantial, the ends of justice would be satisfied with commutation.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

Brooms which are regularly scalded and clipped will last much longer and do cleaner work. They should be kept in a hook and not in use.

To keep your favorite cook book open at the right page use a band of elastic an inch wide. When not in use you may strap it around the closed book.

A quick and simple way to mend tinware is to paste a thick piece of brown paper over the hole with a flour paste. Hot water poured upon this will harden it. When burned off it can easily be replaced.

To save the great toe of the foot wearing through the hose too quickly cut a piece of chamois and shape it to fit over the toe by sewing two pieces together in a manner similar to a child's moccasin.

A window shade which has become cracked or soiled at the lower end should be removed from the roller and turned upside down. Tack the lower end to the roller, run a hem in the upper end and replace the stick. By several careful treatments of the hair will soon restore its life and luster. When the hair becomes dry and dead looking it is suffering from too frequent shampooing or an improper manner of renovating. Brushing for ten or fifteen minutes every night will act as a splendid stimulant.

A homemade variation of the popular tea ball is a small cheesecloth bag about an inch and a half square. When the bag is put in the open end is sewed or gathered with a drawstring and the bag placed in the cup. Boiling water is poured in and the bag removed when the tea is of the required strength. Each bag is emptied and dried before being again used.

ENGLISH ETCHINGS.

In the reign of Henry III. a judge's salary was $35 a year.

The average marriage rate in Great Britain is sixteen in a thousand.

It is calculated that no fewer than 85,000 people spend their lives on the canal boats and barges of Great Britain.

The use of tobacco in England is almost universal among males above the age of sixteen. The pipe is seen everywhere—in the home, on the street and the sporting field.

A Catholic settlements association is being tried in Hoxton district of London to keep track of the slum boys after they leave school, and so far the results have been good.

In London the other day a pair of riding boots worn by Oliver Cromwell were sold for $45. They were discovered thirty years ago during some excavations at Casonbury tower, Islington.

TALES THAT TELL.

A highway woman at Asbury Park, N. J., in robbing a ticket agent nearly smothered him with a woman's old woolen shirt.

A Northfield (N. H.) cat has returned to its home on the farm of Edward Heath after an absence of two years with one previous visit a year ago.

A Michigan dog caught in a trap set for wolves, tied to a tree, gnawed the sapling down after hours of work and dragged the trap home, a distance of several miles.

Small boys near Deadwood, S. D., have been making money selling dogs to Chief John Kills-a-Hundred and his tribesmen, and the Indians have been growing fat.

Charles Beck, of Worcester, Mass., swam out into Lake Quinsigamond one day recently with a fish line between his teeth. A few minutes later he returned, and on the hook was a pickerel.

FRIENDSHIP.

A really good friend is so rare that to lose one is a tragedy.

There are plenty of good friends for those who deserve them.

The greatest pity in the world is when two friends who have been useful and agreeable to each other quarrel.

When an unmarried man loses a friend by death he goes to the funeral. After he is married he sends his wife.

Have you one friend in the whole world whom you would be willing to hear everything you have said about him behind his back?—Atchison Globe.

MYSTERY IN THEFT OF TROUSERS AND MONEY

James Manson, who lives at Third and Liberty streets, called Patrolman Saunders at 11:30 Friday and told him that a man had entered his room while he was asleep and appropriated a pair of trousers with $18 and a check for $5 in the pockets. He had been aroused by his wife, he said, who told him that she had seen the thief disappearing down the stairs. Manson hurried out and before calling the officer found the missing trousers alongside the front porch, and the check a little farther off.

Saunders immediately got busy on the case but from facts that he was cognizant of led him to believe that there was something wrong in the story. He passed the corner of Liberty and Third streets at 11 o'clock and saw Mrs. Manson and Robert Morley sitting on the porch steps. He spoke to both of them and passed on. In the time intervening between 11 o'clock and 11:30, according to the information, Mrs. Manson had retired and gotten to sleep, the thief had stolen the trousers and Manson had dressed fully and secured the policeman.

The case was reported to Chief Kiely and he made a strict investigation but learned nothing more. It was established fully, however, that it was sometime after 11 that Morley had left the premises and that the retiring of Mrs. Manson and the robbery occurred in a very few minutes. An effort was made to get Morley's statement, but he could not be located.

NO AMATEUR OPERA HERE THIS SEASON.

That the Plainfield Operatic Association will not present any attractions this season is now practically assured fact. William Holmes, who was largely responsible for the organization, having taken the initial steps to form it, does not feel like giving his time in directing rehearsals as in the past, and no one else in the organization is willing to undertake the task. Thus far no steps have been taken to resume for the winter and it is not at all likely that any such efforts will be made.

The operas given in the past, while not always financially successful, received commendation from the point of amateur theatricals and both Mr. Holmes and the members of the association were congratulated for the success attained. It was rumored that another similar association would be formed under the direction of William E. MacClymont, but this is not at all likely. Mr. MacClymont says that his time is too much taken up to assume such responsibilities.

LAURENCE BROMFIELD IS P. H. S. TENNIS CHAMPION.

By winning the third set in the final round of the City High School tennis tournament, Laurence Bromfield, 1911, won the title of tennis champion of the school yesterday afternoon. The score in the final set was 6-3. His opponent was Moses Rafinsan, 1909. In play in the finals Wednesday, Bromfield won two deuce sets by scores of 9-7 and 10-8. Darkness prevented the completion of the three out of five set match. Yesterday's set was easier for Bromfield, and his opponent was never in the lead.

As winner of the school title, Bromfield will receive a handsome silver cup, offered by the athletic association of the school. Bromfield resigned from the city high school yesterday and will move to Denver next week. The cup is to be engraved and forwarded to him.

FIRST OF THE RECITALS AT MRS. G. P. MELLICK'S.

The first of a series of violin and piano recitals to be given during the winter, was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George P. Mellick, on East Seventh street. The artists were Mons. Edouard Dethier and Miss Carolyn Beebe, both of New York, and their selections delighted the large assemblage.

The program, a choice one, comprised selections of well-known composers of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, and the rendition accorded everyone that the artists have a true conception of the music of those early times. The interpretation left nothing to be desired even among the most critical present.

These recitals are being given under the direction of Miss Maud VanBoskerck, of West Seventh street. The second recital will be given Friday afternoon, November 8, at the home of Miss Susan Corey, 1111 Park avenue.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

How kind people are to the man who is going to die!

No man is as wretched as he imagines himself to be.

You can't realize how little money there is in a five dollar bill until you break it.

If you want to know what a man's weakness is, let him do the talking, and he will mention it.

The church will not hold all who want to see a wedding, but you bet there are seats to spare at every funeral.

15 YEARS FOR STRYKER

Patricide's Plea of Non Vult Accepted by Justice Bergen in Somerset Court.

PROSECUTOR FAVORS IT

Tells the Court That Evidence in His Possession Is Not Sufficient to Convict of Murder in the First Degree.

Before Justice James J. Bergen, at Somerville, Friday afternoon, Richard F. Stryker, indicted for the murder of his father, John C. Stryker, a prosperous farmer who lived near Readington, on August 26, 1907, retracted his plea of not guilty and pleaded non vult. This was accepted by Justice Bergen, who sentenced the prisoner to fifteen years at hard labor in State Prison.

Prosecutor John F. Reger stated that he had decided to accept this plea after a consideration of the evidence in the case. He said there were no eye-witnesses to the shooting and that the only testimony to maintain the indictment was that of two or three witnesses, one of whom was the mother of the defendant, whose testimony was that immediately after the shooting she entered the room and saw the defendant and her husband engaged in a struggle on the floor; that the defendant was on his back with his father on top of him.

Charles Gilligan, an employe of the dead man, said that he saw the defendant on his back with his father on top of him, clutching his throat.

The defendant's statement was that when he entered the room after the previous testimony was given, his father about money, his father knocked him down, got on him and choked him until his breath was almost gone, and that then he did the shooting. This statement was in a measure corroborated by the fact that the clothing of the dead man was burned by the fire from the pistol and the course of the bullet was consistent with the defendant's story.

While the statement of deceased was somewhat different from that of the defendant, the prosecutor said he did not think the State could prove the wilful, deliberate and premeditated killing necessary to constitute murder in the first degree under the statute.

Former Congressman Alvah A. Clark, counsel for the defense, asked for clemency. He declared there had been differences between the father and son; that the father was also addicted to drink, and that on several occasions had threatened to kill the defendant; that the shooting occurred after a fight and while the defendant was on the floor being choked; that the fathers knife was found on the floor after the fight, and that the defendant claimed that his father had threatened to kill him further stated that the whole family was in sympathy with the defendant.

Young Stryker comes from one of the best families in Branchburg township. He served in the Spanish-American war, 1900. In play in the finals Wednesday, Bromfield won two deuce sets by scores of 9-7 and 10-8. Darkness prevented the completion of the three out of five set match. Yesterday's set was easier for Bromfield, and his opponent was never in the lead.

As winner of the school title, Bromfield will receive a handsome silver cup, offered by the athletic association of the school. Bromfield resigned from the city high school yesterday and will move to Denver next week. The cup is to be engraved and forwarded to him.

FIRST OF THE RECITALS AT MRS. G. P. MELLICK'S.

The first of a series of violin and piano recitals to be given during the winter, was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George P. Mellick, on East Seventh street. The artists were Mons. Edouard Dethier and Miss Carolyn Beebe, both of New York, and their selections delighted the large assemblage.

The program, a choice one, comprised selections of well-known composers of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, and the rendition accorded everyone that the artists have a true conception of the music of those early times. The interpretation left nothing to be desired even among the most critical present.

These recitals are being given under the direction of Miss Maud VanBoskerck, of West Seventh street. The second recital will be given Friday afternoon, November 8, at the home of Miss Susan Corey, 1111 Park avenue.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

How kind people are to the man who is going to die!

No man is as wretched as he imagines himself to be.

You can't realize how little money there is in a five dollar bill until you break it.

If you want to know what a man's weakness is, let him do the talking, and he will mention it.

The church will not hold all who want to see a wedding, but you bet there are seats to spare at every funeral.

The Best Paper for Family Reading.

The contents of The Youth's Companion are chosen with a view to the interest of all tastes and ages. The father, as well as the son, enjoys the tales of adventure; the mother renews her girlhood in the stories for girls, while the paper always abounds in stories, long and short, which may be read aloud in the most varied family group to the keen pleasure of all. Full illustrated announcement of The Companion for 1908 will be sent to any address free with sample copies of the paper. New subscribers who send $1.75 at once for 1908 will receive free all the remaining issues of 1907, besides the gift of The Companion's Four-Leaf Hanging Calendar for 1908, in full color. The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley street, Boston, Mass.

POWDER AND BALL.

SHORT STORIES.

The New York Stock Exchange has thirty-three of its original members.

In Clinton county, Mo., there are 100 men who own farms of 1,000 acres each.

At the age of forty a man usually attains his highest weight; a woman at fifty.

The Suez canal on and after January next will be available for vessels drawing twenty-eight feet.

In recent years St. Louis and Kansas City has supplied nearly all the mules bought for the United States army. Recent bids for saddle mules were as high as $174.50 each.

The tollgates on the Monticello and Wurtsboro and White Lake roads in Sullivan county, N. Y., have been thrown open to the public for the first tie in more than 100 years, and the roads will be free hereafter.

The Costitutionalist.
A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY
Published a.
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Terms: $2.00 per year.
A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1907.

N.G.N.J. BATTALION DRILL TO BE HELD HERE NOV. 9

Announcement is made by the commanding officers that on Saturday afternoon, November 9, a battalion drill of four companies of the Second Regiment, will be held on Hope Common in this city. This will be the first drill of the kind held here since Company K was organized and much local significance is attached to the field day evolutions.

The companies participating will be Co. K, of this city; Co. M, of Somerville, and Cos. C and L, of Elizabeth. They will be in the charge of Major W. B. Martin, formerly captain of Co. K. Similar drills have been held at Elizabeth and Somerville, and the reason why Plainfield was selected this time is because of its central location.

CONDITIONS ON MARS.

Days and Years and Light and Heat on the Red Planet.

The days in Mars are of about the same length as ours—24 hours, 39 minutes, 23 seconds. Mars makes her orbit around the sun in a little more than 686 days; therefore the seasons are almost twice as long as they are with us. The atmosphere of Mars is rich in watery vapors. Oceans can be seen, and at the poles thick ice, which melts when summer comes. The variations in temperatures are extreme. Mars receives only half as much solar heat as our globe does. The sun appears half as large, and the nights receive their light from two moons, which are smaller than ours—Deimos and Phobos.

The weight is such that one of our kilograms would only weigh 376 grams there. A man 6 feet only able to carry his own weight on his back. Transported to Mars, he could carry three times as much, something like 225 kilos. In taking observations of Mars through a telescope one can see a distinct red disk, marked with more or less brilliant spots. Some of the spots which are greenish are the oceans; others very red ones are the continents, greater in extent than the oceans, and of the opposite to the way the earth is disposed. The most brilliant spots are the ice covered regions of the poles and the clouds are almost equally bright. The atmosphere of Mars is more transparent than ours, and its sky is incomparably clear.

The waters of Mars are more divided and disturbed as island seas joined by long arms, which are sometimes double, and which form almost rectilinear, and which mark the brilliant surface with dark lines, just as the line of lead divides the panes of glass in our church windows. All these dark lines form a pattern which is remarkably symmetrical and which does not seem to have been made by chance. A plan so regular must have been designed, and for a long time the observers of Mars have been disposed to consider these lines as canals dug by the inhabitants of the planet for the needs of their civilization.—Charles Torquet in Metropolitan Magazine.

RARE HALF DOLLARS.

Good Specimens of Those Dated 1796 and 1797 Are Valuable.

The half dollar is one of the most plentiful of all the series of United States coins, having been issued regularly each year with but five exceptions since the coinage of the denomination first began in 1794. These exceptions were the years 1798, 1799, 1900, 1808 and 1816.

This is the reason why so few of them are rare nowadays and that many specimens of the early dates are to be had for little more than face value in condition that would indicate they were only a year or two old, instead of dating back nearly a hundred years, as many do.

Altogether there have been issued 235 varieties of the half dollar, and all of the branch mints have struck coins in this denomination, except those of Dahlonega, Ga., and Charlotte, N. C., which were authorized to strike only gold coins.

The very rarest of half dollars are those dated 1796 and 1797. Of those of 1796 there are two varieties, one with fifteen stars on the obverse around the bust of Liberty, the other with sixteen stars. Each of these two varieties has been sold over $100 when in perfect condition.

The 1797 half dollar is the next rarest, and every fine specimen of this coin has brought as much as $120. The next rarest is the 1838 half dollar struck at New Orleans, with the mint letter "O" under the bust. This coin is worth from $50 to $75. Another rare half dollar was struck at the San Francisco mint in 1856. This coin omits the motto of "In God We Trust," which is borne by all the other varieties of the year, and is valued at $24.—Elder Monthly.

PADRONE SYSTEM SCORED

City Court Case Shows It to Be Little Short of Slavery.

SEVEN MEN COMPLAIN

Story Related to Judge Runyon Calls For Severe Condemnation from the Magistrate.

A condition of affairs similar to slavery but without one of its redeeming features was found to exist in this city through a court case brought before Judge Runyon Monday morning. It came about through complaint preferred against Serafina Ferig, who is what is known as a padrone, that he had practically robbed laborers and then turned them away from their living quarters without a cent in their pockets. Seven men appeared against the accused, only one of whom was able to speak a word of English, and the story told made a deep impression on the magistrate.

According to the testimony, Ferig makes a practice of getting laborers for local contractors, paying a New York agency $2 for each man signed over to him. He charges this $2 against them and also the sixty cents car fare, in sum he owes to pay out of the first money they make. They are taken to a so-called boarding place on Lake street and it is this place that called for especial condemnation from the judge.

The English-speaking complainant asserted that the building was formerly a stable and that it had accommodations for eight horses. The lower floor has been housing thirty-five men and the upper sixteen, making forty-one for the structure. In the morning and at night the inmates were served with beer, bread and bologna, the combination being called breakfast and supper. They sat on piles of straw to eat it and the same spot had to serve as their bed for the night. Despite these conditions, Ferig charged the majority of his boarders twenty-five cents a night for the "bed" and the meals cost them about thirty cents each. The proprietor ran no chance of loss as it was deducted from the pay of the men before they received it.

The complainants stated by interpretation that with the exception of the one who spoke English they had arrived in this country from Russia about four months ago when Ferig brought them out to Plainfield Thursday and they were put to work on the East End sewer Friday, their wage being $1.50 a day. They remained on the job until Saturday night and thought everything was all right, but when they returned to the Lake street "hotel" and had something to eat, Ferig turned them out. He declared they were not wanted any longer out when they asked for what money was due them and refused to give one cent. He followed it up by telling two of the laborers, one a boy of sixteen, that they were indebted to him and took from them $1.35, every penny they had. All were then sent away to shift out as best they could.

Fellow-laborers took the seven to another place and they had shelter Saturday night but Sunday they tramped the streets. The police picked them up at night and when the story was learned, Ferig was summoned to court.

Judge Runyon probed deeply into the matter and found in addition to other things that Ferig sold beer at the barn and he could be held on a charge to that effect. He made the defendant cower by the lecture given him and said that he would waive any attempt to hold him for the beer selling if he would pay the seven men the two days' pay, minus sixty cents carfare and a fair proportion for the miserable accommodations provided them. Ferig readily assented and produced the money immediately.

"This is rather an unusual way to dispose of an illegal liquor case," the judge remarked, "but it is the only way I can see to get these poor fellows out of town. I had no idea that such a condition of affairs existed in this city and keep in mind, Ferig, the police will watch you and your place in the future. The system you have is nothing more than slavery, only scarcely that bad and were not turned out into a storm after their day's toil."

*

DROPS OF WATER.

A well at New Burlington, O., yields both salt and fresh water.

The Amizon is navigable for 2,200 miles from the sea, the Mississippi for about 2,900.

If the seven longest rivers could be placed in a straight line they would lack only 550 miles of encircling the earth.

Making War Maps In Jersey.

For the purpose of making maps, showing where regiments could be mobilized in the hills in the event of war, and also to have a land garrison to strengthen Fort Hancock at Sandy Hook, eight government engineers from the War Department are making surveys at Navesink, Locust Point and Brown's Dock and Atlantic Highlands. The party has its headquarters in tents on the grounds of Dr. A. P. Edwards at Locust Point.

MORSE CLINCHES TROPHY

His Play at Park Club on Saturday Will Win for Him President's Cup.

LEADS FOR ANOTHER

All Scheduled Events Will Be Concluded On Election Day—Much Interest Taken.

The weekly competitions for the President's and Golf Club cups and the last regular play for the October cup, were the events of interest at the Park Golf Club on Saturday. All the scheduled events will be concluded on Election Day and there is special interest at this time in the finish of the various competitions.

It is practically a certainty that Charles B. Morse will win the President's cup. He has 20 1-2 points and the only player who can possibly overtake him is Dr. H. K. Carroll and he leaves on Saturday for a trip to California. The leading point-winners for the President's cup follow:

Charles B. Morse, 20 1-2; Dr. H. K. Carrell, 18; W. V. Byard, 14; Rev. C. L. Goodrich, 13 1-2; Reuben Knox, 9; Charles A. Reed, 8.

Those who have qualified for semi-final play for the October cup are as follows: C. L. Goodrich, J. B. Betts, Charles B. Morse and W. V. Byard. This will probably be started on Saturday. The postponed semi-final match for the September cup was played on Saturday and Charles B. Morse defeated R. V. Carpenter 1 up in 19 holes. He will probably play the final match with W. V. Byard on Wednesday.

Charles B. Morse also leads in the competition for the Golf Club cup, scratch prize, with 20 5-6 points. In this competition is in the other Dr. Carroll is a close second with 20 1-2 points, while W. V. Byard has 16 1-2, Rev. J. O. McKelvey, 14 1-2; Rev. C. L. Goodrich, 12 1-2; and Charles A. Reed, 11.

These scores were returned on Saturday for the President's, Golf Club and October cups:

Reuben Knox, 98, 14-84; L. R. Thurlow, 102, 16-87; J. B. Betts, 113, 20-90; Charles A. Reed, 100, 9-91; W. V. Byard, 104, 10-94; S. St. John McCutchen, 105, 8-95; Dr. H. K. Carroll, 106, 11-95; Rev. C. L. Goodrich, 104, 8-96; R. V. Carpenter, 115, 18-97.

"THE CONQUERING HERO."

Five-act Impromptu Production in Bloomfield Car Causes Panic.

Passengers in a crosstown trolley car near Bloomfield, Saturday night, had more excitement than they had expected. Some of the women screamed and became excited that a small panic followed. The excitement was all caused by five brief acts in a serio-comic melodrama.

Time—Saturday night.

Place—Interior of steel car.

Act I. Scene—Enter Dave Drew enters with John Fritz, a prisoner.

Act II. Prisoner sings, "When I Get You Out of Here."

Act III. Scene—Car in front of police station. Officer tries to leave car with prisoner. Prisoner tries to escape. Lands left on patrolman's jaw. Passengers try to escape.

Act IV. Patrolman handcuffs prisoner. Women passengers, forgetting fear, cry "Poor man!" Also call guardian of peace "Horrod thing!"

Act V. Scene—Interior police station. Fritz peering forth through cell bars. Justice conducts trial. Fine, $10.

Curtain.

JERSEY GUNNERS DON'T LIKE LICENSE PROJECT.

Gunners here are not in favor of the idea of B. C. Kuser, the new president of the New Jersey State Fish and Game Commission, who wishes to tax every hunter a fee for a license, whether he resides in the State or not.

Kuser's proposition is to charge residents of the State a nominal license fee, and to tax non-residents $10 each. With this money he proposes to establish a monster game preserve and propagate various kinds of game, fish and fowl.

Local sportsmen say that there is much game in the woods, even though the gunners have become uncommonly numerous in recent years, and that there is no need to tax the local residents for game breeding.

Squire Resigns.

Governor Stokes received and accepted Saturday the resignation of George A. Squire, president of the Board of Managers of the State Reformatory at Rahway, where the Hahn Investigating Committee unearthed so many scandals. Squire left the State during the investigation, and could not be served with a subpoena to compel his further testimony before the committee. Governor Stokes then wrote to him that he must appear and testify or resign his office. Squire declares in his resignation that his move is due to ill-health.

Harvest Home On November 21.

The annual harvest home at Muhlenberg Hospital will be held on Thursday, November 21, when it is expected that there will be the usual donations of fruits, vegetables, canned goods, etc., always so much needed at this institution. There will be a reception at the Nurses' Home in the evening.

PLAY CONCLUDED FOR COUNTRY CLUB CUP

Play for the Golf Committee and Green Committee cups was concluded at the Plainfield Country Club on Saturday, the inclement weather attracted a large number of enthusiastic golfers to the course and many good scores were made. Although the weekly competition came to an end Saturday, there will be a competition for consolation cups in the same classes. The drawings will be made early this week.

As stated a few days ago, Frank O. Reinhart won the Golf Committee cup with a total of 16, 2-10 points, and Miss Burke is the winner of the Green Committee cup with a total of 24 1-3 points. These two competitions have aroused considerable interest throughout the entire season, especially because of the fact that the committee made two classes, A and B, the latter for those who are entitled to larger handicaps. From time to time members of this class improved their game to such an extent that they soon found themselves in class A. Altogether the scheme proved to be very satisfactory.

The best scores for the Golf Committee cup on Saturday were as follows:

Arthur Murphy, 84, 13-73; W. T. Glenney, 85, 9-76; J. A. Lane, 93, 15-78. These scores were posted for the Green Committee cup: W. L. C. Glenney, 104, 24-81; W. F. Merrill, 109, 25-84; C. P. Hamilton, 111, 25-86.

NEW SCHOOL CALENDER FOR BOROUGH PUPILS

Superintendent Henry C. Krebs, of the borough schools, announced the school calendar for the term at the meeting of the North Plainfield Board of Education Monday. This calendar has been made up after consultation with Superintendent Henry M. Maxson and Principal Ira W. Travell of the city schools, and shows the various holidays and vacations of the present school year. The calendar as announced is as follows:

Tuesday, November 5, Election Day; Thursday, November 29, and Friday, November 29, Thanksgiving holidays; Friday, December 20, schools close for the Christmas vacation; Monday, January 6, schools re-open after the holidays; Wednesday, February 12, Lincoln's birthday; Thursday, April 16, schools close for the Easter vacation; Monday, April 27, schools re-open after Easter vacation; Friday, June 19, commencement exercises; Tuesday, September 15, schools re-open after summer vacation for 1908-09 term.

The fact that there will be no teachers' institute meetings during this school year will take three days off the vacation of the local pupils. Washington's birthday and Decoration day fall on Saturdays, so there will be no special holiday for them this year. Good Friday being a holiday in this State now, the schools will close for Easter vacation with the session on Thursday, April 16; Easter falls on April 19.

The total number of school days on which there will be sessions this school year is 185. This is five more than there were last year. Though school opened Tuesday, September 10 this year, it will open for the fall term next year Tuesday, September 15, so as to have the work ends about the second week in the month.

MEDAL OF HONOR MAN BROTHER OF J. R. TRUELL.

Captain Edwin M. Truell, a brother of John R. Truell, of this city, and who was one of four brothers, all of whom fought for the Union in the Civil War, died at his home in Washington on October 12. He was a native of Wisconsin and was sixty-six years old. Captain Truell had lived in Washington about thirty-five years, being employed in an official capacity in the internal revenue bureau of the treasury department.

In the Civil War, Captain Truell served from 1861 to 1864 in Company E, Twelfth, Wisconsin, Infantry. For conspicuous gallantry in action near Atlanta, Ga., July 21, 1864, he was awarded a medal of honor by act of Congress. He was an original member of the Medal of Honor Legion, and at the time of his death was secretary of the Medal of Honor Club, of Washington. For the last thirty years he served as treasurer of the Washington Humane Society. He is survived by a wife.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

The oil from sardines is good for fish cakes instead of using butter.

Make a knife quite hot and it will cut hot cakes and hot bread easily.

A metal or silver spoon in a glass will prevent its cracking if hot liquid is put in.

Keep lids tightly shut on tea and coffee pots, as flavor and strength evaporate.

Eagles to Visit New Brunswick.

Freedom Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, will attend a meeting of New Brunswick Castle at New Brunswick Monday night in a body. There is to be initiation of four candidates and the degree team will use new degree outfits for the first time.

WOMAN TRUANT OFFICER

Miss Adelaide Ball Appointed for City Schools by Superintendent H. M. Maxson.

INSTEAD OF POLICEMAN

Mr. Maxson Believes a Woman Officer to Be More Efficient Than a Policeman—Miss Ball's Duties.

Superintendent Henry M. Maxson of the city schools announced Monday morning that Miss Adelaide Ball, daughter of F. H. Ball, of Franklin place, had accepted the appointment as truant officer of the city schools. Miss Ball will begin her duties at once.

At the last meeting of the city Board of Education, Superintendent Maxson was empowered to appoint a truant officer for the schools and said at that time that he believed a woman could secure the best results. For almost two years there has been no truant officer and before that Florence McCarthy, of the local police force, acted in that capacity for the board of education. Mr. Maxson believes that more can be accomplished by tact toward securing the attendance of children at the schools than by the force of the law.

Miss Ball's work will be for the most part with lower grades of the local schools. A census of the children in attendance at each of the schools will be taken and a card system record will be kept at the city high school. Miss Ball will be in her office there between 9 and 9.30 every school morning, until after all the absences for the day are filed by telephone from the various schools. After this list has been secured, Miss Ball will investigate each case, going to the home of any member of the children have been sent to school. She will aim to co-operate with the parents, and cases of need, where the child has insificient proper clothing for attendance at school on cold or stormy days will be referred to the Plainfield Organized Aid Association, which will co-operate with Miss Ball in her work.

FORMER PLAINFIELDER GETS HIGH APPOINTMENT

Recent papers of Augusta, Ga., announce the appointment of Orville T. Waring, formerly of this city, to the position of Assistant Superintendent of the Charleston and Western Carolina Railway. His many friends in Plainfield will be pleased to learn of this new honor which has just been awarded to him. This young man was a Plainfield boy, a graduate of Mr. Leal's school and then of the Plainfield high school, from which he became a civil engineer. Since that time he has been connected with railroads in the South, and for a year or more has been stationed at Augusta. By consistently exhibiting his sterling ability and willingness to work and was recognized as one of the most valuable men in the employ of the road. He will take office November 1, when he will be next in rank to General Superintendent Lynch.

The same papers make further announcement of the approaching marriage of Mr. Waring which will take place in Augusta on Thursday, December 5 next. The bride-to-be-elect is Miss Timberlake, of that city. It is said that no engagement of recent years has awakened in Augusta more interest than that of Miss Timberlake. She represents one of the leading families of the city, is very popular and is most deservedly popular. On the happy occasion the best man will be Edward H. Waring, of Orange, the groom's brother.

Stars and Storms.

Most people suppose that when the stars appear to lose their liveliness of light and shine with less twinkling, as minute bright points in the sky, fair weather is in prospect. Studies lately made in this country seem to contradict this popular belief. It has been found that when the stars are fairly steady in their scintillations foul weather is at hand. The night before a most violent storm in the south, for instance, the stars hung so quietly in the sky that they seemed to have entirely lost their scintillating power. This is said to be only one instance among many which show that an unusual steadiness in the light of the stars precedes the appearance of storms.—Minneapolis Journal.

Pupils' Recital.

The pupils of Miss Carrie C. Dewey gave a piano recital in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church Saturday afternoon. About two score were present and the various numbers of the program were rendered with accuracy and expression which called forth genuine applause.

Those taking part were: Lawrence and Elmer French, Miss Ruth Voorhees, Miss Edith Schwartz, Miss Edith Richards, Miss Elizabeth Browne, Miss Edith Lowrie, Miss Jane Brower, Miss Caroline Sinclair, Miss Martha Camp, George Murray, Miss Hannah Bingaman, Miss Constance Pittis, Miss Kate Elliott, Miss Laura Bristol, Miss Jennie Nelson, Miss Florence Smalley.

NEW YORK CHAMPS WINNERS IN SOCCER

The Cameron football team, champions of the New York Amateur Association Football League, had a narrow escape here on Saturday, where the Plainfield Football Club led the visitors by 2 goals to 0 at the end of the first half. Thereafter, however, the Camerons played exceptionally fast and tallied four times, winning the game with two goals to spare.

Spalding and Jamison played the star game for Plainfield, making the two tallies for the locals. For the winning side, Hastings and Cameron scored two goals apiece. So far in this series neither the Camerons or the McGregors, of Yonkers, have been defeated. Saturday's game was witnessed by a large crowd. The line-up:

Camerons.	Position.	Plainfield.
Sheridan	Goal	Hoyle
Guthrie	Right back.	Craig
Saunders	Left back.	Mitchell
McArthur	Right half back.	McCombe
Curry	Centre half back.	Calp
Ewen	Left half back.	McGregor
Lane	Outside right.	Spaulding
Hastings	Inside left.	Sutton
Cameron	Centre.	Jameson
Clarke	Inside left.	Gould
Godowin	Outside left.	Bennett

Goals, Hastings (2), Cameron (2), Spaulding, Jameson. Referee, Mr. Clark.

LEALS OUTCLASSED IN GAME WITH Y. M. C. A. FIVE

The Leal's school basketball team scored five points from fouls in their first game of the season at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Monday, while the association five ran up a total of thirty-seven points. Outclassing the school boys in every department of the game, the Y. M. C. A. players shot baskets almost at will, netting the ball seventeen times during the game. In the school year's five, who shot seven baskets, Rumsey four and each of the other players made points from the floor.

The game was marked by individual playing on both sides, and neither team showed especially good team work. The passing was loose and at times even careless. The Y. M. C. A. five started off with a rush, and had amassed twenty-five points at the end of the first half, while Duke had caged the ball once from the foul line for Leals. Both teams made fouls freely during the entire game. The teams lined up as follows:

Y. M. C. A.—Gilmore, lf; Rumsey, Collier, rf; Collier, Rumsey, c; Gavett, lg; Hoagland, Loizeaux, Rumsey, rg.

Leals—Rushmore, lf; Duke (Capt.), Martin, Campbell, rf; Brown, c; Martin, Dallas, lg; Laurence, Duke, rg.

Baskets from the floor: Collier, 7; Rumsey, 4; Gilmore, 2; Hoagland, 2; Gavett, Loizeaux. Goals from fouls: Rumsey, 3; Collier, Gavett, Gilmore. Y. M. C. A. was awarded two points for foul on man shooting, and Leals got one point in the same way. Referee, C. B. Morse; umpire, P. B. Allen; timer, Howard Ladd. Fifteen and twenty minute halves.

A Fiftieth Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Van Camp, parents of George and L. B. Van Camp, of this city, observed the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, yesterday, by entertaining their children and grandchildren at their beautiful home, Maplehurst, South Plainfield. Mr. and Mrs. Van Camp were married at Somerville, October 28, 1857, by Rev. Dr. Mesick. They were the recipients of some handsome presents. Congratulations were received after which a dinner was served and all enjoyed a pleasant day together.

All Saints' Church Consecration.

Invitations have been issued by the rector, wardens and vestrymen of All Saints' Episcopal church, of Scotch Plains and Fanwood, to the consecration of their church on Wednesday morning, November 6, at 10:30 o'clock. The services will be marked by many interesting features and it is expected that the Scarborough Council will attend and take part.

Miss Annie O'Leary Weds.

Miss Annie O'Leary, formerly of this city, and Michael Davitt, of Brooklyn, were married on Sunday in St. Thomas' Catholic church, Brooklyn. The wedding was largely attended by relatives and friends of the couple. The bride is a sister of Thomas O'Leary of West Fifth street, this city.

New York Golfers Win.

For the third year in succession the New York golfers, led by Walter J. Travis, had no trouble in winning chief honors on the tri-city matches for the Robert W. Lesley cup, at Brookline, Mass., on Saturday. Robert Abbott, of this city and Yale, was a member of the New York team and defeated his opponents by 1 up.

WANT TAXES REDUCED?

Then See That Your Children Faithfully Attend Public School.

THAT'S THE SOLUTION

Every Taxpayer Will Be Interested In This Brief and Lucid Explanation of the Laws.

In reference to inquiries from taxpayers seeking information relative to the Perkins tax law and the reason why it did not reduce the amounts of tax payers bills this year, it seems in order to review the history and the status of the railroad tax legislation. A reporter interviewed Mr. Ackerman on the subject with the following result. Mr. Ackerman said:

"The Legislatures of 1905 and 1906 were Republican in both branches. Legislation of a very important character was passed in the interest of the people among which was the Dudfield act of 1905 and the Perkins law of 1906.

"The Perkins law covers the taxation of the main stem at the average tax rate of the State for States uses and by a special enactment all of the proceeds of this tax over the above one-half of one per cent. is given to the support of the public schools. The Perkins act means the main stem of a railroad which must extend one hundred feet in width.

"The Dudfield act providing for the taxation of second class railroad property means, all terminals, switches, stations and railroad property of every kind, outside of the main stem, and is assessed locally at local rates for the benefit of the localities wherein the property lies.

"These laws speak for themselves and they tell a truthful tale of the efforts of the Republican party to legislate in the interest of all the people.

"New Jersey has no State tax.

"The Dudfield act has been declared to be constitutional by the highest courts of the State. It cannot be successfully assailed in the State courts.

"The Perkins law has been approved by the Supreme Court and I believe its constitutionality will also be affirmed by the Court of Errors and Appeals.

"Union county's share of school monies to be received from the operation of the Perkins act amounts this year to about $171,000 which sum is being held by the railroads pending the pecision of the court.

"If the final result shows that the Perkins act is constitutional there will be a material reduction in the tax rate throughout the county of from 16 to 14 points, which will be equivalent to an average of about $1.20 per thousand dollars valuation, providing, of course, that the local needs remain at the present rate. The taxes from the Perkins law will be distributed as follows:

Clark township	$ 340.41
Cranford	6,336.72
Elizabeth	75,327.62
Fanwood	2,732.65
Garwood	1,131.32
Kenilworth	841.43
Linden	2,279.56
Mountainside	446.22
New Providence T'ship	899.91
New Providence Bor...	959.70
Plainfield	28,561.72
Rahway	15,768.89
Roselle	4,395.38
Roselle Park	5,089.53
Springfield	2,739.18
Summit	11,940.12
Union	4,819.91
Westfield	19,625.68
	$173,369.15

"If the Perkins law had not been contested in the courts these amounts would be paid into the treasuries of the school boards of the different municipalities, giving a corresponding reduction in the local tax rate.

"The figures are based on this year valuations [illegible] ments and cover the money [illegible] abeyance or the railroad [illegible]. As the school attendance has a bearing on the amount the county receives from the State, parents can therefore assist in the reduction of the tax rate by seeing that their children faithfully attend school.

"If the $171,000 for Union county is not paid this year it will be added to the amount to be paid by the railroads for the succeeding year, resulting, of course, in a still greater reduction in the tax bills next fall, provided the law is upheld by the courts.

"The Perkins' act in full operation will prove of great benefit to the people, providing care and economy are practiced by local administrations."

Toilers and Idlers.

A farmer, a journalist, and a lover of music is the author of "Toilers and Idlers," published this fall by Wilshire Book Co., New York. His name is John R. McMahon. He took up the piano a number of years ago on account, he says, of the favorable action of his hands, but his capacity to reach two octaves or so is counterbalanced by an awkwardness due to rural pursuits. As a matter of fact, agriculture and music are his ideals, but literature is his profession.

*

Justin H. McCarthy has written a new play on Cesar Borgia, which H. B. Irving will produce this season.

PLAINFIELD'S Y. M. C. A. CELEBRATES ITS FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY WITH A BANQUET, ADDRESSES IN CHURCHES AND A MASS MEETING

Spirited Speeches Telling of the Origin and Growth of the Association Movement in This City the Feature of the Prosperous Institution's Big Birthday Celebration.

SOME FOUNDERS TALK

Two Days' Observance in Which Practically the Entire Populace Takes Part Closes With Big Meeting at the Theatre.

Commencing with a big banquet held in the association auditorium Saturday night and attended by nearly a hundred representative men of the city, celebrated by a series of special sermons at the various churches, and concluding yesterday afternoon with a men's mass meeting at the New Plainfield theatre, the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the foundation of the Young Men's Christian Association in this city has come and gone. The feature of the association since its foundation October 28, 1867, by eight Plainfielders on the inspiration of former Mayor Alexander Gilbert and a presentation of the opportunities for men's advancement along lines of physical, spiritual and moral development as set forth from the church pulpits and at the mass meeting yesterday.

At the association auditorium Saturday night the big banquet was attended by three of the original founders, former Mayor Gilbert, H. O. Newman and T. C. Aldrich, who had seats at the speakers' table. J. W. Jackson, the first vice president, and Nelson Runyon, the first correspond-

Joseph W. Gavett,
President.
—Photo by Longborne.

ing secretary of the institution, were expected but their present was not could not. The banquet which was served at eleven tables in the auditorium, was an excellent meal and was attended by men prominent among the lawyers, politicians, clergymen, physicians and educators of this city.

The Speakers.

At the speakers' table, J. W. Gavett, president of the association, presided as toastmaster, and with him were former Mayor Alexander Gilbert, the founder and first president of the association here, H. Otis Newman, the institution's first recording secretary, T. C. Aldrich, one of the early corresponding secretaries, W. D. Murray, C. W. McCutchen, H. Raymond Munger, former presidents of the Y. M. C. A., and David E. Titsworth, one of the earlier vice presidents. Rev. Jo E. Flagg, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, said grace before the banquetters sat down at shortly after 7 o'clock.

The feature of the evening's speeches was the remarks made by Alexander Gilbert, president of the New York Clearing House. Mr. Gilbert came to the banquet after a strenuous day's work at the pulse of New York's financial situation in which he has been a controlling element during the business troubles of the past week. His speech will be found in another column.

Y. M. C. A. Building.
—Courtesy Monarch Printing Co.

Mr. McCutchen's Talk.

Charles W. McCutchen, for five years president of the association, beginning with 1871, was the next speaker. He spoke of the auspices significance of the formation of the association in this city. Speaking of Mr. Gilbert, the founder, in this connection, he said: The Young Men's Christian Association is hon*ored in having such a man as Alex*ander Gilbert as the father of the institution. We ought to feel honored because of the action of this man in the current week. He has stood in the place of the direst need and has cut out the corrupt sore of the financial patient, staying a ruining financial panic in this country and perhaps abroad. We ought to feel the honor."

Mr. McCutchen went on to speak of the causes that have made the association work in Plainfield a success. Prominent among those he mentioned the subtle influence which one man exercises over another to *change him in the hour of emer*gency. The influence of Jesus Christ, the speaker said, was just such a fascinating personal influence that is a mutual bond of union beginning of the association work in this city.

Mr. Murray's Speech.

Following Mr. McCutchen, W. D. Murray was introduced as the next speaker. Mr. Murray has been for some time chairman of the Y. M. C. A. international committee, besides having been president of the local association for eleven years, beginning in 1887. He spoke in behalf of the younger, active element of the association, dwelling particularly upon the foreign work in which he has had a large share on the international committee. He gave interesting statistics of the growth of Y. M. C. A. work in foreign countries. All over the world, he said, the rulers and most influential statesmen of the various countries have commended and supported the work, which is now being actively carried on in eleven foreign countries. He concluded his remarks with a powerful appeal to the young men to enter upon the work abroad and voiced a hope that Plainfield would send young men to this great field for work abroad.

W. K. Cooper's Address.

The last of the speakers was William Knowles Cooper, prominent in association work in Springfield, Mass. He spoke of the great growth of the Young Men's Christian Association in this country, emphasizing the influence of the association as a means for promoting Christian unity,

Kenneth Robbie,
Secretary.
—Photo by Stone.

J. H. Manning,
Chairman Anniversary Committee.

abolishing denominational divisions and uniting with a strong bond all who call Christ Lord and Master. Speaking of the three fold development of body, mind and spirit, Mr. Cooper said that past at the school house and the church were side by side on the New England hills so were the educational and religious phases of life molded in the work of the association. Physical development will make every man his best as a servant of God and Y. M. C. A. athletics have done much to raise the standard of American gymnastics. Emphasizing the value of the Christian influences the association offers, Mr. Cooper spoke of the boys' department as a miniature Y. M. C. A. and concluded with a summarization of the scope of the institution.

Concluding the evening's speeches, Toastmaster Gavett made an appeal for co-operation by the young men in the work, speaking especially of the need of enthusiastic workers on the various committees of the association.

In the Churches.

Sunday's anniversary services were conducted in the various local churches with out of town speakers in the pulpits in the morning. J. S. Tichenor was at the Crescent Avenue church, William A. Tisdale at the Park Avenue Baptist, J. T. Sproull at the Congregational, C. W. Detirich at Grace M. E. in the morn*ing and the First Presbyterian in the* evening, and the L. Pendell at the First Baptist church in the morning. George A. Warburton was to have been the speaker at the First M. E. church in the morning, but did not arrive in town in time, so that his place was taken by William Knowles Cooper. I. E. Hawkins spoke at the Seventh-Day Baptist church Saturday morning. The speakers at all

George L. Listman,
Physical Director.

the churches dwelt particularly upon the anniversary occasion and upon the scope of the association work for the development of body, mind and spirit. Music was a feature at all the services.

The Mass Meeting.

The wet weather of the afternoon made the mass meetings rather slimly attended. At Trinity Reformed church, where F. B. Shipp was to have addressed a mass meeting of the Women's Auxiliary, the attendance was so small that the women adjourned to the men's mass meeting in the New Plainfield theatre. President J. W. Gavett, of the local association, was in charge of the meeting, the speaker of which was William Knowles Cooper. On the plat*form were seated Rev. J. A. Cham*bliss, H. Raymond Munger, Ernest R. Acker, Jr., H. Otis Newman, Chas. W. McCutcheon, T. C. Aldrich, Superintendent Henry M. Maxson and W. D. Murray. Singing was a feature of the service, and the Lotus Glee Club quartette, of New York, of which Charles L. Lewis, of this city, is a member, rendered several selections. E. C. Martin led the singing of the meeting, and several gospel hymns were sung during the service, Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan acted as accompanist. After the reading of a selection of scripture by Rev. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First *Baptist church, President J. W. Ga*vett, introduced William Knowles Cooper, the speaker of the afternoon. Mr. Cooper said in part:

"The Young Men's Christian Association today holds in its grasp the solution of the problems of the community that every young man must face. The association is a source of help because of its relationship with the churches, for the problem of the two organizations is the same. The physical department of the association offers the solution of the city business man's problem "quick or the dead" success depends upon fine personal development and health of the man. The counsel of the Y. M. C. A. physical director offers the solution of the question: 'What must I do to be saved physically?'

FARMERS' INSTITUTES.

One to Be Held at New Market November 14.

Secretary Franklin Dye, of the State Board of Agriculture, has announced the list of proposed farm-

Y. M. C. A. Auditorium.
—Courtesy Monarch Printing Co.

"The educational opportunities in the association make possible advancement to the young man by boarding influences for advancement. It has a big bread and butter significance to the young man seeking educational advancement. Then, too, the Y. M. C. A. is a great power as a religious force. It is eternally true that a man is essentially a religious animal. No man here dares to say that he is entirely devoid of religious emotion, or that there is no God. Religious life can be sacrificed only as an awful peril and a terrific loss in these days. There is a broad field

Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium.
—Courtesy Monarch Printing Co.

for religious work in connection with the association and each should feel personally responsible for supporting this need of workers. The work will enrich your civic life, too, by making you first and foremost right with God. The services of every man can be used."

POINTERS ON GAS STOVES.

How to Avoid Unpleasant Odors When Cooking.

For the woman whose troubles arise from the odor of cooking the remedy lies in having a small pipe between the range and the chimney to carry off the odorous gases. A large bowl of water placed near will also help to prevent odors of cooking penetrating the house.

If there is a constant smell of burning when cooking is going on, examine the burners. They are probably filled with sediment from "boil overs" of yesterday.

The smell of gas when a rubber tube is used (no leak being appar*ent) is usually caused by the tube it*self having become saturated with gas. New tubing is the only remedy.

When having the gas range put in be sure to see that the supply pipe is large enough to allow sufficient gas to enable all the burners to be used at the same time. This is very necessary. It is annoying to discover you can't boil two kettles when the oven is in use. See also that the oven is large and commodious and that there is plenty of room on the top for boiling, frying, etc. It is poor economy to use a gas range that is too small, says the Philadelphia Press.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The Michigan Federation of Labor has adopted resolutions declaring for suffrage for women in general and for Michigan women in particular.

The United Teamsters of America, in convention at Rochester, N. Y., adopted a resolution calling upon congress to submit to the State legislatures for ratification an amendment to the United States constitution prohibiting disfranchisement on account of sex.

The Nurses' Association of the Pacific Coast, at its recent annual meeting, passed a resolution in favor of woman suffrage, after debate. The newly elected president, Dr. Helen Criswell, was among its supporters. Last year asimilar resolution was laid on the table.

The Era Club of New Orleans, including some of the most representa*tive women in the city,* is questioning all gubernatorial candidates as to where they stand on the woman suffrage question. Not content with asking simply for as a statement of belief, the Era Club demands, "If not, why not?"

Miss Reynolds Engaged.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Reynolds, of Church street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Bessie Reynolds, to Remson Reade, of Elizabeth. The wedding will occur early in April, 1908.

 Of all the newspapers in "New York, the one which has approached most closely to what an "American newspaper should be in "straightforwardness and com- "THE NEW YORK TIMES stands "first." —Harper's Weekly.

The New York Times

"All the News that's Fit to Print."

Gives more space to news than any other New York newspaper. It gives impartial news free from bias. It goes into homes that bar other newspapers.

The London Times' Cable News appears in this country exclusively in THE NEW YORK TIMES. No other American newspaper equals THE NEW YORK TIMES in the presentation of Domestic or Foreign News.

The New York Times
Is Now Appearing Every Sunday
Improved and Enlarged

with an illuminated PICTORIAL SECTION OF EIGHT FULL-SIZE PAGES, embracing pictures of prominent people in society and public life, also scenes and incidents of the important events of the day.

The Magazine Section accompanying the SUNDAY TIMES presents a variety of interesting illustrated features and a unique selection of the best stories about men and women of prominence.

The New York Times.
Saturday Review of Books.

which accompanies the Saturday Edition, is the recognized authority to which the public looks for the first news of books.

The New York Times.
Weekly Financial Quotation Review.

gives a weekly review of current prices of stocks and bonds; also the dealings in securities, including high and low prices—comprising a compact and convenient reference publication for investors and others interested in financial matters.

ORDER THROUGH YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER,
or mailed direct from office, as per following rates:

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

	By Mail
One Year, Sundays Included	$8.50
Six Months, Sundays Included	4.25
Three Months, Sundays Included	2.25
One Month, Sundays Included	.75
Per Week	.17
Daily without Sunday, per year	6.00
Daily without Sunday, six months	3.00
Daily, without Sunday, three months	1.50
Daily, without Sunday, one month	.50
Daily, without Sunday, one week	.12
The New York Times Weekly Financial Quotation Review	1.00
Saturday Times with Section Devoted to Review of Books, per year	1.00
Sunday, with Pictorial Section, per year	2.50

Postage to foreign countries for Daily and Sunday Editions, add $1.95 per month.

Newsdealers who are not receiving THE NEW YORK TIMES—Daily and Sunday editions—should order a regular supply at once. Write for terms. Address Circulation Manager.

The New York Times
Times Square,
New York.

MAGAZINE READERS

SUNSET MAGAZINE
beautifully illustrated, good stories and articles about California and all the Far West. $1.50 a year

CAMERA CRAFT
devoted each month to the artistic reproduction of the best work of amateur and professional photographers. $1.00 a year

ROAR OF A THOUSAND WONDERS
a book of 75 pages, containing 120 colored photographs of picturesque spots in California and Oregon. $0.75

Total . . . $3.25

All for $1.50

Address all orders to
SUNSET MAGAZINE
Flood Building San Francisco

FOR AGENTS—AN OPPORTUNITY!

"THE OLD WORLD AND ITS WAYS"
BY
William Jennings Bryan.
NOW READY FOR SOLICITORS.
576 Imperial Octavo Pages. Over 200 Superb Engravings from photographs taken by Mr. Bryan.

Recounts his trip around the world and his visits to all nations. The greatest book of travel ever written. The people are waiting for it. The agent's harvest. Outfit FREE—Send fifty cents to cover mailing and handling.
THE THOMPSON PUBLISHING CO.,
St. Louis, Mo. 7 26 2 c

First Appearance in Court.

Michael J. Hughes, who said he had never been arrested before, was dismissed with a warning when haled before Recorder Dolliver at the session of court last night. Marshal Pope found him helplessly drunk on Somerset street.

Sanitary Plumbing

Brick and Portable Furnace
Gas Fitting, Tin Roofing,
Etc., Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.

Having associated myself with the Master Members Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business, at all times and in all cases.

D. W. LITTELL

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

COMMERCIAL LAW.

By Utley E. Crane, the well-known Philadelphi attorney. An instructive and invaluable treatment of this subject in its various branches.

PICTURESQUE PENNSYLVANIA.

Pennsylvania's beautiful scenery described with illustrations.

MUSIC WITHOUT A TEACHER.

Learn to play the piano in 12 lessons, one lesson to be published each Sunday.

These remarkable and valuable features will al appear in the Sunday Record in addition to the general news and other special features. Order from yeour newsdealer in advance.

THE PHILADELPHIA RECORD,
917 Chestnut street. 10 24 3

NEW IN EVERY DETAIL
My new barber shop at
143 NORTH AVE.
is now open ready for business. All the latest appointments in the tonsorial line.
EDWIN B. MAYNARD.

DIME
Savings Institution,
Of Plainfield, N. J.,
Is now receiving deposits with interest, allowed on all sums from $5 to $5,000.

J. Frank Hubbard, President.
Wm. F. Arnold, Vice-Pres
Jeremiah Manning,
J. C. Pope, Sec'y and Treas.

Money deposited on or before January tenth will draw interest from the first.

Guaranteed Salary $900 YEARLY.

Men and women of good address to represent us, some to travel appointing agents, others for local work looking after our interests. $900 salary guaranteed yearly; extra commissions if services prove, rapid advancement, old established house. Grand chance for active workers to secure pleasant, permanent position, liberal income and future. Now, brilliant lines. Write at once.

STAFFORD PRESS,
33 Church St., New Haven, Conn.

W. K. CODINGTON,
Counsellor-at-Law
Commissioner of Deeds, Master-in-Chancery, Notary Public. Offices Corner of Park avenue and Second street.

DIED.

DUFFY—In this city, Oct. 24, 1907, at her late residence, 610 New street, Mrs. Mary Duffy, in her 73d year.

FLYNN—At the residence of his parents, 1023 West Front street, on Saturday, October 26, 1907, Vincent, son of John J. and Julia M. Flynn.

HAYES—On Friday, October 25, 1907, Mary Osborn Hayes, daughter of the late Samuel and Mary Osborn Hayes.

KANE—In this city, October 25, 1907, Thomas J. Kane, in his 23d year.

SCHUTT—On Saturday, October 26, 1907, William A. Schutt, in his 65th year.

VOORHEES—Alvin, beloved husband of Rachel, and father of Walter L. and Grace C. Voorhees, died suddenly on October 26, 1907, at the age of 56 years.

CLANS HAVE DISPERSED

Big Fete for Charity Came to An End Last Night With An Auction Sale.

NET PROCEEDS LARGE

Prizes In Various Contests Awarded to Local Society Women—No Financial Report Yet.

The "clans" have met and parted, society women have worked and played for "sweet charity" and those in charge are now busy counting up the receipts. Last night was the end of the gathering and the biggest crowd of the week of social festivity made merry at the Casino until near-by daylight. It was frosty outside but the grounds were filled, and the outside attractions drew many people. The minstrel show was the main attraction, but trade at the various booths was lively till the lights were put out. The hot dog merchants did a big business, and Jim Sabbitt, the dog catcher, brought three loads of canines from upper Somerset street in the course of the evening to meet the day's demand. The fortune-telling booth did its best business and the flapping was incessant from the flap-jack booth. There was such a rush at the ingersoll watch booth that all the watches ran down at 11.23 from sheer exhaustion at all the excitement.

Indoors the entire evening was devoted to auctioneering of the stock at the various booths. Charles Lyman swung the hammer as the auctioneer and refused to bear the smaller bids. There was keen rivalry for the possession of the dainty things unsold, and money almost shouted. Nothing but a greenback "raise" was noticed by the auctioneers, and the prices paid at the candy booth were as fancy as the confectionery which prompted the bidding.

The awarding of articles in the various contests of the fete was the occasion for much enthusiastic excitement. Mrs. Henry E. Potska won the antique warming pan amid great applause. The miniature went to Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Marion Hall carried off the prize doll. There was much enthusiasm when Mrs. J. Evarts was announced as the winner of the dainty work stand. George Wharton Edwards' painting, "The Sunny Hour," was not awarded last night, but the winner will be announced later in the week.

Mrs. J. E. Corliss said today that the fete had not netted as much as was anticipated, but that the sum to be turned over to Muhlenberg Hospital would be a large one. It is too early to announce with any accuracy the profits, for several of the committees have not yet turned in their receipts as yet, but the affair will add several thousands to the funds of the hospital.

Mrs. Henry L. Hall, who was in charge of the booth where fancy articles were offered, announced today that the sales at the booth had netted $1,050.25, after all expenses were paid. This is twenty-five cents better than Mrs. Hall did at the carnival last year, when the net proceeds of a sale of similar articles amounted to $1,050.

INVITATIONS ISSUED.

Ceremony Uniting Miss Eleanor Williams and George H. O'Donnell will be Performed Nov. 1.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Eleanor Boulden Williams, of West Seventh street, and George Harold O'Donnell, of New York, to take place Friday, November 1, at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Clinton avenue and Sixth.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Charles Townsend. A reception will follow the ceremony, for their many friends, only relatives being invited to the church. The bride will be attended by Mrs. William S. Loizeaux, a sister, as matron-of-honor; Miss Clorita S. Wisgerf, of New York, and Miss Mabel Bogardus, of Plainfield, as bridesmaids. C. Allen Hayden, of New York, will assist Mr. O'Donnell as best man, and John N. Gellatly, of New York, Russell G. Inslee, of Newton, Richard Elkins, of Elkins, W. Va., and Ralph L. Crow, of Rye, N. Y., will be ushers.

Mr. O'Donnell, Mr. Hayden, Mr. Elkins and Mr. Crow were members of the Tiger Inn Club of Princeton University of the class of 1900.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gahagan, of Belvidere avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Blanche Gahagan, to Augustus Sheelen, of Fanwood. The wedding will take place some time in January.

Heavy Bread.

Mrs. Beacon—I wonder what in the world got into this bread of mine?

Mr. Bacon—It couldn't have been one of those meteorites we saw falling last night, could it, dear?—Yonkers Statesman.

"Yaas," said Cholly, "I confess I prefer dear old England to this country. I should like to be a subject of the king."

"Vain longing," retorted Miss Pepprey. "Of course you can never be anything but an object."—Philadelphia Press.

MISS AGNES KELLY BRIDE OF W. J. DOUGHERTY

Miss Agnes Irene Kelly, of Clinton avenue, and William J. Dougherty, of Elizabeth, were married in St. Mary's church at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony which was performed by Rev. B. M. Bogan, the pastor, was witnessed by a large gathering of relatives and friends from New York, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Elizabeth and this city.

The bride was attended by her sister Miss May Kelley, as bridesmaid, and Mayor Pierre P. Garven of Bayonne, was the best man. The ushers were Frank Kelley and Charles Kelly, brothers of the bride. Miss Mary Smith presided at the organ and as the bridal party entered the church she played the wedding march from Lohengrin. On leaving the church, the Mendelssohn wedding march was played.

Following the reception was held at the new home of the couple, 826 West Sixth street, which was handsomely furnished and awaited the bride and groom. There was a large gathering of relatives and friends who showered congratulations upon Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty. An elaborate supper was served during the evening. Later the couple left on a wedding trip which will include the Jamestown Exposition.

The bride enjoys a large acquaintance among Plainfield friends. Mr. Dougherty is chief of the detective force of the New Jersey Central, and has a host of acquaintances along the line of the road. His friends employed by the company remembered the bride with many handsome gifts, including a costly bed-room suit. Another valuable gift was a grandfather clock which is 107 years old. This was from an intimate friend.

BOROUGH MAN WEDS AT WEST BRIGHTON

Miss Eleanor Kahle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Kahle, of West Brighton, Staten Island, and Clarence Bardwell Peck, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Peck, of Myrtle avenue, North Plainfield, were married at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in St. Mary's Episcopal church, West Brighton, in the presence of a large and fashionable throng of society people from New York, Staten Island, Plainfield and Dunellen. The bride, Miss Muriel Kendall and Miss Ursula Barzinger, as bridesmaids. All but Miss Peck were from West Brighton. The best man was Everett Peck, brother of the groom; and the ushers were Arthur Peck and Alston Kahle, of Plainfield; Howard Johnson, of West Virginia, and Herman Kahle, of West Brighton.

The bride wore a lace robe, richly trimmed with lace and carried a shower boquet of lillies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a lavender robe and the bridesmaid's gown were of lavender chiffon. They wore lavender hats and carried chrysanthemums of the same color.

Following the ceremony a large reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Today Mr. and Mrs. Peck will sail for Cuba on their wedding trip. Upon their return they will reside at Charleston, West Virginia, where the groom and Howard Johnson are partners in the Charleston Electrical Supply Company. Mr. Peck is a graduate of Yale, Class of 1895, and is well-known here. The bride received a large collection of valuable gifts. She is prominent in social circles at her home.

MARRIED BY THE RABBI

AT THE ARLINGTON HOTEL.

In a simple ceremony performed by Rabbi Max Davidson at the Arlington Hotel on Somerset street Thursday, Miss Lena Jacobson became the wife of Mr. Jacob Jacobson. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Farbman, and there were about twenty-five present at the ceremony, which was performed in the hotel parlor. The bride has only been in this country a few months, having come over from Russia in August. Jacobson is in business in New York and has been staying at the Arlington Hotel. The couple will make their home in the borough.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was held at the hotel. The evening was passed informally, and later a collation was served.

An Ambitious Prince.

When Prince Edward, son of the Prince of Wales and heir apparent to the British throne, was about nine years old he said to his nurse one night before going to sleep: "You know that some day I shall be king. Well, when I am I shall do three things. First, I shall make a law that no one is to cut off puppy's tails, for that is very cruel. Then I shall make a law that no one is to put bearing reins on horses, for that is another cruel thing. And I shall try to do away with all sin."

KEPT WEDDING A SECRET

Newspaper Notice Informs Friends of Marriage of Well Known Local Couple.

CEREMONY LAST MONTH

Performed at Jersey City and United Miss Sarah Elizabeth Hand and James Wiswall Drayton.

DRAYTON — HAND — At Jersey City, N. J., by the Rev. George H. Mooney, Sarah Elizabeth Hand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hand, to James Wiswall Drayton, of Plainfield, N. J.

The above notice inserted in a New York paper Friday morning informed Plainfielders for the first time of the marriage of two widely known residents, Miss Sarah Elizabeth Hand, daughter of Assessor and Mrs. Charles H. Hand, of Belvidere avenue, and James Wiswall Drayton, of East Ninth street. The announcement came as a great surprise and is still more so from the fact that the ceremony was performed last month but was kept a secret by the couple.

When Mrs. Drayton was asked about the wedding by a Daily Press reporter, she declared there was nothing definite to be said. The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. Mooney in Jersey City and only the necessary witnesses were in attendance. They afterward returned to Plainfield and have since been living at their respective homes, saying nothing about the wedding for reasons known to themselves.

The couple will leave today for an extended wedding trip and at its conclusion they will make their home at 1213 Martine avenue, where a new residence completely furnished awaits them.

Both Mr. Drayton and his bride are widely known throughout the city and borough. The latter has always resided in Plainfield and in recent years has been in charge of her father's extensive real estate business. Mr. Drayton has also lived here practically all his life and holds a responsible position in New York.

"KINGSTON COTTAGE" DESTROYED BY FIRE

"Kingston Cottage," at Lake Hopatcong, the handsome summer home of Mrs. Rustin, of New York, well known to Plainfielders, was entirely destroyed by fire Thursday night. The cottage was unoccupied and what started the blaze is a mystery. The few people now at the lake were unable to get the progress of the fire and beside it had gained such headway that their efforts would have been futile.

The cottage was located close to the "Ithanell Cottage," and occupied a prominent site at the head of the River Styx. Mr. Wood, of the borough, who left yesterday for the lake to spend a few days fishing, was among those who witnessed the conflagration.

Mrs. Enstice and her family left the cottage a few weeks ago, taking all the necessary precautions to protect it during the winter season. The fire was not discovered until the whole dwelling was enveloped in flames and it was impossible to discover in what part of the building it started.

This is the second cottage at the lake that has been destroyed by fire within two weeks. "Casadora," the former summer home of F. T. Wood, of Newark, having fallen prey to flames on October 14.

W. C. T. U. HEARS REPORTS OF THE STATE CONVENTION.

Reports from the State W. C. T. U. convention held at Jersey City last week, were presented at a meeting of the local union held in the rooms on Madison avenue, Thursday afternoon. Those who reported were Mrs. P. H. Bennett and Mrs. M. Winters, while Mrs. E. A. Parse also had something to say about the State gathering. The delegates told in an interesting manner of the various features of the convention, including the Bible readings, the reports of the State officers showing the great progress being made along the lines of temperance. The reports afforded much encouragement to the local members in their work. Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, who is county president of the local union, gave a report on Sunday, but she added a few words yesterday to the other reports.

At a business meeting of the union arrangements were completed for the fair to be held at the rooms on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The committee in charge stated that all the details are well in hand.

Biglow May Row on Yale Crew.

The prospects of Yale having a strong crew next spring have grown considerably brighter over the report that Captain Lucius H. Biglow, Jr., of the football team, and a former resident of this city, is likely to join the eight. Captain Ide declares that Biglow is one of the best oarsmen in Yale.

LOCAL MAN A SUICIDE

Discovery of Jacob Scharf's Body Leads to Story of Murder Mystery.

POLICE LEARN FACTS

Stabbed Himself With His Own Knife —Formerly Worked at Pond's and Lived On West Fifth Street.

After several New York detectives had worked the greater part of yesterday on the theory that a murder mystery was to be unravelled, they succeeded in establishing the fact that the body of a man found in Madison Square Park, Wednesday night, was that of Joseph Scharf, of Plainfield, and that he had committed suicide. The story of a park pedestrian to the effect that he had seen three men get out of a cab and proceed to a tree beneath which the body was discovered a short time afterward, is what led to the "mystery."

The police were at first inclined to believe that Scharf had been murdered in some nearby place and carried to the park and the impression was strengthened when it was learned that the man had been stabbed through the heart but not through the clothing. A dragnet was thrown out and several people who were many took place at the home of Mr. Mooney in Jersey City and only the about the time the "mysterious" cab drove up, were arrested and held as witnesses. They were afterward released.

In the search conducted by the detectives they came upon a knife a few feet from where the body was found, afterward identified as Scharf's, and they learned that he had been acting queerly at the Waverly Hotel on Eighth avenue, where he lived. The only thing about the whole affair that remained a mystery was the man's reason for stabbing himself beneath his clothing.

Scharf was well known in this city and was employed until two months ago in the blackamith department at the Pond shop. He boarded at the home of Charles Hepner, of West Fifth street, and left there when he lost his position. He announced to the lady of the house that he was going to New York to seek a place and that if he did not he would return. Cards in his pocket giving his Plainfield address led to his identification.

MANY SOCIETY WOMEN AT CHARMING LUNCHEON

Adelightful society events of Thursday was luncheon given by Mrs. George A. Chapman, at Stelle avenue by Mrs. George and her daughters, the Misses Gernon, of Crescent avenue. More than one hundred invitations were issued to the affair and over seventy-five guests were present. The large rooms was used for the seating of guests and this was elaborately decorated with autumn foliage and chrysanthemums.

Among those present were Mrs. George A. Chapman, Mrs. Gernon, the Misses Gernon, Mrs. J. B. Dumont, Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. John Gray Foster, Mrs. A. D. Shepard, Mrs. Charles A. Reed, Mrs. H. M. Stockton, Mrs. W. B. Wadsworth, Mrs. D. H. Bowne, Mrs. Chapman Fisk, Mrs. B. VanD. Hedges, Mrs. James W. DeGraff, Mrs. George Wharton Edwards, Mrs. August Kleinecke, Mrs. William M. Sandford, Mrs. William Barker, Mrs. J. A. Chamberlain, Mrs. P. W. Iredell, Mrs. Joseph Yerkes, Mrs. George T. Rogers, Mrs. Henry A. McGee, Mrs. H. C. Irons, Mrs. Jabez Gilbert, Mrs. Edward S. Patterson, Mrs. W. F. Tallaferro, Mrs. W. A. Conner, Mrs. DeWitt C. Ling, Mrs. H. H. Ladd, Jr., Mrs. Ernest R. Ackerman, Mrs. Max Munger, Mrs. T. W. Bakewell, Mrs. Percy Stewart, Mrs. Townsend Rushmore, Mrs. C. A. Marsh, Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Mrs. W. C. Kinney, Mrs. W. H. Fullerton, Mrs. Isaac Brown, Mrs. Howard Fleming, Mrs. Josiah Browne, Mrs. G. S. Ring, Mrs. L. N. Lovell, Mrs. M. S. Ackerman, Mrs. F. H. Andrews, Mrs. G. A. Strong, Mrs. W. L. C. Glenney, Mrs. J. S. Schoonmaker, Mrs. J. F. Raymond, Mrs. A. A. Tilney, Mrs. Robert Lowry, Mrs. Emma Ege, Mrs. E. H. Booth, Mrs. J. F. Harman, the Misses Randolph, Vera McCutchen, Marguerite McCutchen, McCutcheon, Fleming, Wilcox, Wadsworth, Harman, Watts, Bowland, Bakewell, Harman, Shreve, Browne.

Miss Lena Thompson Weds.

Miss Lena Thompson, of 313 West Front street, and Clarence Wiggins, of Caldwell, Essex county, were married Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. L. R. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel, officiated. Only the relatives and intimate friends of the couple were present. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Rose Mundy, of Caldwell, as bridesmaid, and Andrew Thompson, brother of the bride, as best man. Miss Dorothy Simms, of Caldwell, and Miss Viola Holt, of Richmond Hill, S. I., were flower girls. After the ceremony and reception, Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins left in an automobile for a wedding trip. They will reside in New York.

M'CARDELL IS VINDICATED

Jury Awards $10 Verdict in Suit Against Courier-News and R. L. Lee for Libel.

DAMAGES NOMINAL

Plaintiff Couldn't Show That He Had Suffered from Publication of Defamatory Article—Mr. McCardell Pleased.

In the Circuit Court, at Elizabeth, shortly after noon Friday, a verdict was awarded Andrew McCardell in his suit against the Courier-News and former Tax Collector Robert L. Lee for libel. Nominal damages, six cents, were given, it not being shown that the object of the alleged scurrilous attack had suffered to any extent as a result of the alleged vicious attack made on him in that newspaper. Mr. McCardell was greatly pleased over the verdict as were his counsel, Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., and Winfield S. Angleman, both of whom fought for a vindication rather than for heavy damages.

The case went to the jury at noon, after several witnesses had been examined. When the trial began yesterday afternoon, was resumed this morning, former Councilman William Starr Bullock was called to corroborate the testimony of former Councilman Stephen Higham and Mr. Lee that Mr. McCardell had uttered the alleged words forming the basis for the suit. Former Mayor James P. Buckley and George J. Dobia for the plaintiff were subsequently called to testify that they were present on the occasion referred to and that they did not hear any such language used by Mr. McCardell, corroborative testimony for Councilmen Ralph I. Tolles and William L. Gloak, both of whom were also present.

As counsel for the defense, George W. Moy summoned Ralph L. Morrow to the stand to show that Mr. McCardell was alleged to have given The Daily Press permission to publish the alleged defamatory article when suit was about to be brought by him. Judge Hall refused to allow such testimony to be put in evidence. On cross-examination by Mr. Angleman, Mr. Morrow declared that the article in question had been handed to him on the morning of the same day in which it appeared in the publication and that he had refused to publish Mr. Lee's article on the ground that it was libellous and defamatory.

After both sides had summed up, Judge Hall charged the jury on the law. In a short time afterwards, the jury returned a verdict for Mr. McCardell. The verdict does not carry with it costs of court. No notice of appeal was made by Mr. Moy.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE FOR LEAL'S SCHOOL TEAM

Though the local basketball season will not begin for more than two weeks, Manager Dudley Brown of the Leal's school five, has already scheduled eight games with high schools and preparatory schools and is arranging for others. The schoolboys will open their season with a practice game with the Y. M. C. A. team at the association gymnasium Monday night, but the first scheduled game by the management is with the five from the Lincoln Collegiate School, which will be played here Friday afternoon, December 6.

Manager Brown has completed arrangements for the use of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium for the home games of the season, and five of the eight contests scheduled so far will be played in this city. Of the out of town games, the first will be with Betts Academy, and the local five will go to Stamford, Conn., for the game late in January. This is the longest of the out of town trips, the others being return games with Pennington Academy, at Pennington, and with the New York Collegiate School, at New York city. Both of these games will be in February. This year's schedule of the New York Collegiates will conclude the season, coming February 28.

The schedule, as arranged to date, was given out by Manager Brown today as follows: Friday, December 6, New York Collegiate School, at Plainfield; Monday, December 16, Hudson River Military Academy, at Plainfield; Thursday, December 26, Kingsley School, of Essex Fells, at *Plainfield! Friday, January 17, Pen*nington Academy, at Plainfield; Friday, January 24, Betts Academy, at Stamford, Conn.; Friday, January 7, Cartaret School, at Plainfield; Friday, February 21, Pennington Academy, at Pennington; Friday, February 28, New York Collegiate School, at New York.

The majority of the games will be played in the afternoon, and Manager Brown is arranging for as many as possible to leave Saturdays free because of the probability that games in the local interscholastic basketball league will be played Saturdays. The representatives of the schools to be represented in the scholastic league have not as yet held a meeting to form the league or arrange a schedule. Other dates are pending with schools in the vicinity, but no other dates have as yet been secured.

ALONE WITH CHILDREN MOTHER DROPS DEAD

Mrs. Harry J. Zager, who moved to this city from Perth Amboy last Saturday, dropped dead in the bathroom of her home at 1225 George street, just above Leland avenue, at 8 o'clock Thursday. She had been ill more or less for the past few months but this morning was feeling somewhat better and had been about the house. Heart disease is ascribed as the cause of death.

Mrs. Zager's demise occurred under unusually sad circumstances as there was no one at home at the time but Matilda Hansen, a thirteen-year-old work girl, and her three small boys, aged eight, five and three years. Mr. Zager is a contracting painter and paper-hanger with an office at 34 New Brunswick avenue, Perth Amboy, and left for that city at 7 o'clock this morning. The Hansen girl heard Mrs. Zager drop to the floor and became hysterical when she discovered what had happened. She gathered the children about her and hurried out of the house to summon neighbors, leaving the latter to do what they could.

Drs. Hughes and Brennan were called by a Mr. Hall and the physicians notified Chief Kiely. He assumed charge of the case and through the Perth Amboy police forwarded word to Mr. Zager. County Physician Westcott viewed the body at noon and granted the burial permit.

MANY FRIENDS WITNESS PRETTY HOME CEREMONY

Miss Alice Rushmore, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edmund Rushmore, of Park avenue, and Henry Claflin Wells, son of Mrs. Henry Bartlett Wells, of North Plainfield, were married Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents on Park avenue in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends from far and near. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. C. Nickerson, pastor of All Souls' church.

Attending the bride were her sister, Miss Helen R. Rushmore, as maid of honor, and her cousin, Miss Eleanor Riley and Miss Evelyn Wells, of North Plainfield, as bridesmaids. Laura Riley was flower girl. The best man was Arthur Kendrick, of Boston, a cousin of the groom, and the ushers were Dr. Stephen Rushmore, of Boston, and William Rushmore, of this city, brothers of the bride.

The ceremony was performed in the parlor beneath a large bell of green foliage. The bride was gowned in white satin and the maid of honor and bridesmaids in green marquisette. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses, while the maid of honor and bridesmaids carried sprays of asparagus fern.

An informal reception followed the ceremony and in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Wells left on a wedding trip. They will reside in their own home in North Plainfield. The bride and groom are both well known here socially. Mrs. Wells is a student of art and has displayed exceptional talent. Mr. Wells is employed by the Ardross Worsted Company, of New York.

MISS ARLINE BROWN WINS ORATORICAL CONTEST.

Her Selection, "A Daughter's Sacrifice," Declared the Best by Judges.

The silver medal oratorical contest held at the First Presbyterian church Thursday, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., was largely attended and a success. There were a number of contestants for the prize, and after careful deliberation the judges awarded the medal to Miss Arline Brown, whose selection, "A Daughter's Sacrifice," was considered the best. The judges were Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, H. C. Krebs and Kenneth Robbie, and the medal was presented by Mrs. T. C. Bodine.

An excellent programme was given as follows:

Song, "America;" piano solo, Miss Grace George; recitation, "Old Soapy;" Miss Florence Fowler; vocal solo, "The Fairy's Lullaby," Mrs. Charles Clarke; recitation, "The Boy her Hat," Miss Edna Doughty; piano solo, "Imps and Sprits at Work," Miss Beatrice Miner; recitation, "The Result of Treating," Miss Ida Englehart; piano solo, "Flirrin's Chorus from Tannhauser," Miss Ruth Wean; recitation, "The Christmas Story," Miss Mary T. Smith; vocal solo, "Gretna," Mrs. Charles H. Clarke; recitation, "A Daughter's Sacrifice," Miss Arline Brown.

Elected to Veterans' Association.

Constable John Manley, of Park avenue, received notice today of his election as a member of the Veterans' Association of the Metropolitan Insurance Company. The election carries with it the gift of the organization's insignia, a pretty sterling silver button. Mr. Manley was awarded a handsome gold badge by the company for faithful services, last June, having completed twenty years in its employ.

SCHOOLBOYS IN TIE GAME

City and Borough High School Elevens in a Hard Fought Contest.

FINAL SCORE 5 TO 5

Boroughites Surprised Local School Boys and Played the Better Game—P. H. S. Fumbled At Critical Times.

Before a crowd of 300 cheering school boys and school girls, the football teams of the city and borough high schools played a 5-5 tie game on Hope Common Wednesday afternoon, and the two elevens, evenly matched, fought for every foot of ground in a contest that was not decided until the timers' whistles blew. The boroughites sprung a surprise on their opponents and until within six minutes of the end of the game the score was 5-0 in their favor.

The city high eleven secured the kick-off and it was through their unsteadiness at the beginning of the game that the borough team scored. A poor pass for a punt gave the North Plainfielders the ball on city high's 25-yard mark and in four rushes the fast boroughites made the touchdown, gaining through the left side of their opponents' line. Byron McClintock was sent over the line for the North Plainfielders' only score less than two minutes after the game began. He failed to kick the goal.

A minute or two after the next kick-off, another poor pass for a punt gave the boroughites the ball about the same distance from the city team's goal line as the one which resulted in the scoring. It looked like another touchdown, for the North Plainfielders got within striking distance of the goal by the use of a quarterback run behind the entire line as interference. But Captain Murphy's men steadied and the boroughites lost the ball on downs a yard and a half from the goal line. Murphy broke through the borough's defense four successive times for several yards at each try, but the ball was out of danger. Neither team got within striking distance of the other's goal line during the remainder of the half.

In the second half, city high started out to play hard, fast football. They began to use the forward pass, and though penalized once, it proved the direct means of their score. They gained almost forty yards by using it three times successively and when within striking distance of the goal, Loizeaux sent Bingaman through the line twice in succession for the touchdown. Phillips missed the rather difficult goal necessary to win the game for Plainfield. The city high eleven were working the ball steadily down the field when time was called.

The game was marked by a good deal of fumbling, especially by the city high team. They were very unsteady at first, but played winning football in the second half. Individual playing was again a feature and Murphy, Bingaman and Loizeaux proved the best ground gainers. Borough high was stronger on the defense, when the teams played straight football and Coorey at quarterback played a heady game and made some brilliant tackles. Byrn McClintock and Parsons were the best ground gainers for the borough team. Parsons and Day, who have been kept out of school by illness, played in the game yesterday for the first in two weeks. The summary:

P. H. S.		N. P. H. S.
Doané		F. McClintock
	left end
Fountain, Cullen		Smith
	left tackle
Sewell		Beecher
	left guard
Burke, Titsworth		Powlison
	centre
Morris		Steiner
	right guard
Hammond		Day
	right tackle
K. Phillips		Herrman
	right end
Loizeaux		Coorey
	quarterback
Murphy		Overton
	left half back
Caldwell		Parsons
	right half back
Bingaman		B. McClintock
	full back

Referee—Phillips. Umpire—Mr. Phelps, of N. P. H. S. Timers—Brown, of N. P. H. S. and Lyness, of P. H. S. Fifteen and twenty minute halves.

"Try One of My Brisels."

In Siam they don't offer you a cigar or a cigarette, but a betel nut. There every one carries a supply of them in a neat little ivory box, not unlike the snuffboxes of our ancestors. The betel nut is a narcotic, in its effects not unlike tobacco, but it is much more harmful. Those who chew it suffer from inflamed gums, and they generally lose their teeth. The betel is a species of climbing plant, with a leaf not unlike ivy. It yields a crop of nuts, which are ground to a powder. This is mixed with a similar powder derived from the areca nut and made into a paste, which is wrapped in pieces of betel leaf.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Nov. 3: "According to our works." "If a man love me he will keep my word."—John xiv, 23.

By REV. WALTER I. TOZER, D. D.

Passages for reference—Matt. xxv, 31-33; Mal. i, 6-8; I John ii, 3; iii, 7, 8, 9.

This seems very simple, yet how beclouded it has often been made! How can you know that one is a Christian? How can I know that I am a Christian? What a deal of discussion has been had on this and what a vast amount of nonsense written and spoken!

Yet here is the answer plain as daylight. Would you know if you are a Christian? Then compare your life with the teachings of Christ. If you love His commands, you are His, no matter how you may channel to feel. If you do not keep His words, for assured you are none of His, no matter how you feel or what you think.

One serious difficulty in all this business is that many do not know what Christ's words and commands are. Oh, in a general sense they have a misty idea of Christian duty, but as to any definite, clear cut conception of New Testament piety and heart communion it is as unknown to them as the language in which He spoke.

How can one know what the commands if he does not take time to read what He said, and to ponder over it, to meditate on it, turn it over in mind and apply it to the circumstances of one's daily life?

No wonder that the ordinary life of Christians is so far below the New Testament standard when so little time is spent by most of them in learning what Jesus said for their guidance.

The thirty minute sermon heard occasionally and a short reading from the Bible is very inadequate guidance in forming a Christian character.

The serious part of this is what we are to be judged according to our works. We are placed here in a practical training school. We are becoming fixed in habits and disposition and confirmed in our ways of life. It is important that we grow rightly now. There is little likelihood that we shall be able hereafter to ungrow the crooks and twists we grow into ourselves here. It is better to grow straight in the first place, but to do so we must have a straight standard to tie up to, and must be kept close to it, until the fiber of our nature has hardened into shape.

Is your standard all right? Are you keeping close to it? Failure in either of these points will be fatal.

It costs to be straight, but it pays in the end. It pays all the way along. There is never a day when it is not better and more satisfactory to be learning of Jesus in a teachable spirit than to be indifferent or hostile. Better be what you know you ought to be and what is worth while and for it all the time.

Common Days.

One of the chief dangers of life is trusting occasions. We think that conspicuous events, striking experiences, exalted moments, have most to do with our character and capacity. We are wrong. Common days, monotonous hours, wearisome paths, plain old tools and everyday clothes tell the real story. Good habits are not made on birthdays nor Christian character at the new year. The vision may dawn, the dream may awaken, the heart may leap with a new inspiration on some mountain top, but the test, the triumph, is at the foot of the mountain, on the level plain. The workshop of character is every-day life. The uneventful and commonplace hour is where the battle is won or lost. Believe God for new truth, a beautiful idea, a glowing experience, but remember that unless we bring it down to the ground and teach it to walk with feet, work with hands and stand the strain of daily life we have less than half-believed, have been hurt by it. A new light in our heart makes an occasion, but an occasion is an opportunity, not for building a tabernacle and feeling thankful and looking back to a blessed experience, but for shedding new light on the old path and doing old duties with new inspiration. The uncommon life is the child of the common day lived in an uncommon way.—Mattie Davenport Babcock.

Worth Remembering.

The most manifest sign of wisdom is continued cheerfulness.—Montaigne.

Keep your soul in the free and open wherever your body may be.—"Out West."

The spirit of brotherhood never needs to hire billboards to have its good deeds made known.—Henry F. Cope.

Live in a thankful spirit and you will find more to be thankful for.—Brooke Herford.

The best reformers the world has ever had are those who have commenced on themselves.—W. H. Shaw.

Break one thread in the border of virtue and you don't know how much you may unravel.—Cunningham Geikie.

The time is the worst employed which we give up to regrets unless we learn from them lessons for the future.—Levis.

All and In All.

His kingdom ruleth over all—therefore thou can't find nothing which is not matter for praise, since there is nothing which is not the matter of thy Lord's gracious permission or planning or control. Over all—nowhere can't thou step aside His realm nor in anything get beyond His care and government. Over all therefore take all as from God, hold all as from God, and by thy gratitude give all back to God again, and thus complete the circle, making Him the alpha and omega, the beginning and the ending of all things.—Rev. Mark Guy Pearse.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 3.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic—Acquainted with God.—Job xxii, 21, 22.

To know God has been the cry of the human heart through all generations. From the ignorant savage, from the cultured pagan and the races between them, has gone up the cry, "Oh, that I might know where I might find Him!" And how it is our blessed privilege not only to know Him, to know what He is and all that He has done, but to have Him as an acquaintance, a friend and the dearest of them all. With such a possibility before us, how can any one decline it? Who would refuse the acquaintance of the president of the United States or the world's greatest and best men? Yet many who would highly prize such privileges treat lightly and even ignore the possibility of acquaintance with God.

It is a great blessing to know God intimately, to be on such familiar terms with Him as were Enoch and Noah, of whom it was said that they walked with God—walked with Him and talked with Him as acquaintance with acquaintance—to know Him as Abraham knew Him, of whom it was said that he was "the friend of God." And so well was this friendship known that those about him called him "the friend," referring to his intimate relationship. Such acquaintanceships is possible to us. Have we attained to it? If not, we should, for with it come peace and prosperity. "Acquaint now thyself with Him and be at peace; thereby good shall come unto thee."

God may be known in several ways. We may know Him through nature, through the Scriptures and, best of all, through His Son Jesus Christ. Through Christ alone can we know Him to the salvation of our souls. "No man knoweth the Father save the Son and he to whom the Son revealeth Him."

BIBLE READINGS.

Gen. v, 22; Ex. xxxiii, 11; Deut. vi, 4-7; Ps. i, 1-6; xix, 1, 2; xxiii, 1-6; xxxiv, 1-12; John xiv, 1-6; xv, 1-10; Gal. v, 16.

One of Norway's Leading Endeavorers.

P. G. Reiersen, one of the leading Christian Endeavorers of Norway, has been especially earnest in the translation of Christian Endeavor literature into Norwegian and in the establishment of new societies. He spent part of his two months' vacation last year in attendance upon the Geneva convention and in Christian Endeavor work with Secretary Blecher of Germany. A month of it was spent in an extended Christian Endeavor journey in Norway, speaking in many towns and sowing Christian Endeavor seed all the way. His latest work in the furtherance of regular and extended comments on the Christian Endeavor prayer meeting topics to the Norwegian societies through a supplement to a leading Lutheran paper. He is a young man of great earnestness and intelligence, and is a hearty believer in Christian Endeavor. God is prospering his consecrated labors.

P. G. REIERSEN.

The Christ of the Andes.

On the border line between the republics of Chile and Argentine, and the crest of the Andes where the only pass over the mountains is more than 12,000 feet nearer the stars, stands a gigantic figure of our Lord Christ holding His cross and with His upraised finger pointing every traveler up the skies. It was erected to celebrate the conclusion of the boundary dispute between the two republics which long threatened a disastrous war. On the base of the statue are symbolic figures of the two republics in bas-relief representing Argentina and Chile clasping hands, and underneath is the motto, "He is our peace, who hath made both one."

This may well be our motto too. He, the Lord Jesus Christ, is our peace, and He hath made us all one—all denominations, all nations, one in endeavor for Him. He is our peace, who hath made us all one.—Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D., at Seattle Convention.

Power For Union.

An Australian visitor to this country has been specially struck with the power of the Christian Endeavor movement in making for the union of the churches. "If ever," he said, "union takes place between Methodists and Presbyterians it will be due in a great degree to the influence of Christian Endeavor. The next generation will see a great change in the outcome of the fellowship which the young people of the present generation have in connection with our Christian Endeavor meetings."—Irish Endeavorer.

THE VALUE OF APPRECIATION.

Few Realize the Worth of Appropriate Words of Praise.

Has it ever struck you what a sweetener of life lies in a few words of appreciation and encouragement? How few of us take the trouble to stop a few minutes and praise a servant for work well done, or even pause to tell our nearest and dearest how we appreciate all the daily services which we have apparently never noticed. When our friends die we hasten to send beautiful flowers as a last appreciation of our love for them. But would it not be better if we had helped them by a little praise when they were working, or if we had cheered them in the dark days when they were troubled and suffering? Only a few words of appreciation! The cost is nothing, but the recompense is beyond price. Let the husband tell his wife how much he prizes her love for him, and the wife tell her husband how truly she recognizes all his care for her, and the world should rewake. All too many who values her children's affection, while the child who says to its mother, "Thank you for all your love to me," has rewarded her far beyond knowledge or understanding.

HE FOUND THE DONKEY.

Imbecile Developed a Real Trait of Sherlock Holmes.

The usual group was gathered around "The New York Store" talking of Dick Mullins' lost donkey. Every one had been looking for it, without success since it had strayed out of the pasture lot a day or two before. Dick Mullins, a lanky individual, regarded as more or less of an imbecile by the townsmen, finally spoke up: "I think I could find your donkey." "How can you find him, Jim," asked the owner, "when the best men in town ain't been able to git a trace of him?" "Wa-al," rejoined Jim, "I kin try, can't I? How much is it worth to ye?" The owner "allowed" it was worth a dollar. "All right," said Jim, and walked away on his search. To the surprise of all, he returned in less than an hour, leading the missing donkey by a rope halter. "Sakes alive!" exclaimed Mullins, as he paid over the dollar, "how in the world did you find him so quick, Jim?" "Wa-al," returned Jim, "I thought to myself, now, if I was a jackass where would I go?' And so I went there, and he had."

Thin Cream.

Nobody in Cedarby liked to say that Amos Howe was habitually untruthful, but his old neighbors had a cautious way of accepting his statements. "It's best to take anything Mr. Howe says with a good pinch of salt, isn't it?" asked a newcomer in Cedarby. "Ye-yes," admitted one of the old residents. "Or if you're real particular, it might be jest as well to set Amos' remarks away to cool for awhile, and then if anything rises to the top, skim it off, and that'll be about all you can take without injuring your digestion, ma'am."—Youth's Companion.

Rudeness of Mother Earth.

There's a lot of contrariness about our Mother Earth," said the woman. "You'd think if we loved her she'd be good to us, but she isn't. This is what she did to me all right enough. I went down to lie on her sands for a week and loll in her ocean. For a few days she was lovely; then she put sand in my ears and made me deaf as a post for awhile; then she sicked her jellyfish on me so it was absolute agony to go in the water. This wasn't enough, so she ended by handing me an undertow, whereby I was that sent me straight home to the doctor."

Skeptical Poet.

Joaquin Miller was once conversing with a learned professor who was visiting California. To the poet's query, "Now before you do?" the professor answered that he held the chair of metaphysics and logic at a New England university. Whereupon the venerable Miller with an encouraging smile, reassuringly patted the professor on the shoulder. "Logic and metaphysics, eh? Well, I suppose we must have people to look after these things, even if they don't exist."

Uncle Sam's Attractive "Ad."

"See the world!" is the attractive heading of Uncle Sam's call for sea soldiers. "Men wanted for the United States marines. Duty on sea and shore and our island possessions." The poster shows a natty-looking marine in uniform with a suggestion of the island possessions pictured behind him. The shading and coloring of the poster attract attention and suggest pleasant possibilities. Uncle Sam evidently thinks it pays to advertise.

Shy on Mythology.

Says a San Francisco bank president: "This spring I entertained a prominent banker from Tucson, Ariz. I invited him to the Merchants' association dinner. My friend listened to the many speeches very attentively, and said, afterward: 'I noticed that almost every speaker said, "This city, like Phoenix, will rise from her ashes." Now there is some mistake about that. I have lived in Arizona all my life, and I know for a fact that Phoenix never had a conflagration.'"

Not Real Music.

"Pop!" "Yes, my son." "What is a trick pianist?" "A trick pianist, my boy, is one who makes you think he is furnishing music when he is not."

SPARROW NEST OF MONEY.

Greenbacks Worth $15 Recovered from Eaves of House.

William McGrath of Belleville, N. J., walked into his bedroom several days ago and saw a sparrow fly from the top of a clothes closet out through an open window.

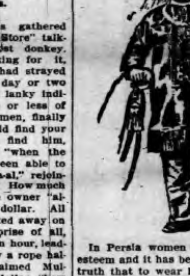
There was a green piece of paper in the bird's bill, and McGrath at once thought of a roll of money he had left in the closet. He found that many of the bills had been stripped from the roll.

He decided to watch and see if the bird came back. The window was left open, and the other day McGrath saw a sparrow fly into the room. He waited a few minutes and it came out again and went to a house about a block away, flying in the eaves.

McGrath obtained a ladder and got permission from the occupants of the house to climb up to the eaves, and was rewarded by finding a nest made of greenbacks and straw. There were $5, $2 and $1 bills there, aggregating about $15, but in pieces.

McGrath is now trying to piece the bills together.—N. Y. World.

SIGN OF SERVITUDE.



In Persia women are held in little esteem and it has been said with some truth that to wear her dress is to be a slave.

FESTIVAL OF THE WELLS.

Custom of Unknown Origin Observed Each Year in England.

The annual custom of decorating the wells of the village of Tissington, in the heart of the peak of Derbyshire, which for centuries has taken place on Ascension day, was duly observed.

Many visitors joined with the villagers in the thanksgiving service held in the church. There a procession was formed, and each of the five decorated wells was visited, psalms and Ascensiontide hymns being sung.

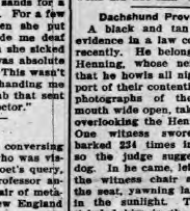
Upon the stone frontage of the wells a wooden structure covered with a layer of clay had been placed, and flowers had been wrought into exquisite mosaics, with scriptural passages interwoven.

The origin of the celebration is involved in obscurity, but the uninterrupted continuity of the observance in recent years may be due to the circumstance that during a terrible drought in Derbyshire the Tissington wells did not fail.—London Standard.

Dachshund Proved Innocence.

A black and tan dachshund gave evidence in a case in New York recently. He belongs to Mrs. Fanny Henning, whose neighbors complain that he howls all night long. In support of their contention they exhibited photographs of the dog with his mouth wide open, taken from windows overlooking the Henning's back yard. One witness swore that the dog barked 234 times in seven minutes, so the judge suggested calling the dog. In he came, leisurely, walked to the witness chair and climbed into the seat, yawning lazily and blinking in the sunlight. The court ushers tickled him in the ribs, rubbed his head roughly, pinched him, and even pulled his ears. He appeared to be so well bred that not so much as a whimper was heard. The judge said that the neighbors had evidently been disturbed by another dog.

HOW BIRDS FLY.



The long feathers of a bird's wing are fastened to the bone. It is this which gives the wing the strength and surface wherewith to beat the air.

Robin's Strange Nesting Place.

At the Crown, Cricklewood, England, the public house at which all the motor omnibuses from the Elephant and Castle and Victoria and the home bound Charing Cross to Cricklewood stop, a robin built in a gas lamp.

The nesting place is within the reach of anyone standing on the ground. At one corner of the lamp a very small piece of the glass is broken through the top and the robin gained access to its new home. A family of four young robins has been reared and can be seen in the corner of the lamp.

ADVICE MUCH NEEDED.

He entered the meteorological service office and said, abruptly, "This 'ere's where you give out weather predictions, ain't it?"

The clerk nodded.

"Well," continued the old man, "I thought as how I could come up and give you some tips."

"Indeed!" said the clerk politely.

"Yes; I've figured on it a little, an' I find that ye ain't al'ays right.'

"No; we sometimes make mistakes."

"Course you do. We all do sometimes. Now, I was thinkin' as how a line that used to be on the auction handbills down in our county might do fust-rate on your weather predictions, an' save you a lot of explainin'."

"What was the line?"

"Wind and weather permittin'."

He went down without waiting to say good-bye.

Useless.

"I feel," she said, sitting a little closer to him, "that we must have kindred souls.

"Do you?"

"And I am almost sure that the fates must have planned that we should meet."

"Bill," he replied, "if they did they might have fixed it up in some pleasanter way than by making me spoil a pair of $12 trousers trying to get your sparker to work."

"Oh, pshaw!" she said, giving him up in disgust, "if you can't do anything but dwell upon the base, material things of life what's the use of our sitting here running up the electric light bill?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Aids to Memory.

His Wife (at dinner)—John, I wish you would remind me that I am to make out a shopping list this evening.

Her Husband—I will, my dear, if you'll remind me of something.

His Wife—What am I to remind you of?

Her Husband—Of the necessity of my reminding you about the shopping list.—Chicago News.

An Advantage.

"Gee," said the small boy to the bald-headed man, "I wish I was you."

"Why?" asked the man.

"Because I could go swimming whenever I wanted to and ma couldn't get next by running her hands through my hair to see if it was wet."—Detroit Free Press.

What He Liked.

Our Mariar had been to her first public ball.

Sarah Jane—Well, tell me, Mariar, and 'ow did you henjoy the ball?

Mariar—Oh the whole I lifted it very well. I didn't think much o' the dancin', but the 'oggin' was 'eavenly.

A BIG JOB.

Mrs. Heavyton—I can't climb over this fence, John. If you were half the man you ought to be, you'd lift me over.

Mr. Heavyton—H'm! If you were half the woman you are I might have a try.

Caste.

Big Calf (vainly)—Get out of my way or I'll step on you. You're nobody.

Barnyard Fowl (haughtily)—If you could hear folks grumble when they find veal in chicken salad you'd change your tune.—N. Y. Weekly.

An Old Bachelor's Opinion.

"It is said that the safety pin was invented by a man."

"And I'll wager he was some man whose wife was too busy assisting with the social uplift to keep his trousers properly equipped with buttons."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Russian Press.

First Russian (laying down a native newspaper)—This paper isn't quite so insufferably dull as usual.

Second Russian—No; it's almost interesting. If that editor isn't careful he'll get sent to Siberia.—N. Y. Weekly.

An Ounce of Prevention.

Mrs. Nubbins—Why do you employ that darky to whitewash the hen-coop? You know he's the most notorious chicken-thief in the neighborhood.

Mr. Nubbins (a practical man)—I was glad to see how poor and lean my chickens are.—N. Y. Weekly.

What It Meant.

Little Willie—Say, pa, what is meant by the term "open-handed?"

Pa—It is a term, my son, that applies to most men when there is something to be dropped into the hand aforesaid.—Chicago Daily News.

THINGS THEATRICAL.

Annie Russell is to appear in a new play called "Paid In Full."

Nance O'Neil is not to appear in "His House In Order," in which John Drew is to star.

It is claimed for "The Merry Widow" that it is the biggest success in light opera since "Erminie."

Wilton Lackaye is to appear in "The Bondsman" in New Orleans and other prominent southern cities.

George Broadhurst has completed the scenario of a play in which Douglas Fairbanks is to star next season.

Mrs. Leslie Carter is to make a tour in "Du Barry," "Zaza" and "Camille." John Luther Long is writing her a new play.

Henry W. Savage has made a proposition for a tour of the United States by the company now playing "The Gypsy Baron" in Leipsic.

Four companies are now playing George Broadhurst's "The Man of the Hour." The original company will remain for its second winter at the Savoy theatre, New York.

Gertrude Quinlan, who played the role of the boarding mistress' daughter in "The Prodigal Husband" and made a big hit, is to play the leading comedy role in "Tom Jones."

CHURCH AND CLERGY.

An Esperanto church has been established in Constantinople. Its object is to afford facilities for worship to visitors of all nations.

Rev. Thomas W. Walker of the Woodlawn Baptist church, Augusta, Ga., has married 820 couples during the thirty years of his ministry.

A new Episcopal diocese cannot be created in England until a $350,000 fund has been raised voluntarily, this being to provide income for a $9,000 annual salary for a Bishop.

Rev. William E. Toll, who has just entered on his new duties as archdeacon of the Chicago diocese of the Episcopal church, was born in Bedford, England. He was ordained in Chicago, however, by Bishop Whitehouse in 1871.

The three Methodist denominations of England, now united as one great church, will issue from its book room a ten cent monthly, a two cent magazine suitable for family reading and localization and later a denominational newspaper.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

A great deal of gold trimming will be seen this season, and of that old gold, some of it of an almost brownish tinge.

White costumes will be worn quite throughout the winter, even for street and visiting, and with these gold trimmings suggest themselves quite as a matter of course.

Velvet is tremendously popular this season, and especially suited to the styles, as the smooth fitted effects show up the richness of velvet much better than other modes.

Broadcloth is the cloth par excellence this season. It always has held its own in the very front rank of fabrics used for street costumes, but this year its scope extends beyond that, to dinner and evening gowns.

Some of the most effective of the swirling skirts are made plain, close fitting around the hips, as prescribed, and not too rippling from the knees, so that large medallions or motifs of braid set in at regular intervals around the bottom will show up well.—New York Post.

LAW POINTS.

The right of the legislature to prohibit contractors for the public work of a municipal corporation to exact from their employes more than eight hours of labor daily is sustained in Keefe versus People (Colo.), 8 L. R. A. (N. S.), 131.

Repudiation, after becoming of age, of a contract to pay for merchandise which had been furnished to the promisor during minority is held in Lamkin versus Carter versus Ledoux (Me.), 8 L. R. A. (N. S.), 104, not to revest title in the vender.

The right to sell the property of a charity under execution issued on a judgment rendered for the nonfeasance, misfeasance or malfeasance of its agents or trustees is denied in Fordyce versus Woman's Christian National Library Association (Ark.), 7 L. R. A. (N. S.), 485.

EDITORIAL FLINGS.

Americans skin Americans and then go to Europe to be skinned by Europeans.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The number of deaths in the Alps shows that climbing the Alps is almost as dangerous as crossing a city street.—Rochester Post-Express.

"Sleeves will be worn longer next year," says a fashion note. If that will add to the cost of dresses the average husband may have to wear his trousers longer too.—Washington Post.

Enlisted men in the navy are to receive $1 extra for each day they serve on a submarine that is submerged. That will please them if they can come to the surface and collect it!—Chicago News.

The difference between English girls coming to America for husbands and American girls going to England for husbands is this—The English girls are likely to get good husbands.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

It is proposed to grade French troops not according to height, but to length of stride.

The gunpowder used in the various armies of the world is made up from different formulas, which are carefully guarded.

THE HALL OF FAME.

W. H. Shrck, of Pratt, is the only man in Kansas so far as known whose name contains no vowel.

Jean Gerardy, the famous Belgian violinist, will marry Miss Baba MacQuade, a rich young artist of Australia, noted for her beauty.

Leon A. Beresnaik, a native of Odessa, is now living in Indianapolis. He is a lawyer, a scholar, author and translator of "Trilby" in the Russian language.

Wilton Salmonson, the marriage license clerk of Chicago, took a rest after he finished filing in a certificate for Kazinieras Gumalewski and Eva Aleksandravischaite.

Samuel French, of Derby, Conn., is probably the oldest man in the state to whom a hunter's license has been issued. Mr. French's age, according to the license, is eighty-four.

Calvin Dimmitt of Lone Jack, Mo., has in the last thirty-eight years served fifteen terms on Jackson county juries, twenty-seven terms on the regular panel and one on probate, once on special and once on grand jury.

President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university on his recent trip to Berlin dined twice with Emperor William. He says the kaiser's personality is pleasing and convinces one that he is democratic to a degree and far from being eccentric.

Dr. B. T. Burton, who for many years was a prominent practitioner in Oakland, has sailed for China under a contract with the Chinese government to take charge in different provinces of the work of destroying the opium habit among government employes.

The sultan of Turkey has seventy-one titles, among them being "Abdul Hamid, the Eternally Victorious," "the Eternally Smiling," "the Eternally Invincible," "the Distributor of Crowns to the Heroes Seated on the Thrones" and "the Shadow of God on Earth."

August Belmont and his three sons are interested in turf matters, polo and yachting. At Saratoga Mr. Belmont occupies a little box of a house located in an open court of his stables near the race track. When polo is the sport of the day he drives in his carriage with the saddles and bridles for the ponies and harnesses them himself.

General S. M. B. Young, retired, has been appointed superintendent of Yellowstone park by the president.

James McGee has been appointed state inspector at Seattle. His business is to prevent rats from getting ashore from ships.

Dr. Peter Fraser, one of the medical officers of England, with a salary of $3,500, has given up his work to join the Methodist foreign mission in India.

J. H. Forman of Parker, Wash., received $4,462.50 for pears grown on half an acre of land. He got 950 boxes of first class and 150 boxes of second class fruit.

Dr. George Archbold, who was chief chemist of the war department half a dozen years ago and who recently died, was the inventor of the process for making sulphide paper pulp.

W. H. Scott of the Salt River valley of Arizona has bought in New Mexico 23,000 sheep and will drive them to the southern part of his state, which will be reached next February.

THE HALL OF FAME.

State Senator T. C. Barrer of Shreveport, La., owns a sword which was carried in the Texan war of independence by General Thomas J. Rusk, afterward vice president of the republic of Texas.

Emperor Nicholas has given Premier Witte permission to wear the Japanese order of the Sun of Paulownia, bestowed upon him by the emperor of Japan. This is the first time since the late war that the emperor has granted such a request.

Ottmar Mergenthaler, the inventor and builder of printing presses, was one of the thirty-nine inventors who were mentioned by the commissioner of patents as having been granted patents each year in twenty-six years.

George Abela, of Southington, Conn., has launched the janitor trust. He will have the care of the South Center, Beecher street and Plantsville schoolhouses, and he will also have the janitorship of the First Baptist, Methodist Episcopal and St. Paul's Episcopal churches.

Manton Marble, who was a leading journalist in New York forty years ago and more, is living in retirement in Bedford, N. Y. He is now seventy-two years of age. He realized a comfortable fortune from the sale of the New York World to Jay Gould over twenty-five years ago.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

The cloth gown as a formal gown for dinner and evening is one of the features of the new styles, its very novelty giving it beauty.

Among the fur trimmed garments already displayed the handsomest are so heavily braided as to entirely conceal the union of cloth and fur.

The velvet dress and the velvet suit will be in equal evidence, and we shall have velvet costumes trimmed with cloth and cloth costumes trimmed with velvet.

Experiments have recently been made with an inflammable paste on bullets. When the bullet leaves the muzzle the paste ignites, leaving a stream of smoke behind it and enabling the marksman to watch its course and if necessary correct his aim for the next shot.

CLEARING HOUSE'S HEAD

In Referring to Big Panic Alexander Gilbert Champions Theodore Roosevelt's Administration.

PURIFYING BUSINESS

Runs On Metropolitan Banks Due to Methods of Few Financiers Who Juggled With Their Funds, He Declares.

"Many believe that the financial troubles through which we are now passing are due to the ultwise utterances of our President, but I want to say right here that, notwithstanding the impetuousity of the man, it is my conscientious belief that four years of Theodore Roosevelt as President of the United States will do more to elevate and purify the moral and business sense of this country than any influence that has been brought to bear upon it in the past decade."

This tribute to President Roosevelt was given by Former Mayor Alexander Gilbert, the first president of the local Young Men's Christian Association, in his speech at the anniversary banquet of the institution Saturday night.

Mr. Gilbert is president of the New York Clearing House, and through the financial troubles of the past week in New York city, he has been at the helm of metropolitan finances. Through the days of the tottering of securities and the fearful excitement of those who had their deposits in certain New York banks, he has been in the thick of the fight and at the banquet Saturday night was thoroughly exhausted as the result of the strenuous week. He finally did quiet the city's fears.His speech as a founder of association work in Plainfield follows:

"Nothing but this anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association could have tempted me to speak my business tonight; I am too full for utterance—not too full of dinner, or of any liquid element, or of emotion, but too full of the mental effects of the stirring week through which I have just passed. I have not had a moment of time to think of this anniversary occasion nor of this speech.

"I have been through the most trying week of my life in New York city, and am absolutely tired out. You know what the different events of this week have been. Several financial institutions have been embarrassed, owing to the fact that their control has passed into the hands of men who, departing from the old-fashioned, conservative principles of banking, have used them to promote their own selfish plans and enterprises. Happily the strong, conservative forces are now in control of the situation in New York. The sober second thought of the people is beginning to assert itself and, with the return of confidence, conditions will be righted and will once more resume our onward march to a still greater future.

"Many believe that the financial troubles through which we are now passing are due to the unwise utterances of our President, but I want to say right here that, notwithstanding the impetuousity of the man, it is my conscientious belief that four years of Theodore Roosevelt as President of the United States will do more to elevate and purify the moral and business sense of this country than any other influence that has been brought to bear upon it in the past decade.

"I suppose a few remarks about the foundation of this association, of which I happened to have been the first president, are in order. The incidents of that meeting forty years ago at my home, where the first impetus of life was given to the association in this city, are still clear in my mind. I remember distinctly that first meeting and all its details—I could almost give the speech that I made when I was elected president.

"It is a pleasure to see these faces of my fellow workers at that time here tonight and to recall the share each had in the formation of the institution. I see Brother Newman, a man who has always been true to the association. I believe that his activity and interest as a founder did more to build up and sustain the interest than was done by any other man. Brother McCutchen here, came in two or three years after the work was started, but I shall never forget his influence in its behalf. He is as ready and willing now as then to give the helping hand. He can never lose his interest in Plainfield nor its interest in the man who needs his help. Brother Tilsworth, too, came along in the fullness of time, and has helped the work a lot. The spirit of these founders, and the consistent work of others, all materially assisted in building up the work.

"Men bonded together by Christian ties or Christian obligations have a higher and a broader view of live than others. They are actuated by the better impulses toward the enduring life. I believe that it was the word 'Christian' in the title of the association that made the work endure and grow into its present magnitude. The eight founders did not know at the start what their efforts would accomplish, but the Young Men's Christian Association has lived to make good, and now ranks among the strongest branches in the State. I take great pride in the feeling that I had a very small part in the organization of this association."

PROCLAMATION BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

President Roosevelt's proclamation naming November 28 as a day for national thanksgiving is as follows:

Once again in the passing of the year has come when in accordance with the custom of our forefathers for generations past, the President appoints a day as the especial occasion for all our people to give praise and thanksgiving to God.

During the past year we have been free from famine, from pestilence, from war. We are at peace with all the rest of mankind. Our national resources are as great as those of any other country. We believe that in ability to develop and take advantage of these resources the average man of this nation stands at least as high as the average man of any other. Nowhere else in the world is there such an opportunity for a free people to develop to the fullest extent all its powers or body, of mind and of that which stands above both body and mind—character.

Much has been given us from on high and much will rightly be expected of us in return. Into our care the ten talents have been intrusted, and we are to be pardoned neither if we squander and waste them nor if we hide them in a napkin, for they must be fruitful in our hands. Ever throughout the ages, at all times and among all peoples, prosperity has been fraught with danger, and we believe us to beseech the Giver of All Things that we may not fall into love of ease and of luxury; that we may not lose our sense of moral responsibility; that we may not forget our duty to God and to our fellow men.

A great democracy like ours, a democracy based upon the principles of orderly liberty, can be perpetuated only if in the heart of the ordinary citizen there dwells a keen sense of moral responsibility. Therefore I would earnestly pray that this spirit of righteousness and justice may grow ever greater in the hearts of all of us, and that our souls may be inclined evermore both toward the virtues that tell for gentleness and tenderness, for loving kindness and forbearance one with another, and toward those no less necessary virtues that make for manliness and rugged independence, for without these qualities neither nation nor individual can rise to the level of greatness.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do set apart Thursday, the 28th day of November, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, and on that day I recommend that the people shall cease from their daily work, and in their homes or in the churches meet devoutly to thank the Almighty for the many and great blessings they have received in the past and to pray that they may be given the strength in the future to lead lives as to deserve a continuation of these blessings in the future.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS ORGANIZE NEXT SATURDAY

Charles W. Rice, supreme traveling representative, will arrive in Plainfield Thursday morning to arrange for the institution of Plainfield Council, No. 492, United Commercial Travelers of America, and the Grand Lodge of New Jersey and Delaware to take place on Saturday afternoon and night in Knights of Columbus hall. The local branch will be instituted in the afternoon and the grand lodge at night.

Thus far twenty-six charter members have been secured for Plainfield Council and this list will be increased by several additional members before the time of institution. There will be present representatives of the order from Trenton, Camden and Bridgeton, and the supreme councilor of Louisville, Ky., will take an important part in the ceremonies.

This will the last grand lodge to be instituted as all of the States except New Jersey and Delaware have similar organizations, with a membership of many thousand. Frank Wood, of the borough, has been especially active in the formation of Plainfield Council and the grand lodge, for he has been a member of the organization for several years and was anxious to have Plainfield as well as the state of New Jersey and Delaware represented.

GRAND JURY WILL DECIDE

John Consoli, Whose Store Was Raided Sunday, Must Go to Somerville.

LIQUOR SOLD THERE

Four Men Arrested in Raid Testify That There Was Whiskey, Beer and Hard Cider for Sale.

Chief Marshal Weiss, of the borough police force, will secure a warrant to compel John Consoli, the Italian whose fruit store on Somerset street was raided by the police Sunday afternoon, to appear before the grand jury at Somerville Nov. 28 on the charge of running a "speak easy." The man was given a hearing Monday, together with the four intoxicated men arrested in the place, and Borough Recorder Charles M. Dolliver fined him $10 for disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace. It remains for the higher court to confront him with the charge of illegal selling of liquor on Sunday without a license.

Sheridan Jones, George Haymaker, Ben Potts and Harry Gulick, the four men arrested in the raid, were brought before the recorder last night on a disorderly charge. Jones was fined $5 and Haymaker $2. Haymaker paid, but Jones is still in a borough cell, "awaiting remittance." In connection with the hearing last night, much testimony was secured from the four men arrested in the place which will strengthen the "speak easy" case, and the men will be subject to summonses to appear as witnesses when Consoli appears before the Somerville jury.

Jones and Haymaker acknowledged that they had bought hard cider from Consoli in the store on Sunday, and Potts and Gulick, who were only arrested as witnesses, affirmed that there was a big supply of beer, and whiskey in the store. It is alleged that liquor has been sold on Sundays for several months past and that there was a certain bunch of rounders who got liquor there on the quiet as a regular thing. Chief Weiss will make his complaint to the grand jury this week and Consoli will probably be arrested again on the "speak easy" charge and bonded over to await trial.

RARITAN MURDERER GETS DEATH SENTENCE

That crime among the Italian element of Somerset county has increased to an alarming extent was evidence Monday, when three Italians were arraigned for sentence in the Somerset County Court at Somerville. They had been convicted of murder and attempted murder. Raverio Di Giovanni, who killed Joseph Sansome, a barber, in Raritan, on the night of September 22, was sentenced by Justice James J. Bergen to be electrocuted in the New Jersey State Prison on December 9.

Di Giovanni, who received his sentence through an interpreter, became greatly excited and talked back to the court, but he was soothed with difficulty and removed to the county jail.

Di Giovanni's crime was one of the most deliberate and cold-blooded in the history of the county. He stood over his victim and discharged a number of shots at his body after the victim was dead.

Joseph Cinglio, who attempted to murder James Ryan, a foreman of the Somerset Woolen Mill, several weeks ago, was sentenced by Judge Lewis H. Schenck to serve twelve years in the State Prison. Cinglio attempted to take Ryan's life while he was on his way to his home from the mill. He had quarreled with Ryan over a matter of wages at the mill, and threatened to "do" him outside.

He placed a revolver against Ryan's chest, but the latter was too quick for him and turned the weapon in the struggle which followed. The weapon was discharged and the bullet entered Ryan's leg and crippled him for life. Cinglio was also sentenced to one year in the State prison for carrying a concealed weapon. The prisoner made a demonstration as the court announced the judge for the sentence.

Salvatore Sferra, who stabbed a fellow-workman in the Bound Brook Woolen Mills eleven times in the body, was sentenced by Judge Schenck to serve four years in State prison. Sferra's victim was in the Somerset Hospital at the point of death for a week, but finally recovered.

Sferra's sentence was comparatively light, because he ha dbeen attacked by his fellow-workman, and had a young wife and infant child, who dependend on him for support.

Only a Few Tickets Left.

Nearly all of the tickets for the song recital to be given by Miss Grace Carroll at the Casino, Friday night, have been sold. A few remaining tickets have been placed on sale at Armstrong's drug store at Park and North avenues.

LOCAL BOWLERS ORGANIZE

Five Men Team City Championship Tourney to Be Arranged.

10 TEAMS TO COMPETE

Francis J. Blatz Elected President of New Organization and Judge Runyon Heads Executive Committee.

With the organization of a bowling club at the Plainfield Academy, Monday, the membership rolls of which will include about seventy-five local pin-smashers, interest in bowling will be maintained in this city during the winter by a five men team city championship bowling tournament to be started within two weeks. There were about sixty bowling enthusiasts at the meeting, and with John Campbell as temporary chairman, Francis J. Blatz was elected president of the club. Subsequent balloting resulted in the election of Charles W. Runyon as executive president, John Campbell as treasurer and V. W. Nash, Jr., as recording secretary.

The object of the organization, as stated at the meeting, is the formation of ten teams to compete for the bowling title of this city. Plans for conducting the tournament were discussed and it was decided to turn the matter over to an executive committee to be appointed by the president. Blatz announced this committee today to consist of City Judge William N. Runyon, chairman; Chief P. S. Kiely, Thomas M. Muir, Harry Van Emburgh and William Schaub, of Raritan. The committee will hold a meeting within a few days at which time ten local bowlers with the best records on the alleys will be chosen. These will act as captains of ten teams to be formed. A membership fee, carry fees of 5c or will be charged to all who wish to join these teams and the names of these entered will be drawn from a hat by the captains of the various teams in order at a meeting to be held some time after November 6, when the players entries close. The teams thus formed will compete for the local bowling championship, match games to be played on the Plainfield Academy alleys on Second street.

In this way it is believed that the good players will be distributed among the ten teams and better sport can be secured. The executive committee has been empowered to arrange a schedule and lay down necessary rules for conducting the tournament. Entries are coming in fast and it is believed that there may be bowlers enough to form more than the ten teams. The organization is to hold monthly meetings.

AFTERNOON SCHOOL WORKS WELL IN THE BOROUGH

"The afternoon sessions in the borough school system are a great success," said Superintendent Krebs, of the North Plainfield schools, at the meeting of the Borough Board of Education held Monday. "I have consulted with the various teachers and I find that nobody has any fault to find with them, while many are enthusiastic. The afternoon session helps the individual pupil, we find, for it forms a period when a pupil can return for personal consultation with his teacher for explanation of some point of the morning's classes. Thus time is saved in the class room, and explanations can be given more clearly to a pupil who meets the teacher in the afternoon.

"About 150 pupils come back in the afternoon, and this is about a third of our present enrollment. Another good feature of the two session scheme is that many of the pupils look upon it as a penalty or punishment, and do better work at the morning session so as not to be obliged to return after luncheon. I find that as a result of the adoption of the system the grade of work in all the classes has been raised, and I think I may attribute it to this feeling on the part of the pupils."

This report on the afternoon session was asked for by President James R. Joy, of the Borough Board, because of the general discussion these extra sessions have aroused among some of the parents.

The Board meeting was a short one last night and routine business was dealt with summarily. Bills to the amount of $5,502.14 were ordered paid, $3,377.86 of which were from the general fund and the rest in connection with the manual training building. District Clerk Albert Stelner reported a small balance. Discussion of various matters relative to the manual training department occupied the rest of the time before the Board went into executive session. Messrs. Laing, Miller and Nichols were not present at the meeting.

Clue to Possible Hold Up.

The borough police are holding a tan leather satchel at headquarters awaiting its identification. The bag was found on Watchung avenue near Chatham street early Sunday morning by Marshals Pope and Kiernan. It was slashed from end to end, evidently by a razor, and near it in the road were found a pair of trousers

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT TIMBO CLUB'S BALL

The Timbo Social Club came to the fore as an entertaining organization once more, Monday, when it conducted its fifth anniversary reception and ball in Saengerbund Hall. All previous efforts were outdone, both in point of attendance and enjoyable features and the affair stands as a record for the season. At one time there were fully 150 people in the building and the greater part of the crowd remained until an early hour this morning.

Suhr's Imperial orchestra furnished music for the dancing and the scores of couples were kept in shape by Rudolph Kampf as general floor manager and Fred Moore assistant. In the early part of the evening the floor capacity was crowded and their capable directing was greatly appreciated.

In the way of novelty for the ball, The Timbo Troubadours, made up of local artists, gave a complete minstrel first part on the big stage, beginning at 10 o'clock. Joseph C. Martin was in the center as interlocutor and the end men were Harry Blimm, Harry Roberts, Tom Muir and Fred Miller, of this city, and "Bob" Swart, of Elizabeth. The show lasted an hour and went with a swing that kept the audience in good humor from start to finish. "Bob" Swart was accorded a "big hand" when he was announced and got three encores with his song, "The bee that gets the honey, doesn't hang around the hive."

The committee which arranged and had charge of the affair comprised Erwin Y. Neighbor, chairman William Doud, Frank Schuck, Eddie Bellis, Tom Fay, B. C. Firstbrook and Alvin Wagner.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS AN ADJOURNED SESSION

Principally for the purpose of paying some bills and incidentally to transact some business of minor importance, an adjourned meeting of the Common Council was held Monday. There were eight members present and the session was not a long one.

Miss A. E. Lincoln complained about what she called the disgraceful condition of West Fourth street, where she said the dust at times is almost unbearable. She said that the thoroughfare is infrequently sprinkled in certain places, while in others it is soaked with water, making it very muddy. She also said that the attention of the street inspector and city engineer had been called to a heap of garbage which had been allowed to remain on a property close to her residence, but that nothing had been done with it. The complaint was referred to the street committee.

The complaint of Mrs. E. P. Williams, of West Seventh street and Darrow avenue, regarding a tax matter, which was presented at the last session, was considered and her offer to settle the bill for $77.29 was accepted upon the motion offered by Mr. Tolles. Mrs. Williams had paid a tax for a frontage on West Seventh street, and an additional tax, making about $77, had been imposed upon the residue of the property. Investigation had shown that the city would have some difficulty in substantiating its claim and upon the advice of Corporation Counsel Marsh the Common Council decided to accept her offer.

H. W. Dunham and others petitioned to have an ordinance adopted providing for the vacating and closing of Hill street, sometimes known as Hill avenue. The petition was signed by all the property-owners interested. It was referred to the street committee.

In response to a request from the Common Council, the Shade Tree Commission reported that the trees on Putnam and Kensington avenues and streets in the vicinity have been trimmed. The commission was asked to have this work attended to at a previous meeting, the purpose being to make the electric lights on those thoroughfares more effective.

A resolution offered by Mr. Gloak and adopted, authorized the city engineer to have sidewalks laid in front of certain properties throughout the city and to effect a lien on the property for the payment of the work. Another resolution by Mr. Gloak and adopted, authorized the borrowing of $600 for the maintenance of the sewage disposal works, there not being sufficient funds on hand for the work.

Mr. Montgomery offered motions granting the petition of Mrs. E. S. Hyde for an electric light on East Ninth street, between Plum and Watchung avenue, and one on Lyman place, between Astor place and West Third street. Mr. Tyler voted no on the petition for a light on Lyman place.

In speaking of the light question after the meeting, Mr. Montgomery said that while considerable opposition had been made to his efforts to increase the number of lights throughout the city, he had not used all the money appropriated to his department, in fact he was well within the amount. This year $14,000 was appropriated as against $14,500 last year.

BOROUGHITE WEDS BROOKLYN YOUNG WOMAN

A very pretty wedding was solemnized last Monday at 432 Grand avenue, Brooklyn, when Miss Harriet Edna Pate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pate, became the bride of Weston Williams, of the borough. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock, the Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Boynton, of the Clinton Avenue Congregational church, officiating.

The bride, who looked very pretty, wore an elaborate gown of white messaline silk, trimmed with duchesse lace. Her tulle veil was fastened with natural orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lillies of the valley.

Mrs. Arthur A. Hassell, of Brooklyn, was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Mabel S. Lindley and Miss Hazel Church, both of Brooklyn. The ushers were Messrs. Fred Weston, George Weston, both of Manhattan, and who are cousins of the groom, and Paul McKinney, of Brooklyn. Everett Broughton was the best man.

A reception followed the ceremony in which were attended by relatives and intimate friends only. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will reside in Plainfield.

TAX FOR HOSPITAL

(Continued from page 1.)

ation," said William M. Stillman, a prominent lawyer. "As a lawyer I believe such action would be unconstitutional and that any ordinance passed to permit such taxation could be set aside.

"As a citizen I believe such action unwise. No true charity should be supported by the State. The vital principle of benevolence is at once sapped. Muhlenberg Hospital would be reduced to the level of the Plainfield Poor House. As a friend and contributor of the hospitay for many years I believe it unwise as many of its regular subscribers, after paying their taxes, will refuse their subscriptions, feeling that whatever is everybodies business is no one's and healthy to pay twice for the same object."

DEMOCRATS TALK EXCISE

(Continued from page 1.)

of which offices swell the tax rate. He attacked the use of voting machines as unfair to the voter.

William Schmidt, Democratic candidate for re-election to the State Assembly appealed to the voters for support in a speech which won enthusiastic applause. Frank Ross, the party candidate for sheriff, also was well received. He spoke on the importance of his office and vouched his allegiance to the voters' wishes.

CAMP ON HOTEL ROOF.

Philadelphia Hostelry Supplies Tents For Guests Who Want Them.

Anybody who yearns to "sleep under the stars," who finds a big bedroom too confining, can camp out on the roof of the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, Philadelphia, now, says a Philadelphia special to the New York World.

A judge arrived at the Bellevue-Stratford from the Adirondacks recently. Next day he complained that the street noises kept him awake and that anyhow a room was too pent up for a man who had been sleeping out of doors. So the manager pitched a tent on the roof, which is incased in glass. The judge has been sleeping like a top, twenty stories up, 310 feet above the street.

Soon there will be a grove of little pine and spruce trees on the roof in which will stand twenty tents, each one with a portable bathtub and a telephone. Servants, costumed as guides, probably will be in attendance, but the campers must eat their venison and bear steaks in the hotel dining rooms. If the camp's atmosphere grown too close the glass dome can be opened. Then the wind will whistle through the trees. The camp will be maintained all winter probably.

Morganatic Marriages.

The term morganatic as applied to marriages found its origin in an ancient custom. In olden times the bridegroom on the day after his marriage gave his bride a morning gift (morganshe). In the case of a nobleman who wedded a wife beneath his station the gift consisted usually of wife's portion or endowment. It was from this gift that the name morganatic came to be applied to marriages.

The Best Paper for Family Reading.

The contents of The Youth's Companion are chosen with a view to the interest of all tastes and ages. The father, as well as the son, enjoys the tales of adventure; the mother renews her girlhood in the stories for girls, while the paper always abounds in stories, long and short, which may be read aloud in the most varied family group to the keen pleasure of all. Full illustrated announcement of The Companion for 1908 will be sent to any address free with sample copies of the paper. New subscribers who send $1.75 at once for 1908 will receive free all the remaining issues of 1907, besides the gift of The Companion's Four-Leaf Hanging Calendar for 1908, in full color. The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley street, Boston, Mass.

New Jersey Central

Passenger Stations in New York—West 23d St., N. R., Foot Liberty St., N. R

In Effect October 13, 1907.

For New York—7.11, 8.35, 9.38, 11.06, 6.39, 6.57, 7.25, 7.33, 7.45, 7.47, 7.55, 8.00, 8.11, 8.30, 8.39, 8.44, 8.57, 9.00, 9.07, 9.10, 10.03 a. m., 12.00, 12.15, 12.45, 1.00, 1.30, 2.11, 2.24, 2.40, 2.42, 2.55, 3.00, 3.07, 3.10, 3.30, 3.45, 3.49, 3.57, 4.00, 4.07, 4.10, 4.30, 4.45, 4.49, 4.57, 5.00, 5.07, 5.10, 5.30, 5.45, 5.49, 6.00, 6.07, 6.10, 6.30, 6.45, 6.49, 7.00, 7.07, 7.10, 7.30, 7.45, 7.49, 8.00, 8.07, 8.10, 8.30, 8.45, 8.49, 9.00, 9.07, 9.10, 9.30, 9.45, 9.49, 10.00, 10.07, 10.10, 10.30, 10.45, 10.49, 11.00, 11.07, 11.10, 11.30, 11.45, 11.49 p. m. Sundays—7.11, 8.35, 9.38, 11.06 a. m., 1.00, 2.03, 3.40, 4.43, 5.04, 5.23, 5.47, 6.30, 10.12, 11.04 p. m.

For Newark—3.45, 4.30, 5.37, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.28, 7.47, 8.11, 8.25, 8.44, 9.28, 9.59, 10.29, 11.00, 11.30, 12.00, 12.30, 1.00, 1.30, 2.00, 2.30, 3.00, 3.30, 4.00, 4.30, 4.45, 5.03, 5.37, 6.07, 6.37, 6.57, 7.37, 8.37, 9.31 p. m. Sundays—3.45, 4.30, 5.37, 6.15, 6.45, 7.00, 7.28, 8.11, 8.44, 9.28, 9.59, 10.29, 11.00, 11.30, 12.00, 12.30, 1.00, 1.30, 2.00, 2.30, 3.00, 3.30, 4.00, 4.30, 5.03, 5.37, 6.07, 6.37, 6.57, 7.37, 8.37, 9.31 p. m. Sundays—4.45 a. m., 2.00, 5.47, 7.05, 10.41 p. m.

For Somerville—5.10, 7.11 a. m., 2.17, 4.55, 6.23, 8.55, 11.30 p. m. Sundays—7.11, 11.41 a. m. Saturday only, 2.05, 2.58, 3.49, 4.23, 5.04, 5.23, 5.47, 6.30, 10.12 p. m. Sundays—4.56 a. m., 5.47, 7.05, 8.08, 9.37, 10.23, 11.28 p. m. Sunday night, 12.59 night. Sunday—2.45, 4.43, 8.16, 11.08 p. m. For Lakewood and Atlantic City—3.27, 9.29 a. m., (12.42 Saturdays only) 1.37, 2.44, 4.02, 5.53, 8.27, 11.25 p. m. Sundays—2.27, 9.52 a. m., 3.00, 8.13 p. m.

For Bethlehem, Allentown and Mauch Chunk—8.30 a. m., 2.08, 5.23, 8.47 p. m. Sundays—4.46 a. m., 2.08, 5.47, 7.05 p. m.

For Long Branch and Asbury Park—3.27, 9.29 a. m., 1.37, 2.44, 4.02, 5.53, 8.27, 11.25 p. m. Sundays—2.27, 9.52 a. m., 3.00, 8.13 p. m.

For Lakewood and Atlantic City—3.27, 9.29 a. m., (12.42 Saturdays only) 1.37, 2.44, 4.02, 5.53, 8.27, 11.25 p. m. Sundays—2.27, 9.52 a. m., 3.00, 8.13 p. m. Sunwood only (Saturdays only) p. m. Sundays—8.08 Lakewood only), 9.45 a. m., 1.45 p. m.

For Philadelphia—7.15, 7.32, 8.46, 9.15, 10.48, 11.15, 12.15, 1.15, 2.15, 3.15, 4.15, 5.13, 6.44, 8.50, 9.46 p. m., 1.17 night. Sundays—8.15, 8.55, 9.15, 10.45, 11.15 a. m., 12.42, 1.44, 2.45, 3.42, 4.55, 5.39, 6.44, 8.50, 9.46 p. m., 11.25, 1.17 night.

For Reading and Harrisburg—5.25, 9.55 a. m., 2.05, (5.47, through train). Sundays—4.56, 9.37, 10.23 a. m.

For Pottsville, Sunbury and Williamsport—5.25, 9.55 a. m., 2.05 p. m. Sundays—9.37 a. m.

For Baltimore and Washington—3.45, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 8.44 p. m. Sundays—4.45, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 8.44 p. m.

*Change cars at Bound Brook.

W. G. BESLER, General Manager. W. C. HOPE, Vice Pres & Gen'l Mgr. Gen Pass Agt.

Lehigh Valley Railroad

Time table in Effect Nov 18th, 1906.

LEAVE SOUTH PLAINFIELD, N. J.

7.50 a. m. daily except Sunday, local to Manch Chunk.

8.42 a. m. daily, express to Easton, Wilkesbarre, Rochester, Buffalo, and principal intermediate stations.

10.46 a. m. daily for Easton, Wilkesbarre, Utica, Buffalo and Chicago.

1.53 p. m. daily, local for Easton, Manch Chunk, Hazleton, Pottsville and Shenandoah.

4.38 p. m. daily (except Sunday) Wilkesbarre and Scranton Express. Solid vestibule train to Buffalo. Through Parlor Car via D & H R R to Scranton and Carbondale.

8.40 p. m. daily, vestibule train to Buffalo, Toronto and Chicago and principal intermediate stations except Rochester.

6.23 p. m. daily (except Sunday) local to Easton.

FRANK ROWLEY, City Ticket Agent, 218 West Front Street, Plainfield, N. J. Telephone 115.

Arrival and Departure of Mails

PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE

Office open 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. On Saturdays close half hour later.

NEW YORK MAIL.

Arrive—7.00, 9.45, 11.30 a. m., 2.30, 5.00 6.30, 7.45, 10.30 p. m.

Close—7.00, 9.20 a. m., 1.00, 2.20, 5.00 7.45 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 1.20, 2.15 and 7 p. m.

Close—7.20 a. m., 12.00 m., 5 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct

Arrive—7.30, 8.40 and 11.30 a. m., 2.30 p. m.

Close—7.15, 7.30, 9.20 a. m. 12.25, 2.20 5.00, 7.15 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST

Close—1.00 and 7.15 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR WEST AND SOUTH

Close—12.25, 6.00, 7.15 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA, West of Easton

Close—12.25 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 2.30 p. m.

Close—7.20 a. m. 2.20, 8.20 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 2.30, 5.30 p. m. 12 midnight.

Close—7.15, 7.20 a. m., 1.00, 2.20 and 6.00 p. m.

WATCHUNG, WARREN VILLE

Arrive—12.30 p. m.

Close—9.00 a. m.

SOUTH WATCHUNG

Close—5.20 p. m.

SUNDAY MAILS

Office open from 9.30 to 10 a. m. Mail closes at 6.15 p. m.

C. H. BIRD P. M.

Advertisements

—FOR—

New York Herald,
World, Times, Sun Journal,
Telegram, America,
Brooklyn Eagle
—and—
Newark Evening News

Received at

The Daily Press

AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

BOYNTON
Square Pot
FURNACES

Greatest heat from least coal; efficient coal-saving—all direct heating at the ash pit; perfect ventilation. Write for Boynton Furnace Co., New York—Chicago.

Mrs. John Brown,
Successor to
John Burke and Jones & Co.

Cesspools and Vaults Cleaned from $3.00 Upwards.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.
Don't give your order up until you consult me.
Estimates cheerfully given.

Leave orders at
J. T. Vail's, North avenue, Plainfield, N. J.
Postoffice Box 178.
FRANK BURKE, Manager.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST

VOL. XXXIX PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1907. NO. 46.

"Support the Constitution, which is the Cement of the Union, as well in its Limitations as in its Authorities."—Madison.

UNION REPUBLICAN, 708 MAJORITY

Union county lined up in the Republican ranks by electing every candidate on the ticket. Justice Fort received a majority of 708 although until a late hour this morning the Democrats were claiming victory. He lost Elizabeth, Rahway, Clark township and Springfield township but won in every other district. In Elizabeth the total vote for Fort was 4,350 and for Katzenbach 5,805. Rahway gave Katzenbach a majority of ninety-six. Last year the county was carried by Martine as Democratic candidate for congress.

The Republican candidates for assembly, Moxon, Pierce and Kirstein went through by small majorities while Tuttle, the Democratic candidate for Assembly from Westfield ran well ahead of his ticket. The total vote for him was 10,045.

Surrogate Parrot was re-elected over Gibby by a majority of 716, the totals being 10,932 and 9,616. A hard fight was made for Gibby in various parts of the county. The largest vote of any of the candidates was polled for the Republican candidate for coroner, Donaldson, who received 11,015 against his opponents' 9,643.

Samuel Townsend.
—Photo by Stone.

FORT CARRIES SOMERSET

County Ticket Split—G. O. P Elects Smalley—Democrats Get Big Majorities For De Mond and Ross.

Somerset county, including both districts of the borough, gives Fort a majority of 157, with two townships missing in the returns. The ticket split on the county candidates, Smalley, the Republican candidate for Assembly, returned a majority of 168. De Mond, the Democratic nominee for Surrogate, had a majority of 450, and Ross, Democratic candidate for Sheriff, got a majority of 1655. The returns from the towns and townships, as received up to 2.30 o'clock this afternoon, show the following majorities:

Plattsburg Township—For., R., 19; Smalley, R., 23; Kay, R., 34; Metz, R., 4. Bound Brook, First district—Fort, R., 10; Smalley, R., 14; De Mond, D., 21; Kay, R., 7. Bound Brook, Second district—Katzenbach, D., 112; Allen, D., 85; De Mont, D., 119; Ross, D., 111. Warren Township—Katzenbach, D., 17; Smalley, R., 2; De Mond, D., 17; Ross, D., 6. Montgomery—Fort, R., 56; Smalley, R., 66; Kay, R., 43; Metz, R., 28. Rocky Hill—Katzenbach, D., 9; Smalley, R., 15; De Mond, D., 8; Ross, D., 13. Hillsboro—First district, Fort, R., 9; Smalley, R., 10; Metz, R., 4; Ross, D., 28. Hillsboro, Second district—Fort, R., 46; other returns incomplete. Hillsboro Borough—Fort, R., 7; Smalley, R., 12; Kay, R., 5; Metz, R., 7. Franklin—Fort, R., 56; Smalley, R., 59; Kay, R., 17; Metz, R., 52. No returns from the Second district. Franklin, Third district—Fort, R., 29; Smalley, R., 70; Kay, R., 42; Metz, R., 71. South Bound Brook—Katzenbach, D., 11; Smalley, R., 28; De Mond, D., 10; Ross, D., 3. Bedminster, First district—Katzenbach, D., 60; De Mond, D., 77; Allen, D., 62; Ross, D., 62. Bedminster, Second district—Katzenbach, D., 95; De Mond, D., 84; Allen, D., 95; Ross, D., 84. Bernardsville, First district—Fort, R., 3; Kay, R., 75; Allen, D., 34. Bernardsville, Second district—Katzenbach, D., 16; Kay, R., 20; De Mond, D., 14; Allen, D., 23. Bernardsville, Third district—Katzenbach, D., 10; Kay, R., 7; De Mond, D., 26; Allen, D., 3. Bernardsville, Fourth district—Katzenbach, D., 51; De Mond, D., 68; Allen, D., 104; Ross, D., 47. Bridgewater, First district—Fort, R., 43; Smalley, R., 57; De Mond, D., 18; Ross, D., 125. Bridgewater, Second district—Katzenbach, D., 22; De Mond, D., 165; Allen, D., 5; Ross, D., 223. This was Ross' home district. Bridgewater, Third district—Katzenbach, D., 38; De Mond, D., 113; Allen, D., 34; Ross, D., 136. Bridgewater, Fourth district—Fort, R., 21; Smalley, R., 44; Metz, R., 39; Ross, D., 64. Bridgewater, Fifth district—Katzenbach, D., 10; De Mond, D., 84; Allen, D., 9; Ross, D., 93. Bridgewater, Sixth district—Fort, R., 25; Smalley, R., 56; Metz, R., 75; Ross, D., 11. North Plainfield, First district—Fort, R., 122; Smalley, R., 104; Kay, R., 106; Metz, R., 107. North Plainfield, Second district—Fort, R., 92; Smalley, R., 70; Kay, R., 57; Metz, R., 46.

House Destroyed By Fire.

The house on what is known as the Richey place, just west of Fanwood, on Westfield avenue, was destroyed by fire last night. The structure was unoccupied and the origin is unknown. The loss is placed at $2,500.

—Advertise in The Daily Press.

BOROUGH IS REPUBLICAN

Townsend Gets Handsome Vote as Unopposed Candidate for Mayor.

"My election, coming without a contest, through the nomination of both parties, is a compliment I greatly prize. While I cannot but feel that it shows a confidence in my desire to act fairly and for the best interest of the borough, it is still more significent as indicating a change from conditions that have sometimes prevailed in past years when factional feeling has often interfered with a calm discussion of public questions. Important matters are to be settled by the borough in the near future and much is gained if they are taken up and decided strictly on their merits."

SAMUEL TOWNSEND.

North Plainfield.

With the mayoralty conceded to Samuel Townsend by both parties, the interest in the election lagged in North Plainfield and a light vote was polled. The voters were quiet and there was no disorder or accident during the entire day. Fort had a majority of 214 and the Republican ticket was as usual victorious, though by a smaller majority than last year. Katzenbach ran ahead of his party. Of the 1,200 voters registered, only 943 voted and there was no special contest on either the county or the local ticket.

The summary of the balloting is shown by the table below.

For Governor—

	1st D.	2d D.	Total
Fort, R.	273	254	527
Katzenbach, D.	151	162	313
Mason, P.	8	13	21
Butterworth, S. L.	3	7	10
Kraft, Soc.	31	35	66

For Assembly—

	1st D.	2d D.	Total
Smalley, R.	282	252	534
Allen, D.	139	163	302
Pascale, S.	32	37	69
Acker, P.	7	13	20

For Surrogate—

	1st D.	2d D.	Total
Metz, Jr., R.	266	237	503
DeMond, D.	153	178	331
Brown, P.	6	13	19

For Sheriff—

	1st D.	2d D.	Total
Kay, R.	267	242	509
Ross, D.	163	171	334
Gumper, P.	8	13	21

For Coroner—

	1st D.	2d D.	Total
Herbermann, R.	276	251	527
Smalley, R.	277	252	529
Querin, D.	147	163	310
Tunison, D.	145	164	309
Herrmon, P.	6	13	19

For Freeholder—

	1st D.	2d D.	Total
Lutkins, R.	260	236	496
Emmons, D.	164	179	343

For Members of Common Council—

	1st D.	2d D.	Total
Nichols, R.	274	244	518
Woolston, R.	278	250	528
Cruzen, D.	150	175	325
Ludlow, D.	144	162	306

For Mayor—

	1st D.	2d D.	Total
Townsend, R. and D.	468	411	879

For Tax Collector—

	1st D.	2d D.	Total
Brown, R.	297	261	558
Tapscott, D.	128	154	282

For Assessor—

	1st D.	2d D.	Total
Cooley, R.	281	253	534

For Justice of the Peace—

	1st D.	2d D.	Total
D. D. Smalley, D.	147	167	314

James B. Sloyan.

James B. Sloyan, a former resident of this city, died in Philadelphia Monday. He was thirty-seven years old and leaves a wife. The funeral services will be held at the home of his brother, John Sloyan, of West Third street, tomorrow morning at 8:30 and from St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

—Daily Press want ads. pay.

PLAINFIELD.

	1st Ward. 1st Dist.	1st Ward. 2d Dist.	2d Ward. 1st Dist.	2d Ward. 2d Dist.	3d Ward. 1st Dist.	3d Ward. 2d Dist.	4th Ward. 1st Dist.	4th Ward. 2d Dist.	4th Ward. 3d Dist.	Total.	Majority.
Governor—
Fort, R.	274	161	317	138	278	146	207	301	276	2,098	1,314
Katzenbach, D.	82	56	91	65	97	67	89	123	114	784
Assembly—
Moxon, R.	275	162	312	149	280	148	213	299	276	2,114	1,358
Pierce, R.	275	162	316	148	280	149	208	298	279	2,105	1,302
Kirstein, R.	273	160	311	149	281	146	211	298	278	2,107	1,341
Rieke, D.	82	55	89	55	97	62	82	122	112	756
Tuttle, D.	86	59	97	58	99	73	86	123	112	803
Girtanner, D.	82	54	95	55	97	65	83	122	113	766
Surrogate—
Parrot, R.	279	167	319	149	285	149	212	305	279	2,144	1,390
Gibby, D.	79	54	90	55	94	66	84	119	113	754
Coroner—
Donaldson, R.	280	164	323	157	282	156	212	301	281	2,156	1,416
McElhinney, D.	79	54	85	53	96	59	83	121	110	740
City Treasurer—
Arnold, R.	359	219	407	204	283	215	295	416	293	2,781	2,466
Arnold, D.	83	54	87	63	95	61	83	111	111	685
City Judge—
Runyon, R.	269	104	327	155	287	156	211	209	198	1,916	950
Hetfield, Sr., D.	85	113	82	49	91	59	84	212	196	966
Ward Councilmen—
Gloak, R.	277	166								443	313
Luckey, D.	81	49								130
Hall, R.			318	154						472	331
Gardner, D.			90	51						141
Mygatt, R.					285	152				437	280
Bolton, D.					95	62				157
Buxton, R.							211	296	275	782	467
Brokaw, D.							83	122	110	315
Councilmen-at-Large—
Montgomery, R.	277	158	303	124	276	143	212	296	276	2,061	1,290
Suydam, R.	280	163	311	148	279	148	211	301	280	2,121	1,362
Randolph, R.	279	161	307	130	279	152	211	300	280	2,100	1,310
Schleif, D.	79	56	97	56	99	61	86	123	114	771
McNulty, D.	79	54	100	53	99	61	83	122	108	759
Manning, D.	82	56	100	55	101	72	84	124	117	790
School Board—
Lovell, R.	279	164	318	151	283	155	213	302	281	2,136	1,380
Rodman, D.	79	54	90	54	96	62	81	122	112	750

UNION COUNTY.

	Governor. Fort, R.	Governor. Katzenbach, D.	Assembly. Moxon, R.	Assembly. Pierce, R.	Assembly. Kirstein, R.	Assembly. Rieke, D.	Assembly. Tuttle, D.	Assembly. Girtanner, D.	Surrogate. Parrot, R.	Surrogate. Gibby, D.	Coroner. Donaldson, R.	Coroner. McElhinney, D.
Elizabeth	4,350	5,805	4,355	4,381	4,378	5,710	5,730	5,702	4,472	5,618	4,386	5,721
Plainfield	2,098	784	2,114	2,105	2,107	756	803	766	2,144	754	2,156	740
Rahway	911	1,007	891	922	888	981	978	1,028	888	981	922	978
Summit	608	574	605	609	604	572	575	576	608	578	609	570
Westfield	699	374	633	582	511	387	683	390	700	371	694	350
Cranford Township	426	196	427	445	424	186	192	183	445	176	437	182
Union Township	292	279	290	291	292	278	277	279	290	279	291	278
Clark Township	42	43	44	44	44	42	42	44	43	43	44	42
Fanwood Borough	59	20	59	58	55	18	23	18	59	19	57	21
Fanwood Township	154	113	155	155	157	109	112	110	157	109	157	109
Linden Borough	41	22	40	40	30	32	32	45	44	29	50	22
Linden Township	59	70	58	59	58	71	70	71	58	72	57	72
Garwood	116	58	126	131	116	42	65	42	121	43	134	40
Mountainside Bor.	40	24	41	41	39	21	28	21	40	23	42	20
New Providence Bor.	92	60	95	95	95	53	58	58	92	60	95	58
New Providence T'n'p.	51	45	51	51	50	45	46	45	56	40	51	45
Roselle Borough	301	151	108	310	310	143	110	118	113	114	118	108
Roselle Park Borough	231	156	262	239	236	150	142	145	305	148	311	142
Springfield Township	109	117	106	117	117	112	151	156	227	160	238	148
Total	10,609	9,901	10,729	10,749	10,568	9,652	1,048	9,797	10,932	9,616	11,015	9,643
Majority

William F. Arnold.
—Photo by Langhorne.

Frank Snowden Katzenbach.
Defeated Candidate for Governor.

William N. Runyon.
—Daily Press want ads. pay.

FORT ELECTED GOVERNOR BY 6,696

J. Franklin Fort

PLAINFIELD'S REPUBLICAN

Fort Gets 1,300 Majority—Runyon Runs Far Behind His Ticket.

J. Franklin Fort received 1,311 majority in Plainfield, a decrease from the normal Republican majority in previous years. The whole Republican ticket went through here by about the same figure, excepting on the local ticket.

Runyon, for city judge, was badly cut, received only 950 majority. His opponent, Hetfield, Sr., won in the second district of the First ward and the second district of the Fourth ward. Montgomery for councilman-at-large, was cut in the Second ward.

The tabulated result will be found in other columns.

In the Second district of the Third ward Robert L. Lee received 154 votes for constable and James Forristel for the same office received 153 votes. The men were nominated mere in a spirit of fun. In this same district there were 43 Republican and 18 Democratic tickets scratched.

For Justice of the Peace, Dr. George R. Boston, Republican, received 210 votes in the First district of the Fourth ward, 205 in the Second district and 280 in the Third district. Alexander Gordon, Republican, candidate for the same office, received 211 votes in the First district of this ward, 205 in the Second district and 281 in the Third district.

J. Franklin Fort was elected Governor of New Jersey yesterday by a majority of 6,696. Hudson's terrible slump did the trick and defeated Frank Snowden Katzenbach, the Democratic nominee.

Until noon today the Democrats claimed a decisive victory, their figures being based on the returns from Hudson giving them 1,800 majority.

Later and more accurate returns from the Democratic stronghold showed that Katzenbach received but 6,000 majority there. Trading for votes for Mark Fagan, the Republican candidate for Mayor, sacrificing Katzenbach.

All morning long it was reported that Katzenbach had won by at least 4,000 and these figures appeared to be accepted by the Newark Evening News, which later furnished The Daily Press with the accurate and complete returns.

State Senator E. R. Ackerman, when he learned the correct returns, was jubilant over the victory. He said that it showed that full trust could be put in the people and that the result was a vindication for the Republican administration in which the people had the utmost confidence.

J. A. Smith & Bros.' Denial.

The undersigned are informed that a report has been circulated to the effect that the Ackor, Merrall & Condit Company had bought out the business of J. A. Smith & Bro., grocers, of 151 West Front street, Plainfield, N. J. Such a report does a grave injustice to J. A. Smith & Bro., and we desire to deny that there has ever been the slightest foundation for such a statement.

ACKER, MERRALL & CONDIT COMPANY.

***

PLURALITIES FOR GOVERNOR

Based on Approximate Estimates of Returns Received Up to 2 o'Clock.

COUNTIES	1907 Fort, Rep.	1907 Katzenbach, Dem.	1904 Stokes, Rep.	1904 Black, Dem.	1901 Murphey, Rep.	1901 Seymour, Dem.
Atlantic	1,800		4,272		2,761
Bergen	1,350		1,539		1,340
Burlington	1,450		2,891		1,583
Camden	6,000		7,506		4,756
Cape May	1,000		1,352		886
Cumberland	1,400		3,156		1,912
Essex		282	18,338
Gloucester	1,124		1,465		725
Hudson		6,909		718		8,998
Hunterdon		962		718		1,074
Mercer		766	3,575		1,871
Middlesex		39	2,421		110
Monmouth		1,444	500	1,202	775
Morris	1,770		3,046		880
Ocean	500		1,705		1,152
Passaic	758		2,895		1,302
Salem	374		712		182
Somerset	197		1,952		200
Sussex		600		622		651
Union	721		4,272		1,359
Warren		757		863		702
Totals	18,455	11,759	61,401	9,757	28,559	11,426
Pluralities	6,696		51,644		17,133

STOCK ISSUE ENJOINED

Shareholders in Manganese Steel Safe Co., Allege Proposed Plan is a "Blind".

OUTLINE THE PURPOSE

Samuel Rodman and His Wife Assert Affairs of the Concern Are in a Bad State.

Alleging that a proposed increase of capital stock from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 is only a blind to cover the insolvency of the concern, Samuel Rodman and his wife, Mrs. Martha Rodman Wednesday made application before Vice Chancellor Howell in the Chancery Court at Newark, for a rule to show cause why The Manganese Steel Safe Company, of this city, should not be enjoined from making the proposed change. The bill states that the capital stock has been wasted to the extent of $350,000 and that in the contemplated move there is a plan to turn the management of the concern into the hands of the Messrs. Mosler, of Hamilton, O., makers of the safe of that name. The application was granted and is returnable before Vice Chancellor Howell on November 7. Mr. and Mrs. Rodman were represented in the proceedings by their counsel, George Ball and W. S. Anderson, of this city.

The Manganese Steel Safe Company is one of Plainfield's most important industries. It was incorporated originally as the Hilliard-Rodman-Ely Safe Works and first began business in Perth Amboy eight years ago. A larger plant was afterward erected in this city and the one at Perth Amboy was closed. The company manufacturers safes and vaults from manganese steel and has built some of the largest in the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodman, who are residents of Washington, D. C., were original stockholders in the old concern and still have large holdings. In their complaint they charge that in the proposed increase the management wants a new classification of a stock. At the present time there is $600,000 common and $400,000 preferred. They want the present preferred shareholders to surrender share for share of the new stock and the present common holders to give two shares for each one of the new second preferred.

The new preferred is to be sold for cash to pay off existing obligations and to have a balance on hand, while the new $1,000,000 common is to go to the Messrs. Mosler, giving them control of the company.

The bill further asks that an inspection be made of the concern's books and that the treasurer submit his report for the past two years, this having been kept from the complainants and others.

Mr. Rodman is one of the inventors of the Manganese safes and is also the holder of numerous patents in other directions. He was formerly a first lieutenant in the Second U. S. Artillery and captain of the First U. S.V. Engineers.

THE GROOM MUST PAY.

Queer Marriage Custom Among the Quebec French Canadians.

A singular marriage custom prevails among the French Canadians in Quebec. After the morning marriage service in the church the bridal party in the caleche or carriole make a tour of calls upon relatives and friends during the day and then return again to church for vespers.

Before the evening dance at the bride's new home comes the supper. When the company rises from the table the bride keeps her seat, and some one asks with great dignity: "Why does madame wait? Is she so soon in bad grace?"

She replies: "Somebody has stolen my slipper. I cannot walk."

Then they carry her, chair and all, into the middle of the room, while a loud knocking announces a grotesque ragged bender of boots and shoes. He kneels before the slipperless bride and tries on a long succession of old boots and shoes of every variety and size until at last he finds her missing shoe.

Then the groom redeems it for a good price, which is spent in treating the company. If the groom is not watchful they steal her hat and cloak, which he redeems in the same way, and they have been known to steal the bride, for which there must be liberal pay. The event of the evening is a good jig in which a guest volunteers to outdance the bride. If successful the latter demands a prize from the groom.—Pearson's Weekly.

Watchung's House Rule.

The honor role for October, 1907, at the Watchung public school follows: Grammar grade—Adele Herrman, Tiny Texier, Elsie Schmidt, Lottie Tann, Ella Schmidt, Clarence Schmidt, Ray Herrmann, Geo. Ralph, Hippolyte Texier, Richard Moldenke; primary grade—Charles Snowden, Clemens Texier, Helen Mobus, Emma Mobus, George Mobus, Emile Ferrel, Joseph Falupp, Daisy Schmidt, Richard Schmidt, James Tavia.

Cranford Choral Director.

William E. MacClymont, organist of Grace church, has been engaged as director for the Cranford Choral Society, succeeding Arthur Woodruff.

Some First M. E. Former Pastors.

Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D. D. pastor, 1874-1877
Rev. J. B. Van Meter, D. D. Pastor, 1886-1888
Rev. George H. Whitney, D. D. Pastor, 1866-1868
Rev. Charles R. Barnes, D. D. Pastor, 1892-1897
Rev. W. C. Snodgrass, D. D. Pastor, 1897-1905

The Original M. E. Edifice, 1832, and Some of the Pastors of That Congregation.

G. F. Brown, '32-3, '40-1
E. L. Janes, '34-5
J. O. Rogers, '47-9
S. Armstrong, '62-3
Wm. Day, '68-'71, '77-'80
Benjamin Kelley, '42-4
J. O. Wisner, '54-6
Edwin A. Day, '63-4
James R. Bryan, '71-4
J. N. Crane, '32-3
Lewis R. Dunn, '45-7
John Atkinson, '56-9
A. M. Palmer, '64-8
T. H. Stockton, '80-3

IMPROVEMENT IN GYM WORK BRINGS PROMOTION TO FOUR.

As the result of an examination held by Physical Director Listman at the Y. M. C. A., yesterday, nine members of the boys' department gymnasium class were promoted from grade 1 to grade 2. Those who were successful in going to the higher class were F. Hockberger, F. M. Hoagland, M. Hockberger, F. Trovell, Roy Love, Craig Blair, Frank Putnam and George Hook.

The boys' classes at the association are marked on their class and apparatus work every time the class meets and are graded according to their efficiency at athletics. There are at present three grades into which the boys are divided and as soon as a boy's work improves sufficiently to warrant his promotion, he is advanced after an examination by the physical director.

On the East Day.

Gabriel—I've blown my trumpet three times and nobody pays any attention to it. Israel—That's strange, Gabriel—Isn't it? People just make a hasty jump for the curbstone and then look to see which way the auto went.—Cleveland Leader.

HOUSE AT LINCOLN ROBBED WHILE TENANT WAS VISITING.

During the absence of Mrs. Lena Krieg from her home on the outskirts of Lincoln, Thursday night, robbers entered the apartment and took loot to the value of about $25. Mrs. Krieg, who rents the house from John Archibald, had no key to the place, and the apartments were unlocked during her absence at the home of Mrs. Winn Smalley, where she spent the night. Mrs. Krieg left yesterday for Louisiana, where she is to live with her daughter, Mrs. Richard Garney.

The robbers, who left no trace as to their identity, evidently had no trouble in making an entrance. Mrs. Krieg's household goods were all packed up, in preparation for her moving, but the robbers opened the trunks, which were unlocked, and took jewelry, valuables and clothing. There was no damage done to the house.

Armright's Win Again.

The Armright bowling team of this city defeated the Railway five in a match on Campbell's alleys last night. The local pin hitters took all three games by easy leads.

"TOM JONES" INTRODUCED

English Comic Opera Direct from London Apollo Gets Hearty Reception Here.

SEASON'S BEST SHOW

Unstinted Applause Given Meritorious Cast of Players—Mr. Savage Much Pleased.

"Tom Jones," the new English comic opera that has been a ringing success at the Apollo theatre in London for the past year, was presented at the New Jenfield theatre for the first time in America, Thursday. It was received with unstinted enthusiasm by a capacity audience that included a dozen of the best known theatrical men in the country, including the producer, Colonel Henry W. Savage. He declared after the performance that he was very well pleased with every part of it and that he appreciated the interest taken in it by the local people.

The new opera is one of two that Colonel Savage selected to bring to New York this year, the other being "The Merry Widow," now captivating large audiences nightly in the metropolis. "Tom Jones" is in a class by itself and is founded on Fielding's famous novel of the eighteenth century, with which almost everyone is familiar. The libretto was arranged by Messrs. Courtneidge and Thompson and their strong foundation has been embellished with lyrics by Edward German, considered by many the most talented composer England now has. He was brought to this country for the initial performances and was in the leader's chair last night.

In the three acts which are required to relate "Tom Jones," adventures in dramatic form, thirty characters are introduced, offering effective contrasts in comedy and romance of the drama. There are parts that call for capital comedy acting and there are romantic roles of young persons for whom live is not made easy, and there are persons who try to comjass their own ends at cost to others. So the thirty characters sing and act and create laughter betimes. They are reinforced by a big chorus of fifty young women and men and their singing and dancing was a delight to the ear and eye. All three of the acts are magnificently pictured, the third especially, wherein a garden effect with innumerable electric lights is shown, while the costumes, in great variety, are of rare beauty and richness.

Van Rensselaer Wheeler made a capital "Tom Jones," and Miss Louise Gunning as "Sophia," captured the audience with her personal charm and singing. She was recalled several times after every solo. Most of the comedy was entrusted to Gertrude Quinlan, who was last seen here as "Flora Wiggins" in "The College Widow;" William Norris and John Bunny. Norris was especially funny in the role of a busy-body barber, or male gossip, and his work was one of the hits of the evening. Others in the cast were Vaughn Trevor, Henry Norman, Florence Burdett and Laura Butler.

Besides Colonel Savage, the performance was viewed by Messrs. Wagenhals and Kemper, owners of the Astor theatre; Manuel Klein, composer of the Hippodrome lyrics and leader of its orchestra; Robert Cortleidge, one of the authors of the book; John Pratt, of Mr. Savage's personal staff, and a party of Mr. Gerald's friends who accompanied him from England. The company went from this city to Washington, where the opera will be presented for a week, after which it goes into the Astor theatre for a winter run.

It was 12:10 before the curtain fell on the last act but despite the lateness of the hour the audience applauded for several minutes and called for Mr. Savage. The curtain was raised a few times and the cast and chorus bowed but the colonel modestly remained in the background.

CLEVER BURGLAR GETS ALL OF DENTISTS' GOLD.

The dental parlors of Dr. Raymond Stevens and Dr. J. A. Stuart, both located in the Woodhull and Martin building, were entered by a burglar, evidently, on Thursday night, who stole their supply of gold metal. Dr. Stevens' loss is placed at $28 and Dr. Stuart's at half that amount. Entrance was effected by prying a piece of molding away from the door frame and then slipping the bolt back with a knife. It was a clever piece of work and left practically no clue.

The street door of the building is locked from 10 at night until 7 in the morning and the theft is though to have taken place soon after it was opened today in the building heard someone in the hall at that time. Nothing else in the two places was disturbed and the loss of the gold was not discovered until a patient arrived in Dr. Stuart's office.

Another theft was reported to the police yesterday by Miss Elizabeth Foubie. She stated that she had left her pocketbook on a hall table at her boarding place on East Sixth street and when she looked for it after lunch is was gone. The hall door was found open and the disappearance is ascribed to a sneak-thief. The pocketbook contained $14.75.

VASSAR'S HEAD TALKS

Dr. James M. Taylor Champions the Higher Education for Young Women.

CROWD AT THE CASINO

Address Given Under Auspices of the Hartridge School—A Reception Follows Lecture.

"Education was the subject of a lecture given by Dr. James M. Taylor, president of Vassar College, at the Casino, Thursday, under the auspices of the Hartridge School. The treatment of the theme was purely from the standpoint of the young woman. The speaker strongly advocated a college education for young women all things being equal. He was not inclined to the belief that the higher education for women is an extraordinary thing, but on the other hand quite normal and proper.

Dr. Taylor declared that a college education meant a little more training of the mind than that received in the high school and the added knowledge is something to be desired in fighting the battles of life. He spoke strongly in favor of the practical in education and urged the study of those branches that would tend that way. While the study of Latin, Greek and mathematics might always be useful they tended to train the mind to solve important questions that were constantly coming up in life, he declared.

Dr. Taylor in explaining this said that a person does not adopt the exercise of the dumb-bells simply as an excuse for doing something, but because it tends to strengthen the muscles and improves the general condition of the body. So it is in the study of higher branches. It tends to broaden the mind and improve the intellect.

In speaking of the private schools and those preparatory to college, he urged the practical studies as a foundation for the more advanced work if the pupil intends pursuing a college course. He laid special emphasis on this point.

Dr. Taylor spoke for about an hour and afterward an opportunity was given those present to meet the professor. The reception and social features proved a pleasing part of the program. A great many remained to shake hands with Dr. Taylor and express their appreciation of his interesting talk.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY AS HEAD OF SOCIETY

The all-day sewing meeting of the Missionary and Aid Society of Warren chapel, held at the chapel Thursday, proved a great success. Many pleasing features combined to make the occasion a happy one for the fifty members and their friends present. One of the surprises was the presentation of a handsome set of dishes to Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman, who completed her tenth year as president of the society. Her faithfulness and earnest efforts were commented upon and she was heartily congratulated by everyone.

The women gathered at 10 o'clock in the morning and during the day three quilts were quilted and sewed for the missionary box. At 1 o'clock a hot luncheon was served. The tables were elaborately decorated with chrysanthemums and flowers and the new dishes and silverware belonging to the chapel were used for the first time.

During the luncheon, Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey, pastor, presided at the table and Joseph W. Gavett was also among those present. He offered grace, and after the luncheon Mr. McKelvey spoke of the success of the society, praising the women for their efforts. He then presented Mrs. Honeyman with the set of dishes as a gift from the society. The committee having charge of the details for the presentation comprised Mrs. J. H. Snyder, Mrs. Theodore Martin, Mrs. John Green, Mrs. John Higgins, Mrs. James Burner and Mrs. Benjamin Moore. The sewing was in charge of Mrs. Gibson Smith and Mrs. J. W. Gavett.

Endeavorers to Hold Rally.

A rally mass meeting of the Plainfield Christian Endeavor Union will be held Thursday night at the Seventh-Day Baptist church. Walter B. Greenway, of Jersey City, first vice-president of the State Christian Endeavor Union, will speak. Three five-minute reports for the State convention will be given by Plainfield delegates and there will be a roll call of the local societies. A banner is to be presented to the society having the largest percentage of active and associate members present.

Removing Telephone Poles.

The employes of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company are now engaged in stripping the various telephone poles in the business section of the city preparatory to taking them down. There is one pole on Park avenue and three on West Front street to be removed and when this is done these thoroughfares will be practically free from overhead wires.

BLAZING RED LIGHT STICK IGNITES THE WHOLE SUPPLY

When the Republican paraders approached Saengerbund hall last night for the meeting, they had no reason to feel that they were being slighted in the way of a reception. "The Great White Way" of Somerset street was glaring red, with the shooting balls of Roman candles adding to the effect of ovation. On a closer approach it was seen that the display of fireworks was for the most part involuntary, and two firemen were playing streams from chemical extinguishers on a wagon load of compressed pyrotechnic demonstration, which was expanding in every direction, shooting Roman candle balls horizontally at the crowd which stood coughing with the fumes of the red fire.

It was all Charlie Lewis' fault. That worthy colored assistant of Dog Catcher Jim Babbitt was on the wagon where the fireworks were stored. It was W. L. Smalley's wagon, and there's a hole burned in it today. Fact is, Lewis got so interested in the exercises of the colored band on the curb near him that he lighted a red fire stick over a pile of fireworks in the wagon. The "demonstration" began immediately, or even a minute or two sooner. Charlie left his seat and fled to safety. The horse was unhitched and the firemen summoned. The wagon was badly damaged by the fire and the supply of fireworks was immediately exhausted.

BIG GROCERY FIRM TO OPEN LOCAL STORE

Acker, Merrall & Condit, the well-known wholesale and retail grocery firm of New York, has completed arrangements for opening a branch store in this city, as exclusively announced in The Daily Press a few weeks ago. The firm has leased one of the stores in the Stirling Building, adjoining that of The Plainfield Trust Company, and the branch will be opened there January 1. Mr. Whitney, a representative of the firm who has had charge of the suburban business for the grocery house, will manage the Plainfield business. He has leased a residence at Netherwood and will make his home here.

The firm has a large patronage in Plainfield and throughout this vicinity and was largely persuaded to establish a branch here by a number of Plainfielders who have been trading with this house for years. At first the concern was a little skeptical about the wisdom of such a move, but the assurances of a sufficient number of customers to make the venture a paying one removed all doubt.

In addition to supplying the Plainfield trade, the branch will also serve as a distributing station for the smaller towns in this vicinity, and while the service heretofore from the main store in New York has been excellent this will be still further improved.

GAVE A BRIDGE WHIST FOR LOCAL CHARITY

Under the patronage of a large number of society women a successful bridge whist party was given at Truell Hall, Thursday afternoon, for the benefit of the Day Nursery, the charity maintained by the City Union of The King's Daughters. There were twenty tables and eighty people participating in the play. While many of the women who were in charge are members of the Loyal Daughters' Circle, King's Daughters, the affair was not given by the circle.

Among the prize-winners were Mrs. Coudert, of Cranford; Mrs. William Radcliffe, Mrs. E. T. Wilson, Miss Moore, Miss Breck, Mrs. Howard Williams and Mrs. W. L. Lockwood. After the play the company was served with refreshments by Mrs. J. R. Truell, who took this means of assisting in the worthy charity. The committee who arranged the affair was composed of Mrs. E. J. Iremonger, Mrs. A. B. Davies, Mrs. W. L. Lockwood and Mrs. S. S. Schuyler.

Men's Club Banquet.

The Men's Club of the First Presbyterian church will hold its first banquet of the season in the chapel of the church on Friday night, November 8, at 7 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Whittaker, of Elizabeth, and Rev. Perry Bascom, of Bound Brook, have been secured as speakers for the occasion. The affair is being arranged by F. O. Dunning, president of the club, and Joseph C. Allen, secretary, assisted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring.

"The Bird Life of the Bahamas."

The Men's Club of the Congregational church will hold its first meeting of the year on Tuesday night, November 12, and it will be a "ladies' night." Prof. Frank M. Chapman, of American Museum of Natural History, New York, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Bird Life of the Bahamas."

DECREE FOR MRS. WALTON

Plainfield Woman Obtains a Divorce on Evidence Collected by Her Brother.

AWARD HER ALIMONY

Also Custody of Three Children—Innocent Party Was Formerly Miss Mabel Smith.

Mrs. Mabel B. S. Walton, of Richmond Hill, L. I., who was formerly Miss Mabel B. Smith, of this city, was Wednesday granted an interlocutory decree of absolute divorce from her husband, Lester R. Walton, a well-to-do chemist at No. 509 Fifth avenue, New York. The decree was announced by Supreme Court Justice Davis and carries with it alimony of $30 a week.

Testimony in the case was taken by Phoenix Ingraham, of New York, and his report recommended the action followed by the court. In her petition Mrs. Walton said that she was married in Plainfield on June 5, 1901, and that in November last she and her husband separated because of his conduct. She made no application for divorce until furnished with damaging evidence by her brother, H. Clifford Smith, of Scotch Plains, who alleged that he saw Walton in New York and followed him to the Parker House. The husband offered no defense.

In addition to the alimony, Mrs. Walton gets the custody of her three children, Lester R., Jr., Stanley and William Walton. The court stated that the father would be allowed to see them once a week.

Mrs. Walton lived with her parents on Westervelt avenue and was widely known throughout the city and borough. She graduated from the Plainfield High school in 1898 and since her marriage to Mr. Walton had spent much of her time here.

When Gunpowder Was New.

A curious feature about the evolution in methods of hunting was the hesitation with which gunpowder was taken up by the great nobles. Not only did it take quite a century to familiarize hunters with it, but the evidence that has come down to us shows that the humble classes were the first to use it for shooting game. Maximilian, ardent sportsman that he was, tells us himself that he could shoot farther and with greater accuracy with his crossbow than his keeper could with the fire tube. To prove this he tells us the well known story of a certain chamois standing at 200 fathoms, which, after being pronounced as too far off by his benchman, who was armed with one of the first sporting firearms mentioned in print, comes tumbling down, pierced at the first attempt by the emperor's bolt. From other sources we learn of strict measures being adopted to prevent poachers and "wood loafers" using firearms, and this at a period when princes still used the cumbrous crossbar and spear. It was only in the last quarter of the sixteenth century that firearms had ousted other weapons for certain forms of the chase, the deer battue being among the latter.—Gentleman's Magazine.

SECRET WRITING.

How Letters May Be Made Safe From Prying Eyes.

Even with the most unromantic of us occasions sometimes arise when we should like to make some memorandum or write some letter which cannot be read except by those we wish to do so. Here is a simple method:

Soak a sheet of note paper in cold water and lay it perfectly flat upon a piece of glass. Place above it another sheet, dry this time, and on the upper sheet write your message with a fairly hard pencil. You now destroy the dry paper and allow all the moisture to evaporate from the wet pieces. Don't hold it to the fire, but let it dry naturally. If you then examine it closely you will see not the faintest trace of writing, but if you moisten the paper once more and hold it up to the tight you can read quite plainly all you wrote. It will show up like the water-mark on a postage stamp. This method, by the way, is sometimes adopted by convicts. They use their gruel cans instead of glass and a sharp piece of wood for a pencil.

Another way is less dirty and even more effective. Lay several sheets of paper on a flat surface and write upon the top one. Then remove the bottom one, on which no impression appears. If you hold this in the vapor of boiling water, however, the writing will turn brown and be quite legible. The explanation is plain. The note paper contains starch, which on being pressed turns to hydramide, a substance which is acted on by iodine in the manner described.—Answers.

Mrs. Ida Randolph-Smalley Weds.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mrs. Ida Randolph-Smalley, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Brooklyn, and John Irwin Hilliard, of Mississippi. The couple were married at Albany, N. Y., on Saturday, October 19, by Rev. Edward M. Brown. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Randolph, and is well known here. She is a pianist of marked ability and has frequently appeared in entertainments in this city.

INDIAN MISSIONARY HERE

Rev. Frank Hall Wright Makes Plea for Work in the Far West

AT TRINITY CHURCH

Tells What Other Denominations Are Doing and Urges Reformed Church People to Greater Effort.

Before a large and deeply interested audience at Trinity Reformed church, Wednesday, Rev. Frank Hall Wright, the Indian evangelist and missionary, presented an earnest and effective appeal for greater support of the cause of home missions, especially in Oklahoma and throughout the Western part of Texas. Mr. Wright has been sent out by the General Synod and Women's Executive Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church in America especially for the purpose of arousing more interest in the home mission work among the Indians and whites of the far west.

Mr. Wright visited Plainfield fifteen years ago on an evangelistic tour and there are many here present last night who remembered him and were glad of the opportunity to hear him again.

In his own peculiar earnest manner he touched the hearts of all by his appeal for funds and for workers to rally to the great work in the far west. He said that the Reformed church although first in the field in missionary enterprise has apparently neglected a great opportunity to carry out and there are today present membership is 121,000. He believed the time had come when the church should look out for its laurels. Last year there were 1,855 gained in membership over the preceding year, and he urged the need that the church should now number a million.

The evangelist cited facts and figures showing how much more the Baptists, Presbyterians and Methodists are doing in that section of the country, than the Reformed church and pictured the need in such a vivid manner that everyone felt more deeply his responsibility. Mr. Wright said that he was the pioneer for the church in this mission work and his description of scenes and incidents in his labor among the various tribes of Indians touched the hearts of all.

He thought the policy of the Reformed church in the past was wrong, in that it adhered too strongly to the Dutch blood, when there are so many native Americans who are thirsting for the gospel of Christ. He declared it to be a debt the church owes not only to the great army who know not Christ but to Christ and the country which has given to us such glorious liberty.

"Why," said Mr. Wright, "you have a class of aliens right here that we do not know in the west. Tonight while walking your streets I inquired of a man a certain direction and he could not understand me. You have a mission here among such people. Ninety-five per cent. of the people in Oklahoma are pure Americans. They have settled there to make their fortunes and they are anxious to have the gospel brought to them. The opportunity is ours and we must accept it right now. They are the best people in the world to evangelize and they are hungry to learn about Christ. Last year we tried to raise $200,000 for home mission work and failed. This year we have secured $59,000 more than last year."

After presenting the darker side of the picture in his effort to arouse his hearers to a sense of their responsibility, he related a most hopeful story of the gains of the work by the church. He told how the work in Oklahoma was started with $3,000 and there is today church property there valued at $50,000 and the church has a membership of 360 including a large and thriving Sunday-school.

Mr. Wright stated that he belonged to a Choctaw tribe of Indians and that it was his father that gave to Oklahoma its name. The many incidents he related describing his experiences with the Indians evoked great interest, and most impressive was a letter which he read at the close of his remarks. This was from an Indian who had lost his wife and child by death. He had been converted and he told in the letter how his faith in Christ had not been shaken, but that he would strive the harder to serve Him. Mr. Wright closed his remarks with the singing of an inspiring hymn, "There is a Beautiful Land."

The service was in charge of F. E. Smith, superintendent of the Sunday-school, who explained the object of it, and told of the efforts of the General Synod and Women's Executive Committee to raise more money for this most important work in the West.

Old Time Capital Crime.

In England during the fifteenth century stealing above the value of twelve-pence, burning a haystack, killing or stealing sheep, breaking a dike or bridge, breaking a bank of a fish pond, cutting down a tree in an orchard and the maliciously tearing or defacing of the garments of a person in the street were all capital offenses and were punished as such by death.—Westminster Gazette.

RUN DOWN BY "PUSHER"

Switch Engine Fells Albert Ritterbusch at Dunellen Station.

WAS CROSSING TRACK

Arm and Leg Crushed As Lad Falls Under Wheels of Train He Didn't See Coming.

While crossing the tracks in front of the Dunellen station Friday afternoon at shortly after 5 o'clock, Albert Ritterbusch, fifteen years old, was struck by the "pusher" engine drawing a string of passenger cars and seriously injured. At Muhlenberg Hospital last night, his left arm was amputated at the shoulder. The lad's left foot is terribly lacerated and amputation may be necessary. The examination last night showed no internal injuries, and it is believed the lad may recover.

Ritterbusch, who is the son of Henry F. Ritterbusch, employed as detectiv e in the freight claim department of the Jersey Central Railroad at Jersey City, left the station platform to pick up some freight way bills thrown from a passing freight train. He did not see the "pusher" apparently, and was struck by the pilot of the heavy engine and run down, the wheels passing over his arm. William Murphy was engineer of the pusher, but could not bring his train to a stop in time to prevent the accident.

The lad was picked up by some trainmen on the station platform and carried inside. Dr. P. W. Brakeley was summoned and a telephone call was sent for the ambulance. At the hospital an examination was conducted by Dr. Anthony and the lad's father notified of the accident. Later it was found necessary to amputate the arm. Ritterbusch lives on Dunellen avenue.

NEWSPAPERMAN WEDS CHARMING YOUNG WOMAN

At a quiet home wedding, Miss Helen F. Robins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Robins, of Norwood avenue, and Francis K. Anderson, also of this city, were married Wednesday, only a few relatives and intimate friends being present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. John A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which the bride is a member.

The maid of honor was Miss Bessie W. Bond, of this city, while the groom was attended by his best man, Harold S. Robins, brother of the bride. Miss Beatrice Sniffen and Master Franklin Field, of Brooklyn, were flower bearers. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

White and green were the prevailing colors, the rooms being attractively decorated in smilax, with chrysanthemums and palms. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played as the bridal party entered the parlor.

The bride was gowned in a white lace robe over white satin, and her veil was caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a gown of white mousselaine de soie and carried pink chrysanthemums.

A reception followed the ceremony, after which the bride and groom left for a wedding trip. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will reside in Plainfield.

Mr. Anderson is a graduate of the Plainfield High School. He was formerly on the staff of The Daily Press and is now editor of The Elizabeth Times.

STATE BALANCE $1,320,038.

Decrease Due to Withholding of Tax by Railroads.

At the close of business for the fiscal year the State of New Jersey has a cash balance in the treasury amounting to $1,320,028.47. Last year the balance was $2,084,889.39. The difference in the balance is explained in a letter to Governor Stokes by Comptroller J. Willard Morgan, in which he shows that the railroads have not as yet paid some $300,000 of the State tax. Payments have not been made by the railroads because they are hoping to upset the law, which has forced them to pay a larger tax under the Perkins law than they have ever been compelled to pay in the past for railroad property.

The following is a copy of the letter forwarded to Governor Stakes by Comptroller Morgan:

The close of the State's fiscal year shows a cash balance of $1,320,-038.47.

That this balance is less than that of last year is due to the failure of the railroad companies to pay some $300,000 of the State tax, pending litigation, and to their response to the necessity of increased accommodations in our humanitarian and charitable institutions, our reformatories and penal institutions.

Amusement.

First Old Lady—What kind of a time did you have at the funeral? Second Old Lady—Well, I've enjoyed myself more at others.—Life.

HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATED

Merrymakers in the City and Borough Had Lots of Fun Thursday.

MANY PARTIES GIVEN

Ball At Saengerbund Hall and Jolly Gatherings At Numerous Private Homes.

With mummers of all sorts, shapes and sizes parading the streets with noise-making instruments, small boys flinging corn and stealing gates and their older brothers and sisters holding house parties, Hallowe'en was celebrated in rousing fashion in this city Thursday. Contrary to custom, there was less malicious mischief accomplished under the guise of "having fun" but there has never been a year when so many people roamed about in costume. The business section of the city was crowded with masked youngsters as early as 7 o'clock and from the terrific blowing of horns everyone must have had lung power above the ordinary. Later in the evening, young women masquerading in men's clothes could be counted by the dozen and there were lots of dresses going down the streets that had been "borrowed by brother."

A squad of plain clothes policemen that Chief Kiely sent out kept down the exuberant spirits of the boys and hardly a bit of damage was occasioned. About the usual number of gates, porch chairs and rugs were carried off and a lot of signs were exchanged but that was about all. Several wagon owners reported early Thursday that their vehicles had disappeared from yards and sheds but they were found this morning.

There were no big celebrations in either the city or borough but Hallow'en parties were unusually numerous.

High School Fun.

The senior class of the city high school had their own Hallowe'en celebration at the school building Thursday, when they held a mask and masquerade dance after a class collation served early in the evening. The members gathered at the school by 6 o'clock and supper was served in the auditorium by the girls of the class. After the "feed," the floor was cleared for dancing, which was continued until a late hour. There were many clever masquerade costumes worn by the pupils of the class, and in the voting by the class, Miss Carola Hart won the honors as best costumed girl and Stanley Karner was haled as the best costumed boy. Miss Mary Collier furnished music for the dancing. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Miss Sara Sanderson, Miss Esther Bowne, Miss Helen Dorothy, Walter Caldwell and Chauncey Murphey. A flashlight photograph of the class in costume was taken early in the evening.

Fun At Y. W. C. A.

The members of the Young Women's Christian Association were mystically but delightfully entertained by real "spooks" at the association rooms last night. As they entered the front door they were greeted by an uncanny young ghost leaning against a cornstalk and pointing its finger up the stairs. At the head of the stairs another ghostly figure conducted the young ladies to the cloakroom, which was dimly lighted and inhabited only by a dummy. Later on again, they found corn-shocks and apples and jack-o'-lanterns on every side, and different ones of the white-robed sisters conducted each and every one present to some mysterious corner, where they found in all. Each member was masqueraded, and marched down town to the strains of many musical instruments. The notes of Bonnie Dundee were rendered by a coon cornet-playing darkey, and the Grand March in particular first introduced by the spooky sisters from spook-land, and they found that their fortune-teller could not go the rounds of all the early maidens they were attempting to entertain. With diving for apples, or cutting the flour-cake for a ring, or joining in some ghostly game, the evening passed very quickly for the one hundred young ladies present. Coffee and doughnuts were served by the spooks who had so graciously entertained throughout the evening. Special thanks for the enjoyment of the evening are due the committee in charge, consisting of Miss Alice Adams, Miss Dean, Miss Lillian Fredderman, Miss Marion McCutchen, Miss Florence Jennings and Miss Olga Lockert.

Scottish Reunion.

The Hallowe'en party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Doig, of 209 Stockton place, Monday, took the form of a Scotch reunion all of the guests being Scots. The first part of the evening was devoted to playing appropriate games, after which songs and readings contributed to make the affair a happy one. Refreshments were served and the festivities closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne." The party was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. William Doig and Mr. and Mrs. G. Ballie.

The borough police took special precaution to prevent any too enthusiastic prankers from disturbing the peace, and special officers John Johnson, Richard McDonald and John Reiman were on duty last night. There were no arrests of the merrymakers and no damage has been reported.

A bunch of young fellows had fun with Jerry O'Connor, who owns a blacksmith shop on Chatham street and caused a lot of trouble for him when he went to work next morning. They visited the shop Thursday, plugged up the chimney and nailed the door shut, moving the heavy stone roller against the door as an additional trouble maker. When the blacksmith arrived next morning, he had a lot of work to get in the shop, and when he started the fire, the plugged chimney caused the place to fill with smoke, temporarily arousing the fire of Jerry's wrath. He had lot of trouble cleaning out the flue that the smoke could pass off.

An Annual Ball.

At Saengerbund hall, the "Him, Her and I Social Club" got together for their first annual ball. There were about eighty couples on the floor and the dancing was continued until late. A two dollar and a half gold piece was awarded as prize to the best costumed man and woman on the floor, and there was a big variety of costumes, some of them very elaborate. The committee had a scheme whereby they planned to serve liquid refreshments of a cheering nature, but Chief Marshal Weiss put a stop to the game before a single bottle had been opened. The chairman of the affair was John Lamaire, and Clinton Conover, "Garry" Sheppard, William Davy and Claude Hand served with him on the committee. The music was by Suhr's Imperial orchestra.

Miss Martin's Party.

Throughout the residential section of the borough, merrymakers gathered within doors for the quieter forms of the season's festivities. Sounds of music and singing came from many of the houses, and over on Watchung avenue, where a bunch of Rutgers College students were being entertained, the "Rah, Rah boys" kept things lively at late hour. Miss Hazel Martin, of Duer street, entertained a party of about twenty-five young people at her home. The evening was passed in playing progressive games. Of the women, Miss Mazie Gray took first prize and Miss Snyder the booby prize, Messrs. Gray and Kirch carried off the maximum and minimum honors among the men.

Greenbrook's Celebration.

At the home of J. W. Beetham, of Greenbrook, about fifty guests spent the evening at a masquerade costume. The house was handsomely decorated with chrysanthemums by Anthony Zorlinesk and there was a big delegation from the J. Franklin *Fort Club present. Charles P. Se*bring, president of the organization, made a "ringing speech" on the bishops' bill, which was received with "sustained applause." The merry-making lasted till a late hour, a collation being served at midnight.

At Joseph's Randall's.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Randall, of Brook avenue, entertained a party of friends, Thursday, including about a dozen young women from the Woodhull & Martin Company. The evening was given up to Hallowe'en festivities after which refreshments were served.

Miss Alice Peacock, of Westervelt avenue, was tendered a Hallowe'en surprise by thirty of her young friends. The affair was arranged by Miss Helen Berkhan and Miss Helen Roberts and the self-invited guests arrived in costume befitting the occasion. During the evening vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed and Hallowe'en games were played, among them ducking for apples, spin-the-plate and chase-the-goose. Refreshments were served in conclusion.

Forty Merrymakers.

A Hallowe'en party was held Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Wilson, of East Fourth street. The company numbered forty in all. Each member was masqueraded, and marched down town to the strains of many musical instruments. The notes of Bonnie Dundee were rendered by a coon cornet-playing darkey, and the Grand March in particular first introduced by the spooky sisters from spook-land, and they found that their fortune-teller could not go the rounds of all the early maidens they were attempting to entertain. With diving for apples, or cutting the flour-cake for a ring, or joining in some ghostly game, the evening passed very quickly for the one hundred young ladies present. Coffee and doughnuts were served by the spooks who had so graciously entertained throughout the evening. Special thanks for the enjoyment of the evening are due the committee in charge, consisting of Miss Alice Adams, Miss Dean, Miss Lillian Fredderman, Miss Marion McCutchen, Miss Florence Jennings and Miss Olga Lockert.

Scottish Reunion.

The Hallowe'en party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Doig, of 209 Stockton place, Monday, took the form of a Scotch reunion all of the guests being Scots. The first part of the evening was devoted to playing appropriate games, after which songs and readings contributed to make the affair a happy one. Refreshments were served and the festivities closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne." The party was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. William Doig and Mr. and Mrs. G. Ballie.

The borough police took special precaution to prevent any too enthusiastic prankers from disturbing the peace, and special officers John Johnson, Richard McDonald and John Reiman were on duty last night.

JURY AGAIN DISAGREES

Second Trial Against Charles T. Vail Results the Same As the First.

INDICTMENT STANDS

Probabilities Are That Hunterdon County Authorities Will Not Make a Third Attempt At Conviction.

For the second time since he was arrested last November, charged with instigating the burning of the post-office building at West Portal, a jury at Flemington, in the case against Charles T. Vail, formerly of this city, failed to reach a verdict Wednesday night. The trial was the second that he has gone through and closed Wednesday morning after three days of testimony taking and cross-examining. The jurors deliberated all day but as in the previous hearing they could not arrive at conviction or acquittal.

The indictment against Vail is still standing but it is not probable that the authorities will attempt a third trial. The matter is being considered and in the meantime the accused man will be admitted to bail.

Vail was postmaster at West Portal and owned the building in which the office was located, conducting a grocery and general store in addition. He employed a mail carrier and helper named Jacob Cyphers and one day while the latter was in the place, a store was overturned and the building burned to the ground. There were circumstances that led to an investigation and it resulted in Cyphers alleging that Vail had instructed him to knock the stove over. He further stated that the postmaster and a Plainfield woman named Miss Gillen were in a conspiracy to destroy the building and get the insurance. Vail, he said, told him what to do after the stove was dumped and what to say in explanation to people when they rushed up to help put out the fire.

Vail and Miss Gillen, who was also arrested and against whom there is an indictment, branded Cyphers' stores as falsehoods and declared they were in Plainfield at the time the crime was said to be brought out at the second trial that the mail carrier had remarked to friends that he had told his story to the authorities just to "get square" with the postmaster.

QUICK WEDDINGS END AT THE "LITTLE CHURCH"

Eloping lovers and others who seek hasty or secret marriages will no longer find a Gretna Green in the Little Church around the Corner, New York, famous throughout the country for the romantic unions that have been effected there.

This is the decision of the Rev. Dr. George C. Houghton, rector of the church. He has declared that hereafter the sanctuary over which he presides will not be the place for the performance of ill-advised marriages nor of any kind that cannot be considered regular in the fullest sense of the term.

To that end Dr. Houghton says that when it is possible publicity must attend marriages at which he may officiate henceforth. It is his purpose that the banns shall be published in the old fashioned way before the ceremony, so that any third person who may know that there are reasons why it should not take place may be able to appear and perhaps save a lifetime of repentance on one side or the other.

Dr. Houghton will also refuse to marry members of the Catholic faith because of his conviction that they should seek clergymen of their own church and because in such cases a second marriage according to the Catholic ritual is usually deemed necessary.

Perhaps the most important feature of Dr. Houghton's departure, however, is his resolution not to marry persons who cannot prove to his satisfaction that they are of the required legal age, or, if they are minors, that they have the consent of their parents or guardians. It is the rector's firm belief, based upon a long experience, that this regulation alone will prevent many unions that should never take place. He added:

"I want people to get rid of the idea that this is a good place to come to be secretly married. For that reason I am doing all that I can to discourage such marriages. That is my reason for deciding that hereafter wherever possible that banns of those intending to be married here shall be published in the church. Experience has proved that publication of the banns works for the best interests of everybody except the divorce lawyer. If all the clergymen in New York would do as I purpose to do the business of these men would suffer a decline before long."

—Sabbath School Teacher—What does the parable of the prodigal son teach us? Bobby Thickneck—Not to be fatted calves, ma'am.—Puck.

FOUR HURT IN ACCIDENT

Octogenarian's Collar Bone Broken, While Small Boy's Ankle is Fractured.

AT DUGWAY HILL

Two Other Victims Cut and Bruised —Mrs. Alice L. Waldorf, of Crescent Avenue, in Party.

Passing along the Dugway hill just above Watchung on a pleasure drive Friday afternoon, Mrs. Alice L. Waldorf, of Crescent avenue, her son Edwin, eight years old; her aged mother, Mrs. Hamilton, and another elderly friend, Mrs. Adams, were victims of an accident in which all were more or less hurt and which a fatality was narrowly averted.

The horse became frightened at something and began to back despite Mrs. Waldorf's attempts to keep it going and it finally sent their carriage into a ditch. The vehicle was overturned and all four occupants were pitched down. Mrs. Waldorf retained her presence of mind and kept the animal from running away, but it dragged everybody for some distance. She was the least hurt of the three and as soon as she extricated herself she took care of the others.

Assistance was loaned the party by the arrival of William H. Rogers and Mrs. Waldorf's mother and the boy, who were helpless, were taken to the home of Dr. H. J. Hughes. Today the two hurt the worst were resting easily, but the elderly woman has suffered greatly from shock. The overturned vehicle was put to rights by Mr. Rogers.

MISS COOLEY MARRIED BY FRIENDS CEREMONY

Miss Edith Haviland Cooley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Justus H. Cooley, of Westervelt avenue, and Robert Dollyer Thackara, of Baltimore, were married at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Friends Meeting-house on Watchung avenue. The quaint ceremony of the Religious Society of Friends was used. The bride and groom presented themselves without the offices of a clergyman, although Rev. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel, a close friend of the couple, offered a closing prayer. W. D. Williams, a local speaker at the meeting, made a few remarks.

The old meeting-house was thronged with relatives and friends of the couple and all were deeply impressed with the simple and odd ceremony. The bride was gowned in a traveling costume of brown broadcloth and wore a hat. She was attended by her niece, Elizabeth Jenkins, aged three years, while Walter K. Cooley, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., a cousin of the bride, was best man. After the ceremony the couple received congratulations. Later they departed on a wedding trip and upon their return will reside in Baltimore. As they left the meeting-house they were showered with confetti, while the coach was elaborately decorated with white ribbons.

The bride is the second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Cooley and is a graduate of Sawrthmore College. The groom formerly lived in Waterford, Va., but is now associated with the Lord Baltimore Printing and Publishing Company, of Baltimore, where he and his bride will reside after the honeymoon. The couple received a great many handsome gifts.

PRESIDENT OF VASSAR COLLEGE

TALKS AT CITY HIGH SCHOOL.

Dr. James M. Taylor, president of Vassar College, who spoke at the Casino, last night, made an address before the pupils of the local high school at the opening exercises this morning. He spoke of the value of high school work as a means of training the mind, and dwelt especially upon the point that though the studies in themselves seemed of no practical value, they have a great value in training the pupil to systematize his work and to train him to work with despatch. College men are today in great demand in the business world just because they have learned with their college Latin, Greek and mathematics how to train their minds to wor kto the best practical advantage, and the same thing holds true, on a smaller scale, with high school pupils.

Dr. Taylor also spoke of the duty each pupil at the high school owed to the State. "Schools are educational institutions, supported by the State," he said, "and the State calls upon the pupils to grow up to be good citizens in return for the educational opportunities extended them in the public school system."

BOROUGH FATHERS' WORK

Lights for Concert Park Section Refused as Streets are Private Thoroughfares.

MONTHLY REPORTS

Collector Announces Balance of $14,971.45 on Hand—$28 Arrests With $68 in Fines.

The regular monthly meeting of the Borough Council was held Friday night but though the session lasted longer than ordinary practically nothing but routine business was transacted.

A petition was received from B. F. Coriell, Henry Liefke and others of the syndicate opening up the former Concert Park tract asking that electric lights be placed on the extension of Pearl street that they have cut through, and also that two or three hydrants be located in that section. As the extension has not been dedicated to the borough and legally is still a private thoroughfare, the petition could not be granted. Borough Counsel Reed was instructed to notify the syndicate to this effect and that the street must be formally accepted before anything is done.

Another petition was received from Sheppard Lemaire, asking permission to erect a frame building, twenty by seven feet, on his premises at 13 Chatham street. The matter was referred to the committee on laws, ordinance and taxation and the councilmen will visit the property in person, before granting the request as it is in a thickly settled portion. A request from the overseer of the poor for an additional appropriation of $200 for his department was acted upon favorably. The previous appropriation was for $1,000 and it was thought at the time that it would not be sufficient.

An ordinance prepared by Borough Counsel Reed to the effect that the property dedicated to the borough for the extension of Watchung avenue above Codington avenue be accepted. This step has to be taken before the actual work of improvement can be commenced. The ordinance was passed on its second and third readings and will come up for final adoption next month. The ordinance granting the increase of Assessor Cooley's salary was also passed on second and third readings.

Michael Corcoran was appointed a special marshal and Collector George F. Brown reported a balance on hand of $14,971.45. The report of Recorder Charles M. Dolliver showed that during October there had been twenty-eight arrests and $68 in fines collected.

PLAN NEW TROLLEY ACROSS THE STATE.

From Fast Line Junction Across the Raritan Direct to Jersey City.

An express trolley line from Camden to Jersey City by the way of Trenton, the installing of the third rail on another branch of the Pennsylvania system, and the building of a trolley line from Moorestown, N. J., to connect with Tacony by ferry at Riverton, are improvements in transportation promised the residents of Camden.

Stern & Silverman, of Philadelphia, who are doing business under the corporate title of the New Jersey Short Line, say trolley cars will run to New York in two and a half hours.

They now own the Camden and Trenton Trolley Company and the Trenton and New Brunswick Railway line, which comprise the New York-Philadelphia trolley line.

Cars now leave the Camden ferry every hour for Trenton, and there connect with the New Brunswick line, giving express service through a chain of towns. From Milltown, which is a few miles south of New Brunswick, the railway runs to Bound Brook, making a detour through Plainfield and Westfield, greatly adding to the length of the line, but this is where it is expected to save time.

A cut-off is being built between Milltown and Elizabeth. This link will give a straight run from Trenton to Newark over a roadbed that will permit express speed. How the line will reach Newark has not been made public. The elimination of the detour through Bound Brook will make an almost straight road from Camden to the terminal in Jersey City.

It is the intention of the company to provide double tracks all the way, with electric signals and all the safety appliances used on the trunk lines.

The fact that the road runs through many towns and villages prevents the installation of the third-rail system, but the projectors declare that the delays caused by jumping poles in ordinary street service will be done away with. The passengers will be landed in Jersey City where they can make connections with boats for Cortlandt, Desbrosses and Twenty-third street ferries.

Another feature promised by the company is the establishment of express service for the larger cities, including Trenton, Rahway, Elizabeth and Newark, with close connections for New Brunswick and South Amboy.

The Costitutionalist.

A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY

Published a.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Terms: $2.00 per year.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1907.

SAVING LITTLE CHILDREN

Clerk of N. Y. Juvenile Court Tells How They are Helped to Follow Straight Path.

THEY GET SPLENDID RESULTS.

Saved from Life of Crime by Judge Who Also Acts as Jury — Ten Sent to Institutions.

Under the auspices of the Young People's Association of the First Baptist church, Rev. Ernest R. Coulter, a New York lawyer and clerk of the Children's Court in that city, gave an interesting talk last night, telling something of the experiences in that well known court, where thousands of children are arraigned every year. Mr. Coulter was also the founder of the Big Brothers' Society, composed of about forty men who have pledged themselves to look out for as many boys each year.

Mr. Coulter stated that the Children's Court was the direct result of the inhuman treatment given to Mary Ellen, a little girl who was found in a tenement district in the big city. Influential men interested themselves, secured the enactment of proper laws and the Children's Court was established in a separate building. Children up to sixteen years of age are taken to this court and every effort possible is made to save them from a life of crime. The judge acts as a jury and prosecutor and it is solely his purpose to do that which is best for the child. He is supposed to act as a father and is given wide discretion.

"The wisdom of the court," Mr. Coulter said, "is shown by the fact that only fifteen per cent of the children brought to the court have to be sent to institutions. The other percentage make such excellent progress that they never get into the court more than once." Mr. Coulter related a great many amusing and pathetic incidents which have come under his observation as clerk of the court, showing both the dark and bright sides of the lives of many children in New York.

In conclusion Mr. Coulter spoke a few words about the Big Brothers Society and added that the need is in Plainfield the Men's Club of the church could do no better work than that taken up by the Big Brothers' Society in New York.

During the service the choir rendered special music, including a soprano solo by Miss Luella P. Harris, and a violin solo. Paul Scarborough, president of the association, took part in the service by reading the Scripture lesson.

Sunday-school Organized.

Under the auspices of the young people of the Jewish Synagogue, a Sunday-school was formed yesterday afternoon and Meyer Mosky was chosen president and Harry Feinberg superintendent. There was a large gathering of young people and interesting addresses were made by Rev. Dr. I. L. Bril, editor of the Hebrew Standard; William Mitchell, president of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, of New York; Rabbi J. Korn, of New York, and Rabbi Davidson, of the local synagogue; also Samuel Rottberg, of the Young Men's Hebrew Association.

Herbert T. Putnam Baptized.

Herbert Titsworth Putnam, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Putnam, of Troy, N. Y., was baptized at Grace church, yesterday, following the morning service. Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, rector emeritus, performed the ceremony. The sponsors were Mrs. John D. Titsworth, an aunt of Mrs. Putnam, and Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson. There were just a few friends at the ceremony. Mrs. Putnam was formerly Miss Ella Titsworth, of this city.

Fractured Rib by Fall.

While in the bathroom of her home on Grove street Saturday night, Mrs. Horace J. Martin, Jr., slipped in some way and fell, striking the side of the heavy porcelain bathtub. She was assisted to another room and a physician was summoned. Examination showed that a rib on her left side had been fractured by striking the tub. She is resting more comfortably today.

Hunt Club Runs.

The weekly chase of the Watchung Hunt Club on Saturday afternoon was one of the best of the season and despite the disagreeable weather was enjoyed by a number of riders. At the outset the going was excellent, but toward the windup it became rather sloppy. The members met in Washington Valley and followed a course toward Pedefield Hotel, to Bound Brook and then home, covering in all about twelve miles. Lewis E. Waring, as master of the hounds,

MINER MIDAS IS EX-PATTERN BOY

SUPPOSED MILLIONAIRE LEAVES GOLDEN TRAIL OF HOPES DEFERRED.

BANK ACCOUNT FAILS SUDDENLY

"Jack West" Known by His Parents as Jacob Wolinsky Creates Furore at St. Joseph, Mich.—High Roller Pro Tem.

Chicago.—The original "ballroom boy" has come to grief. His two fancy vests really ought to go to the steamer, but when a chap buys a good town like St. Joseph, Mich., and a maze of dinners down at little old Gotham, he shouldn't be blamed if his dollar bills are all gone.

That is just what has happened to "Jack West," whose parents always called him Jacob Wolinsky, because Wolinsky happened to be their name.

Wolinsky sounded good enough for the youth when he was drawing "$20 per" as a tenderfoot in the pattern plant of a fashion publishing company when he married a pretty little girl who wasn't a bad pattern herself. But the name was far too vulgar for a man with a mysterious mine of a million.

So when Wolinsky came buzzing back from Goldfield, Nev., with two dazzling vests and a bundle of bills he assumed a name more fitting to his station—"Jack West." Not that "West" rhymed with "vest," but that Wolinsky didn't sound at all musical to the aesthetic ears of the whilom pattern boy.

Meanwhile Miss Shapiro, the girl who had married the pattern boy waited out on Taylor street and wondered what had become of her beardless husband. Now she is playing the part of Mrs. S. Holmes, detective, and following the littered trail of the youth who left her love eight months ago.

"West" arrived at St. Joseph, Mich., a few days ago and began operations by buying up the town. Word soon spread that "Scotty" had come, but when questioned "West" told his new acquaintances to perish the thought. He even intimated that he was but engage the cowboy Croesus as his valet before he was through spending money.

St. Joseph accepted "West" and his fancy vests without further investigation. True they couldn't find him in

"Jack West."

Bradstreet's but then fortunes move fast these days at Goldfield.

It was particularly noticed, however, that none of the bellboys at St. Joseph were staggering under the burden of "Jack West's" tips. But the meteoric millionaire had gone when this was discovered and his dupes decided dumbness would be discreet and nursed their injured feelings in silence.

"West" next went to New York, where he began negotiations for the purchase of the Egyptian obelisk in Central park. He said he thought the shaft would well serve the purpose of marking the entrance to his gold mine in Nevada.

The urbane Gothamites began to pay homage to the supposed incipient Rockefeller. He was free to stroll among the luxurious mural decorations of the exclusive restaurants along the "Great White Way."

But suddenly it was discovered that "Jack West" was after all only an ex-pattern boy. That his bank account consisted only of a few hard-earned bills now completely exhausted. And that the debonnaire boy vivant was a high roller only pro tem.

Exit "Jack West" with fancy vests.

Child's Remarkable Escape.

London.—A child of 4 has had a remarkable escape from death on the line between Clacton-on-Sea and Colchester, having fallen from a train while it was traveling at thirty miles an hour. Mrs. Readewell was journeying to London with her three children, to whom the carriage door was open and her little boy, Alfred, fell on the line. Promptly pulling the communication cord, Mrs. Readewell had the train stopped, and a number of passengers proceeded along the railway to search for the child. To their astonishment they met the child walking along the line toward them, and subsequent medical examination showed that he was not dangerously injured.

MAN IS A CHILD OF GOD

"We are Not of the Devil" Says Dr. Slicer Who Touches on Politics.

HE PRAISES NEW YORK CITY.

But Lashes Foley and Other Tammany Candidates in Present Campaign.

Rev. Thomas R. Slicer, of New York city, preached to a large congregation at the Unitarian church last evening, his subject was: "Man, Naturally a Child of God," his text being taken from St. Mark, 10-15, "Verily I say unto you, whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein."

The speaker said that for centuries it has been assumed that man is the child of the devil, and only by some supernatural process could he possibly become the child of God. When, recently, men discovered that the devil was dead, or that there had never been a devil, never any power that could dispute the supremacy of the earth with its Creator, then men became a foundling, in men's thought. But Jesus taught man's natural goodness and his filial relationship to his Father in heaven.

"I believe that Jesus meant by what he said, that the Sermon on the Mount, with a dash of Augustine, but their practice has been Christian. And it is this contradiction between their belief and their instinctive, soul impelled practice that has resulted in mental and moral confusion. Jesus always assumed that men mean to do right. To the crowd, on the hill slope, fishermen, men fresh from their seed sowing; Pharisees, closely kept in self satisfaction, the Essenes, or early Quakers, drawn to hear him from the simplicity of their lives He said, "What man is there of you, who, if his son ask bread will give him a stone? How much more, then, will the Heavenly Father give his best and only son, Jesus, holy spirit, to them that ask him?"

To that woman of no character, whom you would not employ as a servant in your houses if you knew her record, to the "Samaritan," looking up even then, as they sat one on either side of Jacob's well, at the great Samaritan temple on Mt. Gerezein, "The hour cometh and is even now at hand when not here, nor in Jerusalem, even, shall men worship the Father." He ever seeketh those who worship in spirit and in truth. When St. Paul said, "Now that is not first which is spiritual but that which is natural." He may have meant one thing and the speaker another, but Mr. Slicer understands that by natural should be meant using the earth, as a bulb set in its uses it to flower up out of it toward the heavens. Man comes to "the new birth" so called, but which Jesus really named "the birth from above," or child who throws to the years of adolescence leave behind his egotism and becomes altruistic. Growing away from the earth and its selfishness, which he holds to naturally for a time, just as he naturally grows up out of it, he seeks "the other," finds it in his affections, and, at the same time in life, seeks that "other" who alone can satisfy his aspiration and reverence. He is "born above," and power to become such must that life be which lacks birth, but is as natural an evolution of character as is the tranformation of the Angona desert, which ages long produced only sage-brush each and other unnutritious things but, vivified by the waters brought down from the nearby mountains, now laughs in beauty and rejoices in fruitfulness, having come to its own.

Mr. Slicer gave an admirable likening of man's entrance into the divine kingdom, after a recognition of his soul, to the small child's awakening in the morning to all the wonders of the new day. It was a fine simile.

Mr. Slicer concluded with a tribute to New York, which he declared to be as a whole sweet and sound, notwithstanding its sore and wicked spots. He said where 95 per cent. of the business is done on credit it cannot be true that every man's hand is in his brother's pocket. Rather is it "hand to hand" and "heart to heart" in his brother's hand. Even now, with one man nominated for sheriff in New York, who owns a string of saloons to the city, and another man asking for votes, who was counsel for the infamous "cadets" and took for pay the money earned by the sale of young girls for the vilest purposes, many New Yorkers will vote for a man just for Prohibition ticket, a workman on the Singer building, because they would vote for a clean man. Society rights itself because of its divine heaven.

Funeral of Mrs. Wheeler.

With a large gathering of relatives and friends in attendance, the funeral of Mrs. Chauncy P. Wheeler was held at her late home on Somerset street, yesterday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. J. O. McKelvay, pastor of Warren chapel, in the course of which he took occasion to speak of the Christian fortitude of Mrs. Wheeler, her kindly disposition and the devotion to her family. During the service, her favorite hymn, "Rock of Ages," was rendered. The commitment service was also given and the body was taken to New Brunswick today for interment.

LEGISLATURE REPUBLICAN

On Joint Ballot G. O. P. Has 58 and the Democrats Have 22.

The new Republican Legislature elected Tuesday in New Jersey will stand on join ballot:

	Rep.	Dem.
Senate	14	7
House	44	15

Joint ballot .....

Republican majority on joint ballot, ...

Republican majority of present Legislature on joint ballot, 7.

Newly Elected State Senators.

The State Senators elected yesterday, the asterisk indicating re-election, are:

Atlantic—Edw. A. Wilson (Rep.)
Bergen—*Edmund W. Wakelee (Rep.)
Cumberland—*B. H. Minch (Rep.)
Hudson—James F. Fielder (Dem.)
Mercer—Harry D. Leavitt (Rep.)
Morris—*Thos. J. Hillery (Rep.)
Ocean—Wm. J. Harrison (Dem.)

New State Senate Complexion.

The next State Senate will stand 14 Republicans and 7 Democrats, as follows:

	Term ends.
Atlantic—E. A. Wilson, R.	1910
Bergen—E. W. Wakelee, R.	1910
Burlington—S. K. Robbins, R.	1909
Camden—W. J. Bradley, R.	1908
Cape May—R. E. Hand, R.	1909
Cumberland—B. H. Minch, R.	1910
Essex—Everett Colby, R.	1908
Gloucester—J. Boyd Avis, R.	1908
Hudson—J. F. Fielder, D.	1910
Hunterdon—W. C. Gebhardt, D.	1909
Mercer—H. D. Leavitt, R.	1910
Middlesex—G. S. Silzer, D.	1909
Monmouth—D. H. Brown, R.	1909
Morris—T. J. Hillery, R.	1910
Ocean—W. J. Harrison, D.	1910
Passaic—John Hinchliffe, D.	1908
Salem—W. Plummer, Jr., R.	1908
Somerset—Joseph S. Freling-huysen, R.	1908
Sussex—J. C. Price, D.	1908
Union—E. R. Ackerman, R.	1908
Warren—J. Cornish, D.	1908

The present State Senate stands 15 Republicans and 6 Democrats.

Next House of Assembly.

The House of Assembly chosen yesterday will stand — Republicans and — Democrats, as follows, the asterisk indicating re-election:

Atlantic—Martin E. Keffer, R.
Bergen—*Guy L. Fake, R.; *Jas. De Wint, Jr., R.
Burlington—*John B. Irick, R.; *Griffith W. Lewis, R.
Camden—*Theo. B. Gibbs, R.; *Frank B. Jess, R.; Joseph S. Potter, R.
Cape May—*Corsville E. Stille, R.
Cumberland—*Frank B. Potter, R.; *B. Frank Buck, R.
Essex—Austen Colgate, R.; Wm. F. Morgan, R.; Henry C. Hines, R.; Henry Young, Jr., R.; Wm. Roberts, R.; John P. Clark, R.; Dr. James H. Lowrey, R.; H. Stacy Smith, R.; August J. Miller, R.; Rudolph A. Braun, R.; Wm. P. Martin, R.
Hudson—*M. A. Sullivan, D.; *C. P. Olwell, D.; *J. P. Tumulty, D.; *James Baker, D.; *C. E. Hendrickson, Jr., D.; *Chas. H. Blohm, D.; Amadeus Valentine, D.; Edward Kenny, D.; *O. F. Auf der Heide, D. *A. C. Eppinger, D.; *V. Holzapfel, Jr.
Gloucester—*Wm. C. Cattell, R.
Hunterdon—*O. C. Holcombe, D.
Mercer—*H. D. Thompson, R.; Dr. E. H. Ginnelly, R.; George H. Housel, R.
Middlesex—Edwin C. McKeag, R.; Wm. C. Voorhees, R.; A. Steengrafe, Jr., R.
Monmouth—*T. N. Lillagore, R.; *Isaac B. Davison, R.; *Frank J. Manson, R.
Morris—James A. Lyon, R.
Ocean—Benj. H. Crosby, R.
Passaic—John D. Prince, R.; Amos Radcliffe, R.; Samuel McCold, R.; William Burpo, R.; H. C. Whitehead, R.
Salem—*Samuel A. Ridgway, R.
Somerset—*Wm. W. Smalley, R.
Sussex—*Levi H. Morris, D.
Union—*John R. Mouon, R.; Carlton B. Pierce, R.; Albert Oberstein, R.
Warren—*Joseph H. Firth, D.

The Assembly elected last year, stood 29 Republicans and 31 Democrats.

County Officers Chosen.

Elections of important county officers resulted as follows the asterisk indicating re-election:

Atlantic—Surrogate, *Emanuel C. Shaner (Rep.).
Bergen—Sheriff, George M. Brewster (Rep.). Surrogate, Earl C. D. Hester (Rep.).
Burlington—Auditor, *William W. Worrell (Rep.).
Camden—Surrogate, *H. Reeves (Rep.).
Cape May—Sheriff, Robert R. Corson (Rep.). Surrogate, Chas. Vanaman (Rep.).
Essex—County clerk, J. B. Woolston (Rep.).
Gloucter—County clerk, Edward L. Sturgess (Rep.).
Mercer—County clerk, Dr. George B. Robbins (Rep.).
Middlesex—Surrogate, *Peter F. Daly (Dem.).
Monmouth—Surrogate, *Davis S. Crater (Dem.).
Morris—Surrogate, *David Young (Rep.).
Ocean—Surrogate, *Joseph Grover (Rep.).
Salem—Surrogate, *L. P. Plummer (Dem.).
Somerset—Sheriff, Frank Ross (Dem.). Surrogate, *Wm. J. De Mond (Dem.).
Sussex—County clerk, Harvey S. Hopkins (Dem.).
Union—Surrogate, *Geo. T. Parrot (Rep.).

Group of New Mayors.

Mayoralty elections resulted as appended, the asterisk indicating re-election:

Asbury Park—T. Frank Appleby (Rep.).
Atlantic Highlands—Dr. John H. Van Mater (Rep.).
Bayonne—*F. P. Garven (Rep.).
Belvidere—Silas Gibbs (Rep.).
Bound Brook—John T. Robinson (Dem.).
Boonton—C. J. Kopp (Rep.).
Camden—*C. H. Ellis (Rep.).
Cape May—Frederick J. Melvin (Dem.).
Chatham—*F. L. Kelley (Rep.).
Clayton—*F. R. Nichols (Dem.).
Collingswood—Richard T. Collings (Rep.).
Dover—*Geo. Pierson (Dem.).
Dunellen — Harry Swackhammer (Dem.).
East Newark—Cornelius A. McGlennon (Dem.).
East Rutherford—G. A. Duncan (Rep.).
Frenchtown—Dr. F. H. Decker (Rep.).
Glen Ridge—E. N. Bristol (Rep.).
Hackettstown—E. Ayers (Rep.).
Hoboken—G. H. Stell (Cit.).
Jersey City—H. Otto Wittenpenn (Dem.).
Kearny—L. M. Brock (Dem.).
Matawan—Daniel E. Van Winkle (Rep.).
Metuchen—Jesse Jackson (Rep.).
Millville—Joseph F. Smith (Rep.).
New Brunswick—W. Edwin Florence (Dem.).
North Plainfield—Samuel Townsend (Dem.).
*Passaic—Fred K. Low (Colbylite Rep.).
Paterson—Dr. Andrew F. McBride (Dem.).
Princeton—*Harvey L. Robinson (Rep.).
Rahway—Dr. Charles B. Holmes (Rep.).
Red Bank—W. D. Otterson (Dem.)
Rockaway—Harry W. Mutchler (Rep.).
Roselle—Charles W. MacQuoid (Rep.).
Rutherford—Thomas W. Evans (Rep.).
Rumson—*F. McMahon (Rep.).
Sea Bright—P. H. Packer (Rep.).
Summit—Dr. J. Boyd Risk (Dem.)
Trenton—John E. Gill (Rep.).
Washington—D. C. B. Smith (Dem.).

HOSPITAL TAX DEFEATED

Citizens Support Position Taken by the Daily Press Giving 376 Majority.

BIG VOTE POLLED YESTERDAY.

1,602 Ballots Cast for Proposition and 1,472 Against It—Fourth Ward One-Sided.

Decisive defeat met the scheme to "saddle" a part of the support of Muhlenberg Hospital on the city, the result of the special election showing a majority of 376 against the scheme to levy a tax of one-third of a mill on every $100 of taxable property. The stand taken by The Daily Press which was admirably supported by representative citizens, who generously contributed their views to the people through the columns of this paper, was largely responsible for the defeat of the proposition. The Daily Press was the only paper to take a decided stand in the matter and the vote shows that the people agreed with its argument. It was considerably manifestly unjust and illegal to appropriate the people's funds towards the support of a private institution over which the local government has no control.

Taxation with representation, in just proportion, would no doubt have met with the approval of the public but the proposition in the form presented to the people yesterday could never have received general support.

The vote on the scheme follows:

First ward—First district.

For adoption hospital tax 61
Against adoption hospital tax ..127

First ward—Second district.

For adoption of hospital tax ..126
Against adoption hospital tax ..100

Second ward—First district.

For adoption hospital tax 132
Against adoption hospital tax ..126

Second ward—Second district.

For adoption hospital tax 136
Against adoption hospital tax .. 73

Third ward—First district.

For adoption hospital tax 127
Against adoption hospital tax ..122

Third ward—Second district.

For adoption hospital tax 86
Against adoption hospital tax ..129

Fourth ward—First district.

For adoption hospital tax 45
Against adoption hospital tax ..123

Fourth ward—Second district.

For adoption hospital tax 158
Against adoption hospital tax ..273

Fourth ward—Third district.

For adoption hospital tax 164
Against adoption hospital tax ..242

When you need the services of a first-class sanitary plumber call up A. H. Enander, of Watchung avenue. His charges are reasonable.

"WE'LL WIN NEXT TIME."

"THAT'S RIGHT, JIM."

IN OTHER PLACES.

Tammany won out in New York city by majorities of 40,000 and over, taking everything from Justice of the Supreme Court to Sheriff.

Guild, Republican, was re-elected Governor of Massachusetts by 85,000.

Sheatz, Republican, was elected State Treasurer of Pennsylvania by an overwhelming majority.

Normon were beaten by the "American" ticket at Salt Lake City. There was but one ticket, Democratic, in Mississippi.

Tom L. Johnson, Democrat, was re-elected Mayor of Cleveland, O.

Kentucky went Republican.

Cincinnati elected Markbreit, Republican, Mayor.

Crothers, Democrat, elected Governor of Maryland. Legislature is Republican.

Republicans won everything in sight in Nebraska. William Jennings Bryan lost his home precinct by thirteen votes.

Fanwood Township.

The Republican ticket carried the day in Fanwood Township by the usual majority. The vote was light, considering the registration, which was 342, while but 271 votes were cast, three ballots being rejected. The Republican was supported by 153 voters, and 113 Democrats and three Socialists turned out. Fort had a majority of 41. The appropriations of the Republican ticket were passed, aggregating $4,300 against the $3,300 called for on the Democratic ticket.

The polling for the county officers is shown in the tabulated summary, and balloting for the other offices follows:

Township Committee—Henry C. Meyer, R., 144; Richard Peniston, D., 120. Constable (3 year term)—Robert Walpole, R., 157; Horace O. Pangborn, D., 106. Constable (2 year term)—H. Clifford Smith, R., 145. Overseer of the Poor—William H. Hull, R., 155; Charles Haberle, D., 108. Surveyors of Highways—Andrew Schaffer, R., 154; William H. Hull, R., 153; Samuel F. Lee, D., 111. Poundkeepers—L. B. Coles, D., Anthony Wahl, D., Frederick Clark, D., with no opposing candidates.

Prudential Pays $329,436 Taxes.

The largest single tax payment ever made to the city of Newark was that which the Prudential Insurance Company made yesterday, when Robert L. Ross, tax receiver, received a check for $329,436. This amount was an assessment at the rate of $1.69 on every $100, amounting to approximately $2,000,000. The Tax Board reserved the right to reopen the assessment for the purpose of determining the board's legal authority to make an additional assessment of $4,000,000 on the company's personalty.

Says He Threw Stones.

Vaughn Bagger, a small boy living in the West End, was arraigned in the city court on Monday, charged by Charles Drake, of West Fourth street, with throwing stones at his residence. Bagger denied the charge and the matter was laid over until Wednesday morning to allow witnesses to be procured.

Berkeley Heights.

A proposition to install electric lights vied with the Gubernatorial vote in Berkeley Heights and was carried by a majority of eighteen out of ninety-six ballots cast. Henry S. Fullerton was elected a member of the township committee. For Governor, the vote was fifty-one for Fort and forty-five for Katzenbach.

A. E. Force & Co., the West Front street dry goods merchants, are showing a fine line of fall and winter goods. Especially attractive is the window display of dress goods of all the popular shades and weights. The housefurnishing goods department offers many bargains. Prices are very reasonable.

Freshen up the rooms in your house by having James C. Hansen, the East Front street painter and paper hanger, re-paper and decorate the rooms for the winter. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

Brokaw's creamery on East Front street sells the best milk, eggs, butter, milk and cream that will stand the most severe test. Prices low.

Fanwood Bucket and Engine Co. meet tonight in the company's rooms.

Give your order for coal to Boice, Runyon & Co., of Park avenue, and you will get the best anthracite at lowest prices.

DUNELLEN VOTERS POLL DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY

Katzenbach got a majority of 16 votes in light balloting at Dunellen Tuesday, and the Democrats won the ticket in county and borough. There was a total of 364 votes cast out of a registration of 420. There was no disorder or excitement and no votes rejected. Harry Swackhammer, Democrat, won the mayoralty contest, with a majority of 64 over Frank R. Wynkoop, the Republican candidate. In the balloting for councilmen, J. H. Middlesworth, D., and Harry C. Bambach, D., each got 179 votes, and the fight will be decided by appointment by the mayor. The appropriations, amounting to $3,600, passed, and the provision that the tax rate for 1908 shall not exceed $2 per $100.

The balloting in detail:

Governor, Frank S. Katzenbach, D., 199; J. Franklin Fort, R., 174. Surrogate, Peter F. Daly, D., 183; Frank Crowther, R., 168. General Assembly, William E. Ramsey, D., 190; Howard J. Butcher, D., 192; Schuyler C. Van Cleef, D., 187; Adolph Steengrafe, Jr., R., 156; Edwin C. McKeag, R., 164; William C. Voorhees, R., 173. Board of Chosen Freeholders, William A. Crowell, D., 187; Charles E. Kelly, D., 201; Chas. P. Rose, D., 187; Harry Solomon, D., 185; Isaiah L. Vandewater, D., 187; William T. Stacey, R., 172; Alpheus L. Mundy, R., 168; George S. Bunting, R., 170; John E. Montgomery, R., 176; Frank H. Pownall, R., 177. Mayor, Harry J. Scackhampton, D., 214—Frank R. Wynkoop, R., 150. Council, J. H. Van Middlesworth, D., 179; Henry C. Bambach, D., 179; Lewis T. Churchill, R., 193; George Cameron, R., 173. Constable, J. Wesley Blaine, R., 180; no opposing candidate.

JOHN PATTERSON'S FUNERAL HELD MONDAY.

The funeral of John Patterson, whose tragic death at the Scott Press Works Saturday cast a gloom over the entire working force, was held at his late home on Netherwood avenue Monday night. The residence was crowded with relatives and friends, the gathering including delegations from Queen City Lodge of Odd Fellows, Plainfield Council, I. O. of M., and other organizations to which he belonged.

The service was conducted by Rev. J. W. Musson, pastor of Faith chapel, and he took occasion to mention several of the characteristics that made John Patterson so popular among his fellow-workmen. Two selections, "Saved By Grace" and "The Christian's Good Night," were sung by the Misses Alice and Jennie De Mott.

The body was taken to Glen Gardner, Tuesday morning, where the interment was made in the family plot.

The pall bearers who accompanied the body to Glen Gardner and carried the casket to the grave were James Erickson, Clifford Compton, Edward Wolverton, William Hopper, Jeremiah Callahan and Frank Schuck, Jr.

TOLD VENICE'S STORY.

"The Story of Venice, the Golden Age," was the subject of an interesting paper read this week at the meeting of the Monday Afternoon Club at the Casino by Miss Ethel Louise Titsworth. In the discussion that followed, other facts and important events marking the social, political and naval power of Venice in its prime were brought out.

The papers was preceded by reports of unusual interest of the annual meeting of the State Federation of Clubs held at East Orange October 25 and 26, were made by the delegates of the club on that occasion, Miss Helen M. Cahoone, Mrs. Orton G. Dale and Mrs. William L. Patton.

Experience on a Torpedo Boat.

Dr. Richard Moldenke has returned from Norfolk, Va., where he was conducting tests for "Uncle Sam" on the torpedo boat "Biddle." Dr. Moldenke reports a speed of thirty miles an hour in a hard storm with coal briquettes, manufactured by a Virginia coal company. He says thirty miles an hour on top of a torpedo boat at sea, with the waves washing over the boat while you are clinging to the railing is considerably more thrilling than fifty miles an hour in an automobile on a smooth road!

SCHOOLBOYS' MINSTRELS

City High School Pupils Made a Hit at Burnt Oak Artists.

FOUR CLASSES GAVE PLAYS.

School Entertainment Saturday Night

Helped Boys' Athletic Association Treasury—Mygrant as Cornelius.

With each of the four classes of the school taking part in the program, the entertainment given by the pupils of the city high school at the school auditorium Saturday night, was a most successful affair. The audience, which included many of the alumni of the school was large and enthusiastic and nearly $60 was netted by the entertainment. The money will be turned over to the boys' athletic association of the school. The girls took their usual sum for their athletic association by the sale of home-made candy at prettily decorated tables.

The program consisted of three parts, a one-act playlet, "The Haunted House," by the sophomore class; a two-act sketch, "Mischief in the Studio," given in pantomime by members of the freshman class, and a "merry, monster musical melange of black faced melody," in which the minstrel talent of the senior and junior classes of the school showed up to an excellent advantage. Just before the minstrels, Percy Mygrant, of the senior class, rendered several cornet solos and his expression in playing, fullness of tone and accuracy of execution won him thunderous applause and showed that he title of "eminent cornetist," in the program was not at misnomer.

The first part of the program was the presentation of "The Haunted House," by the sophomores. In this there were two characters, Clifford Vail, the house owner, and James Mauger, a colored white-washer. The latter character is the victim of ghosts' pranks while at work in the house and Mauger's presentation of the part was good because of his excellent dialect and spasms of fear, which gave opportunity for some well executed stage business.

Members of the class of 1911 next came on the stage in a presentation of "Mischief in the Studio." The playlet, given in pantomime, showed the havoc wrought in an artist studio where an assistant, whose part was taken by Percy Moran, falls in love with a fair Indian maid, Miss Margaret Van Deventer, who is posing for a masterpiece. Herbert Treinbath took the part of the studio owner, Winslow Dorthy was a milkman, and Miss Evaleth Nelson and Frank Clark decorated the studio as statues. The difficulties of a pantomime presentation were on the whole, cleverly surmounted by the work of the entire cast.

Then came the minstrels. The sixteen "black face artists" appeared in the minstrel semi-circle in the full glory of Primrosian lavishness of collar, expanse of tie and variegation of hosiery. The rattle of tambos and bones put lots of snap in the singing and dancing, and the local "roasts" in the pupils of the school, with some clever limericks, won the applause and laughter of the house. Billy Briggs, as end man, attired in bell hand trimmed clothes, was spontaneity, good control of dialect and run of stage business. Clyde Doane on the other end of the semi-circle also got off some good ones, and he sang "If I'm Goin' to Die, I'm Goin' to Have Some Fun," in a georgeon-cohanesque way which brought some more palm pulsations. Guion Fountain, as the "golden-voiced tenor," made a hit with his song, "When You Know You're Not Forgotten by the Girl You Can't Forget," and the troupe came out strong on "School Days" and "San Antonio." Walter B. Caldwell, as interlocutor, was especially good in the burlesque on hypnotism which was a novelty introduced by S. B. Howe, of the school faculty. It afforded "Billy" Briggs and Clyde Doane an excellent opportunity for some good acting. The dance by Jack Riffert made lots of dust down front, but was appreciated by the gallery.

The black face caste consisted of: Interlocutor, Walter B. Caldwell, '08; bones; Guion Fountain, '09; Osgood Sewall, '11, and Clyde Doane, '09; tambos: Jack Riffert, '09; Arthur Ringaman, '09, and William Briggs, '09; chorus, Charles Lofstedt, '09; Roy Woodhull, '10; Russell Morris, '09; Albert Hardcastle, '09; Marcus Dey, '09; Charles Pryor, '09; Ray Datcher, '08; John Datcher, '08; Leslie Leland, '08; David Smedley, '10, William Rafferty, '08, was at the piano. Harold Percy Morris's cornet solos, Mr. Hubbard, of the school faculty, played the accompaniment and Benjamin Surman, '08, furnished the violin obligato. "Between the acts" there was music by the school orchestra of eight pieces.

The candy tables were "taste"-fully decorated with the colors of the various classes. At the senior table, the Misses Esther Crampton, Elsa Cook, Catherine Gray and Laura Baker presided. Those selling at the junior table, decorated in blue and white, were the Misses Lillian Reed Cronkite, Louise Nichol, Harriet Moodey, Helen Rogers, Edith Skillman and Minnie Line. The sophomores and freshmen had the table where Miss Margaret Leggett and Miss Madeline Darar, of the sophomore class, were assisted by Miss Catherine Smisek, 1911.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of F. Clyde Doane, '09, chairman; William V. Rafferty, '08, and Guion Fountain, '09. Samuel B. Howe, Jr., of the faculty, was in charge and George H. Fisher, Jr., was stage manager.

CATHOLICS OFFER PRAYERS FOR THE DEAD

According to the annual custom, the members of the local Catholic churches and those from parishes in nearby places, assembled in St. Mary's cemetery yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of offering public prayers for the dead. With the addition of people interested in the ceremony the number in the gathering was at least 4,000.

Rev. Father B. M. Bogan, rector of St. Mary's church, was in charge of the service and first assembled with the societies of the parish at Sixth and Liberty streets at 1:15. From there they marched to the cemetery, the women proceeding to the scene by trolley. A procession was formed at the entrance gates and the parishioners filed to the center of the burying ground where the prayers were offered.

Father Bogan delivered an address appropriate to the occasion and he was assisted in the offering of prayers by his church assistants, Fathers Delehanty and Schiola and also Rev. Father Miller, of St. Joseph's church. The entire gathering joined in singing a hymn at the close of the service.

GEORGE VAN VLIET'S FUNERAL.

Many Plainfielders Attend the Service Conducted in New York.

The funeral of George Van Vliet, the well-known former Plainfielder whose death occurred last Friday, was held yesterday in the Ascension Memorial church, West Forty-third street, New York. It was attended by a large gathering that included many relatives and friends from this city.

The Episcopal form of service was used, Rev. John F. Seen officiating and in addition the Masonic ceremony was conducted, Mr. Van Vliet being prominent in the order. A quartette rendered "Nearer, My God, to Thee," a favorite hymn of the deceased, and in addition a solo, "I Know Not What Awaits Me, God Kindly Veils My Sight," was sung by Usher Banner Stewart. The Astor Lodge, F. and A. M. The Knights Templar service was also conducted by Palestine Commandery and Brother William Sherer delivered a eulogy.

Burial was made in Trinity cemetery, New York, the pall bearers being selected from Palestine Commandery and Astor Lodge. They were Horace H. Brockway, James A. Rich, George H. Rich, Charles H. Fagin, Dr. F. H. Heisse, John C. Lefferts, Russell Johnson and S. D. Affleck.

MISS INEZ TOLLES' ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

At an informal reception given to a dozen intimate friends at their home on Westervelt avenue Saturday night, Councilman and Mrs. R. I. Tolles announced the engagement of their younger daughters, Miss Inez Tolles to Walter C. McNaughton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McNaughton, of Westervelt avenue. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Tolles is a graduate of the city high school and is popular with a large circle of friends. Mr. McNaughton also went to the high school and has for several years been active in the physical department of the Y. M. C. A., where is a record holder and a member of the recent championship basketball five.

CHARLES M. WILSON'S FUNERAL.

Six of His Employes Carry Casket to the Grave.

The funeral of Charles M. Wilson, whose death occurred last week after a long illness, was held at his late home on Madison avenue, Saturday afternoon. It was conducted by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss and was attended by a large gathering that included delegations from Franklin Council, Dr. G. T. A., Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum and the Master Builders' Association. There were many handsome floral tributes.

Burial was made at Hillside, the pall bearers being six of Mr. Wilson's employes, Philip Butcher, Louis Nelson, Frank Manchester, William Bodine, Levi Kline and Charles Thompson.

Supplied Extra Trolleys.

Through the consideration of the Public Service Corporation, two extra trolleys were run on the Arlington avenue line Saturday night to accommodate the crowds at the high school minstrel show.

Elders and Deacons Installed.

Rev. Dr. Johnson, acting pastor of Trinity Reformed church, conducted the installation services of two elders and three deacons at the church yesterday morning. The elders installed were F. E. Smith and A. L. Force. The third elder, H. J. Martin, Sr., was not able to be present on account of illness in the family. M. F. Gano, E. F. Sheppard and Charles M. Dolliver were the deacons installed.

A BEVY OF MISSES.

The tattler—Mis-inform.
Engaged girl—Mis-taken.
The heavy-weight—Mis-lead.
Ballet-girls—Mis-understandings.
The heiress—Mis-fortune.
The hustler—Mis-do.
Gullible girl—Mis-believe.
The grafter—Mis-appropriate.
Well-bred girls—Mis-behave.
The gossip—Mis-tell.
The liberal girl—Mis-treat.
The typist—Mis-print.
Well-informed girl—Mis-read.
"Bridge" enthusiast—Mis-deal.
Leading lady—Mis-chief.
Chewing-gum girl—Mis-choose.
The robust girl—Mis-fit.
Woman's-rights girl—Mis-represented.
—Judge.

Bright Future Assured.

Fond Mother (wearily)—I don't know what to do with my boy, he's so not in his ways.

Old Friend—Won't he listen to reason?

"No; won't listen to anything. When he takes a notion, right or wrong, the hull earth can't move him."

"Well, don't despair. Get a place for him on a newspaper, and in time he may become a great leader of Independent Journalism."—N. Y. Weekly.

Too Personal.

Miss Elder—Well, I maintain that women can do anything that men can.

Mr. Gazzam—Oh, no. The auctioneer's business is one a woman cannot go into.

Miss Elder—Nonsense. She'd make every bit as good an auctioneer as a man.

Mr. Gazzam—Just imagine an unmarried woman getting up before a crowd and exclaiming, "Now, gentlemen, all I want is an offer!"—Chicago Journal.

Furthermore.

Hello, Jordle. What's your hurry?"

"Hello, doctor."

"I haven't seen you lately. How is your wife by this time?"

"O, she's quite well, now.'

"Glad to hear it. Fully recovered, has she?"

"Yes, thanks to you, doctor."

"In addition to which, Mr. Jordle, my bill—let me see, yes, here it is—will be $57. Shall I receipt it?"—Chicago Tribune.

Not a Circumstance.

"Didn't the thunder storm disturb you last night?"

"Thunder storm? I didn't know there was one."

"You didn't? Where on earth do you sleep?"

"Nowhere on earth. I sleep within three feet of an elevated railway track."—Chicago Tribune.

Yearning for a Change.

"I wish they would hurry up and complete the flying machine," said the man who lacks the recreation spirit.

"Why?"

"Because I'm tired of going out in a boat and hearing everybody sing 'Sailing, Sailing.' I'd like to hear 'Up in a Balloon, Boys,' for a change."—Washington Star.

A SUFFICIENCY.

Foodmar—Wish to marry Jennie? Why, she is my only daughter!

Fargorn—Well, what of it? That's all I want, one!—Chicago Journal.

Old Joke.

Wright—I see that kerosene was first used for lighting purposes in 1826.

Penman—Gracious! Is that joke about the cook leaving suddenly through the roof, as old as that?—Yonkers Statesman.

A Better Brand.

Tom—Shortleigh has given up the idea of joining the north pole expedition. He says he doesn't care to court death in the arctic regions.

Jack—Well, I don't blame him—seeing that he is now courting a rich widow.—Chicago News.

And Then He Got Mad.

"Mrs Cissie said she thought it must be very pleasant to be married to a clever man!"

"And what did you say, wife?"

"I told her that of course I didn't know—I had only been married once!"

English as She is Spoke.

Myer—I'm going over to the barber shop to get a hair cut.

Gyer—Why don't you get them all cut while you are at it?—Chicago Daily News.

Impossible.

"You should sleep on your right side, madam.'

"I really can't do it, doctor. My husband talks in his sleep, and I can't hear a thing with my left ear."

RANCHMAN RODE LIKE WIND TO HELP A GIRL

PITTED HIS PONY AGAINST TRAIN IN RACE FOR CLAIM AND WON IT FOR HER.

Grand City, S. D.—No knight of old ever served his lady better than has Belleman Skaife, of the famous Skaife ranch, served Miss Bac Mills, of Southern Illinois, a total stranger to him. Riding his horse across the plains forty-five miles in a race against a railroad train he saved for her a homestead upon which she had set her heart and which another had tried to take from her. Her competitor for the fine farm arrived by train, but five minutes after the almost exhausted horse stumbled with his rider at the door of the land office in this city.

Miss Mills came to Washta, forty-five miles east of here, to take up a claim, and, finding one much to her liking, determined to make entry upon it. Her purpose became known, and another homeseeker, a man, early in the morning filed on the same piece at Washta. The young woman's disappointment was keen, and her tears attracted to her the sympathetic Relleman Skaife. She told him her story. He looked at his watch and said simply:

About Neck and Neck with Skaife's Plucky Horse.

"I'll save it for you. That fellow's filing here is not final; he must first make entry at the Rapid City land office. Give me your papers."

Miss Mills quickly made her preliminary local filing and gave the papers to Skaife, who said he would beat the train to Rapid City and hand the papers in ahead of the rival for the land. The latter had not left town yet, but the train was about due. Skaife started and in less than three hours he had reached his destination, while the train, which had to go far-ther around, came puffing in about neck and neck with Skaife's plucky horse.

He wired back to Miss Mills his victory, and her delight was expressed in a voluble and most approving manner of the knight who has won her a home.

BOY BECOMES CALLIOPE.

Swallows Tin Whistle and Learns to Play Tunes.

Des Moines, Ia.—Lars Larson, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Johan Larson, living near here, is achieving fame as a human calliope.

The lad, who is of an imitative turn of mind, swallowed a small whistle a few days ago, after seeing a calliope that a traveling circus brought here. He said he could become a whistler of note if he had lungs as strong as the steam chest of the calliope, and so, when he obtained the whistle, which was made of tin, he promptly swallowed it.

Much to his satisfaction the whistle became fixed crosswise in his throat, and now the youngster can make music that can be heard half a mile away. He is gradually learning to play tunes on the whistle, and his practice, in which he insists in indulging at night, is keeping his father and mother and all the neighbors wide awake.

"The boy is in no danger," says a surgeon who has examined him, "and possibly he will soon be able to draw a big salary from a museum as the only living calliope. As he has an ear for music, there is no reason why he should not play tunes on the whistle by breathing in the proper manner."

Live Wire Disrobes a Woman.

Atlanta, Ga.—Alleging that she was completely disrobed by a live wire, Mrs. Maude S. Orr has sued the Georgia Railway and Electric company for $10,000 damages. Mrs. Orr was shopping on Whitehall street when the broken end of a guy wire, which had been charged in some way touched her belt. The shock tore off the belt and most of Mrs. Orr's clothing. In addition to this humiliation, Mrs. Orr alleges that the shock caused her serious physical injury.

Drunkenness in 1600.

An English traveler, writing in the year 1600, said that there were more saloons in Dublin than in any other city in the world. The Irish, he said, always got drunk at wakes, weddings and fairs. The English were not far behind them, and over on the continent alcohol was also making great headway. Here in America, too, drinking was becoming a popular sport.

TRAVELING MEN'S ORDER

Grand and Local Councils of U. C. T. of A. Instituted Here.

THE OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED.

Plainfield, Newark, Westfield, Somerville, Wilmington, Camden and Trenton In New Grand Council.

Plainfield Council, No. 402, United Commercial Travels of America, was instituted in Knights of Columbus hall, Saturday afternoon, and in the evening at the same place there was organized the Grand Council of New Jersey and Delaware. Past Supreme Councilor M. W. Peebles, of New York, by the authority of Supreme Councilor J. C. Hunt, of Lexington, Ky., instituted both the local branch and the Grand Council. There were about seventy-five members present both afternoon and night and the work passed off successfully. During the intermission between the afternoon and evening ceremonies an elaborate repast was served by members of the local branch.

Following the institution of Plainfield Council these officers were elected: Senior councilor, James C. Field, of Plainfield; past senior councilor, G. J. Percy, of Westfield; junior councilor, Charles A. Scurtevant, of Plainfield; secretary-treasurer, Frank W. Weed, of Plainfield; conductor, A. I. Laing, of North Plainfield; page, J. A. G. Pike, of Plainfield; sentinel, C. C. Randolph, of Plainfield; executive committee, J. E. Dunn, of Plainfield, chairman; Arthur Organ, William Taylor, of Westfield, and John D. Brant, of Somerville.

It was decided to meet once a month on the second Saturday in Knights of Columbus hall. There will be a meeting on Saturday night for the initiation of new members and transaction of other business. Nineteen of the twenty-seven charter members were present Saturday night.

Th institution of the Grand Council in the evening was followed by the election of these officers: Grand supreme councilor, E. H. Burr, of Newark; grand junior councilor, J. A. Wohl, of Wilmington; grand past councilor, J. B. Agnew, of Trenton; grand secretary, J. H. Moody, of Camden; grand treasurer, G. K. Lee, of Trenton; grand conductor, H. J. Percy, of Westfield; grand page, G. N. Carpenter, of Newark; grand sentinel, William Battis, of Wilmington; grand executive committee, two years, William Old, of Camden, and James C. Field, of Plainfield; one year, W. J. Grant, of Trenton, and Charles Carpenter, of Newark.

The first session of the Grand Council will be held at Trenton on May 22 and 23. There were present at the evening session of the Grand Council representatives of the order from Brooklyn, New York, Wilmington, Camden, Trenton. While Mr. Peebles had charge of the work, Supreme Traveling Representative A. R. Rice, who has been here for several days, assisted in arranging the preliminary details. It was largely through the efforts of Frank W. Weed, of the borough, that the local branch and Grand Council were instituted here and he has been particularly interested in the success of the movement.

ON THE LINKS.

Saturday's Play and Tomorrow's Card.

The only events at the Plainfield Country Club on Saturday were the first round play, eighteen holes, handicap, match play, for the Golf Committee and Men Committee consolation cups, and in each competition an number of contestants defaulted.

The chief event of interest at the club tomorrow will be the competition for the Election Day cups, classes A and B, active members only, handicap medal play, to be played for morning or afternoon at eighteen holes.

Court Orders Vail's Discharge.

Two juries having failed to convict Charles T. Vail of complicity in the burning of the postoffice building at West Portal, the Hunterdon county courts have ordered his discharge from custody. It is probable that the indictment against Miss Ellen Gillen, of this city, arrested with Vail, will be quashed.

The voters seemed to take but little interest in the election held yesterday. The hardest work of the party workers being to get the stay at homes out. The registry list was the largest the township has ever had, the total number enrolled being 342. Out of this only 271 votes were polled.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Muir, of Newark, have been visiting Mrs. Miers parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Meyer.

Miss Louisa Robison has returned from a stay of several days with Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. White at Paterson.

Consecration exercises will be held at All Souls' Episcopal church tomorrow morning at 10:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Dobbins, of Caldwell, and Miss Louise Rickerick, of Pomona, Cal., who have been visiting relatives here for a few days, have returned home.

"* * * Of all the newspapers in New York, the one which has approached most closely to what an American newspaper should be in straightforwardness and tone, is THE NEW YORK TIMES."—Harper's Weekly.

The New York Times

"All the News that's Fit to Print."

Gives more space to news than any other New York newspaper. It gives impartial news free from bias. It goes into homes that bar other newspapers.

The London Times' Cable News appears in this country exclusively in THE NEW YORK TIMES. No other American newspaper excels THE NEW YORK TIMES in the presentation of Domestic or Foreign News.

The New York Times is Now Appearing Every Sunday

Improved and Enlarged

with an illuminated PICTORIAL SECTION OF EIGHT FULL-SIZE PAGES, embracing pictures of prominent people in society and public life, and other features of interest of the important events of the day.

The Magazine Section accompanying the SUNDAY TIMES presents a variety of interesting illustrated features and a unique selection of the best stories about men and women of prominence.

The New York Times. Saturday Review of Books.

which accompanies the Saturday Edition, is the recognized authority to which the public looks for the first news of books.

The New York Times. Weekly Financial Quotation Review.

gives a weekly review of current prices of stocks and bonds; also the dealings in securities, including high and low prices—comprising a compact and convenient reference publication for investors and others interested in financial matters.

ORDER THROUGH YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER,

or mailed direct from office, as per following rates:

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

	By Mail.
One Year, Sundays included	$8.50
Six Months, Sundays included	4.25
Three Months, Sundays included	2.25
One Month, Sundays included	.75
Per Week	.17
Daily, without Sunday, per year	6.00
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3.00
Daily, without Sunday, three months	1.50
Daily, without Sunday, one month	.50
Daily, without Sunday, one week	.12
The New York Times Weekly Financial Quotation Review	1.00
Saturday, with Section Devoted to Review of Books, per year	1.00
Sunday, with Pictorial Section, per year	2.50
Postage to foreign countries for Daily and Sunday Editions, add $1.05 per month.

Newsdealers who are not receiving THE NEW YORK TIMES—Daily and Sunday edition—should order a regular supply at once. Write for terms. Address Circulation Manager.

The New York Times Times Square, New York.

MAGAZINE READERS

SUNSET MAGAZINE beautifully illustrated, good stories and articles about California and all the Far West. $1.50 a year

CAMERA CRAFT devoted each month to the artistic reproduction of the best work of amateur and professional photographers. $1.00 a year

BOAT OF A THOUSAND WONDERS a book of 75 pages, containing 120 colored photographs of picturesque spots in California and Oregon. $0.75

Total . . . $3.25

All for $2.50

Address all orders to SUNSET MAGAZINE

Flood Building San Francisco

FOR AGENTS—AN OPPORTUNITY!

"THE OLD WORLD AND ITS WAYS"

BY

William Jennings Bryan.

NOW READY FOR SOLICITORS.

576 Imperial Octavo Pages. Over 200 Superb Engravings from photographs taken by Mr. Bryan.

Recounts his trip around the world and his visits to all nations. The greatest book of travel ever written. The people are waiting for it. The agent's harvest. Outfit FREE—Send fifty cents to cover mailing and handling.

THE THOMPSON PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo. 7 26 3 c

John Winzenreid, the reliable trucker of Lee place, will promptly take care of all orders.

Fruits and vegetables for the table can be secured fresh at Lusardi's fruit stand, Front and Somerset streets.

Sanitary Plumbing

Brick and Portable Furnaces.

Gas Fitting, Tin Roofing, Etc., Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.

Having associated myself with the Master Members Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business, at all times and in all cases.

D. W. LITTELL

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

COMMERCIAL LAW.

By Utley C. Crane, the well-known Philadelphi attorney. An instructive and invaluable treatment of this subject in its various branches.

PICTURESQUE PENNSLVANIA.

Pennsylvania's beautiful scenery described with illustrations.

MUSIC WITHOUT A TEACHER.

Learn to play the piano in 12 lessons, one lesson to be published each Sunday.

These remarkable and valuable features will al appear in the Sunday Record in addition to the general news and other special features. Order from your newsdealer in advance.

THE PHILADELPHIA RECORD, 917 Chestnut street. 10 24 3

NEW IN EVERY DETAIL

My new barber shop at

143 NORTH AVE.

is now open ready for business. All the latest appointments in the toncrla

EDWIN B. MAYNARD.

DIME

Savings Institution,

Of Plainfield, N. J.,

Is now receiving deposits with interest, allowed on all sums from $5 to $3,000.

J. Frank Hubbard, President.
Wm. F. Arnold, } Vice-Pres
Jeremiah Manning, }
J. C. Pope, Sec'y and Treas.

Money deposited on or before Jaun ary tenth will draw interest from the first.

Guaranteed Salary $900 YEARLY.

Men and women of good address to represent us, some to travel appointing agents, others for local work looking after our interests. $900 salary guaranteed yearly; extra commissions; expenses paid; advancement, old established house. Grand field for honest man or woman to secure pleasant, permanent, profitable, liberal income and future. New, brilliant line. Write at once.

STAFFORD PRESS, 23 Church St., New Haven, Conn

W. K. CODINGTON, Counsellor-at-Law

Commissioner of Deeds, Master-in-Chancery, Notary Public. Offices Corner of Park Avenue and Second street.

DIED.

WHEELER—On Thursday, October 31, 1907, Sarah E., wife of Chauncey P. Wheeler, aged 64 years.

WILSON—On Tuesday, October 29, 1907, Charles M. Wilson, aged 61 years, 7 months, 7 days.

BOWERS—At his residence, 4 Frits place, on Friday, November 1, 1907, Peter Bowers, aged 82 years.

DUNHAM—On Monday, November 4, 1907, Emeline Dunham, widow of John Dunham, aged 63 years.

THOMAS—In this city, Friday, Nov. 1, 1907, Lulu Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Butler, aged 15 years and 3 months.

PATTERSON—In this city, Saturday, November 2, 1907, John B. Patterson.

Plainfield Eleven Defeated.

In the Amateur League soccer game at Van Cortlandt Park, New York, Saturday, the Plainfield eleven was defeated by the champion Camerons by the score of 4 to 0.

RECITAL WELL RECEIVED

Miss Grace Carroll's Solos Delighted Large Audience at the Casino.

OTHER ARTISTS HEARD

Alexander Saslavsky, Violinist, and Victor Harris, Accompanist.

Please Music Lovers.

The song recital given at the Casino, Friday, by Miss Grace Carroll, contralto soloist, was a great triumph. The enthusiastic reception accorded the favorite singer was flattering. From her first numbers to the last there was frequent applause. With each succeeding number Miss Carroll's work seemed to arouse the audience to even greater enthusiasm among the large gathering of music lovers. Admiring friends also showered the young woman with beautiful flowers as evidence of the appreciation of her efforts.

Miss Carroll was assisted by Alexander Saslavsky, violinist, concert master of the New York Symphony Society, and Victor Harris, the well-known composer, as accompanist. While the audience was generous toward Miss Carroll it was not the least unmindful of the other artists, who combined to make the recital complete in its enjoyment. For the rendition of "The Summer Wind," and "Greeting," composed by Mr. Harris, he and Miss Carroll shared in the great applause bestowed.

Mr. Saslavsky contributed two violin selections in part first, "Romanza" and "Mazurka," by Wieniawsky, and a like number in part second, "Adagio Pathetique," by Godard, and "Humoresque," by Dvorak, while he accompanied Miss Carroll in her last two numbers with violin obligato. While music-lovers have been privileged to hear many noted violinists, the work of Mr. Saslavsky met the approval of these present. He showed himself to be master of the violin and his renditions were full of expression and brilliancy. As an accompanist, Mr. Harris was all to be desired and assisted largely in the success of the recital.

One thing especially was noticed in the vocal numbers and that was that Miss Carroll's voice possesses exceptional strength and sweetness. Not only in the modern songs in English, but the classical German songs, she showed herself thoroughly familiar with the lines and her interpretation was true in every instance.

In part first Miss Carroll gave four songs of the old time—"Il Mio Bel Foco," Marcello; "Caro Mio Ben," Giordani; "Il Rock Vo to Rest," and "The Little Red Lark." Interspersing the violin numbers, Miss Carroll sang five numbers, modern songs in English—"If Thou Wert Blind," Johnson; "The Summer Wind," and "Greeting," Harris; "Song of a Heart," Johnson, and "Violets," Harvey.

ALLEGED PERJURER HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY

John Van Fleet, haled before Justice of the Peace Snape at the borough police court on complaint of John Consoli, who brings action against him on charges of perjury, waived examination and was held under $300 bond to await the action of the grand jury at the session of court Friday. The bail was furnished this morning by Freeholder John Emmons.

The action was brought by Consoli because Van Fleet testified that beer and whiskey were being sold at the Italian's fruit store on the Somerset street bridge when the place was raided on a search warrant by Chief Marshal Weiss Sunday afternoon. Consoli is irate over this accusation and has brought charges of perjury against the man. He retained John W. Owens as his counsel in the matter.

On Somerset street this morning, the principals of the affair met and threshed over the matter in a sort of "open court." The Italian delegation was exuberant because Van Fleet had been held for bail, though their spirits fell when Emmons furnished the amount required. Consoli seemed anxious to exchange words of war with Van Fleet, but the others acted quietly about the matter, and finally the Italians dispersed.

The Best Paper for Family Reading.

The contents of The Youth's Companion are chosen with a view to the interest of all tastes and ages. The father, as well as the son, enjoys the tales of adventure; the mother reviews childhood in the stories for girls, while the paper always abounds in stories, long and short, which may be read aloud as the most varied family group to the keen pleasure of all. Full illustrated announcement of The Companion for 1908 will be sent to any address free with sample copies for the paper. New subscribers who send $1.75 at once for 1908 will receive free all the remaining issues of 1907, besides the gift of The Companion's Four-Leaf Hanging Calendar for 1908, in full color. The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley street, Boston, Mass.

Y.M.C.A. AUXILIARY WOMEN TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

The thirteenth annual conference of the Women's Auxiliaries of the Young Men's Christian Associations of New Jersey will be held in the Elizabeth Association building next Friday. Mrs. L. M. French, president of the local branch of the auxiliary, will attend, accompanied by Mrs. Henry Mansfield and Mrs. J. W. Gavett, vice presidents of the organization. The Plainfielders will present a report of the work of the past year. An interesting program has been arranged, which will include the consideration of the activities of the different departments of auxiliary work. The program follows:

Morning Session—Presiding officer, Mrs. J. T. Syers, Elizabeth. 10.15, address—devotional, Rev. Jacob A. Cole, Methodist Episcopal church, Orange; 10.45, "Effect of Cooperation in Boys' Work," Charles R. Scott, State secretary Boys' Work; 11.15, reports of auxiliaries and discussion; 12.15, business session; 12.30, luncheon.

Afternoon Session—2.00, devotional; 2.15, "The Association's Opportunity for Work Among Immigrants," H. W. Hoot, secretary, Ellis Island; 3.00, "Association Work in New Jersey; Present—Prospective," Lewis Everett Hawkins, State secretary, New Jersey; 4.00, reports of conference committees; 4.15, adjournment.

The program committee consists of Miss Caroline B. Chapman, of Montclair; Mrs. E. Ellsworth Hyde, of Orange, and Mrs. Edward P. Holden, of Madison.

The officers of the State executive committee of the Young Men's Christian Association of New Jersey are: Charles T. Kilbourne, president and acting treasurer; Thomas S. Gladding, vice president; Edward P. Holden, recording secretary; Lewis E. Hawkins, State secretary.

Hempstead King of Beasts.

"Should some of the strenuous ladies of the United States happen to visit the New York zoo," said the animal painter, "they would be encouraged in their contempt of man. The lion is often lauded as the crea-ture of preeminent courage. But in domestic life he isn't a circumstance compared with the lioness. When she smiles, he humbly approaches and fawns upon her. When she frowns, he lingers trembling in the corner. And if perchance she emits a growl, he crouches close to the floor until her majesty may feel in better humor. No, indeed. Many human husbands may feel that their wives are lioness dominant. But most of such henpecked males the lion is the most striking example."—New York Press.

Rum Grains Intoxicate Sparrows.

A novel way to capture sparrows alive was brought to the attention of Jesse C. Green, an automobilist, who in travelling along upper Broad street, Bloomfield, yesterday, saw an Italian walk over to a field where a number of the birds had congregated and, without any difficulty whatever, throw a net over the birds, and then one by one place them in a basket. Green said the birds were caught so easily, and the fellow said he soaked grain in rum and scattered it on the ground. The birds eating it become stupified and he then gathered in his prize. The birds are used by Italians in making a certain kind of soup.

Miss Carroll opened part second with three numbers in classical German songs—"Auftrag," Schubert; "Wenn ich in Deine Augen Seh," Schumann; "Sapphische Ode," Brahms, and "Hark, Hark the Lark," Schubert. Two additional violin solos by Mr. Saslavsky, Miss Carroll gave four songs of today—"A Corn Song," Coleridge-Taylor; "Myrra," Clutsam; "Irish Folk Song," Foote, and "Spring-Tide," Becker. The last two numbers were given with violin obligato and were especially effective.

No Long Green; Long Pink Now.

The American Bankers' Association while in session at Atlantic City, N. J., adopted a resolution requesting the secretary of the treasury to make bills of different denominations printed on paper or different colors, says the New York Journal. The idea is that a bank teller's desk can be more readily handled by reason of the ease with which bills can be piled up according to their color. The colors decided on for the different denominations are: $1, brown; $2, green; $5, blue; $10, yellow; $20, pink; $50, white, $100, and over.

How Plants Travel.

The dandelion, with its parachute, has gone to every country within the arctic circle and has also made its appearance in the southern hemisphere. The rose of Jericho curls up in a ball, with the seed inside and the wind rolls it over the deserts of Syria and Egypt. The seed pods of the furze and broom are like little guns. In August and September you may hear them crack, crack, as they burst, scattering the seeds like bullets. The cranesbill, or wild geranium, has its seeds arranged so that five arms are thrown out like a sling, throwing the seeds with considerable force. The mangrove grows in salt water swamps and shallow sea water. The plants require to be rooted in the mud.

MISS WILLIAMS A BRIDE

Daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. E. P. Williams Becomes Mr. George Harold O'Donnell.

AT HEAVENLY REST

Rev. Charles Townsend, the Rector, Officiates—Mrs. W. S. Loiseaux As Matron of Honor.

Miss Eleanor Boulden Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Williams, of West Seventh street, and George Harry O'Donnell, formerly of Newton, Sussex county, but now of New York, were married in the Church of the Heavenly Rest, at 6 o'clock, last Friday, in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Townsend, the rector.

Miss Williams was attended by her sister, Mrs. William S. Loiseaux, as matron of honor, and Miss Clorita S. Wingerd, of New York, and Miss Mabel Bogardus, of this city, were bridesmaids. The bride was gowned in white satin, trimmed with rose point lace. She wore a tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The matron of honor wore a gown of yellow chiffon cloth, trimmed with silver lace and she carried white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids were gowned in white set trimmed with fillet lace and fringe and carried yellow chrysanthemums. The matron of honor and bridesmaids also wore tulle veils.

Mr. O'Donnell had for his best man, C. Allen Hayden, of New York, and the ushers were John N. Gellatly, of New York; Russell G. Inslee, of Newton; Richard Elkins, of Elkins, W. V., and Ralph L. Crok, of Rye, N. Y.

William E. MacClymont presided at the organ and as the bridal party entered the church the wedding march from Lohengrin was played. The ushers led the way, followed by the matron of honor, the bridesmaids and the bride, escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage. The party met the groom and best man at the chancel.

Following the ceremony a large reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on West Seventh street, which was attended by several hundred guests. Congratulations were offered and an elaborate supper was served. The bride was the recipient of large collection of valuable gifts from relatives and friends with which she is a favorite.

Later in the evening the couple left on a wedding trip and upon their return will reside in New York, where the groom is a practicing lawyer. Mr. O'Donnell is a graduate of Princeton University, Class 1900, *and together with three of his ush*ers, Messrs. Hayden, Elkins and Crow, was a member of the Tiger Inn Club.

WOMAN MISSIONARY TELLS OF HER WORK

Mrs. Isaac Messler, who is a coworker with her husband, Rev. Isaac Messler, a missionary of the Reformed church in America, at McKee, Ky., and who labors among the Mountain whites of that country, gave an interesting talk Friday afternoon before the Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church, telling of the progress among these people. In her talk Mrs. Messler gave more general facts concerning the work than the society has heretofore learned and they afforded much encouragement to the members of the band who are regularly contributing to the mission enterprise, sending barrels of clothing and other useful articles to her.

Mrs. Messler told of her efforts in establishing trading stations at McKee and vicinity, where the clothing which is sent from the North is exchanged among the natives for things which can be of use to the missionaries. In this way the people are encouraged to give something for the assistance and help given them.

In the opinion of Mrs. Messler the condition of the Mountain Whites is much improved and considerable progress is being made in Christianizing them. They appreciate what is done for them. Mention was also made of the excellent work of Miss Hoeje, also a Reformed church missionary, who has charge of the kindergarten at McKee and her description of the efforts put forth in the education of children was most interesting. Aside from her talk other facts were learned through questioning. The meeting was a helpful and inspiring one and was thoroughly enjoyed Mrs. Messler's talk.

When to Take Tea.

Our conclusions with regard to tea are that its original popular use as a stimulating beverage with breakfast and tea is justified and harmless, but that its indiscriminate consumption with meat foods or during protein indigestion is likely to be harmful. China tea, on account of its less tannic acid content, is less harmful than Indian tea. Our results with ginger beer showed that this beverage was practically without influence upon digestion.—Hospital.

WORTH OF KNOWING.

It is estimated that there are 2,500,000 dogs in Great Britain.

A square foot of a Persian rug means twenty-three days' work for the weaver.

Paris possesses the largest public gardens and the largest hospital.

Nearly half the meat eaten in Berlin is beef; pork comes next, then mutton, while veal is fourth.

In 1830 the world contained but 210 miles of railway; now there are over 350,000 miles of line.

Germany produces more honey than any other European country, furnishing 20,000 tons annually.

Posters in Paris.

French law gives the authorities of every village and commune complete control over posters. "No one," writes our consul general, "is permitted in France to deface streets and public places with crude, ostentatious announcements of his business or other subject. Billboards are infrequent in Paris and are generally built permanently into a wall, where they are taxed according to the superficial area. Where a building is in construction and board screens are erected to shield the public from dust and other annoyance such temporary screen will soon be covered with posters of amusements and other business, but each poster so displayed has been previously submitted to the authorities, a license obtained, and each sheet bears the canceled revenue stamp, according to its size."

A Pretty Fast Clock.

He was standing in front of the circular elevator indicator in one of the office buildings, watch in hand. *It was the morning after, and I sup*pose that he had forgotten to concern himself with the frivolous detail of winding his timepiece the previous evening. His equilibrium was far from stable, and his eyes unsteadily following the indicator hand blinked with efforts at comprehension as he tried to set his watch.

"Diculous clock (hic)—very 'musing (hic)—very fast we live (hic) thesh timer (hic)—pretty fast fer my ole timer (hic)—'diculous—can't seem t' catch it (hic)—whoa! —there you are—gone again (hic). Pshaw!—'diculous clock."

I left him still trying to get his watch into conformity with the speeding indicator.—Boston Traveler.

How a Flea Jumps.

It is said that a flea leaps 200 times its height, and while it usually does land on its feet, it often falls, especially when it falls on a perfectly smooth surface, where the claws can get only a slight hold. A flea has six legs, whose great length and bulk make them so heavy that they must be a great help in keeping their owner right side up when it makes one of those gigantic jumps, and when it lands upside down or in some other way its ability to kick is so great that not more than one wriggle is needed to set things right. A flea's wings are mere scales and of no use. But as ugly and worthless as they are, they tell the entomologist *something about the proper classi*fication of the insect. To the flea itself they have no value.—St. Nicholas.

Might Be Worse.

Mark Twain once received a letter from his brother, who complained that he was afflicted with a boil and the jumping toothache at the same time and inquired if he had ever heard of a worse combination. "No," wrote the sympathetic Mark, "and I can follow him, for I've got that might be worse—that would be to have inflammatory rheumatism and St. Vitus' dance at the same time."—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Korean Romance.

A romantic little story comes from the Chuksan district. One of the residents having died of illness, his only wife declared her intention of killing herself. Arguing that it was not right for a woman to remain alive after her husband was dead and that she would be far happier if she followed him, she put her plan into execution and committed suicide the same night. She was only twenty.—Korea Daily Times.

Polishing Small Articles.

It is said that a high polish may be obtained after nickel plating on small steel articles, such as screws, by tumbling them with leather and dry scraps. Some of the articles are placed in a tumbling barrel with leather scraps. Some dry rouge is put into the barrel along with the screws and leather and the whole tumbled for some time. The rouge coats the surface of the leather and causes it to act like a polishing wheel. Canvas scraps may be used in place of leather.

Politeness.

Lady (to Irish gardner, who "obliges" by the lady)—Well, Dan, and what do I owe you for today? Dan—Shure, ma'am, there's no talking the half crown you'd be offering me than the 2 shillings I'd be asking of you.—Punch.

Birds and Feathers.

Mistress—Mary, have you any rooted objections to using a feather duster? This room looks as if you had.

Maid—Yes, mum, I have. I belonges to the Audubon society.—Harper's Weekly.

It is contended by some historians that coal was used by the ancient Britons, but the fact, if fact it was, is not proved. It may be said that coal was practically unknown prior to the twelfth century. It was first made an article of trade in England in 1281.—London Mail.

MADE A TORCH OF PADDY.

How the Chances Are He Will Carry His Matches Elsewhere.

Nine-year-old Paddy Monacco says that the next time he plays hat on the back with the gang he isn't going to have his rear pants pocket full of matches, says the New York Sun. They play the game strenuously in a lot on Twenty-seventh street, near Tenth avenue. The game had progressed to the grab the hat and slap stage yesterday, and Paddy stood doubled up with his head pointed earthward and the other end of him directed toward the setting sun. Tommy Glynn in leaping over Paddy gave him a vigorous wallop. In a twinkling the west end of Paddy spouted smoke and he let a howl out of him that could be heard for blocks. The other kids beat the flames out as best they could and saved at least the front part of Paddy's breeches. Tommy Glynn and Billy Rooney were more or less badly burned about the hands, and Paddy was more severely burned elsewhere. An ambulance was summoned from Roosevelt hospital and the surgeons fixed up the Glynn and Rooney boys and took Paddy to the hospital for more thorough ministering. Later Paddy was sent to his home at 545 West Twenty-seventh street and ate his supper off the mantlepiece.

TO THE SIXTH GENERATION.

People Who Have Lived to See Many of Their Descendants.

It is given to few men, as to M. T. Wullschleger of the canton of Vaud, to celebrate the birth of a great-great-granddaughter, but even more remarkable experience than the one on record, according to the Westminster Gazette. Dr. Plot in his "Natural History of Staffordshire" quotes the case of old Mary Cooper of King's Bromley, who lived to see the sixth generation of her descendants, and was in the position to say, "Rise up, daughter, and go to thy daughter, for thy daughter's granddaughter hath a daughter;" while Horace Walpole lived to see seventeen of his family, the progeny of Mrs. Godfrey, mistress of James II. It is not long since the dowager duchess of Abercorn died leaving more than 200 direct descendants, at least four of whom were great-great-grandchildren. At that time Mrs. Sarah Ann Woolf, of Utah, nursed her twenty-third great-great-grandchild, one of 303 living descendants; while it is said of a Spaniard who returned from America to his native land at the age of 100 that he was accompanied by 280 of his descendants, including three great-great-grandsons.

The Uses of Worry.

Worry of one sort and another is necessary to the complete health of the spirit; worry is as surely related to content on one side as it is to misery on the other. It is as wholesome an exercise for the spirit, and as refreshing, as the physical exercise which the man finds so necessary to his well-being. The spirit must have its peculiar gymnastics; the soul cannot afford to become stagnant in its waters, if one may say so, must be stirred occasionally if they would be kept fresh and sweet.—Joel Chandler Harris in Uncle Remus' Magazine.

A Paradox in Age.

At an entertainment provided by the Woman's philharmonic society of the most widely advertised attraction was a dancer, who, so it was whispered, "had become too old to teach in the public schools and had taken to dancing for a living." That remarkable announcement drew a crowd of curious persons who were anxious to see what a woman looked like who was too old to teach but young enough to practice the terpsichorean art in public. Also, everybody wanted to know what the topsyturvy world might be, but of course, no one found out.

Despondent Dog a Suicide.

A valuable bulldog belonging to John C. Reed, of Binghampton, N. Y., committed suicide by jumping up against a picket fence until he hooked his collar over one of the pickets. He then swung himself around until the weight of his body on the leather strap shut off his wind and he strangled. The dog had made a previous attempt to hang himself, but was found in time and taken from the fence, although he fought savagely while his owner unhooked his collar from the picket.

"Getting Even."

In savings banks it is customary to require a new depositor to sign an identification blank. In a certain savings bank recently a woman was somewhat unwilling to comply with this request. "What is your husband's name?" asked the clerk. "My husband's name is Peter Jones. What is your wife's name?" snapped the fair depositor.

A Job in Prospect.

New York was in sight. The ship was entering the harbor. "Ah, free America," exclaimed a foreigner on the deck. "Free America, ze land where everybody has an equal chance!" "Going to locate there?" inquired a friendly American. "Ah, yes, I haf come over to engage in ze oil business."

Making Reparation.

In some unaccountable manner little Frank had spilled a bottle of ink on his grandmother's carpet. "I'm awful sorry," he apologized, "but"—thinking of his little savings bank—"I'll buy you another bottle, grandma."

NATIONAL BOARD SETTLES APPEALS.

Minor Baseball League Arbiters Reinstate Eason, of Newark, and Suspend Official.

Protests and appeals finished the business of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, when the Board of Arbitration rendered decision in several cases that had remained unsettled from the beginning of the week. The case of "Mal" W. Eason, once a Brooklyn pitcher, took up most of the time.

He was purchased by Newark, but was able to pitch only three innings in a game against Buffalo when his arm gave out. He received one more trial, but was a failure, so W. W. Burnham, manager of the Newark club, allowed him to go to the Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland League as an umpire. He was suspended by Newark so that no other club could obtain his services, although he was allowed to officiate in some of the Eastern League games.

After a long discussion Eason was reinstated, with permission to work as manager umpire, with the privilege of securing an unconditional surrender upon payment of $300 to Newark.

The Board declared ineligible A. J. Lewis, formerly president of the Western Pennsylvania League, for his methods of doing business. Quite a number of other cases of minor importance were settled and the baseball horizon cleared until the annual meeting of the major leagues, which will take place the second Tuesday in December.

BOARD OF TRADE AGAINST CANAL BILL.

Declares Present Scheme Providing Expenditure of $1,000,000 by Newark Is Too Vague.

After a long discussion last evening the Newark Board of Trade passed a resolution asking the voters to oppose on Tuesday the plan to spend $1,000,000 to begin the work of reclaiming the meadows between Newark and Elizabeth along the bay front, the construction of a ship canal to deep water and a system of docks.

Under the provisions of the Lane Dock law, passed last winter, this question will be submitted to the people at the coming election. It was the sense of the Board of Trade after hearing extended arguments that the scheme was too vague, that the people did not sufficiently understand the scope of the proposed law and that there was not time enough to inform them.

SHORT STORIES.

More pickles are eaten in the United States than in any other country.

The band leaders in Manila are teaching the Filipinos the various national American airs.

Montreal has a colony of about 1,700 Chinese workingmen. Only forty newcomers have joined it since the $500 head tax of 1904 went into effect.

For the first time in the city's history two Chinamen received badges from the New York fire department recently permitting them to enter the fire lines. Both are business men in Mott street.

The acting commissioner of internal revenue has informed an inquirer that denatured and unleaded alcohol can be used in making liquid soap only when the soap is not to be used or sold for medical purposes.

A Scotch terrier ten inches high, weighing eight pounds, after a terrific battle killed a harmless snake five feet long near Gibraltar, Pa. The dog is an experienced snake fighter and has been bitten many times.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

One of the attractive features of the season anent the separate waist will be the velvet or heavy broadcloth skirt topped with a waist of sheer material.

To the many women to whom they are becoming it will be welcome intelligence that ruffs and boas are going to be worn. For the most part they will be worn by the wife and dat rather than fluffy and billowy.

Two distinctive features may be noted about sleeves. They have much more fullness at the top, some of them even being laid in deep plaits, and they are very ornate, even to the point of fussiness.

Two of the leading features of the fall modes are the development of the tailor made and the Japanese effects, each of which draws upon the other, and the entirely new style, which, while it has the characteristics of both, is at once more practical and more artistic than either.—New York Post.

Phonograph Co. Lays Off 500 Men.

An order, which, it is declared, is only temporary and will be recalled on November 11, was issued at the works of the National Phonograph Company at West Orange Friday, laying off 500 men. At the offices of the concern it was said that the lay-off was deemed expedient because of the stringent money market, and not because of any decrease in orders.

A Compromise.

Wedderly—My wife and I went downtown to select a new rug for our parlor this morning. She liked one pattern and I liked the other.

Singleton—What did you you do about it?

Wedderly—Oh, we compromised on the one she liked.—Chicago News.

ONE PICTURE

Framed here will prove to you how well and inexpensively we can do the work. Oval and round frames in all sizes.

ARTIST SUPPLIES

Winsor and Newton celebrated paints and brushes for oil and water color painting.

PYROGRAPHIC GOODS

A large variety of designed goods, outfits and special parts.

Plainfield Art Store.
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Vail
JEWELER AND OPTICIAN

103 Park Ave.,
calls your attention to his
Rimless Glasses.
They Look Good and You See Good.

There Is Great Satisfaction
in buying Pure, Fresh Groceries the kind you are sure of obtaining when you purchase of W. W. Dunn, the Park Grocer.
All the finest brands of Canned Vegetables, Canned Meats, Teas, Coffees, Crackers and Fresh Fruits in season, at prices that are not too high.

W. W. DUNN,
THE PARK GROCER,
Duer St. and Lincoln Pl.

Go to the News Stand
at the Central Railroad Station for all the latest foreign and domestic Magazines and weekly periodicals. Numbers furnished on shortest notice.

Plainfield Daily Press
and all the New York and Philadelphia morning, evening and Sunday papers delivered in any part of the city. Under new management. Open Sundays.

F. M. WAGNER
Formerly of Jersey City News Stand.

We have made arrangements for a larger supply of first class milk and are giving the family trade our special attention. If you are not satisfied with the milk or the services you are getting give us a trial.

Price 9 cents a quart, 5 cents a pint. Cream 14 cents ½ pint.

Lindsay's Dairy,
965 West Front St.
TEL. 792-J.

STORAGE—Best equipped and oldest storage warehouse in city for storing Furniture, Pianos, etc. Special low rates. Packing reasonable. All work has prompt attention.
WHITE OR TELEPHONE 811-L.
"Orders left at Lindsay's Dairy."
C. M. NAGLE,
Front and Grove Sts., Plainfield, N. J.

J. W. VAN SICKLE
122 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Fresh and Salted Meats.
Game in season. Philadelphia Scrapple. Orders called for and delivered promptly.
Telephone No. 483-J.

GUSSOW BROS.
NEW YORK
Ladies' and Gents' Tailoring.
We do Cleaning, Pressing and Altering. Satisfaction Guaranteed.
136 PARK AVE. JEFFERY BLD'G

Cleaning, Pressing and Dyeing.
Monthly Contracts.
Pressing called for and delivered.
EVENING DRESSES A SPECIALTY.
Ladies' Wash Dresses, 35 cents upwards
Gents' Suits Cleaned $1.50
We do our own work at
M. A. Brown's, 218 West Second St.

McCULLOUGH'S STEAM MILL,
21 Steiner place, North Plainfield, N. J.
R. H. McCULLOUGH, Prop.
Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing, Turning, etc.
Estimates cheerfully furnished.

Chas. L. Stanley,
126 East Front St., 'Phone 299
Headquarters for choice Cut Flowers and Potted Plants. Floral design work a specialty.
10,000 feet of glass. 1138 South Ave.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 10, 1907.

By REV. S. H. DOTY.

Topic—The greed for gold. Prov. xxiii, 4, 5; Luke xii, 13-25.

The emphasis in this topic must be placed upon the word greed. Gold is right enough in itself and a wonderful blessing to mankind, but that which needs to be condemned is the insatiate greed for gold that leads men to sacrifice their honor, their friends, their reputations and their very hope for heaven. It is to be deplored and preached against. Ford Benedict Arnold sold his country, Lord Bacon his judicial honor and Judas Iscariot his Lord. Men high in financial institutions have become defaulters, and wives and children have suffered, and men who have had their all intrusted to their care have lost it and have often been driven to despondency and despair.

The astounding and revolting revelations of recent years of financial frauds in our political and business life have appalled the people. But, after all, there is more honesty in the world than the average man imagines. We often hear stories of the comparatively few rascals who defraud the public, run banks and deceive the people in various ways to satisfy their greed for gold. Of the vast thousands who honestly fulfill their trusts, who honestly acquire a fortune, little is said, and therefore we think often that there is no honesty in the world; that every rich man is a scoundrel. Moreover, it is a serious question if we have not taken a wrong attitude in dealing with man's desire for gold. It is practically a universal passion. Few men would refuse a fortune. Gold has its value, and to despise it is to show a spirit of hypocrisy or of foolishness. It can be used as a powerful force for or for evil.

Gold plays a prominent part in every phase of life—the individual, home, church and state. It erects our hospitals, asylums, philanthropic homes, and makes possible the necessities and comforts of life. Never before does it seem that the keynote in relation to money should be its proper accumulation and its proper use. Tirades and denunciations should have little place in dealing with such tremendous problems. Men need instruction in regard to the proper solution of their attitude toward the natural craving for wealth. Honesty in acquirement should be emphasized, and the dangerous results of dishonesty should be made prominent. Furthermore, men should be taught that the greatest joy in gold is not simply the use of it for self, but for the good and happiness of others.

But, after all is said, gold has its dangers. The desire for it is great and often the test of character is whether a man has much or little. It is the love of money, a false, insatiate love of it, that is a root of evil. The poorest may sinfully love it as well as the richest of men.

There are several serious facts that should warn us against a sinful greed for gold: (1) It's uncertainty. "Labor not to be rich, * * * for riches certainly make themselves wings." Nothing of great importance in life is so uncertain as money. In a moment, in a day, our money may make wings. Should we set our hearts wholly and absolutely upon such an uncertain factor in our lives? (2) The sinful greed for gold may lead us to take a false attitude toward Christ. It did so with the man who came to Christ to ask Him to divide the inheritance. He saw in Christ a petty judge instead of a mighty Saviour. The rich young man who came to Christ could give up all for Him but his money, and instead of following Him he went away from Him. How many are kept from Christ because of their evil love for money and their evil use of it? (3) The sinful greed for gold tends to obscure its value. Gold will do much, but it won't save the soul or feed it. This was the mistake of the rich fool in Christ's parable. He thought he could feed his soul on material things. He said, "Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; eat, drink and be merry," as if the soul could be fed on his much goods. Only Christ, the bread of life, can satisfy our souls. All the gold and all earth's other treasures cannot save or supply the soul. Make no mistake in thinking that it can do so in your case.

BIBLE READINGS.

Deut. viii, 11-17; Job xxviii, 12-18; xxxi, 24-28; Ps. xix, 7-10; Prov. iii, 1-10; xxviii, 20; 1 Tim. vi, 6-12; Jas. v, 1-8; Rev. iii, 14-22.

Trainer of Church of Tomorrow.

The young people of today are to be the support of the church of tomorrow. On them will rest the responsibility of carrying on God's work here after their fathers and mothers have finished their work. To meet this responsibility they need special training in Christian work. The Christian Endeavor society offers this training. There they may learn to work for Christ, to speak for Him and to bring others to Him. Their interest in the church is quickened by their having some definite work for their own to do, and thus they are trained for a larger sphere of usefulness in the future. No other organization sets the young people at work along so many lines, giving them the training necessary for future usefulness in the church as well as developing the spiritual life. The Christian Endeavor society is an invaluable aid to the pastor by its members carrying out his plans and through the committees assisting him in a variety of ways. It seeks to help not only those connected with the church, but the indifferent, endeavoring to bring them within its influence and win them to Christ.—Tech Endeavorer.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Nov. 10: "The conversion of the gentiles." (Missions.) "They glorified God, saying, Then to the gentiles also hath God granted repentance with life."—Acts xi, 18.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

Passages for reference—Gen. xxii, 18; Mal. i, 11; Col. iii, 11; Rev. xxi, 24-26.

There are some strange things connected with the mission work of the Christian church for the conversion of the gentile world.

First, it is a very strange thing that men are so divided in opinions and interests and are so antagonistic to each other. Race prejudice is very strong. Peace, harmony and mutual helpfulness seem entirely reasonable, yet the most advanced nations are the most heavily armed and prepared for war. Brotherhood is much talked of, but does not exist to any great extent as yet among the nations.

Reason does not yet hold control in human affairs, nor does righteousness.

It is hard to see how the welfare of men can be secured unless both righteousness and reason shall rule.

Men have always had much at variance and strife in religious matters as on any other subject. Perhaps no subject has caused more enmity than this.

There has been a multitude of different religions first and last, each with some truth in it, yet most of them far from teaching the essential truth which should unite men in a brotherhood of peace.

One religion has such a brotherhood as this, clearly defined and toward which it is working. It is the aim of God to bring together in one all things through Christ. This is the belief of Christians. This is the meaning of that ancient promise to Abraham. It was the belief of the greatest of the Hebrew prophets. The universal kingdom of God among men, established on righteousness, justice and mercy, was the vision of Isaiah, whose trumpet voice, long before Christ, was agreewith the proclamation of the Messiah's kingdom calling in the gentiles as well as Israel.

It was difficult for an Israelite after the times of Ezra and Nehemiah to have much toleration for the gentiles. It was so hard for the Jewish Christians who had been with Jesus all His life to understand how a gentile could be saved that a vision had to come to Peter before any thought of the Holy Ghost before they could tolerate the thought.

The church has been long awaking to the fact of God's intention to save the gentiles and of its duty to be taught by Him how to fulfill her mission in carrying the gospel to all mankind.

There are signs of brightness now which give promise that before long the church will awake to a fuller conception of her duty and her privilege toward the gentile world.

We as Leaguers need to keep constantly before our minds our responsibility in this regard and pray with firmer faith and fuller comprehension our daily petition, "Thy kingdom come."

We must work to bring in this kingdom in business, social life, religion and government and in every sphere of human activity. This is our task. Let us realize it and accomplish it.

LADYLIKE GEOMETRY.

Figures of the same shape don't always have the same style.

Figures of the same size never consider themselves equivalent.

A straight line is the shortest distance between two millinery openings.

A plain figure is one all points of which have been neglected by the dressmaker.

A mixed line is a line composing the reception committee of a club's presidential candidate.

A broken line is a series of successive straight lines described by a woman alighting from a street car.

A straight line determined by two bargain tables is considered as prolonged both ways until the store closes.

Women equal to the same thing are not always equal to each other. —Nellie Parker Jones in Chicago Record-Herald.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS.

In assorting clothes for washing, use cold water for stains such as perspiration. Stains that are from fruit or coffee must be treated with boiling water. Hours of rubbing will be saved by following these simple precautions.

Laundry irons often become rough from bits of starch baking on the edges. The very best way to keep them smooth and clean is to wash them thoroughly in soap suds. Be sure that they are well dried, or rust will gather.

Tired feet to the feet are bathed and rubbed the better their condition, and there is less tendency to enlarge. Rubbing the soles of the feet with a cut lemon will freshen and ease them when fatigued.

A spoonful of mustard in a gallon of water or a good drenching with lime water will kill insects in the earth of potted plants.

A Long Swim.

A tramp has beaten all known records by swimming twenty-seven miles to thirty minutes. He did not mean to do it. He merely tried to steal a ride from St. Louis to Chicago on the rear of a locomotive tender. When the train started he fell over backward through the open manhole into the water tank. The noise of the train drowned his cries for help, and he was obliged to swim until the first stop was reached at Alton. When taken out he was nearly dead, but the engineer was so unfeeling as to call the attention to the fact that the water was only four feet deep, and he might have stood up. The conductor, also unfeeling, asked him for his ticket, but the tramp said he had not come by rail, but by water. —Youth's Companion.

The loafer will always tell you there "isn't much opportunity for a man in this town." Still there are twenty-four hours in a day here, as elsewhere.—Atchison Globe.

If you don't laugh at a man's joke, joke, he says you have no sense of humor. It never occurs to him that he lacks the sense of humor.

THE MILLIONAIRE AND THE MOTOR CAR.

There was a man who saved and saved
And got a little cash,
Aand soon among the bulls and bears
Of Wall street cut a dash.
By buying here with foresight wise,
And shrewdly selling there,
He woke one morning bright to find
Himself a millionaire.

He bought a costly motor-car
His wealth to celebrate,
The merry tooting of its horn
Re-echoed long and late.
"Oh, this is life," he gayly cried,
"Oh, this is something like,"
As daily in the big machine
He whizzed along the pike.

But what with tires exploding fast
And fines in every town,
Repairs and gasoline, his gold
Like snowflakes melted down,
And now upon a trolley car
Each day he rides to work,
And draws his modest ten per week,
Once more an humble clerk.
—Minna Irving in The Bohemian for October.

TO CLEAN LIGHT FELT HATS.

Felt hats of light color may be cleaned with block magnesia, fuller's earth or laundry starch; always remember to rub and brush with the nap.

Dust or finger marks may be removed from light colored woolen goods by rubbing (with the nap) with bread. If the marks are obstinate, sprinkle a little salt on them, then rub with the bread.

Lace can be made to match material of any color by using a reliable dye and following carefully the directions supplied with it.

Feathers may be freshened by shaking them over the fire, on which a little sulphur has been thrown; this fluffs them out and makes the ends curl under. If more curl is desired, the filaments should be drawn over a dull knife blade.

Feathers may also be washed or dyed by the exercise of a little care and patience.

Velvet that is wrinkled or crushed may be restored by steaming, or may be made in to "mirrowed" velvet by ironing with a moderately warm iron, on the right side and in the direction of the pile or nap.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

Liquor Dealers' Choice.

The liquor dealers do not want the Republican candidate for Governor elected. Neither do the lobbyists. In his speech at Paterson Monday night Mr. Fort said that he was opposed to the corrupt lobbyists. He added, "If elected I will drive them out of the State if I possibly can." There is nothing weak or evasive in such a statement as that.—Elizabeth Journal.

Candidate Without Shame.

I have been among you nearly thirty-nine years, and I hope to be here thirty-nine more. As your Mayor I have never done anything of which I am ashamed, and I think you all know me well enough to know I would approve of no law that would violate the peace and good order of any day of the week.—Katzenach at Trenton.

If the Democratic candidate for Governor has no regret in connection with his administration of the affairs of the city of Trenton, when the liquor laws were habitually violated, the only conclusion that it is possible to arrive at is that he is a man without shame. "When Mr. Katzenbach was Mayor of Trenton," says the New York Tribune, "there was, as there now is, a strict law against the Sunday opening of liquor saloons. But about every saloon whose proprietors wanted it open was open on Sunday, by the side door. The law was openly and notoriously violated. Trenton was known as a side-door city, by the side door. Mr. Katzenbach's administration was an administration under which law-breaking flourished with impunity." Do the people of New Jersey want that kind of a "liberal" Governor? Do they want the Chief Executive who will wink at the lawbreakers? We have faith enough in the honesty and intelligence of the people of this State to believe that they do not want such a ruler.—Elizabeth Journal.

INDIAN "WIRELESS."

The Smoke Signals and Fire Arrows of the Red Man.

Ages before Marconi invented wireless telegraphy the Indians of North America had a system of "wireless" communication of their own by means of smoke signals and fire arrows.

The settler's wife, looking out from her lonely cabin on the prairie at the band of roving Indians, learned to note and understand the Indian smoke signals puffing lightly into the clear blue of the prairie sky. These smoke signals were sent up in puffs or rings, so that there was no chance of mistaking them for a campfire. The puffs were made by covering a fire with a blanket for a minute. Then the blanket was lifted quickly, and the smoke ascended. The blanket-signaler repeated until a column of rings warned the Indians far and near to "look out" or "be on the watch." Two smokes built close together meant "Camp here."

Signaling at night was carried on by means of fire arrows. Their meaning was like that of the smokes. The fiery trail left by the arrow in its flight through the darkness was the same signal as one smoke. The others tallied, and a flight of several fiery arrows said, "The enemy is too strong for us."

CHANGES IN THE FLAG.

Will Be Made July 4, 1908, in Oklahoma's Honor.

Although Oklahoma will be admitted to the Union of States by the proclamation of the President on November 16 next, that fact will not be formally recognized on the American flag until July 4, 1908. On and after that date the blue field of the national banner will contain forty-six stars instead of forty-five, as at present. The law governing the addition of a star to the flag provides that such addition shall not be made until the first July following the admission of the new State. The forty-fifth star was added July 4, 1906, to symbolize Utah, which had been admitted to the Union in the preceding March.

Several months ago a joint board of the army and navy, of which Admiral Dewey was chairman, adopted a plan for the rearrangement of the stars in the flag upon the admission of a new State, and the scheme was approved by the Secretaries of War and the Navy and by the President in turn. The forty-five stars now in the flag are arranged in nine rows, the first, third and fifth having eight stars and the second, fourth and sixth having seven each.

Under the new arrangement, which was effected without materially altering the general scheme, the first, third, fourth and sixth rows will have eight stars and the second and fifth row seven stars each.

Tendered a Linen Shower.

In honor of her engagement to Professor Harry Linville, Doctor of Philosophy in the DeWitt Clinton high school, New York, Miss Adele Milin, a member of the borough school teaching staff, was tendered a linen shower at her home on Grove street, Wednesday night. The affair was arranged by the T. B. C. Club, of Somerville, a literary organization of which she is a member, and was attended by thirty-five friends from that place and Plainfield. An informal program was enjoyed until midnight.

I PRITHEE SEND ME BACK MY HEART.

I prithee send me back my heart
Since I cannot have thine,
For, if from yours you will not part,
Why, then, shouldst thou have mine?

Yet, now I think on't, let it lie;
To find it were in vain,
For thou'st a thief in either eye
Would steal it back again.

Why should two hearts in one breast lie
And yet not lodge together?
O Love, where is thy sympathy
If thus our breasts thou sever?

But love is such a mystery
I cannot find it out,
For when I think I'm best resolved
I am the mast in doubt.

Then farewell care, and farewell woe!
I will not longer pine,
For if he'll be false, I'll be false
As much as she has mine.

Where Folly Beats Wisdom.

Dr. Emil Reich, the famous lecturer and historian, was once discussing marriage at a dinner in New York.

"That was a wise saying of the old Greek philosopher," murmured an electrician, "'Whether you marry or not, you will regret it.'"

"I knew an old maid in my native Epeirus," said Reich, "who once got off a saying almost as good as the immorial Greek one.

"'Auntie,' said her little niece to her, 'what would you do if you had your life to live over again?'

"The lonely spinster with a sour smile answered:

"'Get married before I had sense enough to decide to be an old maid.'"—San Antonio Express.

The Origin of Single Combat.

Just where and when the first affaire de-honneur took place is not known and obviously cannot ever be known. Homer makes frequent reference to single combat, and the story of David and Goliath is only added Biblical testimony that duels were known to the early Hebrews and other ancient Asiatics, as they were known to the Arabs at the time of Mohammed. Ie remained, however, for the Romans to overrun the Roman empire to apply the first *touch of poetry to what had previ*ously been mere brutal conflicts, for they conceived the idea that a wager of battle was an appeal to the decision of the gods and that success was a proof of right.—Louis J. Meader in Century.

The First Rose.

According to a very ancient legend, the first rose appeared upon the earth at Gulkeran. The lotus had long reigned alone, but the flowers became dissatisfied because their drowsy queen could only keep awake by day. They wished for one who would be as fair in revels under the moon as in the parish day. It was then the rose appeared and was chosen the queen of flowers. She sprang into being at the song of the nightingale and was purest white until colored with the blood from the nightingale's breast. As earth's sweetest singers are those who have felt the thorn, so it is said, the nightingale sings his exquisite music to the rose with his breast upon a thorn.—Circle.

Doubtful Compliments.

The compliments paid by the poor are often put in an amusing way. One old woman who was very fond of the rector said to Mr. Bernays, "I don't know, sir, us likes the rector; 'is ears is so pendulous," surely an odd reason for parochial assection. Another admirer once declared with regard to the whole staff of clergy, "You are all so plain"—a word of high commendation—"but as for the vicar, 'e's beautiful." The greatest compliment, though at the same time the most curious, Mr. Bernays ever heard was paid by a workingman to a certain bishop, famous for his simple kindliness. "What I likes 'bout the bishop is 'e's not a gentleman."—Westminster Gazette.

Banana Eating Contest.

A banana eating contest is being arranged between "Senator" Jim Walker, of Owensville, Ind., and Melvin Smith, of Petersburg, says an Owensville dispatch to the New York Sun. A few days ago Smith ate forty-eight bananas in two hours. Immediately following he ate two pounds of bologna and one pound of crackers without water. He was ill for several days, but finally pulled through and is now willing to compete with Walker in a banana eating contest.

Strange Bequests.

In his will Stephen Swain, of the parish of St. Olave, Southwark, gave to John Abbott and Mary, his wife, sixpence each "to buy for each of them a halter for fear the sheriffs should not be provided," and John Aylett Stow left the sum of 5 guineas for the purchase of the picture of a viper biting the hand of his rescuer to be presented to an eminent K. C. as a reminder of "his ingratitude and insolence."—Grand Magazine.

One day when she had finished she electrified her aunt by saying:

"Aunt Emma, that is the most foolish prayer I ever heard. What do I want with a garden guide?"

Silks and ribbons should be also steamed and stretched between the hands.

GEORGE VAN VLIET DIES IN NEW YORK

George Van Vliet, whose family was prominent in this city for many years and who resided here until the death of his wife a few years ago, died Friday at his home in New York. He was seventy-one years old and was prominent in metropolitan real estate circles, a business in which he had been engaged since he was a young man.

Mr. Van Vliet was the son of Voorhees Van Vliet, whom Plainfielders will recall, resided at Park avenue and Fourth street for many years, and conducted the restaurant at the old Plainfield depot. He sold the home property in 1886 and the present Miller building was erected upon it. The family moved from there to Duer street and Lincoln place, where the father died. George Van Vliet afterward lived on Prospect avenue, and when his wife passed away he removed to New York.

Mr. Van Vliet was prominent in Masonic circles and belonged to the Blue Lodge, the Royal Arch Masons, the Grand Council Royal and Select Masters, the Knight Templars, the Consistory of New York and the Mystic Shrine. He is survived by two brothers, Jeptha Van Vliet, of Newark, and Hinton Van Vliet, of New York, both of whom were educated in the local schools and left Plainfield in recent years.

LOVE'S TEST.

Where Her Great Help Was Needed Her Heart Was Willing.

"Professor," said the fair co-ed after a pause, "let me ask you if you ever use the phrase 'different than?'"

"Never!" exclaimed the young professor of rhetoric and English literature. "I exasperate me. Miss Pinkle, whenever I see it in print."

"I am glad we have something in common," she rejoined. "Nevertheless, Professor de Purey, I cannot be your wife."

"Mr. Koopong," asked the young woman, with downcast eyes, "now that I happen to think of it, do you ever use the phrase 'different than?'"

"I certainly do not," said the enamored capitalist. "It is not only incorrect, but utterly absurd."

"I am glad to hear you say so. Still, Mr. Koopong, it is useless to urge me. I never can be anything more to you than a friend."

"Let me ask your one question, Mr. Pnoodles," she said. "Do you ever use the phrase 'different than?'"

"Why—er—I presume I have used it carelessly sometimes. Miss P-Pinkle," stammered the embarrassed youth. "But now that you have called my attention to it I shall be careful to say 'different from' hereafter."

"Then I am yours!" she exclaimed, her hands ecstatically and gazing at him with soulful eyes, "my answer is yes—yes! You poor, dear boy, you need a helpmate, and I'll be the helpmate!"—Chicago Tribune.

Hat Raising In Germany.

The etiquette of hat raising in Germany is one of those things which may betray the foreigner into unintentional rudeness through sheer ignorance. A correspondent knows of a German lady who was puzzled and hurt by the conduct of an Englishman whom she had met before did not raise their hats to her in the street until the explanation came that she expected them to do it of their own accord by the German rule instead of waiting for them to recognize them first by the English. These differences of national etiquette are great pitfalls. A converse case was that of an Englishman staying in a German town who accompanied his host's wife to the door on leaving home, he gave her the inside of the pavement, according to English manners, but the host, who happened to see this, was rendered painfully suspicious by this unfamiliar attention.—London Chronicle.

A Pertinent Question.

A little English boy, according to a newspaper published in London, went some years ago to a dentist's to have some of his first teeth extracted. After they were out the little fellow felt very unhappy about his loss, when the dentist to comfort him said: "Oh, never mind about that; they'll come in again."

"In time for dinner?" asked the little boy, his face clearing.

Wanted the Earth.

She had been on the ocean three days and suffered the throes of seasickness all that time.

When all hope of relief had fled, one of those well-meaning nuisances came to her and asked her:

"Is there anything I can do for you? What do you want?"

"You can do nothing for me. I want the earth."

And she sincerely did.—Short Stories.

The Parrot Tongue.

A little girl had been in the habit for a long time of saying a prayer very morning in which were the two lines:

All through the day, I humbly pray,
Be thou my guard and guide.

MACHINIST KILLED BENEATH BIG PRESS

Caught in the Mechanism

John Patterson Has His Life Crushed Out.

AT THE SCOTT SHOP

Had Crawled Beneath to Chip Off Some Metal—Accident Unnerves His Fellow-Workmen.

Crushed to death between the grinding wheels of a huge press that he had crawled beneath to make repairs was the terrible fate that befell John Patterson, an expert machinist, at the Scott Press Works shortly before noon Saturday. He was busily chipping away at an obstructing piece of metal when in some manner the power belt was thrown on the machine and it began revolving without giving the slightest warning to the victim below. Almost before he had a chance to scream to his fellow-workmen the merciless wheels drew him between their cogs and crushed nearly every bone in his body.

Foreman Edward E. Wolverton and Frank Schuck, who were standing near by, jumped to the shafting and stopped the press but not in time to save Patterson's life. The two men, ignoring their own danger, immediately after had unravelled the mechanism and brought the body out. The sight caused many of the mechanics nearby to drop tools from their nerveless hands while others had to turn their heads.

Patterson was still breathing faintly when placed on the floor and hurry calls were sent for doctors, the ambulance and the police patrol. He died, however, almost before the messages had been given. The police vehicle and the latter arrived at the factory within a few minutes but there was nothing for them to do.

Patterson was forty years old and lived with his wife and two children on Netherwood avenue. He built a home for himself there a short time ago. He was familiarly known as "Jack" and had been employed at the Scott factory for a long time. He was a member of Edward Wolverton's lithograph gang and was a general favorite with the men in the shop. He also belonged to a number of local fraternal organizations. The body was removed to his home this afternoon and it is possible the county physician will conduct an investigation.

The shop officials immediately made a searching inquiry to learn if possible what had started the press. None of the other workmen threw the belt on and it is thought it must have slipped over from the vibrations of the pulley shaft. Incidents of this kind have been known to occur and it is generally accepted as the cause. The fatality took place at twenty minutes to twelve and so affected the machine shop that work was suspended for the day.

FRESH FISH AT SEA.

Steamship Amerika Has a Trout Pool For Epicures.

On a recent voyage of the steamship Amerika there was a novelty for the passengers. There were four tanks stocked with trout and carp on the deck, and the fish swam around until they fascinated some passenger, who told the steward which one he wanted, and then it was caught and cooked for him.

The fish were in charge of Ernest Marquandt. Dr. George L. Erlweis, an aquarist of Hamburg, had the task of keeping the fish healty, and all food were not eaten made the trip in good condition. The steward said that about 500 trout and 150 carp were sold on the voyage.

The tanks, big zinc affairs, filled with fresh water, are housed away up on the top of the ship, near the base of the smokestacks. The water is supplied with fresh oxygen by pumping it into the tops of little towers, where through punctures the fresh air comes in touch with it, and thus the trout are kept alive and jumping.

To Relieve the Dogs.

The medical department of Cornell University, which is located in New York city, in a handsome building erected by the generosity of Col. Oliver H. Payne, has decided to turn its attention to the cure of distemper in dogs, a disease which the college authorities declare has been too long overlooked in the scientific pursuit of others matters. An expert is to be engaged under the direction of three eminent medical men, and he will begin a thorough pursuit of the causes of the disease and the discovery of a remedy.

The Man—Do you consider the opal unlucky? The Maid—Well, if it's all the same to you, I would prefer a diamond.—Chicago News.

BOYS RIDE TRAIN ROOFS 24 DAYS

TWO YOUTHS ARRIVE AT CHICAGO FROM BUTTE, MONT., AFTER REMARKABLE TRIP.

TAKEN TO JUVENILE COURT

Assert Lurching Was Fierce at First —Coach Tops Give View of "Swell Guys" Inside—Prisoners Are 16 and 15 Years.

Chicago.—Two boys from Butte, Mont., who traveled the entire 1,500 miles to Chicago by climbing to the tops of passenger trains as they rushed along at 60 miles an hour, were taken before the juvenile court and told a remarkable story of long "hike" which lasted 24 days. The boys are Elmer Johnson, 16 years old, and Emmet Burke, 15 years old. They were taken up by Detectives Maher and Abbey.

"Yes, we rode the 'rods,'" said Johnson, who declared that he would now rather ride on the outside of a train than on the inside. We left Butte on July 20 and was all the time coming. Emmet wanted to come, so one night we packed up some lunch-eon and went down to the yards.

"A Northern Pacific train was just about to leave. We tackled the blind baggage, as that is the only car you can climb to the top on. It has a big wheel on the side. I gave Emmet a boost and then climbed up myself. We lay down on the vestibule top until it pulled out. At first we were scared and hung on for dear life. The lurching on top is something fierce and we almost got pitched off going round curves.

"From the blind baggage we would sometimes crawl back to the Pullmans on the rear. There are always lots of pipes on the tops of a Pullman a fellow can hold to. We could peek in through the ventilators and see the swell 'guys' sitting in there smoking and chewing the rag. Every once in a while a waiter would come in with a tray full of 'booze' and then they would all take a drink and laugh.

"Toward the end we got so we would crawl back to the Pullmans when the train started and look in at the people," continued the recounter. "Sometimes we would get over the dining car, and, say, that grub would smell good.

"The Lurching on Top Is Something Fierce."

"Coming down from Denver there was lots of slick-looking 'dolls.' In one of the cars there was a young-looking lady. She was awful thin and pale. There was a young 'guy' with her. I guess it was her husband. When we stopped at a water tank I heard him say: 'Wait till I get you home, Bess, and you will get better when you see your ma and pa. You'll get strong again and we can go to shows and have good times again.'

"The lady says, 'Do you think so, Jim? Sometimes I think that I will never be well again.' The young 'guy' got up saying he was going back to get a drink of water. He looked like he was crying to me. Soon after that the 'connie' saw us at the next stop and made us get down. He said he would 'run us in' for 'rods' if he caught us on top again.

"We stayed in that town 'bumming' grub until the next night, when we got one of the Burlington fast trains. Maybe we didn't go some. We had to hold on tight on that train for fair. Some times the train men would see us just as the train was pulling out, but too late to get at us.

"We could only ride at nights, because we trainmen could see on the top in the daylight. We would have to be careful, even at night when we would reach a big station. When we saw the lights of a town ahead we would crawl over on the dark side and crouch down so they could not see us.

"We rode the Northern Pacific to Billings and then took the Burlington to Alliance. From Alliance we went to Bridgeport and from there into Denver. From Denver we took the Union Pacific and worked into Kansas City. At that city we struck the Chicago & Alton and came into Chicago."

THE UNDERGRADE WON

Alumni Team Defeated by City High School Football Team.

NEW STYLE FOOTBALL PLAYED.

Double Forward Pass, Basketball Passing and Quarter-Back Run Makes Lighter Team Victorious.

Though outweighed many pounds to the man, the city high school football team clearly demonstrated the advantages of the open style of play on Hope Commons yesterday morning, scoring three touchdowns against a team made up of the younger alumni of the school by a combination of trick plays and forward passes. The score was 22 to 6. The opposing team played straight, line-bucking football and were repeatedly held for downs by the good defensive work of the undergraduate team, on which Loiseaux and Lyness broke up play after play.

The game was witnessed by a crowd of nearly 500 pupils of the school and enthusiasts of the game. The undergraduates played fast football from the whistle. They received the kickoff and the fourth time they lined up over the ball, Doane got the ball on a long forward pass and ran 25 yards for a touchdown. Phillips kicked the goal and when the alumni got together again the score was 6-0 against them and but three minutes of the time was gone.

Receiving the ball on the next kick-off, the alumni seven rushed it to the undergraduates' 2-yard line, where they were held for downs. They soon recovered it, for the school boys were forced to punt, and Jack Douglass went over the line after a series of smashing plays through the left wing. Flanders kicked the goal and the half ended soon afterwards with the score a tie.

But it was in the second half that the mystifying, basketball tactics of the undergraduates won the game. Time after time the forward pass was used, the ball hurled through the air eighteen or thirty yards at a time, was caught in each instance without a fumble, and the alumni team, and with them the old style of scholastic football, went down and out before the accuracy rather than the power of the opposing team. The alumni kicked off, and on the very first line-up, Doane got the ball by the air line and ran forty yards without interference for the schoolboys' second touchdown. The pass had been clear over the scrimmage line and he had a clear field ahead. But still the undergraduates weren't satisfied. With the score 11-6 in their favor, Loiseaux passed the ball to Murphey, and he threw it nearly twenty yards to Snyder, who ran the intervening thirty yards for the touchdown. The play, a double forward pass, was accurately executed, and caused a big uproar among the rooters; even the alumni could not help commending the play. Phillips missed the goal, and the alumni braced up and had the ball see-sawing up and down the field for many minutes. There was lots of punting, and finally Loiseaux, took the ball at quarter-back, and ran sixty yards for still another touchdown. Phillips kicked the goal.

After this, the high school put in several substitutes and, the teams had a punting contest until time was called. The line-up and summaries:

H. S.—Doane, Snyder, le; Fountain, Lyness, lt; Morris, Sewell, lg; Titsworth, c; Fleming, rg; Hammond, rt; Phillips, re; Loiseaux (captain), Riffert, quarter-back; Hagaman, Caldwell, Smalley, rhb; Murphey, lhb; Lyness, Bingaman, fb.

P. H. S. Alumni—Rockwell, Todd, le; Todd, Eckert, lt; Arthur Loiseaux, lg; Leggett, c; Shrager, rg; Bogart, rt; Bentley, re; Flanders, qb; Mahaffey, lhb; Douglass (captain), fb.

Referee—Roy Phillips. Umpire—A. Willis West. Timer—Paul Collier. Linesmen—Burke and Runyon. 20 and 25 minutes halves.

TOWNSHIP CANDIDATE SPOKE.

Despite the heavy downpour of rain Saturday night the Township Improvement Society meeting held at Berkeley Heights was well attended. Frank C. Shaffer, the president of the society, in opening up the meeting said that the society is not a political organization, but was composed of a majority of the voters of the township Republicans and Democrats, the object of the special meeting was to discuss thoroughly the matter of electric lights, reducing the number of the board of education from nine to three, and the readjustment of the assessments of the township.

William Jeffery explained the vital points of these matters very carefully in a 45-minute speech, and was stopped several times by long and united applause. Of the two candidates for membership of the Township Committee, Henry S. Fullerton, Republican, was the only one to show up. He had to drive over two miles in the heavy rain, arriving a little after nine o'clock. Mr. Fullerton, in an address to the society, stated that it has always been his policy to keep the tax rate as low as possible, but that if the voters want electric lights, they felt the same way as he, for he wants them and will do everything he can to facilitate the early installation of the same in the township, after the people had voted for an appropriation.

Resolutions were passed unanimously thanking Mr. Fullerton for declaring himself on up-to-date matters, and promising him the support of the society. Two other resolutions were passed, one that the number of the board of education be reduced from nine to three, the other resolution was that the assessments of the township for the purposes of taxation be readjusted, and that William Jeffrey was appointed a committee to see the assessor and the county board and report the proper and direct way to accomplish the same.

Among the throng who attended the reception of the New York Water Color Club given Friday evening in the Fine Arts building was George Wharton Edwards, of Franklin place.

ONE PICTURE

Framed here will prove to you how well and inexpensively we can do the work. Oval and round frames in all sizes.

ARTIST SUPPLIES

Winsor and Newton celebrated paints and brushes for oil and water color painting.

PYROGRAPHIC GOODS

A large variety of designed goods, outfits and special parts.

Plainfield Art Store,

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Vail

JEWELER AND OPTICIAN

103 Park Ave.,

calls your attention to his

Rimless Glasses.

They Look Good and You See Good.

There Is Great Satisfaction

in buying Pure, Fresh Groceries the kind you are sure of obtaining when you purchase of W. W. Dunn, the Park Grocer.

All the finest brands of Canned Vegetables, Canned Meats, Teas, Coffees, Crackers and Fresh Fruits in season, at prices that are not too high.

W. W. DUNN,

THE PARK GROCER.

Duer St. and Line Av. Pl.

Go to the News Stand

at the Central Railroad Station for all the latest foreign and domestic Magazines and weekly periodicals. Numbers furnished on shortest notice.

Plainfield Daily Press

and all the New York and Philadelphia morning, evening and Sunday papers delivered to any part of the city. Under new management. Open Sundays.

F. M. WAGNER

Formerly of Jersey City News Stand.

We have made arrangements for a large supply of first class milk and are giving the family trade our special attention. If you are not satisfied with the milk or the services you are getting give us a trial.

Price 9 cents a quart, 5 cents a pint. Cream 14 cents ½ pint.

Lindsay's Dairy,

965 West Front St.

TEL. 792-J.

STORAGE—Best equipped and oldest for storing Furniture, Pianos, etc. Special floor for PIANOS. Vans reasonable. All work promptly attended.

WRITE OR TELEPHONE 911-L.

"Orders left at Cowperthwait's."

C. M. NAGLE,

Front and Grove Sts. Plainfield, N. J.

J. W. VAN SICKLE

122 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Fresh and Salted Meats.

Game in season. Philadelphia Scrapple. Orders called for and delivered promptly.

Telephone No. 468-J.

GUSSOW BROS.

NEW YORK

Ladies' and Gents' Tailoring.

We do Cleaning, Pressing and Altering. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

136 PARK AVE JEFFERY B'LD'G

Cleaning, Pressing and Dyeing.

Monthly Contracts.

Pressing called for and delivered. EVENING DRESSES A SPECIALTY. Ladies' Waists Cleaned. 25 cents up-Gents' Suits Cleaned $1.50

We do our own work at

M. A. Brown's, 218 West Second St.

McCULLOUGH'S STEAM MILL,

21 Steiner Place, North Plainfield, N. J.

R. H. McCULLOUGH, Prop.

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing, Turning, etc.

Estimates cheerfully furnished.

Chas. L. Stanley,

120 East Front St., 'Phone 922

Headquarters for choice Cut Flowers and Potted Plants. Floral design work a specialty.

Store, 1120 South Ave.

COWPERTHWAIT AND VAN HORN CO.

ESTABLISHED 1860 INCORPORATED 1902

FURNITURE CARPETS BEDDING

STOVES AND REFRIGERATORS.

(8)

Use our "New Process" if you want your carpets thoroughly cleaned

A Guaranteed, Worthy, Thoroughly Satisfying Machine

"The Old Reliable Sewing Machine"

A machine that's all its name implies—the successful product of years of study by one of America's leading manufacturers. Unmatched for its light running, serviceable and enduring qualities. Sews speedily, continuously, correctly—"down to date" in every imaginable improvement. Four distinct models—all "drop-heads;" three of them automatic; golden oak.

The regular $22.00 model of "Old Reliable"

Special at

$16.48

Cash or Credit

Also Full Line of The White Automatic Lift Sewing Machines

There's no finer, no better planned, more perfectly constructed machine in the field to-day. Made in both rotary and vibrating shuttle models—simple, durable shuttle driving mechanism, largle double feed, allowing goods to feed without guidance; speed the highest (over five stitches to one foot movement), ball bearings. Four models—all automatic drop-heads—highly polished golden oak. Cash or credit.

$45.00, 48.00, 52.00, 55.00

EASY CREDIT TERMS.

COWPERTHWAIT AND VAN HORN CO.

73 MARKET STREET NEWARK, N. J.

SMALLEY BROS.

147 North Ave.

BUTCHERS

Our Specialty, Berkshire Pork Try Our Berkshire Sausage Made on Premises.

Roasting and Broiling Chickens a Specialty.

Orders called for and delivered.

Telephone 83-A. 5 1 tf

J. C. POPE & CO.,

INSURANCE AGENTS,

110 E. Front St., Plainfield, N. J.

A. H. ENANDER,

Sanitary Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Steam and Hot Water Heating. Contractor for Sewer Connections.

125 Watchung Av. Rear.

L. Moraller & Son,

Watchmakers and Jewelers.

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Fine Watch and Clock Repairing a Specialty.

219 Park Ave. Plainfield, N. J

JOHN WINZENREID,

Furniture and Freight Express.

Moving Vans and Storage.

215 Leo Place. 'Phone 868-R

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING CO.

Housecleaning—Offices, stores and private residences. Service day or night. Furniture, china and glassware packed for shipping.

WM. A. KLINE, 611 W. 3d St.

JOHN A. KOCH.

Dealer in

Meats, Poultry, Fish, Oysters, etc.

226 Richmond Street.

Orders Called For and Delivered.

GUSTAVE HOFFMAN.

SEAFOOD.

Daily shipments at 329 West Front Street. Tel. 968.

TITUS H. LAURY

MASON AND BUILDER.

Office, 323 East Front Street.

Tile Setting, Mantel & Fron Work.

Telephone 464-L.

WHY pay rent all your life when you can get a house on easy payments; I have a secret and if you will call on me I will give it to you; now I am selling lots on instalments on West Third and Fourth streets, Hunter and Evona avenues; give me a call. M. F. Gano, 142 North Ave.

TURKISH BATHS!

TRY ONE

Ladies, morning. Gentlemen, afternoon. Take valley to Sanitarium. Somerset Street.

William H. Pope,

ELECTRICIAN.

All kinds of electrical work done. Reasonable prices.

116 NORTH AVENUE.

William H. Kirch

CARPENTER AND BUILDER

66 DUER STREET N. PLAINFIELD

Estimates cheerfully given.

Jobbing promptly attended to. Tel. 468-J

ALEX. LUSARDI,

Foreign and Domestic Fruits, Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc.

211 W. Front St. Tel. 507-W.

Meat Market.

Choice Meats, Poultry, Fish and Oysters always on hand. Sugar cured Corned Beef. International Hams and Bacon

F. Neidig, 94 Somerset St.

Telephone 281

E. B. Maynard's

Tonsorial Parlors. Electrical Manure for face and hair. Porcelain work. Children's Hair Cutting a specialty.

Tel. No. 724-R.

141 NORTH AVENUE.

JOHN WIRTH

(Successor to Henry Liefke.)

Bakery and Confectionery.

201-203 West Front St. Tel. No. 723.

All orders delivered at short notice.

HOAGLAND'S CITY EXPRESS BAGGAGE

Trucks and Vans for Furniture and Local Trucking.

OFFICE 205 PARK AVE.

Tel. 833-W. Residence Tel. 648-L.

REAL ESTATE

Bought, Sold and For Rent.

J. SACHAR,

731 WEST THIRD STREET.

DRUGGISTS.

ONE DOSE IN TIME

of our

White Pine Balsam Compound

may save a horrible Winter's cold. It's better to have a reliable remedy at hand for use when you need it. This is the season for colds and our White Pine Balsam Compound is extensively used for it.

C. M. NAGLE'S PHARMACY,

Prescriptions Our Specialty.

Front and Grove Streets. 'Phone 911-L.

Complete Line of

REXALL

Goods at

MILLER'S PHARMACY

Park Ave. & 4th St. Tel. 208-1

Hodge's Pharmacy.

Y. M. C. A. Building.

BELLE MEAD SWEETS.

Tel. 62.

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF

EAST FRONT STREET

HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.

Gottfried Krüger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private Dining-Room.

HOTEL KENSINGTON

(Licensed.)

J. H. STAATS Prop.

107-109-111 North Avenue

Everything New and Up-to-date. An Inspection solicited.

HOTEL IROQUOIS

J. W. LEARY Proprietor

Headquarters. Plainfield, N. J.

Pabst Milwaukee Beer on draft.

SUNDAY DINNERS SPECIAL FEATURE

REAL ESTATE

RENTALS — REAL ESTATE.

GEO. F. BROWN,

Insurance and Real Estate

Commissioner of Deeds—Rents

94 Somerset St. Phone 160.

J. HIMMELFARB,

Ladies' Tailoring and Dressmaking. Altering and Remodelling neatly done.

Habits a specialty.

Perfect fit guaranteed

Call and See Fall Models.

311 New St., near Truell Court.

Tel. 903-J.

HENRY WIERENGA

Residence 'Phone 517-J.

Furniture, Freight, Baggage Express and Rigger.

PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY.

5 1 tf

Try a box of

DOBBINS' CIGARS.

Clear Havana Nickle Yara or any time that you desire. Manufactured at 120 North avenue, opposite Kenilworth Hotel, Plainfield, N. J

STATIONERY AND TOYS.

HARPER,

411 PARK AVENUE.

Kindling and Grate Wood.

Cedar Posts and Rose Poles. Prompt delivering. Yard located at 69 Somerset St.

JOHN MOBUS,

P. O. Box 126.

H. J. HAROLD

Piano Tuned and Regulated.

Tel. 445-R. Res. 162 E. 6th St.

J. NEUSTADT,

MERCHANT TAILOR.

Ladies' Tailoring a Specialty.

Cleaning, Pressing, Altering at Lowest Prices.

Work Called For and Delivered.

Formerly with R. A. Risley, Fifth Avenue, New York.

430 Watchung Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Telephone 668-W.

YOU WILL NEVER BUY A HOME WITH MONEY PAID FOR RENT IN THE PAST.

START NOW TO

OWN A HOME

your home by taking out shares in

THE CENTRAL

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

OF PLAINFIELD

J. F. MacDonald, Sec'y.

Smalley Building, 149 North Ave.

Mountain House,

Mt. Bethel, N. J.

FRENCH RESTAURANT

Resort for Automobilists and Driving Parties

A. E. BINZ, Prop.

township, after the people had voted for an appropriation.

Resolutions were passed unanimously thanking Mr. Fullerton for declaring himself on up-to-date matters, and promising him the support of the society. Two other resolutions were passed, one that the number of the board of education be reduced from nine to three, the other resolution was that the assessments of the township for the purposes of taxation be readjusted, and that William Jeffrey was appointed a committee to see the assessor and the county board and report the proper and direct way to accomplish the same.

Among the throng who attended the reception of the New York Water Color Club given Friday evening in the Fine Arts building was George Wharton Edwards, of Franklin place.

Boynton Square Pot Furnaces

The latest and most important improvement in furnace construction is the patent Square Pot used exclusively in Boynton Furnaces and making them the most easily operated, the most economical, the most efficient heaters in the world.

The Square Pot, unlike the old-fashioned round pot, has a grate area equal to that of the ashes, cleaning as well at the sides as in the middle.

The walls are perpendicular, hence no clinging, resulting in quicker and more sensitive combustion, less waste of fuel, and a constantly active radiation.

Grate bars of equal length and motion; the ash pit as square and deep—everything is designed to reduce your work to a minimum.

Settle the heating question at once by letting your plumber, steam-fitter or tinsmith show you what the square pot means to you. Found only in Boyntons.

There are BOYNTON heating plans of all kinds. Ask about our Round or Sectional Boilers for steam or hot water. Also ranges.

THE BOYNTON FURNACE COMPANY, 207-209 Water Street, New York.

Students' Eyes

Take care of them. Don't neglect the first symptoms of eye trouble. Children's eyes should be most carefully examined if there is any kind of defective vision, headache or eye strain after school work.

Our work is careful, thorough and guaranteed.

Free Examination By

STILES & CO.,

Philadelphia Eye Specialist.

At 105 East Front Street,

Every Thursday.

Hours, 11 to 4:30.

1908 CADILLAC CARS

Runabouts - $800

Touring Cars - $950

4 Cyl. Cars - $2,000

A. C. THOMPSON AUTO CO.

413 Park Ave. Tel. 991-J

60 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST

VOL. XXXIX PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1907. NO. 47.

"Support the Constitution, which is the Cement of the Union, as well in its Limitations as in its Authorities."—Madison.

SACRIFICE FOR FREEDOM

S. S. Swackhamer Lauds the American Soldier to the G. A. R. Men.

AT LOCAL VETERANS' MEETING.

Captain William Hand Chairman of the Affair—Refreshments are Served.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 23, G. A. R., entertained its friends last night when a special program of music, vocal and instrumental, together with an excellent address by former Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer, combined to make the occasion one of much enjoyment. There was a large gathering of people, including a delegation of veterans from Uriel Dubigren Post, G. A. R., and the Women's Relief Corps, of Elizabeth.

Captain William Hand was chairman of the committee on entertainment, and took charge of the program. There was vocal and instrumental selections by Mrs. John Manley and Miss May Smith, and duets by Mrs. Manley and Captain William C. Smith, who sang "Marching Through Georgia," with much enthusiasm, the audience joining in the chorus.

The principal feature of the evening was the patriotic address by Mr. Swackhamer, and after the entertainment the members of the Women's Relief Corps served refreshments. A social time followed.

Mr. Swackhamer spoke as follows:

"Life is a short reality. Death is a dark and universal fact which cannot be abolished. The world is a vast theatre on which we play our part and pass on. The individual grows old and dies but the race is ever young. America is the garden of the Gods, tilled by the greatest people that the sun shines upon. The Anglo-Saxon race, speaking the English language under the American flag, is one of the greatest human family and dominate the world.

"The force that presses behind the advancing lines of civilization; the power that moves the world, is not physical, but moral. It has its seat in the mind, in the will, in the conscience. The strength of the government is not in its army and navy, its guns and magazines, and military science, but in the moral and spiritual quality of its citizenship. The fathers of the republic were dominated by the vision of glory but were thirsting for civil and religious liberty. For this the Pilgrim fathers sailed the wintry sea and faced the pitiless tomahawk and the savage wilderness. For this the Sage of Monticello penned the immortal declaration; for this Franklin pleaded with matchless eloquence at the Court of France; for this Washington and the Continental farmers endured the agonies of Valley Forge and left bloody footprints on the ice and snows of New Jersey; for this the boys of '61 marched proudly away under the flaunting flags keeping time to the grand, wild music of war; marched down the streets of the great cities, through the towns and across the prairies, down to the fields of glory, to do and to die for the eternal right.

"We are told that among the finest monuments of Europe is that which is found in the beautiful valley of Lucerne, to the memory of the Swiss Guard who fell around Louis the 16th, when the furious mob had stormed his palace. Placed in a niche of limestone cliff on which it forms a part, a lion pierced with a spear still holds in his death grip the shield on which are carved the arms of the Bourbon. Few works of art, it is said, are more majestic or more fully show the hand of the master; but it is courage only that it honors, and you wonder at the power which has so ennobled and dignified it when the great idea of patriotism is wanting. The Swiss about it commemorate nobly did bravely the work which they had contracted to do when the subjects of the King, whose bread they had eaten and whose wine they had drank, deserted him. But the Union soldier was brave for a nobler cause and was actuated by a higher motive.

"A man may be courgeous and brave the lightnings of war when animated by the hope of glory or the thirst for imperial sway. Hannibal could brave the icy solitudes and the slippery perils of the Alps and venture so close to the eternal city as to cast his sword over her walls, for he knew that to conquer the Mistress of the World would place his name high on the scroll of fame. Caesar could endure the fatigues of the march and smile at the battle axe on the ragged edge of war, for he was allured by the glister of the Diadem. Alexander could suffer what it meant to conquer the world for the price of universal dominion, and Bonaparte could defy the allied armies of Europe and court grim death in a thousand hideous forms so long as he

(Continued on page 8.)

DEFEATED NOMINEE TO DEFEATED ASPIRANT

In the scrap book of one hundred campaigns treasured by James E. Martine was added today a letter from Frank S. Katzenbach, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, who thanks the "farmer-orator" for his magnificent and magnanimous efforts during his campaign. The scrap book in question contains tributes to Jim written at various times by William Jennings Bryan, Samuel J. Randall, Charles W. Towne, James Smith, Jr., William C. Whitney and countless other sages of Jeffersonian principles.

"I shall never be able to repay you," says Mr. Katzenbach, "for the splendid work you did for me in the recent campaign. It is my earnest wish that I may have the honor of being your life-long friend. No man was more zealous in my behalf and I deeply appreciate the self-sacrifice that you did for me."

Mr. Katzenbach defeated Mr. Martine for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination but be it added, James E. Martine took off his coat and did his utmost to help the party's nominee.

WEDDING ENDS COURTSHIP BEGUN IN FATHERLAND

A friendship began in Germany several months ago and which quickly ripened into love, resulted yesterday in the marriage of John Klassen, a well known machinist, and Miss Selma Schorler, who came from the Fatherland last week. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock in the afternoon by Justice Hezekiah Hand at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schempp, of Manning avenue. Only a few intimate friends were in attendance but last night a large gathering tendered the couple a reception.

Mr. Klassen and Mr. Schempp recently took a trip to Germany for a visit to their old home and while there they met Miss Schorler at a social gathering in their honor. She was then planning a trip to America and a comparison of notes showed that she and the Plainfielders had engaged passage on the same steamer. The three became fast friends and when the boat reached New York last week Miss Schorler and Klassen had agreed that it was to meet again in the near future.

The young woman came to Plainfield yesterday to visit other friends and was met by Klassen. They suddenly made up their minds to be married at once and the arrangements were quickly made. Mr. and Mrs. Schempp acted as the attendants. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Klassen will reside on Manning avenue. The groom was at one time employed by Henry Haurand and more recently was a motorman on the local trolley lines.

CONGRESS MEETING OF LOCAL CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

The November congress meeting of the Plainfield Christian Endeavor Union will be held at the Congregational church tomorrow night. Members of the lookout committees of the various societies of the union will attend and Christian Endeavorers from local churches will be present at the meeting. The Girls' Mission Club of the church will serve a supper in the church parlors at 6:30.

The religious program of the evening will begin at 7 o'clock, when an hour will be devoted to open discussion of the work in this city. From 8 to 8:30 there will be a discussion of the work of the various lookout committees, in charge of Fred Loundsbury, Jr., chairman of the lookout committee of the local union. From 8:30 to 9, the formal session of the congress will be held, which will conclude the services.

Supporting a College Student.

For the purpose of raising funds with which to support a young woman student a sale of fancy and useful articles was held yesterday and today at the Seventh-Day Baptist church. Mrs. Mabel Titsworth was the chairman of the committee in charge and in connection with the sale an informal tea was held. Liberal patronage was accorded and it is believed that a satisfactory sum will be realized.

Baraca Class Meets.

The monthly business meeting of the Baraca Class of Park chapel was held last night. Routine business was transacted with despatch, and the meeting adjourned early to enable all the members to attend the anniversary services at the West End Tabernacle.

It Snowed This Morning.

What seemed to be a light, cold drizzle swept the faces of pedestrians early this morning. Soon after midnight a drizzle changed to snow.

PLUMS IN LEGISLATURE

Hillery, Senate President; Thompson House Speaker; Robbins Senate Leader.

FIGHT FOR THE CLERKSHIP.

Parker and Jefferies Two Leaders for Job—Democrats Conspicuous By Their Absence.

The State House at Trenton was the scene of a large gathering of political leaders, workers and members-elect of the next Legislature yesterday. The principal topic of talk was the probable organization of the two houses when the members convene on Tuesday, January 14. The air was full of deals, so far as the Assembly is concerned, but there was nothing definite arranged. Matters were put in such shape, however, that a week from today the names of the next Assembly officials will probably be settled upon.

The Republican leaders have not confessed their selections, but the most prominent of the managers were supposed to have their favorites.

William P. Martin came down with a number of the Assemblymen from Essex. Among the Assemblymen were Dalrymple, of the Republican County Committee, Austin Colgate and Henry Hines. They were understood to voice the sentiments of the entire delegation of eleven in favor of Martin for Speaker. Martin himself prefers to be the Republican leader on the floor, but will make the fight for Speaker if his friends desire him to run.

John R. Moxon, one of Union county's trio, is also a candidate for the Speakership but the story that United States Senator John Kean is behind him is not true.

John D. Prince, of Passaic, who is one of the professors of Columbia University, is a candidate, and is being boomed by Vivian M. Lewis. Prince seems to have a number of members, and was recognized as a leading candidate for Speaker. Professor Henry D. Thompson, of Princeton University, who is an Assemblyman from Mercer county, was moving around, working for the Speakership also. He has written letters asking for votes to all the members of the House of Assembly and it is believed that he is the "slate" candidate.

Thompson is said to be the personal choice for Speaker of United States Senator Frank O. Briggs. Frank B. Jess, of Camden, is understood to be the favorite for Speaker of many of the South Jersey members. There was a good deal of talk about a deal between Jess and Prince by which Pince is to be Speaker and Jess leader of the House. The latest announcement for Speaker was made late yesterday afternoon. The situation so far as Prince is concerned was complicated somewhat toward night by the entrance of James Parker, of Passaic, as a candidate for clerk. Parker has been the clerk through a great many Republican administrations and is popular.

It is a rule that the Speaker and clerk cannot come from the same county. Should Parker be successful, therefore, Prince would have to abandon the ambition to be Speaker. If Parker is not made clerk, the post will probably go to Upton S. Jefferies, editor of "The Camden Post-Telegram." Jefferies was the assistant clerk for many years when the Republicans were in control of the House.

Senator Thomas J. Hillery, of Morris, seems to be slated for President of the Senate, and Senator Samuel N. Robbins, of Burlington, seems to be slated for Republican leader on the floor of the Senate, without any opposition.

There were very few Democrats around the corridors yesterday, and they had no idea as to the part they would take in the organization. The investigation of the State House, which was slated for today, has been postponed, and will probably be continued during Thanksgiving week.

Luncheon for Miss Brokaw.

In honor of Miss Elsie Brokaw, whose marriage to Arthur Dunham Stout will be celebrated at the First Baptist church, Tuesday night, November 26, a luncheon was given at the Park Club, yesterday. The affair was arranged by Miss Sarah Mae Howell and Miss Marion McCutcheon. The decorations were green. Those present were Miss Elsie Brokaw, Miss Sarah Mae Howell, Miss Marion McCutcheon, Miss Mary Valiant, Miss Stout, Mrs. Clifford W. McGee, Mrs. A. B. Laing, Mrs. Edward T. Wilson, Mrs. Alexander Milne, Miss Sophie Barlow, Miss Helen Phillips, Mrs. William Roome, Miss Curtis and Mrs. William R. Faber.

—Levy Bros.' annual mill-end sale Saturday. 11 13 2 ***

GALA TIME FOR K. OF C.

Novel Features Mark Their Annual Entertainment and Reception.

REV. FATHER BOGAN "SPEAKS."

Phonograph Tells What Priest Has to Say On "Columbianism" —Unique Refreshments.

Replete with novel features, the members of Watchung Council, No. 552, Knights of Columbus, and their women friends enjoyed the annual entertainment and reception in the council rooms last night. The affair was in charge of Lecturer Andrew E. Kenney and was one of the most successful the organization has ever conducted.

In the early part of the evening, a program was rendered comprising Irish folk songs and a lecture on their origin by Mrs. Helen O'Donnell, accompanied on the piano by Mr. O'Donnell; songs in Italian and English by Signor Antonio, of New York, and Chinese songs sung to American airs by Lee Wong, also of New York. All of the numbers were highly enjoyable and each one of the contributors was encored repeatedly.

Another novel feature was an address on "Columbianism" by Rev. Father Bogan, only it was given from a phonograph record supposed to have been taken while the reverend father was talking in his sleep. Father Bogan was in attendance at the gathering and was called upon to speak. By prearrangement he declared that he had been taking a nap when Mr. Kenney called at the rectory to ask him to make an address and he had not had time to prepare it. The phonograph was then turned on and the speech was given just the same. Another record gave the audience an idea of the oratory Arthur H. Cannon uses in exhorting the members not to neglect the dues and advance the cause of the order. Both records were remarkably clear and very good all through.

With the program concluded, refreshments of chop suey and green tea, prepared by Lee Wong, who conducts a chop suey establishment on Seventh avenue, New York, were served. They were brought out by five members of the council dressed as Chinamen and so complete was their "make-up" that nearly everyone believed them to be genuine Orientals. The waiters were John J. Carty, J. J. Varley, Wilbur Shaefer, M. J. Monohan and A. E. LaPorte.

The affair was arranged by Mr. Kenney and the original features were the result of his planning. He was assisted in carrying them out by the five waiters, who acted as committeemen.

WEST END TABERNACLE OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY.

The first anniversary of the West End Tabernacle was celebrated last night with a program of special interest. The service was largely attended by members and members of the tabernacle. The program was opened with an instrumental selection by an orchestra. F. C. Lounsbury, Jr., read the Scriptures, after which Frank Stewart briefly described the growth of the society since the first meeting which was the commencement of the religious work in the West End of the city.

The original building, fifteen feet square, was the subject of a few remarks by U. H. Crane and Gilbert Van Nest. "Obstacles in the Way," was the subject assigned to Percy Cannon. Robert Lee spoke on "Removal," and Miss Florence Scriven presented the report of the Ladies' Aid Society, showing what it has accomplished during the year.

This program was followed by a social hour, during which Miss Anna Bowden recited "What the Little Girl Said;" a vocal solo by William Hartley; a recitation, "Poppy Land Express," by Miss Grace Taylor; vocal solo, "The Solo I Heard One Sunday Morn," by Miss Florence Scriven. The entertainment concluded with the presentation of birthday bags and the reciting of appropriate verses by Miss Helen Taylor. Refreshments were served by a committee of women.

Miss Bessie Reynolds Weds.

Miss Bessie Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Reynolds, of Church street, and Remson Reid, of Elizabeth, were married in New York yesterday after which they returned to this city, where they will remain for a short time. Later they will reside in New York. The bride is well known here, formerly being employed in a West Front street store.

—Fine table and cooking apples are a feature of Neuman Brothers' fruit and vegetable display. They have an especially nice lot of Kings, Baldwins, Snows and greenings.

—Levy Bros.' annual mill-end sale Saturday. 11 13 2 ***

'WIRELESS WIZARD' TALKS

Lee DeForest Explains Wireless Telegraphy and Telephony.

AT CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH.

The Pacific Squadron Will Use De Forest's System, Which the Government Has Officially Adopted.

Modern wireless communication, as recently perfected by scientists through the means of wireless telegraphy and wireless telephony, was explained and illustrated by Lee De Forest, who spoke before the Men's Club of the Crescent Avenue church last night. Mr. De Forest, who is a graduate of Sheffield scientific school, of Yale, was a classmate with L. R. Hopton, member of the executive committee of the local club, in the class of 1896. Since then he has been making a special study of wireless communication, and has perfected a wireless telegraph system slightly different from Marconi's. He has also done much work in the field of wireless telephony, and has finally perfected this means of carrying the human voice without wires.

Introduced by his classmate, L. R. Hopton, Mr. De Forest spoke at the start of the work he has been doing during recent years. "When Admiral Bob Evans' fleet leaves next month to go to the Pacific," he said, "sixteen battleships and twenty-four of the torpedo boats and auxiliaries will be equipped for wireless communication. Each of the big ships will have both telegraph and telephone instruments, and the smaller boats will be fitted with the telephone instruments. The apparatus for telephoning will be on the bridge of the flagship, so that "Fighting Bob" Evans, admiral of the fleet, can communicate with all the vessels by telephone, without raising his voice any louder than you would to talk to a friend in Albany by the long distance wires."

The system installed by the government on the war ships is that on which Mr. De Forest has been working, and the speaker explained in full his work along the lines of wireless communication. The theory of wireless telegraphy is antithetically different from that of wireless telephony, in telegraphing there is no electrical disturbance in the air except that made in the transmission of the message, while in telephoning without wires the ether is in wave motion all the time with a powerful electrical disturbance, which is varied to more or less intensity by the voice vibrations.

In wireless telegraphy, the electrical spark is used to form electric waves, and is produced by an alternating current. The initial voltage is about 110 volts and the current, and this is made much greater—up to 25,000 volts—by conduction coils. The current waves, formed by the dots and dashes of the Morse code or an electrically connected telegraph key, are led aloft on a pole from the spark cap and radiate in all directions with the speed of light. The receiving station is equipped with a so-called coherer, which gives off the impulses in Morse code from the electrical wave disturbance in the ether. The sound waves, travelling in all directions, are long vertically and the pole is used to gather as great a part of the wave as possible. If a short wire were used, there would probably not be as complete a transmission of the message.

In wireless telephony, ether is again used as the transmitting element, but in this case there is a continuous succession of sparks, produced by an alternating current, sending wave vibrations at the rate of 200,000 vibrations a second in every direction. Thus the ether is constantly disturbed by the electrical wave vibrations. In telephony as in telegraphy, a complimentary current travels along the ground or the surface of the water, as well as in the air. A resistence point is placed in this surface current, and a microphone telephone receiver is there installed. The receiver is more sensitive than for wire transmission, and oscillating carbons, the nucleus of the transmission by the voice, are used, varying in their arc according to the adjustment of the condensing coil. At the present stage of science Mr. De Forest has perfected the instrument for use in a ten mile radius so that individual voices may be recognized as by telephone and music may be clearly transmitted. At the present rate of perfection, he forecasts that within a year there will probably be perfected transmission over a radius of fifty miles.

The system perfected by Mr. De Forest was used by the Japanese war vessels in the Russian war with great success, and has been accepted by the United States government and installed on the nation's war vessels. The government has adapted a wave length of 425 metres for use in trans-

(Continued on page 8.)

TROLLEY CAR AND BRICK WAGON COLLIDE

Main line trolley car, No. 23, bound east on West Front street at 5:15 this morning, collided with a brick wagon from the Hand yard at Waynewood place. Michael Mendel, the driver of the vehicle, was pitched headlong into the street but escaped with a badly wrenched arm. Patrolman James Flatley, who was riding on the front platform of the car on his way to police headquarters, was thrown against the vestibule and emerged from the wreckage with several slight lacerations. The motorman, Solomon Starks, was severely shaken up but was not hurt.

Blame for the accident has not been placed as both Mendel and Starks disclaim responsibility. The motorman claims the rig was proceeding ahead of him and turned suddenly to cross the tracks when he was directly upon it. Mendel denies attempting to cross the tracks and says that the car came upon him without any warning and he did not know of its nearness until the crash occurred.

The wagon was badly damaged but the horses escaped injury.

"SPIEL" WALSH SHOT BY CARELESS HUNTER

Starting out early Monday morning for a three days' hunting trip in Hunterdon county, a party of five Plainfielders had their sport interrupted by a serious accident that befell one of them yesterday and in which he had a narrow escape from death.

While the five men were tramping through the woods about four miles from Flemington, John J. Walsh, of Madison avenue, better known among his friends as "Spiel," walked toward a clump of bushes believing it sheltered some game. He was in the act of poking into the twigs and leaves when a strange hunter on the other side shot at a rabbit directly toward him. The greater part of the shot entered Walsh's legs and abdomen and he dropped to the ground in a helpless condition.

The other members of the party, Sergeant Herbert Overbaugh, of the local police force; William Feiring, Frank Day and Harry Hicks, were some distance away when the accident occurred but they hurried up in response to the calls of the hunter who had fired the gun. They improvised a stretcher and took turns in carrying Walsh to the nearest farm house. Arriving there a wagon was pressed into service to get him to Flemington and the journey was then continued to this city by train.

Walsh is one of the most enthusiastic hunters and anglers in the city and enjoys hunting trips at all times of the year, especially at the opening of the rabbit season. The party of five had planned an extensive junket but decided to return home as soon as Walsh became disabled. They left here at 6 o'clock, and after they bagged fifty rabbits and a quantity of other game.

The careless hunter who caused the trouble hurried away in the excitement and his name was not procured.

J. E. Martine An Appraiser.

Justice Swayzey has appointed James E. Martine, J. Wilson Cline and J. M. Meeker to appraise lands affected by the Baltusrol Railroad Company. The first meeting will be held on November 15 at Baltusrol. The land in question is to be taken by the company for the operation of the road and Justice Swayzey has named three commissioners to determine the value of the property.

Pupil's Bike Stolen.

Somebody "pinched" a bicycle belonging to one of the city high school boys from the school building yesterday morning during school hours. The loss was discovered when school was dismissed at 4 o'clock, and the police have been informed, but there are as yet no clues to the disappearance. The wheel was a Barnes' "White Flyer," with black frame and white rims.

Designed Association Building.

Evarts Tracy, of this city, of the well-known firm of architects of Tracy & Swartout, was the architect for the handsome new Y. M. C. A. building nearly completed at Stamford, Conn. The cost of the structure is $175,000 and is considered one of the most attractive of the many association buildings.

How's This?

John Schenck, of the borough, has returned from a successful hunting trip in Hunterdon county. He captured a fine specimen of the silver gray fox and in addition he and three companions shot forty rabbits.

—Levy Bros.' annual mill-end sale Saturday. 11 13 2 ***

UNION FORT'S BY 891

Pierce High Man on Assembly Ticket Which Runs Ahead of Governorship.

BIG MAJORITY FOR PARROT.

Republican Surrogate at 1,300 More Than His Opponent—The Official Returns in Detail.

Official returns from the Union County Board of Elections shows that J. Franklin Fort, Republican candidate for Governor, received 10,713 votes and Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., the Democratic candidate, 9,822, giving the former a plurality of 891. The average plurality for the Republican Assembly ticket was 908, seventeen ahead of that for Governor. Carlton B. Pierce was the high man on the Republican Assembly ticket, polling 10,822 votes. John R. Moxon was second with 10,791 and A. F. Kirstein third with 10,654.

The other vote for the several candidates for Governor was as follows:

Kraft, Socialist, 490; Mason, Prohibition, 119; Butterworth, Socialist Labor, 93.

The vote given the candidates for surrogate follows:

Parrot, Republican, 11,005; Gibby, Democrat, 9,621; Snyder, Socialist, 482; Massett, Prohibition, 96; Burgiotz, Socialist Labor, 85. There were five scattering votes.

The vote for coroner follows:

Donaldson, Republican, 10,897; McEhinnery, Democrat, 9,632; McLaurin, Socialist, 481; Myles, Prohibition, 95; Peterson, Socialist Labor, 91. There were three scattering votes.

The vote for Assembly follows:

Republican—Pierce, 10,822; Moxon, 10,791; Kirstein, 10,654. Democratic—Rieke, 9,657; Tuttle, 10,091; Gertanmer, 9,796. Socialist—Roberts, 490; Walker, 492; Cramer, 494. Prohibition—Long, 102; Hatfield, 97; King, 101. Socialist Labor—Fallath, 95; Mergulere, 93; Sanburg, 94.

ELWOOD R. HALL DIES IN MUHLENBERG HOSPITAL.

Elwood R. Hall, who was employed for several years as drug clerk by Howard Leggett when he conducted a pharmacy in the Y. M. C. A. building, died this morning in Muhlenberg hospital. He was taken ill with pneumonia three weeks ago and at first underwent treatment in New York, where he had been working as a member of the staff of the Pharmaceutical Era, a trade paper. Becoming dissatisfied with the progress of his case he asked to be brought to Plainfield so that he might enter the hospital here. Complications followed, however, and the physicians were unable to save his life.

Mr. Hall was twenty-six years old and had a host of friends in this city. He was experienced in the drug business and at various times had managed stores in Newark, Montclair and Englewood. He came to Plainfield in 1900 and after he left the city he always retained his interest in local affairs. He was an admirer of Muhlenberg Hospital and its conduct and it was through his knowledge of the institution that he wished to be taken to it here.

The body will be taken to Middletown, N. Y., where the funeral will be held at the home of his sister after which burial will be made at Monroe, N. Y., his native town.

Preparing to Install Switches.

The most difficult job in connection with the double tracking on East Front street will be that of installing the new double switch at Front and Somerset streets. The gang now employed there is getting everything in readiness to cut in the new device some night after the cars have ceased running. It may be necessary to transfer passengers at the corner for one day pending the arrangement of the several tracks.

Miss Finch Gives a Luncheon.

Miss Finch, of Park avenue, gave a delightful luncheon at the Plainfield Country Club, yesterday, in honor of Miss Mary Holly, Miss Marjorie Fleming and Miss May Waring. It was a chrysanthemum luncheon, the lavender and yellow flower being used with good effect. Mrs. George W. Elkins, of Philadelphia, chaperoned the party of young people which numbered twenty-two.

Celebrates 5th Anniversary.

The Rev. Andrew Judson Walter celebrated the fifth anniversary of his pastorate of the Reformed church at Harlingen Sunday evening by preaching a special sermon. During the five years the membership has grown from 224 to 355, an increase of 111. During the five years the congregation has raised and expended for all purposes $18,139.25.

—Levy Bros.' annual mill-end sale Saturday. 11 13 2 ***

CONSECRATE ALL SAINTS

Rt. Rev. Dr. Scarborough and Many of His Clergy Takes Part in Ceremony.

BISHOP MADE AN ADDRESS.

Rev. Dean Rodman Preacher and Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson Also Takes a Prominent Part in Service.

Despite the downpour of rain Wednesday morning, All Souls' church, Scotch Plains, was filled to its capacity on the occasion of the consecration of the structure by Bishop John Scarborough. Scores of clergymen from nearby cities and towns attended and took part in the impressive service of consecration, carried out by the Bishop and clergy according to the Episcopal prayer book form. Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, read the consecration service and Rev. Fred B. Carter, of St. Luke's church, Montclair, read the lessons; Rev. Charles L. Cooder, of St. Paul's church, Rahway, read the epistle, and Rev. William H. Neilson, of East Ninth street, read the gospel. During the service there was special music by the vested choir under the direction of James H. Buckley, the church organist.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Erskine M. Rodman, rector emeritus of Grace church. He took his text from verses 4 and 5 of the 132nd Psalm, "I will not give sleep to mine eyes or slumber to mine eyelids until I find a place for the Lord, a habitation for the mighty God of Jacob." Dr. Rodman's remarks were largely of a historical and congratulatory nature and he summarized at length the growth of the parish and its struggle to become free from debt. One of the prime movers for an Episcopal church in Fanwood borough was the late Charles Kyte, to whom the speaker alluded in words of tribute. The desire of Mr. Kyte's life was to have an Episcopal church in the borough, and it was to this end that he worked.

The cornerstone was laid by Bishop Scarborough in October, 1882, almost exactly twenty-five years ago, and the building was carried on by a small group of the parishioners, some of whom were present at yesterday's consecration service. The building was mortgaged for about $5,000, and through the efforts of the women of the parish, $2,000 of the fund had been paid off. Only a few months ago, to completely cancel the mortgage was raised, but when a committee from the committee went to pay off the mortgage, the woman who held it refused to accept the money and cancelled the bond, thereby paying over the amount of this last payment to the parish. Dr. Rodman spoke especially of the good work of the late Rev. Charles L. Sykes, the first rector of the parish, and an earnest worker during the many years he was in charge.

At the conclusion of the sermon, the Bishop made a few congratulatory remarks to the parishioners, alluding with commendation to their unflinching efforts to extinguish the church debt and congratulating the present rector, Rev. W. R. Mulford, upon parish growth. At the conclusion of the service, Rev. Arthur S. Phelps, of St. Peter's church, Bound Brook, administered the Holy Communion to a large number of the congregation.

After this service, the clergy and congregation adjourned to the Fanwood fire house, where a luncheon was served by the ladies of the parish. The committee in charge of the affair assisted Mrs. H. P. Robinson and Mrs. Christianson. At the luncheon there were informal remarks by the Bishop, Dr. Rodman, Rev. Moore-Smith, of the Scotch Plains Baptist church and W. R. Mulford, present rector of All Souls. Among the clergy at the luncheon were Rev. Arthur Searing Peck, of St. Stephen's; Rev. H. H. Sweeper, of Grace church, Elizabeth; Rev. Mr. Kerwin, his curate; Rev. Mr. Sweeny, of Christ church, Shrewsbury; Rev. Frederick K. Carter, of Montclair, and Rev. Harris Rush, formerly rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, at Clinton avenue.

Allaying Suspicions.

Three tired citizens, a lawyer, a doctor and a newspaper man—sat in a back room recently in the gray light of the early dawn. On the table were many empty bottles and a couple of packs of cards. As they sat in silence a rat scurried across the hearth into the darkness beyond. The three men shifted their feet and looked at each other uneasily. After a long pause the lawyer spoke.

"I know what you fellows are thinking," he said, "you think I saw a rat, but I didn't."—Boston Record.

Fanwood Borough.

Fanwood borough polled a total vote of seventy-nine, fifty-nine of which were for Fort. The remainder of the ticket ran about the same. Burton P. Hall, who was the choice of both parties, was elected and George Uhler and W. H. Hoar were elected to the Common Council.

Golden Rule Supper.

Under the auspices of the Golden Rule Circle, King's Daughters, of Grace M. E. church, a supper will be given at the church on Tuesday night, November 15. Supper will be served from 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock.

CO. K MARKSMEN WIN IN COUNTY SEAT CONTEST

Company K's rifle team went to Elizabeth Wednesday and defeated the team from the Elizabeth Town and Country Club at their range. This was the first defeat for the county seat team and as the score indicated the match was a hard-fought one. Company K put up a total score of 425 against 413 by the opposing team. The Plainfield boys showed by far the better average throughout, only one man shooting below forty, standing position. Sergeant Apgar put up the best score, a 92, while Sergeant Phillips was second with an 85. Sergeant Tranchand came next with an 84, while Sergeants Bilyeu and Hort were tied with a score of 82.

This match was the first of a series, and the Elizabeth team will shoot on Company K's range within the next two weeks. The individual scores for last night's match follow:

COMPANY K.

	Standing.	Prone.	Total.
Sergeant Apgar	47	45	92
Sergeant Bilyeu	41	41	82
Sergt Tranchand	40	44	84
Sergeant Phillips	41	44	85
Sergeant Hort	39	43	82
			425

ELIZABETH TOWN AND COUNTRY CLUB.

	Standing.	Prone.	Total.
Eleston	42	47	90
Schenck	38	38	76
Church	38	32	70
Woodruff	39	46	85
Campbell	45	47	92
			413

SICK WIFE MAKES CHARGES OF CRUELTY AND DESERTION

Arrested on complaint of his wife, who charged him with cruelty and non-support, Dick Higgins was brought before Justice of the Peace Clark Mundy Thursday. His wife, who is ill, was unable to appear in the court, but has brought charges of desertion against Higgins.

The couple were married about three months ago and since their wedding have been living at 13 Harmony street. Higgins, it is alleged, has been drinking a good deal lately and his wife has not had proper care during her illness. Higgins was very penitent at the hearing last night and promised better treatment of his wife, who with Mary Long, his mother and brother appeared to intercede for him and the judge dismissed the case with a warning as to what may happen if Mrs. Higgins prefers charges again.

MAGANESE CASE IS AIRED IN COURT

The Chancery case of Samuel and Martha R. Rodman, of Washington, D. C., against the Manganese Steel Safe Company, of this city, on a rule to show cause why the defendants should not be enjoined from proceeding further in a re-classification of capital stock from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, was argued before Vice Chancellor Stevens at Newark Thursday. The lawyers for the safe company were Howard E. White, of New York, and John R. Hardin, of Piney, Hardin and Skinner, of Newark, while George Hall and Winfield Angleman, this city, appeared for the petitioners.

The argument was at great length and consumed the greater of the day's session. In the answer by the defendants, it was denied that there was overissue heavily, it being alleged that his action was induced by the Victor Safe and Lock Company, which was really conducting the suit for advertising purposes. This the plaintiffs' counsel promptly denied.

After hearing the argument the Vice Chancellor ordered the counsel on both sides to submit briefs and reserved his decision.

Hunt Club Schedule.

Lewis B. Wardell, master of the hounds of the Watchung Hunt Club, has announced the schedule for the remainder of the month. Throughout the month the hounds will meet at the kennels every Wednesday morning in addition to the Saturday chase. The schedule follows: Saturday, November 9, Plainfield Country Club, 3 o'clock; Saturday, November 16, Dog Tavern, 3 o'clock; Saturday, November 23, Baltusrol Golf Club, 2:30 o'clock; Thursday, November 28, Thanksgiving day, Plainfield Pleasant school house, 9:30 o'clock in the morning; Saturday, November 30, South Plainfield, Lehigh Valley Railroad station, 2:30 o'clock.

Colse With Entertainment.

The evangelistic services which have been in progress at the Christian church for the past two weeks will close Thursday night, November 14. Friday night, November 15, an entertainment and reception will be given for Mr. Waugh, who has been conducting the services. After the program refreshments will be served by the Ladies' Aid Society.

GILES LEADS THE BATTERS

Clinton Avenue Player Gets Average of 370 in Inter-City League Games.

ANNOUNCE OFFICIAL AVERAGES.

Four Clinton Avenue Players Bat Over .300 — Schoonmaker Leads Y. M. C. A. Batters With .273.

Figures made public by the secretary of the inter-city baseball league show "Billy" Giles, of the Clinton Avenue nine, to be the handiest of the local players with the wagon tongue. He batted .370, taking part in all the league games of the season. Of the two local nines, Clinton Avenue and the Y. M. C. A., the west end players had it on the association in the batting for the season. Four of the Clinton Avenue players batted over .300, while Ralph Schoonmaker, who leads the Y. M. C. A. players in the swipe department, has an average of .273 for his work in the season's games.

The official averages for the Clinton Avenue nine show Giles to have batted .370, Emery, .346, Gilman, .348, "Brit" Marin, .333, J. Martin, .298. The other averages have not been made public.

Physical Director Listman has figured out the averages for the association team, included the base stealing record for the season, in which Ralph Schoonmaker leads with 25. The figures follow:

League Averages.

Games.	S.B.	A.B.	H.	P.C.
R. Sch'n'ker..13	25	44	12	.273
Craig 13	9	46	12	.261
Nelson 6	—	23	6	.261
Conover 5	—	17	4	.235
Scott 4	5	9	2	.222

David Pond and H. Gilmore each stole seven bases in league games and Will Schoonmaker five.

Season Averages.

Games.	S.B.	A.B.	H.	P.C.
Craig 19	12	69	21	.304
R. Scho'n'ker.19	31	68	17	.250
Conover 6	0	21	5	.238
Pond 15	11	41	12	.236
Bank 14	6	52	11	.211
Nelson 9	5	35	7	.200
Scott 6	7	16	3	.187
Hubbard 16	6	33	6	.181
Minford 10	1	35	6	.171
Marsh 11	5	42	7	.166
Payne 12	8	50	8	.160
Gilmore 16	6	59	9	.153
W. Scho'n'ker.12	10	47	6	.127

Dungeons and Whipping Posts.

Keeper Osborne, of the State Prison, thinks the Legislature may abolish the use of dungeons as a means of punishing refractory criminals, and maintaining discipline, and suggests the introduction of the whipping-post in their place. The suggestion is said to have "somewhat startled several members" of the conference of the heads of the charitable and penal institutions of the State, before whom it was made, and it will startle many other persons.

The law governing the State prison provides that any prisoner who has violated the rules and regulations shall be taken before the keeper, who shall "adjudge the case, and award such measure of punishment as he may deem proper, not exceeding close confinement in a dark cell, on bread and water, with chain on the leg or handcuffs, or both, for six days; and if in his opinion the convict should receive further punishment, he shall refer the case to the acting inspectors, who shall order such further punishment as they shall think proper."

It is provided "that corporal punishment was enacted about thirty years ago, immediately following a legislative investigation of a scandal at the prison due to the death of a convict while undergoing punishment. It was soon considered peculiarly offensive, it being alleged that his action was induced by the Victor Safe and Lock Company, which was really conducting the suit for advertising purposes. This the plaintiffs' counsel promptly denied.

K. OF P.'S ENTERTAIN.

Perseverance Lodge Has "Old Time" Smoker and Reception.

Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., conducted an "old time" smoker and reception in its rooms in the Arlington building last night. The affair was arranged for members and their friends and the attendance included delegations from Bound Brook, Somerville and Westfield.

Entertainment was furnished by the Gold Medal minstrel troupe which gave its complete first part in costume. Several new songs and specialties were introduced and the efforts of the artists were rewarded with liberal applause. Following the program, supper was served in the banquet room.

The committee in charge comprised Chancellor Commander Robert Jahn, Asa D. Pope, William Mills and Morgan Turton.

Manager—We must put a good deal of realism in this wood scene. Can you get someone to growl so as to resemble a bear?

Assistant—I think so. There are six or seven actors who haven't received their wages for ten weeks. I'll call them.—Pick-Me-Up.

SHORT TIME ORDERED AT POTTER PRESS WORKS

Following the shut-down of the Klondyke shop and the shortening of time at the Pond Tool Works, the employes of the Potter Press Company received notice yesterday that the factory would run only four days a week commencing next Monday. The number of hours will also be decreased as instead of ten each day they will work only eight. The shop ordinarily runs five days a week with a total of fifty-five hours.

It was stated today that the depression of trade was primarily due to the "tight" money market which makes it impossible for manufacturers and big firms to get ready cash. As a result, orders for machinery have been curtailed and the big shops are the first to feel the effects. With the incoming consignments of gold, financiers are positive that the trouble will be overcome in a few days.

MUHLENBERG RECEIVES $5,250 FROM COUNTY

Appropriations for the various hospitals in Union county were made at the November meeting of the Board of Freeholders, Thursday. According to the schedule Muhlenberg Hospital will receive an additional $450 next year, an increase being made from $4,800 to $5,250.

The Elizabeth General Hospital will receive $8,000, an increase of $500; Alexis Brothers' Hospital, Elizabeth, $3,000, an increase of $200, and St. Francis' Hospital, a new institution at Elizabeth, will receive $5,750, making a total of $20,000.

Other business considered at the meeting was chiefly routine, reports being received concerning the counts bridge work which is now nearing completion.

BOROUGH'S MAYOR MOVES OUT OF NORTH PLAINFIELD

North Plainfield is now governed by a mayor who is not a resident of the borough he serves. Mayor Novton B. Smalley moved Thursday from his home at 20 Willow avenue to "Inter Haven," the house formerly occupied by Mrs. J. M. Enderson. The mayor has bought the property, which is situated on Prospect avenue at the end of Grove street. The borough line extends down the middle of Prospect avenue, and the chief executive of the borough now occupies a house on the north side of the line, in North Plainfield township.

Last winter, Mayor Smalley planned to purchase a home on this side of the brook, but could not get the site he wanted. He has since been looking about for a house, and has finally secured "Inter Haven." The house is beautifully situated and has large grounds adjoining. It is reported that the mayor will make extensive improvements to the place, but nothing is to be done at present.

MAYOR-ELECT TALKS ON BOROUGH MATTERS

Mayor-elect Samuel Townsend, of North Plainfield, the unanimous choice of all parties in the borough, is devoting much of his time studying up subjects of current importance in municipal matters. He believes that the question of annexation and consolidation, and sanitary sewage disposal are of paramount interest and intends to do his utmost to assist in their solution.

"Of course, everyone knows," said Mr. Townsend today, "that I have always favored both annexation and consolidation. I have always believed that it would be better were our borough a part of a greater city and have therefore supported fusion with Plainfield. The Bi-municipal Consolidation Commission's report appears to be an excellent document and I intend to study it carefully before making any statement. I might also say that I have always favored a sanitary sewage disposal system. The matter also, I would like to go over the work of the Borough Sewage Commission before committing myself on the most feasible scheme."

Great Opportunities.

The millionaire frowned and gently stroked the ear of his $5,000 bulldog.

"And so," he said, "you want to marry my daughter?"

"I do," replied the young man, as the sweat rolled from him and trickled gracefully on the gorgeous carpet.

"What are your prospects?" the great man asked. "Is there any chance of promotion in your business?"

"Not one chance but a hundred and ninety-eight!" said the young man. "Our firm employes two hundred men, and my job is next to the lowest. Yes, I'm bound to rise."

$1,500,000 FORT PLUMS

In First Year Governor Will Distribute Offices Worth $827,500 in Salaries.

SOME ARE IN UNION COUNTY.

Terms of Chief Justice and Associates Expire—Attorney-General's and Chancellor's Places to Be Filled.

Few Chief Executives of this State have had the opportunity that will be given to Governor-elect Woodrow Franklin Fort to appoint men to so many and such high offices. The first year of his term, 1908, will leave vacant more important positions than any other year. The aggregate salaries of the appointees of that year for their whole term of office will amount to approximately $827,500. In his whole term of office he will have the distribution of salaried places aggregating in avlue approximately $1,500,000.

To begin with, the Governor has the power to appoint a private secretary at $4,000 per year and an executive clerk at $1,800. Then there are the appointments to be made with advice and consent of the Senate. First in the list is the Attorney-General, a position now occupied by Robert H. McCarter, at a salary of $11,000 a year. Chancellor William J. Magie's term will also expire in 1908, leaving a $7,000 a year office to be filled.

In the Supreme Court Chief Justice William S. Gummere's term also comes to an end at the same time as that of four of the associate justices. The salary of the chief justice is $11,000 per year for seven years and that of associate justices will receive $10,000 per year for the same term. Mr. Fort will have the appointment of his own successor on the bench.

Atlantic, Bergen, Hudson and Morris counties all have new appointments to the county court bench, positions lasting for five years and carrying a salary of $3,000 a year. Two members of the State Board of Assessors, which he will have to appoint for terms of four years at salaries of $2,500 a year, will add $20,000 to the total.

Only one district court judge's term comes to an end in the coming year, but $4,000 a year will have to be expended for five years to fill his place. Thirty thousand dollars more will be needed to cover the salaries of the four county court judges who will be appointed to the new offices.

In the State Board of the Equalization of Taxes one vacancy will occur, and the man who is appointed to the position will draw $3,500 for the five years of his term. Another five year appointment that will come in for a share of Mr. Fort's consideration is that of Commissioner of Public Roads, the term of which is three years with a salary of $5,000. In 1908 the Bureau of Statistics will lose its chief, and to supply this vacancy will be one more appointed to draw $2,500 for five years. Next year also the State Sewerage Commission loses two members and the Passaic Flood Commission five. The salaries of the first will total $69,000 during the three years which the appointees hold office, while those of the latter will aggregate $50,000 for the four-year term. Besides these there are prosecutors of pleas to be appointed in Atlantic, Cape May, Hudson, Mercer, Morris and Union counties.

That will not end the newly elected Governor's appointments. With the consent of the Senate he has several unremunerative offices to fill and by his own choice is allowed to fill several more, both with and without compensation. The biggest single term on the compensated list will be the salaries of the oyster superintendents of Atlantic and Ocean counties, both of whom hold them for a three-year term at $1,000 a year. Outside of these there are a member of the State Board of Pharmacy, who gets $5 a day for services rendered; a State oyster commissioner, salary $500 per year, for three years; oyster commissioner for the district of Shark river, salary $500 for three years, and three oyster commissioners for Atlantic county, amounting to $2,000 for their three-year term.

The years of 1909 and 1910 also have some large offices that will have their occupants designated by the Governor. In the second year of his term Mr. Fort will have to appoint three judges of the Court of Errors and Appeals, a justice of the Supreme Court, two district court judges and a county court judge. In that year, too, Essex will be in line to have its vacant office of prosecutor of pleas, now held by Henry Young, supplied. Also say that David Balch, Campbell, on the Board of Assessors comes to and end the same year.

Vivian M. Lewis, clerk in Chancery, who was mentioned for Governor in the State convention this year, comes to the end of his term in 1910. With him will go out District Court Judge Lintott, of Newark. Another man who comes to the end of his term is Major Carl Lentz, member of the State Board for Equalization of Taxes.

Besides, there are likely to be unforseen vacancies, due to deaths, resignations and removals. It is, indeed, a rich prospect for a Governor to build up a strong personal political machine.

CLERGYMAN JOINS THE BOARD OF TRADE

Rev. George A. Warner, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, was elected a member of the Board of Trade, Thursday. When his name was proposed for membership somone asked if he was the rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, and Mr. Marshall in replying in the affirmative, added: "We may need him to hold us down?"

Mr. Warner was one of the speakers at the annual banquet of the Board of Trade last year, when he introduced the subject of a trade school for Plainfield. He impressed all with his earnestness and display of civic pride. The Board was glad to elect him to membership, believing that he will be of valuable assistance.

BUNDLE OF PAPERS BREAKS A MAN'S LEG

Michael Griffin, a telegraph operator stationed in the New Jersey Central's switch tower at Berckman street, received a broken leg in a peculiar accident Friday morning.

He had completed his "trick" and was waiting at the Netherwood station to catch the paper train as it slowed up to switch over. As the first car passed him, a heavy bundle of papers was suddenly hurled out of the side door and it struck him in the left leg just below the knee. Griffin was thrown down and when he attempted to rise he found it was impossible. Witnesses of the accident summoned Patrolmen Meyers and the injured man was conveyed to the home of his brother-in-law, Patrolman William Messler, of Spooner avenue.

Dr. T. S. Davis responded to a call and discovered that the force of the blow from the papers hade made a clean break of the leg bones. Griffin will be confined to the house for at least a month.

MARTINE CONDOLES WITH KATZENBACH

James E. Martine, who made fifty-four speeches for Frank S. Katzenbach during the campaign, Friday sent this letter to the defeated Gubernatorial nominee:

"Words fail to express my disappointment and sincere sorrow at the result of the election. We deserved a better fate. The cause more ideal as a candidate, but oh, what a sad disappointment after the counting of the votes.

"But again, as often before, I say, defeat never yet crushed out a truth or annihilated a principle. I could not believe that the people were not with us. Everything seemed to indicate victory.

"My contact with you has evoked admiration almost to love. I felt intensely earnest in this campaign, and I could not have been more honest in my pleadings for the cause of the people and of you as our exponent. You are not to find fault, for I believe in the ballot. Time may explain some things which seem now hard to reconcile. It seems all wrong. You have made thousands of friends throughout the State, and all will remember you to love and admire your manly and honorable fight for clean and honest government."

BOARD OF EDUCATION HEARS MR. LOVELL'S REPORT.

At the regular meeting of the city Board of Education held at the high school Monday night, routine business, including action on the usual big budget of bills, occupied the time of the session. Mr. Abbott was the only member absent. The custodian's report for the past month was read, showing $5,700.20 received from the tax collector and a balance of $10,033.84 on hand. The amount from taxes is much less than last year.

Leander N. Lovell presented the fiancial report, which will be made public within a few days. It is the first report under the new system of keeping the school accounts, adopted last year. The medical report from Doctors Tomlinson, and VanHorn showed that during the past month 331 pupils have been examined and stated that examinations would be continued. Superintendent Maxson secured the ratification of his appointment of Miss Adelaide G. Ball as city truant officer and announced that the annual report of the city schools was practically ready and would be issued about January 1. He announced the opening of the current school term and the vacations, which have already been made public.

More people have heard grange doctrine preached and there have been more preachers thereof the past summer than ever before. Grange field days and grange picnics seem to have been more numerous than ever —a good sign, by the way.

THOSE TORN UP STREETS

Board of Trade Has Long Discussion About Condition of Business Centre Roadway.

COMPLAINTS ARE GENERAL.

Board Plans For Banquet and Will Have Refreshments at Future Meetings.

Suggestions and plans to increase the attendance and general interest at the meetings of the Board of Trade offered at a meeting of that body Thursday by A. E. Force and Charles H. Frost met the approval of the members. It is proposed to provide refreshments at future meetings, together with cigars; also a series of prominent speakers on popular topics. It was at the suggestion of Mr. Frost that good speakers are to be secured, and a committee comprising A. E. Force, Charles H. Frost and F. A. Dunnhofer was appointed to provide the entertainment.

There was considerable discussion relative to the torn-up condition of the business streets caused by trolley improvements and brick pavement, and President Marshall took occasion to say that he thought R. Henry Depew a good type of citizen in insisting that the trolley company live up to its contract in all work. Mr. Marshall censored those who are to blame for the impassable condition of the Front street, adding that it is up to the street committee to assist City Engineer Gavett. He said that it was not until he called Mr. Gavett's *attention to the matter yes*terday that he work of removing dirt from East Front street was started.

"Somethings call for the most apparent delay," said Mr. Marshall, "and it should be remedied. It it is up to Contractor Meeker he should be made to change his methods and if it is the fault of the P. S. C., the company should be made to do the right thing."

Mr. Vanderhoef suggested that the attention of Mayor Fisk be called to the disgraceful condition of affairs. He believed that the merchants and property resident to be entitled to fair treatment.

Speaking on the subject, Mr. Marshall said that he did not think City Engineer Gavett had an efficient corps of assistants under him, ("or over him," Fred E. M. Laing). "I am told," said Mr. Marshall, "that David Bowden laid brick pavement in Scotland, but if it was done like the pavement be supervised on Park avenue, between the railroad and Fourth street, which had to be taken up and relaid, I am not surprised that he left Scotland."

E. C. Deal, who is to be a local representative of the P. S. C. electric light department, Central Division, was introduced and made a few remarks. He said that it would be his aim to do all in his power to give the people of Plainfield what they want in electric lighting and at the same time to carry out the company's policy. Being practically a stranger here he said that he was not yet prepared to talk intelligently of local conditions. He felt sure that the company stands ready to do the right thing. He has supervision of Elizabeth, Westfield, Plainfield, Bound Brook, Somerville, Metuchen and New Brunswick. He will make his home in Plainfield.

In the interest of Carl Silbert, who owns property on Somerset street, back of Christian Gloeckler's place of business, A. E. Force asked what could be done toward laying a Hassam pavement in the alley-way at that point. It was decided that it was a matter for the property-owners to consider and not the board.

Before the meeting closed Mr. Marshall introduced the subject of the annual dinner, which will probably be held the latter part of January. He then announced the committee to look after the details of securing speakers, etc.: Alexander Gilbert, William L. Saunders, A. E. Force, E. M. Laing and Mayor-elect Samuel Townsend, of the borough.

VACATION FRIENDS MEET.

Ram's Horn Camp Guests Reunite at Reception and Dance.

One hundred and fifty young people from this city, Newark, Elizabeth, New York, Brooklyn and Easton, who were guests of Ram's Horn Camp, Lake Hopatcong, last summer, enjoyed a reception and dance in the Casino Monday night. The affair was arranged and conducted by "Jack" Hall, who was the managing head of the summer resting place, and was a success in every particular. Suhr's Imperial orchestra furnished music for the dancing and rendered a delightful program during an intermission.

The dance was the first of a series of similar affairs that will be conducted during the winter with the idea of continuing the pleasant relations began in vacation time.

EJECTMENT SUIT DECIDED.

In the Circuit Court at Elizabeth, yesterday, Judge B. A. Vail rendered a decision in favor of the Schorb heirs in their ejectment suit against Henry Haurand. The matter has been in litigation for nearly a year and the plaintiffs will take immediate steps to secure possession of the premises.

GET-TOGETHER CLUB HONORS ITS SACHEM

The Republican Organization Workers Pay Tribute to Their Leader, Andrew McCardell.

HOLD AN ENJOYABLE BANQUET

Several Handsome Gifts for Absent Guest of Honor—Mayor Presides —At Hotel Waldorf—Forty Present.

In honor of its "sachem," the Get-Together Club, composed of the Republican organization leaders, held a banquet at its headquarters at the Hotel Waldorf, East Front street, Thursday. The affair was solely a complimentary affair, tendered by the proprietor, Henry Windham, an honorary member of the club, but it was given in the name of the Get-Together.

Sachem McCardell.

Everybody, big and little, among the "regulars" was on hand, but the guest of honor, Factory Inspector Andrew McCardell, was unable to show up. A few hours before the time appointed for the festivities, Mr. McCardell was taken ill with stomach trouble and the doctor forbade him leaving his bed. At his request, however, County Chairman Frank H. Smith, one of the veteran members, acted as his representative.

Mayor Charles J. Fisk, one of the guests, acted as toastmaster. On his right, at the head of the long table where forty Republican workers were seated, was the county chairman, while on his left was former Mayor James F. Buckle, the club's "machine man." Others at the head of the board included Assemblyman John R. Monson, Assistant Prosecutor John English and a coterie of Plainfield councilmen.

Mayor Fisk, Toastmaster.

After the "spread" had been enjoyed, speeches were made by some of the members as well as the guests. During the course of the festfest, several gifts for Mr. McCardell were presented in the name of the club. Mr. Windham also came in for a remembrance.

Mayor Fisk started the ball rolling by delivering a witty speech in the character of the club itself. He introduced Mr. Smith as Mr. McCardell, and the county chairman made a few remarks laudatory of the "sachem" as a man and as political leader. At the conclusion of his speech, he brought forth a pair of diamond cuff buttons, the gift of the Get-Togethers to the guest of honor. When former Mayor James F. Buckle was introduced, he dwelt on the manly character of McCardell. He declared that some who did not know the man had abused him unjustly and that his friends had found in him an unselfish and loyal leader. Mr. Buckle caused much laughter when he presented another gift to Mr. McCardell from the same of the club. It was a jewel case but when opened by Mr. Smith exploded. Inside was a fake fraternal machine. A handsome silver handle umbrella was presented by George F. Tobin. On it was a plate inscribed "To Our Leader; a token of esteem from the Get-Togethers."

District Court Judge William Newcorn spoke in praise of Mr. Windham and for the club presented the Waldorf's proprietor with a beautiful scarf pin in which was a large lucky stone for November. Mr. Windham made a brief response.

During the fun, one of the Get-Togethers presented to Mr. Smith for Mr. McCardell a cashier's check on the City National Bank for six cents in lawful American money.

Assistant Prosecutor English and Assemblyman Monson both made finely received speeches. Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur and Amos Andrews were among the other speakers.

The Get-Togethers present were: Councilmen Francis L. Montgomery, William L. Gloak, Herbert Buxton, Ralph I. Tollen, Charles Randolph and Frank Randolph, Health Board Member Charles Dunham, former Mayor James F. Buckle, Postmaster Elias H. Bird, former Police Commissioner Amos Ashtown, County Election Officer Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., District Court Judge William Newcorn, County Chairman Frank H. Smith, Overseer of the Poor Alexander Ayres, former Sheriff B. Frank Coriell, Charles Poston, Edgar Thomas Hanna, William Clifton, Sanford Robison, Joseph Noonan, James Stewart, George F. Tobin, John Trainer, John Mortimer, Alexander MacDuff, Robert Craig, William Craig, Edward Van Winkle, Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur, E. C. Westcott and William R. Townsend.

The guests were: Mayor Charles Joel Fisk, Factory Inspector Nell McCardell, Assemblyman John R. Moxon, County Clerk James C. Clavert, Assistant Prosecutor John English, Jr., Dr. A. K. Brennan, J. L. Steele, Ralph L. Morrow, William Smith and Francis J. Blatz.

The banqueting room was gorgeously decorated with the American colors and chrysanthemums in profusion. Cut glass and silver adorned the long table, where the councils of the club are generally held. The menu prepared under the direction of Mrs. Windham was one of the best ever served at a public gathering here. It follows:

Oysters on the Half Shell.
Celery. Olives.
Sauterne.
Consommne Windham.
Pickles. Chow-Chow.
Halibut, a la Sherry's.
Republican Organization Punch.
Broiled Lobster, a la Democracy.
Roasted Spring Chicken,
Cauliflower, Sliced Tomatoes,
Boiled Potatoes, String Beans,
French Peas, Fried Egg Plant,
Corn, Stuffed Peppers.
Lettuce Salad with Dressing.
Wine.
Neopolitan Ice Cream. Cakes.
Roquefort Cheese.
Swiss Cheese.
Crackers. Demi-Tasse.
Cordials.
Havana Cigars.
Imported Cigarettes.
Mumm's Extra Dry.

BOROUGH SCHOOL GIRLS ENTERTAIN FOOTBALL TEAM

In appreciation of the excellent work done by the borough high school football team so far this season, the girls of the senior class of the school tendered a reception and dance to the members of the eleven at the Somerset street school Friday night. The merry-makers assembled early and a luncheon, cooked by the girls of the class in the cooking school room, was served to the young gridiron warriors in the drawing room. Practically the entire senior class, both boys and girls, were present, and Mr. Phelps, coach of the team, was there, with other members of the school faculty.

The drawing room at the school had been appropriately decorated with the class and school colors and with bunting. The "feed" was a great success. The girls of the committee, realizing that the football players were accustomed to "eat their opponents alive," and would in consequence of this, develop enormous appetites, provided most worthy opponents for the occasion, and all declared that the dainties, while not of the sort included in a training table, was attacked by the team as worthy opponents, and the plates soon showed that the pig skin chasers had made a clean score.

After the collation, the young people adjourned to the other building, where an informal dance was held until 11 o'clock. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Miss Agnes Cooley, who as president of the class was chairman; Miss Ida Enslehart, Miss Ethel Webster, Eldon Miller and Clarence Steiner.

For a Workhouse.

Upon the recommendation of the committee on grounds and buildings of the Union County Board of Freeholders, it was decided at the meeting of the board on Thursday to purchase a lot in the rear of the Court House on Rahway avenue, where it is proposed to establish a workhouse where prisoners confined in the county jail will have an opportunity to do something in return for lodging and board at the county's expense. The lot, 40x130, was purchased for $2,750. This action is the result of a communication received by the board from Mrs. Elizabeth Tiffany.

JAIL WOMEN'S INSULTER

Italian Sentenced to Sixty Days While Police Look Up His Record.

WAS CAUGHT AFTER CHASE.

Prisoner Had Annoyed Women in the East End—Higgins Captures Him.

Caught in the act of persistently following Miss Rose Smith, of Watchung avenue, and making insulting proposals to her, Joseph Saclyitti, an Italian, was captured by Roundsman Morris Higgins Friday. The fellow made a desperate effort to get away and was rounded up after he had ran for several blocks. In the city court Thursday Judge Runyon scored the prisoner heavily and sent him to jail for sixty days while the police are looking up his record.

Chief Kiely is positive that Saclyitti is the man who has been accosting women and girls in the East End of the city and about whom several complaints have been received. Miss Smith was in court when Saclyitti was arraigned and positively identified him. She declared he had followed her all the way from East Third and Church streets to Watchung avenue and East Seventh street as she was going home and that she was in a state bordering on hysteria when she saw Roundsman Higgins. She hurried to the officer and while she was telling her story, the Italian saw the uniform and started on a run down Seventh street. Higgins took after him and brought him to a stop at Richmond street. When he was returned to where Miss Smith was waiting he made another break to get away but only got a short distance.

The prisoner's description tallied with one furnished by Miss Miriam Hall, a telephone operator, of a man who had accosted her on Watchung avenue two weeks ago and the young woman was called to headquarters at this morning's session of court. She declared without a moment's hesitation that Saclyitti was her annoyer. The police believe that the fellow is guilty of a number of other charges and while he is in jail will get the evidence against him.

MISS SHERWOOD NOW MRS. GEO. F. BARNES

Miss Lucetta A. Sherwood and George Francis Barnes, both of New York, were married Wednesday night at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Frederick M. Ward, 94 Fairview avenue, in the presence of the relatives and intimate friends. Rev. Dr. J. Chandler Chamblin, pastor of the First Baptist church, performed the ceremony.

The bride was kowned in white crepe de chine, trimmed with lace, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Julia Lund, of Jacksonville, Fla., who was bridesmaid. The best man was Dr. Sears, of Boston.

After the ceremony and congratulations supper was served and the couple left on an extended bridal tour. Upon their return they will reside in New York, where the groom is engaged in the jewelry trade. The bride received a large collection of gifts of value and use from relatives and friends.

O'BRIEN HEALTH OFFICER VICE FRANK DENCKLAU

Frank Denclau, who for the past two years has been the efficient secretary and health officer of the North Plainfield Board of Health, has resigned, and John O'Brien, who has been connected with the Plainfield Board of Health, has been appointed to succeed him by Dr. A. H. Dundon, to whom was given that authority by the Board. He entered upon his duties Saturday.

Mr. Denclau, who has also resigned his position with the Public Service Corporation, will take a vacation of a few weeks after which he will go south for the purpose of engaging in the produce business.

JOSEPH McINTYRE ANNOUNCES FOUR CHAMBER CONCERTS.

Joseph McIntyre, whose chamber music concerts were so much enjoyed last winter, announces four chamber music concerts to be given this season at the Casino, on the following Thursday evenings at 8:30 o'clock: November 14, December 12, January 16 and February 20. Mr. McIntyre will be the pianist, Vladimir Dubinsky, 'cellist, and Maurice Kaufman, violinist.

Shanna Cumming, the well known soprano, will be the assisting artist at the concert to be given November 14, and vocal artists will appear at the other concerts. Mr. McIntyre has secured about 125 patronesses, including a majority of the well-known women in local society.

ENDEAVOR UNION RALLY

Meeting at Seventh Day Baptist Church Attended by Delegations from Societies.

REV. DR. GREENWAY SPEAKS.

As Member of State C. E. Union Board He Gives Suggestions for Work—Congregationalists Win Attendance Banner.

Christian Endeavorers from all the local churches and from churches in the nearby towns gathered in the Seventh-Day Baptist church Thursday night, where there was a rally service, a review of the work of each society and a general roll call of the local Endeavorers from the various societies. The society of the Congregational church had the largest number of members present at the rally, and will be awarded the banner for a big roll. This banner is to be formally presented to the society at their meeting in the Congregational church Sunday night.

The meeting was opened with a song service led by a good sized voluntary choir. E. C. Martin led the singing. Rev. G. B. Shaw, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, conducted a simple devotional service. Echoes of the recent State convention of the Christian Endeavor societies, in the nature of summarization of the proceedings and of the various meetings were given by Charles Windham, of the Warren Chapel society; Fred C. Lounsbury, of the First Presbyterian church society, and Clarence B. La Rue, of the Congregational church society, president of the local Christian Endeavor Union. Their reports gave many practical suggestions for carrying on the work of the Endeavorers in this city, as summarized by the speakers at the convention.

Rev. Walter Greenway, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Jersey City, was the speaker of the evening. At the outset of his remarks, he congratulated the local societies on the enthusiasm shown by the large representations present at the rally. He is a member of the advisory board of the State Christian Endeavor Union and gave valuable suggestions for arousing interest in the work of the local societies, outlining at some length several practical suggestions for carrying on the work according to conditions in the various societies.

ROBBERIES CLEARED UP

Confession of Boys Arrested at Fanwood Throws Light on Two Local "Jobs".

WORK OF RICKTER'S "GANG."

Youthful Law-Breaker Known As "City's Worst Boy" Leader in Breaking and Entering.

Arraigned before Recorder Sheelen at Fanwood Saturday, on a charge of breaking into a pigeon loft and stealing eight birds, William Richter and William Hand, two Plainfield boys, made a confession that clears up several robberies that have been baffling the local police. They volunteered the information that a "gang," of which Richter is the head, robbed the homes of E. C. Kieb, at Fanwood; C. W. Opdyke, of Watchung avenue, and the Netherwood Tennis Club building at Netherwood. They gave the names of the other boys who helped and steps are being taken to arrest them. The two prisoners were released on bail to wait the action of the Grand Jury.

Richter and Hand were caught by Marshal Logan as they were getting away with the pigeons taken from a coop on premises occupied by J. F. Stevens, of this city. The residence is unoccupied and was first broken into by the pair but they found nothing of value. Neighbors afterward heard the rustling of the pigeons and notified the officer.

Richter has a long police record in Plainfield and only a short time ago was paroled in the custody of the probation officer. He lives on East Second street and is known as "the worst boy in town." The Hand boy is a newcomer so far as the cops are concerned but is said to have travelled with Richter's "gang" for a long time. He lives on South avenue near Terrill road.

The seed sowing at grange picnics and field pas now past should bring forth abundant harvests the coming winter.

Germantown (N. Y.) grange has recently purchased a $4,000 hall property. There's a live grange for you!

Sixty subordinate granges are said to have been represented at a field day at Brattleboro, Vt., in August.

August 10 was a great day for Wayne county, N. Y., patrons. About 1,500 assembled at the farm of S. E. Budd near Newark village for their annual picnic. The speakers were Charles Wilson of the State Agricultural college, Cornell university, and J. H. J. Watkins of Herkimer.

COURT HOUSE CEREMONY

Cornerstone of Somerset's $400,000 Marble Building Laid with Masonic Ritual.

WAS AN IMPRESSIVE SERVICE.

Judge Schenck Witnesses Work Conducted by Worshipful Grand Master at Somerville—Officials Present.

An assemblage of about 2,000 people, including the judiciary, grand lodge officers and representatives from sixteen Masonic lodges in this part of the State, together with Somerset county officials were present Friday afternoon at the laying of the cornerstone of the county's new $400,000 court house at Somerville. It was one of the most interesting events in the history of the county and the ceremonies, which were in charge of the Masonic Order of New Jersey, were most impressive. Among the Masonic bodies represented was a large delegation from Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., of this city.

Most Worshipful Grand Master Austin Hall McGregor, of Newark, officiated, taking charge of the ceremonies. He was assisted by William D. Wolfskeil, of Elizabeth, deputy grand master; Chas. Rice, Alton M. Sherman, senior grand warden; John Zoulaf, junior grand warden, and about fourteen other grand officers of the grand lodge.

The principal address of the afternoon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Charles H. Elder, of Trenton, who talked for about a half hour. He is a member of Ashlar Lodge, F. and A. M., of Trenton, and his address was greatly enjoyed.

Among the county officials present were Judge Schenck, those connected with the county courts, together with the members of the Board of Freeholders and representatives of a number of county societies. The members of Jerusalem Lodge, F. and A. M., of Somerville, arranged the details for the ceremonies. The Masons gathered in the lodge rooms and marched in a body to the new court house, where the imposing work of laying the cornerstone took place.

DEAN OF WILLIAMS COLLEGE SPEAKS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Professor Frederick C. Ferry, dean of Williams College, made an address at the morning exercises at the city high school Friday. Dean Ferry is brother of Miss Mary E. Ferry, of the school German department. He spoke in commendation of the school building and efficiency of the various departments in preparing pupils for college. In comparison to the schools abroad, the speaker said that public schools in this country are far superior, especially to those in France and Germany.

In speaking of college life, Dean Ferry spoke in support of the small college for a boy. He talked in an informal way of the life of Williams, and said that from conversation with men in other colleges, he had been informed that, next to their own alma mater in each case, Williams was considered the best college among the smaller institutions.

Dean Ferry visited at the various classes of the school during the morning and will be the guest of his sister until his return to Williamstown.

HOFNAGLE SUCCEEDS JAMES K. ARNOLD JR.

Among the several changes made by the Public Service Corporation in its electric light department here is included the resignation of James K. Arnold, Jr., who has been chief clerk at the West Second street office of the concern. William Hofnagle, of Baltimore, succeeds him. Although Mr. Arnold has not announced his plans it is quite likely that he will continue in the same line of business.

Mr. Arnold has been connected with the Public Service Corporation here for a number of years and with the Plainfield Electric Light Company, when William McClung was its superintendent. His knowledge of the business as well as local conditions has made him a valuable man.

E. C. Deal, formerly of the Bergen Gas and Electric Light Company, which was taken over by the P. S. C., has also been sent to Plainfield, where he will be the superintendent of the electric light department of the Central Division.

Announcement of Wedding.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel DeWitt Brokaw, of Sycamore avenue, Scotch Plains, to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elsie Isabel Brokaw, and Arthur Dunham Stout, formerly of New Brunswick, but now of North Plainfield. The wedding will take place on Tuesday night, November 25, at 7:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church. Rev. Dr. J. A. Chamblin, the pastor, will perform the ceremony. A reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents.

AFTER THE P. S. C. AGAIN

Mr. Depew Informs Common Council that it is Not Living Up to Agreement.

TO HAVE NO GROVE RAILS.

Establish New Side Linings—Ordinance Restricting Frame Buildings' Additions Introduced.

Ordinances to establish side lines on Watchung avenue, between the railroad and Crescent avenue and on Madison avenue, between West Fourth and West Seventh streets, and one to lay out and open Evergreen avenue, between Park and Hillside avenues, were adopted at the November meeting of the Common Council, Monday night, after the usual public hearing was granted. No one was present to speak for or against the adoption of the ordinances.

Residents of West Sixth street, between Monroe and Clinton avenues, petitioned for six lights, and Henry H. Apgar and others asked for the extension of a light on West Eighth street. Both were referred and later the petition of Mr. Apgar was granted.

In a communication R. Henry Depew took exception to apparent failures of the Public Service Corporation to replace the old trolley tracks on West Front street with the modern grove rail, as it promised to do in return for the privilege of double tracking its line. He recalled the statements of Councilmen Ginna and Mellick made at the meeting when the P. S. C. petition was granted, to the effect that the company should abide strictly by the terms of the contract and that the city should give the company a square deal. He believed that the company was getting considerable for practically nothing aside from the share of the expense of brick paving and urged that steps be taken to see that grove rails were laid on West Front street between Park and Madison avenues. The matter was referred.

The offer of Mrs. Frances M. Gross, of West Seventh street and Darrow avenue, to pay for a sewer assessment for $44.07 was accepted, an error having been made in the original assessment. The P. S. C. informed the Common Council that several electric lights, as ordered, have been erected and are now in use. Warren B. Travell, who has the contract for erecting the pumping station machinery in connection with the southside sanitary sewer was given an extension of time to December 31, 1907, to complete the work.

Building Inspector Doane reported the granting of twenty-four building permits. Clerk Horace G. Adams, of the district court, reported for the past month receipts of $112.52, expenditures of $34.29, with a balance of $78.23.

President Daniel stated in reference to the work of securing a new contract with the P. S. C., that conferences have been held with the company and progress is being made. On motion of Mr. Mellick the committee was instructed to report on or before the December meeting.

On motion of Mr. Tooles the request of Watson Whitelesey for the correction of a sewer assessment was denied, it not being within the power of the Common Council to grant the petition. Mr. Ginna reported back the petition of Miss Anna E. Lincoln, adding that her complaint had been attended to by the street committee. On motion of Mr. Montgomery the petition of J. M. Owens and others for a light on Lee place was granted. Two resolutions offered by Mr. Tollen provided for the borrowing of $10,000 on two separate notes of $5,000 each for sewer improvement work. Another resolution by the same member providing for the borrowing of $10,000 for brick pavement work, was also adopted.

At the suggestion of Mr. Mellick the New Jersey Central will be requested to see that the stone steps leading from Watchung avenue to the railroad station on the northside of the tracks are lighted at night, and at Mr. Tyler's suggestion the company will be asked to have a light placed near the Watchung avenue bridge to light passengers getting off the last car of the commuter train arriving in the evening.

An ordinance introduced by Mr. Hibbard, chairman of the fire and building committee, sought to prevent the building of additions and extensions to frame structures in the thickly settled portions of the city within three feet of any other building. The exact application of the ordinance was not clear to Mr. Tyler and other members and it was referred back to the committee for further consideration. It was the opinion of Mr. Tyler that the purpose desired might be defeated under the wording of the ordinance, although Mr. Hibbard explained that the Corporation Council had given great care and thought in the preparation of it. On the motion to refer the ordinance back Councilmen Buxton, Hibbard and Daniel voted in the negative and Councilmen Ginna, Gloak, Mellick, Montgomery, C. C. Randolph, Tollen and Tyler in the affirmative.

When the Common Council adjourned it did so to meet on Monday night, November 18.

CAMPAIGN OF PUBLICITY

Board of Trade Negotiating for Systematic Advertising for City.

MR. CATTELLE MAKES OFFER.

Committee Appointed to Investigate the Desirability of His Proposition.

Wallis Arthur Cattelle, of this city, appeared before the Board of Trade Thursday with a proposition to advertise Plainfield through illustrated articles in the New York Herald Sunday edition. He asked the board to sanction his proposition and to give him a letter authorizing him to collect funds among the residents and merchants, which are to be deposited in a local bank.

It is to be a systematic campaign of advertising, according to Mr. Cattelle, and aside from the half page or page articles to appear in the Sunday edition of the New York Herald, there are to be published books containing the same matter and illustrations and these are to be sold. The space is to be purchased in the Herald at card rates and Mr. Cattelle is to receive his compensation in the commission for selling the space. He is also to receive twenty-five per cent. for editing the book to be published. The work is to be done at no expense to the Board of Trade, Mr. Cattelle proposing to raise the necessary fund from owners of fine residences here who desire to have pictures of their homes in the article.

It was finally decided by the board to appoint a committee comprising J. V. E. Vanderhoef, A. E. Force and E. M. Laing. Mr. Cattelle is to furnish satisfactory references, after which the committee will inform E. F. Felcker, the secretary, who will give Mr. Cattelle authority to collect funds if the references are approved.

This proposition brought out the fact that although $500 had been subscribed toward the board's scheme to advertise Plainfield less than half had been collected. Herman Schwed said that he was sure those who had subscribed would pay if someone would do the collecting, and it was decided that the committee on subscriptions should attend to the matter.

Another plan to advertise Plainfield was presented by the American Suburbs' Company, which offered to give the board a thousand copies of a sixteen page magazine, containing a write-up of Plainfield with thirty illustrations for $100 and an additional thousand for $80. This scheme did not appeal to the members and the communication was tabled.

Secretary E. F. Felcker brought up the question of having the name of the board painted on the waste-paper cans distributed about the city. He was instructed to ascertain the cost and report at the next meeting.

DR. HERRING TALKS ON MEXICO AT TRINITY CHURCH.

Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, gave an informal talk on Mexico at Trinity Reformed church Thursday under the auspices of the boys' mission band of that church. The lecture was illustrated by stereopticon lantern slides. Dr. Herring, who several years ago made an extended trip through Mexico spoke in an informal way about the country and views of the principal cities and the open country he had visited.

Views of Mount Orizaba, Popocatapetl volcano, Mexico City and Vera Cruz were shown together with slides reproduced from photographs showing the native people and their homes, their methods of living and their dress. The speaker said that contrary to the general belief, Mexico was cold in the early morning and the evening, especially, and he showed a Mexican blanket and a straw "rain coat" worn by the natives. He spoke of the industries of the people, and views of the markets, the coffee plantations and the silver mines were shown on the screen. With the views of the most important buildings in the principal cities, Dr. Herring spoke of the architectore and religious tradition of the Mexicans and gave many interesting details of their habits of living.

He was introduced by the speaker of the evening by Harold Schenck, treasurer of the boys' mission band of the church, and at the conclusion of the lecture there was a piano solo by Harold Storr. There are about a dozen members of the band, and Arthur Gaskell is its president. A neat sum was realized by the lecture, which will be devoted to foreign mission work, being carried on by the boys.

MORRIS JESUP DUMONT TO WED MISS WILDEY.

Announcement was made today of the engagement of Miss Janet Wildey and Morris Jesup Dumont, both of this city. Miss Wildey is the daughter of Charles F. Wildey, and is prominent in Plainfield and New York society. She is also a fine tennis player, having taken part in nearly all of the important tournaments in Philadelphia, New York and throughout the Metropolitan district. She is also a clever horsewoman and exceptionally fond of all outdoor sports.

The Costitutionalist.

A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY

Published a.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Terms: $2.00 per year.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1907.

WHEN IT STRIKES HOME.

The extortionate price of white paper for which the trust is held responsible has caused much alarm all over the country among newspaper managers, who have sought relief at last by appealing to President Roosevelt to use his good offices in having the tariff moved in order to restore honest competition. The Hy Metropolitan dailies principally have been sorely hit and their owners have now led in the fight to be relieved from the bondage. When it strikes home no man applauds a trust which creates a domestic trust to lessen personal detriment and that is the exact situation in this case. Even here in Jersey where struggling papers have attempted to conduct an honest business by retailing their newspapers at the price of one cent, the condition is already critical. Two plants have been compelled to announce a raise in the price of subscription and others necessarily will have to follow.

Referring to the present condition, the Elizabeth Daily Journal says:

"With the cheapest grade of white paper suitable for news print costing close to three cents a pound, penny papers are bound to disappear rapidly within the next year. The Perth Amboy Evening News and the Perth Amboy Chronicle are the first New Jersey dailies to boost the price from one cent to two. There are signs that there will be others very soon.

"A newspaper that is worth anything at all ought to be worth two cents. When a publisher doesn't get two cents for his paper it simply means that he is putting an unjust share of the expense of publication upon the advertiser. A newspaper has just so many sources of revenue, advertising and circulation. Generally speaking the abuscriber to a newspaper outnumber the regular advertisers twenty to one. A newspaper which sells its product for a penny gets only one-fifth of its revenue from subscriptions, the balance must come from advertising. The proportion is unjust all round.

"The craze for great circulation is chiefly an outgrowth of bad competition. In New York city, where several of the papers are subsidized for political influence or backed by the millions of ambitious men like W. R. Hearst. He is not an expert newspaper man at all, which has been demonstrated by the fact that his chief rival in his own field, The World, is a much better and infinitely more profitable newspaper. Moreover, it stands on its own bottom, which all newspapers should do, if they would enjoy public confidence and support."

DR. GROSZMANN TALKS ON LANGUAGE TEACHING

The study of grammar and some hints on language teaching formed the topic of Dr. M. P. E. Grosmann in his lecture to local school authorities in the city high school auditorium Friday afternoon. The lecture, which formed the second of a course to be continued through the winter, was postponed from Wednesday afternoon on account of the storm and was well attended, despite the blustery weather.

Grammar, the speaker said, is the most elementary form of logic and the inflected forms of grammar of foreign languages make them simbler for the young mind to comprehend than the uninflected forms of English grammar. Definitions are an obstacle to the childish mind, undeveloped in logic.

A young child does not possess the power of logical reasoning, the speaker maintained, for his conception of causality refers to organic, rather than to logical causes. Dr. Grosszmann spoke at length of the periods of development in the child's mind, stating that the dawn of true reasoning came at the tenth year, but there was no real reasoning power before an age of puberty.

For this reason, Dr. Grossmann claims that the study of grammar is unsuited to lower and intermediate grades, and all the points on grammar which come to the young child come by unconscious absorption from the reading he does or hears and in a large measure from the teacher's example in classroom conversation. The study is carried on by analogy largely and the study of foreign languages is helpful. In every child the language making instinct is innate, as shown by the eagerness to make secret languages and codes. Puzzles have a great educational value in mind training for a logical end, but in the early study of language the child merely gains general notions of the various parts of speech, without any attempt at definition.

In speaking of the grammatical work in the upper grades, Dr. Groszmann claimed that the treatment should be general, and the sentence should be the starting point. In speaking of the sentence, the lecturer spoke of its evolution and the elementary analysis by diagram. Thought and style should be attended at rather than objection and there should be plenty of composition work, with concrete exercises. There are different types of mind and grammar is clearly not suited to all, any more than all minds are mathematical minds.

The burden of grammatical instruction, the speaker said, should be thrown in the work in foreign languages, where inflection is used. Grammar should be taught in all grades and Latin should be begun at the age of twelve years. There is an inadequacy in the definitions of current text-books and valuable revision is possible in this field. No definition of a subject can be assimilated before the nominative case is understood, and the study of definitions should be left for secondary education. The children should be taught the correlation of the work in English with that of the foreign languages as they learn them.

Dr. Grossmann concluded his remarks by the outline of a course in language instruction which was quite the reversal of the traditional course now in use.

RAILROAD CAUSES LOSS OF A MATINEE

Failure on the part of the New Haven railroad to have the scenery car to New York at the time promised, resulted in no matinee of "The Three of Us" being given at the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon. As a result a large audience met with disappointment and Manager Counihan refunded ticket money, causing a large money loss to himself and Walter N. Lawrence, owner of the production.

The play was given at Bridgeport, Conn., Friday night and the railroad officials contracted to have the car in New York the next morning in time to catch the early float to Jersey City. For some reason the agreement was not kept and it was not until late Saturday afternoon that the scenery reached Plainfield. Manager Lawrence was waiting at the local playhouse and as soon as it was learned no performance could be given he took steps to secure damages from the railroad.

The production was greeted by a crowded house Saturday night and gave complete satisfaction. Miss Clotilda Nilson, who headed the cast, was warmly applauded at the finished actress and earned deserved applause at frequent intervals. She was supported by the same company that appeared with her at the long run of the piece in the Madison Square theatre last winter.

Y. M. C. A. AUXILIARY IN ANNUAL SESSION

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. was held Monday afternoon, when it was voted to raise money for the work, by voluntary contributions from active members. At the close of the meeting the annual meeting was held and the reports for the year showed gratifying results.

For a long time the association has felt the need of dormitories in the Y. M. C. A. building, and this year the auxiliary completely furnished two rooms.

The membership of the society stands just three short of 300; 170 active and 127 associate—the same total as last year.

The treasurer reported the receipts of $474.89. This has largely been expended in furnishing the dormitories, in paying for the telephone, in defraying the expenses of a boy at the summer Y. M. C. A. camp, and in a contribution to the State work. Several suppers have been served and the bills paid by the auxiliary.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. H. C. Krebs; first vice president, Mrs. W. A. Freeman; second vice president, Mrs. H. M. Maxson; third vice president, Mrs. A. J. Gavett; secretary, Mrs. H. J. Hubbard; assistant secretary, Mrs. Asa Randolph; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Runyon.

French Balls.

The number of phrases of the class called "bulls" to be found in polite works are not all the product of the Irish brain.

A novel that was crowned by the French Academy abounded of unusual merit contained a sentence of which the following is a translation:

"It was midnight. A man who lay in ambush listened to their conversation. He suddenly heard a tense, dark cloud passed in front of the moon and prevented his from hearing more."

Another phrase, written in downright seriousness by a master of French criticism, runs something like this:

"It was one of those duels in which one of the blades literally buries itself in the heart of the other."—Minneapolis Journal.

STORMED DUNELLEN JAIL PASTOR'S 4 YRS. RECORD

Mob Violence Threatened to Robinson, Whom Marshals Led from Cell in Disguise.

BY TROLLEY TO BRUNSWICK

Ruse of Police the Probable Means of Saving the Man's Life—He Denied All Accusations at Hearing.

Closely guarded by the entire force of the Dunellen constables, Charles Robinson, the colored man who was arrested on serious charges preferred by George H. Rockefeller, Saturday, and involving his three young sons, was spirited out of the side door of the Dunellen jail in disguise late Saturday night and taken to the New Brunswick jail. This prompt action was probably the means of saving the man's life, for a mob of about fifty men, including the fathers of twenty-five boys implicated in Robinson's crimes, were at the jail all the evening, and several times made attacks on the door, roused to a high pitch of excitement and threatening to lynch Robinson.

Robinson was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace R. V. P. Von Minden at the Dunellen court room yesterday afternoon at three o'clock. By order of the Justice, no one but those directly interested in the case were admitted to the court room. There was high feeling against Robinson, which showed itself in the sullen crowd outside the court room during the entire hearing. When Robinson was brought into the court room, guarded by Marshal Owen Mohan and Constable Robert Pierce, of New Market, Michael Marlenshek, father of William Marlenshek, one of the boys implicated in Robinson's alleged crimes, sprang up and seizing a chair, advanced to attack the colored man. He had to be forced to his seat. Order was maintained by Justice Von Minden's statement that the trial would be adjourned unless the peace of the court room was maintained.

When given a chance to speak for himself, Robinson, who appeared to be badly frightened, flatly denied the charges brought against him by Rockefeller and the fathers of the other boys. He accounted for his time on the nights when the alleged attacks were reported to have been made. At this statement by the prisoner the feeling in the court room vented itself in audible threats. Justice Von Minden, having heard that the alleged attacks were all made late in the evening, took occasion to speak of the parents of the boys as at fault in not keeping the children indoors after 9 o'clock.

Through the remainder of the afternoon and the early evening, the jail was closely watched by a large crowd of men, who at times threatened violence. In the jail with the prisoner were Chief Marshal Owen Mohan, of the Dunellen force; Constable Robert L. Pierce, of New Market; Constable Wesley Blaine and Special Officer Frank Marsh. At shortly after 9 o'clock the crowd outside began to batter at the door, demanding Robinson, and it was shortly afterward that the officers, muffling the prisoner in coats in a sort of disguise, burst out the side door and ran to the railroad tracks, from which they cut across lots to the trolley, taking the prisoner to New Brunswick, where he is in a cell, awaiting the action of the grand jury. The crowd did not follow the prisoner.

MUHLENBERG HOSPITAL'S ANNUAL HARVEST HOME

The annual "Harvest Home" in aid of Muhlenberg Hospital will be held on Thursday afternoon, November 21, from 3 until 6 o'clock, at the Nurses' Home, on the hospital grounds.

It is the custom to deliver the various gifts for this affair at the Nurses' Home, where they have been placed on exhibition on the day of the event. This year, however, it has been decided to have the gifts delivered on the day previous, November 20, at the entrance of the store room, adjoining the main building of the hospital, where a committee will be in waiting.

It is earnestly requested that a large supply of vegetables, dry groceries, fruits and canned goods be given and delivered, if possible, on the day before the festival. Of course, those who bring donations with them to the reception may leave them at the store room on the day of the festival. Any and all who so desire, may see the gifts received.

Another Coat of Cement Necessary.

Because of the haste of some people in wanting to drive over the brick pavement on West Front street, City Engineer Gavett has instructed Contractor Meeker to give the surface another coating of cement. Scarcely before the cement was allowed to begin the process of setting, wagons and autos run over the pavement, causing the brick to loosen. Mr. Gavett asks the indulgence of the people for a short time until the work can be completed.

First Baptists Have Raised Over $100,000 During Dr. Chamblias' Pastorate.

MEMBERSHIP STILL GROWS.

On Its Anniversary, Minister Reviews His Work Here—Its Chapel Prospering.

Sunday marked the fourth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. Dr. J. A. Chamblias at the First Baptist church, and in connection with his sermon the morning service he took occasion to make some reference to the event which was of special interest to the congregation. The pastor stated that when he became pastor of the church the membership was 964, and since that time 189 have been received into membership, 100 on confession and 89 by transfer from other Baptist churches.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chamblias.

There have been dismissed by letter 59, while 24 have died and 85 erased in the effort to correct the church roll and make it as near right as possible. Dr. Chamblias said that the reduction of the church membership meant an increase in strength, for by this method the exact strength of the church has been determined.

During the four years pastorate, including the $8,000 contributed to Faith chapel, there has been raised for all purposes the sum of $83,770.-72, of which amount $31,685.31 has been contributed to missions. The remainder has been used for church purposes, including the payment of the indebtedness of $10,000. Including all the receipts, comprising many private subscriptions, the total amount raised in four years is excess of $100,000.

Reference was also made to the excellent work at Faith chapel and the pastor, Rev. J. W. Musson, and superintendent of the Sunday-school, L. W. Randolph, as one of the other earnest workers were commended. That branch of the First Baptist church numbers 90 members and an addition has been built to the chapel and other improvements made at an expense of about $2,000. There have been received twenty-five members by baptism and twenty by transfer from other churches.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF FIRST M. E. CHURCH

The financial statement of the First M. E. church was presented at the morning service Sunday by the pastor, Rev. A. C. McCrea, showing what has been accomplished during the past year. The statement follows:

Balance on hand April 1 last, $460.77; received from pew rentals, last year's account, $62.11; received from subscriptions, deficiency 1906, $760; received from cemetery, $69; received from plate collections, $454.93; received from envelope fund, $2,903.21; received from insurance parsonage, $100, making a total of $4,810.02.

Expenditures—Note First National Bank, $1,000; interest on loans, $17.13; pastor's salary, $1,312.50; pulpit supply, $75; presiding elder, $40; rent of parsonage, $280; sexton, $291.65; music, $1,101.26; gas and electric light, $64.38; insurance premium, $3.60; repairs and supplies, $501.70; cemetery, $21.35; Ladies' Aid Society insurance, $100; November 1, balance, cash on hand, $1.45, making a total of $4,810.02.

CHAMBER CONCERT.

First of McIntyre Series Thursday Night.

The first of the McIntyre Chamber Music concerts takes place at the Casino Thursday night. Features of the program will be the Trio opus 29 by Gade, for violin, 'cello and piano, and the great sonata for violin and piano by Grieg in C minor. Madame Shanna Cumming will sing two beautiful arias from Handel's operas and a group of three English songs.

Mr. McIntyre will preside at the piano and Vladimir Dubinsky, 'cellist, whose work last season aroused so much enthusiasm among the music-lovers who attended the concerts.

LAY CHURCH CORNERSTONE

Impressive Service Marks the Ceremony at Church of the Sacred Heart.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES ATTEND.

Large Congregation Stood In the Rain At South Plainfield to Witness Ceremony and Hear Address.

In the presence of a great throng of Catholics, including several organizations from this city and South Plainfield, Monsignor Fox, vicar general of the Trenton diocese, laid the cornerstone of Sacred Heart church in process of erection near South Plainfield. Despite the storm, on account of which the program of ceremonies was somewhat shortened, there was a large delegation of visitors, including Father William Miller, of St. Joseph's; Father Bogan, of St. Mary's, and Father Delehanty, the curate there; Father Deitrich, of Bound Brook, and Father Dunphy, of St. John's church, Dunellen. Bishop McFaul, of the Trenton dioceses, in which the new church is situated, expected to be present, but at the last moment was unable to come, so Mgr. Fox officiated in his place.

After the ceremony of laying the cornerstone, Father Dunphy, of Dunellen, made a brief address in the open air, in which he alluded with commendation to the work being done by the diocese. There was special singing by the children of the Sunday-school, who marched to the site in a body, and after the ceremony sang "Holy is the Lord."

Delegations from Catholic organizations in the vicinity attended the ceremony in line, with drum corps and bands. Headed by the Polish Artillery band, a delegation of Polish Catholics, five hundred strong, marched to the site from their headquarters in South Plainfield. Of the local organizations, there was a big delegation from the Holy Name Society, of St. Joseph's church, and some two hundred members of the local branch of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. The T. A. B. Society, with a delegation of more than a hundred members, marched to the site behind the Independent Fife and Drum corps of this city, and there was in addition to these delegations from the new church, which is to cost about $10,000, is already in course of construction and the foundation has been laid and the floor of the main church laid. Michael D. O'Keefe has the contract for the work, which it is hoped to have rapidly, so that the building may be enclosed before the winter weather comes. It is expected that the work will be finished by early spring, and the church will be consecrated by Bishop McFaul, of the Trenton diocese, on Easter Sunday, when the first mass will be celebrated there.

MISS TENNEY TO WED SENATOR'S BROTHER

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Ruth Morgan Tenney and Howard Augustus Colby, of New York, a brother of State Senator Everett Colby. Miss Penney is the daughter of John Penney, of Philadelphia, but during the past two years she has been making her home with her brother, John Penney, Jr., of Evergreen avenue, this city.

While no announcement has been made of the date for the wedding it is known that it will take place in the near future at the home of Miss Tenney's brother. It will be a quiet affair and the invitation list will be limited to relatives and near friends.

Mr. Colby is the second member of his family to choose a Plainfield girl as his bride, his brother, the State Senator, having wed Miss Edith Hyde, in this city, four years ago.

P. S. C. Improvements.

It is the intention of the Public Service Corporation to start the work this year of laying the foundation for its large gas holder on its recently-acquired property on Watchung avenue, formerly owned by the Guion estate, for the purpose of erecting the holder possibly next summer. This holder will be in the nature of a reserve storage tank for gas in case anything should happen to the main which runs from Camden to Plainfield, supplying gas to the city. There has been a rumor that the company intends erecting an eight-story building on the Watchung avenue side of the property, opposite Fourth street, where offices will be established and a waiting room and where a trolley transfer point will be made, but inquiry among the officials fails to confirm the story. It is possible, however, that the company may build a structure on this property within another year.

Millinery Incorporate.

Articles of incorporation have been filed at Trenton for the H. A. Bonn Co., with an authorized capital of $25,000. The principal place of business is Plainfield, and the officers are H. A. Bonn, president; S. V. Bonn, secretary and treasurer. The corporation will do a general millinery business.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Right of Way" at Wallack's. Klaw & Erlanger's production of "The Right of Way" is in its second week at Wallack's theatre. This play is the best dramatic translation of a novel that has been seen on the stage in years. Sir Gilbert Parker wrote a powerful story, but Eugene Presbrey has written a more powerful drama. Of the 16,000 words in the dramatic version, only about 600 words are taken from the book. The dramatic version is, therefore, with the exception of following the trend of the story, Mr. Presbrey's own work. The acting in "The Right of Way" is attracting especial attention in New York. The company appearing in it is pronounced one of the very best dramatic organizations that Broadway has seen in many years. Guy Standing as Charles Steele is a perfect representation of the character of teh intemperate, agnostic lawyer. As Joe Portugals, the Canadian riverman, Theodore Roberts has the best character part he has ever essayed. A man of herculean build, he is the ideal of the role in personality, and in make-up and dialect he is its complete realization. The story of "The Right of Way" is told in five acts, with four sets of very beautiful and effective scenery. Matinees performances are presented Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

YOUTHFUL BURGLARS HELD FOR JUVENILE COURT

William Rickter and William Hand, the two boys arrested at Fanwood, Friday, and released on bail after pleading guilty to stealing eight pigeons belonging to J. P. Stevens, were arrigned in the city court Monday morning, charged by J. Fred MacDonald, agent, with breaking and entering the C. W. Opdyke residence at Watchung and Hillside avenues. They pleaded guilty as did also Nicholas Meyers, Jr., who was included in the complaint, and were held in $50 bail each to await the action of the Juvenile Court. The surety was furnished by parents of the boys.

It was stated after the hearing by Chief Kiely that other charges are pending against Rickter and Hand, and that they are the leaders of a gang that has been causing a lot of trouble in the East End for the past six months. In making a confession they implicated young Meyers in the Opdyke affair but he had nothing to do with them beyond this. The house has been vacant for some time and nothing was taken. There is a possibility that two other boys who worked with Rickter and Hand in the robbery of E. C. Kieb's home at Fanwood may be arrested in a day or so. With them before the court will be Miss Edith Kieb, daughter of the owner of the house.

The chief also stated that Rickter stole an umbrella valued at $10 belonging to Miss C. A. Beekman, of Clinton avenue, taking it from the porch at her home. He afterward sold it for thirty-five cents to Charles VanEmburgh, of Westfield, driver of a delivery wagon for a New York dry goods house. The umbrella has since been recovered by Detective-Sergeant John Flynn.

JOURNAL BOWLING LEAGUE SCHEDULE

The Central Journal Bowling League will begin its fourth season on Monday night, November 25. The league is composed of teams of the Park Club, Cranford Casino, Elizabeth Club, Newark Bay Boat Club and Jersey City Club. The prizes will be the same as in previous years, silver loving cup to the winner, $20 value of five balls, $10 value of second team prize, and two highest average prizes and a high score prize.

The season schedule of matches follows:

Nov. 16—Newark Bay vs. Park.
Nov. 25—Jersey City vs. Elizabeth.
Nov. 26—Cranford vs. Roselle.
Dec. 5—Park vs. Jersey City.
Dec. 4—Roselle vs. Newark Bay.
Dec. 5—Elizabeth vs. Cranford.
Dec. 10—Elizabeth vs. Park.
Dec. 11—Jersey City vs. Roselle.
Dec. 17—Roselle vs. Park.
Dec. 17—Newark Bay vs Elizabeth
Dec. 17—Cranford vs. Jersey City.
1908.
Jan. 2—Park vs. Cranford.
Jan. 1—Jersey City vs. New'k Bay
Jan. 2—Elizabeth vs. Roselle.
Jan. 7—Park vs. Newark Bay.
Jan. 9—Elizabeth vs. Jersey City.
Jan. 7—Roselle vs. Cranford.
Jan. 16—Jersey City vs. Park.
Jan. 16—Newark Bay vs. Roselle.
Jan. 16—Cranford vs. Elizabeth.
Jan. 21—Park vs. Elizabeth.
Jan. 21—Cranford vs. Newark Bay
Jan. 23—Roselle vs. Jersey City.
Jan. 28—Park vs. Roselle.
Jan. 28—Elizabeth vs. New'k Bay.
Jan. 30—Jersey City vs. Cranford.
Feb. 4—Cranford vs. Park.
Feb. 4—New. Bay vs. Jersey City.
Feb. 3—Roselle vs. Elizabeth.

K. of C. Vesper Service.

The annual vesper service under the auspices of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, will be held at St. Mary's church, Sunday night, when John Talbot Smith, president of the Catholic summer school at Plattsburg, N. Y., will make the address. There will also be special music.

BOOK-KEEPER IS MISSING

Continued Absence of Anthony Kregar a Source of Worriment to Family.

DISAPPEARED LAST WEDNESDAY

Employed by Public Service Corporation and Officials Find Evidence of Discrepancies In His Accounts.

Continued absence on the part of Anthony Kregar, a well known local resident living on Liberty street, has led to the family and friends calling upon the police to aid them in locating him. He disappeared last Wednesday morning, leaving at the customary time with the ostensible purpose of going to his work at the Public Service gas plant on East Fourth street. He has been employed as bank-keeper in the coke department but the last the officials saw of him was when he quit the office Tuesday. An election bet of $20, which he made with one of the men and won, is still waiting for him at the plant.

Kregar has always been known as a man of exemplary habits and has never remained away from home before more than a day or two at a time. Mrs. Kregar has been greatly worried over his absence and is at a loss to offer any explanation for his conduct. No one has been found who saw him after Wednesday morning and it is believed he is somewhere out of the city.

Kregar is well known as a musician and until recently was a member of various local orchestras.

It was said this afternoon that the Public Service officials had discovered evidences of discrepencies in Kregar's books and that legal steps will be taken to apprehend him and secure an explanation.

BISHOPS' LAW UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT

The Supreme Court at Trenton Monday decided the validity of the Bishops' law regulating the saloon business, by issuing through Justice Hendrickson an alternative writ of mandamus, compelling the Hoboken Common Council to issue an order compelling the screens in front of saloons to be removed on Sundays, so that passersby can see the interiors. The issuing of the alternative writ gives the Hoboken Council the right to demur and have cause why the screens are not ordered down, and the court then will pass on the matter, when it comes up for review.

Justice Hendrickson holds that the functions of Councils in ordering screens down is a matter of public right, and involves the performance of a duty which affects the public generally.

One of the grounds on which this case was fought was that when Council did not order the screens down, that an indictment was brought in getting the indictment of William O. Lay, the saloonkeeper, whose screens were not removed. The court said to this proposition that the indictment would not furnish the remedy, for even when a public duty had not been performed.

The Supreme Court also granted an alternative writ of mandamus directing the Board of Council of the town of Union to compel by resolution or otherwise the removal of screens from saloons on Sundays, similar to the decision in the Hoboken case.

A labor case of importance decided in the opinions handed down yesterday was that reversing the district court of Elizabeth in the suit of Louis Levin against John T. Cosgrove and the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America, No. 59. Levin applied for membership in the union, paying the fee of $25 in advance. He was rejected as a member, and sought the return of his fee. The Brotherhood contended that he was not entitled to "protection" while his petition for membership in the union was pending, and therefore his fee had been earned. The court decided that the right to labor was granted by the constitution and laws of the union, and therefore the union could keep exact the fee as a matter of "protection." The fee is ordered returned.

The court overruled the demurrer of Sheriff Kaiser, of Hudson county, to collect fees from the Board of Freeholders for feeding prisoners of the county institutions. This settles the act of last winter putting the sheriffs on a salary basis, and putting the feeding of the prisoners in the hands of the county, the amounts not to be disbursed in fees to sheriffs.

Arrested for Non-support.

George W. Ferguson, who until a short time ago worked in this city, was arrested at Fanwood by Marshal Logan, Saturday, on a charge of non-support preferred by the Newark authorities at the instignation of his wife. He was given a preliminary hearing before Recorder Sheelen and then taken to Newark. Ferguson was arrested on a similar charge in this city last spring.

PICK PLAINFIELD BOY FOR U. S. AMBASSADOR

Dr. David J. Hill to be Named by President to Succeed Charlemagne Tower at Berlin.

HE IS THE SON OF A MINISTER.

His Father, Rev. Daniel T. Hill, a Pastor of Local Church for Many Years—Dr. Hill's Rapid Rise.

Dr. David Jayne Hill, a Plainfield boy, is slated to succeed to the ambassadorship at Berlin, President Roosevelt having announced his purpose to reward him for his valuable services as minister to the Netherlands. Mr. Hill is a son of the late Rev. Daniel T. Hill, formerly of Plainfield pastor. The latter was pastor of the First Baptist church from 1828 to 1839. The clergyman was pastor of the Second Baptist church, which is now Reformed Hall, in West Second street, when young Hill was born here in 1834. The Hill home was on West Fourth street, opposite Truell Court. In the 50's the family removed to New York State, but later they returned when Rev. Mr. Hill became pastor of the Union Baptist church, which was located where Trinity Reformed church stands in West Second street.

As there were no schools here when young Hill was in his teens his rudimentary education was obtained elsewhere. He was always greatly interested in political economy and joined the Republican party in its infancy. His first Presidential vote was cast for Fremont and Dayton, the latter being a cousin of Dr. John Dayton, a local physician, who when President Candidate Dayton was a frequent visitor here and took a great interest in young Hill.

Not many years ago Dr. Hill was president of Rochester University, a post from which he left by Rev. Dr. Rhees, who is also a Plainfield boy.

Secretary of State Root announced yesterday that Mr. Hill, American minister to the Netherlands and formerly Assistant Secretary of State, will be sent as Ambassador to Berlin, to succeed Charlemagne Tower, who is about to retire on account of ill health. Mr. Hill has had great experience in the diplomatic service. He speaks German fluently, and it is said Mr. Hill's appointment will give great satisfaction to Germany. President Roosevelt first offered the post to Assistant Secretary Bacon, who declined it, as he preferred to remain in the State Department.

Dr. Hill had a long and successful career as an educator before he entered the State Department. He is fifty-seven years old. He was valedictorian of the class of '74 at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Penn., was immediately appointed an instructor, was promoted to the chair of rhetoric three years later, and in 1879, only five years after his graduation, he was elected president of the institution. Nine years later he was elected president of the University of Rochester, to succeed Dr. Martin Brewer Anderson.

After eight years of successful administration he resigned, to devote his entire time to the study of law and diplomacy. He spent nearly three years in Europe in furtherance of his object, but was called home in October, 1898, by President McKinley, who desired to avail himself of Dr. Hill's expert knowledge and practical experience as Assistant Secretary of State. He remained in the department for five years, during the greater part of Secretary Hay's administration, serving frequently and with satisfaction as Acting Secretary of State in the conduct of international negotiations requiring judgment, tact and a thoroughly informed mind. He was popular socially in Washington, as well as respected for his learning, and for several years filled the chair of European diplomacy in the School of Comparative Jurisprudence and Diplomacy in

In 1902 he was appointed United States Minister to Switzerland, was transferred to the Netherlands in 1905, and now receives promotion to the embassy at Berlin. He is possessed of means large enough to enable him to keep up the dignity of the embassy without embarrassment. He is married, Mrs. Hill having been Miss Juliet Lewis Packer, of Williamsport, Penn., daughter of Judge Hezekiah D. Packer. Mr. Hill is a member of many learned societies, and is the author of numerous works on diplomacy and international law, including "International Justice," "The Conception and Realization of Neutrality," "The Contemporary Development of Diplomacy" and "A History of Diplomacy in the International Development of Europe." He has also written biographies of Washington, Irving and William Cullen Bryant, "The Life and Work of Hugo Grotius," and various other books on educational, religious, political and financial topics. He is a member of the Authors' Club and the Century Association of New York City, and of the Metropolitan and Cosmos clubs of Washington.

BANQUET OF MEN'S CLUB

Rev. Dr. Whittaker Tells Members their Organization Gives Opportunity for Usefulness.

TWO OTHER SPEAKERS PRESENT

Men of the First Presbyterian Church Have a Big Time at Their Annual Dinner.

Under the auspices of the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian church the annual banquet was held Friday in the chapel of the church. About sixty members and friends of the club gathered and enjoyed a program of excellence, including several short addresses, and vocal selections by Miss Anna Case, soprano of the church choir, accompanied by Clifford A. Braider. The occasion marked the first meeting of the men and the inauguration of the winter's work.

The banquet was served at 7:30 by Mrs. John S. Johnston, Mrs. Alvin E. Hoagland, Mrs. N. W. Carrie, Mrs. George A. Ballentyne, Miss Bessie Bond, Miss Alice Miller, Miss Georgia Ricker and Miss Ella Lounsbury. The menu was an excellent one, from oysters on the half shell to crackers and chees and demi-tasse.

After the dinner, F. O. Downing as president of the club, made a few introductory remarks in presenting the speakers of the evening, the first being Rev. Dr. William Force Whittaker, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Elizabeth. He brought the information that a Brotherhood was organized in his church Thursday night, it being the youngest one in the Elizabeth Presbytery, and on its behalf he extended greetings to the Plainfield organization.

In his remarks on the value of men's clubs, Dr. Whittaker said that the day has passed when the parson is expected to do all the work of the church. There was a time when he was called "it," but he was pleased to see that the men's organizations are coming to the rescue and are proving a valuable aid in Christian effort. The day has arrived for larger participation on the part of the laymen and strong earnest men are rallying to the support of the pastor.

The speaker said that there is being put into energy those parts of the church body that have been lying dormant for years and not heretofore active. "I am interested in Brotherhood organization," said Dr. Whittaker, "because it permits us to use as bait many things not possible in the past, in our efforts to catch men. We can use different bait for different men. I am not quite sure that the prayer-meeting is the Bible exhortatively are always the best way to interest men in the church. There are other agencies that can be used legitimately and with good results, not that I would sacrifice the Bible or the prayer-meeting in the least. Some men who have in the past been permitted to lean, but they are now lifting and helping in church work."

The Rev. Perry Bascom, pastor of the Methodista Episcopal church, Mound Brook, took for his subject: "Men—Not Wanted." He said that in some societies the blackball is used to exclude men not wanted, but he did not mean to suggest that for church clubs. However, there are men who would be out of place in a club or in the church. "The lazy man is one that is not wanted," said Mr. Bascom. "This is the age of hustle, hurry and activity and the man who cannot keep awake and up with the procession is a lonesome individual.

"The church doesn't want lethargy, neither does it want men who are willing to let somebody else do the work. There are some men hitched to do most of the pulling and they generally do. We want to be fired with energy and zeal, set things on fire. The cowardly and weakling are also out of place in the church; the man who is afraid to do things; the man with a jelly-fish backbone. Then there are some people who are always criticising the minister. Why, I know one pastor who was severely criticized because he had large hands and feet and another one did not get a call to a pastorate because of the way he entered the pulpit when he preached as a candidate; yet he was a good man and lived to do a great work. What we want are real men in every sense that the word applies and then we will be able to accomplish things."

The third and last speaker was Rev. C. J. Culp, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Bound Brook, who spoke briefly of the great tidal wave now sweeping the country through the agency of the men's club in churches. He for one was not of the opinion that the golden age had passed, but that it was yet to come, but before the border line of that age is reached there are certain problems to be met and settled. He urged earnestness on the part of the men of the church.

At the conclusion of the speeches, a vote of thanks was extended to the speakers and Miss Case, and Mr. Braider, the accompanist, for the very enjoyable program.

VERY FIRST OF THE NEW GOLD COINS

The first of the new coins designed by the late Augustus Saint Gaudens, under the general direction of President Roosevelt, has reached the City National Bank from the United States Mint in Philadelphia. It is the $10 gold piece, or half eagle, and for the first time since 1873 the words "In God We Trust" are omitted from the coin. It is understood that these words will be omitted from the coins of all the other denominations, according to the design approved by President Roosevelt.

It could not be learned at the Treasury Department who was responsible for the omission of the words "In God We Trust," but the Department officers have had nothing to do with the change in the coin designed except to carry out the orders of the President.

The Secular League of the District of Columbia and other organizations of the same kind has been making a persistent campaign for years against the use of the name of the Deity in Thanksgiving proclamations and various official documents, and especially against the use of the motto "In God We Trust," on the coins of the Nation. All the old coins above the dime bear this motto.

The new gold coin issued from the mint bears on one side a spread eagle holding a number of arrows in its talons, and on the other side the head of an Indian in full war dress.

CITY HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN WON FROM CADETS, 10-6

The city high school football eleven won from the Hudson River Military Academy at Finderne Saturday afternoon by a score of 10-6. This is the second time the city team has won from the soldier boys, for they took the game played in this city three weeks ago.

The field was pretty soft Saturday, and the local players did not use any trick plays or the forward pass to any extent. They won by straight football. The teams were nearly matched as to weight, but the Military Academy line was weak on the defense. Bingaman scored for the high school in the first half, but no goal was kicked. In the second half, Lyness, who had taken Bingaman's place at full back, went over the line with the ball early in the period. With the score 10-0 against them, the soldier boys braced up and a minute or two before time was called, their captain, playing full back, carried the ball around the end of the high school line for the only touchdown. The goal was kicked.

The local team played fast football and showed little tendency to fumble. The left wing of the line was the weak point. Phillips had an off day, and failed to kick either of the goals. Fleming played centre for the first time, and did consistently well on the defensive. Captain Loizeaux showed good judgment at quarterback in picking out the weak places in the cadets' line for his plays.

The local eleven lined up as follows: le, Doane, Snyder; lt, Fountain; Cullen; rg, Morris; c, Fleming; rg, Sewell; rt, Hammond; re, Phillips; qb, Loizeaux (captain); lhb, Murphey; rhb, Caldwell, Smalley, Riffert; fb, Bingaman, Lyness. Referee—Roy Phillips. Umpire—Fred Day, of Finderne. 20 minute halves.

THIS YEAR'S CORN CROP 2,553,732,000 BUSHELS

Preliminary returns to the Department of Agriculture at Washington on the production of corn indicate a total yield of 2,553,732,000 bushels, an average of 26 bushels an acre, as compared with a yield of 30.3 bushels an acre in 1906. The general average as to quality is 82.8 per cent., as compared with 89.9 per cent. last year.

It is estimated that about 4.5 per cent. (120,915,000 bushels) of the corn crop of 1906 was still in the handsof farmers on November 1, 1907, as compared with 4.4 per cent. (119,633,000 bushels) of the crop of 1905 in farmers' hands on November 1, 1906, and 5.6 per cent. the ten years' average for old corn on hand November 1.

The Needlework Guild.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield branch of the Needlework Guild was held Thursday afternoon in the Crescent Avenue church parlors. There was a large attendance of directors and associates. A most interesting and attractive exhibition of new garments collected for distribution to the different charitable institutions in Plainfield was followed by a tea and generally social time. The garments collected this year, numbering 2,646, was a most encouraging increase over last year and most gratifying to the directors. Mrs. John H. Dumont, as president, wishes to thank the directors and associates for their very evident interest in the work.

BOB DAVIS STRIKES BACK

Resents Ex-Senator Smith's Charge of Trickery and Asks Nugent Questions.

WASHES THE PARTY LINEN.

Hudson County Boss Tells Some State Secrets and Exposes Essex County's Brand of Democracy.

Robert Davis, Democratic boss of Hudson county, presents his compliments to James R. Nugent, political lieutenant of former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., of Essex, and denies the imputation of trickery in the defeat of Frank S. Katzenbach. The crust of the Hudson harmony pie served up on the Davis outing last summer has been punctured, and the twenty or more stinging darts concealed therein are flying with caustic points toward Democratic heads in Essex.

Smith has alleged trickery—a trade between Davis and Dickinson for the defeat of Pagan at the cost of the Democratic majorities for Katzenbach. Davis turns to the pages of Democratic history in Essex and gives tit for tat. Smith, through Nugent, his chief air, wants to know why Katzenbach was knifed in Hudson. Davis, through James E. Hennessy, his private secretary and co-worker, wants to know why the Democratic Assembly candidates in Essex went down to defeat. And the Smith-Davis feud is on again, while Democrats throughout the State are paying their election bets and keeping their own counsel.

This is the epistle of the Phillistines that comes out of the land of the Davisites:

"People living in glass houses in Essex county should not throw stones in Hudson county. Essex was not at all particular when she made a deal with Passaic and other counties with Democratic Assemblymen too leaw to defend them in the distribution of honors in a Democratic House of Assembly.

"Essex must not forget the trickery by which she turned down Joseph A. Riordan, of Hudson, for Speaker and substituted Edgar R. Lethbridge, of Bergen, and the subsequent efforts at the time to freeze out Hudson in legislation. James R. Nugent must not forget that disgraceful scene in April, when he attempted to secure a snap sine die adjournment through his henchman, Hall, who "up to" the pot to call the kettle black.

"Mr. Nugent in charging Mr. Davis with treachery has a very short memory. He forgot his appearance in the Trenton House just before midnight of the night before the Democratic State Convention, when, flushed with wine consumed at a dinner given by James Smith, Jr., in New York city, he attempted to carry out orders to kill Katzenbach as a candidate by booming James E. Martine.

"Hudson came to the rescue of Katzenbach and saved him the nomination with the aid of other loyal Democrats, outside of Essex, which had desired his defeat and was sullen and revengeful. The great majority given Wittpenn in Jersey City was the result of local conditions that had nothing to do with the contest for Governor of New Jersey. The Republicans who voted for Wittpenn would not vote for Katzenbach.

"Judge Fort had sat in Hudson, and the people respected him and voted for him in preference to a candidate whom they knew nothing of and who did not declare himself, as he had been expected to do, on the issues of the campaign. Davis did all in his power to elect Frank S. Katzenbach Governor, and no man knows that better than I do. But you cannot make people vote for a man whom they do not know and who was silent on certain issues.

"Did Essex Democrats support James M. Seymour for Governor as they should have done for an Essex candidate, or did they stand by Charles C. Black, of Hudson, as they should have done for a party candidate? Essex has participated in party treachery for years, while Hudson's Democracy has always been the bulwark of the party in the State of New Jersey. No reproaches from Essex will lessen Robert Davis in the estimation of the people of Hudson county, nor will the people of the rest of the State be fooled long by outcries from professional party knifers in Essex.

"Hoboken Democrats repudiated the candidacy for Governor to a great extent because he was silent on the excise question. They did not know where he stood on a question that they considered vital. Katzenbach would have been cut still more in Hoboken if he had been there and had been as silent as elsewhere in the State on the excise question.

Hudson gave Mr. Katzenbach, despite all, a Democratic majority that puts to shame Essex's vote for him, and Hudson returns a solid Democratic delegation to the Assembly, while Essex loses eleven Democratic Assemblymen.

Bazaar and Mother Goose Dinner.

Under the auspices of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Holy Cross a bazaar and Mother Goose dinner will be given in the parish house, Wednesday and Thursday nights, November 20 and 21, from 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock.

HOME BURNS WHILE FAMILY ATTENDS WEDDING

A small cottage on Cottage place, owned and occupied by Benjamin Perretti, caught fire in some mysterious way shortly before 8 o'clock Sunday. The family were all away attending the wedding reception of a daughter at Westfield and the flames had made considerable headway before they were discovered by neighbors. An alarm was turned in from 52 and the blaze was extinguished by the chemical engine in about forty-five minutes.

The damage is placed at $100 on the structure and $50 on contents. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Perretti had several additions built to the rear of the cottage and in them kept a goat, a lot of chickens and fifty pigeons. Alex Kane rescued the goat, at the risk of his life, as he told Chief Doane, and neighbors got out all the chickens with one exception but the pigeons were suffocated.

Chief Doane conducted an investigation but was unable to learn what started the fire. Perretti declares it must have been the work of an enemy who was not invited to the wedding feast.

GUARDSMEN DRILL ON HOPE COMMON

The first batallian extended order drill in the State was held on Hope Common Saturday afternoon by Companies M, C, K and I, of the Second Regiment. It was largely through the efforts of Major W. B. Martin, formerly captain of Co. K, that the drill was held, it being his purpose to bring the various companies in the regiment up to the highest state of efficiency. In all there were about 230 men out, and the drill was satisfactory in every way.

The militia worked under what is known as the extended order, advance and rear guard, with battle formation of three echelons, batallion parade and review by Colonel Nelson A. Dunn.

A detachment from the Second Regiment fife and drum corps came to Plainfield and escorted Company K, of this city, and Companies C and I, of Elizabeth, to the Grant Avenue station, where Company M, of Somerville, was met. The companies formed there and marched to Hope Common, where the drill took place. The soldier boys went through the manoeuvres in a way that brought forth frequent applause from the onlookers, who were out in large numbers.

Major W. B. Martin was in charge and several members of his staff was present including First Lieutenant Batallion Adjutant Condit Atkinson, of New Brunswick; Captain W. K. Browning, assistant surgeon, of Plainfield; Lieutenant E. R. Pearsall, of Westfield; Sergeant-Major Sorge, of Elizabeth; Lieutenant-Colonel Robert Patterson, of Elizabeth, assistant inspector of the brigade, General J. Madison Drake, of Elizabeth, was also a spectator.

DR. BUCHANAN PRESIDENT OF BAPTIST MEN'S CLUB

The annual meeting of the Men's Club of the First Baptist church was held Monday for the election of officers and transaction of other business pertaining to the winter work. There was an informal discussion of plans looking for increased usefulness and greater activity and these will be announced more in detail within a short time.

An entire new set of officers were chosen for the coming year, not one who served last year being selected for office. Those elected are the following:

President, Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan; first vice-president, Thomas S. Armstrong; second vice-president, Henry C. Krebs; secretary, Raymond D. Carver; treasurer, Robert Sherwin; board of governors, Dr. P. B. Cregar, Howard J. Runyon, Dudley S. Miller, Robert W. Barnes, Alpheus Stine, Benjamin J. Phelps, Frederick S. Thompson, James E. Church, Jas. C. Smith, Spencer Smith, Morris A. Zook, J. V. E. Vanderhoff, Alexander Thorn and Alexander Milne.

HOSPITAL MEETING.

Financial Report of "Gathering of the Clans" Not Submitted.

Only routine business was transacted at the November meeting of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, held at the Casino, Monday. The committees were not ready to report on the net receipts from "The Gathering of the Clans." This will be made later.

The medical board reported the number of patients in October as follows:

Remaining at date of last report, 27; admitted, 69; discharged cured, 42; improved, 9; not improved, 2; died, 6; total number treated, 95; hospital days, 855; operations, 82; patients remaining, 36. In the dispensary there were treated 36 patients; visits of patients, 159; operations, 9.

"* * * Of all the newspapers in New York, the one which has approached most closely to the ideal of an American newspaper should be in straightforwardness and tone, "THE NEW YORK TIMES stands "first." —Harper's Weekly.

The New York Times

"All the News that's Fit to Print."

Gives more space to news than any other New York newspaper. It gives impartial news free from bias. It goes into honest that has other newspapers.

The London Times' Cable News appears in this country exclusively in THE NEW YORK TIMES. No other American newspaper excepts THE NEW YORK TIMES in the presentation of Domestic or Foreign News.

The New York Times

Is Now Appearing Every Sunday

Improved and Enlarged

with an illuminated PICTORIAL SECTION OF EIGHT FULL-SIZE PAGES, embracing pictures of prominent people in society and public life, also scenes and incidents of the week's events of the day.

The Magazine Section accompanying the SUNDAY TIMES presents a variety of interesting illustrated features and a unique selection of the best stories about men and women from foreign periodicals.

The New York Times.

Saturday Review of Books.

which accompanies the Saturday Edition, is the recognized authority to which the public looks for the first news of books.

The New York Times.

Weekly Financial Quotation Review.

gives a weekly review of current prices of stocks and bonds; also the highest and lowest, including high and low prices—comprising a compact and convenient reference publication for investors and others interested in financial matters.

ORDER THROUGH YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER,

or mailed direct from office, as per following terms:

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

	By Mail.
One Year, Sundays included	$10.10
Six Months, Sundays included	4.25
Three Months, Sundays included	2.25
One Month, Sundays included	.85
Per Week	.17
Daily, without Sunday, per year	6.00
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3.00
Daily, without Sunday, three months	1.50
Daily, without Sunday, one month	.50
Daily, without Sunday, one week	.12
The New York Times Weekly Financial Quotation Review,	1.00
Saturday Review of Books, Devoted to Review of Books, per year	1.00
Sunday, with Pictorial Section, per year	2.50
Postage to foreign countries for Daily and Sunday Editions, add $1.66 per month.

Newsdealers who are not receiving THE NEW YORK TIMES Daily and Sunday Editions—should order at once regular supply at once. Write for terms. Address Circulation Manager.

The New York Times
Times Square,
New York.

MAGAZINE READERS

SUNSET MAGAZINE beautifully illustrated, good stories and articles about California and all the Far West. $1.50 a year

CAMERA CRAFT devoted each month to the artistic reproduction of the best work of amateur and professional photographers. $1.00 a year

BOAT OF A THOUSAND WONDERS 64 full pages, consisting of 120 colored photographs of picturesque spots in California and Oregon. $0.75

Total . . . $3.25

All for . . . $1.50

Address all orders to

SUNSET MAGAZINE

Flood Building San Francisco

FOR AGENTS—AN OPPORTUNITY!

"THE OLD WORLD AND ITS WAYS"

BY

William Jennings Bryan.

NOW READY FOR SOLICITORS.

576 Imperial Octavo Pages. Over 200 Superb Engravings from photographs taken by Mr. Bryan.

Recounts his trip around the world and his visits to all nations. The greatest book of travel ever written. The people are waiting for it. The agents harvest. Outfit FREE—Send fifty cents to cover mailing and handling.

THE THOMPSON PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo. 7 26 3 c

WANTED—Apprentice boys to learn machinist trade. Walter Scott & Co.

MADEN—In this city, Monday, November 11, 1907, Christopher C. Maden, aged 38 years.

Sanitary Plumbing

Brick and Portable Furnaces

Gas Fitting, Tin Roofing, Etc., Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.

Having associated myself with the Master Members Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business, at all times and in all cases.

D. W. LITELL

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

COMMERCIAL LAW.

By Utley E. Crane, the well-known Philadelphi attorney. An instructive and invaluable treatment of this subject in its various branches.

PICTURESQUE PENNSLVANIA.

Pennsylvania's beautiful scenery described with illustrations.

MUSIC WITHOUT A TEACHER.

Learn to play the piano in 12 lessons, one lesson to be published each Sunday.

These remarkable and valuable features will at appear in the Sunday Record in addition to the general news and other special features. Order from your newsdealer in advance.

THE PHILADELPHIA RECORD,
917 Chestnut street. 10 24 3

NEW IN EVERY DETAIL

My new barber shop at

143 NORTH AVE.

is now open ready for business. All the latest appointments in the tonsorial line.

EDWIN S. MAYNARD.

DIME

Savings Institution,

Of Plainfield, N. J.,

Is now receiving deposits with interest allowed on all sums from $5 to $3,000.

J. Frank Hubbard, President.
Wm. F. Arnold, Jeremiah Manning, } Vice-Pres
J. C. Pope, Sec'y and Treas.

Money deposited on or before January tenth will draw interest from the first.

Guaranteed Salary $900 YEARLY.

Men and women of good address to represent us, locally or traveling; as agents. Others for local work looking after our interests. $900 paid each guaranteed yearly; extra commissions and expenses, rapid advancement; position permanent; good chance for earnest man or woman to secure pleasant, permanent position, liberal increase future. Mention this paper. Address

STAFFORD PRESS,
23 Church St., New Haven, Conn

W. K. CODINGTON,

Counsellor-at-Law

Commissioner of Deeds, Master-in-chancery, Notary Public. Offices Corner of Park Avenue and Second street.

DIED.

SWEENEY—On Tuesday, November 5, 1907, Michael Sweeney.

SLOYAN—In Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 2, 1907, James D. Sloyan, in his 37th year.

SWIFT—In this city, Nov. 5, 1907, Margaret Swift, in her 52d year.

SEADER—In North Plainfield, Thursday, November 7, 1907, Mary Seader, widow of the late John Seader.

NIELSON—On Friday, November 8, 1907, Elisa W., wife of Christian Nielsen, in her 70th year.

GIEBELHOUSE—Suddenly on Thursday, November 7, 1907, George Giebelhouse.

SPENCER—At Lake View, N. J., on Saturday, November 9, 1907, Harry Lyman Spencer, son of Mary J. and the late H. Newton Spencer, aged 38 years.

HEENAN—At South Plainfield, N. J., on Saturday, November 9, 1907, Jeffery Heenan.

MAKING A NEWSPAPER

Moving Pictures Show Every Step in Production of "The Record."

There has been a general curiosity on the part of the public to know how a modern newspaper is made and last Saturday all the wiseacres were roundly told at Keith's Philadelphia Theatre in a remarkable series of moving picture tableaux called "The Making of a Modern Newspaper." "The Philadelphia Record" was selected as the model by S. S. Lubin, who made the series of very realistic pictures.

The series opens with a scene representing a newspaper office over a hundred years ago. This is to give artistic and historical contrast to the great mechanical advance in journalism since that time. It shows the outside of an old Philadelphia printing shop, and the next glimpse is of the inside of the same printery. A journeyman is laboriously pulling impressions with a Ridges or Washington hand press, while his apprentice is busy among the type, both being dressed in the costumes of the period. Next appears Ben Franklin himself, who walks to the window, peers critically at the sheet, and again returns to his office, in a short time putting on his hat and walking out.

The next picture leaps across the century and gives a fine panoramic view of the home of "The Philadelphia Record." In a flash is seen "The Home" of famous Electric Sign, the same shown with the great reward for the progress of an exciting game between the Detroits and the Athletics.

The next picture shows the business offices of "The Philadelphia Record," with the office force and the ordinary routine of business going on. From that point the real tour of "The Philadelphia Record" establishment begins.

The managing editor is shown in consultation with various members of his staff, and all are true to life in the effect as if they were transacting their business in real flesh and blood before the audience. Next comes the city editor, with his corps of reporters, each one attending to his or her own business, according to the exigencies of the moment. This scene is succeeded by the department of the advertising manager, which shows an army of solicitors receiving their various assignments.

Receiving want and other advertisements by telephone is an interesting sight that follows next. This is a feature of advertising that in recent times has grown to great proportions. Something akin, but broader in its scope, is the succeeding view of the telegraph room, where a skilled corps of operators is busy receiving news from every point of the compass. The messages are directly taken on typewriters, and so realistic is the picture that the spectators can almost fancy they hear the click and rattle of the instruments and the machines.

Next comes a prominent feature of the making of a modern newspaper—the "Drawing of the Daily Cartoon." The spectators see the artist actually at work and are at once impressed with the deftness of his pen and the modesty of his studio. The next step is into the Mechanical Department, the visitor is treated to a close range view of "Setting Up Advertisements" by hand, succeeded by a tour through the linotyping room, where "The Philadelphia Record's" big batteries of linotype machines are shown in active operation. These almost human pieces of mechanism were never exhibited to better advantage. The stereotyping room comes next, with every operation shown in detail, including a complete demonstration of MacConnell's new Eclipse automatic finishing and cooling machine, which in one simple operation does the work of the four machines hitherto deemed necessary for shaving, trimming, cooling and accurately finishing the semi-cylindrical stereotype plates.

The last natural step is a visit to "The Philadelphia Record" press room, and the exhibition is such a fine one that even the most fastidious admire the magnificent series of views so faithfully portrayed on the screen. The great presses are shown to the fullest advantage from every end and angle, and at every stage of the journey, from the placing of the blank rolls on the spindles to the finished newspapers that may be seen rushing out of the mouths of the presses by the tens of thousands per hour.

One of the busiest departments is the delivery, mailing and shipping room. There the papers are automatically conveyed from the press room by an endless elevator and several mailing groups of men are kept on the jump putting up bundles, wrapping parcels and getting ready for the mail bags individual copies for out of town subscribers. Next is shown "Making the Trains," where the wagon delivery service every morning makes good the boast that "The Philadelphia Record" is always on time.

The final picture shows "The Philadelphia Record" at the breakfast table, and makes a fitting climax to the wonderful series. A typical American family is seen at home. The father seated beside his wife, is showing "The Record" just received.

WANTS HOUSEKEEPER BURIED WITH HIM.

Odd Provisions in the Will of William Henry Rusling, a Wealthy Trenton Bachelor.

Trenton, Nov. 11—Remarkable bequests and provisions are contained in the will of William Henry Rusling, a wealthy Trenton bachelor, which was made public here Saturday.

After giving $12,000 to charity, principally to Methodist boards and institutions, Mr. Rusling provided that $10,000 should go to his brother, General James E. Rusling, on provision that the latter take it and keep quiet, making no protest against the amounts or against any of the other provisions of the will. General Rusling is widely known throughout the country as a lawyer and churchman, also as a soldier and a lecturer on war subjects.

Another section of the will provides handsomely for Miss Hannah L. Rainer, who was Mr. Rusling's housekeeper for years. Miss Rainer's sister, Jane Rainer, is also remembered in the will. Mr. Rusling made the provision that at his death they should be buried with him in his family plot in Riverview cemetery. He also devised that Hannah Rainer should be treated as one of his relatives at his funeral and should be given her place among the immediate mourners of the family. He left a cash legacy to each of the women and all of the furniture and three years' use of his house to the housekeeper. He also left numerous small legacies to relatives in different parts of the country.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 71, G. A. R., will present a special program tomorrow night and has extended an invitation to all the members to attend.

COAL DEALERS.

Difference In Coal.

All coals may look alike to some people, but compare our Lehigh Coal with the Coal you bought somewhere else and you will see a difference.

You will notice that our Coal Burns Brighter, Gives More Heat, and Lasts Longer than any other Coal you ever bought before.

Boice, Runyon & Co.,

Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.
Park Ave., opp. North Ave.
Plainfield N. J.

The best time to order your winter supply of

COAL

is now. Do not forget that

NASH

is ready to supply you.

Telephone 287-W. 833-J.
Evenings 371-W.

OFFICE—130 WATCHUNG AVENUE

TenEyck & Harris,

—DEALERS IN—

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

Office: Rowley's Drug Store, 218 West Front Street. Telephone 23-L.

JOHN JOHNSTON

All the best grades of

COAL.

29 South Ave 'Phone 193

Coal I have on hand some very fine hard and Medium Coal. All kept undercover. Prices Cash. Coal

25 cents a ton reduction on cash orders.

L. A. RHEAUME,

146 East Fourth St. Telephone 448-W.
Yard, 474 South Second St. Telephone 23

GORGE O. STEVENS

747 West Front St.

R. L. CLINE

(Successor to C. H. Rugg & Co.)

The Best Quality Lehigh Coal

Yard and office 630 West Third St. Tel. 86

JOS. HARRIGAN

OLD COMPANY'S LEHIGH COAL.

Tel. 497-J. 41h and Richmond Sts.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

We call your attention to our fine display of

New Wall Papers.

We can't describe the patterns, but they are new, striking and effective, and with our large assortment we are sure to please.

Paints, Oils and Varnishes.

Woolston & Buckle,

145 North Avenue.

Summer is Over

Your vacation has refreshed you, now your house needs to be refreshed with a coat or paint. Consult

James C. Hansen,

Painter and Decorator.

Dealer in Wallpapers, Paints, Oils, Glasses, etc.

141 E. Front St.

Estimates Furnished.

Tel. 870-R

1907 Wall Papers.

IMPORTED & AMERICAN GOODS.

C. CONOVER & CO.

Decorators, Painters and Paperhangers.
Wall Paper and Paints Cheap.

115 Elmwood Pl. Tel. 1145

W. S. CHEEVER

1326 Park Ave.

Painting and INTERIOR DECORATING. WALL PAPER of every description at the Lowest Prices.

'Phone No. 538-J.

AZIENZA

Cures pimples and all impurities of the skin. Clears the complexion and beautifies the hair. Medicinal and toilet—50 and 75 cents.

CREAM.

ONE PICTURE

Framed here will prove to you how well and inexpensively we can do the work. Oval and round frames in all sizes.

ARTIST SUPPLIES

Winsor and Newton celebrated paints and brushes for oil and water color painting.

PYROGRAPHIC GOODS

A large variety of designed goods, outfits and special parts.

Plainfield Art Store,

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Vail

JEWELER AND OPTICIAN

103 Park Ave.,

calls your attention to his

Rimless Glasses.

They Look Good and You See Good.

JUST THE BUTTER YOU WANT

The purity of our Butter will appeal to you—its delicious taste will please you and our prices will convince you that we give good value. Finest Elgin Creamery and Fancy Print Butter.

W. W. DUNN,

THE PARK GROCER.

Duer St. and Line in Pl.

Go to the News Stand

at the Central Railroad Station for all the latest foreign and domestic Magazines and weekly periodicals. Numbers furnished on shortest notice.

Plainfield Daily Press

and all the New York and Philadelphia morning, evening and Sunday papers delivered to any part of the city. Under new management. Open Sundays.

F. M. WAGNER

Formerly of Jersey City News Stand.

We have made arrangements for a larger supply of first class milk and are giving the family trade our special attention. If you are not satisfied with the milk or the services you are getting give us a trial.

Price 9 cents a quart, 5 cents a pint. Cream 14 cents ½ pint.

Lindsay's Dairy,

965 West Front St.

TEL. 792-J.

STORAGE Best equipped and oldest storage warehouse in city for storing Furniture, Pianos, etc. Special floor for TRUNKS. Terms reasonable. All work personally attended to.

WRITE OR TELEPHONE 811-L.
"Orders left for moving with"
C. M. NAGLE,
Front and Grove Sts. Plainfield, N. J.

J. W. VAN SICKLE

128 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Fresh and Salted Meats.
Game in season. Philadelphia Scrapple.
Orders called for and delivered promptly.
Telephone No. 469-J.

GUSSOW BROS.

NEW YORK

Ladies' and Gents' Tailoring.

We do Cleaning, Pressing and Altering. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

136 PARK AVE. JEFFERY B'LD'G

Cleaning, Pressing and Dyeing.

Monthly Contracts.
Promptly called for and delivered.
EVENING DRESSES A SPECIALTY.
Ladies' Waists Cleaned, 25 cents upwards
Gents' Suits Cleaned $1.50
We do our own work at
M. A. Brown's, 218 West Second St.

McCULLOUGH'S STEAM MILL,

21 Steiner place, North Plainfield, N. J.
R. H. McCULLOUGH, Prop.
Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing, Turning, etc.
Estimates cheerfully furnished.

Chas. L. Stanley,

129 East Front St., 'Phone 824

Headquarters for choice Cut Flowers and Potted Plants. Floral design work a specialty.

25,000 feet of glass. 1126 South Ave.

"COWPERTHWAIT" INCORPORATED 1897

AND

VAN HORN CO.

FURNITURE CARPETS BEDDING STOVES AND REFRIGERATORS.

Use our "New Process" if you want your carpets thoroughly cleansed

A Guaranteed, Worthy, Thoroughly Satisfying Machine

"The Old Reliable" Sewing Machine"

A machine that's all its name implies—the successful product of years of study by one of America's leading manufacturers. Unmatched for its light running, serviceable and enduring qualities. Sews speedily, continuously, correctly—"down to date" in every imaginable improvement. Four distinct models—all "drop-heads;" three of them automatic; golden oak.

The regular $22.00 model of "Old Reliable"

Special at

$16.48

Cash or Credit

Also Full Line of

The White Automatic lift Sewing Machines

There's no finer, no better planned, more perfectly constructed machine in the field to-day. Made in both rotary and vibrating shuttle models—simple, durable shuttle driving mechanism, largle double feed, allowing goods to feed without guidance; speed the highest (over five stitches to one foot movement), ball bearings. Four models—all automatic drop-heads—highly polished golden oak. Cash or credit.

$45.00, 48.00, 52.00, 55.00

EASY CREDIT TERMS

COWPERTHWAIT

AND

VAN HORN CO.

73 MARKET STREET NEWARK, N. J.

SMALLEY BROS.

147 North Ave.

BUTCHERS

Our Specialty, Berkshire Pork
Try Our Berkshire Sausage Made on Premises.

Roasting and Broiling Chickens a Specialty.

Orders called for and delivered.
Telephone 68-A. 5 1 tf

J. C. POPE & CO.,

INSURANCE AGENTS,

110 E. Front St., Plainfield, N. J.

A. H. ENANDER,

Sanitary Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Steam and Hot Water Heating, Contractor for Sewer Connections.

125 Watchung Av. Rear.

L. Moraller & Son,

Watchmakers and Jewelers.
Watches, Clocks and Jewelry.
Fine Watch and Clock Repairing a Specialty.

219 Park Ave. Plainfield, N. J

JOHN WINZENREID,

Furniture and Freight Express.

Moving Vans and Storage.
819 Lee Place. 'Phone 548-R.

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING CO.

Renovating—Offices, stores and private residences. Service day or night. Furniture, china and glassware packed for shipping.

WM. A. KLINE, 611 W. 3d St.

JOHN A. KOCH.

Dealer in

Meats, Poultry, Fish, Oysters, etc.

226 Richmond Street.

Orders Called For and Delivered.

GUSTAVE HOFFMAN.

SEAFOOD.

Daily shipments at 329 West Front Street. Tel. 968.

TITUS H. LAURY

MASON AND BUILDER.

Office, 323 East Front Street.
Tile Setting, Mantels From Work.
Telephone 464-L.

WHY pay rent all your life when you can get a house on easy payments; I have a secret and if you will call on me I will give it to you; now I am selling lots on instalments on West Third and Fourth streets, Hunter and Evona avenues; give me a call. M. F. Gano, 142 North Ave.

TURKISH BATHS!

TRY ONE

Ladies morning Gentlemen afternoons
Take trolley to Sanitarium
Montrose Street

William H. Pope, ELECTRICIAN.

All kinds of electrical work done reasonable prices

116 NORTH AVENUE.

William H. Kirch

CARPENTER AND BUILDER

66 DUER STREET, N. PLAINFIELD

Estimates cheerfully given.

Jobbing promptly attended to. Tel 497-J

ALEX. LUSARDI,

Foreign and Domestic Fruits. Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc.

211 W Front St. Tel 507-W.

Meat Market.

Choice Meats, Poultry, Fish and Oysters always on hand. Sugar cured Corned Beef. International Hams and Bacon.

F. Neidig, 94 Somerset St. Telephone 211

E. B. Maynard's

Tonsorial Parlor. Electrical Massage for face and Scalp. First-class work. Children a Hair Cutting a specialty.

Tel. No. 734-R.
141 NORTH AVENUE.

JOHN WIRTH

(Successor to Henry Liefke.)

Bakery and Confectionery.

201-203 West Front St. Tel. No. 723.

All orders delivered at short notice.

HOAGLAND'S CITY EXPRESS BAGGAGE

Trucks and Vans for Furniture and Local Trucking.

OFFICE 205 PARK AVE.
Tel. 833-W. Residence Tel. 643-L.

REAL ESTATE

Bought, Sold and For Rent.

J. SACHAR,

721 WEST THIRD STREET.

DRUGGISTS.

ONE DOSE IN TIME

of our

White Pine Balsam Compound

may save a horrible Winter's cold. It's better so is a re a reliable remedy at hand for use when you need it. This is the season for colds and our White Pine Balsam Compound is necessary for it.

C. M. NAGLE'S PHARMACY,

Prescriptions Our Specialty.
Front and Grove Streets. 'Phone 811-L.

Complete Line of

REXALL

Goods at

MILLER'S PHARMACY

Park Ave. & 4th St. Tel. 225.

Hodge's Pharmacy.

Y. M. C. A. Building.

BELLE MEAD SWEETS.

Tel. 62.

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF

EAST FRONT STREET

HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.

Gottfried Krueger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private Dining-Room.

HOTEL KENSINGTON

(Licensed.)

J. H. STAATS Prop.

127-129-111 North Avenue.
Everything New and Up-to-date.
An inspection solicited.

HOTEL IROQUOIS

Commercial Headquarters. J. W. LEARY, Proprietor.
Plainfield, N. J.
Pabst Milwaukee Beer on draft.

SUNDAY DINNERS
SPECIAL FEATURE

REAL ESTATE

RENTALS — REAL ESTATE.

GEO. F. BROWN.

Insurance and Real Estate

Commissioner of Deeds—Rents

94 Somerset St. Phone 180.

J. HIMMELFARB,

Ladies' Tailoring and Dressmaking. Altering and Remodelling neatly done.

Habits a specialty.

Perfect fit guaranteed

Call and See Fall Models.

311 New St., near Truell Court.

Tel. 903-J.

HENRY WIERENGA

Residence 'Phone 517-J.

Furniture, Freight, Baggage Express and Rigger.

PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY.

5 1 tf

Try a box of

DOBBINS' CIGARS.

Clear Havana Nickle Yara or any kind that you desire. Manufactured at 126 North avenue, opposite Kensington Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.

STATIONERY AND TOYS.

HARPER,

411 PARK AVENUE

Kindling and Grate Wood.

Cedar Posts and Bean Poles. Prompt delivery. Orders received at 89 Somerset St.

JOHN MOBUS,

P. O. Box 826.

H. J. HAROLD

Pianos Tuned and Regulated.

Tel. 460-R. Res. 143 E. 6th St.

J. NEUSTADT,

MERCHANT TAILOR.

Ladies' Tailoring a Specialty.

Cleaning, Pressing, Altering at Lowest Prices.

Work Called For and Delivered.

Formerly with R. A. Risley, Fifth Avenue, New York.

436 Watchung Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Telephone 668-W.

YOU WILL NEVER BUY A HOME WITH MONEY PAID FOR RENT IN THE PAST.

START NOW TO

OWN A HOME

of your home by taking out shares in

THE CENTRAL BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

OF PLAINFIELD.

J. F. MacDonald, Sec'y.

Smalley Building, 142 North Ave.

Mountain House,

Mt. Bethel, N. J.

FRENCH RESTAURANT

Resort for Automobiles and Driving Parties

A. E. BINZ, Prop.

INCENDIARIES FIRE HOTEL.

Asbury Park Councilman Offers $500 Reward for Miscreants Who Started Flames.

Asbury Park, Nov. 11—Fire of incendiary origin did several hundred dollars' worth of damage to the Minot House early yesterday morning. Harry Rockefeller, H. B. Ayers and Dr. Thomas Pratt were returning home from their club by way of Grand avenue, when they discovered the blaze. They found the hotel afire in two places about one hundred feet apart. The firemen soon extinguished the flames.

Both fires had apparently been set from the outside of the building. One was set under a porch adjoining the small kitchen, which is at present used in connection with the hotel, and the other was about one hundred feet away in a wing of the hotel. This fire was set under the kitchen, which is used in the summer, and was the larger fire of the two. This kitchen has no cellar under it, and the blaze burned up through the floor before it was extinguished. This portion of the hotel has not been in use since last summer.

The locations of the two blazes make it impossible to believe they could have started from natural causes, and the opinion of those who were earliest on the scene is that they could have started only from the outside by persons unknown. Councilman Jesse Minot, owner of the hotel, has offered $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the firebugs.

Quality and Price

The two vital questions in your piano purchase are, first, quality; second, price. An unsatisfactory piano, in tone and action, is the most annoying article you can have in your home. You dislike to be expending money on it continually to keep it in playing condition.

Hallett & Davis Pianos

give permanent satisfaction. Come in and examine our new Style B.

We are sure you will have none other than this piano.

The price is ..... $350.

IT IS EXACTLY RIGHT.

Write for art catalogue.

New Pianos to Rent

We rent only new and thoroughly dependable pianos.

$3, $4 and $5 a month.

Call or telephone.

Est. 1839.

Hallet & Davis PIANO COMPANY

170 E. Front St., Plainfield.

"The Hallet & Davis Payment Plan saves you money, saves your nerves and saves your patience."

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between Martin P. Richards, complainant, and Henry H. Auger et al., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above-stated writ of fieri facias to me directed I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Sheriff's office, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1907, at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises situate, lying and being in the city of Plainfield, county of Union and State of New Jersey;

Beginning at a point in the middle of Eighth street, between Monroe and Clinton Avenues, and the southwesterly corner of lands now owned by Catharine L. Randolph and deeded to her by Elston Stelle Elliott and to him by Richard Elliott, deceased, thence running along the middle of Eighth Street south forty-five (45) degrees and twenty-seven minutes west fifty (50) feet to a point in the middle of Eighth Street and in other lands now owned by said Margaret A. Saxton; thence running through said Margaret A. Saxton's land and making a line south forty-five degrees and twenty-seven (27) minutes west two hundred and nineteen (219) feet and two-tenths (.2) of a foot to a point in the line of lands formerly owned by Joseph W. Vail, deceased, and now owned by Burnet and Leeds, later by James T. Harris, deceased, and now owned by George Harris; thence running along the line of said Harris north forty-five (45) degrees and seventy-seven (27) minutes east fifty (50) feet to the northwesterly corner of said Catharine L. Randolph's land as deeded formerly Elston Stelle Elliott; thence running along the southwesterly line of said Catharine L. Randolph's land north forty-five (45) degrees and twenty-seven (27) minutes east two hundred and nineteen (219) feet and two-tenths (.2) of a foot to the center of Eighth Street, and place of beginning. Being the same land and premises conveyed by Margaret A. Saxton and husband to Joanna M. Saxton, dated August 28, 1906, and recorded in Union County Registrar's office in book 454 of deeds, pages 101, etc.

WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE, Sheriff.
REED & CODDINGTON, Sol'rs.
10 28 5 m EDJ&DP Adv. Fees—$9.26.

Flor de Timbo

Clear Habana.

Get It at Timbo's

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Nov. 17: "Personal evangelism." "The natural method."—John, i. 40-42, 45, 46. "He findeth first His own brother."

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

Passages for reference—John III, 3, etc.; iv. 7, etc.; ix. 38; xiv. 6; xv. 26; Acts, ii. 36; Rev. xi. 4-6; Matt. v. 14-16.

Some people seem gifted far above the ordinary in the work of personal evangelism. They possess a power of persuasion, an attractive personality, a certain magnetism, which are powerful for influencing others. At least so it seems to those who have never had any particular success in this kind of endeavor.

Yet a close study of their gifts and methods will often surprise one, for in most cases these most successful ones are not specially gifted with eloquence, are frequently not highly educated and lack many qualities they would naturally be supposed to have.

Careful attention to the cases referred to in our Scripture passages will show the secret of success, which is exceedingly simple.

It is not enough to say these people were in earnest. Multitudes are in earnest who never accomplish what they desire and strive hard to effect.

But these people acted naturally. They were not playing a part. They never thought of doing otherwise. There was no posing, no striving for effect, no self consciousness and wondering what others would say. They sought no other end but just the simple one of influencing the person they were after. They had a single aim. That, however, was only a condition and not the real cause of their success. The real power lay in three items.

First, in each case living contact had been had with a thrilling truth. Andrew had not only been in touch with John Baptist; he had been touched by the personality of Jesus. As surely as the electric spark follows the closing of an electric circuit, so surely does personality act on personality. Whoever is moved by a true spirit or truth receives an impulse intellectual or moral. Power radiates from personality by look, tone, gesture. Jesus was ever filled beyond all measuring by the spirit of the Father, and all who came under His influence felt the gracious power of the divine personality. The supreme reality of existence in moral life touched each of these. This is the first prime necessity for all evangelism—yes, for all vigorous, healthy, natural religious development.

Second, this divine touch of truth awakened the real spirit life within them and made them active, alert, to impart what they had received. Anything electrically charged will communicate to other bodies brought under proper conditions the same electrical condition it has itself. So with men. When touched by a great truth we not only have an intellectual insight, but we have an impulse to action—and as we learn to do so with our knowledge. We become charged with force and crave to communicate that power to others.

Then comes the third fact. We impart of our spirit to others. So with Andrew, Peter, Philip with Jesus and the woman of Sychar, Philip and the eunuch. So with every one who has ever had an atom of evangelistic power.

If you have never lifted one, searched and find the lack. Have you ever been touched by God? Have you thrilled under the divine power? Have you longed to touch others into life? This is life worth living.

True Enjoyment.

The best way for a man rightly to enjoy himself is to maintain a universal, ready and cheerful compliance with the divine and uncreated will in all things, as knowing that nothing can issue and flow forth from the fountain of goodness but what will be good, and therefore a good man is never offended with any piece of divine disposition, nor hath he any reluctancy against that will that dictates and determines all things by an universal rule of goodness, and knowing that there is an unbounded and almighty love that without any disdain or envy freely communicates itself to everything He made, that always beholds those in His everlasting arms who are made partakers of His own image, perpetually nourishing and cherishing them with the fresh and vital influence of His grace.—Dr. John Smith.

Is This to Be Your Symphony?

To live content with small means, to seek elegance rather than luxury, and refinement rather than fashion; to be worthy, not respectable, and wealthy, not rich; to study hard, think quietly, talk gently, act frankly; to listen to stars and birds, to babes and sages, with open heart; to hear all cheerfully, do all bravely, await occasions, hurry never—in a word, to let the spiritual unfold, and unconscious grow up through the common duty—this is to be my symphony.—Channing.

Done For the Master.

One day to a humble dwelling
A weary traveler came,
And she who came out to meet him
Did not to ask his name,
But hastened to bring water,
And a crust that love made sweet;
And bade him sit down at the threshold
And quench his thirst and eat.

Years after the story runneth.
Death came to that humble door,
And brought to the woman this message,
"Thy home on earth is o'er."
But she cried, "All empty handed
I must meet the Master kind
And have prayed for bread and water
I sought, but could not find."

But when she came to the Master
He smiled in her face and cried,
"Those gavest a draft of water
To one who sore had died,
And lo, as to him thou gavest
To Me, to me was given,
And the bread of her who heard Him
Was the happiest one in heav'n!"

—Ellen E. Rexford in Forward.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 17, 1907.
By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Wanted—Men for Gideon's band. Judg. vii. 5-8.

If we look over the advertising columns of our daily newspapers we will see some like this, "Wanted—Men"—men for various occupations in life. Our topic is such an appeal, "Wanted —Men"—men for Gideon's band. And in this appeal for men we may see the call of God. The men of Gideon's band were God's men, chosen by Him to do a special work for Him. Nor do employers who advertise for men always find the kind of men they want. There are large numbers of men and many of them seeking for positions, but too many of them are unqualified to do any special kind of work and therefore are practically useless. God has the same difficulty. There are many men associated with His church and yet so few really qualified to do the important work which He has for them to do. An old philosopher once went through the streets of Athens with a lantern seeking for a man, but we are not told that he was eminently successful in his search. God once commanded Jeremiah to run to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem if he could find a man—one who was honest and upright and such a one as God could approve. Nor are we told how successful the prophet was in his mission. It is therefore not such an easy thing to find the men for the work of His service.

The intimation of the topic is that God wants Gideon band men. This leads to the inquiry, What kind of men were members of Gideon's band? The story of Gideon's band is a most interesting and inspiring one. Gideon was the fifth of the judges of Israel. He was called upon to deliver Israel from the oppression of the Midianites. He sounded his trumpet, and 32,000 men rallied to his standard. This was a larger army than God wanted, lest the people might think they delivered themselves out of the hand of the enemy. The timid were allowed to withdraw, and 22,000 stepped out of the line. At the "well of testing" 9,700 more were eliminated, and only 300 of the 32,000 remained, but with this small band the Midianites were defeated and a glorious victory won. Gideon was their leader, and their battlecry was, "The sword of the Lord and Gideon!"

What kind of men, therefore, were the Gideon band men whom God wants today to do His work? (1) They were men who placed their dependence upon God rather than upon man. They were tested. Only a small part of their original number were left behind, for their dependence for victory was in God, as is shown by their cry, "The sword of the Lord and Gideon!" The Lord was placed before Gideon. First of all, their trust was in Him. They struck "for God and their native land." Such men God wants today in His service—spiritual men who depend upon spiritual agencies rather than upon temporal ones. Though numbers are not to be despised, it is realized that "with God all things are possible." The tendency today is to trust too much in numbers and external ecclesiastical machinery. We need to get closer to God and pray more prayerfully and practically that "it is not by might nor by power, but by My spirit, saith the Lord." A few spirit filled men can accomplish for God far more than thousands who depend upon human strength and plans. Spiritual laborers are required. (2) They were tested men. God had tested their courage, and it was not found wanting. A coward cannot do God's work. He wants courageous men, men of God's choosing, men not afraid to stand by their convictions even in the face of ridicule and opposition. God also put these men to a second test, which involved their earnestness and consecration. They were required to drink of the water as a dog would drink without kneeling were acceptable. The lapping of the water standing showed earnestness. They were to engage in battle and had no time to waste while drinking. It also proved that they were not accustomed to bowing to Baal, and thus their separation to God was made manifest. God today wants earnest, whole hearted and consecrated men. A lazy man can do nothing for God. He is afraid to work. A worldly life cannot fight His battles. Which are we? If we do not possess the qualifications for serving God, let us seek them through an earnest consecration of ourselves to Him in Jesus Christ.

BIBLE READINGS.

Neh. iv. 1-9; Hos. i. 7; Zech. iv. 1-10; Ps. xx. 7-9; xxxiii. 12-20; Matt. xxvii. 19, 20; John ix. 1-4; I Cor. xv. 58; Gal. vi. 9; Rev. ii. 10.

Many Sidedness of Christian Endeavor.

I marvel sometimes at the many sidedness of our Christian Endeavor work. Born in large part out of an idea that the best Christian development is brought about through exercise, Christian Endeavor has come to stand for much that may properly be termed unusual in our church life. In very many instances it has been an unusual opportunity not recently found in its sphere and yet a task that needed doing. True to its best, it has put itself to doing the particular thing and by the power of its example has opened the eyes of those who ought to have seen the duty. Then it has been Christian Endeavor's good sense, after having put the proper forces to work, to leave this duty in the hands where it rightfully belonged and itself pass on to other pioneer work for the good of humanity and the glory of the Christ.—John H. Clemens in Christian Endeavor World.

JUST 2,900 DEATHS IN EXACTLY A MONTH.

Trenton, Nov. 7.—There were 2,899 deaths reported in New Jersey during the month ending October 15, 1907. By ages there were 755 deaths among infants under one year, 268 deaths of children over one year and under five years, and 668 deaths of persons aged sixty years and over.

Compared with the previous month there was a decrease of 506 deaths from all causes, a decrease in the number of deaths also occurred from typhoid fever, measles, whooping cough, diphtheria, pulmonary tuberculosis, cerebro spinal meningitis and infantile diarrhoea. A slight increase is shown from scarlet fever and pneumonia.

The following table shows the number of certificates of death received in the State Bureau of Vital Statistics during the month ending October 15, 1907, and also the number of deaths reported from certain selected diseases, compared with the corresponding month of 1906, and with the average for the previous twelve months.

	Death certificates received Oct., 1907.	Average previous months.
Causes of death.
Typhoid fever	51	37
Measles	3	12
Scarlet fever	22	17
Whooping cough	20	26
Diphtheria	29	58
Malarial fever	2	2
Tuberculosis of lungs	251	207
Tuberculosis of other organs	62	49
Cancer	112	119
Cerebro spinal meningitis	37	28
Diseases of nervous system	346	384
Diseases of circulatory system	292	306
Diseases of respiratory system (Pneumonia and tuberculosis excepted)	107	178
Pneumonia	143	260
Infantile diarrhoea	366	196
Diseases of the digestive system (Infantile diarrhoea excepted)	223	192
Bright's disease	180	195
Suicide	31	28
All other causes	602	574
Total	2,899	2,968

Too Ill to Be Nursed.

"The late Bishop FitzGerald," said a St. Louis man, "once presided at this season of the year at the graduation exercises of a class of nurses. He told the young women a story that pleased them mightily.

"He said that during our war with Spain a certain hospital had a corps of nurses of exceptional beauty—just such a corps, in fact, as the young ladies ranged before him would have made.

"But it was whispered that these fair nurses were inclined a little to frivolity, inclined a little to flirt with the ailing young soldiers in their charge.

"Now when a soldier felt that he was on the mend, a flirtation with a pretty nurse was delightful, but when his wounds were troublesome, then gallantry was a thing that he was hardly up to.

"And indeed it was said that sometimes a pretty nurse in this hospital would coax a favorite soldier, and find him lying with closed eyes, as if asleep on his cot, and this note pinned on the counterpane:

"'Too ill to be nursed today.—John Smith.'"—Indianapolis Star.

EDITORIAL FLINGS.

We suppose that snakes trained to bite people early and often will command good prices in Georgia next year.—Houston Post.

London Punch says Germany is prepared to grab Brazil as soon as that fleet of ours gets to the Pacific. Funny at last.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

One great trouble about buying when stocks have touched bottom is that there always seems to be a false bottom still farther on.—Chicago Record-Herald.

A scientist has recently discovered that a man's nature is determined by what he eats. The diet of some people must be largely made up of gooseberries and hogs' brains.—Atlanta Constitution.

"Next to the newspapers," says Mark Twain, "the ladies are the most able disseminators of news." From which it appears that there are moments when Mark does not indulge in jokes.—Washington Post.

Practising by Ear.

When Grover Cleveland was practising law in Buffalo one of his friends was a lazy young lawyer who was forever pestering him with questions about legal points that he could just as well have looked up for himself. Even Cleveland's patience had an end. One day as his friend entered he remarked.

"There are my books. Help yourself to them. You can look up your own case."

The lazy lawyer stared at him in amazement.

"See here, Grover Cleveland," he said indignantly, "I want you to understand that you and your old books can go to thunder. You know very well that I don't read law. I practise entirely by ear."—Everybody's Magazine.

NOVEMBER'S MAGAZINES

A Northern magazine is sympathy with Southern ideals and struggles is exemplified in the Atlantic Monthly, which celebrates its semi-centennial with the November issue. During the sternest stress of the Reconstruction period, in fact, ever since the war, thoughtful and able articles on the South have appeared in the columns of that periodical. The brilliant series of essays on the Reconstruction, printed in the Atlantic in 1901, will be immediately recalled. Soldiers and scholars such as Nathaniel Southgate Shaler, writes like Thomas Nelson Page, historians like Woodrow Wilson, have all contributed their work to this cause.

John Sharpe Williams.

Many Washington friends of John Sharpe Williams have been gratified at his election from the State of Mississippi. It was a hard fight, but Mr. Williams has been accustomed to that in his political career. Certain it is that none can gainsay the splendid qualities of the erstwhile Congressman of Mississippi. The general plan of promoting Congressmen to the Senate has been observed North, South, East and West, and few Senators from the South begin their work with better qualifications than John Sharpe Williams. I was much interested in the many letters received from subscribers in Mississippi desiring that mention be made of their new Senator, in whom they evidently feel an enthusiastic pride. —Joe Mitchell Chapple in "Affairs at Washington," in National Magazine for October.

Eating on the Train in Spain.

As even express trains seldom attain a higher rate of speed than twenty-five miles an hour, travel is slow and tedious though fairly comfortable, and to enjoy Spain one must assume the leisurely indifference of the Spaniard to whom Manana is always the day after time. He is wise who carries his own luncheons and never are dainty tea baskets more indispensable than on these long journeys. Spanish etiquette demands that the traveler before partaking of his food must respectfully offer it to those who share the compartment with him. It may either be graciously accepted or declined. In no country is it so difficult to travel and to secure information, as but little English is spoken by the important officials.—The Travel Magazine.

At the Ford.

When the rose means nothing but a rose,
When storms are storms—not clouds on blue,
And rain means naught but cold and chill,
Not tears of angels drifting through;
When grief means grief and nothing more,
When sorrow's kiss is like a blow,
And when there is no hope of Spring
Beneath the earth's baptism of snow—
It will be age—not faithlessness,
That stills the music in my throat,
Forget not how, when I was young,
I knew my song and trilled each note.

—November Smart Set.

Carmen.

In the estimate of one of New York's leading critics, "the most notable achievements of Oscar Hammerstein's season of opera was the performance of Bizet's 'Carmen;' and of this the distinguishing feature was the impersonation of the heroine by Mme. Chlotilde Bressler-Granoli." Mr. Sigismond de Ivanowski has chosen Mme. Bressler-Gianoli's "Carmen" for the first of his series of portraits of noted opera singers, which, reproduced in color, are to be one of The Century's are features during the coming year. This will be the frontispiece of the November Century; and Richard Aldrich has written to accompany it a critique of Mme. Bressler-Gianoli's impersonation of the character.

John Quixote.

George Allan England contributes a most amusing French-Canadian story to The Red Book Magazine for November. The title "John Quixote" gives no clew to the broad humor of the story which is concerned with the unavailing heroism of a young lumbering Frenchman." A story of considerable power and singular literary felicity is "The Painted Wilderness" by Will Levington Comfort, a name rapidly becoming familiar to magazine-readers, and another narrative of a French farm is "Monsieur Parapluie" by Kate Arms.

Know Your Grocer.

"Do you know your grocer?" asks the editor of Woman's Home Companion in the November number. "It is right to trade with the grocer who will give you the best returns for the money your husband works so hard to earn. It is only neighborly and neighborly to trade with the husband of your best friend, whose interests you thereby forward. It is only business like to trade with the man who is honest and square in his accounts and who makes good every item on your bills.

Pictorial Reproductions.

The current issue of the Burr McIntosh Monthly, now on all newsstands, is one that will attract the attention of lovers of the beautiful in pictorial reproductions of an unusual nature. The engravings are of such superb character that they appear very much like photo-gravures. This issue contains reproductions from photographs of many celebrated people, with its usual fine selection of lanscape views and an especially interesting article on Saskatchekan, the wonderful country to the north of us. In this issue also is shown the winning photographs in the recent contest for the most beautiful photograph of a child under six years of age.

Going to Be Fined.

When George Ade was a newspaper reporter he was sent to "write up" an Irish laborer who had fallen from a building. When Mr. Ade arrived on the scene, several officers and others were helping the injured man into the ambulance. Mr. Ade pulled out his pad and pencil. "What's his name?" he asked one of the policemen.

The injured man, who had heard Ade and who mistook him for the timekeeper employed by the contractor, rolled his eyes in a disgusted way.

"What d'ye think o' that?" he muttered. "I'm goin' to be docked for the few minutes I lose goin' to the hospital!"—From Success Magazine.

The Spanish Main Is Land.

Few are sure of their knowledge of the Spanish Main and the Great South Sea, and where those regions were. Longfellow's curious mistake as to the Main in "The Wreck of the Hesperus" is an evidence of the general misconception; the old sailor who had sailed the Spanish Main" pointed out navigation that would hardly commend him to a navigator, for the Main, being land and not water, can no me be sailed than the State of Colorado. The interchangeable sea terms "on" and "off" may plead an excuse for our jumbled notions, but the workings of imagination, evident in most tales of the treasure ships, are unreasonable when the bald truth is so amply exciting and blood-stirring.—From "The Spanish Galleon and Pieces-of-Eight," by John C. Fitzpatrick, in the November Scribner.

Editor Fitch on Speaker Cannon.

George Fitch, the young Illinois editor who wrote such a remarkable description of the Missouri river last spring, has written a character sketch of another great natural wonder. The subject is Speaker Cannon, and the article will be in the December American Monthly. The cartoons will be by McCutcheon, of Chicago.

A Conscientious Workman.

Strong-Arm Tim is employed in carrying bricks on to a barge. His strength is such that his boss keeps increasing his loads until finally the gang-plank breaks and lands Tim and his bricks in the water. Tim rapidly sinks, but present comes to the surface and shouts out, "Throw me a rope there, you spalpeens, youse!"

While his companions are searching frantically for a rope Tim comes to the surface a second time and bellows out, "Here, there, youse loafers, if ye don't throw me a rope I'll be after dropping some of these here bricks!"—The Circle.

A Voice from the Bastile.

Peter Allaire, a New York merchant, was arrested and thrown into the French Bastile for conspiring as an English spy to poison Dr. Benjamin Franklin. While in prison Peter Allaire kept a diary of each day's incidents. This diary has recently been found by some of his descendants and is published in the November number of The Metropolitan Magazine together with facsimile reproductions of the documents in the case. It takes us into that old prison around which such a mantle of horror has been thrown, and which was destroyed by the Revolutionists in 1789. It is highly fascinating reading.

A Great Game of Chance.

"Give me the railway franchise and the coal-oil trade of Philadelphit, and I will retire." This was the modest request of William Elkins, the grocer-boy who became a prince of finance.

In the November McClure's Burton J. Hendrick, who is so well and favorably known for his insurance articles, tells the story of America's greatest fortunes and the men who made them. These articles will attract the attention of the political economist and the social reformer, but for the average man they will have the fascination of romance. These fortune-makers were adventurous spirits playing great games of chance, at times amounting almost to war, in which all things were considered fair. One of the stakes was the monopoly of a street-railway system which now transports 500,000,000 passengers annually and collects $21,000,000 a year in fares. These articles tell of the results of their ownership.

GERMAN GLEANINGS.

The first use of a menu at a banquet in Germany dates back to 1489.

Cocoa is drunk more largely in Germany than in any other country.

House numbers in Berlin are in luminous paint and are plainly visible at night.

A dumb tramp has just been arrested in Berlin for begging. He used a phonograph to pour out his tale of woe to passersby.

Germany's wines crop last year was the poorest since 1898. There are signs of a crisis similar to that in France. The growers are agitating for greater legislative protection from the competition of adulterated and cheap wines.

PLAINFIELD LIBRARY NOTES

Books in the Public Library Approved by Dr. Maximilian P. E. Grossmann in connection with his lectures on child study before the teachers of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

Subject In General.

Baldwin, James Mark.—Mental development in the child and in the race. 1898.

Baldwin, James Mark.—Mind of the child. (See his Story of the Mind. 1899.)

Hall, G. Stanley.—Adolescence. 2v. 1904.

Hall G. Stanley.—Contents of children's minds on entering school. 1893.

James, William.—Talks to teachers on psychology. 1899.

Proyer, W.—Mental development in the child. 1893.

Sully, James.—(Grote professor of philosophy of mind and logic in the University College, London. Studies of childhood.

Warner, Francis.—Growth and means of training the mental faculty. 1890.

Partial Contents—Nature's methods: The child a part of Nature's work: Disciplining of various conditions in children: The school: Classification of children: School reports.

Mathematical Evolution of a Child.

Compayre, Garriel.— Intellectual and moral development of a child. 1896-1902.

Oppenheim, Nathan. (Attendant physician to the children's department of Mt. Sinai hospital.) Development of the child. 1899.

Language Teaching.

Chubb, Percival.—Teaching of English in the elementary and secondary school. 1902.

Herbart, John Frederick.—Teaching of practical branches of study: The mother-tongue: Greek and Latin. (See his Outlines of educational doctrine. 1901.)

Hogan, Louise E.—Study of a child: Covering development of language; Record of spontaneous development with selection of drawings and cuttings, all mental pictures.

Jacobi, Mary Putnam.—Physiological notes on primary education and the study of language. 1889.

Tracy, Frederick.—Language. (See his Psychology of childhood.

Reading and Literature.

Griffith, George.—Course of reading for children. (See Educational Review. v. 17, p. 65-69.)

Hinsdale, B. A.—Reading and speech. (See his Teaching the language-arts. 1896.)

Lawrence, Isabel.—Children's lists in literature. (See National Education Association. Proceedings. 1899. p. 1044-1051.)

McMurray, Charles.—Special method in the reading of complete English classics in the grades of the common schools. 1897.

Page.—Educational value of literature: Use of masterpieces as whole: Literary materials for the five upper grades: Class-room method in reading: Method further discussed and illustrated: Use of classics to the teacher: List of books.

Wiggin, Kate Douglass, and Smith, Nora A.—What shall children read?

Patrick, G. T. W.—Should children under ten learn to read and write. (See Popular Science monthly. January, 1899, v. 54, p. 283-292.)

"Good presentation of the case against premature instruction."

Oral and Written Composition.

Barnes, Earl.—(Professor of education in Leland Stanford Jr. University.) Children's stories and poetry. (See his Studies in education. v. 2.)

Barnes, Earl.—Studies of children's drawings. (See his Studies in education. v. 2. 1902.)

Dostrovsky, Clara.—Studies of children's own stories. (In Barnes, Earl. Studies on education, v. 1. 1902.)

Problem of Discipline.

Baldwin, Janmes M.—School management and school methods. 1897.

Barnes, Earl.—Discipline at home and in the school: The problem stated. (In his Studies in education, v. 1. 1902.)

Barnes, Earl.—Punishment as seen by children. (See National Education Association. Proceedings. 1895, p. 914-924.)

Consult also files of the National Educational Association Proceedings and also Magazine indexes.

NEW YORK CITY.

It requires 3,200 conductors to keep New York street car passengers stepping lively.

Eight hundred and fifty thousand dollars is drawn from the New York savings banks each day.

Plans of the New York city managers of theatres indicate that their patrons will see 120 new plays during the next eight months.

Battery park in New York city is a school of languages. A French visitor to the city who can speak in nine tongues struck every one of them there one day last week.

There is no bridge on Bridge street to give its name, but there was a hundred years ago, when what is Broad street was an inlet from the bay and was crossed by a rough wooden structure where the former street is.—New York Herald.

More Than One.

Edgar—What is better than a kiss? Emma—Don't you know your multiplication table?—Pick-Me-Up.

SAME KIND OF FAITH.

A Bostonian was praising the late Archbishop John Joseph Williams.

"And Archbishop Williams," he said, "had a cutting wit. I'll never forget one day when I lunched with him how he sniffed and said:

"'What's that strange smell? It rather takes away my appetite.'

"I felt warm and uncomfortable, and touching my bald head—I have not had a hair there for twenty-two years—I murmured:

"'It is an ointment, sir, an ointment made of ten leaves, petroleum and onion juice, that has been recommended to me as an infallible hair restorer. I am giving it a trial.'

"The archbishop laughed.

"'Don't you think you are doing a foolish thing?' he asked.

"'No,' said I. 'I put considerable faith in this ointment. The testimonials—'

"'Faith!' said the archbishop. 'Well, that sort of faith is rather silly. It reminds me of two little Back Bay children.

"The father of these children came upon them suddenly one afternoon in his dressing room.

"'Here,' he shouted, angrily, 'what have you done with my large new bottle of hair restorer?'

"The older child pointed to a set of furs.

"'Oh, papa,' he said, 'we are going to make mamma's moth-eated sable muff as good as new again.'"

WORTH KNOWING.

There are 200,000 factory girls in London.

The fan exports of China amount to 11,000,000 a year.

Of persons stricken with insanity about one-third recover.

New York City consumes 5,360,000 pounds of tea annually.

During the year 46,000 letters posted in England without addresses.

European military engineers are working on a form of automobile to draw artillery.

There are about 1,520 theatres in Europe. Italy possesses more than any other country.

More patents were issued during 1906 and more money collected by the United States Patent Office than in any other year previous, with the exception of 1905, since the establishment of the Patent Office in 1836.

Breaded Liver.

"No liver for me," said the fastidious member of the family. "I draw the line at that." The rest of us wanted a meal of liver, so the cook cut thin slices of it, and fried them brown in nice pork fat. Then dipping the slices first in beaten eggs, and then in cracker crumbs, she browned them again. The result looked so tempting that the fastidious one tried it, and now breaded liver is one of her favorite dishes.—Mattie W. Baker, in Table Talk.

Celery and Nut Salad.

Over a cupful of English walnut meats pour boiling water and let stand for a moment. Drain, add fresh boiling water, a half teaspoonful of salt, a slice of onion and half a dozen peppercorns and boil rapidly for ten minutes; then drain, rinse well and let stand in cold water until needed. This blanches the meats and gives a delightful kavor.—Table Talk.

Little Acts of Kindness.

Walter's mother had made a point of teaching him to be very kind to animals. One day he came running into his mother, exclaiming eagerly, "Oh, mother, I'm sure you will like the little girl who's moved in next door. She's such a nice little girl, mother, and so kind to animals!"

"She looks like a nice little girl," said Walter's mother, "and I think I shall like her. But how is she kind to animals?"

"Well," explained Walter, "we had some chestnuts just now, and she found a worm in one of hers—she—didn't —eat—it!"—Lippincott's.

Muskrat Skin Cure.

"The skin of a muskrat taken and worn next to the chest will cure any case of asthma in the world," said a Louisville man. "I had an uncle who suffered a thousand deaths with asthma and tried everything that could be bought in the way of medicine. Finally one day an old time friend told him of the muskrat skin, and he tried it. In two months he was as well as he had ever been. Just how the skin works about a cure is a mystery, but it will do it."—Nachville Tennesseean.

Already Dated.

In certain London railway stations the proprietors of the lunch counters have a way of testing eggs. That is they mark on the shell of a boiled egg the date on which it was laid. The evident purpose is to reassure doubting customers; the possible result is less comforting. A party arrived at the station shortly before midnight, and following the habit of most travelers made at once for the lunch counter. They demanded eggs, and asked that they might have some of that very days' laying.

"Sorry, sir," said the Clerk, "Today's eggs is all gone, but," glancing at the clock, which pointed to a quarter before 12, "if you'd not mind the date, Hi could give you some of tomorrow's."—Reynold's Weekly.

The Comparison.

Lesec and Lemaigre, who were both as thin as laths, were discussing a mutual friend.

Lesec—I met your friend Durand this morning. He has grown so thin.

Lemaigre—Really! And he was so stout.

Lesec—Yes, it is dreadful. He is thinner than both of us put together

FITZ-RANDOLPHS' HISTORY

Former Mayor Traces Family Ancestory to the Viking Leader Rolf.

IT IS INTERESTINGLY TOLD.

Volume of Traditions Concerning Fitz-Randolph Traditions from the Pen of a Gifted Citizen.

Investigating among the branches of his "family tree" in an extended tour of England, where he gained much data from English libraries and English museums, Former Mayor Lewis V. F. Randolph, in his newly published book, "A Story of a Thousand Years," has succeeded in tracing his lineage through an unbroken chain of ancestors to the Viking leader Rolf, the first Duke of Normand, who lived in the Ninth Century. The book, just from the press, is published under the auspices of the New Jersey Historical Society.

L. V. F. Randolph.

The book, "Fitz Randolph Traditions," is a tastefully gotten up octavo volume, neatly bound in green, with gold lettering. It is divided into chapters according to historical periods, and is illustrated with fourteen halftones of English castles and cathedrals, historically connected with the family, and numerous portraits and genealogical charts. The author, who but recently published a book of his poems making his dedication of the titles volume "to the best of good women," his wife, who was married, about the beginning of the eleventh century. Aethelred, the Saxon king of England, and later the Danish king Canut. Here the line of lineage follows the direct branch descendents of Richard, Duke of Normandy, including William the Conquerer, King William II, and King Henry I of England. The other side of the family includes Geoorey, Allan and Ranulph of the house of Rudd, a Norman noble. Of these Randolph was an ancestor of the Lords of Ravenswarth, and the lineage whose most noble culmination was George Washington. Ribald, a brother of Randolph, Earl of Chester, and Robert Fitz Randolph, the earliest ancestor to bear the present day name—and this man was grand-son of the first Robert Bruce and built the castle of Middleham, England, about 1190. From Robert's two sons have descended many royal personages, including the Fitz Randolphs of Spenithorne and Nothinghamshire in the thirteenth to seventeenth centuries, as well as the Fitz Randolphs of Massachusetts and New Jersey of the seventeenth to the twentieth centuries.

Edward Fitz Randolph came to the United States in 1634 and settled at Newtown. He was a Pilgrim, and three years later moved to Barnstable, his companion in his journey of research. In the foreword, he acknowledges his indebtedness to "that accomplished genealogist and self-sacrificing industrious philanthropist, Oliver B. Leonard, of Plainfield, N. J., whose ancestors participated with Nathaniel Fitz Randolph in the movement which gave to Princeton College a local habitation, and whose esteemed wife is another to all the Fitz Randolph traditions." He also acknowledges obligation to many others, both in this country and abroad, and gives a list of chronicles and books from which he gained valuable data.

Mr. Randolph has gained possession of a well preserved copy of Roger Gale's "Historia de Richmond," a valuable old folio, in Latin, illuminated and adorned with many engravings. Influenced by an old tradition that Gale had, two hundred years ago, outlined the family history, Mr. Randolph sought the book through all England, and finally located the single copy—now his own—in an old library.

The tracing of his genealogy has necessarily proved an arduous task to the author. From Rolf, the horseman, who conquered Normandy in 912, the line of ancestry goes through William, Duke of Normandy, and Richard, "The Fearless," to Richard, "The Good," whose sister Emma, later, prompted by a desire for greater religious freedom, went with her family to Piscataway, N. J., one of the earliest settlements of the State. This was in 1659. His descendants fought in Queen Anne's war with the French and in the Revolution.

The later family includes the Shotwells, the Laings, the Mannings, the Smalleys, the Van Syckles and the Edgars. Among them is John Laing, among the first settlers south of Plainfield, John Laing, of New Market, and Thomas Edgar, whose descendants lived in the so-called "old Edgar mansion," still standing at Rahway for 155 years.

David Laing, the first of the Plainfield ancestors, was born here in 1714, and another early resident here was Jacob F. Randolph, first pastor of the First Baptist church. Of the others, James Manning, born in 1745, was president of Brown University. George Van Syckle was in the battle of Princeton in the Revolutionary War.

Mr. Randolph, the author of the book, of whom there is an excellent photograph at the end of the volume, is the son of Enoch Manning Fitz Randolph, teacher, manufacturer and ap officer in the Somerset county court. His mother was Mary Ann Van Syckle, and he was born May 16, 1838.

"COULD HAVE ELECTED MARTINE"—M'DERMOTT

To the discussion as to the why and wherefore of the defeat of Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., for Governor by J. Franklin Fort last Tuesday, former Congressman Allan L. McDermott Saturday at his office in the Commercial Trust Building, Jersey City, added a comment. According to Mr. McDermott, Mr. Katzenbach was defeatly arraigned. He failed to take up the question of excise. Mr. Katzenbach's speeches, he intimates, dealt with nothing but dead and em*balmed issues, and the statement as* issued intimates that wherever Mr. Katzenbach spoke he lost votes.

The Democratic party itself, according to Mr. McDermott, was defeated because it did not nominate James E. Martine, the "Farmer Orator."

"Now that the canvass is over," says the Congressman in his interview, "I would suggest to those who attended the meetings addressed by Mr. Katzenbach in Hudson county that each by recall anything that he said. The whole truth is that he should not have been nominated, and no one knew this better than the gentlemen who control Democratic affairs in Essex county. They had it in their power to nominate Mr. Martine, and if Mr. Martine had been nominated he would have been elected Governor of New Jersey.

"Judge Fort very shrewdly turned his side of the canvass into a prayer-meeting, and Mr. Katzenbach should have 'busted' that meeting, even if he had to smash into smithereens a few of the pickets in the fence that divides his lot at Spring Lake from that of the Essex statesman."

LOCAL Y.M.C.A. TO SEND DELEGATES TO CONVENTION

Joining the ranks of the delegates who will go to Washington next week from every branch of the Young Men's Christian Association in the land, five members of the local association will attend the thirty-sixth international convention of North American associations to commence Friday, November 22, and last until the following Tuesday. Those who will go from this city are William D. Murray, George M. Rittenhouse, A. B. Beers, Physical Director George L. Listman and Boys' Secretary Kenneth Robbie.

The headquarters of the convention will be in the association building there, and the day sessions are to be held in the D. A R. Continental Hall, and the evening sessions in Convention Hall. As exceptionally strong group of speakers, including men of prominence in public affairs, will deal with social and civic themes, emphasizing association fundamentals with special reference to their relation to future growth. Among the speakers are Hon. James Bryce, British ambassador to the United States; Hon. William Jennings Bryan; Gov. R. B. Glenn, of North Carolina; Rev. Charles Cuthbert Hall, of New York; Bishop C. H. Brent, of Manila; Bishop William F. McDowell, of Chicago, and Robert E. Speer, of New York. Great Britain, France, Russia, China, Japan, India, Australia, the Philippines, and several South American countries will send delegates to the convention.

Had a Big Time.

A party was given in honor of James Henry at his home on Leland avenue, last night. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour and refreshments were served, after which games were played and photograph selections were enjoyed. The feature of the evening was the grand waltz won by Miss Etta Flatley and E. Mattell, the prize being a $2.50 gold piece given by the Owl Social Club, and the Him, Her and I Social Club. Those present were the Misses M. Flatley, E. Flatley, E. Ryder, J. Griffen, M. Mattell, J. Thomas, M. Thomas, S. Perrine, R. Schofer, A. Yager, M. Henry, M. Gruber, L. Gruber, H. Walls, M. Mansfield, H. Wittmyer, A. McCarthy, M. Conway, C. Seamore, and C. Ryder, Jr., G. Smith, H. Wierenga, J. Schlick, W. Ryder, E. Mattell, F. Jellig, G. McCusker, R. Abbott, M. Henry, C. Hana, E. Montross, R. Hansen, E. Thenco, G. Thomas, J. Caulfield, A. Mcdonald, F. Bennett, R. Lee, D. Rogers.

MINISTER'S DEFINITION OF SUNDAY OBSERVANCE

Rev. A. Peter Tulp, pastor of the New York Avenue Reformed church, Newark, preached on "Sunday Observance" on Sunday morning. The minister-pastor pointed out that the origin of the Christian Sabbath was human and not divine, and declared that it differed from the Jewish Sabbath.

"The question is not, Shall a man walk in the park or call on his friends, or read the magazines or play this game or that," declared the speaker, "but, are we using the day for spiritual culture and soul-improvement?

"How shall we keep Sunday? Not as the Puritans, turning a day meant for gladness into sadness and gloom; nor like the Parisians—a day for frivolous amusement and secular pleasure; but standing fast in the liberty with which Christ has made us free, let us breathe a purer air and rejoice in it, lighted by a diviner heaven."

SACRIFICE FOR FREEDOM

(Continued from page 1.)

could crown and unthrown kings and bear the sceptre of unlimited sway over the powers and possibilities of Christiandom.

"But the American soldier, with no thirst for glory, with no expectation of reward, with no promise of power or preferment, laid down his life that the great cause of human freedom might live.

"Standing on the threshold of the 20th century if I could leach the tomb of fame and summon all the patriots and heroes and martyrs that have died in the world's great cause, I believe that the American soldier would rise above them all. Compared with his invincible courage and heroic self-sacrifice, what was the valor of Caesar's 10th legion, or the prowess of Cromwell's invincible Ironsides, or the fortitude of Napoleon's old guard. It is well to recall the glories of the past; it is well to cling to the possessions of the present, but it is of supreme importance that we duly consider the obligations of the present and the possibilities of the future.

"If we are true to the trust reposed in us we will instil into the minds of the youth the principles of patriotism and teach them the value of the government under which they live, and inspire them with such a reverence for the flag that if need be, they would lay down their lives in its defense, laTour, the great French soldier, was the hero of many battles, but remained by his own choice in the ranks. Napoleon gave him a sword and the official title 'First among the Grenadiers of France,' but when he was killed the Emperor ordered his heart to be entrusted to the keeping of his regiment, that his name should be called at every roll call, and that his next comrade should make answer, 'Dead, upon the field of honor.' To the keeping of the great American people have been entrusted the names of many heroes and when those names are caled we proudly and lovingly answer, 'Dead, upon the field of honor.'" mitting messages between the ships of the navy. This means that all vessels are equipped with instruments especially constructed to receive messages by these wave lengths. This is a measure insures secrecy, but the instruments may be adjusted to receive lengths at option, so that the admiral may communicate to a single vessel a message unintelligible to the other commanders. This makes a sort of "private wire," and the adjustment change may be made in a short time.

"WIRELESS WIZARD" TALKS

(Continued from page 1.)

Wireless telephony is of especial value to the smaller vessels, such as torpedo boats, where there is no signal mast for flags. It is a quicker means of transmission, because the messages are received "verbally," and not in the Morse code. There is no perfected way of insuring privacy in this telephoning, though the wave length may be varied as in telegraphing, and this bringing of the carbons closer together attunes the instruments to various wave lengths.

At the conclusion of the talk, which Mr. De Forest illustrated with numerous blackboard diagrams, many of those present took advantage of the speaker's offer to answer questions about the two systems of communication. There were about a hundred in the audience, and later refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. Mrs. Henry Johnson, of the Park Club, catered.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL READY.

Health Officer Richards, as the secretary of the Elizabeth Board of Health, has reported to the board that the new isolation hospital will be ready for occupancy some time next month. It has been erected on the grounds of the almshouse in the northeastern section of the city, and cost $23,000 of the $25,000 bond issue authorized by the Elizabeth Council for that purpose.

SOME FUNNY NAMES THAT TOWNS CLAIM

It is doubtful if any country in the world ever had so many extraordinary town names as the United States.

An examination of "The Postoffice Guide," disclosing the fact that there are seventy or more towns bearing the name of Jackson and its combinations of "ville," "city," and so forth, not to speak of the fifty Washingtons *and twenty-four Lees, speedily im*presses one with the notion that the American people are afflicted with a sad poverty of invention in the matter of names. Further study, however, creates an entirely opposite impression: for we find an abundance of names that, it seems, nothing but an almost malignant ingenuity could have devised.

For example, there is Buck Snort in Alabama and Tennessee; Killer in Tennessee, You Bet in California, Ubet in Montana, Ultima Thule in Arkansas, King of Prussia in Pennsylvania, Bird in Hand in Pennsylvania, Blowout in Texas, Bobo in three States and Grub Gulch in California.

There are some wonderfully long and uncouth names, such as Hushpuckena in Mississippi and Humtulips in Washington; but there is a far greater number of eccentric short names. Here is a partial list, alphabetically arranged:

Al, Air, B, Babb, Bae, Barr, Bet, Bob, Bud, Cap, Dot, Eye, Fly, Guy, Ham, Huff, Ice, Igo, Ink, Jeff, Joe, Jump, Ka, Kit, Lui, Lum, Man, Nat, Nix, Poe, Pie, K, Rat, Re, Sac, Sim, Sip, Spy, Ubly, Us, Wax, Witt, Yell, Y, Z, Zif, Zig.

Many eccentric postoffice names are perhaps worthy of note on account of the story that they tell of some adventure or struggle in the early history of the place. Some of them indicate pure despair on the part of the first inhabitants, such, for instance, as Stuck in Washington, Dearth in Pennsylvania, Worry in North Carolina, Tribulation in Missouri, and Grizzard in Tennessee. There are quite a number of Hurricanes and Cyclones.

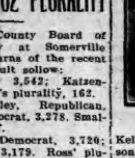
Content, on the contrary, is found in two States and Comfort in six. Competition is in Missouri, and Contention in Oregon. Snapshot is in Georgia, and Smallville in Alabama. Congruity is in Pennsylvania. Energy is to be found in two States, and Back Bone in two, Virginia and Kentucky.

Ball Play comes under the head of Alabama and Tennessee, and Best is in two of the States. Two towns there are Big Bug in Arizona, and Big Isaac in West Virginia. The names of several places are not exactly suggestive of excessive modesty on the part of the natives, such as Brag in Georgia, Blowhorn in Alabama, Braggadocio in Missouri, and Vogue in Indiana.

The names of other towns carry a suggestion of boundless faith in their location on the part of the residents. Of these there are forty-five Edens and some seventeen Paradises, together with Sweetgrass in Carolina, Mount Olympuses, one Celestia, and one Elysian Fields. Utopia is found in six States. Twelve towns bear the name of Climax, one postoffice is Nice, one is Correct, and one is Cute. Eight Sumbos indicate faith in future greatness.

Some merely queer names may be cited: Choccolocco, Cash, Chap, Cowboy, Bumblebee, Calira, Cat Spring, Dodo, Horseshoe, Snake, Viper, Veto, Alone, Accident, Adieu, Atich, Itwas, Violin, Vox Populi, Assurance, Cheek, Pruht, Puyallup, Semiamoo, and Utsaladdy.

Unexpected discriminations are to be found in "The Guide." For instance, there are thirteen Germantowns, but only one Irishtown. There are fourteen Roads, but only seven Edens, and four Vales. There is a Hodunk, but no Podunk. And finally, while there are twenty-one Alphas, there are only twelve Omegas.



Rev. E. B. Maynard.

SOMERSET COUNTY FOR FORT BY 162 PLURALITY

The Somerset County Board of Elections Monday at Somerville canvassed the returns of the recent election. The result sollow:

Governor—Fort, 3,542; Katzenbach, 3,380. Fort's plurality, 162.

Assembly—Smalley, Republican, 3,605; Allen, Democrat, 3,278. Smalley's plurality, 327.

Sheriff—Ross, Democrat, 3,720; Kay, Republican, 3,179. Ross' plurality, 541.

Surrogate—De Mond, Democrat, 3,656; Metz, Republican, 3,206. De Mond's plurality, 450.

Coroners — Habermann, Republican, 3,553. Smalley, Republican, 3,553. Grant, Democrat, 3,326. Tunison, Democrat, 3,330.

Prohibition ticket. Governor—Mason. 86. Assembly—Acker, 81. Sheriff—Lunger, 81. Surrogate—Brown, 81.

Lectured on "Lohengrin."

Miss Grace T. Carr, teacher of pianoforte, gave a lecture at her home on Putnam avenue, Saturday afternoon for her class and a few friends. The subject was "Lohegrin," and part of the talk was in story and a part of it was illustrated with selections on the piano.

DEMOCRATS WILL ABIDE BY ELECTION RETURNS

At a meeting of the New Jersey Democratic State Committee, held at Jersey City Monday, it was decided not to ask for a recount of the vote cast on November 5, but to accept the plurality announced for J. Franklin Fort as final.

The members present were Robert S. Hudspeth, chairman; Charles J. Gaugher, of Mercer; David Crater, of Monmouth; Peter Egenolf, of Union; Samuel Iredell, of Cumberland; Charles Rogers, of Ocean; William H. Davis, of Camden; Louis Braun, of Passaic, and W. A. Faunce, of Atlantic. Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., the Democratic candidate, was present by invitation. James R. Nugent, of Essex, did not appear, and it was said that his absence was due to the fact that the executive committee of the Hudson county committee was waiting in an anteroom to call him to account for charges of treachery he is said to have made against Democrats of Jersey City.

James Hennessy, chairman of the executive committee, was non-committal on the subject, but he smilingly said that he would be very much pleased to have a talk with Mr. Nugent on the subject, and would also like to discuss charges of treachery that had been made against Democrats in other sections of the State in previous elections. The committee met behind closed doors, but it was said that Mr. Katzenbach took part in the discussion, though he was an attentive listener. Mr. Katzenbach was introduced to P. J. Griffin, or Hoboken, who assured him that there had been no treachery in that city.

"I have no charges to make against any one," said Mr. Katzenbach, "either of treachery or fraud in the campaign just closed."

The decision of the State Committee was based upon figures presented by Michael I. Fagan, city clerk of Jersey City. He submitted statements of previous elections, showing that Charles C. Black, a Hudson county man who ran for Governor three years ago, only received a plurality of about 7,000, while James Seymour of Essex, who ran six years ago, received less than Black's vote. Mr. Fagan's rejurns showed that Katzenbach received 23,022 votes in Jersey City, and that this was only exceeded by James F. Fielder, a Jersey City lawyer, who was the candidate for State Senator, and Joseph P. Tumulty, who headed the Assembly ticket. After the matter had been fully discussed, the committee decided that it would not ask for a recount.

MT. ZION YOUNG MEN ORGANIZE CHURCH CLUB

In celebration of the anniversary of his birthday, Rev. Edwin B. Maynard summoned the young men of the Mount Zion A. M. E. church to his home on North avenue Monday and brought about the formation of a club to further the work of the congregation. The organization will be known as Maynard's Young Men's Progressive Club and will have for its particular object, the raising of funds for payment on the parsonage property recently acquired by the church.

Following a short talk by Mr. Maynard in which he outlined his idea in having an auxiliary club of young men organized, the following officers were elected: President, Spencer Kelly; vice-president, Charles Jefferson; secretary, Edward Blair; assistant secretary, Preston Clay; treasurer, John Jones; honorary member, Edwin B. Maynard. For the present the club will meet at Mr. Maynard's home but within a short time it will have a club room at the church.

During the transaction of business it was decided to hold an oyster supper and lecture at the church on Thursday night, November 21, under the club's auspices. The lecture will be on "Prison Work" and is to be given by William F. Richards, of this city.

The young men on the membership list are Spencer Kelly, Walter Johnson, Charles Jefferson, Omer Thompson, Alfred White, Benjamin Dyett, John Jones, Oliver Floyd, Preston Clay, Edward Blair, Andrew Rogers and Alex Stills.

Y.M.C.A. FIRST TEAM WON

Defeated Second Team 48-42 in Hardest Game of the Season.

THE BUSINESS MEN WIN, 24-12.

Defeat First Baptist Church Five By Superior Team Work and Good Passing.

The Y. M. C. A. basketball five met their strongest opponents of the season in their game with the second team of the association on the gymnasium floor Monday. It was either team's game till the final whistle, when the regulars were three baskets to the good, winning 48-42. Between the halves of this game, which was witnessed by a big gallery of enthusiasts, the business men's team of the association played the First Baptist church five, winning easily by a score of 24-12.

The first game proved the two teams well matched and was fast basketball both halves. Each man in the game has had opportunity to learn the game of the man against him, and the play was close because each man knew practically what to expect in his opponent's game. The regular five led by two points at the end of the first half, but in the second period of play, first one team and then the other was in the lead, the regulars finally winning out by three baskets. In shooting goals from the floor, Gilmore did the best work for the first team, caging the ball nine times. Martin, of the second team, scored six baskets from the floor, guarding especially well in the second half, though Collier, his opponent, also scored six baskets. Just previous to the game, last year's basketball five was reorganized and elected Ted Gavett, who plays guard, captain of the team for the coming year. The summaries follow:

First Team—Rumsey lf; Lolteaux, Gilmore, rf; Collier, c; Gilmore, Lolteaux, rg; Gavett, Mingle, lg.

Second Team—Templin, lg; Bentley, rf; Martin, c; Cuttinger, rg; Jacot, lg.

Goals from the floor: Gilmore, 9; Collier, 6; Martin, 6; Bentley, 4; Rumsey, 3; Lolteaux, 3; Templin, 3; Jacot, 3; Uttinger, 2. Goals from fouls: Collier, 5; Jacot 4; Templin. Each side was awarded a point for being fouled while shooting a basket. Busines Men, 24; Baptist Church, 12.

The Business Men's team lined up men in their game against the First Baptist church team, winning 24-12. The church players will have a team in the church league, soon to be formed among the local churches. They played well individually, but were inferior in team work and at times careless in passing. The summaries:

Business Men—Dunning, A. J. Spicer, lf; C. W. Spicer, Doane, rf; Shaw, Listman, c; Jarvis, lf; Stevens, Clark, rg.

Baptist Church—Lee Manning, lf; Douglass, rf; Jerry Manning, c; Woodland, lf; Guion Fountain, rg.

Goals from the floor: Doane, 3; Douglass, 3; Listman, 2; A. J. Spicer, 2; C. W. Spicer, 2; Lee Manning, 2; Shaw. Goals from fouls: Shaw, 3; Douglass, 2. The business men's team was awarded one point for being fouled while shooting a basket. Referee, Ed Gilmore; scorer, Forrest and Bert Leggett was timer in both games. The halves were 20 minutes in both games.

Ingenious Jerseymen.

Patents that were recently issued to Jerseymen: Motor-operated dumping-car (reissue), W. H. Beecroft and A. Isaacs, West Hoboken; *cap for keys of typewriting and analogous machines, E. D. Conklin, New*ark; separator for producing perforated strips, T. A. Edison, Llewellyn Park, Orange; crank shaft, J. M. Ellsworth, Bernardsville; electrical thermostatic alarm, J. Finch, Lyndhurst; musical instrument, W. A. Gay, Newark; washing machine for brick molds, J. W. Goulding, Trenton; shade hanger level, shade roller, cord attachment for window shades, E. F. Hartshorne, East Newark; foundry apparatus for making railbonds, A. B. Herrick, Ridgewood; ball distributing machine, Hobinicke, Hoboken; stem winding and setting watch, E. Kuhn, East Orange; manifolding device, B. E. McSheehy, Jersey City; pressure gage, D. M. Moore, Newark; bottle closure, Bill file, A. Morehouse, Atlantic Highlands; conveying machine, P. A. Robbins, Bnglewood; vending machine, J. J. Ronan and J. F. Barry, Jersey City; rib-knitted fabric, R. W. Scott, Leeds Point; pen guide, R. L. Shaw, Paterson; casket lowering device, Woodbury; burglar alarm, B. Uhimann, Passaic. (Designs), Lavatory, H. Pedmore, Trenton; textile fabric, A. M. Rapp, Irvington. (Trade-marks), Spool cotton and sewing cotton and thread, American Thread Company, Jersey City; certain jewelry, Kautzman & Sussfeld, Newark. (Labels), "Java Tea." J. J. Boggs, Clifton.

A class of sixty-five candidates, of whom forty-three were prominent young men of Trenton, was yesterday initiated as Knights of Columbus at the Immaculate Conception School building in Chestnut avenue. The remaining twenty-two candidates were from Mt. Holly, Burlington, Princeton, Lambertsville, Millstone, Yardley and New Brunswick.

THREE CARRIERS MORE FOR LOCAL POST OFFICE

Postmaster E. H. Bird has received official notification from the postal department at Washington that his request for three additional letter-carriers has been granted, and he will place them in the service just as soon as he can rearrange the several routes. There is now an urgent need for letter carrier service in Northwood district and in the West End and it is with a view to improving the mail deliveries in these parts of the city that Mr. Bird is now working.

When Mr. Bird was appointed postmaster his force of letter-carriers numbered ten, that was nine years ago. Since then it has been gradually increased until at present, with the three additional ones just granted, it numbers twenty-one. In comparison to the increases allowed in other offices of the same size as Plainfield, Postmaster Bird feels as though the government has been fairly liberal in taking care of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

The new letter-carriers, appointed from the substitute list, are Francis Legg, Britton Shepherd and Daniel VanWinkle. Just as soon as Mr. Bird can make provisions for them they will begin regular duty. In certain sections of the city where only one partial delivery is now being made there will be an effort to complete this delivery and possibly add an extra one. It is Mr. Bird's intention to equalize the mail service in such a way that the most important sections will be amply provided for and at the same time not slight the other sections. He believes that with the three extra men he can do this.

NEW YORK CITY.

New York city is receiving daily about 1,000 alien children.

New York city's street cleaning department is spending about $20,000 for each working day.

Bronx borough, in New York city, has expended $9,000,000 in dwellings of all kinds in the last year.

New York is killed by an average of eight persons injured in the streets of New York city each hour in the day, and one person is killed by such injury every seventeen hours.

Who was Ann after whom Ann street in Manhattan is named? The records apparently leave the matter in mystery except to tell that she was the wife of the first man who owned and occupied its site.—New York Herald.

New Jersey Central

Passenger Stations in New York—West 23rd St., N. R.; Fort Liberty, N. R.

In Effect October 13, 1907.

For New York—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 a. m., 12.27, 1.27, 2.27, 3.27, 4.27, 5.27, 6.27, 7.27, 8.27, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 a. m., 12.56, 1.56, 2.56, 3.56, 4.56, 5.56, 6.56, 7.56, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 p. m.

For Bound Brook—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 a. m., 12.27, 1.27, 2.27, 3.27, 4.27, 5.27, 6.27, 7.27, 8.27, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 a. m., 12.56, 1.56, 2.56, 3.56, 4.56, 5.56, 6.56, 7.56, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 p. m.

For Somerville—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 a. m., 12.27, 1.27, 2.27, 3.27, 4.27, 5.27, 6.27, 7.27, 8.27, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 a. m., 12.56, 1.56, 2.56, 3.56, 4.56, 5.56, 6.56, 7.56, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 p. m.

For Raritan—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 a. m., 12.27, 1.27, 2.27, 3.27, 4.27, 5.27, 6.27, 7.27, 8.27, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 a. m., 12.56, 1.56, 2.56, 3.56, 4.56, 5.56, 6.56, 7.56, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 p. m.

For Plainfield—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 a. m., 12.27, 1.27, 2.27, 3.27, 4.27, 5.27, 6.27, 7.27, 8.27, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 a. m., 12.56, 1.56, 2.56, 3.56, 4.56, 5.56, 6.56, 7.56, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 p. m.

For Netherwood—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 a. m., 12.27, 1.27, 2.27, 3.27, 4.27, 5.27, 6.27, 7.27, 8.27, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 a. m., 12.56, 1.56, 2.56, 3.56, 4.56, 5.56, 6.56, 7.56, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 p. m.

For Fanwood—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 a. m., 12.27, 1.27, 2.27, 3.27, 4.27, 5.27, 6.27, 7.27, 8.27, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 a. m., 12.56, 1.56, 2.56, 3.56, 4.56, 5.56, 6.56, 7.56, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 p. m.

For Scotch Plains—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 a. m., 12.27, 1.27, 2.27, 3.27, 4.27, 5.27, 6.27, 7.27, 8.27, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 a. m., 12.56, 1.56, 2.56, 3.56, 4.56, 5.56, 6.56, 7.56, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 p. m.

For Westfield—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 a. m., 12.27, 1.27, 2.27, 3.27, 4.27, 5.27, 6.27, 7.27, 8.27, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 a. m., 12.56, 1.56, 2.56, 3.56, 4.56, 5.56, 6.56, 7.56, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 p. m.

For Elizabeth—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 a. m., 12.27, 1.27, 2.27, 3.27, 4.27, 5.27, 6.27, 7.27, 8.27, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 a. m., 12.56, 1.56, 2.56, 3.56, 4.56, 5.56, 6.56, 7.56, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 p. m.

For Long Branch and Asbury Park, etc.—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 a. m., 12.27, 1.27, 2.27, 3.27, 4.27, 5.27, 6.27, 7.27, 8.27, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 a. m., 12.56, 1.56, 2.56, 3.56, 4.56, 5.56, 6.56, 7.56, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 p. m.

For Atlantic City—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 a. m., 12.27, 1.27, 2.27, 3.27, 4.27, 5.27, 6.27, 7.27, 8.27, 9.27, 10.27, 11.27 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 3.27, 5.35, 6.40, 8.30, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 a. m., 12.56, 1.56, 2.56, 3.56, 4.56, 5.56, 6.56, 7.56, 8.56, 9.56, 10.56, 11.56 p. m.

For Philadelphia—7.12, 7.39, 8.45, 9.52, 10.39, 11.45 a. m., 12.45, 1.39, 2.45, 3.45, 4.15, 5.44, 6.50, 8.00 p. m. Sundays—7.12, 7.39, 8.45, 9.52, 10.39, 11.45 a. m., 12.45, 1.39, 2.45, 3.45, 4.15, 5.44, 6.50, 8.00 p. m.

For Baltimore and Washington—4.45, 9.45, 11.15 a. m., 12.45, 3.45, 6.41 p. m. Sundays—4.45, 10.43 a. m., 12.45, 3.45, 6.41 p. m.

Change cars and Bound Brook.

W. G. BESLER, Gen. Pass. Agt. W. M. HOPE, Vice Pres. & Gen. Mgr. Gen. Pass. Agt.

Arrival and Departure of Mails

PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE

Office opens 7 a. m., closes 7 p. m. On Saturdays closes at half hour later

NEW YORK MAIL.

Arrive—7.00, 8.40, 11.20 a. m., 3.20, 4.40, 5.30, 7.15 p. m., 12 midnight.

Close—7.30, 9.30 a. m., 1.00, 3.00, 4.00, 7.45 p. m.

WATCHUNG, LAMBERTVILLE AND EASTON

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 1.20, 3.15 and 7.15 p. m.

Close—7.30 a. m., 1.45 and 4.20 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND RARITAN

Arrive—7.00, 8.40 and 11.20 a. m., 3.20, 7.00 p. m.

Close—7.15, 7.30, 9.30 a. m., 12.15, 1.00, 3.00, 7.15 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST

Close—1.00 and 7.15 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR WEST AND SOUTH

Close—12.15, 1.00, 7.15 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA, West of Easton

Close—12.15 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 1.20, 3.20 p. m.

Close—7.30 a. m., 1.00, 3.00, 4.00 p. m.

NEWARK—Direct

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 1.20, 3.20 p. m.

Close—7.15, 7.30 a. m., 1.00, 3.00 and 4.00 p. m.

WATCHUNG

Close—3.30 p. m.

Arrive—8.45 p. m.

SUNDAY MAILS

Office open from 9.30 to 10.30 a. m.

Mail closes at 6.15 p. m.

E. H. BIRD, P. M.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST

VOL. XXXIX PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1907. NO. 48.

"Support the Constitution, which is the Cement of the Union, as well in its Limitations as in its Authorities."—Madison.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS BANQUET

Association Officers Speak at Fifth Anniversary Celebration of Juniors.

350 ABOUT THE FESTIVE BOARD.

City Editor Anderson of Elizabeth Times, First President of the Flourishing Department.

Celebrating the fifth anniversary of the founding of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. with a big banquet in the association auditorium, about 350 boys gathered last night at the Y. M. C. A., ate, as only boys can eat, of a big "spread" provided by the ladies' Auxiliary of the association, and heard a series of practical speeches on the work of the department and the plans for the future. The good things, served by a corps of about twenty-five young women waitresses from the various local churches, disappeared like snow in a hot sun, and it was only after the last piece of cake and the last slice of ice cream had disappeared that there came a lull.

Planned by the officers of the association assisted by the Women's Auxiliary, the affair was in charge personally of L. A. Soule, the boys' secretary. Many of those prominent in the work of the local association were present last night, including President J. W. Gavett, who sat at the speakers' table, A. B. Besler, former General Secretary J. H. Manning, former boys' Secretary Kenneth Robbie and Physical Director George L. Lisman. G. Stanley Robins, president of the boys' department, acted as toastmaster, and the principal speaker of the evening was George L. McNutt, of New York city. At the speakers' table were President J. W. Gavett, Boys' Secretary L. A. Soule, former Presidents Francis K. Anderson, Walter Caldwell, Harold Robins and Richard Morris, and Stanley Carner, the vice president, and Alfred Manley, the recording secretary. Martin B. Stutsman, president of the department 1906-07, was unable to be present.

After the good things had been disposed of the 150 diners, President G. Stanley Robins, as president of the department, welcomed the boys to the anniversary in the name of the association and then introduced Francis K. Anderson, first president of the department. He told of the increased membership and work of the department since the days when he was president. In conclusion, he said, "Whatever you have to do, no matter how small it seems, take hold of it earnestly. Develop lots of energy, and wherever you undertake, do it with all your might."

President Gavett was the next speaker. "The world is a world of doors, gates and opportunities," he said, "and the Y. M. C. A. is a means of opening them all to you, makes it easier to start in a new life right. You can put on the Old Man without putting on the Old Woman. Let every boy do something, don't let it be said that a few boys here do all the work and the rest sit back and take it easy. Don't undervalue yourselves, you never know what you can do until you try. Many of the 'old boys' who have been with the association for forty years are still working for it. Consult the Y. M. C. A.; stay in it and work hard."

At the conclusion of President Gavett's speech, George L. McNutt, the principal speaker of the evening, was introduced. Mr. McNutt is an enthusiastic worker in the association and his topic last night was "What the World Owes to the Country Boys." He gave many statistics to show that the great men of the country today are the country boys. "The country fellow has been winning out over the city fellow," he said, "because he has lots of room. He has lots of chance to be alone, and acts as his own adviser in his lonely difficulties. He has a big outdoor gymnasium and takes lots of healthy exercise. He thinks for himself and has to rely on his own personal initiative to succeed. The city boy now has an opportunity to beat out the country boy, and the Y. M. C. A. is the chance. Greater opportunities are now being offered in the city, which are now for a fellow, and not against him."

The speaker dwelt especially upon the power of bad influence upon a growing boy, illustrating his point by the blight which touches the apple when growing on the tree, and while not noticeable, is the cause of that apple being a worthless windfall when it reaches maturity. He said that every worker was a capitalist. His capital is clearness of mind, strength of muscle, and mental ability. Gymnasium work is a means of storing up this physical strength, and the Y. M. C. A. gives a man capital in body, soul and spirit which no one can take away from him. "Get and

(Continued on page 3.)

PLEADS FOR HUSBAND WHO HAD MISTREATED HER

After she had given testimony that caused Judge Runyon to sentence her husband to fifty days in jail and a fine of $50 on a charge of wife-beating, Mrs. Edward Apgar, of Johnson avenue, made a hysterical plea in the city court, this morning, for the prisoner's release.

"I never thought you would be so severe, Your Honor," she exclaimed, "and I don't want him locked up. If you will let him go with instructions to remain away from me and my house I will be satisfied."

Mrs. Apgar's change of heart surprised the judge but he remarked that it was what usually happened in a wife-beating case.

"The women come here and make me believe they have been terribly mistreated," he said, "and that the State prison is where they want their husbands to go. When I find that the evidence warrants a term in jail and give it, then comes the pleading for leniency and the wails of what will become of the family if the head is sent away."

Apgar was being taken to a cell when the court called him back and rescinded the sentence. He was told, however, to remain away from his wife and the police were given instructions to see that he obeyed. The judge also expressed his opinion of men who abused their wives and told the prisoner that his appearance in court again would result in his getting the extreme penalty.

COUNTERFEIT CHECK YARN DENIED BY BESLER

W. G. Besler, of the borough, vice-president and general manager of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, denied yesterday a story sent out from Phillipsburg to the effect that checks of the company issued to employes in payment of wages had been counterfeited.

Mr. Besler was incensed over the circulation of the story, which he characterized as a falsehood out of the whole cloth and an occurrence that would be punished if the company could find the persons responsible for it.

The story had it that Phillipsburg railroad men had been informed that the company's checks had been counterfeited, probably to the extent of $10,000, and that a corps of railroad detectives had been put to work in an effort to cause the arrest of the counterfeiters. Continuing, the story stated that the company was sending out notices to stop payment on the alleged bogus checks until the matter could be investigated.

"You cannot make it too strong in stating that there is absolutely no truth in the story," said Mr. Besler to a reporter. "None of the checks have been counterfeited and I can only think that the story was circulated by some malicious person who wished to cause us trouble. It is stated that many of the bad checks have been in circulation for ten days, while as a matter of fact they were dated November 11 and were not issued until after that date.

"Another part of the story is to the effect that we had a corps of detectives at work on the case," continued Mr. Besler. "Well, we haven't, but we will have a corps of detectives at work before long if that story, and when we get hold of the person responsible for it we will endeavor to have him placed behind the bars."

Mrs. Anna Cadmus Injured.

Mrs. Anna Cadmus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Schalley, Sr., of Craig place, is detained at home with injuries, the result of a fall at Front and Somerset streets a few days ago. It was contemplating to cross the street where the trolley company is making repairs and in stepping on a railroad tie one end turn up, throwing her head-first. She struck on her shoulder with such force as to render her almost helpless. The association that such hill should comprehend State, county and municipal employes."

In the absence of Senator Colby, president of the association, J. Augustus Johnson, of South Orange, presided.

The association re-elected all its officers, who are: President, Everett Colby; vice-presidents, Grover Cleveland, Mayor Mark M. Pagan, of Jersey City; Edward W. Somerwell, E. Everett Phillips, S. Carman Harriott, John Reed, Mayor Charles Ellis, of Camden; Edward H. Pierce, Henry Hahn and Herbert Brown; secretary and treasurer, Thomas H. Brown, of Jersey City.

Appropriate Recognition.

George Gayle, for nearly nineteen years treasurer of Trinity Reformed church, was appropriately remembered yesterday by his colleagues in the Consistory, a handsome Morris chair being placed in his room at his home on Vine street. It was accompanied by a letter of appreciation for his past services and regret at his being compelled by illness to give up the position. The remembrance was a complete surprise to Mr. Gayle, who highly prized it.

—Have you been to Levy's mill end sale? All wool dress goods 15c. ***

DISCUSS CIVIL SERVICE

Quasi-Indorsement Given Mr. Ackerman's Bill by State Reform League.

TO CONFER WITH SENATOR.

Anxious to Have Measure Become a Law After Some Slight Changes Are Made—Colby President.

A quasi-indorsement was given the Ackerman civil service reform bill, which failed of enactment in the last session of the Legislature, by the New Jersey State Civil Service Reform Association at its annual meeting in the Colby headquarters in Newark on Monday night. Elliott H. Goodwin, secretary of the National Civil Service Reform League, was present and gave it as his opinion that the Ackerman measure, while it fit it optional with counties and municipalities to avail themselves of its provisions, could, nevertheless, with a few light changes, be made an excellent law.

Edward K. Sumerwell, of East Orange, chairman of the association's legislative committee, after reporting briefly on the stand taken by the National Civil Service Reform League at its Buffalo meeting, spoke hopefully of the chances of securing the enactment of an efficient civil service law this winter, inasmuch as the Republican platform contained a pledge to that effect, while Governor-elect Fort had declared in favor of the "best and strongest" law that could be put on the books."

S. Carman Harriot, of Harrington Park, spoke in favor of the original Colby civil service bill, which comprehended State, county and municipal officers, saying he would rather see no bill enacted than accept one with the referendum clause in respect to other than State officials. Dr. Samuel A. Farrand said the association should declare for the original bill, but that a half loaf was better and a fairly good bill should be offered instead, it should accept it.

"The difficulty that will confront us," Mr. Farrand went on to explain, "is that while the Governor and Legislature are both Republican, and we have the advantage of a square indorsement on the part of the Governor and in the Republican platform, both Newark and Jersey City have Democratic mayors, and many will be found unwilling to accord to their respective appointees lasting tenue of office."

Rev. Adolph Roeder, of Orange, suggested that the better way to insure the permanence of civil service reform would be to incorporate such a law as the original Colby measure in the Constitution, and he requested the association's indorsement of the State Civic Federation's efforts to bring to pass the adoption of a new State Constitution.

To this Gardner Colby replied that while a good part of the membership of the New Jersey Civil Service Reform League might favor the aims of the State Civic Federation, it would be unwise to encumber the work of the association with other matters.

"The passage of a civil service bill," Mr. Colby explained, "will be difficult enough in itself, without undertaking to bring to pass things that we know would provoke antagonism on the part of members from South Jersey."

Mr. Roeder accordingly withdrew his request, and on Mr. Harriot's motion a resolution was adopted appointing Mr. Sumerwell a committee of one, with power to increase, to confer with Senator Ackerman, Mr. Goodwin and others, to agree upon and advocate the passage of a civil service bill, "and that it is the sense of this association that such bill should comprehend State, county and municipal employes."

EXPECTED A VISITOR FOUND A BABY ON PORCH

The family of Edward Marcellus, colored, of East Third street, were seated in the dining room of their home at 7 o'clock last night when a loud knock sounded on the front door. A daughter hurried to open it but instead of a visitor, found nothing but a package at the head of the porch steps. As she picked it up she thought she detected a faint cry and when the covering was removed by Mrs. Marcellus a colored boy baby was revealed. The child winked and blinked at the light and gave evidence that it was sound and healthy by kicking vigorously at the group. It appeared to be about two weeks old.

The police were notified and at Chief Kiely's request the family took care of the child for the night. This morning it was turned over to Overseer of the Poor Ayers and a temporary home was secured.

The Marcellus family could furnish no clue as to the mother's identity and no one has been found who saw anyone about the house at the time the baby was placed on the porch. Detective-Sergeant John Flynn has been detailed to unravel the mystery.

MAYOR SMALLEY TO OFFER SOME "CRITICISMS"

The committee appointed at the last meeting of the Board of Trade to secure speakers to arrange programs for future sessions, has announced that it has prepared a number of features for the next regular meeting on Thursday night, December 5.

Mayor Newton B. Smalley has consented to start off the list of practical talks and will address the gathering on the subject: "Roads Leading to Plainfield." It is stated that the mayor, being plain spoken and free from indices of subterfuge, will criticise the ordinances of both the city and borough. The idea of the committee has been to secure men who will air their views on subjects of practical interest, municipal and otherwise. Those who attend the meetings, and they are to be open to everybody, will hear something to their advantage, as the speakers in view are experienced in various walks of life. At the conclusion of the next meeting refreshments will be served.

SCHOOL SUPT. H. G. KREBS SPEAKS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Superintendent Henry C. Krebs, of the borough schools, gave a talk on "Success" at the North Plainfield high school this morning. Quoting Daniel Webster's definition, the speaker said that success is the result of effort, and showed that nothing worth while is accomplished without expending a proportionate amount of effort and hard work. He cited instances of men who have won success by perseverance and effort in history and politics.

Mr. Krebs especially emphasized the point that wealth was not necessary for success. He urged all the pupils to go to college, saying that in a college education lay the road to success today. He spoke of many personal friends who have had to work their way through college and who have won success as a result of their college training.

The lecture was given in the assembly room, where the high school pupils were assembled the second period of the day's work. It is planned to have a series of talks on various subjects of interest and inspiration to the pupils, and speakers from out of town will probably come to address the school during the winter.

Indians Contribute Liberally.

An interesting fact was reported at the twenty-fourth annual meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Classis of Newark, held in Christ Reformed church, Newark, yesterday, when Miss Edna Merritt, of the executive committee, said that the statistics showed each member of the Reformed church in America gave about ninety-five cents a year, while the Christianized Sioux Indians gave $1.50.

Hospital Donations Received Today.

Donations from the public schools of the city and borough intended for Muhlenberg Hospital will be collected today under the direction of Mrs. Edward E. Love, and has had considerable experience in this work.

City High School Fire Drill.

Principal Ira W. Travell, of the city high school, had the school fire signal given at about 9 o'clock this morning. The pupils left the building quietly and without confusion in about two minutes.

HISTORY OF FAIRY TALES

Rev. Dr. Griffis Tells Big Audience Most of the Stories are 4,000 Years Old.

ARE JUST 121 ORIGINAL PLOTS.

Some Are Founded On Fact—Traditions in the Bible—Lecturer a Noted Author.

Rev. Dr. William Elliot Griffins, author of many books on Japan and formerly public school system in that country, spoke at the lecture room of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon on "Our Fairy Tales and How They Came To Us." The lecture, which was given under the auspices of the Charity Circle of the King's Daughters, was well attended, children forming a large part of the audience. Dr. Griffis, upon his return from the East, succeeded Rev. Dr. John Sheridan Zelie as pastor of the church in Schenectady, where he was before coming to this city. He is a personal friend of Rev. Dr. George H. Whitney, by whom he was introduced to the Plainfield audience yesterday afternoon. He was the first white man to live in the interior of Japan, and has gathered many facts about the folk lore of the Eastern people as shown in their fairy stories.

"Practically all of the fairy tales we read today, are between three and four thousand years old. The stories get local coloring according to the country in which they are told, but the 121 original plots of fairy stories, based on history and some later ones on the Bible, are used all over the world. There is great popularity to some of these fairy stories; I heard only recently that the United States postoffice in New York city requires a special force of twenty-five extra men to take charge of the letters children send to Santa Claus every year.

"But fairy tales are wholesome facts. The Eastern people originated most of the plots, some are found in the Bible and some the Assyrians gave us in the "Arabian Nights." To enumerate specific examples of fairy tales and their origin, let me say that the story of Cinderella is based on history, Jack and the Beanstalk is a tale which goes back to the tower of Babel for its original plot, and "Humpty Dumpty" was a real Englishman, who had his castle on a hill. William Tell was a real man, canonized by the Swiss people, and Santa Claus is the real name St. Nicholas, and has a place in the Hollanders' church calendar, where St. Nicholas Day is December 6, entirely distinct from Christmas.

"Many of the tales are based on an allegorical substructure. The "four and twenty blackbirds" we read of are the hours of the day and "Br'er Rabbit," like "Br'er Fox," typifies craftiness. The "tar-baby" stories are based upon religion, for Buddha attempted to convert a Giant with sticky hair, who lived in a swamp, according to tradition, about 1,500 B. C. St. George's dragon typifies malaria, a disease much feared by the German people, and the story is based on fact. The "man in the moon" is an old fellow gathering sticks, and there is a story that he was put there for thus working on the Sabbath day. The Japanese tell their children that it is Br'er Rabbit pounding dirnge, for it is reported that Br'er Rabbit once saved the life of Japanese royalty by his cunning in the arts of an apothecary.

"The church was instrumental in starting several of our fairy stories, through the Passion plays and the Morality plays. In our Punch and Judy, 'Punch' was originally Pontius Pilate, and 'Judy,' Judas the traitor. Pilate's wife warned him against action for Christ's death, and these historical facts, though lost in the comedy which has been introduced since, form the plot of the Punch and Judy shows of today. The Arabian Nights Tales are found in a modified form in the Bible, and Aesop's fables were originated by the old time preachers to make church truths plain to their illiterate congregations.

"Religion as practised in the olden times was a single religion, though there were points of difference due to traditional beliefs. The primitive people of the East were free in thought, reverend in temper and scientific in mind. Everything about their religion was real to them then. Nine-tenths of the Bible difficulties which cause our schisms today may be traced back to tradition and are really not worth arguing about. Like the fairy tales, the stories of the Bible are everlasting truth, but without fact."

Sesame Club Meeting.

The Sesame Club will meet tomorrow morning at the residence of Mrs. W. H. P. Veysey, 812 Park avenue.

—Daily Press want ads. pay.

MISS EDITH LACEY BRIDE OF CHARLES M. SUHR

With only relatives and a few intimate friends in attendance, Miss Edith Lacey, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Lacey, of Franklin avenue, the borough, and Charles Marshall Suhr, of East Fourth street, were married in St. Stephen's church yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by the rector, Rev. Arthur Searing Peck.

Miss Lacey was attended by Miss Mary Gorman, of Dover, maid of honor, and Mr. Suhr had as his best man, Anton Gloeckner, of Elizabeth. The bride was given away by her brother, Alfred Lacey.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Suhr were tendered a reception at the home of the bride's mother. They will make their home in the residence at 614 East Sixth street, recently purchased by the groom.

Mr. Suhr is organist at St. Stephen's church and is leader of the orchestra at the local theatre and a musician of note. He enjoys a wide local acquaintance. His bride was formerly a resident of Dover but has lived in Plainfield for the past ten years.

MRS. MALLINSON TELLS OF THE SPANIARD IN AMERICA.

"The Spaniard in America" was the subject of an interesting paper presented by Mrs. Alexander Mallinson yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the Home Missionary Society of the First Baptist church. The Spaniard from his advent in the new continent with Columbus until the evacuation of Cuba was described by Mrs. Mallinson, who said "the Spaniard in his treatment of the natives of this country demonstrated the survival of the unfittest."

Mrs. White, of Morristown, read some pertinent facts on "Our Missionaries in Mexico and Porto Rico." The devotional part of the service at the opening of the meeting was led by Mrs. Reuben Knox with the theme for thought "Following in His Footsteps in Ministering Sympathy."

A statement was made that the clothing supplies sent last month to a missionary family in South Dakota were valued at $160.

Progress on Sebring Building.

The steel work for Charles P. Sebring's new building on West Front street, adjoining the Babcock building, is now progressing rapidly. Yesterday there arrived from the Levering & Garrigues Iron Works three iron girders, forty feet long, weighing six tons, which will be used to support the roof on the third floor. By the use of these heavy girders Mr. Sebring will be able to do away with supporting columns on the third floor, making it an ideal place for a lodge room. This will give a clear span of forty feet.

Plainfielder Forms Partnership.

Charles A. Sturtevant, of this city, has formed a partnership with H. L McIntyre, of Chicago, under the firm name of Sturtevant & McIntyre, selling agents for the Brown Folding Machine Company, Guilberg & Smith Gathering Machine and the Cross Automatic Feeder for folders. The firm has an office in New York and one in Chicago.

SCOTCH PLAINS ITALIANS IN WESTFIELD COURT

The selling of beer on Hunter avenue in the Italian quarter of Scotch Plains on Sunday caused Monday to be a busy day in Judge W. B. Toucey's court at Westfield.

The beer was sold by Steapan Tyrano, and caused a free fight among the countrymen. There was shooting, and bottles were used for clubs, and the fighting naturally brought a few persons into court.

Tyrano was charged by Detective John A. Galatian with Sunday selling. He pleaded guilty and wanted to pay the court a fine. Judge Toucey held Tyrano in $200 bonds for the Grand Jury. Bail was furnished by Stephen Parrelt, of Fanwood.

Frank Banavigolia was arrested for atrocious assault upon Annelo Bitaghano. Banavigolia was charged with shooting twice at Bitaglians with a shot gun. He also was held for the Grand Jury in $200 bonds. Tony Banavigolia, his brother, furnished bail.

Joseph Morrall was also charged with assault by Annello Bitaghano, who claimed that Morrall shot at him with a revolver. Morrall denied the charge, but admitted that he hit Bitaglians over the head with a beer bottle. Morrall came to Westfield as a witness in the scraps and was arrested in the court room by Detective Galatian. He also was held under $200 bail for the Grand Jury. One of the crowd was arrested with two others at Fanwood Monday morning and fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct.

OPPOSED TO ROOSEVELT

Strong Sentiment Against Federal Administration's Head in Union County.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN FINDS IT.

Is Summit, Cranford, Westfield, Roselle and Plainfield There Is a Pronounced Feeling.

While there is an anti-Roosevelt sentiment among the wealthier commuter class in Plainfield, no one here seems to know who is behind the movement to organize a Charles E. Hughes "next President" club in Union county similar to the one formed in Jersey City as told in Sunday morning's New York Tribune. In all the commuter communities of Union, it is said that the opposition to Mr. Roosevelt is as pronounced as it is in Plainfield, but no steps have been taken to crystallize it. On the other hand, the skilled machinist, who is a strong factor here, is an ardent Rooseveltian and well informed ones say that his admiration for the President is unbounded.

When County Chairman Frank H. Smith was asked this morning whether he knew anything about the proposed Hughes boom in Union county, he declared that he knew of no such movement but that it would not surprise him to see one.

"Take Westfield, Cranford, Summit, and for that matter Roselle, in all of them you find the same feeling that you do right here in Plainfield," said Mr. Smith. "I found that out during our campaign and I tell you I would not have been surprised at a bigger cut in the Republican majority from what I learned on the eve of election. There is a strong, I could say bitter, feeling against the President. I do not say that it is warranted, but I know by investigation that it exists in our county. There are so many residents who are either bankers, bankers' clerks, insurance men, brokers and brokers' clerks, who seem to feel that Roosevelt is largely responsible for the present unsettled condition of the money market. These men form a large, representative and influential class in Plainfield, Westfield, Summit, Cranford and other parts of our county. These men don't want Roosevelt any longer than his present term."

The county chairman said that he had heard of no concerted movement for Hughes or any other prospective candidate so far as the people of Union county are concerned.

"WUXTRY." FAKE STORY!

A dream in a local paper last night to the effect that Patrolman Andrew Saffron had chased "Dutch" Ives and two companions and that they escaped by getting on the borough side of Green brook and holding him at bay with revolvers, was denied today by the officer. Saffron declared that the men he chased were ordinary hoboes and the gun play was added by the reporter to lend color to an otherwise commonplace happening. "Wuxtry. Wuxtry. All About Dutch Ides!"

Telephone Men Sounded Fire Alarm.

Three taps sounded on the borough fire alarm at about 10:30 today made Lieutenant Elden Smalley, who was out exercising the horses with the truck, to speed up "Nip" and "Tuck" and whirl up Somerset street from the bridge at a great rate. The anticipation of fire proved unfounded, for the trouble came from telephone linemen, who crossed the fire alarm wire on Watchung avenue, causing the taps.

Want to be Cops.

Seven young men who aspire to become police officers, underwent the required mental and physical examinations yesterday. The former was conducted by George B. Wesa and the latter by Physical Director Lisman of the Y. M. C. A. After averages have been figured four of the seven will be appointed to the force.

Receiver for Estate.

On application made by counsel for the executors, Vice-Chancellor Emery yesterday appointed J. Fred Pierson receiver for the estate of Elizabeth Schorb. The estate comprises the property at 117 East Front street, occupied by Henry Haurand, and for which the heirs conducted ejectment proceedings against him.

Dr. Grossmann's Lecture Postponed.

The lecture to have been given on teaching methods at the city high school this afternoon by Prof. Maximilian P. E. Grossmann has been postponed because of conflicting meetings by the local teachers. The lecture will be given at the end of the course and the next lecture will be given in two weeks.

—Levy's mill end sale for bargains. ***

AMUSEMENTS.

That David Belasco has lost none of his certainty in the display of judgment in bringing the public into touch with the highest standards of the stage was signally manifested again when he presented David Warfield in "A Grand Army Man" at his new Stuyvesant theatre. No higher praise has ever been accorded a really great actor by the press than has been bestowed upon Mr. Warfield in the character of Wes Bingham in "A Grand Army Man." This view is not confined to a few friendly critics, but is so universal as to be self-evident. It has found expression in every direction and especially in the satisfaction evidenced by the brilliant audiences which nightly crowd the Stuyvesant theatre and leave it in a state of enthusiasm. One critic writes: "Of Mr. Warfield's own work, columns upon columns could be written. He is one of the few actors upon the stage who can grip tears to the eyes of the most hardened person and then dispel them a moment later with comedy. It is remarkable how he holds his audience and it may be attributed to the fact that he makes his characters living, breathing men."

Klaw & Erlanger's production of "The Right of Way," Eugene Presbrey's dramatic version of Sir Gilbert Parker's popular story, received a most auspicious premiere at Wallack's theatre last Monday evening. The piece proved a strong play, full of dramatic and heart interest, and one that appeals to the imagination of every auditor. Guy Standing as Charley Steele realized, both in his portrayal of the character and in his personality, the creation of Sir Gilbert Parker and she dramatist. As the dissolute, brilliant lawyer of the first act he gave a remarkable interpretation of a man besotted with drink and harrassed by his own doubts of the present and the hereafter. In the last three acts, as the regenerated Steele, he presented a performance that appealed with thrilling force to all who witnessed it. Theodore Roberts, the co-star, has made marked successes in the past in character portrayal, but has never before achieved the success that must be accorded to him in the character of Joe Portugais, the Canadian riverman. His makeup was marvelous and his dialect true to life. The other characters in the piece were well acted and, taken as a whole, the company is one of the best that has been seen in a production in New York in a long time. "The Right of Way" will remain at Wallack's theatre for an extended engagement. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

The general public and theatrics have for years said upon emerging from an evening at a musical comedy, "Give us again the real comic opera, with music of merit, lyrics of worth and a story which does not concern a bogus king and his lovely daughter, but a mythical prince and we will be happy." Henry W. Savage has heard the prayer and he offers "Tom Jones," which comes to America after a most phenomenal run of two years at the Apollo theatre, London. It is a delightful opera founded upon Fielding's novel of the same name. The book is by Robert Courtneidge and A. M. Thompson; the lyrics by Charles H. Taylor and the score by Edward German. And in the music is found what New Yorkers have long craved, a delicate, sugary theme with here and there resounding choruses, quartettes and trios, music that will live when the average musical play has long since been relegated to the land of "Can't Remember." The melodies of "Tom Jones" are distinctive and original, the solos of dainty thoughts, the breezy bacarelles and jolly madrigals and rythmic dances will find a long in the memory of everyone. Mr. German is unquestionably the foremost of the present day English composers and his work stamps him with a genius we have not known in many years. The narrative of the opera is taken liberally from Fielding's work and is redolent of the spirit of that time. The lyrics by Mr. Taylor are characterized as worthy of Gilbert. To properly interpret such a magnificent work Mr. Savage spent much time in the selection of his cast and his final decision brings again before the New York public Louise Gunning, Vanbrugh Livesey Wheeler, William Norris, Gertrude Quinlan, a rare singing chorus and an orchestra of thirty-five.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

Egg spoons that are stained should be rubbed with damp salt before polishing.

Saucepans should be as flat and broad as possible, so that no heat may be wasted.

If a few drops of glycerin is added to the starch for linens, it will be found that the iron will not stick and that the linens will have a beautiful gloss after they are ironed.

Paraffin on a stone floor may be removed by rubbing bath brick over the mark and letting it stay till next day. Then wash it in the usual way, and the floor will be perfectly clean.

Paint can be removed from glass by rubbing it with hot strong vinegar. Stains on the hands can be removed by acetic acid or salts of lemon, and ink marks will soon yield to pumice stone.

To remove ink stains from linen dip the article in milk and let it soak for about two hours, then take out and wash with soap while the milk still remains on the spots of ink. This will remove any long standing stain.

ONE PICTURE

Framed here will prove to you how well and inexpensively we can do the work. Oval and round frames in all sizes.

ARTIST SUPPLIES

Winsor and Newton celebrated paints and brushes for oil and water color painting.

PYROGRAPHIC GOODS

A large variety of designed goods, outfits and special parts.

Plainfield Art Store.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Vail

JEWELER AND OPTICIAN

103 Park Ave.,

calls your attention to his

Rimless Glasses.

They Look Good and You See Good.

Start Your Breakfast Right

A cup of Coffee, made from our famous Mocha and Java is a appetizing and delict us that it will help you enjoy your morning meal. It is also the best finish to a good dinner. Let us supply your Coffee wants.

W. W. DUNN,

THE PARK GROCER,

Duer St. and Lincoln Pl.

Go to the News Stand

at the Central Railroad Station for all the latest foreign and domestic Magazines and weekly periodicals. Numbers furnished on shortest notice.

Plainfield Daily Press

and all the New York and Philadelphia morning, evening and Sunday papers delivered to any part of the city. Under new management. Open Sundays.

F. M. WAGNER

Formerly of Jersey City News Stand.

We have made arrangements for a larger supply of first class milk and are giving the family trade our special attention. If you are not satisfied with the milk or the services you are getting give us a trial.

Price 9 cents a quart, 5 cents a pint. Cream 14 cents ½ pint.

Lindsay's Dairy,

965 West Front St.

TEL. 792-J.

STORAGE—Heat equipped and oldest for storing Furniture, Pianos, etc. Special floor for TRUNKS. Terms reasonable. All work has prompt attention.

WRITE or TELEPHONE 211-L.

Orders left for moving vans, &c.

C. M. NAGLE,

Front and Grove Sts., Plainfield, N. J.

J. W. VAN SICKLE

128 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Fresh and Salted Meats.

Game in season. Philadelphia Scrapple.

Orders called for and delivered promptly.

Telephone No. 403-J.

GUSSOW BROS.

NEW YORK

Ladies' and Gents' Tailoring.

We do Cleaning, Pressing and Altering. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

136 PARK AVE. JEFFERY BLDG

Cleaning, Pressing and Dyeing.

Monthly Contracts.

Pressing called for and delivered.

EVENING DRESSES A SPECIALTY.

Ladies' Waists Cleaned, 25 cents upwards

Gents' Suits Cleaned $1.50

We do our own work at

M. A. Brown's, 218 West Second St.

McCULLOUGH'S STEAM MILL,

21 Stelner place, North Plainfield, N. J.

R. H. McCULLOUGH, Prop.

Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing, Turning, &c.

Estimates cheerfully furnished.

Chas. L. Stanley,

120 East Front St., 'Phone 226

Headquarters for choice Cut Flowers and Potted Plants. Floral Design work a specialty.

Store of store, Seventh Ave.

COAL DEALERS.

Difference in Coal.

All coals may look alike to some people, but compare our "Lehigh" Coal with the Coal you bought somewhere else and you will see a difference.

You will notice that our Coal Burns Brighter, Gives More Heat, and Lasts Longer than any other Coal you ever bought before.

Boice, Runyon & Co.,

Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.

Park Ave., opp. North Ave.

Plainfield N. J.

The best time to order your winter supply of

COAL

is now. Do not forget that

NASH

is ready to supply you.

Telephone 357-W 833-J.

Evenings 271-W

OFFICE—128 WATCHUNG AVENUE

TenEyck & Harris,

—DEALERS IN—

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

Office: Bowler's Drug Store, 218 West Front Street. Telephone 28-L.

JOHN JOHNSTON

All the best grades of

COAL.

329 South Ave 'Phone 193

Coal I have on hand some very fine Hard and Medium Coal, All kept undercover. Free Coal. 25 cents a ton reduction on cash orders. Coal

L. A. RHEAUME,

146 East Fourth St. Telephone 449-W. Yard, 674 South Second St. Telephone 221

GEORGE O. STEVENS

747 West Front St.

R. L. CLINE

(Successor to C. H. Rugg & Co.)

Best Quality Lehigh Coal

Yard and office 430 West Third St. Tel. 81.

JOS. HARRIGAN

OLD COMPANY'S LEHIGH COAL.

Tel. 497-L. 4th and Richmond Sts.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

We call your attention to our fine display of

New Wall Papers.

We can't describe the patterns, but they are new, striking and effective, and with our large assortment we are sure to please.

Paints, Oils and Varnishes.

Woolston & Buckle,

145 North Avenue.

Summer is Over

Your vacation has refreshed you, now your house needs to be refreshed with a coat of paint. Consult

James C. Hansen,

Painter and Decorator.

Dealer in Wallpapers, Paints, Oils, Glasses, etc.

141 E. Front St.

Estimates Furnished.

Tel. 870-R

1907 Wall Papers.

IMPORTED & AMERICAN GOODS.

C. CONOVER & CO.

Decorators, Painters and Paperhangers. Window and Plate Glass.

115 Elmwood Pl. Tel. 1145

W. S. CHEEVER

1326 Park Ave.

Painting and INTERIOR DECORATING. WALL PAPER of every description at the Lowest Prices.

'Phone No. 538-J.

AZIENZA

Cures pimples and all inflammation of the skin. Used by people of refinement. At druggists and hotels—25 and 50 cents.

CREAM.

COWPERTHWAIT AND VAN HORN CO.

FURNITURE CARPETS BEDDING

STOVES AND REFRIGERATORS.

"Thanksgiving's" just around the corner—we're ready for it with a

Lively Thanksgiving Dining Furniture Sale

that's sure to open many an eye to the extraordinary extent of our Dining Furniture Department—the largest and best stocked in all this state!

$20.00 China Closet $16.75

Golden Oak, Glass Doors and Ends, adjustable shelves. Very pleasing pattern. 32 other styles, $20.00 to $125.00.

$16.50 Extension Table Extends to 6 Ft. $7.75

Golden Oak, highly polished. 35 distinctly different patterns in extension tables $4.50 to $78.00

$22.00 Sideboards $18.50

Golden Oak, bevel plate mirror, best of construction. 33 different patterns in buffets and sideboards, $17.50 to $125.00.

Whether one piece, or a completely matched set is wanted, you'll do well to get it while this event is "on!" Easy payments, free deliveries anywhere in N. J.

$3.00 Box Seat Dining Chairs $1.95

Cane Seat, best of construction

$1.75 Cane Seat Dining Chairs $1.45

One of the best sellers on the floor

Over 126 different styles in dining chairs. Cane and box seat, $1.45 to $5.25. Leather seat chairs, $3.00 to $13.00

LOW PRICES LONG CREDIT

COWPERTHWAIT AND VAN HORN CO.

73 MARKET STREET NEWARK, N. J.

SMALLEY BROS.

147 North Ave.

BUTCHERS

Our Specialty, Berkshire Pork. Try Our Berkshire Sausage Made on Premises.

Roasting and Broiling Chickens a Specialty.

Orders called for and delivered.

Telephone 89-A. 5 1 tf

J. C. POPE & CO.,

INSURANCE AGENTS,

110 E. Front St., Plainfield, N. J.

A. H. ENANDER,

Sanitary Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Steam and Hot Water Heating. Contractor for Sewer Connections.

125 Watchung Av. Rear.

L. Moraller & Son,

Watchmakers and Jewelers.

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry. Fine Watch and Clock Repairing a Specialty.

219 Park Ave. Plainfield, N. J

JOHN WINZENREID,

Furniture and Freight Express.

Moving Vans and Storage.

Lee Place. 'Phone 948-R.

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING CO.

Renovating—Offices, stores and private residences. Service day or night. Furniture, china and glassware packed for shipping.

WM. K. KLINE, 611 W. 3d St.

JOHN A. KOCH.

Dealer in

Meats, Poultry, Fish, Oysters, etc.

226 Richmond Street.

Orders Called For and Delivered.

GUSTAVE HOFFMAN.

SEAFOOD.

Daily shipments at 329 West Front Street. Tel. 968.

TITUS H. LAURY

MASON AND BUILDER.

Office, 323 East Front Street.

Tile Setting, Mantels & Grate Work.

Telephone 1047 J.

WHY pay rent all your life when you can get a house on easy payments; I have a secret and if you will call on me I will give it to you; now I am selling lots on instalments on West Third and Fourth streets, Hunter and Evona avenues; give me a call. M. F. Gano, 142 North Ave.

TURKISH BATHS!

TRY ONE

Ladies morning. Gentlemen, afternoons. Take trolley to Sanitarium Somerset Street

William H. Pope,

ELECTRICIAN.

All kinds of electrical work done at reasonable prices

116 NORTH AVENUE.

William H. Kirch

CARPENTER AND BUILDER

66 DUER STREET N. PLAINFIELD

Estimates cheerfully given.

Jobbing promptly attended to. Tel. 488-J.

ALEX. LUSARDI,

Foreign and Domestic Fruits, Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc.

211 W Front St. Tel. 507-W.

Meat Market.

Choice Meats, Poultry, Fish and Oysters always on hand. Sugar cured Corned Beef. International Hams and Bacon.

F. Neidig, 94 Somerset St. Telephone 781

E. B. Maynard's

Tonsorial Parlors. Electrical Massage for face and hair. First-class work. Children's Hair Cutting a specialty.

'Tel. No. 754-R.

141 NORTH AVENUE.

JOHN WIRTH

(Successor to Henry Liefke.)

Bakery and Confectionery.

201-203 West Front St. Tel. No. 725.

All orders delivered at short notice.

HOAGLAND'S CITY EXPRESS BAGGAGE

Trucks and Vans for Furniture and Local Trucking.

OFFICE 205 PARK AVE.

Tel. 833-W. Residence Tel. 648-L.

REAL ESTATE

Bought, Sold and For Rent.

J. SACHAR,

DRUGGISTS.

ONE DOSE IN TIME

of our

White Pine Balsam Compound

may save a horrible Winter's cold. It's better to have a reliable remedy at hand for use when you need it. This is the season for colds and our White Pine Balsam Compound is heremost for it.

C. M. NAGLE'S PHARMACY,

Prescriptions Our Specialty.

Front and Grove Streets. 'Phone 911-L.

Complete Line of

REXALL

Goods at

MILLER'S PHARMACY

Park Ave. & 6th St. Tel. 288.

Hodge's Pharmacy.

Y. M. C. A. Building.

BELLE MEAD SWEETS.

Tel. 62.

HOTELS.

HOTEL WALDORF

EAST FRONT STREET

HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.

Gottfried Kruger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private Dining-Room.

HOTEL KENSINGTON

(Licensed.)

J. H. STAATS Prop.

107-109-111 North Avenue.

Everything New and Up-to-date.

An inspection solicited

HOTEL IROQUOIS

Commercial Headquarters. J. W. LEART, Proprietor Plainfield, N. J.

Pabst Milwaukee Beer on draft.

SUNDAY DINNERS SPECIAL FEATURE

REAL ESTATE

RENTALS—REAL ESTATE.

GEO. F. BROWN,

Insurance and Real Estate

Commissioner of Deeds—Rents

94 Somerset St. Phone 160.

Horses Boarded

The finest horse home in New Jersey. We grain and feed horses for $10 a Month. Best of references.

CHARLES WELSH, Supt.,

Far Hills, N. J.,

T. W. SHOTWELL,

203 Broadway, N. Y

11 2 1m

J. HIMMELFARB,

Ladies' Tailoring and Dressmaking. Altering and Remodelling neatly done.

Habits a specialty.

Perfect fit guaranteed

Call and See Fall Models.

311 New St., near Truell Court.

Tel. 903-J.

HENRY WIERENGA

Residence 'Phone 817-J.

Furniture, Freight, Baggage Express and Bigger.

PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY.

5 1 tf

Try a box of

DOBBINS' CIGARS.

Clear Havana Nickle Yarn or any kind that you desire. Manufactured at 120 North avenue, opposite Kensington Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.

STATIONERY AND TOYS.

HARPER,

411 PARK AVENUE

Kindling and Grate Wood.

Cedar Posts and Bean Poles. Prompt deliveries. Orders received at 69 Somerset St.

JOHN MOBUS,

P. O. Box 238.

H. J. HAROLD

Pianos Tuned and Regulated.

Tel. 440-R. Res. 142 E. 6th St.

YOU WILL NEVER BUY A HOME WITH MONEY PAID FOR RENT IN THE PAST.

START NOW TO

OWN A HOME

of your home by taking out shares in

THE CENTRAL BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF PLAINFIELD.

J. F. MacDonald, Sec'y.

Smalley Building, 149 North Ave.

Mountain House,

Mt. Bethel, N. J.

FRENCH RESTAURANT

Resort for Automobiles and Driving Parties

A. F. FINT, Prop.

MASONIC.

Passing the Honors Around—From Various Jurisdictions.

To the subordinate lodges let me suggest: Don't be in too much of a hurry to pass the honors around. Just because some brother has been started at the door or in the south is no reason why, regardless of qualifications, he should be advanced to the master's chair. I could site you several cases where there was once a good lodge and a good master where now we have a weak lodge all because the present master or the one who preceded him has not endeavored to do the work, post himself on the law or is lacking in ability to preside. Keep your present master if he is a good one until you are sure that the man who is eligible is better or just as good.—Z. M. Baird, Nebraska.

The new Brooklyn Masonic temple will cost over $400,000 and be among the finest in the country.

Rev. William White Wilson has been installed as grand chaplain of the grand lodge of Illinois. He is a well known clergyman, who for several years has been rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Chicago.

There are 221 Royal Arch chapters in Illinois, with a membership of over 25,000.

There are four Knights Templar commanderies in the District of Columbia, with a membership of 1,753, a net gain of twenty-four for the past year.

There are sixty-one Knights Templar commanderies in New York State with a membership of over 18,000.

Denver (Colo.) Masons are planning the erection of a new $400,000 Masonic temple.

The apron should be worn as the operative Masons wear theirs—over the clothing to protect it from stain. We wear it as an emblem of innocence symbolically to preserve the character pure from spot or stain. Therefore to wear it under the coat is to lose sight of its true significance. Uniformity in wearing the apron is highly desirable.—Grand Master of Kentucky.

YPSILANTI.

Nearly Four Hundred Ways of Spelling the Name.

Curious postal officers in Michigan and Washington have been keeping for years past a record of the different ways Ypsilanti has been spelled on mail matters, and by comparing the notes they have preserved a list of veritable orthographic wonders has been compiled. This list easily establishes the claim that more different ways for spelling Ypsilanti have been devised than for spelling any other geographical name in America.

In all no less than 372 distinct ways of spelling the name have been counted, and it is probable that the greater number, perhaps all, have been used in good faith by persons who actually believed that the orthographic combinations reproduced were the correct combinations for representing Ypsilanti on the written or printed page. Every letter in the alphabet except "R" has been used as the initial letter of the name, though why so obvious a combination as Rypsilanti should be neglected when others less obvious have been employed is difficult to explain. As a matter of fact the variations in the spelling are chiefly confined to the first syllable, "Y" being a letter lacking or having only an indifferent standing in many foreign languages.

Tipsy Lanti and Zyp Silanti are met with, and among the spellings farthest away from the accepted and official standard are Whypsorlantep and Hipasslandder.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Paris In 1869.

From "The Reminiscences of Lady Randolph Churchill" in the November Century: The last flicker of the candle, the last flame of the dying fire, is ever the brightest; and so it was with Paris in 1869.

Never had the empire seemed more assured, the court more brilliant, the fetes more gorgeous. The light-hearted Parisian revelled in the daily sights of royal processions and cavalcades. The Bois de Boulogne and the Champs Elysees, where we were living at that time were crowded with splendid equipages. I remember often seeing the Empress Eugenie, then the handsomest woman in Europe, driving in her daumont, the green and gold liveries of the postilions and outriders making a brave show. Nor were four horses and postilions the privilege of royalty alone. Princess Metternich, the wife of the Austrian ambassador, often went out in similar style. The beautiful Mme. de Canisy, and the Duchess de Mouchy, the empress' greatest and perhaps only intimate friend, and a host of court ladies habitually drove out in great state, and helped by the magnificence of their appearance to give Paris that ir of elegance and distinction which could neither be surpassed nor emulated by any other capital in Europe. Even among those who had forebodings of the gathering storm, no one had descried the black shadow cast on the blue sky by the approaching figure of Bellona, her fierce eyes fixed on happy, smiling, tranquil France.

When Pride is Humbled.

"How can I ever hope to win such a proud beauty?"

"Drop around when men are scarce. She ain't nearly so proud then."—Washington Herald.

—For the best results try a Press

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 24, 1907.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic—Home missions. The progress of work among the immigrants.—Neh. xv, 13-16, 29-31.

The population of the United States in 1900, excluding insular possessions, was 76,303,387. Of this population 10,460,085 were foreign born and 15,487,322 the children of foreign born parents. Thus every third person in the United States is foreign born or the child of a foreign born parent. Nor has the tide of immigration from almost all European countries receded since 1900. Instead it has been greatly increased, and now not less than 1,000,000 foreigners come to our country in a year. Another fact worthy of notice today is that these millions are not coming, as formerly, from the better classes of Europe, but from the masses of the citizens of unfavored nations, and particularly unfavored so far as government is concerned. The tendency a few years back was to look upon this great immigration as a national peril and menace, but the better thought of today tends to look upon them as a future blessing. They are doing their industrial work in connection with great railroad, municipal and other enterprises that Americans would not do. Moreover, in a generation or two, under the influences of environment, the public schools and missionary labors, they will be entirely changed in appearance, disposition and in character. In all our great cities today many of the young people of these immigrants who were themselves born abroad are holding positions of trust and responsibility, and in dealing with them one would scarcely believe that they had been born in Russia, Austria or southern Italy. Our presbytery of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church has nine young fellows under its care studying for the ministry, and the average American student passes no better examinations than they nor present a more intelligent and pleasing appearance. Their conception of the religious side of the responsibility of the ministry is a superior one, and their desire is to preach the gospel to their own people.

The immigrants, therefore, in our country are making rapid strides physically, mentally and spiritually. There is no question of their progress, and the only question is for church and state to use effectively the opportunities for the advancement of "the strangers within our gates."

The great cities of foreign population are the large eastern cities, Chicago in the west and many western agricultural sections. About 40 per cent of the immigrants remain in New York state, 30 per cent settle in Pennsylvania, and the remainder are distributed now in many states, but especially in the west and northwest. Here the greatest work must be done, and the amount of work that is being done for the elevation and salvation of these people in the cities, as in New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Chicago would be astounding to those who have never investigated the subject. Individual churches in these cities often have missions connected with the churches, and the ecclesiastical bodies of most of our large denominations carry on systematic mission work among them and have regularly organized missions and churches. In Philadelphia there is the largest and most flourishing Presbyterian Italian church in the country. Its membership is up in the hundreds, but this is only a small part of the great numbers, especially of the men, who attend the services. The children are taught both on Sabbath and through the week and make wonderful progress. Work is also carried on among the Chinese, Hungarians and other foreign people. So it is in New York, Pittsburg, Chicago and other cities and in our great industrial and mining sections. These millions of people are not criminals and illiterates. They work and work hard. They are seldom lawless unless led by demagogue leaders, and if their children can have the best advantages, and in this lies our opportunity. These people in at least small numbers are in nearly every community. They can be led to Christ. They are belonging to Him. Are we doing our part with them?

BIBLE READINGS.

Ex. xx, 10; Ps. xiv, 1-17; xlvii, 1-14; xxxiii, 12-20; Acts i, 1-11; Prov. xiv, 34; Rom. ix, 1-5; x, 1; John iii, 16; Tim. ii, 1-6.

Its Record Is Inspiring.

No organization has played a more important part in movements in behalf of the moral uplift in the world than the Christian Endeavor society. Its good record is written large in the world's history, and the field of its usefulness is constantly widening. Reports submitted by the officers of the organization plainly tell the colossal character of the work carried on by this band of earnest and worthy men and women.

The society's record is inspiring. With so much good achieved, it is no desperate hazard to say that the half is not yet told. Seattle is fortunate to entertain such a convention, but to entertain such workers as have wrought so enduringly in the world's affairs.—Editorial in Seattle Wash. Post-Intelligencer.

Forward.

Forward, O brigade!
Fear not nor be dismayed.
Trust in God's promised aid.
Forward, Endeavorers!

To smite all forms of ill
That thwart our Saviour's will
Our mission to fulfill—
Forward, Endeavorers!

Forward shall be the call
Till sin's last rampart fall
And Christ is Lord of all.
Forward, Endeavorers!
—Australian Christian Endeavor Lyric.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Nov. 24: "Temperance". "The evil of strong drink."—Prov. xxiii, 29-35.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

Passages for reference—Heb. ii, 16; Isa. v, 20-23.

The Hebrew expressions in this passage from Proverbs are striking, and our translation, though it gives the meaning of the terms, does not fully preserve their forcefulness. "Who hath ah? Who hath alas?" would give rather more of the spirit of the simple originals. "Who can be more accurate than this description of the evils which come from the use of intoxicants! The ah and alas, the contention and complaining of life, causeless or unnecessary wounds, darkness of the eyes, would be vastly less if this evil was not so universal. What mischief does it not cause! Scarcely anything will work greater havoc of the physical powers. Every vital function is disturbed, damaged, diseased and eventually destroyed by the continued use of alcoholic stimulants. Some may for a time fancy that they are benefited by their use in moderation. No one ever contended that drunkenness was beneficial. And it is too well known now to be disputed that even the use in moderation is harmful and dangerous.

What wreck alcohol makes of the mental powers! Some work for a time with more vigor, more brilliantly and more rapidly, but there is often a fatal speed and a delusive keenness which is gained. It is unnatural and forced. It is not sane in results nor safe to the producer. If long continued, it proves exhausting. It cannot be trusted.

Still more serious is the wreck it makes of the moral prowess. It destroys the power of moral discrimination, blunts the edge of all sense of right and wrong, and impotency the strength of good resolve.

But it is worse than this in its effects. Not only is the moral and intellectual personality of the individual ruined and badly undermined, but the social, political and business interests of the who's community are affected adversely.

It has been so fully demonstrated as to be undeniable that the trade in intoxicants is one of the most dangerous nity, but may be declared a nuisance. No revenue from licenses or taxes ever compensated for the evil wrought. This is accurately and exactly true regarding the material interests of a community, and still more in the moral sense. It is profoundly so when the moral welfare is put into the balance.

No liquor business of any kind and no use of liquors ever made a company stand for sobriety and order, more elevated in tone of life or more worthy of respect. It has never stimulated to deeds of patriotic daring, never nerved to heroic suffering and endurance. It has furnished no shining examples of self-sacrifice. The struggle for local option in many states, but especially in the west and northwest. Here the greatest work must be done, and the amount of work that is being done for the elevation and salvation of these people in all cities, as in New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Chicago would be astounding to those who have never investigated the subject. Individual churches in these cities often have missions connected with the churches, and the ecclesiastical bodies of most of our large denominations carry on systematic mission work among them and have regularly organized missions and churches. In Philadelphia there is the largest and most flourishing Presbyterian Italian church in the country. Its membership is up in the hundreds, but this is only a small part of the great numbers, especially of the men, who attend the services. The children are taught both on Sabbath and through the week and make wonderful progress. Work is also carried on among the Chinese, Hungarians and other foreign people. So it is in New York, Pittsburg, Chicago and other cities and in our great industrial and mining sections. These millions of people are not criminals and illiterates. They work, and work hard. They are seldom lawless unless led by demagogue leaders, and if their children can have the best advantages, and in this lies our opportunity. These people is at least small numbers are in nearly every community. They can be led to Christ. They are belonging to Him. Are we doing our part with them?

BIBLE READINGS.

Ex. xx, 10; Ps. xiv, 1-17; xlvii, 1-14; xxxiii, 12-20; Acts i, 1-11; Prov. xiv, 34; Rom. ix, 1-5; x, 1; John iii, 16; Tim. ii, 1-6.

Its Record Is Inspiring.

No organization has played a more important part in movements in behalf of the moral uplift in the world than the Christian Endeavor society. Its good record is written large in the world's history, and the field of its usefulness is constantly widening. Reports submitted by the officers of the organization plainly tell the colossal character of the work carried on by this band of earnest and worthy men and women.

The society's record is inspiring. With so much good achieved, it is no desperate hazard to say that the half is not yet told. Seattle is fortunate to entertain such workers, but to entertain such workers as have wrought so enduringly in the world's affairs.—Editorial in Seattle Wash. Post-Intelligencer.

Forward.

Forward, O brigade!
Fear not nor be dismayed.
Trust in God's promised aid.
Forward, Endeavorers!

To smite all forms of ill
That thwart our Saviour's will
Our mission to fulfill—
Forward, Endeavorers!

Forward shall be the call
Till sin's last rampart fall
And Christ is Lord of all.
Forward, Endeavorers!
—Australian Christian Endeavor Lyric.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

A Tragedy of the Election.

Feeling were the condolences of "Farmer" Marfine to the Hon. Frank S. Katzenbach upon his undoing by the unblushing Democracy of Hudson county. As Mr. Martine says with so much truth and poignancy, "Oh, what a sad disappointment after the counting of the votes last!" Mr. Katzenbach is young, handsome, "game" and a good loser. There will be other elections and he can run again. Not so Jerry Oakley of Hudson City—unless Mayor Fagan gives him a new wooden leg as a testimonial to fealty. It is the little tragedies of political life that are the darkest and most desperate. We have heard of no condolences from the great to Jerry Oakley.

No one's heart ever beat more fondly for reform. Jerry believed that Mr. Fagan was the wisest and best of men and therefore invincible at the polls. He could not see where H. Otto Winnpenn, the Bob Davis and Sam Dickinson candidate for Mayor, came in. In an ecstasy of enthusiasm and devotion Jerry accosted Tommy Mallin a few days before the reform bubble burst. "I'll bet a million," said Jerry to Tommy, "that Fagan wins." "I ain't got a million with me," said Tommy, a partisan of Wittpenn, "but I'll bet my wooden leg against yours." Jerry was sorry to take Tommy's wooden leg away from him, but accepted, with an uneasy feeling that it was indefensible to bet on a certainty. The day after election Tommy Mallin came round and callously collected.

At last accounts Jerry was nursing his wrath against the Bob Davis Democracy and he had nothing to say publicly in revenge upon the enemies of reform. It is conceivable that the Boss of Hudson county justifies the falling off in the Democratic plurality in that stronghold with the reflection that as a young man his political career should not have to take the bitter with the sweet, but remorse must sit heavily upon the sheriff's soul when he thinks of the marooning of Jerry Oakley by a malign fate, all because he hugged a blind faith in reform and the square deal.—N. Y. Sun.

If It Had Been Martine.

In the judgment of Allan L. McDermott, retired statesman, Farmer Orator James E. Martine would have been elected Governor of New Jersey in the late election if he had received th nomination. Mr. McDrmott didn't say that in so many words before the election, and his opinion now cannot be refuted because there is no way to test it, so he is perfectly safe. Martine would have united Hudson county leadership a bit better than Katzenbach, but the struggle for the Republic in Jersey City would have fared any better? Anything to elect Wittpenn" was the cry, and the personality of the State candidate would not have cut any ice.—Newark Morning Star.

BOARDING HOUSE GEOMETRY.

"A scientific friend of mine has drawn a boarding house geometry that strikes me as being noteworthy," says a youth with a third-story "front."

Some of his definitions run as follows:

"1. All boarding houses are the same boarding houses.

"2. Boarders in the same boarding house, and on the same floor, are equal to one another in the matter of price, but not in the matter of outlook.

"3. A single room is that which has no parts and no magnitude.

"4. The landlady of a boarding house is a parallelogram; an oblong, angular figure which cannot be described, but is equal to anything.

"5. All the other rooms being taken a single room is said to be a double room.

"Among postulates and propositions the following are worthy of consideration:

"1. A pie may be produced any number of times.

"2. The landlady may be reduced to her lowest terms by a series of propositions.

"3. A bee-line may be made from one boarding house to another.

"4. The clothing of a boarding house bed, although extended indefinitely in both directions, will never meet.

"5. Any two meals at a boarding house are together less than one square meal."—Edwin Tarrisse, in Harper's Weekly.

Rewards of Virtue.

"The persistency with which children see some other moral in a fable than the one it is intended they shall see is often distressing," says the principal of an institution for the young in Lexington. "A kindergarten teacher had recited to a pupil the story of the wolf and the lamb and had followed it up with the remark:

"'And now, you you see, Tommy, that the lamb would not have been eaten by the wolf if he had been good and sensible.'

"'Yes, I understand,' responded the youngster gravely. 'If the lamb had been good and sensible he should have had him to eat!'"—Harper's Weekly.

Corncob Charcoal.

Where car corn is being fed the cobs should be raked up frequently and burned in a slow fire. This slow fire can be secured by barely covering the cobs with earth. This will produce a nice lot of charcoal which the pigs seem to relish and which acts as a general conditioner upon their system.

THE HALL OF FAME.

Richard Mansfield had long cherished a plan of establishing a chain of English inns throughout this country, with plain furnishings and good plain food.

Henry Graves, who died the other day in Chicago, was the oldest settler in the city. He arrived at Chicago from Ashtabula, O., on July 15, 1831.—No resident of Chicago now living was there then.

Deacon Daniel S. Cooper of the First Baptist church, New Haven, Conn., was presented with a purse of $190 recently in honor of his eighty-eighth birthday and fifty-first year as a deacon of the church.

Mark Twain was among the many thousands who visited the Lusitania at New York. In bidding adieu to the officer who showed him over the ship he observed, "I'll have to tell Noah all about this when I meet him."

W. J. Lupson, parish clerk of Yarmouth, England, who has completed forty-four years' service, has attended 12,000 weddings at the parish church and has been absent from church only three times out of nearly 2,300 to-day. He has given away more than 1,200 brides.

Iowa's millionaire philanthropist, Abraham Slimmer, of Waverly, who has given more than $500,000 to benevolent institutions and also large sums to needy individuals, recently toured the State incognito distributing money among persons in want and seeking institutions worthy of aid.

The Marquis of Stafford, who recently celebrated his nineteenth birthday, is heir to the most extensive domain, if not the largest rent roll, enjoyed by any subject of King Edward. More than a million acres in England and Scotland are under the lordship of his father, the Duke of Sutherland.

Dr. Allan Ross Diefendorff, an alienist who testified in the Harry Thaw trial, has resigned from the medical staff of the Connecticut Hospital for the Insane at Middletown, Conn., and has accepted a position as lecturer on insanity at Yale and hereafter will make his residence in New Haven.

Thomas Hill, a Lawrenceville (N. J.) farmer, has trained a bull to run a treadmill that pumps water, churns butter and does all of that kind of work. The bull, Hills says, beats a windmill or gasoline engine "all to pieces," but the work prevents him from doing damage with his horns.

At Rick Island, Ill., recently Frederick Weyerhauser, the St. Paul lumber merchant, celebrated with his wife their golden wedding in the presence of 100 descendants. When Weyerhauser married he was a day laborer. Now he is the largest individual owner of standing timber in the United States. He is supposed to be worth over $100,000,000.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Do so well today that you need not long for tomorrow.

How important some little things seem to some people.

The trouble with forbearance of a fool's follies is that he takes your forbearance for encouragement.

History is to the effect that men's sins always find them out, but men continue to bet that they won't.

When a man gets up in the world people want to down him. When he gets down in the world people want to help him.

There is a time in the life of a female baby when you are not expected to take off your hat to it in the streets. At what age does the child expect it—at ten, fourteen or sixteen?—Atchison Globe.

PITH AND POINT.

Eternal gratitude is eternal slavery.

Silence oftener means offense than consent.

Are you as active in paying a bill as you are in collecting one due you?

About the worst advice that can be given some people is, "Use your own judgment."

Think you would do better than the other fellow if you had a chance, but would you?

This butting in has its bad features but it's a pity some men's friends don't butt in oftener than they do.—Atchison Globe.

A Seat of Many Ills.

When the specialist to whom they had taken the seven-year-old daughter on account of what seemed to be a case of incipient melancholia diagnosed the case as one of eye strain and ordered prompt treatment from an oculist, the parents of a young New York girl were astonished. Eye strain seemed as remote from melancholia as would corns on the feet. Their astonishment was proportionately increased when after a few treatments and acquiring glasses the child showed noticeable improvement.

Latter day medical science traces to eye strain many ills which seem so remote from the eyes that formerly physicians never thought of establishing a connection between them. Sick headache, nervousness, melancholia, insomnia, are but a few which have of late been laid to the door of weak eyes, the proper treatment having been neglected.

Explaining His Advice.

"Dr. Bingle has advised Coppersmith to take up motoring."

"But I thought Bingle disapproved of motoring?"

"Yes, he does. But in some way he had secured possession of a second-hand motor that he wanted to sell."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

TALES THEY TELL.

Every renter of flats in Des Moines, Ia., is required to sign an agreement not to cook onions or cabbage in the rooms.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, a Kansas bride read all of her old love letters to her wedding guests.

A rat ran up the leg of Policeman Mallett's trousers in St. Louis, and in trying to dislodge the rodent the officer was thrown into the muddy street and his uniform spoiled.

A woman living on a farm near Hokah, Minn., hearing a noise in her chicken yard, fired a shotgun at random in the darkness. Next morning she found in the yard a pocketbook containing $900.

A man living in a Chicago suburb who was troubled with his cow straying away painted his telephone number plainly on the cow, and when she wanders too far away some one who finds a strange cow on his premises calls up the owner.

THE ROYAL BOX.

The king and queen of Portugal have their birthdays on the same day.

The Duchess Vera of Wurttemberg is fond of lizards, especially chameleons. She has some uninque specimens, which exhibit an intelligence that surprises their friends.

Princess Ettel Frederick, the kaiser's daughter-in-law, is extremely fond of monkeys, and at Potsdam she has a house for them containing no fewer than fourteen. The kaiser does not believe in monkeys, he considers it a foolish waste of money.

Princess Fedora of Sleswick-Holstein, the youngest sister of the German empress, has a romantic history, having declined all offers of marriage since the tragic death of her fiancé, Duke Frederick of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, who, while in command of a torpedo boat, perished in the Baltic with the entire crew.

TRAIN AND TRACK.

Juvisy, on the outskirts of Paris, will soon possess the largest railway station in the world.

The first railroad in Morocco was opened some months ago. It was built by a German company to haul stone from a quarry to tidewater and is only about one and a quarter miles long.

The recent advance of shillings a ton in the price of coal in England means an addition of over 8,000,000 to British railways in yearly operating expenses. British railways use about 40,000 tons a year for their locomotives alone.

In the last year the Pennsylvania Railroad company has purchased about 20,000 cats, from two to six, to put in each freight house on the various lines to destroy rats and mice. Eight cats alone are instructed to provide a quart a milk a day for each cat.

"Does your husband sleep sound?" asked Mrs. Cobbs in the course of a call upon Mrs. Dobbs.

"Sound?" responded Mrs. Dobbs. "Well, I should say so! I don't believe you or anybody else ever heard such sound. It's enough to stop an alarm clock!"—London Express.

"He's one of the most stupid bores I ever met."

"And yet he seems to have accumulated money. Fortune appears to have knocked at his door."

"I don't believe she merely knocked; she must have marched right in."—London Tit-Bits.

Fashion in Medicine.

A curious communication has been made to the French Academy of Medicine by Dr. Grimbert, who has a fondness for statistics.

The doctor has been making inquiries, with a view to finding out whether there is a fashion in medicine. He has discovered that the old-fashioned medicines, such as opium, laudanum, iodine and bismuth, are sold in about the same quantities as they always have been.

The sale of leeches has diminished. In 1878 50,000 were sold by a certain number of chemists' shops in Paris, but this year the same shops sold only 12,000.

The glycero phosphates and antipyrins sold 50 per cent. less than they used to and quinine has gone down 25 per cent. As for the newer drugs hyramidon, asperine, etc.—their sale has increased enormously. —Paris despatch in London Express.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

It is foolish to save money for your funeral expenses, for while you will probably be present you won't feel that it is any of your funeral.

No woman is up to keeping a good supply on hand to use when her husband gets out of temper.

Some people are respectable in spite of all they can do.

Automobiling may be expensive, but it is ballooning that comes high.

Queer people are the sort that are most unlike us.

People who implore the boys to remain on the farm don't know anything about bugging jiters.

He who breaks a promise suit is one that a young man would rather not have pressed.

We feel if we could get the world to practice all we preach there would not be any need of further reform.

Unless you want to engage in immediate activities don't criticise a woman's husband.

A dog in the manger isn't generous, but he is doubtless useful.

STATE NEWS BRIEFS.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Camden Saturday filed articles of incorporation at the county clerk's office.

A defect in the system caused a fire alarm bell at the Wall Rope Works, Beverly, to ring three hours Sunday, calling out the firemen and causing slim attendance at the churches.

In the Madison Avenue Baptist church, Paterson, large congregations gathered Sunday to bid farewell to Rev. George Douglas, who has been pastor of the church for over four years.

Broken-hearted over the death of her husband, five weeks ago, Mrs. Clara Meredith, thirty-eight years old, of Atlantic City, who attempted suicide by drinking poison in a lodging-house, begged doctors to let her die. She will recover.

Thomas King, of Trenton, will not pay any dog tax next year. For several years a pet dog was cherished in his household like a child. Sunday the animal bit his wife and daughter, and a policeman canceled the dog tax with a bullet.

The forty-foot auxiliary yacht, owned by Albert Ames, a Philadelphia business man, which caught fire from an exploding oil can and sank in the Thoroughfare, Atlantic City, last week, has been raised, and the owner will refit it extensively.

While playing with companions Saturday, Bessie Fields, thirteen years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Fields, of 50 Heck avenue, Ocean Grove, fell and dislocated her left elbow and received a compound fracture of the forearm.

Many persons attended the cornerstone laying of the chapel at Bethany M. E. church, at Tenth and Cooper streets, Camden, Sunday afternoon, in charge of Presiding Elder J. Morgan Read, assisted by clergymen from all parts of the city.

Ogallalla Tribe of Red Men of Cape May is making extensive preparations for the entertainment of the great chiefs of the order, who will hold the annual district meeting in that city on November 23. There is to be a big street parade and all of the Red Men in South Jersey have been invited to participate.

Claimed by neighbors to be a "common scold," Mrs. Josephine Green, fifty-four years old, of Atlantic City, was sentenced to "sixty days and costs" in the county prison by Judge Hayes. The woman was taken to May's Landing under a commitment requesting Sheriff Johnson to "enforce" the silence order.

Members of the First English Lutheran Church, at Carroll and Pearl streets, Trenton, Sunday dedicated their newly acquired home, formerly occupied by the Holy Communion congregation. Despite the stormy weather, the edifice was filled to its capacity at both the morning and evening services. Rev. Arthur N. Bean is the pastor of the church.

West Cape May elected on "stickers" two members of Council who were not known to be candidates until election day. There were no nominations filed on the Republican ticket and Republican workers took this method of supplying the deficiency. It was a surprise to the candidates on the Democratic ticket, who supposed they were sure winners.

Fourteen-year-old George Norton, Jr., of Glassboro, was killed on the foot last July by a horsefly. The application of home-made ointment seemed to give relief. The bite has never healed, developing into a running sore. Saturday it become necessary to perform an operation to save the boy's foot.

Oberlin Smith, president of the Ferracute Machine Company, Bridgeton, had as his guests Saturday, O. Yamagata, superintendent of the Imperial mint, of Japan, and T. Hirose, his assistant. They were here to inspect the plant of the Ferracute company, and to get estimates upon new machinery and dies for their mint.

Tripping over an obstacle in the rear of his home at 330 Lemon street, Camden, Henry Parker, who lived a hermit's life, sustained a fracture of the right leg several days ago, but was not discovered until Saturday. Neighbors found the old fellow lying on the floor of his hut in a nearly famished condition. He was sent to Cooper Hospital.

Deputy Sheriff W. H. Nickerson, of Vineland, who takes such pride in his personal appearance that he specially furnished his new hennery with lace curtains at the windows, imbued such an aristocratic spirit among his roosters that one of them disputed the right of way of an electric train on the West Jersey Railroad and lost his head and one wing. It is supposed Nickerson dined on chicken potpie yesterday.

Colored ministers and the entire negro population in the heart of Atlantic City's colored section are warring over the application for a license for a saloon in Kentucky avenue, above Atlantic avenue, where the church element has twice defeated petitions for a saloon. The colored remonstrants propose to invade council when the license comes up for action, and enter a vigorous protest.

Philadelphia autoists, wading in muck to their knees, near Atlantic City, pulled a horse out of the deep mud alongside the meadow boulevard after their skidding car had hit the team of Jacob R. Lewis, a mainland farmer, and sent both vehicles off the road. J. R. Lippincott, William Reed and John Spencer were in the automobile, which was partly overturned. They dashed clear of the road, but their fall in the mud saved serious injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Achilles P. Willits, of near Haddonfield, had a narrow escape from death in a runaway Sunday afternoon. They were returning from Friends' meeting, and had neared Ellis street when their horse took fright and turned short, ran into the curb and dashed the couple to the ground, which at this point is paved with stone. Mrs. Willis sustained two broken ribs and she had severe bruises about the head and face. Mr. Willits received several cuts on the head.

Charles Walton, of 25 Vine street, Paterson, an employe of the Rogers Locomotive Works, lost sight of one eye and perhaps both, as the result of an accident which occurred Saturday afternoon while making some repairs to rails at Riverside. Walton was using a sledge, pounding down the spike with a blind the rails to the ties. A small piece of iron chipped off and struck Walton in the left eye. The eye was penetrated and the sight destroyed.

TO PROVIDE A REFUGE FOR BIRDS IN NEW JERSEY.

At the recent annual meeting of the National Association of Audubon Societies in New York, William Dutcher, the president, emphasized the need, now that the country was growing more thickly settled, of setting aside tracts of land as bird refuges. The Federal Government has established such reservations within a year, through the influence of the society. The plan of bird and animal refuges is destined to be a great factor in the future in the preservation of the wild life of the country. The reservations secured are the beginning of the plan of refuges, but the Federal Government owns no land in any of the thirteen original States, nor in Texas. In these fourteen States the proposed system of refuges can only be secured by purchase, or by a legislative act.

The La Rue Homer Nature Lover's League has raised a considerable sum of money for the purpose of buying a large tract of suitable marsh land in Cape May county, to be dedicated as a bird refuge.

Addresses, of the series on "Birds," were given during the last week at the Carleton Academy, Summit, and the Dearborn Morgan School, Orange. Addresses will be given by League Chapters for November is the Audubon Leaflet, representing the "Scarlet Tanager."

INDUSTRIAL ITEMS.

The whale catching industry is dying out. Only 150 are now caught each year.

In London about $5,000,000 worth of trunks are disposed of every year by auction.

Seventy-six American cities each produce more than $20,000,000 worth of manufactured goods every year.

The southern states now surpass the New England states in the amount of power employed for manufacturing. The middle states come first, with about 5,000,000 horsepower; the central states second, with a little over 4,000,000; the southern states third, with 2,386,000, and New England fourth, with a trifle over 2,225,000.

SCIENCE SIFTINGS.

The impression given at the latest exposition in Berlin of invention is that liquid air will soon enter the field as a very serious competitor of steam and electricity.

The telephone, apparently so extremely sensitive, is found by Henry Abraham to transmit to the ear less than a thousandth of the energy received from the line.

Mercury has a year of 88 of our days, Venus one of 224.7 days, Mars' year is 687 days, while that of Neptune is 64,127.7 days. No earth man could hope to reach the age of a year if he lived in Neptune.

MOSQUITOES.

Mosquitoes breed malaria.
Mosquitoes breed yellow fever.
Malaria kills 250,000 persons a year—15,000 in the United States.
During the past 100 years the total deaths from yellow fever were 100,000 in the United States.
One healthy female mosquitoes can start a progeny in June that in two months will rival the human population of the globe in numbers. —New York World.

ODD HAPPENINGS.

Lightning killed a Texas man the day after he had been acquitted of murder.

While a Chalky (England) laborer was in the act of yawning a wasp enter his mouth and stung his tongue.

A piece of slate fell four feet in a mine at Edwardsville, Ill., struck a collar button resting on a small bone of Anta Kovanta's neck and killed him instantly.

Woman's Work.

Marriage is woman's work in the world. Any man's work from whatever point it is viewed, physical or spiritual, as a question of civic polity or a question of individual ethics, it is her specific share of the world's work —first, last, and always—allotted her by laws far stronger than she is. And the woman who fails to recognize this and acknowledge it has the germ of divorce in her veins at the outset.—Anna A. Fagoes in Atlantic.

The Costitutionalist.

A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.

Published a-
PLAINFIELD, N. J.,

Terms: $2.00 per year.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1907

THE PRESIDENT'S APPEAL.

The White House,
Washington, Nov. 17, 1907.

Mr. Dear Mr. Cortelyou:

I have considered your proposal. I approve the issue of the $50,000,000 of Panama bonds, which will be immediately available as the basis for additional currency. I also approve the issue of $100,000,000 or so much as you may find necessary, of $50 three per cent. 20-year bearing Government notes, the proceeds of the sale of which shall be once deposited by you where the greatest need exists, and more especially in the West and South, where crops have to be moved.

I have assurances that the leaders of Congress are considering a currency bill which will meet, in permanent fashion the needs of the situation, and which I believe will be passed at an early date after Congress convenes two weeks hence.

What is most needed just at present is that our citizens should realise how fundamentally sound business conditions in this country are, and how absurd it is to permit themselves to get into a panic and create a stringency by hoarding their savings instead of trusting perfectly sound banks. There is no particle of risk involved in letting business take its natural course, and the people can help themselves and the country most by putting back into active circulation the money they are hoarding.

The banks and trust companies are solvent. There is more currency in the country today than there was a month ago, when the supply was ample. Over $55,000,000 has been imported, and the Government has deposited another $60,000,000. These are facts, and I appeal to the public to co-operate with me in restoring normal business conditions.

The Government will see that the people do not suffer if only the people themselves will act in a normal way. Crops are good and business conditions are sound, and we should put the money we have into circulation in order to meet the needs of abounding prosperity. There is no analogy at all with the way things were in 1893. On Nov. 1 of that year there was in the Treasury but $161,000,000 in gold. On Nov. 14 of this year there was in the Treasury $904,000,000 of gold. Ten years ago the circulation per capita was $23.71. It is now $35.23.

The steps that you now take, the ability of the Government to back them up, and the fact that not a particle of risk is involved therein, give the fullest guarantees of the sound condition of our Treasury. All that our people have to do now is to go ahead with their normal business in a normal fashion, and the whole difficulty disappears; and this end will be achieved at once if each man will act as he normally does act, and as the real conditions of the country's conditions fully warrant his now acting. Sincerely yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION FOR THANKSGIVING.

In accordance with the time-honored custom of our forefathers, a day is yearly set aside for special worship and thanksgiving and acknowledgment of the blessings we have received.

Many have been the trials and serious the dangers through which the nation has passed since our forefathers first gave praise. Today finds us a people who have successfully surmounted grave difficulties and who have grown in the graces of civilization, until we are an example and an inspiration to all mankind.

We are not unduly exalted by our material advancement, but are still mindful of the principles of morality and citizenship upon which the republic was founded. We have wealth without avarice; strength without tyranny; power without oppression.

We have sought to share our blessings to others and have used the power that has been given to us to promote the brotherhood of man. In these privileges as a nation, in our material welfare as a people and in the spiritual comforts that have been vouchsafed by Almighty God, we have been bountifully favored.

Therefore, I, Edward C. Stokes, Governor of the State of New Jersey, do designate Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of November, as a day of praise and thanksgiving, and do recommend that the people gather in places of religious worship and render thanks to our Heavenly Father for the blessings of the past and present and ask for His continued guidance in the years to come. Given under my hand and seal at Trenton, this fortieth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seven.

EDWARD C. STOKES.

Charles Suhr Buys a House.

Charles Suhr, directory of Suhr's Imperial Orchestra, has bought the house at 614 East Sixth Street from D. F. Dugan, and will remodel there after his marriage to Miss Edith Lacey. The date of the wedding has not yet been announced.

J. E. TRACY'S HARD LUCK

Involuntary Petition in Bankruptcy Filed Against Plainfielder.

MR. GODDARD A CREDITOR.

Councilman-elect Mygratt Counsel for Mr. Tracy, Makes a Statement on Behalf of His Client.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed Monday in the United States District Court in New York against Jeremiah Evarts Tracy, of this city. He is one of the oldest lawyers in New York and was formerly connected with the old law firm of Evarts, Choate & Beaman, of No. 60 Wall street. Mr. Tracy still has his offices at the same address.

The petitioning creditors are George W. N. Baldwin, a lawyer, of No. 32 Nassau street, on notes representing loans of $2,500; William H. Hastings, note, $1,400, and George W. Goddard, $12,500, the latter secured by notes and 16,000 shares of stock in the United States Tunnel, Mining, Milling, Drainage and Transportation Company. Transfer of assets, including thirty-five shares of the Garden City Company preferred and fifty shares of the common stock of the same corporation, are alleged.

Elbert B. Hamlin, of No. 59 Wall street, New York, was appointed receiver, with a bond of $1,500. According to several of Mr. Tracy's personal friends, he became involved in various enterprises, indorsed many notes and in many cases was unable to meet the obligations. Two weeks ago, it is said, two judgments for large amounts were entered against him.

"Mr. Tracy is one of the ablest and most honest lawyers in this city," he said, "and he was simply unfortunate in his business transactions." Councilman-elect Frederick E. Mygatt., of this city, attorney for the petitioning creditors, said he believed Mr. Tracy's assets were $2,500. He said there was no doubt that there were many more creditors.

When the old firm of Evarts, Choate & Beaman dissolved Mr. Tracy became head of the firm of Evarts, Tracy & Sherman. He severed his connection with this concern three months ago. He is a director of the Hormiguero Central Company, with business at Cienfuegos, Cuba. In 1895 he became interested in a sewing machine invention by Mrs. Harriet Ruth Tracy, of Connecticut. The woman was no relative of Mr. Tracy. He became interested in the new enterprise and built a factory in Hartford.

After spending nearly thirty-eight thousand dollars he suddenly stopped, and before the machine got on the market the business fell through. Mrs. Tracy at first referred all creditors to him, but he disclaimed all responsibility for obligations, and as there was no incorporated company he could not be held.

Mr. Tracy is the father of Dr. Robert S. Tracy, who in 1899 disappeared from a sanatorium at Saranac Lake, where he was staying for his health. A long search was made for him, and several months later he was found.

FORT ASKS SENATORS TO LUNCHEON AT LAKEWOOD

All the twenty-one Senators have been invited by Governor-elect John Franklin Fort to be his guests at luncheon at the Laurel House, Lakewood, Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The purpose of the gathering is, according to the invitations, "to discuss the future plans of the Senate" and to meet the Governor-elect.

The invitations were received by the legislators yesterday, and, so far as could be learned, will be accepted by all who will be in the State at the time.

Of the several Senators who had seen their invitations none would discuss them other than to say they would be glad to attend the function. The Governor-elect, who is still at Lakewood, could not be reached last night.

Paying Its Employes In Gold.

The Pond Machine Tool Works is among the large concerns in the east that is not paying its employes with checks. On Saturday the company paid its large force of men in gold coin for the first time in many years. The custom has been followed by the Walter Scott Printing Press Company for several weeks.

Realty Company Incorporates.

Articles of incorporation have been filed at Trenton by the Orchard Improvement Company, the local concern organized to develope the Concert Park property. The capital stock is placed at $10,000 and Plainfield is specified as the registered office. The incorporators named are J. Fred MacDonald, Eugene M. Laing and Henry Liefke.

SOLEMN VESPER SERVICE

Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, Assembles for Annual Memorial.

ADDRESS BY REV. T. SMITH.

Noted Lecturer and Writer Tells of the Growth of the Catholic Church And Its Principles.

According to their annual custom, the members of Watchung Council, No. 552, Knights of Columbus, assembled in St. Mary's church for Solemn Vespers, Sunday. The organization had as its guests delegations from Bailey and Elizabeth Councils, and occupied seats in the forward part of the church. There was a large attendance in addition and every available seat was taken.

The service was in charge of Rev. Father Bozan and a committee from the Council and the sermon of the evening was delivered by Rev. John Talbot Smith, of New York, prominent as a lecturer, writer and theologian. He is the Catholic Sunday-school of America at Plattsburg, N. Y. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Smith spoke of the power of the Catholic church, its history and achievements and also paid tribute to Columbus because of his capable directing and established ability. He referred to the persecutions the church endured but declared that it had triumphed and the people were now ahead, because they had a leader. Continuing he said:

"I come to tell you something more pertinent to yourselves, to give you the bare facts upon which this gorgeous structure rests and if I do not convince you that we are winners, then my endeavor is useless. The Catholic church has the home organ of all its labors in two factors. The first is the multitude, organized into one grand body and flung at the abuses of civilization to make the road and build the cities for the people to come after. And how have they become a multitude? It is not many years ago that the Knights of Columbus were not in existence and they are doing splendid work now for the salvation of men. But it is of the most importance for us to know what this multitude has done for the republic in which we live.

"In other days people had their own ideas about the service of God, mutilated ideas which had never been developed and they could have developed in the eyes of the republic. All that glorious array of saints and workers of the faith were forgotten; men could remember leaders of nations, but of the men who had made life worth living, no mention was made, no day set apart for them and the doctrines of Christ had no celebration, outside the individual hearts of men. Then on the surface of this rose, as if by magic, splendid temples and men stood in amazement when people asked them credit with having no brains built structures such as our Catholic churches and heard the splendid music and saw the grandeur of the sanctuary. We taught them how to sing the praises of God and how to worship the sanctuary. That is the power of the multitude.

"There is the second power in the governing activity of the church. There is the power of Democracy. The citizen with his vote is taxed for the support of the government. But America did not invent Democracy and America with all its power could not retain Democracy if there was not something else working. The principle is the teaching of the Catholic church that every man has an immortal soul, that every man is valuable in the sight of God because he is everlasting. There is the principle of Democracy. Who taught it who supported it, who made it what it is? The church of Christ. You are all proud of the Democracy of America.

"I close with the thought with which I began. We are the winners. We are on the winning side, we have a head that should never perish, not because we have the people with us, not because we have the power of one or the power of the multitude, but because we have the power of Jesus Christ who said to his disciples, 'Behold I am with you.' The church imposes upon everybody, for as a great man said, 'One soul with God is a majority.'"

Weekly Chase of the Hunt Club.

The weekly chase of the Watchung Hunt Club on Saturday was enjoyed by a company of about twenty riders, including the members and several visiting riders from New York. The riders met at Dog Tavern and followed a course to Westfield, Rahway and back to the kennels on Park avenue. Not a spill occurred to mar the pleasure of the chase. In the absence of Lewis E. Waring, master of the houids, "Chris." Camins, the whip, acted in his place. Next Saturday afternoon the members will meet at the Baltusrol Golf Club and ride over an entirely new course.

Holy Cross Club in Tie Game.

The Holy Cross Club football eleven played a 0-0 tie game with a team of school boys at Somerville Saturday. The borough boys were outweighed, but held their opponents by good defensive play at critical times.

NEITHER ELEVEN SCORED

City and Borough High School Teams Played a 0-0 Tie on Hope Common.

BOROUGHITES PLAYED BETTER.

Local Team Weak on Defense—Scholastic Championship to Be Decided by Another Game.

The eagle of victory, carrying in its bill the olive wreath marked "Scholastic Football Champions" hovered around on Hope Common Saturday but did not light on the goal posts of either the city or borough high school elevens. Fully 500 football enthusiasts, mostly pupils from both schools, watched the season's second game between the school boy teams, and though the borough boys were once within striking distance of their opponent's goal, neither side scored and the local football championship must be decided by another game.

As in the first game, when the teams each scored a single touchdown, the borough eleven had the advantage in Saturday's contest. Outweighed nearly ten pounds to the man, they advanced the ball toward city high's goal line by a series of formation plays through the centre of their opponents' line. The local team, one the lookout for trick plays and the forward pass, were not up to their standard of defensive play as shown in last week's game with Laurenceville, but managed to hold their opponents at critical times, though several times they only gained the ball after it had been worked down the field to the shadow of their goal posts.

"Bully" McClintock was the hero of the day. As full back on the borough eleven, Quarter back Conroy sent him crashing through the centre of the city team's line time after time for gains of from ten yards at a play. The city school team played their secondary defense too far back and again and again the lighter borough eleven made first down on their mass plays through the line. Murphy's punting for the local high school eleven saved the game on several occasions. The forward pass failed with both teams, and there were few trick plays. "Tone" Overton, the borough captain, after failing to take advantage of a chance to drop kick a goal from the field in the second half, missed a try from a less favorable position in the last few minutes of play.

The borough eleven's left wing was weak and Quarterback Lolzeaux found this out early in the game. Lyness and Murphey were the best ground gainers for P. H. S. and the ends held better than in any previous game. A feature in the second half was a mid-air fumble, when the ball was passed high to Parsons, of the borough and was for several seconds balanced in mid-air on the finger tips of a half dozen players.

North Plainfield kicked off to Lolzeaux, but on the first lineup the local eleven was penalized for hurdling. They rushed the ball steadily to the boroughites' 25-yard line by gains through the left side of the line, but were there held for downs. The North Plainfielders rushed the ball back nearly 50 yards, using formation plays through centre, but were penalized for an illegal quarterback run and Overton's attempt at a field goal from the 30-yard line gave the ball to the city team on their 5-yard line. Murphey punted out of danger and the boroughites got the ball within striking distance only to lose it on a fumble. Murphey punted out again just as the half closed.

Both teams were somewhat handicapped by darkness in the second half. The Plainfielders kicked off but soon forced their opponents to punt. The forward pass failed as did attempts to gain through the borough line and the local team lost the ball on downs. An attempted drop kick by Parsons was blocked, but the Plainfields couldn't work the forward pass and the boroughites recovered the ball again near their goal just as time was called. The lineups and summaries:

P. H. S.		N. P. H. S.
Doane	F.	McClintock
	left end.
Fountain		Day
	left tackle.
Morris		Blecker
	left guard.
Fleming		Powelson
	centre.
Bewall		Hermann
	right guard.
Hammond		H. Smith
	right tackle.
Phillips		Steiner
	right end.
Loizeaux (capt)		Conroy
	quarterback.
Murphey		Overton (capt.)
	left halfback.
Caldwell		Parsons
	right halfback.
Lyness		B. McClintock
	fullback.

Refree and umpire, Lindsey Best, P. H. S., and Benjamin Phelps, N. P. H. S. Linesmen, Runyon and Heath. Timers, Brown and Collier. Twenty minute halves.

One should always be careful not to use too stiff a brush or the gums will be made to recede. A soft one is equally cleansing.

PIPE ORGAN DEDICATED

Pastor Lawrence R. Howard Conducts Ceremony at Hope Chapel.

IN H. C. SQUIRES' MEMORY.

Instrument Cost $2,000 and Is In Memory of Late Beloved Sunday-school Superintendent.

The Henry C. Squires Memorial organ recently installed in Hope chapel by the congregation in loving tribute to their late Sunday-school superintendent, was formally dedicated Sunday morning. A congregation that filled the edifice was in attendance and took part in a special service arranged by Pastor L. R. Howard.

Mrs. L. R. Howard, who is to be the organist, was in charge of the musical features of the program. It opened with an organ voluntary and was followed by several other numbers, after which the dedication took place. The congregation stood while the following dedicatory form was read by the pastor:

"Assembled in our house of worship in the presence of holy memories, especially recalling those which cluster about our late beloved superintendent, Henry C. Squires, to whom we hereby pay one more tribute of a grateful people, in the unity of Christian fellowship, and in the name and faith of Jesus Christ, our Lord, by whom the church stands, we now solemnly and reverently dedicate our new organ to its worship and praise of Almighty God. We dedicate it likewise to the service of man; to the sentiment of human brotherhood and love of country; to the offices of friendship and faith and to the hope of the life everlasting. We invoke upon it and upon all its use the ministry of our sanctuary, until the end, the blessing and grace of Heaven."

While still standing, the congregation sang the doxology and a short prayer was offered by Mr. Howard. In his sermon afterward, he referred to sacred music as being one of the helps to religious life, his subject being "Religion and Prosperity." Special anthems were rendered by the chapel choir, and an organ recessional was given at the close.

Another large congregation was present in the evening and previous to the opening of a communion service, fifteen minutes were devoted to organ numbers.

The organ was installed at a cost of nearly $2,000. It was built by the Hilligreen, Lane Company, of Alliance, O., and has been approved by S. Archer Green, organist of the Brick church, New York, and president of the American Guild of Organists. The congregation worked for nearly two years to raise sufficient funds for the instrument.

CAUGHT IN SHAFTING; ONLY SLIGHTLY HURT

Edward Lessen, of Netherwood avenue, employed at the Rock avenue yard of the J. D. Loizeaux Company, had a narrow escape from being killed while at work in the planing department shortly before 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

He was putting a belt over a pulley when his clothing caught and he was jerked from his feet and lifted to the top of the shafting. The fact that the belt was not directly in position was probably all that saved him as it slipped off, leaving him suspended in the air. He was rendered unconscious by a blow on the head but the accident was witnessed by other men and Lessen was quickly lifted down.

It was thought at first that he was seriously injured and hurry calls were sent for the police patrol and ambulance. The former vehicle was quickly on the scene with Dr. Lufburrow but Lessen had recovered consciousness before its arrival. An examination revealed that a few bruises and lacerations were all that he suffered and he was removed to his home.

SPECIAL PRAISE SERVICE.

Under Mr. Titsworth's Direction at Trinity.

The successful special praise service by the choir of Trinity Reformed church Sunday was largely attended. Under the direction of Arthur L. Titsworth, organist and choirmaster, the quartet choir rendered several selections in a delightful manner. The quartet comprising Miss Etta Raybert, soprano; Miss Winifred Carroll, contralto; E. D. Young, tenor, and F. S. Cutter, bass, sang "Art Thou Weary?" by Edward Broome; "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears," J. F. Field; "Fear Not, O Israel," Max Spicker; solo, "The Heavenly Song," Hamilton Gray; duet, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," W. K. Bassford.

In connection with the praise service, Rev. Dr. E. P. Johnson, acting pastor, delivered a strong and helpful discourse on "Gratitude's Response," which was appropriate to the occasion.

FRANCHISE TAX $6,429

Plainfield gets Approximately One-third as Much as Elizabeth.

STATE'S BOARD ANNOUNCEMENT

P. S. C. to Pay Into City Treasury Over $4,000—Postal Telegraph Just $1.84.

Plainfield will receive as its share of the franchise tax from the various corporations operating within its limits the sum of $6,429.25. The announcement of this was made yesterday by the State Board of Taxation. The companies paying a franchise tax and the amounts levied upon them are as follows:

Public Service Corporation, lessee of the Elizabeth, Plainfield, Central Street Railway Company, $1,683.82; Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, lessees Somerset, Union and Middlesex Light Company, $2,366.22; Postal Telegraph and Cable Company, $1.84; Plainfield-Union Water Company, $1,478.42; New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, $898.95.

Elizabeth will receive a total of $19,957 from franchise tax divided as follows:

New Jersey Street Railway Company, $8,086.29; Public Service Corporation, lessee of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Railway Company, $1,350.10; United Electric Company, $1,713.54; Northern Telegraph and Telephone Company, $8,66; Mutual District Messenger Company, $10.94; Western Union Telegraph Company, $43.15; Elizabeth Gas Light Company, $5,-539.35; Interstate Telephone and Telegraph Company, $343.75; Postal Telegraph Company, $3.67; Elizabethtown Water Company, $3,426.-65; New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, $1,430.20.

SEVEN MACHINES IN AUTO RUN HAD PERFECT SCORES

In the endurance run under the auspices of the New Jersey Automobile Association held Friday and Saturday seven machines finished with a clean score after five trips around the ninety-four mile course. The machines completed the test without penalization were the 50-h.p. Mathewson, entered by J. B. Ryall R. G. Kelsey's 50-h.p. Haynes, R. A. Greene's 30-h.p. Oldsmobile, R. A. Greene's 40-h.p. Autocar, A. T. Purcell's 40-h.p. Ford, F. C. Hinn's 28-h.p. Franklin, and F. J. Titus' 60-h.p. Thomas.

Thirteen of the twenty-two cars entered finished the test, P. F. Gillette's 20-h.p. Cadillac being burned and the others withdrawn. Frank Mazzacho, who drove the 20-h.p. Mitchell car entered by the F. L. C. Martin Automobile Company of this city, was penalized 105 points for delay out on the course.

W. V. Snyder, jr., of Newark, drove the 10-h.p. Cadillac, which, though starting twentieth, stuck with the leaders all the time and finished with three points penalization. It was the only single cylinder car in the run and beat out fourteen four-cylinder cars. The engine was stalled for a while when the machine ran into a tree at a sharp corner while running Friday night. The little machine was haled with cheers at Newark every time around, and had no trouble with engine or machinery during the entire run. It consumed only 20 gallons of gasoline during the entire 470 mile run.

Inglis M. Uppercut, driving the four-cylinder 25-h.p. Cadillac, had a narrow escape from a collision late Friday night. Some unknown men with lanterns, gave him the wrong signal about the road, and instead of turning, he went straight into a steep bank, smashing one of the forward wheels. L. O. Williams, a Stevens Institute student, who was acting as observer on the car, was thrown heavily, but escaped with bruises. After a wait of six hours for a new wheel from Newark, the car continued in the contest, and though penalized 1,098 points for stalling the engine during the delay, making the fastest time by making the 470 miles in fifteen hours running time.

Reception and Dance.

The affair to be held at the Casino Friday night, December 20, under the auspices of the Plainfield Branch, United Commercial Travelers, will be in the nature of a reception and dance. An orchestra of ten pieces will furnish the music. It is also expected that several specialties will be offered to entertain the patrons.

Maple Sugar Pralines.

For maple sugar pralines, such as the girls at Vassar make, boil a pound of maple sugar in water enough to keep it from burning until the syrup spins a thread. Then stir in a pound of blanched almonds cut in pieces and a teaspoonful of butter and stir until it grains. Then spread on a shallow plate until cool enough to cut into squares.

LOCAL OPTION PROGRESS

J. Frank Burke the Speaker at Park Avenue Baptist Church.

VICTORIES AT RECENT ELECTION

Lecturer Said That An Assemblyman Who Voted Against Local Option Bill Has Pledged His Support In the Work In This State.

"The saloon problem is primarily the church problem, and the churches have declared that the saloons must go." So said the Rev. Joseph Burke, superintendent of the New Jersey Anti-Saloon League, and co-worker with Emmett H. Curtis to bring about direct license vote at the primaries, in his address at the Park Avenue Baptist church on Sunday. The political issue in the recent campaign, the Anti-Saloon Leaguers claim to have gained ground by their efforts in this State. The campaign for local option is still being carried on, and between 300 and 400 men, the speaker said, are speaking in the different States every Sunday in behalf of the cause.

Mr. Burke has been in this city before, lecturing on local option, and there was a large audience out to hear him last night. The speaker stated that the supreme court of the United States has declared that no man has an inherent right to sell intoxicating liquor at retail, and other courts have declared that the liquor traffic is in its nature criminal. The supreme court of New Jersey has ruled that withholding a license for the sale of liquors is withholding no right. There are 3,000 members of the liquor dealers' organization in this State, but there are about 400,000 church members in the state, and through the votes of these men, the league hopes to accomplish its local option movement.

In the South, there has been great success for the local option people. There are 1,000 dry counties in Tennessee, and ninety-six out of 119 counties in Kentucky are "dry." Alabama has not half as many saloons as Newark has. Over 1,000 saloons in the United States were forced to close as a result of a local option voting at the last election, and 36,000,000 people live in the territory freed from the saloons.

Mr. Burke stated that one of the members of the State Assembly who voted against the local option bill last year recently talked with him about local option and said that he would do all in his power to advance local option in the State. Not one member of last year's Legislature committee, which conspired to kill the local option bill, will be returned to the Legislature this year. "New Jersey has heretofore been a paradise for the liquor dealers," said Mr. Burke in concluding his address, "but the tide of temperance is rising and this State will soon fall in line for the support of local option."

MRS. OLIVE B. DUNN IS AWARDED ALIMONY

The divorce case of Olive Blanche Dunn against Wesley J. Dunn had another airing before the Chancery Court at Newark Tuesday, when the application for alimony and counsel fees made some time ago was renewed before Vice Chancellor Emery.

The court after reading the pleadings and the voluminous affidavits for and against the application, and after argument by counsel, ordered the husband to pay the wife five dollars a week alimony and twenty-five dollars counsel fees.

William G. De Meza and Winfield S. Angleman represented Mrs. Dunn and S. S. Swackhamer appeared for Wesley Dunn.

The Dunns lived together in Plainfield until the separation about a year and a half ago. Shortly after the separation Mrs. Dunn filed her application for a divorce on the ground of cruel treatment. The husband denied his wife's allegations, and the wife then amended her petition specifying in detail the acts complained of. The husband has filed an answer denying all the later allegations, and resisted strongly the application made today.

The case will probably come up for final trial in January at Newark.

No Events at P. C. C.

There was only general play on the course of the Plainfield Country Club, Saturday, no events being scheduled for the day. In fact there will be no special competitions until Thanksgiving Day, when the active season will close with a close country tournament. The delightful fall weather on Saturday attracted a number of enthusiastic players to the links and the game was enjoyed to the fullest extent.

Some Good Photographs.

F. T. Puryear, the Brooklyn photographer, has been doing a good business in Plainfield during the last few weeks along his line of work. The pictures of the Plainfield High School, the Plainfield Business College and other institutions speak well for his ability and are earning him more trade.

NEED FOR TRUST IN GOD

Warren Chapel's Pastor Referring to Unsettled Conditions Points to Motto.

A TALK ON THE TIMES.

Trusting in the Lord Brings Continual Peace of Mind Says Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey.

"Trust in God" was the topic of Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey's sermon at Warren chapel Sunday morning. In his discourse, the pastor referred to the elimination of the motto, "In God We Trust" from the new two-dollar gold pieces designed by Saint-Gaudens.

We hear a good deal of discussion

Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey.
—Photo by Moffett.

about the omission of the motto from our new coins," he said, "but what if it be omitted? If it is not on the coin we need all the more to have the spirit of that inscription "In God We Trust' in our hearts—in our religious life and in our business life. It is true that he who does trust in God has that continual peace of mind which no storm, financial or otherwise, can disturb.

The speaker took his text from St. Mark, 4:38, "Master, carest thou not that we perish?" He said in part:

"In Jesus' personality, duty and personality are closely joined, and this is proved by His biography as it is given in the fourth gospel. It is known by the weariness at the well of Samaria, and by his grief at the death of Lazarus. But when we read of how he taught and how he who came to Him at the well, and how He healed Lazarus, we say: 'Here is the Deity.'

"The incident with which this text is connected is an example of this. I believe that Jesus's sleep in the boat was the sleep of a tired man, but when we read of him awakening and rebuking the sea he is instantaneous calm, then we see the Deity. His Deity is always the last thought given to us in these narrations, but it is the one that stays with us. There have been many great men, but only their names have lived. Christ still lives the world over as a Deity. We are many times compelled to call on God for help as did the disciples were on the storm of Galilee.

"Today we are told of a great storm that's been sweeping over this country—a financial storm, which is causing many wrecked and ruined fortunes. Some say it is subsiding now, some say it is not. In the grip of the great money powers after us, we are helpless. We are like sand grains in the desert of Sahara, we can't do a thing. Does it make any difference to God?—does God care? Or does He simply set our little beings going and let us alone, such a thought brings mighty discouragement.

"There comes a time in the lives of all people when we have to turn to that Power or else go down in the storm—a wreck. I don't care what the storm may be, the realization comes to us that we are powerless. We need to know what the calm is that comes with the knowledge that God cares. God does care for us, every one, and every time man makes an appeal to Him, he is sure to be heard.

"We need this same faith in our adversities as a nation. God has been good to us Americans. He has brought this United States through many a storm of war and adversity. There is perhaps at present a financial danger, but our great money leaders are doing their best to avert it. We are helpless. All we can do is to have faith and to trust in God."

Dog Bites Two Children.

While Alice and Katie O'Day, daughters of Mrs. Charles O'Day, of South Plainfield, were playing Friday afternoon in front of Washington Hall, South Plainfield, a small dog belonging to A. J. Kiesck rushed through the street and snapped at the children's legs, biting them both. Dr. Van Horn was summoned, and the wounds, which were both slight, were attended to. The dog which is believed to have had the rabies, was shot, and the children are able to be about today.

Briggs to Take Oath.

Many prominent men will go to the national capital Monday, December 2, to see Frank O. Briggs take his seat in the United States Senate as the successor of John F. Dryden.

PERRINE'S ASSISTANCE FOR LIGHTNING CONTRACT

In accordance with a resolution adopted by the Common Council appropriating money for the purpose, the light committee has engaged the services of F. A. C. Perrine, of New York, one of the foremost electrical engineers of the country, to assist in drafting a suitable contract to be presented to the Public Service Corporation. The city has held up the bill of the P. S. C., pending an adjustment of the contract which it is hoped will be more favorable to the city. Several conferences have been held between the light committee and P. S. C., and it is expected that a conclusion will be reached before the end of the year.

It is expected that the new contract will have provisions for several arch lights in the business part of the city on more favorable terms than heretofore proposed, and that a cheaper rate will be charged for street lighting in general.

A new arch light recently introduced in Camden, and which is supposed to represent the highest point of perfection in the method of lighting, is being considered by the light committee for Plainfield. Camden has just installed 300 arch lights of this particular patent and they are said to be giving entire satisfaction and are proving an improvement all over any other now in use. Chairman F. L. Montgomery, of the light committee, hopes to present a complete report on the lighting matter between now and the end of the year. Mr. Perrine's chief assistant have been collecting valuable data which will be incorporated in the report and it is believed that it will meet with the approval of the P. S. C.

SAN FRANCISCO PASTOR APPEALS FOR FUNDS

Rev. E. Louis Walz, a former Plainfielder, but now pastor of the Fourth Congregational church, San Francisco, whose edifice was completely destroyed during the earthquake and fire in that city, addressed a large and deeply interested audience at the Congregational church, Sunday. He related a story filled with pathetic interest, told of a number of cases of heroism on the part of members of his congregation who have since been making great sacrifice in an effort to rebuild the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Walz remained at their post of duty in San Francisco during the disaster and were able to give considerable help to many unfortunates. They are now striving hard to raise funds with which to rebuild an earthquake and fire-proof auditorium in the place of the one destroyed. About $15,000 has been secured and an additional $15,000 is needed. After his earnest talk a generous collection was given toward the work, including many private contributions of substantial amounts. At present the church is occupying a temporary building completed about August 1. In the meantime the caller for the new structure has been dug, the foundation built and the upper part of the building is well underway.

If You Do Not Wish to Be Disliked—

Don't meddle. In every community is found a Meddlesome Mattie who is responsible for two-thirds of the misunderstandings that make life such a problem.

Don't complain. What's the use? The chronic complainer travels a long road and pays heavy toll in the way of lost opportunities and pleasures.

Don't rehearse your ailments, physical or otherwise. People have to listen to you not because they are interested, but because they are trying to be polite.

The world is full of pains, heartbreaks. No one has a monopoly of them.

There is a certain grim sort of comfort to be derived from telling how one has lain awake all night keeping company with an aching back. But it only gains for one the reputation of being a bore.

Don't try to boss. It is one of the surest and most direct routes to unloveliness, yet many women travel there to their own undoing.

Learn to mind your own business. It is each individual's prerogative upon reaching years of discretion to shape his own affairs.

Wise is the woman who recognizes this and grants as well as exacts this privilege. She it is who numbers her friends by the score whose domestic life is serenest.

Wants Constitutional Convention.

The executive committee of the New Jersey State Civic Federation has issued a statement addressed to the civic organizations of the State, asking them to co-operate with the federation with a view to securing a call for a constitutional convention for the purpose of revising the present fundamental law of the commonwealth, which is declared to be behind the times.

Kinsman System in the Tunnel.

F. B. Kinsman, of this city, has secured the contract for installing his block system in the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel under the North river, and he expects to get the contract for the other tunnel now under construction beneath the same river.

SCHOLASTIC BASKETBALL

City and Borough Schools and Leal's School to Compete for Local Title.

SILVER CUP FOR CHAMPIONS.

Schedule Arranged Yesterday at Y. M. C. A. and Games Will Be Played at the Association Gymnasium.

With the football season nearly over, local school boys are showing great interest in the basketball outlook and representatives from the city and borough high schools and Leal's school met with George L. Listman, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., at the association Friday afternoon and a scholastic basketball league was formed of the three school fives. The first game is to be played Tuesday, December 10, and each team will play three games with each of the other teams.

League organization as effected at the meeting yesterday afternoon, makes Mr. Listman chairman, and D. L. Brown, manager of the Leal's school five, secretary. The games will be played in the association Tuesday or Wednesday afternoons at 3:30 o'clock, Mr. Listman will act as referee, and twenty minute halves will be played. The winning team will receive a handsome silver cup to be presented by the Y. M. C. A. and each member of the championship five will be awarded silver medals, appropriately engraved. The schedule follows:

Tuesday, December 10, N. P. H. S. vs. Leal's; Tuesday, December 17, P. H. S. vs. N. P. H. S.; Wednesday, January 8, Leal vs. P. H. S.; Tuesday, January 21, N. P. H. S. vs. Leal's; Wednesday, January 29, P. H. S. vs. N. P. H. S.; Wednesday, February 5, P. H. S. vs. Leal's; Tuesday, February 18, N. P. H. S. vs. Leal's; Tuesday, March 10, P. H. S. vs. N. P. H. S.; Wednesday, March 18, P. H. S. vs. Leal's.

Of the three teams entered in the league, the Leal's School five is the only one which is already organized. Captain Duke has two teams at work at the Y. M. C. A. Friday afternoons, when a short practise is held after the regular class of the school boys. D. L. Brown, as manager of the team, has arranged a schedule of a score of games with strong out of town school teams, and the local school boys will have several good trips. The team is fast working into shape, for the boys have no football team this year, and are devoting this time to basketball practise.

The city high school five of last year lost by two men by graduation, but there is considerable good material on hand, including several of last year's "subs." The boys have not yet organized by electing a captain, and there has been no practise, but after the football season is over, the last year men will get together and elect a captain and the work of practising for the league will be commenced. Manager Gus Nash has already scheduled ten games with out of town school fives, six of which will be played in this city. For those games, as for their practise, the boys will use the gymnasium at the school. The school schedule for the season follows:

Friday, December 21, Stuyvesant High School at Plainfield; Friday, January 10, Hasbrouck Heights Institute at Plainfield, Friday, January 17, Adelphia Academy at Brooklyn; Friday, January 24, Rahway High School at Rahway; Friday, January 31, Boonton High School at Plainfield; Friday, February 14; Hasbrouck Heights Institute at Jersey City; Saturday, February 15, Summit High School at Plainfield; Saturday, February 29, Summit High School at Summit; Friday, March 13, Rahway High School at Plainfield; Friday, March 20, Adelphia Academy at Plainfield. February 7, February 21 and March 6 are open dates. All of the games will be played at 3:30 in the afternoon.

Over in the borough, all members of last year's five are still in school but have not organized, or come out for practise. The manager is preparing a schedule of games with out of town teams.

NON-SUITED IN CASE AGAINST BROTHERS' ESTATE.

A suit brought by Joseph Weinberger, of this city, to recover from the estate of his late brother, M. Weinberger, $145, was tried in Circuit Court Saturday, before Judge B. A. Vail.

The suit was brought to recover for expenses incurred by him in going to Hot Springs, Ark., in November, 1906, and there looking after his brother. The plaintiff, who was represented by Lawyer Frank J. Blair, of Plainfield, said that he left his business in Plainfield and went to Hot Springs in response to a couple of telegrams. He claimed reimbursement for expenses incurred in caring for his brother and later taking him to a sanitarium where he died.

Lawyer William Newcorn, counsel for the defense, asserted the remuneration demanded was excessive, and that Miss Sadie Weinberger being a minor at the time she telegraphed for him to come on, could not be considered a legally authorized agent for her father. On this latter ground he asked for a non-suit, which was granted.

PRESIDENT NEWBERRY ENTERTAINS CRICKETERS

The members of the Bound Brook Cricket Club, their friends and wives were entertained by A. S. Newberry, the retiring president and founder of the club, at his home on High street, Bound Brook, Saturday night. It was the windup for the season of '07. J. G. Fisher, president for 1908, was in the chair and a short business session was held. Immediately afterward an adjournment was taken that the festivities of the evening might be enjoyed. Songs, recitations, speakers and good stories combined to make a pleasant time for all.

About 11 o'clock the meeting was again called to order, when Mr. Newberry presented to the premier batter and bowler for the season '07, their respective prizes. Mr. Newberry then brought forth two handsome trophies, a silver loving cup for the best batsman and a beautiful Japanese vase for the best bowler. The cup was presented to Fred Wharton, of West Sixth street, and the vase to George Bridge, of Rockview. Each presentation was accompanied by a few congratulatory remarks, with suitable responses.

After the presentations all adjourned to the dining room, where a bountiful repast was spread and fully enjoyed by the guests. When the cigars were passed, Mr. Newberry started the fun-making with an original ping-pong story, proving that there is more fun in the game than most folks imagine. Other stories were told, interspersed with songs and before midnight the merry party, gathering dispersed, after extending their best wishes to Mr. Newberry.

PLAINFIELDER'S AUTO HIT BY CAR AT NEWARK

In the confusion just after the last car was checked at the close of the New Jersey Auto Club's endurance contest at Newark, Saturday afternoon, a trolley car going East on Clinton avenue collided with a Maxwell runabout, owned by Carlton C. Brown, of West Front street, this city.

Mr. Brown was driving the machine and seated beside him was Noble Bridges, of Albert street. The trolley car struck the rear of the automobile, sending it with such force against a nearby wagon that the radiator of the auto was smashed. There was a little alchohol mixed with the water in the radiator, and when the police on duty at the automobile clubhouse smelled it, as the radiator was dented in, they quickly cleared a space about the damaged car, fearing that it might take fire. The alcohol was so diluted, however, that there was practically no danger.

The police helped Mr. Brown in getting his auto to a garage where repairs were made. Neither occupant suffered any injury in the collision.

CHRISTIANS ARE NOW NEARING UNITY 'TIS SAID.

The movement toward a unity of of thought and purpose, if not of organization, on the part of Christian denominations, is growing the stronger with each year. The historic creeds are not held to so tenaciously as formerly, although maintained ass formal features of a church's belief. Until there is evolved a code of doctrinal views consonant with the progress of the age the historic creeds will be necessary to provide a bond to hold together a church organization. However, it is coming to be felt that an actual spiritual and mutual fellowship is the stronger bond.

The different denominations are united in religious, moral and charitable work more than they used to be. In New England preparations are being made in the large cities for the Chapman series of evangelistic meetings. In some cities the Catholic and Episcopal churches are to hold missions under workers of their own churches at the same time that the Protestant bodies generally are having their own gatherings under the direction of Dr. Chapman. Even liberal bodies, as Universalists, are to hold at the same time special meetings, so that the movement is quite unanimous in a condition of things that indicates marked progress in the church field.

At the present the desire on the part of te regular Baptist and Free Baptist denominations to become one is strengthening. Sentiment in favor of this has been frequently expressed in publications and in addresses on public occasions. But in the regular denomination there is no body authorized to act in the matter. Each church is a law unto itself. There is no legislative body above the local church, which usually stands firmly on its independency. There is no way to gather accurately the opinion of the numerous churches on the subject of a union. There is no system for taking a vote of these churches, nor any delegated body to act with authority in effecting the union.

Not a Candidate.

Contrary to report James P. Murray was not a candidate for the tax collectorship. Mr. Murray declined to allow his name to be used in that connection.

CALL REV. EDWIN B. SHAW

Seventh Day Baptist Congregation Ask Pastor's Brother to Take His Place.

MEMBER OF MILTON FACULTY.

Rev. Clayton Burdick, of Westerly, R. I., Declines Invitation to Take Rev. G. B. Shaw's Place.

The members of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, through the special committee appointed to secure a successor to be present pastor, Rev. George B. Shaw, who on January 1, will assume the pastorate of the denominational church at North Loup, Neb., have extended a call to Prof. Edwin B. Shaw, a brother of the present pastor. Prof. Shaw is a graduate of Milton College, Milton, Wis., and for over fifteen years has been a professor there.

The call was decided upon at a meeting of the church held Sunday. The committee had previously reported that a call had been extended to Rev. Clayton Burdick, of Westerly, R. I., but that the latter declined because he believed that his work was not finished at Westerly. The committee then presented the name of Prof. Shaw and a unanimous call was extended to him. It is believed that he will accept.

Prof. Shaw is older than the present pastor of the church, and his work has attracted much attention on the part of members of the denomination.

A FITZ RANDOLPH MILLENNIUM.

Ex-President Randolph, of the Consolidated Exchange and Atlantic Trust companies, Manhattan, and for many years, of the good old times, treasurer of the Illinois Central Railroad, publishes, under the auspices of the New Jersey Historical Society, of which he is a life member, "Fitz Randolph Traditions," the story for a thousand years of an illustrious family. Mr. Randolph, frankly concedes in his foreword that genealogy, like poetry, in which he has also made a successful excursion or two, is a mild madness, but his saving common sense, his accurate habit of mind, that of years of exact business, have enabled him to make the volume artistic and unpretentious in appearance, but of substantial and historical value and general interest. Half way to the beginning of the Christian era is in itself no small achievement in a country where descendants of the Mayflower, members of the Society of Colonial Wars and Sons of the Revolution are regarded as most honorable antiques, and Mr. Randolph has succeeded with Infinite care and patience, in a much more remote field than any American genealogist has yet essayed. The family tree, transplanted from Norse origin, signifying either "hero" or "big wolf," and coming through many chronological changes, overshadows Normandy, Brittany and England and has, among its branches royalty and nobility, and somewhere, even that greater than either, George Washington; so that while in one sense but the story of a family, Mr. Randolph has written a running history of England for a millennium. Incidentally, he gives the much-abused King Richard III a certificate of reasonable character. He corroborates the exhaustive research of Sir Clements Markham, and scattered all through the book are notes and observations of general historic interest, while a series of full-page illustrations of the various family coats-of-arms and other appropriate subjects add much to its value. A modest chart of the line of descent, with a still more modest portrait of the author, concludes the volume, which might well be a model for those interested in similar studies. Mr. Randolph will sail next week for a prolonged stay in Europe.—Brooklyn Standard Union.

CITY HIGH SCHOOL JUNIORS HOLD RECEPTION AND DANCE.

The junior class of the city high school held a reception and dance at the school auditorium Saturday night. A majority of the members of the class were present, and the evening was spent in dancing. Many of the members of the school faculty were present, and the grand march was led by Principal Ira W. Trávell with Miss Catherine Ball as partner. Music was furnished by members of the school orchestra.

During the evening, refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served in the gasement lunch room, which was elaborately decorated with dark blue and white, the class colors. At the end of the room was a mammoth '09 in class colors. In the name of the class, Charles Loiseaux, the class president, presented Miss Catherine Ball, of the school faculty, with a handsome picture, a keep returning at twilight.

Dinner to Union County Men.

The Union County Board of Registry and Elections, together with a few other county officials, were tendered a dinner at the Anheuser-Busch restaurant at Newark, Friday night, by Frederick Lehman, who has charge of the repairing of ballot-boxes used in Union and Essex counties. After the dinner the party attended the Newark theatre.

"Of all the newspapers in New York, the one which has approached most closely to what an American newspaper should be is unquestionably the best. . . . THE NEW YORK TIMES stands first."—Harper's Weekly.

The New York Times

Is Now Appearing Every Sunday

Improved and Enlarged

with an illuminated PICTORIAL SECTION OF EIGHT FULL-SIZE PAGES, embracing pictures of prominent people in society and public life, also scenes and incidents of the important events of the day.

The Magazine Section accompanying the SUNDAY TIMES presents a variety of interesting illustrated features, and a unique selection of the best stories about men and women of prominence.

The New York Times. Saturday Review of Books.

which accompanies the Saturday Edition, is the recognized authority to which the public looks for the first news of books.

The New York Times. Weekly Financial Quotation Review.

gives a weekly review of current prices of stocks and bonds; also the dealings in securities, including high and low prices—comprising a compact and complete reference publication for investors and others interested in financial matters.

ORDER THROUGH YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER,

or mailed direct from office, as per subscription terms below:

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

	By Mail.
One Year, Sundays included	$8.50
Six Months, Sundays included	4.25
Three Months, Sundays included	2.25
One Month, Sundays included	.75
Per Week	.17
Daily, without Sunday, per year	6.00
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3.00
Daily, without Sunday, three months	1.50
Daily, without Sunday, one month	.50
Daily, without Sunday, one week	.12
The New York Times Weekly Financial Quotation Review.	1.00
Saturday, with Section Devoted to Review of Books, per year	1.00
Sunday, with Pictorial Section, per year	2.50

Postage to foreign countries for Daily and Sunday Editions, add $1.56 per month.

Newsdealers who are not receiving THE NEW YORK TIMES—Daily and Sunday editions—should order a regular supply at once. Write for terms. Address Circulation Manager.

The New York Times
Times Square, New York.

MAGAZINE READERS

SUNSET MAGAZINE beautifully illustrated, good stories and articles about California and all the Far West. $1.50 a year

CAMERA CRAFT devoted each month to the artistic reproduction of the best work of amateur and professional photographers. $1.00 a year

ROAR OF A THOUSAND WONDERS a book of 75 pages, containing 120 colored photographs of picturesque spots in California and Oregon. $0.75

Total . . . $3.25

All for . . . $2.50

Address all orders to

SUNSET MAGAZINE
Flood Building San Francisco

FOR AGENTS—AN OPPORTUNITY!

"THE OLD WORLD AND ITS WAYS"
BY
William Jennings Bryan.
NOW READY FOR SOLICITORS.
576 Imperial Octavo Pages. Over 200 Superb Engravings from photographs taken by Mr. Bryan.
THE THOMPSON PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo. 7 26 3 c

Sanitary Plumbing

Brick and Portable Furnace
Gas Fitting, Tin Roofing,
Etc., Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.

Having associated myself with the Master Members Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business, at all times and in all cases.

D. W. LITTELL

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

COMMERCIAL LAW.

By Utley E. Crane, the well-known Philadelphi attorney. An instructive and invaluable treatment of this subject in its various branches.

PICTURESQUE PENNSLVANIA.

Pennsylvania's beautiful scenery described with illustrations.

MUSIC WITHOUT A TEACHER.

Learn to play the piano in 12 lessons, one lesson to be published each Sunday.

These remarkable and valuable features will all appear in the Sunday Record in addition to the general news and other special features. Order from your newsdealer in advance.

THE PHILADELPHIA RECORD,
917 Chestnut street. 10 24 3

NEW IN EVERY DETAIL
My new barber shop at
143 NORTH AVE.
is now open ready for business. All the latest appointments in the tonsoria line.
EDWIN B. MAYNARD.

DIME
Savings Institution,
Of Plainfield, N. J.,
Is now receiving deposits with interest, allowed on all sums from $5 to $3,000.
J. Frank Hubbard, President.
Wm. F. Arnold, } Vice-Pres
Jeremiah Manning, }
J. C. Pope, Sec'y and Treas.
Money deposited on or before January tenth will draw interest from the first.

Guaranteed Salary $900 YEARLY.
Men and women of good address to represent us, some to travel appointing agents, others for local work calling on customers. $900 a year and a guaranteed weekly extra commissions and expenses, rapid advancement, old established house. Grand chance for earnest man or woman to secure pleasant, permanent position. Liberal income and future. New, brilliant lines. Write at once.
STAFFORD PRESS,
23 Church St., New Haven, Conn

W. R. CODINGTON,
Counsellor-at-Law
Commissioner of Deeds, Master in Chancery, Notary Public. Offices Corner of Park avenue and Second street.

DIED.

HERLING—In this city, Wednesday, November 13, 1907, Martin Herling, in his 67th year.

RANDOLPH—At the residence of his brother-in-law, Charles H. Buckelew, 126 West Fifth street, on Thursday, November 14, 1907, William F. Randolph, aged 86 years.

RANDOLPH—At the residence of her brother-in-law, Charles H. Buckelew, 126 West Fifth street, on Friday, November 15, 1907, Elmira S., widow of Phillip F. Randolph, and daughter of the late Manning and Rachel R. Stelle, aged 84 years.

BRANDEGEE—At Plainfield, N. J., on Saturday, November 16, 1907, Elizabeth Gallaudite, daughter of the late Marrius and Catharine A. Brandegee.

WINANS—On Friday, November 15, 1907, Sarah E., widow of Isaac L. Winans, aged 81 years.

TYLER SUGGESTS TRACY

Third Ward Councilman Presents His Name for Tax Collectorship

MAYOR FISK HOLD CONFERENCE

Councilman Daniel Favorable to Coriell—Councilman Mellick Inclined Towards Townsend.

The first Colbyite to be mentioned in connection with the tax collectorship vacancy is Howard Tracy, of the Second ward. He is the chairman of the New Idea Central Committee and has been one of the most active figures among the anti-organization leaders. As the regulars are in the majority in the Common Council, it is not considered that his chances would be bright should his name be placed in nomination sometime to-night.

It transpires that Mayor Charles J. Fisk had a private conference with members of the Common Council representing the Second and Third wards. The pow-wow took place on Thursday night and the subject was the collectorship job. So strictly "organization" man was present, the idea being, it is said, to ascertain the feeling among those not particularly active as organization workers.

At that conference, it is reported Councilman William S. Tyler, of the Third ward, suggested the name of Mr. Tracy. Councilman George P. Mellick is said to have talked favorably on the candidacy of William H. Townsend, although he showed a desire to size up the merits of the other candidates, who are Councilman William L. Gloak and former Sheriff B. Frank Coriell. Councilman Leslie M. Daniel spoke a good word for Mr. Coriell. No decision was arrived at but it is said that the members felt amply repaid for the time spent in talking over the subject.

It is said today that while Thomas Hanna is making no fight for the appointment, he would accept the honor if it came his way. All the leaders still remain noncommittal. County Chairman Smith refuses to take any part in the fight. In fact he won't discuss the subject, holding that it is up to the Common Council to solve the problem.

SENATOR KEAN, COUNTY CHAIRMAN SMITH AND OTHERS WANT TO SEE HIM SPEAKER.

"DORY" GIBBS HIS MANAGER.

Assemblymen W. W. Smalley, W. B. Martin and W. Prince Are Also in the Race for the Honor.

Union county's Republican leaders are actively supporting the candidacy of Assemblyman John R. Mozon for the House speakership, and the Elizabeth druggist declares that he has a fighting chance of landing the "plum." His campaign manager, "Uncle Dory" Gibbs, of Camden county, is leaving no stone unturned to get hold of votes for him and it is really a warm fight. Many of the older members of the House are favorably considering his claims. In fact, it is said that he has a number of pledges from the "hold-over" members.

United States Senator John Kean is held out by Mr. Moxon as his chief supporter. The fact is that all the Republican leaders in the county are behind him although they are much divided as to his chances for getting the position. County Chairman Smith is counted upon to aid his canvas and Mr. Smith says he will gladly do all he can for the Elizabethan or any other deserving Union county Republican.

"I personally consider that Assemblyman H. D. Thompson, of Mercer, would make an ideal choice," said Mr. Smith today, "but if Mr. Moxon is in the race I am heart and soul for him. He comes from my county and naturally I would like to see him honored. I understood that Senator Kean also takes the same stand. What Mr. Moxon's chances are I do not know, but from what I am told I believe that a number of the old members in the House are with him in the fight."

Assemblyman W. W. Smalley, of Somerset, is still in the race and it is believed that he will make a good showing when the election takes place. Assemblyman William B. Martin, of Essex county, and Assemblyman Prince, of Passaic, are two other candidates.

FIRST RECITAL IN THE SERIES OF CHAMBER MUSIC CONCERTS PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE.

THE THIRD SEASON BEGINS.

Under the Direction of Joseph McIntyre—Artists of a High Order Presented to Plainfield Public.

Joseph McIntyre opened his third season of Chamber Music Concerts at the Casino, Thursday, before an appreciative throng of music-loving people. The well-rendered program together with the famous artists awakened an enthusiasm seldom witnessed at similar affairs. Mr. McIntyre as pianist, was assisted by Vladimer Dubinsky, 'cellist, who has already won a high favor with Plainfield people; Maurice Kaufman, violinist, while the assisting artist was Mme. Shanna Cumming, of Brooklyn, soprano. They combined to afford an evening of great enjoyment to all present.

The program opened with the charming trio in A minor by Gade, which consists of five short movements, the first being an Allegro scherzando, followed by the Andantes, the third movement, third movement gives a glimpse of some peasant festival, followed by the song-like Larghetto. The finale is a merry movement and is a good example of the best effort of the famous composer. The trio by Mr. Kaufman, been left nothing to be desired and won hearty applause.

Mme. Cumming gave the next two numbers, Handel (1685-1759), "Oh Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me?" (from Semele,) and "Quel Farfalletta" (from "Partenope,") and singing at once aroused the audience to enthusiastic applause. The unusual sweetness of her voice, together with its high range were marked features. The latter number, together with "Darby and Joan," as an encore, the soprano completely won her audience. The three selections were "I'm Wearing Awa', Jean," Foote; "I Mind the Day, Achray," Willeby, and "Come With Me in the Summer Night," Van der Stucken. Mme. Cumming showed complete mastery and especially noticeable was her clear articulation.

Not the least enjoyable of the numbers was the work of Mr. Kaufman, violinist. Although a stranger to a majority of those present he left an impression that will insure for him a cordial reception should he return to Plainfield again. Aside from his delightful rendition in the 'cello and piano, his selections, Grieg (1843-1907), Sonata op. 45. Allegro molto ed appassionate, Allegretto espressive al la Romanza and Allegro animato, gave him ample opportunity to display his ability. His notes were true and the intrepretation delightful.

The final numbers, by request, were "Daybreak," and "Anitra's Dance," from Peer Gynt Suite, and they proved a fitting close to the program. While the audience was not favored with any solo work by Mr. Dubinsky, his part in the various numbers was greatly appreciated. As an accompanist Mr. McIntyre was as capable as ever, and gave a finish to the rendition of the program. At the next concert Carl Dufft, the well-known basso, will be heard. This will be on December 19.

ALBERT KALISCH DIES IN NEWARK OF APOPLEXY.

Retired from the Jewelry Business to Engage in Real Estate and Insurance—Was High Mason.

Albert Kalisch, once a leading Newark manufacturer and retail dealer in Newark, but for the last few years engaged in the real estate business, died Friday morning in his home, No. 23 Parkhurst street. He had been ill only a week, having suffered a stroke of apoplexy last Saturday. He was sixty-three years old, and died on the anniversary of the birth of his father, the late Rev. Dr. Isadore Kalisch. He was born in Richmond, Va., and came to this country when he was four years old with his parents, who left their native home because of political strife, which was then disrupting the country. The family settled in the West, and Albert Kalisch learned the jewelry trade in Chicago.

He went to Newark in 1864, and after two years of manufacturing opened a store in Market street, which he continued for twenty-five years. He then became business manager of the Newark Morning Times and later engaged in the real estate and insurance business. He is survived by a son and three daughters and by a sister and four brothers. The latter are Leopold, Samuel and Abner Kalisch of Newark, all lawyers, and Burnham Kalisch, a member of the New York Bar.

Albert Kalisch was a member of the Masonic fraternity, in which he wore the jewel of a grand high priest of the Royal Arch Masons, and was a member of the Knights of Honor.

Miss Batchelor Engaged.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Batchelor, of West Seventh street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Harriet Mae Batchelor, to Albert Lewis Kennelly, of Jersey City.

R.R. TAXES $2,257,126.65

Total Assessment Against the 115 Companies Aggregate $300,192,173.

ON THE MAIN STEMS IN STATE.

Decrease in Tax, the State Getting $252,245 Less Than the Total Sum Last Year.

The schedule of assessments on railroad property and the amount of tax to be paid under the schedule has been filed with State Comptroller Morgan by the State Board of Assessors through its secretary, Irvine Maguire. The tax will be payable after February 1 next, as the assessments are for this year. The tax against the companies aggregates $2,257,126.65 and the total assessment amounts to $200,192,173.

The tax is levied against 115 companies. Last year 114 companies were assessed $194,856,819, and the tax then amounted to $3,509,371.25. The comparison shows that while this year is an increase of $5,335,354 in the assessments, the tax to be collected by the State is $252,244.60 less than last year. This situation is accounted for by the fact that the average State tax this year is less than last year. Under the Perkins act of 1906 the main stem and franchises of steam railroads are taxable at the average rate of the State, instead of at the fixed rate of one-half of one per cent., as formerly. Last year the average State rate was $1.801 on each $100 worth of property. This year the average rate of the State has been computed by the State Board of Assessors at $1,627 on each $100.

The present valuation and taxation is exclusive of "second class" railroad property, which is now locally assessed and taxed under the provisions of chapter 280 of the laws of 1906.

The excess of the tax to be collected this year over the one-half of one per cent., which will go to the State for State purposes, will be devoted to the State school fund for distribution throughout the county. The amount of the tax to be paid by the railroads for State expenses is $1,000,960.86. Owing to the increased assessment this is $26,676.76 more than last year, when the State's share was $974,284.10. This will leave next year for the schools of the State $2,256,165.79, or $278,921.36 less than was assessed this year.

The payment by the railroads of this tax under the new assessment will be contingent upon a decision from the Court of Errors and Appeals upholding the Perkins act. The matter is still pending, and the tax for this year has not yet been paid.

STATE FARMERS INSTITUTE

Middlesex County Dairymen Hear Talks on Practical Farming.

AT NEW MARKET THURSDAY.

Morning, Afternoon and Evening Sessions Well Attended By Farmers Who Came From All Parts of the State.

Farmers from all parts of the State, with an especially large delegation from Middlesex county, met in convention Thursday at New Market, where sessions were held in the morning were at the barn of Herman Unger, between New Market and Bound Brook, and in the afternoon and evening at Friendship hall. The good weather brought the farmers of the vicinity early and in large parties. They came in farm wagons with their families and spent the day at the convention, which was under the auspices of the State Board of Agriculture. H. E. Cook, of Denmark, N. Y., was the speaker of the morning. He gave his address at the barn, using the cattle to illustrate his topic, "Dairy Types in Cow Conformation. He is one of the leading dairymen of his section of the State, and spoke at length on practical dairy farming, giving a description of model dairies and discussing the diseases of cattle, their treatment and their cure.

The morning session concluded at about noon, and there was an opportunity for luncheon given the visiting farmers. Many of them collected their families at a basket lunch, served in their wagons, and others found food in the adjoining houses, where special provision had been made to accommodate them. The afternoon session was held in Friendship hall, where various speakers prominent in farming throughout the State, gave practical talks on farming and the keeping of farm cattle. Miss Mollie MacClaughty Allen gave a talk on "A Woman's Experience in Poultry;" J. G. Curtis discussed "Soil Fertility at Short Range;" C. C. Hulsart talked on "Growing Asparagus for Market," and Dr. C. B. Smead spoke on "Diseases of Farm Animals."

After a temporary adjournment for supper, the farmers again convened in the hall in the evening. Mrs. M. M. Allen spoke at length on "The Sanitary Home," and "Organization and Home Influence" was discussed by H. E. Cook and Franklin Dye, secretary of the executive committee of the association.

In connection with the evening session, Miss Ivs Dayton and Miss Fanny Giles rendered several vocal duetts.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON WON HIS BRIDE

Within Walls of Famous Structure.

A STRUCTURE AT MORRISTOWN.

It Still Stands, But Not In Its Original Location—It Was in the Spring of 1780 That This Incident Took Place.

One of Morristown's most interesting old houses is the Dr. Jaber Campfield residence, which, though antedating the Revolution, still stands, though not in its original location. If the walls of this old dwelling could speak what tales of love it could tell and what sweet phrases of courtship it might whisper, for in this house Alexander Hamilton wooed and won for his wife pretty Elizabeth Schuyler.

It was in the spring of 1780, when Washington's army was encamped about Morristown, that this pretty incident took place. This house was at that time the quarters of the Surgeon-General of the American forces, Dr. John Cochran. Mrs. Cochran was the only sister of General Philip Schuyler, whose daughter, Elizabeth, a charming young woman of 22 years, spent several months of that year as a visitor at her aunt's home.

Colonel Alexander Hamilton, who was one of General Washington's aides, was a frequent visitor to the quarters of the Surgeon-General while Miss Schuyler was there. In fact, Miss Schuyler was the principal reason for the Colonel's visits, and the courtship which resulted in the subsequent marriage of the couple was conducted almost entirely in this old residence.

Tradition has it that one night Hamilton was returning from a visit to Miss Schuyler when he was ordered to halt and give the countersign by one of his own men. It seems that a young lad of the neighborhood, named Joseph Allen, was commander-in-chief, was given the countersign that he might go to the village every night. This lad was a great favorite with Hamilton, and on this occasion the youth had just passed Hamilton's lines on his return from the village when he heard Hamilton's voice. He stopped and waited, with the intention of walking with him.

When asked for the word Hamilton was embarrassed, for he could not think of it. The sentinel was stern in the performance of his duty, and Hamilton pressed his hands upon his forehead and tried in vain to summon the necessary word to his mind. Just then he heard the low and, stepping aside, called to him, and Hamilton, stepping again in the path, gave it to the sentinel.

The sentinel, however, had seen the tactics of his superior, and, believing he was trying to escape, kept his bayonnet unmoved. "I have given you the countersign; why do you not shoulder your musket?" said Colonel Hamilton.

"Give that do, Colonel?" asked the soldier, in surprise.

"It will do for this time," said Hamilton, "Let me pass!" The soldier reluctantly obeyed the illegal command, and Colonel Hamilton and his young friend were allowed to proceed to their destination.

Wild Pigeons Coming Back.

The announcement that a flock of wild pigeons, estimated at 1,000 birds, are nesting in Sullivan County, New York, proves that this bird, once so numerous, is not extinct, as has been popularly supposed. Thirty years ago, wild pigeons were to be seen by the million in Potter, Elk, Warren, McKean, and Cameron counties, New York. In Potter and McKean counties are located the largest nesting grounds in North America. The roosts were from four to five miles long and from one to three miles wide, and their numbers no man could count. No other birds were ever known to migrate in such numbers. The pigeons swept across the sky in such masses that it is not exaggeration to say that they often obscured the sun. Hunters were permitted to shoot them and net them on their roosts, so that the slaughter was terrific. In one day in 1851 the American Express Company carried from the northern tier of Pennsylvania and the southern tier of New York, over the Erie Railroad, seven tons of pigeons to the city market, and in the season this one aggregated fifty-six tons. Hundreds shot them by the barrel on their nesting grounds, until they got tired of picking up the game. Pigeon pot-pie, a great native delicacy, palled on the taste, for the pigeons were practically exterminated, the law stepped in to protect them, and now that the birds are coming back again, it is thought, if the laws are properly enforced, there may soon be great flocks again.—Washington Herald.

The Dairy Lunch Sold.

A. S. Wales, who has successfully conducted the dairy lunch on East Front street, has sold out his business to G. W. Beers, of Bridgeport, Conn. Mr. Beers is the young man who has been in charge of the dairy during the illness of Mr. Wales and he will keep up the good name already attached to the place. He will be assisted by his brother, C. P. Beers.

PAYMASTER ROBBED OF $7,000 BY ARMED MEN

Surprised by a band of five armed men, who sprang from the side of the road and covered them with revolvers as they were driving along the River Drive near Passaic on their way to Delawanna, Paymaster Louis Knapp, of the Worthen and Aldrich Bleacheries, and the driver, George Cummings, were bound and tied to trees to the roadside Friday afternoon, while the highwaymen rifled the wagon and took the suitcase containing $7,000 in bills and gold, which the men were taking to the Bleacheries to pay off the hands there today. Three Italian laborers, Frank Demarco, Gastano Cigno and Philip Deprimo, who gave New York addresses, have been arrested by the Passaic police, and are being held on suspicion. It is believed that the robbery was planned by an employe of the bleacheries.

The two men, who have made the trip by road time after time with the pay roll, had an uneventful journey, and after drawing the money from the Hobart Trust Company at Passaic, started off in the wagon for the bleacheries. The hold-up came as a complete surprise, for the men found themselves looking into the muzzles of revolvers, with which they were covered by two of the band while the others cut loose the horse and made away with the money. The men's watches, and a revolver which Knapp carried, were also taken.

Mrs. Mary Hester, who witnessed the hold-up from the window of her home near the spot, telephoned to Chief of Police Hendry and then ran down the road and cut the two loose from the trees where they were bound. Detective Sergeant Green and a squad of plain clothes men arrived in an automobile just as the two men were freed, and spread out in every direction after the highwaymen. They came upon the three arrested in a single party, and captured them after a hard chase. They denied all knowledge of the hold-up, and said that they were out hunting, but they were held by the Passaic police as suspects. One of them is believed to be an employe at the bleacheries.

State Stops Crowding of Schools.

Bridgeton, Nov. 2.—The State inspector of high schools has called the attention of the crowded condition of the high school here, and has intimated to the local Board of Education that unless present conditions are corrected the State school appropriations will be cut off. He has put it up to the School Board to build a new high school.

Knew Him.

"Gaiboy's new stenographer is a Boe one, but she'll never do for him."

"Why, isn't she quick enough?"

"Yes, but her hair is black and his wife's is yellow."—Judge.

CHURCH WOMEN NETTED $200 BY FAIR AND BAZAAR

Under the auspices of the Pastor's Aid Society, a successful fair and bazaar was held in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church last night. The affair was well attended by the parishioners and their friends, and the various booths were thronged with buyers all the evening. The many dainty and useful articles made by the women of the church for sale at the booths were quickly disposed of, and more than $200 was netted as a result of the affair. The money will be used for the carpet fund, to purchase a carpet for the main church.

During the evening, refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were served by a corps of waitresses, including the Misses Wilbur, Hill, Campbell, Kelly, Hazelton, Hammond, Korff, Fowler, Boice and Engelhart. Martin A. Korff, leader of the W. M. C. A. orchestra, and two others, rendered instrumental selections, which were well received. The booths, which were in charge of the various women of the society, were tastefully decorated, and the ideas were novel and created much admiring comment.

The shape of a mammoth basket, with lavish decorations of ribbons, the candy table proved a center of popularity much of the evening. Here Miss Addie Dietrich was in charge, and with her as assistants were Mrs. Buckalew and the Misses Catherine Lounsbury, Beatrice Miner, Ella Lounsbury, Bessie Bond and Clara Van Fleet. At the fancy table, Mrs. D. K. Young, the chairman, was assisted by Mrs. C. L. Clark, Mrs. R. H. Radford, Mrs. J. T. Jones, Mrs. Norman Currie, Mrs. A. E. Hoagland and Mrs. Freeman Shotwell. At the children's table, where Mrs. W. W. Dunn was in charge, were Mrs. H. A. Pope, Mrs. A. D. Dinnan, Mrs. H. A. Shafus, Mrs. Poinier and Miss Bull.

Aprons and bags, useful as well as ornamental, were sold at a prettily decorated booth in charge of Mrs. George B. Wean. With her were Mrs. Edgar George, Mrs. A. L. Cadmus, Mrs. Deforest, Mrs. C. McKillop and Mrs. R. B. Hill. Fancy cakes were sold out rapidly at the cake booth, where Mrs. John Hamilton was in charge, assisted by Mrs. Bodine, Mrs. Charles Hummer, Mrs. Martin A. Korff, Mrs. George Ballentyne, and Miss Helen Burroughs. Ice cream was served at a booth in charge of Mrs. A. V. Searing, Sr., assisted by Mrs. L. H. Hummer, Sr., Mrs. Dunning, Mrs. Staats, Mrs. Boice and Mrs. John Petrie.

The affair was arranged by the women of the Pastor's Aid Society and Mrs. Clarence E. Bond was chairman of the general committee in charge.

Lots of men aren't nearly so harmful as they think they are.

LIFE'S JOURNEY ENDS FOR BOTH HUSBAND AND WIFE

Following an illness of nearly two years, William F. Randolph, one of the oldest and best known residents of the city, died Thursday at the home of his son-in-law, Mrs. Buckalew, of Fifth street and Arlington avenue. His death was a great shock to his wife, Mrs. Elmira Stelle Randolph, who had been his faithful helpmate for over sixty years, and Friday morning she suddenly expired. She had previously been in fairly good health and only a few minutes before her death had been conversing with members of the household.

Mr. Randolph was eighty-six years old and lived for many years on Central avenue. He sold the premises some time ago and for awhile he and his wife made their home on the Edward Randolph farm back of Dunellen. They returned to Plainfield two years ago and since then have lived with Mrs. Buckalew. Mr. Randolph was one of the original family of that name that farmed in this vicinity until the cities and towns grew up. Both were members of the First Baptist church and attended regularly until infirmities prevented. Mrs. Randolph was eighty-four years old.

The husband leaves two brothers, Lewis Randolph, of Randolphville, and Edward, of Newark, and one sister, Mrs. Isabelle Buckalew. Mrs. Randolph leaves one sister, Miss Julia Stelle, of this city.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

It is easy to predict, but to make events come true—there's the rub.

It takes a lot of judicious advertising to make a fool look like a philosopher.

It is much more sensible to let things go than to try to detain them —and a whole lot easier.

If it requires age to attain wisdom, some people will out-Methuse Methuse-lah.

A promising young man isn't always a paying one.

Liberality is a delightful quality, and we all feel that too many people can't acquire it.

Hot air may be necessary, but it is a thing that most of us would rather give than receive.

If some men were to find work, they would likely call for the police.

Gratitude and independence haven't a great deal in common.

MERCHANTS WANT NEWARK BAY BRIDGE CONDEMNED

The abandonment of the Central Railroad bridge over Newark Bay and the erection of an up-to-date structure is being advocated as an urgently needed improvements by merchants of Newark, with the cooperation, it is understood, of some in Elizabeth. A resolution adopted by the Newark Board of Trade Wednesday night privades for an application to be filed with the War Department that the bridge is a menace to navigation and the cause of closing commercial traffic during the winter months.

George W. Tomkins, who presented the resolution, told how the bridge had been erected back in the sixties. There was much opposition and the president of the company at that time declared the structure was to be merely a temporary affair.

He declared that the railroad company had violated the law by filling in beyond the Government bulkhead last winter, when the structure was thought to be in danger.

The aid of Elizabeth merchants will be enlisted in the effort to have the bridge condemned.

It is proposed to compel the railroad to build a new bridge of sufficient clearance to permit the free passage of ice in winter.

Better Than Nature.

Crittick—I just saw Kammerer's picture of your wife. You don't like it, do you?

Henpeck—Yes, indeed.

Crittick—Why, it doesn't look like her.

Henpeck—Perhaps not, but it doesn't talk like her either.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Classified.

The balloon trailed low over the farm. Its dragging anchor lifted a panel of fence, the roof of a cornerib, and nearly achieved the capture of a cow.

"Must be one of them grab bags," remarked the farmer, shaking a horny fist at the skies.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Y. M. C. A. Athletes Expect to do Well in Contest with Other State Associations.

MEET TO BE HELD AT ORANGE.

Physical Director Listman, Chairman of Committee for Big Meet, Has Arranged Dual Meets and Local Contests.

Physical Director George H. Listman, of the Y. M. C. A., who is chairman of the annual State athletic meet, to be held at the Orange association early in March, has announced the list of events to be participated in by the athletes from a dozen associations from all parts of the State. There will be a shot-put, with 12-pound shot, standing broad jump, three standing broad jumps, fifteen yard dash and running high jump, and half-mile potato race. In this last event, four men will compete on each team, each one running 220 yards.

This annual meet was held in Plainfield in 1904, when the local athletes carried off first honors. Last year the meet was held in Paterson, and the Paterson association boys won it, Newark finishing second, and the local gym team finishing third. Gym teams will be entered from the associations at Ridgewood, Summit, Orange, Rahway, Trenton, Passaic, Montclair, Elizabeth, Hudson City, and Madison. The other members of the committee in charge of the meet are W. H. Floyd, of the Hudson City Y. M. C. A., and W. E. Cann, of the Elizabeth association.

The local athletes should make a strong showing in the meet this year, for the meets to be held during the winter in an attempt to break the association records here will be an excellent means of picking likely candidates for the State meet team. The local association team will also hold about six dual meets with State Y. M. C. A. gym teams during the winter, and the results of these meets will determine what the members of the team can be depended on to do in the State meet. Physical Director Listman has already arranged a dual meet to be held at Orange December 7, and, aside from meets he expects to arrange with State associations, he is attempting to get dates for meets with the Twenty-sixth Ward Y. M. C. A. and the Twenty-third Street Y. M. C. A. of New York City.

FIRST BAPTISTS HAVE A REAL INDIAN NIGHT

Under the auspices of the Sunday-school of the First Baptist church an entertaining program was given in the lecture room, Friday night, comprising tableaux, shadow pictures and stereopticon views, depicting the primitive Indian and progress made in his education. The affair was arranged by Mrs. Reuben Knox, chairman, assisted by Miss Marguerite McCutchen, Miss May Shreve, Miss May Serrell and James E. Church. They were assisted by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, the pastor, and George A. Chapman, who read the selections explaining the tableaux, and Mrs. J. Hervey Buchanau and Miss Marguerite Serrell at the piano.

The first part of the program was devoted to the illustration of Longfellow's beautiful story, "Hiawatha." Those presented the tableaux, representing the characters were as follows: "Nokomis," Miss Henrietta Wiss; "Hiawatha," Hervey Douglass; "Little Hiawatha," Grace Hunt; "Minnehaha," Miss Alice Macniff; "Weegonah," Miss Helen Adams; mother of papoose, Miss Helen Guttridge; papoose, Lawrence French; "Willaud Penn," James E. Church; "Gilted Grass," George H. Batchelor.

These tableaux were followed by two more representing a husking bee and wedding feast in which the following took part: The Misses Violet VanWinkle, Ethel Webster, Phyllis Lake, Grace Williams, Carrie Williams and Lester Mellick, Charles Lee, Leland Manning, Harvey Douglass, Cory Adams and William Herrmann.

The latter part of the program was devoted to showing about twenty-five slides by A. V. Searing, Jr., giving those present an excellent idea of the primitive Indians, their mode of living. These included an Indian dog and Indian doctor, an embryo Cheyenne warrior, a group of Comanche women, Cheyenne mother and papoose, Miss Mary J. Burdett, Miss Crawford, Miss McLean, Miss Marzetta J. Reeside, missionaries to the Indians; Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, whose blood is three-quarter Indian. These pictures were explained by Mr. Chapman.

A social hour was enjoyed after the entertainment and refreshments were served under the direction of the committee.

Nervous diseases of the nature of St. Vitus' dance are now thought to originate frequently in eye troubles. The weak eyes blink incessantly, and this leads to a general contortion of the facial muscles, which grows on the subject through constant repetition.—Exchange.

COIN MOTTO DISAPPEARS

What Plainfield Ministers Think of Roosevelt's Extraordinary Action.

"IN GOD WE TRUST" NO MORE.

Local Clergymen As a Rule Appear to Believe That a Mistake Has Been Made.

The omission of the motto, "In God We Trust," from the new $10 gold coin, minted from the St. Gaudens design and now in circulation, has stirred the clergy of the country, a majority of whom are opposed to the change sanctioned by President Roosevelt. While the President has offered an explanation for omitting the motto from the coin, holding that it has never been respected in its true spirit, the ministers almost to a man are in favor of its retention.

Here is what Plainfield ministers think of the radical change as ordered by the President:

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church—"It is a pity that the inscription 'In God We Trust' has been omitted from the coin. It would appear to me as adding too much to the opinion of those who have no belief. It would be a very different thing if the inscription had not been in use on the United States coins for a great many years and represents the general belief of the country in God. I can see no reason why the inscription should have been omitted."

Rev. A. C. McCrea, of the First M. E church—"I rarely ever see a $10 gold piece and I cannot say that I am stirred by the agitation. I couldn't say positively that the motto in 'In God We Trust' on the $10 gold piece. However, I would be glad to have one with or without the motto. The gold coin is more of an aristocratic piece of money and so long as they allow the motto to remain on the five cent nickel piece of money I don't think it a thing that a majority of the people trust in God, but our faith is oftentimes shaken in men."

Rev. Dr. Charles E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church—"It is a good established custom and I had noted it. I am not quite sure but that the omission of the motto brings the gold coin down to exactly what some people think of money. Unless there are good reasons for omitting the motto I would favor its retention as our currency."

Rev. George A. Warner, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross—"I have scarcely ever seen a $10 gold coin and I cannot say that I am interested in the subject."

Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church—"I am sorry to see the motto go off the gold coin and would have been glad to see it kept on the piece of money. I realize that it has been made a joke of, and the subject of considerable criticism, but as for myself I would favor its retention, showing some recognition of God as against the levity of a few people."

Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel—"I am inclined to believe that the motto should have been left on the coin. While President Roosevelt says that there is no law that warrants its retention, it seems to be an expression of the spirit of the times; a tendency to distrust in Divine Power. Especially in view of the present financial condition of the country it seems that we should trust in God more than ever. I believe the motto came from a time when there was perhaps more trust in God than at present."

Rev. L. R. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel—"If it is appropriate to place the head of the sovereigns on the coins of Kingdoms, it is certainly not improper to leave the dignified assertion of trust in God on the coins of a Christian Republic. A coin is in itself a peculiar sign of sovereignty, and the seal stamped on our coins is most fittingly a representation of the fundamental ideals of the nation. The eagle is the symbol of national sovereignty, the stars indicate the ideal of statehood, the head stands for the ideal of liberty and the motto for the ideal of religious faith. The misuse of money and the forgetfulness of national ideals on the part of thousands of citizens does not in the least lessen the appropriateness and beauty of these time-honored symbols, and the removal from the coins of the one that indicates religious faith is unwarranted either by our history or by the firmest convictions of our people at present."

At the Episcopal diocesan convention at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York a resolution was introduced yesterday afternoon denouncing the action of the government in taking the motto from the coins and demanding its restoration. The resolution, which was introduced by the Rev. Dr. Grosvenor of the Church of the Incarnation, after the President's letter had been made public, was received with an outburst of applause. An effort to have it laid on the table was defeated by an almost unanimous vote. It was then agreed that after Dr. Greer's address the resolution would be taken up.

When the time came the resolution was again brought forward and finally passed by a vote of 131 to 81.

after a debate of nearly two hours, during which several attempts were made to dodge it, as one clergyman, the Rev. Dr. Townsend, put it. Friends of President Roosevelt fought bitterly against its passage.

A coterie of laymen was prominent in supporting the antagonism to the resolution. A motion, in fact two motions, to lay on the table were defeated with a vote so close that a count was needed. Then an attempt was made to have the consideration indefinitely postponed, and then as a last resource it was tried to have the vote of the resolution itself put off until tomorrow. All attempts failed, however, and the resolution was ultimately carried after one of the hottest debates remembered by the oldest members of the synod.

LARGE RED APPLE IF YOU GUESS HIS NAME

My Uncle Jim's a statesman bold,
Though on election day
He's always left out in the cold—
They never vote his way.
So many men oblivion find
In office holding life!
My Uncle Jim is not that kind.
He's always in the strife.

He's not a meteor rushing swift
To vanish in the air;
Whene'er the country needs a lift
My Uncle Jim's right there.
He's not like those whom people know
A while and then forget.
He started running years ago,
And he is running yet.

The kind of man this country needs
Is he who braves the shock
And stands up for his party creeds
Unyielding as the rock.
Though Uncle Jim has felt the smart
Full oft of fickle fate,
He's still a patriot from the heart
And still a candidate.
—From the Washington Star.

N. P. H. S. BOYS DEFEAT WESTFIELD HIGH 10-0

The North Plainfield High School football eleven continued its good work Wednesday by defeating the team from Westfield high school by the score of 10 to 0. The teams were very evenly matched in regard to weight, but the borough boys played a snappy and fast game which their opponents could not seem to overcome.

George Parsons made a break in Westfield's forward pass, for a fifty yard run, and a touchdown. McClintock kicked the goal. Day gave an exhibition of two fine tackles and held his position against all odds. Fred Becker was credited with several pretty steals and regains of fumbled ball. An exciting feature of the contest was the kicking of a goal by Overton from a drop kick. Neither team scored in the first half, the borough lads playing their best and strongest game in the second half. They are much elated over the victory and feel sure that they will be able to defeat P. H. S. on Saturday. Yesterday's lineup follows:

N. P. H. S.—F. McClintock, right-end; Will Day, right-tackle; C. Steiner, right-guard; L. Powlison, and C. Lee, center; F. Becker, left-guard; H. Smith, left-tackle; W. Hermann, left-end; G. Parsons, right-half-back; J. McClintock, full-back; T. Overton, left-half-back; R. Conroy, quarter-back.

Westfield H. S.—R. Brown, right-end; T. Knight, right-tackle; H. Otto, right-guard; A. Brown, center; H. Bull, left-guard; A. Johnson, left-tackle; R. Smith, left-end; H. Carlson, right-half-back; H. Embleton, fullback; M. Marsh, left-half-back; S. Marsh, quarterback. Prof. Phelps was the referee.

KITCHEN ARTICLES.

What an array of miniature articles we see while going through the household departments where they are sold. There are little triangle pans which fit them into a larger one, and the young housewife can cook four articles in one pan over one gas flame. Then there are miniature baking pans made with handles, good, long handles which can be grasped with a cloth and easily removed from the oven without the least danger of burning one's hands. The coffee percolator was an immense and important affair for many years, yet today we see tiny affairs which will draw about three cups of coffee, and how much purer and more delicious is coffee made in a percolator than by the old-fashioned method. Even pudding pans come nestled together in all sizes, and one can has a skillet just large enough to fry one egg or one chop, or large enough to make six buckwheat cakes at once. If a woman could only possess one of the best ranges, a good kitchen cabinet, a work table, and this handy little articles, kitchen work would be a pleasure and not drudgery.

Dr. Morris Pleads Not Guilty.

Dr. Walter H. Morris, of Newark, who in his automobile is alleged to have run down and killed Marcus J. Jacobs, a theatrical manager, in Broad street, that city, on September 26 last, pleaded not guilty yesterday to a charge of manslaughter. His father furnished $15,000 bail. The trial was set for December 3.

P. H. S. BOYS TROUNCED

Lawrenceville Second Team Finds Local Eleven An Easy Thing.

SEVENTEEN TO NOTHING SCORE.

At End of First Half 10 to 0—Local Team Outweighed—Good Work By Locals In Second Half.

Outweighed by their opponents about twelve pounds to the man, the city high school football eleven was defeated by a score of 17-0 by the Common Wednesday afternoon. The Lawrenceville second team on Hope visitors seemed a bunch of giants when lined up against the local team, but the high school players fought for every yard, and their playing on the whole showed a big improvement. There was a marked absence of fumbling by the local boys and only once did the ball slip. They held their husky opponents for downs several times and the ends held well. The playing of Doolin, the left-half-back for the visitors, was a feature of the game. Though he weighs but about 120 pounds and was dwarfed by the other backs, he is captain of the team and played fast football behind the line, being especially good in finding holes when running with the ball.

The high school were never within striking distance of the Lawrenceville goal. They made their best gains by trick plays and the use of the forward pass and end runs. Only occasionally could they gain ground through the center line. The playing of the ends showed especial improvement. Captain Loizeaux, whose place was taken by Riffert in the second half, showed good headwork in running off his plays and Murphey's punting put the high school goal out of danger time after time.

The visitors scored twice in the first half, using formation plays which massed their weight and made the power of their attack too great for the lighter high school defense. Doolin made the first touchdown and kicked the goal and Foster scored later in the half on a quarterback run. The score at the end of the half stood 11-0.

In the second half, the visitors tried out less successful formations and went, on the whole, unsuccessful in their use of the forward pass. The high school got wise to their plays and massed their defense to meet them. There was a good deal of punting, Murphey on several occasions booting the ball into safe territory for the local eleven. Though this was the longer of the halves, the visitors scored but once, Doolin crossing the line and kicking the goal. The summaries:

Lawrenceville.	P. H. S.
Smiley	Doane, Snyder
	left end
Ely	Fountain, Cullen
	left tackle
Sminck	Morris
	left guard
Willis	Tilsworth, Fleming
	centre
Munk	Sewell
	right guard
West	Hammond
	right tackle
Baldwin	Phillips
	right end
Doolin (capt)	Murphey
	left half back
Ethridge	Bingaman, Caldwell
	right half back
Goodkind	Lyness, Bingaman
	full back
Foster	Loizeaux (capt), Riffert
	quarter back

Referee—Roy Phillips. Umpire—Charles Stonefield, Lawrenceville. Timer—Howard and Woodhull. Linesmen—Tubbs and Runyon. 20 and 25 minute halves.

Thursday was the fifteenth wedding anniversary of Marshal Charles Keller, of the North Plainfield police force, and he and his wife were pleasantly surprised at their home on Harrison street, last night, when twenty-five of their friend and neighbors called at the home to extend their congratulations to the couple.

The affair was a complete surprise, and the couple received many gifts of glass, it was a crystal wedding anniversary. The evening was pleasantly passed with music, games and felicitations, and at a late hour refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Keller were married in Dover, Colorado, and shortly afterwards moved to the borough. Marshal Keller has been on the North Plainfield police force for about a year.

Mental Medicine.

A somewhat eccentric physician who recently died would order patients to take walks, say daily, on the left side of the street, returning by the other side; another he would order to arise each morning at a certain hour and eat cheese with ginger beer; another to take supper precisely at midnight and eat only apples, or he would instruct the patient to put just so many grains of salt on the egg he was to eat and part his hair in a different way each day. His object was to get the mind of the patient on something else than symptoms, and this scheme worked well in many cases, especially when the patient was suffering from melancholia.—New York Times.

AS DEVOE PREDICTS IT

New Jersey's Weather Prophet Says Winter Will be Long But Not Severe.

ANOTHER "COOL" SUMMER.

Hackensack Forecaster Has a Record For Guessing Right Times —A Weather Student.

"The coming winter, while it will not be as severe as last winter, will be more extended." Such is the statement of Andrew Jackson Devoe, the Hackensack weather prophet. Mr. Devoe has been telling the people the sort of weather to expect for a great many years, but rarely has anybody believed him. Once in a while he has hit the nail on the head. Mr. Devoe blames the moon for all our troubles and sudden changes of temperature and storms. He claims that if the astronomers would give him the changes and movements of the moon in conjunction with the earth for ten years ahead he could predict the weather ten years ahead.

Since he was 18 years old Mr. Devoe has been a student of weather conditions, and twenty-seven years ago made a public address in Cooper Union, Manhattan, advocating practically the same theories as he does today.

The prophet predicts heavy storms in the West around January 1, and says that the coming winter will be excessively sever around the Mississippi Valley. Another cool summer is predicted for next year, but the following year 1909 will be a scorcher. He described the air as being full of holes or pitfalls, which were the principal cause of storms. *He said that this explained the sud*den dropping of balloons at times.

Devoe predicted the Charleston earthquake of 1886, and the Galveston flood of 1900, each a year ahead. Of all his forecasts more than 80 per cent. have been fulfilled, he says. He has heard thunder sixty miles away, while the best the Government can do is thirty miles. Storms can be seen 150 miles away and tornadoes 500 miles. Mr. Devoe claims simplicity itself for his system, which is *merely a following of the laws of na*ture. He forecasted weather by clouds, and what his eyes never deceived him in this method.

MR. COLBY A BENEDICT

Brother of State Senator Takes Miss Ruth Morgan Tenny as His Bride.

REV. RICHARDSON OFFICIATES.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Augustus Colby Leave For Honeymoon Trip After Ceremony—Will Reside Here.

Miss Ruth Morgan Tenney, daughter of the late John Tenney, Jr., of Philadelphia, and Howard Augustus Colby, brother of State Senator Everett Colby, were married quietly this afternoon at the home of the bride's brother, John Tenney, 1405 Evergreen avenue. Rev. Dr. Richardson, the assistant to Rev. Dr. Charles Aked, of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, New York, performed the ceremony in the presence of a company of relatives and intimate friends, numbering about twenty. Senator and Mrs. Everett Colby were among those present.

The bride was richly gowned in white crepe meteor, trimmed with lace. She carried a handsome bouquet of bride roses. The wedding march was played by an orchestra. The bride was given in marriage by her brother. After the ceremony a reception was held and the bride and groom received congratulations. The wedding supper followed. Later Mr. and Mrs. Colby left to enjoy an extended automobile trip. Upon their return they will reside at 1405 Evergreen avenue. The bride was the recipient of a large collection of choice wedding gifts, costly and handsome, one entire room being devoted to their display.

The bride has been a resident of Plainfield for several years and has been prominent in local society. She was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Miss Helen Martin and Henry D. Bushnell. Mr. Colby is also well known throughout the State and in New York, and is a prominent figure in social circles.

About Authors.

Miss Marie van Vorst and her sister-in-law, Mrs. John van Vorst, who live in Paris most of the year, are now making their annual visit to the United States. Miss van Vorst brought two new novels with her, the result of her past year's work. One of these will appear in the Saturday Evening Post, the other in Lippincott's. In the latter two of the leading characters are Bulstrode and Mrs. Falconer, who have already figured in stories by this author, published in Harper's and Scribner's. Those who have been privileged to read these new novels praise them

CAR BURNED, LIFE SAVED

Paul F. Gillette's $7,000 Car Put Out of Endurance Run by a Fire.

MECHANIC IS BADLY BURNED.

Peter LaGrue Runs When His Clothes Catch Fire from Gasoline Flames, and Man With Fur Coat Chases Him and Saves His Life.

Burned to the frame work, the 20-horsepower Pullman automobile entered by P. F. Gillette, formerly of this city, in the endurance run begun Friday afternoon under the auspices of the Automobile and Motor Club of New Jersey lies in front of the club's headquarters, at Cheshire and Broad streets, in Newark, where, through the carelessness of some bystander or employe, it was set on fire at 7 o'clock last night while taking on new fuel. The fire department, which was summoned as soon as it was seen that the flames were beyond control of those present, could do little to help except by keeping back the crowds and quieting the fears of the residents, alarmed by the repeated explosions and the roar of the flames.

Peter La Grue, the mechanic employed by Mr. Gillette, was badly burned about the hands in his endeavor to extinguish the flames which burst from the gas tank at the first explosion. That he did not lose his life was due to some unknown man who beat out the fire on his clothing.

Haste to get into and out of the control established at the headquarters was primarily responsible for the fire. The car, which bore the number 17, had been unfortunate *ever since the start from the club*house early in the afternoon. Roads that did not seem to hamper others in the contest held it back, and by the time the first lap was finished and the machine rolled up to the house it was several minutes behind time and every one was on the alert to light the lamps, fill the gasoline tank and get it away again to catch up with its fellows.

The car had scarcely come to a stop when La Grue was on the ground beside it, ready to take the gasoline can as the men handed and fill the tank under the front seat, which had been turned up by another member of the party; while a third lighted the lamps.

The only light for the men to work by came from the arc light on the corner. Whether it was because the tank leaked or, in his haste, some of the liquid was spilled down the sides of the car is not known, but a moment or two after the can had been set again on the sidewalk and the machine it was seen that the woodwork was glistening and wet. Two or three of those standing near stepped forward to warn the chauffeur, but before anything could be done the fire had started. The flames first broke out at the can on the flagstones, so several witnesses claim, but for effect it might as well have been in the car itself, so quickly did the blaze travel from the ground to the tank.

La Grue was leaning over the front seat peering into the half filled receptacle when the flames reached him and even before he could jump back the seat was up as the gasoline ignited, scattering liquid fire over him and over the owner and Charles Parsons, who were sitting in the car. Both covered their faces with their hands for a second and did not see La Grue, who, with his coat, his cap and his hair a mass of flames, was running blindly down Chestnut street, beating himself with his bare hands. Everyone in the crowd was equally stupefied by the noise and glare, excepting one man, who snatched up a heavy fur overcoat and made after the mechanic, catching him and rolling the coat round and round him until the flames were smothered, burning his own hands painfully as he did. La Grue was too much dazed and the bystanders were too excited to note who it was who had saved the other and he is still unidentified.

In the meantime Mr. Gillette and his friend were doing what they could to extinguish the flames that had taken hold of the floor and seats in the tonneau, as well as of their own clothes. They had nothing but their hands to work with and though they managed to free themselves from the flames they soon saw that they could not hope to do anything more.

The explosion of the gas tank had been heard for blocks and almost before the two passengers were out of the car people were running from all directions. They soon realized that water was worse than useless and a few of the clearer headed began throwing what dirt they could gather in their hands on the fast disappearing sides of the machine, but their supply was limited.

A fire alarm was turned in, but while the engines were on the way two more explosions occurred, one caused by the heating of the gas tank feeding the lights and the other by an overheated tire. The reports shook the nerves of the crowd, and few were taking a hand at killing the flames when the fire apparatus arrived. It was a comparatively simple matter for the firemen to get the chemicals on the blaze, and it was soon extinguished.

The total value of the car was about $7,500. The body was completely consumed, and one tire exploded. The damage to the engines is not yet known.

MISS EDNA MOORE IS NOW MRS. HENRY K. M'INTYRE

At Holy Cross church, which was handsomely decorated for the occasion with autumn leaves, palms and white chrysanthemums, Miss Edna Moore, daughter of Mrs. John Berry Moore, of Kensington avenue, became the wife of Henry Knox McIntyre, of New York city, Thursday afternoon. Only the relatives and most intimate friends of the couple were present at the ceremony, at which Rev. George A. Warner, rector of the church, officiated.

The bride was gowned in white messaline, trimmed with lace inserts. Her bridal veil was caught up with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Iola Moore, as maid of honor. Miss Moore was gowned in white, over pink silk. She wore a large white hat, with a single pink rose, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Wilbur McIntyre, brother of the groom, was best man, and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Alden Ellis Moore. The ushers were John G. McIntyre, Linden W. Bridgeman and Henry C. Carpenter, of New York, and Oliver Smith, of Easton, Maryland. H. Raymond Loder, of New York, was at the organ, and played the wedding march from Mendelssohn as the bridal party entered the church. The bride is a graduate of Wellesley College with the class of 1906, and a score of her classmates were present at the ceremony.

After the wedding, a reception was tendered to about one hundred of the guests at the bride's home on Kensington avenue. The house was elaborately decorated with autumn leaves, palms and chrysanthemums, and trailing vines were used with good effect. The newly married couple received their guests in a bower of palms and potted plants in the parlor, and after the collation was served, left for a month's wedding trip in the South. They will reside in New York city.

Mr. McIntyre is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewen McIntyre, of West Seventy-fourth street, New York. He graduated from Columbia in 1899, and is employed with the Grey National Telautograph Company, of New York. The wedding gifts were numerous, including silverware, china and cut glass.

BOROUGH BOY SURPRISED BY EVENING VISIT OF FRIENDS.

Claude Hann, of Somerset place, was pleasantly surprised at his home Friday night by more than a dozen of his friends, who came unexpectedly to spend the evening. The young people passed the time with dancing and games and there were phonograph selections. At the conclusion of the progressive games, the ladies' prizes were awarded to Miss Louisa Greader and Miss Ethel Barnes, and the man's prize to Claude Hann. The prizes were given by the 'Him, Her and I Club" and the "Jolly Four."

Among those present were the Misses Louisa Greader, Ethel Barnes, Carrie Bender, Lottie Brown, Emma Myers, Mable Perry, Mamie Brennan, Bessie Greader, and Bert Hanson, Earle Stiles, Eddie Fitzgerald, Martin Whalen, Eddie Montross, James Henry, James Taylor, George Mc*Cluster, Russel Abbott, Claude, Roy* and Russell Hann, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hann, and Mrs. E. Hann.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS TO HOLD A RECEPTION.

Plainfield Branch, United Commercial Travelers' Association, recently organized here, will hold its first re*ception and banquet at the Casino on* Friday night, December 20, and plans are being perfected to make it one of the best of the kind ever held in the city. Elaborate preparations are being made for a program of exceptional merit, and there will be several speakers of prominence from New York, Brooklyn and other large cities.

*The local branch, it is said, prom*ises to be one of the most progressive of any in the grand council of New Jersey and Delaware and an active winter season is expected. The entertainment committee in charge of the details for the coming reception and banquet comprise Frank W. Weed, chairman; J. A. G. Pike, H. J. Percy, John M. Lewin, Charles A. Sturtevant and James C. Field.

Kept His Word.

"I haven't got any case," said the client, "but I have money."

"How much?" asked the lawyer.

"Ten thousand pounds," was the reply.

"Phew! You have the best case I ever heard of. I'll see that you never go to prison with that sum," said the lawyer cheerfully.

And he didn't. He went there "broke."—London Telegraph.

Caught the Fever.

"He was knocked down by a motor car, you know. Got $2,500 damages from the fellow."

"The idea! I wonder what he'll do with the money?"

"Oh, he's spent it. Bought the fellow's car with it."—Philadelphia Press.

TRACK ATHLETES ACTIVE

Y. M. C. A. Gymnasts Have Begun Regular Practise for Winter Season.

WILL COMPETE FOR RECORDS.

Season Opens Next Month with a Dual Indoor Meet with Orange Y. M. C. A.—Contests to Break Records.

As the cold weather comes on, much interest is being shown in indoor track athletics at the Y. M. C. A. and a good sized squad of members is holding regular practise in the various events after the weekly Thursday evening classes.

The track season for the association athletes starts early next month and on Saturday evening, December 7, the Y. M. C. A. gym team will go to Orange to participate in a dual track meet with the association team there. The events on that occasion will be the running high jump, standing broad jump, 220-yard potato race, 15-yard dash, three standing broad jumps, fence vault, and 12-pound shot put. There are several promising candidates among the new material and it is believed that a good percentage of last year's team will compete in the various events. George H. Listman, physical director of the association, is planning to arrange similar duel track meets to be held with the association teams of nearby cities, but has not yet announced the dates.

There is a well developed spirit among the present members of the physical department to make some new indoor records and Physical Director Listman has arranged a schedule for evenings during the winter where opportunity will be given such prospective record smashers to make good. Several of the men are practising regularly in the special events, and in some instances the present record holders will attempt to better their own figures. The association record of 6 feet 5½ inches in the fence vault, held by E. N. Marclay, has stood since the winter of 1898, and the figures for the running high jump, the running high dive, the 12-pound shot put, the running high kick and the 440-yard potato race have not been bettered since 1904. New records for the standing broad jump, the standing high jump, the running long dive, the running and standing high jump, the standing hop, skip and jump, and the running broad jump were made last winter, but the holders are in several cases out to do better this year.

Opportunity to better the association records will be given on the following dates through the winter:

December 12—Standing broad jump. Record, 10 feet 1¼ inches, made by R. J. Lawrence, 1907.

December 9—Two standing broad jumps. Record, 18 feet 8 inches, made by W. P. Banks, 1906.

January 2—Running hop, step and jump. Record, 35 feet 3 inches, made by C. T. Wycoff, 1906.

January 9—Fence vault. Record, 6 feet 5½ inches, made by E. N. Marclay, 1898.

January 16—Three standing broad jumps. Record, 30 feet 3 inches, made by R. J. Lawrence, 1907.

January 23—Running high jump. Record, 5 feet 3½ inches, made by W. L. McNaughton, 1904.

January 30—Running high dive. Record, 5 feet 11 inches, made by W. L. McNaughton, 1904.

February 6—Shot put (12-pound). Record, 40 feet 3¼ inches, made by O. H. Munger, 1904.

February 13—Running long dive. Record, 11 feet 3 inches, made by H. Douglass, 1907.

February 20—Running high kick. Record, 8 feet 4 inches, made by W. L. McNaughton, 1904.

February 27—Potato race (440 yards). Record, 1:43 3-5, made by R. M. Smith, 1904.

March 5—Standing high jump. Record, 4 feet 5½ inches, made by W. Luder, 1907.

March 12—Running broad jump. Record, 7 feet 8¾ inches, made by C. D. Burges, 1907.

March 19—Standing hop, skip and jump. Record, 27 feet 11 inches, made by R. J. Lawrence, 1907.

March 26—Running high jump (with spring). Record, 5 feet 6 inches, made by C. D. Burgess, 1907.

FRATERNAL NOTES.

A recognized authority on life insurance, Walter Allen Rice, the author, says, "The fraternal system is the most marvelous and successful institution of the people in the United States.

The Order of Saturn is becoming one of the most popular fraternal orders, and the membership is steadily increasing.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles will hold its next convention in Seattle, Wash.

The Hoo-Hoos have a membership of 22,000. President Roosevelt is No. 999 on the roll. For the most part the Hoo-Hoos are lumbermen.

Select Another President.

David T. Kenney, of North Plainfield, inventor of the vacuum cleaning apparatus, has been succeeded as president of the Vacuum Cleaner Company, of New York, by W. L. DeChant, of Ohio. The stockholders have continued Mr. Kenney as a director.

SUNRISE FOR DEMOCRACY

Party Swaying Into Power Throughout New Jersey Says Grover Cleveland.

HE TALKS ABOUT WM. J. BRYAN.

It's a Question for the Party Leaders, Says Former President—Discusses Gunning Trip.

In the opinion of former President of the United States Grover Cleveland, Democracy is gradually swaying into power in this State. The position of William Jennings Bryan on the coming Democratic nomination for president of the United States was the sever point of Clermet President and an interesting one, too.

The aged statesman touched on the matter over for some time and had a little of Jersey politics, but the Democracy was coming into its own again in this State, and that's speaking direct to the Bryan position as published in the Commoner, said: "I am not surprised at all at Mr. Bryan's declaration, and I do not see how any Democrat should be surprised at his seeming intention to seek a renomination.

"To me, the question seems to be, to whom we ought to look for leadership in the Democratic party.

"In view of past experiences, what are we going to do about it?

"This is a question that may well command the immediate attention of the leaders.

"I do not think this the time to say anything more on this subject."

The former President related his experiences of the past two days gunning in the vicinity of Princeton.

"I enjoy the air," he said, "but do not get in the thick of the shooting."

Grover Cleveland, the man, has lost his flesh, but his eyes are bright, his skin has good color, and his appearance gives the lie to stories about his ill health.

It will not be the use of a cane to help out a little rheumatism he would be taken for a vigorous man just in the prime of life, but still in excellent health.

OHIO LAWYER TO SPEAK

Vice Mayor Galvin, of Cincinnati, Orator for Elks Memorial Service.

MUSIC IS TO BE A FEATURE.

Somerville Elks To Join In Lodge of Sorrow at the Theatre On Sunday Night, December 1.

The committee recently appointed by Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., to arrange the program for the memorial exercises on Sunday night, December 1, received word today that its efforts to secure John Galvin, vice-mayor of Cincinnati, as orator for the occasion, had been successful. He wired this morning that he had accepted the invitation with the added statement that it would afford him great pleasure to occupy the position of honor at the Plainfield lodge of sorrow.

The exercises will be held in the New Plainfield theatre and the program will include several features entirely new to those who have attended previously. Instrumental and vocal music will intersperse the various numbers and the decorations will be still more elaborate. Somerville lodge, which was instituted a short time ago, has accepted an invitation to participate and the members will attend in a body. Admission to the theatre will be by invitation only.

The acceptance of Mr. Galvin will bring to Plainfield one of the best known orators of the middle west and one who has been sought after by many B. P. O. E. lodges for the coming date. He is a leading lawyer in Cincinnati and has been identified with the city's affairs for many years. He is a past Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks and until recently was chairman of the Committee on Laws of the Grand Lodge. He was also on the committee that prepared the new lodge constitution that was adopted favorably at the Denver and Philadelphia conventions.

New Building Started.

Work on the foundations for the extension of the Hand Storage barns on Craig place has been begun by William T. Smith, the contractor. The building is to measure 47 by 94 feet and will be connected to the rear of the present barns. It will be three stories in height and will be ready for occupancy about March 1. The house which stood on the site of the new building has been moved to a position on the lot opposite, on Somerset place.

Engagement Announced.

Announcement is made of the engagement of J. Wendell Mosher, son of John P. Mosher, and Miss Marie Rogers, daughter of Charles A. Rogers, of Madison avenue. The wedding will take place early in December at the home of the bride.

TO RE-SELL SEWER BONDS

Technicality Blocks Sale of $68,000 Worth to A. B. Leach and Company.

CITY COULD SUE THE FIRM.

But Others Will Be Given Opportunity to Purchase the Issue At An Early Date.

In connection with the $68,000 sewer bond issue which was taken up by A. B. Leach & Co., of New York, several weeks ago, a communication was received from the firm at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, Monday, informing that body that the company's attorney had not approved of the bonds and that in consequence refused to accept the issue. The firm asked for the return of its certified check given pending the closing of the deal. It was afterward learned that according to the provisions under which such bonds are issued and sold, the city had failed to advertise the issue the full fourteen days.

At the request of Mayor Fisk, the following statement of the situation respecting the dispute between the City and A. B. Leach & Company regarding the latter's bids for sewer bonds was prepared by Corporation Counsel Marsh:

"The sewer ordinance of May 13, 1904, was passed on first and second readings May 2, 1904, and on that date the Council ordered the ordinance duly advertised. The advertisement was not inserted in the official newspapers until May 7 and 8 respectively. The special meeting at which the ordinance was passed was held May 18, that is, one or two days short of the fourteen days after the first publication of the notice called for by the City Charter. A. B. Leach & Company, who bid for the bonds before the recent panic, stated in their bid substantially that the bid was not to take effect unless their lawyer approved of the bonds. Their lawyer, J. H. Caldwell, Esq., of New York city, advised A. B. Leach & Co. that the ordinance was defective because the full fourteen days' notice of intention to adopt the ordinance had not been given. The corporation counsel, on examining the proofs of publication in the newspapers, conceded that the notice of intention was not published for the full fourteen days, but he submitted a brief in support of the proposition that such fourteen days' notice was wholly unnecessary for the reason that the second act of 1893 under which the ordinance was passed, provided for a ten days' notice only and superseded the charter provision in that respect. He pointed out that the ten days' notice specifically required by the sewer act, P. L. 1890, p. 118 sec. 9, was also in strict conformity with that act, before the ordinance was passed even on its first reading and that that section says in so many words:

"The notice shall briefly describe the improvement, and shall notify such persons as may object thereto to present their objections in writing, at the city clerk's office, at or before the expiration of ten days from the date of the notice, or to the 'Common Council at its first meeting held after the expiration of said ten days; and said Council may, at such meeting or afterwards proceed to consider and pass such ordinance, notwithstanding any objection."

"Mr. Caldwell admits that this case leaves the matter in some doubt, but all the same he is not satisfied and declines to approve the bonds. It remains for the Common Council to direct whether to bring suit to test the question, or to settle the dispute by obtaining a validating act at the approaching session of the Legislature, and calling for new bids."

Other arrangements will be made to dispose of the bonds in the near future. The action will not embarrass the city in the least for the issue was intended to cover old sewer work extending over a period of three years and which has been met by notes issued by the city to be liquidated when the bonds are sold.

Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh reported on several matters of a legal nature which he has been handling for the city. Regarding the sewer contract he spoke of credit-ors against the city in connection with the sewer contract originally held by Peter Morgan, of Poughkeepsie. Mr. Marsh stated that he had secured a postponement until January 15, 1908, giving him time in which to file a plea and at the same time inquire into the validity of the claims. The case of J. E. McCormick against the city treasurer was reported discontinued, and Mr. Marsh also reported that in the case on appeal of Elston M. French against the city in the matter of a dispute over a tax assessment, Mr. French had withdrawn the suit. The case of the American Sewage Company, of Boston, against the city, for the alleged infringement of patent rights, was reported to be status quo.

In the case of the Overseer of the Poor of Plainfield against the Overseer of the Poor of Reading, Hunterdon county, on order of removal, Mr. Marsh reported that the case would be tried at Flemington on November 29. This is an action in which the authorities of Hunterdon county seek to transfer a pauper case to Plainfield, which it is claimed by the local officials belongs in the former county.

WANTED TO HELP HUBBY

When Glaentzer Got Mixed on Witness Stand His Wife Started to Explain.

"REMOVE HER," COURT ORDERS.

Incident Occurred at Trial of Two New Brunswick Men Charged With Robbing Plainfielder.

A jury in the Circuit Court at New Brunswick, Monday, brought in a verdict of guilty against John Waller and Cory Meyers, two residents of that city, charged by Charles Glaentzer, of New street, mail collector for the local postoffice, with robbing him on July 2 last. The men were placed on trial in the morning and their counsel took up so much time in rebutting testimony it was late in the afternoon before the case was concluded. The defendants were remanded for sentence.

In his testimony Glaentzer stated that he went to New Brunswick on the date mentioned to visit his son. Early in the evening, while waiting for a trolley car on Burnet street, Waller stepped up to him and demanded a ring he had on his hand. When he told the fellow to take himself off, Waller took hold of him and hustled him around a corner. At the same moment, Meyers ran up and relieved him of a nickel watch, a gold watch, two chains and a wallet containing $40. The men then threw him down and disappeared in an alley. Glaentzer recovered his equilibrium quick enough to summon a patrolman and from the description furnished Waller and Meyers were arrested. The victim afterward positively recognized them as the pair.

H. B. Cook, counsel for the defense, got Glaentzer pretty well mixed up on cross-examination. He stated that on the date of the robbery he left Plainfield for Newark after dinner. Later he said it was not until next Thursday. Mr. Cook was putting in questions to make the most of this discrepency a woman's voice broke upon the air.

"He's got that a little mixed up. I can explain it for him."

It was Mrs. Glaentzer. She rose to her feet and started towards the witness stand.

"Remove that person," exclaimed Judge Booraem, who was on the bench.

Constable Gordon started to obey orders, but came back and explained to Judge Booraem that the woman was ignorant of the rights of court decorum. She was allowed to remain.

The defense attempted to show that Waller and Meyers were not the men who had robbed Glaentzer but both admitted that they had spoken to him as he stood waiting for the fought for a delay, giving the excuse that some others might want the position.

William R. Townsend.

For nearly an hour the city fathers held an executive session and discussed the subject of a successor after Mr. Murray's resignation had been received. Mr. Tyler pleaded for more delay, arguing that there should be formal advertisement, and Councilmen George F. Mellick and Leslie M. Daniel and others took the position that the publicity given in the local papers during the last few days was entirely sufficient and that there was no reason for putting off the selection of a new collector.

In open session, much to the surprise of his colleagues, Mr. Tyler brought up the same argument that he had used in the private talk and succeeded in delaying the election for a time. In requesting a postponement of action until next Thursday he said: "As it is now, there is but one name before us; not that I have any objection to the man proposed. It is a political position and people are generally apt to think that the man with political influence will get the office. We may get a much better man to accept the position by waiting a few days and that possibly could do no harm. We cannot be too careful in our selection of a man for such an office."

The withdrawal of William H. Clark from the contest had been placed on file. Mr. Clark's singular offer had caused more amusement than serious consideration. In a letter to Mayor Fisk he had stated that he was a pensioner of the Standard Oil Company and if he could get the job he would donate a third of his salary to Muhlenberg Hospital. Former Sheriff B. Frank Coriell's name was also proposed and neither was that of Thomas Hanna.

Mr. Townsend's record had been thoroughly investigated and his friends had filed with the city fathers letters of recommendations from all his previous employers as to his integrity, ability and faithfulness. Among them were communications from the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, of New York; Moore & Schley, of New York, and C. C. Pollard, of the Union County Tax Board. Mr. Townsend's name was presented by Councilman Ralph T. Tolles.

Mr. Townsend will assume his new office on Thursday, when Mr. Murray takes a position in New York.

Missionary Gifts.

The Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church has completed the packing of a large box and two barrels which have been sent to home mission fields. These barrels and the box contain warm clothing and a great many useful articles which will be a blessing and comfort to the recipients. The large box has been sent to Rev. B. Mallerno and family, at Hatley, Wisconsin, and is valued at $116.77. Two barrels have been sent to the Schofield Colored School at Aiken, S. C., one being valued at $21.92 and the other at $9.05.

Miss Alpaugh Basketball Captain.

Miss Bessie Alpaugh, 1910, was chosen captain of the girls' basketball team at the city high school Friday. The game to have been played with the New Brunswick high school Saturday was cancelled Friday, but the girls are trying to arrange a game with the Westfield high school girls next Saturday.

MR. TOWNSEND COLLECTOR

Common Council Chooses County Tax Board Clerk to Succeed Murray.

TYLER TRIED TO BLOCK IT.

Mayor Fisk Presented Resignation of Present Incumbent—Charges on Thursday.

William S. Tyler alone voted against the election of William R. Townsend for tax collector to fill the unexpired term of John W. Murray, Jr., until the next election, when the ballot was taken by the Common Council, Monday. The ten other members of the Council were unanimously in favor of him for the place after Mayor Charles J. Fisk had presented the resignation of the present incumbent. Townsend's was the only name considered, and Mr. Tyler

THANKS DUE MR. DEPEW

His Prompt Action Results in P.S.C. Using Groove Rails One Way at Least.

WARREN B. TRAVELL FAVORED.

Given Extension of Time for Completion of Pumping Station—Other Councilmanic Work.

Councilman W. L. Gloak, of the street committee, reported at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council Monday night that the Public Service Corporation has agreed to install groove rails on the westbound track between Somerset street and Madison avenue, before the brick pavement is laid on that side of the roadway.

This matter was brought to the attention of the Council by R. Henry Depew in a communication, it being in his opinion a wise provision to have the groove rail extend through the streets where the brick is being laid. The matter was taken up with the trolley officials and they offered to make the change on the westbound side of the street. This cannot be done on the eastbound side as the brick pavement is now laid there.

On motion of Mr. Gloak, Warren B. Travell was given an extension of time to December 31 in which to complete his contract of installing the pumping station in connection with the southside sewer system. Also on his motion a bill amounting to $142.66, charge for the use of the steam roller in macadamizing Evergreen avenue, was waived, in view of the fact that the avenue has been laid out and improved at the property-owners' expense. Mr. Gloak also reported that arrangements had been made whereby the trolley company will provide better ways for carrying off the surface water between its tracks in the city. On motion of the same member the New York & New Jersey Telephone Company was given permission to make further openings in the streets to continue the underground work.

Mr. Tyler stated that in response to a request made the New Jersey Central had caused to be lighted one of its electric lamps at the North Avenue station and that it is probable that the company will erect a light at a point near the last point of exit for passengers from trains arriving from New York, which would be near the Somerset street bridge.

The supplitment to the building ordinance offered by Chairman Hibbard of the fire and building committee at the last meeting and returned to the committee for revision, was again offered last night and adopted on two readings and ordered advertised. It prohibits the building of additions to the frame or combustible structures either on the front, rear or sides, within three feet of any other building. This is intended more especially for the business section where there are some old buildings very close together. On the motion to adopt on two readings President Daniel alone voted nay.

It was decided that when the meeting adjourned it be to meet on Thursday night.

Under the direction of Roadmaster Gordon, of the Public Service Corporation, a gang of laborers this morning began the work of laying the new old girder rail on the west side of Front street, between Somerset street and Madison avenue, for the purpose of installing the improved groove rail. The company is not required to do this, it said, owing to the brick pavement on the east side that rail cannot be changed now. It is expected that the work of installing the double switch at Front and Somerset streets will be completed today.

Within the past week the car service changed the cars will go back to the use of the single tracks between Madison avenue and the stand on Watchung avenue. Contractor Meeker is making much better progress with his concrete work on Watchung avenue and has a considerable space covered in readiness for the brick pavement.

TO CALL ON CARNEGIE.

Te trustees of the Cranford Free Public Library, who recently purchased a choice plot of ground on Miln street in that borough as the site for a new building, are busy devising plans to raise money. At present the library is located in the Opera House block, where several rooms are used to house the many thousand volumes and where reading rooms are maintained.

The trustees intend to apply to Andrew Carnegie, and should he give them $10,000 for the building, there is no question but that the people will vote the money necessary to support the institution.

Curing a Rattler's Bite.

While crossing the arid deserts of Nevada some years ago, before Milwaukee's fame had become great enough to keep him home, a now prominent resident of the brewery city was bitten by a rattlesnake and gave up all hope. The guide threw to the ground and breaking open a cartridge covered the wound with powder. The powder was touched off, cauterizing the wound effectively. The next morning nothing more serious than a stiff leg resulted.—Popular Mechanics.

CHURCH ATHLETIC MEET

Sunday School League Will Hold Track Meet at Y. M. C. A. December 13.

TWO CUPS TO BE AWARDED.

Two Sets of Events For the Competition—League to Play Basketball During the Winter.

With the re-organization of the local Sunday-school Athletic League for the winter, athletic activities will be begun with an indoor track meet, to be held in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Friday evening, December 13. At a meeting of the board of governors of the association held Friday night, plans were discussed for the meet, and Physical Director George L. Listman today announced particulars of the meet.

Two individual cups will be offered, the one to be competed for by the seniors and intermediate, and the other by the juniors and boys of the Sunday-school teams. Two sets of events will be run off, in the competition for the two cups, which are offered by the league. The cups will be of silver and appropriately engraved. The senor and intermediate events will be the running broad jump, standing broad jump, running high jump, quarter-mile potato race, sack race and tug-of-war. In this last event, open to men over twenty-five years of age, five men will compete on each team. The juniors and boys will have a separate list of events, including a 15-yard dash, potato race, two standing broad jumps, and a three-legged race.

The league will consist this year of seven Sunday schools, those of the First Baptist church, First Presbyterian church, First M. E. church, Congregational church, Warren chapel, Hope chapel and Trinity Reformed church. At the organization meeting of the league, F. E. Smith was appointed treasurer in place of Charles M. Dolliver, last year's treasurer; F. H. Gates takes the place of Rev. Frank Bohanon, and Rev. Charles L. Goodrich takes the place of J. McClymont. The board for this year is as follows: President, Chas. W. McCutchen; vice-president, J. W. Gavett; secretary, George L. Listman; Nevada H. Brohaugh, F. H. Gates, City Judge William N. Runyon, George E. Hall, James R. Joy and Rev. Charles L. Goodrich.

Plans are under way for the formation of a basketball league in which the various churches represented in the league will have teams. There is considerable promising material in the various Sunday-schools represented, but the league will not be organized for play until after the holidays.

RAILROAD TAX CASE IS SUSTAINED BY COURT

Justice Swayze in the Court of Errors and Appeals at Trenton Monday filed an opinion which confirms the action of the board of assessment and revision of taxes of the city of Newark, in fixing the valuations of the second class property of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, for taxes of 1906.

The decision sustains that of the supreme court in the test case made by the railroad company against the State Board of Equalization of Taxes. The latter board sustained the contention of the Newark city authorities, which in turn was sustained by the Essex County Board of Taxation, that the property in question had not been assessed at less than 100 per cent.

The ruling of the question is that the State board has no right to reduce the assessment below their true value for the purpose of equalizing the taxes.

In 1906, under the then recently enacted Perkins act of that year, the Newark tax board, disregarding entirely the valuations placed upon the second class property of the railroad companies in the that city, made assessments accordingly as the judgment of the commissioners indicated them to represent the true value of the properties. This was done in connection with the equalizing movement undertaken that year by the board.

Twenty-seven Men Laid Off.

According to a notice previously posted, twenty-seven men were laid off at the Potter Press Works on Friday night, leaving a force of about 175 men still employed. Those laid off comprise chiefly unskilled labor and some from the foundry. The "lay-off" is for an indefinite time.

In Wooden Shoe Land.

Patience—Did you have any shoes made in Holland? Patrice—Well, I tried to have a pair made, but when I went to get them they told me they hadn't cut the tree down yet.—Yonkers Statesman.

Wife—The new cook spoiled the bacon—she is so young and inexperienced. Won't you be satisfied with a kiss instead?

Husband—All right—call her in.—Ally Sloper's Half-Holiday.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS BANQUET

(Continued from page 1.)

enough in your system to stick with the Y. M. C. A.," he concluded. "Get into the religious life of the association as well as the physical development side. Religion stands for life, for joy, for manhood. The Y. M. C. A. offers the best possibilities for the young fellow and my advice is to you,—catch on."

Kenneth Robbie, the former secretary of the boys' department, spoke a few words after Mr. McNutt. He congratulated the boys on the growth of the department since it was under his supervision. "The work of this department can't be done by Mr. Soule and the cabinet," he said. "All you boys have got to put your shoulder to the wheel, co-operate with the officers and help them in their efforts to reach all the boys of Plainfield and make them men." Boys' Secretary L. A. Soule was the last speaker, and he dwelt especially upon the plans underway to increase the scope of the work of the department, urging the boys to stand by the officials and make the year a successful one.

At the conclusion of the affair President Robins led three rousing cheers for the Women's Auxiliary, who arranged for the banquet. Mrs. Walter Freeman was chairman of the general committee on arrangements for the banquet.

New Jersey Central

Passenger Stations in New York—West 23d St., N. R., Foot Liberty St., N. R.

In Effect October 13, 1907.

For New York—2.17, 3.37, 5.36, 6.46, 6.57, 7.25, 7.28, 7.45, 7.47, 7.55, 8.09, 8.11, 8.20, 8.36, 8.44, 8.25, 9.59, 10.03, 10.55 a. m., 12.00, 12.19, 12.42, 1.09, 1.27, 2.21, 2.44, 3.09, 3.42, 3.56, 4.02, 4.45, 5.34, 5.49, 6.07, 7.07, 7.37, 8.27, 9.27, 9.31, 10.11, 11.39 p. m. Sunday—2.17, 3.37, 4.47, 7.23, 7.58, 8.57, 8.34, 9.34, 10.11, 10.27, 10.42, 11.39 p. m. Sundays only—1.09, 1.45, 2.41, 3.09, 3.30, 4.25, 5.32, 5.41, 6.25, 6.45, 8.12, 8.57, 9.35, 9.47, 10.25, 10.47 p. m.

For Newark—2.26, 3.29, 6.57, 7.06, 7.15, 7.28, 7.47, 8.11, 8.56, 8.44, 9.29, 9.58, 10.33 a. m., 12.42, 1.09, 1.45, 2.41, 3.09, 3.30, 4.25, 5.32, 5.41, 6.25, 6.45, 8.12, 8.35, 9.42, 10.25, 10.47 p. m.

For Long Branch—5.45 a. m., 1.40, 4.47 p. m.

For Bethlehem, Allentown and Mauch Chunk—2.26, 3.29, 5.50, 7.06, 8.44, 9.29, 9.42 a. m., 12.42, 3.30, 4.25, 5.32, 6.45, 8.12, 8.35, 9.42, 10.25, 10.47 p. m.

For Easton—5.45 a. m., 1.40, 4.47 p. m.

For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.50, 9.55 a. m., 2.05, 5.47 p. m. Sundays—5.45 a. m., 5.50 p. m.

For Lone Branch and Asbury Park—5.57, 8.11, 10.55 a. m., 12.42, 4.02, 4.45, 5.44, 6.46, 8.50, 9.46 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 8.52 a. m., 3.30, 8.12 p. m.

For Lakewood and Atlantic City—3.57, 9.29 a. m., (12.42 Saturdays only), 1.27, 2.44, (4.02 Lakewood only), (5.53 Lakewood only), 6.46 p. m. Sundays—(12.24 Lakewood only), 8.45 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

For Philadelphia—7.12, 7.39, 8.46, 9.14, 10.47 a. m., 12.12, 1.27, 2.45, 3.45, 4.44, 5.23, 5.44, 6.46, 8.50, 9.46 p. m. Sundays—2.17, 8.52 a. m., 12.29 p. m. Sundays—3.25, 8.52 a. m., 3.30, 8.12 p. m.

For Baltimore and Washington—3.57, 9.29 a. m., (12.42 Saturdays only), 1.27, 2.44, (4.02 Lakewood only), (5.53 Lakewood only), 6.46 p. m. Sundays—8.45, 10.43 a. m., 1.40 p. m.

"Chester" for Round Brook.

W. G. BESLER, Gen'l Pass. Agt.
W. C. HOPE, Gen Pass. Agt.

Arrival and Departure of Mails

PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE.
Office opens 7 a. m. Closes 7 p. m.
On Saturdays close half hour later.

NEW YORK MAIL.

Arrive—7.00, 8.40, 10.30 a. m., 2.30, 5.00, 5.30, 9 p. m., 12 midnight.
Close—7.00, 9.30 a. m., 1.00, 2.30, 4.30, 7.45 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EAST.

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 12.30, 5.30 p. m.
Close—7.15 a. m., 12.30, 4.00 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA.

Arrive—7.30, 8.40 and 11.30 a. m., 12.30, 5.30, 9.00, 11.30 p. m.
Close—7.15, 7.30, 9.30 a. m., 12.30, 4.00, 6.00, 11.30 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL, West.

Close—1.00 and 7.15 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL, East.

Close—12.30, 6.30, 7.15 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA, West.

Close—12.30 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct.

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 2.30, 5.30 p. m.
Close—7.15 a. m., 2.30, 4.00 p. m.

Arrive—8.40 a. m., 2.30, 5.30 p. m., midnight.
Close—7.15, 7.30 a. m., 1.00, 2.30 and 4.30 p. m.

WATCHUNG, WARREN VILLE—Over

Arrive—12.30 p. m.
Close—3.00 p. m.

WATCHUNG

Close—5.30 p. m.
Arrive—8.45 p. m.

SUNDAY MAILS.

Office open from 9.30 to 10.30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6.15 p. m.

E. H. BIRD, P. M.

1908 CADILLAC CARS

Runabouts - $800
Touring Cars - $950
4 Cyl. Cars - $2,000

A. C. THOMPSON AUTO CO.

413 Park Ave. Tel. 991-J

Mrs. John Brown,

Successor to
John Burke and Jones & Co.

Cesspools and Vaults Cleaned from $3.00 Upwards.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Don't give your order until you consult me. Estimates cheerfully given.

Leave orders at
J. T. Vail's, North avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

FRANK BURKE, Manager.

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST

VOL. XXXIX. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1907. NO. 48.

"Support the Constitution, which is the Cement of the Union, as well in its Limitations as in its Authorities."—Madison.

POLAKS BIG CELEBRATION

South Plainfield Colony Plans Demonstration in the Borough Tomorrow.

J. W. MANHATTAN MANAGER.

Polish Military Societies from New York, Yonkers, Newark and Bound Brook To Join the In Festivities.

Coming to this city from all parts of the State, with delegations from New York city and Yonkers, Polish military organizations will hold a big parade through the city and borough tomorrow evening, after special Polish mass at St. Joseph's church in the morning, and will conclude a day of festival at Saengerbund hall tomorrow night, where there will be a theatrical performance and a dance. It is expected that 1,000 men will be in line for the parade in the morning, and the line of march includes the principal streets of city and borough.

J. W. Manhattan is chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, and will act as chief marshal of the parade. Chief of Police Patrick J. Kelly and Chief Marshal Theo. Weiss have been invited to march with him at the head of the line. The members of the Seventh battery brigade, of Polish artillery, of South Plainfield, will have forty men in line, commanded by A. Phillips, president of the Polish society there. Other members of the committee include Stanley Stroke, of the borough, and J. Bogaslewicz. Aside from companies to come from New York and Yonkers, the Newark Uhlan brigade will be in line with a 16-inch cannon drawn by six horses. Six regiments of Polish lancers from Jersey City march in the parade, and also the First regiment of lancers from Bound Brook. Col. S. Bulwires, of Newark, will be in command of the First brigade from that city.

A feature of the celebration, which is held in various cities of the State annually, will be the drills and salutes to be fired when the line is at the houses of the city and borough officials. In the march, the Polish line will halt in front of the Mayor-elect Samuel Townsend, of the borough, and a salute will be fired from the 16-inch cannon. Special companies will drill in front of the home. When the parade reaches this side of the brook, the line of march to the home of Mayor Charles J. Fisk, on Seventh street, where a salute will be fired and another drill will be held.

The day's festivities will begin with a high mass to be conducted at St. Joseph's church at 9:30 tomorrow morning by Father Miller. At this time there will be the dedication of a new flag recently purchased by the South Plainfield artillery corps. The parade will start from the church at about 11 o'clock, the various out of town companies assembling at the church for the mass, and the line of march will be as follows:

Massing Avenue to Somerset street, to Lincoln place, to Washington avenue, to Myrtle avenue, to residence of Mayor-elect Samuel Townsend, where a salute will be fired and a drill given, to Girard avenue, to Front street, to Grant avenue, to Seventh street, to residence of Mayor Fisk, where a salute will be fired and a drill given, to Park avenue, to Front street, where a stop will be made at the Hotel Waldorf for lunch, to Watchung avenue, to Second street, to Saengerbund Hall, where the parade will disband.

In the evening, the theatrical performance will be given in connection with a dance to be held at Saengerbund Hall. New York talent will furnish the entertainment.

Reception for Miss Noonan.

A reception was tendered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Calkeld to Miss Nora Noonan, who leaves for Washington, D. C., during the coming week, where she will make her home in the future. During the evening Miss Noonan was surprised by a number of her girl friends who presented her with a handsome gold bracelet. The presentation was made by Miss Margaret Egenton. Dancing and games were the features of the evening and at a late hour supper was served. The out-of-town guests were the Misses Mary Caulfield, Teresa Tighe, Margaret McConnell, and the Messrs. Cormick Kenney, William Murphy, John Donelan, Patrick McLaughlin, James Connors, Anthony Murphy, Michael Kenney, Austin Byrne, from New York; the Misses Nellie Fitz Patrick, Mary Delaney, Katherine Fits Patrick, the Messrs. Peter Delaney, John Kenney, James Cox, Peter Fits Patrick and Matthew Delaney, of Elizabeth, and about fifty Plainfield friends. The affair was arranged by Miss Nellie Noonan and Miss Delia Kenney.

—Advertise in The Daily Press.

WISH TO RAISE $15,000 FOR LOCAL HOSPITAL

For the purpose of forming plans whereby subscriptions to the amount of $15,000 can be raised for the support of Muhlenberg Hospital without the usual method of holding carnivals, fairs, etc., a meeting of the Muhlenberg Hospital League was held at te Casino, last night. There were about twenty-five of the 300 members present and the proposition met with general approval. Charles J. Fisk presided as chairman and directed the discussion.

It was decided that under the circumstances it would be wise to give up the holding of carnivals, fairs, etc., with the exception of the annual charity ball and the receipts from that affair will be divided among all the city and borough charities. A motion was made chairman of the committee on solicitors and it was voted that the finance committee from the Board of Governors of the hospital should act in the same capacity for the league. Secretary W. H. Townsend was instructed to inform the committee of the action.

Subscriptions of any amount will be gratefully received and it is proposed to make a systematic canvas of the city and borough.

DR. F. C. ARD TO WED MISS ETHELWYN HOYT

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Ethelwyn Hoyt, daughter of Mrs. Florence R. Hoyt, of West Seventh street, and Dr. Frank C. Ard, of Park avenue. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's mother on Thursday afternoon, December 12. It will be one of the society events of the season for all Plainfield's fashionable folk are expected to attend the nuptial ceremony.

Dr. Ard is one of the most popular men in local society and is distinguished as an author and specialist, his practise extending through all this section of New Jersey. He is prominent in the Plainfield Country Club. His bride-elect is a daughter of Dr. Eugene F. Hoyt, of No. 69 West Fifty-eighth street, New York. She is a charming member of Plainfield's exclusive set.

DR. HUBBARD TAKES A JERSEY CITY BRIDE

Dr. H. V. Hubbard, of this city, and Miss Viola Bellington, of Jersey City, were married yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride, in Jersey avenue, Jersey City, by Rev. Dr. Arthur, pastor of the North Baptist church of that city. Relatives and friends to the number of 100 were present. The house was handsomely decorated with potted plants and cut flowers.

After a wedding breakfast, Dr. Hubbard and his bride left for a short wedding trip. They will make their home at 420 Central avenue. Dr. Hubbard recently purchased the house in preparation for his marriage.

Dr. Hubbard's best man was his brother, Louis I. Hubbard, a member of the acuity at a boys' school in Rochester, Vt. The maid of honor was a cousin of the bride, Miss Helen Sinclair, of Brooklyn. He is a clinical assistant at the Post Graduate Hospital, New York.

Sunday-school Social a Success.

Progressive games of all kinds combined to furnish a pleasant time at the First Presbyterian church, last night, when a social was held under the auspices of the Sunday-school. Those present were divided into classes and each one would play a game for a limited time and at the sound of a bell all would change. Among the features was a game in which songs were illustrated on a blackboard, the idea being to guess the name. After the program refreshments were served. The committee in charge comprised Miss Katherine Lounsbury, Miss Bessie Bond, Miss Nora Knight, Miss Kelly, Miss Eva Kelly and Miss Leah Hammond.

Funeral of Miss Fitzpatrick.

The funeral of Miss Anna M. Fitzpatrick, who died at her home on West Fifth street, was held this morning in the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Somerville. Rev. Father Bogaard officiated and burial was made in the Catholic cemetery at that place. The pall bearers were Patrick Melvin, James Frazer, John Leahy and Christopher Ruse, all of this city.

The chief's degree was conferred upon Edward Montross at last night's meeting of Miantonomoh Tribe of Red Men. The members afterward enjoyed a social session.

MISS ELSIE BROKAW WEDS

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. DeWitt Brokaw Becomes Wife of Arthur D. Stout.

AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Rev. Dr. Chambliss Officiates—Two Matrons of Honor—Several Hundred Friends Present.

Miss Elsie Isabel Brokaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel DeWitt Brokaw, of Sycamore avenue, and Arthur Dunham Stout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fitz Randolph Stout, of New Brunswick, were married at the First Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock last night in the presence of an assemblage of society people from New York, Brooklyn, Montclair, Newark, New Brunswick and this city.

The bride had for her attendants Mrs. Charles Francis Cowing, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Edward T. Wilson, of Sycamore avenue, as matrons of honor, and Miss Marion McCutcheon, Miss Elizabeth Curtis and Miss Emily Stout, as bridesmaids. The best man was Frank Middleditt, of the borough, and the ushers were DeWitt Pierce Brokaw and Dr. Norman H. Probasco, of this city; Dr. Robert Cook and Alfred Meacham, of New York.

The bridal party was noteworthy for the handsome display of gowns. That worn by the bride was of white satin, trimmed with duchess and point lace and she carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The ornament was a pearl and diamond circle, the gift of the groom. The matrons-of-honor were gowned in irredescent spangled robes over pale green silk and trimmed with green satin. The bridesmaids' gowns were of white chiffon cloth over silk, trimmed with roses and bands of pale green satin. The matrons-of-honor and bridesmaids all carried bouquets of pink chrysanthemums.

As the bridal party entered the church, Howard Case, organist, accompanied by cello, rendered the Lohengrin wedding march. The ushers led the way, followed by the matrons-of-honor, the bridesmaids and the bride, accompanied by her father, who gave her in marriage. They met the groom and best man at the altar, they having entered the edifice from the front, in company with the officiating minister, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor, who performed the ceremony. The wedding march from Mendelssohn was played as the party and guests left the church.

The edifice was lavishly decorated with palms and white chrysanthemums all banked about the pulpit platform. At the home of the bride's parents, where a reception followed, the decorations were very attractive. In the reception room the colors were green and white, while in the dining-room they were red and white. The hallway was decorated chiefly with palms and ferns.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Stout left on an extended trip through the south. They will reside in Plainfield. The exchange of gifts among those of the bridal party, included, aside from the pearl and diamond circle received by the bride from the groom, stick pins for the ushers and hat pins for the matrons-of-honor and bridesmaids. The bride received a wealth of presents, comprising about everything one might wish for.

The bride is well-known in Plainfield and North Plainfield society, where she has been prominent in many social functions among the younger set. She has also been active as a member of the First Baptist church and Sunday-school. The groom formerly resided in New Brunswick, but during recent years has been engaged in the poultry business at Watchung. He is a graduate of Brown University, Class '99. During the winter season he has made his home at Truell Court.

Among the many delightful social functions in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dunham Stout, was a dinner given Monday night by the parents of the bride at their home, for members of the bridal party. Covers were laid for seventeen, the following being present:

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel DeWitt Brokaw, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dunham Stout, Leslie and DeWitt Pierce Brokaw, Miss Emily Stout, Lewis Stout, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis Cowing, Miss Elizabeth Curtis, Miss Marion McCutcheon, James Middleditth, Dr. Norman H. Probasco, Alfred Meacham and Dr. Robert Cook, the last two named of New York.

Sheriff Ross' First Jury.

Sheriff Frank Ross, of Somerville, drew his first jury at that place today. The members from North Plainfield are: Chen. Davis, Frank Cleaves, Albert Brokaw, Caleb H. Mills, Jacob Long. Those from Warren township are Israel B. Adams, Fred Ortman and D. D. Coddington.

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM

Six Ministers Will Take Part in the Union Services Tomorrow Morning.

SERVICES IN OTHER CHURCHES.

Stores to Be Closed and Schools, Too—P. O. Open Until 10 a. m.—Public Library's Hours.

The Union Thanksgiving service under the auspices of the local churches will be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock, when a program of special interest will be followed. Rev. Jos. F. S. Zelie, pastor of the church, will preside and conduct the opening exercises.

President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving proclamation will be read by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church, and a prayer will be offered by Rev. E. E. Roberson, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church. The general Thanksgiving prayer and invocation will be by Rev. Dr. C. S. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. A. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, and Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church, will lead the congregation in reciting the Lord's Prayer.

The customary services will be held at Grace Episcopal church tomorrow morning at 7 and 10 o'clock. At the latter hour there will be a sermon by Rev. R. Vicar Stevenson.

There will be early Celebration at St. Stephen's Episcopal church at 7:30, matins at 10 o'clock and high celebration with sermon by the rector, Rev. A. S. Peck, at 10:30 o'clock.

There will be one service at the Church of the Holy Cross at 10:30, when the rector, Rev. George A. Warner, will conduct the prescribed service of the church.

The Roman Catholics churches will also hold services. At St. Mary's church a special Thanksgiving service with sermon by Rev. B. M. Bogan, will be held. There will be early mass at St. Joseph's church at 7 o'clock and at 9:30 o'clock there will be high mass and sermon by Father Miller and "The Blessing of the Flag," at which time the Polish Society of South Plainfield and Plainfield will attend.

The local merchants will close their stores for the day, as usual, and there will be a general suspension of busines. The circulating department of the public library will be closed and the reading room will be open from 2 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Among the sporting events for the day will be the cross country golf tournament at the Plainfield Country Club and a chase by the Watching Hunt Club. In the morning a football game will be played by the South Plainfield High School alumni teams being picked for the contest.

The first entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. star course will be held in the association auditorium tomorrow evening, when the Lotus Glee Club and Mr. Munie Hindel, reader. The members of the quartet, aside from Charles L. Lewis, instructor of music at the city high school, are Harvey Windermeyer, G. Morgan Strickletl and George Bemus. Frank J. Smith is the conductor.

Lecture on American Authors.

The first in the series of lectures on American authors to be given by Rev. William R. Mulford, rector of All Saints' church, will take place at the home of Mrs. H. LeRoy Whitney, No. 129 East Seventh street, on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The topic will be "Oliver Wendell Holmes." On Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 11, at the same hour, he will talk on James Fenimore Cooper, at the home of Mrs. Lemuel W. Serrell, 964 West Seventh street.

No Answer to Call Yet.

The members of the Seventh-Day Baptist church have not as yet received a reply to the call extended to Prof. Edward B. Shaw, of Milton College, Milton, Wis., to become their pastor. Prof. Shaw now teaches chemistry and Latin at Milton College and also preaches occasionally, the pulpit committee says. It is the hope of the church that he may accept the call.

Charged With Assault.

James Henry, a local young man, was arraigned in the city court, this morning, charged by Julia Brodonsky, a young Polish girl, with assault. He pleaded not guilty to the charge but on the testimony was held in $100 bail to await the action of the grand jury. The amount was furnished.

A Drawback.

"There is one disadvantage about being a Prohibitionist."

"What is that?"

"One can't consistenly vote a full ticket."—Baltimore American.

CALLS CHILDREN "FIENDS"

Netherwood Woman Flays Young Hopefuls of Neighbors in Her Complaint.

RECITES LONG LIST OF WOES.

Her Story Shows That All Is Not Harmony In One Section of the Fashionable District.

That the children of her next door neighbors are fiends, that she is the most abused and maligned woman in fashionable Netherwood and that the indignities she has undergone have given her attacks of sciatica and other nervous troubles, were part of a string of startling assertions that Mrs. Adelaide Caldwell, of Belvidere avenue, made before Judge Runyon in the city court this morning.

Compelled by five years of persecution, she said, she had restorted to the police to have life made a pleasure instead of a burden and enable her to continue living in the house that she bought and paid for and which is her own private "castle." She didn't wish to have her rich and fashionable neighbors in court, Mrs. Caldwell said, but she did want relief and she demanded that she be given it immediately or she would be in a state of collapse.

"It's all due to those children next door," she exclaimed to Judge Runyon and Chief Kiely, "as they are utterly out of the control of their parents and anyway the fathers and mothers countenance anything they do. It's terrible the way I have suffered. They have broken the windows in my home, they use my beautiful terrace for coasting in wagons and sleds, they sneak into my cellar to see what I have there and then tell the contractants in order to so that they come over and offer to buy things that I have stored away, and when I say anything to the children they jeer and hoot at me. Why, Judge, honestly, the coachman of the family next to me shattered my stone steps by using them without permission."

When Judge Runyon ventured to ask if she was sure the coachman had "shattered" the steps she said he most assuredly had.

"My husband advised me to move away," she continued, "but that would give too much satisfaction to the parents. The whole trouble is due to pure maliciousness and something is surely not right and one will be a sick woman. My doctor says I shouldn't talk too much about this trouble as I have bronchial trouble and my throat will be affected."

When Chief Kiely ventured to ask if a certain Mr. Caldwell had been one of her annoyers, Mrs. Caldwell exclaimed in withering tones:

"Charlie Blank's son is, yes. He's not entitled to the respectful address of "Mr." As far as I'm concerned it's plain Charlie Blank."

The recital of Mrs. Caldwell's troubles required a full half hour to hear and when she had rattled on for that length of time she said in conclusion:

"Well, I think I've talked enough but anyway I wouldn't have entered this court if a neighbor hadn't recommended Chief Kiely to me as being a most beautiful and accommodating man and I am entitled to protection."

Mrs. Caldwell was assured that she was right in surmising that she had talked enough and she was promised that the wheels of justice would be set in motion. Consequently if the young "fiends" continue their maliciousness, some wealthy Netherwood fathers and mothers may be lined up in the city court on her complaint.

DINNERS FOR POOR.

Congregational C. E. Society Provides Them.

Under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church a Thanksgiving entertainment was held in the church parlors last night. It afforded an opportunity for members of the society as well as the church to make donations for Thanksgiving dinners to be sent to a number of poor families. Donations of fruits, vegetables, etc., as well as money were liberal. The dinners will be distributed under the direction of James McClymont, Jr., president of the society.

During the evening an excellent entertainment was provided by Emil Closs, impersonator; William Spier, violinist; Robert Spier, pianist, and Miss Nora B. Schenck, soprano. The artists were well received, and the hour's entertainment was much enjoyed. The affair was in charge of the missionary committee of which Miss Bessie Millar is chairman.

Michael A. Hinton and his sister, Miss Pattie V. Hinton, of East Third street, returned yesterday from a visit to the Jamestown Exposition.

LANEHART WILL FORGED SO WITNESSES TESTIFY

The trial of William H. Skillman, of Belle Mead, who is charged with forging the will of his friend and neighbor, William Lanehart, was continued yesterday before Judge Boorasem, of New Brunswick, at Somerville. The State produced a number of witnesses who were familiar with the handwriting of the deceased, and all testified that, in their opinion, the signature to the will was not genuine.

Miss Laura Kellogg, who was housekeeper for Lanehart for a number of years, said she had frequently seen him sign his name to documents, and, in her opinion, the signature to the disputed will was a forgery.

Alfred S. Osborne, a handwriting expert, said the signature was not Lanehart's. He declared that where the signature to the will departed in its characteristics from the undisputed signatures of Lanehart they agreed with the characteristics of the writing in the body of the will.

Photographs of Lanehart's signature were introduted among the jurors. The case was continued today.

DR. F. J. HUGHES WEDS MISS LORETTA FLANNAGAN

Miss Loretta Flannagan, daughter of Mrs. Catharine Flannagan, of West Sixth street, and Dr. Frederick J. Hughes, of Somerset street, were married in St. Mary's church at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Delehanty, and was witnessed only by relatives and a few immediate friends. It was originally planned to have the wedding today but the date had been changed in order to comply with the sailing time of the Bermuda boat, the couple leaving today for the islands to spend their honeymoon.

Miss Flannagan had as her attendant Miss Lydia Hughes, sister of the groom. The best man was Dr. P. J. Zeglio, who has been closely associated with Dr. Hughes in his medical practice. There were no other members of the bridal party.

Upon their return from the Bermudas, Dr. and Mrs. Hughes will make their home on Somerset street.

The groom is one of the best known of the younger practitioners in the city and borough. He graduated from the Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons and was one of the honor men of the class. After completing his course he served four years in New York hospitals and for the same length of time has practiced in Plainfield. His bride is the daughter of the late P. J. Flannagan and is also very well known.

Radiator Company's Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Ackroyd True Radiator Company, a local concern having a factory at New Brunswick, was held at the offices in the Woodhull & Martin building this morning. The following officers were elected: President, T. Woodhull; vice president, James P. Powers; secretary, John H. Ackroyd; treasurer, Edson C. Martin. A. S. Hollingsworth, of Sotch Plains, was elected a director. The reading of the annual report showed the business to be in a very prosperous condition and was the occasion for much congratulation from the stockholders.

Working Fraud Scheme.

Pastor J. O. McKelvey and officials of Warren chapel were informed today that two children had been visiting borough residents soliciting funds for the new chapel. No one has been authorized to do this and the work of the children is a swindling scheme. A short time ago the chapel officials were much annoyed by two little girls doing the same thing and it was thought that the practice had been stopped. Residents of the city and borough are requested to make no contributions to anyone purporting to be collecting for the fund.

P. S. C. Gets Busy.

Under the direction of City Engineer J. J. Gavett everybody got busy on west street, today, showing that the agitation yesterday on the part of the merchants was fruitful. The trolley company has had two large cars and a gang of men employed all day removing dirt and to-night Mr. Gavett ordered out a part of the city street gang with several horses and carts to haul the dirt away. Under the present condition that thoroughfare should be cleared of obstructions within a short time.

—Neuman Brothers' store will be open until 9:30 tonight in order to enable patrons to obtain orders for Thanksgiving goodies. Their assortment continues to be the largest in the city.

—Daily Press want ads. pay.

AUTOIST'S HEROIC ACT SAVES A CHILD'S LIFE

To Prevent Running Down of Little Girl, Drove Machine Into Pile of Bricks.

CHILD ESCAPES SERIOUS INJURY

Dr. Waterman, of New York, Owner of the Car, His Wife and a Friend Figure in the Accident.

Preferring to risk his own life and that of his wife and a friend in the machine with him, Dr. Whitney Waterman, of New York, today sent his automobile crashing into a pile of bricks at the junction of North and Park avenues to avoid striking Grace Alcorn, an eight-year-old girl living at 332 East Front street.

A wheel of the car struck the child a glancing blow and she was knocked to one side while Dr. and Mrs. Waterman and Mrs. Maynard, of Evergreen avenue, were pitched forward on top of the bricks. They escaped with a slight shaking up but the little girl was cut and bruised about the face and was taken to Armstrong's drug store for treatment. She was afterward sent to her home in a cab.

Dr. Waterman was proceeding up Park avenue toward North avenue and when almost at the corner Miss Alcorn started to cross in front of the machine. She suddenly stopped and then turned back only to reverse the movement as the driver attempted to go around her. He applied the emergency brake but he was so close to the child his only alternative was to steer the machine directly into the brick pile, left standing by the street improving contractor, to avoid running her down. The latter decided upon it at the instant and had only time to warn Mrs. Waterman and Mrs. Maynard to hold tight when the collision occurred.

The auto was jammed into the bricks, smashing the front and springing the whole frame. The moment it stopped the owner jumped to the ground and picking up the child carried her into the pharmacy. It was believed at first that her nose was broken and the child was beside herself with fear that she would be scarred for life and this gave her more concern than her hurts. As soon as the blood was washed from her face she called for a mirror in order to have a look at her features.

Dr. Waterman's feat was witnessed by a dozen people who unhesitatingly declared that it was an act of heroism seldom seen.

Club In Flourishing Condition.

The officers and directors of the Plainfield Riding and Driving Association met at the Casion Monday night and received complete reports of the past year, including the last horse show. These showed the club to be in a flourishing financial condition and stronger than ever before. There was a discussion of plans for next year's show and it was decided to make it the equal of the last one and better if possible. Assurances already have been received of strong support from all the previous exhibitors and it is quite likely that a number of new ones will be included in the list.

Basketball Tomorrow.

The basketball five of the Y. M. C. A. will play the team of the Naval Reserves, of Hoboken, at the association gymnasium tomorrow afternoon. The game, which is the first regular game of the season for the local five, will be called at 3:30. Between the halves, the second team of the Y. M. C. A. will play the five representing the business men's class.

LeRoy Brown in Court.

LeRoy Brown, the New Market young man who was indicted on a charge of horse stealing preferred by Adam Blair, was arrraigned in the Union county court yesterday. He pleaded not guilty and furnished bonds for his appearance later. Brown had been held on a similar charge in Middlesex county but was recently released.

Fire at Asylum.

Morristown, Nov. 27.—A fire, which started from some mysterious cause on the top floor of the house occupied by the women nurses employed in the Morris Plains State Insane Asylum at midnight, created great excitement in the hospital proper.

—For best results try The Daily Press.

DEFENDS THE PRESIDENT

James Martine Lauds Roosevelt at Democratic Banquet and Reception.

IN MR. KATZENBACH'S HONOR.

The "Farm-Orator" Electrifies Fellow-Guests at the Democratic League of the State Dinner at Trenton.

Under the auspices of the Democratic League of the State of New Jersey, a reception to Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., the defeated candidate for Governor, was given Thursday, at Trenton, and among the speakers of the evening was James E. Martine, who worked zealously during the campaign for the Democratic man's election.

In his speech Mr. Martine said:

"You, Frank Katzenbach, should be a happy man though there what more magnificent compliment and tribute can be paid a man than the earnest and hearty plaudits of your fellow-citizens as have been given you here. Your life has been one of victory. You have never tasted of defeat in your political struggles. You are a bigger and grander man in defeat than you have ever been in victory. For while in material things defeat may be death and annihilation in contention for principles defeat have not blotted out a truth or annihilated a principle.

"The thought and truth is brighter after the contest than before it is begun. The Democratic party is not one of retrogression but of progress. Never in the history of our State was a platform more progressive in Democratic principles or American ideals than was our late platform upon which Mr. Katzenbach ran and it deserved a better fate at the hands of the people. That our candidate was ideal and our cause just, we know. The disposition on the part of a certain element of our people was to find fault with President Roosevelt for intermeddling, as the cause for our financial disturbance. I feel as though nothing was further from the truth, that he had simply thrown back the screen and portrayed the condition of rotteness that prevailed in our land as the result of the seed that was sown. I say advisedly that every act that had made Roosevelt the idol of the people, and he was popular, had been the result of putting into force and place Democratic thoughts and ideas as adopted in the platforms of the Democratic party.

"No one can question the fact that corruption and misgovernment has been rife in our commonwealth. I feel that the hope of our people is in the change of partisan administration in our State, as would have been administered by men of Frank Katzenbach's calibre."

Mr. Martine closed his speech by picturing a brighter day and happier dawn for the Democratic party in the State of New Jersey. He pleaded earnestly that the nation's cities and hamlets that the party might be prepared for the great fight to take place one year from today when a President will be placed in nomination before the people of this country. After stating that he had personal preferences toward one great leader who had polled 3,500,000 votes in a recent contest, he would bow humbly to the decision of those whose duty it was in convention to place in nomination the Democratic candidate.

ELECTION OFFICERS' PAY

Clause in Law of 1903 Reveals Illegality of $30 Fee Now Paid.

FREEHOLDERS AGREE ON $25.

County Attorney Codington's Decision As Reported to the Board Is Agreed Upon.

The Union County Board of Freeholders met at Elizabeth Thursday to pay the election bills. The total sum authorized to be paid to the election officers was $18,500. It was officially declared by the board that according to the interpretation of the State law, the amounts to be paid election officers as as follows:

In districts where the registry is less than 150, $15; in districts where the registry is 1,500 and less than 300, $20; and $25 in districts where the registry is 300 or over.

All of the freeholders voted to pay the officers according to the present law, but Freeholder J. Hervey Doane took occasion to say that he believed the officers are paid too little and he would be in favor of an act that would give them at least the extra $5 which was cut off this year.

An explanation of the law as contained in the following resolution adopted by the Board was submitted by County Attorney W. B. Codington and approved by the committee in the first instance:

"Whereas, a question has arisen as to the amount that should be paid to the various election officers throughout the county for services rendered at the last general election.

"And whereas, it appears that the law regulating payment for said services was twice amended by the Legislature of this State as found in the laws of 1903 on page 628 and page 711 respectively; the former amendment being approved April 14, 1903, and the latter amendment being approved April 15, 1903.

"And whereas, this Board has been advised that the payment to the various election officers for said services rendered, should be made in accordance with the following provisions, to wit: $15 in districts where the number of registered voters is not more than 150; $20 in districts where the number of registered voters is more than 150 and not more than 300; and $25 in districts where the number of registered voters is more than 300; said sums to be paid by the county collector, and to be in lieu of all other fees and charges whatsoever.

"And whereas the majority of the bills presented to this board are for a greater amount than provided for in the above schedule, to wit:

"And whereas, this board is willing and desirous that said various election officers should be paid the full amount which the law will permit; but realizing that to sanction and approve the payment of a greater amount than is authorized by law, would subject this Board to criticism and prosecution.

"Therefore, be it Resolved, That the county collector, is hereby authorized to pay to the various election officers throughout the county of Union for services rendered at the last general election, the amounts to which said officers are entitled according to the number of registered voters in their respective districts as above specified; and that said payments be made without prejudice to either said election officers, or this Board of same, to collect in case it should afterward be determined by judicial decision of our Supreme Court, that said payments so made, were not the full amount to which said election officers were, under the law, entitled, that the payments hereby authorized, would in no way bar or prevent a recovery for the balance.

"Dated November 21, 1907.

"Respectfully submitted,

"J. N. CADY,

"S. P. T. WILBUR,

"NOAH WOODRUFF,

"Auditing Committee."

CHURCH FAIR A SUCCESS

"Mother Goose" Bazaar at the Holy Cross Parish House Nets Good Sum.

BOOTHS DID BIG BUSINESS.

Many Partook of Mother Goose Turkey Dinner At Closing of the Novel Fair Last Night.

The unpleasant weather Thursday seemed to have no effect on the success of the "Mother Goose" bazaar, held at Holy Cross church parish house, and it is reported that more money was taken in at the various booths and in the supper room than on the opening night of the affair. Many thanks are due those on the general committee in charge, has not been able to figure up the financial report, but, though the expenses will be heavy, it is believed that several hundred dollars will be cleared. Assisting Mrs. Byrnes on the general committee were Rev. and Mrs. George A. Warner, Miss Ida Davis, Mrs. George O. Stevens, Mrs. I. R. Murray, Mrs. Henry A. Woodruff and Mrs. Emil G. Larrason.

Many of the parishioners came early so as to partake of the "Mother Goose" turkey dinner before spending the evening at the various booths. The fancy articles and good things to eat, which were for sale at the pretty decorated booths in charge of the women of the parish, and in several cases, the supply of articles offered was disposed of before the evening was over. More than a hundred diners partook of the turkey supper, the menu of which is printed below:

SOUP—CREAM OF TOMATO

"She gave them some broth without any bread"

OLIVES PICKLES

"Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers"

Roasts

ROAST TURKEY—Cranberry Sauce

"Old Mother Hubbard went to the cupboard to get her poor dog a bone"

ROAST BEEF

"Taffy came to my house and stole a piece of beef"

Vegetables

MASHED POTATOES

GREEN PEAS CELERY

"She went to market all on a market day"

WHITE BREAD AND BUTTER

of Tommy Tucker's best quality

Dessert

APPLE PIE PUMPKIN PIE

"Simple Simon met a Pieman going to the fair"

RICE PUDDING

Kindly provided by the cow that jumped over the moon

COFFEE

"One, two, three, how good they be, I love coffee and Billy loves tea."

"The dish ran away with the spoon"

Souvenir menu cards, designed by Miss Florence Stevens, were much in demand by the diners. Among those who acted as waitresses under the direction of Miss Ruth Burt were the Misses Kate Brow, Jean Saunders, Iola Moore, Agnes Van Norden, Helen Sutton, Eunice Watson, Helen Harrington, Claire Kenworthy, Susan Bennett and Jane Bennett.

LIBERAL CONTRIBUTIONS FOR THE HARVEST HOME

Liberal contributions of fruits, vegetables, dry groceries and cash were received at the Nurses' Home of the Plainfield Hospital on Thursday, for the annual harvest home reception. The affair was an enjoyable one, although the weather greatly effected the attendance. A feature during the hours of the reception was a popular program rendered by the orchestra from the Plainfield High School, under the direction of S. B. Howe, Jr., the instructor.

Special commendation is due to the pupils of the Plainfield and North Plainfield public schools, also the Parochial school, as well as the teachers of the Franklin school, all of whom sent generous supplies of useful things. The donations from the public schools and the Parochial school in charge of Mrs. Edward E. Love, while Mrs. George P. Mellick and an able corps of assistants, members of the auxiliary board, took charge of the reception of donations. About $50 was received in small amounts from those who did not send fruits, vegetables, etc.

During the afternoon tea was served. Those who poured were Mrs. W. T. Pelletier, Mrs. F. D. Warren and Mrs. J. S. Belle. They were assisted by Miss Imogene Bass and Mrs. Harry Squires in serving. The social features were much enjoyed and many attending took occasion to visit the hospital and learn something of the work being done there. The nurses' Home was decorated, as usual, in harvest home style, there being a profusion of pumpkins, corn, the stalks and other vegetables of the season.

They act quickly upon the enamel, bringing cavities as well as yellowness.

CONCERNING WOMEN.

As a general rule, girls of the poorer classes have far more beautiful hair than the children of the wealthy. So much is this the case that a Parisian doctor says that one can easily recognize, by the superior quality of their hair, those girls in society whose parents have risen from poverty to wealth.

One woman has an album which she calls her shadowgraph. In it are pasted the profiles in shadow of her friends. "My shadowgraph is a character book," said she. "There is a great deal to be learned in the study of profiles. You have no idea how much you can ascertain regarding a person's character just from the study of the side face."

It now develops that through all Mr. Sage's long life Mr. Sage was his second right hand. She had his business confidence. She counseled and advised with him and long before his death he drew up and laid before he plans which are now being executed to help make the so-cial and spiritual world better. Mrs. Sage is displaying business qualities in her conduct of the estate which the world never divined she possessed. In her married life was extremely happy. Mr. Rockefeller has given away to education, churches and other public institutions more than $100,000,000. It is well known that Mrs. Rockefeller is his strongest business adviser. There are few important transactions in which he may be engaged that she is not consulted about. Vice President Fairbanks will not make a move that may affect his public future without consultation with his wife. The affairs of the national Republican convention of 1900 were halted until he could consult her as to whether he should withdraw from the race for the Vice Presidential nomination or not and it was the present Mrs. Sage who urged President McKinley's choice for the Presidency in 1904, a choice which probably would have been ratified if the Canton man had lived. Masterful and impetus in many things as President Roosevelt is, Mrs. Alden is the partner in that which most concerns his life. He goes to her for guidance, as she looks to him for

Did you know that there is a correct and an incorrect way to hold the saucer in which your teacup rests? The correct way consists in whether or not it is held gracefully. Watch the woman at an afternoon tea and you will see that not all, indeed few, handle the cup and saucer in the most engaging way. Here is the correct way: Place the middle of the saucer with the four fingers placed beneath it and the thumb above the rim—as nearly every woman does—form a half circle with the thumb and first finger, clasping the saucer in it, and giving a slight support from below with the second and fourth fingers. A woman who does this may have the largest hands in the room, but they will appear the most graceful and charmingly managed.

He Was Examined.

Francois Arago, the great French scientist, was a precocious youth. He was prepared for the rigid examinations of the Polytechnique long before he was seventeen years old. The examiner was almost brutal in his manner toward the young candidates. A favorite companion of Arago was badly frightened at the severe questions and failed to pass the examination. At length Arago's turn came.

"Young man," said the examiner sternly, "you are probably is ignorant as your companion. I advise you to go and study another year before you risk this examination."

"Monsieur," replied the boy, "timidity was all that prevented my companion from passing. He knew much more than he seemed to know."

"Timidity!" exclaimed the examiner. "The excuse of fools! Perhaps you are timid also."

"Far from it," returned Arago shortly.

"Take care. It would be wise to spare yourself the disgrace of being rejected!"

"The disgrace for me would lie in not being examined," said the young candidate proudly.

Arago's solution of the problems set before him was so accurate and so brilliant that at last his examiner sprang from his chair and, throwing his arms about the boy's neck in delight, exclaimed:

"Bravo! If you are not received into the Ecole Polytechnique, no one will be admitted."

And Arago then began a career which added greatly to the stock of human knowledge.

AMERICAN AUTHORS TO BE HIS SUBJECT

Rev. William R. Mulford, a recognized authority on American literature and the pastor of All Saints' Episcopal church, Scotch Plains, has promised to give a course of three lectures on the foremost literary authors. He has chosen as his subjects Oliver Wendell Holmes, the father of Associate Justice Holmes of the United States Supreme Court; J. Fenimore Cooper, the author of Leatherstocking Tales and other internationally famous volumes of Indian fiction, and Washington Irving, the renowned writer of "The Knickerbockers History of New York, and many other equally excellent works.

Dr. Mulford's talk on Mr. Holmes, the author of "The Autocrat at the Breakfast Table," will be given at the home of Mrs. H. Leroy Baker, No. 329 East Seventh street, on Wednesday afternoon, December 4, at 3 o'clock. His lecture on Cooper, the New Jersey fiction writer, will take place at the home of Mrs. Charles W. William Serrell on Wednesday evening, December 11, at 3 o'clock. The date and place for his discourse on Irving has not been announced.

HENRY W. LOWE WEDS QUIETLY IN NEW YORK

Henry W. Lowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Lowe, formerly of Park avenue, but now of New York, and Miss Marie Leary, daughter of Mrs. James D. Leary, of 722 Fifth avenue, New York, were married at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Father Laveile, of St. Patrick's Cathedral, performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Daniel J. Leary.

Miss Beth Leary, a niece of the bride, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Mary Mortimer, of New York, and Mary Easton, of Albany. Oakleigh Thorne, of New York, was best man, and the ushers were W. H. Cheesebrough, R. E. Dwight, Arlo Pardee and W. N. Davey, of New York. After a wedding trip in the south the couple will reside in the Mayfair Apartments, Fifty-seventh street and Park avenue, New York.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

OFFICIAL.

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, N. J., held on Thursday, November 7th, 1907, at 2:30 p. m. Roll call showed the following members present: Director Kinsley, Freeholders Adams, Cady, Cladek, Darby, Doane, Fay, Gruener, Jones, Krause, Maurer, Meisel, Perry, Pierson, Robinson, Smith, Swain, Wilbur and Woodruff —19. Absent, Freeholder Donahue —1.

The minutes of the previous meeting, were on motion of Freeholder Cady, approved as per printed copies mailed to members.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Township Clerk of Springfield, as follows:

Springfield, N. J., Nov. 2, 1907.

Mr. J. Edward Leeder appeared before the committee and complained about the water running in on his property and requested that same be carried down to the corner of Springfield and Morris avenues. The committee would respectfully request that you take the matter up for adjustment as the property is on the county road.

Very truly yours,

Olin D. Sickle, Township Clerk.

On motion the Freeholder Krause received and referred to the committee on county roads and Freeholder Meisel of Springfield Township.

From Elizabeth Tiffany, chairman, etc.:

Plainfield, N. J., Nov. 1, 1907.

For the two or more the establishment of a workhouse in Union county has been a subject much discussed. An able pamphlet on the subject written by Rev. Henry Scott Mott, D. D., a member of the Union County Committee of the S. C. A. Association, which was given wide circulation in Union county in 1904, and this matter was the result of the long experience of those who had dispensed charity in our midst, that the present system of fines as a deterrent influence for short term offenders.

Indeed, some are returned to the institution time and time again and seem to welcome the comfortable quarters, finding the life easier behind the bars than when subject to work by the terms of their fines. Probably the Union county jail is the best managed in the State, and the fault is in the system, which fails to exact hard labor. The present system, sentence suspended by the judge, knowing its futility and uselessness of burdening the county with the support of these persons who fail.

The committee of the Union county committee was appointed last spring composed of Mrs. Dester Tiffany, chairman; Mrs. Phillip E. Wilhelmy, Mrs. Charles E. Ryder, Rev. Henry Elliott Mott, D. D., and Rev. Charles L. Coader, to consider the practicability of the establishment of a workhouse in Union county, or the combination of two counties for the purpose, a place to be shunned on account of the hard labor and few comforts.

Mercer county has a workhouse which in some respects would probably serve as a model for Union county. Judges and others in touch with the criminal classes have approved of the plan and it remains for the committee to ask for the necessary legislation by you gentlemen of the Chosen Board of Freeholders.

Further in behalf of the committee I would ask that you give it a hearing early in December, for a full discussion of the matter.

I am, yours very truly, Elisabeth Tiffany, chairman Union county committee of the State Charities Aid Association of N. J.

Freeholder Krouse moved that the communication be received and referred to a special committee of five, together with the county attorney and county collector, which was so ordered by unanimous consent, and appointed as the said committee Freeholders Krouse, Cady, Pierson, Meisel and Swain.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By the committee to settle with the county collector:

Elizabeth, N. J., Nov. 1, 1907.

Your committee to settle with the county collector respectfully report, that they have examined his books showing his receipts and disbursements together with his vouchers, bonds and coupons paid, and bank books, and we find the same agree and are correct in every particular.

His total receipts from the beginning of the fiscal year (January 1, 1907) to November 1, 1907 ..... $583,496 85

His total disbursements. 517,731 20

Leaving a balance in bank of .....$ 65,765 65

Respectfully, Henry Krouse, John N. Cady, Charles A. Smith, committee.

On motion of Freeholder Cladek the report was received and placed on file.

By the committee on public grounds and buildings:

The undersigned committee, to whom was referred the matter of purchasing the lot adjoining the county road property on the line of Rahway avenue, beg to report that they have investigated the matter, and have ascertained that said lot can be purchased for the sum of twenty-seven hundred and fifty dollars (2750), and are of the opinion that it would be advantageous to acquire said lot for the purpose of the use of the county; and realizing that by reason of the rapid growth of the county, thereby necessarily creating a constant increase in the county business, we consider that it will be wise and advantageous that this board avail itself of the opportunity of purchasing said lot at the present time, and before the same is disposed of or improved by the erection or construction of any dwelling or other buildings thereon.

We therefore advise the purchase of the same at the price above named, and recommend the adoption of the resolution hereto attached.

Dated November 7, 1907.

Respectfully submitted, Henry Krouse, J. N. Cady, Noah Woodruff, public grounds and buildings committee.

The following resolution was attached to the foregoing report:

Whereas, The vacant lot adjoining the court house property on Rahway avenue has been offered for sale to this board for the sum of twenty-seven hundred and fifty dollars ($2750); and

Whereas, It is deemed advisable and necessary that said property should be purchased by this board for the use of the county;

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the building committee of this board be authorized to negotiate and purchase said property from P. J. Ryan, the present owner of the same, for the county, for the sum above named, to wit, the sum of twenty-seven hundred and fifty dollars (2750), and that the title to said premises be taken in the name of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, if upon investigation, it is ascertained that a clear title thereto is perfect; the dimensions of said lot being about forty feet front and rear by one hundred and thirty feet deep.

And that the county collector pay the amount appropriated to suppliants as follows:

The Elizabeth General Hospital
and Dispensary	$ 8,000
Muhlenberg Hospital	5,250
Alexian Brothers Hospital...	,000
St. Elizabeth's Hospital,
Elizabeth	3,750
	$20,000

And be it further Resolved, That the aforesaid amounts be paid by the county collector in January, 1908.

Freeholder Krouse moved the adoption of the foregoing resolutions, and on roll call they were unanimously adopted:

By Freeholder Cady: Resolved, That when this board adjourns it stand adjourned to meet on November 21, 1907, at 2:30 p. m., for the payment of election bills.

On motion of Freeholder Swain the resolution was adopted without dissent.

By Freeholder Perry: Whereas, The wooden box culvert crossing Hillside avenue, at the easterly gutter line of Lawrence avenue, Westfield, N. J., is in very bad condition for travel, and has holes in it, where the wood has rotted away, and should be replaced at once by a new culvert.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to consider the practicability of replacing a new reinforced concrete arch culvert at the place named, the committee to report at the next meeting of this board.

On motion of Freeholder Jones the resolution was adopted without dissent. The director appointed as the said committee Freeholders Perry, Jones and Wilbur.

By Freeholder Fay: Resolved, That the director appoint a committee of three to consider the walks on South Broad street bridge Elizabeth, and report back the advisability of repairing the same, the committee to report at the next meeting.

On motion of Freeholder Cladek the resolution was adopted without dissent. The director appointed as the said committee, Freeholders Fay, Gruener and Robison.

By Freeholder Krouse: Resolved, That a committee be appointed to inspect the bridge over a stream on Linden avenue, township of Linden, and report to this board the advisability and probable cost of replanking the same.

On motion of Freeholder Jones the resolution was adopted without dissent. The director appointed as the said committee, Freeholders Krouse, Doane and Cladek.

By Freeholder Krouse: Resolved, That the county collector pay to the city of Elizabeth the sum of $556.26 for taxes assessed against the land owned by this county on Broad street, in Elizabeth, also the sum of $54.02 for taxes assessed against lands owned by this county on Union street, Elizabeth, the sum of $15.82 for relaying side walk on Broad and Union street, Elizabeth, said payments to be made on or before December 31, 1907.

Freeholder Cladek moved the adoption of the foregoing resolution, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

Freeholder Doane called attention of the board to a claim of $25 made by J. T. Vail for alleged damages to a house owned by him, received on a line bridge between Bound Brook and Somerset county. If the claim should be allowed one-half of the amount would be paid by Somerset county.

No objection being offered the directors referred the matter to the Plainfield freeholders and the county attorney.

The following bills, properly audited, and approved were read, and on roll call unanimously ordered paid, viz:

Salary account—James W. Fink $60, W. R. Coddington 75, S. Rusling Ryno 100, N. R. Leavit 208.33.

Committee expense account—F. L. Graves 22.50, J. N. Cady 15, Noah Woodruff 10.85, Benj. King 17.67, John Robison 4, J. Hervey Doane 36, S. Smith 36, S. P. T. Wilbur 5.65, Elston Darby 36, Robert C. Maurer 9, Peter H. Meisel 15.45, Joseph Perry 10.95, Charles E. Hutchins 15, Bradford Jones 4.90, Henry Krouse 7.90, E. K. Adams 14.55.

Members' pay account—C. A. Smith 40, Noah Woodruff 42, Jno. N. Cady 20, J. Hervey Doane 36, John Robison 14, Benjamin King 46, J. Logan Fay 42, Thomas J. Pierson 35, S. P. T. Wilbur 19, P. H. Meisel 36, Joseph Perry 46, W. R. Swain 20, George B. Cladek 46, Bradford Jones 30, Henry Krouse 40, E. K. Adams 46, John Gruener 48, Robert C. Maurer 20, Elston Darby 58.

Elections account—Elizabeth Eyering Times 13.43, F. L. Graves 28, S. R. Ryno 50, Advocate Pub. Co., 24, Frank D. Jaques 15.

Contingent account—W. R. Townsend 125.

Jail account—Jacob Meloth 12, Jos. Bauer 72c, Wm. H. Lawrence sheriff 706.65, Henry J. Schmidt 14.70.

Maintenance account—F. E. Norris & Co. 20.90, 1.45, 19.25, 13.40, C. Smith & Bros. 87, J. F. Cahill 47.60, Elliott-Fisher Co. 3.95, 1.45, 5.80, 417.76, H. P. Higbie & Co. 23.50, Elizabeth Daily Journal 13, The Standard Pub. Concern 11.50.

Lunacy account—W. R. Coddington 1.05, N. J. State Village of Epileptics 518.19.

State Aid Road account—Wm. H. Welden 13,023.37, J. L. Bauer 578.

Incidental account—Jacob James 2, Wm. H. Fink 12.50, J. J. Savitz 35, American Law Book Co. 6, Wm. H. Welden 22.12, John W. Sailing 10, W. R. Coddington 1.05, Frank M. Smith 327.38, A. M. Runyon & Son, 35.

Publication account—Summit Record 31.25, Courier-News Pub. Co. 31.25, Union Co. Register 31.25, Elizabeth Evening Times 31.25, Elizabeth Daily Journal 31.25, New Jersey Advocate 31.25, New Providence News 31.25, Westfield Leader 31.25, Cranford Chronicle 62.50, The Standard Pub. Concern 31.25, The Cranford Citizen 31.25.

Public Buildings account—F. E. Norris & Co. 53.65, W. H. Hulskamper 133.35, H. P. Vandervere 22, Public Service Corporation of N. J. 154.64, 36.48, Joseph Bauer 11.02, The N. Y. & N. J. Tel. Co. 7.23, 3.50, 4, 9.93, 3.70, 1.55, 9.45, 7.25, 4.75, 1.35, 2.10, 4.90, 1.40, Wm. H. Welden 327.38, A. M. Runyon & Son, 35.

Publication account—Summit Record 31.25, Courier-News Pub. Co. 31.25, New Providence News 31.25, Elizabeth Evening Times 31.25, Elizabeth Daily Journal 31.25, New Jersey Advocate 31.25, New Providence News 31.25, Westfield Leader 31.25, Cranford Chronicle 62.50, The Standard Pub. Concern 31.25, The Cranford Citizen 31.25.

Public Buildings account—F. E. Norris & Co. 53.65, W. H. Hulskamper 133.35, H. P. Vandervere 22, Public Service Corporation of N. J. 154.64, 36.48, Joseph Bauer 11.02, The N. Y. & N. J. Tel. Co. 7.23, 3.50, 4, 9.93, 3.70, 1.55, 9.45, 7.25, 4.75, 1.35, 2.10, 4.90, 1.40, Wm. H. Welden 327.38, A. M. Runyon & Son, 35.

Publication account—Summit Record 31.25, Courier-News Pub. Co. 31.25, New Providence News 31.25, Elizabeth Evening Times 31.25, Elizabeth Daily Journal 31.25, New Jersey Advocate

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Dec. 1. "Self mastery."—I Cor. 9:24-27. "Every man that striveth in the games exerciseth self control in all things."

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

Topic—Self mastery. Prov. xxv. 28; Rom. 6:6-8; Tit. 2. 11-12.

We are learning, and that sometimes rapidly, that the price of success in work is self control. At least this is part of the price which must be paid. Skill in any business is acquired only by practice. The hand has to be trained to any mechanical art. Not only is it necessary to know how to do a task, but the muscles must be so exercised that they can actually accomplish it.

To become a good pitcher in baseball requires long practice. Watch a first class pitcher and see what it takes to deliver the ball well. There is more than arm and finger work to it. The whole man is in it from his head to his toe tips.

Other athletics are of value in teaching the necessity for self mastery. We believe it in those matters. The trouble is we have not fully grasped the meaning of life as a whole. We have got business and pleasure and sport by itself, and religion by itself. We have never combined all in one great whole and realized that life is one vast arena of struggle for mastery. We are in earnest in some things, and to others we are careless and thoughtless.

And the serious thing about it all is that the carelessness is in those matters of most importance and the application is in the minor and frivolous things.

You have perhaps spent some time learning stenography, typewriting, some trade or some branch of business. It took time and effort to become proficient, and you must keep in practice or you will lose much of your skill.

Have you ever set as earnestly about the cultivation of your powers of soul? Indeed, have you ever seriously considered what those powers are? Have you ever been conscious of any lack in that regard? You are well acquainted with your bodily powers and early acquired skill to walk, to talk and a score of other things. You have a good knowledge of your mental powers and have cultivated powers of observation, some reasoning, memory and judgment. How about the soul faculties?

Have you found the need of patience? Have you mastered it? Are you ever incapable of self control under great provocation, or do you go to pieces and get mad? Do you know the value or meaning of gentleness? What do you know of meekness? Has it ever had any value in your estimation? Do you have a large amount of self esteem—some call it conceit if it is in any one but themselves. Have you ever acquired its opposite? That is a good thing to have in stock. It is self forgetfulness, and you can't acquire too much of selflessness? I warrant others always see it in you. What have you done for it? Fed it, haven't you? Has it grown? Better overcome it.

Self mastery is worth getting. It is a mighty task, will take all the man in you to do it; but, oh, what a man or woman it will make of you!

Lessons From Nature.

Jesus preached from a lily and from a handful of wheat and from the stones of the temple and from the vines and from a coin. Lessons of faith and honor and purity and charity exhale with the morning dew. Every sunrise is the proem and every sunset the peroration of a noble discourse from God to His children. The man who feels with and suffers with and smiles with nature, to which every flower and every grain of sand is a thought and every bird a note in a continuous strophe of music has an ever increasing resource from which to draw as a wise lover and leader of souls. As Goethe says: "To each there came trooping up out of the wilderness a mingling of the wishes, thoughts like free children of God, crying out: 'Here we are! Here we are!'"—William Mountford.

Virtues Which Command Success.

Vigilance in watching opportunity, tact and daring in seizing upon opportunity, force and persistence in crowding opportunity to its utmost of possible achievement—these are the partial virtues which must command success.—Austin Phelps.

Try Smiling.

Your burden is heavy, I haven't a doubt,
But others have loads they must carry about,
And they are not whining.
Some people are glad if but half of the way
Is blue out of the shadow or part of the day
They try the same shining.
Suppose you try smiling.

If you are lonely, but other hearts ache,
And bravely refuse to be bitter or break
Because of life's sorrow,
They think of the joy in the land far away
And hasten the slow passing hours of today
With hopes of tomorrow.
Suppose you try smiling.

This funny old world is a mirror, you know
Then the way with a sneer or face of a foe
And you will see trouble.
But meet it with laughter and looks full of cheer
And back will come sunshine and love the while
Your blessings to double.
Suppose you try smiling.

All nations are open to those who are glad,
The timid lack courage, too many are sad,
And many need cheering.
Be sure with your burdens; the world is not long
If upward your heart
If [illegible]
Suppose you try smiling.

—Woman's Home Companion.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 1, 1907.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic—The beauty and utility of gratitude.—Ps. iii. 1-5. (A Thanksgiving consideration.)

The word gratitude is derived from the Latin word gratitudo, which means grateful, agreeable. In our standard American dictionaries it is defined in various phases, but undoubtedly one of the finest of these definitions is that "gratitude is a warm and friendly feeling toward a benefactor." And when we realize that the benefactor is God and that His benefactions cannot be numbered for multitude and cannot be comprehended because of their variety and extent it is easy to see that there is no limit to "warmth and friendly feeling" which we should exercise toward men. No one can comprehend the depth of gratitude that we owe to God. Milton could only define it as "the depth of all depths in exalted gratitude"—a depth immense and eternal, endless gratitude. Who can comprehend it, and who can meet all its requirements? Who can render unto God all that should be rendered of gratitude and love unto Him for all His benefits?

What have we that we have not received from God? We live, and life is a gift from Him. "He hath made us and not we ourselves; we are the sheep of His pasture." Have we health, home, happiness? All these are from God. Health—we wealth? It comes from Him. "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof." "The gold is mine, the silver is mine, saith the Lord." Every blessing, every joy and hope comes from God. But these even are small in comparison to our spiritual blessings. What endless gratitude is due to God for redemption and salvation through the death of His Son Jesus Christ! How dark we would be Him when we consider the privileges and joys of the Christian life and for the hope—yea, assurance—of eternal life in heaven! Well may we say with the psalmist, "I will praise the Lord with my whole heart," as we place the emphasis upon the pronoun "I" and to limit of our capabilities be grateful to our God for all His benefits.

Gratitude is beautiful. What more beautiful than a grateful, thankful heart, expressing its feeling in a devoted, consecrated life for God! The beauty of gratitude is strikingly seen in contrasting it with its opposite, ingratitude. What is baser than ingratitude? To receive favors from a man who accepts kind deeds from others and then turns away with unthankfulness and ingratitude. Yet how many such there are, and especially toward God. Men take God's gifts, yet forget the Giver. It should not be. Gratitude, sincere and honest, should rise to God as a sweet incense from all our hearts and live for all His goodness.

There is also utility in gratitude. Appreciated gifts and blessings inspire more. Gratitude shows its utility in no more for others. As we think of some kind act of another for us or all God's blessings to us we should show our gratefulness by doing what we can for those to whom we can be a benefactor and a blessing.

BIBLE READINGS.

Isa. i, 1-47 Ps. xxxvii, 1-8; i, 14, 15; xcv, 1-11; c, 1-5; Mark v, 18-21; Acts xxii, 44-47; II Cor. ix, 8-11; Acts iii, 1-10; Phil. iv, 1-6.

Wide Awake Endeavor Leader.

Charles G. Dean, president of the Tennessee Christian Endeavor union, was born Aug. 27, 1879, in Pleasant Hill, Miss. He has lived in Memphis since 1898 and is a member of the CHARLES G. DEAN.

Court Avenue Presbyterian church, where he is the superintendent of the boy's Sunday school. He was serving the Christian Endeavor local union as president for the third year when elected president of the state union last April. Tennessee. President Dean tells us, will do Christian Endeavor missionary work this year. They expect to raise $1,000 and send workers from the organized points into the towns adjacent to their homes. Thus they hope to organize many new societies and unions and strengthen those now in the work. Many have volunteered for this service, for Tennessee is the Volunteer State.

The Key Word Training.

The key word of Christian Endeavor is training, training in expression, training in service, training in living, training of the heart, training of the mind, training of the tongue, training of the toes and girt, training of the young man and woman, training to make men and women, training to make citizens, training to make effective Christians, training in the church, training for the church, training by the church.—President Clark of Seattle.

Millions of Prayer Meetings.

Consider the weekly Christian Endeavor prayer meeting. There is something sublimely inspiring in the thought of what it has become—nearly 70,000 meetings held every week in the year. Multiply 70,000 by 50 and you have approximately the number of Endeavor prayer meetings held every twelve months. If my arithmetic does not fail me, that means 3,500,000 meetings every year.—Dr. Clark at Seattle.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Auto Race" and "The Four Seasons," is the dual title of the new spectacle to be produced at the New York Hippodrome the night before Thanksgiving. As indicated by the title, the new production will deal largely with automobiles and the prevailing craze for speed. This will be the second production at the world's biggest playhouse by Messrs. Shubert and Anderson, who are determined to repeat the success of "Neptune's Daughter" and the thrills of "Pioneer Days," the current offerings at the Hippodrome, which she now in their closing week. All the resources of the greatest playhouse in the world will be utilized to make "The Auto Race" the prevailing sensation of the season. The new spectacle will be a radical innovation for the Hippodrome, inasmuch as modern costumes and up-to-date themes are introduced for the first time. In "The Auto Race" the Messrs. Shubert and Anderson will produce a spectacle which may be described as a solossal musical extravaganza, given on a scale about ten times larger than would be possible in any ordinary theatre.

When the actor-manager awoke on the morning after the first New York performance of "The Great Divide" and found the play famous, and himself and Miss Bates in a fair way to make a fortune, the idea came of spending his first two thousand dollars profit from the play for a string of real nuggets taken from the mountains of the territory which the play made the picturesque setting of the play. That amount was placed in a separate bank account to be held intact until it could be devoted to the purpose intended. Gold nuggets of the uniform size desired are not easily obtainable in this distance from the source of supply. Mr. Miller was unable to further his desire until Mr. Moody went to Arizona for a three weeks' sojourn in September. Mr. Miller commissioned the dramatist, as well as prospector, and he succeeded in getting them, though not without a deal of difficulty. This precious chain does not live in the property room at Daly's with the other jewels of "The Great Divide" production. Except when in use on the stage it reposes in a safe deposit box at a hotel across the street.

After having played "The Master Builder" to the longest run ever recorded an Ibsen play, Madame Nazimova has been compelled by reason of hundreds of requests, to revive her greatest success, "A Doll's House." It was through this vehicle she attracted more attention than has been the lot of any actress on the American stage, in the past two decades. Unquestionably, there has never been a performance of this most interesting of all of Ibsen's dramas, which has brought greater fame to a star or more enlightenment to a playgoer than Madame Nazimova's interpretation of the willful leading character of this absorbing drama. Many professors have essayed "A Doll's House" but it remained for Madame Nazimova to clearly illumine what has heretofore been a opaque mental study. Supported by many of the original company the theatregoer who has had the pleasure of seeing this clever performance of a most interesting play, will not miss anything that was pre-eminent in the original performance. As the engagement of "A Doll's House" is limited to a few weeks by reason of production of a new modern play in which this brilliant actress will be seen in an emotional role, it might be well for those who have never seen Madame Nazimova in her strongest role to avail themselves of this opportunity. Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday, with an extra matinee on Thanksgiving Day.

"The Man of the Hour," that has been witnessed by half a million people during its wonderful run at the Savoy theatre, is the play of a generation. It is one of the few plays in which inherent dramatic strength and absorbing interest that submerges the identity of the actors. Usually one playgoer says to another: "Have you seen so-and-so, in such and such a play?" But when the Broadhurst success is discussed it is, "Have you seen The Man of the Hour?" Never was there more convincing proof of the fact that "the play's the thing." Brady Bnd Grismer have supplied a splendid cast of players and scenery and beautiful and artistic stage equipment. Their shrewdness as managers dictated that, but all would have been wasted upon a play of less conviction, force and vital interest. Here is a theme that appeals to every decent citizen opposed to graft and corruption in public office. Here is a love story that is wholesome, real and unthematic. Here is a comedy that snaps like a log fire at Yule tide and sends sparks of rollicking humor and cheer in every direction. And, most significant of all, here is the only play, of those current a year ago, that has held the New York stage without interruption ever since, with no sign of abatement in popularity or crowded houses. The 500th consecutive performance is close at hand. Wednesday, Dec. 11, is the date. Of course there will be souvenirs; promise is made that they shall have no unusual significance and value. Already the sale is very large. Early application for seats will be necessary. This suggestion also applies to the holiday performances, including special matinees, for Thanksgiving, Christmas an New Year's.

PORT MAY MAKE HIS SON HIS SECRETARY.

Recorder Franklin W. Fort, of East Orange, the elder son, said last night that so far as he knew he wasn't the man selected by his father the Governor-elect, for his private secretaryship at the pay of $4,000 a year, while Leslie R. Fort, proprietor of the Lakewood Times and Journal, when interviewed at his home in the famous winter resort, declared that he didn't know anything about the matter.

Edward W. Gray, secretary to Governor Edward C. Stokes, was actively a candidate for the secretaryship in the new administration, but he has not landed the place. There have been a number of others out for the appointment, but it is pretty certain that they are to be disappointed and that a son of the Governor-elect will preside over the executive suite at the State House.

Announcement of the selection for secretary and executive clerk will be made within a few days. It is said that an East Orange man will be executive clerk.

Mr. Fort is to establish an office in Newark. He will probably have a room in the Prudential building of the Scheuer building, at 738 Broad street, in the suite occupied by his brother-in-law, former City Expert Will C. Statnsby. On the ninth floor of the same structure are the headquarters of the Essex County Republican League for Limited Franchises and Equal Taxation.

Next Tuesday, Governor's day, promises to be as interesting as was Governor's day at Trenton this week. Then the Governor will be inaugurated of the Senate and Assembly of the incoming Legislature are made, the leaders in political circles and the members and members-elect of the Legislature will be on hand to keep their fences in repair and see to it that no ruthless general in the game of politics breaks into their corrals and steals the places that are being guarded pending caucuses. It will be a day of supervising the integrity of the frameups and of booming men from the State's twenty-one counties for the minor places that the Republican majorities in the upper and lower legislative branches have at their disposal.

CARE OF THE TEETH.

Lime water, a couter agent, should be used to rinse the mouth several times a day, and bicarbonate of soda is recommended even more highly for the same purpose.

A toothbrush should always be curved—at least a little, that the length of the centre bristles shall not fall in the end.

Unless those at the top are longer than any other part, no benefit is derived by its use. A flat brush is good for the front teeth and that is all.

Astonishing how few people know how to brush their teeth. The brush is rubbed across the teeth, instead of up and down, and a moment's thought will show that while rubbing across will clean the flat surface, that the edges and curves are left absolutely untouched.

The movement should always be from the gums down to the tips on the upper jaw, and from the gums up on the lower.

It is true only are the particles removed from the teeth. Added to this dental floss should be used after each meal and always at night.

HICKMAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Charley Hickman, who is deservedly popular wherever he hangs his hat, is at present making Washington his headquarters.

Hick always manages to steal away from the cares of business to take a five-mile walk daily, and his figure is well known to the average Washingtonian. The other day Charley sauntered along F street, and just as he got in the vicinity of Ninth street he was held up by a beggar, who, putting out his hand in an appealing manner, pitifully cried:

"Please, sir, won't you help a poor, blind man, by giving him a dime?"

"Why, you're not wholly blind," said Hick. "You can see out of one eye," he added.

"Well, then, said the beggar, with desperation in his tone, "dime a nickel."

Pigs Need Warm Shelter.

A fall litter of pigs cannot be raised in quarters where the temperature is liable to make extreme changes. It is as essential to avoid an extreme change from the proper to the improper temperature as it is from a proper to improper rations. As a rule sheds have the doors open at one side and both ends are far from satisfactory. They should be so constructed that they can be closed if necessary during cold periods.

Civilization by Sunflower.

Our Kansas sunflower is said to be invading the deserts of New Mexico and Arizona. With the advent of the Kansas sunflower come rains and clouds and crops. It has taken fifty years for the Kansas sunflower to cross the desert, ascend the mountains *and lift its joyous head in mid-*summer bloom on the other side of the divide. Wherever goes civilization in the bounding, blooming west there goes the Kansas sunflower, the precursor of all there is in life worth having.—Eloorado Republican.

Mahogany Polish.

The following recipe is excellent for polishing mahogany: Take equal parts of alcohol, olive oil and water, mix well and rub on with a soft flannel.

PUPPY SWALLOWED HAT PIN, VETERINARIES OPERATED.

Puppy playfulness nearly cost the life of a valuable Boston bull dog belonging to W. H. Coade, of Cranford, and had it not been for the efficient work of Veterinaries Butler and Voorhees in removing an eight inch hat pin from the animal's stomach, the dog star would have been inhabited by one more local canine. The dog was romping about the house Monday when a long hatpin fell from the table in the room where it was playing. Quickly the animal seized the dangerous object in its mouth, and when Mr. Coade tried to get it away, ran from the room, and getting under a bed upstairs, deliberately swallowed the pin point foremost.

Realising the danger to the dog, Mr. Code hurried to Somerville with the animal. An X-ray examination was held by Doctors Butler and Voorhees, and the pin was located, partly in the stomach of the dog, with the point projecting into the intestine. An operation was performed and the pin, which was eight inches long, removed. The dog is getting along nicely, and in its puppyish joy today doesn't realize what a narrow escape it had.

American Names.

If we have some growing sense of a desire to touch with poetry the terminology of our American towns, we have succeeded so far only *in curing a slightly picaic grore atmos-*phere such as is given off by Lakewood or Riverside. The rich sentimentalism of the real estate dealer has done what it could, considering the barrenness in it of the have a new manufacturing suburb, the chances are we shall be too lazily and flatly patriotic, call it Lincoln and be done with it, or too crudely romantic, in which case the secretary of the company will report to the directors that he has had the place incorporated as Ivanhoe. With the dash of poetry in his soul he might keep true to the bituminous character of the place, with all its prospective labor agitations, and at the same time give a tinge of beauty to the situation forever by calling it Fretley, or if it is a place where hammers are to ring from morning to night why not call it Strokeland or Hammond or Smithville after the present chief stockholder in the concern?—Atlantic.

The Poor Service.

Mrs. Ray Shershay had just returned from a visit to the foreign cruiser that lay at anchor in the harbor of the great American city.

"We had a fine time," she said. "They showed us all over the ship and paid us every attention. We didn't know they had arranged an elegant luncheon for us, and we were agreeably surprised, of course, when the captain invited us into the dining room and seated us at a long table spread with everything that could tempt the appetite. I tell you, Mrs. Upsome, we enjoyed that luncheon. We didn't have to hurry through it either, and we were waited on with the utmost politeness and cordiality."

"How was the food, though, was it?" interrupted Mrs. Upsome.

"The service?" said Mrs. Ray-Shershay, lowering her voice. "No; that was nearly all imitation. I give you my word there was hardly a thing worth carrying away as a souvenir. All I grabbed was this little pickle fork, and I do believe it's nothing but plated ware!"—Chicago Tribune.

A "Cordon Bleu."

A woman cook in France is known as a "cordon bleu," the title having come down from the days of Du Barry and the profligate King Louis. The king and his favorite one day had a discussion as to the relative merits of men and women cooks. The king contended that only a man could cook a dish fit for a king to eat, and Du Barry upheld the skill of her sex. The result was a dinner given by Du Barry, every dish of which had been prepared by a woman. At the conclusion of the meal the king acknowledged he was wrong. He sent for the cook and placed around her neck his own ribbon of the Order of the Holy Ghost, known as the cordon bleu. Since then a skillful woman cook in France has been known as a "cordon bleu."—London Times.

An Old Custom Revived.

The custom of crying "Police!" which had been virtually abandoned because it seemed futile will be revived by the experience of John McAllister.

Mr. McAllister was held up the other night near De Bellivere and Delmar avenues. In the excitement of the assault he forgot that no one cries "Police!" any more, and he revived the custom with lusty lungs.

Faith in the resort will be greatly strengthened by what happened. A policeman was within easy hearing, he ran in the right direction, Mr. McAllister was rescued, and one of the highwaymen was captured.

George Bernard Shaw has a little saying which is better philosophy than our American habit of being without faith in so many things. It is this: "You never can tell."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Cause and Effect.

"Goodness!" exclaimed Mrs. Subbubs, coming home from church. "The minister gave us nothing but fire and bhimstone today."

"I thought he would," said her husband. "I saw their pew-rent girl going down to the station with her trunk just after you started for church."—Philadelphia Press.

WORDS ABOUT WOMEN.

What Men in Many Centuries Have Said About Us.

If Cleopatra's nose had been shorter the face of the world would have been changed.—Pascal.

Women are undecipherable. Whether they laugh or cry, one's explanation is never right.—T. Benton.

Their glory is to be least spoken of among men, whether for praise or blame.—Thucydides.

Men and women never agree as to the merits of another woman.—La Bruyere.

Natural beauty is not everything. There is an art in being pretty.—Ludlovic Halevy.

A person in whom the perfections of both mind and body are found together alone deserves in my judgment the praise of perfect beauty.—Polystratus.

A woman's face ought to be like an April day—susceptible of change and variety.—Lord Byron.

Laughter is the test of beauty. Women that it embellishes are of the divine race.—Rongon.

There is an old saying that in England the wife is the queen, in France the companion, in Germany the housekeeper, in Italy the slave.—London Outlook.

The symbol of woman in general is that of the Apocalypse on the forehead of which was written "Mystery."—Diderot.

Is there any one with whom you converse less than with your wife? —Nenophon.

HOW TO KEEP HEALTHY.

Keep cheerful. Hunting trouble ruins more nerves than trouble when it is found.

Keep alert minded. There is nothing like getting in a mental rut to make one a hypochondrias.

Keep clean. The close connection of the pores of the skin and good health is being better understood yearly.

Keep active. The inert, lazy woman who won't exercise is usually the one who is always growling about her health.

Keep your feet warm. More cold is taken through the ankles than in any other way, so do not wear low shoes all winter.

Keep out of debt. If there is anything warranted to worry one to death it is money troubles. Care will even kill the nine fived cat, and what's more cats have less than a bunch of debts with no money to pay them?

Keep away from drugs. The fondness of our American women for dosing themselves on the slightest provocation is a menace to the health of the race. We deserve everything bad the president of Harvard said of us as regards the medicine habit.

THE GAS STOVE.

Do you find your gas stove a real economizer? If not, these may be some of the reasons:

Lighting burners before you are ready to use them.

Baking but one thing at a time.

Heating water or cooking in uncovered vessels.

Placing small vessels upon large burners.

Using large burners when small ones would do.

Not turning out the flame before removing food.

Not lowering the flame when food is already boiling.

Keeping the interior of the oven dirty and greasy instead of bright and clean as it reflects heat instead of absorbing it.

Fashionable New Scents.

"Nerve scent" is the newest form of drugging for the smart woman. Her "vanity bag" is furnished with a dainty, innocent looking, gold mounted bottle. It contains essence of Parma violets from Paris, which is heavily charged with ether. When she is tired a few whiffs of this scent stimulates her flagging energies and keeps her bright and alert at a dinner or supper party.

Another favorite "nerve scent" consists of eau de cologne mixed with chlorform and a dash of asmonola. Inhaled, this is a powerful and dangerous pick me up.

Tales of Cities.

St. Joseph, Mo., is said to be the healthiest town in the world.

London, according to the census, has just passed the 7,000,000 mark.

For a city of more than 2,000,000 inhabitants Vienna certainly enjoys an amazing immunity from fires. The report of the city fire department shows that the total losses from fire in 1906 were less than $1,000. The department costs the city about $360,000. In all there were 1,169 fires, an average of a little over three a day.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hall Rowland, of West Seventh street, were at informal dinner at their home Wednesday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Marshall, of New York. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Bakewell, Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton Edwards, Miss Ursula Rowland and Willard Wadsworth.

Approaching Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Helen Hassell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hassell, of East Seventh street, to J. F. Lowis Taylor, son of Rev. and Mrs. Joseph P. Taylor, of East Seventh street, will take place at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday, December 4.

STATE LINES.

The output of Missouri's mines in 1906 was valued at over $26,500,000 according to the secretary of the State mining bureau. This does not include quarry products, which would raise the total to $30,000,000.

Connecticut still leads the procession as a manufacturer of woodies and pins. The census bureau tells us that the State's 1905 output in that line came to $3,962,193, or 64.4 per cent. of the total for the United States that year.

Minnesota now furnishes two-thirds of the iron mined in the United States and surpasses in its product all the countries of the globe with the possible exception of Great Britain, whose figures for last year are not yet given out. This entire iron output comes from one county, St. Louis.

Historical Evidence.

The late Richard Mansfield was a patient sufferer in his last illness, and he retained his good cheer to a marked degree. One day he told his physician that he believed he would not live many weeks longer.

"You are not going to die, sir. "You are good for a long time yet. Why, man, alive, did you ever hear of anybody near death with legs and feet as warm as yours?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Mansfield, "lots of them. For instance, there was Jezebel. And the witch of Salem witches."—Harper's Weekly.

The Hottest Spot.

One who was asked to name the hottest spot on the surface of the earth would hardly guess that it is in Alaska, but Professor Jaggar of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who has just returned from there, says it is Perry Island, off the Alaska coast. It was created only a year or two ago by volcanic action and is right hot from the griddle. Its surface is still soft, but hardening rapidly.—Youth's Companion.

A Matter of Punctuation.

One of the eloquent writers who report the costumes and etiquette at Washington penned this in his account of a presidential reception: "Mrs. X. wore nothing in the way of a dress. That was remarkable."—Argonaut.

May Enlarge Street Work Gang.

It is possible, if the weather remains favorable, that upon the completion of the work of laying pipe for the Rowland avenue sewer, a portion of the gang of laborers may be put on the brick pavement with the idea of hurrying it along. This suggestion is being considered by City Engineer Gavett. The remaining portion of the gang may be used in the Netherwood district, where the sanitary sewer work is going on now under the director of Contractor Foster Callahan.

Cricket Club May Come Here.

There is a possibility that the cricket club which has been playing its games at Bergen Beach may come to Plainfield, owing to the fact that the club will not be able to use the present grounds another season. It would seem as though the club should play here inasmuch as a majority of the members on the team are Plainfielders. It is said that such a move would tend to largely increase the interest in the game.

All the Graduates Are Busy.

Notwithstanding present business condition Drake College continues to place its graduates in good positions. Those who have recently taken positions are William Zimmerman with the Loizeaux Lumber Company; E. W. Fiet, clerical position in New York; Miss May Myers with Moody Corporation, Elizabeth; Ernest Bedman with First National Bank. Not a single graduate of the school is unemployed.

Killing Poultry.

The best method of killing poultry is to dislocate the necks, and one the knack is acquired it is a simple method. The legs are held in one hand and the bird's neck is taken in the other, and by a quick movement this is elongated so that it is quite dislocated. After this a sharp penknife is inserted through the roof of the mouth to allow the blood to pass away freely. It is best to pluck immediately.

London Tramways.

No doubt the majority of the London County Council is delighted at the outcome of the Council's tramway enterprises. All the fears so peculiarly expressed during the fight of last year and all the shameless allegations about account cooking and jobbery have disappeared, and the accounts of the tramways just issued for the year ended March 31 last are of the most gratifying description.—The Investors' Review.

A Jollier.

Mayor Douglass, of Niagara Falls, said the other day of an office seeker:

"He is a jollier. He reminds me of a chicken thief of Utica."

A police reporter wrote of this thief, "The prisoner laughed aloud for mercy." And when the night editor asked for an explanation of that queer sentence the reporter said:

"It's exactly what happened. Every poor old feeble joke the magistrate made the scoundrelly thief roared to split his sides."

The Costitutionalist.

A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.

Published at

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Terms: $2.00 per year.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1907.

THE VOTING MACHINE.

In the course of a patriotic discourse Sunday, Rev. Dr. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, took occasion to condemn the voting machine. His remarks are of general public interest for it cannot be denied that there is a growing sentiment against the use of the ballot device. Particularly does this appear to be true in Plainfield, but whether the arguments advanced by the opponents of the machine are sound is a question for the people. The standing of the gentlemen who are aligned against the machine, however, makes the subject worthy of consideration by the next Legislature.

State Senator Ackerman stated recently that he has received many requests to use his influence to have the machine scheme abandoned, and he has added that not a single member of his constituency has ever asked him to have it kept in use. This, it must be admitted, goes far to reflect a strong sentiment in this locality at least. More than one valuable citizen refused to cast his vote at the recent election it is known merely because he would be compelled to use the machine through such a device.

The truth is that the ferryman echoed the views of many of his fellow residents when he said: "I love the old ballot where a man can see his name inside the box and am glad at the prospect of dispensing with our wonderful trick cabinets—here a man votes by juggling a few pointers, pulling a bar and hearing a bell ring."

But necessarily brings up the question, if not the machine, what? And that is what the Legislature should decide at its very next session.

A PERTINENT WORD.

At this time, when the proposed omission of the Christian motto from our gold coin and the prohibition of the Christmas celebration with the debarring of the Christmas story and carols from the New York public schools are stirring much anxious thought and comment, the words of those whose character and position give weight to their opinions possess general and local interest. To both these classes belong the words of Rev. Dr. Herbert Welch, president of Ohio Wesleyan College, whose wife was Miss Anna McGee, daughter of the late Rev. James McGee, of this city. Dr. Welch says in Saturday's issue of the New York Herald, under the heading "Absurdity in History:" "This is a Christian country. The declaration of our highest court confirms the verdict of our national history whether the words 'In God we Trust' are stamped upon our dollars or not, the spirit of the phrase must be stamped upon our hearts. Without religion, morality languishes; without morality, the nation falls. To celebrate the birthday of Washington and Lincoln and ignore the birthday of Jesus Christ is an absurdity in history and a tactical mistake in training for citizenship."

Here's hoping that Miss Gladys Vanderbilt's venture may be more successful than ninety-nine out a hundred of those of foolish girls with rich papas that marry into the nobility.

It is estimated that more than $600,000,000 has been withdrawn from the banks since October 25. Is it any wonder that there are "hard times?"

Hats off to Mr. Edward S. Hooley. Five babies from the greatest horse show on earth; what do you think of it!

Evidently the President forgot to consult Dr. Fowler. What a crime!

What Fowler words ever annoyed the administration?

Drunkenness Not Disease.

Rev. Dr. E. G. Read, pastor of the Second Reformed church, Somerville, Sunday denounced the sentiment that drunkenness is a disease. He declared that it was a sin and the disease came as the result of the sin. He preached a strong sermon in favor of temperance and said that the temperance people of the State would go to Trenton again this winter and every other winter until they became dominant in the State, instead of the liquor dealers who, he said, now dominate politics.

Dispensary Patients Will Pay.

The Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital has decided that on and after December 1, patients visiting the dispensary at the hospital will be charged for coming for each visit, this being done to cover the cost of dressings which in the course of a year amounts to a considerable sum. In explaining the new order, the board says that this is a practice in many hospitals throughout the country.

LOVE OF COUNTRY
DR. HERRING'S THEME

In Patriotic Sermon, Minister Advocates Restriction on Immigration.

OPPOSES VOTING MACHINES.

Members of Franklin, Somerset, Benevolent and Plainfield councils, Jr. O. U. A. M., together with the Daughters of Liberty, according to custom, assembled in solemn attended divine services Sunday at the First Presbyterian church and listened to a strong patriotic sermon by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles S. Herring. He declared himself in no uncertain terms to be in favor of the high ideals which govern this country, in favor of limiting the great mass of people that are flocking to these shores from other countries and against the voting machine.

Rev. C. E. Herring.

Dr. Herring spoke as follows:

"I am going to speak to you tonight of a certain town mentioned in the Old Testament which was cursed by the prophetess because she came not to the help of her nation in time of need. We are interested in the town for the simple reason that this extraordinary woman, this Joan of Arc and this Israelitish history is proclaiming Jehovah's determination of the people that come not to her help against the mighty.

"Deborah's curse is none other but Jehovah's curse of an unpatriotic city. The greatest eternal lesson of the story is this, that it is a crime to be neutral in a great crisis—when our help should be enlisted against a common enemy.

"This is the story: The Cananites were Israel's bitter enemies, and were hard to entirely subdue. It was dangerous for Israel to venture out in the highways for the enemy of Israel was prowling about. So men traveled in the by-paths. Efforts had been made by Deborah's predecessors to conquer these people that were the constant menace to life and property. But their efforts were only partially successful. So Deborah arose on Israel and endeavored to stir up all Israel to conquer all Canaan which Deborah had promised to them.

"So every Israelite had an interest in this contest and every Israelite was obliged to engage in it with all earnestness. Deborah called upon Barck to proceed against the general and chief of the Cananites. Barak asked for her presence too with the troops and they met Sisera at the brook Megiddo. It was a terrible conflict and Israel was defeated ignominiously. Sisera in fleeing sought shelter in the tent of Jael, the wife of Haber, the Kenite. She received him but during his sleep drove the tent pin into his temple.

"This chapter is a chant of victory. She extols the patriotic, she denounces the weaklings, the indifferent, and among others she denounces the little town of Meroz which was near to the scene of conflict in these words: 'Curse be Meroz, because she came not to the help of the Lord against the mighty.'

"Now, what does it all mean? How was this old story related to the present? We certainly do not read this story because it is a history of that time. The interesting historic is this record has not been preserved to us because of its historic interest, but rather because in a very particular way God was the guide of this people, teaching that they might be the teachers of the world. This is God's record. This is His thought of patriotism and indifference—and for that reason we are interested. God says to me in this story: 'It is a grevious sin to remain neutral when common interest teach that we should take sides.'

"This course is upon the city of the Old Testament. Not because she was guilty of any positive aid to the enemy, but because of her lathy character—because she came not to the help of God, when the mightiness of Canaan demanded the interest of every man in Israel.

"Did not our Lord utter a similar thought when He said: 'He that is not with me is against me,' and again when He said, 'Inasmuch as ye did it not unto the least of these ye did it not unto me.' Dives in the parable was not a positively wicked character, simply a useless, selfish indifferent man, who had enough for himself—who did not even hinder Lazarus from sitting at his doorstep, a respected kind-hearted man in the community, yet the Lord condemned him. Proclaimed him suffering in the world to come for his indifference.

"We criticize the woman who when the defeated Canannitish general sought refuge in her tent smote him in his sleep. Yet mark this, that while to us that act was treacherous this woman lived in a semi-civilized age.

"The historian was simply weighing that deed with the indifference of Meroz and with all the barbarity of her deed, her patriotism against the dark background of Meroz's neutrality—she did the best she could according to her light. If that was wrong how much worse was the indifference of Meroz. The great lesson for you and me is this—that it is a great crime not to take sides when a man should identify himself with some great movement for good. We can speculate on the reasons of this city for not helping—she feared the power of the enemy—and she for her self-interest preferred to remain neutral. The lesson is taught that we have other interests besides self interest. A man is a complex being. He has his business, his home to support, but this is not all, he is a citizen of a great Republic, of a State, of a city and each one of these interests should receive his attention.

"He should not so lose himself in his own personal and business interests that he should fail in his duty to his country. It is an impressive thing to read of the President of the United States leaving Washington to go to his home in order to record his vote. The pressing duty of that office are not so great as to forbid that duty. It is a great opportunity a man has every year to vote for the great principles and men he believes for the country's good.

"That is one way of coming to the help of the Lord's country. It is a means of grace for a man to conscientiously and intelligently cast his ballot, and he should rejoice in the privilege of stating his choice for measures and the men that represent them.

"I love the old ballot where a man can see his vote inside the box and am at the prospect of dispensing with our wonderful trick cabinets—here a man votes by juggling a few pointers, pulling a bar and hearing a bell ring.

"We need not machine voting, but conscientious intelligent voting, intelligent in that a man will not ignorantly vote for a man that does not represent him, because he is one of the candidates of his party and he always votes a straight ticket.

"The religion Jesus teaches that a man should love the world and at the same time should love his land in the way that he does not love the world. A man loves his own family in a way that he does not love the world, in a way that he cannot love the world. Love reaches then beyond the limits of the nation and touches the world, but Christianity is broader than patriotism, for in Christ we are conscious that God has made of one blood all nations for to dwell on the face of the earth. Yet while all that is true Christ teaches love for one's own land. He displayed that love in His own earthly life. He wept over Jerusalem and said: 'How I would have gathered her, but ye would not.' He had a peculiar interest in the Jew for he called them 'His own,' but behind all that patriotism there was this thought—that the Jews were God's chosen to bless the world. This was the commission to the Father of the Jews, Abraham, 'I will bless thee and make thy name great and thou shalt be a blessing.'

"And they were to bless the world with the great ideals he had taught them in their history. It is not usual to love our country simply because it is our country. Just as it is natural to love our own family for no other reason than this that they are our flesh and blood. The affection, therefore, we bear to them is beyond explanation. I know when I see the flag of my country in some distant land to sight thrills me. It thrills me because it symbolizes my country, and we love our country, because in some particular way it fills the need of our own nature.

"Other countries may be beautiful, and we love to travel through them because of their picturesque or historic interest, but eventually we long for the homeland, unless we belong to that class of ex-patriots who give allegiance where they can secure the things American. There are, happily, but few of these unfortunates whose ample purse permits them to abide in a distant land and rave against things at home.

"And yet I say to me we love our land for still other reasons. We love it for the great ideals that lie at its very base. We don't say that these ideals are not cherished in other lands. Other countries are so old that it is difficult to see where it rests at the basis of their life. But we know the great ideals that were cherished by the men who first settled this land, and we do glory in these self-same ideals. The ideals of freedom and popular education. What is it we admire in the Pilgrim Fathers? It was religious freedom that they wanted. Freedom to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience. They said God needs no intermediator in order to speak to us. He can come to every man, speak to him and every man can speak in return to God. These men had too great an idea of freedom for England so they sought it in Holland, but the people of Holland were not kind, but were even lax in conduct. So they sought America, and in winter they sailed to find freedom here. It was a desolate coast that greeted them and the sea as it broke upon their tiny vessel froze on their garments. Oh! what a contrast between this and their cosy English homes. Why did they change? They knew, for 'amid the storm they sang and the stars heard and the sea and the sounding aisles of the dense woods rang the anthem of the free.' They were intensely religious people, who demanded freedom to worship God. They built churches. Besides the church they planted the school and college, which meant education for the people. The Pilgrim Fathers were the greatest men of England at the opening of the Seventeenth Century and these are the men who gave us the great ideals of freedom and popular education, and we have learned to love these great ideals and are ready to fight for them.

"God chose Israel for special instruction that the ideals of the entire nation might be passed on to the world. We love to study these great ideals today. I have a certain amount of sympathy with the thought expressed in the adage: 'America for Americans,' which means 'America for Americans.' That native born or foreign born resident who loves the ideals of the country and claims them as his, and does the utmost to support them. We sympathize with those who would make this their home and are unsympathetic with this people. There are still those on the other side of the Atlantic who will in years to come make faithful, loyal Americans, but while this is all true we are sure that a limitation at once should be made to the increasing numbers that are yearly pouring into this land faster than they can be assimilated. We depreciate that practically nothing is being done to find out the moral status of its annually upon us, many of whom have no intention of becoming loyal to this nation and many who we believe to be a detriment rather than a help.

"It sometimes think that this is God's country in a very special way. Its very position geographically among the nations of the world is very unique. It seems to be the land of great opportunity, in fact it has been said that America is simply another world for opportunity, and it would seem that God writes opportunity on one sire of an open door on the other side of that door is written responsibility. If America is simply another world for opportunity, America is simply another world for responsibility.

"Did you ever think that God is on the side of the great ideals. Notice that in the lesson that while Israel fought with whole-hearted enthusiasm against Canaan God fought with them. From the stars fought in their courses against Sisera,' a figure of course, but the thought is that the powers of heaven were on the side of Israel.

"Perhaps you have criticized the extraordinary curse because of her intensity, when she said, 'Cursed be Meroz,' when Meroz was simply indifferent. Perhaps the word cursed would have been more applicable if she had taken up arms against Israel. God is angry for one's great deal of the sins of omission, but frequently these sins are of more heinousness than the sins of commission.

"Notwithstanding the word 'cursed' is rather strong—did you ever think that one of the marks of strong character is hatred. It is not an evil to be a good hater. A man possessed with a spirit of love for everything will never make a reformer. Jonah was a lover of God and Israel and she naturally hated everything that stood opposed to these great ideals.

"Jesus knew how to use the whip cords in the temple. He then said that it would be more tolerable for the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of Judgment than for Capernaum, because of her negative unbelieving attitude to Christ.

"In proportion as you are true to the great ideals you will hate all that opposes these ideals. I would not have a man emulate the Puritans in everything they did. They lived in another age. Some things they did have passed away forever, but they left a legacy that should never pass away. England feels the effect of these ideals today. New England feels it and the entire country. These ideals are imbedded in our nature.

"We love our country not because it is our country, but because of the ideals of our land and we mean to do all in our power that these great truths may remain our permanent possession."

The World's Desire.

Beauty is like a star.
Shamed in the bold daylight,
But coming out of the far
At the call of the mystic night.

Beauty is like a dream:
We wake, and lo! it is flown;
If we sleep again, 'tswould seem,
We may make it our very own.

Beauty is like a flower
In a dusky garden set,
That, reaved away, for an hour,
Gives of her odor yet.
—Richard Burton in the Century.

The Football Hero.

Home they brought the warrior dead.
Not a tear the lady shed.

Worthy she to bear his name.
Simply asked "Who won the game?"
—Washington American.

Famine.

"I wonder what's the matter with Ernest; something seems to be preying on his mind of late."

"Oh, don't worry, it will probably die of starvation."—Exchange.

P. S. LOSES LAST GAME

Rutgers "Prep" Eleven Overwhelms City High School Team by 44 to 0.

VISITORS HEAVY AND FAST.

Local Eleven Outclassed in Every Department of the Game and Had to Play Defensive Football.

Outweighed twenty pounds to the man and outplayed in every department of the game, the city high school football eleven was unable to score against the fast team of Rutgers Preparatory school and were defeated 44-0 in a one-sided game played on Hope Common Saturday afternoon. It was the last game of the season for both teams. Both sides played good clean football, but against the overwhelming odds of weight, the local eleven had no show and the outcome of the game was never in doubt from the whistle.

The Rutgers team gained at will at all parts of the line, and there was no need to resort to the forward pass or trick plays to gain ground. Coming through behind quickly forming interference, each member of the back field seemed equally successful at ground gaining. For the city team, Lyness and Bingaman were the best ground gainers, making the distance through the left wing of the Rutgers line. Time after time the city eleven was held for downs and Murphey postponed the touchdowns by some good punting before the New Brunswick school boys took the ball. The local eleven was able to make first down but twice in the whole game. The summaries:

P. H. S.		R. P. S.
Doane, Snyder		Mosher, Todd
	left end.
Fountain		Hein
	left tackle.
Morris		Watson
	left guard.
Fleming		Bissett, Ward
	centre.
Sewell		Kohler
	right guard.
Cullen		Baumann
	right tackle.
Phillips		McAonen
	right end.
Loizeaux (capt.)	Riffert	Smith
	quarterback.
Murphey, Smalley		Gross
	left halfback.
Bingaman		Tugler
Caldwell		Olcott
	right halfback.
Lyness		Wilbams (capt.)
	fullback.

Score: First half, R. P. S., 28; P. H. S., 0. Second half, R. P. S., 44; P. H. S., 0. Referee, Roy Philips, Empire Hall, of Rutgers. Linesmen, Pitcher and Ricketts. Timers, Flanders and Day. Twenty minutes halves.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Round Up's" Wonderful Rough Rider.

J. T. Cooper, an Ex-Texan ranger and cowboy, who floated into the theatrical business through engagements with the Pawnee Bill and Miller Brothers' "101 Ranch" Wild West shows, and who is now a rough rider in Klaw & Erlanger's production of "The Round Up" at the Broadway theatre, is out with a most unique challenge to the rough riders of the world. Mr. Cooper, whose Western soubriquet is "Texas," offers to ride any man in the world in a ten mile race for $5,000 a side under the following conditions: The race shall cover 5,000 miles. The first 4,500 miles shall be ridden in hourly relays of five miles to the hour. The last 500 miles shall be ridden at full speed without interruption, except for change of horses. Each contestant shall be allowed twenty horses, the race being intended to show the endurance of man and not the endurance of the horse. Should any horse in the string of either contestant become disabled, such horse cannot be replaced by another mount. Mr. Cooper will ride this race on the Brighton Beach race track or in Madison Square Garden, whichever can be arranged for, and says that he is willing to sign articles and post a reasonable forfeit with the sporting editor of any New York daily three months in advance to meet his opponent at the time specified. The winner is to take seventy per cent. of the percentage going to the contestants, and the loser thirty per cent. Should the rider who accepts this challenge prefer a straight-away 5,000 mile race to be ridden on a race track near New York, Mr. Cooper will agree. Mr. Cooper's proposition that five miles an hour shall be ridden until 4,500 miles are completed will require 900 hours of time, or 37½ days. The concluding 500 miles will require only the time necessary for the riders to cover it. This proposition may sound impossible to those who are not thoroughly familiar with the endurance displayed by the cowpunchers on the Western plains. Mr. Cooper has been in several endurance long distance rides and he feels certain that he can accomplish the task he plans.

All that you need
To cut a dash
Is plenty of
The cold, hard cash.

HERBERT G. JOHNSON BECOMES A BENEDICT

Miss Clara Adelaide Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Greene, of New Bern, N. C., and Herbert Gardner Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Johnson, of East Seventh street, were married at the home of the bride's parents on Thursday morning, November 21, in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. A. Ayers, of New Bern.

The bride was bowned in a gray cloth traveling suit and carried a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums. After the ceremony and reception, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left on a westbound train and will visit in Atlanta, Ga., and Montgomery, Ala., after which they will reside at Caryville, Florida, where they will be at home after December 10.

Mr. Johnson is well-known here where he has many friends and acquaintances. He is connected with a firm doing a large lumber and turpentine business at Caryville.

THE BABY POST.

A Curious Institution That Once Flourished In England.

Although few people are probably not aware of it, the fact remains that there once flourished in England a regular "baby post." The rates of postage being fixed on a strictly business basis, according to distances traversed.

The curious institution came into existence in connection with the foundling hospital in Guilford street. When that charity was first established, it was understood that its operations would be confined to London and its environs. But the people of the country towns and villages heard of it and showed a decided disposition to share in its advantages; hence the "baby post!"

All over the country there were men and women who entered vigorously into the business of carrying children to London and depositing them at the gates of the foundling hospital. The mortality was great from distant localities like York and Monmouth down to a guinea from places situated within thirty to fifty miles of the metropolis. The unfortunate infants were borne on horseback in panniers, in each pannier, or in wagons lined with straw, for which the charge was somewhat less.

Naturally abuses grew up in connection with the traffic. But, even apart from these, the mortality among the "posted" babies was terrible. Thus, out of 14,934 received at the hospital in four years, only 4,400 lived to be "apprenticed out," being a mortality of more than 73 per cent.

Eventually parliament passed a measure abolishing the practice, and the "baby post" ceased."—London Answers.

DUNELLENITES IN THE GAME WITH FAST MOHAWK TEAM.

Scored on in the last three minutes of play after making a touchdown in the first half, the Dunellen eleven tied with the Mohawks, of Paterson, in a fast game played on the Dunellen gridiron Saturday afternoon. The Mohawks had a game scheduled with the local eleven on November 9, but were forced to cancel it the day of the game.

The game was marked by fast play on both sides. Dunellen had the advantage in the first half, making consistent gains time after time by line bucking and formation plays. Smalley made the touchdown about the middle of the half. In the last period, the visitors braced up, and taking the ball rushed the local eleven down the field, making their only touchdown a few minutes before time was called. Maltby was in the game again for the Dunellenites and proved a good ground gainer. The Dunellen team lined up as follows:

Miller le; Smalley, lt; Carman lg; Myers, c; Snyder, rg; Caulfield, rt; Rutledge, re; Lake, qb; Smith, rhb; Dineen, lhb; Maltby, fb.

SEVENTEEN RIDERS JOIN IN WATCHUNG CLUB CHASE.

Seventeen members and friends of the Watchung Hunt Club enjoyed the weekly chase on Saturday afternoon, starting from the Baltusrol Golf Club, at 2:30 o'clock and following over course which included Springfield, Milburn, Scotch Plains and vicinity. The going was especially good over the entire territory covered by the hunters and the hounds had all a very fine chase. Interest in the weekly hunts has been increased because of the number of fine horses available at the horse show grounds and which are in charge of James Gethins.

Considerable attention was attracted Saturday to the riding of James Robins, a young rider, about fourteen years old, and Miss Fraleigh and Miss Hawthorne, who have been following the hunts during the past few weeks. They took their jumps in a way that called forth great praise.

Fanwood Bridesmaid.

Miss Gladys Urner, of Fanwood, was one of ten bridesmaids at the large and fashionable wedding Saturday night in the Westminster Presbyterian church, of Elizabeth, of Miss Ida May Coon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Coon, to George Luther Naught.

HE FOILED HIGHWAYMEN

James Regan, Driver of Brewery Wagon, Fails Assistant with Beer Bottle.

HOLD UP ON WEST END AVENUE.

Attacked By Two Men Last Night, Bohren's Driver S aves His Roll By Stunning One Highwayman and Riding Over Other.

Stopped by two highwaymen on the bridge at West End avenue, at about 6:30 Thursday, James Regan, driver for Adoph Bohrer, a wholesale liquor dealer, felled the man who climbed into the wagon by a blow with an empty beer bottle, and whipping up his horses, drove over the other man, who was holding the horses' heads, and made his escape. The hold-up, as Regan was driving back to the brewery after making his regular collections, was a complete surprise to the driver. As he was driving along the road in the half dark, two men sprang from the side of the road near the bridge, seized the horses and the other climbed into the wagon, demanding money.

Quick as a flash Regan reached for a case of empty beer bottles, behind him and seizing a bottle, dealt the man a stunning blow on the head as he was about to grapple with him. The highwayman fell to the ground, and the other man frightened by the display of force, loosened his hold on the horses' bridles. Regan whipped up and drove rapidly away, not stopping to see how badly the man struck was injured. He informed the borough police of the hold-up, and Marshals Keller and Pope went at once to the place, but could find no traces of the men.

Regan had about $30 with him, and was returning to the brewery with a load of empty bottles and more than $15 in money from collections in New Market and Dunellen. He could give no accurate description of the men to the police, but said that the fellow who climbed into the wagon was tall and had a black mustache, while the other man was short and stocky. Neither of them seemed to be Italians. There are few houses near the bridge, and the road is lonely. The borough police have as yet been unable to trace the men.

THE VALUE OF SPORT.

Thin-blooded people sometimes imagine that Young America pays too much attention to sport, but this feeling comes to the surface most readily in the bracing days of autumn when red-blooded youth finds the air exhilarating and an imperative invitation to afternoon endeavor, while the aforesaid thin-blooded minority feel only that it is chilly. October is certainly an out-of-door month with such Americans as are able to enjoy the glorious weather Everybody seems to be playing something whenever they can get away for a few hours from business. All the way from riotous Rugby to grave and reverend golf, we use our games as excuses to go out of doors and get the last of the genial sun.

Even winter does not kill sport in America. It merely enlivens it. We cheer play at hoskey, which is about as swift a game as we know this side of manslaughter, and we toboggan, which is still another matter. At all seasons, we are an out-of-door people, and it is to this that we owe much of our vitality. We would be a feebler folk if we cared less for sport. Those who are criticising us because we see enthusiastic men in the games which our young athletes are playing, are not stopping to think what this all means in pure blood and vigorous bodies. It is true that the "grand stand athletes," who sit indoors, do not get so much out of it as those who participate, but these very people are inspired by the interest taken in the prowess of others to go and do as nearly as possible likewise themselves.

Then there are few of us who cannot "get into the game" at some point. We may take only a mental share in some games, but we plunge all the more vigorously into the physical side of other games because of our interest in those we watch. There is a brotherhood in sport which extends to all forms of recreation, and we like to hear of the victories of our fellow men in one sphere the better when we are striving for victory in our own. The races which do not go in for sport are not the vigorous races. They are apt to be races of the lily finger and the enlarged waistband, and the more pleasant in occupations which lessen rather than augment their strength. They are the weaker for their recreations, while we of sporting stock are the stronger.

Let us not, then, decry sport, or listen tamely to its belittlement. It may take up some of the time of the student which he might have spent in adding a few figures to his examination percentage or in capturing a prize or two; but the day will come when he will have plenty of time for that sort of thing and when the demands of exercise will not be so imperative. He will have his growth and he will have it with substantial foundation which will enable him to stand more of the strain of the real struggle of life than the assemble prize-winner can approach.

FOWLER OPPOSES ISSUE

Head of House Banking Committee Says Government's Action is Unlawful.

HE URGES ITS WITHDRAWAL.

Bankers Had the Situation Well in Hand, He Alleges, When the Administration Acted—Strong Words Used.

Congressman Charles N. Fowler, representing Union, Morris and Warren counties, as chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, publicly criticised on Saturday the action of the Secretary of the Treasury last week in issuing $150,000,000 one-year 2 per cent. certificates of indebtedness and $50,000,000 additional Panama Canal bonds. He says he hopes the Administration will have the courage to withdraw the issue.

Though it is premature, he says, for him to be here to criticise the Administration, he could not, in view of the study of the question involved, compelled him to set forth the reasons why the action of the administration is surprising, extraordinary, unwarranted, and most unfortunate." He goes so far as to call the increase in debt illegal.

The financial situation was well in hand by the bankers who had been importing gold for the preceding weeks. It had been further added to by the issuance of Clearing House certificates, and the crisis had been passed by these aids, Congressman Fowler said in his statement issued yesterday, when the administration intervened "against the opinions of the best judges of the situation." Although the bankers of the country may prevent any serious consequences at the moment, he thinks, the Government's action "must be a most disturbing factor."

"The Government did not need the money," Mr. Fowler says in his statement. "It has $240,000,000 to its credit, which it has taken from the people through taxation. Therefore, the interest-bearing debt of the Government should not have been increased $150,000,000 — especially when such increase of debt is clearly in violation of the intent and purpose of the law; and because the action of the Treasury is a most flagrant violation of economic law for which the people must yet pay the penalty.

Taking up first the Panama bond issue, he asserts that while the Government does not get the money derived from the issue, even if it did it could not take any part of the proceeds for the present, as the banks could not afford to exchange their reserve money for banknotes.

"When the reaction comes, as it will, according to his expectations, about January 15, increasing until the bank reserves exceed those of any preceding year since 1860, he predicts that the increased bank note circulation will not be retired, but will find a place in the reserves of State banks and trust companies and to some extent with the National banks. This contingency will displace gold and drive it out of the country, as did the silver purchases between 1879 and 1894.

"I am confident that the effect upon the situation will be most disastrous, economically, when the reserve begins to accumulate in January, because there will be no way of getting this vast mass of immobile currency out of the way. In conclusion, let it be remembered at all times certain that the process now invoked of forcibly injecting into our currency this fixed mass will bring us the same danger from which we are now suffering, if only some exciting cause be present to precipitate the trouble.

HIGH VAUDEVILLE SALARIES.

Of all the people who work for their living, vaudeville performers are the best paid. Of these charts, yes, seven-eighths, of the traveling theatrical company, the whole salary list does not exceed $3,500 a week, and yet in vaudeville that much is paid to one performer who is given as eighth of the performance. It is true that a $2,000-a-week performer doesn't appear often in any one theatre, but an act that costs $1,000 a week has become the rule rather than the exception in every big city. A great majority of the acts cost from $250 to $500, and in the best vaudeville houses no act costs less than $75 a week. "Chasers," employed to drive audience out of houses giving continuous performances, get that much. In the good vaudeville houses the salary list of performers ranges from $2,500 to $4,00 a week, and the maximum is paid more often than the minimum. Occasionally the cost will run to $5,000 a week. The standard is practically every first-class vaudeville house in the country is $3,200 a week and each manager tries to keep as close to that as possible. It has been found that [illegible] will provide an attr[illegible] rel leave a fair mar[illegible] Everybody's Magazine.

Shoe for a [illegible]
"Poor fellow, he [illegible] it.
[illegible] money are [illegible] machine have

WORKMEN'S LODGES GIVE THIRD ENTERTAINMENT

Columbia Lodge No. 58, A. O. U. W., conducted its third annual entertainment in Y. M. C. A. Hall Thursday. It was attended by an audience that almost filled the hall and was far more enjoyable than either of its predecessors. The decorations were a notable feature, the space about the stage being a bank of palms, plants and flowers arranged by Peter Doeringer.

An orchestra of twenty pieces in charge of Martin A. Korff rendered catchy selections at various intervals and impersonations and pantomime numbers were given by Emil Closs. His description of a village school and the imitation of the teachers and pupils was his best effort and marked him as a decidedly clever entertainer.

Addresses dealing with the aims, objects and work of the Ancient Order United Workmen were made by Grand Master Workman Frank W. Reeves, of Atlantic City, and Past Grand Master Workman John Enright, superintendent of schools of Monmouth county. Past Grand Master E. C. Stahl, of Trenton, was to have made an address but was unable to attend.

The committee in charge of the entertainment was composed of J. W. A. Bauersachs, chairman; Peter Doeringer, Henry Stachwitz, V. W. Kinney, Dr. J. B. Moon, R. V. Kinney and John G. Bicknell.

JULIAN SCOTT PICTURE GOES TO ESSEX CLUB

The Board of Governors of the Essex Club, of Newark, has been notified by President Frelinghuysen that former Governor J. Franklin Murphy had offered to present to the club a picture, "The Battle of Antietam," by the late Col. Julian Scott, formerly of this city. The gift has been accepted by the board with thanks. A few years ago Mr. Murphy present it with the famous Salon picture, "The Hunt Ball."

The club, besides other paintings and some excellent engravings, has a fine bronze figure, "The Life Saver," the gift of A. Pennington Whitehead, the former president, and portraits of Mr. Whitehead and of Colonel Edward H. Wright.

Local interest attaches to the latest gift by Mr. Murphy because Col. Scott resided in Plainfield for many years and up to the time of his death. His fame as an artist was known throughout the country, but not thoroughly appreciated until he died. His collection of paintings and valuable relics were perhaps among the finest in the State and were eagerly sought after his death by those who knew of their intrinsic worth.

Can Many Fly?

If it be true that Dr. Rose, a Shropshire medical man, has constructed a pair of wings "with which he has flown a considerable distance" he may be congratulated on having succeeded where so many of his predecessors in this branch of aeronautics have often tragically failed. In Louis XIV.'s day a French tight rope dancer called Allard essayed a flight from the terrace at St. Germain only to fall with serious results at the very foot foot of the terrace. A French locksmith, M. Besnier, succeeded in flying over a cottage roof from the eminence of an adjacent attic, but a mountebank who brought his wings paid for them with his life. In 1742 the Marquis de Becqueville attempted to fly across the Seine and broke a leg by falling on a barge a few yards from the near bank. Letur and Vincent de Groof, the Belgian "flying men," both met their death by trusting to wings, and Lilienthal eleven years ago while flying at a height of sixty feet lost his balance, precipitated himself on the ground and instantly killed.—Westminster Gazette.

His Substitute For Ink.

"Who has a fountain pen?" asked the nervous man as he dashed out his check book in a downtown cafe one afternoon last week. "I hate to pay mine host his bill, and as I'm going out of town for a couple of weeks I want to get the job off my hands. He hasn't pen and ink here."

"Here is an indelible pencil," said a friend, as he reached into his vest pocket.

"That won't do," snapped the nervous man. "No bank will take a check written with a pencil."

"Oh, try it," the Chemical National will take it, provided you wet the check first," said the friend soothingly. "If you can't get water lick the check as you would a stamp, and then do your writing while it is still moist. An indelible pencil is filled with nothing but ink powder compressed into solidity. When it is moistened it becomes ink. Try it."

"I see," said the nervous man as he opened his check with a flourish, "there are more ways of killing a cat than choking it with hot butter."—Tit-Bits.

JERSEY TURKEYS SCARCE

With Thanksgiving Close at Hand, Local Marketmen Ask High Prices.

GAME ALSO CONTINUES HIGH.

Turkey 25 to 30 Cents—Chicken 18-23 Cents — Rabbits 75-80 Cents—Woodcock $1.-25 a Pair.

While turkeys will be very scarce this week, there will be plenty of the western and southern birds in the market. There will be chickens and ducks at prices that are not considered high in view of the top notch prices. The price of turkeys for Thanksgiving average between twenty and thirty cents per pound, while chickens may be had at rates varying from eighteen to twenty-three cents. Ducks are bringing about twenty-five cents. All of the local butcher shops will have a generous supply of turkeys, chickens and ducks at these prices.

The price of game is also high. Rabbits are a little lower than last week, coming down from seventy-five and eighty cents to sixty-five and seventy cents a pair. The other prices of game are: Woodcock, $1.25 a pair; squirrels, 60 cents a pair.

At the vegetable and fruit stands the following prices are quoted: Potatoes, 20 cents a half peck; sweet potatoes, 30 cents a half peck; string beans, 10 cents a quart; cabbage, 10 to 15 cents a head; lima beans, shelled, 15 cents a pint; cauliflower, 15 to 25 cents a head; spinach, 25 cents a half peck; lettuce, 10 cents a head; watercress, 3 cents a bunch; eggplants, 15 to 25 cents apiece; celery, 15 cents a bunch; mushrooms, 85 cents a pound.

A larger supply of Jersey turkeys are expected for the Christmas trade, which will make the price drop at least three cents per pound.

GRACE CHURCH CHOIR GIVES FAMOUS ORATORIO

Alfred R. Gaul's oratorio, "The Holy City," was excellently rendered at Grace church Thursday before a large audience under the direction of William E. MacClymont, choirmaster and organist of the church. The soloists were Mrs. Theodore Mantz, soprano; Mrs. Bayard Hawthorne, contralto; William A. Tallamy, tenor; Charles Jones, bass. Mrs. Mantz and Mr. Tallamy sing regularly at the church, Mrs. Hawthorne, though a resident of this city, sings at a Cranford church, and Mr. Jones is soloist at St. Andrew's church, Yonkers.

Considering the weather, there was a good attendance of appreciative music lovers. The rendition was well performed and impressive. The full vested choir of the church took part in the croruses. The program follows:

Introduction, chorus, "No Shadows Yonder;" air, "My Soul Is Athirst;" trio, "It Shall Come to Pass;" chorus, "They That Sow In Tears;" air, "Eye Hath Not Seen;" chorus, "For Thee, O Dear, Dear Country;" chorus, "Thine Is the Kingdom. Intermezzo. Air, 'Thus Saith the Lord;'" chorus, "Holy, Holy, Holy Is the Lord of Hosts;" chorus, "Let the Heavens Rejoice;" air, "Oh Rest in the Lord;" air, "Come, ye Blessed;" chorus, "The Fining Pot Is for Silver;" air, "These Are They;" duett, "They Shall Hunger No More;" chorus, "List the Cherubic Host;" chorus, "Great and Marvelous Are Thy Works."

The offering was to defray the expenses of the rendition of the cantata.

TO GET $18,102 UNDER CORPORATION ASSESSMENT.

Under the assessment of the annual franchise tax against the public utility corporations recently made by the State Board of Assessors, the total for Middlesex county will amount to $1,102,656. Of this money, New Brunswick must pay $2,818.98, Plainfield $2,229.43, Woodbridge $2,440.18, Perth Amboy $1,985.20, Raritan $1,735.81 and Sayerville $1,085.98. The other taxing districts will not have to pay as much as $1,000 apiece. Dunellen will have to pay $407.24 as its share.

The tax is assessed by the State Board Assessors and by that board is certified by each taxing district, here it is collected for the benefit of the municipality. The rate of assessment is two per cent. on the gross receipts, except for trolley companies. They are taxed at a graduated rate, which will increase one-half of one per cent. annually until it reaches five per cent. of the gross receipts, when it will remain stationary. This year the rate is two and a half per cent.

High School Seniors' Social Time.

With a large percentage of the class present, the senior class at the city high school took a drag ride Saturday evening and later held an informal dance in the school building. Music for the dancing was furnished by the tel-electric piano player recently purchased for the school and used for the first time at this affair.

WON FIVE BLUE RIBBONS

Buttfield Stables Captured Rich Honors at Biggest Horse Show on Earth.

BROUGHT HOME TEN PRIZES.

W. G. Buttfield's Awards Aggregated $850—His Daughter a Close Second For Honors.

Aside from the achievements of Miss Mabel B. Hooley, with her string of thoroughbreds, the honors won by W. J. Buttfield with his fine pair, "Miss Banshan" and "Miss Westcott," were among the most notable at the National Horse Show held at Madison Square Garden last week. Mr. Buttfield's team won the championship for the roadster class in single and pairs.

In view of the large number of entries of thoroughbreds from the best known stables in this part of the country, Mr. Buttfield's blue ribbon winners are deserving of great praise. His total winnings for the week amounted to $850, representing four firsts.

Miss Hooley won one first, one second, three thirds and one fourth prize for a total of $410. "Quaker Maid" and "Dorothea," were the most notable of her string of blue ribboners and time and again the judges commended the pair for general all-round excellence. James Gethin, superintendent of the Plainfield Horse Show grounds, was one of those who received a highly prized ribbon.

SEWER JOB WATCHMAN OVERCOME BY COAL GAS

John Laugh, fifty years old, of Mauch Chunk, Pa., employed as watchman on the Southside sewer contract, almost lost his life early Sunday morning through partial suffocation by coal gas. He was discovered in his little relief shed in an unconscious condition and efforts to revive him proved futile until after his admission to Muhlenberg Hospital.

Becoming cold early in the morning, Laugh went into the shed and started a fire on the floor with soft coal. As it flared up he became drowsy and fell asleep, the fire afterward sinking down to slow burning mass. The gas was generated, and as Laugh slept on the floor, place became filled with the fumes. It was nearly 7 o'clock when John Wierenga, who lives nearby, chanced to walk past the shed and idly stopped to see if the watchman was about. He found the unconscious form on the floor and surmising the trouble notified police headquarters after seeking in vain for a physician.

Patrolman John Kelley was sent to the scene and with Mr. Wierenga made attempts to revive Laugh but without success. The work was continued at the hospital and later in the day he recovered partially but is still in a very weak condition. The doctors declare that Laugh had been discovered not a moment too soon.

Freshman Class Flower.

At a recent meeting of the freshman class of the city high school the red clove carnation was selected as the class flower. The class colors are red and green and the flower is to be worn with asparagus fern.

FORT SPEAKS AT CHURCH

Governor-elect Says There is Need for Good Young Men in Politics.

COMPLIMENTS YOUNG LAWYERS

Three Things That Men Need in Public Life—Courage, Intelligence and Integrity.

Governor-elect J. Franklin Fort Sunday afternoon delivered a short address in connection with the sixty-third anniversary of the Hedden Memorial Methodist Episcopal church, Jersey City.

"One thing that struck me while I was on the Supreme Court bench," said Judge Fort, "was the high moral character of the young lawyers that appeared before me. There was Leake, who has just finished making an eloquent address: Tumulty, Carey, McCarthy, Lane, Hendrickson and others who are identified with politics. It is men of this character who are needed to conduct the affairs of State. Some of us get careless and old and pass away. We want such men as I have mentioned to uphold the hands of the government. I hope politics will not have a bad influence on them. I hope to see the time in public life who has not faith in God."

Discussing the incoming State administration, he said that results would depend upon the moral support given by the churches to those in power, and added:

"Good men should stand back of every moral movement permanently and aggressively. There are three things that men in public life need—courage, intelligence and integrity. In the campaign just closed there was one established fact. No one in New Jersey may fear evil if good men will stand behind the government. If anything shall result from what we have said to-day that may be contrary to the wishes of the church folk, it will be the fault of the churches—not mine."

OLD FASHIONED DANCE ENJOYED AT TRUELL HALL.

The guests of Truell Hall to the number of about 100 engaged in an old-fashioned country dance Saturday night, the festivities being held in the large and handsome ball-room. Some of the guests were attired in the old-fashioned costumes. There was the music, the old style of "calling off" the figures being adopted. Following the dance refreshments comprising crullers, coffee, pumpkin pie, etc., were served in the Japanese tea room.

The affair was arranged by several guests, assisted by Mrs. J. R. Truell, and the ball-room was appropriately decorated for the occasion. The dance was concluded shortly before midnight.

Euphemisms for "Mad."

In order to avoid the blunt word "mad" many euphemisms are resorted to in the English language. While "lunacy" refers to the supposed influence of the moon, "insane" simply means unhealthy; "imbecile" signifies only weak, and "crazy," meaning decrepit, almost corresponds to the slang "cracked." "A tile on," "not all there," "a bee in his bonnet," are only a few of the efforts slang has made to carry off the sad fact with an uneasy joke. "Lunatic asylum," for the old "madhouse," represents not only a great improvement in the institution, but also in the term used to designate it.

You want THE CENTURY MAGAZINE IN 1908 You want

"The best has been none too good for the readers of this publication, which has been such an important factor in the cultured development of the best people in the past three years, and which promises to be an equally important factor in the future."—Boston Globe

¶ In the magazine world the one by which the rest are measured has always been and is today THE CENTURY.

¶ Ask writers where their best productions are first offered,

¶ Ask public men where articles carry the most weight,

¶ Ask the public what magazine is the choice among people of real influence,

¶ The answer is the same,

"In all the feverish desire of magazines to cater to the superficial taste, the makers of THE CENTURY have stood firmly by the best—the best in "fiction, science, art, and thought," and The CENTURY MAGAZINE today is one of the finest monuments to their genius and one of the greatest forces in the literary life and culture of the nation."—Minneapolis Journal

THE CENTURY

The best of fiction, and of popular scientific articles, the most richly worth while biographical articles, the finest and best pictorial features, will be found in THE CENTURY during 1908. There will be "The Reminiscences of Lady Randolph Churchill," the story of the beautiful American girl who shared her brilliant husband's brilliant social and political successes during one of the most interesting periods of English history.

Prof. Percival Lowell will discuss "Mars as a Possible Abode of Life"—fascinating, authoritative papers, intended specially for unscientific readers. All Hetch Kelller's recent poetry and prose writings —by far her most remarkable work—will appear in THE CENTURY for 1908. And Dr. S. Weir Mitchell has written the fiction serial of the year, "The Red City," delightful historical novel of Old Philadelphia, continuing his famous "Hugh Wynne."

No magazine today publishes such remarkable color pages as THE CENTURY; in no other magazine are to be found so many illustrations suitable for framing, and really worth while. For 1908 Mr. de Ivanowski is painting portraits of the most noted opera singers. There will be more of Cole's beautiful wood-engravings, description and illustration of new processes in photography, and scores of pages in color, tint, and photogravure.

Subscription Price $4.00 a year.

THE CENTURY CO.

Union Square New York City

"... • • • Of all the newspapers in New York, the one which has approached most closely to what an American newspaper should be in letter, spirit and business tone, is THE NEW YORK TIMES stands first."—Harper's Weekly.

The New York Times

"All the News that's Fit to Print."

Gives more space to news than any other New York newspaper. It gives impartial news free from bias. It gives all the news that her other newspapers.

The London Times' Cable News appears in this country exclusively in THE NEW YORK TIMES in the Association of Domestic or Foreign News.

The New York Times

Is Now Appearing Every Sunday

Improved and Enlarged

with an Illuminated PICTORIAL SECTION OF EIGHT FULL-SIZE PAGES, embracing pictures of prominent people in society and public life, also scenes and incidents of the important events of the day.

The Magazine Section accompanying the SUNDAY TIMES presents a variety of interesting illustrated features and a choice selection of the best stories about men and women in prominence.

The New York Times.

Saturday Review of Books.

which accompanies the Saturday Edition, is the recognized authority to which the public looks for the first news of books.

The New York Times.

Weekly Financial Quotation Review.

gives a weekly review of current prices of stocks and bonds; also the closing prices of cotton, including high and low prices—comprising a complete and authoritative reference publication for investors and others interested in financial matters.

ORDER THROUGH YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER,

or mailed direct from office, as per the following rates:

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

Delivered Free by Mail.

One Year, Sundays included	$8.50
Six Months, Sundays included	4.25
Three Months, Sundays included	2.25
One Month, Sundays included	.75
Per Week	.17
Daily, without Sunday, per year	6.00
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3.00
Daily, without Sunday, three months	1.50
Daily, without Sunday, one month	.50
Daily, without Sunday, one week	.12
The New York Times Weekly Financial Quotation Review.	1.00
Saturday Review Section Devoted to Review of Books, per year	1.00
Sunday, with Pictorial Section, per year	2.50
Postage to foreign countries for Daily and Sunday Editions, add $5.00 per month.

Newsdealers who are not receiving THE NEW YORK TIMES—Daily and Sunday editions—should order a regular supply at once. Write for terms. Address Circulation Manager.

The New York Times Square, New York.

MAGAZINE READERS

SUNSET MAGAZINE beautifully illustrated, good stories and articles about California and all the Far West. $1.50 a year

CAMERA CRAFT devoted each month to the artistic reproduction of the best work of amateur and professional photographers. $1.00 a year

ROAD OF A THOUSAND WONDERS a book of 75 pages, containing 120 colored photographs of picturesque spots in California and Oregon. $0.75

Total . . . $3.25

All for $1.50

Address all orders to

SUNSET MAGAZINE

Flood Building San Francisco

FOR AGENTS—AN OPPORTUNITY!

"THE OLD WORLD AND ITS WAYS"

BY

William Jennings Bryan.

NOW READY FOR SOLICITORS.

576 Imperial Octavo Pages. Over 200 Superb Engravings from photographs taken by Mr. Bryan.

Recounts his trip around the world and his visits to all nations. The greatest book of travel ever written. The people are waiting for it. The agent's harvest. Outfit FREE—Send fifty cents to cover mailing and handling.

THE THOMPSON PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo. 7 26 3 c

W. H. CODDINGTON,

Counsellor-at-Law

Commissioner of Deeds, Master-in-chancery, Notary Public. Offices Corner of Park avenue and Second street.

Sanitary Plumbing

Brick and Portable Furnaces

Gas Fitting, Tin Roofing, Etc., Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.

Having associated myself with the Master Members Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business, at all times and in all cases.

D. W. LITTELL

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

COMMERCIAL LAW.

By Utley E. Crane, the well-known Philadelphi attorney. An instructive and invaluable treatment of this subject in its various branches.

PICTURESQUE PENNSYLVANIA.

Pennsylvania's beautiful scenery described with illustrations.

MUSIC WITHOUT A TEACHER.

Learn to play the piano in 12 lessons, one lesson to be published each Sunday.

These remarkable and valuable features will al appear in the Sunday Record in addition to the general news and other special features. Order from yeour newsdealer in advance.

THE PHILADELPHIA RECORD, 917 Chestnut street. 10 24 3

NEW IN EVERY DETAIL

My new barber shop at

143 NORTH AVE.

Now open ready for business. All the latest appointments in the toisorta line.

EDWIN B. MAYNARD.

DIME

Savings Institution,

Of Plainfield, N. J.,

Is now receiving deposits with interest, allowed on all sums from $5 to $3,000.

J. Frank Hubbard, President.
Wm. F. Arnold, Vice-Pres
Jeremiah Manning, Vice-Pres
J. C. Pope, Sec'y and Treas.

Money deposited on or before January tenth will draw interest from the first.

Guaranteed Salary $900 YEARLY.

Men and women of good address to represent us, some to travel appointing agents, others to look after our business already established. $900 salary guaranteed yearly; extra commissions and expenses paid; advancement, old established house. Grand chance for ambitious men to secure a pleasant, permanent position; liberal inducements. Home, Leader Bldg., Cleveland, O. Write at once.

STAFFORD PRESS, 23 Church St., New Haven, Conn.

DIED.

KINNIERY—In this city, November 19, 1907, John J. Kinniery, aged 47th year.

MOORE—On Wednesday, November 20, 1907, Joseph L. Moore.

GODDU—At New Market, N. J., on Thursday, November 21, 1907, Israel Goddu, in his 49th year.

SCHIERHOLTZ—In North Plainfield, Friday, November 22, 1907, Herbert, son of Edward and Annie Schierholtz, aged 9 years and 3 months.

FITZPATRICK—In this city, November 25, 1907, Anna M. Fitzpatrick, in her 33d year.

SNOWDEE—At New Market, N. J., Nov. 24, 1907, Henry B. Snowdee, aged 72 years, 6 months, 18 days.

NORFOLK—On Monday, November 25, 1907, Walter J. Norfolk, M. D.

VETSEY—Suddenly, on Monday, November 25, 1907, Frances Marcella Vetsey.

PETERSON—In this city, Monday, Nov. 25, 1907, Hudson Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Peterson, aged 10 years and 9 months.

HAPPY TIMES.

In days of old,
When knights were bold,
And sheetiron trousers wore,
They lived in peace
For the a crease
Would last ten years or more.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION

Interesting Program Prepared for Convention that is to Be Held at Atlantic City.

MANY NEWCOMERS TO BE HEARD.

The fifty-third annual meeting of the New Jersey State Teachers' Association will be held at Atlantic City, beginning Thursday, December 26, and ending Saturday, December 28, 27 and 28. The opening session will be called to order by the president, Charles E. Boyer, superintendents of schools of Atlantic City, N. J., on December 26, at 10:45 a. m. The address will be followed by an address on "The Relation of Private Vice to Public School Education," by Dr. David D. Ward, director of education, Bangor, Me. The second session will be held at 2 o'clock, when Dr. Charles J. Cronin, of the Department of Public Health, New York City, who will discuss "The Results of Proper Medical Inspection of Children."

These will be two functions connected with the teachers' association in the evening. A general session will be held in the Atlantic City high school at 8 o'clock. At this session the names of the nominating committee, which have been selected in Atlantic City, will be made public. The other function is a banquet at the Marlborough-Blenheim Hotel at 9:30 p. m.

Superintendent J. J. Unger, of Vineland, who is one of the special committee which has been investigating defective children, will make a report for the committee during the evening session. The next address will be by David C. Corson, assistant superintendent of the Newark schools. He will speak on "The Organization of the Elementary School System." Perhaps the feature of this session will be the address by an English woman engaged in educational work in Great Britain. She is Miss Sarah E. Burstall, of Manchester, England. She teaches in the Manchester high school for girls. Her topic will be "How English Educational Methods Meet Present-day Problems of Education."

The session of the association on Friday will be divided into various departmental sessions. The Department of Education session will be presided over by Superintendent H. W. Foster, of South Orange. H. G. House, of Livingston, will act as secretary. The main address will be by Henry Turner Bailey, editor of the School Arts Book, of North Easton, Mass.

Superintendent George E. Morris, of Bloomfield, will preside at the meeting of the Department of Supervision. E. W. Oliver, of Hoboken, will act as secretary. There will be two addresses. The first will be on "The Principles Underlying the Making of a Course of Study," by Dr. Joseph S. Taylor, district superintendent of New York city. The other speaker is to be Superintendent John Enright, of Jersey City, who will speak on "The Relation of the Superintendent of Schools to Those Supervised."

The meeting of the high school department will be presided over by T. D. Benson, of the New Jersey State Department of Education, at Trenton. Miss Florence Nelson, of Atlantic City, will act as secretary. The first address will be by Dr. Louis Bevier, Jr., the New Jersey State high school superintendent. His topic will be "Present High School Problems." Joshiah Main, of Knoxville, Tenn., who is State lecturer on agriculture of Tennessee, will speak on "Agriculture in Secondary Schools."

Miss Florence [illegible], supervisor of manual training in the Newark schools, will preside at the meeting of the department of art. The secretary will be Miss Helen D. Mosher, of Atlantic City. At this department there will be an exhibition of manual training, in which the work of [illegible] different schools in the State that subject is taught. The [illegible] will be by Miss Mary [illegible] South Orange, who will [illegible] "Manual Training in Secondary Grades." Theodore [illegible], director of manual training [illegible] Montclair schools, will [illegible] an address. Miss Carrie [illegible], supervisor of sewing in the Newark schools, will [illegible] schools." Miss [illegible] the Newark [illegible] Dodge [illegible] all the de- [illegible] Dr. N. C. [illegible] tendents of [illegible], will speak [illegible] Problem." The [illegible] Superintendent [illegible], of Woodbury, [illegible] superintendent [illegible] Paterson, who will [illegible] terms on "Education for [illegible]."

The evening there will be an open session, at which the desire to [illegible] sional Independent Nominations. H. [illegible] Miller, principal of the Atlantic City high school, will [illegible] report for the committee on educational progress. The speakers of the evening will be the Rev. Newell Dwight [illegible], D. D., of Brooklyn. His topic will be "Oliver Cromwell." There will be only one session on Saturday morning. It will be opened by the president of the association, Miss Grace M. Dudley, of Newark, who will speak on "Needed Legislation for New Jersey Teachers."

The retirement fund department, which provides for pensions, will have a meeting during the session. [illegible] will show that since the establishment [illegible] fund was established $182,145 has been distributed to 176 retired teachers. The report of the State treasurer for July 1, of this year, showed assets amounting to $1,145,495.27. There are in force 164 annuities and out of the 10,000 teachers in the State 7,500 are members of the fund. For the fiscal year ending June 30 last, nearly $40,000 was disbursed, of which $35,624 was for annuities.

Owing to the change in the State law, after January 1, 1908, all teachers thereafter appointed will become members of the fund, and annuities will be paid amounting to three-fifths of the average salary for the last five years in which the person has taught. The maximum annuity shall be $650 and the minimum $250. Another provision is the new rule that members who cease teaching for five years while not retired to resume membership with the fund and receive credit for past payments of dues. Statistical tables will be offered at the teachers' association to show that the actual average salary of all the teachers in New Jersey during the years 1905-1907 was $693.79.

VOTING MACHINES TO GO?

Governor and Senators-elect Said to Have Discussed Their Further Use.

AT A "SECRET" CONFERENCE.

Australian Ballot, As Used in New York State, May Be Adopted for Them—Senators Won't Talk.

The death knell of voting machines in New Jersey was probably sounded at Lakewood Friday, according to reports current in political circles into the subject of the expression of preferences of voters by machinery.

Governor Edward Casper Stokes, whose term expires January 21, was a member of the party and is understood to have raised his voice in defense of the machines. Outside of that expression some others seemed to feel that the general sentiment throughout the State was against any further purchases and in favor of their early elimination, it is said.

It is probable that among the recommendations to be made in the first annual message of Governor-elect Fort will be a very emphatic treatment of the subject of ballot reform. It is said that the State will not necessarily return to the old-fashioned ballot used in a majority of the districts today, but there may be some movement to adopt the Australian ballot as used in New York and other States.

Senator E. R. Ackerman refused today to discuss the subjects considered at the conference. "I am not at liberty to talk on the matter," he said, "but I can say I have received a number of requests to file my influence against the voting machine. Up to the present time I have never been requested to help in having it continued in use."

When State Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, of Somerset county, was asked this morning whether the voting machine had been the subject of discussion and whether it was true that the majority of Senators favored its abolishment, he said:

"I am not going to say one word about what we talked over yesterday. The meeting was behind closed doors and it was understood that nothing was to be given out. Attempts were made on the train to get me to discuss the conference, but I could not do so, neither would the other Senators. I don't believe that any Senator has said a word about what was discussed. I am not going to make any statement on this subject."

Governor-elect Fort's son is the correspondent at Lakewood for the Newark Morning Star, which first published the story. The correspondent was not present at the meeting, and the story published in that paper was much exaggerated.

The fight against the use of voting machines is as old as the machines themselves. Since they were first introduced into the State as an experiment there has been strong opposition. The Legislature of this year wrestled long with the question of ballot reforms and finally wrote on the statute books, despite the fact that there was a Republican Senate and a Democratic House, a law abolishing the Voting Machine Commission. What was taken to mean that there would be no further purchases of machines.

The Governor-elect did not mention the voting machine in his speeches during the campaign, but he is known to have decided views on the subject. He is said to have expressed himself in favor of some radical ballot reforms yesterday.

Camels and Water.

The scent of the camel for water is said to be very keen. He can smell it a great way off, and oftentimes the travelers who are suffering for water will let the camel take his own way, and he will take them to a place where water may be found.

THREE DAY BAPTISTS MEET

Three Days Session at Denominational Editors Attended by Many Delegates.

NEXT CONFERENCE AT SHILOH.

Rev. Henry M. Jordan, D. D., Wheeler, T. L. Gardiner and D. B. Coon Participating.

The yearly meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist church churches of New Jersey and New York convened at the Seventh-Day Baptist church, last Friday, with a praise service conducted by the Rev. Henry M. Jordan, of the New Market church, and a sermon by Rev. A. H. Wheeler, of Marlboro. The sessions will continue today and tomorrow. There are delegates present from the churches at Shiloh and Marlboro, in the Southern part of the State; New Market and the New York city church.

This morning the services were continued at 10:30, with special music by the choir and a sermon by Rev. D. B. Coon, of Shiloh. This afternoon at the Sabbath-school session was held. Orra S. Rogers, the superintendent was in charge, and the lesson, "World's Temperance Lesson," was taught from the platform topics. After the session of the Sabbath-school the Christian Endeavor Society met. The topic, "The Publishing House," was explained by N. O. Moore, business manager of the Recorder Press.

This evening there will be a praise service at 7:30 and this will be followed with a discussion of systematic benevolence and a sermon by Rev. R. Bertram Tolbert, pastor of the New York.

The meeting will continue tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock with a business meeting, after which Rev. Henry N. Jordan, of New Market, will make an address on "Seventh-Day Baptist Interests in Arkansas," to be followed by a discussion.

"How Shall We Secure a Spiritual Awakening," will be the topic for discussion at the afternoon session which begins at 2 o'clock. Some of the topics under this division will be as follows: "Better Sabbath Observance," Rev. Dr. T. L. Gardiner, editor of The Sabbath Recorder; "Special Services in Our Churches," Rev. D. B. Coon, of Shiloh; "The Character of Our General Meetings," Rev. S. H. Wheeler, of Hebron; "Missionary Activity," and "Individual Communion With God."

The closing session will be held in the evening with a praise service at 7:45 in charge of Rev. Mr. Jordan, and a sermon by Rev. D. B. Coon at 8 o'clock.

The next yearly meeting will be held at Shiloh in 1908 in the church of which Rev. D. B. Coon is pastor.

LOCAL MEN TO SPEAK AT CHARITY CONFERENCE

Leon R. Thurlow, health officer for the local Board of Health, and Rev. A. C. Nicholson, pastor of All Souls' church, have been designated as speakers at the annual meeting of the State Conference of Caritles and Corrections to be held in Jersey City in February. Numerous questions relating to the alms for which the charity workers are striving will be discussed.

Mr. Thurlow has been assigned the subject, "Sanitation and Hygiene" and Mr. Nickerson will lead a discussion on "The Organization of Charities for Relief." State Senator Everett R. Colby, of West Orange, will also be in attendance and act as chairman for a discussion of the subject, "Crime, Its Prevention and Treatment."

The conference has never been held in Jersey City before and an energetic committee is working industriously to make the meeting a success. In order to interest the people all through Hudson county a citizens' committee of over 100 has been appointed. At former meetings held in other parts of the State, the addresses aided greatly in facilitating the work and the list of speakers secured for the coming occasion is one of the highest excellence.

Mrs. Palmer Campbell, of Hoboken, is chairman of the entertainment committee, which will not only look after the social entertainment of the visitors but will also provide accommodations over night for those who come from a long distance.

John P. Owens a Counselor.

John P. Owens, of this city, is among the twenty-eight new counselors named yesterday in the report presented to the justices of the Supreme Court as having successfully passed the examination. There were also thirty attorneys. Out of a class of thirty-two applicants for counselors' license, four were rejected.

FLOWERED VOILES.

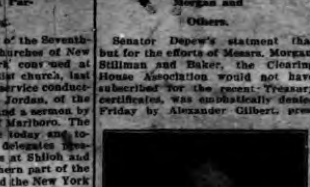
Flowered voiles in large bold patterns on a soft cream background furnish excellent material for house wrappers. There comes a material soft, pliable and exactly suited for such dainty garments. The wrappers are made large, fluffy and trimmed with ribbons to match the flowers.

NO GILBERT MAKES DENIAL

President of Clearing House Association Disputes Chauncey Depew's Assertion.

SENATOR'S STATEMENT FALSE.

Association Not Opposed to Treasury Issue But Admits Influence of Morgan and Others.



Former Mayor Alexander Gilbert, President of New York Clearing House Association.

Senator Depew's statment that but for the efforts of Messrs. Morgan, Stillman and Baker, the Clearing House Association would not have subscribed for the recent Treasury certificates was emphatically denied Friday by Alexander Gilbert, president of the Clearing House Association and chairman of the committee.

"The statement credited to Senator Depew is not true," said Mr. Gilbert at his home in this city. "It implies a lack of disposition on the part of the Clearing House Association to uphold the hands of the Government in this time of financial stress," he added.

"That implication is unjust. In all the world there are no men who more keenly realize their responsibilities than do the members of the Clearing House committee. Never for a moment has that committee considered any measure to reject the Government's Treasury certificate plan.

"No individual member has even hinted at action calculated to jeopardize or curtail its success. On the contrary, the Clearing House committee has aimed throughout to give the Government hearty support.

"What really happened is the committee was this: When the new Treasury issue came up for discussion, we debated the question whether it would be wise or unwise for the banks to subscribe just at this time. Subscribing banks would be compelled to pay in gold, and as a result their gold reserves would be largely reduced.

"On this point arose the only discussion. Certain members of the committee advocated the subscription, while others contended that the building up of the gold reserves was more important just at this time.

"It is perfectly true, however, that Messrs. Morgan, Stillman and Baker did appear before the committee. But it was not to oppose any sentiment against the Treasury issue. There was no such sentiment in existence.

"Neither did those three gentlemen join the committee conference in order to exert probable action antagonistic to the Government's plan. No such action was ever contemplated.

"All that Messrs. Morgan, Stillman and Baker did was to ask us to subscribe. Some of the members agreed with them and there to do so, and others did not. There was no swaying of opinion, nor change of purpose as a result of the arguments advanced by the three financiers.

"Any statement to the contrary, that it was not to oppose any sentiment against the Treasury issue. There was no such sentiment in existence.

"Neither did those three gentlemen join the committee conference in order to exert probable action antagonistic to the Government's plan. No such action was ever contemplated.

"All that Messrs. Morgan, Stillman and Baker did was to ask us to subscribe. Some of the members agreed with them and there to do so, and others did not. There was no swaying of opinion, nor change of purpose as a result of the arguments advanced by the three financiers.

"Any statement to the contrary, that it was not to oppose any sentiment against the Treasury issue. But

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST

VOL. XXXIX — PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1907. — NO. 49.

"Support the Constitution, which is the Cement of the Union, as well in its Limitations as in its Authorities."—Madison.

FOR INDUSTRIAL TRAINING

J. B. Betts, of this City, Tells State Board Why Such Instruction is Needed.

STATE SCHOOL TAX NECESSARY.

State Superintendent C. J. Baxter, Formerly of This City, Dwells at Length On the Subject.

The New Jersey State Board of Education, after a number of preliminary committee meetings, which have been in session since Saturday, held its regular meeting as a whole at Lakewood yesterday. Subject to approval by the State Legislature and pending a suitable money appropriation by that body, the Board appointed Charles S. Chapin, at present superintendent of public schools at Providence, R. I., to the superintendency of the new State Normal School at Montclair. The appointment will have to be confirmed by the Legislature before it can go into effect.

The Board took preliminary action towards enlargement and addition to the course in industrial education.

"The aim," said J. B. Betts, of Plainfield, secretary of the Board, "is to introduce the educational methods of the State a more practical trend. We feel that so far as general public instruction goes, it is better to have a strong practical element on the work, and that it is better, for instance, to teach a boy how to be a good scientific farmer than to give his training the twist that will turn him into a poor lawyer or a worse doctor. In other words, the educational methods in our public schools should be such that they will help more than they have in the past that great mass who intend to do their life work along industrial lines."

The matter was referred to the committee on education and will be reported on at the next meeting of the board.

That the State school tax will have to be continued despite the expected revenue from the taxation of railroads was admitted by State Superintendent Charles J. Baxter in a preliminary report made to the board yesterday. In his report Mr. Baxter set forth that the State school tax for the year ending June 30 last was $2,062,208.29. The fund from the State treasury was $1,079,519.42, and there was $200,000 from the State school fund available, while interest on the surplus was $27,412.89, making the total revenue for the year ending June 30 the sum of $3,367,140.01.

If the railroad tax fund had been available at that time there would have been received $2,530,867.35, which would make a total of $5,990,007.36.

Mr. Baxter pointed out that that amount was not near enough to run the schools, and the State school tax must continue. The salaries alone of the teachers during that period reached $6,181,475.13, and with the railroad fund deducted would amount to $281,467.77. The actual expense for the year for schools alone, with the repairs being estimated and other incidentals, amounted to $9,132,242.80, and with the buildings and repairs and debt and interest added amounted to $3,710,876.66, making the actual tax for that period, he said, $1,485,751.97.

The State owns, Mr. Baxter said, 1,962 school buildings whose entire value is estimated at $27,284,539, making the average value of school buildings owner, $13,912. The increase in valuations over the year ending June 30 was $5,572,259.

FRATERNAL ORDER EAGLES

ELECT THEIR OFFICERS.

At the regular meeting of Plainfield Arie, No. 866, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held in Eagles' Hall, East Second street, last evening, the following officers were elected: Past worthy president, D. V. Force; worthy president, R. P. Kampf; worthy vice president, Joseph Callahan; worthy chaplain, P. W. Guiney; worthy inside guard, D. Mack; worthy outside guard, J. H. Adams; worthy secretary, H. G. Adams; worthy treasurer, A. G. Adams; worthy trustees, E. J. McCann, W. J. Cleaves, H. Hillman; worthy physician, Dr. A. H. Dundon.

After the meeting and election, a social time was enjoyed by the members.

The installation will take place on Tuesday evening, January 7.

Wilson Asst. Baggagemaster.

William Wilson, formerly chief marshal of the borough, and at one time night baggagemaster at the North Avenue station, has been appointed assistant to Baggagemaster J. F. Garretson at the station, succeeding Jacob Wagner, who has retired.

—Thursday, Friday and Saturday, special sale at Levy's—Ladies' 50c Gloves 25c. •••

COLORED MAN HELD FOR STEALING SILVER

Edward Randolph, colored, of this city, was arrested on North avenue, last night, by Detective-Sergeant John Flynn, on suspicion of having stolen a case of silver-plated ware belonging to Miss Lizzie Brighton, colored, of Arlington avenue. The theft, it is presumed, occurred last Friday, and Miss Brighton reported it to the police. Detective Flynn was put on the case.

Yesterday Randolph visited Westfield and while there stole a raincoat from Taylor's livery stables belonging to Robert Saris. When Detective Flynn met Randolph last night he mentioned this coat. The colored man looked suspicious and wanted to know whether the officer had received a telephone message from Westfield. He was told that such a message had been received. It was afterward learned that the Westfield police were about to arrest a white man under suspicion, when informed that Randolph had the coat.

Randolph, it is said, sold the silverware, and the police expect to be able to return the goods to the owner today. The prisoner was held in $400 for the Grand Jury and in default of furnishing the amount was sent to Elizabeth.

LITTLE BACTERIA IN PLAINFIELD'S MILK

Much improvement was shown during November in the quality of the milk sold in Plainfield, according to the report of Health Officer Leon R. Thurlow at the December meeting of the Board of Health, yesterday. This was especially true of the bacteria, the average for all samples taken being 24,470 per cubic centimeter. The highest bacteria in any sample was 115,000 and 26 of the 40 samples were below 50,000. The average of the milk analysis for the month were as follows:

Fats, 4.06 per cent.; solids, 13.08; solids not fat, 9.02; lactometer, 110; bacteria per cubic centimeter, 24,470.

The reports of the sanitary condition of the city show that the number of communicable disease during November was low; seven cases of scarlet fever and four of diphtheria being reported. Four of the seven cases of scarlet fever were in one family.

Considerable work was done on dairy inspection and milk analysis, the following inspections being made: Dairies, 17; number of places, 14; stores selling milk, 38; a total of 79.

These permits were granted to sell milk: Harry Holland, R. H. Keenan, J. M. Seigel, B. C. Firstbrook and Elder Trent; to carry on business of scavenger, J. M. Ingraham; to collect garbage, Charles Meyer, Ferando Brown and William Winkleholz; to collect offal, Swift & Co. The following returns were made during the month: Marriages, 18; births, 30; still-births, 1; deaths, 32.

REPORTS SHOW GROWTH OF ST. STEPHEN'S PARISH

The annual parish meeting of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, of Netherwood, was held at the close of a special service in the church last night. There was a good number of parishioners present and the annual reports of the various guilds and committees were read.

Rev. Arthur Searing Peck, rector of the church, made his annual report, expressing gratification upon the support tendered him during the past twelve months along all lines of parish work. The affairs of the parish, both religious and financial, are in a flourishing condition and there has been an encouraging growth in all branches of the parish work since last Advent.

The balloting for wardens and vestrymen, in accordance with the annual custom, resulted in the re-election of the present encumbents in each case. These are, senior warden, George Dupuy; junior warden, Adam C. Hill; vestrymen, Robert Mc-Cready, J. C. Haywood, Frederick G. Hebert, Alfred Lacey and William S. Crook. The rector will appoint delegates to the diocesan convention later.

Claims Promptly Settled.

Central Lodge, No. 48, Ancient Order United Workmen, has received two checks for $3,000 each from the Grand Lodge of that order in payment of claims in connection with the deaths of John J. Kinnlery and Israel Geddis, of Central Lodge. Mr. Kinnlery died November 19 and Mr. Geddis on November 21, both claims being settled with ten days of the time of death.

STATE FOOD COMMISSION

Organization is Effected at the Pure Food Convention in Cranford.

MISS LAKEY CHOSEN CHAIRMAN

Resolutions Are Adopted Requesting Federal Authorities to Call an International Congress to Deal With Question.

A State Food Commission, to protect consumers from infection in meat, milk and other foods and to enforce the national pure food laws, was organized at the close of the afternoon session of the pure food convention in the First Presbyterian church at Cranford yesterday. Miss Alice Lakey, chairman of the food committee, National Consumers' League, and the Cranford Food Committee, was elected chairman of the State Commission. More than sixty delegates from all sections of the State signed as members. The Monday afternoon club of Plainfield was represented at the conference.

Resolutions were adopted requesting the United States Government to call an international pure food congress to consider uniform means for dealing with food and drug adulteration and misbranding; pointing out to the Governor and Legislature of New Jersey the urgent need for legislation and appropriation to provide for the inspection of local slaughtering-houses and the inspection of all animals both before and after slaughter, and the need of inspection to prevent the sale of milk from diseased animals and to eradicate tuberculosis and other diseases from dairy animals and to quarantine the State against the bringing in of cattle infected with tuberculosis; urging the Legislature to amend the State pure food law so as to go into effect at once; requesting county medical societies in the State to appoint milk commissions for the purpose of furnishing pure milk supply for infant feeding after the plan inaugurated by Dr. Colt, of this State; indorsing the work of Commissioner E. F. Ladd, of North Dakota, to have bleached flours labeled, so that the consumers why know when low grades or flour have been bleached to resemble the finer grades, and protesting against the misuse of the guaranty clause in the national pure food law.

Another resolution was as follows: "Resolved, That since the Royal English Tuberculosis Commission has conclusively proved tuberculosis is transmitted to man through cows' milk, it becomes the duty of every citizen of every State to foster every means to prevent the production and sale of infected milk."

The convention opened with an address of welcome by Miss Lakey, after which greetings were given by Mrs. G. W. B. Cushing, president of the New Jersey Consumers' League; Mrs. Frederick Nathan, president of the New York City Consumers' League, and Mrs. Florence Kelley, executive secretary of the National Consumers' League.

The speakers in the afternoon were Professor Edward B. Voorhees, director of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, on "Sanitary Production of Milk from the Farmer's Standpoint;" Dr. W. D. Bigelow, chief of division of foods of the Bureau of Chemistry, Washington, D. C., on "Food Adulteration and Method of Detection;" Dr. Wm. H. Ste, chemist, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, on "Food Standards;" Dr. Louis L. Seaman, late major-surgeon of the United States Volunteers, vice-president of the Pan-American Congress, on the "Danger Incurred from the Use of Improver Foods," and Dr. George Goler, of Rochester, N. Y., on "Impure Milk."

The evening session opened with an address of welcome by Mayor E. B. Horton. The principal speaker of the evening was Senator J. S. Frelinghuysen, on "Pure Food Legislation in New Jersey. R. M. Allan, secretary of State and National Food and Dairy Departments and chief of Food Division, Pittsburg, spoke on "Co-operation Between State and National Food Officers;" Dr. A. D. Melvin, of Washington, D. C., on "Tuberculosis Meat," and James B. Reynolds on "Meat Inspection." Regrets were read from Senators Colby and Minch; Henry Mitchell, secretary of the State Board of Health; Governor Stokes and Dr. Thomas Darlington, of the New York Health Board.

Borough Cleans Away the Snow.

Street Commissioner Conover, of the borough, had a force of men cleaning the sidewalks, crosswalks and gutters of North Plainfield early this morning after the storm. The snow was removed from the sidewalks by plows drawn by horses, and the cross walks and gutters were shoveled clear by a force of men of the street department.

—Outing Flannel Gowns, 44c—Levy Bros.' •••

SENTENCE DAY IN COURT

Thomas Ryan Given 3 Years While Bail of Andrew Cozzi is Forfeited.

ENGLEMAN GETS SEVEN YEARS.

Arnold Stahl for Selling Indecent Postal Cards is Fined $250—Pagnillo Given One Year.

This was sentence day in the Union County Court, and Judge Edward S. Swayze disposed of a number of cases, including a few from Plainfield. Thomas Ryan, of this city, found guilty of a heinous offense, was given three years in State prison.

LeRoy Brown, also of this city, found guilty of stealing a horse and wagon at New Market, failed to appear in court and his bond of $200 furnished by Nelson Giles, was forfeited.

Andrew Cozzi, of this city, who recently pleaded guilty to selling indecent postal cards, failed to put in an appearance, but his counsel, Robert McAdams explained that Cozzi did not understand the date for appearance. Sentence was postponed for one week.

Barnard Engleman, of Elizabeth, who was convicted of burglary on Monday, was arraigned, as were other charges, one of which was a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He was sentenced to seven years in State prison.

Arnold Stahl, of Elizabeth, found guilty of selling indecent postal cards, was fined $250, and Joseph Pagnillo, of Summit, found guilty of pointing a revolver and discharging the same at Policeman Kelly was sent to State prison for one year.

M. E. WOMEN'S WORK FOR CAUSE OF MISSIONS

The annual meeting of the Elizabeth District of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church took place in the Epworth church in Elizabeth this morning. Mrs. S. M. Winter, of this city, first vice president, presided for Mrs. A. C. McCrea, of this city, the president. On the arrival of Mrs. J. H. Knowles, conference secretary, the chair was turned over to her.

The session opened with a devotional service of song, Scripture reading and prayer conducted by the Rev. Enoch Meachem, Ph. D. The district was then welcomed to the church by the pastor, Rev. Staley F. Davis, who said that the gathering was a typical and representative one of Christians who are doing the real work of the Lord. The one not interested in foreign missions, he said, had missed the keynote of the Christian faith. Mr. Davis then told of what Christian missions had contributed to social progress, as cited by Dennis, the theologian.

"Good churches and missions," said Mr. Davis, "go hand in hand. One cannot exist without the other. You are doing pre-eminently the work that has been laid down by Jesus Christ. Every church ought to be open to you, and every Christian church is."

The following committees were appointed:

Nominations—Mrs. J. H. Knowles, Mrs. C. A. Spencer, Mrs. Robert Moore and Mrs. A. C. McCrea.

Registration—Mrs. J. R. Laggren and Miss Claire Griffin.

Resolutions—Mrs. J. B. Hayes and Mrs. Theodore Armstrong.

The treasurer's report showed a cash balance of $1.05 on hand.

FORESTERS ELECT OFFICERS. AND ENJOY A SMOKER.

Court Watchung, No. 2871, Independent Order Foresters, held its annual election of officers, last night, followed by a smoker and general good time. Considering the stormy night the attendance of members was large and much interest was shown in the choice of officers for the coming year chosen as follows:

Chief ranger, John M. Lawin; vice-chief ranger, William A. Canton; recording secretary, G. E. Volk; financial secretary, James D. Macnab; treasurer, Asa F. Randolph; orator, David C. Boice; senior warden, W. J. H. Chandler; junior woodward, C. S. Hoagland; senior beadle, Dr. Marcus L. Clawson; junior beadle, C. S. Haring; court deputy, J. R. Naylor; court physician, Dr. Marcus L. Clawson; trustees, A. M. Vanderbeek, Dudley S. Miller, finance committee, Frank E. Woodruff, C. S. Haring; apothecaries, Dudley S. Miller and Peter B. Hodge.

A. D. Shepard, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Shepard, of "The Cabins," Fanwood, has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rees, of Asheville, N. C.

MORE LOOT IS IDENTIFIED

Mrs. F. R. Walker, of Stelton, Finds Watches Among Booty at Green's House.

BURGLAR HAS BAD RECORD.

Colored Man Who Robbed Fritts' House Served Term in Reformatory as a Boy—More Valuable Unidentified.

The belief that George Green, the colored driver who robbed George Fritts' house at Mountainside, last week, in an amateur burglar bid has a record of several successful robberies in this vicinity, was sustained this morning, when a search of his house on Grove street, conducted by Marshal Lemuel Pope, of the borough police, revealed watches and jewelry belonging to Mrs. F. R. Walker, of Piscataway township, near Stelton.

Mrs. Walker's h ouse was robbed on the night of September 1, when an entrance was effected through a second story window and twenty-five dollars in money, with two silver watches, four ladies' rings, a gold breast pin, two dozen handkerchiefs and a bold dollar bangle were taken. Though reported to the township police, no trace of the missing booty could be found. All the articles except the money were found and identified by Mrs. Walken when found in Brown's house in the borough.

Reading in the paper about the find of two watches in the search at the house last week conducted by the Westfield police, Mrs. Walker thought that perhaps they might belong to her. Louis Walker, Jr., came to this city yesterday afternoon and secured a search warrant from Justice of the Peace Clark Mundy. The search was conducted today and the watches have been identified, and the other articles were found in the house. Walker said that he knew Green by sight, as he had worked near Stelton several months ago. When he heard of the man's arrest and read of the robbery in which the watches, he believed he had a clue to the burglary. Accompanied by Mrs. Walker, he went to Green's house today with Marshal Lemuel Pope and identified the property recovered in the search.

Investigation of Green's record shows that he served a long term in the State reformatory for a petty larceny committed several years ago. Since leaving the reformatory, he has been "hired out" to several farmers in Piscataway township. He has only been in the employ of Isaac Smalley for a short time, and previous to his arrest was employed as a driver, carting hay. Green is now in a cell in the county jail at Elizabeth, held without bail to await the action of the grand jury. William G. DeMeza, of this city, is Green's counsel.

In addition to the valuables identified by Mrs. Walker this morning, a fountain pen and other trinkets and jewelry were found at Brown's house by Marshal Pope in the search. It is believed that the man has been implicated in other robberies and has concealed the booty in his house, but as yet no other search warrants have been issued and up to noon today none of the rest of the booty had been identified.

DR. RAYMOND'S SUCCESSOR TO GET $10,000 A YEAR.

The Schenectady, N. Y., Union announces that Rev. Dr. George Alexander, Union '66, pastor of the University Place Presbyterian church of New York city, will be the next president of Union College, succeeding Rev. Dr. Andrew V. V. Raymond, formerly pastor of Trinity Reformed church, this city, who resigned last June to accept a Buffalo pastorate. Dr. Alexander was offered the presidency of the college at that time, but consented only to become acting president until some suitable educator would be selected for the place.

Arrangements have been made which will relieve the new president of the responsibility of financing the college. The trustees have also decided to make Dr. Alexander's salary $10,000 a year.

Funeral of Bonfire Victim.

Mary Guernia, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerner Guernia, who was burned to death Monday while playing about a fire near her parents' home on Lake street, was buried yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

—Thursday, Friday and Saturday, special sale at Levy Bros.' 25c dolls 15c. •••

—The best assortment of fruits and vegetables always at Neuman Brothers. New consignments reach the store every morning.

Miss Marion Herr, of Flemington, is spending several days with relatives in town.

TAX COLLECTOR OBSERVES 5TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Tax Collector and Mrs. William R. Townsend entertained about fifty of their relatives and intimate friends from this city, New York and Brooklyn at their home on Kensington avenue last night on the occasion of their fifth wedding anniversary. It was a "wooden wedding anniversary," and the couple received many presents of furniture, pictures and burnt wood work appropriate to the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Townsend received their guests in the parlor, which was tastefully decorated in pink and green, and during the evening a collation was served in the dining room, where the decorations were red and white. Music for the affair was furnished by Suhr's orchestra.

Mrs. Townsend, formerly Miss May Mulford, is the daughter of the late E. C. Mulford, of East Fifth street. The couple were married five years ago yesterday at the home of Miss Mulford's parents, subsequently beginning housekeeping at 734 Kensington avenue.

On Monday, November 19, Mr. Townsend was appointed tax collector to succeed John W. Murray, resigned. Previous to assuming this office, he had been clerk to the Union County Board for the Equalization of Taxes.

CHURCH SOCIETY WELCOMES NEW MEMBERS AT LUNCHEON

A delightful luncheon, attended by about sixty members of the Ladies' Aid Society of Grace M. E. church, was held yesterday at the church. The affair was of a social nature, the luncheon being given by a number of the women under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Force, to a delegation of members of the society of which Mrs. George Nelson is chairman.

Early in June, the society divided into two parts, and a competition to get new members started. It was agreed that the side who secured the most new members for the society was to be given a luncheon at the church by their less successful opponents in the contest. As a result of the six months' work, forty-nine new members have been added to the society, which now numbers ninety-seven women. Mrs. Nelson's corps of workers secured the majority of the new members, so the other faction provided the feature. Most of the new members of the society were present and were cordially greeted by the parish workers.

Mrs. E. P. Stevens, as president of the society, made an address of welcome. At the conclusion of the luncheon, which was served at 1 o'clock, a short business meeting of the society was held, at which matters of routine business were attended to and plans for the winter discussed.

BRIGHT CHORUS GIRL SUCCUMBS TO TYPHOID

Word has reached here of the death of Miss Augusta Kelly, aged nineteen years, which occurred at St. Paul, Minn., last Saturday, from typhoid fever. Miss Kelly was born in this city and spent most of her early life here. She was the daughter of Frank Kelly, of Harrison, and during the past few years she has been a member of a theatrical company. At the time she was taken ill she was playing with the company at the Star theatre, St. Paul, and was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, that city, where she died. She was one of the chorus girls in the production and it is said had met with much success which destined her for a more important part.

Miss Kelly's mother died here on August 7 last and within a week's time her brother died. That was the last time Miss Kelly was in Plainfield. She was then playing in New York State and soon afterward the company went west. The body is now en route for Plainfield and is expected to reach here the latter part of the week. Arrangements for the funeral will then be made.

Governor to Review Regiment.

Governor Stokes will be the guest of honor at a review, regimental drill and parade of the Fourth Regiment to be held in the armory, Jersey City, on Wednesday evening, December 11. The State's Chief Executive will be accompanied by members of his staff, and the officers of the National Guard will also witness the ceremonies. After the ceremonies a reception and collation will be tendered to the Governor and escort by Colonel Joseph H. Brenstinger and staff in the board of officers's room.

—Advertise in The Daily Press.

WANT P.S.C.'S WORD KEPT

Councilmen Incensed That Promised New Cars are Not Forthcoming.

IT'LL PROVE A BOOMERANG.

One Member Declares That If Agreement Is Violated, P. S. C. Will Suffer—As to New Rails.

The recent announcement by Superintendent Danforth, of the Public Service Corporation, that no new cars would be sent to Plainfield before spring has greatly incensed the members of the Common Council who say that they voted for the double track application simply because the new cars were promised before January 1. A member of the Common Council is speaking of this matter said:

"The trolley officials, including Col. Hine, who attended the Common Council meeting when permission for the double track was given, distinctly promised that as a part of the consideration new cars of the double-track type would be placed on all city lines before January 1. This agreement was not made until after Col. Hine reported that the tracks on West Fourth street would be heavy enough for the double-track cars.

"It was also stated by Col. Hine that the company planned to lay new and heavier rails in West Fourth street next summer and to make other needed repairs to tracks. I for one will never vote to give the company a single concession as long as I am in the Common Council if the company fails to give Plainfield the new cars as agreed. It was permitted to lay its double tracks through Watchung avenue and East Front street, thereby hindering to a considerable extent the brick pavement work and for that privilege we were told that the city should have the improved type of trolley. Now Superintendent Danforth says that the cars will not reach here before spring. I am sure that other members of the council feel the way I do and the company may not find it so easy to secure privileges in the future, or at least next year, while these members remain in the council."

As stated in The Daily Press recently, President H. W. Marshall, of the Board of Trade, intends taking up this question with Mayor Fisk at once with a view to securing the news cars if possible. The members of the board are all agreed that the company should furnish the improved trolley for the city and they do not intend to let the matter drop until the company does as it agreed to when seeking a privilege. President Marshall will undoubtedly have something to say on the subject at the meeting of the board tomorrow night.

S. ST. JOHN M'CUTCHEON TO ADDRESS SCHOOL BOARD.

S. St. John McCutcheon, who is a member of the State Board of Education, will address the semi-annual meeting of the Somerset County School Board Association at Somerville, Saturday, December 14. Mr. McCutcheon has not yet selected his subject, but will speak on some phase of educational work in the public schools.

The meeting will be held at the Somerville court house and Henry C. Krebs, county superintendent of schools, will attend. These sessions are held semi-annually for the purpose of getting together board members from the country districts to discuss educational methods and the transportation problem in suburban districts.

Probation Officers Meet.

The State Probationary and Parole Officers' Association held a meeting in the State House at Trenton yesterday to prepare suggestions for its annual report to the Governor. President Charles H. Edmunds, of Trenton, presided, and Secretary Captain G. Irwin, of Union county, was present, with about fifteen other members. The general work of probation throughout the State was gone over in a general way, and the meeting became a conference.

Quarter Centennial Concert.

The quarter centennial concert of the Young Men's Christian Association orchestra will be given at the association hall Tuesday night, December 17. Tickets may be obtained free at all drug stores. A silver offering will be received.

Registered in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey W. Hyde, of Woodland avenue, were registered yesterday among American travelers at the Paris office of the New York Herald.

—Thursday, Friday and Saturday, special sale at Levy's—all wool dress goods, 19c yard. •••

UNITED IN THANKSGIVING

All Protestant Congregations Gather Together in Observance of the National Feast.

MANY MINISTERS TAKE PART.

Dr. Zelie Presides and Rev. Mr. Finn Preaches on "The Royalty Bounty"—Dr. Chambliss Reads Proclamation.

The union Thanksgiving service held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Thursday morning, was largely attended by the members of all the evangelical churches of the city and borough. The platform was occupied by ministers from the churches represented, many of whom had a part in the service.

The program with a prelude, "Allegro," Mendelssohn, and the organ, followed with an anthem, "He Sendeth the Spring," Warring, by the quartet choir. The reading of sentences of Scripture was led by Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, who presided at the service. Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church, read the National Thanksgiving Proclamation, and the invocation and the Lord's prayer was by Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church. Rev. J. J. Moore, of Faith chapel, read the Psalter which was concluded with the singing of "The Gloria," by the choir.

Rev. George H. Shaw, of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, read the Scripture lesson and following the singing of a hymn by Rev. E. E. Roberson, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, offered prayer. The sermon was by Rev. J. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church. After the singing of "America," Rev. C. E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, read "The General Thanksgiving," the congregation uniting. The choir sang "Now Heaven in Fullest Glory Shine," as an offertory, and the collection was for the Plainfield Relief Association. The service closed with the doxology, benediction and postlude, "Festal March," by Smart.

Mr. Finn delivered his sermon from the text, "The Royal Bounty or Retrospection and Stimulus to Thanksgiving." In part he spoke as follows:

"Moments of meditation are not by any means lost moments. If rightly used they help us to see what God has done for us in the past, force us to make comparisons with the present and inspire us with new hope for the future. When the great trains run into the terminal depot men waiting with hammer and wrench inspect the wheels and try the bolts. It is a time for inspection to see how they have stood the long journey and to see how much more they will stand before reaching Day is a sort of a great terminal depot, into which the entire human family ought to run at least once a year to reflect upon what God has done for us through the year.

"Many circumstances leading up to our text are very significant because what was feared would happen has happened time and again in the human family. People are prone to forget God in the midst of prosperity and abundance.

"Here was a people who had bountiful harvest, whose birds and flock had multiplied, who had been led through a great and terrible wilderness filled with fiery serpents, and who when the food supply gave out was supplied with manna from heaven. When they began to build their houses they were in danger of sitting down and with boastful spirit saying: 'My power and the might of my hand hath gotten me this wealth.' Moses fearing this charges them 'Remember the Lord Thy God for it is He that giveth thee power to get wealth.'

"It is a great mistake to think that wealth is estimated only in the number of dollars a man has. It has long thought that the wealth of the nation consisted chiefly in the amount of gold and silver they could draw to themselves, and every state endeavored to get from other States as much of it as possible by bounties, custom duel and by regulations restricting trade with foreign countries. Hence from commercial rivalry, political hostility and finally open war. In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries more than fifty years of war was caused solely by this false idea of wealth.

"Many regard wealth as only what can be bought and sold. On the contrary it is what is good and useful and there are many things in this world good and useful which money could not buy. A good climate, wells of pure water, broad rivers carrying millions of tons of freight, seas teeming with fish, inexhaustible coal mines, forests filled with timber are some of the things making a country wealthy which money could not place in the land. Besides material wealth there is the immaterial, like knowledge, manual skill and taste for work, both the material and immaterial wealth combines to make a country rich and happy.

"While these are things to remember there are also in the words of Paul things to forget. Let us forget the things that have contributed to the development of pride, envy and malice and to spiritual degeneracy. We are confronted with a danger of remembering the events of the past few weeks and their wrongs fortunes, great losses, great failures, reckless and gloom in business, home and social life, while we forget the royal bounties that have been ours during the year. We give thanks this morning that our God is the God of nations as well as individuals, that the fields and flocks have brought forth their increase; that no pestilence have destroyed our people, that no drought has made our planting vane, that we have been preserved from strife among ourselves and have been left to live with nations of the world, that advance movements have been made toward safeguarding the sacred institution of the home, that by legislative enactment and growth of public sentiment the power of the liquor traffic is being lessened, that capital and labor are coming to a better understanding, that our sense of social obligations is deepening and civic conscience is awakening; that there is a growth in public sentiment that national defense against war than armies and navies and fortifications of earth and stone. Reflecting upon all these things we can still say the the Lord of Host is with us, the God of Jacob is our refuge.

"Thanksgiving Day comes with its annual reminder of the fathers who in the midst of their poverty and distress, their danger and turmoil, thank God for the meager blessings they were permitted to enjoy. If our fathers with their scanty store remember to thank God, how much more ought we with comfortable homes, abundance of everything and from hostility and danger remember to thank God from whom all blessings flow.

"Conditions of peace are essential to conditions of prosperity. They give the people power to gain wealth. So we ought to remember the Lord because He has kept war from devastating our land, and preserved us from disease.

"In this age we are always looking at results and we want to know where we stand. Thanksgiving time is the time to take account of stock, to know how God has been dealing with us. In taking this account we shall find that our blessings for outnumber our sorrows. As I think of the power that God has given the American people, and of the immense wealth we have been able to accumulate; the wonderful mineral resources, forests filled with timber such as can be found in no other land, a climate and soil producing every variety of fruit and grain known to the world; as I think how the knowledge and skill of man has been able to cover the earth with means of rapid transit, to plow the ocean depths with means of international navigation and flash the wireless message through the air; how they have been able to make the wind their charioteer, the sun their friend and the lightning their messenger. I ask myself the question, are we not God's chosen people? Is He worthy to be remembered? and worthy of all praise and thanksgiving?"

DUNELLEN ELEVEN WINS FROM SOMERVILLE, 6-0

Accompanied to Somerville by more than a hundred football fans, the Dunellen eleven defeated a picked team of the Somerville A. C. at West End Park Thursday morning by a score of 6-0. The Dunellenites scored in the first half on a forward pass trick. Smith getting the ball on the pass about a yard from the line, and falling over for the touchdown. The play was on a cleverly faked wing shift, the Dunellen line going over to the right, so that the centre was on the left end of the line. Smith broke through when the ball was snapped back and had no trouble going around the end, because the Somerville team expected a play through over right of the line. The pass was about thirty feet. O'Rourke kicked the goal.

Again in the second half, the Dunellenites had a chance to score, but Maltby, receiving a forward pass, tripped on the ball and the man who pass about a yard from the line, and falling over for the touchdown. The play was on a cleverly faked wing shift, the Dunellen line going over to the right, so that the centre was on the left end of the line. Smith broke through when the ball was snapped back and had no trouble going around the end, because the Somerville team expected a play through over right of the line. The pass was about thirty feet. O'Rourke kicked the goal.

Again in the second half, the Dunellenites had a chance to score, but Maltby, receiving a forward pass, tripped on the ball and the man who had passed

BESLER AT CONFERENCE

Among Some Jersey Central Men Who Met Interstate Commerce Commission.

AT WASHINGTON YESTERDAY.

Subject of Discussion the N. Y., N. H. and H. Cancellation of Through Traffic Rates.

Three officials of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the general solicitor of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway went to Washington from New York Friday and held a conference with the Interstate Commerce Commissioners in the office of Chairman Knapp. The subject under discussion was the withdrawal by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad of its through traffic rates in connection with the Central Railroad of New Jersey, the Philadelphia & Reading and the Baltimore & Ohio at Jersey City.

The railroad men at the conference were R. W. De Forest, vice-president and general counsel; W. G. Besler of Plainfield, vice-president and general manager; T. B. Koons, of Plainfield, freight traffic manager of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, and J. D. Campbell, general solicitor of the Philadelphia & Reading. Every effort is being made to maintain the connection of the three roads with the New York, New Haven & Hartford at Jersey City, but the last named road has filed notice that its tariffs with these roads will be cancelled on December 17, the proper announcement having been made to the Interstate Commerce Commission thirty days before that date.

Such phases of the interstate commerce law as might relate to the New Haven road's withdrawal of its through tariffs were discussed in an informal manner with the commissioners. The New York, New Haven and Hartford road announced that its tariff withdrawals from the roads in question apply only on New York harbor traffic, and not to its transfer route north of New York city.

MAY BE MANY CHANGES BY GAME COMMISSION.

As outlined the New State Fish and Game Commission at its meeting for organization at Trenton Monday elected B. C. Kuser and Walter H. Fell, of Trenton, president and secretary respectively. William A. Logue, of Bridgeton, was elected treasurer. The other members of the board, S. H. Rollinson, of West Orange, and Percival A. Christie, of High Bridge, were also present. The books and papers of the old board were turned over by Benjamin F. Morris, of Long Branch, who was president of that body and also filled the other offices.

Commissioner Rollinson named E. D. Wood, of Hopewell, as game warden for Mercer county as successor of H. L. Cook. Other wardens who will not be retained are A. W. Hughes, Passaic county; Charles Minard, Morris county; Louis E. Fouiks, Ocean county, and Charles Ross, of Cape May county. Protector James M. Stratton and the remainder of the wardens will be retained for the present, at least, but sweeping changes are expected to be made by the new board.

The new president is a brother of Colonel A. R. Kuser, of Newark; John I. and Rudolph V. Kuser, of Trenton. He is a coal and ice merchant and has a large game preserve in Pennsylvania. He is deeply interested in game protection. Mr. Fell is city editor of the Trenton State Gazette.

The board will submit the following recommendations for changes of the present fish and game law to the incoming Legislature:

To exact a gun license and a license for non-residents, no spring shooting, abolishing July shooting of woodcock, no sale of game, woodcock season October 1 in North Jersey and November 1 in South Jersey.

Bass fishing to open July 15; no nets except for tide streams to be used after July 15, limit amount of game, one person can shoot and amount of game to be taken out of the State.

License fee to be exacted from unnaturalized foreigners the same as from non-residents.

Prevent use of fish baskets and eel weirs and no pound net fishing within one mile of the coast.

Besides these recommendations the commission took up the matter of making plans for the raising of pheasants in the State for stocking purposes.

A Bit of Sarcasm.

A young man who had prolonged his call on his sweetheart a few nights ago was surprised when a window in an upper story was raised as he left the house and the voice of the mistress called out, "Leave an extra quart this morning, please!"—Argonaut.

Horse Suffocated Itself.

Mrs. Mary Hague, of West Front street, lost one of her valuable horses Wednesday night. The animal got its head fast in a feed tub and suffocated. It was found dead yesterday morning when the workmen went to the barn to feed the horses. This is the second animal she has lost by death within a short time.

SOME GOOD READING FOR THE PRISONERS

The State Library at Trenton, through Miss Sarah B. Askew, organizer, is sending special libraries to the women's department of the State Prison, Mercer county workhouse, State Home for Girls, State Home for Boys at Jamesburg, Rahway Reformatory, Essex and Hudson penitentiaries and 24 county jails.

The State appropriate $1,000 of which $400 was to be available in the year ending November, 1907, and $600 to be available the ensuing year. It was found that the number of inmates in the different prisons and jails amounted to nearly 1,800. It was not, therefore, possible to do anything about sending the libraries out in the year ending November, 1907, as it was thought inadvisable to place the libraries in some before it was possible to send some books at least to all.

With the $400, 637 books were bought. Since the first of November the remaining $600 has been sent for books. In order to eke out the number of books sent to each prison in any way adequate, it has been necessary to draw some of the books from the regular trtaveling library collection. The books bought are good, clean stories of adventure, art, biographies, histories, etc.

Everything has been avoided in the way of problem books. An effort has been made to secure books that would interest the inmates in learning a trade. Books with a moral have been avoided for books that would teach good living by force of example. In selecting these authorities on the subject have been taken to find the right books. With the small amount appropriated the expenses of the libraries have had to be paid out of the regular commission fund, and it has been There will be no interchange of these libraries with the regular traveling library books. All of these books bear a special label. To carry on this work as it should be there should be twice as many books as there are inmates in the prisons or the average number of inmates.

A letter is sent to each warden with full instructions and lists of the books for the prisoner's use, and each warden has been consulted in regard to the kind of books wished, the character of the inmates, and as to whether the books would be appreciated. In every instance the reply has been enthusiastic.

HIGH SCHOOL SECOND WON FROM LEAL'S 15-0

The second team of the city high school defeated the football eleven composed of Leal's school boys on Hope Common Friday morning by a score of 15-0. Neither of the elevens had ever played together before but the school holiday gave the boys an opportunity for the game and the teams were evenly matched. The high school players proved the better bunch and scored their first touchdown about five minutes after the game began, Fawcett carrying the ball over the line. Horace Earle, captain of the high school eleven, kicked the goal. A few minutes later, when the high school had the ball on Leal's 35-yard line, Nash, who plays on the Holy Cross club eleven, kicked a pretty field goal, and the half closed with the score 10-0 in favor of the local school boys.

In the second period, the Leal's boys played better football and the city eleven had a harder time gaining ground. Near the end of the half, however, Fawcett made another touchdown, after the ball had been worked down to the field in steady gains. The attempt at goal failed. F. Clyde Doane, who plays end on the city high school team, acted as referee and twenty minute halves were played. The teams lined up as follows:

P. H. S. 2d.		LEAL'S.
Miller	left end	Depew
Fawcett	left tackle	Hibbard
F. Wilcox	left guard	Campbell
D. Davis	centre	Ladd
Runyon	right guard	Randolph
Pryor	right tackle	Brown
Ricketts	right end	Coyle
Clark	quarterback	Martin
Earle	left half back	Wilson
Nash	right half back	Lawrence
E. Bingaman	full back	Rushmore

Wouldn't Go Round.

Mrs. Winks—It's a perfect outrage, Mr. Winks. The idea of inviting those gentlemen to dinner, when you knew the house was full of company. Why, it will make thirteen at table!

Mr. Winks—Surely you are not superstitious about that? Having thirteen at table won't worry me in the least.

Mrs. Winks—Well, it will when you see what a small joint the butcher has sent.

N. P. H. S. ELEVEN IN TIE GAME

Scored Ten Points in Second Half of Game With Alumni Eleven Yesterday.

THE FINAL SCORE WAS 10-10.

With the score of 10-0 against them in the first half of the game with the alumni eleven Thursday morning, the North Plainfield high school got together at the whistle for the second half, and were almost successful in their effort to repeat the Yale-Princeton game, for when time was called at the end of the game, the score was 10-10. The game was played on the Westervelt avenue field, and about 400 people turned out to see the gridiron combat.

The borough schoolboys played nine men of their regular team and Nash, of the Holy Cross club, and Taylor Mahaffey, a former graduate of the school, took the places of the absent undergraduates. In the absence of "Tone" Overton, the borough captain, "Bully" McClintock, fullback for the undergraduates, acted in the capacity of captain. Coach Webster captained the alumni team, which outweighed the schoolboys by nearly fifteen pounds to the man. Each team scored a touchdown, Peacock got a goal from the field, and Fullback McClintock made the other four points for the undergraduates by a kick from placement.

The alumni started the game with a rush, gaining steadily through the line adn occasionally using the forward pass for yards at a time. Rob Hamilton went over the line with the ball about five minutes after the game started. Peacock kicked the goal. After the next kick-off, the alumni forced the boroughites to punt and worked the ball to the undergraduates' 25-yard line near the end of the half. Here Peacock kicked a field goal, and the half ended shortly afterwards with the score 10-0 in favor of the alumni.

In the second half, the undergraduates got busy and by fast and accurate play, gains around the ends of the line, and the successful use of the forward pass, got the ball in the alumni territory. After three minutes of play, Nash took the ball on a forward pass and ran 35 yards for a touchdown. McClintock kicked the goal. Near the end of the half, with the ball near their opponents' 23 yard line, "Bully" McClintock signalled for a fair catch of a punt. Webster and M. Van Arsdale interfered, and the referee gave the undergraduates fifteen yards. On the next line-up McClintock kicked a goal from placement, near the 25-yard line. Time was called shortly afterwards.

EASY DOOR FASTENERS.

"There's only one lock in the world that I can't open if you'll give me a few minutes at it, and as for ordinary door and drawer locks, I'll open them as easily as if there was no lock there. Any expert burglar can do the same."

The foregoing statement was made by an experienced locksmith of Kansas City.

"Few persons know how insecure their homes are," he continues. "Few persons realize that the average lock is absolutely worthless for keeping out an experienced burglar. The ordinary lock is made for nothing but reminding casual business or social callers that they must ring to be admitted. None of these ordinary 'door fasteners,' and that's the best you can call them, will deter a burglar for a whole minutes. If there's no key in the lock he goes right to it. If there is a key in the lock, he inserts a pair of pinchers and in ten seconds has it opened. Understand me, I am speaking of the experienced burglar. The clumsy burglar has no one to fear in these locks. He'll fumble around with a lock until somebody hears him. There is only one unpickable lock made. That's the six pin lock used by the government. It will defy any expert. There are six little steel pins in the lock, which have to be raised just a certain distance to open it. Some of the pins are one-fourth of an inch long and some of them a half inch. If one of the pins lacks even a hairbreath of being raised the proper distance the lock will not open. It baffles all the experts."

This locksmith is so expert he can open the majority of safes by putting his ear to the combination and listening to how the tumblers clicx into place as he turns it.

"I indulged at one time to be a burglar," this locksmith declares, "and had it all planned out—even had a set of burglar's tools made. Then I decided that honesty was the best policy, and I stuck to my trade."—Kansas City Star.

Rahway Girl a Bride.

Miss Florence L. Coffey, of Rahway, who is very well known in Plainfield and Frank J. Kondor, of Elizabeth, were married in St. Mary's church, Rahway, Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony was witnessed by a large gathering of relatives and friends, including many from this city. Miss Coffey was attended by Miss Ada Lammerding, of Trenton, a niece, while the best man was Andrew Knox, of Elizabeth, brother of the groom. The couple afterward left for Washington, D. C., on a wedding trip. Mrs. Knox is a sister to Mrs. Frank J. Shatlle, of this city.

LITERARY

The Christmas number of Scribner's Magazine contains many rich and beautiful illustrations in color, notably "The Child in Fairyland," a series of drawings by Sarah S. Stilwell, fanciful and graceful, which is accompanied with verses by Edith B. Sturgis. Another striking series of illustrations accompanies "Josiah Wedgewood: American Sympathizer and Portrait Maker." R. T. H. Halsey, who for many years has been making this collection, which is probably the finest in existence, has made a selection of portraits of particular interest to Americans. These are reproduced with the blue background and the white portrait in relief, with all the beauty and delicacy of the originals. Mr. Halsey's article contains a great deal of little-known history in regard to Wedgwood's sympathy with the American Revolution, with many unpublished letters.

The Fight for the Forests.

Stewart Edward White is to publish an article in the January American Magazine on "The Fight for the Forests." On one side, he says, is the destructive greed of a few and on the other the splendid work of the government in preserving wealth which, if riotously invaded, may later have to be replaced at a cost of three billion dollars. The article is to be published just as Congress is opening in the hope that it will help awaken the public to the danger of a sudden attack upon the Forestry Service in Washington this winter. Last year an organized raid on the Service was made. The attack failed, but more trouble is promised this winter.

The Patient Contributors.

They are a patient tribe, these poor contributors, and they seldom turned upon me. Now and then they did, though, and weakened a just resentment. This I took meekly when I had some excuse; when I had none, I returned it with a high professional scorn, tacit or explicit, which I am afraid editors still practice toward injured contributors; for if I, a very good man, as editors go, could carry myself so to their indignation, what must be the behavior of the average devil editor of this degenerate day? I hate still to think of their venteance, but how much more of their pardon, patient, silent sanitly?—W. D. Howells, in the November Atlantic.

Russian Priests.

Between the higher clergy and the village priests stretches a gulf deep and wide. The former have opportunities for education and have open to them all the higher positions in the church; the latter are barred from attaining the higher positions, and as a class are very poor and very ignorant. And even worse. On all sides I heard stories of bribe-taking, of drunkenness, of cheating, of lying, of lowest immorality, even of plain stealing.—Leroy Scott, in the December Everybody's.

Millionaire's Artistic Concrete Residence.

The new John D. Spreckels mansion in Southern California, says Cement Age, will be one of the most costly and artistic buildings in that section of the country. It will be reinforced concrete. In color, it is to be a light cream, with inlays of Alps green marble faience These, with a plentiful use of potted cedars, and bay and olive trees as accessory decorations, will complete the color scheme.

In the Circle.

The real Santa Claus must have come straight from his toy-shop to pose for the cover which J. C. Leyendecker has painted for the Christmas number of The Circle. The cover is but an introduction to a wealth of Yule-tide good things for The Circle celebrates its first Christmas right royally. There is appropriate fiction by such notable writers as Gilbert Parker, Maude L. Radford, Frank H. Sweet, Georgia Wood Pangborn, and Egerton Castle, in all a splendid collection of Christmas stories.

The turkey and plum pudding will taste far better after reading Ethel M. Colson's article, "Christmas Day in the Stock Yards District." This is an account of the genuine joy which the University of Chicago Settlement brings each year to "Packingtown." Reginald de Koven, this country's favorite composer, has linked us with Christmases of centuries ago by setting to new music two old English carols.

Letters of An Old Soldier.

Gen. Charles Hamilton, an old West Pointer, who began his military career during the Mexican War, wrote a number of letters while with Taylor's army which are published for the first time in the Christmas Metropolitan Magazine. The general, then a dashing young lieutenant, tells simply of the tragic and stirring events in which he played a part. He was apparently a young man of very strong convictions, and his comments upon his superior officers, especially those about General, afterwards President, Zachary Taylor, are extremely interesting, so personal are they, and, perhaps, impertinent.

The Red Book.

The thousands of Americans who laughed over Gelett Burgess' admirable essay, "The Reformed Bromide," will read with keen relish his sparkling motor story, "Courtesy of the Road," which serves to open the feast of fiction in The Red Book Magazine for Christmas. No less interesting, if of quite another sort, is F. L. Stealey's tale of the border, "The Toy Amansador," a western story that carries with it the flavor of the soil. A tense little sketch is "In the Dark," an episode of a young officer in the German Army, which is either tragic of comic depending upon the angle from which the tale is considered.

Exchange of Civilities.

A Confederate veteran met his former bodyguard on the road.

"Is that you, Peter?" he called to the old negro who was grinning as he doffed his hat.

"Yas, suh, dis am me!"

"Well, well!" laughed the other. "I see that all the old fools are not dead yet."

"Dat's so, Mars' Tom." Peter pulled his grisly forelock appreciatively. "I's monsus glad to see that you's in such good health, suh."—December Lippincott's.

A Woman Director.

Miss Mary E. Orr, assistant treasurer and director of the Remington Typewriter Company, is the first woman to advance her, she has placed herself with the few remarkable business women of the world.—Success Magazine.

THE MODERN LOCHINVAR.

When young Lochinvar rode out from the west,
He claimed that his automobile was the best;
It was painted dark red and it brilliantly shone.
He went like a streak and he rode all alone;
He shot over ruts with a zipp and a jar,
And people fled madly from young
Lochinvar.

With a whirr of his wheels and a
hum of his cogs
He knocked down the children and ran over dogs;
He frightened the horses and laughed
at their pranks,
And men who got angry he looked on as cranks;
He gave her the very last notch on the bar
And a cloud of dust followed the gay
Lochinvar.

He stayed not at bridges, he stopped
not for stone,
He calmly took all of the roads as his own,
Till he came to a crossing and smashed through his gate
And endeavored to butt through a trainload of freight—
They searched, and at last, lying under a car,
They found a few chunks of the bold
Lochinvar.

—Detroit Tribune.

WHEN DAD'S MAD.

Brave men have fears at times, I know,
And suffer quaking knees;
When face to face they meet a foe,
In times of danger brave men show
The sturdiness of trees.
And yet when one comes to his girl,
Resounding from the upper hall:
"Why don't you let him go?"

He may not heed the lion's roar,
Nor dread a savage beast;
In dead of night a sudden noise,
May not disturb his mental poise,
Nor scare him in the least.
But clinging in a fond embrace.
If there should come this shout,
(He'll quickly drop his little dear,
Reach for his hat and run in fear);
"Pray turn that fellow out!"

The time must come to every man,
When fear his wits enthrall;
But there's no danger that compares
With those which thunders down the stairs,
And ends a pleasant call.
Brave though he be, he trembles then
And fearfully takes flight,
When father leaves his peaceful bed
And shouts these words from overhead:
"Think you he'll stay all night?"

THE SHIRTWAIST BOX.

Something much neater and prettier than the print-covered shirtwaist boxes can be made into a splendid house ornament as well as a serviceable article. Select the size wooden box which you wish to hold the waists. Cover with leatherette. This is remarkable and can be purchased at any furniture store or where upholstering is done. With it one can buy leatherette binding and tacks of the same material. Chocolate brown and olive green or deep wine colors are the best for this work. The box can be plainly covered or tufted. In tufting the outside must be covered with a layer or two of cotton, and begin tacking the goods in the very centre, working toward the edges. This makes the little puffs more even. In driving the leather-headed tacks, place a piece of goods over each tack when pounding with the hammer. Allow plenty of goods to work with if tufting is done. They are easily cleaned, hold no dust and are quite an improvement over the first ones we had.

The iron molders of St. Louis have accepted a 15 cents per day increase in wages offered by the employers in place of 25 cents demanded.

CENSUS MAN TELLS OF HIS WORK

Washington, Nov. 30.—Director of census, S. N. D. North, says that the population of continental United States June 1, 1907, was 85,244,581. He prophesies that the population of the United States June 1, 1927, twenty years hence, will be 111,306,000.

"These figures," says he, "are the result of a simple calculation, based upon the growth of the population of the United States from census to census, the arbitrary rule by which this calculation is made assuming that the annual percentage of growth, which these censuses reveal will continue in the future. The rule works well enough, when applied to the whole country and to a single decade, or even to two decades. I entertain little doubt that the estimate of a population of 111,306,000 in 1927 will prove to be within 5,000,000 of the actual fact.

"The two forces at work which throw doubt upon the accuracy of such a forecast are the decreasing birth rate in this country and the increasing immigration. Thus far in our history, the latter has not been sufficient to overcome the former, in maintaining the rate of increase. The increase in the population was 30.1 at the census of 1880; 24.9 at that of 1890, and 20.7 at that of 1900. So that immigration has not been sufficiently large to counteract the significant decline in the birth rate. Since the census of 1900, the immigration has assumed proportions undreamed of heretofore, and we may therefore assume that the falling off in percentage of increases shown at the census of 1910 will not be as marked as in the last two decades. But it does not seem at all probable that this enormous immigration is to continue indefinitely without check.

"The census office has been the subject of some severe criticism, because it has ventured to make these estimates of population for the intercensal years. So far as the nation as a whole is concerned, this criticism is without justification. As to the individual States in the well-settled sections of the country, it is also without justification. This is proven by the several State censuses taken in 1904 and 1905. In Michigan, for instance, the census estimate of population in 1904 was 2,551,818; the actual census of that year revealed 2,520,016, in other words the estimate was only 0.9 per cent. too high. In Massachusetts the census estimate for 1905 was 3,098,546; the census revealed 3,003,680, a over-estimate of 2.8 only. On the other hand, in North Dakota the census estimate was 12.8 per cent. too low. For the 14 States which took census in 1904-05, the actual results and the census estimates were practically identical.

"Of course, it must happen that in certain localities, where new development is progressing rapidly, the arbitrary rule of census estimating will show a population much too small. For instance, by the census method of estimating, the population of the new State of Oklahoma was 1,162,-609. By the census taken as of date of June 1, 1907, the population of the State was 1,414,177. These hundreds of thousands of people have been pouring into that State from other parts of the Union. They have reduced the population of other States, while increasing that of Oklahoma. So that, erroneous as the method is in such an exceptional instance, its general accuracy for the Nation is a whole remains unimpeached.

"But if this element of error exists, why make the estimate at all? That is the question which I hope I can satisfactorily answer. The estimate are required and demanded for a great variety of reasons. The annual death rate in American cities can only be computed on the basis of an estimate of population in the absence of an actual enumeration. It is also computed in all the European countries, where the intercensal population estimates are shown to be no closer to absolute accuracy than our own. These municipal death rates are of vital value in maintaining sanitary conditions and protecting the public health. A variation of 10 per cent. more or less, in absolute accuracy, does not impair their practical value in any appreciable degree.

"Per capita taxation from year to year can only be computed by utilizing these estimates. These are but illustrations of the demands and uses to which the estimates are put, and of the actual business necessity which exists for making them. Since they must be made, it is obvious that they ought to be made by one authority and on a uniform rule. The only governmental authority properly equipped to make them, is the census office, which devotes a large part of its work to the study of population and its movement. I believe it is true that every department of the Federal Government now recognizes this fact, and bases its per capita calculation, for intercensal years, upon the census estimate of population. It is clear that an enormous advantage over old methods results, when the estimates of population, for whatever purpose, in whatever part of the Union, are all calculated on the same basis. It eliminates the directory census, the police census, and my experience and observation justify me in stating that none of these so-called censuses have any scientific or statistical value."

NAVAL RESERVES LOST

Y. M. C. A. Five Defeated Fast Hoboken Team by Score of 55 to 32.

MORE THAN 200 SAW GAME.

Second Team Won From Business Men 36-14 Between the Halves —Plainfielder On Reserve Five.

A holiday crowd of more than 200 people saw the Y. M. C. A. five defeat the Naval Reserves of Hoboken 55-32 at the association gymnasium Thursday afternoon and between the halves of this game saw the Y. M. C. A. second team win from the five class 36-14. The Naval Reserve game was the first regular game of the season for the association five and the boys showed lots of speed in the game yesterday, trimming decisively the team that took a game from them during last season. A good part of the second stood up during both contests, overflowing the seating capacity of the gallery, and the play, though in both the contests loose and ragged at times, was fast and snappy on the whole.

Y. M. C. A. 55, Naval Reserve 32.

The regular game was started at the association at the first half of the second team's game with the business men. The visitors caged the ball within a minute after the whistle blew and scored another basket before the local five began the scoring by a basket from the floor. At the start, the teams see-sawed for the lead for a time, but soon the local five took the lead and kept well ahead of the Reserves, leading by fifteen points at the end of the half, when the score stood 30-15. Harvey Douglass, who played left forward for the visitors, is a member of the local association.

In the second half, the visitors showed a tendency to "rought it up" in the playing and, though the passing and shooting of the home team was good at times, the game showed some loose playing and careless passing on both sides. Time after time fouls were called for roughness. The final score was 55 to 32, and the summaries follow:

Y. M. C. A.		NAVAL RESERVES.
Gilmore	left forward	Douglass
Rumsey, Miner, Hoagland	right forward	Vogt
Collier	centre	Dwyer
Gavett	left guard	Bredenbeck
Loizeaux	right guard	Campion

Baskets from the floor, Bentley, 8; Collier, 7; Gilmore, 6; Douglass, 5; Vogt, 5; Bredenbeck, 3; Rumsey, 3; Hoagland, Dwyer, Campion, Goals from fouls, Collier, 7; Douglass, 2.

Y. M. C. A. 2nd 36, Business Men 14.

The second team had it all their own was from the whistle and the game was marked by individual playing rather than by team work. The passing was ragged and inaccurate, but some of the baskets were from brilliant shots from the floor. At the end of the first half, the score was 21-8, and the business men could not overcome the big lead in the second half. The summaries:

Y. M. C. A. 2nd		—Templin, 1f;
Bentley, rf; Martin, c; Woodland, lg; Jacot, rg.

Business Men—Doane, if; J. Spicer, rf; Dunning, c; Adams, lg; Jarvie, rg.

Baskets from the floor, Loizeaux, 7; Templin, 5; Jacot, 4; Doane, 3; Spicer, 2; Martin, Dunning. Goals from fouls, Templin, Doane. Each team awarded a point for being interfered with while shooting a basket.

During both games, Charles B. Morse acted as referee and Harry Thompson as umpire. Collins, of Westfield, was scorer. Twenty minute halves.

To Form Negro Democratic Clubs.

The first of a number of Democratic clubs of colored voters for Union county is about to be organized in Elizabeth. When it has succeeded in opening a home for itself the work of organizing other clubs throughout the county will be pushed with vigor and zeal. During the last campaign there was much talk of the colored vote, which has always been looked upon as solidly Republican, swinging into the Democratic fold, but it was not taken seriously until yesterday, when David Merritt, who is a sort of factotum for General Dennis F. Collins, the chairman of the Democratic county committee and president of the City Council, called on a number of the more prominent Democratic office-holders for contributions toward the establishment of a club. Mr. Merritt said that it was the aim of the Republican promoters of the Democratic club idea to make the organization primarily political and incidentally a social coterie.

Knck Its Habits.

Explorer—Yes, I have decided to make my dash in an automobile.

Reporter—And do you think your chances of locating the pole are good?

Explorer—Sure! If I get within a thousand miles of it, this machine of mine will run into it.—Puck.

The Constitutionalist.

A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY

Published at

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Terms: $2.00 per year.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1907.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

In his annual message to Congress delivered at noon today at Washington, President Roosevelt prefaces his views on matters of current National import with a sound and satisfying defense of his pursuit of the handful of unscrupulous and reckless money kinds whose acts are responsible for the present financial disturbance, summing up his case by declaring "There may be honest differences of opinion as to many governmental policies, but surely there can be no such difference as to the need of unbridling persons who in the war against successful dishonesty."

In reviewing the situation in interstate commerce, wherein he states that "Only the National government can in thoroughgoing fashion exercise the needed control," the President strongly advocates National license for railroads, and this subject naturally leads him to a discussion of the anti-trust law. "Corporation and union labor alike have come to say," says he, and "The anti-trust law should not be repealed, but it should be made both more efficient and more in harmony with actual conditions. It should be so amended as to forbid only the kind of combination which does harm to the general public, such amendment to be accompanied by or to be an incident of a grant of supervisory power to the government over these big concerns engaged in interstate business."

"A combination should not be tolerated," says the President, "if it abuses the power acquired by combination to the public detriment. No corporation or association of any kind should be permitted to engage in foreign or interstate commerce that is formed for the purpose of or whose operations create a monopoly or control the price of the production, sale or distribution of any one or more of the prime necessities of life or articles of general use and necessity."

After declaring that "the real owners of incorporation should be compelled to do business in their own name," the President dwells at length on the recent crisis, stating incidentally that the institutions which failed were those not under Federal control, while banks under such control "stood the test." The pure food law is touched upon and then the President proceeds to advocate currency legislation.

"We need a greater elasticity in our currency," he declares, "provided of course that we recognize the even greater need of a safe and secure currency. Provision should be made for an emergency currency," and in the course of his remarks, he ventures the idea that "it is worth investigating to determine whether officers and directors of national banks should ever be allowed to loan to themselves. Trust companies should be subject to the same supervision as banks."

"The subject of tariff revision," says Mr. Roosevelt, "should be approached from a purely business standpoint," and "this means that the subject can deal with wisdom be dealt with by the year preceding a presidential election, because as a matter of fact experience has conclusively shown that at such a time it is impossible to get men to treat it from the standpoint of the public good. In my judgment the wise time to deal with the matter is immediately after such election." He makes an exception, however, in urging the repeal of the tariff on forest products especially the duty on wood pulp.

Passing on to another important subject, the President says: "When our tax laws are revised the question of an income tax and an inheritance tax should receive the careful attention of our legislators. In my judgment, both of these taxes should be part of our system of Federal taxation." Continuing, he states: "The tax should if possible be made to bear more heavily upon those residing without the country than within it. A heavy progressive tax upon a very large fortune is in no way such a tax upon thrift or industry as a like tax would be on a small fortune."

Much stress is laid by him on the right of injunction in disputes between capital and labor, saying: "I earnestly commend to the attention of the country the question so that some way may be devised which will limit the abuse of injunctions and protect those rights which from time to time it unwarrantably invades." Still another feature of the document is the President's advocacy of postal saving banks, wherein he states: "I commend to the favorable consideration of the congress a postal savings bank as recommended by the postmaster general." Citizenship for the people of Porto Rico is also recommended.

The message at length will be found in other columns of this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Case have been visiting relatives in Dover.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Say, souvenirs to my gentlemen frien's on Monday, December 16—it's my twenty-three hundredth boithday," says Patricia O'Brien, who as vitalized by Rose Stahl in James Forbes' comedy, "The Chorus Lady," will on that date arrive at another landmark of her long career in vaudeville and the legitimate. Miss Stahl returned to the Hudson theatre, New York, for a limited engagement of four weeks beginning Monday, November 25, receiving a veritable ovation of welcome to the city in which she appeared last season for three hundred nights. This is practically the fourth engagement of Miss Stahl in New York as last year she appeared at three theatres, the Savoy, Garrick and the Hackett. Miss Stahl began a road tour last June and has since that time been seen in the larger cities of the middlewest; a tour which has met with pronounced success and is an attraction on the American stage. On the 16 of this month, which will begin the last week of her New York engagement, Miss Stahl will have appeared as Patricia O'Brien 2,300 times, a record for any actor with the exception, perhaps, of Denman Thompson's Joshua Whitcomb and Joseph Jefferson's Rip Van Winkle.

Musically superb all New York today acclaims as one of the best operatic offerings of recent years, Henry W. Savage's production of "Tom Jones," now at the Astor theatre. Every critic in New York was most enthusiastic over the production and such music they declare has not been heard in a New York theatre in years. The book is founded on Fielding's well known novel of the same name and is by Robert Courtneidge and A. M. Thompson. Charles H. Taylor wrote the music and Edward German is the man who wrote himself into lasting fame with the dainty soles, rousing choruses and melodic gavottes and waltzes. Mr. German takes his hearers back to England when it was in truth "Morrie England," and he gives them folk songs without an end. There is a swing to everything he has written which stamps him indelibly on the minds of American theatregoers as one of the most brilliant musicians we have ever had in this country and then, too, he has written music which has come to Lewis Sunning, Van Biene, Saeller Wheeler, William Norris, Gertrude Quinlan and others glorious opportunities to make fame for themselves an easy fashion. For two years "Tom Jones" was the attraction at the Savoy theatre, London, and musically it was the sensation of the World's Capitol.

"The Man of the Hour" crowds the Savoy to capacity, while its three touring companies meet with sensational success in various sections of the country. William A. Brady and Joseph R. Grismer showed Xoco the fascination values which they produced the Broadhurst play. "The Man of the Hour" is the strong, vital drama of the moment. it is as fresh and convincing now as it was a year ago. The time is for distant and its tentious hold upon public interest will relax. It is a play of stern moral purpose throbbing with strong emotions and with red blood in its veins. It is essentially human and its characters are real people, not mere theatrical puppets, or dawdling degenerates, uttering feeble platitudes. Its abundant humor is rich and spontaneous. Its young people make love like real day lovers. Its elders are powerfully drawn and graphic characterizations. Evin its political grafters are the real thing, big strong men and mentally and dominating force. Around its parent stalk of sordid and mercenary intrigue are entwined the tendrils of sweet and appealing affection—the love of suitor and sweetheart, of mother and son. Viewed from any angle "The Man of the Hour" is big, verile and fascinating.

May Robson, America's foremost character actress, is at the Garden theatre in one of the biggest hits of her career in the New American comedy, "The Reverend Mr. Goodhue, Assists Mary." Alan Dale says: "May Robson is the quintescence of comedy; she possesses the rare gift of exquisite humor—a gift that is heaven-sent, and it is quite enough for her to be on the stage, without the need to say for the audience to feel happy and mirthful. She is the Duse of humor, the Bernhardt of fun." In selecting the company L. S. Sire, under whose management Miss Robson is starring, has given her able support and the cast contains the following well-known people: David Proctor, Nora O'Brien, Nina Saville, Grace Parks (Fisk), Margaret Dumont, Willis Kevin, H. M. Crowley, George A. Stevenson, Jack Story and Francis Herblin. The production is produced under the personal direction of E. F. Rostwick and everything at hands many novel stage effects will be seen. The production is complete in every detail and the stage settings most elaborate.

David Warfield says that on the night he opened in his new play, "A Grand Army Man," at the Stuyvesant, he felt as if he were going to be married. "I reached the theatre hours before the curtain was to be rung up and started to pace the dressing room as if I were a boy about to speak his first piece. I trembled all over, and every once in a while a cold chill ran down my back, and ran so fast that the walls shook. I have had two serious operations in my short but tempestuous career, but never while climbing on an operating table have I experienced the feeling of hopeless blue funk that came over me as I was about to take the plunge that night. Once I had taken it I was all right except for a bit of reflex nervousness, but just before I made the high dive—well, the best I can wish is that you may feel as I felt then. Believe me, my boy, is was awful, terrible, horrible."

In presenting "The Auto Race" and "The Four Seasons" at the New York Hippodrome, Wednesday evening, November 27, 1907, Messrs. Shubert and Anderson made their second annual production at the Hippodrome, Longacre Square. They have endeavored in every way to surpass all previous records for magnitude, brilliancy and splendor. The central idea of "The Auto Race" is based upon a mechanical novelty which is undoubtedly the sensation of the current theatrical season. Three great racing automobiles come head-on toward the audience at a speed of sixty miles an hour, and are brought abruptly to a stop within two feet of the curtain line. This effect can only be produced in the mammoth stage of the Hippodrome, for no other stage in the world offers the space necessary to permit these machines to attain their full momentum. The stage of the Hippodrome is 120 feet deep, and these three machines come at full speed, directly toward the audience, with three pairs of headlights flashing their brilliant rays across the darkened stage. The tremendous excitement of these machines automatically, just when it seems certain they will rush over the footlights and crash down over the affrighted spectators. It is a wonderful achievement, thrilling in the extreme, and makes all previous automobile stage effects look like toys.

TO ENLARGE ITS FIELD

Charity Organization Society Plans to Assume the Work of An S. P. C. C.

ANNUAL MEETING DECEMBER 12

Messrs. Ogden and Aborn to Speak

—Fifteen Trustees to Be Elected.

The annual meeting of the Charity Organization Society will be held in the auditorium of the Plainfield High school, Thursday night, December 12, at 8 o'clock, for the election of a board of fifteen trustees for the coming year and the transaction of other important business.

There will be presented for consideration and action proposed amendments of the by-laws. These will include an article which shall make it possible to elect to membership any person, who during the previous year has assisted in the active work of the society.

Another amendment provides that there shall be a relief committee, the chairman to be appointed by the president each year, and the chairman, with the concurrence of the president, shall appoint not less than eight other members of the committee. The committee will have power to appoint an advisory committee and such other committees as it may deem necessary to assist in the work. A third amendment provides that the treasurer shall deposit all moneys and other valuable effects in the name and to the credit of the society in such depositories as may be designated by the board of trustees, and he shall give bonds.

One of the most important amendments will be one to include among the purposes of the society, in addition to those now enumerated in the charter, the prevention of cruelty to children and the care and custody of children. In this way the society will largely perform the duties of a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Isaac C. Ogden and W. H. Aborn, of Orange, will address the society on "Charity Finance in the Oranges." The active workers in the numerous charitable institutions in the Oranges have been studying this subject for over a year, in the hope of working out a plan by which all the local societies could attack unitedly the financial side of their work, in the interest of economy and efficiency. Their inquiries have been careful and it is believed will prove valuable to the Plainfield society. ull opportunity for questions will be given and general discussion will be invited. The meeting and the discussion will be open to the public.

Sowden—Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Smith, of West Front street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Florence May Smith, to Robert Stuart Sowden. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. MacKelvey, pastor of the Warren chapel, at his parsonage on Saturday evening. The couple was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Olson Barton, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. After a short trip the couple will reside in this city.

Columbia Lodge, No. 58, Ancient Order United Workmen, will elect officers at its meeting Friday night.

Joseph Brown, of Grant avenue, is confined to his home by a serious illness.

MISS SMITH WEDDED ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Announcement is made of the mar*riage of Miss Mary B. Smith*, daughter of William B. Smith, for many years a resident of Plainfield, and Joseph T. Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., the ceremony having taken place at the home of the bride, Atlantic Highlands, Thanksgiving Day. Rev. Frank H. Shermer, pastor of the Central Baptist church, Atlantic Highlands, officiated. The wedding march from Mendelssohn, was played by Miss Ruth Martin. The ceremony took place beneath a large floral bell in the library. The home was decorated throughout with smilax, ropes of asparagus fern, potted plants, carnations and chrysanthemums.

The bride was gowned in a traveling suit of brown cloth and wore a large picture hat. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. William D. Pike, as matron of honor, who wore a gown of white lace over silk and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Archibelle Smith, another sister, was flower girl. Her gown was pale blue and she carried a bouquet of bride roses.

After the ceremony there followed congratulations and a wedding breakfast. The event was not without a touch of romance, as the couple were students at the Middle Georgia College, Mr. Moore being graduated first as an architect. The couple left in the afternoon for a wedding trip, which will include many points of interest in the South. They will reside at Atlanta. At the wedding there was announced the engagement of Miss Ruth Martin to the bride's brother. The date for the wedding is February 12. Miss Martin was presented with the bride's bouquet.

PRIEST LIKENS P. S. C. TO HIGHWAY ROBBERS

Taking as his theme the argument that the present money crisis was due to corporation heads who sought to prevent punishment for those of *their fellows who had been prosecut*ed by the government by causing public sentiment to turn against President Roosevelt, the Rev. John P. Boyle, pastor of St. Mary's on the Valley church, Orange, scored corporation evils at the masses in the church Sunday.

The clergyman said he had visited several of the most prominent bankers in the country in an effort to learn whether the present situation would continue to remain serious, and reported his information was that speedy relief would follow and that money would be begging in a short time. He said there must be something wrong with the laws of the country when corporations could carry out threats or assume to make them when punished or when they failed to accomplish their ends. He urged his parishioners to watch the coming Legislature of New Jersey and send committees to Trenton to urge work for the regulation of corporations.

"No matter what may be said on the matter, there were two issues in the late election, the Bishops' bill and the regulation of corporations. The latter was when asked to take his stand on these vital questions, failed to stiffen his backbone and collapsed. The other candidate met the questions courageously, or he saw the bent of public opinion and acted accordingly. There will be more of the events in the Legislature this year, and if necessary send your committees to Trenton and see that laws are passed for the proper regulation, not destruction, of the corporations.

There was another interest in the priest's talk when he spoke of the Public Service Corporation, although he refrained from mentioning its name.

"We have a corporation right here in our midst," he said, "and when it sought a franchise in one of our streets it threatened the Aldermen of Orange if the latter did not give it permission to put tracks in the street. But the officials would not tolerate the methods of the corporation and upon refusing to grant the demands of the company were notified that there would be no further extension or improvement of service.

"Now, that is the plan adopted by the highway robber. He throttles you in the highway and tells you you must give up your valuables if you wish to be spared your life.

"Now this corporation is going to seek the franchise again, and I say watch your Aldermen. See that they take no advantage and watch the way they vote on the question. If they do not do right hold the mark against them, and when they again seek office punish them properly.

"Some people say it would be better to give this corporation what it seeks and take what you get—you won't get much, any way. That kind of talk is unmanly. It is not worthy of free men. It does not show the spirit that was shown at Bunker Hill and other battlefields, where men gave their lives cheerfully that this country might be free. Selfishness and patriotism cannot repose in the same bosom, and see to it that you act like men on such questions."

ELKS HONOR THEIR DEAD

Plainfield and Somerville Lodges Unite in Customary Annual Memorial Service.

VICE MAYOR GALVIN'S TALK.

City Judge Runyon Also a Speaker—Dr. Rodman Takes Part in Service—Some Fine Music.

According to the established custom of the order, Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, assembled in the New Plainfield theatre Sunday for the purpose of holding memorial services for departed brothers. With it were the members of Somerville Lodge, No. 918, which has experienced no loss by death since its organization, but who participated in the exercises. The service was the most impressive the local Elks have ever conducted and it was witnessed by a gathering that filled the theatre even to the gallery.

The officers of the Plainfield and Somerville lodges occupied seats upon the stage and Exalted Ruler George O. Stevens, of 885, was in charge of the ceremonies. The members of both lodges marched into the theatre at 8 o'clock and took seats reserved for them in the front rows of the orchestra.

Following the singing of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and the opening exercises of the order, a quartette composed of Mrs. Katherine Turnbull, soprano; Miss Cornelia Marvin, contralto; Henry Barenblatt, tenor, and Townsend Fellows, baritone, all of New York, rendered Speaks' "Still, Still With Thee," with beautiful effect. Prayer was offered by Rev. Erskine M. Rodman and after a solo by Mr. Barenblatt, "My Hope Is in the Everlasting," Stainer, the memorial oration was delivered by Brother John Galvin, of Cincinnati Lodge, No. 5, a past grand exalted ruler.

Mr. Galvin is a member of the Ohio bar and an orator of established reputation. While not possessing a powerful voice his method of delivery is magnetic and he carried his hearers along with all the subtleties of a gifted speaker. At the commencement of his oration he quoted from James Whitcomb Riley's poem ending "He is not dead—just gone away," and this thought was the basis of his remarks. He said that tears should not be the prevailing features in a memorial service, he said, but rather it is a time for touching the heartstrings of tenderness and recalling old times spent together; once again referring to the part of departed brothers, not only of home lodges but of all lodges in the great order of Elks. Sadness, said Mr. Galvin, is only a cloud over the sunshine of life and it never comes in an unbidden guest.

Still, he continued, sad memories are sometimes the sweetest after all as the recalling of brothers who have gone reminds those living that they have passed to a higher mansion; that they have gained their reward and that those who are remaining have a duty to perform to their fellowmen.

"But death is not the end of all," the speaker said, "when we close the eyes, pull down the shades and conduct the beautiful service it is not the final chapter. No, there is something beyond the grave. The soul of the man survives after the death of the body, so we all believe, and it is this belief that prompts the holding of services like this one tonight. Hope springs eternal in the human breast and the thought that there is a greater hereafter in the Father's home—that immorality is the lot of man—spurs us on the greater effort and fidelity in striving for those who have left us, we place a flower upon their bier and say:

"He is not dead—just gone away."

At the close of Mr. Galvin's oration Leslie's "Memory" was sung by Mrs. Turnbull, Miss Marvin and Mr. Barenblatt, one of the most appreciated of the several selections of the evening. At its conclusion, Past Exalted Ruler William N. Runyon delivered the memorial eulogy, a superb address in itself. He recounted the circumstances surrounding the death of each member of the lodge and paid tributes to their memory in phraseology that echied Mr. Galvin's thought. "It is a time for touching the heartstrings of tenderness and recalling old times spent together."

The deceased brothers of Plainfield lodge who were thus recalled are Daniel Detweiler, Herbert S. Taylor, Robert L. Thomas, Olin L. Jenkins, Herbert B. Brooks and Charles C. Burnett. In previous years, each one was represented by an electric bulb set in a background of purple, the lights being extinguished as the names were called by the secretary.

New R. C. Church at Far Hills.

Ground has been broken at Far Hills for a Roman Catholic church to be known as St. Elizabeth's, Kritchell & O'Rourke, of Dover, have completed the plans, and it is expected the building will be ready for occupancy by March 1 next. It will cost $15,000. The new parish will be in charge of the Rev. Joseph A. Ryan, of Bernardsville.

CHIEF DOANE GIVES A HOLIDAY WARNING

With the approach of the holiday season and the days when flimsy and inflammable material is used for decorating, warning comes from Chief T. O. Doane to guard against fire. In a circular issued by him today he gives the following hints for merchants and householders:

"In decorating for Christmas and New Year's in almost every instance the artistic taste of the decorator will be carried to the extreme but in only rare cases is the danger of fire thought of. The use of electric lights adds greatly to the fire risk unless they are placed intelligently. All wiring should be done by expert electricians and all decorations should be fire-proof. Any druggist will furnish the necessary material at a very small cost.

"Especial care should be taken with Christmas trees. If the tree is to be lighted it is safe to have the lights placed around the outside and not through the branches.

"In all places where decorations are used, some kind of a fire extinguisher should be kept close at hand. If nothing better is obtainable a couple of pails of water within each reach for instant use is a very good precaution.

"Cotton batting should not be used for snow or frost effect. Mineral wool is just as cheap (if not cheaper) and is absolutely inflammable.

"A few thoughtful precautions taken in this way may be the means of saving thousands of dollars worth of property and perhaps many lives."

THREE CANDIDATES FOR TAX BOARD SECRETARY

There is a deadlock in the County Board of Equalization of Taxes over the appointment of a secretary to take the place of William R. Townsend, who was recently appointed local tax collector.

It is said that the three commissioners—F. H. Andrews, of this city; Alford Scudder, of Westfield, and Caleb C. Pollard, of Elizabeth—are hopelessly divided on the question. Mr. Andrews favoring a candidate for Fanwood and Mr. Pollard holding out for Barrett Littell, of Elizabeth, while Mr. Scudder declines to vote either way, preferring to let the two Republican members of the board settle it between themselves.

Besides the candidates referred to there is a third who has the backing of the regular organization. He is Henry H. Drake, a young lawyer of Elizabeth, a worker in his ward for years for the regular Republican ticket. Because of this and his knowledged ability, the organization men urge his claim to the position over Littell, who is backed by the North Broad street residents and some members of the Town and Country Club.

Commissioner Pollard, who will hold office for three years, is determined, it is said, to hold out for Littell in spite of the demands of the party leaders, and if Mr. Scudder maintains his present attitude, the temporary clerk who is now doing the work may hold office for an indefinite period.

DINNER GIVEN IN HONOR OF JAMES EDGAR MARTINE.

Local newspapermen and other friends of James E. Martine tendered him an informal dinner at the Kensington Hotel, Saturday night. It was partly in honor of his generous work in the recent gubernatorial campaign and also as an evidence of the esteem in which the "farmer orator" is held by the members of the fourth estate. Covers were laid for twenty.

Following the dinner, Mr. Martine thanked the donors for their expression of friendship and paid a warm compliment to the press of the State for the kindly references made to him. Other speeches were made by Frank Hughes and George E. Firstbrook, of the Plainfield News; John J. Gaffney, Millard F. Elderton and Archibald Hacquer, of the Courier-News, and T. M. Muir, of The Daily Press.

St. John's Vestry.

At the annual parish meeting at St. John's Episcopal church, Somerville, the following officers were elected: Senior warden, William H. Taylor; junior warden, Hugh K. Gaston; vestrymen, John B. Osborn, John B. Parmalee, Francis S. Vanderveer, John Rinehamn, A. G. Anderson, William A. Sumaller and Geo. A. Thompson; cle rkof the vestry, Francis S. Vanderveer; treasurer, John B. Parmalee; delegates to diocesan convention, William H. Taylor, John B. Osborn, William D. Nolan; alternates, Milton Lallan and William Wittnebert and J. F. Andrews.

Twenty Riders Enjoy the Chase.

The weekly chase of the Watchung Hunt Club on Saturday was enjoyed by twenty members and friends of the club. The riders met at the Mt. Pleasant Schoolhouse and followed a course in the direction of Westfield and Rahway. The "kill" was near Oak Tree. Miss Gertrude Noe, of Westfield, was the only woman rider in the party. There were no spills and the *chase was full of ex*citement from start to finish.

ARREST NEGRO BURGLAR

George Green, Who Robbed at Wm. Brown's Home in Mountainside, Arrested

RECOVER JEWELRY AND MONEY.

Loot Found In His House May Involve Him In Other Robberies —Entered Brown's House Friday Morning.

On a search warrant sworn out before Justice of the Peace Clark Mundy, the Westfield police found the silver watch and gold chain stolen from the farm of William Brown, of Mountainside, at the house of George Green, a colored man in the employ of Isaac Smalley, after a search of Green's house on Grove street, assisted by Marshal Keller, of the North Plainfield police force, Sunday. The robbery was committed Friday morning, and aside from the watch and chain, Green took $22.45 in money, which was found hid in the lining of his coat sleeve when he was searched at borough police headquarters after his arrest Saturday afternoon. At the house Sunday, the police also found three other silver watches, a gold locket and a scarf pin, and it is believed the man has been implicated in other robberies. At his hearing before Judge Tousey at Westfield Sunday afternoon, Green stoutly denied the charges brought against him. He is being held without bail to await the action of the Grand Jury and has retained William G. DeMeza as his counsel.

The robbery was committed at about 11 o'clock Friday morning. Green, who is a driver in the employ of Isaac Smalley, was carting hay and a farmer working in a field near Brown's house at Mountainside noticed the wagon load of hay standing by the roadside. Green had left the load and going to the house, climbed a tree near the front of the house and effected an entrance through the second story window. Mrs. Brown was alone in the house at the time, but was downstairs and did not see or hear the man. It is said he got $2.45 from a pocketbook and the watch and chain, which belonged to Mrs. Brown, from the bureau, making his escape without detection. The loss was not discovered until night.

Chief O'Neill, of the Westfield police, was notified and from the description of the wagon given by the man in the field, identified the robber as Green. He informed Chief Marshal Weiss of the borough force, and Green was arrested at his house Saturday night. He denied the charge, but the Westfield police secured the warrant Sunday and found the booty. After the successful search, Green was re-searched and the money found sewed in the lining of his coat sleeve. The hearing was held before Judge Toucey at Westfield Sunday afternoon, Marshal Keller, who helped conduct the search, was present. Green was bound over to await the action of the grand jury. The finding of the other watches and jewelry lead the police to believe that the man has been implicated in other robberies. He has retained William G. DeMeza as his counsel.

November's Weather.

November's weather statistics as compiled hourly under Prophet John Neagle, shows that the maximum temperature was 61 on November 5, and the minimum temperature 21 on November 15. The mean temperature was 41.1, the normal temperature 42.0, the mean maximum 50.8, and the mean minimum 31.4. The mean daily range of temperature was 17.5, the greatest daily range 32 degrees. The total precipitation for the month was 6.01 inches and the greatest in twenty-four hours was 1.53 on the 6th. The normal precipitation was 3.54 inches. The total snowfall was two inches, the normal snowfall 1.9 inches. There were five rainy days, nine clear, 11 partly cloudy and 10 cloudy days. The prevailing wind was northwest. The mean temperature was 0.1 degree above normal and the precipitation was 2.47 inches above the normal.

Danced to Tel-Electric Music.

The senior class of the city high school gave a reception and dance to the junior class in the school auditorium Saturday night. Dance music was furnished by the new tel-electric piano player, recently purchased by the school, and used at this affair for the first time. There were thirty couples on the floor, and the dancing concluded with a cotillion at 10 o'clock.

Funeral of Mrs. Lowrie.

The funeral of Mrs. Ida H. Lowrie was held at her late home on Park avenue Saturday afternoon. It was conducted by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, assisted by Rev. Dr. E. M. Rodman. Burial was made at Hillside cemetery.

Engagement Announced.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Mary Hill, of Rahway road, and Oscar J. Ovall, of West Front street. No date has been set for the wedding.

Smith—Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Campbell, of Oak Tree, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Bessie Campbell, to Edward L. Smith, of Meal Park, on Wednesday, November 27.

BLDG. AND LOAN REPORT

Banking and Insurance Commissioner Watkins Says Organizations are Prosperous.

42 THE RECORD FOR LAST YEAR.

All Associations Except One Are Locals—12,688 Members Gained Last Year.

According to the annual report of State Banking and Insurance Commissioner David O. Watkins on the subject of building and loan associations the total number in operation on October 31 last was 461, an increase for the year of 33. In the last year 42 associations have been incorporated and nine have discontinued business.

In the report Commissioner Watkins states that with the winding up of the affairs of the State Mutual Building and Loan Association of Camden, there remains but one on the "State" institutions in New Jersey. All of the "National" associations have been forced out of business and the "local" associations have been gradually securing the field for themselves. Commenting on the Camden association the report says:

"This institution was the oldest and largest of the class known as 'State' which differ from the regular or 'local' associations in that the business is conducted at a much greater expense. Agents are employed to solicit members, branch offices are maintained and loans are made throughout the State instead of being confined to particular localities. The elimination of this association leaves but one active survivor of the kind in the State, and that that one is still in existence is mainly due to the changes in its methods necessitated by the building loan law of 1903.

"The history of this class of building and loan associations is one of failure, disappointment and loss to their members, and it is a matter for congratulation that the restrictions and limitations are such as to preclude the organization of any more of them."

Concerning the general conditions of all the associations now in existence Commission Watkins says:

"The returns of the 'local' associations indicate prosperous conditions. There was a gain in the number of members of 12,668, the total now being 145,856. This increase exceeds that made in the preceding year by 2,646. The borrowing members number 36,960, or 26 per cent. of the whole. Gross assets have increased $9,814,215 and aggregated $67,802,407. The real estate holdings have been reduced $267,163. The total of $1,420,979 is but two and nine-hundredth per cent. of the whole gross assets, and nearly one-half of the amount is reported as sold under contract. The foreclosures during the year were fifty-one in number or thirty-three less than the year before.

"The dues or subscriptions on outstanding shares are reported at $50,764,249. This is an increase of $4,138,312. The profits apportioned and unapportioned amount to $111,744,216, which is an increase of $837,331. The total net assets or net worth of the associations is obtained by adding the stock dues or subscriptions to the accumulated profits which gives $162,508,467.

"In 41 or 91 per cent. of the institutions shares are issued in series which accords with the partnership theory underlying the building loan scheme; thirty-three are conducted upon the 'perpetual' or 'permanent' plan and are 'terminating' or one-series associations. One-half operate the 'gross' premium plan, i. e., the premium bid is deducted from the amount of the loan and the balance advanced to the borrower, the premium not being actually earned and paid until the shares pledged are worth their par value, or in other words, have matured; 173 or 41 per cent. collect the premium in instalments; eight have both plans, and in 27 no premium is charged.

"The amount of prepaid or paid-up shares outstanding shows an increase of $461,404, or nearly 38 per cent. for the year, the aggregate being $1,687,276. The issuance of this kind of stock has never been retarded with favor by the great majority of legal associations, although it has always been a feature of the 'State' and 'National' concerns. It appears, however, to have recently become popular among some of the local societies in the larger cities.

"The subscribers to such shares pay the full par value thereof in advance and receive a fixed rate of interest instead of sharing equally with the instalment shareholders in the total profits earned. By means of such payment the association is placed in immediate possession of funds for making loans which others have to wait for the accumulations gradually from the instalment dues. The scheme has its limitations, however, and if overdone may cause embarrassment to an association, as would result in case any large number of shares noticed for withdrawal at one time, thereby necessitating heavy cash payments. The amount of paid-up stock should be kept down to a small proportion of the total liabilities in every association. It should be fully understood by subscribers of paid-up shares that they do not stand in the relation of creditors, but on the contrary are subject to debts and loans the same as instalment shareholders; nor are they entitled to preference of payment over the latter."

The report contains statistical information obtained from the annual statements of the 417 associations of which 15 are "local" and two "State."

FORAKER A CANDIDATE FOR THE PRESIDENCY

In a letter made public Saturday Senator Foraker announces in effect that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for President and will accept support to that end. His announced purpose of accepting is the greatest political sensation Washington has experienced in a long time. It puts all awry the plans of President Roosevelt and the friends of Secretary Taft to obtain unanimous endorsement of Mr. Taft's candidacy from the own State of Ohio, where Mr. Foraker is strong.

In the platform of his candidacy, which Mr. Foraker writes into his letter, is his own record as a public man. Without naming President Roosevelt, he indicates plainly that he will stick to his policy of opposition to executive encroachment and dictation.

One hot shot, aimed apparently at President Roosevelt, is that if the "Senatorship is to be degraded into a mere agency no self-respecting man can desire to hold it."

Mr. Foraker's statement, in addition to letting President Roosevelt know that Senator Foraker intends to continue his resistence to the more radical policies of the administration, is a notice also to the Taft wing of the Republican party in Ohio, that Mr. Foraker will fight their candidate to the finish.

It was said by people familiar with the Republican political situation in Ohio that Mr. Foraker had been virtually forced into an attitude of opposition to Secretary Taft through the refusal of Mr. Taft's friends to meet him half way in his effort to bring about party harmony in the State. The only way many of Secretary Taft's friends has been "Let us eliminate Foraker from politics." Mr. Foraker declines to be eliminated without the hardest kind of a fight, and he is a hard fighter.

Politicians have not had sufficient time to determine in their own minds what effect Senator Foraker's declaration will be on the Presidential situation generally, and on the Taft boom in particular, but it has been said in the past by many of those interested in the matter, that if Senator Foraker announced himself as a candidate for the nomination for President his position would be strengthened greatly, while Secretary Taft's would be weakened to a considerable degree. It is this aspect of the case which interests most of the politicians.

HARVARD DINNER IN TOKIO.

A Harvard dinner was given at the Nobles' Club at Tokio Friday night in celebration of the 300 anniversary of the birth of John Harvard, the founder of the Harvard University. Viscount Kaneko, president of the club, and twenty-eight others were present.

Addresses were made by Viscount Kaneko, American Ambassador O'Brien, Baron Megata and A. M. Knapp, editor of the Advertiser.

Much enthusiasm was manifested, and toasts were drunk to President Roosevelt and to Harvard University.

The Harvard Society then elected the following officers: President, Baron Megata; vice-presidents Baron Isawa and J. M. Bardiner; secretary, Baron Kikkawa.

Funeral of Mrs. Smalley.

Relatives and friends of the late Mrs. Mary E. Smalley, who died Tuesday, gathered at her late home on Norwood avenue yesterday afternoon, where simple funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Musson, pastor of the chapel. Dr. Musson took occasion to speak of the useful life of the departed and the esteem in which she was held by all who knew her. The floral tributes were bountiful, including a large wreath from the local carpenters' union. Mrs. Smalley was a member of the Home Department of Trinity Reformed church and among the flowers were as mass of chrysanthemums, a token of remembrance from the department. Six brothers-in-law of the dead woman acted as her pall bearers, these were: John Parlee, Robert Parlee, Jas. B. Lambert, S. W. Lambert, James Line and John Sharkey. The interment was in the family plot at the Bound Brook cemetery.

Borough Exempts Met.

About thirty members turned out to the meeting of the North Plainfield Exempt Firemen's Association held at Saengerbund Hall last night. Routine business occupied the time, and plans for a "get together" and social were talked over. No date has been set.

Trinity Commandery Inspected.

The annual inspection of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., was held in Masonic Hall, last night. It was attended by many visitors from out of town and was followed by a collation.

BISMARCKS WIN AGAIN

Captain Britton's Team Takes Two Out of Three Games from Skelly's Lafayettes.

CHAUNCEY STOUT THE "HERO."

Made an Average of 227, the Most Remarkable Ever Recorded in a Local Tourney.

Ed. Britton's Bismarck bowling team reappeared in the tourney at Campbell's allays last night and scored another victory by taking two out of three games from Louis Skelly's Lafayettes, losing the one tally by only three points. It was one of the best series that has yet been rolled at the academy and though every one of the Bismarcks worked hard to win, honors for the night went to Chauncey F. Stout. Notwithstanding that he was hampered by a bleeding thumb bound up in a bandage he made the most remarkable average that has ever been recorded in a local match game or tourney series.

His scores for the three games were 232, 221 and 228, giving him the surprising average of 227. In his last game he hit the timber for six straight strikes and would have had a beautiful score but for a bad split in the seventh he left in. An impossible spare. He brought his shooting eye back in the eighth and continued his good work, getting cheered to the echo by a big crowd of rooters.

Captain Britton fell down from his usual game and ended with an average of 159.1, something scandalous for him. Captain Skelly, of the Lafayettes, made an uphill fight and got a 188 average, but it was not enough to pull up his weak men. His lieutenant, John Wirth, made some good tallies and "Tune" Hewitt walked away with a 154 average. Fred Hillman was in poor form and because of James Edwards' failure to arrive in time a "dummy" average had to be rolled for him. It tallied up 144.2.

Tom Muir again got second best average on the Bismarcks, 169.1, while Charles W. Runyon and Frank McInerney went below their first games by many pins. Runyon's average was 132 and McInerney's 133 though both are capable of much better work:

The scores:

BISMARCKS.
Britton	137	159	182
Muir	199	153	156
Runyon	126	141	129
McInerney	122	155	121
Stout	222	221	228
Totals	817	829	816
LAFAYETTES.
Skelly	211	196	157
Hillman	114	145	107
Edwards	145	132	136
Wirth	162	165	212
Hewitt	168	146	150
Totals	820	786	762

Umpires, Dr. F. C. Herbert and William Kiely; scorer, Harry Radin.

NEW YORK TO HOBOKEN THROUGH TUNNEL JAN. 1

The old Morton street tunnel route between Manhattan and New Jersey will be opened in the last week in January if the work at the Manhattan end of the tube system continues at the present rate. The tracks have been laid from 18th street and Sixth avenue, in New York, to a point near the Lackawanna station in Hoboken, and it will be that stretch of the route which will be opened to the public in January. In March trains will be running between 18th street and Sixth avenue, New York, to Exchange place, Jersey City.

The Morton street route has twin tubes. The northern tube was finished in 1904. It was started in 1874 and after two foreclosures was bought by the New York and Jersey Railroad Company. That company completed it in about one and a half years. It took two years to build the southern tube. It was finished in the latter part of 1905. Since then a large force of workmen have been engaged in erecting the stations along the route and building the extension to the system from Christopher and Greenwich streets, through Christopher street to Sixth avenue and 9th street and up Sixth avenue to 33d street. Another spur is being built from 9th street and Sixth avenue to Astor place and 4th street. Each tube has a diameter of 15¼ feet and a length of 5,700 feet.

The stations which will be first opened to the public are at Christopher and Greenwich streets, 9th, 14th and 18th streets, New York, and the one adjoining on the south of the Lackawanna station in Hoboken.

Star Course Monday Night.

Shungopavi, the Indian illusionist, will be at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening, in the third star course entertainment of the association series. He will be assisted by Miss Kate Gordon Munch, reader and violinist, and Miss Louise Senton, soprano and pianist.

OPPOSE LICENSE CHANGE

Senator Frelinghuysen Declares Against Non-Permit Clause.

HE FAVORS "UNIVERSAL LIGHT."

Somerset's Sage, Father of Auto Law, Talks of Plans for Next Session of Legislature.

Unless something unforseen presents itself between now and the time the Legislature meets, New Jersey automobilists will experience some trouble in securing the enactment of the proposed amendments desired to the present automobile law. The motorists have some consolation in knowing that some of their desires are likely to be granted, however, for they will have the influence of Senator Frelinghuysen, of Somerset county, the father of the present law, with them, as he is in favor of additional legislation that he hopes will be of material benefit to the motorists. Senator Frelinghuysen is not in accord with all of the wants of the automobilists and will oppose a few of the most important clauses which they are advocating. For instance, he disapproves of any change in the law which will permit motorists from New York and Pennsylvania entering this State without a New Jersey license, and is by no means in accord with the Connecticut law which, he says, is designed to punish only those who have been perpetrated, his object being to prevent the accident in the first instance.

Senator Frelinghuysen will advocate a higher license fee for the higher powered cars, and he understands that this will meet with the approval of a majority of the motorists, and he will also introduce an amendment providing for additional inspectors in order that the law may be more strictly enforced. Before any of the proposed amendments are to be presented to the Legislature Senator Frelinghuysen will hold consultations with the leading motorists in the State, as well as with J. B. R. Smith, commissioner of the department of motor vehicles, in order to map out a prescribed program.

The matter of securing legislation requiring all vehicles to carry a light at night, which the automobilists have been advocating for two years or more, will have the support of Mr. Frelinghuysen. This will come under the head of the road act, however, but the Senator has expressed himself as being in favor of it and will do his utmost to have such a law passed.

Senator Frelinghuysen when seen at his New York office, talked encouragingly of the automobile situation.

"Both the automobile commissioner and I," said he, "have given the subject much consideration, and neither of us wishes to make the law any more radical than is necessary. But New Jersey is so territorially situated that her roads are called upon to bear the greater burden of the automobile traffic—more so than New York State and Pennsylvania and the territory surrounding New York City and Philadelphia. This is due to two causes. The first is the accessibility of New Jersey, and, secondly, the splendid condition of her roads. The Frelinghuysen law, as it now stands, is considered adaptable to the condition, if the State provides more means for enforcing it. It is my intention to procure an amendment to this law providing for a corps of twenty-five civilian inspectors, who shall serve without pay, and increase the number of the present paid inspectors to twenty-five, thereby giving one paid inspector and one civilian inspector to regulate the speed excesses.

"An effort will also be made to increase the license fee of the larger cars. The automobile law now returns to the State about $90,000 per annum, which is used to repair the roads. It has been shown conclusively that the damage done by these heavier cars is very disastrous to the roadbeds, and I understand that the automobilists are willing to pay an increased license fee on the heavier cars for the benefit of the road system. I believe in increasing this fee to about $200,000, which would be an average proportion which automobilists should pay in comparison with the horse-drawn vehicles. I hope that the automobilists will meet both the automobile commissioner and myself and will consider this proposition as a fair one, inasmuch as it is not my desire to place a stone wall around the State of New Jersey and keep the motorists out.

"In my opinion, I do not believe that there should be any change made in the speed limit," continued the Senator, "nor am I willing to support any law along the lines of the Connecticut law, which, I understand, punishes after an act has been perpetrated, my object being to prevent the accident in the first instance.

"I most certainly would oppose an attempt to insert in the law a reciprocal clause allowing New York State or Pennsylvania licenses to run free in New Jersey, or vice versa, because the number of cars from these two States far exceeds the number of cars that go from New Jersey to New York and Pennsylvania."

Asked as to whether he would oppose any law compelling all vehicles to carry lights at night, Senator Frelinghuysen said that he was heartily in favor of such a measure and would aid such legislation. While this would not come under the automobile law, he said that such an amendment ought to be enacted to the State roads law. He said, however, that he would advocate one light for horse-drawn vehicles.

"COAL BARON" HARRIGAN.

Buys Johnson's Yard and Will Add Grain Elevator.

Joseph Harrigan has purchased John Johnson's coal and wood yard on South avenue, and in the spring he will erect a modern grain elevator on the property. In connection with this deal he has sold four of his properties on East Fourth street, near Richmond street, and he also proposes to seel his present coal yard on Roosevelt street.

Mr. Johnson will retire from business in Plainfield. The consideration named in the deal is about $10,000, which includes the sale of Mr. Harrigan's property and the purchase of the Johnson property. The building of the new grain elevator will be of concrete construction and will be equipped with all modern appliances.

MISS ANNA M. RODRIGUEZ BRIDE OF SEYMOUR PERKINS.

Miss Anna Maude Rodriguez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erlado Rodriguez, of New York, and Seymour Perkins, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Perkins, whose home for many years was at 42 West Forty-sixth street, New York, were married Saturday afternoon in Trinity chapel, New York.

Miss Edith Anderson was the maid of honor and Ralph Richter was Mr. Perkin's best man. There were no other attendants and no reception followed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Dr. William H. Vibbert. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Perkins will make their home in Plainfield.

You want THE CENTURY MAGAZINE IN 1908 You want

¶ In the magazine world the one by which the rest are measured has always been and is today THE CENTURY.

¶ Ask writers where their best productions are first offered,

¶ Ask public men where articles carry the most weight,

¶ Ask the public what magazine is the choice among people of real influence,

¶ The answer is the same,

THE CENTURY

"The best has been done too good for this publication, and there has been much as important literature in the cultural development of the American people in the last three decades and which possesses now as equally important factor in the future."—Boston Globe.

"In all the feverish desire of magazine publishers to cater to the superficial taste, the makers of THE CENTURY have stood firmly by the ideals which have been in literature, art, and thought, and THE CENTURY MAGAZINE today is one of the most substantial of their genius and one of the most influential in the literary life and culture of the nation."—Minneapolis Journal

The best of fiction, and of popular scientific articles, the most richly worth while biographical articles, the finest and best pictorial features, will be found in THE CENTURY during 1908. There will be "The Reminiscences of Lady Randolph Churchill," the story of the beautiful American girl who shared her brilliant husband's brilliant social and political successes during one of the most interesting periods of English history.

Prof. Percival Lowell will discuss "Mars as a Possible Abode of Life"—fascinating, authoritative papers, intended specially for unscientific readers. All Helen Keller's recent poetry and prose writings —by far her most remarkable work—will appear in THE CENTURY in 1908. And Dr. S. Weir Mitchell has written the fiction serial of the year, "The Red City," a delightful historical novel of Old Philadelphia, containing the famous "Hugh Wynne."

No magazine today publishes such remarkable color pages as THE CENTURY; in no other magazine are to be found so many illustrations suitable for framing, and really worth while. For 1908 M. de Ivanowski is painting portraits of the most noted opera singers. There will be more of Cole's beautiful wood-engravings, description and illustration of new processes in photography, and scores of articles in color, text, and photogravure.

Subscription Price $4.00 a year.

THE CENTURY CO.

Union Square New York City

"* * * Of all the newspapers in New York, the one which has earned most distinctly to win an American newspaper should be in straightforwardness and honesty, "THE NEW YORK TIMES stands "first."—Harper's Weekly.

The New York Times

Is Now Appearing Every Sunday

Improved and Enlarged

with an illuminated PICTORIAL SECTION OF TWENTY FULL-SIZE PAGES, embracing pictures of prominent people in society and public life, also scenes and incidents of the important events of the day.

The Magazine Section accompanying THE SUNDAY TIMES presents a variety of interesting illustrated features and a unique selection of the best stories about men and women of prominence.

The New York Times. Saturday Review of Books.

which accompanies the Saturday Edition, is the recognized authority to which the public looks for the first news of books.

The New York Times. Weekly Financial Quotation Review.

gives a weekly review of current prices of stocks and bonds; also the dealings in securities, including sales and transfers, comprising a compact and convenient reference published for investors and others interested in financial matters.

ORDER THROUGH YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER,

or mailed direct from office, as per following rates:

SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

	By Mail.
One Year, Sundays Included	$8.50
Six Months, Sundays Included	4.25
Three Months, Sundays included	2.25
One Month, Sundays included	.75
Per Copy	.07
Daily, without Sunday, per year	6.00
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3.00
Daily, without Sunday, three months	1.50
Daily, without Sunday, per month	.50
Daily, without Sunday, per copy	.02
Sunday, with Pictorial Section, per year	2.50
Postage to foreign countries for Daily and Sunday Editions, add $1.05 per month.

Newsdealers who are not receiving THE NEW YORK TIMES—Daily and Sunday editions—should order a regular delivery at once. Write for terms. Address Circulation Manager.

The New York Times Times Square, New York.

MAGAZINE READERS

SUNSET MAGAZINE — beautifully illustrated, good stories and articles about California and all the Far West. $1.50 a year

CAMERA CRAFT — devoted each month to the artistic reproduction of the best work of amateur and professional photographers. $1.00 a year

ROAD OF A THOUSAND WONDERS — a book of 75 pages, containing 120 colored photographs of picturesque spots in California and Oregon. $0.75

Total . . . $3.25

All for . . . $1.50

Address all orders to

SUNSET MAGAZINE

Flood Building San Francisco

FOR AGENTS—AN OPPORTUNITY!

"THE OLD WORLD AND ITS WAYS"

BY

William Jennings Bryan.

NOW READY FOR SOLICITORS.

576 Imperial Octavo Pages. Over 200 Superb Engravings from photographs taken by Mr. Bryan.

Recounts his trip around the world and his visits to all nations. The greatest book of travel ever written. The people are waiting for it. The agent's harvest. Outfit FREE—send 10 cents to cover mailing and handling.

THE THOMPSON PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo. 7 26 3 c

W. k. ODDINGTON,

Counsellor-at-Law

Commissioner of Deeds, Master-in-Chancery, Notary Public. Offices Corner of Park avenue and Second street.

Sanitary Plumbing

Brick and Portable Furnaces.

Gas Fitting, Tin Roofing, Etc., Etc., Etc.

I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.

Having associated myself with the Master Members' Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business, at all times and in all cases.

D. W. LINTELL

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

COMMERCIAL LAW.

By Utley E. Crane, the well-known Philadelphi attorney. An instructive and invaluable treatment of this subject in its various branches.

PICTURESQUE PENNSLVANIA.

Pennsylvania's beautiful scenery described with illustrations.

MUSIC WITHOUT A TEACHER.

Learn to play the piano in 12 lessons, one lesson to be published each Sunday.

These remarkable and valuable features will al appear in the Sunday Record in addition to the general news and other special features. Order from yeour newsdealer in advance.

THE PHILADELPHIA RECORD, 917 Chestnut street. 10 24 3

NEW IN EVERY DETAIL

My new barber shop at

143 NORTH AVE.

is now open ready for business. All the latest appointments in the tonsorial line.

EDWIN F. B. MAYNARD.

DIME

Savings Institution,

Of Plainfield, N. J.,

Is now receiving deposits with interest, allowed on all sums from $5 to $5,000.

J. Frank Hubbard, President.
Wm. F. Arnold, } Vice-Pres
Jeremiah Manning, }
J. Lee Tapp, Secy and Treas.

Money deposited on or before January tenth will draw interest from the first.

Guaranteed Salary $900 YEARLY.

Men and women of good address to represent us, manage and appointing agents; others for local work looking after our interests. Steady salary guaranteed yearly; extra commissions and expenses, rapid advancement, old established house. Grand chance for earnest man or woman to secure pleasant, permanent position, liberal income and future. New, brilliant lines. Write at once.

STAFFORD PRESS, 23 Church St., New Haven, Conn

DIED.

SMALLEY—In this city, Tuesday, November 26, 1907, Mary E., wife of Samuel S. Smalley, aged 65 years, 7 months and 24 days.

MORTON—On Wednesday, Nov. 27, 1907, Martha Homan, widow of the late James V. Morton.

COLE—On Tuesday, November 26, 1907, Ida T., daughter of Mulford and the late Emeline D. Cole.

GORDON—In North Plainfield, on Thursday, November 28, 1907, Bertha H. Gordon, aged 14 years, 4 months and 2 days.

LOWRIE—On Wednesday, Nov. 27, 1907, Myra C. G., wife of Dr. H. H. Lowrie.

ROAN—In this city, Nov. 29, 1907, Bridget Roan, in her 83d year.

Limited.

Mrs. Dyer—What has become of Mrs. Higbee? I haven't seen her in an age.

Mrs. Ryer—Well, you know she has only one afternoon out a week since she began keeping a servant.—Leslie's Weekly.

Setting Colors.

In setting colors, if you use two tablespoonfuls of alcohol, one tablespoonful of turpentine, in three gallons of cold water, and put the garment in a china jar, letting it remain for twelve hours, it will set the most delicate colors.

DR. WILSON ON TEACHING

Princeton's President Holds that Schools Merely Impart Information.

A PERIOD OF DISSOLUTION.

The Idea of Teaching English Literature, He Adds, Must Be Abandoned—We Don't Educate.

Speaking before a meeting of some of the most prominent educators in the country, Friday, at a session of the annual convention of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Middle States and in Townsend Harris Hall of the College of the City of New York, President Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton, declared that the schools and colleges of the country are not educating their pupils, but are simply imparting information.

"We have been passing through a period of dissolution of the standards of education," he said. "We have been trying a series of reckless experiments upon the lads and youths, girls and maidens of this country, instead of educating them. The children of the last two or three decades have not been educated. The pupils of our colleges of the last few decades have not been educated. With all our educating we are instructed nobody, and with all our instructing we have educated nobody.

"I have been teaching for some twenty years—that is, I have been conducting classroom exercises, but I do not think that I have been teaching any appreciable part of that time. I have been delivering lectures, sometimes about things of which I know, but more often about things of which I had heard. The result has been that my pupils have remembered my stories and forgotten my lectures.

"We must remember that information is not education. The greater part of the work that we are doing in our colleges of today is to impart information. My father, who was a man who used very precise English, once said: 'The mind is not a prolix gut to be stuffed.' One of the principal objects of education should be enlightenment, or the unloading from the minds of the pupils of the misinformation that they have received.

"Instead, we are daily cramming their minds with an enormous mass of irrelevant facts. It is better to see one thing than to look at a hundred. It is better to conduct a student to the inner chamber of one fact than to take him on a strip seeing greater knowledge.

"Another important thing is the establishment in the pupil's mind of the relation between the facts that we impart to him. I have always contended that every university should have a Professor of Things in General. Then there is discipline. There is nothing practical in the physical discipline of the gymnasium. We student is simply training his body to meet the emergencies of life. It should be the same with the mind.

"Any course of study that disciplines the mind is beneficial to the student. Anything that does not is not beneficial to him. Anything that is easy does not discipline. I would advocate giving children the tasks that are hardest for them to do, and then when they begin to get easy giving them something harder.

"We have also got to do away with the idea that one branch of our association is preparing children for the other branch to teach. Both branches are doing the same work, or should do so. A boy does not cross a bridge into a new land when he leaves school and enters college. He just continues on his fair journey of education. School does not prepare the boy for college. Both are doing the best they can to educate them."

President Wilson also contended that technical schools should be separated from colleges, and laid down what he considered the ideal course of study for a boy's education. In the preparatory school he should study mathematics, Latin, and one other language. In college, he should study one of the sciences correlated with mathematics, continue his one language until he can read, write, and speak it fluently, and history, he said.

"We must give up the idea," he continued, "teaching English literature. The appreciation of English can no more be pedagogically imparted than the appreciation of the song of a bird.

"I do not know what would happen to our average college classes if all examination papers in which there are mistakes in the English were discarded. In defense they say that they have to write too hurriedly to watch their English, and because they know so little about English that they have to use time and deliberation in order to use it correctly.

"The trouble is that we are trying to teach a little of everything, and instead are not teaching anything of anything. We should reduce education to a small body of great subjects. We have developed a great genius for everything but simplification. We should get the elements of education, and then bring them together as a standard at least of what we are trying to do. As it is, we have missed the meaning of education."

THE ART OF HAIR CULTURE.

Says a well known artist, "There is nothing so decorative as a lovely head of hair, nothing so easily ruined by ill-usage, and fortunately nothing that will respond more quickly to sensible treatment."

The hair is a sort of barometer of general health. In other words, if you possess a healthy body and a healthy skin your hair will be strong and glossy. Hair which has no gloss and is of dead, spiritless appearance is nearly always an indication of the enfeebled condition of its owner.

The first essential to healthful growth of the hair is cleanliness. And by cleanliness we do not mean incessant washing. Too much water—particularly soapy water—has a tendency to wash out the natural oil of the scalp and so weaken the roots. The best method of keeping the hair clean and sweet is to use a good stiff brush well and regularly. The hair should be carefully parted in sections, and brushed from the very scalp out to the ends with smooth, even strokes. If this is done, then once a month is quite often enough for washing. Of course, many girls are obliged to work in places where the air is liable at times to be thick with smoke, whilst others have to travel daily by smoky trains or dusty cars, and for them a fortnightly wash is necessary.

The hairbrush itself is an important feature. It should be of stiff, medium coarse but smooth bristles, closely set, and above all things it must be clean, as all the soil of the hair adheres to the brush after a thorough brushing. Even while brushing the hair it is wise to take a clean towel and wipe the bristles of the brush. Combing the scalp with a fine comb will remove every particle of dust remaining.

If the hair becomes unduly oily and unmanageable in a short time, powdered orris root may be lightly shaken over it and then thoroughly brushed out again—a dry shampoo of this nature will leave the hair in fine condition.

A good method for shampooing is the following: Rub tincture of green soap well into the scalp, taking care not to bruise or scratch the skin, then add enough water to make a good lather and rinse thoroughly; then repeat the process with a lather made of pure white castile. The rinsing should be done through three waters at least. The ideal method of drying is to sit or walk about in the sun until every drop of the moisture is gone from the hair, letting the wind blow through it freely, as the sun and wind will impart a beautiful gloss to hair obtainable in no other way, and in addition invigorate the skin of the scalp and make it healthy. If the sun treatment is not practicable, use soft towels and then fanning, being careful to avoid roughness in handling and rubbing, as in its softened condition the hair is very liable to break and split. After a complete drying the scalp should be messaged and loosened with the fingers until the whole surface it pink and active looking—much depends on a good massage treatment.

Two Ways of Looking at It.

There is a young artist in Washington who classes himself as of the impressionistic school and who, being somewhat out in drawing, generously makes up for his lack of technique by spreading color recklessly and counting on distance for his effect.

At an amateur exhibition he once hung one of his most extraordinary performances.

"Well," said a friend whom the artist had taken to see the work, "I don't want to flatter you, old chap, but that is far and away the best thing you have ever done. I congratulate you."

Much pleased, the artist was receiving the compliment with becoming modesty when he chanced again to glance at the picture and turned very pale. The committee had hung it upside down.

Hurrying to the head of the committee, he was about to launch into a loud complaint when he was informed that the good news that an admirer before the picture had been sold for $61. The original price mark had been $19.—Lippincott's Magazine.

RIDICULOUS TO BEHOLD.

They say love's blind.
Can that be right?
Some men in love
Are just a "sight."
—Philadelphia Press.

Thank the Lord,
If today has sorrow
We can live in hope.
Of a bright tomorrow!
And still find peace
When the storm is hummin'
an' sweet release
In the good time comin'.
—Atlanta Constitution.

Keep the Mouth Shut.

He—A person should never boast of his possessions.

She—Why not?

"Well, I read only today of a circus elephant at Innsbruck, Germany, which had $70 worth of gold taken out of a filled tooth one night."

"Can't see what that has to do with it?"

"Well, if the elephant had kept it's mouth shut, it couldn't have lost it!"—Yonkers Statesman.

Stephen Blazier, of Elmwood place, has returned from a visit with his son at Madison.

ELECTROLYSIS FOUND IN SERVICE WATER PIPES

The first case of electrolysis in the case of a service water pipe occurred early Saturday in the home of Harry Werner's clothing store on West Front street. The break was directly between the westbound trolley tracks and a considerable amount of water escaped before repairs were made.

It was considered fortunate that the break happened before the brick pavement was laid on that side of the street, although Superintendent Amos Andrews, of the Plainfield Water Company, says that the laying of a five-inch concrete foundation with a brick pavement on top is no guarantee that the same thing will not occur at any time. The trouble always occurs in the case of service pipes and not with the mains. The service pipes are laid about three feet below the surface and the electric current will penetrate the ground to the pipe at various intervals gradually eating the iron, the same as insects eat their way into the bark of a tree until the pipe becomes so thin that the water forces itself through. Unless promptly attended to much damage is likely to result.

In case of trouble of this nature it will certainly be an expensive thing to tear up the brick pavement to repair breaks. The service pipes should be thoroughly inspected before the pavement is allowed to be put down, in the opinion of water company officials. The one which broke this morning was new, having been laid within the last few weeks.

$68,000 BOND ISSUE NOT TO BE SOLD NOW

In the opinion of those who have the matter in charge it is believed that nothing will be done by the Common Council for the present with the $68,000 sewer bond issue which A. B. Leach & Co., of New York, refused to take after its bid was accepted. City Treasurer W. N. Arnold does not anticipate any trouble in selling the bonds as soon as the bond market regains its normal condition which he thinks will be within a short time.

The city had an opportunity to sell these bonds last summer for $100.02 and it is the opinion that they should have been disposed of at that time, when a considerable sum could have been saved to the city. The bonds were issued to cover a number of sewers with which the city has been paying for the sewer work during the past two or three years and as soon as the bonds are sold this indebtedness will be liquidated.

Largest Blast Set Off Thursday.

Thousands of tons were dislodged at Smalley's stone quarry at the end of Somerset street Thursday night, when 100 pounds of dynamite were used in the biggest blast ever touched off at the quarry. The workmen tunnelled twenty-five feet into the side of the ledge about a hundred feet from the top of the cliff and the explosion shattered the whole edge of the quarry. The dynamite was set off late in the evening, care being taken to be sure that no one was on the cliff or within range of the flying rock. The stone taken off will keep the crushers supplied till early spring.

Awarded Thirteen Ribbons.

A. C. Bechstein, of Park avenue, won thirteen ribbons as prizes at the Westchester County Poultry and Pigeon Show, with his prize-winning chickens and pigeons. There was strong competition. Among the thirteen awards were many firsts. The show is being held this week at White Plains, N. Y.

CARE FOR YOUR SHIRTWAISTS.

It has grown to be considerable question as to how the many shirt waists, now a necessary part of a woman's wardrobe, are to be properly cared for.

Many things enter into the question of this care, and include such varying things as the laundering of wash waists, the cleaning of silk and wool waists, the ending of all the waists and last but not least, the keeping of them in a convenient place that will also preserve them in freshness.

The only way to insure this freshness is to have the garments kept in a place secure from crushing and rumpling.

If a drawer can be set aside for each one so much the better; but there are few houses, and no flats, large enough to allow one woman unlimited room for keeping her clothes, and if there are several women in a family, it would be out be accommodated at all in any such proportion.

The way out of the difficulty is to devise a scheme by which one can easily and speedily get at the garments wanted, lift them out and not crush others in doing so.

Some young girls are very careless of the manner in which they dispose of their clothes when they arrive from the laundry, recklessly stuffing them into any convenient receptacle, where they are found to be decidedly crumpled when seeking other articles which may be contained in the same place.

A shirt waist which has been well laundered and carefully put away will not only look well at the end of a day's wear, but, in case of the girl who has to economize on her laundry bill, can perhaps be worn a second time and still not look "mussy" if it is cared for after being taken off.

If shirt waists require so much care in folding away, the more delicate lingerie waists, which as frequently pay a visit to the laundry certainly should be given intelligent care.

These become crushed and untidy-looking before worn if not given sufficient space. It will compensate one for a little forethought in this matter.

And be it remembered, the care of a waist depends not as much upon the way it is worn as the manner in which it is put away.

It should be folded at the underarm seam and the sleeves bent over at the elbow and brought around in front.

In order to make the space it occupies smaller it can be folded a trifle above the waist line.

CITY'S SHARE IS $6,429

Union County is Apportioned $43,866.85 of the Franchise Tax.

FANWOOD TOWNSHIP IS $813.68

Fanwood Borough $232—Elizabeth $19,957—Westfield Township $2,054.

Union county's share of the State franchise tax, as just assessed by the State Board of Assessors, will be $43,666.85. The sum to be received by Plainfield is $6,429.25 and by Elizabeth $19,957.14.

The tax to be received from this source by each taxing district in Union county is shown by the appended table:

District.	Tax.
Clark township	$ 60.21
Cranford township	1,734.65
Elizabeth	19,957.14
Fanwood borough	232.03
Fanwood township	813.68
Garwood borough	762.63
Kenilworth borough	137.31
Linden borough	492.60
Linden township	1,121.17
Mountainside borough	11.05
New Providence borough	11.06
New Providence township	10.31
Plainfield	6,429.25
Rahway	1,813.78
Roselle borough	1,492.67
Roselle Park borough	1,566.30
Springfield township	595.35
Summit	2,282.45
Union township	2,586.41
Westfield township	2,054.80
Total	$43,666.85

A NEW IDEA.

Many women have been obliged or have preferred to replace long silk gloves, not by a new pair, but by short ones, which they sew to the perfectly good arms of the old ones.

This seam, however, makes an unsightly line, which immediately proclaims economy to all the world. One clever woman crocheted instead of sewing the parts together.

The crocheted band was in a pretty pattern, and of silk to match the gloves in shade, was an ornament in place of a blemish, and for months her friends haunted the stores in a vain search for a counterpart.

Not only does the crocheting improve the appearance of the old gloves, but it also lengthens them, and relieves that distressingly "short" feeling often present in inexpensive kinds.

SERVED 6 YEARS, COLBY WANTS ONE MORE TERM

Senator Everett Colby was asked yesterday regarding his plans for the coming legislative session and as to whether he would again consent to be a candidate for legislative honors. Concerning his fight for the last election and the effect upon it of the last election he said:

"The results of the recent election have not deterred me in the least from continuing the same fight which we have been waging for six years or more. We are in the stick and to win, and we're going to do both. The election was entirely satisfactory to us, and we have a better opportunity now to carry on our issues to success than we have ever had. We are going to continue our work for a primary recount, a public utilities act and a Hughes kind, a comprehensive employers' liability act and other reforms."

Asked whether he would again be a candidate for re-election he said:

"I'd like to retire. I've been six years of it, and it has been six years of fighting continually, but much has yet to be done. No, I am going to be a candidate for re-election next year."

INVADED HOME AND WENT TO SLEEP ON TABLE

Returning to her home at Third and New streets at 6 o'clock Friday night, after a visit, Mrs. John F. Casey was astonished to find a man of unusually large proportions stretched at full length on her dining room table. A series of staccato obligatos played on two keys in the guise of snores gave evidence of the fact that he was sleeping soundly and after recovering from her surprise and fright, she summoned the police by 'phone.

Patrolmen Dobson and McCarthy were sent to the house and found the intruder to be Michael Griffin, of Prescott place, a machinist, who measures just six feet one and a half inch in height and is built in proportion. It was all the two husky cops could do to lift him up and a bystander declared the table gave an audible sigh of relief when he was removed. Liquor was the cause of the man's downfall, and it was not until this morning that he was fully himself.

When arraigned before Jurge Runyon in the city court today Griffin was unable to tell just how he came to get in the Casey residence. He evidently took it for his own home, though his is nine blocks away, and finding the front door open made his way inside. Every member of the family was absent and he proceeded to the dining room table and stretched out for a nap without molestation. He had been there a couple of hours, at least, when Mrs. Casey returned home.

Griffin has a clean record with the police and the court earned him a suspension of sentence.

FORGER GETS 3MONTHS FOR RAISING $4 CHECK

Roy Wilson, the eighteen-year-old boy who raised the amount of a $4 check to $40 and tried to cash it in Werner's clothing store in September, was sentenced to three months in State prison at his hearing before Judge Atwater in Union county court at Elizabeth Saturday. The lad pleaded guilty to the charge of forgery. He was committed to the jail September 28, to await a hearing.

Wilson was in the employ of William F. Rogers, a farmer who lives in Piscatway township. He was given a check for $4 in payment for a bill at Werner's store. The check was drawn on the Dunellen National Bank. The lad inserted a zero after the four in a very clumsy way, and Mr. Werner detected the forgery as soon as the check was offered in payment of the bill. Engaging the lad in conversation, the clothier sent for Sergeant Overbaugh, who made the arrest.

Rev. Mr. Griffin Quite Ill.

Rev. Walter T. Griffin, of East Seventh street, formerly U. S. Consul to Limoges, France, is quite ill at the home of his physician in New York with pneumonia. He was taken ill while abroad recently, and upon the advice of physicians whom he called, he sailed at once for home, arriving in New York a few days ago. Yesterday he was reported as being slightly improved, and it is believed by his physician that he has a good chance for recovery.

Howard Lee Guinn a Benedict.

Announcement was made yesterday of the marriage of Howard Lee Guinn, of this city, and Miss Ethel May Maxson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Irving Maxson, of Westerly, R. I. The ceremony took place at noon on Thanksgiving Day at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. C. A. Burdick, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church at Westerly, officiating. Only the immediate relatives were present. The couple will reside here.

URGES A CLOSER UNION

James O'Connell, President of International Association of Machinists, Speaks.

500 OUT AT SAENGERBUND HALL

Members of Local Shops Hear Talk on Abolishing Caste in Labor Union by Washington Man —Other Speakers.

Strongly endorsing a closer organization among the local machinists, James O'Connell, president of the International Association of Machinists, made a strong address at Saengerbund Hall, Friday, before a mass meeting of about 500 local machinists. All the local shops were represented and other out of town speakers at the meeting spoke enthusiastically of the big turnout and urged the men to work together for the best interests of local trade.

The meeting was called to order at about 8:30 by the local chairman and Robert Gibbs, of Newark, business agent of the general association, was introduced as the first speaker. He spoke in general about the value of the association to the individual, both in bringing a man closer to his fellow workman in a social way and in furthering the interests of the trade and protecting the men. After him, John Roache, of Newark, was introduced. Mr. Roache is president of the Leather Workers and Tanners Union of America and spoke about the organization in these trades and the benefit it has proved to the employes.

Mr. O'Connell, who comes from Washington, D. C., was the next speaker. He dwelt especially upon the harm done to the union by individuality of some of the members of the union and a tendency to feelings of caste which was proving detrimental to the best interests of all by weakening the organization. He said that organization was useless if the men were going to clique and not stand united for the best interests of all classes in the trade. In speaking about strikes, Mr. O'Connell said that he did not approve of violence by strikers. Nothing can be accomplished by mob force in these days, he said, and the cause is only weakened by giving organized labor a black eye to the general public. The way to secure the machinists' demands now lies in arbitration, and the men should aim to keep in as close personal touch with their employers as possible, for the best interests of the trade. Mr. O'Connell concluded with a statement of the power of the machinists if organized, saying that they contained the highest branch of skilled labor.

Eighty-first Birthday.

Mrs. David J. Yerkes, widow of the late beloved pastor of the First Baptist church, is quietly observing the eighty-first anniversary of her birthday today at her home on Grove street. During the day many loving tributes and remembrances were received by Mrs. Yerkes as pleasant reminders of the occasion. A year ago upon the celebration of the eightieth anniversary a delegation of members from the First Baptist church, including the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, waited on Mrs. Yerkes and presented her with a purse of $80 in gold and other gifts. She is still in possession of all her faculties and continues to take a lively interest in affairs, especially matters pertaining to the church of which she has been a member for a great many years.

SOME TEMPTING SWEETS.

Ginger Puffs.

One cup light brown sugar, one egg, one egg, one teaspoonful of ginger, one cup molasses, two level teaspoonfuls of saleratus, dissolved in one cup hot water, one cup melted lard, four cupfuls flour; mix in the order given and drop by a tablespoon about two inches apart in a dropping pan. Bake in a quick oven.

Velvet Sherbet.

Scald one quart of milk in a double boiler. Add two cups of sugar and stir until dissolved and the milk looks linen white. Set away to cool. Pack the freezer, pour into the can the cold milk, and let stand five minutes. Then add the strained juice of two lemons or oranges and the whites of two eggs (beaten), with two tablespoons of powdered sugar. Freeze, repack, and set away for two hours to ripen. Serve with this a delicate white cake.

Plumbanna Jam.

Take wild plums, or the large red cultivated plum, cover with water, in granite or porcelain kettle, and cook to a mush. Strain through a colander and for each cup of the strained jam take two bananas. Cook bananas in a little water and mash and dd to the plums. To five cups of the combined fruit dd four cups of granulated sugar. Cook for two hours, or until the consistency of jam, stirring frequently to keep from scorching. Put in glasses and cover with paraffin, or seal in cans.

At future meetings of the Rhode Island branch of the American Federation of Labor no delegate will be seated unless his clothing bears the union label.

SIRES AND SONS.

Five of our presidents only were under fifty years old when inaugurated—Pierce, Grant, Garfield, Cleveland and Roosevelt.

Josiah Morris, of Warren county, Ky., is sixty-one years old, has never voted, never joined a church or a lodge, but reads the newspapers and is well informed.

Senor Anibal Cruz Diaz, the newly appointed minister from Chile to the United States, has many friends in Washington, where he was secretary of the legation fourteen years ago.

David Rankin, of Tarkio, Missouri's most extensive farmer, said the other day that he had made $12,000 this year that he knew of and had not "figured in" many items not yet settled up.

Henry J. Byer, a retired undertaker of Cleveland, provided in his will that his grandchildren must not smoke, chew or drink. He left $1,500 a year for painting the ironwork around his tomb.

Milton Pratt, the oldest voter in Great Barrington, is ninety years old and is employed in the iron business at a furnace on Mount Riga. He is probably the oldest living man who has retired.

In his ninety-third year Judge Charles Fields sits regularly in the First district court of northern Worcester, Mass., holding sometimes as many as five sessions a week in Athol and Gardner. He was seventy years old when appointed to the bench.

The Chicago Tribune asks this of the secretary of the treasury: "Will the excellent Mr. Cortelyou please change the cut of his hair, assume a different expression of countenance or, at a different angle before the camera and thereby relieve the unvarying monotony of his portraits?"

Herr Maximilian Harden, the German editor who has been figuring so prominently in connection with exposures of sexpervert German circles, has been in journalism twenty years. He at first wrote for various journals; but, not finding the freedom he desired, he established a paper of his own, Die Zukunft (the Future), in 1892.

THE ART OF CONVERSATION.

She—I saw you on Desbrosses street this morning.

He—You saw me on Desbrosses street this morning?

"Yes; I saw you on Desbrosses street this morning."

"Who? Me?"

"Yes, you."

"On Desbrosses street?"

"Yes, sir, on Desbrosses street."

"This morning?"

"This very morning."

'Oh, come now! Do you mean to say you saw me on Desbrosses street?"

"Te he! Yes, I did."

"You did?"

"I certainly did see you on Desbrosses street."

"Go 'way. You didn't see me on Desbrosses street, did you?"

"Te he! Why, of course, I saw you on Desbrosses street."

"You ain't fooling me are you?"

"Of course I ain't. I saw you this morning."

"You saw me?"

"I saw you."

"On Desbrosses street?"

"On Desbrosses street."

"This morning?"

"This very morning."

"Well, well!"

"It's an honest fact. I saw you on Desbrosses street this very morning."

"Well, maybe you did."

"Of course I did."

"Maybe you did. I was on Desbrosses street this morning."

—Will S. Adkins in Puck.

*Substitute Tremont, Chestnut, Calvert, F, Grace, Peachtree, Walnut, Superior, State, Broad Main, High, or Front, to suit your home town."

ABOUT PEOPLE.

A curious pamphlet has been issued by Prof. H. Gross, of the psychological laboratory of the University of Leipzig. It deals with criminal psychology and one part of it tells how the way of wearing a hat is an index to a man's character.

The bloomer costume was first seen in New York in 1849, the wearer being Mrs. Bloomer, from whom it derived its name.

Miss Jennie Prettyjohn, a milliner of Denver, who was compelled to go to Nebraska for the benefit of her health, is farming on a large scale in Colorado, supervising 4,000 acres. In attending to business she drives fifty miles a day.

There is only one Indian woman lawyer in the United States. Her name is Julia Pierce, of the Winnebago tribe. She practises in the Nebraska courts. She has considerable practice among the Indian tribes in that section. She was educated at Hampton, Va., and was later placed in charge of an Indian school on the Kickapoo reservation.

It has been estimated by a famous statistician that a woman talks eight times as much as a man; that she utters on an average 2,500 sentences a day, where as only 300 come from him. These of gallantry, not simply because they mean, and it has been stated not out remains that the woman who is a great talker is invariably robust and full-chested.

—The W. C. T. U. netted about $100 from the recent fair held in the rooms on Madison avenue.

—Woolston & Buckle, painters, have the contract to paint the Babcock building, and the work is now well underway.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 8, 1907.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic—Lessons from an old love story. The book of Ruth. Read in the meeting—Ruth ii. 19-23.

Benjamin Franklin being called upon to speak at a meeting of a scientific society in Paris, whose members were mostly atheists, recited the Bible story of Ruth. His hearers were charmed with the story. One of them was so enthusiastic that he wanted to know if it were published and, if so, declared that he would like to purchase the book that contained it. Franklin answered that it was published and when asked where quietly answered, "It is a book called the Bible." This indeed has other lessons, but it is also a splendid testimony to the beauty of the story of Ruth as a romance. And it is one of the most charming of romances, and, moreover, it is true—truth stranger (and even more romantic) than fiction.

The story may be very briefly recalled. In time of famine Elimelech and Naomi, husband and wife, with their two sons, went down into the land of Moab. Here the sons both married, the wife of one being Orpah and that of the other Ruth. It so happened in course of time that all three men died. Naomi therefore determined to return to Judaea. She advised her daughters-in-law to remain in Moab, and Orpah consented to do so, kissing her goodby. But "Ruth clung to her mother-in-law" and said: "Entreat me not to leave thee or to return from following thee, for whither thou goest I will go, and where thou lodgest I will lodge. Thy people shall be my people and thy God my God. Where thou diest will I die, and there will I be buried." Naomi would not resist such pleading, and Ruth returned to her home with her. She was sent to glean in the fields of Boaz, a rich and influential man, and a mutual love arose between them. Boaz took Ruth as his wife, and through this marriage she became one of the two gentiles who belonged to the ancestry of our Lord Jesus Christ.

This is indeed an old love story, but one that in various phases is frequently repeated. But, more than this, it is an instructive love story. (1) It teaches that faithfulness is always rewarded. The faithfulness of Ruth to her mother-in-law has seldom been equaled, much less excelled. But how great was her reward! She found another husband, a better home, and was especially honored in being one of those from whom the Saviour of the world descended. (2) In Ruth's life story we have also a beautiful illustration of self sacrifice. What a renunciation Ruth made to accompany Naomi—country, home, friends, her gods and her burial place, so sacred to orientals! But here, too, she was highly rewarded. God always rewards sacrifices made for love, and especially for love of Him. (3) This story holds up to us God's love for us. Boaz, the rich and powerful, loved the humble Ruth. God, the eternal sovereign God, loves us, though we are infinitely inferior to Him. Do we repay His love? Do we love Him in return, as Ruth did Boaz, and are we willing to serve Him?

BIBLE READINGS.

I Sam. xvIII, 1-3; II Sam. i, 25-27; Song of Solomon ii, 1-4; viii, 6, 7; Jer. xxxi, 3; Hos. xi, 4; John iii, 16; Rom. v, 8-11; viii, 32; I John iv, 7-14, 18-21.

President Roosevelt's Greeting.

While the International Christian Endeavor convention was in session recently at Seattle, Wash., President Roosevelt sent the following greeting to General Secretary Shaw:

The White House,
Washington, June 2, 1907.

My Dear Mr. Shaw—I thank you for your letter. Strongly you I wish to extend to the International Christian Endeavor my heartiest good wishes for the admirable work it is doing. Let me in particular express my earnest hope that you will emphasize as one of the features of your convention the need that the Endeavorers should take a first rank in good citizenship, and am glad you are to endeavor to bring this subject so prominently before this meeting.

It will be a pleasure to accept honorary membership in your Christian Endeavor Patriots' league, for I am sure that with the general purposes and efforts of that league I shall have the heartiest sympathy, though of course I could not commit myself in advance to agree with all of their views without knowing them.

I wish you godspeed in your work because the Christian Endeavorers are working for the things that are vital to the soul, and I believe that they can do much that is of the very greatest value to the cause of good citizenship, for in the last analysis the fundamental requisite of good citizenship from the standpoint of the country is that a man should have the very qualities which make him of real value in the home, in the church, in all the higher relationships of life. Faithfully yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Mr. William Shaw, General Secretary, United Society of Christian Endeavor, Tremont Temple, Boston, Mass.

Never More Than Now.

The state union sends you its congratulations on your past achievements and bids you face the future with stronger purposes and with a dauntless courage. Christian Endeavor never had so much to be thankful for as today. The sky of promise was never so bright, the open doors of opportunity were never so many, the loud ringing calls for an exercise of the heroic never sounded as they do this hour, and, best of all, the great army of the young never mustered so many valiant fighters as now. "Best of all," did I say? It should have been second best, for first and paramount stands the thrilling truth of power from on high, to be had for the asking—power that will vitalize our efforts and make our service of some avail, for ours is Christian Endeavor.—John R. Chemans to Yates County (N. Y.) Union Through Convention Bulletin.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Dec. 8: ("Missions.") "God in the world."—II Cor. v, 18-20. "God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself."

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

Passages for reference—Matt. i, 21; Luke xix, 10; John iii, 16; xx, 21.

It is an easy matter to live in this God's world for years and not come to any just realization that there is any God in it at all. Watch the people around you, listen to their talk for awhile and then say if you think the majority act and speak as if God was a living reality to them, as if He was the one only supreme reality. To come a little closer to the mark, ask yourself if you act and speak—nay, if in your inner, secret life you do earnestly and feelingly grasp it as the most momentous fact of your existence—the fact that God is in His world.

In a certain dim, faroff way we do believe that all things had a beginning and there must have been a Creator of all things. In a way that we vainly fancy is scientific most of us believe in the supreme rulership of the natural world by Law. We spell it with a big L and half believe we have explained something, while all the time we are cowardly replacing God by this indefinite something we call Law, spelled with a big L.

Much of this comes from intellectual laziness. We are too indolent to think hard and deep on this all important fact, or on any other, for that matter. More of our difficulty comes from a dread of knowing the reality, for a certain stubbornness of will resists the duty which we instinctively feel would come pressingly upon us if once we should come face to face with the consciousness that God is hell and is ruling and calls us to duty in His service.

But God is in His world. This is a very solmen, a very momentous fact. It is important for us to recognize it. No other truth is so important. Better hold still and let this get hold of you, get a firm hold. The whole ongoing of the world is the result of His being here. He is here for a purpose. What that is you will hardly discover in the columns of the newspaper or the current magazine. You will be keen eyed and quick eared if you catch it in the whirl of business or in the excitement of the social circle. But He is here and for a purpose. And that purpose is working all powerfully under all business and society and behind and through all the newspaper and magazine world.

Slowly it may be, surely it certainly is, that His purpose is working steadily to bring this world to Himself. Ungodly it does seem in a fearful degree, this old world of ours, but God is in it and it is lifting into light. The heaven is in it and is working through the whole mass.

Jesus Christ has been here, and the world can never be its old self. It is bounding on a new life. Solemn it is, but it is also joyous, glorious. Gladly triumphant it shall be.

You may not find any theory of the atonement which satisfies you completely. You may not have a consistent theology and may doubt the possibility of constructing one, but it is still wonderously satisfying that Jesus seeks and saves the lost in these days, says even we. Still more. He is making us over into His likeness. We know it. We are more conscious of it than we aught else. We are becoming reconciled to God, His ways and plans. He rules us, rules in us, and we are glad. We are no longer afraid. Pain ceases to be evil as we endure for His sake. God is with us. We live in and for Him.

Sentence Sermons.

The test of your Christian character should be that you are a joy bearer sent to the world.—Henry Ward Beecher.

You may depend upon it that he is a good man whose intimate friends are all good.—Lavater.

Let God do with me what He will. It is not for me to heaven itself or some beginning of it.—Mountford.

Nobility of character manifests itself at loopholes when it is not provided with large doors.—Mary E. Wilkins.

A duty well done and systematically carried out becomes easy, while only occasional response is a struggle every time.—Rev. J. R. Kendall.

Lots of people let their daily manna spoil while they pray for butter and sugar to spread on it.—Henry F. Cope.

Drudgery is as necessary to call out the treasures of the mind as harrowing and planting those of the earth.—Margaret Fuller.

Ten thousand of the greatest faults in our neighbors put together do less damage to us than one of the smallest in ourselves.—Whately.

Lives Like Stars.

It is not what the best men do, but what they are, that constitutes their truest power over their fellow men. Certainly, in their own little sphere, it is not the most active people to whom we owe the most. Among the common people whom we know it is not necessarily those who are busiest, not those who, meteorlike, are ever on the rush after some visible change and work. It is the lives like the stars which simply pour down on us the calm light of their bright and faithful shine, up to which we look and out of which we gather the deepest calm and courage.—Phillips Brooks.

The Great Moment.

There are certain times in a young life when God comes near to the soul. Those moments are the soul's opportunities and every one neglected is an enduring loss of joy and power. As Victor Hugo puts it, "Heaven, on occasion, half opens its arms to us, and that is the great moment."—Forward.

"THE BATTLE OF ANTIETAM" BY THE LATE COL. JULIAN SCOTT, OF THIS CITY.

President Frelinghuysen of the Essex Club, of Newark, has announced that Hon. Franklin Murphy has offered to present to the club a picture by the late Col. Julian Scott, of this city, of the Battle of Antietam, and on behalf of the board of governors, he has accepted the same, returning the thanks of the club to Mr. Murphy. The picture is one of unusual merit and attracted the attention of Mr. Murphy who decided to purchase it for the club.

Special local interest attaches to Col. Scott's painting as he was a resident of Plainfield for many years and had a host of friends here. In the painting appears General McClellan, who performed heroic deeds during the battle of Antietam.

Colonel Julian Scott was famous as an artist and also for many brave deeds performed during his service in the Civil War. He seemed destined for an eventful career from his boyhood days in Vermont, where he attended the same school with Admiral George Dewey. Early in life he displayed ability as an artist, when, in boy-fashion, he spent much time sketching with a lead pencil. Among his companions his work aroused not a little interest.

At the outbreak of the Civil War Colonel Scott, still a resident of Vermont, decided to enlist. He was rejected for his youth by the recruiting officer and sent home. Not discouraged over this, he hit upon another plan to render service to his country. He finally succeeded in going to the front with a Vermont regiment as a drummer boy. During one of the early engagements, foiled for a large loss of life, Colonel Scott performed heroic deeds, for which he was among the very first to receive a medal of honor from the Government. Later he secured a place on General "Baldy" Smith's staff, where he remained during a greater part of the war.

During the Civil War Colonel Scott spent much of his spare moments in doing sketch work, his talent again asserting itself in later fashion. These years afterward formed the basis for many of his celebrated paintings. At the close of the war wealthy and influential friends became interested in him and he went to Paris, where he studied art and made rapid improvement in painting. He afterward was elected a member of the National Academy of Arts, a distinction he always cherished among other honors.

"The Battle of Antietam" furnished a subject for several beautiful paintings, one of which is hung in the Seventh Regiment Armory, New York. This was painted for the late Colonel Elliot F. Shepard, of New York, who became interested in Col. Scott's work as an artist. The other painting of the same subject presented an altogether different view of that famous battlefield. This painting, together with one of General Hancock, and a third one, entitled "All Quiet on the Potomac," became the property of Drake's Veteran Zouaves, of Elizabeth.

An effort was made to persuade the Union County Board of Freeholders to purchase the three paintings for the county to be hung in the courthouse at Elizabeth, but the board learned that it had no right to do so. Colonel Scott was especially well acquainted with the battlefield at Antietam, and inspired by the terrible scenes enacted there during the war, transferred them in a realistic manner on canvas.

Several paintings by Colonel Scott now hang in the State Capitol of Vermont. One, "The Death of General Sedgwick," is hung in the Plainfield Art Gallery, and it has been the wish of the State officials of Vermont that it might be transferred to that State. One of the artist's gems is entitled "Freeze Out," a painting showing two drummer boys playing poker on the head of a drum.

Other notable works by the artist included illustrations of Edna Dean Proctor's well known "Song of the Ancient People." This has been pronounced by critics to be a masterpiece. Colonel Scott was employed by the Government as a special commissioner to go among the Indian reservations in the West and make a close study of the Indian, his habits and condition. In connection with this he illustrated the eleventh census in a way that called forth special CORRESPONDENT DECIDES TO BECOME A BENEDICT.

Cards have been issued for the marriage of Miss Ann Baldwin Passano, daughter of Joseph Ferdinand Passano, of Baltimore, and Charles A. Ranson, political and legislative writer of the Newark Evening News. Mr. Ranson is well known all over the State.

He was at one time city editor of the Trenton State Gazette, later going to the city desk of the Jersey City News. He held the post of New Jersey editor of the New York Herald for some time prior to connecting with the Newark News about ten years ago. The marriage ceremony will be performed in Memorial Episcopal church, Baltimore, at noon on Tuesday, December 17.

When Mr. Ransom made his usual Governor's day visit to Governor Stokes at Trenton Wednesday, he was greeted in the outer executive office with a chorus of congratulations. Mr. Stokes has a newspaperman that he had received the news with a good deal of pleasure, and wished him great happiness. Mr. Ransom turned the laugh on the Governor by saying:

"The same to you and many of them." The Governor is a bachelor.

2,200 MILES BY "WIRELESS."

Transport Thomas Gets a Message from Far-off Sitka.

Possibly electrical conditions over the Pacific Ocean are more favorable for wireless telegram work than elsewhere, but it is certain that with apparatus with small power compared to the giant transmitters employed in the Atlantic wireless telegraph service, the army transports on the Pacific have been extraordinarily successful in maintaining communication.

The Thomas picked up the naval station at San Francisco recently while she was 1,400 miles distant, but even better, on the same trip, that transport caught a message from the naval station at Sitka, distant in a straight line 2,300 miles, the best performance yet recorded by the wireless afloat.

LABOR BRIEFS.

The eight hour day proposed by the International Association o fMachinists for last May having been to a certain extent unsuccessful, it is now proposed to renew the agitation with a view to a successful outcome next spring.

The State Federation of Labor of Michigan adopted resolutions declaring in favor of suffrage for women in general and for Michigan women in particular.

The Boston Book Binding Company of Cambridge has established the eight hour workday.

Odd Way to Pay Election Bet.

John McIntosh, a prominent politician of Rome, N. Y., made a wager on the election for mayor, the loser to ride horseback from Rome to Chicago, a distance of 600 miles, says a dispatch from Utica to the New York American. McIntosh lost the bet. He has purchased a horse and saddle. He is to blow a bugle to announce his arrival at each place. He promises faithfully to carry out his contract.

Buried This Afternoon.

The funeral of Miss Bertha E. Gordon, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. Merelda Connor, of Mountain avenue, was held from her late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Charles E. Schneegas, pastor of the German Reformed church, was in charge of the service, which was very simple. About a score of the friends and relatives of the departed attended and there were many floral tributes. The interment was in the Piscataway cemetery, the pall bearers were James Lawler, Charles Burk, William Fraught and Isaac Lambert.

Dr. R. VanD. H.

The Plainfield doctor who insists that kissing causes disease has found the only plausible solution of an old Biblical question. Now we know why, when Jacob kissed Rachel, he he "lifted up his voice and wept."—Newark Evening News.

PLAINFIELD LIBRARY NOTES

Thanksgiving In History, Customs and Fancy.

History.

Bradford, W.—Bradford's history of "Plymouth Plantation."

Coffin, C. C.—Old times in the colonies. p. 169.

Colonial meeting house, The. (In Magazine of American History. v. 26, p. 434.)

Deems, E. M.—Holy-days and holidays.

Ellis, George E.—Puritan age in Massachusetts. p. 423, 490.

Fischer, G. P.—Colonial era.

Fiske, J.—Beginnings of New England. p. 82.

Gilman, A.—The first and second Thanksgiving days. (In his Story of Boston.)

Gracey, L. L.—Beginnings of Thanksgiving day in the United States. (Chautauquan, vol. 16, p. 174.)

Griffis, W. E.—Pilgrims in their homes.

Hale, E. E.—American's earliest Thanksgiving days. (In Magazine of American History. v. 28, p. 431.)

Humphrey, F. A.—Little pilgrims at Plymouth.

Institution of Thanksgiving day 1903. (In Magazine of American History, v. 24, p. 446.)

Lodge, H. C.—English colonies in America.

Palfrey, J. G.—History of New England.

Patton, J. H.—Institution of Thanksgiving day, 1623. (In Magazine of American History. v. 24, p. 445.)

Singleton, Roy.—Colonial Thanksgiving day. (In Magazine of American History, v. 26, p. 434-435.)

Smith, H. A.—Thirteen colonies, 2 v.

Thwaites, R. G.—The colonies, 1492-1750.

Thanksgiving Day in America. (In Book of Days, v. 2, p. 614.)

Thanksgiving Day, History past and present. (In Magazine of American History, v. 14, p. 556.)

Customs.

Earle, Mrs. A. M.—Customs and fashions in old New England.

Estes, M.—Old fashioned Thanksgiving. (In Ladies' Home Journal, v. 22, p. 32, No. '05.

First Thanksgiving. (In Lane & Hill's American History in Literature.)

Guiney, L. I.—November festival. (In Goosequill papers.)

Hale, E. E.—Thanksgiving in 1901 as we do it in Boston. Independent, v. 53, p. 2814-6. November 28, 1901.

Housemother at Thanksgiving time. Ladies' Home Journal, v. 23, p. 30. Nov. 1906.

Powell, E. P.—Thanksgiving fifty years ago. Independent, v. 52, p. 2842-4. No. 29, '00.

St. Nicholas.—Our holidays, their meaning and spirit.

Sylvester, H. M.—Homestead highways.

Thanksgiving at the White House. (In Wide Awake, v. 31, p. 351.)

Winslow, W. E.—Getting ready for Thanksgiving. (St. Nicholas, v. 7, p. 37-39.)

Editorials, Addresses, Etc.

Deems, E. M.—Holy-days and holidays: sermons in full and in brief: suggestive thoughts, etc.

Deepest Thanksgiving. Outlook, v. 75, p. 725-6. Nov. 28, 1903.

Dooley, M.—Mr. Dooley on Thanksgiving. Harper's Weekly, v. 44, p. 1232. Dec. 1, '00.

Dwight, E. L.—English view of Thanksgiving. Nation, v. 84, p. 131-2. Feb. 7, 1907.

Greater Thanksgiving. Outlook, v. 78, p. 759-60. Nov. 26, 1904.

True Thanksgiving. Outlook, v. 72, p. 717-8. Nov. 29, 1902.

Our reasons for Thanksgiving. Independent, 52, p. 2876-7. Nov. 29, 1900.

Our reasons for Thanksgiving. Outlook, v. 69, p. 761.

Poetry and Dialogues For Recitations and Games.

Beard, Lina.—American girl's handy book.

Denton, C. J.—Thanksgiving Day. (In her All the holidays.

Gooddale, E.—Harvest Home. (In her All round the year.)

Gooddale, E.—Thanksgiving. (In Apple blossoms, p. 97.)

Hale, E. E.—New England history in ballads.

Kingsland, Mrs. Burton.—Books of indoor and outdoor games.

Lathrop, G. P.—Thanksgiving turkey. (In Harper's monthly, v. 54.)

Lerow, C. B.—Pieces for every occasion.

Perry, N.—Thanksgiving Day. (In New songs and ballads.)

Piner, H. L.—Thanksgiving blessing. Century, v. 73, p. 161. Nov. 1906.

Rice, S. S.—Holiday selections.

Shoemaker, C. C.—Holidays entertainments.

Sterry, R.—Thanksgiving. Scribner's monthly, v. 40, p. 684. Dec. 1906.

Stevenson, B. E. and E. B.—Thanksgiving Day and Harvest Home. (In their Days and Deeds.)

Talbot, E. A.—Thanksgiving Day. Outlook, v. 84, p. 791. Nov. 24, 1906.

Thaxter, C.—A Thanksgiving. (In Atlantic monthly, v. 28.)

See also:

Granger's Index to poems on special days. (In her Index to poetry and recitations.)

And works of our individual American Poets.

Stories.

Alcott, L. M.—Little men.

Alcott, L. M.—Old fashioned Thanksgiving. (In Aunt Jo's scrap bag) and also St. Nicholas, v. 9, p. 8-16.

Austin, J. G.—Betty Alden.

Austin, J. G.—Standish of Standish.

Bailey, C. S.—Thanksgiving. (In her For the children's hour.)

Beecher, H. W.—Norwood; or Village life in New England. p. 452.

Blanchard, G.—Thanksgiving opportunity. (In New England Magazine. v. 35, p. 313-9. No. '06.'

Butterworth, H. — Thanksgiving That flew away. (In St. Nicholas, y. 11, p. 13-15.)

Clymer, M. W.—Mr. Thankful. (In St. Nichols, v. 27, p. 50-52.)

Cooke, R. T.—A double, Thanksgiving. (In Huckleberries.)

Field, Eugene.—Ezra's Thanksgiving out West. In Little book of profitable tales. p. 167-181.

Hawthorne, N.—John Inglefield's Thanksgiving. (In House of seven gables.)

Hitchcock, Martha W.—In the cellar. (In St. Nicholas, v. 16, p. 59-63.)

Howard, C.—First Thanksgiving dinner. (In Ladies' Home Journal, Nov. 1897.)

Jenks, T.—Thanksgiving dinner, modern farce. (Independent, v. 61, p. 1258-60. No. '06.

Jewett, John H. — Bunnies' Thanksgiving story. (St. Nicholas, v. 17, p. 620-4.)

King, A. E.—Jericho Bob. (St. Nicholas, v. 19, p. 59-63.) il.

McKay, J. F.—Two modern prodigals. (In McClure's, v. 8.)

Poulsson, E.—A Boston Thanksgiving story. (In the Child's world, p. 92.)

Poulsson, E.—How Patty gave thanks. (In his Child's world, p. 93.)

Sanderson, L. J.—Merry-Thought. (St. Nicholas, v. 21, p. 79-83.)

Spofford, H. P.—Thanksgiving Breakfast. (In Harper's monthly, v. 91, p. 922-933.)

Stowe, H. B.—Thanksgiving at Oldtown.

Swett, S.—All the plums. (In St. Nicholas, v. 10, pt. 1, p. 34.)

Swett, S.—Barty's turkey. (In St. Nicholas, v. 13, p. 12-15.)

Talbot, M. E.—Old time Thanksgiving. (In St. Nicholas, v. 24, p. 58-63.) Indian stories retold.

Tenney, J. W.—Thanksgiving on Herrick Hill. (In Chautauquan, v. 26, p. 193-201.).

Trotter, A. M.—Dorothy Dot's Thanksgiving party. (In St. Nicholas, v. 17, p. 22-26.)

Wiggin, K. D.—First Thanksgiving Day . (In Story hour. p. 107.)

Wilkins, M. E.—Ann Mary; her two Thanksgivings. (In Young Lucretia and other stories.)

Wilkins, M. E.—Ann Mary; her two Thanksgivings. (In St. Nicholas, v. 16, p. 33.)

Wilkins, M. E.—Tardy Thanksgiving. (In Humble romance.)

Will's will, and two Thanksgivings. (In Harper's monthly, v. 60, p. 112.)

Woolsey, S. C.—Chusey. (In New Year's bargain.)

Woolsey, S. C.—A member of the Harnessing class. (St. Nicholas, v. 21, p. 3-37.)

Woolsey, S. C.—Mischief's Thanksgiving.

BROKE, BROKE, BROKE.

(With apologies to the memory of Tennyson.)

Broke, broke, broke,
I am old gray Jones, I be.
And I would that the bread and butter
Had brought no surprise to me.

Oh, h—l for the restaurant boy
That he shouts to me: "Mister, you pay!"
Oh, h—l for the tailor's lad
That he sings to the cop 'cross the way.

And the stately cops came on
From the station under the hill;
But I owe for a lunch of the vanished ham,
And I'm bound to owe for it still.

Broke, broke, broke,
Head to foot in my rags to be;
But the tender taste of the ham and the bread
Will ever come back to me.

To Lessen Hours of Labor.

The German government has sent to the federal council for its approval an important measure to be laid before the reichstag in November, reducing and limiting the hours of labor for females in factories and workshops and in order particularly approaching the proposals of the Berne convention. The maximum hours for females are to be reduced from eleven to ten, and all employment of females is to be forbidden which interferes with their night's rest. The bill also provides for the regulation of home industries in such a way that numerous existing abuses will be remedied.

Boston Printers Get Raise.

A new scale of wages for newspaper printers has been successfully negotiated at Boston by Typographical Union No. 13. Hereafter the morning newspapers will pay $27 per week for forty-two hours and the evening papers $25 for the same number of hours. No one will be allowed to work more than eight hours in any one day except in case of emergency.

SHORN LAMBS.

Ways of the Men Who Lose Their All In Wall Street.

What becomes of the men who lose in Wall street? They are seldom heard of. The visitor to New York gets the notion that the great crowd of men at the Waldorf—the "uptown 'street'"—comprises them all. But this crowd is altogether misrepresentative and has no true sign value, says a writer on Wall street in the New Broadway Magazine.

You can retain your equilibrium easily in watching them by remembering that Runner of New Britain is hiding somewhere, a fugitive from justice; that Jumper of Milwaukee is in prison; that there are many other men who went down hard with big crashes, and that for every one of the big men there are 10,000 little men whose losses are smaller, but not a whit less fatal.

You would find some of them tonight in New York, if you knew in what window to look, figuring anxiously and wearily, looking over insurance papers to see if further loans are admissible.

Their wives are sewing; their daughters are studying stenography. You will find others hanging about hotel lobbies, and the moment you catch their eye or grip their hands you know that they are nervous, distraught, broke, restless—typical Wall street victims.

The others, professionals, parasites, satellites, winners, you will find in the cafes and hotel restaurants, making up a large part of the crowds at Sherry's and Delmonico's, Martin's and Rector's, the Waldorf, Manhattan, Astor, St. Regis and Holland House. Wall street by day demands the Great White Way at night. From 11 morning till the market opens till its close the game is a fast and furious one of sharp trickery, clever dodging, raillery, bluffing, hypocrisy, lying.

Nerves are constantly tense; the brain must be clear and quick at every move. Successful lying uses up gray matter, and the flash and festivity of the Tenderloin at night are just unnatural enough to fit it and offer the kind of recreation desired.

A Costly Autograph.

At a charitable sale in Paris once Baron Rothschild stopped at a stall conducted by Gyp, and the fair litterateur addressed him with the usual request to buy something.

"What am I to buy?" said the baron. "You have nothing at all suitable for me. But I have an idea. I should like to have your autograph Sell me that."

Taking a sheet of paper, the lady wrote upon it, "Received from Baron Rothschild the sum of 1,000 francs for the benefit of charity. Gyp."

Baron Rothschild read it, thanked her and, handing her a note for the amount named, went away delighted with the lady's ingenuity.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The president in his message to congress says:

No nation has greater resources than ours, and I think it can be truthfully said that the citizens of no nation possess greater energy and industrial ability. In no nation are the fundamental business conditions sounder than in ours at this very moment, and it is foolish when such is the case for people to hoard money instead of keeping it in sound banks, for it is such hoarding that is the immediate occasion of money stringency. Moreover, as a rule, the business of our people is conducted with honesty and probity, and this applies alike to farms and factories, to railroads and banks, to all our legitimate commercial enterprises.

In any large body of men, however, there are certain to be some who are dishonest, and if the conditions are such that these men prosper or commit their misdeeds with impunity their example is a very evil thing for the community. Where these men are business men of great sagacity and of temperament both unscrupulous and reckless, and where the conditions are such that they act without supervision or control and at first without effective check from public opinion, they delude many innocent people into making investments or embarking in kinds of business that are really unsound. When the misdeeds of these successfully dishonest men are discovered, suffering comes not only upon them, but upon the innocent whom they have misled. It is a painful awakening, whenever it occurs, to the victims, but when it does occur those who suffer are apt to forget that the longer it was deferred the more painful it would be. In the effort to punish the guilty it is both wise and proper to minimize the suffering as far as possible to minimize the distress of those who have been misled by the guilty. Yet it is not possible to refrain because of such distress from striving to put an end to the misdeeds that are the ultimate cause of the suffering and, as a means to this end, where possible to punish those responsible for them. There may be honest differences of opinion as to many governmental policies, but surely there can be no such difference as to the need of unflinching perseverance in the war against successful dishonesty.

Interstate Commerce.

No small part of the trouble that we have comes from carrying to an extreme the national virtue of self reliance and individual initiative and action. It is wise to conserve this virtue and to provide for its fullest exercise compatible with seeing that liberty does not become a liberty to wrong others. Unfortunately this is the kind of liberty that the lack of all effective regulation inevitably breeds. The founders of the constitution provided that the national government should have complete and sole control of interstate commerce. There was then practically no interstate business save such as was conducted by water, and this the national government at once proceeded to regulate in thorough going and effective fashion. Conditions have so changed that the rapid rise of the interstate commerce by water is insignificant compared with the amount that goes by land, and almost all big business concerns are now engaged in interstate commerce. As a result it can be but partially and imperfectly controlled or regulated by the action of any one of the several states, such action inevitably tending to be either too drastic or else too lax and in either case ineffective for purposes of justice. Only the national government can in thoroughgoing fashion exercise the needed control. This does not mean that there should be any extension of federal authority, for such authority already exists under the constitution in amplest and most far reaching form, but it does mean that there should be an extension of federal activity. This is not a question of making new laws. It is merely looking facts in the face and realizing that centralization in business has already come and cannot be avoided or undone and that the public at large can only protect itself from certain evil effects of this centralization by providing better methods for the exercise of control through the authority already centralized in the national government by the constitution itself. There must be no halt in the healthy constructive course of action which this nation has elected to pursue and has steadily pursued during the last sixty years, as shown both by the legislation of the congress and the administration of the law by the department of justice.

National License For Railroads.

The most vital need is in connection with the railroads. As to these, in my judgment, there should now be either a national license act or a law licensing railway companies to engage in interstate commerce upon certain conditions. The law should be so framed as to give to the interstate commerce commission power to pass upon the future issue of securities, while ample means should be provided to enable the commission whenever in the judgment it be necessary to make a physical valuation of any railroad. As I stated in my message to the congress a year ago, railroads should be given power to enter into agreements subject to these agreements being made public in minute detail and to the consent of the interstate commerce commission being first obtained. Until the national government assumes proper control of interstate commerce in the exercise of the authority it already possesses it will be impossible either to give to or to get from the railroads full justice. The railroads and all other great corporations will do well to recognize that this control must come. The only question is as to what governmental body can most wisely exercise it. The courts will determine the limits within which the federal authority can exercise it, and there will still remain ample work within each state for the regulation by the authorities of that state, and the national interstate commerce commission will work in harmony with the several state commissions, each within its own province, to achieve the desired end.

The Antitrust Law.

Moreover, in my judgment, there should be additional legislation looking to the proper control of the great business concerns engaged in interstate business, this control to be exercised for their own benefit and prosperity no less than for the protection of investors and of the general public. As I have repeatedly said in messages to congress and elsewhere, experience has definitely shown not merely the unwisdom, but the futility, of endeavoring to put a stop to all combinations of capitalists. Modern industrial conditions are such that combination is not only necessary, but inevitable. It is so in the world of business just as it is so in the world of labor, and it is the conduct of the few and not all corporations, to all big combinations of capital, as to desire to put an end to combinations of labor. Corporation and labor union alike have come to stay. Each if properly managed is a source of great good. Whenever in either there is evil it should be promptly held to account, but it should receive hearty encouragement so long as it is properly managed. It is profoundly unwise to put or keep on the statute books a law nominally in the interest of public morality that really puts a premium upon public immorality by undertaking to forbid honest men from doing what must be done if business is to prosper conditions so that the law itself provides that its own infraction must be the condition precedent upon business success. To aim at the accomplishment of too much usually means the accomplishment of too little and often the doing of positive damage.

Not Repeal, but Amendment.

The antitrust law should not be repealed, but it should be made both more efficient and more in harmony with actual conditions. It should be so framed as to forbid only the kind of combination which does harm to the general public, such amendment to be accomplished by or to be an incident of a grant of supervisory power to the government over these big concerns engaged in interstate business. This should be accompanied by provision for the compulsory publication of accounts and the subjection of books and papers to the inspection of the government in all matters relating to the securities already been made for such supervision by the establishment of the bureau of corporations.

The antitrust law should not prohibit combinations that do no injustice to the public and that increase the efficiency of which is on the whole of benefit to the public. But even if the letter of the law were abolished there would remain as an equally objectionable feature the difficulty and delay now incident to its enforcement. The government must now submit to irksome and repeated delay before obtaining a final decision of the courts upon proceedings instituted, and even a favorable decree may result impossible of enforcement. Moreover, to attempt to control these corporations by lawsuits means to impose upon both the department of justice and the courts an impossible burden. It is not possible to carry on more than a limited number of such suits. Such a law to be really effective must of course be administered by an executive body and not merely by means of lawsuits. The design should be to secure full co-operation and consent to the creation of unhealthy and improper combinations instead of waiting until they are in existence and then attempting to destroy them by civil or criminal prosecution.

Law Should Be Explicit.

A combination should not be tolerated if it abuse the power acquired by combination to the public detriment. No corporation or association of any kind should be permitted to engage in foreign or interstate commerce that is formed for the purpose of or whose operations create a monopoly or general control of the production, sale or distribution of any one or more of the prime necessaries of life or articles of general use and necessity. Such combinations are against public policy. They violate the common law. The doors of the courts are closed to those who apply for relief in their name. I believe the congress can clone the channels of interstate commerce against them for its protection. The law should make its prohibitions and permissions as clear and definite as possible, leaving the least possible room for arbitrary action or allegation of such action on the part of the executive or of divergent interpretations by the courts.

Among the points to be aimed at should be the prohibition of unhealthy competition, such as by rendering service at an actual loss for the purpose of crushing out competition, the prevention of inflation of capital and the prohibition of all unfair devices and methods exclusive trade with itself a condition of having any trade with itself. Reasonable agreements between or combinations of corporations should be permitted provided they are first submitted to and approved by some appropriate government body.

Congress' Power.

The congress has the power to charter corporations to engage in interstate and foreign commerce, and a general law can be enacted under the provisions of which existing corporations could take out federal charters and new federal corporations could be created. An essential provision of such a law should be a method of predetermining by some federal board or commission whether the applicant for a federal charter was an association or combination within the restrictions of the federal law. Provision should also be made for compelling publicity in all matters affecting the health and complete protection to the investing public and the shareholders in the matter of issuing corporate securities. If an incorporation law is not deemed advisable, a license act for big interstate corporations might be enacted or a combination of the two might be tried. The supervision established might be analogous to that now exercised over national banks. At least the antitrust act should be supplemented by specific prohibitions of the methods which experience has shown have been of most service in enabling monopolistic combinations to crush out competition.

The real owners of a corporation should be compelled to do business in their own name. The right to hold stock in other corporations should before after be denied to interstate corporations, unless on approval by the proper government official, and a prerequisite to such approval should be the listing with the government of all owners and stockholders, both by the corporation owning such stock and by the corporation in which such stock is owned.

Lessons of Recent Crisis.

To enact upon the national government in the way I advocate in the antitrust law power of supervision over big business concerns engaged in interstate commerce would benefit them as it has benefited the national banks. In the recent financial crisis it was noteworthy that the institutions which failed were institutions which were not under the supervision and control of the national government. Those which were under national control stood the test.

National control of the kind above advocated would be to the benefit of every well managed railway. From the standpoint of the public there is need for additional tracks, additional terminals and improvements in the actual handling of the railroads, and all this as rapidly as possible. Ample, safe and speedy transportation facilities are even more necessary than cheap transportation. Therefore there is need for the investment of money which will provide for all these things while at the same time securing as far as is possible better wages and shorter hours for their employees. Therefore, while there must be just and honest opposition to extortion, there should be the first to protest against any arbitrary and unthinking movement to cut them down without the fullest and most careful consideration of all interests concerned and of the actual needs of the situation. Only a special body of men acting for the national government under authority conferred upon it by the congress is competent to pass judgment on such a matter.

There is the strongest reason the extension of federal activity will do well to study the history not only of the national banking act, but of the pure food law, and notably the meat inspection law recently enacted. The latter food law was opposed with violently that its passage was delayed for a decade, yet it has worked unmixed and immediate good. The meat inspection law was even more violently assailed, and the provisions now obtain which the attitude of the national government in seeking to oversee and control the workings of interstate common carriers and business concerns then assailed with more vehemence, denouncing "ruining a great American industry." Two years have not elapsed, and already it has become evident that the great benefit the law confers upon the public is accompanied by no equal hardship to the honest packing establishments. The latter are better off under the law than they were without it. The benefit to interstate common carriers and business concerns from the legislation I advocate would be equally marked.

Pure Food Law.

Incidentally in the passage of the pure food law the action of the various state food and dairy commissioners is showed in striking fashion how much good for the whole people results from the hearty co-operation of the federal and state officials in securing a given reform. It is primarily to the interest of each state that business within that we owe the enactment of this law, for they aroused the people, first to demand the enactment and enforcement of state laws on the subject and then the enactment of similar federal law, without which the state laws were largely ineffective. There must be the closest co-operation between the national and state governments in administering these laws.

Currency Legislation Needed.

I call your attention once more to the need of immediate attention to this matter. We need a greater elasticity in our currency, provided of course that we recognize the even greater need of a safe and secure currency. Provision should be made for an emergency currency. This emergency issue should of course be made with an effective guarantee and upon conditions carefully prescribed by the government. Such emergency issue must be based on adequate securities approved by the government and must be issued under a heavy tax. This would permit currency being issued when the demand for it was urgent, while securing the retirement as the demand fell off. It is worth investigation to determine whether officers and directors of national banks should ever be allowed to loan to themselves. Trust companies should be subject to the same supervision as banks. Legislation to this effect should be enacted in the District of Columbia and the territories.

Let us then take occasion that given the wisest legislation on the subject can only accomplish a certain amount. No legislation can by any possibility guarantee the business community against the results of speculative folly any more than it can guarantee an individual against the results of his extravagance. When an individual mortgages his home to buy an automobile he invites disaster, and when wealthy men or men who pose as such are unscrupulous or lacking in foresight to become involved in financial or reckless speculation, especially if it is accompanied by dishonesty, they jeopardize not only their own future, but the future of all their innocent fellow citizens. For they expose the whole business community to panic and distress.

Can't Revise Tariff Now.

This country is definitely committed to the protective system, and any effort to uproot it could not but cause widespread industrial disaster. In other words, the principle of the pres ent tariff law should not be changed. But in a country of such phenomenal growth as ours it is probably well that every dozen years or so the tariff laws should be carefully scrutinized so as to see that no excessive benefits to any industry are conferred thereby, that proper revenue is provided and that our foreign trade is encouraged. There must always be as a minimum a tariff which will not only allow for the collection of an ample revenue, but allow at least as much as good the difference in cost of production here and abroad—that is, the difference in the labor cost here and abroad, for the well being of the wage worker must ever be a cardinal consideration in our policy. The question should be approached purely from a business standpoint, both the time and the manner of the change being such as to arouse the minimum of agitation and disturbance in the business world, and to give the least play for selfish and factional motives. The sole consideration should be to see that the sum total of changes represents the public good. This means that the subject can be taken up only with us in the year preceding a presidential election, because as a matter of fact experience has conclusively shown that at such a time it is impossible to get men to treat it from the standpoint of the public good. In my judgment the wise time to deal with the matter is immediately after such election.

Income Tax and Inheritance Tax.

When our tax laws are revised the question of an income tax and an inheritance tax should receive the careful attention of our legislators. In my judgment, both these taxes should be part of our system of federal taxation. I speak diffidently about the income tax because one scheme for an income tax was declared unconstitutional by reason of interference with a technicality, in addition it is a difficult tax to administer in its practical working, and great care would have to be exercised to see that it was not evaded by the very men whom it was most desirable to reach. Nevertheless a graduated income tax of the proper type would be a desirable feature of federal taxation, and it is to be hoped that one may be devised which the supreme court will declare constitutional.

The inheritance tax, however, is a far better method of taxation. The government has the absolute right to decide as to the terms upon which a man shall receive a bequest from another, and the progressive principle of property is especially appropriate for the imposition of a tax. Laws imposing such taxes have repeatedly been placed upon the national statute books and as repeatedly declared constitutional by the courts, and these laws contained the progressive principle—that is, after a certain amount is reached the bequest or gift in life or death is increasingly burdened and the rate per cent of the tax increases. According to the remoteness of blood of the man receiving the bequest. These principles are recognized already in the leading civilized nations of the world.

Germany's Inheritance Tax.

The German law is especially interesting as it because it makes the inheritance tax an imperial one, while allowing to the individual states of the empire a portion of the proceeds and permitting them to impose taxes in addition to those imposed by the imperial government. Small inheritances are exempt, but the tax is so sharply progressive that when the inheritance is still not very large, provided it is not as agricultural or a forest land, it is taxed at the rate of 25 per cent if it goes to distant relatives. There is no reason why in the United States the national government should not impose inheritance taxes in addition to those imposed by the states, and when we last had an inheritance tax about 30 states in all had levied such taxes concurrently with the national government, making a combined maximum rate in some cases as high as 25 per cent.

To Tax Nonresidents Higher.

The tax should if possible be made to bear more heavily upon those residents of the country than within it. A heavy progressive tax upon very large fortune is in no way such a tax upon thrift or industry as a like tax would be on a small fortune. No advantage comes either to the country as a whole or to the individuals inheriting the money by permitting the transmission in their entirety of the enormous fortunes which would be affected by such a tax, and as an incident to its function or revenue raising such a tax would help to preserve a measurable equality of opportunity for the people of the generations growing to manhood.

We have not the slightest sympathy with that socialistic idea which would try to put all men's worthlessness and industry on a par with industry, thrift and efficiency, which would strive to break up not merely private property, but, what is far more important, the home, the chief prop upon which our whole civilization stands.

Such a theory if ever adopted would mean the ruin of the entire country, but there is no individual against the results of his extravagance. When an individual mortgages his home to buy an automobile he invites disaster, and when wealthy men or men who pose as such or are unscrupulous or lacking in foresight become involved in financial or reckless speculation, especially if it is accompanied by dishonesty, they jeopardize not only their own future, but the future of all their innocent fellow citizens, for

THE CONSTITUTIONALIST

VOL. XXXIX | PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 26, 1907. | NO. 52.

"Support the Constitution, which is the Cement of the Union, as well in its Limitations as in its Authorities."—Madison.

AMUSEMENTS HELP CITY

Local Theatre Pays $50 and Moving Picture Show $150 for Licenses.

THE CITY FATHERS' ROUTINE.

Petitions for One Year Lighting Contracts With P. S. C.—Many Other Petitions.

In its efforts to close up the business of the year the Common Council held another adjourned meeting last night. Some of the matters considered were of importance, while others were of minor interest, and consisted chiefly of receiving petitions and referring old ones to the Common Council of 1908. Councilmen Tyler and Hibbard were the only absentees.

A petition from W. J. Counihan and others asked that methods be adopted to set back buildings on West Second street so that they would come to the building line, and the fact that a fire destroyed a large portion of one of these structures a few days ago made it seem an opportune time to take action in the matter. The properties referred to stand adjacent to the New Plainfield theatre. The petition was referred to the fire and building committee.

Mrs. Lewis C. Hewlitt, of West Front street, protested against the payment of a personal tax for 1904 on the ground that she did not own the amount of property claimed, that her late husband was a veteran of the Civil War and that she is unable to pay the tax. The matter was referred to the finance committee, as was also a petition from R. W. Emerson, who asked to have $33.06, an amount paid for two properties, 1610 Maple street and 1625 Willever street, owned by Maria Kelly. He stated that he engaged Clarence L. Murphy to make the search and was informed that the taxes were paid on the properties and that they had been sold in error under the Martin Act. The amount which Mr. Emerson asked for includes $20, which he paid Mr. Murphy for searching the titles to the properties. The petition was referred to the finance committee.

Mrs. Julia B. Keely protested against a $80 sewer assessment against the Estate of Patrick Keely on properties located at 525-533 East Sixth street, claiming that the sewer is no benefit to the property as it is impossible to connect with it. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

Patrick J. Reville asked to have a $2 dog tax remitted, claiming that he did not own a canine, and the proper affidavit accompanying the petition, on motion of Mr. Tolles the tax was cancelled.

The Power Specialty Company, of New York, agents for the Foster Superheater, designed for garbage disposal, requested a conference with the Common Council with a view to installing its system here. The communication stated that a plant was being built in New York and would be ready for operation January 1. The communication was referred to the public affairs committee.

Petitions were received from the Board of Trade and Plainfield Council, No. 402, United Commercial Travelers, urging that a one year electric light contract be made with the Public Service Corporation, instead of one for five years. They were both referred to the public affairs committee.

City Engineer Gavett reported that between December 1 and 11 eleven sewer permits were granted and $11 turned over to the city treasurer. Constable Peter V. Weaver's bond was presented and referred to the corporation counsel for approval.

In accordance with a resolution offered by Mr. Mellick, of the fire and building committee, which was adopted, a claim for $108.06 against the street and sewer committee was cancelled. The bill was for brick used for pavement in front of No. 3 Engine House. As an offset to the bill the fire department has allowed the street department lengths of hose to use in its work. Councilmen Ginna and Tolles voted against the resolution more in a spirit of fun.

On motion of Mr. Mellick the petition of N. Peterson asking for permission to move a house on Verona avenue a distance of 500 feet was granted.

A resolution by Mr. Tolles, which was adopted, provided that the sewer assessments against the Board of Education on property located at Essex street and Darrow avenue and Berckman street be cancelled. These assessments, the corporation counsel advised, were made in error and should be cancelled, and charged to the city at large.

Another resolution offered by Mr. Tolles, and adopted, authorized the city treasurer to make the following distribution of taxes from the con-

(Continued on page 8.)

PRINCE BEATEN BY JESS

Essex Springs Surprise Landing Camden Assemblyman in the Speaker's Chair.

PLUM FOR GEORGE H. JOHNSTON

Scotch Plains Man Made Journal Clerk at a Salary of $1,000—The Other Good Things Handed Out.

Six Assemblymen-elect from Essex county voted for Frank B. Jess, of Camden county, in the caucus of the Republican majority of next year's House at Trenton yesterday and thereby defeated Professor John D. Prince, of Passaic county, for that honor. Incidently George H. Johnston, of Scotch Plains, was chosen journal clerk at a salary of $1,000.

The complete list of officers chosen by the majority caucus follows:

Speaker—Frank B. Jess, of Camden.

Leader—William P. Martin, of Essex.

Clerk—Captain James Parker, of Passaic, salary $1,500.

Assistant Clerk—Upton S. Jeffreys, of Camden, $1,200.

Supervisor of Bills—George A. Grover, of Essex, $1,300.

First Assistant Supervisor of Bills—Charles E. Heritage, of Gloucester, $600.

Second Assistant Supervisor of Bills—Richard W. Booth, of Essex, $600.

Journal Clerk—George H. Johnston, of Union, $1,000.

Assistant Journal Clerk—Lewis R. Williams, of Mercer, $500.

Sergeant-at-Arms—Wm. R. Swan, of Essex, $700.

Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms—Wm. Dye, of Middlesex, $500.

Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms—Paul T. Ludlam, of Cumberland, $500.

Bill Clerk—Richard J. Chaplain, of Morris, $500.

Assistant Bill Clerk—Enoch S. Clouting, of Cape May, $500.

Other patronage to be distributed as follows:

Essex, one assistant to the bill clerk, three doorkeepers and two pages; Atlantic, two pages; Bergen, assistant to supervisor of bills, one doorkeeper and one page; Burlington, assistant to clerk and one page; Camden, one doorkeeper; Cumberland, one doorkeeper; Gloucester, one doorkeeper; Mercer, two doorkeepers and one page or postmaster of the House; Morris, one doorkeeper and one page; Ocean, one doorkeeper; Passaic, two doorkeepers, one page and postmaster; Salem, one doorkeeper; Union, one doorkeeper and one page.

Doorkeepers receive $250 for the session and pages $200. The Speaker has the naming of a private secretary at $600. Atlantic or Salem county will name an assistant private secretary at $400.

HE'S GOT THE JOB AND WANTS THE MONEY

Ignatz Weingreen, a New York lawyer, communicated with the Common Council, last night, stating that he had been retained to collect the labor bill for the Italians employed on the Southside sanitary sewer under the original contract with Peter Morgan, of Poughkeepsie, and after giving the names and numbers of the Italians he represents, asked that a prompt settlement of the claims be made. Upon the suggestion of President Daniel the communication was referred to Corporation Counsel Marsh.

There are a number of Italians who were employed under the original contract and when Mr. Morgan failed to keep his agreement, attachments were secured on materials used in construction. Some of the claims have been settled, but the labor bill was never paid for the reason, it was said, that it could not be until it was ascertained how much money would be left upon the completion of the work.

Dr. Hurlbut Receives a Gift.

Rev. Dr. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, formerly pastor of the First M. E. church, but now of the Park Methodist church, Bloomfield, was given a happy surprise at the Christmas exercises by the Sunday-school Sunday night. The superintendent of the school walked on the platform with a machine, as the same time requesting Dr. Hurlbut to inspect it. The superintendent began turning a crank and to the surprise of both pastor and congregation crisp new one dollar bills began to fall out one by one. Dr. Hurlbut was asked to catch them and when he counted up he had an even $100 as a gift from the congregation.

—Hotel Iroquois, special Xmas dinner 12:30 to 4 p. m. Tonight, German Xmas Salad. ***

CITY-BOROUGH CONTRACT

North Plainfield Commission Asks for 90 Days Option on Sewage Scheme.

PLAN FOR SPECIAL ELECTION.

Plainfield Common Council Arranges to Have Favorable Action Taken Early in the New Year.

The North Plainfield Sewage Commission, of which William J. Buttfield is secretary, communicated with the Plainfield Common Council at its adjourned meeting last night, in reference to sanitary sewer connection with the city's system as outlined in a report previously presented. After quoting the provisions of the report, which calls for a charge of $25 per one million gallons of sewage cared for by the city for the first ten years, the charge to be adjusted by a commission at the end of each succeeding ten years, Mr. Buttfield asked the Council to give the borough a ninety-day proposition which could be submitted to the taxpayers in that municipality for a vote.

In reporting back this communication later, Chairman Ginna, of the street and sewer committee, stated that recent conferences had been held with the borough commission and the price named in the original report was considered a fair one. He then recommended that the matter be referred to the 1908 Council with the suggestion that the figures stated in the report be the basis for negotiations. The recommendation took the form of a motion and while it was adopted, of course, it will not be binding on the incoming body.

It is the desire of the borough commission to secure a system of sewers for the borough at the earliest possible date and in order to connect with the Plainfield plant it is necessary to first secure the consents of at least one-half of the property-owners of the borough. This will have to be done by a vote and it is for the purpose of laying a definite proposition before the taxpayers that the Council was communicated with the Council last night.

It was referred to the new Council so that action can be taken as soon as possible.

STREET COMMITTEE BUSINESS REFERRED

During the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night, Chairman Ginna, of the street and sewer committee, who retires this year, reported back a great many petitions and asked that they be referred to the 1908 Council. The petitions were as follows:

Plainfield Land and Improvement Company for a sewer, provided for; S. A. Ginna and others for the extension of Kenyon avenue; B. O. Bowers and H. C. Corss, overflow of Green brook; W. S. Chadbourne, proposed new street from South Plainfield; E. M. French, referring to other petitions; H. R. Limbarger, for grading and curbing Second street east of its present terminus; George Viebrock, for sewers on East Second street, provided for; C. A. Turnevant for sanitary sewer in Lake street; Highland Park Realty Company, sidewalks and crosswalks on Arlington avenue; Central Realty and Land Improvement Company, for ordinance vacating portion of Mill street; H. W. Beebe and W. M. Wherry, against burning of leaves; Town Improvement Association, asking for measures to widen streets; E. P. Williams, storm sewer in Darrow avenue; J. D. Loizeaux Lumber Company and B. Frank Coriell, for macadamizing Stebbins place; Muhlenberg Hospital, for widening and macadamizing Randolph road; Edward Willis, grading East Seventh street; Charles H. Hand, to establish building line on Watchung avenue; Ransome Concrete Company, for grading South Second street; J. F. Darby, crosswalks on Sanford avenue; Plainfield Land and Building Company, sewers in Denmark road and Dixie Lane, provided for in previous work.

Court Wished Him "Merry Xmas."

Isadore Kossov, a Russian peddler, was arrested by Detective-Sergeant Flynn, yesterday, for selling sweaters and woollen goods without a license. He pleaded ignorance of American laws when arraigned in the city court this morning and Judge Runyon suspended sentence with a warning and a wish for a "Merry Christmas."

—Specials for the Christmas dinner at Neuman Brothers': Fancy celery, green and wax beans, tomatoes, Boston head lettuce, Tangierine oranges, grape fruit and Malaga grapes.

NEW CITY HALL LOCATION

City Fathers Considering the Purchase of the Powlison and Jones Building.

IS IN EAST FRONT STREET.

Reported That It Can Be Bought for $40,000—Preferable to Smalley Building.

The Common Council has apparently abandoned the plan to purchase the Smalley building in North avenue as a city hall and is now negotiating for the Powlison and Jones big brick structure in East Front street. An executive session of the city fathers was held last night when it was decided to discuss the subject again with the new members of that body next Monday night with the idea of making the deal. The present owners ask $40,000 for the structure, which is amply large enough for the accommodation of all departments of the municipal government.

The East Front street structure, it is said, is much better suited for city purposes. It would accommodate the police department on the first floor in addition leaving ample space for the tax collector, city clerk and street commissioner as well as the overseer of the poor. The second floor could be used as a council chamber as well as for committee rooms and mayor's quarters. On the top floor there would be room for the board of health and several other departments of the city government.

OLD SOLDIER GETS CHRISTMAS PENSION

Christmas cheer in the form of $500 back money and a pension of $15 a month has come to Floyd Symons, of Berkeley Heights, one of the oldest men in this vicinity. As a veteran of several Indian uprisings and the War of the Rebellion, Symons has an honorable record but various difficulties have prevented him from securing the recognition necessary to secure assistance from Uncle Sam.

The old soldier has passed the four score mile stone but still enjoys his mental and physical capacities and is well known throughout Union county. The fighting in his system developed in his boyhood days and when the Red Men grew restless in the late '50's he was one of the volunteers who helped put down their uprisings. His frontier duty was served under General Hancock and when the Civil War broke out he was again in the ranks. He was wounded a number of times.

Friends of Symons have been seeking to secure the pension for him for a long time but it was not until this week that success came to them.

TRAVELING LIBRARIES ARE A GOOD THING

The Senator from Union county introduced a bill which became a law in April of last year, for the purpose of giving the State's correctional institutions access to and advantage of traveling libraries.

As a result of this act twenty-four traveling libraries have been placed in the institutions of the State.

The object of punishment should be to make the criminal a better person and anything, proper reading in particular, which will lift the mind or plant in the imagination the good, the ideal and the virtuous, is certainly of benefit to the State in the creation of a worthy citizenship from characters of the most unpromising nature.

Work along this line should be continued for the purpose of helping the unfortunates who want to learn and to have a chance to lead better lives in the future.

"The small appropriation from the State, amounting to $1,900, has been a gun shot wound in that it is to be hoped that the policy of the State *may continue to recognize its wis*dom."

An Early Morning Blaze.

A still alarm was received at Fire Headquarters at 1 o'clock this morning for a slight blaze in the home of F. T. Gidney, 817 Richmond street. It was evidently started by matches left in a coat that was hung under a stairway and which became ignited in some way. The chemical engine and No. 3 hose wagon were sent out and quickly extinguished the flames. The damage is placed at $25 to the house and $50 to clothes. Harry Haydon owns the house.

MRS. M. E. KIMBALL DEAD

Founder and President of Children's Home Passes Away in 79th Year.

TRULY A VERY NOBLE WOMAN.

Head of Rasores Club and Prominent Charity Worker Succumbs to Pneumonia—Survived By One Son.

Mrs. Marianna Everett Kimball, founder and for thirty years president of the Children's Home and probably the most zealous charity worker in all Union county, died at 7:30 o'clock this morning, after two days illness with pneumonia, at her home at Truell Court. She was seized with the grip ten days ago but her condition was not alarming until Sunday when symtoms of pneumonia developed. She was in her seventy-ninth year and had been active in doing good deeds until the last.

Mrs. Kimball was a niece of Edward Everett, at one time United States Senator from Massachusetts and later minister to the Court of St. James. The venerable Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale was her cousin. Her father, Thomas Huse Everett, came from a prominent old New England family.

Mrs. Kimball was born at West Newbury, Mass., on Feb. 8, 1829. She was married to Dr. Horace Kimball in Boston, Mass., in the fall of 1870. Dr. Kimball practised dentistry in New York city for a number of years and upon his retirement, he and his wife removed to this city about twenty years ago.

Mrs. Kimball organized the Children's Home some thirty odd years ago. The first building stood on Grove street near Rockview avenue. Later the Home was removed to Hillside avenue and finally to its handsomely appointed building at Westervelt and Jackson avenues. It is one of the most worthy charities in the county and its existence is due solely to the efforts of this noble woman.

Among the other associations in which Mrs. Kimball took an active interest was the Rasores Club, a literary organization of cultured women. She was president of this organization at the time of her death. She was an active member of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church and was a faithful attendant at its services.

Mrs. Kimball is survived by one son, James Everett Kimball, and by a sister, Miss Lucy H. Everett.

The funeral services will take place at the residence of her son, No. 633 West Seventh street, on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made at the convenience of the family.

MOVE TO ABOLISH LOCAL BILL BOARDS

The Town Improvement Association, in a communication, called the attention of the Common Council last night to what it termed "The billboard nuisance," requesting that some action be taken to abolish it. Among other things the association said that the boards now disfigured the city, were excessive in size, were a hinderence in time of fire, but that they serve as a "screen for immorality and filth.

It was suggested that a tax be levied for the boards, that a committee of three be appointed to approve the kind of posters to be displayed.

Councilman George P. Mellick, a member of the public affairs committee, to whom was referred the communication, made an earnest request that prompt action be taken next year. He said that he regretted that he would not be in position to further this worthy matter. Many persons had spoken to him about the unsightly bill boards about the city, especially on Watchung avenue, near the Grand Jury building where people in going to and from the trains are hemmed in by huge boards which are often covered with objectionable posters.

Mr. Mellick said that he would personally hand Mr. Tyler, chairman of the public affairs committee, the communication and urge him to se*cure the needed reform.*

Glass Smasher Fined.

Joseph Brown, colored, was fined $5 in the borough court yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was arrested Saturday night by Marshal Pope after he had smashed a glass door in a Somerset street store and was trying to demolish a window pane. He failed to produce the fine and was committed to jail.

F. H. Stein Now Ticket Agent.

F. H. Stein, formerly of Somerville, has succeeded E. D. Ellwanger as ticket agent at the Eastbound station of the New Jersey Central.

SOMERSET COURT OPENS

Justice Bergen Makes Some Important Announcements as to Terms.

SOME LICENSES ARE RENEWED.

Mayor-elect Townsend Foreman of Grand Jury—Local Cases On the Calendar.

The December term of the Somerset County Circuit Court opened at Somerville this morning with Justice James Bergen on the bench. Judge Schenck was also present. Together with lawyers from all parts of the county and this city. Justice Bergen announced that hereafter the opening days for the court in Somerset county would be the second Tuesday in April and September and the third Tuesday in December. Heretofore the opening days have been the fourth Tuesday in December and the third Tuesday in April and September.

J. S. Bunn, of Somerville, was appointed court crier. It was further announced that all Supreme Court cases would be referred to Judge Vail, of the Circuit Court.

In the matter of license applications, several were laid over, among them a number of old ones. The court explained as the reason for so doing that it desired to make an investigation to learn whether the granting of the applications would be conducive to the best interests of the community in which the licensed place is located. Among the applications refused were that of David Drake, of Somerville town. Those of Joseph Blatz and Richard A. Boyce, of the borough, were granted.

Mayor-elect Samuel Townsend, of North Plainfield, is foreman of the Grand Jury. Other members from the borough are George T. Rogers and Harrison Coddington. Charles Parkhurst Sebring is a member from North Plainfield township.

There are but few cases on the calendar of interest to Plainfield. One is that of Edward Vanderhoff against Joseph Baldwin. Am the recovrin of a horse. V. W. Nash, Jr., represents the plaintiff and Francis J. Blatz, the defendant. Another case is that of Horace Coddington against George H. Fairchild, on note. Clarence Garretson represents the plaintiff and F. J. Blatz the defendant. The third case is that of the Electric Vehicle Company against H. L. McGee on contract. Carloe C. Gallup represents the plaintiff and Reed & Coddington the defendant.

MARTINE ARRANGING A TOUR FOR BRYAN

"Farmer-orator" James E. Martine is arranging for William Jennings Bryan to visit Jersey City during his present campaign in New Jersey early in February. He will arrive here on February 6 as told exclusively in The Daily Press some days ago.

In this connection, Mr. Martine counted with Senator William H. Gebhardt, of Hunterdon county, and Assemblyman Joseph Tumulty, of Hudson county, in Jersey City last Saturday. It is also probable that additional speeches will be made in Camden, Paterson and Newark. The biggest meeting will be held at the Newark auditorium. Bryan will also probably spend a day at Cedarbrook farm as Mr. Martine's guest.

Grace M. E. Official Board Meets.

At a meeting of the official board of Grace M. E. church, last night, resolutions of condolence of the death of Dr. Parsons were passed and copies will be sent the bereaved family. It was decided to have the pulpit filled by supplies until the annual conference meeting in this city next April.

Mr. Schloss Meets With Accident.

Emanuel Schloss, of the firm of A. Scheuer & Co., of West Front street, received a painful injury to his hand, yesterday, while cutting some meat in the store. The knife accidentally slipped, inflicting a deep gash in the flesh. A physician attended to the wound and no serious results are feared.

Miss Runkle in Newark.

Miss Mary Runkle, of West Eighth street, has been the guest of Miss Louise E. Polhemus, of Washington street, Newark. Last night Miss Runkle attended a brilliant gathering of society folk at the second of the fortnightly dances at Oration Hall, Newark.

Rev. E. E. Roberson, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, has again assumed his pastoral duties, having been much benefitted by a vacation of one month.

WATCHUNG HUNT CLUB FULLY EXONERATED

National Association Scores C. D. Freeman for Making Groundless Charges.

FRED ALPERS IS VINDICATED.

Colonia Man Without Just Cause Put Reputable Men in False Light

—He's Officially "Roasted."

The Watchung Hunt Club, its stewards and Fred Alpers, a gentleman rider, all of whom were concerned in charges preferred by Charles D. Freeman, of Colonia, following the steeplechase meet in May and June of this year, have been completely exonerated by the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association, after a most searching investigation. An investigation with the same result had been previously made by the stewards of the hunt club.

The trouble grew out of charges made by Mr. Freeman, then master of the hounds, that the meeting last spring was not properly watched over by the stewards and by the club officials. He demanded that the license of the club be withdrawn. His action was based on a rumor that Mr. Alpers, who rode Mr. Freeman's horse, "Strongheart," on the second day of the meet, had "pulled" the animal to allow another horse on which Mr. Alpers had a large bet, to win. "Strongheart" was one of seven horses in the race in question and finished second and an investigation of this record shows, it is said, that this was the best finish ever made by the horse. It developed that Mr. Alpers had placed a bet of $10 with the bookmaker on "Strongheart" to win? "Diana" finished first.

Mr. Freeman was abroad at the time and immediately following his return the charges were made. The stewards of the hunt club, Charles Pfizer, of Bernardsville; H. L. Herbert, of Lakewood; Julian Gerard, of New York; P. F. Collier, of Monmouth county, and Lewis Young, of the Union County Hounds, began an investigation and upon the completion of the matter was taken up fully with the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association.

In the meantime, Charles C. Marshall, who was at that time president of the hunt club, sent the following communication to The Daily Press, which was published on Thursday, June 6:

Editor, The Daily Press:

Referring to articles in the daily papers touching the races of the Watchung Hunt, will you permit me space to make a statement in behalf of that organization?

It is implied that the races were in some respects conducted in violation of the law of the State of New Jersey; in what respects is not stated. No such violation is known to the officers of the club.

No arrangement of any kind existed between the club and the bookmakers. The club received no money from them, offered them no privileges or protection, and had nothing to do with them. So far as they were present, they were present on the grounds as other individuals were, through the purchase of their own tickets, with the same rights as the general public—neither more nor less. Any notion that they were present under the protection of the club, or for its profit or advantage, I am authorized to state is unqualifiedly false.

As to the rumors of "jockeying" referred to, I may say that if facts tending to sustain charges of that character were brought to the attention of the stewards of the hunt these facts will be thoroughly investigated and acted upon in a manner that will give entire satisfaction to those presenting them. Furthermore, the National Steeplechase Association, under whose rules and general jurisdiction the races were held, is al*ways ready to receive and hear* charges of this character, and to punish the offender with the severity which the disgraceful character of his act demands.

Yours respectfully,
CHARLES C. MARSHALL,
President of the Watchung Hunt,
30 Broad street,
New York City.

Since the completion of the investigation of the charges by the hunt club, the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association has been leaving no stones unturned in making a minute inquiry into all the facts. The offi-

(Continued on page 8.)

TO REAPPOINT MR. MARSH

Mayor Fisk Will Nominate Corporation Counsel for New Term Jan. 1.

LONG IN THE PRESENT OFFICE.

Has Occupied the Position For Twenty-five Years Under All Sorts of Administrations.

Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh's present term expires on January 1 and as soon on that day he will be reappointed for a new term of three years. Mr. Marsh has been discharging the duties of the office most efficiently for the last twenty-five years and the present administration is anxious that he continue his valuable services to the municipality. The salary attached to the office is $2,000.

Mr. Marsh is president of the Union County Bar Association and is one of the foremost legal lights in New Jersey. His practice is an extensive one but he has always given up valuable time in the interests of the city. Every ordinance enacted in the last quarter of a century has been his handiwork and many thousands of dollars have been saved the taxpayers by his timely and reliable advice to the city fathers and the heads of the various departments of government.

Mr. Marsh succeeded Corporation Counsel Kimball and has held that office continuously up to the present time under all sorts of administrations, including Republican, Democratic, Prohibition and Citizens Movements. He has never sought reappointment but has been re-named as a matter of course and has never declined to accept the onerous duties, which are involved in the office.

Mayor Fisk, it is said, is particularly anxious to have Mr. Marsh accept a reappointment and it is generally believed that he will consent to do so.

HILLERY SENATE'S HEAD

Morris County Man Chosen at Caucus, Colby Voting for Avis, of Gloucester.

ROBBINS MAJORITY LEADER.

Editor J. W. Cliff Made Journal Clerk and Editor Bateman Assistant C. H. Journal Clerk.

Senator Thomas J. Hillery, of Morris county, was chosen to be president of the Senate and the Republican Senate caucus held in Trenton Thursday. His selection was unanimous, except for Senator Everett Colby, who voted for Senator John Boyd Avis, of Gloucester. Senator Colby and Senator Avis have been at swords' points politically for some years, and the action of the Essex reform leader was no surprise.

Senator Samuel K. Robbins, of Burlington, was chosen as majority leader unanimously. Other officers agreed upon follow:

President's secretary, William C. Murphy, Camden; secretary of the Senate, Howard L. Tyler, Cumberland; assistant, William H. Allerhand, Gloucester; journal clerk, John W. Cliff, Jr., Union; assistant, Charles H. Bateman, Somerville; supervisor of bills, Charles L. Grubb, Morris; assistant, Edward A. Sexsmith, Monmouth; bill clerk, William Bailey, Essex.

The naming of the sergeant at arms was left to Mercer and the minor officers were apportioned by a steering committee.

Editor Cliff, of Summit, was given the $1,000 journal clerkship. Ulysses S. Grant, of Ocean, was not reappointed assistant journal clerk. His county elected a Democratic Senator this year and so lost its patronage. The $1,000 per holder will go to Editor Charles H. Bateman, of Somerville, an appointment of Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen. Senator E. R. Ackerman obtained Cliff's appointment.

All the remaining officers were referred to the steering committee named by Leader Robbins.

Those placed on that important committee include: Messrs. Mitch, Colby, Frelinghuysen, Ackerman and Avis. A number of the places to be filled have been assigned to or claimed by counties represented in the Republican wing and so there will not be a great deal of work for the steering committee.

Union has the selection of a doorkeeper and committee while Somerset has the appointment of a committee clerk and doorkeeper.

Inspector Advises.

Mrs. Asram-Mac Crabbie is a member of your suffrage club, isn't she? Mrs. Gaddie—No, we had to expel her. We were discussing the servant girl question the other day and she had the impudence to say that if we only stayed at home and attended to business the servant question wouldn't bother us at all.—Philadelphia Press.

MARSH BUILDING FOR POLICE HEADQUARTERS

The Councilmanic police board being compelled to move police headquarters on or before May 1, 1908, from the present location in East Front street, efforts are being made to obtain temporary quarters until such time as a permanent one can be had. It is reported in this connection that the board has been considering the availability of leasing a portion of the second and third floors of the Marsh building, at Park avenue and Second street, for temporary purposes.

There are several vacant rooms that are considered in many ways suitable for police purposes. The large hall on the second floor, it is said, would make an excellent place to hold court, while the other rooms *could be arranged easily to accom*modate the policemen who are obliged to sleep at headquarters. The third floor hall, which is practically the same as the one on the second floor could be used for the cells in which to detain prisoners and they would be removed from the crowds that frequently gather to the city hall cases. Members of the board, it is said, are inclined to favor this scheme until permanent quarters can be decided upon.

There are members of the Common Council who still believe that it would be a wise move for the city to purchase the Woolston & Buckle building on North avenue, where all of the city offices and departments could be established, and it has been the hope that definite action might be taken on the proposition soon.

A member of the Councilmanic finance committee in speaking of the matter said today that he did not believe that the city would be ready for sometime to expend $25,000 or even more for a building exclusively for police headquarters, and even if the city could afford such an improvement he did not believe that a sufficient number of votes could be secured in the Council to take such action. The other proposition of purchasing the Woolston & Buckle building would mean a saving to the city.

"By purchasing this building all of the city offices and departments would be together," said the councilman," and if at any time in the future it was thought best to sell the property the city would be able to do so at a good price. It is not a property that will depreciate in value in the years to come and I believe that it is an opportunity that the city should take advantage of without delay."

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS FIRST ANNUAL RECEPTION

One of the most successful and enjoyable social events of the season was the first reception and dance given at the Casino Friday evening under the auspices of Plainfield Council, No. 402, United Commercial Travelers. The affair was largely attended by the members, their wives and friends. Many features of the program were the vocal selections by John V. Salkeld, of New York, a brother of Mrs. Frank W. Weed, of the borough, and the dramatic recitations by William J. Anderson, also of New York. These numbers were given between the dances and the artists were well received.

The program for the dances was pronounced one of the best, and the music by Charles A. Bush's Orchestra of ten pieces, was delightful. A majority of the numbers were encored and the orchestra generously responded. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Frank W. Weed, chairman; J. A. G. Pike, H. J. Percy, J. M. Lewin, C. A. Sturtevant and James C. Field. The first reception was so successful that it has been decided to give similar ones during the winter.

MONO FIELD CLUB NOW A SOCIAL ORGANIZATION.

The Mono Field Club, which made a name for itself by conducting a winning baseball team during the summer, has decided to continue permanently as a social organization with athletics as a feature. The former Trades Union Hall on West Front street has been secured for the home and the rooms have been handsomely fitted up. The membership numbers thirty-five and new names are being added at every meeting. Early in January the club will conduct a social and dance, being the first of a series to take place during the winter months.

At a meeting of the club this week the following officers were elected: President, James Conway; vice president, Frank Ricketts; recording secretary, Burlin Banks; financial secretary, Herbert Conover; treasurer, Hanford Moffett; sergeant-at-arms, Frank Emmons.

Will Dance Old Year Out.

Society people of the city and borough will hold a dance New Year's Eve at the Casino, and those in charge are planning to make it one of the social functions of the season. The guests will dance the old year out and New Year in and it is expected that several novel features will be introduced.

DRUGGIST PAYS HIS FINE

Dr. Peter W. Brakeley Decides Not to Fight Penalty Imposed.

THE CASE IS NOW SETTLED.

Dunellenite Fined $50 For Selling a Tincture of Iodine Contrary to State Law.

Appearing before Judge Edward W. Hicks, of the New Brunswick District Court at the session Thursday, Postmaster Peter W. Brakeley, of Dunellen, announced his decision not to enter into continued litigation about the charge of selling an illegal tincture of iodine brought against him by the State. He brought with him a check for $50, the amount of the fine imposed by Lawyer Stryker, who represents Attorney-General McCarter in the prosecution.

At the time the fine was imposed two weeks ago, the Dunellen postmaster, who has been in the drug business for the past thirty-eight years, made a statement in which he claimed that the drug because of which charges were brought against him by the State, was compounded according to law by the latest formula furnished to him by the United States Pharmacopoeia. He stated in court that he would retain counsel to contest the case. The claim made by the State was that the tincture of iodine he had been selling contained no potassium iodine, as the law now requires.

Robert Eastburn, a New Brunswick druggist, was represented in court by Lawyer Allen B. Strong, and considerable time was taken at the morning session in the contest of the matter of the $50 fine imposed by the State. Judgment was rendered finally for the State in the matter, but Druggist Eastburn declares he will appeal the case to a higher court to further contest the fine. Henry Silk, a South River druggist, failed to put in an appearance, though he stated two weeks ago that he proposed to contest the fine imposed. The State was awarded judgment in the matter because of his default.

ELECTION OFFICERS' PAY THIRTY DOLLARS

Judge Charles Carrick, in the First District Court, at Jersey City, decided that an election officer is entitled to $30 for his services, holding that "primary" day is an "election" day, and that the compensation therefor is $10, and not $5, as on registry days.

County Counsel John Griffin advised the Hudson Board of Freeholders that $25 was the legal compensation, and this view has also been taken by county counsel in other parts of the State. The test case was brought against Jersey City by Fred Crawford, who refused to accept a warrant for $25. The election officers in Union county have accepted their pay on the basis of $10 in such places as Elizabeth and Plainfield. No test case has been made here.

JOHN M'GINLEY'S FUNERAL.

Solemn Requiem Mass Said in St. Mary's Church This Morning.

The funeral of John McGinley, the well known Fanwood Township man who died while visiting his sister in Brooklyn, was held in St. Mary's church this morning, a solemn requiem mass was said by Father Bogan, assisted by Father Brennan and Father Schiola. Burial was afterward made in St. Mary's cemetery, the pallbearers being Arthur McGinley, Michael Dempsey, Edward Meissner and J. W. Townsend.

Just previous to his going to Brooklyn two weeks ago, Mr. McGinley ordered a monument valued at $1,000 to be placed in his plot in the cemetery. The stone was finished off and was in position awaiting his inspection when word of his death was telephoned. He was not feeling well when he left Plainfield, but *his death was entirely unex*pected.

What the Poet Says.

After their honeymoon to Niagara Falls they came back and settled on the old farm.

"Gracious, Silc!" said Cynthia. "Why are you in such a bad humor?"

"Making butter is blamed hard work," grumbled Silas,' removing the beads from his brow.

"Oh, cheer up, Silc! Don't the poet say that it is 'love that makes the world go round?'"

"Yeah; by gosh, it don't make the churn go round."—Chicago News.

Weather Conditions Poor for Chase.

The recent bad weather together with the poor condition of the ground has put a damper on the members of the Watchung Hunt Club. Last Saturday owing to the storm no chase was held and unless the weather is favorable the riders will not go out today. The club is particularly anxious to refrain from injuring in any way the property of farmers through which it hunts and for that reason will take no chances.

TOLLES NEW PRESIDENT

First Ward Member to Succeed Daniel as President of Common Council.

THE MAJORITY SELECTS HIM.

Mr. Tyler Absent and Move to Make Him Head of Body Did Not Materialize—As to Committees.

Councilman Ralph I. Tolles is the choice of nine members of the Common Council for the presidency of that body for 1908 to succeed Leslie M. Daniel, who will retire January 1. This was decided upon at a caucus of the Common Council, Thursday. All the members were present except Councilmen W. S. Tyler and H. B. Suydam, the latter one of the new representatives from the Fourth ward. There was no contest and perfect harmony prevailed. No other name but that of Mr. Tolles was presented and no one else was considered for the position.

There was a report Thursday that Mr. Tyler was slated for the position, it being understood that in exchange for the support Third ward member was to allow the Common Council to select the chairmen for the various committees. The absence of Mr. Tyler from the meeting and the fact that no one was there to press his name for the presidency, put him out of the running and his name was not mentioned.

The duties of president of the Common Council will not be new to Mr. Tolles as he has filled that position before. He is now the oldest member of that body in point of service and is thoroughly acquainted with every phase of the city government, having been a member of all the committees and kept in touch with all the city departments. Following his election at the first meeting of the new Council on Wednesday night, January 1, he will announce his committees for the coming year. There was no discussion last night as to the probable makeup of the committees, it being understood that Mr. Tolles is to have a free rein in his selections.

FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR REV. G. B. SHAW

The members of the Seventh-Day Baptist church and congregation united in a farewell reception to Rev. and Mrs. George B. Shaw at the church, Thursday, prior to their departure for North Loup, Neb., where Mr. Shaw will become pastor of the denominational church. The affair was planned for last Saturday night but on account of the illness of Mr. Shaw it was postponed until last night.

The church parlors were attractively arranged and presented a home-like appearance. The pastor and his wife were assisted in receiving by the deacons of the church and their wives. A feature of the evening was an address by Dr. H. M. Maxson in which he took occasion to refer to the help and usefulness of the pastor and his wife during their stay here and the inspiration they were to many with whom they came in contact. He then on behalf of the members presented the couple with a purse of $100 as an evidence of appreciation. The gift was gratefully received and a happy response was made by Mr. Shaw, who thanked one and all for their united support and help.

During the evening there was an informal program of vocal and instrumental music, which included vocal solos by Clara Titsworth, a vocal duet by Mrs. John Plainfield and Mrs. William C. Hubbard and an instrumental trio by Mrs. W. C. Hubbard, Mrs. F. J. Hubbard and Miss Ethel Titsworth. After the entertainment refreshments were served under the direction of the Women's Society for Christian Work. The entertainment was arranged by a committee of which Miss Ernestine C. Smith was chairman.

Acquires More Business Property.

David N. Kenney, of Rockview avenue, the borough, has purchased the Woolston & Buckle building on North avenue, formerly owned by Woolston & Buckle, and which is now occupied by a number of the city offices. The property adjoins other properties purchased by Mr. Kenney some time ago, and it extends back to Second street. It is expected that as soon as the present leases expire on the several one-story buildings owned by Mr. Kenney he will improve the same and follow out his original plan of building an arcade from North avenue to Second street. The sale of the Woolston & Buckle building to Mr. Kenney was arranged by Charles L. Lyman, the real estate broker.

Daniel T. Beddoe to Sing Here.

Daniel T. Beddoe, tenor, will be the assisting artist at Joseph Mc-Intyre's third Chamber Music Concert to be given at the Casino on January 9. He is well known in musical circles in New York and vicinity and will add interest and pleasure to these popular concerts.

WONT RIDE ON SUNDAYS

Westfield Minister Walked to Plainfield Rather than Depart from Religious Belief.

HE ADVOCATES PEDESTRIANISM

Frequently Makes Long Journeys on Foot and Is an Admirer of Edward F. Weston.

Zealously upholding the principle that it is not in accordance with Scriptural teachings for a person professing Christianity to travel in public conveyances on Sunday, Rev. Frank Ham, pastor of the Methodist church at Westfield, walked all the way to this city Sunday, Dec. 15, in order to preach in Grace M. E. church in the borough. The pedestrian trip was accomplished despite the fact that the weather was decidedly unpropitious and the roads were for the most part heavy with mud. The clergyman timed himself so that he would reach the church but little before the hour of service and delivered a sermon without any rest. At the close of the service, he started back home, making the distance covered a total of nearly fifteen miles. By taking a trolley car Mr. Ham could have completed the trip in about half an hour each way and would have had to walk in all only ten miles for the round.

Mr. Ham is an enthusiastic disciple of Edward Payson Weston, the long distance walker, and in recent years has undertaken numerous pedestrian trips, several of which have astounded his friends because of the many miles around and over. While believing that exercise in this form has many advantages, the clergy man has inured himself to this method of travel in order to help him in adhering to his religious scruples. He has steadfastly refused to ride in any sort of conveyance on Sunday and in exchanging pulpits with brother ministers, his belief has often been put to severe tests. Where the distance is too great to be "footed" on the seventh day, he rides to the city on the Saturday preceding the night there and remains over Sunday, returning home on Monday. The walk he made from Westfield to Plainfield and back was considered by him but a trifle in comparison with others that he has done.

Mr. Ham is now in middle life but his steps has the spring and elasticity of youth while his eye has the sparkle that is only acquired by plenty of exercise in the open air. He is always ready to advocate walking as a preventative of many of the ills that flesh is heir to and in his sermon at Grace church Sunday, he made mention of some of his ideas on the subject. While he has had many embryonic followers in pedestrianism, his views on Sunday traveling have not been of the contagious sort.

CHRISTMAS EXERCISES AT HARTRIDGE SCHOOL

The pupils of the Academic and elementary grades of the Hartridge School held their customary Christmas exercises in the elementary department Friday morning. Though they were of an informal nature they were witnessed by a large gathering of parents and friends.

The program was made up of two parts, secular and sacred, and comprised bible readings, carols, songs and recitations. There was also an exchange of gifts among the pupils accompanied by good natured jests.

It has been the custom of the members of the school to collect toys each year to be given the Relief Association and this season each girl in the academic grades dressed a doll. They were placed on a Christmas tree and aggregated a large number. Every one will eventually delight the heart of some poor child.

The kindergarten department of the school held the Christmas exercises Thursday morning.

A Windy Pair.

What a shouting ticket that would be if the suggestion of the Plainfield Press should be accepted that James E. Martine be nominated at Denver on the ticket with William J. Bryan. The "Boy Orator" and the "Farmer Orator" would certainly create a breeze that would stir up the atmosphere both East and West, even if they didn't turn into a cyclone and sweep the country.—Newark Evening News.

Organ Recital Numbers.

These numbers will be rendered at the organ recital at Grace church on 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon by W. E. MacClymont, organist: "Holy Night," Buck; "Variations on an Ancient Christmas Carol," Dethier; carol, "Good King," Wenceslaus.

To Be Married New Year's Day.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Violet Hallard, of Clinton avenue, and John Ludgate, also of this city. The event will be celebrated January 1 at the home of the bride.

P.S.C. MAKES CHANGES IN LIGHTING DEPARTMENT

For the purpose of relieving the commercial department of some of its many duties, the Public Service Corporation has transferred the work of reading the electric light meters throughout the city and borough to the operating department on West Second street. In the future the commercial department on East Front street will take care of only the gas meters, three men being employed to read them.

A corps of four men is now engaged in reading the electric light meters, the present force of seven men doing the work formerly performed by four and five when it was in charge of the commercial department.

This change has been under consideration for sometime, it being the desire of the operating department to take charge of the electric meters. It is believed that less trouble will follow in the way of complaints and that greater care can be taken in the reading of meters. The old arrangement of having the men read both meters at once was quite apt to be confusing and now that the departments are separate there should be no excuse for mistakes.

JERSEY MAY BOOM DR. WOODROW WILSON

President Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton University, may be the candidate of New Jersey's delegates at the National Democratic convention next summer for nomination for President of the United States. He has loomed large whenever there has been a high office to be filled of late years, and he has been the candidate of the strong Democratic minority for United States Senator in the joint session of the Legislature last winter had he consented to the use of his name.

In a statement made last night, former Sheriff William C. Nicoll came out boldly for the Princeton man as "embodying those qualities most to be desired in the man who is to be made the party's standard-bearer in the Presidential campaign of next year." Mr. Nicoll is not what is known as a strong organization Democrat but as president of the Jeffersonian Club of Essex county, and a man with the distinction of being one of the few of his political faith who has been elected to office in this Republican county in the last ten years, his advocacy of the Wilson boom—if it may be called a boom at this stage—is taken as significant of the strength of the head of Old Nassau.

Dr. Wilson has a wide reputation as a writer and a platform speaker. He is a contributor-to the great publications of the day, and has been called of late to deliver addresses at great civic functions. A Virginian by birth, he would, according to former Sheriff Nicoll, have the strong backing of the South in convention and after election. Mr. Nicoll says that of late years the South has been a leaning toward some of the leaders of the Republican party, and must be considered as something less than a sure thing in the campaign of next year.

In the course of his statement the former Sheriff said:

"If a native of Southern birth, a Democrat by inheritance as well as conviction, a man whose opinions have been moulded through touching shoulders with the men of the best thought in the four corners of the earth, and who himself is known as a clear and admirable as that of Woodrow Wilson can be secured as the nominee of the Democratic party, he will be elected. Mr. Wilson would have the backing, I believe, of the great majority of the people in the Eastern States and would be strong in the West, while the South would stand a unit behind him.

"The country demands a man for President of the Wilson type. We need a man who cannot be called a politician in the common acceptance of that classification. He must be of clear mind, possessed of judicial temperment, able to bring to his aid in dealing with every national problem the result of a minute study of the political history, ancient and modern, of the countries of the earth."

President Wilson is a close personal friend of former President of the United States Grover Cleveland, who lives in Princeton.

Counsel for Petitioner.

J. H. Crane, counsel for the petitioner, Mary Orabee Henry, has filed a bill in the court of chancery in a suit for divorce from the petitioner's husband, Charles T. Henry, formerly of this city, but now of South Bound Brook. The parties are colored. The petition cites that the couple was married on March 25, 1896, but the wife states that she has not lived with her husband since August 15, 1907. According to the new law the final decree cannot be announced until six months after the report of the master in chancery.

Transformation.

She—I hear Jack Gale christened his new boat the Lobster. He—Yes, but it's no longer a Lobster. She—Why? He—Because it turned turtle. —London Scraps.

ANNIVERSARY OF LODGE

Iona Council, Daughters of Pocohontas, Observe Its Fifteenth Birthday.

MANY VISITORS WERE PRESENT

Entertainment Is Provided—Mrs. Pitts Elected Prophetess and Miss Hallard Pocohontas.

Iona Council, No. 14, Degree of Pocohontas, auxiliary to the Improved Order Red Men, celebrated its fifteenth anniversary in its rooms on Park avenue, Thursday. There were about 150 members and friends of the council present from Elizabeth, Somerville, Westfield, Carteret, High Bridge, Bound Brook and this city, and the occasion was made an enjoyable one. An informal program of vocal and instrumental music and recitations by members of the council was in charge of a committee of which Mrs. Sadie Bowman was the chairman. Following the entertainment dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Supper was served at midnight.

During a short business session these officers were chosen for the coming year: Prophetess, Mrs. William Pitts; Pocohontas, Miss Violet Hallard; Powhatan, John Ludgate; keeper of records, Mrs. Charles Holstein; collector of wampum, Mrs. Huey Mattis; keeper of wampum, Mrs. Sadie Bowman. The other officers are appointive and they will be announced on the night of January 8, at which time the newly-elected officers will be installed.

Iona Council is the only order of its kind in the city and since its institution fifteen years ago, has continued to grow steadily. Organized with a comparatively small number of members, today it numbers seventy-two and new members are received at almost every meeting. Mrs. William Pitts, the retiring Pocohontas, has been very successful in her office and under her direction the interest and attendance at the meetings have increased. Iona Council has the encouragement and support of local Red Men and under the rules they are permitted to attend the women's meetings. They were largely representd at last night's celebration.

PROSECUTOR ASKED TO FIGHT RAPP LICENSE

Prosecutor Berdine Friday appeared before Judge Boorasm at New Brunswick and said that he had been asked by a member of the grand jury to oppose the granting of a renewal of the license of William Rapp, of Lincoln. Mr. Berdine said he appeared entirely in his capacity of a public official.

"The statement is made," Mr. Berdine said, "that there are chicken fights and sparring matches at the place. I would like to have the matter laid over until I can get further information."

"I do not object to a delay," said Peter F. Daly, who represented the application. "But I think the objections should be put in some kind of form so that we will know what we have to meet. There is a remonstrance here, but I am not on here representing the remonstrators."

Judge Boorasm read the remonstrance, which asserts that liquor is sold to drunken men at the Rapp place, that there is fighting and disorderly conduct there, and that liquor is sold on Sunday. The judge said the court could not but take cognisance of any statements made by the prosecutor, but that if anything came up that was not anticipated by the applicant, ample time would be given him to prepare his defense. The matter was laid over until January 3.

Mrs. Abram Gulick, whom it was stated would oppose the application on the ground that Rapp sold her husband liquor, was not represented in court this morning.

---

in mind for winning over the Jersey Democracy will be discussed. Mr. Bryan's visits to New Jersey are not very frequent, and even if they're not greatly enthusiastic over his possible candidacy, and would do all they could to land the honor for someone else, Union county Democrats in common with others throughout the State, will await his visit with a good deal of interest. To the party at large it's something like official notification that Mr. Bryan is really in the race, and doesn't intend to merely wander until asked to won't carry the Donkey's burden once again. The announcement is therefore of more than passing interest.

Will Close the Clubhouse.

The Plainfield Country Club at a meeting held at the Casino, last night, it was decided to close the restaurant at once and to close the clubhouse on January 1. However, the locker-room will be kept open throughout the winter for the convenience of the members who may wish to play on the course. The annual meeting of the club for the election of governors and officers will be held at the Casino the first Tuesday night in February.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 29, 1907.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic—Foreign missions. The coming triumph of the cross. How may we hasten it?—Isa. xl. 3-8.

In this part of the eleventh chapter of his prophecy Isaiah foretells the advent and the character of the Lord Jesus Christ and prophesies the victorious spiritual restoration of Israel and also that of the coming of the gentiles also to His standard, which would mean the universal triumph of the cross. Centuries have passed into history since the great prophet spoke, but through all the years there has been an increasing fulfillment of his prediction, and never in the history of the world did the signs of the times indicate their complete fulfillment more than today. The coming triumph of the cross is assured. Those who are interested or uninterested in the next epigram is losing but a winning cause and therefore should be the more zealously consecrated to their work as related to foreign missions. The world may seem steeped in wickedness and in sin, but our God is a great God and in a day may turn the current all the other way and literally fulfill the couplet:

The indications of the coming triumph of the cross and its speedy coming are many and forceful.

1. The voice of battle.

The next the victor's song.

1. The past triumph of the cross is an indication of it's future triumph. When Christ ascended into heaven He left the care of the church in the hands of eleven men and a few other followers. He commanded them to preach the gospel "unto the uttermost parts of the earth." It seemed like an impossible task, and yet within a century the Roman world knew of Christ. In three centuries a Christian emperor ruled in Rome. Since that time Christianity has spread throughout Europe, America and from them to the great gentile nations of the world. It has met with persistent opposition. The blood of martyrs has been the seed of the church. Christianity never ceases "conquering and to conquer." Through the past only can we read the future. What has been can be and will be, and still greater things will be, for "God is marching on."

2. The material growth of the world in material conveniences indicates the coming triumph of Christianity. God directs all things, even great modern physical improvements. Missionaries of the cross only a few years ago required great time in traveling months to cross the ocean, many days of walking from stations on mission fields, weeks and months for communications with their co-laborers at home. But how all has changed! Great ocean liners carry them across the ocean; swift traveling steam trains transport them from station to station; telegraphs, telephones, oceanic cables and even the wonderful Marconi system of telegraphy are being used and will be more frequently used in their labors. The world is growing smaller every day, and God's hand is in every advancement for the sooner coming triumph of the cross.

3. Another indication of the coming triumph of the cross is the increasing interest which women are taking in its advancement. The burden formerly fell upon the women of the church and even the children, but now the men are being aroused to great interest in the work, as evidenced by the laymen's movement recently formed and the increased gifts of our Christian rich men to the cause of missions.

But all can help in bringing about the future triumph of the cross. Every dollar given to missions, every efficient effort and every sacrifice for the world's salvation, every soul saved, hastens by that much the coming of the Lord, when all men shall acknowledge Him to be the King of kings and Lord of lords.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. ii. 1-12; Isa. ii. 1-3; ix. 6, 7; lii. 7; lxii. 1-12; lxxii; Dan. ii. 34-35; Micah iv. 1-3; Matt. xiii. 33; xxviii. 19, 20; Acts i. 8; Rev. vi. 1, 2.

Value of Pledges in India.

Secretary Halliwell of the Indian Union describes an address in which Sir Andrew Fraser, lieutenant governor of Bengal, highly commended Christian Endeavor, and here is an extract from that very encouraging speech:

"I remember once when on tour coming across a solitary Indian Christian who, I suppose, never saw a Christian missionary or minister from one year's end to another. He was a very small postmaster in an out of the way village.

"I forgot how I came to know that he was a Christian. Perhaps he came to see me, or some one may have told him of the little service we held in our tent. At any rate I got to know about him and sent for him to have a talk. I found that he knew his Bible well, that every day he and his wife read the word of God together and prayed, and were soon joined by one or two of the villagers.

"To such as these, to the Indian Christian scattered abroad in the villages, lonely men or little groups of two or three, the Christian Endeavor pledges are a very great help."

Complete Mastery by Christ.

What Endeavorers need to long for and also earnestly pray for is the complete mastery of themselves by Christ. The instinct of every poor, miserable one, but it swept by the touch of His kingly hand and enveloped and indwelt every day by His divine presence the possibilities of experience and service will be great indeed.

Jesus as I am, young, strong and free,
To be the best that I am made to be;
For truth and righteousness and Thee,
Lord of my life, I come.

—Australian Christian Endeavor Link.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Dec. 29: "Our accounting." "We must all be made manifest before the judgment seat of Christ."—II Cor. v. 10.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

Passages for reference—I Cor. iv. 1-5; I Pet. iv. 4-11.

Every one has a consciousness that he is responsible for his relations to society. All human society is based on the recognition of this principle. We blame or praise others as we see their doings to be worthy or otherwise. However we have come by the ability, we all are able to distinguish right from wrong, and when we know a thing to be right to action and it is presented to us as a matter of choice we feel that we ought to do that way rather than the opposite or another way. We judge ourselves and others to be worthy of praise or blame according as right or wrong has been done.

But there is higher authority than even our own moral judgment or that of others. Paul puts the truth very forcibly when he says, "With me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you or of man's judgment: yea, I judge not mine own self, but He that judgeth me is the Lord." The ultimate source of authority for us is the Lord. His nature has the eternal principles of truth and righteousness. We have been so made that those principles of God's nature are the law of our nature also. We are like Him. His truth is for us, the right for action, the good, the beautiful and the perfect.

We were born into this great, beautiful, but awful world of material things of physical nature. We were also born into a world of moral beings. We came into it with a consciousness of nothing. We have thus far learned somewhat of both worlds. We have known hunger and thirst and also fullness and satisfaction of these appetites. We have known heart longings and also their fulfillment. We have been making a life of our own different from any and all other lives. Your body is different from all others, and the inner life is unlike any other that can be found.

Accurately now your body has its own dimensions and characteristics, its powers and limitations, so surely has the inner and true life its own measures. You cannot wholly gauge them, nor can your fellows who know you most intimately. You will not inevitably be compared with these with whom you most associate, but that comparison will not reveal your absolute worth and measure. Only He who holds the truth in His own keeping will ever know your just estimate. Jesus declared, "I am the truth, the life and the way." By the measure of His manhood you are to be judged. He is the standard man. Some day you shall stand beside Him. Then and there we will be manifest to Him, to you, to all.

Use, then, this body and earth life to grow. Before long the measuring up time will come. The man in you will be measured for a new body in a new world. We came here beginning small. How big a body will it take to fit your soul for entrance to that life? How much of a man, how much of a woman, are you now? What a changing time that will be when the Lord gives to men their bodies! You children, who are now big bodies will shrink mightily, and some little folk will be astonishingly enlarged. What will you get, do you suppose? Just what you deserve. Best deserve all possible.

Shining Lives.

Nothing can help our city and our country so much as shining lives—lives of simple honesty and faithfulness and good cheer—lives of men and women who will not lie or play the coward, who will render to all their dues, who have clear sight to see the right and firm will to maintain it and make it the common law.—Charles Gordon Ames.

Call of Love.

We hear much these days about what men will do for money, but the last of gain is, after all, not the mightiest force at the heart of human achievement. Men have done and will do more in the call of love than any other call, and that fact should make a man as optimist all his days.—Forward.

Most Precious Reward.

Praise is well, compliment is well, but affection is the final and most precious reward that any man can win, whether by character or achievement.—Mark Twain.

Helpful Thoughts.

He who would help a soul in the future must be a great soul now.—Emerson.

Exactness in little duties is a wonderful source of cheerfulness.—F. W. Faber.

Keep your fears to yourself, but share your courage with others.—Stevenson.

The truly excellent character is made up of strictness toward oneself and mildness toward others.—Schiller.

He who speaks honestly cares not, need not care, though his words be preserved to remotest times.—Carlyle.

Prudence is the most of the difficulties in trying to live the Christian life arise from attempting to half live it.—Drummond.

The depth from which our words are spoken is the measure of the depth at which they will be heard.—Julian Hawthorne.

I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand as in what direction we are going.—O. W. Holmes.

It is a good thing that life should gain in sweetness, but only provided that it does not lose in strength.—Roosevelt.

NEW JERSEY HOME OF IMPORTANT INDUSTRIES

The annual report of the State Riparian Commissioners, submitted to Governor Stokes, shows receipts for the fiscal year ending October 31 of $333,825.52, the largest in the history of the commission. This amount was received from the following sources: Grants, $140,690.98; leases, $134,897; licenses, $1,750; conversions, $21,417.30; rentals on leases, $35,070.04.

The commissioners account for the increased business by the fact that small tracts of the desirable water front of the State, where it is valuable, have been selected by men interested in commercial development, which, it is argued, still points favorably to New Jersey as the home of important industries. This commission declares that it has maintained the advanced prices determined upon some time ago, and while considerable opposition and criticism have been manifested by applicants, it has not successful in securing these favorable prices without discouraging away bona fide investors.

No litigation was necessary during the past year to maintain the title of the State to lands under water and the question seems so well understood now that little trouble it is now made, through unfamiliarity with the question to evade recognition of the State's paramount title. The only question of this kind which was in dispute a year ago has been settled amicably with a complete recognition of the position taken by the commission as to the rights of the State.

In speaking of the subject of arrearages of rentals on riparian leases, the commissioners call attention to the collection of rentals on riparian leases made by the commission was one that occupied the attention of the committee investigating the subject of riparian rights last year, and the fact was shown that there were large arrearages of rentals extending back some 30 years, and there seems to be some uestion as to whose duty it was to collect these rentals as they came due. To set the matter at rest it may be well to inevitably be compared with those with whom you most associate, but that comparison will not reveal your absolute worth and measure. Only He who holds the truth in His own keeping will ever know your just estimate. Jesus declared, "I am the truth, the life and the way." By the measure of His manhood you are to be judged. He is the standard man. Some day you shall stand beside Him. Then and there we will be manifest to Him, to you, to all.

Use, then, this body and earth life to grow. Before long the measuring up time will come. The man in you will be measured for a new body in a new world. We came here beginning small. How big a body will it take to fit your soul for entrance to that life? How much of a man, how much of a woman, are you now? What a changing time that will be when the Lord gives to men their bodies! You children, who are now big bodies will shrink mightily, and some little folk will be astonishingly enlarged. What will you get, do you suppose? Just what you deserve. Best deserve all possible.

Shining Lives.

Nothing can help our city and our country so much as shining lives—lives of simple honesty and faithfulness and good cheer—lives of men and women who will not lie or play the coward, who will render to all their dues, who have clear sight to see the right and firm will to maintain it and make it the common law.—Charles Gordon Ames.

Call of Love.

We hear much these days about what men will do for money, but the last of gain is, after all, not the mightiest force at the heart of human achievement. Men have done and will do more in the call of love than any other call, and that fact should make a man as optimist all his days.—Forward.

Most Precious Reward.

Praise is well, compliment is well, but affection is the final and most precious reward that any man can win, whether by character or achievement.—Mark Twain.

Helpful Thoughts.

He who would help a soul in the future must be a great soul now.—Emerson.

Exactness in little duties is a wonderful source of cheerfulness.—F. W. Faber.

Keep your fears to yourself, but share your courage with others.—Stevenson.

The truly excellent character is made up of strictness toward oneself and mildness toward others.—Schiller.

He who speaks honestly cares not, need not care, though his words be preserved to remotest times.—Carlyle.

Prudence is the most of the difficulties in trying to live the Christian life arise from attempting to half live it.—Drummond.

The depth from which our words are spoken is the measure of the depth at which they will be heard.—Julian Hawthorne.

I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand as in what direction we are going.—O. W. Holmes.

It is a good thing that life should gain in sweetness, but only provided that it does not lose in strength.—Roosevelt.

$000; city of Atlantic City, Atlantic ocean and Absecon inlet, $21,062; United New Jersey Railroad and Canal Company, Hackensack river, $7,320; J. Edward Ogden, Kill von Kull, $30,000; Calvin Tampkin, Passaic river, $16,932; borough of Edgewater, Hudson river, $7,500; United Lead Company, Arthur Kill, $6,250; James Brady's Sons' Company, Kill von Kull, $4,475.

The most important lease was made in April last to the Bulls' Ferry Chemical Company, for riparian rights on the Hudson river, in the principal sum of $49,410.

FACTS ABOUT THE SUN.

How It Compares With the Earth in Size and Density.

Children, when you feel the warmth and see the light of the mysterious body we call the sun do you know that its density does not compare with that of our own world? The sun in size equals 1,300,000 of our planet, while in weight it would take about 332,000 earths to weigh it down to an even balance. Thus you will readily see that our earth is of much heavier substance than is the sun. In fact, the latter body is not much denser than water.

Some conception of the immensity of the sun's distance from us may first be gained from Professor Mendenhall's whimsical illustration. Sensation, according to Helmholtz's experiments, travels at the rate of about 100 feet per second. If, then, an infant were born with an arm long enough to reach the sun and on the day of his birth he were to exercise this amazing limb by putting his finger upon the solar surface he would die in blissful ignorance of the fact that he had been burned, for the sensation of burning would take 150 years to travel along that stupendous arm.

In diameter the sun is about 866,000 miles and were it hollowed out till its crust remained but a shell our own earth could be placed in its center, bowling from it to our moon to travel in its regular orbit, which is distant from the earth 244,000 miles, and outside of which another satellite could have an orbit at a distance of 190,000 miles from the moon.—Washington Post.

Couldn't Discharge Him.

When the jury had filed in for at least the fourth time, with no sign of coming to an agreement in the Birney case, James Higgins, the jury room rose up and said, "I discharge the Jury!"

This was a new sensitive talesman, stung to the quick by this abrupt and ill sounding decision, obstinately faced the judge.

"You can't discharge me, judge," he retorted.

"Not you!" asked the astonished judge.

"Because," announced the talesman, pointing to the defendant's lawyer, "I'm being paid by that man there."—Lippincott's.

ADDITIONAL PROFESSORS AT PRINCETON COLLEGE.

The board of directors of Princeton Theological Seminary has inducted into office as assistant professors two members of its teaching staff, who have served as instructors.

The Rev. Samuel Boyd, Ph. D., was installed as Elliott F. Shedherd assistant professor of oriental and Old Testament literature. The Rev. E. D. Warfield, D. D., president of the board of directors, presided and administered the pledge; the Rev. James Dickson, D. D., of New York, gave the charge, and Dr. Boyd delivered his inaugural upon "Ezekiel and the Modern Dating of the Pentateuch."

The Rev. Casper W. Hodge, Ph. D., was installed as assistant professor of didactic and polemic theology, the Rev. E. D. Warfield again presiding. The Rev. William Irvin, D. D., of Oyster Bay, N. Y., gave the charge to the new professor and the inaugural address upon "The Idea of Dogmatic Theology" was delivered by Dr. Hodge.

MR. M'CUTCHEN TALKS ON "THE RIVER NILE"

Before a large and appreciative audience, Charles W. McCutchen gave his illustrated lecture, "Personal Sights on the River Nile," at the Y. M. C. A., last night, for the benefit of Faith chapel building fund. More than one hundred fine views were displayed by Mr. McCutchen and his lecture proved to be exceedingly interesting and instructive. Mr. McCutchen and his family traveled over a thousand miles along the River Nile and his description of that famous waterway was delightful.

Seventeen servants were employed by Mr. McCutchen for the trip and he related many amusing incidents about the natives and their characteristics. The speaker also gave many interesting statistics about the population which he met with and because of his own personal knowledge on the subject proved valuable to students of history. The lantern was operated by Aaron M. Higgins in a satisfactory manner and altogether the affair was one of much enjoyment. The profits for the Faith chapel building fund will be about $50. The original indebtedness of $2,000 has now been reduced to about $200.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

OFFICIAL.

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, N. J., held on Thursday, Dec. 5th, 1907, at 2:30 p. m. Roll call showed all members present except Freeholder Donahue. Ten minutes of the previous meeting were, on motion of Freeholder Cady, adopted as per printed copies of the members' desks.

Communications, Etc.

From J. Madison Drake as follows, viz:

Elizabeth, N. J., Nov. 20, 1907.

Major Benjamin King, director Board of Chosen Freeholders, Union county:

Dear Sir: Having been informed that your honorable body has taken a step leading to the establishment of a county library, and that books have already been contributed thereto. I have pleasure in presenting the county with a copy of my history of the Ninth New Jersey Volunteers, in which the following correspondence may find much of interest relating to the civil war.

I am, very respectfully your obedient servant,

J. MADISON DRAKE.

On motion of Freeholder Cady, it was ordered that the gift be accepted and referred to the committee on public property and buildings, and after that the clerk convey to Gen. Drake the thanks of this Board for the gift of this historical and interesting book of the Ninth N. J. Vol. Regiment.

From E. C. Hutchinson, State commissioner of public roads, as follows:

Mr. Benjamin King, etc. Confirming our verbal acceptance of St. George avenue and Lexington avenue, Rahway, on Friday, Dec. 25th, 1907, I hereby notify you, and through you, the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county, that the said avenue has been completed to my entire satisfaction, and therefore accepted upon thy part of the State.

Very truly yours,

E. C. Hutchinson, State Commissioner of Public Roads.

On motion of Freeholder Cladek, received and placed on file.

From Public Service Corp., Etc.,

Elizabeth, N. J., Dec. 3, 1907.

Gentlemen: We desire to erect a pole on the south side of the street at each end of bridge on Elizabeth avenue, where it crosses Rahway river in Rahway. Pole to be erected at curb line with a 4e wfeet of the east and west bridge abutment to carry electric light wires. Hoping to receive an early and favorable reply. I wish to remain,

Very truly yours,

Public Service Corporation of N. J.,

E. C. Deal, Superintendent.

Freeholder Cladek moved that the communication be received and referred to a special committee of three, which was so ordered without dissent.

The director appointed as the said committee, Freeholders Cladek, Gruener and Fay.

From Richard J. Higgins as follows:

Elizabeth, Dec. 3, 1907.

Petition of James J. Higgins, John F. Higgins, Richard J. Higgins, Chas. A. Higgins, John A. Smith and others:

Gentlemen: The above named petitioners appeal to your honorable board, to consider the plugging of the capable of carrying a way water at the intersection of Neck Lane and Morris avenue. The present pipe, about 10 inches in diameter is not large enough, thereby causing petitioners' grounds and cellars to flood, making them unhealthy and also injuring same. Respectfully submitted by the above, Richard J. Higgins.

On motion of Freeholder Fay, received and referred to Freeholder Woodruff, of Union township.

From Edwin W. Hine, assistant to the President, etc.:

"On the subject of the proposed improvement of Elizabeth avenue (Northern Spread street) in the town of Union, which I understand contemplates the widening of at least a portion of the roadway and the taking over of the highway as a county road by the county Board of Freeholders I desire to say that the Public Service Corporation will, when this improvement is undertaken, relocate their street railway tracks in the center of the street as widened, and substantially replace the space occupied by our tracks with Belgian block paving, using such of the present material as may be serviceable.

"We cannot agree at this time to make this improvement as far as our railroad tracks are concerned of permanent or standard construction, for the reason that within the next two years three years at the most the tracks will have to be reconstructed throughout with new rails, and when this is done it is the intention to put in the standard concrete foundation, the present financial condition of the country making this proposition absolutely prohibitive at this time."

Very truly yours,

Edwin W. Hine, assistant to the President, etc.

On motion of Freeholder Krouse, received and referred to the committee having said improvement in charge.

New Business.

By Freeholder Meisel: Resolved, That the bill of Wm. Fox, for amounting to $525 be paid when properly audited by the committee.

Freeholder Smith moved the adoption of the resolution, which was duly seconded, but after some discussion, the motion to adopt was lost on roll call, resulting 5 ayes, 11 nays and 1 absent.

Freeholder Swain at this time was excused from further attendance at the meeting.

The following bills properly audited and approved were read, and on roll call unanimously ordered paid:

Benjamin King $11.75, Henry Krouse $11.75, Joseph Ruddy $24, J. Logan Fay $2.10, Bradford Jones $7, John Robinson $6.75, Charles A. Smith $8.50, John N. Cady $5.70, Robert C. Maurer $2.70, Noah Woodruff $10, J. H. Doane $2.90, Charles R. Baker $15, P. H. Meisel $2.80, Joseph Perry $7.55, S. P. T. Wilbur $5.35, W. H. Swain $6.60, E. K. Adams $9.40, George B. Cladek $8.25.

Members' pay account—Benjamin King $42, John Robison $24, Charles A. Smith $20, John N. Cady $14, Robert C. Maurer $24, Thomas J. Pierson $34, J. Logan Fay $44, Noah Woodruff $44.50, Henry Deane $24, P. H. Meisel $20, Adolph H. Gruener $52, Joseph Perry $24, W. H. Swain $14, S. P. T. Wilbur $28, Bradford Jones $44, George B. Cladek $44, E. K. Adams $26, Henry Krouse $48.

Salary account—N. R. Leavitt $208.33, James W. Pink $60, F. W. Westcott $41.67.

Elections account—Elizabeth Daily Journal $9, Crane Bros., rent $30, B. F. Cummings, rent $30, Benjamin E. Hartz, rent $30, H. Schiller $25, Francis Whitley $25, Max Neumann, rent $30, Edward W. Doyle $25, John Loughlin $26.

Jail account—Thomas W. White $15, W. H. Lawrence, sheriff, $572.95, Henry J. Schmidt $9.25, The Hildebrandt Co. $6.70.

Lunacy account—W. R. Codington $152.

Contingent account—Edw. K. Taylor $11.50, $60, Esther C. Miller $35, W. R. Townsend $95.91.

Stationery account—A. B. Dick Co. $30, Summit Herald $3, J. F. Cahill $8, $6.05, Elizabeth Daily Journal $32.50, $5.25, Advocate Pub. Co. $18, Chas. C. Trail Publication account—The Summit Herald $31.25.

Incidentals account—Fowler & Wilson $6, W. J. Shearerer $206.15, P. H. Meisel $14.34, Frank H. Smith $260.75, Henry Keenan & Son $10, James W. Pink $12.50, George McGhee $218.17, C. Trail $35, Thompson Cole $35, H. DeMott $35, S. Rusling Ryno $78.40, W. R. Codington $45, J. S. Stiner $163.

Public buildings account—Westinghouse Co. $6, Public Service Corporation of N. J. $199.20, $49.92, Morey La Rue Co. $7.50, Kate Runyon $27, J. J. Carey $60, W. H. Hallsted, jr. $130.85, Columbia Refining Co. $20.65, Henry W. Landon $15, West Disinfecting Co. $20, John R. Rankin $39, H. Vanderveer $22, The Cudahy Packing Co. $12, J. W. Hope $81.49, $62.41, $59.02, Clark Hardware Co. $21.10, J. & S. S. Thompson $3.32, Brucklacher Bros. $49.40.

County road repairs account—J. L. Bauer $198.

County account—George W. Peek, jr., $74.75, $3.25, Charles F. W. Eckhardt $57.50, Frederick Teipel $15.30, $62.50, Peter V. Weaver $9.50, Michael W. Doyle $57.50, Robert Walpole $80.50, David H. Ramsey $72, James Crann $80.50, Sebastian Perires $72, Gustave Delahelm $80, Charles Lewis $3.50, Milton C. Lowden $10.90, James J. Carey $12.50, Jeannette C. Summers $2, Wm. H. Barton $25, H. A. Pierson $6.50, George W. Doyle $25, $80, $25, Robert T. Eaton $25, Elizabeth Daily Journal $6, $9.75, $12, Alvin R. Eaton, jr., M. D., $5, John A. Dunn $12.50, Wm. H. Kuster $12.81, Henry J. Schoppe $75, James C. Calvert $102.10, Emily E. Williamson, P. O., $132, N. C. J. English $96.55, Edward A. Atwater $500, Harriet S. Kiely $76, W. B. Toucey, J. P., $63.68, W. H. Lawrence, sheriff, $2,925.38.

Bridge account—F. J. Hubbard $52.30, $30.35, Charles C ordes $8, Wm. H. Weldon $4.30, James G. Moore $15.75, $40.65, George C. Newbaker $95.20, Denis Whalen $41.70, $20.85, J. W. Hope $42.35, James G. Moore $290, Fred Bauer $68, J. W. Hope $398.75, Frank Dechert $20.25, Wm. H. Williams $22, L. B. High $24.21, J. D. Loiseaux Lumber Co. $2.13, E. Holland Vail $12.50, Cleaves & Hedden $109, Public Service Corp. of N. J. $6, Wm. Farrier $50, Frank Avery $37.50, J. L. Bauer $10, E. B. Slater $45, $45, Isaac W. Brown $49, Frederick Ayers $117, $18.92, $29.75, $30.42, $32.62, Charles Mintel $17.03, Arthur E. Smith $35, W. H. Kuster, jr., $5, James Moran $72, J. L. Bauer $92.50, Wm. Hoffmeister $210.75, James G. Moore $687, T. C. Faitoute $19.91, J. L. Bauer $27.50, The W. T. Kirk Co. $90, J. M. Ledley $230, J. L. Bauer $55.

Freeholder Krouse moved that the vote on the resolution offered by Freeholder Meisel be reconsidered, which was so ordered.

Freeholder Krouse moved that the resolution offered by Freeholder Meisel be taken up and adopted. The resolution was read again by the clerk, and adopted on roll call, receiving 16 ayes, 2 nays, 1 excused and 1 absent.

Freeholder Krouse moved that when this Board adjourns, it stands adjourned to meet on Tuesday, Dec. 31st, 1907, at 2:30 p. m.

Freeholder Wilbur moved to adjourn, which was carried.

The director declared the Board adjourned until Tuesday, Dec. 31st, 1907, at 2:30 p. m.

R. RUSLING RYNO, Clerk.

Deeds and Contracts.

The following local real estate transfers have been recorded at Elizabeth: Lloyd Hampton et ux. to John P. Owens, northwesterly side West Third street, 387 feet northeasterly of View avenue, Plainfield, $1; Frank C. Ard to Catherine Pegas, northeasterly side Beckman street, 300 feet northwesterly of North avenue, Plainfield, $1; Josephine F. Linbarger et al. to Elston M. French, northeasterly side Leland avenue, 200 feet southeasterly of Midway, Plainfield, $1; Elston M. French to Harvey R. Linbarger, northeasterly side Leland avenue, 200 feet southeasterly of Midway, Plainfield, $1; William H. Lawrence, Sheriff, to Abram Kunzman, road to Samptown, corner Jacob Thorn, Plainfield, $2,025. These contracts have also been filed: Daniel H. Manning with Nicolas Cady, planing mill and building, Park avenue, Plainfield, $350; Daniel H. Manning with Seaman Williams, mason work new building, Park avenue, Plainfield, $770.

AUTOISTS SEEKING RELIEF

Alleged that Fines do not Go to Improve the Highways of the State.

WILBUR F. SADLER TALKS.

President of State Automobile Association Objects to Spending the Money on a Corps of Inspectors.

The New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club has instituted a crusade against the holding up of motorists by country constables on the slightest provocation. It was brought out at the meeting of the legislative committee of the club on Thursday that, according to the evidence gathered by the representatives of the various automobile clubs, the fines imposed upon automobilists, which under the law should go to the State for the purpose of repairing the roads, seldom get further than the pockets of the justices of the peace or the treasury of the municipality in which the fines are imposed.

Clive Crosby, who presided at the meeting in the place of the president, Angus Sinclair, stated that this practice was prevalent all over the State, and added that thousands of dollars had been collected in fines on autoists and none of it had ever reached the State.

It was suggested that the crops of automobile inspectors be increased to fifty, half of this number to be paid men and the other half to be reputable automobile owners, who would take it upon themselves to see that the laws governing the operators of both classes to have the power to arrest offenders. This was aimed to do away with the indiscriminate arrest of drivers of the horseless wagons by country constable who saw visions of fines to come to their pockets. It was the intention of several of the members present to make this even more radical and to attempt to obtain legislation making this body a sort of State police, and taking out of the hands of the police the power to arrest automobilists for infringements of the law.

W. F. Sadler, president of the Associated Automobile Clubs of New Jersey, opposed this measure. "It would create an entirely unnecessary State body, that would grow year by year and eat up the funds paid into the State by automobiles," was the contention of Mr. Sadler. "Why, this matter can be handled by the police," he declared, "and I am opposed to any move of this kind. This State corps of inspectors would soon grow so large that there is that it would be such that there would be no money left to repair the roads."

Taking up the question of automobile legislation, Mr. Sadler declared that it would be impossible to get a bill through this year to supplant the Frelinghuysen law and that even amendments would be dimcult to obtain, inasmuch as last year he had discovered that "politicians did not do all they promised," and that he thought the automobile interests would have cause to congratulate themselves if further unnecessary restrictions were not put upon the owners and drivers of cars. He stated that the present law was a farce, and that the automobilist could not obey it or the authorities enforce it.

The committee adjourned after recommending that the legislative committee endeavor to have the speed limit extended so that the limit in the open country should be twenty-five instead of twenty miles an hour, six miles at sharp turns and in the city, and fifteen miles an hour where houses are one hundred feet apart on the road.

NEW YORK IS MUSIC MAD.

"The Merry Widow" Scores an Unprecedented Hit at the Amsterdam Theatre.

Henry W. Savage's American production of "The Merry Widow," the reigning musical sensation of Europe, was given its New York premiere at the New Amsterdam theatre last night, and was accorded the most enthusiastic reception in the musical stage history of America, by an enormous audience that jammed the big playhouse to the limit of its capacity.

Judging from the criticisms of the piece and the splendid welcome it was given, it is difficult to place a limit on the length of its forthcoming run in New York. Indeed, the advisability of putting on a second "Merry Widow" company at another Broadway theatre is under serious consideration by Mr. Savage. Should the Yankee impresario decide to do this he would create a new record in the theatrical world, as two companies appearing in the same piece under the same management have never played simultaneously in the same city.

Among the artists, all of whom have scored in their respective parts, are Ethel Jackson, Donald Brian, H. E. Graham, Lois Ewell, Sidney C. Weedon, Fred Frear, Walter C. Wilson, Charles eMakins, Harry Hyde, Margaret Dalrymple, F. J. McCarthy, Francis Cameron, Blanche Rice, Eva Bennett, Harry Meyers, Ralph Whiting, Gerald Lane, Nicholas Szabo, Aurora Platt, Pauline Winters, Marion Armstrong, Jean Ward, Clara Tichenor, Portia Belma, Bernice Harte and Sophie Witt.

The Constitutionalist.

A DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY.

Published a.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Terms: $2.00 per year.

A. L. FORCE, Editor and Proprietor.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 26, 1907.

MARTINE—BRYAN'S RUNNING MATE.

It is strange that no boom has been started by his friends to make that honest and indefatigable warhorse of Democracy, James Edgar Martine, the running mate of William Jennings Bryan. Who could imagine a better mated pair to make the race; alike in their views; alike in their natures, and alike in their other respect conceivable. Past personal friends, the one has been teaching particularly in the West for two decades what the other has been advocating in the East for more than forty years, and both today represent the identical type of Democracy which absolutely controls the party at the present day.

Like his friend Bryan, Martine has been pretty much of a loser, but he has in a sense always been a victor for it should be borne in mind that the "Farmer-orator" has had to plough into a great Republican majority nearly every time he has been a candidate for office. Notwithstanding the overwhelming Republican majority, over 5,000, the eloquent Martine came within a few couple of hundred votes of defeating Charles N. Fowler for Congress but a year ago. More recently he came within six or seven votes of defeating Frank Briggs for the United States Senatorship. His friends and neighbors in all stations in life, from the wealthy commuter banker to the man who works in the ditches, respect and admire him, though he may not agree with his political ideas. This fact is attested by his "home vote" in every campaign in which he has figured as a candidate.

The two great elements of strength needed by any candidate for National honors are the union labor vote and the farmer vote. Martine possesses both of these. He has always stood by the honest toiler who demands good wages and reasonable hours of employment, and for which he has always enjoyed the confidence and support of that worthy factor in this State. As for the farmers', it is almost unnecessary to explain how highly he is esteemed by them. At no gathering of the grangers in years has the programme been considered complete without the name of the man from Cedarbrook farm. He enjoys their confidence as few men do.

The East must have a representative on the ticket if Bryan is to be nominated and no more suitable choice could be made than that of Martine. While we cannot agree with the political principles of either one, it is safe to say that such a combination would make a strong ticket, one which might not threaten Republican success in the next Presidential campaign but one that would make the fight exciting and spectacular from start to finish.

THE CORPORATION COUNSEL.

To serve as corporation counsel for more than a quarter of a century is no mean distinction for one man to enjoy in a community in which there never has been any dearth of lawyers capable of filling the position. And to have that honor thrust upon him term after term without under all sorts and conditions of administrations is something that is even more passing strange, when "to the victor belongs the spoils" is an accepted custom no less here than elsewhere.

Craig A. Marsh, who enjoys this rare honor, is about to be reappointed for another term of three years, in deciding to renominate him the mayor has done well by a very good sense that has been displayed in his every act since he took up his manifold duties as the city's executive. It is a fortunate thing that the municipality does not have to pay this learned member of the bar the actual value of his services for in such event his services would be beyond its reach. The $2,000 a year attached to the office is a rich investment in this case for it has been known to have saved the taxpayers many times the amount in more than one instance.

GONE TO THEIR REWARD.

Plainfield lost two prominent citizens yesterday when Rev. Dr. Charles Wesley Parsons and Daniel T. Logan Murphy entered into rest. Both had many sincere friends who will mourn their loss, and yet in the case of the former one cannot help but rejoice in the fact that the Master has seen fit to relieve him of his sufferings which he bore with Christian fortitude for twenty long years.

Had Dr. Parsons not been afflicted with a disease that caused constant excruciating pain, it is not improbable that long ago he would have been one of the foremost divines in America. Many years since, he resigned to his task and his Christian spirit was never dampened by an ailment that baffled the most skilled physician. The way in which he withstood the terrible pains won for him the admiration of all who enjoyed his acquaintanceship and it is therefore but natural that his friends should give thanks that he has at last been called to his reward.

Rev. Mr. Murphy's end came as it were "in the twinkling of an eye" but he had lived to fill a usual position in society. For thirty-three odd years he had been an active exponent of Christ's ministry and had brought many souls to Jesus. He will be greatly missed in the community in which he took great interest.

AMUSEMENTS.

Roistering, care-free, lovable Tom Jones" and his bevy of beauties who have done marvels in whiling away the hours at the Astor theatre is going to other fields. His stay at the Astor is limited to but three weeks, with special matinees on Christmas and New Year's day and it is safe to assume that even though the crowds are all thinking of holiday joys and pleasures aside from theatre-going, "Tom Jones" will be given a most rousing sendoff. With the departure of this most fascinating of comic operas the highly wonderfully successful musical season at the Astor is brought, temporarily, to an end on Monday night, January 6. Wagenhals and Kemper, managers of the Astor, will offer the first of their new productions, "Paid in Full," by Eugene Walter. This is a new play of contemporary life in America and the story told in the four acts is to be one of unusual originality and strength. In the brilliant cast will be found Lillian Albertson, Frank Sheridan, Hattie Russell Ben Johnson, Edith Burden, Tully Marshall. Mail orders will be received now and filled in the order filed. The sale of seats is announced for Thursday, January 2.

"The Man of the Hour" has passed its 500th performance at the Savoy, with no abatement of success. This interesting play has become a interesting play has become an established theatrical institution. While it has prospered month after month many new attractions have been attempted and have crumbled into failure. In "The Man of the Hour" are combined all the essentials of success—a timely theme that concerns the very life of municipal government; deft construction, appealing love story, abundant humor and fine acting. There could not be found a better acted play upon the New York stage. While "The Man of the Hour" is gripping local interest, with a demand for seats beyond the holidays, it is having sensational success in other sections. From coast to coast—it has no geographical limitations—the anti-graft play has packed the theatres. In many of them—notably the Euclid Avenue Opera House, in Cleveland, it has broken the box office records for single performances and weekly receipts. The splendid moral and charming humor of the play make it an ideal entertainment for the young. Seats for the boys and girls during the school vacation should be included in the list of Christmas gifts.

George M. Cohan's new musical comedy drama, "The Talk of New York," with Victor Moore in the role of "Kid" Burns, has scored the greatest success ever made by a Cohan piece in the metropolis. When the author and composer can start every man and woman in an audience whistling, humming or tapping his or her feet in time to the music, it is safe to declare that the musical piece they are witnessing is a hit. This happens at every performance at the Knickerbocker and it is a foregone conclusion that "The Talk of New York" will make a run on Broadway that will extend far into summer weather. Victor Moore, who plays the role of "Kid" in the Amsterdam theatre stamped him as an actor of extraordinary capability and his success in "The Talk of New York" is well merited. Cohan & Harris, the producers of the new play, have not only provided Mr. Moore with a most effective production, but have also surrounded him with a company of well known and remarkably talented people, including Nella Bergen, Lorena Atwood, Emma Littlefield, Sayde Harris, Jack Gardiner, Stanley H. Forde, Joe Smith Marbs, John Conroy and William Thompson.

Originality, novelty and surprise can always be found at Proctor's theatre, and go hand in hand with the many good things in the varieties which patrons may expect to which are furnished in every bill. For the week of December 23, a show composed almost entirely of new acts will be presented. Select your own headliners from the following: Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, who are starring in Newark, supported by a company of five people will present their great laughing success, an original farce in one act entitled, "Billy's Tombstone." William A. Dillon, the songsmith, will sing some of his latest compositions. Mlle. Agoust and company will appear in a brilliant juggling act. Curtis and Palmer will render their latest comedy songs and sayings. Conlon and Steele in a lively dancing specialty. De Chantal and his clever dogs will amuse old and young. A new set of comedy motion pictures will also contribute to an excellent diversified entertainment.

A chimney 135 feet high will sway ten inches in a high wind without danger.

DON'T BE A CHINAMAN

That's What You are When You Patronize the Mail Order Houses.

NEIGHBORS TRADE AT HOME.

Some Remarks on "Industrial Neighborliness" Suggested by an Utterance of William Allen White.

One of the best known writers in the United States is William Allen White, and one of the most remarkable things about Mr. White is his loyalty to his own town. That town is Emporia, Kan. Mr. White got his start in Emporia, and Emporia is good enough for him. He steadfastly refuses to go to some town and "go" to a large city. It is said that eastern magazine editors have offered him large salaries to go to New York and work for them, while newspaper editorial positions at enormous pay are said to be open to Mr. White in almost any big city. The young Kansan—he is now about forty—says "Get thee behind me, Satan," to all these tempters. He runs a paper in Emporia which he owns, and he would rather stay there and edit the Gazette than to be editor of the biggest metropolitan daily.

Mr. White has a theory that it is best for a human being to live in a small town, a city of a few thousand inhabitants. Of course he does not advocate life in a community where there are no modern conveniences. But every community is striving, or ought to be striving, to grow up to such dimensions that it may enjoy all modern improvements. Emporia has grown up that far, and it suits Bill White. Every little while Mr. White sprints in the Gazette something that seems to be handed out straight from the shoulder. Frequently it is a suggestion for town improvement or looking toward a plan for enabling the town to help its own. Here is a recent utterance from his pen which is applicable to any town in America:

"The man who buys his goods of a mail order house and expects his neighbors in Emporia to buy goods of him or by labor of him or to buy professional service of him is economically a leech. He is sucking industrial blood out of the town and gives none back. He sends his profits out of town like a Chinaman and has no more right to a standing in the community than a leper. We are all neighbors industrially in this town, and the man who sends away for his goods is not one of us. He is of another industrial system and deserves no man's support in Emporia."

Mr. White's allusion to the Chinaman is a happy one. It is recalled that one of the chief objections to the Chinaman's residence in this country when exclusion was being discussed was the fact that the pigtailed person spent very little money in the United States, but sent his earnings to China or took them back there with him when he finally returned to his native land. He came here not to be a citizen, but to make money of the Americans and carry the money away.

Citizens of towns like Emporia and of thousands of places either larger or smaller who do a considerable part of their trading by mail, sending their money to the big cities which have no interest in the smaller cities except to get their money and keep it, are unwittingly making Chinamen of themselves, practically speaking like Chinamen, they make their living in the community, getting their money from the other people, and like Chinamen they ship the money out instead of spending it in town, so that it may get back into local trade.

"We are all neighbors industrially in this town," says Mr. White. That is as true as anything can be. There is such a thing as being a neighbor industrially and socially. It is all very well to greet your neighbors with a cheery "Good morning," but in the long run it is more neighborly to buy a bolt of calico from Neighbor Jones, a curred ham from Neighbor Johnson and a patent lamp from Neighbor Jenkins. These little attentions will make Neighbors Jones, Johnson and Jenkins feel more neighborly, and they in turn will be more neighborly to "neighbor" with you when you have something to sell, be it professional services, town lots, hogs or hominy.

The interdependence of all the people in a community is what Mr. White intended to point out when he spoke of being neighbors industrially. If you send away for your goods you are "not one of us." Instead, you're a Chinaman. Most Chinamen do not even send away to China to buy their food-stuffs and last year's birds' nests and other dainties fancied by the orientals. There is some excuse for the Chinaman buying these things in China, because he has become accustomed to them as articles of diet and they are not to be bought in the United States. But Americans eat and wear things grown and manufactured in America. These things are on sale at the local stores. When you send away for such things, though your money does not get outside the United States, you are sending to a foreign country so far as your own community is concerned, for the money won't come back.

William Allen White, who elects to live in a small city because he believes that human happiness is best conserved in small cities, strikes the keynote of the present crusade for home trade when he declares that a man who buys his goods away from home "is sucking industrial blood out of the town and gives none back." That is what it amounts to. Unless checked, the result must be industrial anaemia.

'PHONE COMPANY ON TOP

Fanwood Township Committee Outwitted by Utilities Corporation.

According to a recent interpretation of a law of 1878, the New York and New Jersey Telephone company has apparently outwitted the officials of Fanwood township in its efforts to supply 'phone service to the residents of that place without paying the township committee for the privilege. The township committee has always demanded payment in return for franchises from any corporation or company.

The telephone company has steadily refused to pay anything to the township for permission to furnish telephone service to the residents, and now it has gone ahead with its work of erecting poles and stringing wires for subscribers and its warrant for so doing has been that the consents of property-owners over whose property it desired to run its wires, have been obtained and that it is not necessary to pay the township anything for the privilege.

It is said that the only thing for the township committee to do is to take advantage of the law of 1905, which allows townships working under the old law to take advantage of the new one, giving such committees full power to grant franchises. This must be done by the taxpayers, it being necessary to hold a special election. No matter what action is taken in the furture, however, it will have no bearing on franchises previously given. Four years ago the New York and Philadelphia Telephone Company paid several hundred dollars for a franchise to run a through line, but no privileges were given for local service. The 'phone people can give local service, no matter what is done by the authorities.

CITY FATHERS MAY SELECT ASSESSOR

Mayor Charles J. Fisk will give no intimation of whom he will appoint on January 1 as assessor in the Second ward and it is the belief that he has not yet made up his mind in the matter. In response to his request for the Republican City Committee's recommendation, that body took a stand and has forwarded him the result without any comment. John H. Hand, Democrat, Lewis G. Timpson, four, and Charles H. Hand, the present incumbent, two. This ballot by no means can be taken to infer, it is said, that Doane will be the successful candidates.

All three candidates' claims are being weighed by the mayor and when the choice is thrown in the Common Council, as it probably will be, it is expected that there will be some lively debating. Hand's friends say that if the result is left to the city fathers, there is no question about his winning out. The same claim is made by Timpson's friends.

Among the Second ward members of the City Committee, Timpson is the favorite. His name was presented by R. Henry Depew, president of the People's Lobby of New Jersey and president of the Plainfield Protective Association. It received the support of Howard Tracy, chairman of the New Idea Central Committee, and all other Coilbyite members from the ward. Continuing its general report, Mr. Timpson is not a Democrat. His friends say that he has been voting the Republican ticket for several years and that his claims is that re-publican only equally as good as his competitors.

100TH ANNIVERSARY OF WHITTIER OBSERVED.

Services in commemoration of the 100th birthday anniversary of John Greenleaf Whittier were held at the Friends' Meetinghouse on North Avenue, yesterday afternoon. One of the principal speakers was Henry W. Wilbur, a Friends' minister from Swarthmore, who dwelt on the religious life of Whittier. Another interesting speaker was Rev. A. C. Nickerson, who told of the anti-slavery work of Whittier during the Civil War.

There were scripture readings by W. D. Williams and different ones gave about twenty-five quotations of verse from Whittier. There were also readings concerning Whittier by Mrs. Clara S. Rushmore, Mrs. Mary J. Shoemaker, Miss Minnie Angell, Mrs. Cora Lippencott and Mrs. Alveretta C. Vail; also a biographical sketch by Mrs. Sarah Hutchinson. Carlton Vail recited "The Barefoot Boy," one of Whittier's best known selections.

HITS LOCAL OPTIONISTS

Assemblyman Pierce Accuses Their Leaders of Gross Misrepresentation.

Assemblyman-elect Carlton B. Pierce is the first of Union county's quartette of lawmakers to put himself on record as opposed to local option legislation at the coming session of the Legislature, the Cranford member in the Lower House having made his position clear at an affair given in his honor at Truell Hall, Saturday night. Mr. Pierce, as the guest of the Delta Upsilon Club, of Plainfield, delivered a lengthy address confining himself to political matters. His remarks caused constant applause and at the conclusion of the speech he was heartily congratulated by his fellow fraternity members for the fearlessness of his utterances.

The major theme of the Assemblyman-elect was local option and as he took occasion incidently to hit back the leaders of that movement in New Jersey. He made the unequivocal declaration that the leaders of the movement are conducting a campaign of falsehood and misrepresentation. The statement spread broadcast by Captain James Daly, of the local fire department, and John F. Daley, who is travelling in the West with a theatrical company.

JAMES H. DALY DEAD IN HIS 81ST YEAR

James H. Daly, for many years a well known resident of the city, died at 3:30 yesterday afternoon at his home in the Stillman building on West Front street. He had been failing for the past year, death being due to senile debility. Mr. Daley was eighty years old and came to this city from Flemington in 1882. He was a tailor by trade and for a time held a responsible position with the Schenflin company when it conducted one of the city's most important industries. When the concern ceased operation he entered business for himself on North avenue and continued several years, retiring because of failing health.

While a resident of Flemington, Mr. Daly was prominent in Hunterdon county politics and was also one of the organizers of the Catholic church in that place. Surviving him are a wife, one daughter, Miss Kathryn Daley, and two sons, Captain James Daly, of the local fire department, and John F. Daley, who is travelling in the West with a theatrical company.

PLAINFIELDER HEAD OF SALAAM TEMPLE

Harry W. Marshall, of this city, was elected potentate for the coming year at the annual election of Salaam Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, held in Krueger Auditorium, Newark. The others officers elected were as follows:

Chief rabban, Alfred N. Dalrymple; assistant rabban, Louis V. Aronson; high priest and prophet, William C. Astley; oriental guide, Andrew C. Snyder; recorder, George C. Ward; treasurer, John C. Groel; trustees, William W. Blanchard and Frank Tanner; representatives to the Imperial Council in St. Paul in June, Rev. Dr. William H. Morgan, Henry L. Jenkinson, Harry W. Marshall and Charles Kasefang.

The election was marked by several contests. It was necessary to cast four ballots to elect the members to represent the order at the Imperial Council. After the meeting dinner was served.

Mr. Marshall is the president of the Plainfield Board of Trade.

FITZ'S FATHER-IN-LAW WON'T ASK HIM FOR AID.

"I guess it was coming to me. I've trusted too many people in my time."

Thus David Gifford, father of Mrs. Bob Fitzsimmons, of Dunellen, spoke yesterday of his being sent to the poorhouse by the Associated Charities at Colorado Springs, Col. While he is said to be partially deranged, it is not apparent in conversation. He declares he will not ask either his daughter or Fitz for help, but will stay the remainder of his life, if necessary, on the poor farm. He is fifty-five years old.

The Charities organization is trying to find out where Mrs. Fitzsimmons is, according to dispatches, in order to notify her of her father's condition.

When Gifford was divorced from his first wife in Iowa he permitted her to retain possession of their baby, Julia, the present Mrs. Fitzsimmons, and it is said she was reared in ignorance of her father. He married again in Montana, and the second wife also divorced him on the ground of desertion. Since then he has drifted "from pillar to post."

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzsimmons are filling a vaudeville engagement at Hamilton, Ont.

SOCIAL CONDITIONS ON NEW YORK'S EAST SIDE

Under the auspices of the Young People's Association of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Rev. W. T. Elsing, of New York, gave an intensely interesting talk Friday on "Social Conditions on the East Side of New York City." Mr. Elsing for a quarter of a century has been pastor of the DeWitt Memorial Presbyterian church on Rivington street, New York, in the heart of the lower East Side, and he has much valuable knowledge concerning social conditions there.

In addition Mr. Elsing is at the head of the city mission work in that part of New York and his talk last night was filled with pathetic and amusing incidents that have come to his notice during his long service. He presented a very cheerful view of social conditions in the lower East Side, stating that they are greatly improved over that of a few years ago. The speaker also referred to the improved condition of the tenement districts as well as the foreigners who are constantly locating there.

There was a peculiar interest in Mr. Elsing's visit because of the long friendship existing between him and Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, pastor of the church. Dr. Zelie's first sermon was delivered in the very same place Mr. Elsing. The latter is a graduate of Princeton, Class '76. His work in New York has attracted wide attention in the part of all denominations.

Miss Waldo a Guest.

Mrs. Ambrose Ryder Adams, who recently gave two receptions at her home, 11 East Sixty-fourth street, New York, to introduce her daughter, Miss Alma Frances Adams, gave a theatre party and supper to the receiving party Saturday night. Among the guests was Miss Ruth Waldo, daughter of Leonard Waldo, of West Eighth street.

HUDSON TUNNEL IS READY

Passenger Service Through Big Tubes Promised within 10 Days.

It is promised that within the next ten days passenger trains will be run through two tunnels connecting New Jersey with the island of Manhattan and the city of New York. The bores which will be opened are those extending from the terminal of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad in Hoboken to Morton street, in Manhattan. One of the bores will be for trains running from Jersey to New York, the other for those coming to Jersey.

Workmen are now engaged night and day putting the electrical equipment to run the trains in the bores, and, unless all present plans miscarry, the passenger service will be in full swing by the first day of the new year.

The opening of the tunnel system will mean much to the State of New Jersey. It will mean much to Newark and its surrounding towns and cities. It is expected that the six months following the opening of the tunnel will see thousands of New Yorkers turning toward Jersey in search of homes. Within the next year it is thought that the rush will be tremendous. Prominent real estate men of Jersey City share the belief that the population of the city will be increased by 200,000 within the next few months.

The new tunnel project brings New Jersey more than five minutes nearer to New York. The trip across the Hoboken ferry now takes from ten to fifteen minutes. The trains will make the trip through the tubes in five minutes, and when things are running well the time will probably be reduced to three minutes.

History of Hudson Tunnel Project.—Work begun in 1878 by D. C. Haskin, a civil engineer, who failed in 1880, after about 1,200 feet had been built.

Construction resumed by the English contracting firm of Pearson & Son in 1890. Enterprise failed again after 1,800 additional feet had been built.

William G. McAdoo, a lawyer, organized the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad Company in 1892 and work was taken up again and pushed through.

First passenger train will be run through north tubes of tunnel by January 1.

Cost of enterprise, $60,000,000, including an $8,000,000 terminal building in Manhattan.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM AT DR. GROSZMANN'S SCHOOL.

Exercises appropriate to Christmas were held at the Grosszmann School, Saturday afternoon, and there was a large attendance of parents and friends from New York, Newark, Orange, Long Island, Washington and this city. The program was a pollyglot one and dealt in nature, the children representing various countries, and also giving a fairy tale, "Red Riding Hood," written in verse by Dr. Grosszmann. The attempt of Dr. Grosszmann was to show what had been accomplished by the children in the matter of self-control and the aims were realized to an appreciable extent. After the entertainment there was an exchange of Christmas gifts among the children.

Tomorrow night the annual Christmas tree festivities will be enjoyed by the children of the school, at which time there will be gifts to the teachers and other features. This will be more in teh nature of a family gathering, no outsiders being invited. Dr. Grosszmann was complimented for the success obtained with the children during the past term by the parents, some of whom came a great distance to the exercises on Saturday.

Kissed Pretty Actress.

A dinner for all the company on Christmas Day at Norwich, Conn., is the wager won by Thomas Uri, of the "His Honor, the Mayor" troupe, which gave one of the best performances seen here this year at the New Plainfield theatre on Saturday afternoon and night. Uri bet a friend, Henry Mozart, of Louisville, Ky., that if Miss Botti sang "A Little Girl Like Me," he would be embarrassed, Mozart wagering that on the other hand he would accept her invitation for a kiss. Not knowing the wager, Miss Botti directed her song to Mozart, who promptly jumped on the stage and gave her a smack a ala Olga Nethersole much to the edification of the S. R. O. house Madelyn Marshall, who made such a hit in "The Free Lance" and other working actors, kept the house howling into convulsions of laughter time and again.

Rev. Dr. Shaw Leaves.

Rev. and Mrs. George B. Shaw and children left South Plainfield at 6:40 o'clock last night for Milton, Wis., where they will spend Christmas with Mr. Shaw's parents. The first of next week Mr. Shaw will go on to North Loup, Neb., where he will assume the pastorate of the Seventh-Day Baptist church. A large delegation of members of the Seventh-Day Baptist church accompanied Mr. Shaw and his family to South Plainfield to give them a farewell sendoff and wish them success and happiness in their new home.

CELEBRATE HOLY NATIVITY

Special Services Were Held by Many Local Congregations Yesterday.

Christmas was observed in the following churches Sunday:

Trinity Reformed.

Christmas Sunday was a particularly happy day at Trinity Reformed church yesterday, special services being held morning and night. Although Miss Winifred Carroll, contralto of the choir, was detained by illness her place was taken by Mrs E. H. Bird and special music was rendered. The regular Christmas program will be given next Sunday morning. The church was attractively decorated with trees, greens, holly and red crepe paper tied in bows. An effective arrangement was a star containing sixteen incandescent lights, suspended over the pulpit. This was illuminated at night, and large white letters displayed the words, "The King is Come." About the pulpit was placed two large blooming white narcissus. The decorating committee comprised H. F. Crawford, chairman; H. P. Seader, Fred Soper, Miss Harriet Randall and Miss Elmer Lide.

A feature of the morning service which delighted everyone was the short address by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor. This was his first words to the congregation in the church auditorium, and he took occasion to welcome them all for past loyalty and he wished everyone a "Merry Christmas." He also announced the benediction at the close of the service.

Rev. Dr. E. P. Johnson, acting pastor, preached a strong sermon from the text St. John, first chapter, and portion of fourteenth verse.

The musical part of the service comprised a "Te Deum," by the quartet choir, and Miss Raybert also rendered a beautiful solo, "The Birthday of a King," in a way that pleased the congregation.

An elaborate Christmas service was held in the evening by the Sunday-school, which was in charge of Superintendent F. E. Smith. The school occupied seats in the body of the church, while the rest of the edifice was thronged with members of the church and congregation.

Te program opened with these recitations: "The Sweetest Story," Wilma Tier; "Christmas Greeting," Willett; "Christmas to All," Beatrice Bodine; "Sweeter Every Year," Charles Todd. In addition there was singing by the Junior department, led by the superintendent, Mrs. L. E. Schofield, with Master Ernest Stevens, accompanist, and singing by the Primary department, led by the superintendent, Mrs. J. M. Tier, and Miss Luey Coriell accompanist. The Junior department, from memory, recited "The Christmas Story," as related in the second chapter of St. Luke.

The principal part of the program was devoted to a cantata," The Joy of the Christmas Morn," by the Primary department, under the direction of Mrs. J. M. Tier, superintendent. The various parts were taken as follows:

"The Longing for Christ," Adelaide Cole, Ada Smith, Marguerite Barkalew and Maud McAfee; "Night," Elsie Tier; "Morning," Helen Roberts, who recited and also sang; "The Joy of His Birth," Ralph Martin; "The Joy of the Children," Beatrice Tier, Helen Woodruff, Marjorie Storr, Helen Saffron, Margaret Smith, Marjorie Kellogg, Edna Smith, Margaret Hope, Madeline Blair and Elsie Debele; "Joy in the Home," Adelaide Cole, Ada Smith, Marguerite Barkalew, Maud McAfee, Helen Roberts, Elsie Tier, Ralph Martin, Marjorie Tier, Alfred Willett and Harold Gayle; "The Joy of the World;" (Holly Song), Theo. Vail, Marian Woolley, Dorothy Martin, Louise Seader, Grace Vail, Nellie McAfee, Marion Blair, Ella VanArsdale, Adele Freeman, Ruth Freeman, Ruth Hoffman, Lillie Schlief.

An interesting part of the program was an exercise by the Beginners' department, the following taking part: Malcolm Sheppard, Clifton Wiggins, Alma Allegar, Dorothy Seader, Carl Schlief, Elsie Zinn, Marjorie Dutford, Reginald Applegate and Alfred Townley.

Horace J. Martin, Sr., was precentor, and led the school in the singing of carols. An excellent orchestra also assisted in the rendition of the musical selections. The orchestra was comprised of C. P. Wheeler, R. W. Barnes and Miss Elelyn Berg, violins; Dr. J. P. Berg, 'cello; Elmer P. Wheeler, flute, and Miss Lillian A. Force, piano. Praise is also due to the excellent choir under Arthur Titsworth, organist, for their part in the program.

Park Avenue Baptist Church.

"The King of Kings" was the name of a cantata given by the Sunday-school of the Park Avenue Baptist church, yesterday afternoon. Superintendent George E. Hall was in charge. There was a very large audience assisted in the rendition of the musical numbers was an orchestra comprising Arthur S. Mosher, George W. V. Moy, Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, Ernest Higham, Miss Arline Brown, Miss Marjorie Brown and Whitney C. Frazee.

The numbers of the cantata were as follows: Chorus, "Remember Us, Lord," the Misses Bessie Giles, Viola Hillyer, Lulu Stryker, Nellie Giles, Ada Williams, Emily Runyon, Anna Clark, Elinore Stutsman and Sarah Boyd; exercise, Charles Dayton, Harry C. Runyon, Benjamin Hadley and Charles VanWinkle; motion recitation, Miss Elinore Stutsman; recitation, "Ho! Watchman," Miss Bessie Giles; chorus, "Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord," the Misses Bessie Giles, Viola Hillyer, Lulu Stryker, Nellie Giles, Ada Williams, Emily Runyon, Anna Clark, Elinore Stutsman and Sarah Boyd; tenor solo, Harry C. Runyon; vocal solo, "Sleep, Little Baby," Miss Agnes Dooley; recitation, James Sutton, Nelson VanWinkle, William Richards, William Doane; song by the Wise Men, Charles Dayton, Charles VanWinkle, Harry C. Runyon and Benjamin Hadley; tenor solo, Benjamin Hadley; recitation, Miss Alice Brown. The cantata was concluded with several carols by the chorus of young women.

The morning and evening services at the church were largely attended. The choir rendered special music and the pastor, Rev. A. E. Finn, preached Christmas sermons.

First M. E. Church.

In addition to the program at the First M. E. church, which was followed as published Sunday, the exercises held in the main department of the Sunday-school in the afternoon included the singing of carols, with orchestral accompaniment of three pieces. James R. Joy, as superintendent of the school, was in charge of the program. Under the direction of Mrs. Judd Stewart, the Intermediate department presented this program: Recitation, "The Christmas Story," nine boys; recitation, "A Christmas Thought," Lucile Grant; song, "Glory to God in the Highest," fifteen girls; recitation, "Dorothy's Christmas Gift," Zeta Voorhees.

There were large congregations at both the morning and evening services when the following musical programs were rendered as announced and the pastor, Rev. A. C. McCrea, preached appropriate sermons. The edifice was attractively decorated with greens and flowers.

Congregational Church.

Following the morning Christmas service at the Congregational church, the Sunday-school enjoyed a special program, which included instrumental numbers on the organ, piano, 'cello and violins by Mrs. B. T. Barnes, Miss Alice Morgan, William Gaston, Herbert Smith and Clarence Hamilton. There were solo dances by Miss Martine Weeks and Miss Elizabeth Martin; an anthem by the choir and informal exercises by the primary department. The program pleased a large number of people who remained after the morning service. Mr. Paulding Van Nike, 'cellist, assisted in the rendition of Christmas music and also gave several solos. There was no evening service.

First Baptist Church.

The announced program was followed at the First Baptist church, yesterday morning and afternoon. The special anthems by the quartet and chorus choir in the morning were especially well rendered, and the sermon by the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, enjoyed. In the afternoon the pregared program was followed by the Sunday-school, in which members of the Junior and Primary departments took part. Mrs. L. W. Serrell was in charge of the Junior department and Mrs. J. A. Powlison the Primary department. Mrs. Dudley S. Miller and Miss Marguerite Serrell assisted at the piano. Dr. Chambliss gave a brief but interesting talk to the school. The offering was for The Day Nursery.

Grace M. E. Church.

Owing to the critical illness of Rev. Dr. C. W. Parsons, the pastor, whose death occurred later in the day, the members of Grace M. E. church made no especial preparation for a Christmas service in the morning yesterday. The pulpit was occupied in the morning by Rev. Dr. H. D. Starks, of Montclair, and he delivered a Christmas sermon. In the afternoon at the Sunday-school exercises Dr. Starks made a short address to the school. There was the singing of carols, Superintendent W. J. Conroy being in charge. Recitations were given by the following children under direction of Miss Florence Smalley: Edith Magee, Alma Coombs, Clara Bodenheimer, Gladys Brokaw, Samuel Bodine, Roy Pope, Helen McDonald, Helen Nelson, Evelyn Nelson, Edna Mantz, Grace Conover, Marie Van Winkle, Edna Taylor, Harold Taynor, Thomas Considine and Clarence Bodine. No evening service was held on account of Dr. Parson's death.

Monroe Avenue M. E. Church.

The church and Sunday-school united in a special program at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church yesterday morning, the features being the singing of anthems by the choir and carols by the school. Miss Charlotte Aldrich had charge of the school program. Rev. E. E. Roberson, the pastor, delivered an appropriate Christmas sermon. In the evening the choir sang Christmas anthems and Mr. Roberson preached again.

Presbyterian Sunday Schools.

As in former years, the Sunday schools of Hope, Warren and Bethel chapels assembled at a union service yesterday afternoon with the Crescent Avenue Sunday-school. The pulpit was banked with palms, ferns and flowers for the occasion and Rev. Dr. Zelie presided. In addition to the singing of carols by the entire gathering and solos contributed by the Crescent Avenue church choir, the program was as follows:

Responsive reading, led by L. R. Hopton, superintendent of Crescent Avenue school; prayer, Rev. F. D. Tildon, pastor of Bethel chapel; responsive reading, E. B. Parvin, superintendent of Warren chapel; responsive reading, led by G. Herbert Condict, superintendent of Hope chapel; address, Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie; prayer, Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor Warren chapel; benediction, Rev. L. R. Hopton, pastor of Hope chapel.

First Presbyterian Church.

The program at the First Presbyterian church was carried out as detailed in Saturday's Daily Press. The musical part was in charge of Organist Clifford A. Braider and appropriate sermons were preached by Rev. Herring. In the afternoon the Sunday-school took part in an appropriate program of recitations and singing.

PUBLIC LIBRARY MAKES THE CHILDREN HAPPY

Christmas is the children's time, and following the suggestion of a good friend of the children, the young people's corner at the Library has been decked in holiday attire.

The green and red decorations cover many an empty space caused by the constant distribution among our young people of children's books, and especially by the Christmas literature. As the Christmas books come back they are going to be placed on the table so that during the next two or three weeks the boys and girls may continue the holiday season feasting on poetry, stories, Christmas customs or games.

Pictures, too, are being displayed. There are pictures of presents that sister or brother can make and pages of Christmas dolls, for in the doll-land there is a Christmas time too.

And would you like to know some pretty ways to decorate the dinner-table on Christmas day? Well, visit the Library and you will see pictures of tables with Santa Claus standing in the centre, or large Christmas bells, and in one there is a table with about a dozen small stockings hung over it, which are filled with all sorts of good things.

These decorations will be up until after the New Year, so the corner will be a most attractive place for the boys and girls during the holiday vacation.

NELSON R. PETERSON ANNOUNCES HIS MARRIAGE

To the great surprise of his many friends Nelson R. Peterson, of Watchung avenue, today announced that he was married in benedict for the past four months. He was married on August 7 last, the bride being Miss Gertrude Porter, daughter of Mrs. Mary Porter, formerly of Newark, but now of South Stirling. The wedding was performed at "The Little Church around the Corner," New York, Rev. Dr. Houghton officiating. Mrs. Evaline P. Cornish, of Newark, sister of the bride, and Percy Vail, of this city, were the attendants.

Mr. Peterson is a rural mail carrier attached to the local post office and the wedding was the result of a romance commenced last summer. The present Mrs. Peterson was then visiting friends at South Stirling, and her letters were delivered by the Plainfieldite. They became acquainted in this way and when the young woman's vacation was concluded and she returned to her home they had reached an agreement that took them to Dr. Houghton's church.

The groom is a member of Company K, and also of the Independent Fife and Drum Corps. He and his bride will begin housekeeping on Howard street early in January.

No Service At Grace M. E.

Because of the death of Dr. Parsons, no service was held in Grace M. E. church Sunday. The congregation assembled, not being aware of the pastor's demise, and a short prayer was made by Dr. Carroll, after which the benediction was pronounced. The official board held a meeting later in the evening and arrangements were made for a session tonight at which action will be taken relatives to Dr. Parson's death. The Christmas entertainment, which was to have been given Friday night, will be omitted.

STUYVESANT HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS THE P. H. S. FIVE.

The Plainfield High School basketball team was again under in the P. H. S. gymnasium, Saturday afternoon, when a game with the swift team from the Stuyvesant High School, New York, was played. The final score was 41 to 22. The local five in the first half scored 12 points, while the visitors run up a score of 22. In the last half the New York boys simply ran away from their opponents and the game was never in doubt.

Doane Favorite For Assessor.

John H. Doane is the favorate among the Second ward members of the city committee for assessor. The vote of that ward in committee stood: Doane, 3; Timpson, 2, and Hand, 1.

T. LOGAN MURPHY DEAD

Retired Clergyman Succumbs After Four Day Illness in 69th Year.

Following an illness of but four days' duration, Rev. T. Logan Murphy, a retired clergyman, for many years rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, passed away at his home in West Front street at 4 o'clock on Sunday morning. He was taken ill with the grip on Wednesday, after having been about town the previous day. His condition was not thought alarming but on Friday he became much worse, gradually sinking, and at 4 o'clock on Sunday morning he passed into unconsciousness, his end following within three hours.

Rev. Mr. Murphy, who was well known among townspeople generally, became rector of the Church of the Holy Cross on February 14, 1877, continuing in his ministrations among the people of that parish until July 1, 1899, when ill-health compelled him to give up the work. With his wife and daughter, he sailed for Europe, hoping to recuperate his health. He accepted an invitation to become assistant rector at the American church in Paris, where he remained for two years. Since that time, he had lived quietly in this city where he had a host of friends.

Born at Pittsburg, Pa., Sunday, October 30, 1829, Rev. Mr. Murphy received his early education in that city. His boyhood days were spent at Newportville, Pa. He received his degree in divinity at the Philadelphia Divinity School in West Philadelphia. He was ordained to the diaconate by the Rt. Rev. Dr. William Bacon Stevens, bishop of the diocese of Pennsylvania, on December 20, 1865, receiving his priest's orders on September 26, 1866.

His first parish work was undertaken at Grace church Philadelphia, while still a deacon. His ordination to the priesthood took place in the old see church of New Jersey, St. Mary's, Burlington, the venerable Bishop William Odenheimer officiating.

In October, 1866, Rev. Mr. Murphy accepted an invitation to become rector of Calvary church, Tamaqua, Pa., where he remained for one year. In the next year he took charge of Zion church, Newport, R. I., and later consented to assume the work at Christ church, Fitchburg, Mass., where he remained until coming to the Church of the Holy Cross.

On July 17, 1867, Rev. Mr. Murphy married Miss Annie E. Mixsell, daughter of David Mixsell, a wealthy and influential resident of Easton, Pa. The wife and three children, former Councilman Clarence Murphy, and Arthur T. Murphy, both local lawyers, and Miss Annie Murphy, survive him. He was a member of Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum.

The funeral, which will be private, will take place at his late home tomorrow afternoon. Rev. E. Vivars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, will officiate. Interment will be made at Hillside cemetery.

Y. M. C. A. Five Won.

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team took the Madison Y. M. C. A. five into camp at the local gymnasium, Saturday night, by a score of 49 to 39. The local team played an especially strong game. At the end of the first half the score was 25 to 21 in favor of the locals and the score of the second half was 24 to 17 in favor of the Plainfield five. No other game was played.

DEATH OF DR. PARSONS

Distinguished Methodist Episcopal Divine Released from His Suffering.

Rev. Dr. Charles Wesley Parsons, pastor of Grace M. E. church and one of the best known Methodist ministers in the East, died at his home on Park place at 5:45 Sunday night. He had been ill for the past three weeks with pneumonia and complications indirectly due to an operation for tic doulloureux, which he underwent a month ago. It was performed at the German Hospital, New York, and he returned home shortly afterward, firm in the belief that an affliction that had been upon him for twenty years had been alleviated if not entirely cured.

The illness that directly caused his death was not considered especially serious at first but at times last week his condition became quite grave and Saturday night it was alarming. He continued to grow worse all yesterday and sank into unconsciousness three hours before the end.

Dr. Parsons was born at Decatur, N. Y., fifty-seven years ago and prepared for the ministry at Casenovia Seminary, near Scranton, Pa., and afterward at Drew, graduating from the latter in the class of '74. His first charge was at Fairfield, Herkimer county, N. Y., and he remained two years at that place which he almost doubled the membership of the congregation. After that he was pastor of the following churches: Hanson Place, Brooklyn, three years; St. Paul's, Newark, five years; Grand Avenue, Kansas City, three years; State St., Watertown, N. Y., three years; First, Gouveneour, N. Y., First, Anoka, Minn., one year; First, Minneapolis, Minn., one year, and lastly, Grace church, North Plainfield, where he assumed charge two years ago last April.

In all his pastorates, Dr. Parsons accomplished a great work but in later years he was retarded and kept from his efforts by constant and distracting pain in the face. At times it was excruciating and it was because of this affliction he assumed charge like that of Grace, finding that the duties of a smaller congregation would be more conducive. His brilliancy and depth of thought would have made him a leading factor in the religious world if he could have ridden himself of the physical drawback but as it was he had risen high in the denomination. A month ago the pains became so intense that he decided to undergo a further operation and arranged his affairs in order to be away an indefinite time. He passed through the ordeal, one that would have appalled an ordinary man as the surgeons had to cut his face open without administering anaesthetic, and he came back to Plainfield. But it was a thought that it had not been in vain.

Dr. Parsons took a great interest in the political affairs of the nation and was a personal friend of many statesmen. At one time he was Governor-elect Fort's pastor.

Dr. Parsons is survived by his wife, two sons and two daughters. The latter are Mrs. J. H. B. Conger, of Newark; Frederick Parsons, of Chicago, and Miss Helen Parsons and George Parsons at home. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary C. Dedrick, of Albany, N. Y. The funeral will be held in Grace church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock and burial will be at Fairfield, N. Y.

—Fifty dozen of fancy celery will be put on sale by Neuman Brothers this afternoon. Place orders for some as it is sure to go quick.

You want THE CENTURY MAGAZINE IN 1908

"The best has been done in previous years by this publication, which has been such an important factor in the cultural development of the American people in the past three decades and which promises to be no less important a factor in the future."
—Boston Globe

¶ In the magazine world the one by which the rest are measured has always been and is today THE CENTURY.

¶ Ask writers where their best productions are first offered,

¶ Ask public men where articles carry the most weight,

¶ Ask the public what magazine is the choice among people of real influence,

¶ The answer is the same,

"In all the feverish desire of magazine makers to cater to the superficial taste, the editors of THE CENTURY have stood firmly by the ideals of the best in literature, art, and thought; and THE CENTURY MAGAZINE today is one of the finest monuments to those ideals and one of the greatest forces in the literary life and culture of the nation."
—Minneapolis Journal

The best of fiction, and of popular scientific articles, the most richly worth while biographical articles, the finest and best pictorial features, will be found in THE CENTURY during 1908. There will be "The Reminiscences of Lady Randolph Churchill," the story of the beautiful American girl who shared her brilliant husband's brilliant social and political successes during one of the most interesting periods of English history.

Prof. Percival Lowell will discuss "Mars as a Possible Abode of Life"—fascinating, authoritative papers, intended especially for unscientific readers. All Helen Keller's recent poetry and prose writings —by far her most remarkable work—will appear in THE CENTURY in 1908. And Dr. S. Weir Mitchell has written the fiction serial of the year, "The Red City," a delightful historical novel of Old Philadelphia, continuing his famous "Hugh Wynne."

No magazine today publishes such remarkable color pages as THE CENTURY; in no other magazine are to be found so many illustrations suitable for framing, and really worth while. Joseph Pennell de Ivanowski is painting portraits of the most noted opera singers. There will be one of Cole's beautiful wood-engravings, description and illustration of new processes in photography, and scores of pages in color, tint, and photogravure.

Subscription Price $4.00 a year.

THE CENTURY CO.
Union Square New York City

"* * * Of all the newspapers in New York, the one which has approached most closely to what an American newspaper should be in straightforwardness and tone is THE NEW YORK TIMES stands first."
—Harper's Weekly.

The New York Times
"All the News that's Fit to Print."

Gives more space to news than any other New York newspaper. It gives important news free from bias. It goes into bones that bar other newspapers.

The London Times' Cable News appears in this country exclusively in THE NEW YORK TIMES. No other American newspaper excels THE NEW YORK TIMES in the presentation of Domestic or Foreign News.

The New York Times
Is Now Appearing Every Sunday.

Improved and Enlarged
with an illuminated PICTORIAL SECTION OF EIGHT FULL-SIZE PAGES, embracing pictures of prominent people in society and public life, also scenes and incidents of the important events of the day.

The Magazine Section accompanies the SUNDAY TIMES presents a variety of interesting illustrated features, with a fine selection of the best stories about men and women of prominence.

The New York Times.
Saturday Review of Books.
which accompanies the Saturday Edition, is the recognized authority in which the public looks for the first news of books.

The New York Times.
Weekly Financial Quotation Review.
gives a weekly review of current prices of stocks and bonds; also the dealings in securities, including high and low prices—comprising a compact and convenient reference publication for investors and others interested in financial matters.
ORDER THROUGH YOUR LOCAL NEWSDEALER,
or mailed direct from office, as per following rates:
SUBSCRIPTION TERMS:

	By Mail.
One Year, Sundays included	$6.50
Six Months, Sundays included	3.25
Three Months, Sundays included	1.75
One Month, Sundays included	.75
One Year, without Sunday	4.00
Daily, without Sunday, per year	6.00
Daily, without Sunday, six months	3.00
Daily, without Sunday, three months	1.50
Daily, without Sunday, one month	.50
Daily, without Sunday, one week	.12
The New York Times Weekly Financial Quotation Review	1.00
Saturday, with Section Devoted to Review of Books, per year	1.00
Sunday, with Pictorial Section, per year	2.50

Postage to foreign countries for Daily and Sunday Editions, add $1.05 per month.

Newsdealers who are not receiving THE NEW YORK TIMES—Daily and Sunday editions—should order at once regular supply at once. Write for terms. Address Circulation Manager.

The New York Times
Times Square,
New York.

MAGAZINE READERS

SUNSET MAGAZINE
beautifully illustrated, stories and articles about California and all the Far West. $1.50 a year

CAMERA CRAFT
devoted each month to the artistic reproduction of the best work of amateur and professional photographers. $1.00 a year

ROAD OF A THOUSAND WONDERS
a book of 75 pages, containing 120 colored photographs of picturesque spots in California and Oregon. $0.75

Total . . . $3.25

All for . . . $1.50

Address all orders to
SUNSET MAGAZINE
Flood Building San Francisco

FOR AGENTS—AN OPPORTUNITY!
"THE OLD WORLD AND ITS WAYS"
BY
William Jennings Bryan.
NOW READY FOR SOLICITORS.
576 Imperial Octavo Pages. Over 200 Superb Engravings from photographs taken by Mr. Bryan.
Recounts his trip around the world and his visits to all nations. The greatest book of travel ever written. The people are waiting for it. The agent's harvest. Outfit FREE—Send fifty cents to cover mailing and handling.
THE THOMPSON PUBLISHING CO.,
St. Louis, Mo. 7 26 3 c

W. H. CODINGTON,
Counsellor-at-Law
Commissioner of Deeds, Master in Chancery, Notary Public. Offices Corner of Park avenue and Second street.

Sanitary Plumbing
Brick and Portable Furnaces
Gas Fitting, Tin Roofing, Etc., Etc., Etc.
I am prepared to do any of the above branches in strictly first-class sanitary and workmanship manner.
Having associated myself with the Master Members Association of New York City, I employ none but first-class mechanics and non-union men. I believe in every man running his own business, at all times and in all cases.
D. W. LITTELL

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

NEW IN EVERY DETAIL
My new barber shop at
143 NORTH AVE.
is now open ready for business. All the latest appointments in the tonsorial line.
EDWINED. MAYNARD.

DIME
Savings Institution,
Of Plainfield, N. J.,
Is now receiving deposits with interest, allowed on all sums from $5 to $3,000.
J. Frank Hubbard, President.
Wm. F. Arnold, } Vice-Pres
Jeremiah Manning, }
J. C. Pope, Sec'y and Treas.
Money deposited on or before January tenth will draw interest from the first.

COMMERCIAL LAW.
By Utley E. Crane, the well-known Philadelphi attorney. An instructive and invaluable treatment of this subject in its various branches.
PICTURESQUE PENNSYLVANIA.
Pennsylvania's beautiful scenery described with illustrations.
MUSIC WITHOUT A TEACHER.
Learn to play the piano in 12 lessons, one lesson to be published each Sunday.
These remarkable and valuable features will at appear in the Sunday Record in addition to the general news and other special features. Order from your newsdealer in advance.
THE PHILADELPHIA RECORD,
917 Chestnut street. 10 24 3

Guaranteed Salary $900 YEARLY.
Men and women of good address to represent us, some to travel depositing agents, others to open local offices; leading reliable concern. $900 salary guaranteed yearly; extra commissions and expenses, rapid advancement; only those willing to work and chance for earnest man or woman to secure pleasant, permanent position. Honest investigation solicited. Write at once.
STAFFORD PRESS,
23 Church St., New Haven, Conn

DIED.

McGINLEY—On Tuesday, December 17, 1907, at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Susan Farrell, 151 Huntington street, Brooklyn, John McGinley, in his sixty-third year.

LUCIE—On Tuesday, December 17, 1907, at her late home, 225 West 130th street, New York, Mary A. Lucie, wife of Edward F. Lucie.

DUNN—On Thursday, Dec. 19, 1907, Emma, daughter of James M. and the late Martha E. Dunn.

MURPHY—On Sunday, December 22, 1907, at his residence, 112 Madison avenue, Rev. T. Logan Murphy.

PARSONS—On Sunday, December 22, 1907, Rev. Charles Wesley Parsons, D. D.

KIERNAN—On Sunday, December 22, 1907, at her late residence, 12 Steiner place, North Plainfield, Sarah, daughter of William and the late Catharine Kiernan.

DALY—James H. Daly, at his home, 310 West Front street, Sunday afternoon.

Hope Boys Win.

The Hope church Boys' Club basketball five defeated a team from the Plainfield High School freshman class in the Hope gymn Saturday night. The score was 46 to 8. The teams lined up as follows: Hope—Kenney, Firstbrook, Muir, C. Hoffman. High School—Morang, Clark, Bohan and Todd, Dorthy and Van Zandt.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Lottie Blair Parker has already made a reputation with her "Way Down East," but she added to it appreciably when she wrote "Under Southern Skies." Her plays are all of the clear variety, with action galore. In addition she works in a prettiness of detail that a man might strive for all time to bring about, but which a woman can do innately. "Under Southern Skies" tells of life in lower Louisiana in the period around 1875 and necessarily brings in the quaint costumes of that day. The scenery used in "Under Southern Skies" is suggestive of the South in every one of its details showing picturesque scenes of home life and other interesting phases of southern life. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre Christmas afternoon and night.

A strong heart story of Indiana, from the pen of the gifted Ramsay Morris, is announced as the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday night. It was suggested by the strong story of the "Ninety and Nine," made famous by the late Ira D. Sankey and in addition to having enjoyed a run of several months in New York has two road seasons to its credit. It is very strong scenically and with the original metropolitan cast should make an acceptable offering for the patrons of the local playhouse.

Leonard Grover's new comedy drama, "The Minister's Daughters," is a very pleasing and strong play, and is in the hands of an exception-

"WHERE'S THE FIRE? THERE!"
A Scene from "Minister's Daughters" at the New Plainfield Theatre Friday evening, December 27.

ally good company. The play deals with pathos and comedy so intermingled that the audience pay earnest attention to its action from the first curtain, until the fall of the final one. This play staged in an elaborate manner, will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night.

"Thorns and Orange Blossoms," that masterly dramatic conception taken from the novel of Bertha M. Clay, comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night. The cast has been strengthened; the scenery all bright and new and many more electrical effects added. Both press and public in Eastern cities acclaim the production one of the prettiest on tour this season, and no expense has been spared by the Rowland & Clifford Amusement Co. to make the production give satisfaction.

ARRESTED, HE PROTECTS FAMILY'S IDENTITY.

Several persons Saturday identified a prisoner in the Newark Police Headquarters as a man who was seen in or near their houses at the time of recent robberies in which plunder of the aggregate value of several thousand dollars was carried away. The fellow described himself as Henry Tomlinson, twenty-four years old, of the Mills Hotel, Seventh avenue and Thirty-sixth street, New York. He later admitted that the name and address are fictitious. He refuses to tell anything about himself other than that up to the time of his arrest after a lively chase in Newark on Thursday afternoon he made his home with his mother and sister.

That he is a resident of New York the police are satisfied, but he declares that he will go to prison for twenty years, if necessary, rather than disgrace his mother and sister by revealing his own name and their identity and residence.

"I won't tell you anything," he declared to the police. "If you want to know anything more about me it is up to you to find out."

"Tomlinson" will not admit that he is the "gentlemanly" sneak thief who has been seen several times and has obtained much plunder, but formal charges have been made against him.

Elks Will Give Children a Treat.

Poor children of Orange will be entertained on Christmas Day by Orange Lodge of Elks in the city armory. Bryon G. Harlan, a noted singer, will be Santa Claus, and dispense gifts to the children. There will be an entertainment in conjunction with the distribution of good things.

$15,000 For Three Cows.

Three thoroughbred belted Holstein cows, declared to be the best of their breed in New England, were sold Saturday at Worcester, Mass., to Wendell Andrews West, of Englewood, N. J. They were bought from G. Harry Dodge, who received $15,000 for the animals.

Exhibition of High-class Water Colors

High Class Water Colors by American and Foreign masters. These beautiful water colors will positively be sold at a great sacrifice. The exhibition will begin December 11 and will continue until December 21, at the

Plainfield Art Store,
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Vail JEWELER AND OPTICIAN

103 Park Ave.,
calls your attention to his
Rimless Glasses.
They Look Good and
You See Good.

APPETIZING THINGS
For the Holidays.
Delicacies for every course are here in abundance and priced to promote quick trading. Best quality Canned Vegetables, Unequalled Canned Meats, Salmon and Sardines, Delicious Preserves, Jellys, Canned Fruits, Fresh, ripe Oranges, Bananas, Grapes, and Apples, Figs, Raisins and Assorted Nuts.
Your orders most cordially invited and promptly delivered.
W. W. DUNN,
THE PARK GROCER.
Dunn St. and Lincoln Pl.

STOP AT Central R. R. News Stands for PLAINFIELD PRESS, always on sale. Daily and Sunday papers delivered, all magazines, weekly papers, novelties, back numbers a specialty. R. R. guides, automobile road and state maps. Phila. papers. Fine brands of Cigars and tobacco. Open Sundays.

F. M. WAGNER, Manager.

We have made arrangements for a larger supply of first class milk and are giving the family trade our special attention. If you are not satisfied with the milk or the services you are getting give us a trial.
Price 9 cents a quart, 5 cents a pint. Cream 14 cents ½ pint.

Lindsay's Dairy,
965 West Front St.
TEL. 792-J.

STORAGE—Best equipped and oldest storage house in the state for storing Furniture, Pianos, etc. Special Terms for Long Time Contracts. All work has prompt attention.
WRITE OR TELEPHONE 911-L.
"Orders left for moving vans."
C. M. NAGLE,
Front and Grove Sts., Plainfield, N. J.

J. W. VAN SICKLE
128 North Ave., Plainfield, N. J.
Fresh and Salted Meats.
Game in season.
Orders called for and delivered promptly.
Telephone No. 498-J.

Horseback Riding
taught by
Miss Adele Von Ohl
to select parties at popular prices.
Corner 2nd Pemberton Aves., Plainfield, N. J.
8 17 3 mos

Cleaning, Pressing and Dyeing.
Monthly Contracts.
Pressing called for and delivered.
EVENING DRESSES A SPECIALTY.
Ladies' Waists Cleaned, 75 cents upwards
Gents' Suits Cleaned $1.50
We do our own work at
M. A. Brown's, 218 West Second St.

McCULLOUGH'S STEAM MILL,
21 Steiner place, North Plainfield, N. J.
R. H. McCULLOUGH, Prop.
Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, Scroll Sawing, Turning.
Estimates cheerfully furnished.

J. NEUSTADT,
MERCHANT TAILOR,
Ladies' Tailoring a Specialty. Cleaning, Pressing, Altering at short notice. Work called for and delivered. Factory with R. A. Risley, Fifth Avenue, New York.
430 WATCHUNG AVENUE,
Plainfield, N. J. Tel. 668-W.

Difference In Coal.
All coals may look alike to some people, but compare our "Lehigh" Coal with the Coal you bought somewhere else and you will see a difference.
You will notice that our Coal Burns Brighter, Gives More Heat, and Lasts Longer than any other Coal you ever bought before.

Boice, Runyon & Co.,
Coal, Lumber and Masons' Materials.
Park Ave., opp. North Ave.
Plainfield, N. J.

The best time to order your winter supply of
COAL
is now. Do not forget this.
NASH
is ready to supply you.
Telephone 337-W 833-J.
Evenings 371-W.
OFFICE—130 WATCHUNG AVENUE

TenEyck & Harris,
—DEALERS IN—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.
Office: Rowley's Drug Store, 215 West Front Street. Telephone 39-L.

Coal I have on hand some very fine Stove and Medium Coal, all kept undercover. Pea Coal.
25 cents a ton reduction on cash orders.
L. A. RHEAUME,
148 East Fourth St. Telephone 440-W.
Yard, 674 South Second St. Telephone 230.

GEORGE O. STEVENS
747 West Front St.

R. L. CLINE
(Successor to C. H. Rugg & Co.)
Best Quality Lehigh Coal
Yard and office 630 West Third St. Tel. 80.

JOS. HARRIGAN
OLD COMPANY'S
LEHIGH COAL.
Tel. 497-L. 4th and Richmond Sts.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.
We call your attention to our fine display of
New Wall Papers.
We can't describe the patterns, but they are new, striking and effective, and with our large assortment we are sure to please.
Paints, Oils and Varnishes.
Woolston & Buckle,
145 North Avenue.

You must admire our line of
WALL PAPER
designs. Talk about fitting like the paper on the wall, we can beautify your walls, so exquisitely with our W. I. Paper that you will think you have dropped into a millionaire's mansion the first time you see it on your dining-room walls, or any room, for that matter.
Go and Examine. Purchase.
James C. Hansen,
Decorator, Painter and Paper Hanger.
141 E. Front St.
Estimates Furnished.
Tel. 870-R

1907 Wall Papers.
IMPORTED & AMERICAN GOODS.
C. CONOVER & CO.
Decorators, Painters and Paperhangers.
Window and Plate Glass.
115 Elmwood Pl. Tel. 1145

W. S. CHEEVER
1326 Park Ave.
Painting SEE INTERIOR DECORATING WALL PAPER of every description, at the Lowest Price.
Phone No. 538-J.

NOTICE.
If you are dissatisfied with your paper service call on or call up
THE HUSTLER,
William R. Gimson, 321 Watchung Avenue, near Fourth St. Successor to D.E. Rainey & Son
986-J Either Phone 986-J

AZIENZA
cures pimples and all manifestations of cholera. Used for periods of redisposition. Medicinal and toilet—50 and 75 cents.
CREAM.

"THE OLD RELIABLE HOME FURNISHERS"
EST. 1860 INC. 1907
COWPERTHWAIT
AND
VAN HORN CO.
73 MARKET STREET. NEAR PLANK ST. NEWARK, N.J.

GET YOUR STOVES [A]
At STOVE HEADQUARTERS
—"73 MARKET"—NEWARK'S
LARGEST, BUSIEST STOVE STORE!

The Portland Range
has long been a "leader" with knowing housewives—which is the best test of the merits of a stove. Every improvement known to good cooking has "remained" and new—valuable and time-tested—has been added. Why not buy the best?

For years and years, stoves have been a big item here—a large, well lighted department, under the supervision of a thoroughly practical stove man, a stock embracing every known size, grade and style of cooking and heating stoves, are some of the facts that account for the supremacy of our Stove Store throughout the State!!

Over 50 kinds of Ranges $10. to 45.00
Over a score of varieties Oak Stoves [Many are self lifters] $9.00 to 28.00
All styles and sizes in Cylinders $4.50 to 11.00
All styles and sizes of Pot Stoves $2.50 to 15.00

Also full lines of Self Feeding Parlor Stoves, Laundry Stoves, Reliable Oil Heaters, Etc., Etc.
REPAIRS FOR ALL THE STOVES WE SELL CONSTANTLY CARRIED IN STOCK! NO TEDIOUS "WAITING" TO HEAR FROM FOUNDRIES!
The IMPROVED "ACME" WASHING MACHINE—a labor and a money saver for all who wash clothes! "Acmes" are only sold here
LOWEST PRICES—EASIEST CREDIT

Sole Headquarters For
"The Portland Range," "Gunn Sectional Bookcases"
The Acme Washing Machine, "White" Sewing Machine
LOWEST PRICES—EASY CREDIT

SMALLEY BROS.
147 North Ave.
BUTCHERS
Our Specialty, Berkshire Pork. Try Our Berkshire Sausage Made on Premises.
Roasting and Broiling Chickens a Specialty.
Orders called for and delivered.
Telephone 83-A. 5 1 tf

J. C. POPE & CO.,
INSURANCE AGENTS,
110 E. Front St., Plainfield, N. J.

A. H. ENANDER,
Sanitary Plumbing, Gas Fitting, Steam and Hot Water Heating.
Contractor for Sewer Connections.
125 Watchung Av. Rear.

L. Moraller & Son,
Watchmakers and Jewelers.
Watches, Clocks and Jewelry.
Fine Watch Repairing a Specialty.
219 Park Ave. Plainfield, N. J

JOHN WINZENREID,
Furniture and Freight Express.
Moving Vans and Storage.
819 Lee Place. 'Phone 842-R.

PLAINFIELD WINDOW CLEANING CO.
Renovating—Offices, stores and private residences. Service day or night. Furniture, china and glassware packed for shipping.
WM. A. KLINE, 611 W. 3d St.

JOHN A. KOCH.
Dealer in
Meats, Poultry, Fish, Oysters, etc.
226 Richmond Street.
Orders Called For and Delivered.

GUSTAVE HOFFMAN.
SEAFOOD.
Daily shipments at 329 West Front Street. Tel. 968.

TITUS H. LAURY
MASON AND BUILDER.
Office, 323 East Front Street.
Tile Setting, Mantle & Grate Work.
Telephone 564-L.

WHY pay rent all your life when you can get a house on easy payments; I have a secret and if you will call on me I will give it to you; now I am selling lots on instalments on West Third and Fourth streets, Hunter and Evona avenues; give me a call. M. F. Gano, 142 North Ave.

TURKISH BATHS!
TAKE ONE
Ladies Mornings, Gentlemen Afternoons
Take Trolley to Scaltarian,
Somerset Street.

William H. Pope,
ELECTRICIAN.
All kinds of electrical work done in a reasonable manner.
116 NORTH AVENUE.

William H. Kirch
CARPENTER AND BUILDER
66 DUER STREET N. PLAINFIELD
Estimates cheerfully given.
Jobbing promptly attended to. Tel. 498-J.

ALEX. LUSARDI,
Foreign and Domestic Fruits, Choice Confectionery, Nuts, Cigars, etc.
211 W Front St. Tel. 507-W.

Meat Market.
Choice Meats, Poultry, Fish and Oysters always on hand. Sugar cured Corned Beef. International Hams and Bacons.
F. Neidig, 94 Somerset St.
Telephone 781

E. B. Maynard's
Toncorial Parlors. Electrical Massage for face and head. Shampooing a specialty. Children's Hair Cutting a specialty.
Tel. No. 724-R.
141 NORTH AVENUE.

JOHN WIRTH
(Successor to Henry Liefke.)
Bakery and Confectionery.
901-903 West Front St. Tel. No. 722.
All orders delivered at short notice.

HOAGLAND'S CITY EXPRESS BAGGAGE
Trucks and Vans for Furniture and Local Trucking.
OFFICE 205 PARK AVE.
Tel. 833-W. Residence Tel. 648-L.

REAL ESTATE
Bought, Sold and For Rent.
J. SACHAR
121 WEST THIRD STREET.

DRUGGISTS.
PRETTY PRESENTS THAT PLEASE PERFECTLY!
CIGARS.
Quality Tells! Agencies, Manicure Sets, Perfumes, Candy, Soaps, Writing Paper and other combinations of confections and beauty. This is just the place to do your Holiday shopping. Come in.
C. M. NAGLE'S PHARMACY,
Front and Grove Streets, 'Phone 911-L.

Complete Line of
REXALL
Goods at
MILLER'S PHARMACY
Park Ave. & 4th St. Tel. 935.

Hodge's Pharmacy.
Y. M. C. A. Building.
BELLE MEAD SWEETS.
Tel. 62.

HOTELS.
HOTEL WALDORF
EAST FRONT STREET
HENRY WINDHAM, Prop.
Gottfried Krueger's Extra Beer on draught. Imported Wines, Liquors and Cigars. Hotel accommodations and private Dining-Rooms.

HOTEL KENSINGTON
(Licensed.)
J. H. STAATS Prop.
107-109-111 North Avenue.
Everything New and Up-to-date.
An inspection solicited

HOTEL IROQUOIS
Club breakfast from 6:30 to 10:30 a. m. Business Men's Lunch from 11:30 to 2:30 p. m.
ROOMS
First floor, $1 single; $1.50 double.
Second floor, 75c single; $1 double.
Third floor, 50c single; 75c double.
A LA CARTE 6:30 UNTIL 1 A. M.
Special Sunday Dinner from 12:30 to 2:30 p. m. 50c

REAL ESTATE
RENTALS—REAL ESTATE
Geo. F. Brown,
INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE.
Commissioner of Deeds—Rents.
94 Somerset St. 'Phone 160.

Horses Boarded
The finest horse home in New Jersey. We grain and feed horses for $10 a Month. Best of references.
CHARLES WELSH, Supt.,
Far Hills, N. J.,
T. W. SHOTWELL,
203 Broadway, N. Y
122 1m

J. HIMMELFARB,

Ladies' Tailoring and Dressmaking. Altering and Remodelling neatly done.
Habits a specialty.
Perfect fit guaranteed
Call and See Fall Models.
311 New St., near Truell Court.
Tel. 903-J.

HENRY WIERENGA
Residence 'Phone 517-J.
Furniture, Freight, Baggage Express and Rigger.
PIANO MOVING A SPECIALTY.

Try a box of
DOBBINS' CIGARS.
Clear Havana Nickle Yara or any kind that you desire. Manufactured at 120 North avenue, opposite Kensington Hotel, Plainfield, N. J.

STATIONERY AND TOYS.
HARPER,
411 PARK AVENUE.

Kindling and Grate Wood.
Cedar Posts and Rosa Poles. Prompt delivered. Orders left at 60 Somerset St.
JOHN MOBUS,
P. O. Box 296.

YOU WILL NEVER BUY A HOME WITH MONEY PAID FOR RENT IN THE PAST.
START NOW TO OWN A HOME
of your home by taking out shares in
THE CENTRAL
BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION
OF PLAINFIELD.
J. F. MacDonald, Sec'y.
Smalley Building, 149 North Ave

HOW ABOUT THE CHILD'S HAIR? DOES IT NEED CUTTING?
You had better attend to this matter before the approach of cold weather.
TUESDAYS and THURSDAYS are days when children receive special attention here. But nevertheless they are welcome any day. Bring them in.
HOME TONSORIAL PARLORS,
212 Watchung Ave. W. G. Burns, Prop.

Mountain House,
Mt. Bethel, N. J.
FRENCH RESTAURANT
Resort for Automobilist and Driving Parties
A. E. BINZ, Prop.

FORBIDS PUBLICITY IN MASONIC AFFAIRS

Grand Master MacGregor, of the New Jersey Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, has sent out from the State headquarters at Trenton a drastic order entailing silence on all of the twenty-six thousand members of the order in New Jersey so far as the affairs of Masonry are concerned.

Members of the subordinate lodges are forbidden to give out any information concerning the order, and officers may only make known such information as may properly interest the public. Enforcement of this order will prevent the making public of annual elections now being held.

Complaint has been made that men of prominence in public life have been using lodge meetings as agencies through which to discuss public questions, and that reports of such addresses have been made public. Jersey Masons, it is said, will communicate with members of the order in other States with a view of preventing all publicity in the future.

A speech of Judge Dill, of the Court of Errors and Appeals, on Messrs. Harriman and Fish, and Mexico, before a Masonic meeting, found its way into print. This incensed the Grand Master, it is said, and was one of the reasons for the order of silence.

WOULD NOT MAKE BEER FLAVORED WITH TAR.

One of two unusual suits at law, in which the brewery firm of P. Ballantine & Sons is the complainant and the Public Service Corporation is the defendant will be tried today in the Supreme Court in Newark before Judge Heisley. This action is for the recovery of damages to date of $30,000 because of alleged pollution of wells from which the brewery company formerly derived a part of its water supply, by tar, naphtholine, ammonia and other chemicals and minerals, which escape from the gas making plant of the Public Service Corporation, which is near the brewery. The other action is a suit in chancery to enjoin the Public Service Corporation from further polluting the wells.

In the Chancery Court the bill filed sets forth that the Ballantine corporation prior to July, 1903, pumped water, which is used for coaling and other purposes, from two wells situated more than 300 feet south from the southerly line of the gas plant premises. The Public Service Corporation took possession of the gas plant in June, 1903, and in the course of its operations, the bill says, permitted large quantities of the chemicals named to escape, the result being that they percolated into the wells, clogged the pipes and ruined the water for the purpose for which it had been used.

The matter was taken up with the Public Service Corporation, which did several things to remedy the trouble, but to no purpose. The brewery company bored new wells, but those also became polluted, and the brewery, in addition to spending about $20,000 in efforts to overcome the trouble, has been obliged to pay the city about $10,000 for water, besides increasing the annual operating expenses of its plant about $4,000 on account of the pollution of the wells.

SISTERS MEET AFTER BEING PARTED 45 YEARS.

Separated in New York when they landed from Sheldon, England, forty-five years ago, Mrs. John J. Coombs, of Athol, Mass., yesterday was reunited with her sister, Mrs. Helen Graham, of Elizabeth, N. J.

During that time the women had searched for each other, but it was not until a week ago that Mrs. Coombs received word from a friend that her sister was still living.

Mrs. Graham was shopping in a department store in New York, when she met a friend, who told of a visit to Athol, where she had been the guest of a Mrs. Coombs.

Mrs. Graham learned that Mrs. Coombs was of the same maiden names as herself. Mrs. Graham wrote to Mrs. Coombs, and the latter's answer indicated that the women were related. Mrs. Graham determined to confirm her hope that Mrs. Coombs was her sister and went to Athol yesterday. There was a pathetic meeting at the railroad station.

The two sisters will spend Christmas together and Mrs. Graham contemplates moving to Athol.

Dickinson Resigns from Club.

Colonel Samuel D. Dickinson has sent his resignation as a member of the organization bearing his name to the executive committee, and it is now in the hands of John Mitchell, the club's president. The letter, which is said to contain some very interesting matter, will be taken up for consideration at the next meeting of the club, on January 8. County Clerk Rotherham said yesterday, as things looked, he expected to have an easy time being elected county chairman.

$300 License Fee in Bloomfield.

The Bloomfield Town Council Thursday night, by a vote of 4 to 2, raised the fee of all liquor licenses from $300 to $500 a year, to take effect July 1 next. Clergymen and church were back of the movement. The saloonkeepers expected the amendment would be defeated.

—Daily Press want ads. pay.

CHRISTMAS EXERCISES IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Clergymen Deliver Addresses to the Pupils in City and Borough High Schools.

RECITATIONS AND MUSIC ALSO

In Plainfield and North Plainfield Children Take Part in the Closing Exercises at the Schools.

Christmas exercises were held in the public schools in Plainfield and North Plainfield Friday morning, the programs in the high schools being particularly elaborate. The schools are now closed until Monday morning, January 6. Following are some of the programs this morning:

City High School.

Presentation of prizes for individual and class achievements, a musical program, together with a brief address by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church; followed by the usual festivities among the different classes marked the Christmas observance at the Plainfield High School this morning.

The program was opened with a processional duet, "The March from the Lenore Symphony," by Miss Mabel Maxson and R. V. Hubbard. Principal Ira W. Travell then presented the P. H. S. insignia to those entitled to receive them for various achievements. The first prize for the various events, gold fraternity medals attached to red and blue ribbons for watch fobs. The medals were given to the pupils through the generosity of these merchants: Mulford Estil, Philip Swain, People's Credit Clothing Company, Greer & Greenwood, Harry Fisher, Leslie M. Cobb, Schwed Brothers, J. W. Gavett, American Steam Laundry and M. C. Van Arsdale.

The Daily Press prize, a gold medal for individual championship, was presented to Chauncey Murphey by Principal Travell. The class championship prize, a silver cup, presented by the Courier-News, was also presented by Mr. Travell and received by William Lambert, the class president.

The pictures of "Joan of Arc," presented to the school by Miss Elizabeth Pound on behalf of the school body was received by Charles Loizeaux. After the singing of "Nazareth," by the school, with orchestral accompaniment, an address was made by Miss Mary Stevenson. He congratulated the pupils for their good work and the elaborate manner in which they had arranged the celebration.

Mr. Stevenson also spoke words of encouragement to the pupils and in referring to heroism as necessary element of character, he cited the heroism shown by the Cornell students at the time of the disastrous fire at Ithaca.

The exercises in the auditorium closed with the singing of "Sing, O Heavens."

Following the exercises a dinner was given in the gymnasium by the juniors to the seniors. Charles Loizeaux as president of the junior class, presided and was toastmaster. Speeches were made by Superintendent H. B. Maxson, Principal Travell and William Lambert, president of the senior class. The occasion was one for the exchange of good natured "roasts."

While the dinner was in progress the freshmen and sophomores were enjoying their festivities in the auditorium, a feature of which was a dance.

The school was most elaborately decorated for the occasion. In the main hall on the first floor, the life-size statue of St. George was decorated in red and white to represent Santa Claus. This was the work of George H. Fisher, Jr., of the senior class. Other members of the decorating committee were as follows: Junior class, Allen Fulmer; sophomore, Douglass Davis; freshmen, Miss Thyra Stiles.

Bryant School.

The exercises at the Bryant School were held at 10 Friday morning and were as follows:

Carols, "All Hail the Christmas," "The Sangel's Song," "O Little Town of Bethlehem;" "Christmas Lullaby," kindergarten; recitation, "A Talk With Santa Claus," Edmund Kiely; "The Teddy Bear's First Christmas," kindergarten; recitation, "Made to Order," Nicholas Cody; carol, "The Christmas Bell;" recitation, "Kitty's Christmas Tree," Genevieve Letson; exercise, "The Christmas Bell," First Grade A; carol, "The Beautiful Star," solo part, Leonard Lewis; recitation, "The Lookout," Walter Bach; song, "If You Are Good," Second Grade A; exercise, "Christmas Wishes," First Grade A; song, "Christmas Eve," kindergarten; carol, "Christmas Lullaby," Third and Fourth Grade; carol, "The Glorious Bethlehem Star," school; carol, "Glory," school; "Christmas in Wonderful," Fourth and Fifth Grades; song, "O Come Ye All Ye Faithful," school.

Washington School.

An interesting program was presented at the Washington School at 2 Friday afternoon as follows: Song, "Come All Ye Faithful," school; recitation, "First Christmas," Ralph Green; carol, school; Christmastide," Fifth Year Grade; solo, "Christmas Lullaby," Elnore Green; recitation, "Somebody Is Coming," Alice Culhane; selection, "Christmas Wishes," ten girls from Second A and B classes; song, "All Hail the Christmas," school; recitation, "Old Santa Claus in His Den," John Eskenson; vocal duet, "If You Are Good," Carrie Hafner and Louise Reed; recitation, "If Santa Claus was Pa," Roy Stevens; song, "The Angel's Song," school; recitation, "Poor Old Santa Claus," Elnors Green; song, "Christmas Bells," school; solo and chorus, "Beautiful Story," Agnes Alexander; recitation, "To Santa Claus," Josephine Stewart; carol, school.

Lincoln School.

Owing to the fact that there is no auditorium at the Lincoln School it is impossible for the pupils to come together in the presentation of a program. Instead the teachers arrange with their pupils to hold class exercises of a varied nature. The programs comprise vocal and instrumental music and recitations, while in one of the class a gramaphone entertained the children.

Borough High School.

Exercises appropriate to Christmas were held Friday in the North Plainfield High School, and the lower grades, as well as at the Watchung school. In fact the greater part of the day was devoted to programs in celebration of Christmastide.

The exercises at the high school were held at 10 o'clock. These Christmas selections were rendered by the pupils: Hymn, "Silent Night;" carol, "Christmas Fanfare;" hymns, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," and "Merry, Merry Christmas Bells."

The principal feature of the program was an address by Rev. A. C. McCrea, pastor of the First M. E. church, who spoke in the "Elements of Success." He grouped under this topic, "Industry," "Intelligence" and "Independence," as elements treating with self for which everyone should earnestly strive and then coupled those elements with "Patriotism," "Philanthropy," and "Religion," as representing love of country, love of man and love of God, indicating the direction one should apply himself to. He also spoke of "Education," as an element of giving a fellow a start and it is then largely if not almost entirely up to him to make the most of his opportunities. In connection with his talk Mr. McCrea made use of a number of apt illustrations which impressed the pupils greatly with the importance of using their time to the very best advantage.

Borough Primary.

The primary department exercises were held at 11:45, when the following program was presented:

Piano solo, Lillie MacDonald; recitation, "Santa's Coming," Cora Male; song, "Dear December," Fourth A Grade; recitations, "Christmas Candles," girls Third A Grade; "A Christmas Lunch," Elevlyn Bacon; "The Kind Mouse," Harold Wahlig; song, "Christmas Time Is Drawing Near;" recitations, "Christmas Pantomime," Norman McGee; "A Christmas Doubt," John Ball; "The Bird's Christmas," pupils Third A Grade; "Santa's Ride," Lizzie Leach; "Yes For Christmas," Alfred Willett; song, "Tripping, Tripping;" recitations, "Santa's Substitute," Lena Bender; "The Day Before," William Baglin; "Wants of the Mother Goose Children," Everett Case; "Christmas with Mother Goose," pupils Second A and Second B Grade; "If You're Good," Walter Debois; "How Santa Comes," Marjorie Burtis; "A Christmas Worry," Bertha Duerschner; song, "Wonderful Star."

This program was given by the kindergarten department:

Songs, "Merry Christmas," and "See Our Merry Christmas Tree," school; dialogue, "Star," six girls; game, "Shall I Show You How to Dance;" songs, "Humpty Dumpty," "Little Miss Muff," and "Little Kitty;" recitation, "Letter to Santa," Edward Boyle; solo, Sadie Welpinah; song, "Christmas Hymn," song, "Old Santa Puts on His Cap," school; game, "Skipping;" recitation, "Suppose," Irwin Taylor; game, "Guessing;" snow-man; recitation, eight children; song, "O Clap, Clap Hands;" folk dance, eight children; Popcorn dance," Marie Van Winkle and Thomas Cummings; Good-bye Song.

Watchung School.

This program was enjoyed at the Watchung school under the auspices of the kindergarten:

Songs, Merry Christmas to All;" and "Thumbs and Fingers Say Good Mornings;" "Good Morning to the Canary;" song, "Father We Thank Thee;" mother songs and games by the class; song, "Humpty Dumpty," James Conroy and Martha Emmons; dances, "Rig-a-Gig," and "Little Playmate;" song, "Shine Out O Blessed Star;" recitations, Mabel Bodine, LeRoy Johns, Virginia Marshall, Dorothy Jacot and Alfred Thorne; song, "Once a Little Baby," James Conroy; game, "Snow-man;" recitations, Rosanna McDonough, Ralph Norris, Adolph Bohren, Marguerite Case and George Chandler; song, "Old Santa Claus;" dance, bowing game; song, "O Clap, Clap the Hands;" song, "This Is the Doily I Love Best," Virginia Marshall; song, "Jack Frost;" recitations, Edgar Gaddis, Dorothy Skiarew, William Herier and Herbert Huf; crade song, "Jolly Old St. Nicholas;" Christmas tree and "Good-bye Song."

South Plainfield.

The Christmas exercises of the South Plainfield public schools were held in the Baptist church at that place, Thursday afternoon, and were largely attended by parents and friends of the pupils. The program, an excellent one, was as follows:

"Song of the Angels," school; recitations, "Santa's Helpers," primary boys; "My Mamma's Darling," Elizabeth Horan; "Christmas Alphabet," primary department; recitation, "No Room," Nora McDonough; solo, "Star of Bethlehem," Lizzie Geary; recitation, "Harry's Plea," Lester Soper; "The Night Before Christmas," Marion Geary; solo and song, "Santa Claus," primary department; recitation, "My Tree," Frederick Attlee; recitation, "Long Fore I Knew Who Santa Claus Was," Andrew McDonough; song, "Star of the Christ Child," grammar girls; recitation, "I Am a Little Thing," Ruth Boss; song, "O, Clap, Clap the Hands," First Year pupils; recitation, "Just Before Christmas," John Ball; "Christmas," First Year pupils; motion song, "Wind," primary department; recitation, "I Am Very Young," William Reilly; dialogue, "Columbia and Evangeline," Grammar girls; "Christmas Wishes," primary department; song, "While I Lay Asleeping," Ruth Boss; recitations, "If I Could Knit," Arthur Attlee; "Our Christmas Ship," primary girls; "I Am Not So Very Old," Hans Handson; solo, "Star of Hope," Grace Norman; recitation, "O Merry, Merry Christmas," First Year pupils; recitation, "He Got the Best of Old Santa," Marjorie Soper; recitation, "Jack Frost," First Year pupils; song, "Sing Glory, All Glory," school; dialogue, "The Birth Night of Jesus," Grammar girls.

HONOR "FIRST FORT MAN"

County Clerk James C. Calvert Guest of Union County Politicians.

HE RECEIVES HANDSOME GIFT.

County Chairman Frank H. Smith Makes the Presentation Speech —Menu Card An Unique One.

One of the largest social gatherings of politicians in the history of Union county took place Wednesday at Bender's LorraineHotel, when prominent Democratic and Republican leaders, all members of the Hall Fellow Well Met Club, gave a testimonial dinner in honor of County Clerk James C. Calvert, who launched the boom for Justice J. Franklin Fort for the Governorship. The occasion was a complete surprise to Mr. Calvert, who was under the impression that the dinner was to be given in honor of Frank H. Smith, chairman of the Republican County Committee.

A gold watch charm, unique in design and emblematic of the B. P. O. Elks and the Independent Order of Foresters, was presented to Mr. Calvert, for whom it had been specially designed. The presentation speech was made by County Chairman Smith. There was an elaborate banquet, served in the reception room of the hotel. Captain Robert Kirkland presided as toastmaster. There were speeches, each limited to 10 minutes' duration made by fourteen of those present.

On the menu card to each of the speakers was given the title of president of a club, the name of which was supposed to be characteristic of the speaker. Those presidents were: Frank H. Smith, president of the Get Together Club; James C. Calvert, president of The First Man Club; Judge C. Addison Swift, president of The Knockers' Club; Edward Leroy Mack, president of the I Promise You Club; Assemblyman Peter Tillman, president of The Honest Man Club; General D. F. Collins, president of The Beefsteak and Club; Harry Rath, president of the Down and Out Club; Abe J. David, president of the We Are Happy Club; Charles Moore, president of The Hot Air Club; Samuel Schleimer, president of the I Don't Remember Club. Postmaster Palmer H. Charlock, John J. McGowan and Charles A. Trimble were also among the speakers.

Plainfield was well represented, those attending being Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., Francis J. Blatz, Judge William Newcorn, Councilman Herbert Burton and former Mayor James F. Buckie. Those who arranged the dinner as a compliment from the Hall Fellow Well Met Club, comprised George Stewart, Edward Bauer, Robert Kirtland and Halsey Brandt.

His Ground.

He—Why are you going to marry that old fossil? She—I love the very ground he walks on. He—I know, but isn't there any other way of getting it?—London Opinion.

KEAN AND TILLMAN CLASH

New Jersey Senator Attacks Fiery Southerner's Local Option Measure.

CONCERNING POLICE POWER.

Carolinian Wanted to Know What Right States Have to Stop Traffic in Intoxicating Liquors.

Senator Tillman Wednesday clashed with Senator Kean, of New Jersey, in the United States Senate at Washington, when he introduced the following resolution and asked its immediate consideration:

"That the committee on interstate commerce be instructed to consider and report by bill or otherwise what legislation is desirable or necessary to enable the States in the exercise of their police powers to control the commerce of liquors and all alcoholic beverages within their borders so as to aid the cause of temperance and to prevent the encouragement by the United States Government of illicit dealing in the same."

Explaining his purpose Mr. Tillman said it was to prevent, if possible, the circumvention of the laws in the interest of prohibition which are being generally enacted in the Southern States.

"Congress attempted to enact the Wilson law to protect the people in the enforcement of their State laws, but the courts have shaded down the protection until there is practically nothing left of it, and I want the committee to ascertain whether it is not practicable to give relief.

"The decisions of the courts have been on the ground that the law interferes with State commerce and it is on this account that I have asked to have the investigation made by the interstate commerce committee."

Mr. Tillman holds the express companies responsible for the evasion of the State laws. He says they are flooding the local option part of South Carolina and other local option Southern States with whiskey which is sent from other States "C. O. D." The Supreme Court of the United States has held that such traffic cannot be interfered with because of its interstate character.

When Mr. Tillman attempted to secure the adoption of the resolution he aroused a long discussion.

Mr. Aldrich suggested that the measure should go to the committee on judiciary. Mr. Tillman consented to the change, but insisted that any committee taking charge of it should first be instructed to take the question up.

"Does the Senator from South Carolina," asked Mr. Kean, "want to instruct States what laws they should pass to protect themselves from the liquor traffic?"

Mr. Tillman explained that his resolution simply sought to define the point at which the police power of the State begins. A Governor of South Carolina he had dealt with this question. He wanted some committee to determine how far Congress can go in limiting as a police power the control over interstate traffic in intoxicating beverages.

FOWLER STILL HEAD OF BANKING COMMITTEE

In the committee appointments announced by Speaker Cannon in the House of Representatives at Washington Thursday New Jersey Representatives were assigned as follows:

Fowler—Banking and currency (chairman); reform in the Civil Service.

Loudenslager — Pensions (chairman); naval affairs.

Hughes—Labor and railways and canals.

Pratt—Industrial arts and expositions; patents.

Lake — Patents; private land claims.

Hamill—Elections; manufactures.

Parker—Military affairs; judiciary.

Gardner — Labor (chairman); postoffices.

Howell—Immigration and naturalization (chairman); public buildings and grounds.

Wood—Coinage, weights and measures; immigration.

Christmas Day Hunt.

On the morning of Christmas Day, the Watchung Hunt Club will meet at New Market at 10:30 o'clock for a chase over new territory which will include Stelton, Metuchen and other nearby places. The club expects a large number of out of town guests to join in the chase and plans are being perfected to make it one of the best of the season.

The New Hosiery.

Ribbed hose is a mixture of wool and silk and listed among the dollar kind. The feet are finished with double silk thread, which gives warmth, yet not too much bulk. They can be purchased in white, black or gray. Seamless stockings which greatly resemble the "rosette" needlework formerly done by our grandmothers are made in a variety of yarn colors, and may be classed among the novelties.

SALES AND RENTALS IN CITY AND BOROUGH

Many sales and rentals have been made by the Elston M. French real estate agency during the past month. The farm of Mrs. Michael Montag at Hopewell has been sold to James Baldwin Drake, of Three Bridges, and the farm of Mrs. Kate Yeomans, near New Market, on the New Brunswick road, has been sold to the Highland Park Realty Company. James Baldwin Drake's farm at Three Bridges has been bought by Mrs. Henry Jessernum, of New York.

Mrs. Kate Yeomans, of New Market, has purchased fourteen lots of the Highland Park Realthy Company, located on George street and Emerson avenue, and she has also bought two double houses on Highland Park, one on George street and Emerson avenue, and the other at Leland avenue and George street. The building owned by James Harper Smith, of Somerville, located Nos. 79-83 Somerset street, consisting of stores and flats, has been sold to Adam Bender.

Howard A. Colby has purchased No. 1405 Evergreen avenue, between Hillside and Woodland avenues. J. M. Soloh, of New York, has purchased two lots on Emerson avenue, in Highland Park, and his father, Michael Soloh, has purchased two lots immediately adjoining. H. N. Bernhart, a New York builder, has purchased a number of lots on Emerson avenue at Highland Park, and intends to build at once. Mrs. Ella Hutchins, of Brook, has also purchased four lots on Emerson avenue, near George street.

John R. Greason, Jr., of Orange, has rented Mrs. Florence Howe Hall's house, No. 910 Madison avenue, and is now residing there. George and Peter Felmley, of Flemington, have purchased ten lots on Emerson avenue, Highland Park, and are now erecting two handsome dwellings thereon. It is their intention of putting up three more houses in the spring. Dr. Baywright, formerly of Clifton Springs Sanitarium, has rented No. 44 Grove street, near Craig place, and will make his residence there in the future. Mrs. Clawson, of Trueil Court, has rented Frank H. Smith's property, No. 616 Madison avenue. Charles B. Andrews, of the Vacuum Cleaner Company, has rented No. 738 Kensington avenue. Percy Moran, an artist, of New York, has rented Mr. J. M. Bettman's property, No. 14 Willow avenue. Mrs. Hutchins, of Spring Lake, has rented the property formerly occupied by Harlan P. Hess, No. 830 Central avenue. O. C. Ewart, of New York, formerly of Ohio, has rented Mrs. Weir-Lewis' house, No. 220 Rockview avenue.

James Britton, of New York, has rented No. 1115 East Front street. W. S. Maxwell, of New York, has rented No. 34 Grove street, corner Craig place. C. M. Powell, of New York, has rented the property formerly occupied by Percy C. White, No. 95 Mercer avenue. R. G. Megay, of New York, has rented No. 1111 East Front street. George J. Whelan, president of the United Cigar Stores Company, has rented Mrs. Frederick G. Mead's house, No. 1117 East Front street. Patrick Luttrell, of Long Island City, has purchased two lots in Highland Park, located on George street, near Sumner avenue.

DEMOCRATS SELECT COUNTY COMMITTEEMEN

Democrats from all wards of the city assembled in the parlors of the Kensington Hotel, Friday, for the purpose of holding primaries and electing members of the county committee from the local districts. The gathering was called to order by Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., chairman of the city committee and although the attendance was quite large there was no opposition to any of the names proposed.

The following were elected: First ward, First district, John A. Staats; Second district, Richard Curran; Second ward, first district, C. A. Sturtevant; Second district, J. N. F. Diltz; Third ward, first district, Thomas Newman; Second district, Frank J. Shattle; Fourth ward, First district, Daniel Galbraith; Second district, Patrick J. Reville; Third district, Adam Newman.

In all the other election districts in the county similar primaries were held last night and at some of them the contests were quite lively.

Will Attend to Outlying Districts.

Now that the brick pavement work has been laid for the winter, City Engineer Gavett will have a little more time to devote to some of the streets in the outlying districts needing attention. Judging by reports there are streets in the East End through which sanitary sewer pipes have been laid recently that in places are almost impassable.

Scott—Burriell.

Miss Channa Scott, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Scott, of West Second street, and F. D. Burriell, of Westfield, were married Wednesday night by Rev. P. W. Ross, of Westfield. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother. The coupe will reside here.

CONCERT AT THE CASINO

Second McIntyre Chamber Concert Proves as Delightful as the First.

PRESENTS SUPERIOR ARTISTS.

Vladimir Dubinsky, Dr. Carl Duft and Maurice Kaufman Please a Large Audience.

Joseph McIntyre gave the second of his chamber music concerts at the Casino, Thursday, before a large and appreciative audience. The violinist, Maurice Kaufman, and the 'cellist, Vladimir Dubinsky, are already well-known here and deservedly welcome, while the basso, Dr. Carl Duft, has many friends here. The program was such as to give both instruments and voice ample opportunity to betray excellence and the opportunities were seized by all.

Rubenstein's trio in B flat for strings and piano led the program with a difficult movement in which Mr. McIntyre at the piano displayed technique of a high order. The Andante which followed was particularly noteworthy for the solemnly beautiful chorale, like a large and beautiful jewel in a piece of precious metal. The strings, to complete the figure, provided lustre and sparkle both in this setting and in the still more brilliant finale, so characteristic of Rubenstein.

Dr. Duft's first song was the "Vision Fugitive" from Massenet's "Herodiade," quite perfect in its way, as a song has need to be, to match this singer's art, and yet one could have wished for something profounder in sentiment. Such is the immediate rapport between Dr. Duft and his hearers that his encore selections quickly granted this wish with Tennyson's exquisite lyric, "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal." Surely there are two Dr. Carl Duft's; one sings the holy music of the Christ in Bach's Passions, the other can tell of his music of flowers and winds and maiden's charms. Last night the audience knew the latter singer and none of the delicacy and perfection of his art were missing.

Mr. Dubinsky made a popular choice of selections in Popper's "Autumn Flowers," and "Dance of the Gnomes." The latter capricious fancy, just suited to the character of the 'cello's picked strings, made a particularly happy impression. An encore of an entirely different nature proved what Mr. Dubinsky has well proven heretofore, that the player and his instrument are well acquainted and always greatly enjoyed.

Dr. Duft sang again before the final trio; this time Behrisch's "Who Knows," and Campbell "Evening." This last beautiful poem of Sidney Lanier's is better known and perhaps more perfectly fitted to the music of Dudley Buck. One wonders why this setting was not preferred. Dr. Duft's listening and singing of music, however, as well as the singer, was amply demonstrated by such quantities of applause that Dr. Duft had to vouchsafe two encores, the "Shepherd's Resolution," and the quaint Pretty Creature." It still seemed much too soon to stop; everyone wanted the "Lass With the Delicate Air," and the "Little Old Lowback Car." But, of course, there has to be an end, even of favorites.

Haydn's well-known trio in G finished the program with one favorite more. The "Gypsy Rondo," which Mr. McIntyre set all the keys a dancing to send the audience home all happy and humming, protesting that these concerts, like old wine, friends and books, grow better with the days and with the seasons.

Story Book and in Real Life.

In a magazine:

"I don't like you any more."

Harold Hoplite looked up at the quaint figure—a boy of six, with a mouth smeared with huckleberry pie.

Harold was glum.

"I don't like you any more."

"Why?"

"'Cause you made sister cry."

"Ethel cry! I didn't—I couldn't—make her cry."

"Yes, she's crying now when you said nothing when you walked away. Why didn't you say by-by and kiss her when you're going away? I always do."

"I will! Right now!"

And Harold hastened back to make up the lovers' quarrel.

In real life:

"Say, sister gave me a piece of pie to come down and see if you'd come and if you hadn't to try and get you back past where she was sitting on the porch getting ready to be crying."

"Oh!"—New York American.

Jiggled His Wealth.

Young Scotch Precentor — Man Tammas, there's ae thing bothers me sair when I'm singin', an' I canna get over it, it makes me nervous.

Old Precentor—Aye, aye. I wis the same as you when wis young, but I found oot a cure, an' I've aye kept tae't. I jist pit seeven or acht coopers in my pouch, an' when I feel the nervousness beginnin' I give them a bit rattle. It mak's me feel kin' o' whit I may ca'—independent like. Try't, mos. try't.—Dundee Advertiser.

GRIP IS EPIDEMIC HERE

If You Have a Headache and Feel Out of Sorts You're Due for It.

QUININE THE BEST REMEDY.

Stay Abed If Necessary But Don't Expose Yourself or You'll Get Pneumonia.

Do you feel weak, headachey and shaken up generally? If so look out. You are in for a siege of grip. Get busy with quinine and stuff, or hasten at once to your family doctor, for the disease is very prevalent and the physicians who aren't sick themselves are very busy. It is the same everywhere.

The world is apparently in the embrace of another pandemic of the grip. That, it is learned, is what has been ailing the kaiser. We shall yet have to take note of the grip as one of the major enemies of mankind. When the world was but imperfectly provided with means of communication the visitations were intermittent, as a rule, with a seven-year interval of immunity and with an average interval closely corresponding to that of the seventeen-year locust.

Now it comes almost every year and fairly shoulders itself into our notice; it is only about nine months since it was so prevalent here before. Ever since 1889 the constitutions of Americans may be said to have been under a state of siege from this persistent and insidious enemy.

When the malady seizes upon an individual, the thing to do—as any doctor will tell you—is to go into retirement for a few days, and to bed if need be.

Grip is temporarily highly weakening. To expose one's self to winter weather while grip-sick is to encounter the danger of pneumonia.

To undertake the usual amount of work is to lay the conditions for neurasthenia. Quinine is the best remedy and also the best preventive. A very little quinine taken daily when grippy conditions are abroad will prevent the germs of influenza from finding a lodgment in the system.

Meanwhile it is incumbent on science which has reduced many an ancient pest into present insignificance, to take measures to abate this modern.

It came to us eighteen years ago from central Asia, and is the "yellow peril" that most directly affects the average American.

RETURNS TO NEW JERSEY AFTER 38 YEARS ABSENCE.

Mrs. Sarah C. Rood, of Santiago, Cal., and Mrs. Anna E. Dufford, of Attan, Iowa, who have been visiting Mrs. J. A. Haynes, of North avenue, will return home tomorrow. Mrs. Rood left New Jersey thirty-eight years ago, going to Iowa, where she resided for fourteen years, then moving to Santiago, where she has resided since.

She was stopping at a hotel in San Francisco with her husband, who was an invalid, at the time of the earthquake, but escaped to get out of the house without injury. The house was wrecked. They went to a friend's home two miles away and within twenty-four hours ere again driven out by fire and then had to go into the city and camp in tents made of bed clothing.

Mr. Rood lived but a few months after this experience and his wife was very ill for a long time. Upon her recovery upon the advice of her physician she took an ocean voyage. She spent five months abroad. Upon her arrival in New York she was met by her sister, Mrs. Haynes. Mrs. Dufford and her father's sister, Mrs. Charles Skillman, of Whitehouse, Hunterdon county, met Mrs. Rood at the home of Mrs. Haynes, but neither of them could recognize each other, as they had changed greatly.

The sisters are the daughters of the late Abram L. Voorhees, who for twenty-five years was the agent of the New Jersey Central at Whitehouse Station, and sister-in-law of the late Peter Voorhees, who for a number of years was county clerk of Hunterdon county. Mrs. Rood is anxious to get back to her home as she thinks the winters in the North too severe. She left New Jersey and up to the time of her marriage she conducted a private school at Annandale and during her stay here she visited Mrs. Haynes' father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cramer, of Annandale, and while there sent out invitations to all of her old pupils to visit her on a certain day. There were twenty-one of them and of that number there was but one she could recognize or who would have known her. They had not seen each other in over forty years. She considered it the event of her life to meet the people who were then children and have since grown up and have families. Mrs. Haynes was one of her pupils.

It is very interesting to hear Mrs. Rood tell her experiences during the earthquake. This would tend to prove that old Hunterdon county produces a number of long-lived people, as some of those mentioned are over eighty years of age.

"LANKY BOB" MUCH MIXED YEAR'S BUSINESS CLOSED

Fitzsimmons Appeals to Chief Kiely to Protect His Property at Dunellen.

OUT OF CHIEF'S JURISDICTION.

Pugilist Seeks Plainfield's Police Aid to Drive Amateur Hunters from His Estate in Another County.

Just previous to starting for Hamilton, Ont., where he and Mrs. Fitzsimmons begin a two weeks vaudeville engagement next Monday, Pugilist "Bob" Fitzsimmons appeared at police headquarters Saturday and appealed to Chief Kiely to protect his Dunellen farm while he was away. The lanky fellow made it plain that he wasn't afraid that hunters would help themselves in the house or that someone would carry off the place in the night, but that amateur hunters was what he stood in fear of.

"I say, chief, it's awful the way those fellows have run over my place," was the way the former world's champion expressed himself. "They've shot nearly all my chickens and guinea hens and I came down here to see you before they riddled the children and a couple of ponies that run about the farm. It's as much as your life is worth to look outside the house when these would-be hunters are around and I was afraid if I didn't do something I wouldn't have any place left when I came back."

Dunellen is out of Chief Kiely's jurisdiction but he promised "Bob" that he would inform the proper authorities to stop the trespassing on his farm. The good-natured fighter has never fully acquainted himself with the boundary line between Plainfield and its suburb and when at any time he needs assistance of an official sort he comes direct to this city.

NEW YEAR'S DANCE PLANS

Electrical Effects to Be a Feature at Society Gathering at the Casino.

ON TUESDAY NIGHT, DEC. 31.

Mrs. Charles A. Reed, Lewis G. Timpson and Henry L. Hall General Committee.

Plans are now complete for the "New Year's Eve Dance and Jollification," to be given by society of Plainfield and North Plainfield at the Casino on Tuesday night, December 31. The committee of arrangements comprise Mrs. Charles Arthur Reed, Lewis G. Timpson and Henry L. Hall and others assisting include Mayor Charles J. Fisk, W. L. Lockwood, E. E. Fremonger, Joseph M. Shellabarger, Wallace W. Cortell, Lewis E. Waring and J. Hartley Mellick.

It will be a subscription dance and the committee has planned to introduce several novel features. The electrical and decorative effects will be unusual, especially to be used in ushering in the New Year. Austin's orchestra will furnish the music for dancing and Brown's Metropolitan Quartet, favorably known here, will give specialities between the dance numbers. Demobil, of this city, will cater.

A large number of invitations have been issued and it is expected that the affair will be attended by many out-o-town guests as well as the society people of the city and the borough.

For those who do not care to dance a portion of the Casino will be reserved for those who desire to play bridge whist.

TROLLEY CAR CRASHES INTO BAKER'S WAGON.

Speeding along West Front street at a fast clip shortly before noon Monday, trolley car No. 1935, of the Main line, crashed into the rear of a delivery wagon belonging to W. W. Warner, the baker. The vehicle was shoved ahead for twenty feet and then tossed to one side in a badly demolished condition, while the horse was knocked beneath it.

Clarence Zimmerman, the driver, was totally unprepared for the collision and was hurled through the front part of the wagon, narrowly escaping serious injury. He landed on top of the struggling horse and only by quick presence of mind rolled to one side in time to avoid being struck by its hoofs. The animal was afterward gotten to its feet and beyond a few slight cuts was unharmed.

Witnesses to the accident assert that the responsibility rests with the motorman of the car. Zimmerman was proceeding past some distance ahead of the trolley and turned toward the tracks to clear a coach standing in front of the Leal school. No warning bell was sounded and the first he knew that a car was near him was when the crash occurred. He was badly shaken up and was compelled to seek medical attention.

INDUSTRIAL HOME'S APPEAL TO CITIZENS

The Industrial Home, a branch of the Salvation Army, will make an appeal through its superintendent, Captain W. S. Greenaway, for such articles and waste material which can be used in its work of helping the poorer class. Paper sorting is one of the chief sources of industry at the Home, and according to Captain Greenaway a man doesn't need to be a skilled workman for that work. It gives temporary employment to many a man, regardless of creed.

Captain Greenaway in speaking of this work says:

"And what about the waste human material? O, yes, it is, alas for the wasted lives—wasted hopes, and ambitions and opportunities. They drift in, men who have filled high positions; doctors, lawyers, physicians, engineers, every class and profession, as well as the workingman, and habitual tramp and 'won't work,' but our motto is if a man will not work, neither shall he eat."

Attached to the Home is a cheap clothing store, where the poor may get clothing at a nominal sum. By paying something for the clothing it pleases the men and helps them to maintain their self-respect. There are at present ten men in the Home in this city and should any friend be disposed to send a donation along Captain Greenaway will appreciate it and be sure that it will go a long way in making some of the poor people believe that the world is not so cold towards fallen humanity after all. The Home is located at 409 East 2nd street. Telephone number 642-R.

BECKSTEIN'S EXHIBIT ATTRACTED THE CROWD.

With an excellent attendance and with all the prize-winning chickens and cats looking their best, the nineteenth annual exhibition of the New York Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Stock Association came to an end Saturday night in Madison Square Garden, New York.

One pen of Japanese silkies shown by A. C. Beckstein, of the Oak Tree Poultry Farm, Plainfield, was constantly surrounded by interested spectators. Japanese silkies are a rarity in this country, and Mr. Beckstein's pen was notable from the splendid brood of little white chicks, that kept close to the fluffy white mother hen. The brood, by the way, was the third set hatched since April 19, the first batch of thirteen eggs having brought out twelve chickens. Mr. Beckstein also showed some magnificent Orpingtons, which was seven blue ribbons.

Borough Council Balances Accounts and Receives Reports from Officials.

PRES. VANARSDALE PRESIDES.

Present Body Ceases to Exist On New Year's Day When Reorganization Takes Place.

A special meeting of the Borough Council was convened Friday for the purpose of closing up all business for the past year, previous to the organization for 1908. In the absence of Mayor Newton B. Smalley, President Van Arsdale was in the chair.

The payment of claims and the reading of reports of the various officials occupied the greater part of the time. The principal one was submitted by Clerk Frank Rowley and gave the following figures: Total receipts for the year, $70,045; expenditures, general expenses, $9,-; police, $2,283; fire department, $3,268; water, $1,275; street department, $9,270; lighting, $5,111; poor, $1,290; Board of Education balance, $13,285; bills payable, $17,500; total expenditures for the year, $64,-135; cash balance, $6,022.

The report of Recorder Charles Dolliver showed that during the year the police made 224 arrests and that the following disposition was made of the cases: Committed to county jail, 10; to the borough jail, 16; sentence suspended, 55; dismissed, 23; fined, 120. The total amount of fines collected was $437.50.

Chief Howard Woolston reported 19 fires during the year from these causes: Chimneys, 8; grass, 3; bonfires, 2; overturned stoves, 2; unknown, 1. In detailing his work of the year, Overseer-of-the-Poor Fred Becker stated that of his $1,200 appropriation he had spent $583 for rents and $214 for groceries. The report of the collector could not be prepared for presentation and it was voted that it should be embodied in the yearly borough booklet of which 1000 copies were ordered printed for distribution. One hundred dollars was appropriated to bear the expence of auditing the borough accounts.

The councilmen who attended for the last time and who will cease to be members of the body were John H. Van Winkle, Jr., and Frank Krewson. The new members coming in are L. B. Woolston and Charles L. Nichols. The council will meet at noon on New Year's Day to reorganize.

Charles Leonard, Aged Twenty-nine, Struck by Flyer—Horribly Mangled.

WAS A BLACKSMITH'S HELPER.

Supposed That Victim Became Confused When He Saw Engine Bearing Down On Him.

In attempting to cross the New Jersey Central tracks between Liberty and New streets, last night, Charles J. Leonard, employed as helper by George Zepp, the West Second street blacksmith, was struck and instantly killed by the eastbound flyer due in this city at 7:32. The body was thrown before the engine and was then carried over by the entire train, mangling it almost beyond recognition.

The accident was witnessed by George Bowers, of West Second street, and he immediately notified the victim's uncle, James Kennedy, who lives almost directly opposite the scene. The police were called and the remains were picked up under the direction of Patrolman Saunders. They were afterward removed to Cole's undertaking roogas.

Leonard was twenty-nine years old and came to Plainfield from Somerville. He was employed for several years by the Public Service Corporation and by Contractor Thomas Burke, of West Third street, and more recently by Blacksmith Zepp. He leaves a wife and was in the habit of crossing the tracks near Liberty street, but the point where he was killed is directly back of the blacksmith shop and fully 300 feet away from his regular path. His presence there cannot be accounted for except that he had planned to walk along the tracks to town. He was noticed by Bowers just before the express approached and evidently became confused as it rushed upon him. He made a frantic attempt to get out of the way but was caught by the pilot of the locomotive.

The young man is survived by his mother, Mrs. L. C. Milburn, of Bergenline avenue, Union Hill; also his grandmother, Mrs. Susan Leonard, of Pluckemin. Both were notified of the fatality Friday morning and came to Plainfield at noon.

DELIVERY WAGON STRIKES RUNABOUT; ONE MAN HURT

A big delivery wagon belonging to a New York firm ran into a runabout owned and driven by Leslie M. Cobbs, the East Fifth street tailor, on South avenue, opposite the Keely Coal Company's yard at 7:30 Friday night. Cobbs was sharing his seat with Douglas Hall, steward of the Westfifield Golf Club, and the collision hurled both men to the roadway. Hall was rendered unconscious by the fall and by the time Cobbs recovered sufficiently the delivery wagon had disappeared in the direction of Westfield.

A witness of the accident telephoned the police and the ambulance was sent out. It conveyed Hall to Muhlenberg Hospital, but after he had been attended to he refused to remain and was taken to his place of employment. He sustained a couple of ugly cuts on the head and a severe shaking up.

As soon as Chief Kiely was informed of the accident he sent Patrolman McCarthy on a hunt after the New York vehicle and the chase led him to Westfield. There he located a wagon answering Cobb's description that had patches of paint and license number scraped on the side. He secured the help of the Westfield police in placing the man under arrest and he was subsequently released until today. Cobb's rig was badly wrecked and his horse needed a veterinary's attention.

Will Present "Eager Heart."

The Christmas mystery play, "Eager Heart," will be presented at the parish house of Grace church Thursday night. The play is a revival by the Elizabethan Dramatic Society of the quaint and primitive dramatic art of the period and is from the pen of A. M. Buckton. Miss Brooke Peeters, of New York, will take the title roll and will be supported by the cast from among the young people of the church.

Displacement.

"Displacement," in naval use, means the weight of water displaced by the vessel, the weight of water displaced being, of course, the same as the weight of the vessel.

Tobacco as a Drug.

I know that many are of the opinion our northern simples are weak, imperfect, not so well concocted, of such force, as those in southern parts, not so fit to be used in physic, and will therefore fetch their drugs afar off—senna, cassia out of Egypt, rhubarb from Barbary, aloes from Socotra, turbith, agaric, mirbolanes, myrobalans from the East Indies; tobacco from the west.—Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy."

Union County Democratic Chairman Prefers Either Olney, Gray or Daniels.

IDOLIZED BY JAS. E. MARTINE.

There Will Be No Scrap, However, As the Matter Will Be Decided In National Convention.

Considerable significance is attached to the announcement that William Jennings Bryan will spend several days in the early part of February in this State. By politicians and others it is taken to mean that Mr. Bryan is coming here to mend his fences if they need mending, and it is accepted as conclusive that the peerless and perpetual one means to secure the Democratic nomination if it's up to him.

The announcement has occasioned some talk in the Democratic ranks hereabouts, and the sentiment here may be said to reflect that of the state. It may be said without fear of successful contradiction that William Jennings Bryan is not the choice of Union county Democrats for the Presidential nomination of 1908. In fact, about the only prominent Democrat in these parts who is really set on the renomination of the twice defeated candidate is James E. Martine. To the "Farmier Orator" there is no greater man than Mr. Bryan. Whether it's because, like himself, Bryan is famous by reason of his defeats, thus establishing a peculiar bond of sympathy between the two, or for some other reason, there isn't any disputing the fact that W. J. Bryan is the idol of Martine.

On the other hand there is the attitude of General Dennis F. Collins, chairman of the Democratic committee and hailed as the most successful leader of that faith Union has had in a long time. General Collins said Thursday afternoon:

"I, personally, am certainly not in favor of Mr. Bryan for the Democratic nomination. I prefer a man like Judge Gray, of Delaware; or Richard Olney, of Massachusetts, of Senator Daniels, of Virginia. There are a number of strong men in fact, who would make splendid candidates whom I prefer to Mr. Bryan."

This may be said to be an accurate reflection of the attitude of the great majority of Union county Democrats. While nobody seems to want him, the peculiar facts remains that everybody admits, in a puzzled, hopeless sort of way, that Bryan's going to get the nomination. General Collins admitted that this is about the situation: Everybody admits it, and nobody can explain it. It's simply taken for granted that Bryan's going to get it—that is just at this stage of the game—but a change is by no means improbable before the convention comes along, when there will be a time on which side Union county Democrats will stand is some able Democrat is put up in opposition to the man from Nebraska.

The opposition of the Union county chairman, and the ardent espousal of his cause by Senator E. Martine, lends a bit of interest to the situation. The little county of Union, comparatively speaking, doesn't cut much figure in a National convention and a difference of opinion among the Democrats here as to who ought to be the nominee, of course, is of little importance. Nobody expects Martine and Collins to have any disagreement about it, because the question will be settled outside of this county, probably outside of this State.

Feeding Zoo Animals.

Not only is much care exercised in the choice of horseflesh, but when a carcass is cut up it is divided in such a way as to insure that in each piece given to the animals there is a bone. Otherwise the lions, tigers and the like would not bother to swallow the piece whole, which would be bad even for their iron digestions. The presence of the bone compels them to take bites at the flesh, which they pick from the bone with their claws and teeth, licking the bone afterward with their sandpapery tongues until the surface shines. For the smaller carnivors, such as polecats and weasels, and for the captorial birds, horseflesh is somewhat too course and tough. They are fed the flesh and part on the heads and necks of chickens. These parts are selected also because of the bone in them.—London Graphic.

Gone South to Be Married.

Miss Rose Davis, who has been making her home with Rev. and Mrs. George B. Shaw, of Central avenue, left today for her home at Salem, West Virginia. She was accompanied by Irving Davis, of Manning avenue, who will be married to Miss Davis' sister next week. The bride and groom will return to Plainfield to live. Mr. Davis is engaged in business here as a contractor.

West End Offers Entered.

The police were informed this morning that someone had broken into the offices of Wm. Cadmus, at the Commercial Mills, and L. A. Rheaume, on South Second street, last night. Nothing was secured at the mills but $1.50 in postage stamps was taken from Rheaume's place. This morning Patrolman McDonald arrested Joseph Smith and John Morris, two hoboes, on suspicion but they were released at noon.

HUNT CLUB EXONERATED

(Continued from page 1.)

cers of the national association to whom was referred the matter comprise President August Belmont; vice president, J. H. Alexandre; treasurer and honorary secretary, S. S. Howland; stewards, J. H. Alexandre, August Belmont, H. Carroll Brown, G. Foulkes, Cadwalla, Thomas Clyde, John Sanford, Charles Hayden, S. S. Howland, Clarence H. Mackay, H. J. Morris, H. S. Paige, J. E. Widener, and H. G. Crickmore, racing secretary.

The association designated S. S. Howland to make the investigation and lay all facts before it. This he did and his report to the association follows:

To the Stewards of National Steeplechase and Hunt Association.

Gentlemen: As requested by your resolution I have carefully investigated the statements made by Charles D. Freeman, in certain letters to August Belmont, returned herewith, that the meeting last spring of the Watchung Hunt Club was not properly watched over by the stewards of the meeting and by the club officials, and that the license of the Watchung Hunt should be withdrawn, unless completely reorganized.

Mr. Freeman has so far modified his statements, that he now declares that the stewards of the meeting were in no way to blame, but that the present masters and the committee took no pains whatever to investigate certain newspaper rumors that in one race a horse ridden by a gentleman rider had been pulled to allow another horse on which the same rider had a large bet, to win.

My investigation shows that the newspaper report was but a rumor with no foundation.

I asked the President of the Watchung Hunt within a few days of the close of the meeting wrote in denial to the said paper.

That moreover the hunt committee did take it up (though no request to do so had been made to them in writing or verbally), but found no cause for action whatever.

During my investigation I have seen Mr. Freeman, L. E. Waring, the present master, Lawrence Smith, official steward and gentleman rider, Chase and Hunt Association; C. H. Smith, bookmaker and the gentleman rider implicated.

In conclusion I beg to report that in my opinion the Watchung Hunt even went further than required (no complaint having been made to the board), and found no cause whatever for action, and that therefore Mr. Freeman's complaint is unjustified and should be dismissed, and that while Mr. Freeman most distinctly stated that he wished to make no charges against the gentleman rider who rode his horse, the said complaint has of necessity placed in a most disagreeable position, a gentleman, quite innocent of any wrongdoing.

Yours truly,
S. S. HOWLAND.

The above letter was followed with one from the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association to Harvey Fisk, secretary of the Watchung Hunt Club. It is as follows:

Secretary,
Watchung Hunt Club.
Plainfield, N. J.

Dear Sir: At a meeting of the stewards of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association, held at the office of the club, Windsor Arcade, New York, on Friday, December 20, the report of S. S. Howland, on the complaint of Charles D. Freeman as to the conduct of officials and participants at the spring meeting of the Watchung Club was duly approved, and the secretary was instructed to send a copy of Mr. Howland's letter to Charles D. Freeman, Fred Alpers and the secretary of the Watchung Hunt Club. Enclosed please find copy.

Yours respectfully,
H. G. CRICKMORE,
Secretary.

It is now said that the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association will go still further in the investigation for the purpose of ascertaining Mr. Freeman's source of information as to the charges made. Mr. Freeman was abroad at the time of the meet and did not have direct knowledge of things of which he complained. Mr. Howland, one of the most popular gentleman riders in the east and he has a host of friends who are naturally much pleased over his vindication as well as that of the hunt club.

More Typhoid in Trenton.

Four new cases of typhoid fever were reported to the health office at Trenton yesterday, bringing the total reported since December 1 up to eighty. Mayor Gnichtel has appointed a committee, consisting of John W. Manning and Charles A. Engle, of the Water Board; Francis B. Lee, and Dr. Elmer Barwis, of the Health Board, and Judge Lanning, of the State Board of Health, to investigate the typhoid situation and render a report to the Common Council.

—Thirty-five cents a dozen for fancy Tangierine oranges at Neuman Brothers.' A nice assortment of apples is also being shown, the lot comprising, Jonathans, Spitzenbergs, Kings and others.

Miss Ernstine Curtis Smith, of Madison avenue, who has been detained at home with the grip, is improving.

ANGLEMAN WOULD ACCEPT

Republican City Chairman Says He Would not Make Contest for Prosecutorship.

IN HANDS OF HIS FRIENDS.

Fight Becoming More Interesting but It Is Quite Certain That Swift and Hetfield, Jr., Will Win.

In the event of a dead-lock over the Union county prosecutorship, Republican City Chairman Winfield S. Angleman will become a candidate for the position according to statements made by his friends today. The contest is becoming warmer every day, although it is taken as a pretty sure thing that District Court Judge C. Addison Swift is "high man" for the place. Friends of Assistant Prosecutor John K. English, however, are making big claims and appear to feel sanguine that he will land the prize which is to be handed out by Governor-elect J. Franklin Fort sometime in March.

Mr. Angleman, himself, denies that he is a candidate for the position, but he admits that he would accept the honor were the Governor to confer it upon him. He has the reputation of being one of the most skillful cross-examiners in this section of the State and is blessed with a ripe experience at the bar. No one will gainsay the fact that he is eminently qualified for the place, his friends argue, and the powers that be could go further and do worse when deciding upon an efficient candidate.

Mr. Swift will probably be appointed on account of the belief that he will make a capable prosecutor. If his selection comes about, Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., another worthy man, will be the assistant. The nomination of Mr. Angleman for first place would mean on the other hand that an Elizabethan would probably get second place.

When asked this morning whether he was a candidate, Mr. Angleman said: "I am not seeking the office, but should the honor come my way, I would accept the position. I am in the hands of my friends. If I am wanted all right, but if not I do not intend to make an effort to land the job."

Former Governor Foster Voorhees yesterday denied that he was a candidate for the place.

AMUSEMENTS HELP CITY

(Continued from page 1.)

tingent fund: General fund, $7,367.-23; fire, $269.79; library, $67.49; poor, $77.86; school, $849.90; bonds, $48.25; interest, $96.58.

Tax Collector W. R. Townsend reported through Chairman Tolles, of the finance committee, that Mrs. Malepesen, of Dunellen avenue, had paid $1.35 in excess in taxes for 1906 and at the request of President Daniel the claim will be presented with the necessary affidavit and remitted in the customary way.

Still another resolution by Mr. Tolles authorized the city treasurer to pay into the Firemen's Pension Fund $50, the license money received from the New Plainfield theatre and $150, the license fee from a moving picture gallery theatre, which is according to the provision of law.

When the Common Council adjourned it did so to hold the final session for the year on Monday night, December 30, and President Daniel suggested that all committees be ready to close up accounts at that time.

Want Stricter Cigarette Law.

The recent report of the officers of the United States naval recruiting vessel that excessive cigarette smoking was one of the causes that of the young men of the country has aroused the Women's Club of Upper Montclair. The members intend to have the next Legislature adopt a law which will raise the age limit for the legal sale of cigarettes to eighteen years. The existing statute is too liberal of interpretation, the members of the club think.

Recovers $120 Lost at Poker.

District Court Judge Chamberlain, of Bayonne, Friday decided that Philip Schillowitz would have to return to Louis Cohen $120 which Cohen swore he lost in a gambling place conducted by Schillowitz at Avenue C and Twentieth street, and which the police broke up after several women had complained that their husbands were in the habit of gambling away their wages.

Billy Keister, for three years second baseman and outfielder on the Jersey City Eastern League team, has been picked up by the Toronto club.

Umpire Jack Egan, who has held the indicator in the Eastern League for several seasons, has been appointed a member of the American League staff for 1908.

The Newark Eastern League team may take a little Southern trip as far as Virginia in the spring. The regular training camp will be pitched at Wilmington, Del.

Manager Buckenberger will take the Rochester team on a spring training trip, playing near Baltimore and Washington, and then throughout New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

New Jersey Central

Passenger Stations in New York—West 23d St., 5th Av., Fort; Liberty Sts., N. R.

In Effect December 1, 1907.

For New York—2.17, 3.17, 5.28, 6.07, 6.29, 6.57, 7.25, 7.57, 8.27, 8.57, 9.27, 9.57, 10.27, 10.57, 11.27, 11.57 a. m., 12.27, 1.07, 1.27, 2.07, 2.27, 2.57, 3.27, 3.57, 4.27, 4.57, 5.27, 5.57, 6.27, 6.57, 7.27, 7.57, 8.27, 8.57, 9.27, 9.57, 10.17, 11.29 p. m., 12.01, 12.29, 12.47, 1.23, 1.58, 2.58, 3.58, 4.58, 5.58, 6.58, 7.58, 8.58, 9.58, 10.58, 11.58 a. m., 12.58, 1.58, 2.58, 3.58, 4.58, 5.58, 6.58, 7.58, 8.58, 9.58, 10.58, 11.58 p. m., 12.58 night.

For Newark—5.28, 6.29, 6.57, 7.05, 7.25, 7.57, 8.57, 9.57, 10.57, 11.57 a. m., 12.57, 1.57, 2.57, 3.57, 4.57, 5.57, 6.57, 7.57, 8.57, 9.57, 10.57, 11.57 p. m., 12.58 night.

For Bethlehem, Allentown and Manch Chunk—5.28, 9.57, 11.57 a. m., 3.57, 5.57 p. m. Sundays—6.46 a. m., 2.58, 5.47, 7.06 p. m.

For Wilkesbarre and Scranton—5.28, 9.57 a. m., 2.57, 5.47 p. m. Sundays—5.46 a. m., 5.47 p. m.

For Long Branch and Asbury Park, etc.—2.17, 8.17, 10.55 a. m., 12.42, 2.42, 4.45, 6.44, 8.44, 11.59 p. m. Sundays—every day, although it is taken as a sure thing that District Court Judge C. Addison Swift is "high man" for the place. Friends of Assistant Prosecutor John K. English, however, are making big claims and appear to feel sanguine that he will land the prize which is to be handed out by Governor-elect J. Franklin Fort sometime in March.

Mr. Angleman, himself, denies that he is a candidate for the position, but he admits that he would accept the honor were the Governor to confer it upon him. He has the reputation of being one of the most skillful cross-examiners in this section of the State and is blessed with a ripe experience at the bar. No one will gainsay the fact that he is eminently qualified for the place, his friends argue, and the powers that be could go further and do worse when deciding upon an efficient candidate.

Mr. Swift will probably be appointed on account of the belief that he will make a capable prosecutor. If his selection comes about, Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., another worthy man, will be the assistant. The nomination of Mr. Angleman for first place would mean on the other hand that an Elizabethan would probably get second place.

When asked this morning whether he was a candidate, Mr. Angleman said: "I am not seeking the office, but should the honor come my way, I would accept the position. I am in the hands of my friends. If I am wanted all right, but if not I do not intend to make an effort to land the job."

Former Governor Foster Voorhees yesterday denied that he was a candidate for the place.

8.44 (2.42 Lakewood only), 11.59 a. m. Sundays—(8.44 Lakewood only), 9.45 a. m.

For Philadelphia—7.18, 7.39, 8.45, 9.18, 10.43 a. m., 12.13, 12.42, 1.29, 2.14, 2.45, 4.13, 6.44, 8.56, 9.44 p. m., 12.02 night. Sunday—8.45, 10.43 a. m., 12.42, 2.45, 6.44 p. m.

*Change cars at Bound Brook.

H. P. BALLANTINE, Vice Pres. & Gen. Mgr. J. HOPE, Gen Pass. Agt.

Arrival and Departure of Mails

PLAINFIELD POSTOFFICE

Office opens 7 a. m., closes 7 p. m. On Saturdays closes half hour later.

CITY MAIL.

Arrive—7:00, 10:40, 11:30 a. m., 2:30, 5:20, 5:30, 8 p. m., 12 midnight.
Close—7:30 a. m., 1:00, 2:30, 6:00 7:45 p. m.

SOMERVILLE AND EASTON

Arrive—9:40 a. m., 2:15 5:30 p. m.
Close—7:30 a. m., 1:45 and 4:30 p. m.

PHILADELPHIA—Direct.

Arrive—7:30, 8:40 and 11:30 a. m., 2:24, 6:00, 7:15 p. m.
Close—7:15, 7:30, 9:30 a. m., 12:55, 2:30, 6:00, 7:15 p. m.

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR EAST

Close—1:00 and 7:15 p. m

THROUGH FAST MAIL FOR WEST AND SOUTH

Close—12:55, 6:00, 7:15 p. m.

PENNSYLVANIA, West of Easton

Close—12:55 p. m.

ELIZABETH—Direct

Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:20, 5:30 p. m.
Close—7:30 a. m., 2:20, 6:00 p. m

NEWARK—Direct

Arrive—8:40 a. m., 2:20, 5:30 p. m., 12 midnight.
Close—7:15, 7:30 a. m., 1:00, 2:20 and 6:00 p. m.

WARRENVILLE

Arrive—12:30 p. m.
Close—9:00 a. m.

WATCHUNG

Close—5:20 p. m
Arrive—6:45 p. m.

SUNDAY MAILS

Office open from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m.
Mail closes at 6:15 p. m.

E. H. BIRD, P. M.

1908 CADILLAC'S
BETTER THAN EVER

The $1,000 "single cylinder" Cadillac Touring Car in competition with 4 and 6 cylinder cars won a silver cup for making a perfect score in the recent 24-hour non-stop 473 mile endurance contest.

For catalogue, demonstration, etc.,

A. C. Thompson Auto Co.,
Tel. 991-J 413 Park Ave.

Advertisements
—FOR—
New York Herald,
World, Times, Sun, Journal,
Telegram, American,
Brooklyn Eagle
and
Newark Evening News
Received at
The Daily Press
AT REGULAR OFFICE RATES.

Mrs. John Brown,
Successor to
John Burke and Jones & Co.
Cesspools and Vaults Cleaned from $3.00 Upwards.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.
Don't give your order until you consult me.
Estimates cheerfully given.
Leave orders at
J. T. Vail's, North avenue, Plainfield, N. J.
Postoffice Box 718.
FRANK BURRY, Manager.

BOYNTON
Square Post
FURNACES
Greatest heat from least coal; minimum care-taking—all dust heeded of the worry. Write for booklet. Boynton Furnace Co., 26 Beekman St., New York—Chicago.

RENE BROWER
Natural Flowers to Order.
Telephone 400 Madison.
Residence 120 East 6th St. Phone 617-L

JACK HORNER,
40 SOMERSET STREET.
BICYCLES
VULCANIZING A SPECIALTY.
Cole's Go-Carts, Electric Lighting Outfit for Our Stock Free. Agent for Pierce Bicycles $24 Upwards When A.